Japs Say Any U.S. Challenge to Bring Fight to Finish

INVITE NATION TO COOPERATE

Premier Prince Konoye Declares Question Of War In The Pacific Entirely Up To United States And Mutual Understanding And Respect For Each Other's Position

Tokyo, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Premier Prince Konoye invited the United States today to cooperate with the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis and declared, on the other hand, that any United States challenge to axis division of world leadership would bring a "fight to the finish."

The issue of war in the Pacific, Konoye said in an interview, is up to the United States and hers is the responsibility for any adjustment of relations with Japan.

"At present there is no concrete plan to take the initiative in negotiating with the United States," he said. "However, whether the Pacific will become the scene of war or peace solely depends on whether Japan and the United States respect and understand each other's position."

The premier urged the United States to reconsider her previous position and "positively cooperate with axis construction of a new world order."

"Nevertheless, should the United States deliberately refuse to understand the true intentions of Japan, Germany and Italy and consider the triple alliance hostile to herself and challenge the axis nations the axis would be ready to accept such a challenge and fight to the finish," Konoye said.

The premier went on to say that efforts would be continued to adjust relations between Japan and Soviet Russia although he reiterated that Japan firmly opposes Communism.

Two Auto Wrecks Are Investigated

State Highway patrolmen located here, investigated two highway collisions near this city yesterday and last night.

Automobiles driven by John Edward Saunders of Aulander and Lawrence Wesley Moore, colored, of Goldsboro sideswiped each other on the Greenville-Farmville highway near Ballard's crossroads about 10:30 o'clock last night.

Moore suffered an injured hip and leg and Phyllis Higgins, a Negro woman riding with him sustained cuts on the face and lacerations of the leg. Both required hospital treatment. Saunders was not injured.

Both drivers have been cited to county court Tuesday, October 15. The other accident occurred last night about 6:30 o'clock on a dirt road near Shelmerville. Lessie Whitehurst, Negro man, ran his car into one parked on the left side of the road by Mrs. Maggie Halstead.

Front of Moore with the lights burning. Officers said it was possible a special dispensation has been issued to reinstate suspended members at a very nominal fee which cannot be extended beyond the above date.

To Honor Warren

Col. E. G. Flanagan, Pitt county representative on the committee in charge of exercises honoring Congressman Lindsey C. Warren in Washington, N. C., his home town, Friday, October 25, announced today that Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator and Secretary of Commerce, would be the principal speaker for the occasion.

Col. Flanagan said that a full Pitt county committee would be appointed in the near future, with the various townships represented.

In addition to Secretary Jones, several other persons prominent in national affairs, possibly including Speaker of the House Rayburn, are expected to be present for the program.

Congressman Warren is retiring from Congress next month to assume the position of Comptroller General of the United States. He will be succeeded by Herbert Bonner, who has been his secretary for a number of years.

November 14 Earliest Date Contemplated For U. S. Peacetime Draft

Estimated That Possibly Fewer Than 100,000 Draftees Will be In Service by January 1, As Compared With An Estimate Of 400,000

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Authoritative sources said today that November 14 was the earliest date now contemplated for induction into the army of men drafted under the new compulsory military service law.

Indications were that the number called then would be comparatively small and some officials estimated that possibly fewer than 100,000 draftees would be in the service by January 1, compared with earlier estimates of 400,000.

Spokesmen for the selective service committee asserted their machinery would be in readiness to begin furnishing men to the army by November 14, but it was pointed out that because of the burdens imposed on the army by mobilization of the National Guard and by the continued expansion of the regular army through voluntary enlistments it would not have the facilities for more than 100,000 trainees before the first of the year. By the time of the conscription act the number of trainees inducted is limited by the availability of "adequate" housing and medical facilities.

Discussing the housing problem today, the War Department estimated that each of the tent camps now being constructed would include more than 4,500 tents and over 300 buildings. These will house National Guard units which are to be expanded to full strength by the induction of conscription trainees.

The wooden contentments to be used by regular army and National Guard divisions training in the more severe climates will be composed of 316 barracks and several score other buildings.

Booster Meet Set For Junior Order

Greenville Council No. 135, Junior Order United American Mechanics completed plans for a rally meeting on Tuesday night, October 8th. The meeting will be held at the Masonic hall in this city.

The purpose of this booster meeting is to congregate all members of the Junior Order residing in Greenville and vicinity so that further plans may be perfected to carry on the patriotic work of the Order. All Brother Juniors are urged to attend this meeting and lend aid in making possible the greatest awakening of patriotic Americanism since Revolutionary days. Cards are being mailed to all known members residing in this vicinity and it is hoped that others whose names are not available will be reached through the press.

In order that every Junior may have a part in this patriotic program, a special dispensation has been issued to reinstate suspended members at a very nominal fee which cannot be extended beyond the above date.

In order that the citizens of this community may know more about the order, its purposes and its accomplishments the local committee will furnish the press with articles for publication from governors, state officials, educators, bankers and leading citizens of North Carolina and other states of the nation, as well as local citizens, who are members of the Junior Order.

Club Will Celebrate Federation Birthday

A birthday party will be given by the Greenville Woman's Club Monday evening, October 14, at 8:30 o'clock, at the clubhouse in celebration of the 50th anniversary of the organization of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. All clubs of the General Federation are observing this occasion with jubilee and anniversary parties. One of the features of this outstanding club event is the selecting and honoring of three pioneer club women of each state. These club women have been, or are being, selected by club women all over the General Federation and those who have been chosen for special recognition.

FARMERS PAID HIGHER PRICES

Week's Average $3.21 Higher Than Same Week In 39

The average price paid on the Greenville tobacco market for the fifth week of sales, which closed yesterday, was $18.57 per hundred pounds, or $3.21 higher than the $15.36 paid for the similar period in 1939, according to figures released today by Sales Supervisor R. C. Rankin.

It also was revealed that the season's sales today have averaged $2.06 more than up to the corresponding date last year.

An estimated 1,200,000 pounds were sold on the market today, with prices said to be even stronger than on yesterday when 906,834 pounds were sold for $179,922.25, or an official average of $18.95 per hundred.

Although all types of tobacco sold stronger today, the demand for good leaf was more pronounced than for any other grades.

Although the 1940 crop was drastically cut under the 1939 bumper crop, offerings on the local market to date total 23,500,700 pounds, or 82.9 per cent of the total sold during the same period last season, when 28,334,100 pounds had been sold.

With market believed to have reached its peak, farmers are being advised to bring their tobacco to market as soon as possible in order to avail themselves of the best available prices.

Despite the day's heavy sales, the market was being cleared in preparation for the start of sales Monday according to schedule.

TO PUSH PLAN FOR AIR FIELD

The Greenville Board of Aldermen, in regular session last night, heard a report from City Engineer H. L. Rivers that the War Department had turned down a request for financial aid for the proposed local airport, but the city fathers did not abandon the project, being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and efforts toward securing an adequate landing field will continue to go forward.

The city will ask the Board of County Commissioners to join in the project and help finance the purchase of the land and development of the airport.

BRITISH CLAIM SEVERAL AXIS VESSELS SUNK

Reports Loss One Destroyer And Several U-Boats

ADMITS LOSSES TO OWN CRAFT Intensified Nazi Undersea Campaign Made Possible By Occupation Of Coast Of France

By The Associated Press The British Admiralty reported today the sinking of an Italian destroyer, seven German U-boats and two Italian submarines in the last few weeks.

The Admiralty's statement on these successes was tempered, however, by an acknowledgment that "the enemy has recently been having a greater measure of success in his U-boat attacks on merchant shipping than during the earlier stages of the war."

The intensified Nazi undersea campaign was made possible, the Admiralty said, "after the collapse of France and the German seizure of the French Atlantic ports," permitting Hitler's U-boats to range farther but in quest of victims than when they operated only from bases in the Reich.

Authorized sources in Berlin claimed British shipping losses since the beginning of the war totaled 7,000,000 tons, not including vessels of less than 2,000 tons.

Nazi long-range guns on the channel struck at Britain's shipping, shelling a convoy in the Strait of Dover at dawn today.

The shots flung up great columns of water, but the convoy steamed on a round the coast.

Bad weather meanwhile curtailed aerial operations in the "Battle of Britain" and London experienced one of its quietest nights since the Germans began their large-scale bombing attack on the city 28 days ago. Scattered Nazi raids were reported over other parts of England, but casualties and damage were said to be slight.

Although the British reported the Royal Air Force had again attacked objectives in Germany during the night, Berlin had no alarm and Nazi "invasion bases" along the channel apparently escaped bombing.

Fish Supper Held By Sunday School Class

Members of the Ellington Bible class of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church attended a fish supper held last night in the classroom in the basement of the church.

J. B. James, superintendent of the adult department of the Sunday school, served as toast master and shocks were made by Class President J. C. Waldrop, Rev. T. M. Grant, the pastor, Dr. W. I. Wooten and M. K. Blount. Special music also was provided. Approximately 50 attended.

State Student Council Meet Set For Greenville

By C. B. ROWLETT An estimated three hundred student delegates and advisors will attend the North Carolina State Student Council Congress to be held November 1st and 2nd at the Greenville High school.

For those who are not acquainted with the Student Council, it is a government of students in any school that uses this particular method. Students are elected by the student home rooms to voice their opinion in the regular meeting which is held each week. Two members are selected from each home room.

The purpose of the organization, which is comparatively new as in comparison with some school governments, is to give the students what they want and in order to promote an interest in school instead of the usual dislike of students toward that big brick building on the corner. Student government has been established in Greenville High school for the past four years and is becoming more of a success with each year not only with the students but with the teachers as well.

State Student Council Meet Set For Greenville

Comparison of student governments among the delegates of other schools in the state will be one of the highlights of the convention.

Fenner Corbett, prominent senior, and local student president, has been elected as Treasurer for the two-day convention. Bob Kohl of Raleigh will be the president and presiding officer of the affair.

Invitations have been sent to 75 schools in the state and any other school that has not received an invitation from the local school is cordially invited to attend.

The theme to be discussed throughout the convention will be based upon "Student Government as a Laboratory For Democracy."

All local parents who feel that they could provide lodging for one of the visiting delegates or advisors Friday night and give them Saturday morning breakfast are requested to get in touch with the local high school. This will be appreciated by all the faculty and student body of Greenville High school.

This is the local high school's fourth year as a participant in this annual event. The convention is held in a different city each year.

TOMMY BRIDGES The Detroit Tigers look the third game of the World series and went into a two-to-one lead over Cincinnati behind the pitching of Tommy Bridges, who allowed 10 hits, but clamped down in the pinches to give the American league pennant winners the advantage over their National league foes.

RECESS NEARS FOR CONGRESS

Hope To Begin Replete Next Week, Possibly Tuesday

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The last big defense appropriation bill delivered to the President's desk, congressional leaders redoubled efforts today to clear the remaining important legislation from their slates so that a recess might be taken some time next week, possibly Tuesday.

Majority Leader Barkley (D.-Ky.) said the Senate "would be ready to quit this week," but made haste to add that the windup of the current 10-months' session could not come before next week.

Both the Senate and House turned in speedy performances yesterday on the $1,482,000,000 defense appropriations bill—last of the big preparedness money measures expected this session. The Senate whipped it through without either debate or a record vote, then the House concurred in the Senate version and hurried the legislation to the White House for President Roosevelt's signature. The bulk of the funds carried by the bill will go for the expenses of the conscription program and the expanding army.

The Senate also approved another item connected with defense—the $200,000,000 War Department civil functions bill. First, however, it knocked a House approved provision for $80,000,000 to start construction on 4,000 new airports. The bill, which includes funds for training 700,000 defense workers, now goes to conference.

PLAN MEETING OF MERCHANTS

Directors Already Chosen To Be Announced At Meet

Members of the Board of Directors of the Greenville Merchants Association have been selected and will be announced at the annual membership meeting to be held at the Woman's club building Tuesday night of next week.

The tally committee, composed of J. M. Taft, Lyman Ormond and D. J. Whitchard, Jr., met at the association's offices last night and canvassed the vote of the members. All members of the association were asked to name their choice for the board and the 14 securing the largest number will serve for a one-year term. The immediate past president serves as member ex-officio.

QUESTION FDR ON AXIS AIMS TO DEFEAT HIM

President Merely Quotes From Story To That Effect

ITALIAN CAPITAL ORIGIN OF STORY Roosevelt Also Reads Section Of Story Regarding Axis Hopes To Keep U. S. Out Of War

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—President Roosevelt quoted today a newspaper dispatch saying that "the axis is out to beat President Roosevelt," when asked at a press conference whether he had "any reason to believe Germany and Italy are working for your defeat in the election."

The news article was a New York Times dispatch from Rome. Mr. Roosevelt picked up a copy of the Times on his desk and quoted from the story in reply to the question.

First he had said it was a little difficult to answer the question.

When, after reading the quotation, he was asked whether he had "any reason to believe the story was true," the President replied he was just quoting the press back at reporters.

It was, the President added, just a newspaper story and he laughed when someone remarked that it was a "pretty good ad" for his candidacy.

The quotation read by Mr. Roosevelt said: "Moreover, the axis is out to defeat President Roosevelt, not as a measure of interference in the internal policies of the United States but because of the President's foreign policy and stands for in the eyes of the Italians and Germans."

Mr. Roosevelt also read a section of the story which said that "as far as the United States is concerned the axis is interested primarily in keeping it out of the war and trying to prevent or minimize its help to Great Britain."

Robert L. Nichols Claimed By Death

Robert L. Nichols, 78, died at his home in Bell Arthur community this morning at 12:30 following three months of lingering illness.

Funeral services will be at the home Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock conducted by Rev. Gilbert Davis, pastor of the Bell Arthur Christian church, assisted by Rev. D. A. Windham, Free Will Baptist minister of Greenville. Burial will follow in the Greenwood cemetery, Greenville.

Mr. Nichols is survived by one daughter, Mrs. L. O. Hemby, two grandsons, Atwood and Derrell Hemby and one granddaughter, Miss LaRue Hemby, all of the home and community, and one great grandson, Robert Hemby. He is also survived by two brothers, I. A. Nichols of Bell Arthur community and James Nichols, Ayden, two sisters, Mrs. Agnes Bloom and Mrs. J. B. Pearce, all of Ayden, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Mr. Nichols was born and reared and spent his entire life in the community in which he died. He was married to Miss Addie Tucker in 1894 who died three years ago. When Mr. Nichols was married, he and his wife settled the place in which he has lived continuously since then, 43 years with his wife. Since that time his daughter and son-in-law had made their home with him.

Mr. Nichols was well-known throughout his community and meant a great deal to the agricultural interest of Pitt county, being one of the pioneer tobacco raisers having raised and sold tobacco in other markets before the Greenville market was opened. He was progressive in his farming operations and a successful and influential citizen.

Active pall bearers will be M. G. Tucker, W. O. Allen, O. C. White, Leroy Nichols, H. C. Allen and Bert Nichols, friends of the family.

More than 35 billion barrels of oil have been produced in the world since 1859, when commercial production began.

Big Events Are Seen As Axis Chiefs Talk Plans

Official Communique Following Conference Of Il Duce And Fuehrer At Historic Benner Pass Reveals Little; Greece Takes Precautions Against Any Moves

Italian troops, 130,000 strong with 120 tanks, were reported massing near the Greek frontier today, while Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini met at historic Brenner Pass, amid reports that "big events" were in the offing.

Reports from Athens said Italian troops in Italian-dominated Albania had shifted to new positions along the Greek frontier within the last few days.

The Italian press has repeatedly turned its propaganda guns on Greece, asserting that the ancient kingdom was being made a "pawn" of Great Britain.

"All precautions have been taken by Greece against surprise from any quarters," official quarters in Athens declared.

In Rome the authoritative Fascist editor of the "Avanti" newspaper, asserted that the dramatic Brenner Pass conference between the Rome-Berlin axis leaders was not a plot to involve any other country in the war.

"Italy and Germany are not thinking of fixing a date for the end of the war," Gayda added, giving "point to guarded Nazi-Fascist admissions that the war may last a long time."

At the end of a three-hour meeting a communique was issued, declaring: "Within the framework of the ordinary exchange of ideas Il Duce and the Fuehrer met x x x for a cordial reunion conducted within the sphere of the axis."

"The two chiefs examined x x x all the problems confronting the two countries."

Beyond this cryptic announcement there was no immediate official disclosure of what the axis directorate talked about.

Gayda declared that Hitler and Mussolini are so confident of victory that they can now begin drafting "the great constructive lines of their new European and African edifice."

The Fascist editor asserted that "the new points decided at Brenner pass are destined to affect deeply the course of the war and the political and economic evolution of the continents into which the war of the axis more directly cuts."

"The two chiefs examined x x x all the problems confronting the two countries."

British commentators in London took another view. The government controlled British Broadcasting Corporation declared: "Apparently the dictators are having."

To Sing Here Tonight. When Gladys Swarthout appears in her concert tonight at the college at 8:30, the audience will hear "the best concertist in the country," according to a recent letter to the entertainment committee reserving seats for the occasion. Of this singer critics have such things to say as the following: "She comprehends the significance of every song and has the happy faculty of passing it on to her listeners; her voice is big and of exciting quality; she has a charm of personality, a delightful and gracious appearance, and a voice of real beauty."

Miss Swarthout has obtained all her musical training and experience in this country because she believes that the greatest schools and teachers are here.

Part of her experience has been gained over the radio. Every broadcast she has made, and her husband, Frank Chapman, has recorded, have made since 1934 has been recorded, and the records fill an entire room in their New York home. There are now more than 1,000 of these records.

Kittrell entertained the members of the high school faculty, their wives and husbands, and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hooker at a delightful dinner party on Wednesday evening at their home on East Fifth street.

Varied arrangements of beautiful flowers decorated the home throughout. In the music room pink gladioli were used. Purple asters and pink and white cosmos were combined in mantel arrangements and on the consoles in the living room and sun room. Upon arrival, the guests were greeted by the host and hostess and the honor guests, and were served tomato juice cocktails and hors-d'oeuvres.

In the dining room where the buffet supper was served, a color note of green and white was carried out. The table, at which Mrs. J. H. Rose and Mrs. Hooker presided, held a centerpiece of fruits and nuts, indicative of the harvest season. Miss Frances and Elizabeth Kittrell assisted in serving a delicious three-course dinner.

The guests were seated at small tables scattered throughout the rooms, returning to the dining room for the dessert course. At this time a birthday cake centered the table, honoring Miss Elizabeth Kittrell on her fourteenth birthday. Miss Kittrell cut the first slice and Miss Hooker the second. Favors, fortunes and miniature bags of rice were found on the table.

After dinner, the guests were entertained with solos by Miss Zimi, accompanied by Miss Ona Shindler. Mr. J. H. Rose led the group singing. Each person was requested to write a note to Miss Hooker and Mr. Bourne, to be opened and read on their honeymoon.

Hostess To Round Table. Mrs. T. A. Person was hostess to the Ladies of the Round Table on Tuesday afternoon. The decorations were beautiful roses in profusion, rich in color, redolent of fragrance, which had been cultivated in her own garden.

Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Sam Underwood, Jr., and Mrs. Quille P. Winstead.

Mrs. H. E. Austin, a recently deceased charter member of the Round Table, was memorialized and resolutions adopted.

Books for the year were distributed among the members.

Forty Years Ago Today

October 4, 1900

Town Matters
The Board of Aldermen met in regular session Thursday night, five members being present and three absent.

The motion was adopted that no private family who takes school teachers and pupils exclusively to board shall be subjected to boarding house license.

A request was made that Elizabeth street in West Greenville be extended to Fifth street. The matter was referred to the street committee for investigation.

The board discussed the matter of requesting the next General Assembly to pass a bill to permit the town to vote on the question of issuing bonds to provide the town waterworks, electric lights, street drainage, graded school building and market house. No definite action was taken.

uted among the members. Mrs. H. L. Carr ably presented her subject "Two Corners of U. S. A.—Florida and California." She told of the trees, flowers and fruits and places in these two states.

Following the paper of the afternoon, Mrs. Howard McGinnis gave very interesting news items concerning war, politics, recent medicinal discoveries and health producing extracts.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Milton White, served a tempting ice course.

End Of The Century Club. The End of the Century Club held its first meeting of the club year on Tuesday, October 1, with Mrs. L. C. Arthur as hostess.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Edward Batchelor, vice-president, presided.

Miss Harriett Lloyd presented the very fine entertainment schedule of the year and asked that the members of the club support this by securing season tickets.

Mrs. Ralph Garrett, chairman of the book committee, presented a group of unusually interesting books for the year.

The program chairman, Mrs. J. T. Little, told of the interesting and worthwhile programs as the club is to study South America, the most attractive yearbooks took the form of an itinerary for a trip to South America, with the passport picture of each member included. Materials for talks and study were distributed.

Mrs. Little then presented the speakers for the afternoon, Dr. A. D. Frank and Mr. James Fleming.

Dr. Frank, whom we are always anxious to hear, gave the first of a series of talks on current topics. In national affairs, he called attention to the unusual processes by which both Republican and Democratic candidates for the presidency were selected; the appointment recently of five new cabinet members; and the unique peace-time defense program featured by the mobilization of the National Guard and the selective service act. Highlights in international affairs were: the entrance of Italy into the war; the collapse of France; the magnificent stand of England recently; the deal between England and the United States in which destroyers were traded for naval bases; the cooperation of the United States and the Latin American countries; and the recent treaty binding Japan, Italy and Germany.

Following this, Mr. Fleming gave us much interesting first-hand information concerning conditions in France. He said that in a world of chaos and strife, France is probably in a more chaotic condition than any other country. He gave a very sympathetic account of France's part in the war and tried to interpret for us some of the actions of her present government.

At the conclusion of the program, the hostess served a delicious salad course.—Reported.

Girl Scout Activities In Greenville

Last evening Troop 2 met for its regular weekly meeting at 7:30 in the Scout city hall rooms. The main business before the group was the election of the 1940-41 troop officers who will comprise the court of honor. Before the voting took place, the problem of the addition of new members to the already crowded organization was discussed and a decision was made to divide the troop into two sections of different age levels. By this means each group would acquire new girls from the waiting list who have never been scouts, and yet not divide too greatly the original personnel of the troop. The older girls were separated into Section A and retained the same meeting time of Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Three new members were entered on the roll, Mary Andrews, Whitchard, Evelyn Kihlaw and Mary White Jones. The younger girls changed their meeting schedule to Thursday afternoon at 4:30. The new members taken in were Ann Sutton, Bernadine Worsley and Ann Messink.

The officers chosen to be the court of honor from Section A were: Mary Elizabeth Nobles, treasurer; Mary Ann Duncan, scribe; Margaret Ann Johnson, patrol leader 1; Mary White Jones, patrol leader 2; Mary Ann Duncan, patrol leader 3.

Leaders for this troop will be: Miss Virginia Boeger, captain, and Margaret Lee Duke and Margaret Johnston as scout lieutenants.

The officers for Section B were the following: Jane Dail Laughinghouse, scribe; Mary Ruth Carter, treasurer; Lois Brandt, patrol leader 1; Mary Ruth Carter, patrol leader 2; Jean Hilton, patrol leader 3.

Leaders for this group will be: Miss Virginia Boeger, captain, and Marthas Barton, lieutenant.

Because of the length of the meeting, it was motioned to adjourn and continue the new business at the following meeting next week. The troop disbursed at 8:45 p. m. Betsy Hellen, Outgoing Scribe.

Members of Troop 2 held their second business meeting last Monday evening, at which time they formed new patrols and elected new patrol leaders. The balloting and discussions were led by Miss Virginia Boeger in the absence of Miss Jane Garrett, the troop's captain. Shirley Warner and Mary Alice Davis had already been chosen treasurer and scribe, respectively.

Those girls elected to membership on the court of honor were: Evelyn Foley, patrol leader 1; Charlene Moye, patrol leader 2; Martha Barton, patrol leader 3; Ann Hardee, patrol leader 4.

Limited time only allowed a short discussion on the tentative plans for a Mother-Daughter banquet in the near future. The meeting was adjourned at nine o'clock.

Mary Alice Davis, Scribe

The Brownies will have a meeting and picnic at the Girl Scout cabin, 14th and Elm streets, Saturday at 10 a. m. Mrs. E. B. Allsbrook will be leader and each Brownie is asked to bring a cup, spoon and plate, and 15 cents for lunch.

Misses Mary Elizabeth Clark, Myrtle Ruth Taylor and Mary Rose Dixon attended Miss Catherine Rouse's birthday party Monday night at Cox Mill.

Friends of Mr. Theron Paramore will regret to learn that he is ill with pneumonia at his home here.

Mr. Joseph Lee Mills was a Greenville visitor yesterday.

Mr. E. L. Clark of Greenville was here on business Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Paramore of Winterville were visitors here Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. David Smith of Clay Root spent the week-end with Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Rouse.

Assembly Today
This morning an assembly for both junior and senior high was held for the purpose of inaugurating the new student council officers and representatives. Mayor Jack Spain was the guest speaker of the program.

Mr. Mulholland inaugurated Fenner Corbett, new president of the council, and he, in turn, inaugurated the other officers and representatives.

Incidentally this is the first assembly in several years that no announcements were made.

"It took supreme will power," says Mr. Mulholland.

Junior Class
A second ballot is necessary to elect a president and vice president for the junior class. The first election was held yesterday at home room period.

H. R. Goodall and Elizabeth Bridgers are candidates for the presidency. Jack Edwards and Janet Gower are candidates for vice president.

Radio Program
"Caesar Was to Blame," a fifteen minute radio skit for WGTC is being prepared by the Dramateers for October 11.

Louis DuPre, Carlton Wilson, Jimmie Turner, Jasper Pollard, James Swain, Doris Brown, Ted Van Wagner, and Thad Nobles are the eight members of the cast. The band is also preparing a fifteen minute program to be broadcast on October 23.

Headed For Goldsboro
Many high school students are expected to accompany the football squad to Goldsboro tonight. Goldsboro is fast becoming the most important sport rival of GHS here.

Kidnaped Briton Freed In Rumania

Bucharest, Rumania, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The British legation announced today that A. Miller, director of the British-dominated Astra-Rumania Oil Company, reported kidnaped two days ago, suddenly was turned over to Rumanian police this morning by his abductors.

It said that still unknown was the whereabouts of Percy Clark, 60, president of a Ploesti Oil engineering firm who, the legation charged, was kidnaped yesterday in circumstances similar to the seizure of Miller.

Legation officials immediately sought to interview Miller, but said at noon they still had no information where he had been held or by whom.

The Rumanian secret police continued an investigation into what government circles called a "wide-spread British sabotage plot."

Government sources said "indisputable evidence" had been uncovered to show that the British had planned destruction of oil en route to Germany for Nazi planes.

Police asserted that large quantities of bombs, fuses and other materials for sabotage had been found in British and Rumanian homes and all fields.

Governor Nominee In Plea To Women

Raleigh, Oct. 4.—(AP)—J. M. Broughton, Democratic nominee for governor, and other party stalwarts urged women party leaders here today to help roll up "the greatest Democratic majority in history this fall, on the basis of the record of the party in the station and nation."

Broughton said the Democratic party had proven that "it grows and progresses, is not static and inhibited by old and outworn traditions, but marches forward ready to meet the needs of the American people."

He praised the part women have played in educational and governmental progress in the state and commented:

"I believe you women believe in high morals. I believe you are opposed to gambling. I believe you are giving our judges your support in their efforts to clean up gambling."

Broughton drew applause as he raised President Roosevelt and Governor Hoey, and expressed the hope that Great Britain would emerge victorious "in its fight against cruel aggression."

He described the President as "the greatest humanitarian ever called to take charge of leadership of the processes of government."

Promotion Won By Carlisle B. Wilson

Recent promotions by the War Department include that of Carlisle B. Wilson of Greenville from the ranks of major to lieutenant colonel. Lieutenant Colonel Wilson is one of five brothers who hold high-ranking titles in the army.

Lieutenant Col. Frank Wilson has just been transferred from Fort Benning to Camp Shelby, Miss. D. S. Wilson last week was promoted to rank of brigadier general. Lieutenant Colonel Bascom L. Wilson is in the army air service in Texas and Major W. R. Wilson is military instructor at the University of California, Los Angeles branch.

To Hear Argument On Slot Machines

Raleigh, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Judge I. M. Meekins in Federal District court has refused to sign an injunction to restrain Wilmington and New Hanover county from confiscating slot machines, he said today, but has ordered a hearing at Wilson October 15, at which the city and county must show cause why the machines should not be returned to Fred Morris of Richmond, Va.

Morris, contending he was owner of slot machines seized in a roundup of 153 alleged illegal machines in New Hanover county, sought the restraining order, but he got the "show cause" order instead.

The roundup in Wilmington was carried out on instructions of Superior Court Judge W. H. S. Burgwyn as a part of the concerted drive started by Superior court judges early last month against slot machines.

German Kidnapers Given Life Term

Redwood City, Calif., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Wilhelm Muhlbroch was sentenced to life imprisonment today for the kidnaping of three-year-old Marc de Tristan, Jr.

The German alien was sentenced exactly two weeks after he snatched the little boy from a Hillsborough street in what he planned as the "perfect kidnaping."

He stood as though transfixed as Judge Maxwell McNutt pronounced sentence "to the term and time fixed by law." When the judge had completed the sentencing, the kidnaper still stood before the bench and his attorneys had to call to him to sit down.

District Attorney Gilbert D. Ferrell asked the court to include in the record "that the child was returned to his parents without being harmed."

Plans for the annual all-member meeting meanwhile continue, with M. Eugene Newsom of Durham, president of the Citizens bank of that city and past presidents of the Durham and state organizations, slated to make the principal address. Special music also has been arranged with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Holmes, vocalists of Farmville, on the program.

In addition to members, a number of out-of-town guests will be present. Among those expected to attend are Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Dowell of Raleigh. Mr. Dowell is executive secretary of the State association.

ing difficulties and are trying to find some way out.

"It seems that each of the axis partners wants to get help from the other—and both want to discuss ways and means of keeping the United States out of their fight with Great Britain."

Observers recalled that the German invasion of Norway and Denmark was launched only three weeks after the partners last met in their Alpine Rendezvous, March 18 and speculated that another equally surprising coup was in the making.

Local Recruiting Office Is Closed

Sergeant J. G. McMillan, who has been in charge of the local regular army recruiting station located in the Army since June 22, has just received orders to close this office and proceed to Spartanburg, S. C.

The recruiting station was closed this afternoon at 4 o'clock, but Sergeant McMillan, however, will remain in the city a day or so awaiting the arrival of a truck to remove the equipment here.

The recruiting officer has established several records since he has been here, having enlisted a total of 235 men through September 30. Already this month he had enlisted 13 men prior to receiving orders to close the office.

The order that the local office be closed did not state whether or not it would be opened at a later date.

HEAR REPORTS OF DISSENSION

New NCS Men Aware Of Feeling Against Them

Reflector Bureau By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Oct. 4.—They haven't been on the job a week yet, both Dr. R. M. Salter, new Director of Experiment Station, and his assistant Dr. L. D. Baver are probably already aware of a campaign to make their positions at State College untenable.

Recently there have been two published stories referring to them, both of which led to the obvious conclusion that somebody or some clique at State College is sharpening the knife with which to cut the professional throats of the two gentlemen imported from Ohio to put State's School of Agriculture on a parity with the outstanding agricultural schools of the South and the country.

One of the stories made the allegation that the appointment of Salter and Baver was a complete surprise to most State College professors and officials. The only possible deduction to be drawn was that State's existing setup had been snubbed and ignored.

The second item emphasized the $8,000 salary to be paid Salter and the $5,500 which Baver will draw. Coupled with the statement that these salaries are given only to first flight football coaches and seldom bestowed upon college professors, this emphasis was clearly placed so as to arouse jealousy and distrust on the part of other State College professors.

President Frank Graham of the Greater University has flatly denied the implications in Story No. 1, pointing out that both Ohio men visited State College before being appointed. He added that their appointments were discussed with and approved by practically every outstanding State College dean and official.

There could be no objection to Story No. 2 except on the theory of misplaced emphasis.

But the truth of falsity of the stories doesn't really matter. True or false they are cited only to show that a campaign against the newcomers is already under way, and to indicate that their job at State College isn't going to be any bed of roses.

Man About Manhattan

San Juan, P. R.—Almost every one who comes to San Juan buys a lottery ticket. It's one of the things to do, like casting your net into the sea when you leave Honolulu, or sampling a Ramos gin fizz when you visit New Orleans. Furthermore, this is the only place under the American flag where lotteries are legal, so you can indulge the whim without experiencing any twinges of conscience.

You buy your ticket almost anywhere the notion strikes you. On almost every corner old women and little boys offer them for sale. In bulk they resemble sheets of Chinese laundry tickets. The hawkers walk along the street crying something in Spanish, probably "Lottery ticket—buy a ticket today." If you are in the mood you can pay over a buck and take your chance.

The profits from these lotteries go, it is stated, toward the upkeep of tuberculosis hospitals. They have regular fortnightly drawings. Sometimes the prizes are $15,000. Four times a year they have super drawings, and on these occasions the grand prize is $75,000.

There is nothing phoney in the way the drawings are made—no double-dealing or fast manipulation of lucky tickets. The drawings are public and these are held in a second-story hall. Benches for spectators are arranged on three sides of the hall. On the fourth side are arranged the official lottery jurors, whose presence is a certificate of fair play and who are there to guarantee that the drawings are conducted with dignity and in a forthright manner.

In the center of the hall are two huge globes—one holding the numbers of the tickets that have been sold, the other the pellets on which the prizes are printed.

Both of these globes perpetually revolve on an axle to insure a constant and thorough stirring up of tickets. At each turn of the globes a small aperture is automatically opened and a single pellet falls out. One boy immediately scoops up the lottery ticket and reads it. Another lad picks up the prize pellet and reads that.

OKLAHOMANS OBEY THE GOLDEN RULE

Strength For The Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

WE MUST LIKE OUR WORK
We have to like our work if we are going to make a success of it.
If it's only carrying a hod, a person has to like to carry bricks in order to be the boss would call "a first-class hand and cheerful with it."

Of course, we can learn to like our work. Many a person has started in a variety of work which he disliked. Circumstances have forced him to take the first job he could get, and it was the kind of work which above all work he de-tested. Sometimes because of such circumstances a man has to leave his job and find more congenial activity. But times without number men have found that if they threw themselves into what appeared to be a detestable job, it became at first tolerable and at last quite fascinating.

But whether we always like our work or come at last to like it, like it we must if we are going to be successful in it. The man who will never make an outstanding success at anything is the man who likes one thing about as well as another and no one thing with consuming passion. In a world full of things to be met by strong men, there is no such thing as dignified and undig-nified types of work. All work is dignified, if done by a man who has true dignity of soul; and every man has dignity of soul who addresses himself to the task at hand with cheerfulness of heart.

The local high school footboro team in that city tonight. So far this year our boys have been victorious in both their contests. Goldsboro, as usual, is reported to have an exceptionally good team this year, but neverthe-this afternoon with the community's good wishes and hopes for another victory.

While definite action was not taken by the Board of Althe purchase of property for an airport here, there seems to be little doubt that in the near future property will be purchased and an airport here will become a reality.

Greenville has already put off this matter of an airport too long and most of our citizens hope that members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, now sponsoring the project, will continue their efforts until they are crowned with victory.

We've said it many times,
but it is not amiss to again remind you to be careful if you are motoring to one of Football crowds always cre-

Plans for the selective military service registration on October 16 are fast being whipped into shape, but it is likely that in some communities in this county extra help will be needed to handle the large number of registrants.
It is to be hoped that any citizen called upon to help in the work will do so gladly.
You might be busy and you might feel that you cannot spare one day's free time for this important job, but it must be remembered that when the draft finally comes the young men called must give at least a year of their time for training to create necessary defense forces for our country, and in the face of such sacrifices to be required of our young men, you should not hesitate to give a little of your time to help out in the registration if you are called upon.

Washington Daybook

By Jack Stinson

Washington — Capital chatter: Census figures recently released put Washington, D. C., 37th in the list of states in the matter of population. That leaves 12 whole states which have as many people as the District and makes more laughable than ever that legislative quack which doesn't permit residents of the District to vote, to have representatives in either chamber of Congress, or to govern themselves. The District population exceeds the combined Nevada-Delaware, Wyoming and Nevada.
These states, together, have six senators, three representatives, and nine electoral votes for President and Vice President. But the District can't even elect its own dog-catcher.

I'm not trying to start anything, but the same blueprints that served as a model for the 1936 inaugural stands will be used in 1940. The secret came out the other day when the joint congressional committee in charge of inaugurations told David Lynn, capitol architect, to get busy. That put Mr. Lynn on the spot. Should he build Roosevelt stands or Willie stands? Being something of a philosopher and nothing of a politician, Mr. Lynn got out his 1936 plans, dusted them off, and decided they would do in any event. The '36 stands were uncovered, provided accommodations for 17,000 persons. President Roosevelt approved of them four years ago, so Mr. Lynn, without even looking at the national polls or holding a moist finger in the political wind, figures he couldn't possibly be more than half wrong.
Here's the story about Rep. Sam Rayburn's gravel. It was given to him six years ago by two youths who made it in a Dallas, Tex., high school. When it was present-

Short Shots

Raleigh, Oct. 4.—Probably the most noticeable feature of the current political campaign in North Carolina is the entire absence of any outward manifestations of militancy on the part of either the dominant Democrats or the repressed Republicans.
Nor are the whatever-you-call-them Willkiecrats who still claim to be Democrats setting any fast pace in the matter of intense campaigning.

In this lack of militant spirit lies the chief danger to the normal Democratic majority, though by the same token it would seem to indicate no appreciable gains on the part of the Republicans.

From all sections your Raleigh reporter hears the same story—nobody is getting the least excited and nobody appears to be shirt-tearing for or against the New Deal, the G. O.
P., or anything else.

It is true, however, that the regular Democratic organization is opening up the throttle and it is conceivable that by the first Tuesday in November their campaign train may be moving at top speed. Too, there are reports that Republican State Chairman Jake Newell is trying to breathe some life and spirit into the G. O. P. drive.

A high-ranking Democratic state official today advised your reporter to be particularly careful in making any forecast of the November results.

"We'll carry the state, there's no real danger of actual defeat; but it should not be at all surprising if we were to fall far short of the thumping Roosevelt mark set in 1936," he said.

In connection with Willie chances, this official pointed out one big slip he thinks Democrats have made.

THE ROAD TO SHANI LUN

By Rita Miller Hanson

YESTERDAY: What began for Lynn Britton as a journey light-ly undertaken to visit a Mongolian prince has become a prison trip into the Chinese interior. Now her captor, handsome Temu Darin, is pressing her into Chinese garments on her way to the helplessness of her half-brother, Dick Britton, who apparently deserted her.

Chapter Eight Attempted Escape

"How gorgeous!" Lynn gasped, and held the ring close to her better to admire its beauty. She pressed the pearls to her cheek, felt their soft sheen and then gazed at them again enchanted.

"It is too large," Temu said, removing the circlet. "We'll have it cut down." Lynn could not bear to see that ring leave her sight.

"Perhaps it would fit the middle finger," she suggested.

He shook his head. "That would place it imperfectly."

"I'd really like to own that ring," she persisted. "I'd like to buy it."

He shot her a quick, compelling look that for some reason made her feel abashed as if she had been guilty of some breach of manners or lacking in a sensitivity and intuition she should possess.

"Some rings are never for sale," he replied quietly.

"I understand," she agreed ruefully. She hadn't known, it was in her to feel such a passion for an object. For a moment she had forgotten her surroundings.

"How did you acquire the ring?" she asked.

"I neither bought it nor stole it," he smiled, returning the ring to his pocket. "You'll want some of these hair ornaments," he went on, and laid aside one of pink jade representing the lotus and another of peony design in blue tourmaline.

"My short hair wouldn't hold those things," she informed him coldly.

"I imagine it grows swiftly," he remarked, and calmly laid aside several necklaces of Mongol workmanship. "You have beautiful hair."

Though she had brought up the personality his continuation of it made her angry. With an effort she held back a contemptuous remark. Finally he picked out a pair of tiny, jeweled tobacco pipes.

He was so arrogantly sure of himself that Lynn could not help being impressed by it. Being the friend of a prince seemed to have its compensations, she mused.

work of your car?"
"Ootton gin," replied the college man.
"Aha! I thought so—a bootlegger," said the officer triumphantly. "Lemme see it."
And so the "boot" of the car was opened and a bright, shiny model cotton gin—actually capable of ginning cotton—was displayed.
The officer is still wondering when gin is gin and when it is something else.

State employees often mulcted for large campaign contributions, hope young Dick Reynolds, in charge of raising money for the national campaign, meant what he said when he issued this statement:
"Every loyal Democrat will be given an opportunity within the next few days to contribute his or her part, however small the amount may be, to the welfare of the party. But under no circumstances will anyone be urged to give more than he or she feels he should give."

Pirates Ready For Saturday Evening Gridiron Battle

TO BE PLAYED AT SMITH PARK

Local College To Engage Presbyterian Junior Team

By BURTON DANIELS.
Coach John Christenbury took one last look at his Eastern Carolina charges this afternoon and pronounced them ready for their first night tilt against the Scotties of Presbyterian Junior College in Guy Smith Stadium Saturday night. There are no injuries on the squad, and it is expected that every man will see action in the tilt. Even though for the first time in years the Pirates are pre-game favorites, the men are taking this game seriously knowing that they must hustle to make a respectable showing against the strong club from Maxton.

This week has been devoted to intensive offensive drills with McFee being groomed in the tailback slot. The series of plays that were installed during the earlier part of the week have been rehearsed time and again, and in yesterday's scrimmage they appeared to be clicking for the first time.

The biggest improvement appeared to lie in the smoothing out of wrinkles in the passing game. The tosses were hitting receivers all over the field for completions in the hour pass drill that was staged. McFee and Murray were doing the major part of the tossing, while Green and Davidson were setting their hands on the ball out in the secondary with regularity.

The whole offense appeared smoother than at any other time this season with Schuerholz and McFee setting away for several long runs during the course of the scrimmage. Murray was zooming punts far down the field that had the defensive safety man going back for the ball time and again, some of the kicks carrying sixty and seventy yards.

Coach Christenbury would make no outright prediction as to the outcome of the game, but described the Pirates' chances of coping as being excellent. This to the tight lipped coach is to say that he is exhorting the boys to really get rolling in there come tomorrow night.

Another fact that will add interest to the game is the fact that Coach Christenbury and Coach Brown of the Scotties were classmates at Davidson and competed on the same teams. They will have a friendly rivalry in the outcome of the game other than that usually involved.

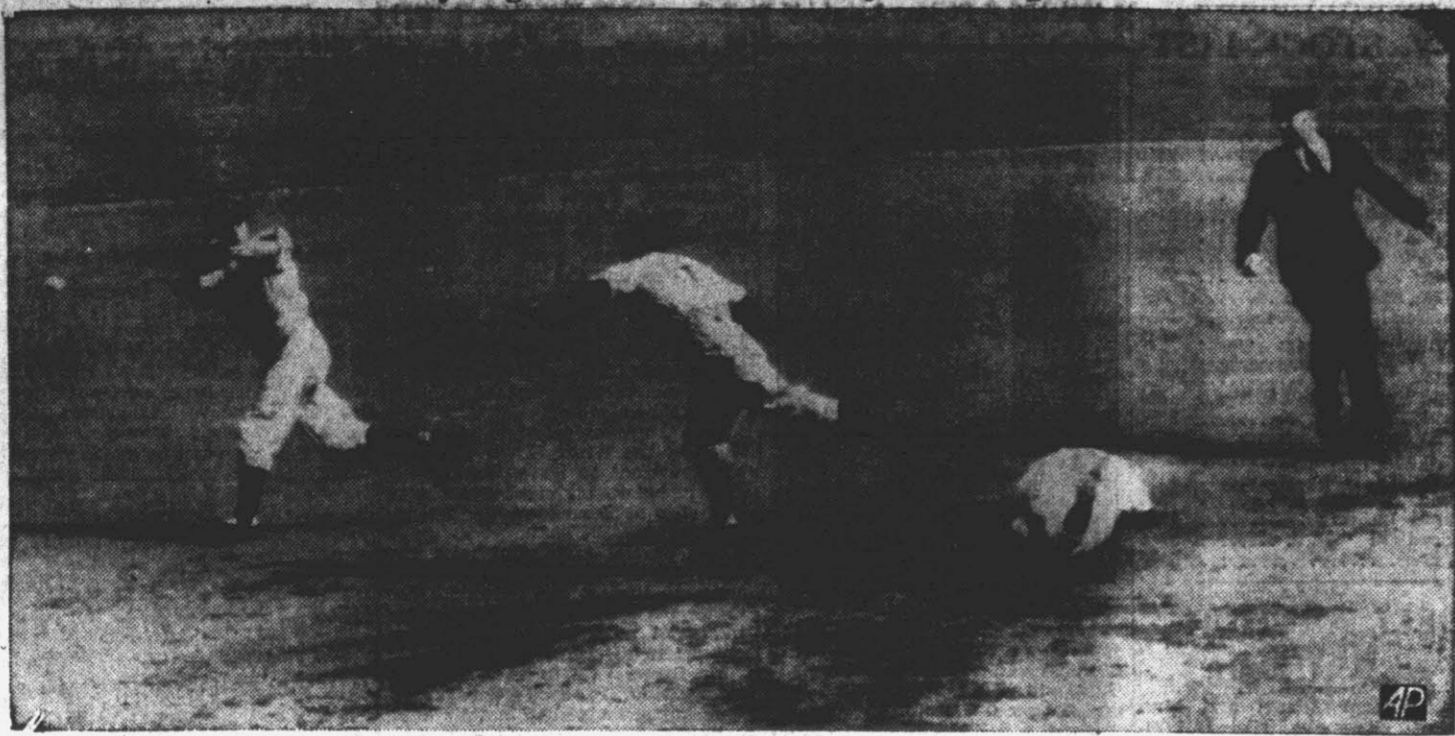

Coach Brown has listed his starters as: Bostwright, L.E. Marks, L.T. Fournain, I.G. Coleman, C. Corbett, R.G. Ineram, R.T. Perkins, R.R. Durant, Q.B. Floyd and Grady halfbacks, and Gooden, fullback. Little is known of the Presbyterian outfit other than the fact that Grady is known as a seat back in the circles in which they have been playing and the Pirates are expected to have trouble in stopping him.

Coach Christenbury lists his probable starting lineup as: Craven, I.W. Robinson, I.T. Lucas, I.G. Rogers, C. Olanakos, R.G. Young, R.T. Green, R.R. and Davidson, M.Fee Schuerholz, and Murray in the backfield.

Tickets are moving at a fast clip and it is apparent that the game will be played before a near sell-out crowd. Plans are being made for the erection of additional seats at the stadium Saturday night.

This Play Figured In Reds' Victory Over Tigers

Here's a rousing bit of action in the second inning of the second game of the World Series at Cincinnati during which the Reds rallied and scored two runs that helped them defeat the Detroit Tigers 3 to 2. Tiger Catcher Tebbetts (not shown) tried to catch Ed Joost of the Reds off second base. But his throw was wild and Joost (on ground) got back safely. Dick Bartel (right) and Charlie Gehringer of the Tigers are trying to get the ball which can be seen in the air at extreme left. The umpire is Steve Basil.

Take Bad Photographs?

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Feature Service Writer
"Pictures of me are always terrible. Pictures of me are always terrible. Many of us feel that way about our photographs. The trouble often is in the way we put on our makeup. I asked lovely Francis White, the radio singer, about how she applies her make-up before having her picture made. She chooses a yellow powder base. Then she applies foundation cream or lotion. She doesn't use rouge, because it's likely to be a black spot in the photograph. She pats powder lightly on her face and neck. She uses short light strokes in penciling over her natural eyebrows, avoiding an unnatural arch. If she feels she needs eye shadow she chooses light grey or blue and that sparingly. Her mascara is only the amount she uses regularly in daytime. Her photographic lipstick is pink or pinkish. That's again to prevent a dark spot. She has her hair done the day before she has her picture taken and combs it out again before the camera snaps to prevent artificial appearance. She finds that her lips look most natural if parted slightly as she looks at the birdie.

Carolina Looks To Game With Davidson Saturday

Chapel Hill, Oct. 4.—Students alumni, and fans are looking to the annual Carolina-Davidson scrap in Winston-Salem Saturday for a wide-open battle between the 190-pound lines, speedy backfields, and Dale at tackle, and H. R. Goodall at center.

The local "B" team, the first in the history of Greenville High school, lost its initial contest yesterday to a stronger Goldsboro High "B" team, 14-0.

flashy aerial attacks, but what Coach Ray Wolf is looking for is an answer to some of the question marks that have been hanging over several positions thus far.

The Tar Heels and Wildcats will match power, speed, and pitching in Bowman Gray Memorial Stadium at 2:30. This will be Winston's only Big Five feature of the year, and a near-capacity crowd is expected for the game and attendant program of music, bands, dances, parades, and alumni get-togethers.

Carolina was to take its last light drill on the home field today and a large student delegation, led by the band and cheering section will follow the team up tomorrow.

Coach Wolf has taken the Carolina machine to pieces this week, rebuilding and rearranging the whole line around Co-Captains Gates Kimball and Paul Severin, and realigning and polishing the backfield around Jim Lalanne and Harry Dinkle.

Sophomore Howard Hodges has moved up to the other terminal opposite Severin. Gwynn Nowell has gone back to left guard, and Dick Sisk has taken over the tackle next to Kimball. Letterman Carl Sumthorn and Sophomore Tank Marshall have stepped in at center and right guard. And Sprinter Don Baker and Sophomore Mike Cooke have moved into the backfield with Lalanne and Dinkle.

Thus, where four positions were set for the opening game and have remained so, seven others were not. And while Carolina had more than its equal quota of substitutes as far as number and size, practically all of them were sophomores with no experience or seasoning under heavy varsity fire, and Coach Wolf is still having to season and experiment.

Hollywood

Light and Sound

By Arthur C. Clarke

Hollywood—This fight scene for "Tropic Sinners" is finished after nine days of shooting, and the dispensers of blood makeup haven't worked overtime.

For nine days, off and on, the antagonists have been at it. Marlene Dietrich, no active participant, still got herself mugged and thrown around as the cause of it all. Billy Gilbert, the innocent bystander, got himself "killed." John Wayne, with a mere trickle of blood from his lip, got himself "knocked out"—which is the plot device for saving his life—and Broderick Crawford, Oscar Homolka, Mischa Auer and other participants, adherents of the rival brawling factions, emerged according to their respective fates, but not streaming with blood.

Tay Garnett, the director, has an idea about that. Tay thinks a little blood, enough for realism, is all right, but that too much gore on the screen is unwelcome to patrons.

"Acrobatic, not gory," is Garnett's slogan for screen fights. He likes flying tackles, leaps from rafters to victims below, a bit of jiu-jitsu and Irish carresses to the jaw. Makes for fast action, he says, and doesn't upset audience sensibilities. In these times especially audiences want to get away from thoughts of blood.

There's enough of the real thing flowing to make the make-up artist's collision pot a thing to be used sparingly.

For all that, screen gore has its partisans. Michael Curtiz, for instance, Mike's from the continental school of movie-making. On the continent they used to like their time in realism. When the decks of the vessels in "The Sea Hawk" got spotty with "blood," that's Curtiz' realism. Mike would say that was slow it was, wasn't it? You got more of the same in "Dodge City." You get it from Mike any time the setting and the action call for it, although he can skip it in his quieter efforts like "Four Daughters," "Santa Fe Trail," his present pre-occupation, ought to have lots of opportunities.

I believe D. W. Griffith, who pioneered so many other film devices, was the first in this country to utilize the shock value of gore. He did it in "Intolerance" with that not-too-quick close-up flash of a soldier's head being sliced off with a sword, neatly at the neck. (I remember not sleeping for nights after seeing it, until I learned it was just a prophead.) The scene sent even adults spinning in their seats.

Victor Fleming used the same technique for the "shock" scene of "Gone With the Wind"—that stage case episode in which Scarlett demonstrated that a maiden in distress could use a pistol if called upon. One quick flash of the results, and a swift transition to other scenes while the patrons' hair settles down again.

PHANTOM TEAM AT GOLDSBORO

Locals To Test Strength Against Strong Eleven

By C. B. ROWLETT
An up and coming Greenville High Phantom team will try its strength for the third time tonight in an attempt to down a powerful Goldsboro High Earthquake team in that city.

Thus far this season the local G-men have emerged victorious in the two games played; swamping Wind- every person in the United States over Tarboro 20-6. John Spearman, spearhead in the local offensive and a vital factor on defense, outshone his teammates in both season openers when he accounted for one of the touchdowns over Windsor and all of the scores over the highly-touted Tarboro eleven. One touchdown against Tarboro came after an 89 yard jaunt on a returned punt. Dewey Page, hard driving fullback, is credited with the other marker.

Bill Britt the tossing half of that successful pass combination of Britt to Collins or James, has not only shown his ability as a passer but that he is no slouch at lugging the pigskin when he has been partly responsible for the touchdowns this season by helping drive to the pigskin pay dirt door. In conversion attempts Bill has a record of two for three tries.

"Red" Kittrell, a veteran of three seasons on the Phantom regular eleven will be in his old slot as blocking-back. On several occasions "Red" has shown his ability as a ball carrier when he had to be relied upon.

It is an undecided secret who will get the assignment at the fullback post as both Dewey Page and Hubert Musselwhite are showing up exceptionally well and it is believed that either boy could hold down the duties.

Although it is not a certainty, it is the general belief that both teams will take the air often during the game. With one of the best passing triangles ever in the history of Greenville High school on the Phantom team, it is the belief that Coach Farley will keep the leather in the sky if the Quaker line is as strong as reports have made it.

Larry James and John Collins veteran flankmen, are beginning their third year on the local squad. Both boys stand over six feet and are hard hitters. As they have shown thus far this season, pass snatching is right up their alley.

Other starters will consist of Paul Scott and Noah Lee Edwards at guards, Spencer Carroll and Brice

BELL ARTHUR NEWS

Mrs. William Adams and Mrs. Page of Greenville visited Mrs. Beryl and Mrs. Clyde Newby Thursday afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert Davis were in Nashville Wednesday afternoon. Miss Emma Starkey, Mrs. Denmark and Mrs. Rouse of Kinston visited Mrs. William McArthur on Wednesday.

Mrs. Amos Strickland, Mrs. Mack Smith and Mrs. Robert McArthur were in Greenville Monday.

Mrs. Nelson Hunsucker of Winterville visited her mother Tuesday.

Pitt county lawyers held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday night in the Sunday school rooms of the local Christian Church. The ladies of the Missionary Society served the supper.

Note of Thanks
We wish to use this means as an opportunity to thank our friends for the many kindnesses and expressions of sympathy shown us, and for the beautiful floral tributes during the recent illness and death of our father, C. R. Willoughby.

Mrs. Richard Nichols, Mrs. Fred Dawson, Robert Willoughby.

CLUB WILL CELEBRATE FEDERATION BIRTHDAY

cial recognition and honor at this time from the state of North Carolina are: Mrs. A. J. Howell of Wilmington, for longest term of service; Mrs. Eugene Piley of Charlotte, past president of the North Carolina Federation, for most distinguished service; and the late Mrs. R. R. Cotten as the most outstanding club woman of the state.

Mrs. R. R. Cotten was one of the three women whose names were sent in from the Greenville Woman's Club and Greenville is both happy and proud that she was selected on Wednesday of last week as one of the three women chosen from the entire state to be thus honored.

Though she has passed on to larger fields of endeavor, her memory and the appreciation of her exceptional services still lives on in the minds and hearts of the club women of North Carolina.

Honor guests of this outstanding forthcoming event will include Mrs. John D. Robinson of Wallace, president of the N. C. Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. C. K. Proctor of Oxford, second vice-president of the N. C. Federation; Mrs. J. B. Joyner of Farmville, president of the 15th District; and Mrs. J. M. Hobgood of Farmville, chairman of the pioneer clubwomen committee of the 15th District. Mrs. E. B. Ficklen and Mrs. J. L. Fleming will also be special guests and the memory of Mrs. R. R. Cotten will be honored on this occasion.

The birthday celebration will embrace and include the first general meeting of the Greenville Woman's Club for the new club year, and all clubwomen are looking forward to this gala event in happy anticipation of it as the ushering in of a new season that is to be filled with new zest and enthusiasm.

On Tuesday, October 15, clubwomen from all over the 15th district will gather in Greenville for their district meeting, to be held at the clubhouse and all club women in Greenville are expected to attend.

Willkie Heard At Pennsylvania City
Abroad Willkie Train, En Route Philadelphia, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie told an audience at Harrisburg, Penn., today that elimination of class distinction, which he declared the New Deal had fostered would help improve economic conditions in the United States.

"I call America back to unity," said the Republican presidential nominee, asserting that unity would enable development of a strong national defense and revitalization of its history.

"The disunion that has been preached in the last seven years is one of the basic causes of our economic depression today," Willkie said.

"It is simple to end class warfare in the United States and bring cooperation and send the men back to work in the factories and the mills and then the 9,600,000 unemployed will disappear.

"If we continue to go down the present road of economic depression and disunity we will go down the road to war because dictators only strike when they think we are weak and we will be weak."

"I go forth as the champion of the Republican party, Willkie told his applauding listeners. "A united party, the party which is seeking to rebuild America, to revitalize domestic economy, to build a national defense, to bring union to our people and thereby to bring peace to America and keep peace for America and thus set an example of peace for all nations throughout the world."

ACTIVITIES OF THE BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMAN'S CLUB

Miss Earlene White, of Washington, D. C., above, honorary president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, will visit North Carolina during National Business Women's Week, October 6-12, and will speak to club gatherings at Kinston, Raleigh and Greensboro.

At Kinston, where Miss White will speak on Monday evening, October 7, she will address the members of the Sixth District of the North Carolina Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. This district includes Greenville and Kinston.

On Tuesday, October 8th, Miss White will be the guest of the Raleigh club at luncheon.

On Tuesday evening she will speak at a joint meeting of the Greensboro and High Point clubs at the King Cotton hotel in Greensboro.

Miss White is a frequent and popular visitor to North Carolina clubs. She is a native of Mississippi and has served as president of her state federation. She served the National Federation as recording secretary and first vice president prior to becoming president in 1937. She was made honorary president at the Kansas City Convention where she was succeeding in the office of the presidency by Dr. Minnie L. Maffett of Dallas, Texas. In addition to newspaper work, Miss White has had experience in advertising and publicity and office management. She is now postmaster of the Senate side of the capitol post office.

The health department today released a report on last week's maternal and infant clinic.

So popular have these Greenville clinics become that Dr. Ernest, the local health officer, had to ask the state health department for an additional clinician which request was granted. This means that there are four clinicians working each month in the two-day clinics held in Greenville. Three of these clinicians are general practitioners and one is a pediatrician or baby specialist.

The health officer says that he attributes much of this popularity to the very fine transportation service rendered by the Greenville Service League. He states that without this service, many poor mothers and babies would be unable to get to these clinics.

Dr. Ernest expressed the opinion that no finer piece of welfare work or community service is being done anywhere in the state than this service.

OF ROOSEVELT
Schedule For Visit to Defense Projects Mapped
Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Johnstown, Penn., and Columbus, Ohio, were added today to a tentative itinerary for President Roosevelt's trip next week to defense projects beyond the Alleghenies.

One formal speech will be made on the trip, at Dayton, Ohio, October 12, when Mr. Roosevelt from his special train will broadcast a report on preparedness to all the Western hemisphere.

The tentative schedule, released today by the White House, calls for the President to leave Washington shortly before midnight October 10 and stop at Johnstown the following morning.

The special train will take the President to Pittsburgh, where he hopes to inspect the Carnegie, Ill., armor plate mill and various other industrial units which are turning out products for national defense.

Mr. Roosevelt is to reach Youngstown, Ohio, in mid-afternoon to tour industrial plants in that area.

Next the special train will move to Columbus, where Mr. Roosevelt will leave it about 10 a. m. the next day to visit Fort Hayes, headquarters of the fifth army corps area.

He will spend an hour in Columbus and then move on to Dayton, Ohio, to visit the army's Wright field, the Wright memorial, the veterans' hospital and the home of James M. Cox, who was the democratic presidential nominee when Mr. Roosevelt was on the ticket as vice presidential nominee in 1920.

Mr. Roosevelt listed an address for the week of October 21 and said he did not know yet whether the speech should be termed political or non-political.

The Pitt county teachers met Wednesday evening, October 2, 1940, at the Ayden High school in Ayden at 8 o'clock. New officers were elected for the school term, and the supervisor discussed our aims for the year. The various groups met for a short meeting, and at 8 o'clock the parents and teachers assembled in the auditorium where a very inspiring and helpful address was delivered by President H. L. Trigg of State Teachers College, Elizabeth City.

Mr. D. H. Conley was present and gave some encouraging remarks. Music was rendered by the Ayden High school glee club. A solo was rendered by Miss Nell Cox. The meeting adjourned to meet October 30th, at Pitt County Training School, Grimesland.
