WAGE & HOUR LAW IS UPHELD BY HIGH COURT

Decision Paves Way For Abolishment Of Child Labor

NO AMENDMENT TO BE REQUIRED

Ban On Inter-State Transportation Of Child-Made Goods Is Upheld By Far-Reaching Decision

Washington, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Constitutionality of the federal wage-hour law was upheld today by the Supreme Court in a unanimous decision which apparently gave the government power to abolish child labor without adoption of the long-pending constitutional amendment.

The high tribunal specifically overruled a 1918 opinion which had held unconstitutional a statute prohibiting the inter-state transportation of child-made goods.

This decision "should be and now is overruled," asserted the opinion delivered by Justice Stone. Provisions regulating child labor are contained in the wage-hour act, which fixes minimum pay and maximum work week for employees in interstate commerce.

The proposed child labor constitutional amendment was submitted to the states by Congress in 1924. It has not yet been ratified by the required three-fourths of the states.

Justice Stone asserted in the wage-hour decision:

"The act is sufficiently definite to meet constitutional demands. One who employs persons without conforming to the prescribed wage and hour conditions to work on goods which he ships or expects to ship across state lines is warned that he may be subject to the criminal penalties of the act. No more is required."

The opinion was on a challenge of the far-reaching legislation by Fred W. Darby, operator of a lumber camp at Stateboro, Ga.

In another important decision bearing on labor matters, the court held that officials of the carpenters' union are not liable for prosecution under the Sherman anti-trust act for activities growing out of the jurisdictional quarrel with another union.

In still another labor case the court upheld an order issued under the wage-hour law fixing a minimum wage of 32 and a half cents an hour for textile workers.

Justice Stone delivered the opinion on a challenge of the order by a group of southern cotton mills. No dissent was announced in either case.

In another of the major cases on the docket, the court dismissed litigation involving an injunction temporarily restraining Governor Leon C. Phillips and other Oklahoma officials from interfering by use of troops and a state court suit with work on the $20,000,000 Grand river hydroelectric project.

The decision held that the state officials did not have a right under federal judicial procedure to appeal directly from the three-judge court to the Supreme court. No dissent was announced.

Justice Frankfurter wrote the decision which returned the case to a three-judge federal court at Tulsa to permit it to enter a "fresh decree" from which state officials "may, if they wish, perfect a timely appeal to the Circuit Court of Appeals."

BRITISH BOMB NAZI-OCCUPIED FRENCH AREAS

Royal Air Force Continues Week-End Day Thrusts ASSAULTS WAGED ON WIDE AREAS

High Ranking RAF Officer Says Britain To Beat Back Any Nazi Return To Mass Daylight Raids

London, Feb. 3.—(AP)—British planes bombed targets in the northwestern part of German-occupied France in a pre-dawn attack, the government announced, in a continuation of week-end thrusts by day against Axis objectives from Flanders to the Italian island of Sardinia.

An earlier admiralty announcement said that British naval aircraft yesterday successfully attacked "one of the main sources of power supply" in Sardinia simultaneously with other RAF daylight attacks on German-occupied ports and airbases along the "invasion coast" from Flanders to Brittany.

Meanwhile, a high ranking officer of the Royal Air Force declared that Germany's first line air strength will be "measurably in excess" of Britain's on March 1, but Britain will "again beat back any return to mass daylight bombings of a preliminary to invasion" with superior aircraft and pilots.

The officer said the recent lull in the German air offensive against Britain was not "the lull before the invasion storm," but was due first to "radical flying weather," second to repairing and overhauling of a large number of German bombers damaged in night operations, and third diversion of a "considerable number" of bombers to the Mediterranean fighting zone.

"There is no doubt, he said, that the Germans are suffering a higher percentage of losses due to weather than the personnel of the squadron likes."

LONDON AREAS AGAIN BOMBED

East Anglia and Kent Also Subjected To Air Raids

London, Feb. 3.—(AP)—German raiders flying singly over the south and southeast coast attacked numerous areas of London, East Anglia and Kent today, causing death and damage here and at a coastal town in the latter area, the government announced.

The official statement said one raider was shot down off the Essex coast. Reports from that area said the plane blew up over the Thames estuary after being attacked by a British Spitfire fighter which followed it down to within 100 yards of the water, all its guns blazing.

A stick of 16 small bombs was dropped in one residential district on London's outskirts after people in the streets had heard machine-gun fire overhead. A child was reported killed.

Half the bombs fell in open fields and officials said the others did only superficial damage to roads and gardens.

Her driving license was suspended for nine months, suspension to terminate if damages caused to a car being driven by Mrs. Agnes R. Respass are paid. Mrs. Respass was acquitted.

Prices Of 1940 Tobacco As High As Year Before

Loss of Foreign Trade Offset By Smaller Crop

Washington, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Surveys show, the Agriculture Department reported today, that the 1940 tobacco crop has been selling at prices not greatly changed from a year earlier, despite the fact that important foreign markets remain closed by war factors.

The bureau's average price for five cured tobacco up to January 1 was 16.85 cents a pound, an increase of 13 per cent over the 1939 season average of 14.9 cents. A principal factor in the price increase, the department said, was the fact that the 1940 crop was about 37 per cent smaller than the record 1939 crop.

The bulk of the burley crop has been sold, and preliminary reports indicate, the department said, that the season average price will be around 16.4 cents, compared with the 1939 season average of 17.3.

Prices of cigar leaf types have been not greatly different so far this season from prices a year earlier.

The department said exports continued to decline.

Fascists Officially Reported To Be Retreating On African Battlefronts; Britain Concentrating Forces West Of Captured Derna, Presumably In Preparation For Assault On Bengasi

Cairo, Egypt, Feb. 3.—(AP)—British forces occupied Barentu in Italian Eritrea yesterday after the town had been abandoned by its defenders, British headquarters announced today.

On the northern sector of the Eritrean battlefront, today's war bulletin said, British forces pushing beyond captured Agordat about 40 miles north of Barentu were pushing hard on the heels of Fascists retreating toward Cheren.

Cheren is about 110 miles inside Eritrea and 50 miles northwest of Asmara, the Eritrean capital.

Further south on the African front, South African forces were reported to have pushed 10 miles inside Ethiopia from Kenya Colony to occupy two Italian posts in the Dukana area.

The pursuit of Italians retreating toward Gondar in Ethiopia was declared to be continuing "as a result of which the Italians have been obliged to abandon and destroy quantities of materials and stores of all kinds."

Still other British forces, the announcement said, "are extending and deepening our penetration" into Italian Somaliland.

In north Africa, the British said the concentration of their forces west of captured Derna was "proceeding smoothly," presumably in preparation for an assault on Bengasi, capital of Eastern Libya.

Rudolph Hyman, about 75 years old, died Sunday morning, following several weeks of critical illness.

I. Dudley, L. W. Tucker, Joe McLawhorn and E. R. Dudley. A part of the time of recent years he had spent with his wife, the former Mrs. Dupree, visiting her sons and daughters in Florida, South Carolina and North Carolina, but since the death of his wife in 1937, he had spent most of the time in Greenville.

Active pallbearers were: S. I. Dudley, J. Knott Proctor, J. L. Whichard, George Gardner, D. J. Whichard, Jr., and Curtis Perkins.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. F. W. Butterworth of Scotland Neck.

Greek Army Takes Important Sector

Athens, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Greek shock troops opposed by fresh Italian forces were credited today with the capture of an important mountain range 10 miles long in their drive north of Kilsura into central Albania.

A government spokesman asserted the Greek attack was "really heroic" and netted uncounted machineguns, rifles and supplies in the positions from which the Italians were driven. Most of the 270 prisoners taken belonged to units rushed into an Albanian drive only last month, the spokesman declared.

OPPOSITION TO BILL OFFERED

Rep. Fish Says Measure Would Lead U.S. Into War

Washington, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Rep. Fish (R-NY) opened opposition debate to the aid to Britain bill in the House today with a prediction that the United States will be involved in war in Europe and Asia within six months if the measure is approved without change.

He also predicted that the government would take over vital industries, that civil rights would be suspended and that "we will have a dictatorship in America comparable to the Nazis and Communists."

Fish spoke a few minutes after Philip F. La Follette, former governor of Wisconsin had testified before the Senate Foreign Relations committee that Edouard Daladier, former French premier, had told him in 1939 that France expected the United States to aid it "with money, materials and men."

La Follette said he had called on Daladier in March 1939, and asked him "just what aid they expected from us."

"He replied without a moment's hesitation," the witness recounted "that they expected money, materials and men. And he said that 'we are going to need them and expect them soon.'"

Fish was the first Republican speaker after Chairman Sabath (D-IL) of the House Rules Committee formally opened a week of debate on the measure with the assertion that it was "purely a defense measure" rather than a war bill.

"I am absolutely certain and positive that this is not a war measure, but a bill to prevent war," Sabath said. "It is purely a defense measure for the defense of the United States."

Britain Counts On Many U.S. Planes

London, Feb. 3.—(AP)—A reliable source said today the British expected 1,000 American-built bombers to be flying across the Atlantic for Great Britain monthly by May.

This figure will be well over the United States production rate, this source said, but will include planes built in the winter months.

Christian Science Service. "Love" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, February 2nd.

The Golden text was from Jeremiah 31:3. "The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love; therefore with loving kindness have I drawn thee."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "Beloved, let us love one another; for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love. In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him."

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is what the Scriptures declare Him to be—Life, Truth, Love. Not materially but spiritually we know Him as divine Mind, as Life, Truth, and Love. We shall obey and adore in proportion as we apprehend the divine nature and love Him understandingly, warring no more over the corporeality, but rejoicing in the effluence of our God."

End of the Century Club
The meeting of the End of the Century Club at the beautiful home of Mrs. J. L. Little on Tuesday last was a most enjoyable occasion.

The regular routine of the business having been finished, a most entertaining paper on Famous German Women was given.

A discussion as to the expenditure of a certain sum of money in new books then followed, and each member gave the title of the book which she wished the club to purchase. A motion was then made to lay this on the table until the next meeting which was accordingly done.

After being served to most delightful refreshments, the club adjourned to meet again on next Tuesday.

H. D. Gift to Woman's Club.
At the last council meeting of the Home Demonstration clubs of Pitt county, a motion was made and carried that the council should have a part in paying for the painting of the portrait of Mrs. J. H. B. Moore, which was unveiled at the celebration of the liquidation of the club-house debt, at the Woman's Club Friday evening, January 31st.

At this meeting, the last that the former agent, Miss Ethel Rice, attended before her departure for Indiana, it was decided that ten dollars should be donated for this purpose as a token of appreciation for use of the club building on various occasions and of Mrs. Moore for what she has done for the clubs in the past. Mrs. R. B. Tyre is president of the fourteen Home Demonstration clubs of the county.

The gift of ten dollars was sent to the Woman's Club on Friday by Mrs. G. H. Pittman of Falkland, a Home Demonstration club member who has been actively engaged and closely identified with the Falkland club, as well as with the work of the county in general.

The Woman's Club of Greenville wishes publicly to acknowledge with deepest appreciation the receipt on Friday of the cash donation of ten dollars from the H. D. clubs of Pitt county, and to thank the clubs for their kindly interest and help on this occasion. To know that you, our friends, thought of us so generously at this time, helped to swell the pardonable pride and glory which we felt in our recent triumph.

Mrs. Moore offers her personal and heartfelt thanks to all of you. It is deeply regretted that no mention of this gift was made in the written account of the celebration appearing in Saturday's papers.

Ten of the navy's fleet of 70-foot "mosquito boats" proved their seaworthiness beyond any doubt in a stormy voyage from Newport, R. I., to Miami, Fla., en route to southern maneuvers. Father Neptune tried some of his worst tricks but the little fleet came through unscathed. In the picture at the top, made by a crewman on a companion boat, the leader of the fleet skirts around a slow-going freighter off Fernandina, Fla., and heads in to rough weather. Below, a gigantic wave sweeps over one of the boats from bow to stern but she comes right up like a cork.

Library News

New Books For the Library
The Book committee of the Shepard Memorial Library, Mrs. B. E. Sugg, chairman, Mrs. J. H. Blount, Mrs. W. C. Vincent, Miss Bessie Brown and Mrs. Herbert ReBarker, met last week and selected the books to be bought for the library this quarter. In making this selection of books, the committee used as a guide the following magazines and newspapers which give detailed reviews of new books: Atlantic, Harper's, New Yorker, Forum, Saturday Literary Review, Book Review sections of the New York Times, and New York Herald-Tribune, and the Sunday Book Review pages of the News and Observer and the Greensboro Daily News.

The list compiled from these magazines and newspapers is then confirmed by the Book List, a monthly publication of the American Library Association, recommending books for the smaller libraries, and the Book Review Digest, which gives estimates of all the new books.

Any suggestions by the patrons of the library as to books they are especially interested in or would like to read will be appreciated at any time by the committee, for all during the interim between their meetings. Mrs. Vincent, librarian, and Miss Brown, assistant librarian, are making a survey of all books published since the last order, noting requests at the desk and compiling lists of needed books.

The new books selected for this quarter have been ordered and will be put on the shelves of the library as soon as they arrive. They are as follows:

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Strength For The Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

LENGTHENING SHADOWS

Personality counts for so much in life that everyone is eager to do everything he can to develop his personality. Books which tell us how to do this have almost unbelievable volume of sales. Whether we can definitely express our convictions in words or not, most of us believe that personality is of the very essence of the universe.

Emerson once said that all great enterprises are but the lengthening shadow of a man. A book is the lengthening shadow of some man's thought or imagination. A mill employing thousands of people is the lengthening shadow of some man who saved his money, persuaded others to lend him money, and then set to work to make a dream come true.

DARK OUTLOOK

Saturday's reports by the Agriculture Department again paint a dark outlook for the present flue-cured tobacco growing areas and indicate that the sooner such sections as ours give more attention to doing something else to fill the income gap the better off the section will be.

SLOWER CARS MIGHT SOLVE THE PROBLEM

Eleven highway deaths and an even larger number of injuries in this state over the week-end is certainly not a record of which our state can be proud. Safety drives in industries over a period of years have shown a steady decline in accidents and at the same time our highway death toll continues to mount, regardless of safety drives and law enforcement efforts.

It Was Only A Mirage

continues, there is but one alternative and that is to require manufacturers to so build automobiles that excessive speeds will be impossible. Placing speed governors on automobiles is something that neither the manufacturers nor the public wants, but when the increasing number of accidents proves that human beings absolutely disregard the rules of safety and common sense, then it is high time that steps were taken to protect them against their own foolishness.

navy are perfectly capable of training, in short time, men for the "regular" branches of the service and that there are some 50,000 "radio hams" (amateurs) in the country who supply a backlog and important reserve for the Signal Corps.

Looking beyond the purely defense phase, he says, "When war emergency conditions have changed and the newly expanded aircraft industry of this country returns to peacetime production, this program will develop an increased interest in aviation and bringing about an expansion in civilian flying."

No more had Mr. Costello's words got out of his mouth than Baron Franz von Werra, a Nazi pilot who had been captured and sent to a prison camp in Canada, was arrested in upstate New York and charged with illegally entering this country.

It's far too early to predict, but maybe Mr. Costello's swing on the coat-tails of national defense is going to end in new wings over America. It has had a pretty auspicious take-off.

Washington Daybook

Washington—The coat-tails of national defense certainly are weighted down. There are more things (and people) riding on them than you could shake a bomber at.

WILL 'GLIDE FORWARD'

The United States will not slide backward in aviation if the young men of America glide forward in their training in the air. In order to make sure of America's supremacy in aviation, I have introduced a bill providing for a program of training glider pilots throughout the nation which would be carried on by the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

It is interesting to note that Germany has for years carried on a program of glider training which has resulted in some 250,000 to 300,000 young Germans having been trained as glider pilots. It is from these trained and experienced young men that Germany is today obtaining her great mass of pilots for the armed forces.

Senator John Wallace of Iredell was observed in the hotel lobby early Monday. Asked if he had a nice week-end at home, he replied that he made the mistake of not going home. "And I never was as homesick in my life," he continued.

Interesting and Interested letter Having returned to North Carolina for his first visit in 61 years, A. R. Nisbet of Plainview, Texas, 32 years old, spent Saturday looking over the capital city. Although above the four score year line, the doughty Texan is so full of pep that on his way east he got tired of slow motion trains at only 50 to 60 miles an hour, and changed to a plane at Atlanta. From here he went on to Washington to "help keep things straight."

Phantoms Have Big Week In Front; Three Games On List

GHS FAVORED IN TWO GAMES

Farleyemen To Meet Tarboro, Snow Hill And Goldsboro

Beginning with today's practices the Flying Phantoms of Greenville high school stepped into a week of work and work it will be, with a three-game schedule and a hard practice session on other days. The Farleyemen will contest Tarboro's Tigers on Tuesday, Snow Hill's Billies on Wednesday, and Goldsboro's Earthquakes on Friday.

Probably the toughest encounter of the week will be on the home floor with the Blue and White of Goldsboro. In an earlier meeting of the season Goldsboro topped the Phantoms 29-27 in that city before a mob of yelling humanity. Goldsboro probably sports one of the best teams in the conference, with such stars as Bud Pate, Clyde King, Pat Smith and others.

In two meetings between the teams during the regular season of last year, both teams were victorious once but when they met in the conference play-offs the Farleyemen turned on the heat and eliminated them the first night.

Snow Hill's Billies should cause considerable trouble for the Phantoms on Wednesday night. Led by Raymond Shirley the Billies racked up a thrilling 20-19 triumph over the local boys on the home floor, in the season opener, but the boys of GHS were only starting their practice and were expected to be a little rough on the edges. Farley's boys should take the Billies without a great deal of trouble.

The Tarboro Tigers, scheduled first on the week's list probably will present the less formidable contest. Other members of the conference have taken impressive victories over the boys of Tarboro High this season.

In one of the season's earlier games last year, the Phantoms took a 32-31 thriller over the Tigers in that city. In the other two meetings of the year the Phantoms took decisive victories.

Earl Purvis is slated to give the Phantoms their most trouble in the game. Despite the fact the G-Men have lost four conference tilts this season, it is believed they will emerge victorious in at least two of the week's schedule.

side, and it was warm inside, and they could sit down for awhile without anybody bothering them. The only penalty they had to pay was listening to somebody talk. They didn't seem to mind that.

Presently the speaker ambled on to the stage and began giving away advice. He was in love with vegetables. He rattled off a long paean in praise of beets, turnips and squashes. Then he warned against meat.

"Anybody who eats meat is eating a corpse," he cried. Possibly he didn't consider it necessary to credit George Bernard Shaw with this observation. Shaw said this 25 years ago and has been repeating it off and on ever since. But never with the intensity of purple passion that this fellow used. I say "purple" with reservations because the veins in his forehead had begun to swell and they may have been blue. I am slightly color-blind.

But after warning of warts, flat feet, high blood pressure, incipient blindness, and ingrowing toenails, not to mention hardening of the arteries and possibly Bright's disease as the inevitable consequences of lamb chops and T-bone steaks, our crusader backed to the extent of citing one minor exception. He thought it might be all right to eat a little fish now and then, possibly on Fridays, without altogether wrecking one's constitution. But carrots, spinach and corn—these were the true staffs of life. They were what guaranteed longevity and built bone and sinew. They were what caused the red corpuscles to leap like trout through a man's veins.

It was at this moment that the meeting—for me—broke up. From the rear of the hall came a dark, sour voice that said simply, "Aw nuts!" "Listen," he went on, "when you give a man a transfusion, what do you pump into his veins—prune juice or blood?" Then he walked out. And so did I.

ter May Robson, talked into it by her friend Marie, got herself a job with Frank Capra and renewed her career with "Lady for a Day."

Well, youth finally got a look-in again, aided by the Temple lassie and the Gable kid, and Hollywood got around to noticing how nicely Lana Turner wore sweaters. This put Hollywood approximately back where it was in the beginning and where it had remained until Clara Bow and "It" left the movies together.

With Mickey Rooney on top of the heap and Judy Garland in the leading ten, and Wallace Beery the only real old-timer in that select group, youth shouldn't have to lose sleep for a while over another life-begins-at-40 peril. Yet, if you look around the sound stages today, you'll see the brigade of the elders hasn't been entirely washed from the important scene.

"You'll see, in fact, that the Dressler-Rogers-Robson school is still functioning. No boxoffice leads yet—outside of Beery—but they're a threat.

Lionel Barrymore is still in there pitching, and his kid brother John (whom it's now safe to call an ex-romantic) has joined the battle on the side of the characters. May Robson carries on with the verve of an ingenue tackling her first lead.

And down "Tobacco Road" you'll find Marjorie Rambeau. If Miss Rambeau had been away somewhere, her "Tugboat Annie" could have been called a comeback. As she hadn't, "Tugboat Annie" was merely a starring vehicle deserved because never, in a long series of supporting characters, had she failed to make herself memorable. And some of the younger boys as if to keep in step, continue to anticipate the years in their characters. Claude Rains is no youth but he's not the snow-haired eccentric of his Belasco impersonation nor yet is he the can-bearing music master of his Lemps. Ditto Walter Brennan. Not to be outdone, Orson Welles, and he only 25, finishes his "Citizen Kane" as a doddering antiquity.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York.—There was a sign in West 46th street that said "Free Lecture Tonight at 8:30—Everybody Invited."

The sign didn't say what the lecture was about. Some signs do. They give you fair warning what the haranguing is to be about, but this one didn't. It simply stressed the words "free" and "everybody invited."

Now, it happened that I was passing there just a few minutes before the 8:30 deadline, and on the impulse of the moment I stuck my head through the door.

This was a mistake. There was a man about half way down the aisle and he shouted good naturedly "Come in, brother, and sit down. It doesn't cost a cent." It was the only way he said it that disturbed me. He might just as well have said, "There's one; grab him before he gets away."

I suppose there were about 50 people in the hall, mostly men. They were there because it was cold out-

Hollywood.—There was quite a to-do a few years back over Hollywood's "discovery" of the actors and actresses long past the spring chicken stage had boxoffice pull.

The "discovery" was prompted by the renewed career of Marie Dressler, a hopeless has-been who couldn't get anywhere in Hollywood until Garbo talked. The connection was not direct, only if Garbo hadn't talked in "Anna Christie" then Marie wouldn't have talked either and Marie would have had to wait a few years before showing the locals when life really begins if your heart's in it.

About that time Lionel Barrymore, too, was making up an Oscar and Will Rogers was giving lessons in the art of being yourself to win friends, and pretty soon it looked as if anybody under 40 would have to be content with playing second fiddle to the oldsters especially af-

SWIFT OFFERS $3,000 PRIZES

Local Women Have Opportunity to Enter Contest

Some lucky woman right here in Greenville may win the $1,000 first prize offered in a big cash contest which Swift and Company today announces it will shortly run for its famous Jewel shortening. In addition, any person in this neighborhood has a chance of winning the second prize of $500, or one of the ten prizes of $100 each, or one of the hundred prizes of $5 each.

An unusual feature of this Jewel contest, according to executives of Swift and Company, is the fact that every person who enters the contest will receive a valuable free gift. This gift, it is explained, is a "dandy darning dome" made of genuine aluminum. Light, compact, streamlined—it is said to cut darning time one-third or more. It won't snag the finest silk stockings, and fits conveniently into a sewing basket.

As Swift and Company states "All this Jewel cash contest requires is that the entrant complete in 25 words or less, the simple statement 'Jewel—the South's favorite shortening—is my favorite shortening because...' Fancy, decorated entries, drawings, or photographs do not count extra."

A large advertisement announcing the full details of the Jewel contest will appear in this paper Wednesday. Be sure to get a copy of The Reflector on that date.

STATE GARDEN TOUR DATE SET

Group Be In Greenville On April 3rd And 4th

Raleigh, Feb. 3.—The fourth annual Garden Pilgrimage, sponsored by the Garden Club of North Carolina, will be held this year from March 28 through May 29. It was announced today by Mrs. C. A. Gosney of Raleigh, garden pilgrimage chairman. Joining in the announcement and again offering full cooperation in the pilgrimage is the State Department of Conservation and Development.

Thirty three garden clubs and communities are participating in the pilgrimage this spring, the largest number ever to take part in the event. Last year there were 26 communities on the "visiting list." More than 3,000 persons, many of them were from other states, visiting the hundreds of gardens and homes that were open. Indications are that a larger number of people, both from this and other states, will visit the many gardens that will be open in the course of the tour. Inquiries have been coming in for several months to the conservation department asking for details of the 1941 affair.

The 1941 Garden Pilgrimage will open March 28 and 29 in Wilmington, where many lovely gardens and homes will be open for inspection. The New Bern garden club will open its homes and yards on March 29 and 31. These will be the only dates this year when it will be possible for the public to enter many of the most beautiful and historic places in New Bern.

Gardens and homes will then open progressively across the state from east to west as the blooming season advances, the pilgrimage finally ending in Asheville on May 28 and 29.

The communities in which gardens will be open and the dates are as follows:

Wilmington, March 28-29; New Bern, March 29-31; Goldsboro, April 3-4; Greenville, April 3-4; Wadesboro, April 9-10; Red Springs, April 10; Fayetteville, April 10-11; Wilson, April 10-11; Raeford, April 10-11; Tarboro, April 11-12; Rocky Mount, April 15-16; Halifax, April 15-16; Roanoke Rapids, April 15-16; Warrenton, April 16-17; Orchard Gardens, between Southern Pines and Pinehurst, sponsored by Sanatorium Garden Club, April 16-17; Abbeville, April 17-18; Henderson, April 17-18; Burlington, April 17-18; Tryon, April 17-18; Raleigh, April 18-19.

Greensboro, April 22-23; Salisbury, April 22-23; Thomasville, April 23-24; Hillsboro, April 24-25; Winston-Salem, April 25-26; Elkin, April 29-30; Reidsville, April 30-May 1; Mars Hill College, May 21; Green River Plantation, near Rutherfordton, May 27-28; and Asheville, May 28-29.

Benefit Payments $86 Cleared Here

Shown For County At Birthday Ball

Raleigh, Feb. 3.—Benefit payments to unemployed workers in North Carolina in the three years since payments started amounted to $17,170,917.29, which includes $78,040.59 sent to residents of other states who had worked and established wage credits in this state, Chairman Charles G. Powell, of the N. C. Unemployment Compensation announcements.

Payments during the month of December were $224,428.16, including $13,749.47 out-of-state.

During the year 1940, registrations for work in the 46 local employment offices with ten colored branches in the state, numbered 375,603, which includes new applications, renewals, retentions and clearance additions. In the same calendar year, these offices found jobs for 97,419 applicants for work.

Fred Allen Praises Talent In Show

Coming To Pitt Stage Friday

stars of the show, are acclaimed the most talented to appear in any show. The Chicago Tribune said, "The most beautiful girls on tour."

One of these famous beauties, Miss Evelyn Willard, created such a sensation in Birmingham, that the Birmingham Post gave her column after column of publicity, and said, "Miss Evelyn Willard is one of the most beautiful show girls of the nation, and the most beautifully photogenic figure ever seen." Every act in this unusual production has received such merited praise.

Fred Allen, speaking to the Th ee Youman Brothers act in the show, praised them highly, and commended on their marvelous skill. In fact, he presented them on his coast radio program. These three boys, using various musical instruments, perfectly reproduce the music of Artie Shaw, Benny Goodman, Kayser, and all the other big name bands. When playing at the Roxy in New York, they created a sensation. There work was so astounding that they were requested to play privately for President Roosevelt. This act alone is worth the price of admission. The huge cast includes thirty-five outstanding artists. Don't miss this great show. Remember the date Friday, February 7, for one day only at the Pitt Theatre.

MUCH DONE BY STATE SOLONS

Raleigh, Feb. 3.—Tar Heels apparently are tough nuts to crack when it comes to converting them into beer drinkers, as a class.

This seems a logical deduction from figures showing that the state's consumption of beer last year actually dropped 2,508 barrels. An analysis made by the Brewers and North Carolina Beer Distributors committee reported 1940 consumption at 299,192 barrels as compared with 301,700 in 1939 and 264,025 in 1938. Sales for the first half of last year ran far ahead of normal, but consumption sloughed off in county town which has reported.

A detailed statement on all phases of the campaign to raise funds to combat infantile paralysis will be issued during the week. The statement also will show the amount raised through the March of Dimes drive conducted throughout the county.

All-Time Records Set By January Tax Collections

Reflector Bureau
By HENRY AVERILL
Raleigh, Feb. 3.—At least two all-time records and one photo-finish second best marked collections of state taxes in January, the monthly report of the department of revenue shows.

Sales tax collections of $1,566,768.11 were not only the highest ever attained for any month since enactment of the three per cent levy, but were so much higher than any other as to leave practically no second place. The highest previous mark was in January last year, when collections were $1,395,435.80. This was an increase of more than 12 per cent.

Other all time high was set by automobile license tag sales, which reached $3,913,172.96, against the $3,478,334.98 collected in January of 1940. Here again the new mark went between 12 and 13 per cent above the best previous mark.

The close second came in gasoline tax collections. Here the six cents on each gallon collected by the state amounted to $2,548,722.99, a figure topped by only some $12,000 in November, 1940 when the record of $2,560,945.29 was set.

Other items of tax revenue were up proportionately, the total state
