MOSCOW DECLARES NAZIS HURLED BACK

REPORTS MUCH DEFENSE WORK IN PAST YEAR

Undersecretary Patterson Reports Great Progress

ADDS AMERICA NOT YET ARMED

Declares Nation Can Never Have Enough Munitions For Warfare Such As Now Raging In Europe

Washington, July 15. — (AP) — Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson told a Senate committee today that the last year had brought "great progress" in American defense production, but "for total warfare of the kind raging in Europe today we can never have enough munitions."

Patterson submitted to the Senate Defense Investigating Committee a review of the arms expansion work during the fiscal year which ended June 30.

"I do not claim," he said, "that America as yet is adequately armed or prepared, or that we have become a thoroughly stocked and sufficiently productive arsenal for ourselves and for the other democratic nations as well. But we have gone a good distance."

"Before long the work which we have already done in planning and ordering equipment and in providing manufacturing facilities will produce in ever increasing measure the results which we all desire."

Patterson forecast increasing displacement of the nation's normal peace-time economic machinery as more and more of industry is devoted to war.

"I doubt that more than 15 per cent of America's productive endeavor is devoted to defense work," he said. "If we expect to equal and surpass other countries far more of our machines and labor must be placed at the service of the War Department and the Navy Department."

Broughton Favors Extended Service

Raleigh, July 15.—(AP)—Governor Broughton said today he favored retention of the North Carolina National Guard in the federal service if necessary as a defense measure.

He added that he also favored keeping selectees in the army for more than a year if the President believed such action were needed.

"Reports from Washington indicate that retention of the National Guard and selectees in the army for more than a year would be in the public interest as a matter of national defense," he said.

"Members of the North Carolina National Guard with whom I have talked—both officers and men—seem to have no objection to remaining on active duty for more than a year if their services are needed," he said.

Broughton did not comment on whether the laws should be changed so as to allow selectees to serve outside the Western Hemisphere.

Hearing Tomorrow On Georgia Marts

Atlanta, July 15.—(AP)—Commissioner of Agriculture Tom Linder said today he and other Georgians would attend a hearing in Durham, N. C., tomorrow seeking to set back the scheduled opening of Georgia tobacco markets from August 5 to August 15.

Linder said he understood that delegations from Pelham, Macon, and Statesboro would appear before the same committee and urge Georgia growers unable to attend the hearing to telegraph him if they favored postponement of the opening of the actions.

The early opening, Linder said, would cost Georgia tobacco growers between two and three million dollars.

Russo-British Alliance War Against Germany Is Hailed By Churchill

Churchill at Review

With a gas mask and a steel helmet slung over his shoulder, Prime Minister Winston Churchill attended a review of Civil Defense workers in Hyde Park, London. He told the workers of intensified British bombings of German cities and industries.

FDR REQUESTS DAYLIGHT TIME

Change Practically Assured for North Carolina

Washington, July 15.—(AP)—President Roosevelt asked Congress today for legislation to provide daylight saving time "upon such a regional or national basis and for such part or all of the year as he might deem necessary in the interest of national defense."

The chief executive made the recommendation in letters to Speaker Rayburn and Vice President Wallace, supporting it with figures to show that the effects of year-around daylight saving would result in a probable annual reduction of 736,282,000 kilowatt hours in the use of electricity.

Mr. Roosevelt also sent letters to eight southern governors telling of a need for daylight time and declaring that the country "is faced with a serious power shortage that is impeding the national defense program."

The shortage is particularly acute he said, in the southeastern portion of the country.

The letters went to the governors of Alabama, Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi and Florida.

Noting in his letter to Rayburn and Wallace that daylight saving already was in effect in the summer in many highly industrialized areas of New England, the middle Atlantic and north central states, Mr. Roosevelt said government agencies primarily interested in the fullest utilization of electricity for defense had advised him that "there is immediate need for extension of the daylight saving time to other parts of the country, including in particular the southeastern states."

He said the agencies had told him also there was a need for the establishment of year-around daylight saving time in various parts or all of the country.

In his communications to the eight governors Mr. Roosevelt expressed a hope that if it was legally possible proclamations would be issued to put daylight saving time into effect in their states.

Raleigh, July 15.—(AP)—Daylight saving time for North Carolina seemed assured today when Governor Broughton said that he would follow President Roosevelt's recommendation in that regard.

Informed that the President had asked congress for legislation to provide daylight saving time, the governor said North Carolina would cooperate fully with the chief executive.

Prime Minister Declares Two Nations Now Allies, But Adds Pact Does Not Mean Britain Identified With Communism; Also Implies Before House Of Commons French Relations Favorable

London, July 15.—(AP) Prime Minister Churchill declared today in the House of Commons that the new British-Russian agreement for joint war action against Germany was "an alliance" and that the Russian and British peoples now were allies.

Implying that British relations with the French also were favorable, the prime minister said the armistice which gave British and Free French forces control of French-mandated Syria and Lebanon was signed yesterday in "a cordial spirit on both sides."

"We seek no British advantage in Syria. Our only object has been to beat the Germans and to help win the war."

The British-Russian alliance does not mean, Churchill declared, that Britain is identifying herself with "the Communist creed" or that she is "fighting the battle of Communism."

"Both the British and Russian governments have undertaken to continue the war against Hitlerite Germany to the utmost of their strength and to help each other and not make peace separately," Churchill said.

"The agreement which has been signed, the text of which has been published, can not fail to exercise a highly beneficial and potent influence on the future of the war."

"It is, of course, an alliance and the Russian people are now our allies."

Meeting Held By Merchants' Board

Preliminary plans for the annual membership meeting of the Greenville Merchants' Association were discussed last night at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors. The association's fiscal year ends in October and the annual meet is expected to be held during that month.

The election of officers and directors is a feature of the annual meeting.

Following the reading of the minutes and the disposal of routine business, L. A. Stroud made a report on the annual convention of the State Merchants' Association held in High Point last month. He related that the highlights of the meeting were addresses by Governor Broughton, Congressman Harold Cooley and Paul C. Kelly of the American Retail Federation.

A vote of thanks was extended to L. M. Buchanan for assisting the secretary's office in securing additional bureaus to supply credit reports.

A letter of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Whitchard, Jr. for their hospitality in entertaining the board at their Atlantic Beach cottage for the regular June meeting was signed by members of the board. The letter had been prepared by the secretary, Mrs. Cora S. Powell.

A reply to a request to Aubrey McCabe, state FSA director, to have Greenville qualified under Title Six, whereby homes would be erected under the national defense program was read. The reply stated that Greenville was not in a normal commuting distance of defense projects and therefore little likelihood of the city being included in the program.

Summer Term Closes At College Tomorrow

The first term of the E. C. T. C. summer school will close with final exams tomorrow. Registration for the second term will begin Thursday morning and classes will start Friday.

While many students will leave at the end of the first term, others will come in to take their places. Some complete their work for the A. B. degree, but will not receive it until the end of the second term when commencement exercises will be held for all summer graduates.

ARMY OFFICIAL SUPPORTS BILL TO RETAIN MEN

Marshall Says Trained Army Needed For Iceland

HEMISPHERE BAN PREVENT'D MOVE

Chief Of Staff Declares Trained Army Units Instead of Marines Should Have Been Dispatched

Washington, July 15. — (AP) — General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, was disclosed today to have told Congress that specially trained army units instead of marines should have occupied Iceland, but were prevented from doing so because of difficulties presented by the one-year draft service rule.

Marshall made this statement in testimony given before the Senate Military Committee July 9 in support of legislation which would permit the retention in active service of selectees and national guardsmen for longer than one year. The testimony was made public by the committee today.

Marshall said his request for authority to retain men for more than a year and removal of restrictions which limit the service of drafted men to the Western Hemisphere had been misunderstood and misinterpreted. He specifically denied he planned an "expeditionary force" or an army of 2,800,000 men.

Unless the present one-year limit is removed, the top-ranking army officer said, "our present trained forces will largely melt away."

I submit on the basis of cold logic that the virtual disbandment or immobilization of two-thirds of our trained enlisted strength and thousands of our trained officer personnel at this time will involve a national tragedy," he said.

Marshall testified that the situation that existed at the time the draft act passed "is quite different from the situation that confronts us today" and reminded the senators that the selective service act provided for one-year training with an extension whenever the Congress "had declared the national interests imperilled."

Meanwhile, administration critics acclaimed a decision of congressional leaders to put aside an army request for authority to send selectees outside the Western Hemisphere and forecast tough opposition to the proposal to keep the men in service more than one year.

Will Give Concert In Ayden Tonight

N. C. Symphonic Choir will be heard in a home coming concert in the Ayden high school auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock.

The choir has just returned from a triumphant trans-continental tour as North Carolina's good will ambassadors. The forty young singers presented 25 concerts, traveling more than eight thousand miles through eighteen states with their message of good will.

At tonight's concert some of their thrilling experiences will be related to the audience.

This will be the last opportunity for the people of Greenville and community to hear this famous choir.

There will be no admission charge.

House Declares Farmers Must Face Readjustment

Irrespective of whether World War II ends next week or in 1950, North Carolina farmers have the same problem of long-time readjustment. David T. House, Pitt county farmer and member of the State AAA committee, said today.

"Even though the peace that will finally come may usher in an era of free international trade, it does not appear likely that our nation will ever again find as large an export market for wheat, cotton, tobacco and other farm export products as in the 1920's," Committee House declared.

"Americans have been inclined to underestimate the strategic place of food in this war," the Pitt county farmer continued, "because they are still thinking in terms of World War I." Memories of wheat shortages then, coupled with knowledge

Missed One Boat, But Caught Another

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Wiedemann (left, facing each other) and Mr. and Mrs. Hans Borchers (right) ate their dinner in San Francisco while the Japanese liner Yawfa Maru, which was to have taken them to the Orient, sailed. But they were among the passenger list of 500 German and Italian consular officials which sailed today aboard the American merchant marine vessel West Point from New York. The four did not sail aboard the Japanese liner because British assurance that the liner would not be molested came too late.

SHIP SAILS ON STRANGE TRIP

Five Hundred Axis Consular Officials Head for Home

New York, July 15.—(AP)—The pride of the American Merchant Marine leaves tonight on a maiden trans-Atlantic voyage as strange as any in history.

Farewell parties are banned on the great drab-gray vessel that will sail for Lisbon with nearly 500 passengers straight into war-dangerous waters.

Aboard will be German and Italian consular officials and other agents of Axis governments and their families who are quitting the United States by order of the State Department.

The ship is the 27,000-ton former liner America—largest merchant vessel ever built in this country—which has been converted into a Navy transport and renamed the West Point.

Sailing time was scheduled for 3 p. m. EST, but the mass departure of Axis nationals will be delayed pending the arrival of 16 German consular representatives flying here from San Francisco.

The latter group, including Dr. Hans Borchers, consul general at New York, and Captain Fritz Wiedemann, who held the same post in San Francisco, planned originally to sail for Japan, but missed their boat while awaiting a British guarantee of safe conduct that came too late.

Special Delegation To Attend Services

A special delegation from the Rocky Mount Salvation Army will attend the Salvation Army revival services being conducted at the Salvation Army home on Dickinson avenue tonight at 7:45.

The Rocky Mount Salvation Army band will give special numbers during this service.

Lieutenant James Henry of Richmond, member of the Southern States revival brigade, will preach tonight, his subject being "Lost Opportunity." The public is invited to attend.

Police Warnings

Chief of Police George Clark today issued two warnings to Greenville citizens and declared he intended to see that both were heeded.

He declared that the one-hour parking limit in the restricted zones would be enforced and said that any car found left parked more than the allotted time would be tagged and the owner required to pay a fine.

He also called on citizens to cut the weeds about their lots, along the sidewalks in front of their homes and also in vacant lots.

FSA FAMILIES PRODUCE FOOD

Borrowers Joining In National Defense Program

Farm security borrower families in Pitt county are already in step with the new U. S. Department of Agriculture "Food For Defense" program, said Vernon E. White, county FSA supervisor, today in calling attention to the stepped-up production program for dairy products, meat, eggs and poultry.

"The government is asking farmers to produce more of these products, both for the democracies abroad and for home consumption," Mr. White said. "This program is just as important as anything we are doing in defense, and fortunately, due to a stable agricultural program we are in a position to carry on."

Further, said Mr. White, the "Food For Defense" program follows just what FSA has been doing for the past six years; more production of foodstuffs on the farm for family subsistence, with surplus augmenting cash income.

Thus, he states, Pitt county FSA families are in a position to increase production along the lines mentioned and to improve their own health and living, and at the same time share in the larger American commercial market for farm products.

"Even though a farmer does not produce foodstuff for market it is more necessary now than ever to produce his own food and feed. Every pound produced at home and not bought releases that much for defense," Mr. White pointed out.

The plan is to convert surplus feed into food that people can use, and that means more livestock, poultry and eggs, and more gardens. Much of this food will be sent abroad and, to conserve space and prevent spoilage, will be preserved. This means more dried milk and eggs, packed meat and canned vegetables.

By raising more poultry and livestock, producing more milk, fat, vegetables and eggs, farmers can help themselves and the democracies, too, Mr. White said.

He said FSA families are urged to add a milk cow or two, a few more sows, and more chickens to their enterprise. Gardens should be expanded if possible, and produce should be carefully conserved. Many FSA families will can more vegetables this year. Farmers needing credit for sound expansion in food production may apply at the local FSA office in Greenville, it was pointed out.

29 MORE HELD ON SPY COUNTS

Thirty-Three Arrested In June To Be Tried In Sept.

St. Paul, July 15.—(AP)—A federal grand jury today named 29 persons in indictments charging seditious conspiracy and advising insubordination and overthrow of the United States government.

Those indicted all are officers or members of the Socialist Workers party.

Henry A. Schweinhaut, special assistant attorney general, said it was the largest peace-time round-up in the nation for seditious conspiracy and the first indictments under the Smith act which became law in June, 1940, covering conspiracy in the advocacy of overthrow of the government.

The conspiracy, according to the indictments was committed in the cities of Minneapolis, St. Paul, Chicago, New York, and the states of Illinois and New York.

New York, July 15.—(AP)—Thirty-three persons rounded up in a Federal Bureau of Investigation spy hunt last month were indicted by a federal grand jury today and ordered to trial in September on charges of espionage.

Six other persons similarly were indicted, but United States Attorney Harold Kennedy said they were at large in foreign countries, including Germany and Portugal.

The 33 were accused of conspiracy to transmit information to a foreign government and 31 of these were additionally accused in a second count of acting as agents for a foreign government without having registered with the State Department.

In intricate detail, the indictments handed up to Federal Judge Robert A. Inch in Brooklyn Federal court accused the defendants of having recruiting agents, gathered data, received information, dispatched it and paid agents for their assistance. Their activities were dated from 1936, the indictments set forth.

Europe-bound ship crews, the indictments charged, were used as messengers and names of towns in Germany often were employed as messengers and names of towns in Germany often were employed as passwords.

Most of the arrests were made last June 29 in what FBI Director Edgar Hoover described as the biggest spy round-up in the history of this country.

To Present Bundy For Kiwanis Post

W. J. Bundy, past Kiwanis lieutenant governor, was endorsed by the Board of Directors of the local club last night for the post of district governor and the local attorney will be nominated at the annual convention to be held at Myrtle Beach, S. C., September 7-9.

The action was taken at a regular monthly meeting held at Respass Place.

The director's meeting was held on the 20th anniversary of the founding of the Greenville club, the local organization having been established on July 14, 1921. No special program will be held this week, however, as no meeting will be held, the club members having decided to go to Wrightsville Beach to participate in a divisional meeting to be held at the Ocean Terrace hotel.

Major Drive Is Launched By Russians

German Forces Declared to Have Been Pushed Back Nineteen Miles On Strategic River Sector; Moscow also Speaks Confidently Of Smashing Fascists; Germans Claim Reds Fail To Maintain Front

By The Associated Press

Adolf Hitler's invasion forces were declared to have been hurled back 19 miles as Russian troops launched a major offensive along the strategic Dnepr river front today and, at the same time, the Soviet high command spoke confidently of "the blood-thirsty Fascist hordes whom we will now smash."

Russian military dispatches said Red troops striking back on the central front guarding Smolensk and Moscow had crossed the Dnepr river at several points.

German sources said that a German tank corps menaced the city of Novgorod 100 miles south of Leningrad and they added that the ring of steel seemed to be drawing closer to Leningrad itself, second largest city in Russia.

Coupled with this threat at the line of communications between the old and new capitals of Russia, the German news agency said Nazi troops had penetrated the entire fortified zone of the Stalin line in the Vitebsk area north of the Minsk-Moscow motor highway.

Taken together, these thrusts would indicate two major German breaks through or into the Stalin defense system some 250 miles apart.

The Germans said Nazi infantrymen battled for 36 hours to capture a camouflaged main bunker described as "a giant block of cement and steel with rooms under the earth."

The Soviet war bulletin said Russian troops had won a victory in the South, with the annihilation of two German Rumanian artillery regiments and an infantry regiment driving toward Kiev, capital of the Ukraine.

The German high command, again using a single sentence to describe the mammoth conflict, declared:

"Operations in the East are steadily progressing."

A dispatch from the front timed 5 a. m., today (9 p. m. Monday EST) published in a Soviet government newspaper said the Russian drive westward was continuing.

The dispatch reported that Soviet troops had recaptured the town of Rogachev on the west bank of the Rneps river, 136 miles southeast of Minsk, which has been the scene of some of the bitterest fighting of the 24-day-old struggle.

In contrast to the Russian claim, DNB, the official German news agency, asserted that Soviet attempts to maintain a defense front in the Dvina and Dnepr river sectors had been smashed by Nazi attacks.

Group From College Ends Extensive Tour

After an extensive tour through the Atlantic and New England states, southeastern Canada, and back through the Shenandoah Valley, the party of travelers making a field study in literature, geography and history for college credits at E. C. T. C., have returned and left yesterday for their homes.

They spent some time in college classrooms in preparation for their trip and after their return stood tests on the work they did.

Russian Quartet At College. A group of inspiring and beautiful religious selections opened the concert given by the Russian Cathedral Quartette in the Austin Auditorium of the college last evening. Especially effective was the descriptive "In a Monastery" by Borodine.

In the second group, the quartette sang the songs of the Haulers of the Volga, portraying the final submission of the haulers to their relentless, crushing burden. In this group also were a clever satire, a traditional old Russian soldier song and a folk dance tune. They sang as an encore their own arrangement of "The Volga Boatman's Song."

Leah Seligman, nationally known pianist who accompanied the quartette, played three selections, a composition by Chopin, "A Melody," and Prelude in C. Sharp Minor.

The concluding group of songs were gypsy in origin, tender, yearning, full of the gypsy's intense love of freedom.

Nicolas Vasiloff, conductor of the quartette, is also with the Siberian Singers, popular musical organization that was received here with such pleasure some years ago.

This concert concluded the entertainment program for the first term of summer school.

The Swiss Yodelers will open the entertainments scheduled for the second term of summer school on Friday of this week. Following this, on July 21, the Strawbridge-Miller Dancers will be presented and the program for the second term will end with a concert by Iverson-Bannerman, singer and harpist, on July 22.

IN MEMORIAM

On July 11, 1941, our Heavenly Father called to her eternal home our beloved sister, Mrs. Mary E. Fleming, who for many years contributed wholeheartedly of herself to the upbuilding of our Woman's Missionary Society. She consecrated her personal talents and her material resources to this cause, even making of her suffering a thing of inspiration to her Christian sisters. In loving tribute, with a keen sense of our loss, we adopt the following resolutions:

First: That we cherish the memory of her Christian life and remain thankful for her example and influence in our society and community.

Second: That we extend our deepest Christian love to her family and commend them to the Father for guidance and for comfort in these days of separation.

Third: That a copy of these resolutions be inscribed in our Woman's Missionary Society minute book.

Hollywood

Sights and Sounds

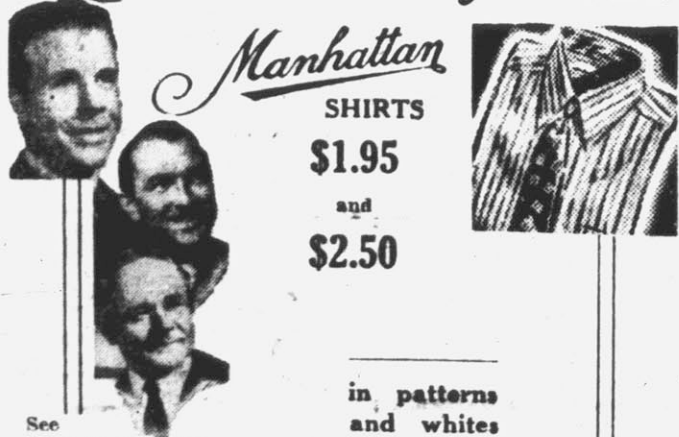

By Rouben Mamoulian

Hollywood. — Scholar Rouben Mamoulian, who has just given the public "Blood and Sand," which is apparently very much, has an idea on how Hollywood can give the public what it doesn't want.

"And Hollywood should do it," he says flatly—but not so unreasonably as that may sound.

The bespectacled, tall young man is always having ideas, which makes him an interesting director. That was apparent more than a decade ago, when he made his first movie, "Applause." You may not have liked it then, or even seen it, for it was not a great popular success. Some of the critics pointed out, at the time, that it was five years ahead of its date. They were right. "Applause," made by this new director from the stage, served powerfully to liberate the talking picture camera from a static prison. It made the camera move and do tricks as in the old silent days—and a few more tricks besides. It also employed what is now a com-

J. B. KITTRELL TO HEAD DRIVE

Named County Chairman of Aluminum Campaign

J. B. Kittrell, prominent business man of Greenville, has accepted the appointment as chairman of the Pitt County committee for the National Defense aluminum collection.

Mr. Kittrell is now making his appointments for all the towns and rural areas of the county and will announce them shortly. This collection of aluminum for National Defense projects will take place between July 21 and July 28. According to a letter from William S. Knudsen, director general of the Office of Production Management, the nation is facing a real crisis in the matter of aluminum supply.

The general plan for the collection of this aluminum is as follows: The aluminum will be stored in a central warehouse in the county and weighed. When the aluminum is weighed it must be offered to a smelter having Defense Preference rating. The nearest smelter having this Defense Preference rating will then make arrangements for the aluminum to be shipped to a certain point.

Safeguards have been set up to monplace device, the sound track as a means of conveying characters' unspoken thoughts.

But to get back to the public and what it does not want:

Mamoulian turns to other fields—art and music—to substantiate his thesis that the public, the final arbiter, can be led. To famous artists, he points. To Vincent Van Gogh, who earned a total of $60.50 from his paintings during all his lifetime, whose then scorned works now command fabulous prices. To composer Stravinsky, whose first performances caused riots and scoffing, but whose works now are accepted by music-lovers everywhere.

Hollywood, he says, gives no opportunity to its own Van Goghs and Stravinskys. Hollywood could How?

"Every studio makes a certain number of 'B' pictures every year. Pictures nobody expects to be good. Filmmakers. They cost little and they take little time. But all together they are very expensive pictures," says scholar Mamoulian.

"If each studio took the money for only five of these pictures and set it aside for purely experimental films," he insists, "we would make progress. If all the studios got together and pooled funds for this purpose, it would be a wonderful thing. New ideas could be tried, new talents developed. I don't say the pictures would be successful, nor that the public would 'want' them—at first. But they would serve to lead the public into wanting them in time."

Rouben's more practical side is concerned now, as he considers an offer to direct Helen Hayes in her new Theater Guild play, with finding a picture fitting to what the public-wants groove. His own idea of what the public wants, at the moment, is either "escape" films ("uplift" movies (the kind that bolster up the average man's faith in the human race despite all he reads of the state of the world.)

make sure that no-one makes any profit out of the aluminum which is donated by the people to the National Defense program. Those who give aluminum can be assured that the aluminum will be used in the National Defense program.

It is planned in the collection to use all the agencies of the county, and men and women, and boys and girls of all ages. The Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the American Legion, all the Civic clubs, the Woman's Club, Chamber of Commerce, farm organizations, merchants associations, movies, radio stations, newspapers, white and colored, will be asked to join in this movement to make the collection a success. It is planned to be able to report by August first by telegraph to Governor Broughton the amount of aluminum collected in the county.

The aluminum collection in this state will be under the general direction of the North Carolina Council of National Defense. Col. J. W. Harrelson of State College is chairman of the North Carolina Council, Theodore S. Johnson, director of Civilian Defense activities, J. T. Anderson executive secretary, with headquarters in Raleigh.

Those in Pitt county who are willing to help in this aluminum collection are asked to get in touch with Mr. Kittrell the chairman as soon as possible and volunteer their services.

traffic supervision mobilization of police, accident prevention.
3. Health, Welfare, and Related Defense Activities. Nutrition, food, public assistance, recreation, and entertainment of troops.
4. Housing. Normal, billeting and shelter; emergency, storage, planning and zoning.
5. Human Resources and Skills. Migratory families and workers, plant surveys, training of workers re-adjustment to post-emergency conditions, placement, unemployment recruitment for Civilian Defense.
6. Industrial Resources and Production. Power supply, communication, transportation, raw materials, contract service industrial co-ordination, plant sites.
7. Price Stabilization and Consumer Protection. Consumer protection to prevent speculative accumulation, with holding, hoarding, inspection and grading of food supplies, cooperative marketing, fair rent levels, guide to consumer prices.
8. Public Works and Facilities. Development and extensions of utilities, protection of vital public works.
It is apparent from a glance at the above divisions of work that some do not apply in Pitt county at the present time. However, the council is being set up so that in case of a long war the council will be able to function properly. There is no remuneration for anyone connected with the program; however, should the times become more critical and the council be called upon to perform many duties, headquarters will be set up, and the WPA will furnish clerical help for headquarters.

Strength For The Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

SMOTHERED TO DEATH
Some time ago a woman, said to be the best dressed individual of her generation, passed away. She was reputed to have a thousand dresses.

A thousand dresses! Think in the first place what a nuisance it must have been to have had a department store within one's house.
What painstaking care this woman must have been called upon to manifest every day in seeing that all this dry goods received proper attention. She must have been literally smothered in dresses.

People very often allow one interest to smother their lives. Some men are so deeply in love with money-making that the contents of their safe deposit boxes and the responsibilities incident to the management of their business affairs rise up above them like a huge mountain. They never draw a free breath, they never get an unimpeded view of the landscape, they never hear a note of good music, or the plaintive cry of a brother in want because they are smothered beneath business cares.

Some people try to fill the hours with thrilling sensations. The time comes at last when they can be thrilled no more, and then they are ready either for the mad-house or for the rash step of suicide.

Smothered lives. Smothered with dresses, with bonds, with social engagements, with a devastating flood of ruinous passions.

HELP FOR RUSSIA MEANS HELP FOR BRITAIN

Helping Great Britain and helping Soviet Russia are ways to the same end of beating Hitler, a majority of the people have generally concluded—at least all but the “non-interventionists,” probably better described as the non-believers in a united nation behind Britain, those who apparently discount Hitler's Mein Kampf, believe his lying diplomacy and worthless friendship pacts.

The vast bulk of United States citizens have seen the issue clearly, have seen that “anything goes in beating Hitler” has been adopted as the official policy of resistance to Hitler's world-wide ambitions, even to the point of aiding Communist Russia.
Germany (with malice aforthought, is embarked on a campaign of world conquest, and no flood of propaganda directed toward wavering Americans can shake the majority's belief that this is true. The only official document the Nazis own is Mein Kampf and in that book is a world of threats for the “non-believers” to mull over.
Hitler's threat to this continent is clear in that volume.

The number of deceptions the United States has been practicing from time to time has included a great number of wishful fantasies. Senators have proclaimed from the floor, even before the attack on France—that there will be no war. During the stalemate between the Siegfried and Maginot Lines, people shouted “this is a

Ants In His Panzers

REC-MANNING

phoney war.”

There are still people who believe that the British cannot be beaten, and that they do not need our help. There are still people who believe that Britain is losing the war or that Britain is winning the war, and in either case the United States can stay out.

Another popular twist of the public mind, following Hitler's invasion of Russia, is that the two dictators will cut each other down, leaving both nations helpless. Another very popular dream is that Hitler, provided he conquers Russia, will be satisfied. People have even hated Red Russia so much that they believe England should have accepted Rudolph Hess' alleged offer of peace to the English if they would help
Germany and turn on Russia. They see the Communist menace as being much greater.

But despite the silliness of Russia's claim that it is fighting to save democracy, the majority of Americans know where the greatest danger is.
The majority's belief that Hitler is the man to beat remains solid and unshaken.
That makes the present U.
S. policy official.

Washington Daybook

By Jack Stimpert

Washington—When Mayor Marvin Kline of Minneapolis appeared to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, to find an FBI man for a police chief, Kline was joining a parade that is making the FBI one of the most unusual employment bureaus in the land.

When Hoover informed Kline that he had such a man in his own front yard, Hoover was fulfilling his little-known function as No. 1 placement man for chiefs of police in the United States.

FBI National Police Academy
graduates and men from the FBI rolls now are chiefs of police in 82 cities.

After explaining to Mayor Kline that all FBI agents worthy of conducting the Minneapolis police department were needed in national defense, Hoover told the mayor of Duluth, B. Hansen, a veteran of the Duluth police force, who not only had worked himself up to chief in Duluth, but had also acquired himself with honors in the FBI's “West Point of law enforcement.”
Mayor Kline grabbed his man.

A Daily Routine
This has been going on for months. There isn't a day passes that the FBI director doesn't have from one to six requests for a recommendation for police chief. There isn't a day that he doesn't answer these requests, generally suggesting some man who graduated from the police academy. Out of nearly 600 graduates of the NPA, 78 now are chiefs of police, 2 are superintendents of police and 12 are assistant chiefs.

In Kansas City there is a 61foot-3 L. B. Reed, who has been referred to in inner circles as the best all-around FBI man the service ever had. In Tulsa is Police Chief Ralph Colvin, the man who stopped that notorious western gangster, Wilbur Underhill, and who was in the saddle
as agent in charge in Oklahoma City when the “Machine-Gun” Kelley-Bally-Bates gang was rounded up.

Oklahoma City's chief is Frank Smith, a quiet, unassuming little man with gray hair—the FBI agent who knew more about southwestern bank robbers than any other officer alive. Working almost single-handed, in the heart of the bank robbery country, he cleaned out the bandits to such an extent that in 1937, toward the end of his FBI reign, there wasn't a single bank robbery in his territory. Incidentally, if Oklahoma Citizens want to know how close they came to being without Frank Smith let them look up the story of the “Kansas City massacre.”

When gunmen opened up on the car that was transporting fugitive gangster Frank Nash back to prison, Smith was sitting in the center of the back seat, but miraculously came out of that slaughter unscathed.

They're Representative

These represent the kind of men who are going over to cities as chiefs of police, carrying with them FBI methods. NPA graduates who have not worked for the FBI had the cream of knowledge the FBI has assembled.

Here is another sidelight. The District of Columbia police force, because of an unprecedented epidemic of unsolved crimes, is under congressional investigation. Almost at the outset, it was disclosed that only one man in the Washington police force ever had been through the FBI's national police academy and that there is no former FBI man on the local force.

Perhaps it is pertinent to this story that Capt. Harvey G. Callahan
the only Washington policeman who ever did swallow the FBI's concentrated capsule of law enforcement, may be the next chief of police of the nation's capital.

Short Shots

Raleigh, July 15.—Last week Charlie Parker, head of the state news bureau charged with the duty of publicizing the state of North Carolina, issued a statement publicizing his own division.

He related how in the first six months of 1941 inquiries about the state have been “pouring in at a rate in excess of 100 a day,” which pouring, his statement added, indicates “a record tourist season.”
It is fair to say that this does seem to be a “record tourist season” but to call this desirable state of affairs a result of this tremendous “pouring” is laying it on a bit too thick.

Mr. Parker, before bragging about getting a hundred inquiries a day ought to have taken the trouble to look back into his office files. If he had, he would have discovered that last year the inquiries “poured in”
at a rate which often reached 300 a day.

That was during the regime of affable Bob Thompson as News Bureau head.

At the same time he clashed the cymbals over the “pouring” of inquiries, Mr. Parker went into some detail to explain why $20,000 is being spent on maintaining a Washington office as a “point of contact between North Carolina business and industry and federal departments empowered to let government contracts.” This is equivalent to saying that $20,000 supposed to be devoted to advertising the state and thereby getting new industries is being spent to get contracts for those industries already located in North Carolina.

The result may be just as desirable,
but it does seem to be far afield from the original purpose for which the money was appropriated.

This and That Nobody familiar with American League politics in North Carolina was in the least surprised at the Sunday story putting Henry Ingram of Asheville in the race for Department Commander next year. Members of the committee which steered Roy McMillan of Raleigh to victory at Durham last month are letting it go without formal denial, but they are not overly happy over the imputation that “Mac” won largely through a hook-up which calls for supporting Ingram next time. As a matter of fact, they say of the record, McMillan went into office with almost no commitments which can possibly embarrass him.... Once Cam Morrison put an end to talk of “drafting” him, the gates were opened for speculation on possible congressional candidates from the new Tenth. There'll likely be quite a long list in the speculative stages, but not more than three or four actual candidates at the most. Joe Ervin (native of Burke, but now of Mecklenburg) still looks like the man to beat.... Census figures show there is still plenty of chance to expand and extend North Carolina's rural electrification program. According to these figures 124,017 farms are within a quarter mile of electric distribution lines, but only 71,196 farm dwellings are lighted with electricity.... Bob Thompson, once secretary to Gov. Clyde Hoey, was in Raleigh Monday, looking fatter and sleeker than when he was head of the State News Bureau here before going to Asheville to tell the world about the wonders of the western section.... A letter addressed to “The People's Man,” “Office of the Open Door,” Raleigh, North Carolina, was promptly delivered to Secretary of State Thad Eure, who commented to your reporter on the efficiency of the Raleigh postoffice.
On the other hand, your reporter related how he mailed a letter to a Raleigh resident last December, which was not delivered until this month—just half a year getting to its destination.

DEFENSE BOND QUIZ

Q. Can I authorize my employer to allot portions of my salary each pay day until enough is accumulated to buy a Defense Savings Bond?

A. Yes. More than a million workers and salaried people have already asked that their money be saved in this way.

Q. Does the Treasury provide systematic savings facilities for individuals not employed by those organizations which have payment-allotment plans?

A. Yes. The Treasury has a regular purchase plan under which especially designed reminder envelopes are mailed at intervals of your choice. Nearly 100,000 people are already using this plan to save systematically.

Note — To purchase Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office or bank, or write for information to the Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York.—The purest essence of bedlam anywhere is to be found in the large studios on Broadway where dozens of popular dance bands hold rehearsals simultaneously before taking to the road or moving on to assignments elsewhere.

One witnesses this indescribable phenomenon and is at once fasinated and appalled. For the layman it is almost overwhelming.
There isn't anything like it anywhere.

You step from the elevator into a reception “hall” that would satisfy even Billy Rose as living space.
It approximates in size a North Carolina tobacco warehouse. In the center is a corps of reception clerks —young girls at telephones who know where the studio rooms are and at what hour the various bands are booked.

In pleasant confusion about this expanse of floor are little groups who stand in twos and threes and in clusters and racemes, gabbing about the trade. Young men with trumpets and fiddles and clarinets under their arms. Young men in a circle about an automatic soap-operating machine, standing in shirt-sleeves and sweaters and raincoats and sport coats, wearing slacks and sweatshirts and tennis shoes and soft suede shoes.

You see here and there young girls, mostly fresh and alert and dark-haired and red-lipped. These are the vocalists. They sing with the orchestras, but they are gabbling now, gabbling in high, pleasant, feminine voices, eager and in fine spirits.

Leading off the “hall” like barracks in a military square, are the studios. At one and the same time swing bands, rumba bands, bands that play sweet music, waltz music and jitter music are blaring their souls in waves of coordinated, rhythmic sound that beat against the brain and the imagination of an onlooker with the steady, relentless persistence of summer rain in Pago Pago.

Jimmy Dorsey in No. 1. Harry James in No. 2. Woody Herman in
No. 3. swing time, trumpet time, and time for the blues, the Woody Herman blues. His rehearsal appointment is from 4 p. m. to 6 p. m.
He comes in and shakes hands with a bull fiddle player. Above the din a drummer shouts a greeting. They have just come in out of the rain and a day-long drive from a town in New Hampshire. They have two hours for rehearsal. Then they hurry to a recording studio and make six records for Decca. After that they get into their cars and hit the long, wet winding road for Williamsburg, Va. It's Williamsburg tomorrow night, and Richmond the next, and new towns for every night from then on in, to the end of the tour.

It's a great life, they say, great,
that is, if you're a young man with a horn, or a bull fiddle, or a picolo.

In Memory of Anne Minnie Longview, Wash.—(AP)—The Adam Society of Portland has plenty of cougar meat once more.

George Umbaugh and Henry Baumgartner, hunters up in the Cascades, bagged two of the rather rare animals for the society's annual banquet. There wasn't enough to go around last year. As they got the story, part of the society's ritual is to eat cougar meat, because—

In the early days, Aunt Minnie Adam was eaten by a cougar, and her descendants formed the society to “avenge the death of Aunt Minnie.”

The two hunters won't vouch for the story. Anyway, they got the cougar.

All-Star Game Postponed; No Play-Off Date Fixed Yet

DEATH CAUSES POSTPONEMENT

Frank Rodgers Advised of Child's Death At Park

The all-star game scheduled to have been played in Wilson last night was postponed a short time before the contest was scheduled to have been started when Frank Rodgers, manager of the Northern team, was advised of the death of his nine-year-old daughter, Patsy Jean.

Rodgers was at the park when advised of his daughter's death, and upon recommendation of the players and Wilson club officials, President Ray Goodman postponed the game. The date the contest will be played has not been decided.

Four members of the Greenville team were picked by Rodgers for the Northern roster. Lefty Joe Long was to have started on the mound and a large number of Greenville fans had gone to Wilson to see the local ace try his hand against Bill Ferring's Southern team.

Harry Jenkins and Charlie Scagg were in the Northern lineup and Kelly Kee was one of the relief hurlers.

The little girl's death, in a Pittsburgh hospital, where she had been taken five days ago, was the result of a "leaking heart."

Rains yesterday afternoon and threats of more last night had kept many fans at home, but indications were that a large crowd would have witnessed the contest had it been played.

HEARTBREAK HONEYMOON

YESTERDAY: Now Henry Pell is actually going to a dress rehearsal of the radio program he has such high hopes for without Luella, his wife. Luella is out to the quick, more because she knows the glamorous Marie Mason will be there than because she will miss the show. Luella wonders whether she ought not to shock Henry out of his pre-occupation with Marie and radio by telling him that their friend, Tommy McIntyre, is in love with her.

Chapter 17 Lonely Girl

Henry slipped on a smoking jacket, a birthday gift from Luella, and went into the living room. Luella had the meal all ready. They sat down. They ate in strained silence for a time. Luella finally spoke.

"How are things down at the office?" she asked.

"Okay," said Henry. "Why?"

"Oh, I just asked, that's all. You never mention your work down there any more. All your attention seems to be centered on radio songs."

Henry frowned. "Well, if you're under the impression that I'm neglecting my work at the office," he said, "you're wrong."

"I never thought of such a thing," Luella said.

"It sounded like it."

"Aren't you pretty touchy about your work here of late?"

"Perhaps, but you are pretty touchy yourself. We seem to get on each other's nerves."

"Whose fault is that?"

"How should I know?"

"Oh, Henry, darling, do let's stop snapping like this!"

"Suits me," Henry stopped eating long enough to give Luella a searching look. "What you need to do is get out more. You sit alone too much. It's bad for you. Being so much alone makes people morbid—suspicious."

"Really?" said Luella. "Then why don't you do something about it?"

"I? ... What can I do—when I'm working at the office?"

"You could do something about it in the evenings."

"Oh, that again?"

"Yes, Henry—that again. Sorry."

Victory Is Scored Over High School

Playing for the first time in three days, Training School of the "A" league won over High School this morning by the score of 12-3. In spite of the large score run up by the winners, the game was exceptionally fast. Six double plays were completed, three by each side. Larry James and Snag Clark led the hitting for the Training School, each getting four for six. Jack Teel was the only High Schooler to get as many as two hits. Harrison and Merritt featured afield for the victors. Lupton pitched five-hit ball and was never in serious trouble.

Two Billion Dollar Figure Is Reached

The two billionth dollar to be loaned by production credit associations will be included in the loan of Martin Paulson approved this week by the loan committee of the Newton (Iowa) Production Credit Association, according to word received today by Jno. R. Carroll, president of the Greenville Production Credit Association.

Since Mr. Paulson doesn't have use for his money until July 23 and wants to save 12 days interest, he will not receive the actual check until July 23. It is understood that the Newton Production Credit Association is planning a special observance of this occasion.

Mr. Paulson intends to use part of his loan to purchase two used sows to help increase pork production in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture's Food for Defense Program, which is endeavoring to get farmers to produce more pork, dairy products, eggs and some vegetables, to meet the needs of the British and our own defense program.

Mr. Carroll stated that the Greenville Production Credit Association, which serves farmers in Pitt county as well as those in Greene county, has made loans amounting to $2,500,000 since its organization back in 1934. This is part of the two billion dollars loaned by the 525 associations. He explained that all of this money loaned by these cooperative credit associations has been on the approval of the farmer-members of their boards of directors and the way that farmers have repaid these loans has shown that the directors have a sympathetic understanding farmers' credit problems which enables them to make loans suited to their individual needs.

Our share in the Ford defense job is right here at home

THE Ford Motor Company has been called upon to do a big job for National Defense. On the River Rouge, a $35,000,000 military airplane engine plant has been erected. At Willow Run, near Ypsilanti, Michigan, Ford will soon be building big bombers and bomber assemblies by mass production methods. Special Ford assembly lines have already produced Army trucks, reconnaissance cars, and bomb-service trucks for the Air Corps.

The Ford national defense production program is in high gear, setting records for getting things done fast. As Ford dealers we're mighty proud of these records. And we're glad to report to you that Ford is working an extra day a week to keep National Defense activity at full speed ahead, while producing the finest Ford Car ever built. And for you, our customers, we dealers are making every effort to see that you get deliveries as fast as possible.

Our share in the Ford defense job is right here at home. The country's need for good transportation has never been more vital than now. We are here to serve you—now as always—with modern, reliable, economical transportation. That's where Ford-built products excel. And we are still in a position to make you a real deal on your present car.

And... Now Is The Time To Buy!
