Churchill Warns Hitler's Invasion Appears At Hand

NATION FACES CRITICAL TIME

Prime Minister Asserts Barges And Convoys Of Larger Ships Being Moved Into Position To Strike, But Says Britain Is Ready And Praises British Air Force, Navy And Army

London, Sept. 11.—(AP) Prime Minister Winston Churchill broadcast a warning to his fortress nation today that Adolf Hitler's long projected attempt at invasion appears to be at hand and that next week may be the most critical in England's history.

The Germans already are moving self-propelled barges and convoys of larger ships from northern ports to the whole French coast, he said, slipping along from port to port under the protection of German coastal batteries. The attack, he warned, may be made on England, Scotland, or even Ireland, with forces concentrated as far north as Norway.

But Britain is ready, he said, praising the air force, the navy and the army.

"This is the time for everyone to stand by," he said sternly as they are doing," Churchill said.

Then as he spoke of "these cruel, wanton, indiscriminate" bombings of London "as a part of Hitler's invasion plan," the Prime Minister continued:

"This wicked man, the embodiment of many forms of hatred, this monstrous product of former wrongs and shame, is now resolved to try to break our famous island race by a process of indiscriminate slaughter and destruction.

"What he has done is to kindle a fire in British hearts here and all over the world which will glow long after all trace of the conflagration he has caused in London have been removed.

"He has lighted a fire which will burn with a steady and consuming flame until the last vestiges of Nazi tyranny have been burned out of Europe and until the old world and the new can join hands to rebuild the new can join hands to rebuild man's honor upon foundations which will not seem or easily be overthrown."

Churchill compared Hitler's projected attack to the threats of Napoleon, the Spanish armada and other historic adventures aimed against the British Isles.

James Allen Morris, 55, of 1116 Ward street, died this morning at 6:15 o'clock in Pitt General hospital following several months' illness.

Funeral plans had not been completed this afternoon.

Mr. Morris had made his home in Greenville for the past three months, having moved from New Bern. He was a former resident of Greenville several years ago.

Surviving are his wife, six sons, Vernon, Carlton, Eddie and Leon Morris of Greenville; Jimmie Morris of Roanoke, Va.; and Cecil Morris of New Bern; three daughters, Mrs. M. A. Campbell, Kinston, and Misses Bettie and Peggy Morris of Greenville; two brothers, Paul Morris, Greenville, and Walter Morris of Wytheville, Va.; two sisters, Mrs. Oscar Williams and Mrs. John Sparks, Wytheville, Va.

Mr. Morris was by trade a painter.

Direct Hits Made In British Raids

London, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Widespread bombing attacks by British planes on concentrations of barges along the German-held French, Belgian and Dutch coast such as might be used for an invasion of Britain were reported tonight by the Air Ministry.

The Air Ministry also reported attacks on an airplane factory and on docks at Bremen and new onslaughts on the German big gun emplacements from which Dover has been shelled across the English channel.

Four British planes failed to return.

FAIL TO AGREE ON DRAFT BILL

Senate-House Conferees Deadlocked On Age Limits

Washington, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Senator Austin (R-Vt.) said today that efforts to settle on age provisions of the peace-time draft bill had "blown up" temporarily, leaving a joint conference committee still deadlocked on major differences in Senate and House versions of the legislation.

Later Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex.) told a press conference that the age limit provisions of the bill had been passed over only temporarily while minor points were being settled.

Sheppard said House conferees had not given their answer yet to a Senate proposal to subject all men from 21 through 39 to registration for the draft.

Another point—what to do with the House provision for a 60-day delay in conscription—was also passed over for the present.

House language providing for the establishment of local county "draft" boards of three civilian members appointed by the President on recommendation of the Governor, had been broadened to permit the naming of a military man as director of selective service, a $10,000 a year job.

The conferees also adopted a House-approved provision that no Communist nor member of the German-American Bund should be employed to fill a job temporarily vacated by a conscript inducted into service, but eliminated a House reference to aliens.

Sheppard said the committee hoped to reach a final agreement on the bill late today so that it could be acted upon by the Senate Friday.

Although congressional agreement was still in abeyance on conscription age limits, the War Department has made plans, it was disclosed today. (Continued on page six)

HUGE PILLARS ARE TOPPLED

King And Queen Not In Palace At Time And Spokesman Say No Casualties Suffered; 100 Windows Smashed By Explosion

London, Sept. 10.—(AP) A delayed action bomb hit Buckingham Palace, residence of the king and queen of England, Sunday night and exploded Tuesday, demolishing one corner of the north front and sending flying glass over the first floor.

King George and Queen Elizabeth were not in the palace at the time and a palace spokesman said today there were no casualties.

Reporters were permitted to inspect the wreckage at the century-old Royal residence this morning.

The torn out part was the glass-enclosed swimming pool just inside the queen's sitting room, facing an expansive shaded lawn where the annual July garden party was given in peace time.

Great pillars of white stone were toppled in fragments around a crater 15 feet deep and 35 feet wide. Only household staff members were there when the bomb struck and they were in air raid shelters a palace attendant said.

"There was very little damage inside," the spokesman said, "most from flying glass and soot from chimneys. Paintings and other art objects were removed long ago."

The explosion smashed at least 100 windows of the palace. Outside walls were scarred by flying fragments.

SEAT LOST BY SEN. ASHURST

Three Of His Colleagues, However, Are Victorious

By The Associated Press

Mounting returns from Tuesday's primary elections found Senator Ashurst (D-Ariz.) long a colorful capital figure, in an apparently losing fight today in his sixth bid for renomination, but the prospects were happier for three of his colleagues.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) was assured of renomination by an overwhelming lead. Senator Shipstead (Farmer-Laborite) who joined Republican ranks this summer, enjoyed a wide lead in Minnesota over a field of eight as the choice of his adopted party. And in Vermont Senator Austin received renomination unopposed.

Ashurst, whose opposition to the conscription bill was used against him in the Arizona campaign, trailed his opponent, Ernest W. McFarland, by a vote of almost two-to-one. Ashurst had been Senator from Arizona since the state's admission to the Union in 1912.

Louisiana returns meanwhile indicated that four members of the House of Representatives had gone down in defeat with three others facing the uncertainty of run-off primaries. Governor Sam Jones elected last winter by the anti-Long forces, had urged the defeat of all eight incumbents as supporters of the Long organization. One did not seek renomination.

Prince Alessandro Torlonia (above), wealthy young Italian and son of the former Elsie Moore of New York, was reported arrested at Rome in a roundup of Italians suspected of "anti-Fascist" or defeatist tendencies. Friends said he was accused of "talking too much."

DEFERS RULING IN CIVIL CASE

Judge To Rule Later In Latest Whitehurst Case Motion

Judge C. E. Thompson, presiding over a civil session of Pitt Superior court, this morning reserved judgment on a motion brought in behalf of the county seeking to set aside a purported consent judgment signed by Judge J. F. Harrington, Clerk of Superior court, in the civil action against former Sheriff S. A. Whitehurst.

The judgment signed by Judge Harrington provided for payment to the county of $1,100. The county contends it is due some $17,000 in fees from the former officer or his sureties.

The county is represented by the local firm of Harding and Lee and Jesse Jones of Kinston, while J. B. James and former Superior Court Judge Abdon Dunn represent the former officer.

The Whitehurst case, in its various phases, has been in the courts of the county for more than two years.

Today's action was brought on motion of counsel for the county that the purported consent judgment be set aside. Attorneys for the county contended that the judgment was not consented to by the full membership of the Board of Commissioners.

Judge Harrington's judgment was based on appeal by Judge R. Hunt Parker, who remanded it to Judge Harrington, who in turn held the question of setting aside the judgment was a matter for the Superior court, although he was with authority to set aside his own judgment.

The question later was heard by Judge J. Paul Frizzelle, who ruled that the question of setting aside the judgment was a question for Superior court.

It was generally agreed before today's decision was rendered that regardless of the ruling, an appeal would be taken to the State Supreme court, thereby further delaying the long, drawn-out affair.

Speaker Bankhead Ill At Baltimore

Baltimore, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Speaker William B. Bankhead, weakened by constant strain of congressional duties in the midst of a national emergency, remained under close medical observation at his hotel today after collapsing half an hour before a scheduled nation-wide radio address.

The 66-year-old Alabamian who took over in 1936 a job which had claimed the lives of two men last four years, fainted in his room last night from what Dr. George W. Calver, Capitol physician, said was an "excruciatingly painful attack of sciatica."

Dr. Calver issued a midnight bulletin saying his patient was resting easily.

Keen Political Interest In Scheduled Address

WILL BE ON AIR 9:30 TO 10 P. M.

Chief Executive Expected To Deliver "Labor Speech" Before AFL Union Convention

Washington, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Keen political interest centered today on President Roosevelt's address to the International Teamsters convention—an address announced by his press secretary as "in all probability . . . the labor speech of the campaign."

Mr. Roosevelt will make the address in Constitution Hall tonight from 9:30 to 10 p. m. EST, but he said to reporters yesterday that no one would be able to tell whether it was political, even after it had been delivered.

In New York, however, Democratic National Chairman Flynn said it would be a "political speech" and the Democratic National committee arranged to pay for the radio time on two national networks (NBC and CBS)—a possible sign in as much as broadcasting companies charge to carry political speeches.

Roosevelt supporters noted that Stephen Early, White House press secretary, had used the word "campaign" in announcing that the chief executive would probably deliver his "labor speech" when he addressed the AFL union gathering. They said Mr. Roosevelt's remarks would have something of a political nature if the speech lived up to Early's advance description.

Democrats said that the occasion offered Mr. Roosevelt an opportunity to aim a few shafts, if he chose, at Wendell L. Willkie, his Republican opponent for president. Willkie has spoken several times on labor and related subjects since his nomination.

Mr. Roosevelt's speech, incidentally, will come on the eve of Willkie's departure from Rushville, Ind., on an intensive stump tour through 18 western states.

Funeral Saturday For James Thomas

Reidsville, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Funeral services will be held here Saturday morning for James A. Thomas, who died in his White Point, N. Y., home last night.

Thomas, a native of North Carolina, was an associate of the late James B. Duke, tobacco magnate.

He spent most of his life in China and the Far East and is credited with the introduction of American cigarettes in the Orient. He was a director of the British-American Tobacco Company.

He was noted in recent years for his philanthropies and he was a trustee of Duke University.

Seek To Establish Willkie Club Here

Rufus F. Smith of Greensboro was in Greenville today in the interest of organizing a local Democratic Club for Willkie.

Mr. Smith declared that the proposed local club, which would be part of a state organization affiliated with a national Democratic club for Willkie, would be composed of entirely of Democrats, as are the national and state organizations. He insisted that it would not be connected with the Republican party in any manner.

The organizer said that state headquarters probably would be located in Asheville, with divisional offices in Greensboro, Charlotte and another in Eastern Carolina.

PLAN MEETING OF MERCHANTS

Annual Membership Session Set For October 8th

The annual membership meeting of the Greenville Merchants Association will be held on Tuesday night, October 8, the date having been fixed by the Board of Directors of the organization in regular monthly session last night.

The meeting was held in the association's new offices on the second floor of the Municipal building.

Only the date of the meeting was decided, the place, program and other details to be worked out later by a committee composed of Chairman T. E. Wilson, O. P. Matthews, C. W. Harvey, Jr., and Berry Bostic. The committee will meet next week to begin arranging details of the program, which is expected to feature an out-of-town speaker.

Women will be invited to attend the meeting.

The fiscal year for the association ends on October 1 and new directors will be announced at the membership meeting. The board personnel will be selected by a membership vote prior to the meeting. The association's secretary, Mrs. Cora S. Powell, was instructed to send out mimeographed ballots listing all members.

The various members are to make their choice for board members, mark and hand the ballots back to organization officials. A tally committee composed of J. M. Taft, D. J. Whitchard, Jr., H. L. Ormond and C. W. Harvey, Jr., was named to count the ballots and announce the 14 high men at the membership meeting. The immediate past president will be a member ex-officio of the board.

The new board members will meet, under by-laws of the organization, within one week after the membership meeting to name a president, vice-president, treasurer and secretary.

Discussion of the membership meeting was the principal business considered at the last night's meeting, although several other routine matters were taken up by the board.

King Takes Cover In Police Station

London, Sept. 11.—(AP)—King George and Queen Elizabeth took cover under a police station today when an air raid alarm sounded as they were touring bombed areas of southeast London.

As the sirens shrieked the king and queen left their car in which they had been riding and walked downstairs into the shelter.

German Quarters Declare 10,000 Plane Loads Of Bombs To Be Unleashed On London Daily; British Bombers Knife Through Defense Barrage To Loose Cargoes On German Capital

(By The Associated Press)

Nazi quarters in Berlin asserted today that 10,000 plane loads of bombs daily will be unleashed on the London area in the next few days, striking from French coastal bases on a titanic "all-out" assault.

A host of 2,500 German warplanes making four trips daily will carry out the threatened full-scale blitzkrieg, they declared, apparently aimed at wiping out the 2,000-year-old British capital with its 8,000,000 inhabitants.

"I wouldn't give a farthing for the Houses of Parliament," said a German closely connected with Reichsmarshal Goering.

The informant said Goering had "left open" the question of whether troop landings would be attempted to conquer the island kingdom, declaring:

"It all depends on how well the British fight back.

"It is conceivable that England will collapse under the weight of our air attacks. Then invasion will be unnecessary. But we are prepared either way."

This unofficial report, if true, would indicate that the next two or three days may see a decisive turn in the year-old European conflict.

The informant asserted that the great waves of Nazi bombers were scheduled to start the assault either late today or tomorrow.

Waves of British dive bombers gave Berlin's 4,000,000 inhabitants a taste of terror from the skies today, knitting through a fierce anti-aircraft barrage to rain explosives on Hitler's Reichstag, the Potsdam railway station, the Brandenburg gate and the famous Unter Den Linden—Berlin's Fifth Avenue.

One exploded bomb was believed to have dropped barely a yard from the home of Propaganda Minister Goebbels.

Hitler's high command admitted that a number of streets in the capital "had to be evacuated temporarily" this morning "because of the danger of houses collapsing."

Bomb splinters slightly damaged the United States embassy adjoining Goebbels' residence.

The Royal Air Force raiders striking before dawn on the most spectacular assault yet on the German capital, took a reported toll of five killed, many wounded and apparently heavy damage. The raid lasted two hours.

Other squadrons of the Royal Air Force bombed German-occupied Belgium.

German night raiders again subjected London's millions to an all-night attack—the fourth in a row. Fires raged in warehouses and factories along the Thames river and in "The City," London's "Wall Street" section.

A church in central London was demolished by a giant bomb hit. A big apartment house was shattered and other missiles hit a large maternity hospital, smashed into the streets and shook buildings in the main business section. London had (Continued on page six)

N. C. UPHOLDS ROAD PROMISE

Makes Good On Road Across Lake Mattamuskeet

Reflector Bureau.
By HENRY AVERILL
Raleigh, Sept. 11.—In announcing that bids will be received for projected roads from Soco Gap to Cherokee and from Swan Quarter across Mattamuskeet Lake, the State made good on one highway promise and put another highway project squarely up to the people of Hyde county.

The Soco Gap-Cherokee road is what the Cherokee Indians were promised if they would give up a right-of-way for the Blue Ridge Parkway across their reservation. It will enable them to get in and out without going on the federal parkway and, what is more important, they will be permitted to use trucks, something not allowed on any part of the Blue Ridge Parkway.

The announcement heralds almost the last of a controversy which at times made the matter the vital issue in Cherokee tribal elections.

The Hyde county road for which bids would be asked, will run across Mattamuskeet Lake for a distance of about six miles. It would be part of a hard-surfaced highway between Swan Quarter and Columbia.

The last paragraph of Governor Hoyer's statement about letting bids is significant. He said:

"...and the Mattamuskeet Lake road is also ready to be included in that letting in the event it meets with the approval of the people of Hyde county."

And thereby hangs a tale. There is much opposition to the highway because it is contended that it would ruin, or seriously impair, the fishing in Mattamuskeet.

The Governor's announcement put the matter of "road or no road" squarely up to Hyde county.

MAN DEFEATS NATURE. YELLOWSTONE REPORTS
Yellowstone National Park.—(AP)—Getting geysers to perform is a matter of balancing water. Daisy geyser, which should erupt every 30 to 105 minutes, recently failed to spout. Naturalist George Marler was called. He discovered that Brilliant pool, near Daisy, was overflowing. He constructed a small dike around Brilliant, raised the level two inches and soon Daisy shot a spout high into the air. Marler concluded that water in underground channels that connect the pool and geyser probably had become "unbalanced," but all that was needed to restore order was the added pressure from the extra two inches of water.

Strength For The Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

MUCH SERVICE IN LITTLE ACTS

A great deal is said today about "doing your good deed for the day." Much stress is laid upon what one should do or what one should not do. But very few people who deliberately try to do a "good deed" every day are remembered for it. Those who do their duty above personal desire hear the plaudits of the crowd for awhile and then suddenly realize that the plaudits are growing dimmer.

But it is the spontaneous, habitual little acts of kindness that a man or woman does every day which bring a reward. A helping hand to the little old lady crossing the street, a smile and a thank you for the grocer, a bit of cheerful advice to the harassed young wife next door, a long letter to that too-often forgotten school friend; and suddenly your acquaintanceship has grown. The little old lady tells her family about the nice neighbor, the grocer hastens to wait on you the next morning, the young wife comes the next day for advice, and soon there is a letter from your friend who had long been waiting to hear from you. And it has cost very little. Wordsworth in his "Tintern Abbey" speaks of

"That best of a good man's life— His little nameless, unremembered acts Of kindness and love."
These are what count most in the long run.

SCIENTIFIC SHOPPING

The alert housewife can do a great deal toward making budget dollars stretch—and toward keeping merchants on their toes in trying to out-serve each other.

A recent issue of Consumers' Guide, a publication of the Department of Agriculture, offers the housewife some excellent shopping advice. It is certainly simple and obvious. Here are a few of the suggestions:

1. Plan before you market—check supplies in your larder and left-overs in your refrigerator.
2. Shop around and compare prices—watch the newspaper for specials.
3. Always buy by grade whenever possible. Grades are your guarantee of the quality you want and are paying for.
4. Be sure that the scales in any store you patronize carry the seal that shows they have been inspected and approved by your weights and measures official.
5. Look for the net weight on packaged foods. Compare the cost per ounce of different brands and containers to determine which is the better buy. Be on your guard against off-sized packages. 6. Take home the trimmings. Scraps trimmed from your meat purchase can be profitably used in various ways.

A buying public which makes its marketing turns with its eyes open, and with the basic knowledge that enables it to buy to the best advantage, can't be easily exploited. Scientific shopping helps stimulate competition between all kinds of stores—chain and independent, variety stores, super-markets and all the rest—to the end that the housewife gets more for her money.

Short Shots

Raleigh, Sept. 11.—Those of the eight thousand or more at the Willard Field Day Thursday who are not too much interested in politics or in speeches, will have an opportunity to see first hand how Dr. Charles B. Dearing and his assistants manage to produce some of the finest crops in the state.

All experimental plots and fields will be open to inspection and labeled so far as possible. Farmers are being urged to look these plots over in addition to studying the results from them as shown in the exhibit booths.

Among features which may be inspected are: (1) the strawberry breeding fields; (2) strawberry spacing tests; (3) strawberry forcing beds; (4) small fruit control tests; (5) raspberry-dewberry breeding plots; (6) the rabbit-eye huckleberries; (7) dahlia collection; (8) sweet potato tests; (9) pecan variety collection; (10) the new dairy herd; (11) the dairy herd; (12) temporary pasture for cattle; (13) forage crop pasture plots; (14) hybrid corn test; (15) fertilizer tests; (16) muscadine grape vineyard, and (17) poultry plant.

Southport, which now often rivals Kinston in the sending out of freak stories, now comes to bat with one about Churchill Bragaw, superintendent of famous Orton Plantation. This mighty man, it is said, thinks little or nothing of going out alligator hunting with his bare hands. He grabs the saurian around the snout with one hand, gets something of a head-lock with the other arm and tosses Mr. A. into a boat and ties him up.

Also the story relates how Bragaw recently had some friends at Orton for an alligator steak luncheon. When some were dubious about this fare, he gave them another dish which they found quite tasty. It wasn't until later that they discovered they had eaten rattlesnake, which Bragaw had caught with a forked stick.

Many North Carolina cities have from time to time been faced with housing problems, but few, if any, have ever been called on to meet the kind of trouble which is already being felt in Fayetteville and which will become worse in the very near future unless something is done almost immediately.

The national defense, which is already jamming Fort Bragg with soldiers, and the opening of the United States Veterans Facility in the Cumberland capital are the main causes of a housing shortage which threatens to become acute. The municipal authorities are considering a Federal housing project to take care of approximately 400 non-commissioned officers and their families.

In mid-August there were already 8,000 troops at Bragg and it is expected that recruiting of the 9th Division one of Uncle Sam's new streamlined units) to full strength, the garrison of the big artillery post will go to 25,000.

About 150 buildings are under construction and contracts have been let, or will be let soon, for 600 more.

With the state convention of the Young Democratic Clubs of North Carolina slated to open here tomorrow, there is an unusual amount of serious questioning "Why the Young Democrats?"

There are those who admit that having conventions of Y. D.'s makes for some financial benefit to the city in which the sessions are held. They admit, too, that they are nice for the persons who get good political jobs out of their Y. D. activities.

But they would like a logical answer to the question "Why a Young Democratic Club whose constitution permits Methusalem to be a member?"

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York.—Sometimes the mere mention of a name turns a man's mind into a picture gallery. There are four names that have this effect on C. V. (Sonny) Whitney. Flin Flon is one. Flin Flon is a mining camp up under the Arctic circle. You get copper there. A lot of that copper, most of it in fact, now goes to the British and American governments. It is a mine that Whitney developed with Roscoe Channing, a famed metallurgist. The name comes from an old legend that concerned the inventor of a sort of submarine who dived to the center of the earth, where he discovered gold. Flin Flon is that legendary lode. C. V. (Sonny) Whitney likes to say.

Equipose is another name that produces an immediate effect on Mr. Whitney's imagination. Equipose was Sonny's horse; still is, in fact. He won the Kentucky Derby. He won $375,000 in purses. Today Equipose takes his oats and his ease on the soft blue grass of a Kentucky farm. He's under the care of Ivor Balding, an Englishman and a horse breeder, who still goes to college, learning things about horses. Old Equipose has some new shoes now. The ones he wore when he won the Derby have been silver-plated and today they are in Mr. Whitney's office, on the 58th floor of the Chrysler Bldg., where they serve as ashtrays.

Mention Beryllium to Whitney and his face lights up like a Hollywood premiere. Beryllium, in a sense, is his baby. He spent a lot of money on research, developing it. Beryllium is a substance that you mix with copper to achieve a metal far lighter than aluminum and far

MEMORY OF THE MOON

by Jeanne Bowman

YESTERDAY: Pedro inquires about John and John writes about Pedro. Constance feels she is being honest with neither of them. Reexamining her agreement with John she realizes what a spot she is in.

Chapter 23 'Try To Understand'

EVEN the fire, which had died to coals, blazed to new life with Pedro's return. Flin Flon leaped with the draught from the door, to throw bronze lights on the dark floor to reflect flames in the dark eyes.

Constance ran an inquiring finger along the plane of his cheek and wondered if all things unattainable became increasingly precious.

"You can't borrow without security, Pedro," she chided.

"Michael, hasn't anyone ever told you that you can't bargain with love? Child, there's no security in it, nothing but loneliness when you're away; loneliness and doubt and—Michael, how could I talk steer beef when I was thinking of you? I was afraid I'd try to sell some tough hombra on a lot with Irish eyes and skin that 'ated ninety-nine percent cream.'"

He released her to build up the fire. The logs caught, blazed, filled the room with golden light, as Pedro's presence there seemed to fill it with life and vitality.

"What have you been doing while I've been away?" he demanded.

Constance remembered. "Thinking, Pedro."

"Too much of anything is dangerous," he chided, and leaned forward to study her—"what's wrong?"

Constance sat thinking, sat watching Pedro. She was distrustful of John Raskthorne as she had previously distrusted Pedro. Why? Was she so fickle, so vacillating, she swung to the man in whose presence she was?

Two months ago she had thought, "It is Pedersen, and I against the Taylors and the Cabrillos, who John to back me."

Until she was sure she was not alone in this fight for El Cabrillo; until she knew, without question, who would back her to win, she couldn't speak; she couldn't risk divinity.

"I can't tell anyone, Pedro," she answered slowly.

"That's all right, providing it doesn't burden you too much. Why not tell me hypothetically?"

Constance wondered if she could break down the essentials and put them into a few words.

"Pedro," she asked, "what is victory? Attainment of a thing, a person, a condition, or what?"

"To me, the victory lies in the battle. No one can defeat you if you come out of the battle knowing you've given your best. You can lose every earthly possession, every earthly love, but as long as you know you have played the game to the best of your ability, you're not defeated."

In the deep sigh which came from Constance, came also her doubts and fears. "Thank you, Pedro," she stretched her hand to him. That's what I needed to know."

"And I think," added Pedro, holding her hand tightly, "that Michael Mahoney wouldn't count a battle lost until he had been slammed into the bastille and the key was turned on him. Even then his luck might turn at the zero hour."

name used to find his way into Broadway columns, and he was not an infrequent visitor at the night clubs. His visits are rare now. Perhaps Flin Flon up under the Arctic circle, and Beryllium in Pennsylvania, not to mention Pan-America Airways and an occasional visit to see old Equipose down in Kentucky, are reasons enough for his absence.

Tarboro Holds Two To One Advantage In Play-Off Series

VICTORY GIVES TARBORO LEAD

Crippled Eagles Drop Third Game By 6-3 Score

Trouncing two pitchers for eleven hits last night, Tarboro gained a one game lead over the Kingston Eagles in the Coastal Plain play-off series. Games now stand at a 2-1 count with Tarboro holding the edge.

Forced to use two pitchers in the field, the crippled Eagles were never in the lead. Tarboro's scoring came in the fourth, sixth, and eighth innings: scoring two runs in each of the frames. Kingston scored one in the fifth and two in the sixth to complete its scoring.

Carlton Eure, Sandy Peele, and Martin Metelski led Tarboro's attack on the Eagles. Eure garnered three for four while Peele and Metelski collected two for four. Lou Russo, Eagle shortstop, led Kingston's six-hit attack with two hits for four times at the plate. One of Russo's hits was a triple in the sixth.

Irving Dickens, Wilson second-baseman, engaged by Kingston for the series was unable to play due to his job as teacher and coach at Wilson. Tarboro gained permission to use Sandy Peele, regular Goldsboro receiver, for the play-off.

ROAD PROGRAM IS CARRIED OUT

Will Not Be Seriously Retarded By Recent Floods

Reflector Bureau.
By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Unofficial, but authentic, reports that plans have been worked out for a new and better highway to the summit of Mount Mitchell, coupled with the gubernatorial announcement Monday that contracts will soon be let for two other scenic highways (Soco Gap to Cherokee, and across Mattamuskeet Lake) indicate strongly that the state's program of highway improvement will not be held by necessity for repairing flood damage.

There have been fears in many quarters that it would be necessary to curtail highway expenditures for new highways because of the expenditures absolutely necessary to put flood-routed roads back in passable condition; but these fears are growing less acute in view of continued revenue increases and evidence that the Governor and Highway Commission officials are determined to carry on with all phases of the road program.

The Mount Mitchell plan grows from surveys which have already been made by the Highway Commission, and there is every reason to believe that location of the new road has been definitely decided upon.

Details have not been made public, but it has been learned that plans call for routing the new road entirely over land of the Federal Blue Ridge Parkway and the State-owned Mount Mitchell Park, with the exception of a strip only a few hundred yards in length.

This land is owned by the Wilson interests, which used to operate the old toll road to the Mitchell peak; but it is not expected that much difficulty will be found in obtaining a right of way over it at comparatively small expense.

shall be fined $10." Mr. Welch called attention to the fact that unclean stables and cow lots are a serious source of fly breeding and he stressed the fact that flies are a menace to health. He said that he expected to send every assistance to the owners and managers of stables and cow lots in order that they might begin at once to comply with the city ordinance.

Henry Ford Backs Wendell L. Willkie

Detroit, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Henry Ford formally endorsed Wendell L. Willkie today, declaring, "I am completely satisfied that he means to win."

In a written press statement, Ford spoke of the Republican presidential nominee as a "business man who understands what this country needs first and needs most."

The automobile manufacturer visited Willkie at Rushville, Ind., Monday, but waited until he returned to Detroit to make public his statement. Ford endorsed Herbert Hoover in 1932 and Alf M. Landon in 1936.

Commission To Hear Greene Road Protest

Judge C. E. Thompson presiding in Pitt Superior court here today dissolved a restraining order preventing the State Highway Commission from relocating a Greene county road between Walstonburg and Snow Hill.

The order was dissolved by agreement that the full Highway Commission will hear the complaint of the Greene citizens.

The action was brought by Henry Shirley and other taxpayers objecting to the removal of the road from its present route.

It was further agreed that the Highway Commission would name three of its members to view the two proposed routes and report back to the full Commission for final action.

Sanitary Officer Granted New Duty

Officials of the county health department today called attention to an act of the Board of Aldermen of Greenville at its September 5th meeting placing enforcement of the ordinance as to the cleanliness of stables and cow lots under the city sanitary inspector, J. T. Welch.

Details have not been made public, but it has been learned that plans call for routing the new road entirely over land of the Federal Blue Ridge Parkway and the State-owned Mount Mitchell Park, with the exception of a strip only a few hundred yards in length.
