Finland Rejects U.S. Warning to Withdraw From War

ASSERTS FINNISH ON DEFENSIVE

Helsinki Advises U.S. However, That She Has No Desire To Continue Conflict Any Longer Than Her Vital Security Demands; Interpreted In Berlin as "Ear-Boxing" For FDR

Helsinki, Nov. 12.—(AP) Finland today turned down a United States warning to withdraw from the war against Russia on pain of losing American friendship and insisted she was still fighting a defensive war against the Soviet.

The decision was made public in a note issued after a lengthy session of the government. It was this country's answer to the warning disclosed November 3 in Washington by U. S. Secretary of State Hull.

Finland, the Helsinki government advised the United States, does not want to continue the fight against Russia any longer than her vital

Berlin, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The Finnish reply to the United States was declared by a Wilhelmstrasse spokesman today to have produced a feeling of "joy to live in this Europe where there are such brave peoples as the Finns."

The spokesman said the reply to "pressure attempts by the American President" constituted an "ear-boxing of the hysteric old man in the White House."

security demands, but she can not expose herself to future peril by artificially interrupting military operations before the objective is wholly realized.

The note said the defensive nature of the struggle was not altered by the Finnish army's effort to "make harmless and man the enemy attack bases beyond the 1939 borders."

It said that if Finland had had sufficient strength during the 1939-40 winter war, she would have done the same and "surely nobody would have doubted the justice of the Finnish operations."

The government said that the United States had assumed that Finland's freedom of action "and even her independence, have been imperiled by Germany."

"Finland herself has no reason to assume she is in any such danger," the note added.

It explained it was a coincidence that Germany took up arms against Russia, a coincidence which saved Finland from standing alone again in a fight which "would have denoted the doom of Finland and the entire North."

Finland, since going to war against Russia last June 25, has regained substantially all the territory she was forced to concede to Russia after the 1939-40 winter war, but the government said that vital areas still were in Russian hands.

Taxi Operator Seeks Recover for Damages

L. W. Herring, trading as the A-A Taxi Company, has through his attorneys, Harding and Lee, filed a civil action in Pitt Superior court to recover damages caused to one of his cabs in a collision with one driven and owned by D. G. McLeod of Rocky Mount.

The complaint alleges that on October 24 an employee of the taxi company, LeRoy Whitehurst, was taking a passenger about two and a half miles from Greenville on highway No. 43 and that when he started to make a left hand turn after giving the proper signal, the defendant's car collided into the cab, causing damage estimated at $198.83. The plaintiff also asks $45 for being deprived of the car while it was being repaired.

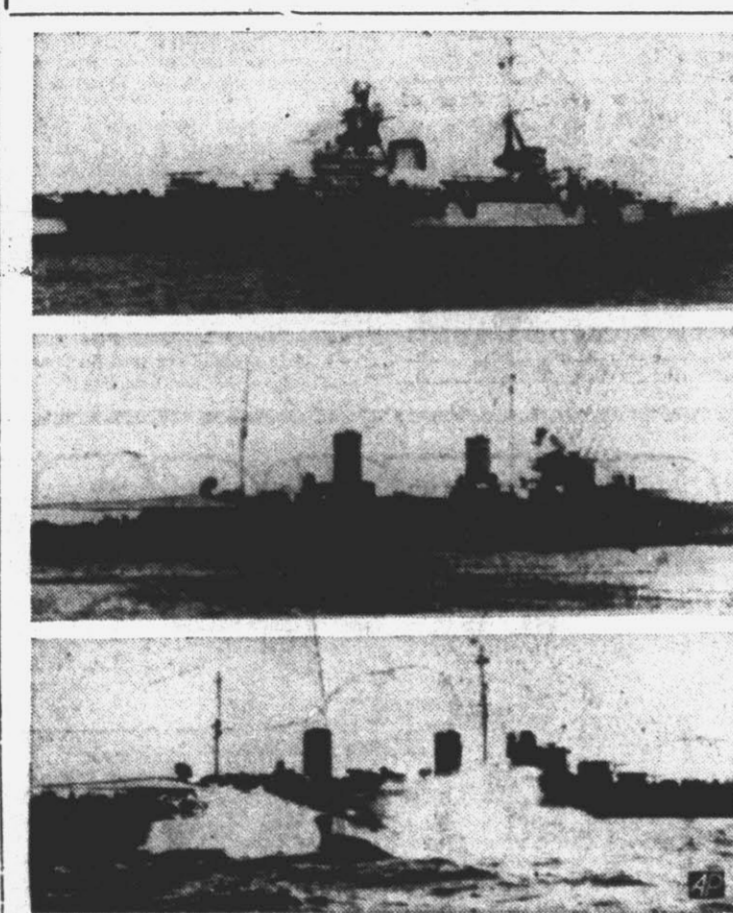

Vichy Official Dead

Vichy, Nov. 12.—(AP)—General Charles Huntziger, Vichy's War Minister, was burned to death today when a plane in which he was returning to Vichy from a tour of North Africa crashed in southern France.

Seven other persons lost their lives in the crash. Death of the general, who signed the 1940 armistice between Germany and France, was reported shortly after officials had made known their concern for him. His plane had been missing more than seven hours.

Ships In British Sea Victory

The British Admiralty says two Italian cruisers of the Trento class (top) guarded two Axis convoys which were "annihilated" by British war ships off southern Italy. The Admiralty said the British cruisers Penelope (center) and Aurora (bottom) took part in the attack. Thousands of Axis troops destined for North Africa were believed to have been aboard the ten Axis supply ships reported sunk.

SMITH SPEAKS OUT AT LABOR

Demands Something Be Done Against Dictatorship

Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Representative Smith (D-Va) speaking directly to administration leaders working to keep party lines intact for neutrality revision, declared today that he would vote against the legislation unless the government "puts a stop to the labor dictatorship" he said was sabotaging the defense effort. Smith, who said he had voted for all previous defense legislation, said that because of the "unruly elements in our midst," he was not prepared to support the proposed revision to permit merchant ships to travel to belligerent ports. Speaker Rayburn, however, told reporters he was confident of passage by a "substantial majority."

Agree Underwrite Biblical Recorder

Asheville, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The 111th Baptist State Convention voted unanimously today to assume financial responsibility for the Biblical Recorder, state Baptist magazine, and empowered its directors to select an editor to succeed Dr. John Slomp. Dr. Slomp gave up the position last month to assume editorial duties with the American Baptist Publication Society.

Entire Student Body To Hear First Lady

When Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt faces her audience at 8:30 next Monday evening, November 17, in the Wright auditorium of East Carolina Teachers College, she will see 1200 young people from all sections of the state, literally from Currituck to Cherokee. The entire student body of the College from the majority of the counties of the state, western as well as eastern, will be there. Among them will be a sprinkling of students from other states also.

Blockade Efforts Declared Failure

Prime Minister Reveals To Cheering House That Hitler Had Counted More On Starving Britain Than On Invading Isles

London, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill declared today Adolf Hitler had failed to bring Britain to her knees through a starvation blockade and thus might be forced into attempting invasion "as soon as he can screw up his courage and make arrangements to take the plunge."

The prime minister told a cheering House of Commons that it had been learned through Britain's No. One prisoner, Rudolf Hess, who flew from Germany to Scotland, "that Hitler originally counted more on starvation of the British than on invasion."

Any such hopes, Churchill declared, crumbled through an improvement in Britain's shipping situation. This was high-spotted by the prime minister's report that:

- 1. "In 1943 we shall have sufficient shipping to undertake overseas operations."
2. "Almost 1,000,000 tons of Axis shipping were sent to the bottom or damaged seriously in the four months ending in October."
3. "During that same period Britain's shipping losses dropped almost two-thirds."

Speaking with cautious confidence, Churchill promised that better food for Britain's workers would result from an improvement in exports and bigger crops at home, but he added:

"Satisfactory as the results are, there must be no relaxation of our efforts, not only because of the ever-present menace to importations from abroad, but it may yet be that as the war develops military operations may make more extensive demands upon our shipping."

He did not elaborate that theme to explain whether such military operations be in Africa or in the movement of troops for action on the Russian front.

He avoided all mention of the government's frequently criticized aid to Russia.

PARADE PLANS ARE OUTLINED

Elaborate Program to Usher In Christmas Season Complete plans for an elaborate program ushering in the Christmas season were mapped this morning at a meeting of a special committee of the Merchants Association and attended by Martin Swartz, superintendent of the Greenville Utilities Commission.

Although Greenville is not included in the OPM order calling for reductions in the use of electrical energy, the organization has asked Greenville and other municipalities owning their own plants to cooperate by curtailing decorative lighting during the season.

In cooperation with this request, the street lighting for Christmas will be curtailed this year, but not abandoned completely. The decorations at Five Points will include lights and the various light poles on the white way will be decorated with evergreen to carry out the holiday spirit.

One of the largest and best parades ever staged here is contemplated for the night of December 4. The Merchants Association will provide an extensive float to bear old Santa Claus in all his glory for the parade. No candy or gifts will be distributed, however. The line of march will include the colored section of the city.

Several local business firms have indicated they would enter floats in the parade and the Merchants Association is offering prizes for the best floats entered by any Greenville business firm, church, civic club, or other organization. In addition, prizes will be given to the best floats entered from throughout the county. First prize in each contest will be a $25 cash award, with $10 going to second prize winners and $5 to third prize winners. Out-of-town judges will decide the winners.

With prizes being awarded both to Greenville and county entries, many floats are expected to be entered. While Santa will arrive with the parade, he will not be here to stay until December 17, an which date stores will start remaining open evenings.

Although plans are progressing satisfactorily, another meeting of the committee will be held Monday night at 8 o'clock. Members of the committee are Chairman C. R. McBrayer, Curtis Perkins, J. A. Collins, L. S. Garris and C. H. Edwards.

All You Need Is A Little Salt Oklahoma City.—(AP)—A duck in the hand is a lot more fun than a flock on the lake. Walter C. Bonebrake, who speaks from experience contends, Bonebrake stepped to the edge of a small lake, shotgun in hand. A startled flock of ducks whirred into him. He grabbed. When the air cleared, Bonebrake swears, he still held his shotgun in one hand. In the other was a live, unharmed greenhead mallard drake.

At U. S. Population Center

Geneva Sutton, 18-year-old farm girl living nearby, sits on the fence post which has just been designated as marking the new center of population of the United States. The center, decided by the census bureau in Washington, is two miles southeast of Carls, Pa.

Railroad Brotherhoods Call Strike For Dec. 7

Orders To Go Out To 350,000 Members Of Unions

Chicago, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Chiefs of the five operating brotherhoods in the railroad industry ordered their 350,000 members to strike beginning December 7 for a 30 per cent increase in wages.

The men were instructed to leave their jobs progressively on December 7, 8 and 9.

The statement, signed by the five chiefs of the operating brotherhoods read:

"The executives of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railroad Conductors, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and Switchmen's Union of North America announce today that strike on railroads involved in the wage dispute recently heard by an emergency board has been set for 6 a. m. Sunday, December 7, 6 a. m. Monday, December 8 and 6 a. m. Tuesday, December 9, 1941."

"The chairman of the carriers conference committee has been informed of the action and notice to the employees through general chairmen of the organizations will go forward immediately."

Church Is Faced By Labor Trouble

Durham, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Lay delegates to the North Carolina Methodist Conference were told today that the church needed a "CIO union—Christianity in Operation" with "longer working hours and increased personal sacrifices for the common good and the common goal."

E. T. Welch of Westfield, N. Y., president of the Methodist churches' general board of lay activities, addressed the conference lay delegates. "We have no picketing," Welch said, "but however our labor troubles may be described, we do have sit-downs, slow-downs, stay-at-homes, refusals to work, passive resistance and non-cooperation."

At the conference's second general session today, a group of young ministers who have completed their two years of probation were elected to "full connection" with the conference. They will be ordained deacons at ordination ceremonies on Thursday evening.

The young ministers are Virgil E. Queen of Carboro, Harold R. Stimpson of Durham, William H. Brady of Cerro, Clarence P. Parker of Rocky Mount, Haywood L. Harrell of Dover, and James H. Overton, Jr., of Raleigh.

SCOUTS TO AID IN MOVEMENT

Will Collect Waste Paper For Defense Needs

The United States government has requested the Boy Scouts of America to assist in a campaign to save waste paper. Paper is an essential item for the manufacture of war materials and the public is requested to save all newspapers, magazines, corrugated boxes, and mixed scrap paper to be remanufactured into items useful as war materials.

The Boy Scouts of Troops 30, 33, 36, 37, and 171 of Greenville will begin a campaign Saturday to collect waste paper in cooperation with the United States Defense program. The Scouts will make a house to house canvass as well as in the business section of Greenville. Each home and business firm is requested to have the waste paper ready when the Scouts call for it Saturday. Weekly collections will follow and it is hoped that all possible savings of this valuable war material may be realized.

Each Scout troop will store the paper it collects until a sufficient quantity is gathered for hauling. J. Sam Fleming will bale and transport the paper to the paper mill at Roanoke Rapids.

The following facts from recent government bulletins give specific information concerning the present need of paper:

Paper and cardboard boxes provide food containers. Only 28 per cent of the nation's paper is now being recovered. Most of it comes from large industries, department stores, large hotels, apartment houses and public buildings. About 50 per cent of the paper used is lost—going into furnaces, incinerators, and rubbish heaps.

The remaining 22 per cent goes now for permanent use as book, ledger, file paper and is not immediately destroyed.

Trade estimates indicate that the average family may save a pound of waste paper a day.

A ton of paper board contains 1,906 pounds of waste, cardboard and corrugated board.

Paper board boxes are used for packing and transporting shirts and shoes for the armed forces, parts of combat planes, munitions, rifles and chemicals.

Gypsum board is widely used in defense housing projects and in all building construction and is also made from waste paper.

At Gateway To Caucasus Oil Fields

Invaders Declared, However, To Have Been Battled To A Standstill On Central Front Leading To Moscow; Advance German Forces Now Declared To Be Within 31-35 Miles of Capital City

By The Associated Press Adolf Hitler's Crimean armies were reported to have reached the Black sea coast today just below Kerch, gateway to the Caucasus oil fields, while on the Central front the Russians declared they had battled the Germans to a standstill with more than 70,000 Nazis killed and wounded in the 41-day-old drive on Moscow.

Soviet dispatches admitted, however, that German troops had advanced to the vicinity of Narofominsk, 35 miles southwest of Moscow, but said the situation had been stabilized. The Germans said their advanced forces were within 31 miles of Moscow on one point.

Narofominsk lies on the Kaluga-Moscow highway, about 30 miles east of Maloyaroslavets, the scene of heavy recent fighting.

A bulletin from Hitler's field headquarters said German and Russian troops had planted their battle flags on the eastern shore of the Crimea after "sharp pursuit fighting" and Nazi front line dispatches reported that Kerch itself was jammed with fleeing Red army troops.

If true, the arrival of Axis forces along the Kerch strait would mean a critical stage had been reached in the battle of the Crimea. Less than four miles wide, the strait presumably would offer only a minor obstacle to Nazi veterans of the conquest of Crete across 75 miles of open water. Beyond the strait, on the Caucasian mainland, are situated the great wells providing much of heavy recent fighting.

The Germans said their dive bombers were inflicting havoc both at Kerch and Sevastopol, destroying port facilities and causing great losses in men and materials.

The German threat to Sevastopol was also apparently increasing, the Russians acknowledging they had withdrawn from the rail town of Bakhchisarai, 30 miles northeast of (Continued on Page Six)

Quota Reached By Two Legion Posts

The two American Legion posts in the county, Farmville No. 151 and Pitt County No. 39, exceeded their membership quota as of Armistice Day, as requested by state headquarters.

Farmville, with a previous high mark of 86, yesterday reported 100 members, while Greenville, which had 176 last year, reported 179 as of yesterday.

State headquarters had pledged national headquarters 100 per cent for Armistice Day and had requested each post in the state to reach its quota. Last year there were 14,811 Legion members in the state and two weeks ago North Carolina had reported 12,232 members for the new year and was in a tie with Arkansas for the greatest percentage of its quota.

The Winterville Woman's Club will meet in the club building on Friday afternoon at 3:15. The Civic and Welfare department will have charge of the program.

Mrs. Ruffin Entertains.
Mrs. A. C. Ruffin was hostess at bridge on Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. E. B. Ferguson, honoring Miss Jamie Merritt, whose marriage will be solemnized in Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church on Wednesday, November 19.

Yellow and white chrysanthemums were used to decorate the room where the playing table were arranged. At the close of the games a necklace was presented to Miss Jean Brown for making high score. The low score prize, a bet tray, was won by Mrs. D. W. Mosier.

During the refreshment hour the bridge tables were centered with burning white tapers, the holders of which were tied with bows of white ribbon and daisy chrysanthemums.

A delightful salad course with coffee was served.

Mrs. Ruffin gave an honor gift of china to Miss Merritt. Mrs. Charles Flanagan and Miss Jean Hodges were remembered with silent butlers.

All of the gifts were in attractive wrappings of white and tied with yellow ribbon, carrying out a color note of yellow and white used in the party appointments.

Literature Department Meets.
The Literature Department of the Woman's Club met Tuesday, November 11 in the parlors of Ragsdale Hall, with Misses Stella Grogan and Hazel Elsom as hostesses.

The rooms were cheery with brightly colored chrysanthemums and shaded lamps. Mrs. J. H. B. Moore announced the observance of National Defense Week, November 11-18, urging all members to be especially thrifty during this week. Paper and scrap metal brought to the Woman's Club will be sold, proceeds to be used in buying a Defense Bond.

Miss Eunice McGee, chairman of the Literature Department, introduced Miss Mary Ann Cobb of the Training school faculty, who presented a comprehensive and feeling review of William Alexander Percy's "Lanterns on the Levee." As Miss Cobb is a resident of Mississippi, her interpretation of life in that state was full of deep insight and genuine interest. William Alexander Percy II comes of a long line of men and women of strong character, noble spirit, loyal hearts, and with a sense of justice. For half a century he has been a vital part of an old South dying away and a new South in the making. Having been born in 1885, he is among those who shared the last of the old South, and took up the living so vastly different of the new South. His book "Lanterns on the Levee" is not only an autobiography of his life, filled to overflowing with things fine and splendid, but it also gives an excellent picture of those people who make up one of the rarest spots on earth—the Mississippi Delta. There the soil is more fertile than it is in any other part of the world, so say the geologists.

In reading the volume, one can truly appreciate the keen sensitive nature of the author and his love for and understanding of his own people, the Delta, folks—both white and black. Mr. Percy is a well educated man and well traveled, too. He is a graduate of Swarthmore and the Harvard Law School. He has traveled the world over and in a very leisurely way. Scattered through his book is humor, pathos and folklore, known only to those who know the Negroes as Mr. Percy knows them.

Burned With Powder

Tuesday afternoon little Linda Smith was playing with some gun powder. He struck a match to the powder to see what it would do and the powder did the rest.

Linda's hands and face are so badly burned that he is laid up in bed and suffering much pain. We hope he will soon be well and not play with any more powder.

Miss Forrest Entertains.

Miss Lillian Forrest delightfully entertained a group of her friends yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The reception hall and living room were attractively decorated with fall flowers. Bingo was played and lovely prizes were awarded.

Sandwiches, Ritz crackers, Pepsi-Cola, pickles and candies were served.

Those invited were: Mrs. Verna Gurganus, Miss Mary Baker, Mrs. Lucille Hassell, Miss Alma Bland, Miss Edna Tripp, Mrs. Sully Cannon, Miss Celia Crawford, Mrs. Bessie Speight, Miss Rosa Manning, Mrs. Helen Ross, Miss Vivian Muller and Mrs. Miriam Haddock. Remembrances were given each guest. Everyone had a grand time. —Reported.

Mrs. Brown Hostess.

Mrs. Wiley Brown was hostess to the Greenville chapter of Greensboro College Alumnae on Friday afternoon, November 7, at her home on Dickinson avenue. Mrs. R. M. Zahnizer was a welcome guest.

Prior to calling the meeting to order, a social hour was enjoyed, during which the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Zahnizer, served a delicious ice course.

Mrs. F. P. Brooks had charge of the program. Mrs. Brooks read interesting bits of information from the college bulletin and the Collegian, including the announcement that Greensboro College will undertake the raising of $150,000 to supplement insurance funds for the restoration of Main building which was partially destroyed by fire September 4, and to erect a new library building, made necessary by the fact that the old library quarters and art studio were destroyed by the fire.

The main part of the program consisted of the reading of the long poem "American Harvest," by Paul Engle, Iowa's poet of Iowa's farms, which Mrs. Brooks read with sympathy and understanding. When Paul Engle, a young Iowa poet of German descent, published his first book of verse, "American Song," in 1934, its native midwestern faith in America caught the attention of many readers. "American Song" became a best-seller all during that summer and fall. Engle was then a Rhodes scholar at Oxford. Now he is teaching at the University of Iowa. "American Harvest" is his latest poem. It ends with these significant lines:

"In our time, we will bring to a hungry world
Peace like a meadow marvelous in grass
And fill the future like an autumn barn
Over the eaves, clear to the roof-tree, with American harvest—freedom, corn and life."

Foreign Language Subjects Popular

By EDNA MUNFORD
It is the general idea around the high school that foreign languages are quite valuable.

With 165 students taking at least one of the three languages offered, which is over 26 per cent of the entire student body. French, Latin and Spanish have entered the "most valuable" list of elective subjects.

Sixty-two students are enrolled in the French department this year. This group which is much smaller than last year's number, is made up of first and second year students.

Miss Imogene Riddick is the teacher of both French classes. In the first year classes particular stress is placed on grammar and its fundamental rules. In the second year class students read and study French literature. At the present "L'Abbe Constantin" and "Les Trois Mousquetaires," two well known books, are being used in this department.

Spanish, an entirely new course now being offered, is proving to be a desirable subject for students seeking to learn a new language, according to reports from Spanish students. Mrs. Howard Mims, who joined the faculty last fall, is now teaching two classes in Spanish with a total enrollment of 51 students.

At the present there are 29 first year Latin students and 23 second year students studying Latin under Mrs. Riddick.

When asked what she thought of French, Miss Riddick stated "French is decidedly an enjoyable course. Many people take French for college preparation, to increase their vocabulary, to create an appreciation for French literature, to clear up English difficulties and to learn to speak and use the language."

Texas Cashes In On 5-Year Plan With A High-Scoring Power House

STRENGTH YET TO BE TESTED

Rate Most Powerful Gridiron Club In Southwest

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AP Feature Service

Austin, Tex. — The Texas Longhorns, although held to a surprising tie by Baylor, still rate as the most powerful gridiron club in the Southwest.

In their first six games no rival held the Texans below a four-touchdown winning margin. Then came Baylor and the 7-7 tie. It was just a story of one team being SP and the other not.

The Longhorns offer no excuses but they do point out that three of their aces — fullback Pete Layden, tackle Julian Garrett and end Mal Kutner were out with injuries. It might have been another story if these key men had been available.

Dana X. Bible started generating this Texas power five years ago when he left Nebraska to take over the Longhorns. It was a tough grind but Bible, a painstaking worker, slowly built Texas up.

A PFI Pan Does It.

Behind it all is a plan, a simple one, just like that used by many other schools. It consists of a fund raised by the alumni to provide jobs for athletes, working at a set wage.

At first the new men came in a trickle but soon the trickle grew to a stream and Bible's football ledger began to snatch unexpected victories.

A boy from one of the smaller high schools became the spark that drove the machine: Jack Crain, a bow-legged, barrel-chested youngster from Nocona.

Last Thanksgiving Day, already eliminated from the conference title race, Texas beat mighty Texas A. and M. 7-0 in one of the greatest upsets of football history.

There was a new field general for Texas that day. Jack Crain, the boy who had been scamping over Southwest Conference gridirons and into the headlines, didn't win individual glory against the Aggies.

His mates got the glory but close observers talked of the fine generalship of how Jack ran the Texas team in a way reminiscent of the great quarterbacks of Southwest history.

Texas has not been defeated since that day — few think the Longhorns will be beaten this year.

This season, Crain has been not only the field general but has returned to the glory he knew as a ball-carrier while a sophomore and part of his junior year. Texas leads the conference in scoring and yards gained and Crain is the boy who piles them up or sees that somebody else does it.

Major Cogs.

Crain and Pete Layden, a line-running fullback, lead the major cogs in the Texas offense. It's difficult to pick a stand-out star when you get past Crain and Layden. Especially is this true in the line.

Matty Bell, whose Southern Methodist team gave Texas its hardest battle — and lost 34-0 — says Bible has the fastest, quickest-charging college line he has ever seen.

It averages 201 pounds to the man, is smart, aggressive and durable. All members of the line are seniors except Harold Jungmichel, 200-lb. guard. The backfield is also made up entirely of last-year men and all have been through the grind of conference warfare and know the tricks of the trade from A to Z.

Noble Doss, a fine runner and defensive star, and Vernon Martin, one of the greatest blockers in Texas history, work with Crain and

Here's The Spark That Fires Texas

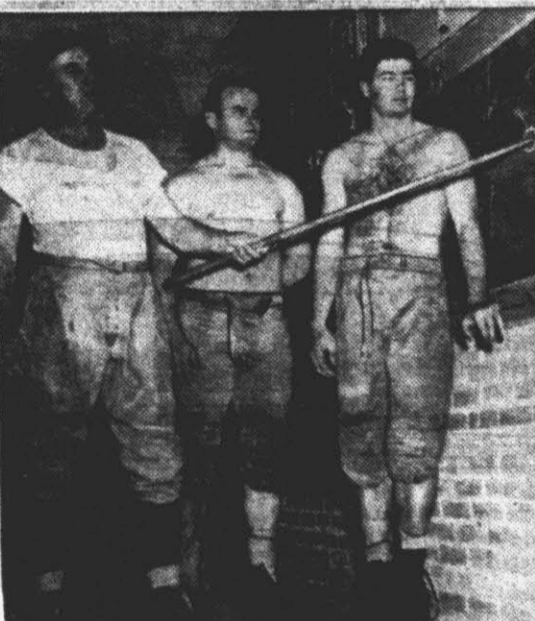

(AP Feature Service)

Football's "back-of-the-year" may be an overstuffed half-pint from Texas—Jack Crain. The standout star of a powerful University of Texas team, Jack made his early reputation as a speedy ball carrier two years ago. Late last fall he was made quarterback nad—partly because of his fine generalship—Texas hasn't lost a game since. In the Longhorns' first six games, Crain—playing only about half of each contest—personally gained 752 yards. Here's the Jackrabbit of the Southwest:

Crain is popular on the campus. He's a fancy-stepper and frequently attends the college dances (except during football season). Here he sips a soda with co-ed Vivienne Johnson of Kilgore, Texas. Jack hurries about the campus (left) wearing cowboy boots, regular dress for many of the Longhorns.

And this is the Jackrabbit in action. This sparkplug of the Longhorns is short but is built like a fireplug. He's 5-6 1-2, weighs 170 pounds.

Layden behind that line.

The second and third teams are liberally sprinkled with boys who know their way about. Many of them are former all-state scholastic performers.

PACK DEFEATS KINSTON TEAM

Phantoms To Meet Washington Here November 26

By SPENCER CARROLL

A capacity crowd saw the Washington Pam Pack defeat Kinston's high school Red Devils 14-13 in the Pamlico city last night. In an Eastern Conference football battle. Both teams pounded hard and the game was rough throughout. Kinston led at halftime 13-0.

After a scoreless first stanza, Bill Wooten, the lad who tossed the pass that tripped Greenville 7-6, took a Washington punt on his own two yard stripe and skatted back through the entire Pam Pack eleven for a sensational 89-yard touchdown. Wooten tore the Washington line to shreds and accounted for numerous gains. He was the sparkplug of the game, and made his 145 pounds fall heavy on the hosts. Ralph Oglesby booted the extra point.

It was in the same period that Wooten came to life and scored on a line plunge from the Washington 8, after his mates had pushed the Packs back on their heels. This time the all-important extra point failed on an attempted run.

Second Half

Kinston went to pieces in the third period and that quarter ended with no scoring from either team. The crowd, frostbitten and restless, built small fires all over the park and parties huddled under blankets to outdo the chilly November breezes from the Pamlico river nearby. Soon Frank Mock's Devils began to give ground and the final period turned into 12 minutes of unforgettable football thrills.

Washington Up

Washington drove down to Kinston's five yard stripe with aerial and ground attacks. From there, Bud Fowle, hard-charging back, carried over for a six-pointer. Washington drove over the extra marker. The Devils still led 13-7.

Kinston received the kickoff and a long, looping kick it was. Safetyman Wooten fumbled, picked up the ball and then fumbled again.

A Washington tackle picked up the ball and jaunted 35 yards for an illegal "touchdown." The ball was called back and Washington began to roll from there. Kinston repossessed the ball and fumbled again on the eight yard marker. The Pack led by Fowle, urged on by the fans, scored easily. Douglass Leggett booted the conversion.

A fist fight broke out in midfield soon after the Pack tallied and two hundred fans swarmed into the fight. No one was injured seriously, but plenty of thrills were issued.

Bob Miller, top, outstanding blocking back on the ECTC grid team, starred for the undefeated Teachers as they knocked Bergen College, Teaneck, N. He is a triple threat man, but is best known for his passing ability.

This was Kinston's first Eastern Conference loss. They have tied one and won three other loop contests. Washington now has four defeats to match her lone win. Greenville has three loop wins and two losses, which will give them a chance to take second place in conference finals. Goldsboro, undefeated, is leading the parade.

More Games

Greenville journeys to Roanoke Rapids Friday afternoon and will play Washington here November 26 at 8 o'clock in the classic loop game. Washington plays Roanoke Rapids Friday week. Kinston ends hostilities with Goldsboro next week.

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Stocks continued their slide into lower territory today with a large part of the market pressure attributed to selling to establish tax losses. Buying initiative was held in check by a moderate but rather steady flow of offerings and near the fourth hour leaders generally were off fractions to around a point, with several in low ground for the year.

COLORED NEWS

In order to help with the defense program, we have tried very hard to see that as many families as possible raised their own meat. This year as never before. Several year round gardens, can everything they can, can enough for each member of the family to have 70 quarts, and some for families who fall to can at all. Plans are under way to see that each home has a cow. Baby cubs which have been set up in the county by more chickens are in the county this year as never before. Several 4-H clubs have turkey projects. Four hundred and one turkeys were reported in the county among adults and 4-H club members, one boy having 9 turkeys in his project. To see that farmers plant pure seed and get the best results, a demonstration of 15 varieties of corn was conducted by Oliver Joyner, Greenville R. F. D. 5. A field meeting as conducted at this demonstration and Mr. R. R. Bennett explained the different varieties to the farmers so that they will be able to make a wise choice for the next year. Several farmers are planning to sow wheat. The drought caused these plans to be late. That they might become better farm owners and men for the future 11 girls and boys were taken to A and T College, by the agent August 18-23 to be trained along with five or six hundred others. Meetings are being held each week in the different parts of the county to keep check on the activities of the county. This is done to see that plenty of food for families and feed for livestock will be on hand for winter. In early spring during a meeting of the workers council each member present promised to adopt two or more families, some adopted as high as five families, the object of this was to see that these families had a plenty for the winter, each meeting which is held once a month, a report is brought in from these families. In this way the agent can tell how strong the county is. Some of the families who were adopted in early spring have grown so strong until they are now adopting families and watching over them. Stress is being put on fall gardens, improve livestock, increase egg production, cure sweet potatoes, put plenty of wood on the wood pile for winter, try to keep well, see that the family is clothed for winter, live peacefully, be good citizens. These farmers are kept in touch with by cards, letters, visits and meetings.—Dennis Dupree, Negro county agent.

Alleged Loss Of Dog Behind Civil Action

The alleged loss of a bird dog is indirectly responsible for a $10,000 civil action filed in Pitt Superior court by Roy Morgan, farmer who lives near Greenville, against Lloyd Ballance and Biggs T. Paper board is made from old newspapers, cheap fiction magazines, wrapping paper and used corrugated paper. Slick paper—magazines, books, letters, etc.—is needed to make up a shortage of wood pulp from which finer grades of paper are manufactured. The public is urged to cooperate in this defense project by giving the Boy Scouts their waste paper.
