LONDON HAS 15th BOMBLESS NIGHT

British Ministry Announces German Battleships In French Port of Brest Struck By Bombs

London, April 5.—(AP) Relays of German bombers attacked the oft-bombed west coast port of Bristol for hours last night and early today in a raid described there as "heavy, but not one of our biggest."

Damage to industrial establishments and a number of casualties including two dead, were acknowledged as the result of a bomb and machine gun attack today by a single raider on a northeast Scotland coast town.

Bristol reported only one person killed and two seriously wounded. The British said damage was "no where extensive."

London had one brief alert which lifted before 10 p. m. (4 p. m. EST) but the city completed its 15th consecutive bombless night.

London, April 5.—(AP)—The Air Ministry declared today that sticks of heavy bombs straddled the German battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau in a British attack on Brest last night.

A communique said oil stores at Rotterdam and industrial targets in the Ruhr also were bombed. The attack on Brest, 49th of the war, was the third since Sunday when the British first reported the presence of the big German battle wagons in the Nazi-occupied French port.

"The ships could be clearly identified in the moonlight and the attack was pressed home with great resolution," The Air Ministry communique said. "Some of our aircraft bombed from very low levels and good results are reported."

"Near one of the battleships a large fire broke out and other fires were started among stores of oil and warehouses."

Winterville Gets Fine Art Exhibit

A splendid opportunity of Art Education is afforded in the exhibit of Fine Art Prints which will be on display Wednesday through Friday at the Winterville high school. There will be a small admission charge which will be used for the purchase of pictures for our schools. There are 150 large colored reproductions of the Old and Modern Masters. Among the most famous artists represented are: Gainsborough, Titian, Da Vinci, Terborch, Murillo, Van Dyck, Raphael, and many others of the Old Masters, while among the more modern are representative subjects from the brush of Ben Foster, George De Forest Brush, George Innes, Ernest Albert, Frank Duveneck, Gardner Symons, Bruce Crane, William Wyant, Harry Vincent, Robert Wesley Amick, and Gustave Wiegand.

Asks Explanation For Berlin Action

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—The United States awaited today an explanation from the German government of the arrest of an American clerk in the embassy at Berlin—the latest in a growing list of trouble-provoking incidents accompanying a steady deterioration in German-American relations.

Secretary Hull ordered representations made to the German foreign office after disclosure that Stewart Herman, an embassy employee, had been detained "apparently without prior notification or explanation to the embassy."

Although Herman was released after several hours questioning, officials here were understood to consider his arrest a breach of the diplomatic courtesy existing between officially friendly nations and important as an index to the German government's attitude toward the United States.

When Herman and six other Americans—all since released—were arrested the German police admitted that their action "might have some connection" with reprisals for the Coast Guard's seizure of two German merchantships in United States ports after discovery of a widespread sabotage plot.

Survivors Of Transport Crash

Mrs. James M. Cox, Jr., (left) daughter-in-law of former Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio, publisher of the Atlanta Journal and the Miami Daily News, escaped injury in the crash of an Eastern Air Lines plane into a pond near Vero Beach, Fla. When this picture was made, she had just been removed from the wreckage and was helping to comfort Co-Pilot B. M. Crabtree (center) who was injured. A doctor is giving him a hypodermic injection.

Nazi Command Reports Heavy British Losses

Shipping Loss Stated At 718,000 Tons In March

Berlin, April 5.—(AP)—The German high command reported today that 178,000 tons of British shipping were sunk by Nazi sea and air forces in March.

Summarizing the month's activities, a communique said surface craft destroyed 193,600 tons of ships, submarines 325,000 tons and the air force roughly 200,000 tons.

Surface craft were said to have claimed victims in the English channel, the Atlantic and the "oceanic waters," while the U-boats were reported to have preyed on British shipping lanes as far as the West African coast.

"Furthermore," the communique asserted, "a large number of enemy merchantmen fell victims to mines which were laid by naval forces and the air force in waters nearby and far away."

Nazi submarines sank an additional 48,500 tons of shipping in a renewed attack upon a convoy from which 10 ships, totaling 58,000 tons previously were reported sunk, the Germans announced today. This morning, they added a German combat plane attacked a British merchantman of 3,000 tons about 190 miles west of the Hebrides and left the ship in a sinking condition.

City Is Inspected By Army Officials

Lieut. Colonel C. I. Kephart of the Army Quartermasters Corps in Greenville yesterday looking over prospective sites for the establishment of an army depot or storage warehouse to be located in Eastern Carolina.

After conferring with Mayor B. B. Sugg the Lieutenant colonel was taken on the tour by City Clerk J. O. Duval and W. T. Kyzer, executive secretary of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce.

The officer arrived yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock and was taken to Tarboro last night by Mr. Kyzer. A number of sites available for the army depot were visited during the brief tour and the advantages offered by Greenville for such a project were outlined by local officials.

SOLONS FACING SERIOUS WORK AFTER RECESS

Members of Congress Leaving For Week Respite

RETURN TO WORK MONDAY, APRIL 14

To Be Faced With Such Problems As New Taxes, Convoys And Labor Disputes When Work Resumed

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—With important defense measures out of the way, members of Congress were leaving Washington today for a week's spring vacation before tackling the controversial questions of new taxes, convoys and labor disputes.

The House recessed earlier this week until April 14 and the Senate arranged to transact no business until that date, although it will hold perfunctory sessions next week.

Democratic Leader Barkley told senators they were "free to disport themselves as they saw fit" until after Easter.

When Congress settles down to business again, it is expected to work many weeks on a new revenue bill which probably will place heavier burdens on virtually all classes of taxpayers. Administration leaders have agreed that the measure should raise at least $1,500,000,000 of new revenue and several legislators have asserted that much more than this sum is needed to offset big defense expenditures.

The convoy question—one that has been debated intermittently ever since the aid to Britain program was initiated—is pending before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in a resolution by Senator Tamm to prohibit use of American warships for protecting shipments abroad.

It is expected that the measure will be reported to the Senate by the end of the month.

The total number of prisoners counted after the fall of Asmara, meanwhile, mounted to 400,000 Italians and 600 native troops.

ECTC TO GIVE EASTER DRAMA

Pageant To Be Presented April 13 April 14

An Easter pageant drama "Victory Over Death," sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Association and the Young Men's Christian Association, will be given in the Austin Auditorium of the College Sunday night, April 13, and Monday night, April 14, at 8 o'clock.

In this worship service which will present in dramatic form the effect on those around Jesus of his betrayal, condemnation, crucifixion and resurrection, the whole of the town of Greenville and surrounding communities are invited to share. Letters have been sent to 40 ministers in Pitt county and to ten ministerial associations in other towns outside the county, inviting their congregations to attend.

The pageant, which has been arranged by Clifton Britton, graduate student in English and student director in dramatics at East Carolina Teachers College, is an adaptation of the letter is as follows:

"I am employed in the steel mill here in Pueblo—have worked for the company fifteen years. My father died when I was six years of age. I never hired out as a carpenter, although I have spent many hours reading books on carpentry work. Solving Unemployment Babson Says Hard Workers Always Win

Richmond, Va., April 5.—Naturally, I get a lot of letters from readers, and most of them are good letters. I often wish that space would allow me to quote from at least one every week, but I fear this would get me into too much trouble! I, however, must quote from a letter recently received from M. C. Yates of Pueblo, Colorado. The gist of the letter is as follows:

"I am employed in the steel mill here in Pueblo—have worked for the company fifteen years. My father died when I was six years of age. I never hired out as a carpenter, although I have spent many hours reading books on carpentry work. Observers

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—In the role of observers, American army officers may ride along with British pilots when the first new American-made four-motor bombers raid Germany.

Reporting this today, authoritative sources explained the observers' assignments would be to report to the air corps on the performance of the long-range craft under actual combat conditions.

With a similar mission, American naval officers have been stationed for months on ships of the British fleet in the Atlantic and Mediterranean.

Another 250,000 workmen in the steel industry faced the threat of workless days beginning at midnight Tuesday unless a deadlock is broken in negotiations between the U. S. Steel Corporation and its CIO employees over a new wage contract.

Still another 400,000 soft coal miners were out of production while negotiations continued toward a new labor contract. However, Dr. John Steelman, federal conciliator, predicted that some of the mines would reopen next week.

Representatives of the Allis-Chalmers and striking CIO workers met in Washington today for a conference with the Defense Mediation Board, seeking to settle the 74-day stoppage. Issues include a union shop, wage rates and seniority adjustments.

The Ford strike hinges on demands of the CIO workers for a contract recognizing it as collective bargaining agent, in covering wages and seniority and grievance procedure.

Reviewing the accomplishments in the past six months in the development of national defense, the chief of staff said the operation of the selective service system active duty for the national guard, and the vast program of munition production which has been undertaken, "constitute a great experiment in democracy."

"They are, in effect, the test of the ability of our form of government to meet an international crisis in a practical manner," he said.

Walser Is Chosen State Group Head

Richard G. Walser, dramatic director of the Greenville High school, was elected president of the Carolina Dramatic Association at the annual business session of the organization at Chapel Hill yesterday. He succeeds Dr. Fletcher Collins, Jr. of Elon College.

The meeting was one of the features of the final session of the 18th annual State Drama Festival and Tournament, sponsored by the C. D. A. and the University of North Carolina.

"The Devil is a Good Man," local play entered in senior high competition by the local school, won in its competition.

The Greenville junior high school play, "The Apothecary," lost out in competition to the East Durham junior high school.

Public Asked Support Army

Marshall Says Success Of Soldier Up To Public

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, told the nation today that "without the full support of the people back home" the soldier in the field can not succeed.

"The army must have complete support," he declared in an Army Day address broadcast nationally. "Without the full cooperation of the mechanic who builds the plane, the machinist who forges the gun or the farmer who raises the crops, the soldier in the field can not succeed. With the backing of the American family, of the women he loves and revers, he can not be defeated."

Diplomatic Relations Already At Standstill

Frontiers Between Yugoslavia, Germany, Italy and Axis-Dominated Countries Sealed; Troops Massed On Both Frontiers; King Peter Orders Full Mobilization and Takes Over Railroads

(By The Associated Press) War between Germany and Yugoslavia appeared today to be only hours away.

Yugoslav government circles said the zero hour was at hand, a neutral diplomat in Belgrade declared the diplomatic stage of relations between the two countries had ended, and authorized foreign office sources in Berlin said that for all practical purposes German-Yugoslav diplomatic relations had ceased to exist.

Premier Simovic's cabinet held an extraordinary session overnight for discussion of what an official source said was the "critical foreign question."

Yugoslavia's frontier with Germany and Italy and the Nazi-dominated countries of Hungary, Bulgaria and Rumania were reported sealed.

In Rome, however, Virginio Gayda, Fascist spokesman, said the Axis powers had given Yugoslavia a few more days to make peace with Germany and Italy to escape attack.

Nazi troops, in mechanized force, massed on the Hungarian frontier only 100 miles north of Yugoslavia's capital. Yugoslavia sent thousands of men to the border and radio reports from Budapest, picked up in New York, said Yugoslav anti-aircraft guns had opened fire on unidentified planes which crossed the line.

The Yugoslav government took over the railroads, and King Peter ordered mobilization of "the entire military might of the kingdom."

The Yugoslav cabinet held an unprecedented four and a half hour meeting, which ended at 2:30 a. m. (8:30 p. m. EST) Friday, and a semi-official source said the "critical foreign question" had been discussed, but no statement of foreign policy was issued.

In Budapest, Hungary, reports said the Yugoslavs had mined bridges and roads at the border and a motorized Yugoslav division was said to be stationed across the frontier "ready for attack."

A German motorized division was reported concentrated near the Hungarian border.

Belgrade had two short practice blackouts during the night and a special decree forbade anyone to leave the city without a police permit.

Pitt Doubles Quota For Jackson Day Fete

Pitt county Democrats were well represented at the State Jackson Day dinner held at the Sir Walter hotel, Raleigh, last night for the purpose of helping wipe out the debt incurred by the party in electing President Roosevelt to a third term.

With approximately 25 members of the party from this county in attendance at the $25-a-plate banquet, Pitt practically doubled its quota.

A. F. Rowe, chairman of the Ayden school board, has announced that W. M. Jenkins has been re-elected superintendent of the Ayden public schools, at a meeting of the board Tuesday evening. The appointment has been accepted. This will be Mr. Jenkins' seventh year as superintendent, and he has made many improvements in the various school departments. Mr. Jenkins is also the president of the local Rotary Club.

Forty Years Ago Today

That tired feeling is striking the folks. There are plenty of despondent new hats over the prospect of bad weather for Easter. The Greenville Banking & Trust Company will be ready to open for business on the 10th inst. The quarters for the bank are nearly completed and are strikingly handsome. The bank and office rooms are nicely papered, and the counter and metal railing are beautiful. The counter was built here at home by C. B. West and is as fine a piece of work as could be done anywhere.

WORLD'S OLDEST PASSION PLAY IN TARBORO SOON

The Luenen Passion Play of Black Hills will be presented in Tarboro at the high school auditorium, April 14, 15 and 16 under the sponsorship of the Tarboro Ministerial Association.

The Passion Play is one of the oldest of dramatic presentation and has grown from very simple beginnings to the artistic and spiritual perfection of the Black Hills version. The Luenen Passion Play was first presented in the year 1242, in the little village of Luenen, Westphalia. All the parts were played by monks, using Latin, and confining the performance to the Resurrection scene.

So successful was the response that the language was changed to the native tongue and the respective parts assigned to laymen who achieved the highest standard of moral fitness. This inspired the villagers to the finest in daily spiritual life and a tradition of character parts which has been handed down from generation to generation. From the Luenen presentation came the later versions such as Oberammergau, Augsburg and Freiburg.

In 1932 the Luenen Passion Play was brought to the United States by Josef Meier in the role of Christus. From the first performance, the reception was so overwhelmingly enthusiastic that it was decided to make the United States a permanent home. Several years of intensive research for a locality with an ideal historical background, led to the selection of a beautiful natural amphitheater at Spearfish, South Dakota, nestled in the heart of the Black Hills.

Following the summer performance, last year viewed by more than 100,000 people, the cast makes a tour of the reading cities. Josef Meier, the Christus, is the seventh generation of his family in the role, and is generally recognized as the successor to the late Anton Lang.

The Black Hills Passion Play comes to Tarboro after record-breaking engagements in the other leading cities, with all the tradition, artistry and deep spiritual conviction of the old world. None of the beauty and power has been lost through translation into English. Critics are unanimous in their praise of the 700-year-old version soon to be seen in Tarboro. This Atlantic Seaboard premiere sponsored by the Tarboro Ministerial Association, has already attracted wide attention and those who wish to view it will do well to lose no time in making reservations. Mail order reservations will be accepted starting tomorrow and may be secured by writing the Passion Play Headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce, Tarboro.

Happy Daze For The Assessor Hinton, W. Va.—(AP)—A deputy assessor here found one way to make a man more than honest. A taxpayer, helping fell a tree was struck in the head by a sapling and rendered unconscious. When he was still dazed, the assessor approached. The taxpayer proceeded to list not only all the property he should have, but also two calves belonging to his son and a cow which he had bought after January 1 and on which he therefore did not have to pay taxes. Now he's not asking a recount.

that the language was changed to the native tongue and the respective parts assigned to laymen who achieved the highest standard of moral fitness. This inspired the villagers to the finest in daily spiritual life and a tradition of character parts which has been handed down from generation to generation. From the Luenen presentation came the later versions such as Oberammergau, Augsburg and Freiburg.

In 1932 the Luenen Passion Play was brought to the United States by Josef Meier in the role of Christus. From the first performance, the reception was so overwhelmingly enthusiastic that it was decided to make the United States a permanent home. Several years of intensive research for a locality with an ideal historical background, led to the selection of a beautiful natural amphitheater at Spearfish, South Dakota, nestled in the heart of the Black Hills.

Handcuffed and under heavy police guard, Capt. Ernest R. Heitzmann (left), with hat over face; his first officer, Bernard Hempen (right center), and eight other members of the crew of the German tanker Pauline Friederich, were arrested in Boston by United States Marshal J. Henry Goguen after a federal grand jury indicted them on charges of sabotage to their own vessel. The ship's officers are being marched toward a patrol wagon. The crew allegedly wrecked the ship's engine room, doing damage estimated at $174,000.

Strength For The Day

MAKING OUR WORLD NEW: Browning in one of his poems says, "How soon a smile of God can change the world."

People try everything in the world as a way out of their difficulties before they try religion. The endless cults and "isms" which now flourish, bespeak the immeasurable conflict by which the souls of multitudes are torn.

The only people truly happy are those who are truly religious. The good word of Jesus should always be resounding through our minds.

Only the inner things of the heart really matter at the long last, and only God can make the heart right and keep it so.

THE QUESTION OF CONVOYS

Declaring that Congress should not hamstring American aid to Britain by undertaking to place a ban on the use of American ships to convoy materials across the ocean, the News and Observer rightly says that it is not a question of America becoming involved in the war, for already we are involved, and it is up to us to carry through to a successful conclusion.

The Observer, in part, says:

...when the Congress, with the apparently overwhelming approval of the country, voted aid to Britain, it voted American determination upon effective aid. Having gone so far, if American convoys are necessary to get the aid in law where it will be aid in fact, there should be no hesitation about using American vessels to do it.

Nothing could be quite as absurd as an "all out" policy to aid Britain and refusal by the same people to take such action as is necessary to make that aid effective.

Every sensible person knows that America has gone so far in this war that its future is bound up with the future of Britain. Whether we like it or not, a defeat of Britain now would be a colossal American defeat also.

London physicians' stethoscopes frequently are used to listen to ticking of delayed action bombs before they are removed.

Washington—Answering the mail orders: P. D. Winston-Salem, N. C.—To go into the whole matter of army pay for privates and non-commissioned officers would take more space than this column is allowed, but if the idea is general that $21 a month is every private's lot, it is a considerable misconception.

In addition to that, there are six specialist ratings, such as electricians, clerks, cooks, mechanics and radio operators (and many other skilled workers) who get additional pay ranging from $3 to $30 a month. There also are decorations and awards for which more additional monthly pay is made.

L. T. Madison, Wis.—The best information I can get is that the first American minister to New Zealand will be one of the State Department's top-notch career diplomats now in the Far East.

C. E. Springfield, Mo.—You can bet, Mr. E., that Washington talks about a lot of other things than war, lend-lease bills, and so forth. With more than 160,000 government employees and most of them affected from alarm-clock ring until they switch off the lights at night by every move the government makes, there's a lot of talk, but it more often is about the effects than the things that cause them.

The two baby jaguars at the zoo got a terrific ride, as we say in the newsroom. The city still is practically divided into five camps on what caused a street car wreck here a week ago when one car plowed into the middle of another trolley moving at right angles.

Mrs. D. R., Duluth, Minn.—Army officials here tell me that there are plans under way to construct more than 600 chapels in the army camps at a cost of nearly thirteen million dollars. Just how much of program this is for the army may be seen from the fact that in 22 years the army spent less than $1,000,000 for chapels.

Don't Look Now. By now she would be on shore and Eve did not doubt that she would return with some means of getting them all back to civilization. But she would probably make them bargain for their freedom and, from the little she knew of Brett Rodman, Eve was afraid that he might prove truculent.

HEARTS HAVEN

YESTERDAY: It began to look as if all of Mrs. Marbury's impromptu houseparty were to stay indefinitely on Heart's Haven, the island off the North Carolina coast. The food was running low, people took mysterious pot shots at the guests, and the only ship that came near suddenly veered away.

Chapter 22 New Difficulty. But in the morning, instead of a solution, a further difficulty arose. Eve was first made aware of it when Julie came into the room where she still lay sleeping, drugged by the excitement of the day before.

lains and is going to increase the number to 1,500. They include ministers of practically every faith and denomination. Services are to be held regularly in the chapels, with the hours of worship staggered. The chapels will look just like any 500-seat church in any community, with steeple and all.

Graham Picks Reds And Yanks As Pennant Winners

YANKS LIFTED BY NEW BLOOD

Increased Pitching Strength Gives Reds Edge

By DILLON GRAHAM
Sports Editor, AP Feature Service
New York — Habits are hard to break and so, for the third straight year, this sun-tanned correspondent selects the Reds and the Yankees to win the major league baseball pennants.

That's our say-so, after a month of squinting into the sun watching ball players cavort around the spring camps in Florida and Cuba. The rattle of the rumba bands beating the Brooklyn ballyhoo at Havana and the confident spirit of a now harmonious peace, it is wonderful! Tribe of Indiana is still fresh in our memory. But... we will string along with the Reds and Yanks.

Here's how we rate the teams:

NATIONAL	AMERICAN
Reds	Yankees
Dodgers	Indians
Cardinals	Tigers
Giants	Red Sox
Cubs	White Sox
Pirates	Browns
Bees	Senators
Phillies	Athletics

Take the Reds. Who's going to beat them? No rival can match their pitching or fielding. Lombard's sore ankle may slow him up but who ever accused Ernie of running, anyway? If Derringer slips a bit Thompson can take his place as Walter's twin. Outfielder Josh Gleason, a 313 hitter, should help and Pitcher Monte Pearson is a "sleeper" who may wake up in time to win 15 or so games.

The Reds won 41 games last year by one run. Perhaps that was a strain on the pitchers and perhaps it was partly luck — but it all adds up to good pitching and tight defense.

Brooklyn's Reese-Waner-Reiser-Merwick-Lavagetto-Camilli array can explode a batch of baseballs. But its pitching is too luffy. Reiser and Waner are gamblers, second base is a problem, and few can get ex-

LEAGUE HEADS SANCTION SALE

New Entry To Be Paired with Goldsboro Team

By BERT MOYE
Coastal Plain league directors in a dinner meeting held last night in the Community Building at Tarboro, ratified the sale of the Snow Hill franchise to Rocky Mount and adopted a playing schedule for the 1941 playing season which opens on May 8th.

Following the ratification, Ray Goodmon, league president, gave a warm welcome to the newcomers of the league and wished for them much success in their new undertaking in the Coastal Plain.

Guy V. Smith, president of the will be much better but probably won't move out of seventh place. The Phils, alas! are last again.

The Yankees, collectively, flopped last year. Yet they finished only juvenated pitching corps, a pair of great kids around second base, and good spring performances by Rolfe and Dickey make us think they'll be in the World Series come September.

Cleveland had its chance last year... and missed. The Indians are stronger but we figure they'll wind up behind the Yankees. Jim Easby, Joe Heving and Clint Brown should tone up Cleveland's pitching, featuring the great Feller, and Gee Walker's speed and bat should be felt.

Detroit has the offensive with its York - Greenberg - Gehring - McCoskey punch. The pitching, with Newson boked for 20 again, should be good. Gehring looks speedy and Eric McNair is around to spell Bartell.

The Red Sox have power to spare but their defense is spotty and pitching, as usual, questionable. We believe they'll edge out the Chicago White Sox, who should have too much balance for the uprushing St. Louis Browns. The Browns, however, may be the most improved team in either league.

Washington and Philadelphia have taken non reinforcements but still are slated for the seventh and eighth slots.

BETZ IN ACTION—Here is an action shot of Pauline Betz, the Los Angeles tennis star who took the national indoor tennis singles title at Brookline, Mass. She and Dorothy Bundy also took the national indoor doubles championship.

Greenville club, then related to the directors a story in which he told of when Rocky Mount was in the old Virginia League in 1928. He related how Greenville defeated the Rocky Mount club on their home grounds while Judge Landis and Bramaham were present at the game. He closed his brief remarks by extending a welcome to Rocky Mount returning to this league.

Following a lengthy discussion on the subject of who to pair Rocky Mount with during the coming season, the league directors voted to replace the new club in the place of Snow Hill, thus pairing them with Goldsboro. Tarboro officials made an urgent appeal that they be paired with the new club, but when a vote was taken on the subject, it was vetoed.

As a result of last night's pairings we find them as follows: Wilson and Greenville, Tarboro and Williamston, Goldsboro and Rocky Mount, Kinston and New Bern. The league directors also voted down a proposal that all holiday games be pooled eight ways, thus all holiday games will be split only two ways.

As this was the final meeting before the opening of the season, President Ray Goodmon called to the attention of the club presidents and directors several matters of vital importance to the running of their respective clubs. He first called attention to the salary limit, which is $1,200 and asked that all clubs please stay within this limit. He also called attention to the fact that all Sunday games must be finished by six o'clock and that no inning can be started later than twelve minutes to six; that week games must end at twelve midnight, and no inning may be started later than ten minutes to twelve. He suggested as the starting time for games be for afternoon games at four o'clock and night games at eight o'clock.

Prior to the adjournment of the meeting, the directors voted to have

New York, April 5.—(AP)—Cotton futures were steady in a narrow range today. Futures slowed three to five higher, middling spot 11.58 up five.

N.Y. Stock Market
New York, April 5.—(AP)—The stock market was surrounded by war and labor questions today and few leaders were able to break out with small advances.

Efforts to pick a trend were notably unsuccessful at the start. While dealings were exceptionally sluggish, prices began to slip after the first hour and minor fractional declines were widely distributed at the close.

When we think of a house that could be called home we must think of the requirements of a complete project. Home beautification is not or should not be confined to the inside alone but to outside also. The time is ripe. Now for general cleanup and repair. Rearrange roads and walks if needed, plant flowers, remove those old cans lying around waiting for the mosquitoes to make a den.

Take away the planks from the windows and let the sun shine in. An attractive rural home is always pleasing to the eye. As we come to the close of health week don't forget to practice some of the things you have preached all the week. If we love one another hold your handkerchief before your mouth before you cough or sneeze. If you want to live a long time. In all your ways acknowledge God, and sleep in fresh air in the open. Always wash your hands before eating, drink plenty of water, stand sit, walk erect, work, play, rest and sleep. Be serene, worry is the foe of health. Have your doctor examine you carefully once a year, and last but not least attend church once each Sunday.

lation of material from the four gospels and several secular sources. Each of the two acts of the drama has several scenes, all introduced and connected by a historian or the music of the chorus—a group of 40 women's voices directed by Miss Gussie Kuykendall of the music department.

Around 120 students and faculty members are working with the production, as members of the cast, the technical staff, or the chorus. Bessie Fay Hunt, Wilmington sophomore, has been chosen historian. The part of Judas will be played by Britton, that of Pilate by Denton G. Rossell of the music faculty, that of Pilate's counselor by James B. Cummings of the geography faculty, the Mother of Jesus by Martha Rice of Enfield, and of Mary Magdalene by Erine Sawyer of Powell's Point.

John Anderson of Greenville will play John; Walter Maillard of Trenton, Peter; and John Thigpen of Williamston, Thomas.

North Carolina's Oldest Fraternity Has Birthday

An unusual night view of the University of North Carolina chapter of the D.K.E. fraternity house where tonight Dikes from all sections of the state will convene for the 90th anniversary of the founding of the Beta chapter at Chapel Hill. It will be a birthday celebration of the oldest fraternity in North Carolina, for the Dike lodge was established in Chapel Hill on April 5, 1851.

Italian Successes Draft Board Head Resigns Position

Rome, April 5.—(AP)—Italian army planes sank two steamers totaling 11,000 tons and damaged several other smaller vessels in an attack on shipping in the harbor of the Greek island of Corfu yesterday, the Fascist high command reported today.

The Italians declared they also had bombed an air base on the Greek island of Crete, setting fire to one grounded plane and damaging others. They acknowledged the loss of one plane.

Other Italian air formations were said to have attacked Greek troops on the Albanian front from low altitudes. Ground operations were said to have been limited to "local actions."

Cooperating With Easter Seal Sale

By WYATT BROWN
Every bottle of milk delivered on Sunday morning in Greenville will have a bottle cap and a collar telling people that the Seal Sale time has come. The Carolina Dairy is volunteering to cooperate in this unique plan to get the word around about the seal sale.

The Junior Woman's Club will get the seal salt out on the streets beginning Monday. Tuesday the City and County school children will be given the opportunity to help their crippled friends who are unable to help themselves.

When K. T. Futrell, secretary of the Seal Sale, presented the matter of seals to the colored teachers and committeemen yesterday they offered immediately to donate a sum to the purpose of crippled children. But on the insistence of Mr. Futrell that the idea was not just to raise a certain amount of money but to get it across to everyone the value of participating in helping the colored people gathered to put on a good campaign to sell the seals.

Yesterday it was erroneously reported that only 33 had received treatment at the Gastonia Orthopedic Hospital. 64 have had such treatment—33 white and 31 colored. From one family five girls with legs bowed so that they were physically handicapped and their appearance hopeless have had the fault corrected with funds from the seal sale. Thirty-five months at Gastonia in all transportation, treatment and expensive appliances runs the cost of each patient high. The Rotarians provide the clinic to prescribe but that is just the beginning.

"We want everyone interested in these children with proper care can be made self supporting, self respecting citizens if the money is made available. All the money you spend for stamps will be spent for Pitt county children for the part sent to the State organization is sent back for treatment and appliances." Mr. Futrell said he wanted people to know.

There will be seals on sale at the banks and the Postoffice beginning Monday mornings.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds
By Robbie Coons

Hollywood.—The Motion Picture Mothers, Inc., had a party the other day. It was quite a shindig, with a show by Judy Garland and Mickey Rooney, Grace Hayes and son Peter Lind Hayes and other entertainers and dancing for all.

MPM, Inc., is a charity organization with a sure-fire approach. One of its objectives is to see that movie timers get a living out of the movies, and the technique is a demonstration of the literal truth that charity begins at home.

A Mama, for instance, tackles her son who happens to be a movie director. "Now son," says Mama "here's a case that needs attention and I know there's a spot for her in that picture you're doing. What about it?"

And what son-be director star, or producer—is going to talk to Mama?

Burgess Meredith was dressing to keep a date with Ginger Rogers in "Tom, Dick, and Harry," and was having trouble finding a coat both he and Garson Kanin, the director liked.

Kanin suggested, gullelessly, "I think it should be one like mine." "I'll wear yours, then," said Buzz Kanin forked over. (His draft call awaits only completion of the picture anyway.)

This is an interesting habit of Meredith's. "It helps me get into character better," he explains. As Tom, or Dick, or Harry (I never can remember which) Meredith wears few of his own clothes. He strolls around the set looking over the crew and others, selects a sweater worn by one man, a shirt from another, trousers from another—and puts the finger on the desired article. He swaps his own clothes for them.

Dave Quirin is a studio employe who frames and hangs the stars. Dave used to be a handy carpenter on the Rudolph Valentino sets. One day they wanted a picture of Valentino fancily framed, and Dave did it. Since then he has framed and hung thousands of star photos—for movie sets, office walls, distinguished fans.

It was Dave who solved the problem on "Skylark" when Mark Sandrich needed a framed photo of Claudette Colbert and Ray Milland supposed to have been taken five years before. They called in Dave and explained.

"That's easy," he said. A few minutes later he came back with a framed photo of the pair—from "The Gilded Lily," made five years ago, co-starring Colbert and Milland.

Tonsorial note: the dome of Cecil B. DeMille, bald and shining for the 28 years he has been in Hollywood, is beginning to sprout a thin fuzz.

DeMille was calling it to attention, via his public address system, while making a test of Robert Preston. He wanted one and all to be prepared. He admitted he had helped the phenomenon along a bit, but wouldn't say how.

All present, surveying the crop, seemed content to wait for further developments before pressing him for his secret.

Italian Successes Draft Board Head Resigns Position
Atlanta, April 5.—(AP)—State Secretary of Education Fred MacMurry resigned today that the chairman of Mitchell county draft board had resigned and the board is abandoning its announced plan to defer all prospective selectees until defense strikes are halted.

Lieut. Col. Cliff Hatcher, assistant state director, said he accepted by telephone today the resignation of W. B. Grant of Meigs, Ga., who as chairman of the rural southwest Georgia board sponsored the deferment proposal.

Col. Hatcher said the other two board members would remain and a new chairman would be named by Governor Talmadge.

Alternates Named On Defense Board
Washington, April 5.—(AP)—President Roosevelt issued an executive order today naming 10 men to serve as alternates on the National Defense Mediation Board.

They will serve as board members whenever any of the original members are ill or unavailable for some other reason.

The White House said the necessity for the order was demonstrated when an alternate was needed to go to Milwaukee today for the opening of the Allis-Chalmers strike hearing.

The alternates included Walter P. Stacy, chief justice of the North Carolina Supreme court, alternate for Frank P. Graham.

Medicos Endorse Local TB Clinic
Dr. E. V. Tucker of Grifton, president of the Pitt County Medical Society, has endorsed the tuberculosis clinic to be conducted in Pitt county next week in the following statement:

"As president of the Pitt County Medical Society, I wish to heartily endorse the State-County Tuberculosis Early Diagnosis Clinic to be held in the county from April 7th to April 18th.

"As a practicing physician, I come in almost daily contact with tuberculosis and find that in some instances the disease has reached the advanced stage before I am consulted. Of course I can offer little hope to such a patient but if they had had an early diagnosis I could have offered much hope, in fact, in nearly every case, there is always a time when the patient could have been cured.

"If you have been intimately exposed to tuberculosis or if you have the slightest symptoms of the disease, I urge you to go at once to your own physician or to the tuberculosis clinic.

"You will never regret going but you may regret it if you don't go."

Local Guardsmen Given Promotions
Several promotions in the local unit of the State Guard have been announced by Captain Arthur B. Corey, the promotions effective as of April 3.

Raymond W. MacKenzie was promoted to the rank of first sergeant. Named sergeants were Raymond C. Hart, Boyd Cox, Earl S. Jackson, Burke H. Stancill, James D. Gilliam, Eli Bloom, W. H. Woolard, Jr., James E. Mills and Howard E. Sumrell. Promoted to the rank of corporal were John E. Southerland, James K. Hester, James S. Harvey and Joseph C. Dudley.

In addition to Captain Corey other commissioned officers are First Lieutenant W. J. Bundy and Second Lieutenant Jasper Jones.

Negro Being Held On Whiskey Count
J. M. Ward, Pitt county ABC officer, last night arrested Leroy Sermons, Greenville Negro, on a charge of transporting illegal liquor for the purpose of sale. The officer reported finding 10 gallons of bootleg liquor on the car being driven by the Negro.

Officer Ward chased the liquor car for five or six miles before halting the Negro in Belvoir township. ABC officers have no record of the Negro, who was freed under bond of $200 pending trial in county court Tuesday.

Gas manufactured from distilled coal or wood was used for lighting in Richmond, Va., in 1803.
