BUSY DAYS FOR ASSEMBLY DUE TO START SOON

Wage-Hour Controversy Is Expected Next Week

REPORT IS DUE BY COMMISSION

Alcoholic Beverages Also Likely To Involve Legislature In Bitter Dispute During Next Week

By CHARLES W. DANIEL

Raleigh, Feb. 1.—(AP)—

A skeleton which has creaked in the legislative closet for the last two years will get its first formal introduction to the 1941 General Assembly next week in the report of a State Wage-Hour Commission detailed by the 1939 Assembly to study the question of a proposed state wage-hour law.

Pat Taylor, Wadesboro lawyer and member of the 1939 Senate, who was chosen head of the commission, said today the group would report to the Assembly on its findings next week—"most probably Tuesday afternoon."

The commission met here yesterday afternoon, but Taylor declined to say whether the report it would make would prompt new labor legislation. There were indications the commission had split on the report.

Meanwhile, the Assembly anticipated one of the busiest periods of the session next week, with still another development in the controversy over what to do with wine.

John Caffey of Greensboro, leader of the state wine forces, declared a measure is being prepared and may be ready next week which would delegate to the state ABC board regulatory power over the sale of wine.

At today's brief sessions, Senator O'Berry of Wayne and rep. Burgh of Henderson were detailed to represent the General Assembly on the "potato train" which, beginning Monday at Morehead City, will travel eastern North Carolina to show the latest in potato production.

The House received no new bills and acted on none. The senators passed and ordered ratification into law two local House bills.

Negro Gymnasium Is Completed Here

The recently completed gymnasium and recreational building at Fifth Street school for colored was officially put into use last night when the Birthday Ball was held in the structure following ceremonies dedicating it to the Negro citizens of the city. The building is the only place for such gatherings for the local Negroes.

Last night's ceremonies were informal, with an official dedication program scheduled to be held in the spring and attended by officials of the WPA, which agency made the building possible.

The sponsor's fund of $500 was contributed through public subscription among the colored citizens of the city.

Last night's ceremonies were attended by Chairman E. G. Flanagan, J. L. Little and Mrs. E. W. Harvey of the school board, Mayor B. B. Sugg and Almergen J. D. Simpson, L. B. Fleming and J. A. Conley, City School superintendent J. H. Rouse, County School Superintendent D. H. Conley, D. J. Whichard, Jr., O. G. Guley, superintendent in charge of the construction and other white citizens.

Professor C. M. Eppes presided over the ceremonies and Mr. Rose presented a number of the white guests who made brief remarks. All those speaking pointed to the fine

Grifton—$54.50

Grifton, the first Pitt county town to report on receipts derived from various functions held in honor of President Roosevelt's birthday with the funds to go to the campaign to help curb infantile paralysis, realized a total of $54.50 from a square dance held there.

The report was considered "very encouraging" by the county co-chairmen, J. H. Rose and D. H. Conley.

No other community has reported nor has receipts from the birthday ball held here Thursday night been disclosed. Lloyd Chapman and H. C. Oglesby were co-chairmen of the Grifton campaign.

Knox Feels British Aid May Not Come In Time

Worried Over Whether Or Not Britain Can Be Saved

Washington, Feb. 1.—

(AP)—Secretary Knox testified today that he was "tremendously worried" over whether the United States could furnish sufficient aid in time to save Great Britain.

Supporting the administration's aid to Britain legislation before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Knox was asked by Senator Nye (R-ND) whether the measure was designed "to underwrite a British victory."

"Not this bill," the witness replied, "but we do have an interest in seeing that Great Britain is not defeated."

"Can we act in time to save Britain in this awful crisis predicted for the near future comes to pass," Nye asked.

"Frankly, I don't know," the witness responded. "I'm tremendously worried."

In his questioning, Nye repeatedly sought information from Knox regarding potential naval strength of the Axis powers should they win the war.

The navy secretary said that if the Axis controlled all of Europe it would have seven times America's shipbuilding capacity.

Approval of the British aid bill by the Senate committee by a majority of at least three votes was forecast by administration leaders and Chairman George (D-Ga.) undertook to prevent any delay in committee consideration of the measure.

A canvass of members, it was reported, showed 13 "sure" votes for the legislation among the 23 committee members, eight votes "certain" to go against it and two presently considered "doubtful."

Gravelly Is Heard By Safety Council

Five officials and employees of the Greenville Water and Light Commission who attended a regular meeting of the Eastern Carolina Safety Council in Rocky Mount last night, reported the meeting to have been a most successful one.

Larry E. Brown, chairman of the group, was unable to attend because of illness and Martin Swartz, superintendent of the local commission, presided over the meeting and introduced the speaker of the evening, L. L. Gravelly, who discussed safety from the owner's point of view.

New officers were named at the meeting with Dail Holmness of the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company of Tarboro, being named chairman to succeed Mr. Brown, M. G. Frye of Rocky Mount was named vice-president, R. A. Brown of Rocky Mount treasurer, and T. R. Wilson of Rocky Mount secretary.

Mr. Gravelly's address was described as both interesting and instructive. He cites figures showing the high cost of accidents to employer and employee and said that from a financial standpoint, neither can afford accidents when they can possibly be averted.

Mr. Gravelly also told the council members present that "it is very necessary that we give more thought to safety because of the preparedness program. Industrial plants are losing some of their most essential skilled labor through the draft, he explained, and these men are being replaced with persons of less experience. He also explained that double shifts are being worked at numerous places with the skilled men being divided between the forces, necessitating an increased number of inexperienced men on the job.

"Despite all this," declared the speaker, "we want to increase efficiency and production."

To do this, he declared, the employer should set up safety committees to hold regular meetings and conduct safety campaigns stressing the necessity of safety. He said employers should show enough interest to prevail upon employees to take first-aid courses, which costs them only their time, but pays large dividends in training workers how to administer first-aid and at the same time conduct them selves in a manner to avoid accidents.

Weygand Refuses

Algiers, French North Africa, Feb. 1.—(AP via radio)—General Maxime Weygand appealed today to some half million French-African soldiers under his command to stay out of the war, to accept the armistice with Germany as final and to support the "national revolution" of Marshal Philippe Pétain.

"I appeal to you," he said, "not to leave the path of order and discipline which would only mean the destruction of France and peril for all who take part in this undertaking."

Weygand spoke by radio in answer to General Charles de Gaulle, leader of the "Free French" forces which are fighting on as Britain's allies, who, from London last night, called upon the French North African forces to "help complete the conquest of Libya" by attacking the Italians from the west.

SEN. WHEELER ISSUES DENIAL

Says He Did Not Say Nazi Domination Inevitable

42--SENATOR

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—Sen. Wheeler (D-Mont.) declared today that he "did not say in 1934 or any time that Nazi domination of Europe was inevitable"—a statement attributed to him yesterday by President Roosevelt.

In response to press conference questions, the President said he had been advised by the late William Dodd, former ambassador to Germany, that Wheeler—an outspoken critic of the administration's British aid bill—stated this opinion at a dinner party in 1934 or 1935.

Wheeler said in a statement issued through his office here that "this is a desperate attempt to discredit me because I stand unalterably for American peace and against the entry of the United States into any foreign war."

"This is the second time that the president has assailed me personally," the Montana senator declared. "The first time it occurred after I branded the lend-lease-give bill as the new deal's Triple A foreign policy to play every fourth American boy under European or African soil."

"This time I am attacked because in my humble way I will not cease warning the American people that the foreign policy of this administration is taking the United States into a war that is not ours."

"I did not say in 1934 or at any other time that Nazi domination of Europe was inevitable. I've always denounced the forceful seizure of territory by Germany, England, France, the United States or any nation. I denounced it in 1934 and I denounce it in 1941."

Mrs. Moore Praised At Debt-Clearance Celebration

By EYA BERRY HARRIS

Amidst scenes of joy and triumph the Greenville Women's Club last night celebrated the liquidation of the clubhouse debt, and honored its praiseworthy president, Mrs. J. H. B. Moore. Members of the Kiwanis Club and many others were special guests at the dinner meeting held at the club building on this unusually interesting and jubilant occasion. Socially and inspirationally, it was a big event.

In the presence of a gay and colorful assemblage, Mrs. Moore, president, who was sincerely lauded by Mayor B. B. Sugg as Greenville's most useful and outstanding citizen over a period of the past seven years, presided, and notes on the

With Weather Keeping Cross-Channel Warfare Confined To Long-Range Guns, London Sees Mass Bombing On Unprecedented Scale When Spring Months Unleash Rival Air Forces

London, Feb. 1.—(AP)—

The weather has dampened the dueling of British and German air forces, leaving the field of battle to cross-channel guns, but reliable sources predicted today that springtime in Europe would bring a greater fury and frightfulness than the world has ever seen.

By mid-afternoon the only reports of actual warfare were of a renewal of bombardment of the Dover area by German long-range guns on the French coast, but no casualties were reported.

Mass bombing on an unprecedented scale as envisioned by British sources might cause hundreds of thousands of casualties in Britain, Germany and Italy when spring unleashes the rival air forces.

They foresaw clashes of air armadas that would dwarf the biggest combats over England of last August and September when, in one day, the Germans lost 185 planes and one observer said air-craft fell "like autumn leaves."

Aside from consideration of the weather, the British listed the following reasons for their prediction of terrific air warfare:

1. "Germany must bring England to her knees in 1941 if she is going to win. An air attack on a far bigger scale must pave the way for an invasion attempt if it is to have any chance of succeeding."

2. "Britain is accumulating air power with the accelerating aid of America and will step up attacks as fast as planes are available."

Informed quarters said there is little doubt that Adolf Hitler is massing forces for vast formations of bombing assaults far heavier than those which already have killed or injured nearly 60,000 persons in Britain and caused unestimated property damage. Britain is prepared for the worst.

Reorganize Fleet In Separate Units

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—At ceremonies overshadowed by the tense international situation, the navy's fighting forces were reorganized today into separate units of the world's mightiest fleet.

At Honolulu late in the day Admiral Husband Edward Kimmel was to become commander in chief both of the Pacific fleet and the United States fleet.

Hours earlier, presumably in the Caribbean Rear Admiral Ernest J. King raised his new four-starred flag aboard the battleship Texas as a full admiral commanding the Atlantic fleet.

Today's Short Story

A farmer in Bell county, Texas has uncovered a new production "system." Needing 200 pounds of buffalo grass seed, he simply dug into the hills of red ants and removed the supply collected, cleaned and stored by the insects.

Good News For Small Cities

Babson Tells Of New SEC Policies

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—The new policy of the Securities and Exchange Commission should be good news to every part of the country but New York, and perhaps not bad news for even New York. This is what I learned yesterday when passing through Washington. The SEC has nothing against the New York Stock Exchange per se; but it does not want it to have a monopoly of all the stock exchange business. This is its main reason for objecting to the New York Stock Exchange attempt to prevent its members from operating other exchanges and thus "decentralize" the trading.

The Commission feels that this is a deliberate endeavor, on the part of New York bankers, to dry up these other exchanges and put them out of business.

Decentralization the Keynote. I find, however, that the SEC has some reasons for this move which should be very helpful to cities in the central west, the south, and on

STRIKES OVER NATION DELAY DEFENSE WORK

Some Progress Reported At Phelps-Dodge Plant

FEAR EXTENSION TO OTHER UNITS

Allis-Chalmers Company, With $40,000,000 In Defense Orders, Still Deadlocked By Strike

By The Associated Press

"Some progress" toward settlement of a strike at the Bayway plant of the Phelps-Dodge Copper Products Corporation at Elizabeth, N. J., was reported today as company and union officials resumed negotiations to end the dispute which affected 1,600 workers and halted production of $74,323 worth of navy orders.

The strike was called by the CIO United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America, who sought higher wages and a collective bargaining election.

Peter D. Begg, international representative of the union, expressed belief the strike "may spread" to other plants of the company and Wyle Brown, Phelps-Dodge president, said that more than $200,000,000 in federal defense contracts might be tied up unless Phelps-Dodge could continue supplying other manufacturers with products. The company has $20,000,000 in army and navy contracts in its four plants.

A strike of nearly 1,500 truck drivers and helpers was called at Dayton, Ohio, today while a union demand for a wage increase the principal issue.

Meanwhile, manufacturers and 15,000 workmen in the nation's plate glass industry agreed to a new contract calling for a two-cent an hour increase in wages. The agreement was reached two and a half hours after expiration of the old contract.

At Milwaukee, Wis., a deadlock continued in a strike which for 10 days has halted work on $40,000,000 in defense orders at the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company.

Bill Is Signed For Small Navy Craft

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—President Roosevelt signed today legislation authorizing construction of 400 submarine chasers and other small naval craft and an expenditure of $509,000,000 to further expand the nation's shipbuilding and ordnance plants.

The navy already has announced its intention to ask congress at once for about $310,000,000 to begin immediate construction of 280 of the new vessels.

Most of the vessels described as "urgently needed" will be built in Great Lakes shipyards so as not to interfere with the rest of the navy's huge shipbuilding program.

Devil Decays Aid Hunters.

Pratt, Kas.—(AP)—The state fish and game department lends horned toads to crow hunters.

The department finds that crows, if they spot a toad on a fence post, will drop all natural caution and dive for it. Shooting them is easy then, say the experts.

Dodge Heir's Widow Weds Surgeon

Mrs. Annie Laurine Dodge, former telephone operator who inherited a $2,500,000 share of an automobile fortune from her husband, Daniel Dodge, after his death in 1938, was married in Champaign, Ill., January 30 to Dr. William A. Lange, a plastic surgeon of Detroit. The newlyweds happily ride a train into Chicago just after the wedding en route to Sun Valley, Ida., on their honeymoon.

William G. McAdoo Dies After Colorful Career

DIRECTORS OF C. OF C. NAMED

Annual Chamber Of Commerce Meet Is Set For Feb. 20

Results of the recent election held to name five new directors of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce were announced today, showing J. H. Blount, R. M. Garrett, H. L. Ormond, Dr. K. B. Pace and J. C. Waldrop having been named to serve three-year terms expiring January 31, 1944.

These members, with the directors whose terms have not expired, will constitute the board for the coming year. Hold-over directors are: W. W. Aycock, John G. Clark, David A. Evans, H. L. Hodges, C. W. Howard, J. B. Kittrell, Louis C. Skinner, G. V. Smith, D. J. Whichard, Jr. and J. Nat Harrison.

The board of directors will elect officers for the new year at its February meeting, at which time the newly elected directors will be installed.

The annual membership meeting has been set for February 20, the third Thursday in the month. The board of directors at its last meeting took action to secure an outstanding speaker for the occasion. Attempts will be made to secure a speaker familiar with this section of the state.

It is planned to hold a meeting which will produce tangible results for the continued development of the community, rather than one where the real purpose is often overshadowed with frills and unimportant matters.

SPEIGHT HEAD OF STATE BODY

Winterville Man Honored By Better Seeds Group

By R. R. BENNETT

County Agent

Brantley Speight of near Winterville was elected president of the North Carolina Crop Improvement Association, and Greenville's invitation for the Seed Exposition and Annual Crop Improvement Association meeting to be held in Greenville in 1942 was accepted by the board of directors at the Association's annual meeting in Greensboro yesterday.

Brantley Speight, a young man of the Winterville community in Pitt county, graduated in field crops and plant breeding from State College in 1935. Since that time Speight has been actively engaged in practicing many things that he learned from experience on the farm and in

Death Follows Heart Attack Suffered During Night

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—William Gibbs McAdoo, 78, chairman of the American Presidents lines and former senator from California died about 10 a. m., today from a heart attack.

McAdoo, who also was secretary of the treasury during the World war, was named head of the shipping line shortly after he was defeated for renomination by Sheridan Downey in the 1938 California Democratic primary.

Mrs. McAdoo and a daughter, Mrs. Brice Clagett of Washington were with him at the time of his death. The former senator was stricken during the night at his hotel apartment and was removed to a hospital where he died.

McAdoo was a colorful figure in Washington official and social circles for more than a quarter of a century.

In 1935, at the age of 72, he was married to Miss Doris Cross, 26-year-old public health nurse. This was his third marriage.

In 1914 he married Eleanor Randolph Wilson, daughter of President Woodrow Wilson, in whose cabinet he served as head of the treasury.

McAdoo led the stampede for Franklin D. Roosevelt during the 1932 Democratic national convention when he announced the California delegation would swing from John Nance Garner to Roosevelt.

Much Interest In WPA Art Gallery

By LUCY CHERRY CRISP

It's a pretty good sign of its genuine hold on public interest and esteem when a purely volunteer educational enterprise can report "Business just about as usual" during the crowded two months before Christmas. And that is what the Greenville WPA Art Gallery seems to have done, according to reports made by the director, Miss Hilda Osburn, at the recent meeting of the board of sponsors for the gallery. "Attendance at the gallery exhibits and activities was down more during November and December," she said, yet the actual attendance records show for November a total of 1,917 people, for December 825, who participated in some way in the gallery's work. And that doesn't sound so low.

Among the exhibits during the two months, a special feature was the "American Art Week" sponsored by the Woman's club in conjunction with the gallery. Throughout the country this week was observed, the object being to give local artists a chance to exhibit their work for sales purposes—something new and highly commendable in the general run of Art Gallery activity. Other exhibits during these two months included a collection of Chinese articles loaned by Mrs. J. S. Ficklen and Stuart Carr; a group of interesting lithographs done by Mabel Dwight, an American woman who never worked in that medium until she was over fifty, and now in her sixties, is an outstanding artist in her field; and two collections of water colors, one a one-man show of paintings done by Gene Erwin, of Chapel Hill. Only Await Mopping Up Movements

Italian Counter Attack In Albania Declared Failure; Dutch Inform Japs Any Change In Status Quo Of Netherlands To Be Rejected; British Forces Close On Heels Of Italians

By The Associated Press

Greek domination of the mountainous area around Tepeleni was reported today in dispatches to Athens from the front, while Greek sources said recent Fascist attempts to seize the offensive in Albania must be regarded now as failures.

Actual occupation of Tepeleni is merely a matter of first mopping up isolated detachments, the dispatches said. Greek gains north of Klisura and in the coastal sector and retreat of the Italians toward Valona were also reported.

The Dutch government in exile instructed its minister to Tokyo to inform the Japanese that the Dutch "reject any suggestion of having The Netherlands Indies incorporated in a new order in East Asia under the leadership of any power whatsoever."

In Berlin authorized Nazi sources replied to Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox's assertion that Germany might use gas against England by referring to Adolf Hitler's speech of September 1, 1939, in which Hitler was quoted as saying: "From now on bomb will be answered by bomb. He who applies poison gas will be fought with poison gas."

British tanks rumbling westward along the coastal and inland roads toward Bengasi capital of eastern Libya, were reported to be on the very heels of retreating Italian forces.

The middle east command at Cairo put it briefly thus:

"Libya: Contact with the enemy west of Derna is being maintained."

With the British on the road to Bengasi, observers here awaited reaction of France's north African army to a new "Free French" appeal that it join the fight in Libya to help the British crush Italy's African empire. There was speculation General Maxime Weygand might answer the appeal in a broadcast from Algiers tonight.

Axis spokesmen reported the counter blockade sinking of seven merchant ships and the Fascist high command noted bitter fighting in Libya, apparently among patrols in which both Italians and British suffered considerable losses.

The Nazi-dominated Rumanian government tightened restrictions intended to suppress the elements responsible for a bloody Iron Guard revolt last week. Premier Ion Antonescu ordered the immediate execution of any person found carrying guns without authority and directed soldiers to fire on any groups attempting to hold meetings.

State Reaps Huge Federal Receipts

Greensboro, Feb. 1.—(AP)—North Carolina continued to reap a golden harvest for Uncle Sam during January with internal revenue collections soaring to $31,085,182.36. Collector Charles H. Robertson announced today.

This was $4,305,368.52 over the $26,779,814.34 collected in the same month of last year. It brought collections for the first seven months of the fiscal year to $215,295,249.15. That puts the current fiscal period $29,568,331.30 ahead of the $185,726,917.85 collected in the same period last year.

Presbyterian Announcements.
Dr. Robert S. Boyd, the pastor, has recovered sufficiently after a brief illness, to be in the pulpit Sunday. At the morning service, at 11 o'clock, he will speak on the subject, "The Great Missionary Enterprise of the Church." This message opens a week of prayer and self-denial to be observed throughout the denomination February 2 to 9. Members will have the privilege of making a special contribution to the missions of the church on Sunday, February 9. On Wednesday evening the prayer service will be a special season of prayer and study of this first week of the church, as outlined in Christ's Great Commission.

Sunday evening at 6:30 the young people of Meadowbrook Chapel will meet for their vesper service, and at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Boyd will preach on the subject, "The Witnessing Church." All the friends of the community are cordially invited. During the prevalence of influenza there will be no meeting for song service on Tuesday evening until announced.

At their meeting Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, the men of the Bible class, taught by Mr. E. A. Gibson, are to name a service project for the next several months. This is the secret of the continual growth and unity of this fine class. They have always been engaged in some service project that challenges them. Every member is asked to come and turn in his suggestion for this service. The Project Committee, Mr. Willard Kyzer, chairman, will make the decision from your suggestions.

building were burned amidst great rejoicing.
Mrs. Moore happily reviewed the history of the Woman's Club in Greenville, relating in detail its early struggle in financing its project and recalled the names of the men and women who gallantly shared in bringing the organization to its present position of importance in the civic and social life of our town, and to its place of high rank among the clubs of the state and General Federation.

With $1500 in 1928, fourteen members indorsed a note to borrow money with which to purchase the old Episcopal rectory, located at Third and Greene streets. Nine members paid for life memberships, some bought ten-year memberships and other individuals contributed various sums.
Arrangements were made immediately for improving the structure and for building on the rear of it a large assembly room which was so much needed. So it was necessary to give two mortgages. The clubhouse was completed and occupied in 1929 with a big celebration. The Kiwanis Club moved in and has held its meetings here ever since, helping thus immensely in paying off the club debt. The two front parlors were dedicated to Sally Southall Cotten, local, state and national pioneer clubwoman, and to Mrs. Rosa Quinerly, one of the first president of the local organization, a woman who was greatly beloved in Greenville for her unselfish labors in behalf of any worthy enterprise.

Difficulties soon arose, however, and great obstacles were encountered in meeting the payments on the building. On January 31, 1934, just seven years ago, the Woman's Club held its back up against a stone wall, so to speak. In straitened circumstances, the depression on hand and unwilling to lose the club building, until every available resource had been exhausted, the building committee, composed of Mrs. J. L. Fleming, Mrs. H. S. Ragdale and Mrs. E. B. Ficklen, and the other officers of the club planned a dinner meeting to which a number of business men of Greenville were invited. To this group the women explained their difficulties, calling attention to their dire financial condition and requested the advice of the men. The men assured the club women that the Woman's Club building was a community asset and deserved the financial support of the people of the community. The guests pledged a thousand dollars and assisted the club women in getting other contributions from the business interests of the town. This assistance made it possible for the club women to carry on. The men who were responsible for this invaluable assistance were: B. B. Sugg, Dr. Bob McGeachy, Ed Flanagan, J. Key Brown, Norman Warren, Ralph Gerner and W. H. Woolard, who composed the committee in charge.

Members of the club who signed the note were: Mesdames S. M. Crisp, W. I. Wooten, A. D. Frank, W. H. Woolard, L. J. Fleming, J. H. B. Moore, Ed Harvey, E. B. Ficklen, M. K. Fort, E. B. Ailsbrook, E. P. Arnold, J. B. Kittrell, D. L. Mangum, W. E. Hooker, G. B. W. Hadley and Mrs. H. S. Ragdale. Nearly all of them were present last night at the burning of the notes and mortgages. One of the most interesting events of the evening was the unveiling of the portrait of Mrs. Moore by two of her nieces, Misses Margaret and Katherine Maxwell. The portrait, an excellent likeness of the beloved club president, was painted by one of the club members, Mrs. C. W. Hearne, who is a portrait painter of note in the state.

Mrs. J. L. Fleming expressed in beautiful choice of words the club's appreciation of Mrs. Moore for her years of continued and unselfish work in making the Woman's Club of Greenville what it is today. Miss Frances Wahl, vice-president of the club, paid glowing tribute to Mrs. Moore also in presenting the portrait which has been given a permanent place over the large mantel in the assembly room of the club building. The members are particularly proud of the fact that every club member had a share in making the painting of the portrait possible. Miss Wahl said in part: "It is indeed a happy occasion for the Woman's Club, for the whole debt has been lifted from the building and the old mortgages are burned. Thanks to the loyalty, the courage, the faith and the hard work of Mrs. J. H. B. Moore through these years, this burning of mortgages is possible. Her's was the spirit that has kept all the rest of us interested and working."

"We are indeed proud of those other people who have stood by with words of encouragement and help, but it is our own Mrs. Moore to whom we pay honor tonight. "Mrs. Moore, we are happy that we have been privileged to work with you through the various departments of the Woman's Club. We want you to know of our loyalty and gratitude for your splendid leadership and courage that have brought us to this happy occasion. We have long needed some portrait, or something to lend dignity and decorative value to our club room in which we are gathered. We have always had to borrow, but now as a unanimous gift from the club members we have secured that very thing. It gives me great pleasure in behalf of every member of this Woman's Club to present this portrait of our beloved president and loyal clubwoman, Mrs. J. H. B. Moore."

"Also we are happy to tell you that as a future token of our appreciation of all that you have done and helped us to do, we present to you the Rachel Maxwell Moore Auditorium. Mrs. Moore, this was our unanimous decision at the call meeting to which we would not invite you."

"To you, Mrs. Moore, our best wishes and loyalty go, and we wish for the steady, upward growth of members of each club represented here tonight."

"Our friends and our friends thank you and your encouragement and aid through the years."

At the time of the burning of the notes, Mrs. Charles Reynolds read a parody, entitled "The House the Club built," which was arranged by, and sent to the club for this purpose by Mrs. J. M. Hobgood of Farmville, past president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

A letter of congratulation from the Greenville Business and Professional Women's Club was received with other congratulatory messages.

On motion of Mr. H. H. Duncan, the Kiwanis Club voted Mrs. G. M. Maxwell of Seven Springs, mother of Mrs. Moore, the typical American mother for 1941. Former presidents of the Junior Woman's Club presented Mrs. Moore a beautiful corsage which she wore. Her brothers gave her red roses. The main assembly room of the club was named the Rachel Maxwell Moore Auditorium in her honor. A plaque bearing the name will be placed on the mantel in the auditorium beneath her portrait.

Out-of-town and special guests included Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Maxwell, father and mother of Mrs. Moore, and Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Maxwell, Jr., and daughter, Margaret, of Seven Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Maxwell and daughter, Kathryn, of New Bern; Dr. and Mrs. Robert S. McGeachy of New Bern; Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Maxwell and Dr. Reginald Maxwell and Reginald Maxwell, Jr., of Augusta, Ga.

Public Invited Hear Dr. Henry N. Wieman

Dr. Henry Nelson Wieman, professor of the Philosophy of Religion at the University of Chicago, will be the speaker for Religious Emphasis Week, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. of East Carolina Teachers College, which will be observed here February 9-11.

Instead of having a quarterly speaker, as has been done for the past few years, the "Ys" will have a series of services by one speaker following the custom on most university and college campuses.

A full schedule has been arranged for Dr. Wieman's three days on the campus. On Sunday there will be a worship service at 11 o'clock in the morning in Austin auditorium; in the afternoon from 3:30 to 5 o'clock there will be a tea in the social room of the new classroom building; at 6:30 p. m. Dr. Wieman will lead a vesper service in Austin auditorium.

Monday Dr. Wieman will talk at Morning Watch at 7:15 in room 123 Austin building. At 6:30 in the evening he will speak in the Austin auditorium.

On Tuesday he will again lead Morning Watch, and will speak at chapel in Austin auditorium, at 12 o'clock.

Dr. Wieman has a national reputation as a scholar, speaker, and writer of religious articles, and as a person who has achieved marked success as a worker with young people. He has had wide and varied contacts both with students and teachers in a number of colleges and universities in different parts of this country and in Europe.

The invitation to hear Dr. Wieman is being extended to all the churches in Greenville and surrounding towns.

Dr. Wieman will be the guest of President and Mrs. Leon R. Meadows while he is at the College.

Bryce Sigmon Wants Facts Made Clearer

Bryce Sigmon wants it distinctly understood that he was not the defendant and did not have his license revoked in a driving drunk case tried in Municipal court yesterday.

The report of court activities stated that the local man was the prosecuting witness, and the defendant, Ira Taylor, was given a road sentence, suspended upon condition he pay a $50 fine, costs of court and also pay Mr. Sigmon $6 for property damages sustained in a collision. Despite this however, many people got the idea that Mr. Sigmon lost his license.

Brody's To Close For Remodeling Program

Brody's ladies' store will close its doors at the end of today's business for an extensive alteration and remodeling program and the firm will be closed most of next week.

Mr. Brody declared that he hoped to be able to re-open again by the end of next week, and added that work would be rushed as rapidly as possible in order to resume business as soon as possible.

ONE TO TALK ABOUT—Tunafish salad may be the ultimate goal of this husky 150-pound tuna being whipped back into a fishing boat somewhere off the Mexican shore. Tuna fishing is an important business on the west coast, the tuna fleets moving as far south as the Galapagos. A criss-cross of lines permits two or three fishermen to help land the catch.

PROGRESS—By June 30 the nation's army will have 190,000 motor vehicles—about 17 times more than a year ago—says Brig. Gen. J. E. Barzynski, quartermaster corps motor chief.

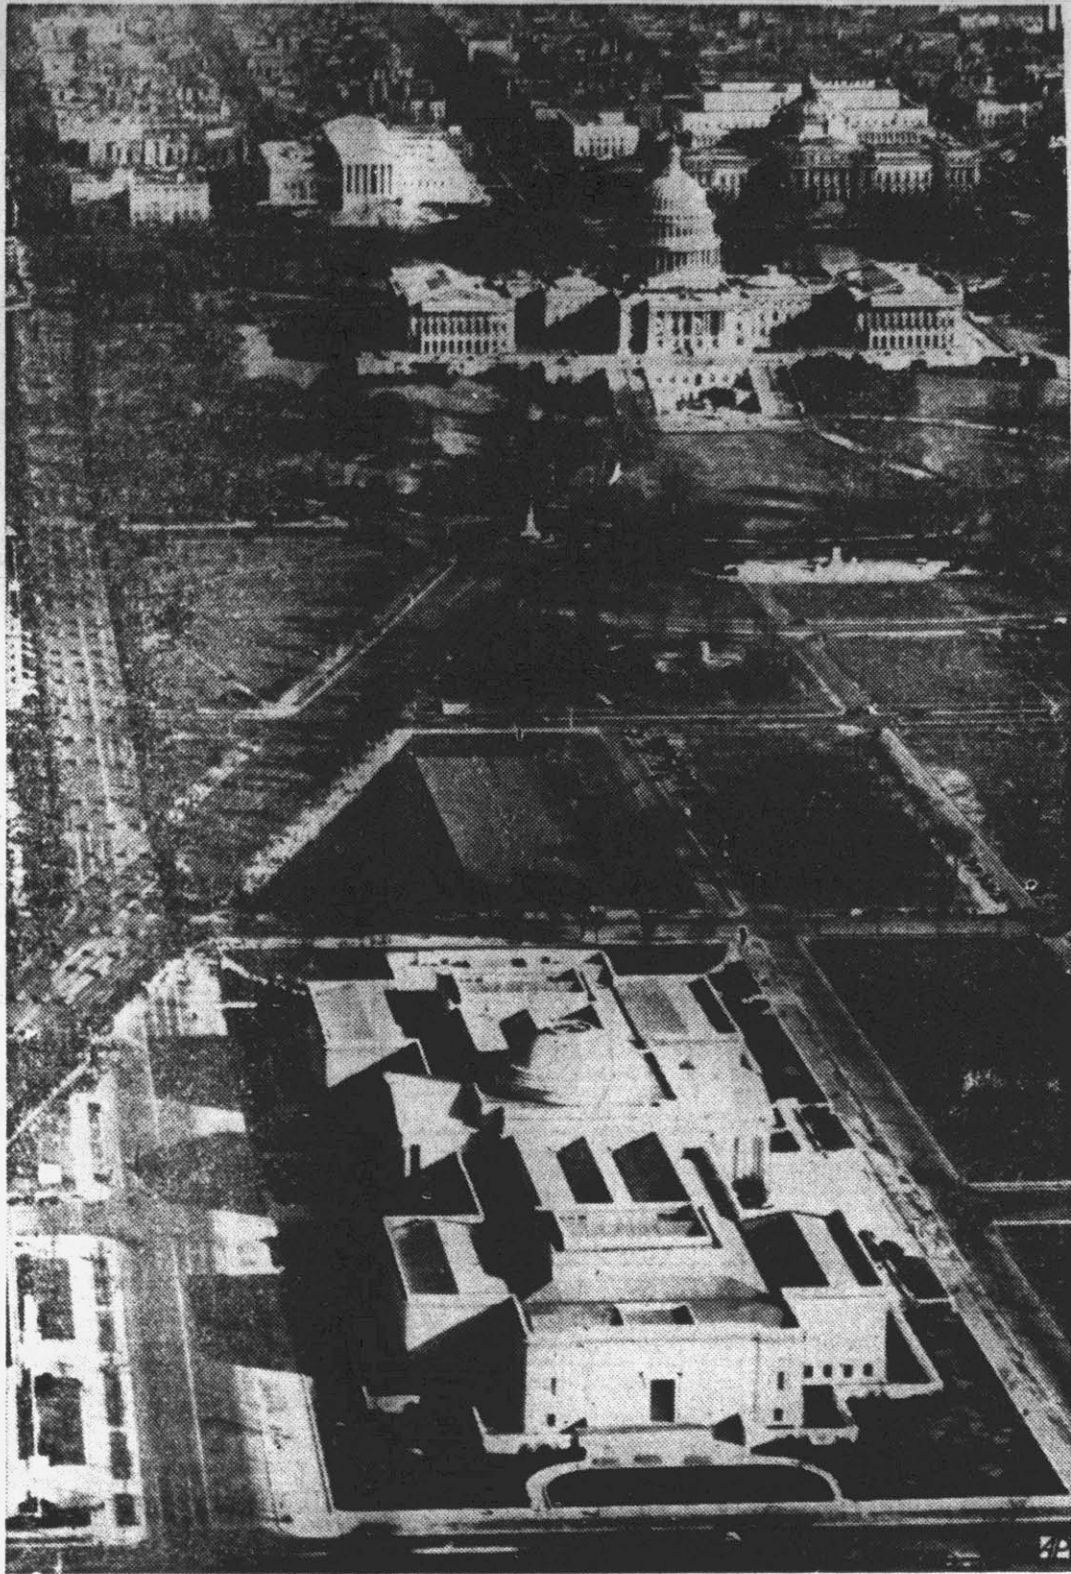

BLOOM—As chairman of the House foreign affairs committee, Rep. Sol Bloom, New York Democrat, has guided this group through important hearings on lend-lease measure.

BUSINESS NOT AS USUAL—The streets of London are an office now for some bombed-out firms. Here's a scene in "The City," with telegrams being sent from open-air offices.

'BLITZ' DIRECTORY—To help their clients find them, bombed-out firms in "The City," London, put their addresses on this fence railing which is now a virtual "blitz" directory.

GRACIOUS!—You'd be annoyed, too, if funny-looking people came and stared at you and laughed at your bristling topknot. This indignant bird is a western grebe with feathers on end at the Sacramento wildlife refuge in California.

TOO CLOSE FOR COMFORT—But for wooden piles that apparently stopped the auto in the nick of time, some motorists would have had a cold dousing in the Calumet river, south Chicago. Police found the car thus perched precariously.

HE'LL BE A DODGER—Young Bob "Lefty" Felthaus, 18, star of the San Diego high school nine, is counting the days until he can join the Brooklyn Dodgers for spring training. He's a pitcher, was eyed by the Dodgers two years ago.

HANDS THAT SEE—Mark Shoemith, a 28-year-old blind artist at New York Institute for Education of the Blind, did this bronze head of Lauritz Melchior, Metropolitan Opera tenor who poses alongside the bust. Note exactness of detail.

MAN PROPOSES—Looking none too happy, Brig. Gen. George S. Patton of Fort Benning, Ga., wears a new uniform proposed for tank officers, while Maj. Gen. Lloyd R. Fredenall looks on. Uniform is still experimental, has not been adopted by army.

'BEAVER'—"The Beaver" and the "Busy B" are two nicknames fondly given Lord Beaverbrook (above), 61, the publisher who as minister of aircraft production is responsible for gearing up Britain's plane output to terrific war demands.

SEAMEN STAY CLOSE TO THE SEA—When some pretty girls are on the beach, sailors with shore leave in Hawaii are apt to stick pretty close to the sea, as can be seen. Honolulu and Hawaiian cities are now enjoying a boom—thanks to 100,000 sailors off the U.S. fleet stationed in Hawaiian waters. Fun-bent gobs pack the islands' cafes, theaters, billiard halls, beaches.

ON CONFESSING OUR SINS
One of the most futile things in the world is a confession of sin when we don't know how to make it.

For instance, to drop on our knees before God and to begin regaling Him with the enormity of our sins is futile. The best confession ever made was the confession of the publican who bent his breast and said, "God be merciful to me a sinner." To me, understand, the man was justified because he knew that his trouble arose not primarily from the things he did, but primarily because he was the kind of man he was. He asked God to be merciful to him, to change his nature, to make him a new man.

So often we confess the symptoms of our spiritual diseases without confessing the causes. We detail before the Lord the evil things we have done and the good things we have left undone. A certain amount of confession is necessary. But to get down to brass tacks about this matter of confession, we must confess before God not our sinful acts but our sinful selves. It is our hearts which need to be changed, more than our conduct.

Pitt County came in for double honors at the North Carolina Seed Exposition at Greensboro yesterday when Brantley Speight, of Winterville, was elected as president of the North Carolina Crop Improvement Association, and Greenville was chosen as the place in which to hold next year's exposition. The exposition held here a year ago was described as one of the best of its kind ever held in the state, and now it is up to our county to back up President Speight to make next year's return engagement of the exposition even better than before.

First reports from the county on results in the present drive for infantile paralysis funds comes from Grifton, where the square dance on Thursday night netted $54.50. If reports from Greenville and other points in the county stack up in proportion to what was accomplished in Grifton, the total fund raised will be sufficient to do a lot of good work in this county as well as prove a valuable aid to the national organization.

FINE WORK BY A FINE ORGANIZATION

The Woman's Club, together with a host of friends, last night paid fitting tribute to the club president, Mrs. J.
H. B. Moore, by the unveiling of her portrait, the gift of club women of this county, and the naming of the main auditorium of the local club building for her.

It has been under Mrs.
Moore's presidency of the organization over a period of several years, that the club members have labored unceasingly to achieve the goal

Empty Balcony

of final payment for its club house. While giving due credit to all who have had a hand in the work and achievements of the club over a period of years, Mayor Sugg in his address before last night's gathering, struck a responsive note when he declared that if nominations were in order for the city's most valuable citizen he would place in nomination the name of Mrs. Moore for such an honor.

We extend our hearty congratulations to Mrs. Moore and her co-workers on their accomplishments and wish for the club continued success in even greater measure now that its great burden of paying for its club house has been disposed of.

Washington Daybook

Washington—Whenever a freshman congressman makes the least little bit of a blunder, attracts even a paragraph of attention from his senior colleagues, it is worth recording.

No "frosh" in a college fraternity is more beneath the consideration of upper-classes than a first-term representative beneath the men who outrank him in years of service. It's Congress' trial by fire and water and anyone who survives it without discouragement is entitled to beat his breast and give the old Tarzan cry in the political jungle.

This fact makes even more unusual the unusual story of William Townsend Pfeiffer, "Billy" Pfeiffer, as the boys back home remember him, was born in the Okla. county when his native parent was still in the Indian Territory. He went to the University of Oklahoma, got his law degree and started practice in Sayre, Okla., later moving to Amarillo, Texas.

Plunged Into Politics
Two years ago he moved to New York, where just another lawyer is about as outstanding as a bubble in the surf. In less time than it takes to cross the Queensboro bridge in Sunday traffic, Mr. Pfeif-fer was in New York politics. He couldn't have been far in, though, because he was a Republican in that Tammany tiger's den. His sixteenth congressional district is so far over on the East River that it includes Welfare Island in midstream. Along First, Second and Third avenues there are 291 Irish saloons where the bartenders' brogues are as thick as the shillaloes they used to bounce off the noggins of customers whose political arguments get out of hand and into fists.

Somewhat, this 42-year-old tyro got his hands on the tiger's tail and when he quit twisting, the Tammany Wigwam was a mass and Mr. Pfeif-fer was in Congress.

You would think a fellow like that would be willing to take a breathing spell, especially when his assignment as a freshman congressman is: "First-term children should be seen—rarely and not heard at all."

Letters For 'All'

But not Mr. William Townsend Pfeiffer. Having been sworn in with the rest of the newcomers, he found that the first problem in hand —the administration's "Aid-to-Britain Bill." So what does Mr.

Pfeiffer do? He sits down and writes letters to all his constituents asking them: "What do you think of this?"

I say "all of his constituents" but it was not quite all. Let Mr.
Pfeiffer tell it his own way:

"Dear Constituent—During the campaign I promised always to keep a finger on the pulse of our congressional district, in order that I might be informed of the viewpoints of my constituents on vital issues. . . . The so-called lend-lease bill, sponsored by the President, presents a national issue of the utmost importance. I would like to have YOUR views on that issue."

After explaining the terms of the bill, Mr. Pfeiffer says: "I cannot afford to send this letter to each of the 70,000 voters whose names appear on the 1940 registration lists for our district. It is being sent to each seventh person on the lists." (At Mr. Pfeiffer's own expense, he points out.) "Hence, after you have digested the contents of this letter, and taken such action as you see fit, I will be grateful if you will pass it on to your neighbors with the request that they give it the same consideration as if they had received it directly from me."

Congress Took Note
Within 10 days or so, Mr. Pfeiffer had received, he said, about 3,000 replies, and his summary at that point was that his district favored the bill "with definite restrictions."

He said also that "The radical ones on both sides were in a minority." But that's not important. What is, is that a Congress freshman has established a precedent which the House has taken cognizance of, even to the extent of discussing it.

One old-timer, with a grin and a wink, put it this way: "I don't like what's politics coming to when a man has to go and find out what his constituents think before he casts a vote?"

Short Shots

Reflector Bureau
Raleigh, Feb. 1—Senator Gregg Cherry reported yesterday that his work as a committee chairman had been completed and asked to be excused for the rest of the session. He had just heard the clerk announce ratification of the congressional districts realignments act, and moved to table the identical bill which came over from the house. Governor Harris failed to see why a man who simply made a motion to table a bill should think his job was done — and he declined to grant the senator's request. The committee, however, will have nothing else to do unless somebody sends in another bill to further change congressional districts.

Leary For Congress?
Fellow legislators have been good naturedly joshing Senator Leary about his bill to increase school teacher pay a flat ten per cent. "He's running for congress," they said. And one or two of them, they said, had just found out that it was all kidding on part of Edenton lawyer. He gives the impression that he really is in the running and will go up against Herbert Bonner next year.

Another Safety Bill.
Varied have been the proposals seriously made during the current legislature in the name of safety. There is still one field not fully covered. Representative Dobson of Surry thinks motor trucks ought to have mud guards over their rear wheels. He is working out details of a bill that will require all trucks, operated either by the highway commission, or any private owner, to put guards or shields over the back wheels so they will not spatter gravel and mud on the windshields

Washington Highs Pull Upset; Down Phantom Teams

FOURTH LOSS FOR GREENIES

Jinx Hangs On As Farley's Take 23-13 Licking

By C. B. ROWLETT

Washington high school's Pam Pack upset the dose bucket for the second time this year and the result was a 23-13 triumph over the Greenville High Greenies. This is the fourth loss of the season for the Phantom and it automatically cuts them from conference championship.

It was just simply a matter of Washington outplaying the Phantoms from middle way the first quarter to the end of the contest. Washington's undaunted spirit has made for themselves as a hard team to class as an underdog.

With the opening whistle it seemed very much like another victory for Farley's Phantoms when Riddle and Warren tallied a field goal apiece and Warren came back to drop in a grats shot. Clark followed this up with another free toss. While the G-Men were gathering six points during the first period Washington was making a gallant attempt to stay in the game and they did. Greenville had a 6-4 lead at the end of the period. Washington's points came in a field goal by Graves and a free throw by Mann and Hamilton.

The Phantom quintet entered that second period with a two point advantage and ended the half with a two-point disadvantage. Greenville High drew first blood on a field goal by Collins and a grats toss by L. Briley, but being behind by a 9-5 count didn't appeal to Washington and they began to change it. Taylor, flashy southpaw forward, eased in and dropped in a beautiful hookshot to pull it up to 9-7. Robertson provided the tying marker for the Pam Pack by sinking one from way out. The tying tally seemed to throw the Phantoms off and they committed three personal fouls which Graves and Gerard converted into three points. Half time whistle showed the Phantoms two points behind with a half to go. Washington held a 11-9 advantage.

The beginning of the second showed the Phantoms playing better ball and came back to score field goals by Warren and Clark to gain a 13-12 lead. Washington's only marker came on a free toss by Robertson.

With the lead in their hands the outcome looked brighter for the Phantom five with the opening of the last period but looked is all for Coach Doug Kelly's cagers began to make up the difference with plenty to spare. Four free tosses by the local boys proved exactly nothing as all shots were missed. Dave Taylor and Walther Gerard led Washington's last quarter attack which netted them 11 points, with a brace of field goals apiece. Robertson added another and Fancher took advantage of a grats shot. Farley's Phantoms were held scoreless during the entire fourth period. The out-of-town jinx is still with the Phantoms and they haven't won a contest on unfamiliar courts this season. The jinx stuck with the boys from GHS all through football and the result was four losses. Dave Taylor southpawed his way into high scoring honors with six points. Warren, Robertson and Graves took runner-up with five each. Tops on floor defense was Greenville's Snag Clark and Washington's Hoyt Robertson.

Junior Game
Coach Heman Fulkerson's baby Phantoms just couldn't get going in the preliminary game in Washington last night and in the end the local juniors were on the short end of a 15-3 count. This is the second defeat of the season for the baby G-Men.

Washington jumped into an early lead and while the baby Phantoms were shooting their heads off in an effort to score the little Pam Pack racked up nine points for an early lead that the local juniors never overcame. As the halftime whistle blew the scoreboard showed the Washington team with a 10-0 lead. The baby Phantoms were not able to garner a point.

Fulkerson's baby Phantoms came back in the third period to score six and hold the Pack to nothing but the fourth period showed the Pack added five more while the locals only managed two.

TWIN VICTORY FOR PACTOLUS

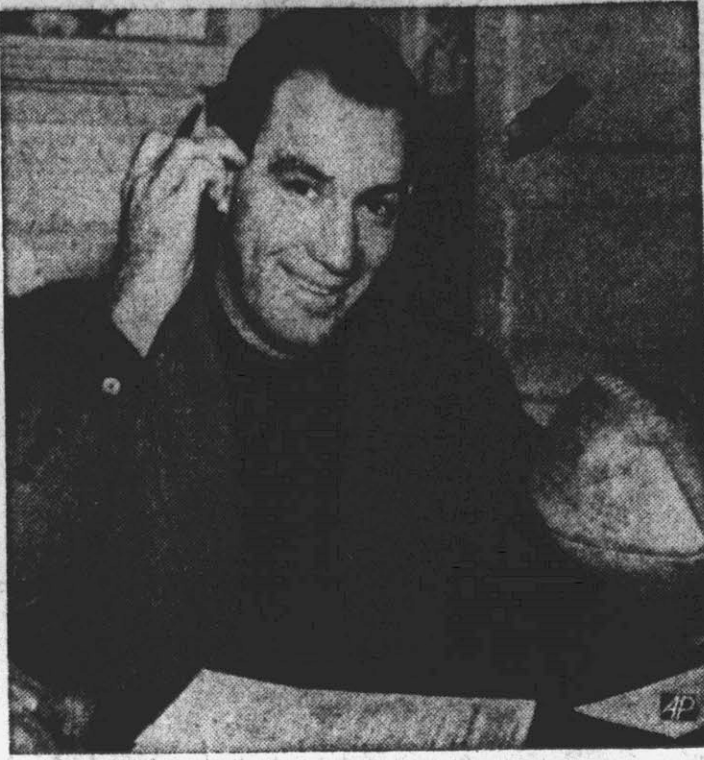

Victories Scored Over Grifton Boys And Girls

The Pactolus boys' and girls' basketball teams won a double victory over Grifton at Grifton Tuesday.

The Pactolus girls won by a score of 25-9 with Gladys Upton making 11 of Pactolus' points and leading the night's scoring. Beulah Tye of Pactolus made 5 points, and Kathleen Andrews also of Pactolus made 7 points. Jillings of Grifton led the Grifton girls with three points and Bryan, Gardner, Scarborough, and Munford, all of Grifton, made two points each.

The boys game was a rough and tough affair, hard fought all the way. The Pactolus boys never led in the regulation game but went in to a tie in the last seconds of play.

Dotted Line Beats An Ace

Pardon Clarence "Ace" Parker if he scratches his head in a bit of confusion. In front of him at his home in Portsmouth, Va., is a contract to play baseball with the Pittsburgh Pirates and he can't make up his mind whether to sign. If he decides to try out with the Pirates as a shortstop, it may jeopardize his professional football career. In 1940, as the Brooklyn Dodgers' backfield ace, he was voted the most valuable player in the pro football league. He played collegiate football for Duke.

Tom Johnston accounted for the two points that tied the score. In the overtime period Pactolus held their opponents scoreless while they racked up five points. Tripp of Pactolus led his team with ten points and S. McLawhorn of Grifton led the night's scoring with 14 points. Leggett, of Pactolus, scored seven points. Tom Johnston of Pactolus scored five points; Smith of Grifton got four; McLawhorn (No. 10) scored two points which accounts for all of Grifton's scoring. Dallas Ross of Pactolus got two points and Hugh Burroughs, captain of the Pactolus team, sunk one foul shot.

These Erwin pictures were a delight—most of them done down on the coast of Carolina, near and around Beaufort, I understand.

Two movies concerned with painting and painters; a puppet show; classes for adults and children; and cooperative work in the celebration of National Book Week were other things going on in and around the gallery these two months. It is an interesting place both the work-room in the basement of the library building, and the second-floor room that houses the gallery proper. If you haven't been around to see for yourself, try it some afternoon soon.

NL's 'Most Valuable' Player Says Reds Will Win Again

McCormick tunes up the family bus for the Florida trip.

By FERD BROWNING
AP Feature Service Sports Writer
New York.—Frank McCormick would have you know, right off, he's no alibi guy.

In the first place he doesn't have anything to alibi—certainly not the performance that won him the National league's "most valuable player" award.

But the big Cincinnati first sacker believes that maybe—just maybe—mind you—he wasn't at his best when he rang up a .309 batting average and drove in 127 runs for the world champions in 1940.

He had a wisdom tooth then that he doesn't have now. Without it he may be a better ballplayer. Let Frank explain:

"I had a funny crick in my back early last season that bothered me before the sun got hot. About the same time I went into a batting slump that pulled me down to about .200. I think maybe the two things went together.

Loses A Tooth
"The pain came back this winter. When I went to Cincinnati for a routine check-up and X-rays didn't show anything wrong with my back, the doctors decided an impacted wisdom tooth might be doing the damage."

So the tooth came out and Frank came back to wait for spring training. Whether he's going to improve on last year's performance remains to be seen—but—

"If I can bang in one more run and add one more point to that batting average I'll consider it a pretty good year."

You get the idea, talking to McCormick, that he's really pretty confident of having a better year. It's his fourth—"I'm a senior now"—in the majors and he feels that his experience and added confidence will pay dividends.

Matter of fact, Frank thinks the Cincinnati club as a whole is going to be a greatly improved team, more so than any other in the league.

He seems especially tickled over the club's acquisition of Monte Pearson and Jimmy Gleason. He thinks he'll be playing on another pennant-winner.

Behind the Reds, Frank predicts will be Brooklyn, the Cubs, Pittsburgh and St. Louis, in that order.

Out Of Bounds
Who'll the Reds face in the series?

"That," says the grinning McCormick, "is a question outside my league. There are too many teams to worry about in the National."

Frank appears to be in perfect condition and tips the scales at normal winter weight, 206. His off-season training consists chiefly of totting his husky year-old daughter around. This is the first winter he hasn't found himself a job.

"Didn't want to be out of the house and miss seeing Judith Ann take her first steps," he explains.
The 27-year-old couter is quite a family man. Likes to do odd jobs around his modest Queens apartment when his wife is busy with the baby. Just to prove it he brought out a pan of peas he had just shelled.
But he's not out to add a Mr. Model Husband title to his "most valuable player" designation. He couldn't pass as a cheerful dishwasher.

TRUSTEE'S RE-SALE OF REAL ESTATE

Pursuant to the power and authority contained in a certain deed of trust dated the 15th day of October, 1937, and executed by Bernard I. D. Smith and wife, Evelyn T. Smith, to T. C. Counties Renew Efforts To Get Back Road Money

Reflector Bureau

By LYNN NISBET

Raleigh, Feb. 1.—Senator Coble Punderbark of Union has ready for introduction Monday night a bill re- quiring the State to take over all county road bonds issued prior to 1931, and not in default on July 1 of this year. The bill will specifically relieve the State of responsibility for payment of principal or interest due before that date.

Amounts of these outstanding bonds have been rather loosely es- timated as "between fifty and sixty dollars." The proposition that they be taken over is kindred to, but by no means identical with, the biennially recurring suggestion that the state ought to pay counties for roads built prior to adoption of all public roads into the statewide system in 1931. As a member of the house of representatives in 1935, Mr. Punderbark offered a similar measure. It got little consideration, and frankly he doesn't expect any great excitement over the present bill.

One phase of the bill might gain support. That is the very definite prohibition of diverting any high- way bonds and interest and the building and maintenance of new roads. The senator thinks that provision ought to pass, anyhow, but freely admits that it won't be needed if the bond transfer is made. There won't be any money left in the state highway fund to divert. Senator Punderbark has discussed the mat- ter with several of his colleagues and reports almost unanimous ap- proval of the principle involved, but finds little to encourage the hope that the bill will ever become law.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Stock market prices wilted today as po- tential buyers reduced bids and of- ferings became a bit more plentiful. A lukewarm rallying attempt at the start of the brief session soon chilled and leading steels and oil- er industrials turned downward. While losses for the most part were in fractions, scattered declines of a point or so were to be seen at the close.

Transfers approximated 300,000 shares.

AYDEN GROUP IS ORGANIZED

Negro Farmers Find Co-Op Movement Successful

Negro farmers of the Ayden com- munity have sought the cooperative way of preparing themselves for bet- ter farm financing and production. On the October 29, 1940, a group of farmers effectively organized a credit union under the State De- partment of Agriculture. Since that date the organization has accumu- lated savings by small deposits which amount to approximately $150. Their goal has been set at $500 within six months from Janu- ary 1, 1941. With this amount the organization expects to be able to finance the housing of tobacco for its members, supply cash for the purchase of at least one pure bred boar for the community use and to lend money to at least one stu- dent of Vocational Agriculture to finance a poultry project. All loans will be individual loans to members only.

Since the organization of the Bright Leaf Credit Union, the col- ored patrons of the Ayden school district have organized a coopera- tive canning club and a cooperative improved swine association. In keeping with the National Defense program these people are trying to develop a more diversified farming program which will at least provide them with the food essentials. Each family is working out a quota of food for the family, feed for the livestock, and fertility for the soil according to information given in extension circular No. 235, Facing Farm Facts. This is a February 1939 publication from the State College press.

In studying the possibility of get- ting such a move started, a small group of farmers and the Negro Ag- riculture teacher found that a source of credit was the first prob- lem to attempt to solve. The organi- zation of the Bright Leaf Credit Union is the result of this attempt. Though the Credit Union is able to grant loans for any productive or provident purpose, all loans must be secured by and made only to mem- bers. All operations are carried out according to state law and under the supervision of the State Super- visor of Credit Unions. Simon Dix- on heads the local organization as president; Reginald Roundtree, vice president; J. W. Ormond, principal Ayden colored high school, secre- tary; Ellis Joyner, treasurer. The Board of Directors is made up of the above named officers and H. R. Reeves, S. A. Bowe, G. W. Joyner, George Taylor, and J. D. Lennon. The Credit committee consists of Rev. J. W. Jackson, Samuel Ellison, Peter Roundtree, Mrs. H. R. Reeves, and Mrs. Nina Scott. On the supervisory committee are C. C. Wiggins, C. C. Anderson, and Joseph Carr. These community organiza- tions were begun under the super- vision of J. D. Lennon, local Negro Agriculture teacher.

Glamour Nixed By Women's Corps.
London.—(AP)—The Women's Le- gion Corps of Transport Drivers is no place for glamour girls. Colored fingernails are forbidden and only the minimum of make-up passes muster.

Grandmothers are welcome since many women are too old to join the smartly uniformed auxiliaries of the fighting services. Members drive staff car for the home guard, take patients to and from hospitals, dis- pense food in mobile canteens, and pay about two dollars a year for the privilege of serving.

TED LEWIS PRAISED TALENT COMING TO PITT FRIDAY

Miss June Just, one of the many beautiful dancing girls, appearing in Studio Scandals, large thirty-five people road show, featuring a cav- ade of glamorous beauties, and outstanding artists just returned from a triumphant 20,000 mile tour of Europe. The great show plays at the Pitt Theatre in Greenville, Fri- day, February 7, only. Critics in leading capitals abroad showered them with praise. However, war conditions forced them to leave Eu- rope, and upon arriving in the good old U. S. A., they appeared at the famous Roxy Theatre in New York, followed by their present road tour which has proved such a tremen- dous success. Billy Rose is said to have praised the girls as being the most beautiful and talented he had ever seen. The Chicago Tribune said "The most beautiful girls on tour." One of the famous beauties, Evelyn Willard, created such a sen- sation in Birmingham that the Bir- mingham Post gave her column af- ter column of publicity, and said, "Miss Evelyn Willard is one of the most beautiful showgirls of the na- tion, and the most beautifully pho- togenic figure ever seen."

Ted Lewis, commenting on Edison and Louise, the show's starring com- edy team, said, "that they were two of the funniest comedians today."

The London Times wrote, "The fun- niest act ever seen here."

The Three Youman Brothers, an unusual act, do amazing impressions of leading bands. When they play, you actually feel you are listening to Artie Shaw, Kay Kyser, Benny Goodman, and all the others. They created a sensation when they ap- peared at the Roxy in New York. In fact, they were requested to play for President Roosevelt, their talent was so remarkable. The original Radio Jesters bring to life radio's most famous characters. In fact, the entire cast of thirty-five char- acters offer an unusual performance. The talent in Studio Scandals has been with and endorsed by the Roxy Theatre, New York, Oriental The- atre, Chicago, Warner Brothers Pic- ture Corporation, Paul Whiteman, Horace Heidt, and a host of others. Studio Scandals plays the Pitt in Greenville Friday, February 7.

college.
Young Speight has been ably sup- ported in his efforts by his father Lewis Speight, and his Uncle Oscar Speight.
The interest, ability and experi- ences of Mrs. Brantley Speight who taught school at one time has been an important factor in Brantley's success as a farmer and a leader in the community and state.

The Speights have cooperated with the county agents and exten- sion specialists in many experiments and demonstrations related to prog- ress in agriculture.

Brantley has been outstanding in his community and state for the fine work accomplished in testing materials for blue mold control, for the work he is doing in providing a source of good certified tobacco seed. He is testing corn hybrids in cooperation with Dr. Harvey of State College; he is multiplying some new strains of oats in co- operation with Dr. Middleton of the college and he is engaged in the production of certified Carala wheat, barley, oats, soy beans, les- pedeza. Mr. Speight is harvesting crimson clover seed and has grown some Alyce clover and red clover to determine their value and adap- tability to this section of the state.

Brantley was elected vice pres- ident of the North Carolina Crop Improvement Association at its an- nual meeting in Greenville in 1939. His fine work and support of the good seed program sponsored by the North Carolina Crop Improvement Association has justified his election to the presidency of the Crop Im- provement Association for the year 1941-42. In the seed show at Greens- boro Friday, January 30, Brantley won first prize and a blue ribbon with sample of red oats and Coker 100 cotton which he grew. Speight also won second place with certified Kobe lespedeza and Coker 200 cot- ton seed. He won third place with certified Carala wheat of his pro- duction. Entries of Red Heart wheat and soy beans were made by Bennie Wooten of Farmville, Grover Man- ning of near Winterville entered a class of certified Jarvis Golden corn. The 1939 annual meeting of the N. C. Crop Improvement Associa- tion which was held in Greenville in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce, Extension Service merchants and other groups, were declared by many to have been the most successful in the association's history.

The Crop Improvement Associa- tion will hold its 1942 annual meet- ing and Seed Show in Greenville next year.
Willard Kyzer, secretary of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce and the Pitt county farm agent ap- peared before the directors of the association with letters of invita- tions from the Chamber of Com- merce and Mayor B. B. Sugg, urg- ing the annual meeting to come back to Greenville.

A number of towns in eastern North Carolina extended invitations to the association and Greenville and Pitt county is fortunate to have been selected for the location of the 1942 exposition.
The 1939 seed show, held in Greenville, was responsible for a great deal of interest in small grain and the production of good seed of other crops in Pitt county and East- ern North Carolina.
As farmers became interested in producing a supply of seed for the county it is hoped that they will keep in mind one fact that is of paramount importance to the seed industry of this section; that is in purchasing foundation seed stock high quality seed free from noxious weeds, such as dodder, wild onion corn coker, etc., so that our soils may not become infested with these weeds to the extent that the com- munity would be seriously handi- capped in producing certified seed of high quality.
