CHINESE TRAP JAP INVADERS ON BURMA ROAD

Claim 4,500 Original Invasion Force Slain; Reinforcements Are Met With Chinese Resistance Today; Wavell Organizes 3 Armies To Defend India

By SPENCER MOOSA
Chungking, May 11.—
(AP)—Japanese reinforcements rushing to the aid of a trapped column of their comrades in western Yunnan province were intercepted today at Chefang, 25 miles inside China on the Burma road, precipitating heavy fighting, a communique said.

The original Japanese invasion force—of which the Chinese previously reported they had killed 4,500—was said to be still surrounded by the Chinese army.

The Flying Tigers of the American Volunteer Group shot down two Japanese planes in western Yunnan province yesterday, it was announced officially.

The communique confirmed Japanese reports of the fall of Bhamo, alternate terminal of the Burma road 170 miles northeast of Mandalay, and Myitkyina, 250 miles north of Mandalay.

Washington, May 11.—(AP)—A British government official said today American and British planes were moving in large numbers into India and that a defense force of more than a million men would be "on the job" in the event of a Japanese attack.

The Japanese were said to be attacking east of Lashio, 125 miles southeast of Mandalay, striking at Kungshin. The communique said the Chinese were resisting stubbornly.

This indicated that another pocket of the Chinese troops in Burma, under the general command of Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, U. S. A., still was fighting strongly in the area through which the Japanese swept last month in their thrust to capture Mandalay and Lashio and invade Yunnan province.

Earlier reports had indicated the Japanese in Yunnan province had been lured into a Chinese trap, and that the defenders had slaughtered 4,500 of the invading shock troops. The Japanese had been reported reeling back from the invasion of China, closely pursued and in peril of annihilation.

The Chinese announced last night that they had deliberately allowed the enemy to rush headlong up the Burma road into China's Yunnan province, then suddenly had smashed the enemy's wings and pounced on the main body of the invading force with an artillery blast which left 3,000 enemy soldiers dead and the remnants in flight.

Now, they said, the routed Japanese are facing certain annihilation, sandwiched between their pursuers on the north and another Chinese force, to the south in eastern Burma, which already has recaptured Maymo, former Allied headquarters, and is pressing toward both Lashio and Mandalay.

Despite heavy Japanese shelling and bombing, the Chinese were said to have reached the outskirts of Mandalay on the east and west and to be aiming also at recapture of Sinwin, a railroad point just to the south, and Myitmu, 30 miles to the west.

New Delhi, India, May 11.—(AP) Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell poised three reorganized Indian armies to smash at Japanese invaders today as the Nipponese pushed northwestward toward the frontier in Burma and continued to gather an invasion fleet at Rangoon for a descent on Bengal.

The RAF, following up blows of United States Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton's air force, which has sought to smash Japanese bases around Rangoon, struck again at Magwe, just south of the Yenangyaung oil fields in Burma where (Continued on page six)

Soldier Pay

Washington, May 11.—(AP)—The House plans to vote tomorrow on legislation to double the pay of buck privates in the army and raise the pay of all men in the armed services up to and including the lowest rank of sergeant and corresponding grades.

The bill provides for base pay increases for men in the lower brackets in the army, the navy, the coast guard, the public health service, the marine corps and the coast and geodetic survey, with increased rental and subsistence allowances for virtually all officers.

Recently out of the combat zone, their uniforms are those of 4th Army soldiers and sailors.

SEEK FORCED SAVING PLAN

Law Would Require Wage Earners Buy Bonds

Washington, May 11 (AP)—Plans to compel every American wage earner to invest a part of his weekly pay check in the war effort were put forth in both branches of Congress today.

Chairman George (D-Ia.) of the Senate Finance committee advocated a withholding tax of from 5 to 16 per cent of all wages, salaries and dividends, while Rep. Gore (D-Tenn.) came forth with a bill to deduct a percentage of every wage beginning with 6 per cent in the $20-$30 unmarried class, and ranging upward.

The Gore bill, which provides that the money deducted be used to purchase War Bonds for the employee, would set up the following scale in the lower brackets:

Weekly wage of $20 to $30 — Single, 6 percent; married, none.
Weekly wage of $30-$40 — Single, 1.90 plus 7 percent of amount over $30; married, 7 percent of amount over $30.
Weekly wage of $40-$50 — Single, $2.50 plus 8 percent of amount over $40; married, 7c plus 8 percent of amount over $50.
Weekly wage of $50-$60 — Single, $3.30 plus 9 percent of amount over $50; married, 1.50 plus 9 percent of amount over $50.
Weekly wage of $60-$70 — Single, $4.20 plus 10 percent of amount over $60; married, $2.50 plus 10 percent of amount over $70.

In the higher brackets, annual income would be limited to $25,000, after payment of taxes, with the remainder going into the purchase of bonds. That was the limit favored by President Roosevelt in his recent share-the-war speech.

Senator George's 5-to-10 percent withholding tax plan was offered as an alternative to the treasury's proposal to obtain $1,000,000,000 in new revenues by lowering income tax exemptions.

Asserting that the treasury plan would place a "terrible burden" on the low income groups, George predicted that Congress would be forced to turn instead to some new form of taxation such as a withholding or sales levy. Of the two, he said he preferred a withholding tax.

In a surprise move last week, the treasury proposed to the House Ways and Means committee that exemptions for single persons be lowered from $750 to $600 and for married persons from $1,500 to $1,100. (Continued on Page Six)

Immanuel Church Begins Revivals

Dr. James Turner of Griffin, Ga., arrived in town today to begin a special ministry to the people of our community to be held at the Immanuel Baptist Church.

Services will be held every evening at 8 p. m., and special messages will be broadcast over the local station each morning at 11:30, Tuesday through Saturday.

Dr. Turner served Greenville as pastor of the Immanuel Church after the last war, during which he served as chaplain. Also, he was quite active in civic affairs of the city, serving as the first president of the Kiwanis Club. While here he was a member of the local unit of the American Legion.

Special music for the revival is under the direction of Miss Beth Howell, organist and minister of music of the church. All members of the church and friends are cordially invited to participate in these services.

Churchill Puts Issue Of Gas War Up To Hitler

British Will Use Gas If The Nazis Start It

London, May 11.—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill's brightest war report so far was overshadowed today by the terrible prospect of gas warfare which he raised yesterday with his warning to Germany that Britain could, and would, strike back formidably if the Nazis dared to start it.

The British attitude was one of abhorrence for the use of gas but of confidence that Germany would invite disaster for her cities and people by starting it—and had better think twice if, as the Russians already have reported, she is testing it on the Crimean front.

British newspapers, recalling that Churchill accurately had foreseen "events at hand" in the past, took for granted that he spoke of an imminent possibility. They renewed warnings to civilians to carry gas masks and their military writers dwell on Britain's capacity to wage such warfare.

The Daily Mail said "no power" was better equipped than Britain for it and that the Nazis' knowledge of that "so far has dissuaded Germany from courting even more disastrous reprisal than that which has answered her introduction of bombing towns and merchant ships."

Speaking two years after the Germans had stormed across France to Dunkerque, 29 miles from England's shore, when he could promise nothing but "blood, sweat and tears" amid the darkness of western Europe's collapse, Churchill yesterday gave Britain and her allies what he called a well earned "message of good cheer." It was his second anniversary as Prime Minister.

He declared the "awful balances" finally had turned and now "we have only to endure and persevere to conquer."

Contrasted even with his last message, when he informed the British Empire that Singapore had fallen, Churchill yesterday gave it heartening news from all continents—of an impending mighty American-British bombing offensive against Germany, of the stalwart Axis coed to Hungary, a territory of "our Russian ally," of the occupation of Madagascar, of British and American seapower in the Pacific which he said would "grip and hold the Japanese."

Among the most significant passages:

Ultimate Victory
"As in the last war we are moving through many reverses and defeats to a complete and final victory."
"We have only to endure and persevere to conquer."

Plane Crash Sunday Kills Army Officer

Charlotte, May 11.—(AP)—Second Lieut. Harold D. Hays, 25, was fatally injured yesterday in the crash of his P-40 pursuit plane at Morris Field here yesterday, the post headquarters announced today.

Hays was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix B. Hays of near Lewisburg, Tenn. He was graduated from the University of Georgia in 1940 and was commissioned February 20, 1942.

Immediately after the accident the flag at Morris Field was lowered to half-staff.

A board of officers was selected to investigate the accident, which occurred as Lieutenant Hays was coming in for a landing after a training flight.

Physicians Called For Military Duty

Pitt county will likely have about half its present number of practicing physicians within a very short time according to reports over the week-end that 16 of this county's physicians had received notice to report for physical examinations preparatory to entering the military service. The list of those who had received notices had not been made public today.

REDS REPORT SLIGHT GAINS AGAINST NAZIS

Germans Unable To Wrest Offensive From the Russians

By HENRY C. CASSIDY.
Moscow, May 11.—(AP)—Winter is having a final fling at Soviet Russia's northern and central fronts after playing the dominant part in the Soviet-German war for the last five months.

Military dispatches reported today there were snow flurries in some sectors while cold rains were falling as far north as the Kalinin front, more than 100 miles northwest of Moscow.

Soaked roads, these advices said, were impassable at some points, limiting the Red Army's offensive operations.

Local assaults continued, nevertheless, on both the northwestern and central fronts.

In the Kalinin sector, dispatches said, the Russians drove the Germans from a strategically important hill with aerial bombing followed by infantry assault, forcing the enemy to abandon one of his main defense lines.

The Germans tried to take back the initiative three days ago in that area, military reports said, launching a frontal attack against Russian positions with a strong infantry force supported by 20 tanks.

Repeated Nazi assaults were reported repulsed with heavy German losses and the Red Army then counter-attacked.

The Soviet Information Bureau said the Nazis had been frustrated in an attempt to get behind Red army forces on the Kalinin front and lost 400 men as well as four guns, four radio transmitters and other equipment.

In the north, a Soviet unit was said to have slain 200 Germans in an attack on a strong enemy fortified point, the communique said. A considerable group of others, surrounded by Russian forces, surrendered.

Russian advices said guerrillas continued to harass the German rear and the Nazis were said to have diverted a considerable force to combat irregulars in Smolensk province. Even so, these reports said, the guerrilla campaign there was expanding.

A Soviet Information Bureau communique yesterday credited a unit operating behind the German lines west of Moscow with wrecking two trains.

"The enemy lost over 1,000 men and officers killed alone," the bulletin said.

Far behind the German front, new complications for the Nazis were reported in friction between two Balkan satellites.

The Information Bureau in one of its communiques yesterday asserted that "a fresh armed clash took place between Rumanian and Hungarian frontier guard troops early in May."

The Rumanians, it said, crossed into Hungarian territory and attacked barracks, killing more than 20 Hungarian guards.

The clash was one of a long series traced largely to Rumanian anger over the so-called Vienna award of 1940 by the foreign ministers of Germany and Italy whereby Rumania ceded to Hungary a territory in southern Transylvania of more than 17,000 square miles.

Torpedoed Ship Towed To Port

Lake Worth, Fla., May 11 (AP)—A British medium sized merchantman was attacked recently in broad daylight, within a mile and one-half of an Atlantic beach, by a daring Axis submarine but the vessel was towed to safety at an east coast port, the Navy announced today.

The explosion startled residents along the coast, and hundreds of the curious congregated on shore to see the ship, her stern deep in the water, before she was towed to harbor.

Two men in the engine room were killed by a torpedo blast. Thirty others escaped in life boats, that were towed quickly to shore by small fishing craft that put out from land. Fourteen seamen remained on board with Capt. George Legge.

The WAR TODAY

By DeWITT MacKENZIE,

British Premier Churchill's broadcast last night strikes me as containing more really sun-lit optimism—"a message of good cheer," as he called it—that any of his previous pronouncements, which have borne heavily on the subject of sweat, blood and tears.

In his summary of the military position the premier really stepped rather heavily on the pedal and let the organ peel out a note of triumphant certainty that the allies are marching to victory. Because Mr. Churchill is conservative, studiously avoiding exaggeration—and

Jap Ship Losses In Coral Sea Battle Reported As 21

U. S. SUBS SINK JAP DESTROYER, 2 SHIPS

Washington, May 11.—(AP)—The Navy announced today that United States submarines in the western Pacific had sunk a Japanese destroyer and two cargo ships, one of them a naval auxiliary.

The communique, No. 80, issued by the Navy Department:

"Far East:
"1. Information has been received that U. S. submarines operating in the Far East have sunk the following Japanese ships:
"One destroyer.
"One naval cargo ship.

"One medium sized cargo ship.
"2. These sinkings have not been reported in any previous Navy Department communique and are not related to the recent engagement in the Coral Sea.
"3. There is nothing to report from other areas."

These three sinkings raise the toll of Japanese ships, both naval and commercial, taken by United States submarines to 42 sunk, 12 probably sunk and 11 damaged. Only four days ago, on May 7, submarines were reported to have sunk three commercial vessels, including a medium sized tanker.

Hull And Ambassador Discuss Martinique Issue

No Formal Vichy Protest Is Yet Presented

Washington, May 11 (AP)—The French Ambassador, Gaston Henry-Haye, conferred today with Sec. of State Hull and said afterward he hoped that conversations on French Caribbean possessions, now in progress at Martinique, "would bring some satisfactory resolution."

At a press conference, Secretary Hull was non-committal about the discussion and its results.

Henry-Haye disclosed after an hour with Hull that he carried no formal note from his government concerning American negotiations to safeguard the Caribbean possessions, but said that he expected further instructions from Vichy.

Before meeting Hull, Henry-Haye told reporters that "this is no time to pour oil on the fire."

"The less I say today the better," he asserted. "Patience is called for at the moment. I am trying to avoid complications by refraining from commentaries which might interfere with the adjustment of a delicate problem."

The ambassador indicated that he had come to discuss, rather than to protest, the American negotiations which were opened directly with Admiral Georges Robert, French high commissioner, at Martinique last Saturday.

He declined to discuss the nature of the American proposals or to disclose the attitude of the Vichy government. State department officials likewise have declined to discuss details of the negotiations.

There was no definite word from Martinique as to Admiral Robert's reaction to the American offer to guarantee French sovereignty over the Caribbean possessions of France in return for peaceful cooperation with United States defense measures in that area.

In announcing the proposal carried to Martinique Saturday by Admiral John H. Hoover and Samuel Reber, assistant chief of the State Department's division of European Affairs, the State Department referred pointedly to the "collaborationist policy of Monsieur Laval."

This was generally interpreted to mean that the United States had no intention of negotiating any solution of the Martinique question with a government headed by Laval. An authoritative source later said Laval was regarded as fully committed to the German cause, and fully capable of issuing instructions ostensibly French, but originating in Germany.

Berlin (from German broadcasts) May 11 (AP)—The German radio broadcast a Vichy dispatch today saying the United States had demanded that French warships in Martinique be demobilized and that U. S. garrisons be permitted on the Caribbean island.

The report said the United States further demanded that the high commissioner surrender a number of French tankers anchored at Fort De France and hand over control of strategic points.

The French aircraft carrier Bearn and two cruisers have been in harbor at Martinique since the fall of France.

The German news agency, quoting the German-controlled Paris press in general, said the demands had aroused indignation and that the "anglo-saxons are chiefly interested in the French merchant fleet, especially in the large number of tankers anchored at Fort De France."

Twenty-Three SAVED.
An East Coast Canadian Port, May 11 (AP)—Twenty-three survivors of a torpedoed merchant vessel sunk in the Western Atlantic have been landed here after being picked up from three lifeboats by fishermen. Nine men were killed in the sinking.

OPPOSE PLAN SEIZE AUTOS

Senate Opposition To Seizure Plan Is Growing

Washington, May 11.—(AP)—Formidable opposition appeared to be developing in the Senate today against legislative proposals which would permit the government to seize privately owned automobiles.

One bill, introduced by Senator Downey (D-Calif.), would establish a $5,000,000 fund which would be used to build up a government stockpile of cars, tires and parts, by donation, purchase or requisitioning.

Another proposal, by Senator Reynolds (D-NC) would fix a nationwide 40-mile-an-hour speed limit and authorize the government to commandeer all cars found traveling at greater speed. The owners would be paid for their cars.

Senator Connally (D-Tex) indicated he opposed any such drastic moves and declared the public reversion would be "terrible" if cars were requisitioned and others were not.

One of the principal motives of the bills is to conserve the nation's "rolling stockpile" of rubber tires. Senator Byrd (D-Va) expressed belief that this aim could be achieved by government purchase of the new automobiles now in the hands of manufacturers and dealers.

Others pointed out that many of the 10,000,000 automobile owners in the east would be forced to save their tires as a result of gasoline rationing which starts May 15.

Senator Hill (D-Ala) said he believed that auto seizure legislation should be passed to bring home to the people the seriousness of the rubber situation.

Senator Herring (D-Iowa), who spent more than 20 years in the automobile business, said:

"I know that if it becomes necessary for the government to take over anything the people have, it will be given up without complaint, but it seems to me that at this stage of the war the people should not be frightened unnecessarily."

The Senate Military Affairs committee tentatively plans to discuss the two bills Tuesday.

To Seek Funds For School Bible Course

The committee of laymen appointed to conduct the campaign to raise funds for the financing of the proposed plan to provide religious instruction in the Public Schools of Greenville will meet on Wednesday morning at nine o'clock in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce and will begin immediately their canvass. There will be no effort made to conduct a community-wide canvass, but collection will be confined to the downtown and outlying business sections.

After having received the endorsement of both laymen and ministers, there is no doubt as to the attitude of the general public toward this additional instruction in our schools. The committee regrets that it is necessary to make a special appeal at this time, but such an appeal is found necessary for this initial year. In the future, the work will require that it be included in the Community Chest program.

Seaplane Tender, A Taker and Two Subs Week-End Victims; Observers Believe Jap Toll Greater Than Reported So Far; Resumption of Fight Expected

Allied Headquarters, Australia, May 11.—(AP)—In a sequel to the great battle of the Coral Sea, Allied bombers dealt another blow to Japanese naval power yesterday by sinking or damaging two enemy submarines off northeastern Australia. General MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

The number of Japanese vessels officially reported knocked out of action or badly crippled in this theater in the past seven days thus was raised to a grand total of 21.

Competent observers said there were good grounds to believe that the allied announcements of Japanese losses so far had been conservative and there has been little mention of transports.

Correspondents were informed today, however, that the enemy force included transports and that when the full list of sinkings is announced it might include Japanese transport losses. Thus far communiques have listed only two transports or supply ships' sunk and two damaged.

Today's communique made the first mention of Japanese submarines.

Although the allied naval forces—predominantly United States—were disengaged, air forces were on constant patrol for enemy naval units that might have become scattered and eluded the allied ships.

First indications of this were given yesterday in a communique announcing that allied planes had damaged another Japanese seaplane tender and a tanker in the Coral Sea. It was not clear, but it was evident that the allied air force was continuously patrolling those waters in search of scattered remnants of the Japanese armada.

First indication of this was given yesterday in a communique announcing that allied planes had damaged another Japanese seaplane tender and a tanker in the Coral Sea.

That communique definitely declared, however, that there had been no further contact between Japanese and allied navy units Saturday and no further mention of naval action was made by MacArthur's headquarters today in reporting on Sunday's developments.

Official quarters declined to elaborate on the situation, and it still was uncertain whether the Coral Sea action definitely had taken place on or whether the opposing fleets were maneuvering to resume the battle which a Saturday communique said had "ceased temporarily."

(The German-controlled Paris radio broadcast a report today that powerful Japanese naval reinforcements had arrived in the Coral Sea for the "resumed" battle, but the report was not confirmed by any other source.)

Although General MacArthur's headquarters has branded as "fantastic" Japanese claims regarding allied losses in the battle, their actual extent still was undisclosed and it was generally expected here that any announcement would come only from Washington—when the Navy Department believes the information will no longer benefit the Japanese.

In addition to blasting the two Japanese submarines yesterday, allied bombers were reported to have attacked enemy seaplanes in the Louisiade islands off the southeastern tip of New Guinea.

"Bombs were dropped in the target area," said the communique announcing this attack, but gave no further details.

A spokesman said the seaplanes mentioned were operating from a seaplane tender. Although there have been several references in recent communiques to attacks on Japanese shipping and transports in the Louisiades, there has been no announcement of an enemy landing there.

Five Japanese seaplanes were reported destroyed or badly damaged by the allied bombers credited with damaging the seaplane tender and tanker Saturday.

Two other enemy planes—both Zero fighters—were destroyed when allied fighters intercepted a light attack yesterday on Port Moresby, allied outpost on the southern coast of New Guinea, headquarters despatched today.

Christian Science Service.
"Adam and the Fallen Man" was the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, May 10.

The golden text was from Hosea 14:1. "O Israel, return unto the Lord thy God; for thou hast fallen by thine iniquity."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson sermon were the following from the Bible: "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them. And God saw everything that he had made, and behold, it was very good." (Gen. 1:27, 31).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The standard of perfection was originally God and man. Has God taken down His own standard, and has man fallen? God is the creator of man, and the divine Principle of man remains perfect, the divine idea or reflection, man, remaining perfect."

The wedding marches of Wagner and Mendelssohn were used for the processional and recessional.

Standards of white gladiol and fern decorated the green banked altar where many candles glowed in cathedral candelabra.

Miss Lillian White Gardner, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of blue marquisette with full skirt, three quarter length sleeves and V-shaped neckline. Her arm bouquet was of pink carnations, sweetpeas and roses tied with blue and pink satin ribbon.

Little Miss Johnnie Jane Joyner, wearing yellow, and carrying baskets of rose petals, were the flower girls. Their dresses were of triple sheer crepe with which they wore bonnets of matching material. Both live in Farmville and are cousins of the bride.

The bride entered the church with her uncle, Mr. Richard A. Joyner, by whom she was given in marriage. Her wedding gown was fashioned with a bodice of Chantilly lace with long light fitting sleeves and full skirt of marquisette extended into a train. Her fingertip veil was caught with orange blossoms and her shower bouquet was of stephanotis, sweetpeas and orchids, tied with green and white tulle and white satin ribbon. The ribbon was from her mother's wedding bouquet.

Mr. Louis Wilkerson of Winston-Salem, attended his brother as best man and ushers were Billy Brown, Thomas E. Wilson, and Dr. E. B. Aycock of Greenville, and T. Eli Joyner of Farmville.

The bride's mother wore a dress of blue crepe with which she used white accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of pink roses. The mother of the bridegroom wore a powder blue dress with navy accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

For going away Mrs. Wilkerson wore a full length coat of white linen over a green and white print silk dress. Green ribbon and veiling trimmed her white hat and her accessories were green and white.

Mrs. Wilkerson is the daughter of Mrs. Sherwood Grant Gardner and the late Mr. Gardner of Farmville. She received her education at W. C. U. N. C. and for the past several years has held a position with the Bank of Farmville.

Mr. Wilkerson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen George Wilkerson of this city, is a graduate of East Carolina Teachers College. He is associated with his father in the firm of S. G. Wilkerson and Sons.

Library News

New Horizons
The best current magazines on the magazine table at the Sheppard Memorial Library are definitely looking toward new horizons. While giving all possible information on the imperative problems of the war on all fronts, yet they are, on the one hand, trying to shatter the illusion of wishful thinking, and on the other, stamp out baleful and malicious rumors, and so do their part in forging the weapons of clear and fearless thinking for an informed and resolute reading public. They are also fostering and maintaining the interests of civilized man in a free world—to cultivate the fruits of a democratic way of life that we are fighting to preserve.

The leading articles in these magazines are clear, concise, analytical, written for the intelligent, intellectually curious layman and pertain to war, labor, business, fiction and fashion. To mention just a few of them:

"Four New Falcons," by W. L. White—a veteran foreign correspondent who recently pointed out the virtues of our fortresses, discusses our bombers and fighters. In Atlantic.

"The Road to Peace" by Cong. J. W. Bohne—Answers three pertinent questions, wherein lies the guilt of industry? of labor? of government? In Vital Speeches.

"The Truth Is Good News" by Hubert Agar—A splendid discussion of our national irresponsibility, begging that we understand in time in order to save the world. The author believes that in the midst of confusion and defeat life still makes sense.

"What Is Happening Inside Germany?" by George Axelsson—In the light of Hitler's latest speech this report from one of the last correspondents to leave Germany is significant. It shows that there are many cracks in the Nazi wall. In New York Times Magazine, May 3.

"Progress Looks and Listens" by C. P. Trussell—Here is a picture of a national legislature in the midst of war, jealous of its rights, eager to be re-elected and listening always for the master voice of its constituencies. In New York Times Magazine, May 3.

"A Very Active Type Man" by Harold Ross—A profile of Ralph Ingersoll, editor of PM, a newspaper adventure that is the talk of the

IN MEMORIAM
In memory my dear husband that departed this life twelve months ago May 10, 1941.

I still love you so dear Husband, Though you have gone away; You left me one year ago; On this lonesome Mother's day.

You should be giving me pleasure, But instead it is sadness untold. Though your sweet face will always linger Along with me as I grow old.

When you left me dear Husband, With a sad and aching heart. It was hard to do without you; But somehow we had to part.

Your dear voice was still a year ago today. And we have missed you more than words can say. But dear Husband and daddy too; We hope we'll meet on that golden shore.

Dearest Husband you have left me. Never will your memory fade. Sweetest thoughts will ever linger. Around the grave where you are laid.

God's Greatest Gift Subject of Sermon

By Wyatt Brown
"God's greatest gift is a Christian mother," declared Reverend G. W. Perry, pastor, yesterday morning in his sermon "The Cradle of Spiritual Strength" at Jarvis Memorial Methodist church.

The world needs Christian mothers. Christ and Christian mothers are our saviors.

"I am not losing sight of the father. I am saying to you that a Christian father and a Christian mother are the saviors with Christ." As scriptural text Mr. Perry sighted 19th Chapter of John, the 25th verse—"Now there stood by the cross of Jesus His mother."

the reed as it struck his cheek.

"Christ's mother suffered as no one else could as she saw her first-born pay the price for the sins of the whole world. Followers of Christ were afraid during this time but there was one who stayed there with Him—His mother! When the earth began to shake even those crucifying Him left but His mother stayed."

"There is no one with a better opportunity to do for her children than a Christian mother. She is the one who deals with the child while the father is providing the money for the family. After boy reaches nine years of age you can see how things are going. He tells you unconsciously about the things emphasized by his mother," he went on.

"If it is possible, I believe mothers are the first in heaven."

"There stood by the cross of Jesus His mother. Thank God she stayed through it all," Mr. Perry said prayerfully in conclusion.

WAR REACHES FRONT DOOR OF JOHN Q. PUBLIC

Citizens Begin to Feel Pinch Of War Rationing

Washington, May 11. — (AP) — American citizens now are beginning to feel the full impact of a war economy.

The rationing seemed hard, but not too hard on the man with four pretty good ones; millions of consumers are just now beginning to understand the implications of sugar rationing.

On Friday, however, ten million eastern motorists accustomed to traveling on wheels will find out how it feels to be short of gasoline. And from now on, caught between broadening and broader extension of rationing and a steady disappearance of ordinary consumer goods, citizens will find the war at their doorsteps.

Of instant effect were War Production Board orders curtailing deliveries of pepper and spices—cutting black pepper back to 1941 levels, reducing various imported spices by half.

A 50 per cent reduction in fuel oil for home heating, becomes effective Saturday—the same day gasoline supplies to service stations are halved.

Of major importance, but more gradual in effect, were WPB orders virtually eliminating articles containing iron, steel and copper from civilian use. More than 400 common items were affected by the stoppage of iron and steel consumption, while a hundred-odd additional articles were listed under the copper ban.

The effect will be to compel the shut-down of thousands of plants and factories unable to find substitutes for the prohibited metals.

Other developments important to business and industry:

No brass mill, wire mill or foundry copper products may be shipped on orders not rated A-1-K or higher.

Strict control was established over the production and distribution of all types of rubber-tired construction equipment.

Styles and sizes of women's and children's lingerie were restricted in order to conserve material.

Rationing: Motorists register May 12, 13 and 14 for gasoline rationing.

The restrictions will apply most seriously to pleasure vehicles. Trucks and commercial vehicles may continue to buy gasoline without restriction.

Prices: Today marks the first day on which a great segment of American business operates under price ceilings set by the government.

Maximum prices on most of the goods that wholesalers and manufacturers sell are set at "highest ceiling" levels under the universal ceiling established by the OPA. For wholesalers and manufacturers, this ceiling became effective today. On May 18 it takes effect for sales of goods by retailers.

Beginning May 7, shipping priority ratings were applied to all licenses for exports moving by water to the other American republics.

TB Clinics Were Largely Attended

The tuberculosis clinics held in Farmville, Ayden, and Greenville, and conducted by Dr. W. J. Peck of the State Sanatorium, closed Friday.

The number examined were: 132 white, 196 colored, or a total of 328 patients.

The number of positive cases of tuberculosis found were: 5 white and 5 colored—a total of 10 new cases. Of these, 3 white were far advanced and 1 colored far advanced.

Applications for entry to the Sanatorium were made for 3 white and 6 colored.

The number of patients advised to take home treatment was 20. It is understood that Dr. Peck commended highly the plan of the Pitt county tuberculosis Association of using its Seal Sale Fund for free X-ray to all deserving patients.

According to the Health Officer, Dr. E. H. Pittman will have another tuberculosis clinic in the fall.

Secret Orders BY ELEANOR ATTERBURY

Chapter 28 Dangerous Voyage

The enormity of this smooth-running plot was proven beyond the last shred of lingering doubt in Stephanie's mind. Even as she appreciated the grim strength of this little boat, its motors pulled it quietly, smoothly away from the dock—unchallenged.

And there, as the last shaded light of the pier slipped past the window, went her last chance for help. Unless some patrolling vessel tried to enforce the new ban on small boats out on the water after nightfall, Henri must, of course know of that new order, new since Pearl Harbor.

More probably, he had the necessary permission, she thought dully and refused to admit that her fears were crowding close to her last defense line.

Henri turned to her now and for the moment he was back in his role of gentleman. "Come out on deck with me, Stephanie. I think you will enjoy the trip more. It's rather close in here."

And then with a smile that Stephanie wanted to smash with her clenched fist, "Besides, I think these gentlemen have some important messages to send." He nodded to the radio operator and the small Japanese "fisherman" who squatted beside him. "We might disturb them."

And she just might hear something Henri didn't want her to. Stephanie footnoted silently as she followed Henri up the tiny companionway to the narrow slanting deck above.

Momentarily, the darkness blinded her. She clung to the railing, buttoned her jacket higher against the bite of the wind off the water. Except for an occasional signal light, the bay was shrouded in darkness. Moonless, overcast, the night sky pressed close and the shores, only half-lighted under the new blackout restrictions, seemed remote, unfamiliar. With every moment, help seemed more and more an impossible dream.

The boat turned now, heading north up the bay. Henri, standing silently at her shoulder, seemed deliberately to be giving her this opportunity to see how completely in his power she was, how futile was any last-minute hope of rescue.

Then, as if he'd read her mind, "So you see, my dear Stephanie, there is no use for blind stubbornness. You had better reconsider. Do as I say, and I assure you, you will suffer no harm."

"Don't be absurd," she defied him recklessly. "You can't get away with this. And you know it."

Another Boat!

That, she admitted silently, was sheer bravado. But at least Henri should never know how scared she was. And besides, she gritted her teeth, while there's life, there's hope! The best laid plans of a master spy might just possibly go haywire. A slim chance of course. Still—a chance.

"You must admit," Henri said smoothly, "that I have done my best to protect you under the circumstances. Now, I am afraid, you will have to suffer the consequences."

"They couldn't possibly be any more appalling than your kind of 'protection,'" she snapped caustically and turning, walked away from him along the narrow deck.

He made no attempt to follow her, she noticed. But stood loyally against the railing, watching her. Like a cat playing with a mouse, and the chill that radiated along her slim body was not entirely from the cold.

From the blur of lights that was San Francisco drawing ever steadily farther astern now, she saw the fingers of searchlights moving slowly across the sky. Heard the drone of an occasional plane. Surely there were Coast Guard cutters doing patrol duty here in the bay, too. She peered out across the black water.

But in all this darkness—Suddenly she realized that the boat was unlighted. She glanced back along the deck. Even the windows to the cabin had been blacked out. They were slipping along like a ghost ship. But for the sound of the motors—

Then, just as she thought it, the motors stopped. In the next moment she saw why. Coming toward them, cruising slowly, was another boat. Stephanie could only make out the dim outline of a sharp prow, starboard lights, the low hum of the engines. A small boat—lighted! It had to be a Navy patrol! In another minute they would be close enough to—

She felt Henri standing beside her now.

"Keep quiet!" he ordered with a growl. "Don't move."

She felt the muzzle of his gun against her back.

"What did you think I'd do?" she asked flippantly, more to prove to herself that she could still hide the chaos churning inside.

"Shut up."

Their boat slipped noiselessly along, only the slap of water against its sides. Ahead, the navy boat kept steadily to its course. Stephanie's heart plummeted.

Behind her, one of Henri's stalwart hands, began unwinding an anchor chain. The clatter broke the silence into clanking fragments.

"Cut that out, you blockhead," Henri snarled.

The sailor dropped the chains

A Wall Between Them—

Jealousy was a wall between pretty stage-struck Kathleen Vaughan and newspaperman Joe Neely. But Joe did something about it. Joe promptly interested a glamorous summer stock leading lady in one of his own plays and Kathleen thought he was succeeding too well. Anyhow, it turned out that the whole thing was...

To Our Customers And Friends

The war that we are now fighting must be won. Those of us who can be of service to our country owe it to ourselves, our families, and our nation to do our bit, whatever it might be, to help win the victory that must be won if we are to remain a free and independent nation. Those of us who have money can buy bonds. Those who have specialized professions and training, can offer their skill in their respective occupations directly to our armed forces. Two men in our organization, feeling it their duty to help our nation in this time of distress, offered to the army of the United States their services to do whatever they could wherever they were needed. Several weeks later these two men, W. S. Stafford and S. N. Highsmith, received commissions and were ordered to active duty in the United States Army. We regret to announce the loss of these two men from our personnel. Mr. Highsmith has been our service manager almost since our entry into business. Mr. W. S. Stafford has been our general manager and a partner since we were organized. It is with deep regret that we release these two men to take up active duty in the Army for the duration of the war. At the same time we are proud that we had two men in our organization that had the character, ability, and training that one must have in order to be commissioned in the Motor Transport Division of The United States Army. While they are gone we are going to do our part for our country by keeping open our service department to service your cars and trucks that are so vital to our nation. Our success in the garage business has been due to the fine support that we have had from our friends and customers. We are grateful for the nice volume that our shop has enjoyed since our entry into the automotive field. We wish to convey to you our sincere thanks and appreciation. Your continued support will be appreciated while we promise you we will strain every effort to satisfy and please you. Call us when your car or truck needs ANYTHING.

Stafford Oldsmobile Co. Yours sincerely, E. T. STAFFORD, Acting Manager.

Washington seems to be squabbling over whether or not the government should seize privately owned automobiles. With the gas ration being cut to three gallons a week for private use, we imagine there are a lot of motorists who wish the government would take their cars off their hands.

Public Forum

Registration of consumers for War Ration Book One at the West Greenville School last week represented a fine piece of community work. The voluntary services of a large corps of workers and the excellent cooperation of the applicants enabled this section of Greenville township to register two thousand six hundred and eleven people. Members of the county and the local Rationing Boards, the Superintendent of the City Schools and Mr. Wallace Bourne as general coordinator who set up the city wide plan, were most helpful. The crowds were orderly at all times and the spirit was one of a common desire to cooperate in a great national undertaking.

PLAIN TALK

Pitt County wants and deserves the Congressman for the First District. For 44 years there has been an arrangement between Beaufort County and the counties across the Albemarle Sound to elect a Beaufort man. But now we have a chance to turn the tables on Beaufort. Jack Edwards was born and raised across the Sound and has strong connections there. He made Greenville his permanent home in 1925 and is a good Pitt man, by choice rather than chance. (Everybody is not fortunate enough to be born in this great County). The only two Representatives our County ever had, Latham and Skinner, were Pitt Countians by adoption. It's the opportunity of a lifetime. We can win if we just use our heads and pull together. All it takes is teamwork. LET'S ALL GET BEHIND Jack Edwards -and- PITT COUNTY WILL HAVE THE NEXT CONGRESSMAN (Clip this out and show it to your friends) (This Space Contributed By Friends of Jack Edwards)

Present Trends Indicate Yankie-Dodgers For Series

BOTH TEAMS OUT IN FRONT

Pitching Featured All Baseball Games Yesterday

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's a long way to the world series, but the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers appear to be heading toward a return engagement in that October classic.

Both teams strengthened their positions at the head of their respective pennant races yesterday while their closest pursuers were knocking each other off or being kicked around by upstarts from the second division.

The accent was on pitching in the day's 15-game program and a total of 18 hurlers went the distance as if to show appreciation for the huge Sunday crowds which kept the turnstiles working overtime.

Among the major league parks open for business, all except St. Louis drew at least 20,000 fans. New York's Yankee stadium topped the list with 49,744. Paid attendance for the day was 184,979, with the American league playing to 95,923 and the National 89,051.

In the only singleton of the afternoon, the Brooklyn Dodgers stretched their national league lead to two and a half games by dumping the New York Giants, 5-3, as the second place Pittsburgh Pirates split with the Chicago Cubs and the Cincinnati Reds knocked the St. Louis Cardinals out of third place with a double shutout.

Phil Cavarretta drove in the runs which gave the Cubs a 4-2 triumph over Pittsburgh in the first game at Chicago, but Bob Klinger pitched the Pirates to a 3-2 win in the afternoon, yielding only five hits.

Bucky Walters returned to his old-time pitching for Norfolk, Va., shutting out the Cardinals, 3-0, on four hits in the second game after Ray Starr had racked up his third straight mound decision by blanking the Cards, 1-0, in the opener.

The double defeat pulled the Cardinals into a fourth place tie with the Reds and turned third place over to the Boston Braves, who divided a twin bill with the Philadelphia Phils.

The Braves won the first game, 5-1, behind the four-hit pitching of Al Javery, but Ernie Koy blasted a three-run homer that gave the Phils the nightcap, 4-3.

In New York, the Yankees stretched their current winning streak to seven games and lifted their American league lead to two lengths with a twin bill over the Washington Senators as Cleveland and Detroit split and the Philadelphia Athletics knocked off the Boston Red Sox twice.

A squeeze play in the ninth inning scored the run that gave the Yanks the first game, 4-3, and the second game went ten innings before Jack Wilson uncorked a wild pitch with a man on third, handing the world champions a 3-2 decision.

Tommy Bridges pitched five-hit ball in giving the Detroit Tigers a 5-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians in the first game, but the tribe snapped a six-game losing streak to take the second, 6-5 in ten innings.

Big Bob Johnson's bat knocked the Boston Red Sox out of a second place tie with Cleveland and into fourth place behind Detroit as the Athletics swept the bargain bill, 4-2 and 6-5.

The St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox divided their double-header, the Browns taking the opener, 5-2, and the Sox the finale, 9-7.

Only one game is scheduled in each league today, but all teams are due to return to action tomorrow with the Eastern teams of the American league swinging west and the National league's western entries invading the east.

COLLEGE TEAM NOW ON TOUR

To Play Three Games With U. S. Navy Teams

Coach John Christenbury and his squad of baseball players left here early this morning for Norfolk, Va., where for the next three days they will play the Navy teams in the Virginia city.

They will open this afternoon when they meet the Naval Air Station and on Tuesday will play the Naval Training Station, then playing a return game with the Norfolk Naval Hospital.

With six consecutive wins behind them after a fairly poor showing the early stages of the season, the Pirates will face three of the hardest teams on their schedule this year. The team will return home Wednesday night and then make preparations for the big game with the Naval Training Station here on next Tuesday afternoon. This club carries such players as Ace Parker former Coastal Plain League player, Bob Feller, star hurler of the Cleveland Indians last season, Sam Chapman, outfielder with the Athletics last season, and many others too numerous to mention. More on this game will be found in the paper prior to the game, which incidentally will be played at the Guy Smith stadium on the 19th.

Spinners Win From Essos 6-5

Greenville Spinners won from Hall's Esso Station baseball team at Guy Smith stadium yesterday by a score of six to five. The game was witnessed by a fair crowd. The two teams are a part of the Coastal Amateur league now in the process of formation. Already a third team, the Pepsi Colas have entered the loop and Ayden is to decide tonight whether or not it will enter a team.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist

New York, May 11 (AP)—John Heydler, ex-president of the National league who can tell you about baseball almost back to the beginning, comes up with this explanation of why modern clubs murder the pitchers with those big innings... It's because they swing any time they think they can hit the ball, even going for 2-0 and 3-0 pitches... "In my day," he says, "we would have been benched for trying to hit after three balls had been called instead of waiting out a walk..." Story around town is that when and if Private Joe Louis fights Pri-making it a four club affair. Yesterday's game was featured by the huriling of Brock for the Spinners who struck out 11 men and allowed but three hits. Hall pitching for the Esso team allowed 14 hits.

The Spinners will meet the Pepsi Cola club at the stadium next Sunday afternoon.

It cost the Giants $7,500 to travel 2,000 superfluous miles with Cleveland on the spring tour. All games were postponed by inclement weather.

Just Another Raise.
Joe DiMaggio's salary in six previous seasons with the New York Yankees has been $7,500, $15,000, $25,000, $27,500, $32,000 and $37,500. This season he gets $42,500.

When Bob Whitlow, Army pitcher, socked the ball over a fence 325 ft. from the home plate at West Point the other day, he only got credit for a double instead of a home run... The ball hit the trunk of a tree outside the field and bounced back. And military efficiency, providing for the possibility that a hit would strike one of the branches hanging over the field, had a ground rule for what might happen in the air.

Service Department. Roy Simmons, former Syracuse U. boxing, football and LaCrosse coach, reports you can meet almost anybody at Annapolis where the second group of Navy physique builders are taking their indoctrination course... While taking a shower after a hard day's training, he encountered Weems Backin, Mississippi backfield coach, and started discussing how Ole Miss beat Tulane's football team last fall... Backin had just started to explain that Tulane's tackles were big but slow when a fellow across the room dropped a towel that had concealed his face and said: "For the love of Mike, quit talking about me..." It was Tiny Blandin, who played a good bit of tackle for Tulane against Ole Miss... Lieut. Boss Berger, former Cleveland infielder, is manager and second baseman of the Port Myer, a baseball team but says he still can't hit a curve... Mickey Cochran's Great Lakes Naval Training Station ball club and the Camp Grant team will play for the service championship of Northern Illinois before the Cubs-Reds May 27 tilt for the Army and Navy Relief funds.

vate Billy Conn next summer, the Army Emergency Relief will get $100,000 off the top and the Lohse and Mike Jacobs will contribute six percent of their shares and Conn will kick in three percent... It's better do all right when he defends his pro golf title unless he wants to return to the ranks.

Marriage Of Convenience.
Story just trickled in about Fr. John Chisholm of Ft. Scott, Kans., visiting the Kentucky Derby... After a couple of races a fan who had imbibed a few too many of those one-buoy mint juleps appeared with a girl companion. "Can you marry me right now?" he demanded... Father Chisholm suggested that some later time would be more appropriate... "Maybe later I won't have the dough," the would-be bridegroom objected. "I just won all it takes, but I got to get married before the next race. Might lose it all back."
