Surprise Attack Made By Philippine Defenders

JAPS SUSTAIN HEAVY LOSSES

Casualties Among Filipino And American Troops Declared To Have Been Negligible In Attack On Island Of Mindanao; Manila Bay Defenses Continue Under Heavy Japanese Fire

Washington, March 21.—(AP)—The War Department reported today a surprise raid by American and Philippine troops on Japanese forces near Zamboanga on the Philippine island of Mindanao in which heavy casualties were inflicted on the enemy.

American and Filipino losses were described in a communique as negligible. Meanwhile the harbor defenses of Manila Bay were reported under "extremely heavy" shelling from Japanese artillery, which included 240-millimeter (about eight-inch) guns, but the War Department said little damage of military consequence was done.

Officials said the reference to American troops on Mindanao may have been to Philippine scouts, or forces sent to the islands from the Continental United States before the Pacific war, or both. The scouts, although Filipinos, are an integral part of the United States Army but limited to service in the islands.

Who is in command in Mindanao was not announced. In early stages of the fighting for the large southern island, Lieut. Col. Roger Hillman was in command of forces which were forced out of the port of Davao.

The scene of the raid on the Japanese near Zamboanga is about 500 miles almost due south of the Bataan fighting front. The picturesque city was occupied by the enemy this month.

In Australia, the War Department announced, Prime Minister John Curtin has appointed Lieut. Gen. George H. Brett, U. S. Army, to command of Australian as well as United States air forces operating on the southern continent.

The communique, No. 154, based on reports received until 9.30 a. m., said:

"1. Philippine theater:

"In a sudden surprise raid, General Wainwright's American and Philippine troops on the island of Mindanao inflicted heavy casualties on the enemy near Zamboanga. Our losses were negligible.

"The harbor defenses of Manila Bay were under extremely heavy shelling from enemy artillery located on the south shore of Manila Bay. Intensive fire from 240-mm guns was concentrated on our fortifications. Very little damage of military consequence was inflicted on our installations. Our guns effectively returned the fire.

"There was no fighting in Bataan.

"2. Australia:

"With the concurrence of our government, the Prime Minister of Australia has appointed Lieutenant General George H. Brett, United States Army, to the command of the air forces of Australia and the United States operating in Australia.

"3. There is nothing to report from other areas."

Lanier Comes Out For State Senate

In a statement this morning J. Con Lanier, Pitt County State Senator, announced that he will be a candidate to succeed himself, subject to the Democratic Primary on May 30th.

Mr. Lanier, in addition to being an attorney and business man of this city, is a large farmer in Pitt County. For many years he has been prominently identified with legislative programs designed to secure parity prices for flour-cured tobacco. Last year in Washington, he was chosen to present the protest of the Ways and Means committee in opposition to increase taxes on tobacco, and was successful in defeating the proposed increase.

In the N. C. Legislature, Senator Lanier was recognized as one of the leaders of the farm group working for legislation beneficial to the farmers of North Carolina. He is (Continued on Page Six)

TEACHER MEET NEARING CLOSE

Horace Sisk Of Fayetteville New Vice President

Raleigh, March 21.—(AP)—The election of Horace Sisk, superintendent of the North Carolina Education Association, as vice president of the association was announced today at the closing session of the association's 58th annual convention.

John C. Lockhart of Charlotte, superintendent of the Mecklenburg county schools who was elected vice president at the convention last year, was renominated in the presidential election. He installed today to succeed K. G. Phillips, superintendent of Gastonia schools.

In winning a three-cornered race for the vice presidency, Sisk took a clear lead in next year's presidential race. The association customarily advances its vice presidents to the presidency.

Sisk won over S. C. Deskins, principal of Sumner high school, Guilford county, and John A. Holmes, superintendent of schools at Eden. Members of the association voted by ballot, and the ballots were mailed here for counting.

Dr. John C. Paterson, chief of the Division of Inter-American Educational Relations of the U. S. Office of Education, spoke at the closing general session today.

Approximately 200 persons attended the convention.

The WAR TODAY

By DeWITT MacKENZIE, Wide-World News Analyst

General MacArthur's announcement that President Roosevelt has ordered him to prepare an offensive against Japan is calculated to emphasize that Washington is determined to implement its policy of initiative, which is giving the allies heavy inspiration at this critical juncture of the war.

Just to make sure there's no misunderstanding, we get an immediate echo from American Lieut. General Stilwell, commander of

Vichy Radio Acknowledges Soviet Forces Have Fought Their Way Into Staraya Russa; Other Red Assaults In Areas Of Bryansk, Kharkov And Taganrog; Many Germans Left Dead

(By the Associated Press) Russia's armies, crowding the Germans off balance before Adolf Hitler can launch his spring offensive, were reported storming against four key Nazi bases on the 1,200-mile front today, and a Vichy radio broadcast declared Soviet troops had already fought their way into Staraya Russa.

Other Russian assaults were aimed at Bryansk, Kharkov and Taganrog.

Staraya Russa, 150 miles below Leningrad, is the base headquarters of the trapped German 16th army which has been cut off for weeks in the frozen marshlands around Lake Ilmen.

A bulletin from Hitler's field headquarters acknowledged the increasing violence of Russian assaults declaring that Nazi troops had beaten off six fierce attacks yesterday southeast of Lake Ilmen, in the Staraya Russa sector, but gave no details on the fate of Staraya Russa itself.

"Many dead were left on the field and numerous prisoners were taken," a German communique said. The high command also conceded that the Russians were pressing the offensive in the Crimea, in the Donets river basin of the Ukraine, and on the central (Moscow) and northern (Leningrad) fronts.

From Vichy, Leningrad and Moscow came details—reports that Red army troops had penetrated Kharkov fortifications but were forced back; that there was hard fighting north of Taganrog, Azov sea anchor of the German lines; that 455 Germans were killed and 10 blockhouses were demolished on the Leningrad front.

Russian guerrillas were officially declared to have killed 1,000 Germans near Bryansk, a railway city 220 miles southwest of Moscow, and audaciously entered its heart to burn German supplies and post (Continued on Page Six)

High Tribute Paid To Rev. W.A. Ryan

The Greenville Kiwanis Club in its regular weekly meeting last night, unanimously adopted a resolution expressing appreciation for the fine service rendered the community and the church by Rev. W. A. Ryan, who has resigned as pastor of Eighth Street Christian Church, effective September 1. The resolution was presented by J. Frank Harrington.

The meeting was presided over by Joseph M. Traft, vice president, in the absence of President C. D. Ward. The club voted in favor of Goldsboro for the next inter-city meeting.

ANOTHER SHIP TORPEDOED BY ENEMY U-BOAT

Part Of Survivors Landed At Morehead City

OTHERS LANDED AT NORFOLK, VA.

Lightning Flashes Declared To Have Aided Sub In Finding 'Large' Merchant Ship In Atlantic

Washington, March 21.—(AP)—The Navy announced today that a large United States merchant vessel had been torpedoed off the Atlantic coast. It gave no details.

Norfolk, Va., March 21.—(AP)—Lightning flashes that illuminated the sea for miles helped an Axis undersea raider to torpedo and sink a large American merchant ship off the Atlantic coast early Wednesday, members of the crew related on their arrival at Norfolk.

The Navy announced the sinking today.

Twenty-six survivors of the 41-man crew were picked up by a rescue ship after five hours in a lifeboat and were landed at Norfolk. Thirteen others were rescued by another vessel and taken ashore at Morehead City, N. C. Two crewmen were listed as missing. Their identity was not immediately established.

Expressing belief that an electrical storm aided the submarine in finding the ship, James Miller, wiper, of Pelly, Texas, told newsmen, "there were great bright flashes of lightning and you could see for miles. I think the sub would have missed us if it hadn't had this light to aim by."

There were four lifeboats on the ship, but one was blown to bits by the blast of one of two torpedoes that bored into the portside. Another could not be launched because it was on the windward side of the ship. Chief Engineer Joseph F. Lofo of Westhaven, Conn., said the 26 men in his boat were "terribly crowded and so many of the men were sick it was hard to keep the boat's bow in the wind."

Able-bodied seaman James Stafford of Seymour, Texas, said the ship went down about 40 minutes after the second torpedo struck. "We had plenty of time but we worked in a hurry because we thought another torpedo into us. We also didn't know but what the ship would burst into flames any minute. She didn't burn and that's all that saved us."

The Navy announced yesterday the sinking of a large Greek merchant vessel by a submarine off the Atlantic coast. The 35 members of the crew were picked up by another ship and landed here.

The survivors from the American merchant ship paid tribute to Lawton Williams, an oiler of Surgonsville, Tenn., who remained in the engine room long enough to reverse and stop the engines in order to make the ship lose headway for safe launching of the lifeboats.

The crew abandoned the ship within five minutes of the first torpedo. No one reported seeing the submarine.

Acknowledge Loss Of Italian U-Boat

Rome (From Italian Broadcasts) March 21.—(AP)—The Italian high command today acknowledged the loss of a submarine and reported that torpedo-carrying aircraft had attacked a British convoy in the Mediterranean.

The Italians said the planes scored a direct hit on a medium-sized enemy warship and sank her.

Axis planes again attacked the British island base of Malta, heavily bombing anti-aircraft batteries and blowing up an ammunition dump by a direct hit, the communique said. It added that a large enemy submarine was damaged in the port of Valetta.

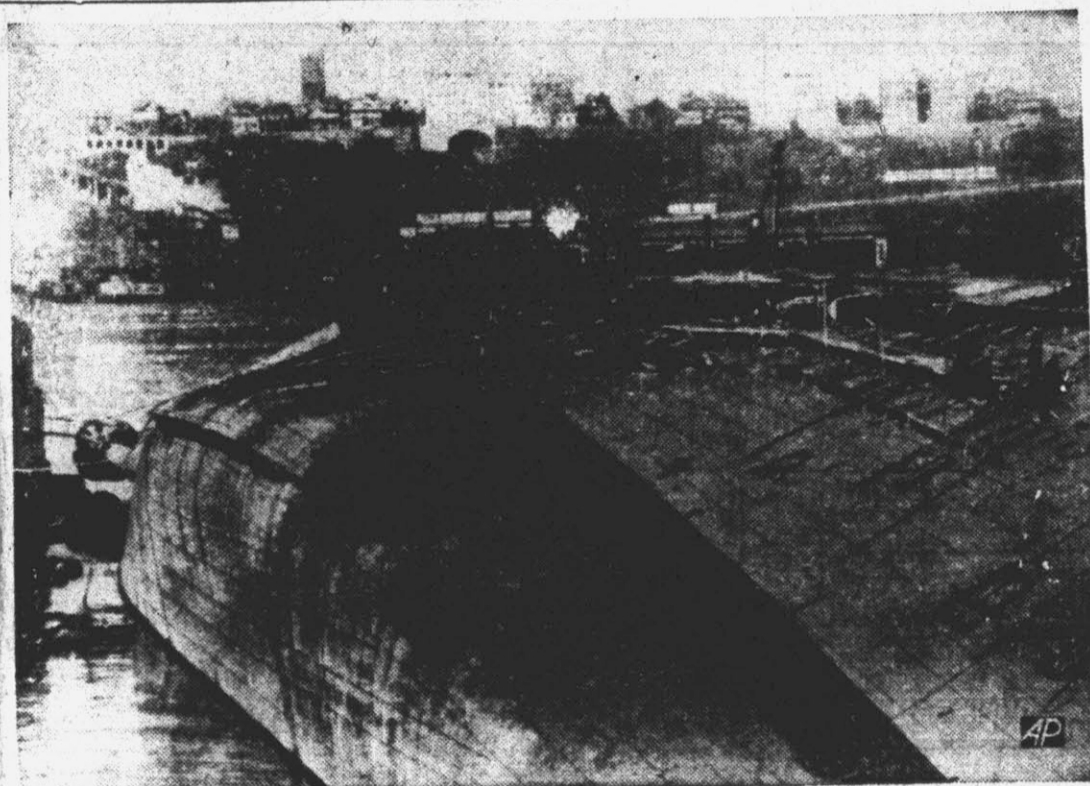

The communique reported "normal activity" by advanced patrols in Cirenauca.

WARNS FRANCE OF MARTINIQUE

U. S. To Take Action If Nazi Raiders Harbored

Washington, March 21.—(AP)—The United States was on the verge of seizing Martinique last month and has warned Vichy that any harboring of Nazi raiders there would mean American action.

This was disclosed yesterday by an authoritative source who gave the following outline of the situation:

A German submarine entered the harbor of Port De France, capital of the French island, on February 21 and sent ashore a wounded member of its crew. American observers immediately notified Washington.

It was promptly established that the submarine took on no supplies and did not attempt to open communication with anyone on land. The sailor was suffering from a gangrenous wound in the leg, possibly from shellfire during a surface action against American coastal shipping. His commander apparently put him ashore with instructions to seek the surgical attention he could not be given on board ship.

The state department immediately sent to the French government, through Ambassador William D. Leahy, a warning that the United States would not permit the use of French western hemisphere ports by Axis warships or planes for any purpose.

The Vichy government subsequently gave categorical assurances that no Axis vessels or planes would be allowed to enter French ports or territorial waters in the western hemisphere under any pretext. This closed the incident of the submarine.

Whitehurst Seeks Office Of Sheriff

S. A. Whitehurst, who previously has served as Pitt county sheriff for 12 years, today formally announced his candidacy for the office for the four-year term beginning in December, 1942.

Prior to becoming sheriff, Mr. Whitehurst was a local police officer. He also is engaged in farming. He is a World War veteran, having served as a lieutenant.

Mr. Whitehurst, in announcing his candidacy, declared that he had no statement to make, adding, "I just want them to know that I am a candidate."

British Subs Sink Axis Supply Ships

London, March 21.—(AP)—Two large Axis supply ships have been sunk in the Mediterranean, the Admiralty announced today.

The Admiralty said the ships were "successfully attacked" by British submarines in the central Mediterranean.

"Both ships are known to have been sunk."

"The larger of these two ships was escorted by two destroyers."

Sugar Rationing

Chicago, March 21 (AP)—National sugar rationing registration dates were fixed today by the office of Price Administration for April 23 and 29, and May 2, 8 and 1.

The announcement was made here at a meeting of the 48 states rationing administrators and regional supervisors, by Frank Bane, field chief for OPA Director Leon Henderson.

Industrial consumers, such as confectioners and candy makers, will register for their rations on the two April dates, using their nearest high school. Individual consumers will register May 4-7 at the public schools.

SMALL RAILWAY IS TAKEN OVER

Action Taken After Refusal To Arbitrate Strike

Washington, March 21.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today ordered seizure of the Toledo, Peoria and Western railroad and its operation by the government, in the interests of the "successful prosecution of the war."

The President acted after a long series of unsuccessful government efforts to get George P. McNear, Jr., president of the 239-mile road, to arbitrate a strike of 104 workers.

Mr. Roosevelt issued an executive order authorizing Joseph B. Eastman, director of the office of defense transportation, to take immediate possession of the property and to "operate or arrange for the operation of such railroad in such a manner as he deems necessary for the successful prosecution of the war."

Prior to the issuance of his order, the chief executive conferred with Chairman William H. Davis of the War Labor Board, the fourth government agency which had attempted to persuade McNear to arbitrate the nearly three-month-old dispute.

Conviction Affirmed

New York, March 21.—(AP)—The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals today affirmed the convictions of Joseph M. Schenk, former chairman of the Board of 20th-Century Fox Film Corporation, and Joseph H. Moskowitz, his confidential associate, on income tax evasion charges.

BOARD ADOPTS 1942 PROGRAM

Chamber of Commerce Maps Plans For New Year

A program of activities for the new year was adopted at last night's meeting of the Board of Directors of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce.

The program includes the preparation and distribution of a new illustrated folder on Greenville and Pitt county, as well as the distribution to a selected list of manufacturers whose businesses are adapted to this section an industrial brief setting forth facts about the community. It also provides for distribution of facts showing the city as a logical distribution center.

The program provides for continued cooperation with agriculture, including efforts toward the establishment of markets for products which at present are not adequately provided, continued support of the Tobacco Board of Trade in further building up and publicizing the tobacco market and cooperation with the Pitt county fair in its efforts to assist in promoting better agriculture.

The program lists among its objectives improved mail service for the city, and continued efforts, consistent with the country's war program, to obtain air mail service for Greenville.

It is the expressed desire of the chamber to bring all conventions to the city which can be adequately cared for.

Wholehearted cooperation with all national and civilian defense activities was pledged in the program, which provides that such emergency measures shall take precedent over all others.

Other objectives and aims included: Education, continued cooperation with the college and renewed efforts to obtain adequate facilities to care for continued increase in enrollment, and continued cooperation with the city schools; health and sanitation, actively support the county health department and city officials in activities which affect health and sanitary conditions in the city; industry, render all assistance possible to existing industries, as well as maintain active files of government regulations for their information; legislation, keep in touch with all proposed and enacted legislation, both national and state, and make a study of such legislation in regard to its effect on the city; trade, cooperate with the (Continued on Page Six)

Bataan Hero Arrives In Melbourne

Greeted By Cheering Thousands, Commander Declares He Has Every Confidence In Ultimate Victory; Jap Cruiser Sunk In Raid On Rabaul; British Report Successes In Burma Battle

By ROGER D. GREENE, Associated Press War Editor Gen. Douglas MacArthur, greeted by wildly cheering thousands, declared in Melbourne today he had every confidence of "ultimate success" in the battle to crush Japan's far-flung invasion armies, but warned against too eager hopes for an immediate Allied grand offensive.

While great crowds accorded Gen. MacArthur a hero's welcome, United Nations airmen were officially credited with sinking another Japanese heavy cruiser in a daring raid on Rabaul, New Britain.

Australia's Prime Minister John Curtin said the cruiser—the 64th enemy warship sunk or damaged in the far Pacific theater—was sent to the bottom, smoking and aflame, by bombers which attacked through violent anti-aircraft fire in daylight, beat off enemy pursuit planes and returned to their base intact.

New York, March 21 (AP) The Vichy radio, which has been reporting Japanese fleets off Australia for several days, said this morning:

"A Japanese squadron is approaching Cape Leewards, on the southwest corner of the Australian continent. This fleet is said to be approaching the important harbor of Perth."

CBS transcribed the broadcast in New York.

It was the 27th on the list of Japanese warships and merchant vessels sunk or damaged in less than two weeks in the Pacific for the approaches to Australia.

Curtin said later that two other enemy cruisers were damaged in the attack at Rabaul.

In Melbourne, General MacArthur acknowledged the crowd's tumultuous welcome with a brief, straight-from-the-shoulder address.

"I have every confidence in the ultimate success of our joint cause," he said "but success in modern war requires something more than courage and willingness to die.

"It requires careful preparation. This demands sufficient troops and sufficient material to meet the known strength of a potential enemy. No general can make something out of nothing. My success in the future will depend primarily upon the resources which the respective governments place at my disposal. My faith in them is complete.

"In any event, I shall do my best. I shall keep a soldier's faith."

Other developments: Burma—British headquarters reported that British troops fighting on the Irrawaddy river front had driven the Japanese from Letpadan, key rail junction 150 miles northwest of Rangoon.

The British also announced that 700 Japanese had been killed or wounded in heavy fighting 35 miles south of Toungoo, an important British defense point, when Chinese cavalry and infantry attacked Japanese armored cars, infantry and cavalry.

The battle occurred on the Sitkang river, on the left wing of the British-Chinese line defending central Burma.

Tokyo gave a conflicting version of the fighting below Toungoo, asserting that Japanese vanguards crushed a British-led counterattack and now seriously threatened Toungoo.

A Tokyo broadcast further claimed that Japanese troops had occupied British defense positions at Letpadan.

Australia—Allied fliers lashed out in a new assault on Japanese bases north of Australia, attacking enemy occupied Sumatra, on Dutch Yamdena island 300 miles from the Australian mainland.

Emperor Hirohito's warplanes killed a civilian and damaged some aircraft in a 50-bomb attack yesterday on the airbase of Broome, a west Australian port, and made fruitless raids on the town of Derby, 75 miles to the northeast, a communications link.

This activity might be a prelude to an invasion attempt.

The purpose of these studies is to acquaint the lay-leaders of the church with their individual and group responsibilities and duties that they may the more intelligently understand and effectively perform the services of the offices which they hold.

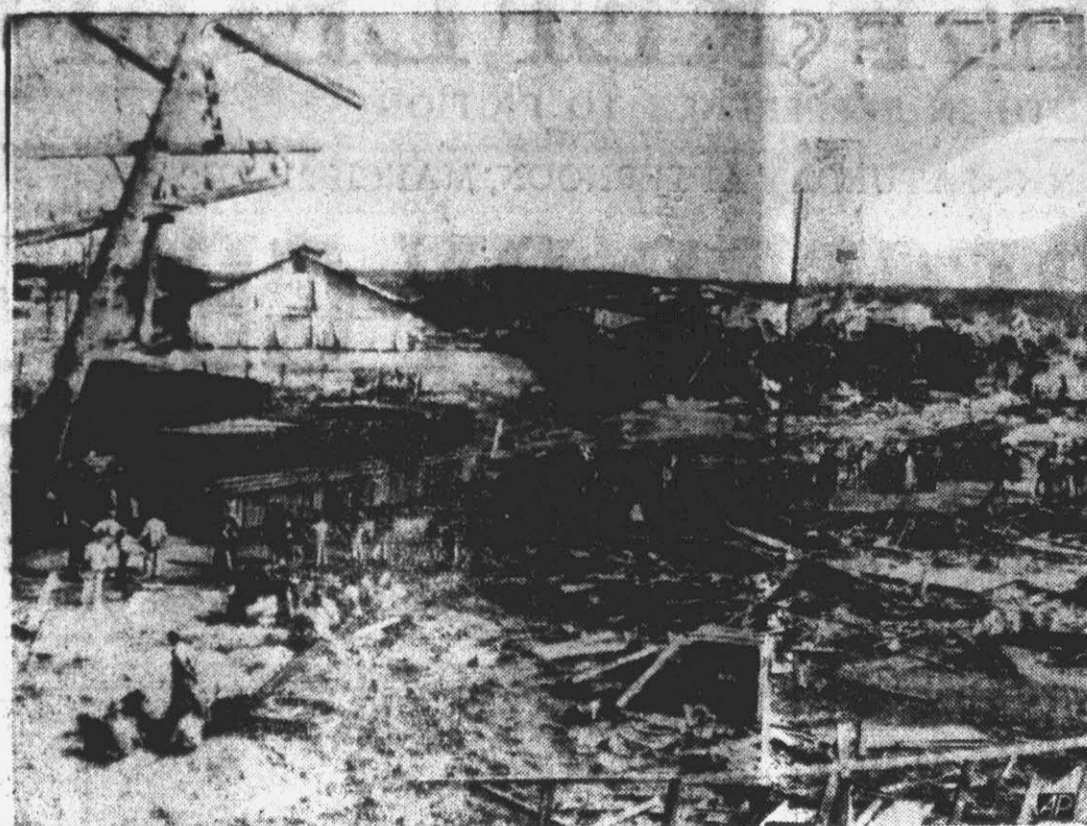

Farmville Club Meets.
Farmville, March 21.—Dr. and Mrs. S. M. Crisp of Greenville gave an interesting program on old glass, exhibiting their own private collection, at the meeting of the Woman's Club on Friday. During his talk, Dr. Crisp told how glass was made as far back as 100 B. C. He said that the Egyptians were skilled in the art of glass making and that the ancient Romans used glass extensively as they had no china. He traced the industry through Siegel and Winder and then its development in America, rivaling that of England. He showed a large collection of many different patterns, naming each and often giving an interesting story of acquiring it.

At the request of Mrs. A. B. Moore, defense chairman, the club voted to collect magazines which will be taken to the library for the soldiers. Miss Tabitha M. DeVisconti told of the Cancer Drive to be put on in April. Dr. Crisp made a short talk on Cancer Control, emphasizing that the so-called "Cancer Diet" is not to be consulted or allowed to treat cancer.

Mrs. Hightwood introduced Mrs. Jess Moyer, the incoming president. During a delightful social hour, peach shortcake was served by the hostesses, who were Mrs. Cherry Esley, Mrs. J. H. Harris, Mrs. J. D. Holmes and Mrs. John T. Thorne. Attractive arrangements of spring flowers were used throughout the home.

Special guests were Mrs. Frank M. Davis, Miss Elizabeth Davis, Mrs. G. M. Holden, Mrs. Elbert Holmes, Mrs. M. V. Jones, Mrs. Mary Lewis Long, Mrs. J. O. Pollard, Mrs. J. I. Moore, Mrs. E. S. Scott, Mrs. J. A. Martin and Dr. and Mrs. S. M. Crisp.

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

The Schools Must Continue.
The county superintendent publishes a notice giving an order of the County Board of Education that the school committees of the several districts keep the public schools open until all the money apportioned to their respective districts is used. It seems that in several districts this order has been disregarded and the committees have caused the schools to be closed. It looks strange, to say the least, that those committees, when money is given to their districts, are not willing to have the schools open as the law directs.

Entertained At Tea.
Dr. Leon R. Meadows, Mrs. Meadows, Miss Alma Browning, Miss Eunice McGee, Dr. W. A. Browne, Dr. E. L. GIRL SCOUT NEWS

There were thirty thousand of them back in 1917. When they talked about "Palm Springs" they meant an exercise and not a movie star's resort. They played games for "moral discipline." They knew, because their handbook told them, that a runaway horse could be dealt with by a girl who was "athletic and quick."
The handbook told them, too, about cooking and cleaning and camping and child care and a host of other things. They read it all and practiced it so hard that when the war was over the United States gave them a gold medal for their patriotic service. The medal was inscribed to the Girl Scouts of the United States. Girl Scouting in this country was very young and inexperienced then—just six years old. This March Girl Scouting celebrated its 30th birthday and Girl Scouts serve their country during another war. Girl Scouting, the largest girls' movement of its kind in this country, can look back and smile at the handbook of '17, but Girl Scouting does not forget the lessons of '17. Some of the advice given then sounds pretty funny today, but some of it is just as sound as it ever was. Take this for instance: "A Scout avoids useless waste of any kind....she sees that food is not wasted, and that her clothing is care for properly. The Girl Scout does not waste time. She realizes that time is the most precious thing any one of us has." That could have been written right after Pearl Harbor. It's being repeated today. It appears on page 9 of the handbook, edition of 1916.

This basic timeliness of the Girl Scout handbook has helped to make it one of America's consistent best sellers. More than 1,425,000 copies had been sold up to the beginning of 1942 and a fresh edition of 100,000 has just been rushed through the presses to meet the ever-increasing demand. Of course this modern handbook doesn't look much like the 1916 version. It's been rewritten many times in the past 25 years, essential ideas of service to God and country are there just the same.

There are almost 700,000 Girl Scouts today. "Handbook" is a very unassuming word for the 694-page volume on democratic citizenship and "defense that guides them. The 1916 edition had only 151 pages, but its title would fit any leaf torn from the Girl Scout book today. It was called "How Girls Can Help Their Country."

At the regular troop meeting of Troop 12 which began work in first aid at their meeting Monday afternoon when they met at the Training school. Miss Louise Golphin will be the instructor for the group. Learning first aid is one way that Girl Scouts can help to meet the needs of civilian defense. Troops 1 and 2 are working on the requirements to become senior service Scouts, and this week will learn how to make bed rolls in a limited time in order to be able to meet an emergency. This is one of the many practical things that they are learning to do.

COMPILE LISTS THROUGH 250

Order Numbers Listed For More Pitt Registrants

An additional list of order numbers of persons who registered under the Selective Service act has been compiled by the Reflector, taking to 250 the number of men whose order numbers have been figured out in each of the two Pitt county boards.

Lists through 200 have been printed. Following are the persons in each board whose order numbers are from 200 through 250:

Heads For Action
Mr. and Mrs. John R. Barker of this city have received word from their son, Corporal J. Roy Barker, that he has left Camp Shelby, Mississippi, for service in the Pacific war area. Barker, who is X-ray technician with a general hospital unit, stated in his communication to his parents that all the men of his outfit were in good spirits and welcomed the prospects of early action.

my knees go back on me. Unless one is familiar with all the individual and family circumstances, only a catch-as-catch-can program can be outlined. Furthermore, the so-called human element is so unpredictable that it is doubly hard to make any budget recommendations with assurances that they will work out.

Here are some of the things I hear today: A truck driver with an annual income of $1600 says, "I have no money in the bank to pay my next installment but will borrow from friends." A junior executive earning $700 says, "I'll have to save every penny from now on." He's starting a little late! An executive, who earned $3000 last year, confesses, "Unfortunately I didn't save anything. I had to use the installment plan." A government worker earning $1900 says, "I paid my income tax on the 15th but now am broke."

Who Should Budget?
There's only one answer to this, namely, our 40,000,000 families should at once start making a budget. If I were a young man, exempt from military service and contemplating a business career, I'd go into the "budget business." Most successful corporations prepare and adhere strictly throughout the year to a predetermined budget. Through an examination of the past year's production figures, receipts, and expenditures, plus an analysis of the business outlook for their particular industry, they are usually able to come within a fraction of a percent in forecasting what their current year's income, expenses, and profit, or deficit, will be. This, perhaps, is too much to ask of the individual; but, especially this year, an attempt should be made to plan coming expenditures as well as hoped-for savings. The job should, if anything, be easier now that the purchase of many items for civilian use is restricted. Many families may be pleasantly surprised by how little in the way of new goods they will need to get by on this year. It will be a good thing for once to cut out random spending, to operate strictly on a budget, and to watch the dollars pile up. Budgets—along with bullets—are needed to win World War II.

The Average Income
With our national income now running at the rate of $90,000,000,000 per year, the total income of each family averages $2250. Of course, some families have larger incomes than $2250 and others have far less on which to get along. However, as family incomes rise above the present average of $2250 per year, the number of families so benefiting decreases rapidly. Remember, that less than five per cent of the people receiving any income at all have more than $5,000 a year. Any pre-war arguments to the effect that the so-called money interests control our country are entirely fallacious. Control—politically and from a purchasing point of view—is embraced in the great mass of families which have incomes of even less than $2250 per year.

A Suggested Budget
Let me assume that an average family of four, of which two are children, has, after provision is made for Social Security payments, a net income of $2250. This may seem small potatoes to a few readers of this column, but let me say that an income of this size is not to be sneezed at. Personally, I am much more interested in how families in this income group handle their money than I am in how those in the larger income brackets spend their money. The above family might disburse its funds as follows:

Savings and Taxes	$223
Food	627
Clothing	290
Housing	577
Transportation	210
Personal and Miscellaneous	260
Benevolences	63

Conclusion
In spite of Social Security, a family's first duty is to preserve its own economic independence. Thus, I have allocated nearly 10 per cent of the average family's net income to taxes and savings. This is a relatively high per cent and the majority of families never anywhere near reach it. About half this saving should go into straight life insurance and the balance kept in a savings bank account or invested in Defense Bonds. Savings, as well as steel, will do much to win this war. I again urge my readers to get out of debt as soon as possible; but by all means make out a budget today and stick to it. It also is advisable to set up a little reserve. When World War II is finally over, credit may be hard to get!

Strength FOR THE DAY By EARL L. DOUGLAS

BE NOT ANXIOUS The prophet Isaiah, speaking about the coming of Christ, declared among other things that the government would be upon his shoulder (Isaiah 9:5). And this is a day when we need to recall that promise. The government is upon His shoulder, not upon ours. We fret and worry about present world conditions as if we felt that we were responsible for what happens. But, in the last analysis, not even the rulers of the world are responsible for what happens. God will bring events to the issue He desires and will do it when He desires. The government is upon His shoulder. Does this mean then that we can lie back and, casting responsibility to the wind, say that everything will be all right because the Lord will make it so? Not at all. Each of us in the place where duty assigns him must do his best every minute. The responsibility at that point is very definitely ours. But the responsibility for the issue of the world's events is not ours but God's. If we do our part, we can be assured that God will fit the little part we do into the great mosaic of His providential plan. We are responsible for one little block which makes it up, but He is responsible for the mosaic. The government is upon His shoulders. All Rights Reserved—Babson Newspaper Syndicate

THE WAR AND YOU AND I

The following article written by O. J. Willoughby of Atlanta, Ga., in the Southern Funeral Director is most timely and impresses upon the individual that each of us has a direct part in the war and its outcome! WAR to a finish? ...Whose finish? ...How soon? You and I must help answer these questions!

Some of us...too many I suspect...still believe that this war, like the last one, won't touch us personally, except in higher prices and higher taxes. It is time that any such foolish notions be rubbed out. This is a war to a finish. Up to the present time there has been absolutely nothing accomplished that proves the odds are in our favor. Yet, the odds ARE in our favor, tremendously so, except for one thing: We have not yet become ONE, banded for the extreme effort. We must, or else! This war has an economic base, as all wars, even if more is involved. Throughout the world ambitious "leaders"...whether self-appointed elected or "ordained" by some kind of pseudo "democracy"...have, for their own selfish purposes, built up among those who HAVE NOT, the hope or belief that all they have to do to enjoy the economic or social position of those who HAVE is to follow the one who so promises. In the United Nations...USA particularly...this kind of "leadership" has "promised" only a division of that within our own borders. The reason is simple. We (the United Nations) have more than all the rest of the world, whether measured in terms of money, freedom or anything else. What more COULD they promise? The dictators and other "rulers" of our enemy nations haven't overlooked the fact that any "promises" THEY might make would not "stick" unless the hope was built upon fulfillment AT THE EXPENSE OF OTHER NATIONS. It is easy to see what kind of a spot this puts all United Nations on...especially USA. THE HAVENOT people of other nations have been led to hope to GET from those who HAVE. We DO have. The humblest US citizens...even the dirty-livered among our enemy aliens...enjoy some things in America that not even the "highest" can now enjoy in many other countries. Now, let us add to this picture the fact that in recent years, through Social Comes The "Spring"?

Political and Economic "reformers" and otherwise. We have been in the class against class, race against race, faith against faith... to a limited extent, of course, but still true! The result is complacency... a feeling of utter security on the one hand and a feeling of "what's the use" on the other, about a war that is a definite threat to all the things we now enjoy. This is W A R and war to the finish. Whose finish it will be depends on no small extent upon how soon we begin to think, individually, as of and for a GROUP... Americans!...not as Employee and Employer, not as White or Colored, not as Catholic or Protestant, not as Jew or Gentile, not as Republican or Democrat, not as "Labor" or "Capital," not as "representative" or "constituent," not solely as SELF, or small group, as opposed to the WHOLE group. Let's wake up and go to WAR, in fact, solidly united. Let's forget this bunk of "defensive warfare" alone. All the men of the States, the British Empire, the Dutch and "free" French could not at any one hour defend two per cent of the area of our combined lands. Yet we have been fighting "defensively!" We can't protect what we HAVE by any means other than to DESTROY the attacker! Let's go to WAR in the only place any war has ever been won... ON ENEMY TERRITORY! I'm sure fully 95 per cent of all loyal citizens agree that we should destroy the enemy. We are almost all clamoring for destruction of Tokyo and Berlin...even Benito's cities. But, we THINK of the job as something the Armed Forces should do, and that's not sound! Until we as individuals begin to think of this job as being OUR job, until we forget SELF and then UNITELY give our Armed Forces the backing they need to do offensive warfare, we have no right to ask: Where's our Navy? Where's the RAF? or ANYTHING else! We must first rub out the influence of artificial "self interest" groupings that have been so carefully nurtured of late...from cradle age to grave age. Next we must set aside the notion that we as a nation are invincible. Lastly we must realize that this war will be won or lost by the fortitude (or lack of it) of INDIVIDUALS...those at home not one bit less than those in the Armed Forces. In other words, the outcome of this war is up to YOU and ME. It is now OUR war. We can no longer escape the responsibility for victory or defeat. WE as individuals UNITED...not divided into ANY kind of groupings...are going to win or lose this war. Today we face a handicap the equal of which this nation has never before faced in warfare. We will nevertheless WIN, but not quickly! How soon we shall win depends upon YOU and ME...upon how soon each of us can forget everything selfish and start working, or fighting, to DEFEAT the ENEMY...not merely to DEFEND that which enemies envy and are determined to take from us! Let us not forget that if we should fail to win, that the highest and mightiest among us may never again enjoy the privileges, the comforts or the "standard of living" of the most humble of us now take for granted. Let us not forget, either, that if we fail to win, our children and our grandchildren, will...in light of analysis...blame YOU and ME. If we lose it, it will be because YOU and I remained too selfish or self-centered to mould our interests and our thinking into the one simple two letter word, "US."

The WAR TODAY

(Continued from Page One) ter off now than they were in trying to hold such wide-spread positions with so few forces. With the appointment of MacArthur as commander in chief, and the establishment of a great base in Australia, we should be able to concentrate our effort favorably. This doesn't mean that America is throwing everything into the Orient, or essening its aid to the allies in other theaters. It merely means that we are getting busy with a job which falls within our province and which has a special interest for Americans, inasmuch as the Philippines are involved and the Hawaiian Islands and our western coastline are in the danger zone. We will do well to remember that Admiral Yamamoto, commander in chief of the Japanese navy, declared last year that in event of war he wouldn't be content until he dictated peace in Washington. So it's good to hear talk of offensives. However, we shall make a great mistake if we jump to the conclusion that any major offensive is likely to be started in the immediate future. General Stilwell performs a service when he warns against impatience while the allies are mustering their forces. The way things look now I should say the broad strategy of defeating Nippon and ousting her from her ill-gotten gains would place much reliance on application of heat directly to Japan itself. There are numerous bases from which the allies will be able to reach Japan with bombers in due course. We could send bombers, fighters and troop transports by way of Alaska and the Aleutian Islands, for example. One would think that Russia might extend the courtesy of permitting warplanes to land on Soviet territory in transit to China. There already are American manned, Yankee warplanes operating in China, and that country will provide a formidable base for aerial operations against the Mikado's domains.

SAMARITANS ARE SAFER

By L. M. THOMPSON, M.D. Assistant Director First Aid, War Safety and Accident Prevention Service of The American National Red Cross

The Little Injury A little wound, like a little learning, is a dangerous thing—but the reason is the reverse. The slight wound is dangerous because its importance is under-estimated.

The fact is that even most serious wounds—except those of severe bleeding—are primarily dangerous because of the possibility of infection. Yet, the vast majority of serious infections and cases of blood poisoning start from very small wounds.

Right there you have the story. It is one of ignorance and neglect. The serious wound gets prompt and competent attention; the minor wound is slighted and belittled in proportion to its "unimportance"—and that is invitation to infection.

Germs are everywhere present. Whenever the skin of the body is broken, they enter the wound—not singly or in pairs but by the thousands. That is why the surgeon makes such elaborate preparations for an operation.

Despite the fact that an army of germs invades through even the smallest gap in the body's protective covering, infection does not always develop because: 1. Bleeding tends to wash germs out of the wound. 2. The body has various fighting powers of its own.

White blood cells and certain other substances in the blood are able to destroy germs. Frequently they win the fight unaided—but you never can tell when they will lose. And if they lose, you have infection.

The only safe and intelligent thing to do is to take proper care of every wound, no matter how small, as soon as it occurs.

DISCUSSING PROBLEMS OF INTEREST TO THIS COMMUNITY. IN ALL CASES NAMES MUST ACCOMPANY ANY COMMUNICATION Please Make Your Discussion as Short As Possible

To the Mothers and Fathers of Greenville and Vicinity: I am one of about sixty persons, just completing the Instructor's First Aid course with the American Red Cross. I feel so very grateful and benefited for having had the opportunity of obtaining this course that I am making this public statement in its behalf.

When I found that Greenville would have a public Red Cross training center, and I had so long wanted a thorough course along this line, I lost no time in signing up for it. Not until the classes had really gotten under way did I realize what a wonderful opportunity I had to learn the things I wanted to know. After taking the Standard Course, of twenty hours, two classes a week for five weeks, I knew I could not stop until I had acquired everything the course had to offer. I thereupon signed up for the advanced course, and later on for the Instructor's Course, which was taught by a Red Cross representative from national headquarters. It is a wonderful and very vital knowledge that all of us should possess. I did not realize how ignorant I was to render first aid until I entered into these courses. With our doctors and nurses being called into service, I feel it is the urgent need and duty of every adult citizen in our communities to take advantage of this opportunity to equip themselves to be of service to our fellowman in these critical times. Classes can be arranged to suit the convenience of the public. No charge is made for this instruction, with the exception of sixty cents for the Red Cross Instruction book. Contact should be made with Mr. C. W. Willard. MRS. CHARLES W. SHUFF.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION

As health officer, it has been my pleasure to have the services of Dr. Ryan in many of the Health Department activities, notably in connection with our tuberculosis control work.

Not only has he served the health work of this community, but it has been my observation that he has faithfully and capably served every civic, religious and cultural enterprise of this community.

When Dr. Ryan leaves us, this city will be much poorer, how much, we may not now realize. N. THOMAS ENNETT.

Cubs To Be Fighting Club—Fighting For Sixth Place

WILSON FACED BY TOUGH JOB

All His Team Needs Is Hitting And Pitching

Los Angeles, March 21.—(AP)—Manager Jimmy Wilson vows the Chicago Cubs will be a fighting ball club.

Baseball writers traveling with the team say Wilson is absolutely correct. The Cubs will be fighting ball club—fighting to finish no worse in the National League than they did last year, which was sixth.

"All the Cubs need," volunteered Herbert H. Simmons, in forthright fashion, "is hitting and pitching." "I firmly believe it'll be unwhipped Boston and Chicago—(for seventh place)," predicted Howard (Ball of Fire) Roberts.

All of which indicate that optimism does not run rampant with devoted followers of the Cubs' fortunes.

General Manager Jimmy Gallagher was reported to have said earlier this spring that the Cubs and Cincinnati would battle it out for the pennant, but there is a chance that he was thinking of two other ball clubs at the time.

Gallagher is the one who got a big hand last spring when he said and I quote from a reliable source:

"Winning the pennant may be easier than we think. What is worrying me is the world series."

Seriously speaking, Wilson has a big task ahead in putting Chicago into the first division, and credit must go to him if he performs a miracle.

Last season he admittedly was groping with new but promising young material. The material left him groping in the dark, but he might find a ray of sunshine this semester. He does have potential strength.

He's still experimenting, and some of the boys are still scrambling for places, but present indications are that the Cubs will start off with: Young Clyde McCullough catching, Babe Dahlgren at first, Lou Stinner at second, Bob Sturgeon at short, Stan Hack at third, Dom Gallesandro in left field, Charley Gilbert in center and Bill Nicholson in right.

Ed Waitkus is behind Dahlgren at first, Len Merullo is trying to out Sturgeon from his job, and Russel may stay on for handy work if Hack wants a day off or to fill in anywhere in the infield.

Peanuts, or Harry Lowrey, up from Los Angeles, has been a surprise in left field. Lou Novikoff is much a question mark as ever. Bill Cavaretta and Barney Olsen complete the outfield candidates.

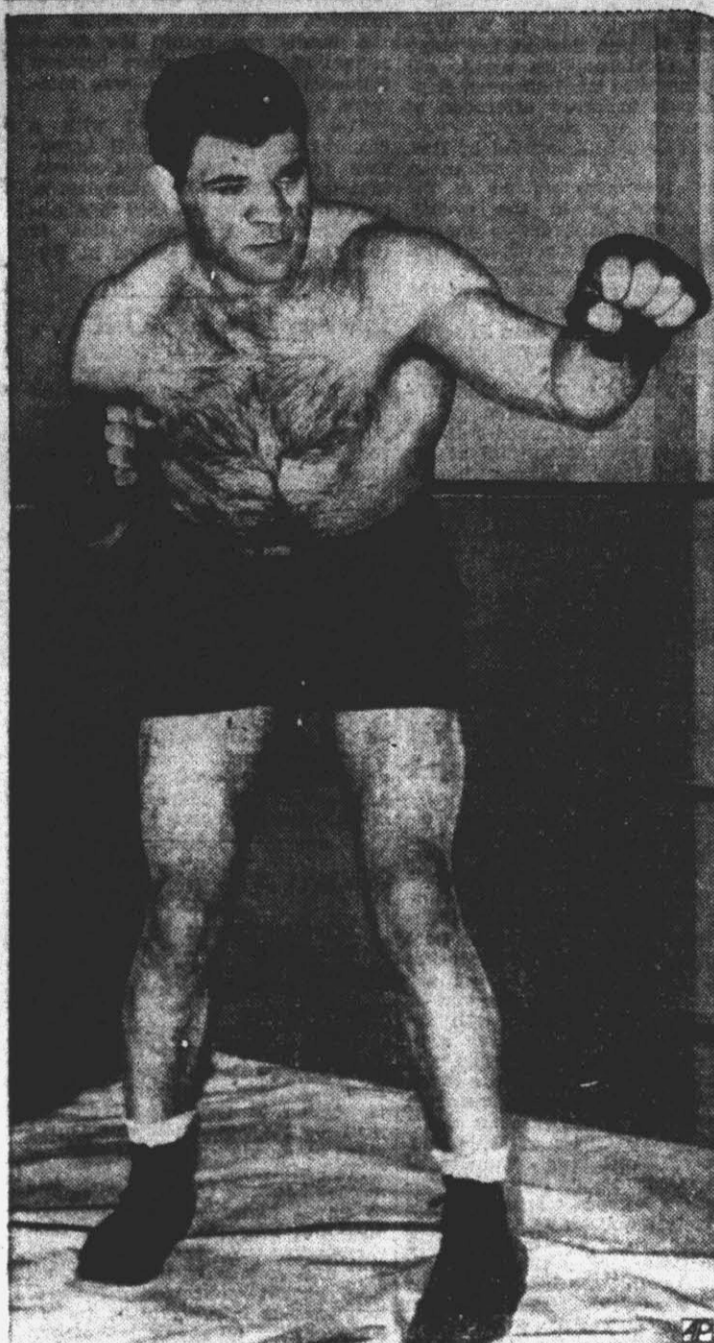

Lefty Vern Olsen, a 10-8 winning hurler last year, may increase that margin; veteran Claude Passeau could improve his 14-14 mark, and Paul Erickson, a sophomore right-hander, shapes up well.

Bill Lee is making probably his last stand in a Cub uniform, and Wilson has a stack of other pitchers around—more than a dozen, in fact. The staff, as a whole, doesn't do you with its impressiveness.

Wilson, thorough and hard working teacher, might do something with this club. He might do two things with this club—but there's a law against one of them.

Elections Board Meets. Raleigh, March 21.—(AP)—The State Board of Elections met here today to appoint election boards for the 100 counties of the state and to supervise the closing of the filing period for state officers.

The deadline for filing is 6 p. m. sharp and filing papers must be in the hands of the elections board at that time. Filing for county officers will continue until April 18.

BACK FOR MORE—At their previous meeting, big Abe Simon (above) lasted 13 rounds against Joe Louis. This was at Detroit in March, 1941. They meet again March 27 in New York for Joe's 21st defense. Bout benefits Army Emergency Relief Fund.

Training Camp Briefs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Manager Billy Southworth of the St. Louis Cardinals assigned Howard Pollet and Alvin Jurisch to pitch today against the New York Yankees.

Sarasota, Fla.—X-ray pictures today showed that Jimmy Fox's broken toe was healing and indicated that the Boston Red Sox slugger would be back in action within a week. Ted Williams' hip injury also is improving but his return to the lineup still is a few days off.

Lakeland, Fla.—Hal White's performance against the Cincinnati Reds yesterday virtually clinched the 23-year-old right-hander a job with the Detroit Tigers. He retired 12 Red batters in order in the four innings he worked. Harold Newhouser and Hal Manders oppose the Cleveland Indians today.

Sanford, Fla.—Willard Donovan has so impressed Manager Casey Stengel of the Boston Braves with his mound performances that the headman has promised a further tryout for the youngster before deciding if another trip to the minors for more experience is in order.

Deland, Fla.—Vernon Stephens, the young infielder up from the American Association, and Red McQuillen paced the St. Louis Browns in their 8 to 1 triumph over the Brooklyn B team yesterday.

Los Angeles—Thornton Lee, Chicago White Sox southpaw, has a sore arm and Manager Jim Dykes probably will not start him Sunday against the Chicago Cubs.

Daytona Beach, Fla.—Manager Leo Durocher was happy over Tampa—Ben Wade and George Burpo, two 19-year-old rookies, are making it tough for Manager Bill McKechnie to decide the makeup of the Cincinnati Reds' mound staff.

Brooklyn's 12 to 4 pasting handed the New York Yankees yesterday but what he liked most was that neither of his pitchers, Johnny Allen and New Kimball, issued a base on balls.

Los Angeles—Pete Coscarart, one of the four Brooklyn players obtained in the Arky Vaughan deal, is filling the Pittsburgh role at shortstop in acceptable style and has compiled a .379 batting average in the exhibition contests.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Fireman Johnny Murphy made his first appearance of the 1942 season yesterday—in his usual relief role—and now all of the New York Yankee pitchers except Charles (Red) Ruffing have had their turn upon the mound.

Miami—Manager Mel Ott of the New York Giants announced today that two youngsters who were with Atlanta of the Southern Association last season would be regulars with the Giants this campaign. Willard Marshall was given the left field job and Connie Ryan will be stationed at second base.

Lakeland, Fla.—The Cleveland Indians arrived today for their first game of the season with the Detroit Tigers, with whom they tied for fourth place in the American league last season. Cleveland got only six hits in its 11 to 3 setback by the Boston Braves yesterday.

Anaheim, Calif.—Maybe the Philadelphia Athletics, who have lost heavily to the armed forces, won't be so bad this season after all. Superb hurling by Bill Beckman and Fred Caliguri and home runs by Ken Richardson and Buddy Blair brought an 8 to 0 shutout over the Chicago Cubs yesterday.

Los Angeles—The Chicago Cubs were looking today for their batting punch after having lost five straight, the last time yesterday to the Philadelphia A's.

Miami Beach, Fla.—The Philadelphia Phils may have occupied the National League cellar last year but not this year during the training season. Right now the Phils are the leaders in the Citrus league with five wins in six starts.

Miami—Early Wynn, the lad with the baseball name, takes the mound for the Washington Senators today in the first game of a two-game series with the New York Giants.

Tampa—Ben Wade and George Burpo, two 19-year-old rookies, are making it tough for Manager Bill McKechnie to decide the makeup of the Cincinnati Reds' mound staff.

SHOW BOAT GIRL

Chapter 12
Plot By Dolores
Appalled, Melissa stood still, and before she could escape Alice looked up and saw her. Instantly Alice jerked erect and her white face was convulsed by the effort to check her tears.

"I'm terribly sorry, Alice—I wasn't snooping, honestly," said Melissa in a swift, apologetic apology. "I just wanted to ask you for something—and I didn't realize that I was moving so quietly you couldn't hear me."

Alice sniffed, blew her nose vigorously and said unsteadily, "It's all right, Mel. I'm glad it was you that caught me off-center instead of that hell-cat of a Dolores! Sorry I dropped over. Just forget it, will you, babe?"

"Of course," answered Melissa instantly, and then in a little warm rush of words she said swiftly, "I'm terribly sorry you're unhappy, Alice. I don't suppose there's anything I can do, but if there is, you know how glad I'd be—"

Alice managed a grin that contained a faint semblance of her usual gaiety.

"Thanks, Mel. I know you would," she answered. "But there's not much anybody can do. It's just that—well, I guess I'm homesick for my baby! Dam it, why wouldn't I be? He's only eight months old, and he's growing up without his mother around, and—well, a baby only grows up once, and—it's only right that his mother should have the fun of watching him do it, isn't it?"

"Of course!" Melissa was vigorous about it. "But I didn't even know you had a baby, Alice."

"Very few people do," said Alice grimly. "Our agent tried to tell us we were a couple of fools when we decided to turn down all contracts for a year while we retired and had a baby. He said we could never 'come back.' We were at the top of the heap, dancing in the swankiest New York night spots, and they wanted us for a movie."

"But I'm 26 and I didn't want to wait longer for a baby, so I persuaded Hugh it would be all right. Well, we had some money saved up and invested, and we thought we had the world by the tail on a down-hill drag!"

She paused and wiped her eyes again and sniffed.

"But it didn't work out that way. Funny, things seldom do, I guess," she went on after a moment as though it relieved her to talk about it. "Some of our investments weren't so hot; and I had rather a bad time of it when Skippy came and toward them, chuckled as he greeted them. "I'm driving in to town on an errand or two—like to go along?" he asked them both, but his eyes were on Melissa with an almost pleading look.

"I'd love it," she answered instantly, while Alice pleaded laziness as her excuse for not going.

Melissa sped away to dress for the trip to town. When she came back, it was to find Randy waiting in the car beside the tiny pier. But her heart stumbled and fell flat on its face as she saw that Dolores, slim and cool and smart in pale blue linen and a shabby white hat, sat beside him.

For a moment Melissa fought her tears. She didn't want to go if Dolores was going. But that was childish and she couldn't on the spur of the moment think of a graceful way of evading the trip. And so, trying very hard not to display her disappointment, she climbed into the car while Dolores, smiling sweetly, graciously slid closer to Randy to make room for her.

Dolores was in excellent spirits. Obviously she was crowing a bit at having spoiled any chance Melissa might have had to get Randy to herself for the drive. Melissa was too sunk in her own disappointment to be conscious that Randy was a bit curt with Dolores or that he did not seem at all delighted at her little affectionate terms of proprietary gestures.

Tea For Several
Reaching the city, Randy parked the car near an office building and excused himself to attend to some business. There was nothing for the two girls to do but sit in the car, waiting for Randy's return.

Dolores didn't bother to talk to Melissa. She slid beneath the wheel, resting her hands upon it, as she looked out into the hot, sunny street, humming a little song. And Melissa was perfectly willing to be as silent.

A tall young man coming toward them from the office building greeted them with every outward indication of delight, his eyes lingering on Melissa.

"Hello, you two," he greeted them, and Melissa recognized Jimmy Marston. "Ace sent me out to tell you that he's going to be tied up for an hour or more. He and Dad are up to their ears in skull-duggery of some sort—and so I am to have the honor of taking you two fair femmes to test Pleasant very excited and very thrilled."

"But we are, of course—only Melissa's shy!" said Dolores sweetly and warmly. "How very nice of you to take pity on us."

"It's a pleasure," Jimmy beamed happily. "My car's right over here. We'll leave Ace's here so he can join us."

He took them to the city's smartest tea rendezvous, and Melissa, looking about her, would have loved it if Randy, instead of Jimmy Marston, had been with them. But Jimmy was trying hard to be pleasant and amusing and she forced herself to rise to the occasion. Several men came over to their table, their admiring eyes on Dolores, who was gay and charming and, Melissa thought privately, a little silly. One or two of the men asked Dolores to dance; Jimmy and Melissa danced. It was all very gay and pleasant—until Jimmy was called away from the table and Dolores and Melissa were alone for a moment.

Dolores spoke half under her breath, but her tone stung with its venom. "Of course it's not really any of my business, but I do think that a certain amount of decent gratitude to Ace is indicated just here. Or would you be just an ill-mannered brat from the backwoods who never heard of gratitude?"

Miss Melissa stared, wide-eyed, too puzzled for the moment, to be angry. "Gratitude to Ace is indicated just here. Or would you be just an ill-mannered brat from the backwoods who never heard of gratitude?"

"Then why not prove it by being a little more human to Jimmy Marston? His dad could make or break Ace tomorrow if he wanted to. Marston owns a three-fourths interest in the River Queen, and he'd kick Ace out without a moment's hesitation if Jimmy wanted him to," said Dolores grimly. "And if you keep on snooting Jimmy, he's liable to lose his temper. And who are you to snoot Jimmy Marston, anyway?"

"You mean if I am nice to Jimmy, his father will behave decently to Randy?" asked Melissa, bewildered.

"You catch on quick, don't you?" sneered Dolores.

"But Randy doesn't want me to be nice to Jimmy. He didn't want me to dance with him the other night—" Melissa stammered.

"That's because Ace bends over backward about a fool thing called pride," snapped Dolores crossly. "He'd starve, or be kicked out of business before he'd ask a woman's help. But I know what I'm talking about."

Launch Destroyer At Brooklyn Yard

New York, March 21. (AP)—The 1,630-ton destroyer Buchanan, named for the first American naval officer to set foot on Japanese soil, was commissioned today at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

Capt. Franklin Buchanan accompanied Commodore Matthew Perry at the "opening" of the Orient and he led the men ashore. He also was the first superintendent of the Naval Academy and captained the Confederate Ironclad Merrimack in the Civil war.

The Buchanan, a sister ship of the Aaron Ward, was launched at Kearney, N. J., November 23, 1941. Rear Admiral Edward J. Marquart, commandant of the Third Naval District, and Miss Hildreth Meiere, a great-granddaughter of Capt. Buchanan, spoke at the ceremonies.

This was the second destroyer to be named for Capt. Buchanan, the first having been one of the 50 over-age vessels turned over to Great Britain.

N. Y. Stock Market

WALL STREET (Final)
New York, March 21 (AP)—Scattered stocks were successful in attracting timid buyers today but many market leaders remained in the wall-flower division.

A few rails, motors and coppers acted fairly well after a hesitant start but such gains as appeared generally were in negligible fractions. Steels, rubbers and aircrafts did virtually nothing and, at the close, trends were uneven. Losses, on the whole, were small but a handful of recessions running to a point or so was in evidence.

Dealings were sluggish, transfers for the two hours approximating 150,000 shares.

Sew'g Room Here To Be Discontin'd

The Red Cross Sewing Room will be closed for thirty days it was announced today by Mrs. Louis C. Skinner, co-chairman of the Pitt County Red Cross Production Committee. The lack of materials to work with has made such a step necessary.

The Sewing Room will be open all next week from 10 a. m. to 12 noon for those people who have not completed the sewing they have already taken out. The local chapter hopes to make a shipment at the end of the week. Those who cannot get their work in by next Saturday can return their finished garments to the knitting room at the Woman's Club building which is remaining open from 10 to 12 o'clock each day on a full program.

The Knitting Committee has an ample supply of wool and will continue its work full blast. Instructors are present every day at the knitting room to help out with knitting and to issue wool and accept returned finished articles.

Mrs. Skinner said the Pitt county chapter felt greatly gratified and pleased with the fine work being done by the volunteer sewers and particularly the excellent work done by the rural organized communities. She is most anxious that the interest and enthusiasm not die because operations had to be suspended. Announcement will be made of reopening the sewing room just as soon as materials are on hand.

Defeatism Attitude Denounced By Blount

Robersonville, March 21.—Marvin K. Blount, candidate for Congress, in an address before the Robersonville Rotary club here last night, declared that this is not time for defeatism, adding that we still have MacArthur, Roosevelt and Churchill.

He was introduced by Willie Taylor, leading Robersonville man.

The speaker said that "we have had our setbacks, yes, and quite possibly we may have more before the tide begins to turn in our favor. We know that it will turn and that we will emerge completely victorious."

Rocky Mount Citizen Dies From Accident

Mrs. W. E. Warren was called to Rocky Mount early Wednesday morning on account of an accident by her only brother, Robert Roy Faithful, a merchant in that city. Mrs. Warren was at his bedside when he died late Thursday night.

Mr. Faithful was well known in this county having lived here all his life until ten years ago when he and his family moved to Rocky Mount.

Funeral services will be conducted at the home on South Church street Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. M. E. Tyson of Pikeville, assisted by Dr. Kinchloe, Missionary Baptist minister of that city. Burial will follow in the cemetery in Rocky Mount.

Asserts Congressmen Unable Get Together

Wilson, March 21.—R. Flake Shaw of Greensboro, executive secretary of the North Carolina Farm Bureau, called for an increase in the present 10 cents a pound penalty on flue-cured tobacco, deferment of draftees who are essential to the nation's farm program and transfer of WPA workers on relief to the farms to help in war food production at a meeting of several hundred farmers here last night as he lambasted the "jittery" habits of Congressmen in Washington.

Air Crash Is Fatal To Two Tar Heels

Greenfield, Ind., March 21.—(AP)—Four army fliers were killed near here last night in the crash and explosion of a two-engine bomber apparently crippled by engine trouble.

The victims, the only occupants of the airplane, were Lieut. Paul P. Hawkins, Ponca City, Okla., pilot; Lieut. James P. Van Story, Lincoln, N. C., co-pilot; Lieut. Lawrence J. Rux, Henderson, N. C., navigator; and Sgt. Robert W. Morgan, Uniontown, Pa., mechanic.

The bomber left Patterson field, near Dayton, O., on a routine operation flight at 4:30 p. m. (EWT) and was due back at 6:30. It was reported to have circled over Anderson and Greenfield, apparently in distress, before the crash. One wing was sheared off as it moved into the ground and some burning parts were scattered over a pasture.

Dayton, Ohio, March 21.—(AP)—The parents and two brothers of Sgt. Robert W. Morgan of Uniontown, Pa., arrived at Patterson Field here today for a visit with him, only to learn that he had died with three Army officers in the crash of a bomber plane last night near Greenfield, Ind.

Vanceboro Woman Claimed By Death

Mrs. Bettie Elizabeth Gatlin, 60 died at her home in Vanceboro this morning at 4:30 o'clock. Funeral services will be conducted at the home of her son, Bruce B. Gatlin of Vanceboro, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock by her pastor, Rev. W. H. Brady, Methodist minister, and burial will be in the Vanceboro cemetery.

Mrs. Gatlin, who was born, reared and spent her entire life in the Vanceboro community, is survived by her one son, a daughter, Mrs. J. R. Bryan of Vanceboro; her father, William H. Gatlin of New Bern, and 11 grandchildren.

Everett, larceny, prayer for judgment continued; Elijah Belcher, colored abandonment and non-support, 90 days or pay sum of $6 for support of wife and children; Farrow Ham drunk 30 days or costs; Charlie Huger, colored, operating a gambling house, 60 days or pay $25; James Allen Moore and Rayfield Moore, colored, engaging in riotous and disorderly conduct, acquitted; Mac Perkins, colored, driving drunk while license revoked, six months or pay $75 fine and costs.

U-Boat Successes Claimed By Berlin

Berlin (From German Broadcasts) March 21.—(AP)—U-boats have sunk six more ships totaling 35,000 tons and a U. S. coastal patrol boat in operations off the American and west African coasts, the high command said today.

A German submarine, attacking a convoy in the Atlantic, scored four torpedo hits but was unable to observe the results because of the "strong defense put up," the communique continued.

German planes sank a 4,000-ton freighter in British waters and another merchant ship, described as "fairly large" was damaged, it was claimed.

The communique declared a U-boat commanded by Capt. Poske "distinguished itself in operations in American waters."

Funeral Tomorrow D. W. Hardee, Sr.

Funeral services for D. W. Hardee, Sr., 74, who died at his home at 1102 Dickinson, last night, will be conducted at the Immanuel Baptist church tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by the pastor Rev. Hartwell Campbell, assisted by Rev. George W. Perry, local Methodist pastor. Interment will be in the Hardee cemetery in the county, with the Masonic Order in charge. Deacons of Immanuel church will serve as honorary pallbearers.

Mr. Hardee was a member of the Immanuel church and had served as a deacon for more than 20 years. He was prominent in social and civic affairs of the city, being a member of the Masonic Order, Odd Fellows and Order of Red Men.

A native of Pitt county he entered business here at the age of 19. He retired from the mercantile business in 1921, since which he had been engaged in real estate, farming and private enterprise.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Henrietta McGowan Hardee; two sons, D. L. Hardee and D. W. Hardee, Jr., both of Greenville, and one daughter, Mrs. R. B. Bilbro of Washington.

Native Son Of Pitt On Staff Of Citadel

Charleston, S. C., March 21.—Colonel Marion S. Lewis, son of Mrs. J. J. Lewis of Grimesland, N. C., formerly of Grantsboro, now professor and head of the business administration department at The Citadel, is taking an important part in the all-out defense program at South Carolina's historic military college. He is one of a group of highly selected teachers who are conducting technical training classes there at night for employed men in professional and sub-professional categories, following the program conducted under the auspices of the United States Office of Education.

Colonel Lewis is a graduate of Trinity College, now Duke University, where he received his A.B. degree in 1918 and his M.A. degree in 1921. He has done graduate work at the University of Chicago.

In 1923 Colonel Lewis married Miss Nancy W. McLawhorn of Vanceboro, N. C. They have four daughters, Nancy L., Mary Lou, Ann W. and Marion.

Sanitarians In Pitt Visited By Inspectors

E. B. Roach, state sanitary inspector, has been in the county since Tuesday working with H. A. Hendrix, county sanitarian, and J. T. Welch, city of Greenville sanitarian.

The sanitarians are inspecting dairies, meat markets, soft drink places, cafes, and other food handling establishments.

One special reason for Mr. Roach's visit to the county is to assist the local sanitarians in interpreting the new rules and regulations on the sanitation of food handling establishments.

Mr. Roach says that he does not expect to complete the work in Pitt county until sometime next week. Already he has found it necessary to close certain food handling places.

The local health officer, Dr. Emmett, expressed the opinion that good sanitation is absolutely essential in all restaurants, cafes, etc., if the health of the public is to be protected.

A family row within the Axis revival of old animosities between Rumania and Hungary was indicated by reports to Bern.

The quarrel developed with a declaration by Prof. Mihail Antonescu, foreign minister of Rumania, that the dispute over Transylvania, part of which was awarded to Hungary through Axis arbitration in 1940, was far from settled in Rumania's view.
