BOTH PARTIES MAKE BID FOR LABOR'S VOTES

Rival Views Expressed In Addresses By Leaders

WILLKIE SPEAKS IN AKRON, OHIO

Wallace Tells Detroit Audience Roosevelt Administration Provided Jobs For Millions

By The Associated Press

Rival views on labor's stake in the outcome in the 1940 election came in for fresh campaign emphasis today.

Wendell L. Willkie returned to New York and Pennsylvania for further speeches after telling an Akron, Ohio, audience last night that he wanted "to put an end to this era of bad feeling" between labor and industry.

At the same time Henry A. Wallace contended in a Detroit address that because of the Roosevelt administration "there were millions more men employed and spending their wages" and appealed for workers to vote democratic in the interest of business growth.

Sharing the spotlight with principals in the campaign was John I. Lewis, CIO president, who will speak over some 300 radio stations from 9 to 9:30 o'clock EST. tonight. Lewis, it is believed, may disclose his choice between President Roosevelt and Willkie.

Willkie said there could not be a growing national economy "except by understanding and cooperation between labor and management."

"With the help of the leaders both labor and of industry I want to put an end to this era of bad feeling," Willkie said.

The Republican nominee later announced that he intended to reply to any "political speeches" by President Roosevelt within 48, and probably 24 hours of their delivery. Mr. Roosevelt plans four more such speeches in his third term campaign for re-election.

Herbert Hoover made his first speech of the campaign at Columbus, Ohio, last night and asserted that the New Deal was creating an economic system "which drifts down the suicide road of national socialism."

Fifty Aboard Lost Nippon Submarine

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Twelve officers, 38 warrant officers and an undisclosed number of seamen perished when the Japanese submarine I-67 was lost in maneuvers south of Tokyo bay on August 29, the Japanese Navy Ministry announced today in a communique broadcast by Domei, Japanese news agency.

The communique said the I-67 disappeared during a heavy storm and an intensive search over a radius of 100 miles from where she was last seen failed to "yield any hope of locating and rescuing the crew of the ill-fated warship."

"The search continues, however," it added.

ACTION TAKEN BY CITY BOARD

Authorizes Drawing Of Check for City-County Airport

Actual establishment of a City-County airport advanced one step yesterday when the Greenville Board of Aldermen in a called meeting authorized the city attorney R. B. Lee to draw up the deed for the proposed site and also instructed the mayor and clerk to draw the check for payment of the city's half of the total cost.

The city and county will purchase the Hines property north of Tar river and west of the Bethel highway at a cost of $6,500, each paying half of the cost.

The aldermen also instructed the mayor, county attorney, a representative of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which organization inaugurated the movement for the project, and any others the mayor may designate to go to Washington in an attempt to secure federal aid for the establishment of the local airport.

It was further indicated that if the intention to proceed immediately on the project when the board ordered that the tenants on the farm be advised that the property would not be for rent next year.

The airport proposal was one of several matters brought before the board.

The office of the mayor and clerk will be closed on Tuesday, November 3, election day, and one side of the municipal building lobby will be used as a polling place.

United States Especially Interested In Any New Disposition Of French Fleet and Also Changes In Status Of French Possessions, Especially Those In Western Hemisphere

Washington, Oct. 25.—(AP)—France's fate—and hourly expected developments which might have a vital effect on American interests—were under close State Department study today following the conference "somewhere in occupied France" between Reichsfuehrer Hitler and Marshal Petain, chief of the French state.

Undersecretary of State Welles and Gaston Henry-Haye, the French ambassador, conferred at the State Department last night after swift-moving diplomatic moves abroad left no doubt that a major decision concerning Europe's future hung in the balance.

The Hitler-Petain conference assumed additional significance in American official's eyes in view of the similar secret meeting between Hitler and Generalissimo Franco of Spain, another possible active Axis collaborator or ally.

Officials here were particularly intent on any factual developments resulting from the Hitler-Petain meeting which would have an effect on specific American interests. For example:

1. Any new disposition of the French fleet which, if turned over to Germany—a possibility mentioned in several reports from European capitals—might become an actual or potential menace to American security.

2. Any change in the status of France's colonies, especially the possessions in the Western Hemisphere. A fourteen-nation committee was established yesterday which, under authority of the Havana Pan-American conference, has emergency powers to assume control of any European possessions in the Western Hemisphere.

Says U. S. Airmen Will Help Britain

London, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Colonel Charles Sweeney, head of the Royal Air Force's American Eagle squadron, promised Frenchmen in a broadcast tonight that millions of Americans "will come after us as they did in 1918."

Sweeney, former officer in the French Foreign Legion, spoke in a broadcast to France.

"We American volunteers—men of 1914, soldiers of the Foreign Legion, airmen of the Lafayette squadron—have rallied to the cause of Britain," he said.

"We will fight with her, for her, for ourselves and for you, so that we shall be free once again after this victory. Those of us who are already here are the vanguard as we were in 1914. Millions will come after us as they did in 1918."

He continued: "Great Britain has become the Verdun of this war. She is the rock against which barbarism will be broken as it was broken in 1916 at the gates of Verdun."

"On this struggle you will be reunited with us and in victory you will win back your joy and your pride in France."

Under law, Jones may appeal to Superior court from the disbarment order.

FDR DECLARES HE WILL SERVE HIS FULL TERM

States Intention To Remain In Office If Elected

AIM DISCLOSED AT PRESS PARLEY

Chief Executive Reiterates That He Will Not Leave Desk More Than 12 Hours During Campaign

Washington, Oct. 25.—(AP)—President Roosevelt told his press conference today that he intended to serve out the whole four years if he is elected to a third term.

The President made the statement in reply to a reporter's question concerning his speech in Philadelphia Wednesday night in which the President said his objective in the next four years would be to make work for every young man and woman a "living fact."

The reporter asked: "Does this mean that, God willing, you intend to serve the full four-year term if re-elected?"

"Of course," Mr. Roosevelt responded.

He then volunteered that the newsmen could quote him directly on that and added he was glad the reporter had put in "God willing."

The President in response to further questioning repeated that as long as the international situation continues as it is at present he would not go more than 12 hours away from Washington to campaign.

Mr. Roosevelt would not comment on the international situation either in Europe or the Far East but replied in the negative when asked about reports that certain inquiries would be made to him through Spain.

While the President talked to reporters it was learned authoritatively that he was watching closely these days four different situations: Spain, disposition of the French fleet, Greece and the Balkans and the Far East.

All four of these questions, it was said, involved possibilities of trouble. It was said officially that while these questions did not mean involvement of this country in any way, they might require such presidential actions as have been taken in the past following other similar developments—namely issuance of proclamations, getting Americans out of trouble zones and freezing of investments held in this country by certain foreign interests.

The event those things came to pass, France may yield naval bases like Toulon, Casablanca, Bizerte and Dakar (not shown). Spain would permit Axis forces to strike at Gibraltar and might enter the war against England. Arrows from Germany and Italy show possible routes of attacks on Gibraltar. ### Asks United States to Intercede In His Behalf Washington, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Former King Carol of Rumania appealed to the United States government today to intercede in behalf of himself and members of his party now held under detention in Seville, Spain.

The king's request was transmitted to the State Department by the American legation in Lisbon, Portugal, after Jean Pangal, former Rumanian minister to Portugal, had asked the legation to forward the appeal to President Roosevelt.

State Department officials had no immediate comment to make on the request or on what action, if any, this government might take.

HELPS TO GIVE FREE LUNCHES

Community Chest Activities Extended For New Year

By WYATT BROWN
Chest Publicity Director

Free lunches for underprivileged school children has been given a place in the budget of the Third Annual Community Chest campaign it was announced by Rev. W. A. Ryan, campaign director, in his speech over the radio station WGTC last night. Girl Scouts are included for $2,000 this year since their program has been got under way.

Emergency relief is not included this year. Other participating agencies are budgeted for the same amount as last year.

Last winter it became necessary to raise money for the lunches of the children in need. J. H. Rose said yesterday that they were already feeding 250 and expected to be called on this winter to feed 500 per day. Therefore, the board of directors of the community chest has included this item in their budget the drive to raise which will be started Tuesday morning, October 29—which is this coming Tuesday.

Mr. Ryan told how the effort to extend emergency relief by the chest proved unsatisfactory. To secure proper distribution it was necessary to have all people helped by the chest fund to be investigated by the Pitt county welfare department; otherwise duplication was inevitable or unworthy cases assisted.

The chest directors have left emergency relief out with the recommendation that such relief should be handled by the welfare department.

The chest campaign headquarters announced that J. H. Waldrop would speak tonight at 6:45 over WGTC giving the exact distribution of the community chest budget for the year 1940. On Sunday evening at 6:45 a meeting of the board of directors of the community chest will be broadcast over WGTC; so that all the people of the community could hear what the board does in arriving at its weighty inclusions and exclusions in the annual budget.

HAMBURG AND BERLIN RAIDED

London Apparently Suffers Heavy Casualties From Fascist And Nazi Planes; RAF Bombers Assault German Cities; France Believed To Have Agreed To "Limited" Aid To Axis

By The Associated Press
With Italian warplanes joining the assault on Britain for the first time, London underwent a series of violent rapid-fire attacks today, apparently suffering heavy casualties.

More than a score were killed or wounded when bombs smashed two street cars on a crowded London thoroughfare.

The German capital also experienced the terror of bombs hurtling from night skies as British bombers gave Berlin its second night raid in a row. The Germans acknowledged a number of casualties were inflicted and that "several fires" were set.

Germany's great northern port of Hamburg, where warships are under construction, also felt the lash of British bombs with a Nazi communique commenting that "fires were set and other property damage resulted in the harbor and some sections" of the city.

The London Air Ministry said Royal Air Force planes stormed Berlin in a three-hour attack, flying low over the German capital and bombing two railway stations.

On the diplomatic front, attention focused on the status of France as Premier Petain, 84-year-old chief of the vanquished republic, was reported en route to Vichy to inform his ministers on the outcome of a meeting with Adolf Hitler.

Amid strict official secrecy some sources said France finally has agreed to a "limited" cooperation with Germany in return for easing of the Nazi yoke.

In Berlin authorized sources said the Hitler-Petain meeting "somewhere in France" yesterday provided "new evidence that we are trying to put Europe back on her legs under Axis leadership—Independent of exterior influences which have been trying to stick their noses in affairs which don't concern them."

A Nazi spokesman asked to specify these outside "influences" said: "For the present it is England. Our fight is against anyone who opposes European peace. The nightmare of interference will be dispelled."

Vichy, France, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Developments which may change the future course of French history were expected today by observers after France's Chief of State Marshal Petain returns from his meeting with Adolf Hitler.

The 84-year-old Marshal, it was announced officially, already has crossed back into unoccupied territory after the meeting yesterday on which the government announced said "the situation of the nation and its future in large measure depend."

He is due to reach here tonight. A cabinet meeting is expected soon afterwards or early tomorrow morning.

London, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The admiralty announced tonight the loss of a British destroyer, victim of a German mine, and the sinking of a German torpedo boat and an Italian supply ship by British submarines.

BIG BUSINESS NOT GENEROUS

Not Spending Much On State Or National Campaigns

Reflector Bureau. By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Oct. 25.—Both national and state Democratic fund solicitors are marking "big business" down as very stingy this year.

Tar Heel tycoons of industry are colder than hard-hearted Hannah the vamp of Savannah toward Dick Reynolds when the tries to pry them loose from an appreciable amount of folding money for use in re-electing Franklin D. Roosevelt. They are only slightly less frosty toward emissaries of E. B. Denny's state headquarters when they seek a bit of negotiable paper to use in the behalf of J. Welville Broughton, and others on the state ticket.

Young Reynolds, for instance says without hesitation that Jim Gray and Clay Williams of Winston-Salem have refused point blank and forthrightly to chip in with so much as a nickel for the national campaign. Mr. Denny says they have been equally skin-flinted with the state organization.

Dick finally has induced one member of the Hanes family to contribute to the national campaign. Jim Hanes has agreed to give $250, which is no great shakes considering the fact that Jim Hanes is a candidate on the Democratic ticket, running for County Commissioner in Forsyth. In justice to this Hanes, it should be said he claims he has had to donate more than usual to the county organization which is said to be suffering sadly because of defection of the "upper crust" around Winston-Salem. The boys with the big money bags in that section are generally regarded as pro-Willkie and their stand is hurting the Democrats financially all the way down the line.

Despite the refusal of the richest class to furnish any of the sinews of war neither Mr. Reynolds nor Mr. Denny is pessimistic over the job of raising a sufficient war chest to carry on to the end of the campaign.

The State chairman, in fact, told your reporter it is his opinion that this year's crop of more business men of the "middle" and "little" groups than ever before in North Carolina's political history.

Among this middle class which the Marxists and Communists would disdainfully style the bourgeoisie—enthusiasm for Roosevelt, Broughton and the Democratic party is even more ardent than is ordinarily the case, Mr. Denny said.

Mr. Reynolds ditted the Denny analysis of the situation and appears to be reasonably well satisfied with results of his money raising efforts not over-enthusiastic by any means, but seemingly satisfied that there'll be funds enough to keep the campaign kettle simmering if not actually boiling over and putting out the fire.

Both State and National committee officials feel that there is a peculiar need for money this fall because their task in getting out the full Democratic vote is going to be more difficult than usual on account of the almost complete absence of local contests. The November elections will see the National and State tickets up at the top, with absolutely nothing under them in North Carolina except a few scattered county races for the North Carolina House.

Hallowe'en Means Masks But Masks Mean Business

OCTOBER and Hallowe'en suggest masks for pranks and parties, but the pictures here show a mask can be more than a plaything. Masks have serious uses—as protection from:

GERMS

Standard equipment in the operating room are these coverings for mouth and nose.

HEAT

Inverted wastebasket? Not exactly. Worn by welders in ship-building yards.

WRINKLES

Here's a mask recommended to women who would lift sagging facial contours.

BOTTLES

Axis Dangles Peace Offer Before France

Swiss reports say the Axis is trying to get France to declare war on her former ally, Britain, and by so doing would be given an "easy" peace agreement. The black areas illustrate what France would have to yield throughout her empire. France would be permitted to keep all her present territories except Alsace-Lorraine, Nice, Tunisia, Jibuti and the German colonies she acquired in the World War, the Cameroons and Togoland.

Life in war-time London has taken on some of the primitive aspects of the cave-dweller period. Huddled together in relative safety, they are trying to make themselves as comfortable as possible for the night.

Plane And 'Chute Snarled In Air, Six Die

This unusual picture was made a few seconds before a plane (upper left) and a stunt man's parachute (right) tangled in mid-air during an aerial circus at Marianna, Ark., resulting in the death of six persons. The plane crashed to earth, killing the pilot and four passengers. The parachutist also was killed. The plane was circling the parachute to give the passengers a close-up view of the stunt man.

Strength For The Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

COLOR IN LIFE

The beautiful color printing which we see today on the covers and in the advertising sections of magazines is produced by three plates which establish the primary colors. It takes three plates to produce all these gorgeous colors in their entirety. They are all needed for the full glory of the picture.

Life is complex, and we should never heed those who attempt to over-simplify it. It takes many things to make a full life, just as it takes a number of different plates to bring out the varied colors in the printing of a picture. Sometimes we are as dumb as a poorly printed black and white picture. If day by day we beat a pathway between ourselves and the place we work, or turn over one set of thoughts in our minds, or allow ourselves just one variety of recreation, or go further in our folly and try to get satisfaction out of life through dissipation or the wrong use of our powers, we will find ourselves in the end having a drab existence.

Make life contribute to as many ends as possible. Be interested in a variety of things. We get color in pictures by use of a number of plates, and we get color in life by increasing the variety of its interests.

VOTE YOUR CONVICTIONS

(Carl Goerch—State Magazine) Less than two weeks and the voters of America will be on their way to the polls to register their choice for the next President of the United States.

Democratic and Republican chieftains are working along the same old lines.
Political orators are beating the bushes, urging the voters to "stand by the party" and vote a straight ticket. Every effort is being made to keep Republican voters from straying from the Republican fold and to keep Democratic voters from voting the Republican ticket.

To our way of thinking, the individual who is entitled to the highest respect is the so-called "independent voter":
the man or woman who votes his or her convictions, regardless of political parties.

In Greensboro a few days ago, we heard a man express himself somewhat as follows,
"I don't believe in a third term, and I'm opposed to some of the New Deal policies, but I've always voted a straight Democratic ticket and I reckon I'll have to do the same thing this time."

You can't have much respect for that type of voter.
Similarly, you'll find Re-

The Hitch Hikers Know They'll Have To Get Out If He Stops

publican voters who hold the same opinion so far as their party affiliation is concerned. Regardless of what the issues may be, regardless of what their own opinion on national or international affairs may be, they'll continue voting the straight Republican ticket.

Persons of the above type don't think for themselves;
they have let the officeholders think for them.

Before you go to the polls on November 5, make up your mind as to what man will make the better President for the next four years.
Then vote for that man, regardless of the party to which he belongs. Loyalty to the welfare of your country is much more important than loyalty to a bunch of politicians. You owe your country everything; you don't owe the politicians anything.
You're not their servant—
they're yours.

Washington Daybook

By Jack Slinn

Washington.—The other day in the Great Hall of the Department of Justice building, 40 men were handed diplomas stating that they had successfully completed their work in the National Police Academy.

The graduation exercises were run off with comparatively little fanfare. Had it not been that Secretary of the Navy Knox took the occasion to make there a speech of great significance, the commencement program probably would have gone unnoticed by the press. In the last five years, it has become a commonplace, for there are three such exercises a year.

In this period of national stress and international strain, of fifth column talk and rumors of sabotage of the building of a national defense undreamed of in previous times, this passing of one more milestone in Chief G-Man J. Edgar Hoover's police school had a great deal more significance than it was accorded.

Twelve Weeks Of Study
The NPA is run by the federal bureau of investigation and therein lies the story. The 40 men who were graduated the other day had just finished 12 weeks of concentrated study of what are considered by many the most efficient and modern police methods in the world.

The important thing is that something like 500 men representing every state and several territorial possessions, have preceded them. Most of these men return each year for a brief but intensive study of the latest discoveries and new methods which are constantly being developed in the field of crime prevention and detection.

The primary purpose of the school is not to train policemen but to train men who can train policemen.
In other words, these graduates of the NPA are teachers and a study of their own cities, states and there set up police schools modeled on the lines of the NPA here.

find out what it's all about. And that result is that by means of the academy, the FBI has built up a reserve of more than 500 trained men who, if the emergency arose, could be thrown into the breach as special or temporary agents.

Suppose tomorrow that the national defense program or the selective service program should suddenly need policing by a force far greater than the already strained personnel of the FBI could supply.
G-Man Hoover would have them in a minute.

It's no elementary course in criminology that the NPA dishes up. The subjects covered are far too numerous to list, but they include such things as the development of latent fingerprints, laboratory work, training with sub-machine guns, how to make raids and arrests, how to conduct searches, jiu jitsu defense and how to block roads and bottle up escaping criminals, fifth column investigations, sabotage investigations, general crime prevention, the care and use of firearms—in fact, almost everything conceivable under the heading of police work.

Take Examinations
The men keep notebooks, take examinations, work out crime problems, attend lectures and motion pictures and dig in on reading assignments. Their instructors are from the staff of the FBI's own academy. There is no tuition, but transportation and expenses of the men have to be paid by their departments or civic groups.

The men have to be under 46 years old and full-time members of a state, county or city police force.
Application for their attendance at the NPA must be made by the police force in which they work. Seventy-five per cent of the graduates either have had promotions or now are conducting schools in their own ballwalks.

THE ROMAN LIBRA

YESTERDAY: Caught in a Chinese revolution, Lynn and Temu Darin, are driving what they call the refugees who they wait for some way to complete their journey to Shan Lun. Peggy Telford, a friend of Lynn's from America, is resting in the monastery where they have found refuge.
Lynn is wondering whether it may be possible to escape going to Shan Lun, because once there, she must marry the Prince of the country, whom she has never seen.

Chapter 26 Bullets Again

Lynn barreled at the fortitude of these peasant people. All the patients walked away from the dressing station unaltered except the poor woman who died lying in one corner of the room, while Lynn bathed her face in cool water. One patient, carrying the green flag of a messenger, had a special message for Temu.
"Wish to tell me what it is?"
Lynn asked.

He hesitated and then shook his head. "It's not good news for me," he said whimsically, "or I'd tell you."

Lynn regarded him with bright eyes, half sympathetic and yet half hopeful that his bad news was her good news. "Is my government searching for me at last?"
she asked.

"I understand your story made quite a sensation in Nanking when our tourist friends related it," he admitted, "but I shan't tell you another word." They smiled at each other. She put her hand to her heart.

"Something tells me here," she said, "that I shall go to Delun only of my own free will." The laughter had died out of his eyes.
"Perhaps you are right," he said heavily, and turned to his work.
Lynn thought she had never before seen him so depressed.

At eleven o'clock he sent her back to the grand lama's house to rest, and called the fat priest from his prayers before the temple.

"You can pray and help me too," he said.

Lynn went reluctantly; there was so much to be done. But her sensibilities were not hardened to the dreadful cases presented to them. She found Peggy walking disconsolately up and down the courtyard. A servant monk brought them each a bowl of stew from the abbot's kitchen along with a squat, brown pot of tea.
Lynn slept an hour or so and then Peggy begged her to go for a walk on the ridge above the monastery.

"We'll take field-glasses and perhaps we can see planes coming to our rescue," she offered hopefully. "You'd think Sam would be doing something by now. I have a feeling that he was surprised that I didn't charter a plane and follow him—as I would have done had it been possible."

Lynn laughed as she combed her hair, which had grown long, and twisted it into a shining knot at the back of her neck. "Yes," she said, "unless Temu Darin had failed to come to the rescue."

Peggy smiled. "Well, he did come to the rescue! And it'll be a good lesson to Sam."

"Do you find Temu Darin as attractive as you thought you would?" Lynn asked curiously.

Peggy pondered a moment. "In some ways more attractive. There's a mystery about him; he reminds me of a man with a secret love or a priest whose bride is the church."

"You've come pretty close to it," thought Lynn, and was tempted to add, "His bride is his sense of duty to his Prince."

Peggy helped Lynn with her coat while she spoke with seeming carelessness. "There is nothing between you and him, is there?"
Lynn parried. "Why do you ask?"

"It's hard to explain," Peggy regarded her intently. "It's not in what you say or do, but, sometimes when you're standing together I get the oddest impression —as if you both belonged to the secret world of your own, different from mine; as if you'd been through things together of which I know nothing. Where were you both last night?"

"Sitting on the roof looking at the stars and quoting poetry," Lynn answered, taking the field-glasses from a shelf and handing them to Peggy.

"Did he hold your hand?"
Lynn laughed shortly. "Not he."
"That's a clever way for a man to behave with a girl like you," cooed Peggy. "Do you think you could fall in love with him?"

Fear of Love
"FALLING in love is losing one's identity. I'm afraid of it. Sam can't come to our rescue too soon to please me."

Peggy stared. "I believe you are afraid."
Lynn colored. "I believe I'd be a fool if I really fell in love, Peggy. I'd take it hard, as some people take religion; as Temu takes his loyalty to his Prince, fanatically. Let's go."

They stepped into the courtyard. Though the little shaven-headed Buddha with the bandaged wrist, was playing there in his gay, red silk robe and skull
cap. He rose and joined the girls, showing them how to open the seldom used north gate that led up the cliffs behind the monastery.

for governor) for any state appoint-

Pirates Face Stiff Test Against State Frosh Tonight

TO BE PLAYED AT SMITH PARK

No Chance Of Overconfidence On Part Of Local Eleven

The E. C. T. C. Pirates will meet their stiffest test, so far this season, tonight when they tangle with the first-year team of State College out at Guy Smith stadium. It is a game that the boys have been talking about since the start of the season, and there is no chance of the Pirates going into this fray over-confident.

Yesterday ended the hardest week that the Pirates have gone through yet on the practice field, and it is likely that several faces will be seen in the game that did not play in the earlier games of the season. It is a game that the boys have been talking about since the start of the season, and there is no chance of the Pirates going into this fray over-confident.

The first three days of this week have been heavy scrimmage sessions with the reserves on offense much of the time. Their offense showing in the earlier games of the season have been the one sore spot in the Pirate machine. During the sessions this week, a decided improvement, both in blocking and in running, has come about, and Coach Christenbury has for the first time this season two teams capable of alternating with each other on offense as well as defense.

One of the combinations has Green and Craven at ends; Robinson and Young, tackles; Giannakos and Lucar, guards; Rogers, center; McPee, Waddell, Evans and Young in the backfield; the other Roberts, or Putrell and Launers ends; Butler and Rogerson at tackles; Daniels and Brown guards; Tripp, center; Davidson, Murray, Williams and Wilson, backs.

Wilson is a big, likable kid, hailing from Baltimore, Md. who reported for football only two weeks ago; he is making a determined bid for a post on the starting eleven and if he continues the same brand of line crashing play that he displayed in the last scrimmage this week it is going to be hard to keep him on the sidelines. It might do well to watch him in tonight's game.

The roster of the frosh making the trip includes: Andreacchi, M. J. Ballard, C. Bendeneck, R. Boley, J. B. Bratteo, J. Callaway, R. F. Cameron, W. A. Carruthers, P. W. Culp, J. C. Ermalovich, J. Patriclo, A. Pritchett, C. Putrell, L. Gill, J. A. Gordon, R. Hardison, H. A. James, W. G. Johnson, J. Kostukowich, W. Kwal-Koski, J. Lackey, D. Magee, J. M. Marriott, D. F. McMillan, L. Moser, T. Ott, L. B. Rayburn, D. E. Rogerson, C. T. Senter, R. L. Slack, G. M. Suniewicz, J. Topper, R. Waggoner, J. B. Walls, J. Williamson, and four managers.

The Eastern Carolina squad will probably go to Raleigh tomorrow afternoon to witness the State-Mississippi battle, according to Coach Christenbury.

BRIGHT SAYINGS DEPT. THIRD-GRADE DIVISION

Columbia, S. C. (AP)—A third grader came home from school with the assertion that he was "through with that racket."
"What racket?" his mother asked. "Going to school. It's a racket because they've been doing it for a long time and haven't finished it up yet."

This, as you know, is a "scrimmage," but to judge by Popeye's expression, it's just "spinach."

PHANTOM TEAM PLAYS KINSTON

High Eleven Seeking Second Conference Victory

Coach Bo Farley's 1940 footballers journeyed to Kinston this afternoon in an attempt to down Coach Frank Mock's Red Devils in a northeastern Conference game. The Phantoms are seeking their second conference win for this season. They have won one dropped one and tied one so far this year.

It has been fifteen seasons and fifteen games since the Red Devils have scored a victory over the Phantoms and they are looking for blood in today's contest. They have produced their best team since 1937 and they are a scrappy outfit.

Coach Mock is depending heavily upon his array of backfield stars such as Roland Paylor, pass singer who tossed the scoring aerial on the Phantoms' last season, Johnny Hewitt, quarterback, James McKee-Paylor's punning mate at the other half back, and Eborn Pittman, hard driving fullback.

The Line-Up
Although the true line-up for tonight's game has not been announced, the Phantoms will probably use the usual line-up with Collins and James at end, Carroll and Dale at tackles, Scott and Edwards at guard, Goodall at center, Britt in at tailback, Kittrell at blocking-back, Page at fullback, and Spearman on the wing. Up to the present date this has been Coach Farley's starting line-up and will probably be used tonight.
Mock's starting call will probably go to Moore and Hardmen at ends, Lee and Johnson at tackle, Mosely and About at guard, Harlan at center and Roland Paylor, Eborn Pittman, Johnny Hewitt, and James McKee in the backfield.

Aerial Warfare
With Bill Britt on the Phantoms roster and Roland Paylor on the Red Devil line-up the outcome will probably be an aerial battle between the two rivals. Bill Britt, Greenville's ace has an enviable pass record to sport, while not much is known as to Paylor's ability. One fact is known that tossed the aerial that gave the Devils a score in the Phantoms' victory last season. It made a former score 13-6 instead of 13-0.

YOUNG DEMOS SUPPORT FDR

Possible Difference In Election Returns Next Month

By HENRY AVERILL
Raleigh, Oct. 24.—Sometimes regarded as a useless organ like the appendix, North Carolina's Young Democratic organization is playing a lead role in the current campaign. In view of the fact that its president is Ralph Gardner of Shelby and nobody ever found a Gardner from Shelby who isn't up to the minute in the political field, Ralph is following in the footsteps of his dad in making himself very, very useful in the Democratic lineup and it is not at all impossible that he hopes some day to follow those footsteps (which led to the Governor's chair) even more closely.
At any rate, the YD's have a special section in state headquarters, with young Gardner in charge, and they have been especially prominent in every county and district rally anywhere in the State.
It seems to be a fact in North Carolina, as well as elsewhere that youth is a bit more enthusiastic for President Franklin D. Roosevelt than are its elders.
In addition to the State headquarters division, the Youth Democrats are actually fronting the financial foray for FDR. Dick Reynolds, himself no graybeard, has named the Young Democratic chairman in every county where there is one to head the money gathering agency.

B-H BOWLERS WIN OVER TIP

H. A. Peterson Gets High Score For Match

Blount Harvey took two games out of three from the Tip Bowling Co. last night in the Greenville Bowling League to pull the Bottlers into half interest in the cellar in league standings. Before the contest Blount Harvey had sole possession of the cellar with the bottlers one game ahead. They tied for the cellar now with 2 games won and 7 lost.

Blount Harvey took the first game of the match easily with W. W. Aycock leading them. H. A. Peterson led the bottlers with a mark of 92. Aycock was high for both teams with a 102 mark.

The second game was more or less a toss-up but with the department store bowlers coming through again W. W. Aycock again led the winners with a 100 score. Peterson led the losers again with a 119 mark giving him high score for the two games.

The third and last game of the match was won by the bottlers easily. Peterson again was high for the bottlers and high for the match with a 118 score. "Snag" Clark led the Blount Harvey bowlers with 112.

In A Hurry? Ride A Balloon
La Junta, Colo.—(AP)—The La Junta high school chemistry class decided to send up a toy balloon inflated with natural gas, to see how far it would float.
Several days later they received a letter from Howard Mantzey of Dawn, Mo., who had found the balloon near his home the day after it was sent from La Junta.
The class figured the balloon made a flight of 575 miles in 15 hours or less and that its speed averaged at least 40 miles per hour.

Ledgers Are In Red For Patriotism 'Chiselers'

By JOHN GROVER
AP Feature Service Writer
Washington—Persons who expected to make patriotism pay by "chiseling in" on the defense program, are finding that it doesn't work that way.

Their schemes for taking folding money from Mr. and Mrs. America in the name of patriotism have fallen into four classifications:
1. "Phoney" aid to industrialists seeking defense contracts.
2. Charity, no less "phoney," for refugees in war-torn countries.
3. Collections for anti-fifth column activities.
4. Sale of "official" patriotic emblems.

The schemers have been stymied by widespread publicity and laws with teeth. But they did try to cash in.

Hint At 'Pull'
The defense program mushroomed with such speed that sincere business men who wanted to put their factories at the disposal of the government didn't know how to go about it. Pseudo-executives and "business representatives" in Washington sought to take advantage of their confusion.

Claude Woodward, director of the Washington better business bureau said hundreds of business men were approached by the capital hangers-on.
Cunningly-worded brochures inferred it would be necessary to have "connections" in official Washington to participate in defense contracts. They hinted at powerful "pull" in high places—for a fat commission.

Woodward published a defense "primer" for business men which warned that such representative agencies, those who peddled "official" patriot emblems at profiteer prices now are opposed by vigilant better business bureaus all over the country.

U. S. postal inspectors are on the alert to examine all patriotic "rackets" to determine if mail fraud laws have been broken. The department of justice also has its eye cocked for violations in promotion of patriotism-at-a-price.
So it looks like a hard winter for "patriots" willing to give their all—for a small fee to cover expenses and mailing charges.

RALEIGH BAND NOT POLITICAL

Gaddy Sticks To No Politics Policy For Group

Reflector Bureau.
By HENRY AVERILL
Raleigh, Oct. 2.—At many political rallies over the state music is furnished by the high school band of the locality in which the participants hold their get-together, but this is one place it will never happen so long as Claude Gaddy remains superintendent of city schools. Mr. Gaddy is an ardent Democrat, as loyal as they come, but every effort has failed to get his permission for the band to play at any political gathering whatsoever. Latest rebuff to the politicians who want the purple and gold-clad musicians to perform for them came when the Wake Young Democrats asked Mr. Gaddy about having them tinkle as a prelude to the rousing oratory of tobacco-chawin' Cam Morrison here this week.

Hardest request to turn down that the Raleigh school ever had, however, came last spring when J. Myrtle Broughton, who will be North Carolina's next strait at his rally the students to the Democratic state convention, Rocky Mount's band was playing for Lee Gravelly, Charlotte and other bands had played for Broughton at other places. Mr. Broughton was a member of the Raleigh school board for eight years.

But with all that, he couldn't get the Gaddy permission for the Raleigh band to play on his own home lot. The superintendent feels very sincerely that the children should not be made the pawns of any political game whatsoever. There are only two definite policies, he thinks. Either let the band play for all political rallies of all sorts or for none of any kind. And he thinks it would be impossible to let them play for all.
