RAF Bombers Continue Assaults On Continent

Around-the-clock offensive continues; Nazi industries are bombed; fliers stage bitter battles 20,000 feet in air

London, April 16.—(AP) The thunderous roar of hundreds of British fighter planes filled the English channel sky today in what coast watchers believed to be the RAF's greatest daylight sweep of the war against German holdings in France.

To residents of the Kentish coast the roar of battle was even louder than that of a year and a half ago when the German air force sent formations numbering as many as 500 planes against Britain in a single day.

Winding up the third successive day of dawn-to-dark raiding in northern France Spitfire formations swept across the channel before dusk as many squadrons returned from the direction of Boulogne and Calais, still flying in perfect formations.

British and German fliers fought high over France as the RAF continued its around-the-clock schedule.

Two Nazi planes were reported authoritatively as having been shot down in the dogfights this morning. The Air Ministry news service said three others were damaged by RAF fighters during the sweep in which bomb-bearing Hurricanes scored hits on railroad sidings and the dock area of Dunkerque.

None of the British Hurricane bombers or their Spitfire escort was hit during the sweep, the service said.

In one sky battle, it reported, a wing of Spitfires engaged 12 FW-190s at 20,000 feet and "probably destroyed" two of the German planes.

The Spitfires were so high, however, that their pilots could not see the end of their victims. In another, still-higher battle, it said, the leader of the RAF fighter squadron drilled another FW-109 which "rolled over and went speedily down with smoke pouring from it."

The service also reported that a lone Spitfire, on shipping reconnaissance, spotted a 200-ton German torpedo boat in the channel and dived on it from 5,000 feet with cannon and machine-guns firing. It said the boat was damaged in the dive attack, which the pilot kept up until his plane was almost touching water.

The night attack on the Ruhr was the second large-scale penetration of Germany in as many nights. Four planes were announced as missing from the night attacks which also included raids on St. Nazaire, docks at Le Havre and airdromes in the low countries.

Warplane formations dived over the channel coast at Polkstone soon after dawn and observers heard the distant explosion of bombs and anti-aircraft fire for an hour and a half before they returned.

The oft-raided area about Calais, a center of German fortifications skirting the French shore, was battered again in the night after virtually uninterrupted attacks throughout Wednesday against it. Heavy blasts thundered across the sea. Three British fighters were listed as missing after those daylight sweeps and three German planes were declared definitely destroyed.

The German air force struck back with a night raid on a town in (Continued On Page Two)

Half Pound Sugar A Week Per Person

Washington, April 16.—(AP)—The government announced today that the nation's first sugar ration allowance would be half a pound a week per person.

This quota will apply only to the first two weeks of rationing, which is scheduled to begin some time during the week of May 4-7—the period during which all citizens must register and obtain books of ration stamps.

Under present plans, each ration stamp will be good for two weeks and stamp number one will permit purchase of one pound of sugar. OPA said the ration allowance might be changed for each two weeks thereafter, depending upon available sugar supplies.

Without Rubber

Akron, O., April 16.—(AP)—Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company is testing automobile tires made without rubber.

"We now have test cars on the road which are running on tires made without rubber," said an announcement. "We can make no further comment on this development at this time."

FRENCH FLEET GRAVE MENACE

In German Hands It Would Be Threat To Allies

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER Washington, April 16 (AP)—The increasing threat that Nazi Germany may gain control of the French Fleet was regarded by naval authorities today as a grave menace to Britain's supply lines in the Mediterranean and thus a direct threat to the security of her armies in North Africa.

Beyond this immediate result, these experts said, an out-and-out Vichy-Berlin coalition eventually would jeopardize Anglo-American domination of the North Atlantic supply routes to England and Russia, and a general realignment of Allied naval strategy would have to be undertaken.

In making effective use of the French ships, however, it would be imperative that the Axis have the enthusiastic support of their officers and crews, and there was considerable speculation here as to whether that could be counted on in all cases.

Some experts suggested that the French might have no more stomach for fighting the Axis battle than the Italians seem to have shown to date. These authorities said there was no question that the Italian navy had made a consistently poor showing in the Mediterranean largely because "their hearts just aren't in their work."

However, despite the British victories at Taranto and Cape Matapan and in various other lesser engagements, the Italian forces in the Mediterranean remain considerable. If Vichy capitulates completely there would be added to these, according to the best available unofficial estimates:

- The five battleships Provence, Dunkerque, Strasbourg, Richelieu and Jean Bart (assuming the latter has been completed—a doubtful possibility), all in various stages of readiness to fight; Two battleships building, the Gasconne and Clemenceau; Two uncompleted aircraft carriers, the Painleve and Joffre; Four heavy cruisers; Eight light cruisers built, and three building; 52 destroyers built, and 20 building (five others under construction are reported to have been taken over by the Germans many months ago); 59 submarines built and 22 building.

Freighter Crew Shoots Periscope From U-Boat

New York, April 16.—(AP)—A machine gun crew aboard a United States merchantman shot one of the periscopes of an attacking submarine which nevertheless sank their ship off the Atlantic coast, three of the ship's 38 survivors related today.

JAPS INCREASE PRESSURE ON CHINESE LINES

Fresh Nippon Divisions Being Poured In Burma Campaign

Chungking, China, April 16.—(AP)—The Japanese are reported pouring five and a half fresh divisions into the Burma campaign and two of these divisions already are landing at Rangoon, where 40 transports have been sighted by British RAF fliers, a Chinese military spokesman said today.

(Earlier estimates have placed the strength of the Japanese forces already engaged in Burma at about three divisions.)

The reinforcements would make the total eight and a half divisions, perhaps 150,000 men.

The spokesman disclosed that the position of the Chinese forces battling desperately against the Japanese below Mandalay had become still more difficult by the British retreat on the Irrawaddy river sector to the west, dangerously exposing the Chinese right flank.

Another new danger appeared yesterday on the Chinese left when it became evident, according to a Chinese communique, that a Japanese drive northward from Thailand into the Shan states of northern Burma had assumed the proportions of a major offensive.

This drive, apparently aimed at cutting the railway between Mandalay and Lashio, threatens the position of the main Chinese forces still holding their ground some 200 miles to the south, above Toungoo.

Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, U. S. Army, commands the Chinese forces in Burma.

(A New Delhi communique said British forces had withdrawn up the Irrawaddy from the Migyaung area but dug in near Yenchaung, just north of Manhia, less than 30 miles from Yenyaung in the west Burma oil fields.)

(There, the communique said, the British still held positions "covering the right flank of the Chinese expeditionary force.")

(The British communique quoted reports from the Chinese headquarters that "steady enemy pressure continues on the Myohla front," 35 miles up the road to Mandalay from Toungoo, "with their troops moving slowly back and fighting a stubborn delaying action.")

(The British declared that their own withdrawal from the Migyaung area was made possible by covering action of the King's own Yorkshire infantry "who for days have fought a magnificent action.")

The Chinese spokesman said that Chinese troops still were holding on at Myohla, but that the flank and rear of their position were threatened seriously by the Japanese advance up the Irrawaddy.

He said two Japanese columns were striking hard toward Loikaw, capital of Karenni province and southern gate to the Shan states.

One column was reported moving up the Salween river valley toward Loikaw from the southeast. Another was said to have reached Yado, 40 miles northeast of Toungoo.

House Adopts Submarine Bill

Washington, April 16.—(AP)—House passage by unanimous consent sped to the Senate today legislation authorizing the construction of 200,000 tons of new submarines at an estimated cost of $900,000,000.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the naval committee told the House he could not disclose the number of submarines that would be built under the program but emphasized the urgency of their immediate construction.

Earlier Vinson had said the program would provide "more than 100" new undersea craft. Introduced Tuesday, the bill was approved unanimously by the naval committee yesterday.

"As soon as a submarine now leaves the ways," Vinson told the House, "it is highly necessary" that work be started on another one. Representative Rankin (D-Miss.) declared the United States should have "at least 1,000 first-class submarines."

U. S. Planes Hit Japs In Philippines

Rearing up from Australia on a 4,000-mile round-trip flight, 13 big United States bombing planes blasted Japanese bases and shipping at Manila (1), Batangas (2), Cebu (3), and Davao (4) in the Philippines. The broken lines denote the course of the destructive flight. The attacks took place April 13 and 14.

ISLAND GUNS BLAST JAPS

Jap Munition Dumps On Bataan Are Blown Up

Washington, April 16.—(AP)—The War Department reported today that Corregidor's guns scored hits on troop concentrations and truck columns on the Philippines' Bataan peninsula, and that enemy ammunition dumps were hit and blown up.

Japanese casualties were believed to have been numerous, a communique said.

Fierce fighting continued on the island of Cebu, more than 300 miles to the south, where the Japanese last week landed an invasion force estimated at 12,000, which was supported by dive bombers and tanks.

Corregidor was raided five times yesterday, the communique said, but the defenders' anti-aircraft artillery forced the Japanese planes as on most other occasions to fly so high bombing was ineffective.

Lieutenant General Jonathan M. Wainwright, the Philippine commander, reported that in the week since April 9 the fortress island had been raided 65 times, but the War Department said that "despite the almost constant bombing, the damage to military installations has been relatively slight, and the morale of the troops is unimpaired."

The fortress island also was shelled intermittently yesterday by enemy batteries on the north and south shores of Manila Bay.

Since the Japanese invasion started, Corregidor has had 206 air raid alarms, the communique said.

Raids were actually more numerous, since on some occasions when an alarm continued for half day four or five separate attacks took place.

RAAF Busy

Canberra, Australia, April 16.—(AP)—The Royal Australian Airforce again bombed Koepang, Japanese-occupied capital of Dutch Timor, before dawn today, Prime Minister John Curtin announced.

High explosives and incendiaries were dropped on an airdrome, his communique said, but "other details of the attack have not yet been received."

FURTHER CUT ON GASOLINE

Motorists May Have To Do On 40 to 50 Percent Less

Washington, April 16 (AP)—A new, severe reduction in gasoline consumption became effective today in the East and Pacific northwest, and petroleum industry sources said millions of motorists would have to get along with 40 to 50 percent less than their normal use of motor fuel.

The overall curtailment was raised to one-third, an increase of 13-13 per cent over the twenty per cent reduction instituted a month ago.

Essential vehicles, including those necessary to health and safety, commerce, schools and government, will continue to get full supplies, and the gasoline used in non-essential driving thus will be curtailed by considerable more than one third.

Petroleum Coordinator Ickes said that public cooperation with the new reduction would determine whether gasoline must be put under a ration card system.

The system of curtailing supplies to filling stations, which in turn apportion the short stocks among their customers, has worked "surprisingly well" under the 20 per cent cut, Ickes said, but he indicated the situation might be different when the motorists "feel the pinch" of the more severe reduction effective today.

FDR Reorganizes Civilian Defense

Washington, April 16 (AP)—President Roosevelt reorganized the Office of Civilian Defense today, retaining James M. Landis as director, but creating a civilian defense board to advise and assist him.

The War and Navy Departments were given representation on this board and a presidential executive order said the director "shall" carry out functions of his office with the advice and assistance of the board.

A White House statement said the reorganization was designed to integrate activities of the OCF "more closely with those of other war agencies and to gear its program to the war effort."

REDS DRIVE TO NEW POSITIONS AGAINST NAZIS

Thawing Snow Uncovers Bodies of Germans Killed During Winter

By The Associated Press Red army units which knifed through the first line of Nazi fortifications in the Bryansk sector southwest of Moscow have advanced and occupied a dozen settlements abandoned by the Germans, dispatches said today.

Bryansk is a key German base only 60 miles from the border of White Russia.

A central front report related that the Germans were increasing their troop reinforcements constantly for sparring attacks against the Red army.

It cited 18 minor counterattacks by the 263rd German division. The 63rd division was said to have tried 12, all failing, and six reserve battalions which recently joined the 63rd were said to have been badly mauled.

Thawing of snowbanks has uncovered the bodies of Germans killed in winter operations, adding to horrible aspects of the front, the dispatch said.

London military quarters said the Germans would probably not attempt to unleash a full-scale "blitz" assault on the central front until about May 15, when the weather and terrain conditions would be more favorable for mechanized attack.

Murder Case Being Heard In Court Here

Hearing of the murder trial against Z. N. Tripp of the Bethel section of the county, got under way in Superior court here this morning and at the noon hour indications were that the case might reach the jury late today.

U. S.-Vichy Relations Nearing Breaking Point

Led Raid on Japs

Brig. Gen. Ralph Royce (above) personally led 13 big American bombing planes in smashing attacks on Japanese bases at Manila, Cebu, Davao and Batangas in the Philippines April 13 and 14. The planes made a 4,000-mile round trip from Australia, the longest-range destructive air attack in the entire course of the Pacific war.

LAVAL TAKES OVER FRANCE

Unrest And Violence Reported From Paris

Bern, Switzerland, April 16.—(AP) Pierre Laval, advocate of aid to the Axis, took over actual rule of beaten France tonight as "chief of the government" while reports of rising unrest and violence filtered in from Paris, the German-held capital.

Reports of Paris demonstrations against the trend of events of the past few days were associated with word of a train wreck near Paris in which 35 German soldiers were killed.

Authoritative advices from Vichy said that Laval, foremost French exponent of cooperation with Adolf Hitler completed formation of a new government there tonight, himself becoming "chief of the government," under the aged Marshal Pétain as chief of state.

In Vichy it was understood that Laval, whose return to power in the regime headed by aged Marshal Pétain was announced Tuesday, would also assume the post of Minister of Interior, with control over the police of the nation.

The realignment of the Vichy government was accompanied today by reports of marching demonstrations at Paris against collaboration with Germany and the death of 35 German soldiers in a train wreck near the German-held French capital.

(A BBC broadcast put the number of soldier dead in the wreck at 40 and said it resulted from derailment.)

In the past few days 25 persons were said to have been executed at Paris and there have been numerous reports of mass arrests of persons demonstrating against collaboration.

Acknowledge Loss Of Minesweeper

Washington, April 16 (AP)—The Navy reported today that Japanese bombs falling on and near Corregidor had sunk the U. S. Minesweeper Finck, 840 ton vessel built during the World War.

Ambassador To Confer With State Department Late Today; Full Collaboration With Hitler Expected; Americans Ordered Home

Washington, April 16.—(AP)—French Ambassador Henry-Haye arranged today to call at the State Department (at 6 p. m., EWT) and speculation about this purpose included the thought that he might be bringing a declaration of Vichy France solidarity with Hitler's "new order."

Already, United States relations with Vichy appeared strained almost to the breaking point.

As all American residents were urged to leave unoccupied France and Congressmen expressed concern that Hitler would acquire the French fleet, Vichy's Ambassador Gaston Henry-Haye sought an appointment at the State Department here.

Acting Secretary of State Welles announced that he would receive the French diplomat today and some observers thought that Henry-Haye's mission might be to deliver official notification of a new and openly pro-Nazi collaborationist policy under the premiership of Pierre Laval.

Senators who have been watching the fast changing picture in unoccupied France, meanwhile joined in gloomy forecasts that the French fleet might soon be aligned with Axis naval forces.

"Hitler will take the French fleet now whenever he decides the time is right," said Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) a member of the Senate Naval Committee. "He has been after it through pressure for many months. We can expect direct action now at any time."

Similar views were expressed by Senators Bone (D-Wash.), Norris (Ind.-Neb.), and Gillette (D-Iowa), in separate interviews, with the latter urging that the United States and her allies get a jump by holding all French vessels and supplies in port and occupying the numerous French insular possessions in the Western Hemisphere.

Axis seizure of the French fleet was indeed the general forbidding of all senators.

There have been critical moments before in the tortuous course of French-American diplomacy since the dark day in 1940 when the aged Marshal Philippe Pétain asked the Germans for an armistice.

But this time developments have moved toward a show-down with a rapidity causing more than usual concern in official quarters here.

It was Tuesday that Laval's sudden reascendancy confronted the United States with the urgent need of re-examining its whole policy toward Vichy.

The same day a Vichy communique announced rejection of the latest American note to that government as a document "couched in injurious terms which tend to discredit in the eyes of the world the conduct of French citizens."

Yesterday Acting Secretary Welles disclosed that the United States had abruptly halted arrangements for the departure of two French ships with cargo for French North Africa and had suspended plans to send a Red Cross ship to unoccupied France with medical supplies, condensed milk and clothing.

Later in the day hints dropped by the German-controlled Paris radio circulating in official quarters in Vichy led observers in Bern to expect issuance of a statement openly declaring the Vichy government's solidarity with Germany.

And last night the cables brought news that all Americans in unoccupied France had been asked by the United States consular officials to leave for the United States as soon as possible.

Henry-Haye's visit to the State Department today was understood to be connected with a communication from Vichy to the U. S. government. Some observers, on the basis of the disturbing reports from Europe, were therefore alert for (Continued On Page Two)

The WAR TODAY

MacArthur's great aerial coup against the four Philippine bases was in a manner of speaking a token raid, for one of its chief purposes surely was to place the Gen. seal on his pledge to take the offensive against the enemy.

Charlotte Man Tells Of American Bombing Raids

By CLARK LEE United States Army Headquarters in Australia, April 16.—(AP)—Lieutenant James E. Binston, McAfee of 301 Hermitage Road, Charlotte, N. C., said, "I just sat there and watched the Colonel shooting Japs and blowing ships to hell. . . . The next time I am going to take a camera along."

McAfee had the co-pilot's position, beside Lieut. Col. John Hubert Davies, in one of the B-25 medium bombers which made up the bulk of the force sent against the Japanese in the Philippines at the start of the week. Davies was leader of the group.

Concert Artist To Appear Here.
Helen Jepson, the grand opera star, will not find herself in a strange section when she comes to Greenville for her concert at East Carolina Teachers College on April 24.

There may be some in the audience who will recall among the "talents" in Chautauque one summer a quartet of young girls who were called the "Mississippi Misses" not because they were from that state but because that made a good stage title.

Helen Jepson, a music student in Philadelphia who was making her living expenses by using her talents in every way she could, had organized that quartet and drilled them, and was the director, business manager and soloist for the group. They bought a second-hand car and she was also the chauffeur. They traveled 6,000 miles, following the Chautauque circuit with a few other engagements on the side. New Bern was the last of the eighty towns visited, ending the "barnstorming" days of Miss Jepson.

She has had a Cinderella-like career. She rose rapidly, winning honor after honor in her musical study, was soloist with Paul Whitman, became a favorite radio star, won a place in grand opera and rose finally to be the leading star in the best operas, and is a great concert favorite from coast to coast.

This season she was booked for fifty concerts, filling the time between operas and radio engagements. This heavy schedule seems like child's play to her compared with her first tour.

The Round Table Meets.
The Round Table met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. P. T. Anthony. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. W. B. Tighman and Mrs. T. A. Person. The guests were graciously greeted at the door by Mrs. Person. Mrs. Tighman was unable to be present because of illness.

The president, Mrs. J. E. Winslow, called the meeting to order. The roll was called by the secretary, Mrs. H. H. Duncan. There was a discussion of the possibility of bringing to Greenville the pageant, "You Can Defend America," which had been suggested as a substitute activity for the annual meeting of all the book clubs of the city.

Mrs. Person presented her special guests of the afternoon, Mrs. Eugene Wilson and Mrs. Percy Wells. Mrs. Wiley Brown read a very interesting paper on "The Panama Canal in Latin American Life." She traced the development of the canal from the early unsuccessful French attempts at construction down to its major importance in the present war, stressing the diplomatic jockeying of the previous Roosevelt administration which brought about the granting of canal rights to the United States. She discussed the possibilities of the region and concluded with a well-rounded picture of the structure of society, emphasizing the place of women. Her concluding thought was the fact that South America is now focusing its attention on the United States instead of the European centers as was formerly true.

Artist To Visit Greenville.
Plans for bringing the distinguished artist, Louis Orr, to Greenville during Art Festival week—April 28-31—were outlined Tuesday night at a meeting of the Sponsors' Board of the local WPA Art Gallery. Members of the board were most enthusiastic over the fact that the local art center is able to present such an internationally known artist to our community, a feat made possible by the fact that Mr. Orr is a close friend of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Humber, local citizens who are deeply interested in the promotion of the creative arts throughout America.

Born in Connecticut, Mr. Orr has lived for a number of years in France, there becoming one of the outstanding painter-etchers of today. Incidentally, he is the only living etcher whose work is in the Louvre in a collection founded by Louis XIV. Twenty-two of his original drawings form a part, also, of the permanent collection of the Luxembourg galleries.

Mr. Orr will speak in Greenville on Tuesday evening, April 28, sponsored by the local WPA Art Gallery. His address which will be illustrated by some of his own work, will open the annual Art Festival this year. In addition to his address, groups of his etchings, drawings and paintings will be exhibited in the WPA Art Gallery in Sheppard Memorial Library, and also at the Woman's Club. These exhibits, as well as Mr. Orr's address, will be open to the public free of charge.

Athenium Book Club.
Mrs. W. W. Lee was hostess to the members of the Athenium Book Club at her home on Greene street Tuesday at one o'clock. Spring flowers were placed most attractively throughout the lower floor. A delicious spring luncheon was served to the members and guests. Mrs. Lee's guests were Mrs. Will Lipscomb, Mrs. Larry James and the speaker for the program, Miss Velma McConnell, educational director of the Memorial Baptist Church. Mrs. Lee introduced Miss McConnell, who gave a very interesting talk on "Banana Culture on a Banana Farm in Central America." This was one of a series of studies of the Pan-American republics. In the mind's eye, Miss McConnell transported us to a dense tropical forest in Central America, which she described as a future banana farm, for all banana farms are made from virgin forests. She took the guests through the various stages of culture until the fruit is put on ship ready for transportation to foreign markets. Bananas are to be the few fruits whose flavor is improved if cut when green. After Miss McConnell's talk was concluded, the club pressed her for some of her experiences in China, as a teacher of music in Shanghai, prior to her evacuation in 1941. Both her talks on banana culture and her impressions of cultured Chinese were done ably and with a great deal of enthusiasm.

Chlo Book Club.
"The average North Carolinian is unaware that there is any North Carolina poetry," said Mr. Richard Walser in his talk to the members of the Chlo Book Club on Tuesday, April 14, at the home of Mrs. H. L. Rivers. However, if they would browse through the library at the University of North Carolina, as Mr. Walser did when collecting material for his book on "North Carolina Poetry," they would realize that there were North Carolina poets as far back as 1760. The first, Thomas Godfrey, a native of Philadelphia, who lived in Wilmington, was inspired by the cultural atmosphere of his surroundings to write poems. He was followed by George Moses Horton, a Negro slave from Northampton county. Several other early North Carolina poets mentioned were William Gaston, Mary Bayard Clark, Charles Henry Boone and two of North Carolina's governors. He then read many poems from his book "North Carolina Poetry." His selections were taken from the works of such famous poets as John Charles McNeill, the most prominent poet in North Carolina. Olive Tilford Dargan, James Larkin Pearson and Anne Blackwell Payne. Mr. Walser added interest to the reading of these poems by telling some of his encounters with these poets at various occasions.

Mrs. W. S. Bost, the new president, presided over a short business meeting. The hostess, Mrs. H. L. Rivers, sponsor for the Chlo Book Club served delicious refreshments. Mrs. H. P. Cunningham, Jr., was a guest for the afternoon.

Chatham Book Club.
The Chatham Book Club met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. E. Jones. Each guest was greeted by the hostess in her usual charming and hospitable manner and invited into the living room which had been made very spring-like with a beautiful arrangement of tulips, iris and spirea.

During the business session which was presided over by the president, Mrs. Luther Bowling, the club voted to make donations to various patriotic organizations, and the following officers for the coming year were elected: Mrs. Frank Bendall, president; Mrs. L. T. Shotwell, vice president; Mrs. E. R. Conway, secretary; Mrs. Will Moore, treasurer. At the conclusion of the business session a delicious desert course with coffee was served by the hostess, assisted by her attractive daughter, Miss Margaret Jones. Mrs. R. T. Wheelwright was a guest.

The speaker of the afternoon, Mr. V. M. Mulholland, was then introduced by Mrs. Bowling. Mr. Mulholland discussed in very understandable and interesting manner "The Eight Year Plan of Progressive Schools" as has been outlined by Willford M. Aiken. He spoke of several of the 36 schools throughout the United States that have adopted the plan and of the advantages to the student through high school and college. It was a most enjoyable and enlightening talk.

Student Council.
At the Student Council meeting Tuesday night the report on paper was given; $108.15 having been made by the sale of paper gathered by high school students. All this money went to help pay the bus debt but from now on the Junior Red Cross will be given 10 per cent of the profits.

Fireclub Club Meets.
A most enjoyable meeting of the Fireclub Club of the Eighth Street Christian Church was held Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ty Wagner. This was the last meeting of the year and most of the members were present.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Gibbs were welcomed into the group. Officers for the coming year were elected and are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Gentry, president; and Mrs. and Mrs. Guy C. Evans, secretary. A very interesting talk was given by Mrs. Ficklen Arthur, her subject being "A Blueprint for a Christian Home." She stated that one family life should grow like the plans of a blueprint in length, depth and width—always keeping God's purposes in mind. In a Christian home the people are more interested in what they are than in what they have. The family life is a continual growing process in which love, faith, justice and reverence abound.

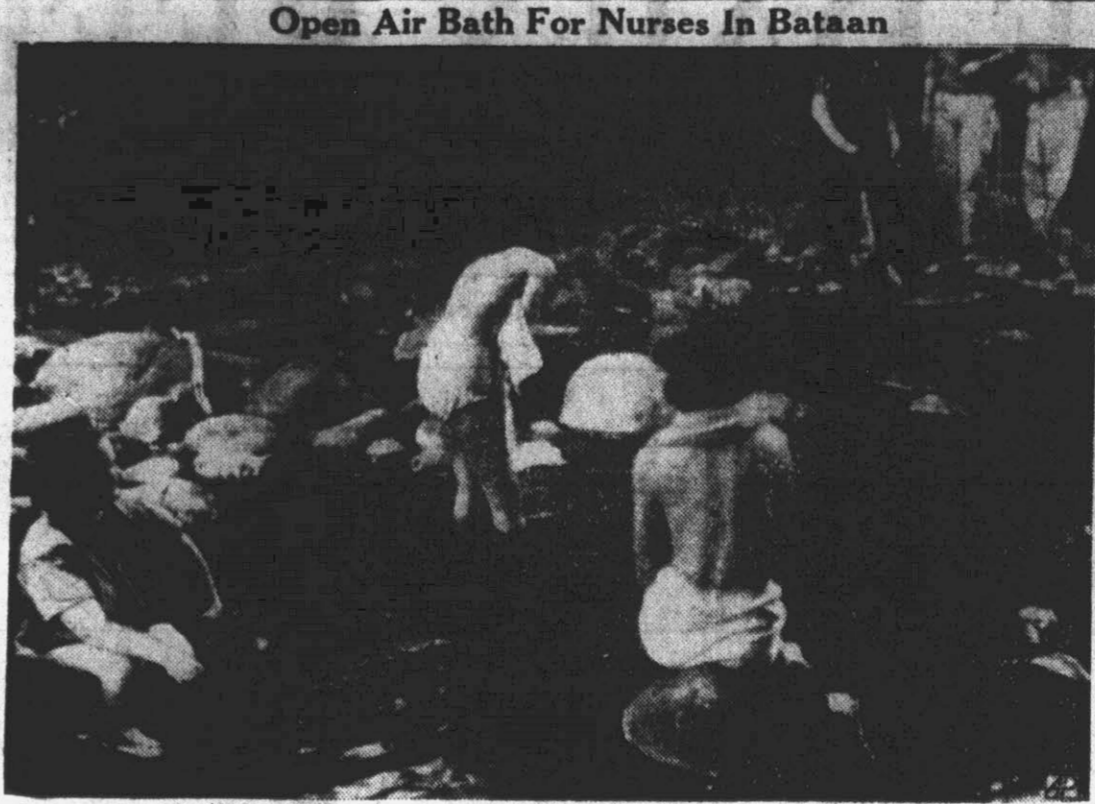

At the conclusion of the program Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ryan were presented a gift by the club in appreciation for their splendid cooperation in the organization and sponsorship of this group.

Nation May Face General Sales Tax

Chapel Hill, April 16.—(AP)—Price Administrator Leon Henderson said last night that the nation might be forced to adopt a general sales tax, which he does not favor, unless wages were stabilized.

Henderson's talk, before the Carolina Political Union of the University of North Carolina, was informal and brief. In response to an open forum question, he said he believed suspension of the 40-hour week would decrease production because "I don't believe human beings will respond to a 10 per cent cut."

At another point he said he was in favor of "everybody working harder to win this war."

Insurance Agents Back From Raleigh

At the Annual Life Insurance Sales Congress held in Raleigh on Wednesday, nationally prominent men of the Life Insurance field were heard throughout the day.

The highlight of the day's program was an address by Holgar J. Jonson, President of the Institute of Life Insurance. He stressed the fact that the most important job at present is to win the war.

Every life insurance man is doing his part, when he sells the individual security for his family, as he is also selling security for our Nation. In 1939, 15 per cent of Life Insurance Companies' income was invested in government securities; in 1940 30 per cent; in 1941 50 per cent; in 1942 no figure is available but an increase is being made. The greater increase of life insurance in force, the greater will be our guard against inflation.

Among those from Greenville attending this Sales Congress were: Jake Hadley, Godfrey P. Oakley, J. B. Oakley, E. F. House, E. R. Conway, Claude Tunstall, Mrs. Ruth Bundy, Mrs. Selma C. Moore, E. L. Willard and Joseph J. Pollard.

Hail Daring Raids As But Taste Of What Is To Come

110 TONS OF BOMBS RAINED ON JAPANESE

Bombers Carry Forty-Four Passengers Back To Australia

By C. YATES McDANIEL
United States Army Headquarters in Australia, April 16 (AP)—One jubilant note echoed today through Australia's acclamation for the United States' spectacular air smash on Japan's Philippine bases—that it was but a taste of more and heavier ones to come which will turn the tide against the enemy in the southwest Pacific.

The weight of the attacks was indicated by the disclosure that 110 tons of bombs were dumped on Japan's soldiers, ships, planes and establishments in the Philippines. The raid covered two days, the latter using a secret field in the Philippine islands for landing.

Even on the long homeward haul, the American airmen put their 13 bombers to vital use, ferrying here 33 passengers—ten crewmen from a raider which was destroyed and 24 army men and civilians, including a number of pilots.

At the same time, other United Nations' fliers persisted in their aerial offensive against the roof of Japanese-invaded islands above Australia.

Prime Minister John Curtin announced that a hit and a near miss were scored on an enemy ship and that wharves and buildings also were probably hit at Rabaul, New Britain, the center of apparent enemy invasion preparations against Australia, yesterday.

Three cabinet officers struck the note that the havoc dealt the Japanese in the Philippines, great as it was, counted even more as a promise for the future of a mighty counter-offensive borne on American wings.

Army Minister Francis M. Biddle said the devastating air raids by the Americans... are some indication of what may be expected from the gallant American airmen in the great offensive against the Japanese.

Air Minister Arthur S. Drakeford said the United States, with her known capacity for mass production can be confidently expected to supply the future great numbers of aircraft... the pasting given the Philippines is a classical example of the United States' inherent offensive spirit.

Supply Minister John A. Beasley said in this magnificent exploit we see the tide of war turning against Japan. This attack is the first drive... in time it will be followed by vast air fleets.

Most of the passengers picked up in the Philippines were United States Army and Air Corps officers. Among them was the Filipino ace, Capt. Jesus Villamor, who won the Distinguished Service Cross for his exploits in flying to defend his homeland.

All but one of the 10 medium-sized, twin-engine B-25 bombers and three big, four-engine B-17 fortress bombers in the armada returned. One made a forced landing but its crew was saved.

A recapitulation showed these achievements for the relatively small aerial striking force:

Secret Orders

Chapter Seven
News From Kurt

The loft like room in the tall Market Street office building was practically deserted by noon. Except for Stephanie and the woman in charge of her division in the Motor Corps, only a few of the Red Cross workers sorted stacks of clothing and yarn on the rough wooden tables. A boat loaded with supplies for England had left only an hour ago. And Stephanie, exhausted with the frenzied activities of the morning, sagged wearily in her chair.

"Darling," a familiar voice in the doorway, "you look simply deflated!" Stephanie glanced up with a tired smile. "Hello, Vicky." Then wryly, "And you look simply devastating. New suit?"

"Heavens no. It's ancient. I'm on a shopping tour right now. Come have lunch with me and help me decide about an adorable hat a Mimi's."

Automatically, Stephanie shook her head. "Sorry, I—." Then she changed her mind. Why not? There'd be nothing doing here at Headquarters for a few days now. Besides, she was tired of being the drudge. "All right, I will."

The St. Francis was awasm with pretty women, buzzing like a giant bee-hive. Many of the workers in uniform like herself. The others in smart suits and sables.

"You know," Vicky said when the headwaiter had found them a table. "I have the most thrilling news. From Kurt!"

Stephanie felt her heart leap to attention. "Yes?"

"Oh, he's done the most thrilling thing. That order he got out at the Club Sunday was about a secret flight to San Diego. It seems the F. B. I. got wind of some plot to bomb some airplane factories and planes from Lafayette Field were sent down to do some scouting. And who do you suppose actually located the enemy planes?"

Stephanie forced a calm. "Kurt, of course."

"Isn't he simply unbelievable! He'll probably be promoted to major now or something wonderful and of course to hear him tell about it, you'd think he'd done absolutely nothing."

Vicky stopped to light a cigarette, let her glance wander with deep interest.

Four enemy centers raided: Four enemy transports sunk, four others hit, including one probably sunk; Troop concentrations bombarded; Docks and warehouses damaged; An enemy-held airfield—Nichols, near Manila—heavily bombed; Five enemy planes, including a bomber and a seaplane, destroyed; others damaged.

Fifty-year-old General Ralph Royce, awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for his accomplishments, declared in an interview that the raid demonstrated how heavily and how widely the United Nations could strike back with sufficient planes based on Australia.

He said it demonstrated also that it was essential to prevent the Japanese from setting up bases in this zone.

At Canberra, Baron Van Aerssen Beveren Van Voshol, the first Netherlands Minister to Australia, presented letters of credence today to Governor-General Lord Gowrie with the pledge that "on land, at sea and in the air Netherlands forces are fighting side by side with the gallant Australians... and they are determined to continue the fight until final victory will be achieved."

At the same time, other United Nations' fliers persisted in their aerial offensive against the roof of Japanese-invaded islands above Australia.

Prime Minister John Curtin announced that a hit and a near miss were scored on an enemy ship and that wharves and buildings also were probably hit at Rabaul, New Britain, the center of apparent enemy invasion preparations against Australia, yesterday.

20 MILLION UNDER ARMS

Nations At War Muster Their Manpower

By WILLIAM FRYE
Washington, April 16.—(AP)—Nations at war today have more than 20,000,000 men under arms. The total may even be as high as 30,000,000 for such figures have long since become jealously guarded military secrets, and in the case of some nations the last available military statistics are several months old.

When the war began for the United States on December 7, 1941, this country had an army of approximately 1,600,000 men, with 33 divisions.

Since then, the U. S. program has been stepped up sharply. The idea of an eventual goal of 3,000,000 men, including 1,000,000 in the air forces. Three additional armored divisions already have been organized, and three more are to be formed in the next few months.

Moreover, the army plans to activate 32 new infantry divisions during 1942, and some of these already have been organized.

Reports on the armed might of other nations have been obscured by the fog of war, but the most recent official and unofficial estimates, based on 15,000 men per division, give this picture:

Great Britain: From 3,000,000 to 3,500,000 men under arms. Approximately 1,500,000 are first line troops. The others for the most part are territorials or home guard forces.

Russia: No very accurate figures are available, but at the time Germany attacked Russia, the latter probably had about 232 divisions and an army of around 5,000,000 men. New troops have been trained, but casualties also have been heavy.

China: At least 2,000,000, possibly as many as 6,000,000 men under arms, but no information available on the number of first line divisions or equivalent organizations.

Germany: From 6,000,000 to 8,000,000 men in the army, with about 300 divisions, nearly 200 of which are probably employed against the Russians. In addition, Germany has called, to a greater or lesser degree, on the armed strength of satellite central European nations—Hungary's 200,000 men and 30 to 200 divisions, Finland's 250,000 men and 14 divisions, Bulgaria's strength roughly the same as Hungary's and Rumania's army of more than 800,000 containing 30 or more divisions.

Japan: Probably about 3,000,000 in the army, but military observers have said that Japan lacked the capacity to provide complete equipment for more than 66 divisions, which with corps, army and other troops not organized as divisions would give her a first line force of around 1,800,000 comparatively few of whom have been employed in her southwest Pacific operations.

Italy: At one time probably 1,500,000 men, with about 60 divisions.

Stephanie had been over the plant dozens of times with her father, and she proved an excellent guide. Not that she could answer all the questions Henri could ask. For a diplomat, he seemed to know an amazing lot about explosives, she told him once, laughing.

"I've always been fascinated by the subject," he explained smiling. "As a boy, I wanted to be a scientist, but—" he shrugged eloquently—"my parents had decided on the diplomatic career."

Cool Greeting
"I think this is about as far as we should go," she said finally. "That row of buildings there, most of them practically underground, is where they store the dynamite. Dad never lets anyone near them without his permission."

"Your father must be very efficient," she considered it a privilege to have this opportunity to meet him.

Stephanie glanced at him, saw instantly that she had not been mistaken about the strange eagerness in his voice. It was written in his expression, a sort of tense excitement. Then Henri felt her glance, turned smiling toward her and the tension was gone.

"There's Dad now," and she nodded toward him, walking along the wharf toward them, a battered felt dragged over one eye, his head tilted against the stiff wind blustering in off the Bay.

He waved, smiled as he recognized her. "Hello, chicken. How did you get here?"

"Henri drove me up," she smiled, turning to the tall man beside her. "Daddy this is Henri de la Pagerie."

Guy Merrill's smile gradually dissolved as he turned to the younger man. For an instant, Stephanie had the appalling notion that her father was about to shake hands with Henri. That of course he did. But there was no heartiness in his "Glad to meet you, sir."

Victory Book Campaign Will Close April 17

With more than 77,000,000 books to its credit and North Carolina ranking 17th on the list of collections, the Victory Book Campaign is now officially drawing to a close. However, since the quota of ten million books has not been reached, President Roosevelt is designating Friday, April 17, as Victory Book Day, calling on all Americans in an appeal for books for our armed forces.

Anyone who has not contributed to this campaign is urged to bring his donations to the Sheppard Memorial Library at once where they will be received and sent to nearby army camps and air bases. The men in the service are allowed several hours a day for reading and study, but books are scarce for them so help them by donating good books today.

Six and one-half million books have been collected throughout the United States of which about three million will be sent to defense areas, with the other half already delivered or in transit to army camps, the Navy, American Merchant Marine and U. S. O. clubs throughout the country. Nearly 75,000 of these books have been sent overseas.

Take your books to the Sheppard Memorial Library and in that way help attain the original goal of ten million books for our armed forces.

The Palace of the Governors in Santa Fe, now a museum, was built in 1610 and served as a seat of government nearly 300 years.

I chuckle as I recall Sarah Bernhardt, when she first tasted the happy American combination—"ham 'n' eggs" at Rector's. I hesitate to imagine what this ethereal artist's appetite might have been if she could have feasted on Wilson's Certified Smoked Ham, with its mild tenderness, and its rich, smoked ham flavor!

THERE is now available a whisky the blending is continuous. Its chief delight is an extra rich sour-mash Bourbon. This is blended with high-cost grain neutral spirits. But these spirits are made extra smooth by an exclusive method. And as with rare old wines and brandies the blending is continuous. In making this mellow blend called Old Anthem, we have new methods to protect the desirable flavor elements. Men instantly notice its smoothness. Ask for Old Anthem. Compare price and value. You'll be glad you did.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

WE CAN EASILY TORTURE OURSELVES

Some people torture themselves by continually turning over problems in their minds, dwelling upon them morbidly allowing perfectly wholesome situations to become at last unwholesome fixations. Stanley Jones in one of his books speaks of the paralysis of analysis. This fitfully describes the benumbing influence of dwelling on a problem beyond the point where there is anything to be gained by so doing.

There are plenty of problems in life, and they need the best our minds can give them. But the mind like everything else, tires from too close application and responds at last to the law of diminishing returns. Beyond a certain point it is futile for us to dwell upon the problems of life any longer. Happiness requires that we banish such morbid thoughts from the mind. We need to throw up the windows and let a gust of fresh air blow through. Laugh for a change. Cogitation beyond a certain place is futile. After giving a problem the best thought one has it is often helpful to forget it for the time being. The subconscious will work on it while our attention is directed elsewhere and may, probably in a moment when we least expect it, shoot a solution up to the surface. Best of all, we should remember that this world is in God's hands and, such being the case, the issue of all event must be left to Him.

LET'S GET GOING

The raid staged earlier this week by American fliers stationed in Australia, as announced in yesterday's news reports, was indeed a glorious feat that no doubt thrilled the hearts of Americans everywhere. It is such dauntless fortitude that will win this war for the United Nations, but what puzzles us most is that back at home in this country we can find time to squabble over wages, profits and petty sacrifices while our young men on the battlefronts display such a willingness to sacrifice their all that the freedom of the world might be preserved. Isn't it about time that some of the spirit of willingness to do our part was shown right here at home? Talk is not going to win this war. It's going to take men and materials of war to win it. The men in the service and those who are being added to the various arms of the service daily are showing their willingness to do the job ahead of them but they can't be successful unless we furnish them the necessary planes, guns, ships and tanks with which to do it.

ANOTHER HAZARD

Recent reports of deaths or serious injuries to bicyclists in various parts of the state reveal that the increased number of bicycles that have come into use since the rubber shortage was declared is increasing the hazards on our streets and highways. Such conditions call for more caution on the part of motorists as well as the cyclists. Flower speeds and closer watch in congested areas will help to keep accidents at a minimum.

IT SOUNDS GOOD

Announcement that the Ford Motor Company has found a way to make automobile tires with one-sixteenth of the usual amount of rubber might bring a note of hopefulness to many who have been wondering what they are going to do when their present tires give out. If the company has something as good as it sounds it is to be hoped that through some arrangement with the government it might be possible for other manufacturers to be let in on it in order that the new product might be devoted first of all to the government's war needs in sufficient quantities to guarantee that we can keep our mechanized forces rolling.

A Flavor Of Its Own

By BEULAH V. GILLASPIE
Director, Seafest Laboratory Kitchen

It's so simple to dress the old familiar in "new raiment" and to add zest to each dish. Here's a bit of dramatizing for the flank steak.

STUFFED FLANK STEAK IN BUTTERMILK

1 flank steak 5 tablespoons butter
(about 2 1/2 cups soft butter)
1/2 cup chopped bread crumbs
celery 3 cups buttermilk
2 teaspoons salt and pepper
1/4 teaspoon sage flour

Have the butcher cut a pocket in the flank steak. Cook the celery and onion in 3 tablespoons of the butter over low heat, stirring occasionally. Combine the bread crumbs, sage, celery and onion mixture and drugs and medicines.

The only Central American republic without a seacoast on the Atlantic, El Salvador has a coast-line of about 160 miles on the Pacific, with La Libertad, Acajutla, and La Union the chief ports. It shares the Gulf of Fonseca, 40 miles wide, with its immediate neighbors, Honduras and Guatemala. It is a land of mountains, hills, rivers and upland plains.

Modern in government and operating under a planned economy, for years it has been paying special attention to problems of internal transportation. Rail lines from the port of Acajutla and a splendid hard-surfaced highway from La Libertad extend to San Salvador and the interior. Under the government's highway program, the western half of its section of the Pan American Highway, which runs the full length of the country, has been completely hard-surfaced. It links El Salvador with Guatemala on the West and Honduras on the East.

Our leader has given Nippon a preview of the day when the sun over pagan Tokyo will be obscured by an armada of American warplanes, for that is the way we ultimately shall exact retribution. When the Japs stuck a knife in Uncle Sam's back at Pearl Harbor they asked for trouble, and they are going to get their bellies full of it.

On the whole, this demonstration of air-power and military efficiency must be about the most disconcerting thing which has happened to the Japanese since they violated the laws of civilization in attacking us. At the same time, it should give the American public great courage and confidence, because it emphasizes again that when the United States once is fully armed, there is nothing on earth which can stop it.

Then there's another possible lesson in the raid. MacArthur dared much when he sent those 13 great bombers into the air. The operation was so perfectly executed that the full extent of the danger is obscured. But he is one of those who know that war is nothing if not a game of daring, and that nothing ventured nothing have.

However, the feat over the Philippines shouldn't be taken as a sign that MacArthur is ready to cut loose with a major offensive, for he isn't. Indeed, when the time comes to dump wrath on Japanese cities the aerial blows will come from more than one direction and we shall not be depending solely on our base in Australia.

Charlotte Negro Out For Office

Charlotte, April 16.—(AP)—Woods Morgan, Negro director of a barber college here bearing his name, announced today his candidacy for the legislature in the forthcoming Democratic primary on a platform designed to give Negroes greater representation in public affairs.

His 12-point platform included these points:
Use of Negro policemen in Mecklenburg county and Charlotte and the reduction of crime among Negroes; Negro representatives on the city and county civil service commissions; additional jury representation for Negroes in this area; increase of old-age pension payments to Negroes; more employment of Negroes in city and county government personnel; direct representation of Negroes in state government "in order to coordinate more effective efforts to win the war."

Philippines this week came a few hours after announcement here that his brother, Ensign S. K. McAfee, Jr., had been cited for "prop- er initiative and combatant spirit" in action off Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. S. K. McAfee received a copy of the commendation which was issued by Rear Admiral C. C. Bloch, at the time commanding the 14th naval district.

Noted Speaker To Appear Here

Dr. John Spencer, now a member of the division of Far-Eastern Affairs in the United States State Department, and during the Ethiopian war, diplomatic adviser to Emperor Haile Selassie, will speak in the Austin building of the college Sunday evening at 6:30 on some aspect of world affairs. Dr. Spencer, a personal friend of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Humber, is coming to Greenville at the invitation of the International Relations Committee of the American Association of University Women, of which Mrs. Humber is chairman. As duties in Washington will prevent his being here beyond Sunday, he is speaking at the College at the usual Sunday night vesper hour of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A.

From a background of both personal experience and wide study, Dr. Spencer is able to draw a wealth of material bearing on the interpretation of world conditions. In 1935 he became adviser to Emperor Haile Selassie and he remained with him until the Emperor was forced to flee from Addis Ababa in 1936. His present duties in Washington include, besides his State Department work, the chairmanship of the interdepartmental committee that passes on the entrance of aliens into the United States.

His studies have earned him advanced degrees in both this and other countries—an M. A. and LL.B. from Harvard and a Doctorate of Laws from the University of Paris. In addition, he has a diploma from the Institut des Hautes Etudes Internationales of Paris.

As a writer, Dr. Spencer has gained recognition by his book "Interpretation of Treaties" and numerous articles on legal subjects. The American Association of University Women is extending a cordial invitation to the public to hear this well-informed speaker.

Former Wake Forest Student Makes Flashy Debut

First Time Up, Dimaggio Strikes Out

It was a mighty swing—but the New York Yankees' great Joe DiMaggio (left) started the 1942 baseball season all wrong by striking out on his first trip to the plate in the game between the Yankees and the Washington Senators at Washington, Cather Jake Early of the Senators dropped the ball (arrow) but whipped it first for the put-out. The umpire is Sommers. DiMaggio later singled and scored. The Yankees won 7 to 0.

HITS HOME RUN WITH THREE ON

Giants Rookie Scores Win Over Champion Dodgers

By JUDSON BAILEY (Associated Press Sports Writer) The rookie who has made probably the flashiest debut in the major leagues this year is Willard Marshall, an unheralded outfielder of the New York Giants, whose story is one of baseball's strange interludes.

When he bashed a terrific belt into the upper right field stands at the Polo Grounds for a home run with the bases loaded to beat the Brooklyn Dodgers 6-4 yesterday, a lot of people began wondering who he was and where he had been.

The big, rangy youngster has been in organized baseball only two years—both of them with the Atlanta Crackers of the Southern Association. As a kid fresh out of Wake Forest College he was something of a sensation his first season, getting 14 home runs and batting .314 in 1940.

Every major league club was interested in him and Earl Mann, the astute young president of the Crackers, very firmly placed a $50,000 price tag on his prize. Furthermore he wanted real money and not a collection of castoff players with mythical values and as a result the bidding suddenly ceased. Marshall stayed at Atlanta in 1941.

His second time around Marshall's batting average dropped to .276 even though he stepped up his home runs to 21. Atlanta put him on the market again last winter but this time there was no eager waiting list. Brooklyn turned him down for $20,000. The reason was that Marshall had become susceptible to the draft—turned 21 just three days before the registration in February.

Finally the Giants took him to camp on a basis of no down payment and $30,000 if they kept him. He is a fine physical specimen and has no dependents, so he probably will be in the service as soon as his draft board gets around to calling the new class of registrants. But if he keeps going as he started he will pay off that investment early.

Joe DiMaggio led the Yankees to a 9-3 triumph over the Senators at Washington with his first home run of the year with two on in the fifth and added a double and a single to drive in a total of five runs. This assault spoiled the return of Washington's prodigious pitcher, Buck Newsum.

The St. Louis Browns whipped the Chicago White Sox 6-5; Detroit crushed Cleveland 6-2, and the Boston Red Sox won a 3-1 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics.

In the National League the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-2. The Pittsburgh Pirates beat Cincinnati 6-2 and the Boston Braves pushed the Philadelphia Phils by the same score.

"SUN AGAIN" IS FAVORITE

Calumet Stables Hope To Repeat In Derby

Lexington, Ky., April 16 (AP)—Out at Keeneland, where more than two dozen Kentucky Derby candidates are on display these days, they have concluded there's one sure thing about the big race this year—Warren Wright's Calumet farm really is trying for a repeat.

And the boys add, with Sun Again as Calumet's leading hopeful and Canny Ben Jones at the controls, it will happen.

If Wright makes it two in a row with Whirlaway last year and Sun Again this year, it will be the first such double since Col. E. R. Bradley scored in 1932 with Burgoon King and in 1933 with Broker's Tip.

Speculation on Sun Again's chances went soaring yesterday when he led mighty Whirlaway himself, as well as two other derby nominees, to the finish in Keeneland's $1,500 Sesquicentennial handicap.

The chestnut son of Sun Teddy-Hug Again, with Wendell Eads up, was out in front all the way in the six furlong event and managed to hold off his famous stablemate in one of Whirlway's famous stretch drives. Whirlaway ended up second, while Bless Me, Bradley's only derby hope this year, came in fourth and Paul Espinosa's derby colt, Counterbalance, finished far back in the field.

It was the second outing for both Wright horses at Keeneland. Last week Whirlaway, 1941 derby winner, was second to the Greentree Stable's Devil Diver, with Sun Again close at his heels.

DISCARD PLAN FORCED SAVING

President Sides With Treasury Morgenthau

By DONALD A. YOUNG
Washington, April 16—(AP)—“Forced” saving as a means of raising new revenue and helping combat inflation was reported today to have been discarded by the administration in the belief that voluntary purchases of war bonds would be adequate for the government's great borrowing program.

Well-informed sources said that President Roosevelt had sided with Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau rather than with Leon Henderson, price administrator, and other officials who had advocated enforced saving and an increase in the pending $7,000,000,000 tax program to discourage rising living costs.

This development became known as the treasury head obtained permission for two officials of the General Motors Corporation, John M. Jerpe and H. W. Anderson, to appear before the House Ways and Means committee on the penultimate day of hearings on tax proposals which began March 3.

Committee Chairman Doughton, (D-NC) announced only that Morgenthau had requested him to arrange for their appearance but it was learned that they would discuss the corporation's voluntary savings plan for employees.

There were reports that Morgenthau, in a last-minute attempt to receive a vote of confidence in the treasury's borrowing program, would personally introduce the two witnesses.

In presenting a $7,610,000,000 tax program to the committee on March 3, Morgenthau said that no consideration had been given to a forced savings program and expressed the hope that Congress would not enact one.

Doughton discussed the whole tax situation with the President at the White House yesterday and said later that he had “no reason to expect” that the administration would boost its tax recommendations.

Army Deserters Are Tried For Murder

Abingdon, Va., April 16—(AP)—Assistant U. S. District Attorney Howard Gilmer, Jr., opening the government's case against two young army deserters charged with killing an FBI agent, told a Federal District court jury today Charles Lovett fired the shot that was fatal to Agent Hubert Treacy.

“But the government will show that James Edward Testerman is equally guilty as Lovett, the prose-curator said in his opening statement. Gilmer detailed the actions of the run-away soldiers, Lovett, 21, of Philadelphia, and Testerman, 22, of Cincinnati, from the time a military policeman said they slugged him and deserted Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., until Treacy was killed and another FBI agent wounded as the officers sought to arrest them in a cafe here March 23.

George M. Warren, defense attorney, asked that the jury bear in mind that “regardless of what happened on that tragic day in Abingdon, remember that these two boys have had at least one fine feeling, they volunteered to serve under the flag of their country.”

He said that the defense might not offer any testimony other than that of the two defendants.

WOULD MODIFY PROPOSED BILL

Seek To Break Log-Jam on Anti-Strike Legislation

Washington, April 16—(AP)—The Senate Labor Committee agreed today to attempt to revise and offer in the Senate Monday a measure by Senator Ball (R-Minn.), freezing open and closed shops and providing for the stabilization of wages in war industries but not affecting the present 40-hour week.

A Republican drive to break the congressional log jam on labor legislation started today with a move to obtain Senate Labor Committee approval of a modified version of the Smith anti-strike bill passed several months ago by the House.

Pressed by Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Ball (R-Minn.), the Senate campaign coincided with prospective action by the House Naval Affairs Committee on a measure by Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.) to establish a 48-hour week with regular pay in war industries, freeze the status of open and closed shops, limit union fees and curb war profits.

Taft and Ball told reporters that if they succeeded in obtaining committee approval of a "moderate" measure they have substituted for the more drastic Smith bill they would seek to bring it up in the Senate on Monday when that body argues a motion to consider a plant-lease bill by Senator Connally (D-Tex.).

Thus they said they hoped, with some strong Democratic backing, to pave the way for final congressional action on a "reasonable" war labor policy.

As outlined by the two senators, their compromise measure calls for the freezing of war industry wages at present levels, subject to living cost adjustments. Wage levels on all government contractual work would require approval by a com-
