LEWIS ACCEPTS FDR'S PROPOSAL

Reds Report Successes On Moscow And Rostov Front

Force Foes Back Across Narra River

Repeated German Attempts To Effect Crossing are Beaten Back And Soviets Storm Stream To Entrench Themselves On Opposite Side; Russians Gain Strategic Heights Guarding Rostov

Russia's armies were credited in front line dispatches today with throwing the Germans back across the Narra river, some 50 miles southwest of Moscow, while on the Southern front, Soviet troops were declared to have won strategic heights guarding the route to Rostov-on-Don.

Tass, the official Russian news agency, said the Germans tried repeatedly to cross the Narra, but were beaten back.

Counter-attacking Soviet troops then stormed across the river, Tass said, and entrenched themselves on the south bank under heavy fire.

Slowed down in their land offensive against Moscow, the Germans sent more than 300 planes in a mass assault on the USSR capital yesterday, the Soviet radio said.

"It was the biggest attack carried out so far, but was exactly as unsuccessful as all previous raids," the radio declared, adding that 39 Nazi planes, a record, were shot down.

Big-scale aerial attacks on Moscow have been under way for several days, it was reported.

Adolf Hitler's high command, silent on operations around Moscow, asserted that German troops were now swarming into the upper Donets river industrial basin on a broad front.

In the Crimea, where the invaders forced a break-through after 10 days of violent assault, the Nazi high command said Russian rear guard resistance had been shattered and that German forces were "relentlessly on the heels of the defeated enemy."

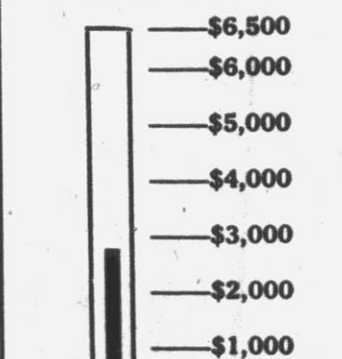

Several thousand more Soviet prisoners were taken, the high command said, as Nazi troops pushed on across age-old Crimean battle fields toward Russia's big Black sea naval base at Sevastopol, 100 miles south.

A bulletin from Hitler's East front headquarters gave no specific details of the advance into the upper Donets basin, where the Germans had already captured Khar'kov, Russia's "Pittsburgh of the Ukraine."

Soviet dispatches, conceding the fall of Karkov, declared that in taking the city the Germans had lost nearly 120,000 killed and wounded 450 tanks, 3,000 trucks, and 200 guns.

To Eliminate Spies
New York, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Joseph Davies, former ambassador to Moscow, says he believes the Russian purges of the last decade were intended by Joseph Stalin to eliminate German and Japanese spies within the nation.

FOURTEEN DIE IN MINNESOTA PLANE CRASH

Pilot, Thrown Clear, Only One To Survive Crack-Up

PLANE TRAPPED IN FOG AND MIST

Crack-Up Occurs In "Thick" Weather With Temperature Freezing On Flat Minnesota Prairie

Moorhead, Minn., Oct. 30. (AP)—Trapped in fog and mist, a Northwest Airline plane crashed within two miles of its objective early today.

Fourteen persons died in the impact and flames that immediately engulfed the wreckage. Only survivor was Capt. Clarence Bates, pilot, thrown clear as the big liner struck the earth a glancing blow, bounced 100 yards and then piled up.

Capt. Bates suffered only from shock, but physicians would permit no one to talk to him.

The St. Paul dispatcher said he last heard from the plane, west-bound from Chicago to Seattle, at 1:54 a. m. CST. It then was over the Fargo airport, descending at 3,700 feet.

Making a routine instrument approach in weather described on the surface as "thick" with a freezing temperature, the pilot next showed signs of trouble.

The crash-up occurred on a flat prairie. Capt. Bates, dazed, was found wandering in a field by motorists attracted by the flames. There apparently were no witnesses to the catastrophe.

Denies Rumors On Ousting Officers

Washington, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Secretary of War Stimson said today the war department had no present intention of displacing any of the four lieutenant generals who now command the four field armies.

Told at his press conference of reports that three of them would be transferred, Stimson said the reports lacked foundation.

The army is engaged in efforts to "vitalize" the officer corps by replacing some by age and other reasons, but as for the four lieutenant generals, "nothing like that is contemplated that I ever heard of, or that anybody else has ever heard of."

The four lieutenant generals are Ben Lear, Walter Krueger, Hugh A. Drum and John D. DeWitt.

DeGaulle Again Asks For Demonstrations

London, Oct. 30.—(AP)—General Charles DeGaulle, leader of the Free French, today broadcast a second appeal to Frenchmen in the occupied and non-occupied homeland to stand erect, defiant and silent at 4 p. m., tomorrow.

He said it would show they were "preparing for vengeance under France's tattered flags."

The demonstration was asked by DeGaulle to protest German execution of hostages at Nantes.

At the opening of court this morning, the state began presenting evidence in the case of Calvin Rasberry, Negro, charged with killing Jack Tyson, another Negro, last March 23. Both Negroes are of the Farmville community.

Georgian Seized By FBI In $53,000 Robbery

Hilliard Sanders (right), alias George L. Thompson, 27, a veteran of terms in the Atlanta federal penitentiary and on the Georgia chain-gang, was arrested by FBI agents at Charlotte, N. C., and taken to Washington for arraignment on charges that he engineered a hold-up in which $53,000 was taken from two bank messengers at Hyattsville, Md., September 25. Sanders, a native of Twiggs county, Georgia, is shown at left (light jacket) being hustled from the United States commissioner's office after arraignment.

URGES REPEAL OF ENTIRE ACT

Sen. Thomas Would Join With Three Republicans

Washington, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Senator Thomas (D-Utah) told the Senate today he was ready to join with three Republican colleagues—Austin of Vermont, Bridges of New Hampshire and Gurney of South Dakota—in seeking outright repeal of the neutrality law.

The pending revision measure, drafted by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, would repeal the neutrality act provisions which prevent the arming of American merchantships and prohibit them from entering belligerent ports and designated combat zones.

Among other provisions, the revision legislation would leave on the books a section granting the government control over munitions exports. Thomas said that if the act were completely repealed this section could be re-enacted.

The three Republicans, who had the backing of Wendell L. Willkie, when they suggested outright repeal, have not yet decided whether they will press their proposition on the floor. If it is not approved, both the Republican group and Thomas have said they would support the administration revision legislation.

Governor To Confer On Power Diversion

Raleigh, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Governor Broughton plans to return to Washington for another conference with officials of the Federal Power Commission, and possibly President Roosevelt, on the question of diverting additional power from North Carolina to other southern states.

The governor and Utilities Commissioner Stanley Winborne have taken the position that they would be opposed to any diversion of North Carolina industries, unless industries in other states were similarly curtailed.

Broughton, who conferred in Washington with the President, said the chief executive was very sympathetic with North Carolina's problem.

The governor said he would discuss with Winborne this afternoon the latest developments in the power diversion question. If it is apparent that North Carolina industries will be curtailed, Broughton said, he and Winborne will go to Washington.

Increases Shown For Employment, Payroll

Raleigh, Oct. 30.—(AP)—General increases in employment and payrolls in 1932 North Carolina manufacturing and non-manufacturing industries during September were reported today by the State Department of Labor.

Employment figures showed an increase of three-tenths of one percent; payrolls were up 2.3 percent; and average weekly earnings rose two percent to $18.60.

Approximately 125,000,000 separate shipments are handled annually by the railroads.

Word To Workers

With the Community Chest campaign having reached only the $2,500 mark in the $5,500 goal, Chairman Charles E. Bisette today called on all workers to submit reports immediately.

He urged the workers to report to headquarters in the mayor's office not later than tomorrow.

ARMISTICE DAY PLANS MAPPED

Address By Hon. Josephus Daniels To Be Feature

Tentative arrangements for the Armistice Day celebration to be held here November 11, featuring an address by Hon. Josephus Daniels of Raleigh, World War Secretary of the Navy and at present ambassador to Mexico, were announced today and include plans for one of the best parades ever staged here.

The Farmville post will join the local unit in observing the anniversary of the signing of the armistice, November 11, 1918.

Officials of both posts have expressed much satisfaction at being able to secure Mr. Daniels as the principal speaker and it is planned to make the program this year one of the most extensive ever held.

The parade, the exact time and route of which will be announced later, will include members of the two posts and other ex-service men, the local Negro post, the local unit of the State Guard, the bands of the high school and the college, and possibly a Negro band.

Those in charge of arrangements are making every effort to have as many ex-service men as possible in the parade, to be headed by the speaker and honor guest of the day.

The parade will end at the college in time for the assembly which will begin at the usual 11 o'clock hour with a minute of silence in prayer and tribute to soldiers who died in service. The program will be held in the Wright Memorial auditorium.

Following the program, a barbecue dinner will be served on the picnic grounds of the college for all ex-service men and members of the auxiliary.

While the local colored post has not revealed its complete plans, it is expected to have its own program and dinner.

Police Investigating Death Of Negro Man

Local police officials are investigating the death of Wiley Vines, Negro who lives on Pitt street, last night about 8:30 o'clock.

Several persons questioned by the police declared the man shot himself, but police were disinclined to accept this theory and are conducting an investigation pending a coroner's inquest set for Saturday morning.

Vines was shot or shot himself at the home of Rose Lee Hooker, who lives back of Blount's fertilizer plant. Among those taken in custody for questioning were Rose Lee Hooker, Martha Jane Atkinson, Malissa Williams and Amos Cox.

PLAN STEP-UP IN MANEUVERS

Nation's Two Armored Divisions To Take Part

Camden, S. C., Oct. 30.—(AP)—The tempo of the first army's fall maneuvers in the Carolinas will be stepped up next week with the entry of this nation's two armored divisions.

The first armored division from Camp Polk, La., with more than 1,000 tanks, artillery and motorized equipment, will join Major General Charles F. Thompson's first corps in a field exercise against the remaining two corps, the second commanded by Major General Lloyd R. Fredendall, and the sixth by Major General Mark Truesdell.

Commanded by Major General Bruce Magruder, the first armored division will be concentrated in the Rock Hill, S. C., area the latter part of this week. The second armored division, based at Fort Benning, Ga., also will arrive in the area about the same time.

Both of these fast-moving, hard-hitting divisions were employed in the recent Louisiana maneuvers between the second and third armies.

Because of the swampy terrain of the bayou country, their efficiency was regarded as handicapped.

In rolling sandhills of the Carolinas, such natural obstacles do not exist.

College Students To Attend Parley

On Friday, October 31, approximately 30 students from East Carolina Teachers College, accompanied by Baptist Student Secretary Miss Mary Lee Ernest, will leave for Durham to attend the annual North Carolina Baptist Student Union convention.

The meeting, October 31-November 2, will be held at the First Baptist Church with the Duke E. S. U. serving as host to about five hundred representatives from North Carolina colleges.

Messages, built on the theme "Supreme Allegiance to Christ," will be brought by men who are recognized as youth leaders. Among them will be Dr. Frank H. Leavell, Southwestern Student Secretary; Rev. Charles Madry of Richmond, Va.; State Student Secretary John Lawrence; Rev. W. Perry Crouch of Fayetteville; and Governor Broughton. Other features of the meeting include an informal banquet, discussion groups, and a sunrise installation service.

Among those attending from E. C. T. C. are: Misses Mamie Briggs, Charlotte Shearin, Edna Earl Lang, Sarah Cox, Mary Cox, Eugenia Gregory, Florence Robertson, Virginia Dixon, Sue Stroud, Jim White, Dorothy Whitley, Joye Parnell, Dorothy Wiggins, Dorothy Sasser, Laura Fay Wood, Rosemary Underwood, Elizabeth Batten, Kathryn Williams, Anne Mabry, Eloise Barefoot, Carol Leigh Humphries, Lucille Priyatte, Caroline Miles, Osborne Lewis, Billy Patter, Elsie Cherry, Juanita Rush and Laura Marie Walker.

Exempted from the ordinance are signs erected beyond the highway right-of-way at a place of business advertising such business and one sign placed on any premise advertising it for sale or advertising for sale goods produced therein.

There are more than 2,500,000 bicycles in use in Sweden, or five for every 12 inhabitants.

DECLARES AIM FOR BOOSTING SOCIAL TAXES

Program To Be Ready For Congress in Two Months

FIVE PER CENT FIGURE TALKED

Social Security Levy Boost Proposed "To Mop Up Extra Money" In Pockets Of U.S. Citizens

Washington, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau announced today a program of steep increases in social security taxes would be ready for congressional consideration within the next two months.

He declined to give proposed new rates, but disclosed at a press conference that the size of the increases would be geared definitely "to mop up the extra money in people's pockets for which there will not be goods to buy."

In some authoritative circles it has been reported Morgenthau favors increasing the employees' old age pension tax from one per cent to five per cent of his pay check. Morgenthau, however, said he was "not satisfied yet with the plan and not ready to give out figures."

The steepness of the proposed increase was emphasized by Morgenthau when he related that he and Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt had agreed that the new tax rate should be based, not so much on the actual needs of the social security program, but upon the need of the government to prevent inflation and also to finance the defense program.

Safety Institute Is Held In City

Approximately half a hundred teachers from Pitt and surrounding counties attended a teacher training institute in health, physical education and safety conducted at Third street school today under the auspices of the State Department of Public Instruction and the North Carolina Highway Safety Division.

Counties represented at the conference, one in a series of four being held in Eastern Carolina, were Greene, Pitt, Beaufort and Martin, with the Greenville and Washington city schools also participating.

Following a talk by D. H. Conley welcoming the guests, discussions were presented as follows: The traffic accident problem in North Carolina and educational needs for prevention and control, by Carl Barefoot of the highway safety division; Special credit courses in health, physical education and safety, by Charles E. Spencer, of the department of public instruction; Purposes and objectives of traffic safety and driver education in schools, by Dr. Walter Cutter of the safety division; Making traffic safety instruction effective, by Dr. Kenneth Bendle of the National Conservation Bureau.

Demonstration and road tests were conducted by Prof. C. A. Jarman of Atlantic Christian College, as the afternoon feature.

Get Set For Task Of Removing Road Signs

Raleigh, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Highway wrecking crews will start work Monday on the task of tearing down billboards and other advertising signs which have been erected on the highway department's right-of-way.

The wrecking crews have orders to remove advertising signs situated within 30 feet of the center of highways. The ordinance also applies to signs within 50 feet of the center line, but advertisers who have leased land for such signs will have until November 1, 1942, to remove them.

Exempted from the ordinance are signs erected beyond the highway right-of-way at a place of business advertising such business and one sign placed on any premise advertising it for sale or advertising for sale goods produced therein.

MOVE IS OPEN TO EMPLOYERS

Organization On Industry-Wide Basis Is Suggested

New York, Oct. 30.—(AP)—William H. Davis, chairman of the National Defense Mediation Board, said today that mature collective bargaining in labor disputes could be reached only after employers counter-organized on an industry-wide basis.

"The individual employer is confronted with an industry-wide organization of labor and realizes, often in a time of panic, that he has the short end of the stick," he said in an address prepared for a luncheon of Survey Associates, a society for the study of the general welfare of the country.

Davis said that as the defense industry developed "labor relations perhaps pass the stage of adolescence in some American industries, but in no important mass production industry such as steel, automobiles, rubber and chemicals."

Noel Coward Is Fined By Courts Of Britain

London, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Noel Coward, the playwright, was fined 200 pounds (about $800) and 20 pounds ($80) costs today for violation of Britain's war-time finance regulations.

The fine was levied on the first of three summonses charging violation of defense finance regulations. The others were marked "no separate penalty."

U. S. Army Organizes Mountain Troop Unit

Washington, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The army has ordered formation of a regiment of special mountain troops, such as were used in the German invasion of Norway and by the Italians.

The first battalion of the unit, first of its kind in American history, will be formed on November 15, at Fort Lewis, Washington. Secretary of War Stimson said today, and will serve as a nucleus for expansion as needed.

Correction
In the Junior Red Cross story appearing in yesterday's issue it was stated that the West Greenville school sponsored a Bundles For Britain booth at the Pitt county fair. The exhibit, however, was one showing the work of the Junior Red Cross in connection with Junior Red Cross enrollment week and had no connection with Bundles for Britain.

Night Shift To Return To Shafts At Some Mines With Other Workers Resuming Operations Tomorrow; Announcement Made By Lewis After Two-Hour Conference with District Leaders

Washington, Oct. 30.—(AP)—John L. Lewis announced today that the United Mine Workers had accepted President Roosevelt's proposal for reopening the strike-bound captive coal mines and added that the men would return to work as fast as arrangements could be made locally.

In some areas, Lewis said, the night shifts may return tonight. Other mines, he asserted, could be reopened tomorrow.

Lewis made the announcement in the Mayflower hotel room. Myron C. Taylor, former board chairman of United States Steel Corporation, which owns some of the captive mines, Taylor was standing beside the Mine Workers' president when it was made and said he was "very much gratified with the broad cooperative attitude which Mr. Lewis had displayed in a difficult situation in time of great national peril."

Lewis and Taylor called in reporters after the Mine Workers' leader had conferred for two hours with district leaders of the UMW.

In his announcement of the agreement to return to work, Lewis said that the union leaders had accepted the President's proposal "on my recommendation."

Mr. Roosevelt proposed in a letter to William H. Davis, chairman of the Defense Mediation Board, that the mines be reopened pending further consideration of the issues involved in the dispute, which affect 53,000 miners, by the full membership of the Mediation Board, under the President's suggestion, neither side would be committed to accept the board's recommendation.

The principal issue in the dispute, which has threatened the supply of fuel for steel mills, is whether the captive mine operators shall accept the union's demand for a union shop, under which employees would be required to join the UMW after a period of probation.

Lewis told reporters that the entire basis for the arrangements for reopening the mines had resulted from the six-hour conference which he held yesterday with Taylor. Davis also attended this session.

In an oral statement to reporters, Lewis said: "Once again Mr. Taylor and I have been able to render service at a time of great national interest in a matter that has secured the gracious approval of the President."

"It may be recalled that seven years ago in this hotel Mr. Taylor and I settled the captive mine controversy of 1934."

"In later years we substantially negotiated the contract covering the present relationship in the steel industry. At that time I stated that Mr. Taylor was an industrial statesman of far-seeing vision. I reiterate that today."

"I wish to express gratification that the problem is on the way to complete settlement without substantial inconvenience to the country or the defense program."

First Lady To Be Here November 17

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will speak at East Carolina Teachers College on the evening of November 17. As this will be the first visit of the First Lady to this section, it will be an event of importance to the whole section as well as Greenville and the college.

The topic selected for her to speak on, "Day at the White House" was chosen from the list suggested because students helping make the selection said that, though they were interested in what she would have to say on various problems, they preferred a topic that would bring them into closer touch with the life of the speaker.

Strength For The Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

DOES FEAR HAVE A PLACE?
A great deal is being written today about the devastating power of fear. And the contention that fear holds most people back, produces disease, and holds millions in agonizing servitude is indeed true.

But from this people very often derived the conclusion that fear has no place in life. They declare that fear is always evil. This is not true.
Fear is the protective device given us by a kindly Nature to protect us against things that would hurt us.
Most people are entirely overdeveloped in their capacity for fear and have all sorts of anxieties about things that will never happen, or things that would not hurt them if they did.

But there are some things that do hurt people. Evil is one of them and every man should fear to do evil and should have a wholesome and profound fear of the consequences of evil. There are some people in the world who are deterred from evil chiefly by their fears.
It takes the terror of consequence to keep some people in the straight and narrow path.

So let us not say that fear has no place in life. What we should say is that if we have faith in God,
He will give us a great sense of His guardian care and will cause us to fear only those evil tendencies of our own nature which might very easily ruin us.

FUTURE BRIGHT IF WE FACE IT WITHOUT FEAR

(Scottish Rite News)

Fear of government control of business, excessive taxation, the effect of priorities on non-defense business, and a lack of confidence in many key new-deal men has caused many Americans to feel that their future security is in jeopardy. To these, Roger W. Babson, newspaper columnist and financial advisor, has a message of hope. It is to "overcome our obstacles instead of fretting about them."

No one is more alive to the dangers of excessive government control or "soak the rich" taxation than Mr. Bab-son, but he believes that for every problem there is a solution if one will but go to the necessary trouble of finding it. He blames the depressive mental attitude of many investors and businessmen to their critical attitude.
Destructive criticism, with no thought toward finding a way to better conditions, has never solved any problems.

Chief worry among business men right now seems to be the recent statement of Secretary of the Treasury
Henry Morgenthau in favor of taking away all excess profit, above 6 per cent.
There was no guarantee by Mr. Morgenthau of a 6 per cent profit—merely the belief that no one should make more than that during the defense boom.

It is extremely unlikely that Congress will take any action along these lines, so that the private investor has little to worry about from this source right now, Mr.

Babson believes. The question of labor agitation for closed shops, which handicaps industry because it hands over a great deal of control to labor unions, is an inevitable situation that can be met as long as we do not surrender to fear.

All in all, Mr. Babson repeats an old lesson that the only thing the United States has to fear is fear itself.
United and courageous, this country will weather the present storm as it has come through the crises of the past. The future will open up to those who dare to face it instead of hiding their heads in the sand.

Washington Daybook

By Jack Stittner

(In the World War, cases of sabotage were reported nearly two and a half years before the United States entered the conflict, and the 1914-17 list of such cases would fill more than a column of small type. At present, with the United States far outstripping its arms production effort of 25 years ago, there has not been discovered a single case of foreign-directed sabotage. In two articles, Jack Stittner, Washington columnist for the Daily Reflector, explains why and how sabotage has changed in the quarter century.)

Washington—On January 1, 1915, a $1,500,000 incendiary fire in the John A. Roebeling Company Plant at Trenton, N. J., manufacturing war supplies for the Allies, blew the lid off one of the most amazing series of sabotage cases in world history.

For nearly four years, these tragic "accidents" were to occur in America's preparedness and defense efforts with staggering repetition.

In February, there was an explosion of suspicious origin in the Haskell, N. J., Dupont powder plant and another occurred in the same place three weeks later.

That summer a foreigner made an unsuccessful effort to blow up the Capitol, planting his bomb in the Vice President's reception room just off the senate chamber. In 1916, the whole country was rocked by the Black Tom explosions on the New Jersey waterfront in New York harbor. The explosions rattled windows and shook buildings 90 miles away. The damage couldn't be estimated. More than a million dollars worth of plate glass was shattered in windows and store fronts in Manhattan across the bay.

After more than two years of national defense and industrial effort for Great Britain and her allies in the current war, there have only been nine proved cases of sabotage in defense plants and in not one of these is there the slightest evidence that it was directed or even inspired by any foreign power.

(One possible exception, although it hardly belongs to this story, is the sabotage of Axis ships in United States harbors. These were cases of nations scuttling their own property to prevent use by the enemy in case of capture.)

This doesn't mean that some of the accidents in national defense might not have been sabotage. It's just that if they were, there's not any evidence of it. It doesn't mean either that there might not be a tragic case of sabotage tomorrow or following that scores of them.

Such possibilities, however, in no way detract from the remarkable record to date. In hundreds of accidents reported as possible sabotage, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, or other investigating agencies, have determined the causes.
One such case resulted in an improved and safer method of making powder. It now is in use throughout the country. In some cases, still pretty much a mystery, the evidence has been against sabotage, not for it.

In the nine known cases, the causes have been several. One man who was caught in the act of attempting sabotage in a powder plant now is in a New Jersey institution for the insane, still listening to those "little voices in the sky" which rule his life.

Another minor case was traced to the malicious mischief of three boys between the ages of 8 and 12.
But mostly they have been the result of some disgruntled employe trying "to get back at" some boss or co-worker. One, in a shell-case plant, which might have had serious results later on, was hardly more than the vicious prank of a perverted sense of humor.

(Tomorrow—Modern Sabotage and How It Is Fought.)

Raleigh, Oct. 30.—Any danger of a diphtheria epidemic in North Carolina would seem to have passed, if the weekly report of the Division of Epidemiology of the North Carolina State Board of Health for the week ended October 18 could be given full faith and credit.

Girl Scouts Cooperate

The green Girl Scout uniform and the famous Red Cross are seen together these days in many communities. The Girl Scouts are learning useful defense skills under the guidance of the great
"merry" organization, and, in turn, are serving it well in the tasks young, active, energetic youngsters can perform.

berger....The one criminal cause on next week's Supreme court docket is appeal of Frank Starnes, Mecklenburg Negro, from a death verdict in the slaying of a Negroess with whom he had been living as man and wife, when he found her in bed with another man....Indians are figuring three times in the news of the last few days. The State Board of Education authorized special schools for them in Sampson, the Supreme court heard oral argument on whether the United States has sole criminal jurisdiction over the Cherokee reservation in Swain, and the FSA announces that "The Indian in National Defense" will be an added feature this year when the pageant depicting the early life and progress of Robeson county Indians is presented in the Pembroke Indian college gym....The 26th semi-annual convention of the N. C. Chicagoans Association will be held here November 1 and 2...."Labor should never abuse this right (to strike), under threat that the same public that granted the relief in the first place can and may take away the right if it is abused." No, the quote is not from a politician seeking to ban strikes, but from an organizer of Carpenters and Joiners localizer Boyd of High Point, seeking to restrain Thomasville and other furniture workers from walking out at all of the Upsonites union....Incidentally, he "regretted" that Thomasville denied him the use of the city hall or any public building for his address.

TO EMPHASIZE DEFENSE WEEK

Gov. Broughton To Issue Call To N. C. Citizens

Reflector Bureau.
By HENRY AVERILL
Raleigh, Oct. 29.—Governor J. Melville Broughton will soon (perhaps today, even) issue a call to the people of North Carolina to observe and fully participate in Civilian Defense Week, November 11-16—a week which President Franklin D. Roosevelt recently proclaimed.

Governor Broughton will emphasize the theme of the week. The only effective answer to total war is total defense. He will restate the purposes of the observance as announced by the President; and he will doubtless appoint proper state and local directors for the week.

The week's purpose is three-fold: (1) To stimulate the people to an awareness of the need for civilian defense and the many specific ways in which people can participate; (2) To inform the people as to how local civilian defense groups are being organized and how a civilian can enroll and serve; and (3) To stimulate the establishment of volunteer offices so that active civilian protection and community service programs can proceed promptly.

Each day of the week will have a specific title and purpose, and special activities are suggested by the President for each day.

The six days, with a brief outline of their themes: (1) Armistice Day, the purpose will be to emphasize that Armistice day is a symbol of the determination of the country to preserve the ideals upon which it was founded. Civilians will be urged to assist World War veterans in demonstrating their support of Civilian Defense activities.

(2) War Against Waste Day, Wednesday, November 12.—The purpose will be to inform the public why and how critical supplies required for national defense and essential uses should be conserved. The method will be to encourage all consumer groups to avoid waste of all kinds, to see to the proper maintenance and repair of consumer goods and to buy only to meet current needs.

(3) Sign Up For Defense Day, Thursday, November 13.—The purpose is to inform the public of the existence of the volunteer offices or to stimulate their establishment, and to explain the range of their activities. Through newspapers, radio and speeches all citizens will be urged to enroll at the office in their community.

(4) Health and Welfare Day, Friday, November 14.—The purpose will be to emphasize the importance of a healthy and secure population as a foundation for strong military defense; to minimize the economic and social disturbances caused by the impact of the defense program and its consequent shortages, unemployment, etc., to promote the cause of physical well-being, especially in time of trial.

(5) Civilian Protection Day, Saturday, November 15.—The purpose will be to stress the need for civilian protection, particularly in target areas and the need for civilian participation in community service activities everywhere and to stimulate the desire to volunteer for service in both. There will be explanations and demonstrations of the existence of and role played by each unit of the Citizens' Defense Corps.

(6) Freedom Day, Sunday, November 16.—The purpose will be to reaffirm our faith in the fundamental freedoms. Through cooperation of churches and citizens the day will be devoted both during church services and at community meetings to a re-examination of our historical principles and the threat to them today.

WORK LONGER, GET MORE PAY

Statistics on Tar Heel Workers Are Released

Reflector Bureau.
By HENRY AVERILL
Raleigh, Oct. 29.—North Carolina workers got more money per week in September than in August—but it was more because they worked longer hours than because there were any appreciable number of pay rate increases.

The State Department of Labor's statistics on 229,859 workers employed by 1,300 different concerns showed that gross pay totals for September were up 23 per cent over August, and average weekly earnings jumped 9 per cent, to $16.66. The 1,300 concerns worked but week increased by 15 per cent, while the increase in average hourly pay rates was less than one-half of one per cent (four-tenths of one, to be exact).

Workers engaged in manufacturing were slightly better paid than others and they worked shorter hours, though not by much. Thus for all manufacturing industries the average weekly wage was $16.77 compared with $15.93 for non-manufacturing, while hours were 38.7 per week against 40.6 for the workers in non-manufacturing industries. Reason for the only slight effect of the non-manufacturing wage tion of churches and citizens the day will be devoted both during church services and at community meetings to a re-examination of our historical principles and the threat to them today.

average on the ground total is that the figures covered 207,406 manufacturing workers against only 13,413 in other industries.

There were the usual hills and valleys in employment and pay. Highest paid workers in the state on the labor department figures, were insurance and brokerage house employees, whose weekly wages averaged $37.60.

Only other category of workmen in the $30 a week class was the pulp mill worker, who received an average of $31.71.

Highest average hourly wages were paid workers in the printing and publishing trade. They made 74.8 cents an hour, against the 74 of the pulp mill employees, who worked longer hours to get higher weekly wages.

Hours worked were not available on insurance and broker employees. Shortest work week was for the hosiery workers (not full-fashioned and seamless) and retail store employees. These three classes worked 35.4 hours weekly.

At the other end of the line, hotel workers made the least money per week, had the lowest average hourly pay rate and worked the most hours every week. The 1,175 employees of 19 reporting hotels worked an average of 49.9 hours each week at an average rate of 20.4 cents per hour to give them an average weekly wage of $9.99—the only group of employees on the list who got less than $10 a week on the average.

Average weekly earnings of various industries were: Brick, tile and terra cotta, $16.48; cotton goods, $17.65; cottonseed oil, $15.30; dyeing and finishing, $18.28; fertilizer, $13.90; furniture, $19.48; full-fashioned hosiery, $21.28; seamless hosiery, $16.03; flat knit-goods, $17.18; lumber, including planing mills, $15.77; paper boxes, $18.66; pulp mills, $31.71; printing and publishing, $29.35; rayon, $19.17; tobacco products, snuff, cigarettes, etc., $25.67; woolen mills, $19.34; retail workers, $12.99; wholesale workers, $23.89; laundries, dyeing and cleaning, $12.98; wines and liquors, $15.98; hotels, $9.99; insurance and brokers, $37.60.

Urging Employers Aid Released Men

All employers in North Carolina, especially those who have pressing need for additional help, should immediately list their employment needs with their nearest State Employment Office to facilitate the proper placing of men who are being relieved from active military duty, the local selective service office said today.

"All cases of unemployed ex-service men, or those who desire new jobs, are referred by Selective Service local board reemployment committees to the State Employment Office," they said. "This facilitates cooperation with employers to make intelligent distribution of this additional manpower for National Defense production. The first and important obligation of the employer, however, is that he advise his nearest State Employment Office fully as to his employment needs."

It was pointed out that while the law makes it mandatory for an employer to restore a returning soldier to his former position, a position of like seniority, status and pay, many men who are completely untrained in the regular army, navy and marine corps, as well as selectees, were unemployed when they began their military service. To expedite the proper placing of these men, the selective service employment program has been amplified by arrangements to establish "referral offices" in army camps to interview men whose records indicate they might be useful in the priorities divisions of National Defense production and to so classify them before they leave the army.

Bitter Contest Between Phantoms And Jackets Ahead.

FOES TO PLAY FRIDAY NIGHT

Phantoms To Be After Revenge For Last Year

By PERCY WELLS
Tomorrow night is the big night for the Green Phantoms who will clash against the Elizabeth City Yellow Jackets here in the Guy Smith stadium. A record crowd and one of the classic battles of the conference are expected.
Coach Bo Farley has been running his boys through power-drilling plays and they are reported to be in good shape. The locals will be out for revenge for last year's classic.
In last year's game, the Greenies traveled to Elizabeth City and came home holding the small end of a 19-2 score.
In the conference "standings" Elizabeth City shares second place with Winston while the G-Men look up from fourth place. The Jackets have not lost a conference tilt so far but have tied a game with Winston.

Of Mice And Women
Nowata, Okla.—(AP)—Dorothy McGee, Frances Deen and Mrs. Marie Liston received a small package addressed to all three at the county agent's office where they work. They opened it.
Three mice leaped out.

The history of conducting can be traced back at least to the 18th century when it was customary to beat time at the Sistine Choir in Rome with a roll of paper called a "Sol-Fa."

DUKE REVEALS PIRATES LEAVE CARD FOR 1942

Texas Aggies To Replace Tennessee On Schedule

Durham, Oct. 30.—Wallace Wade, director of athletics and head coach of football at Duke university, today announced the 1942 schedule for his Blue Devil gridmen—a schedule that will pit his charges against some of the top teams in the East, Southeast and Southwest as well as traditional Southern Conference foes.
All of Duke's 1941 opponents are retained on next year's slate, with the exception of the University of Tennessee. The Vols will be replaced by the Aggies of Texas A. and M. who invade Duke stadium on October 10, marking the Blue Devil's first meeting with a Southwest-ern conference team.
The appearance of the Aggies, currently one of the nation's foremost eleven, highlights a home schedule that also includes contests with Davidson, Georgia Tech, Maryland and North Carolina State.
Colgate's Red Raiders, who have given unbeaten Duke its stiffest test to date, are due to come up with one of the East's finest outfits in 1942. They will be met in Hamilton, N. Y., on the first of two long trips on successive week-ends. After Colgate comes Pittsburgh and the Panthers will again be tackled in their Smokey City stronghold.
Wake Forest and North Carolina—sturdy conference and Big Five rivals—will likewise be engaged on their home lots. Duke's second game on October 3 is with the Deacons at Groves stadium. And the battle with Carolina's Tar Heels has been set for November 14.
Here is Duke's 1942 schedule:
Sept. 26.—Davidson at Durham.
Oct. 3.—Wake Forest at Wake Forest.
Oct. 10.—Texas A. and M. at Durham.
Oct. 17.—Colgate at Hamilton, N. Y.
Oct. 24.—Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh, Pa.
Oct. 31.—Georgia Tech at Durham.
Nov. 7.—Maryland at Durham.
Nov. 14.—North Carolina at Chapel Hill.
Nov. 21.—N. C. State at Durham.

The city of New York had a population of less than 400,000 a hundred years ago.
Twenty-five per cent of Australian males between 18 and 45 years old had voluntarily enlisted in Australian fighting forces by June 20, according to an official publication.

Tigers Score Win Over Pace-Setters

In yesterday's passball game the rambling Tigers came through with a 33-28 victory over the undefeated league-leading Lions. To put a little spirit in the faltering Tigers, Jimmie Morton, captain for the Tigers, led his teammates on to victory, assisted by Charles Danie, Graham Baker, Lee Richards, and Junior Edwards. For the losing league-leading Lions were Nanni Lou Wingate, Kay Brantley, Mac Nichols, Charles Williams, George Campbell, and Leslie Scott.
A large number of interested visitors attended to learn how to play this new aerial game, which can be played indoors as well as out of doors.

Edson of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Gibson of this city, has played a great part of the time this season in thine for State and turned in a great performance against Wake Forest two weeks ago.

One of the coaching staff for the Wolfpack was heard to remark recently that Ed had shown the greatest improvement this season of any of his on the entire squad and though here has been plenty of competition for his position in the State lineup, he has been in there plugging away in every game.

Gibson, not only a hard hitting football player but is reported to be the highest scholastic rated man on the squad. During his freshman year at State he made the Phi Eta Sigma Honorary Fraternity which is the highest scholastic honor a freshman can attain.

He is a Junior in Chemical Engineering and has played two years on the Wolfpack varsity team.
He was a star line-man on the local high school team in 1938, playing every minute of every game except seven minutes. He was also president of the Senior class that same year.

STATE'S LABOR ROW GOES ON

Jurisdictional Dispute Rages In Piedmont Area

Raleigh, Oct. 29.—North Carolina's little labor war within the A. F. of L. goes merrily on at Thom- asville and High Point, but so far has not arrived at the point where there has been a strike or work stoppage because the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners cannot agree with the Upholsterers Union as to what workers shall belong to which units.

It seems that the Upholsterers not so long ago "broadened" their constitution so as to take in some classes of workers previously eligible only for membership in the C. and J. union. Naturally there was resentment.

Under George Walker, regional director, the upholsterers have undoubtedly obtained a majority in some of the Thomasville furniture factories—and M. L. Baumgardner, an organizer for the international has announced his group is ready for anything, including even a strike for which it has put $75,000 in the bank.
It seems also that the Carpenters and Joiners, under rules of the A.

Happy Relief From Painful Backache

Many of those growing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Chapter 15
Strange Call

Ginny turned, seized Sue Ellen's hand and swung her about so that she faced her. Ginny's small face was shocked and incredulous. "For get the whole affair! Be happy! How can you, Sue?"

"Because I have my pride," boasted Sue Ellen.

"Pride wouldn't reconcile me to a man who did a shabby trick like that to me."

"I knew I should not have dis cussed Riv with you," said Sue Ellen stiffly.

"Why did you?"

"Because—" Suddenly all her confidence in Riv collapsed. She felt dispirited and hopelessly un certain. "Because I had to talk to someone, Ginny. Because I don't dare let Aunt Car or Aunt Pleas know, or they'd never allow me to marry Riv. I couldn't let all Tyler Springs know that I had to break off my engagement. I'd rather over look what White Sulphur episode en tirely, but— I can't forget it! I can't feel toward Riv as I should feel, Ginny."

"Hush. Let's go someplace else and not stand here in the public streets. Even the trees in Tyler Springs have ears."

"I am a fool," confessed Sue Ellen as they walked along together. "What would you do, Ginny?"

"Do!" said Ginny positively. "There's just one thing I'd do. Take the train to Washington and have it out with Riv where all of Tyler Springs can't witness the meeting. You can't call the operator for on distance without the town grapevine going into action. Take the train tomorrow morning and tell Riv Moore you've come to marry him. That's the only thing that will stop this gossip."

"I will take money."

"Get it. If you love Riv and want to marry him, don't let anything stand in the way of your marriage. Hold Riv to his first plan to marry you before Christmas. Put an an nouncement in the paper before you leave that you've gone to Wash ington to be married. Get it over," said Ginny. "You want Riv—get him before some other girl falls for his handsome face and romantic eyes."

Just for a minute Sue Ellen won dered if she did want Riv badly enough to fight for him.

"I'll be a bride when you see me next," she told Ginny as she left her at her own gate.

Ginny said: "Congratulations."

Sue Ellen buzzed about some thing in Ginny's tone which hinted that she did not believe she would marry Riv. Ginny disliked Riv, yet urged her to go to Washington and demand that he carry out their original plan and marry her. Gin ny was sharp and sarcastic, but un der the prickly surface, Ginny was her friend.

On the way home, as she was crossing the square, a bus pulled up. A bus which left town on the high way which passed the old Fairchild plantation owned by Deedora Wal ler's father.

Tornado Kills Five In Arkansas Town

These young people found their automobile still parked but surrounded by the wreckage of homes blown down by a tornado that killed five persons and injured at least 15 at Dardanelle, Ark. Six hours later another twister struck the town of Hamburg, Ark., killing at least nine and injuring several scores.

cerns Riv Moore—it concerns you and me."

"Me?" Deedora dropped her glance hastily before Sue Ellen's grave, earnest eyes. "Well — let's have it," she ended, smiling faintly. She reached for a cigarette, struck a match and lighted it.

There was a girl with Riv at White Sulphur Springs last summer.

"Oh—that," she interrupted. "It's the Virginia Major who's spreading the story of a remarkable resemblance between a man he saw there and your fiancé, isn't it?" She emphasized the last word slightly and Sue Ellen flushed.

"Yes, and naturally that con cerns me, and possibly you."

Deedora smoked for a moment without speaking.

"Were you at White Sulphur with Riv?" asked Sue Ellen directly.

After a moment, Deedora said with no change whatever in her even tone: "Yes—I was. What are you going to do about it?"

"I'm going to marry him im mediately and stop this gossip."

Deedora arose and moved across the room. She came back to where Sue Ellen sat and stood in front of her, looking down at her. She stubbed out her cigarette and laughed. A harsh unnatural laugh.

"You intend to marry Riv Moore —now?"

Sue Ellen twisted her shaking hands together in her lap. Her eyes met Deedora's scornful glance steadily. "I can forgive Riv easier than I can endure the ridicule of all Tyler Springs if I break my en gagement to him. I've been engaged to Riv ever since I was seven teen. I've known him all my life. Everyone has expected me to marry him."

"You love him?" asked Deedora curiously.

"Of course I love him."

"Then there's just one thing for you to do. Talk to Riv."

"I intend to," Sue Ellen arose. This trip had been just as unsuccess ful as she thought it would be. Deedora was hard and ruthless and lacked sympathy. She hated her—hated her assurance and her wealth. Even though she married Riv, things could never be the same. In that one moment she despised Deedora and girls like her, who took love lightly. Who could laugh at a sordid, cheap affair. Some of this contempt crept into her tone and Deedora seemed to catch it, for she said: "Don't judge me too harshly until you have talked to Riv."

"I have talked to Riv."

"You mean—he has consented to an immediate marriage?"

"I shall persuade him to marry me at once. I'm leaving for Wash ington in the morning."

There was an odd weariness in Deedora's eyes. "I owe you an apolo gy," she said, and then added thoughtfully, "maybe not, though. Possibly, what I have done may open your eyes to Riv and his weak nesses and you'll hate him as thor oughly as I hate him now. If I could undo this silly affair, I'd give anything in the world to undo it. It won't spoil your life—it has made a mess of mine."

The despair in her face moved Sue Ellen so that for a minute she forgot her own anxiety. "I'm sorry."

November 4th Set As Roll Call Day

November 4 is the date set for the annual Red Cross Roll Call in this county. Committees in each district throughout the county are busy laying plans to make this the most successful Roll Call in years.

Due to the increased demands which are being placed upon it by the national defense emergency, the Red Cross finds itself faced with a greater responsibility this year. It can meet this responsibility only through securing a larger enrollment than in any previous year. In keeping with the increased need, a membership goal of 3,800 has been set for Pitt County. "We must go over the top in this Roll Call," said Mr. J. Nat Harrison, chairman of the Pitt county chapter, "because the continuance of the national Red Cross program depends upon the success of the local chapters in appealing for members."

To help stimulate interest in the county-wide Roll Call, Reynolds May will speak in its behalf tomorrow evening at 7:15 over WGTC.

WARD REVEALS SAFETY RULES

Lays Down Regulations In School Bus Release

By HENRY AVERILL
Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Oct. 30.—Commissioner of Motor Vehicles T. Boddie Ward today issued a lengthy statement on the program of school bus driver training, recently completed in the state—but what was more important, he laid down the fundamental principles upon which he expects to improve the state's bloody highway safety record.

The principles were outlined in a comparatively brief sentence far down in the release:

"In my considered judgment, proper training of drivers of all classes is the most essential prerequisite to safety on our highways," he said. "A license to drive a motor vehicle, a most deadly weapon, should be granted only to those who demonstrate their competency and when there is ample evidence that the driver is incompetent and has abused the privilege, it should be withdrawn."

This doesn't say it in so many words, but what it means is that Mr. Ward is preparing to urge upon the 1943 legislature:

1. A complete and drastic revision of present driver license requirements so that no person shall be granted the right to operate a motor vehicle in North Carolina unless he has completed training courses of sufficient thoroughness to insure competency of those passing the course. Going further, Mr. Ward will seek legislation making the inclusion of a safety course in the public schools mandatory, from kindergarten through graduation from high school—the course to include practical driving experience.

2. Legislation making a conviction for speeding carry with a mandatory suspension of driver's license for not less than 30 days. As a corollary, legislation making 65 miles per hour, rather than 60, the top speed on any North Carolina highway anywhere. The commissioner said he does not approve of too many mandatory provisions, but added that conviction for speeding is of sufficient gravity to take away from judge or motor vehicle department any discretion.

As for the school bus training program, about which the statement concerned itself at length, Mr. Ward said that it reached 7,609 white and Negro drivers in all counties of the state.

"This was the first program of its kind ever undertaken by this or any other state on a statewide basis and I believe it will be productive of good results," said Mr. Ward.

His next sentence proved he is fully aware that no such training course, conducted so hastily, can accomplish the impossible and make every school bus driver to expert as to insure there will be no accidents.

"While the training will prove helpful, it is far from what it should be due to the limited time and number who were able to participate," he said.

Nathan Yelton, executive secretary of the School Commission, put his stamp of approval on the program, but like Mr. Ward cautioned that no miracles have been accomplished.

"Last year's unfortunate experience showed us the need for more competent school bus drivers. These clinics are the beginning of our answer to that challenge. We will have accidents this year despite what we have done, but we can console ourselves with the knowledge that we have gone to considerable trouble and expense to see that our school bus drivers are physically and mentally capable."

C. C. Brown, director of transportation for the School Commission, was most enthusiastic.

"These clinics were the most important and progressive step in school transportation since North Carolina took over the operation of its school buses. This program should certainly result in a substantial saving in bus maintenance costs, aside from its other benefits."

Ronald Hocutt, director of the highway safety division said: "I hope that this program will point the need and importance of driver training, and that it will help pave the way for inaugurating driver training courses in the North Carolina high schools."

"If the state deems it important and necessary to provide this special training for school bus drivers then we consider it logical and equally necessary to provide comparable training for everyone using our highways. The day should not be far distant when this additional life-saving step is taken."

While the training program covered every county in the state, it by no means solved even this year's problems. Since the opening of schools last month hardly a day has passed without a request from some county for instructors to train drivers to replace some who have withdrawn from school, quit driving for one reason or another, or been found incompetent.

As a result the safety division instructors have been on a constant run. Even Director Hocutt himself has gone into the field to give instruction.

And still the problem of where to lodge responsibility for the retaining program hasn't been officially solved—though there seems no reason to doubt that the safety division—not the School Commission, will be given the job in the long run.

European Russia is virtually one vast, rolling plain.

To Take Part In College Play

When the old-fashioned melodrama "On the Bridge at Midnight" is given at the college tomorrow two of the leading roles will be taken by students known from last year's productions at E. C. T. C. Charles Marks (left) will take the role of the manly hero, who marries a chorus girl and brings her home to his aristocratic family; and Martha Whelless of Louisburg (right) that of the neighborhood gossip who makes his life miserable. Marks played last year in "Sky Fodder" and Martha Whelless in "Ramona."

The play will present the usual persecuted heroine of a melodrama, in the chorus girl, played by Virginia Cook of Greenville, and the usual villain, played by Charles Cushman of Fayetteville. And the plot is based on the foiling of the villain's wiles. Annie Sue Perry of Mary Hill, is the hero's aristocratic mother, and Hazel Willford of Greenville, his sister, and Sidney Johnson, also of Greenville, the pompous butler. Donald Perry of Washington, has the second lead in the play. Lois Sessions of Ahoskie, plays the part of a young lady who stutters. Others in the cast are Rita Messick of Washington, Eugenia Marshburn of Rocky Mount, and Grace Johnson of Kingston.

This first production of the year is being directed by Miss Lena Ellis and Clifton Britton.

The curtain will go up tomorrow night at 8:30.

NATION'S FARM INCOME SOARS

Expected to Approach 13 Billion For This Year

Constantly soaring, American farm income is expected to approach 13 billion dollars in 1942, the greatest since 1920, Dr. I. O. Schaub, director of the N. C. State College Extension Service, said today.

Latest estimates released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture predict a demand for farm products in 1942 "even greater than the huge demands of 1941."

Improved returns were forecast largely on the basis of higher average prices received in 1942 than in 1941, although a moderate increase in production, particularly livestock and livestock products, will contribute.

However, Dr. Schaub warned, the cost of farm production is expected to rise substantially next year, but not enough to offset the increase in prices received by farmers. For the year 1942, the ratio of prices received to prices paid should be about at parity.

Federal experts, in their latest outlook report, point out that farm prices this year will average nearly 25 per cent over those of 1940 and that a gain of about the same proportions is indicated for 1942 over 1941.

There will be a sharp increase in the production of livestock products if contemplated goals are met in all states. This will more than offset a decline of nearly 10 per cent in the output of crops.

Farm wage rates are expected to be higher next year, and moderate advances will probably take place in the prices of farm machinery, fertilizer, seed, gas, oil, and possibly in taxes.
