ROME CLAIMS U.S. BATTLESHIP SUNK

Allied Subs Sink A Jap Cruiser And Two Freighters

Japan's List Navy Losses Is Increased

Sinkings Not Connected With Previously Reported Coral Sea Battle; Allied Airmen Take Toll of 14 More Japanese Airplanes Destroyed or Damaged

Allied Headquarters, Australia, May 22.—(AP)—The list of Japan's naval losses in the southwest Pacific was swelled today by the announcement that Allied submarines had sunk a two merchant ships totaling 15,000 tons.

The bulletin, from General MacArthur's headquarters, also reported that allied air raiders had destroyed or damaged 14 more planes in attacks on Japanese bases in New Guinea and Timor.

The sunken cruiser was identified officially as one of the Kako class, all four of which were completed in 1928-29, mount six eight-inch guns, and normally carry crews of 6,000 men each.

Allied headquarters, guarding information which might be of value to the enemy, did not say when or where the cruiser and the two cargo vessels—one of 9,000 tons and one of 6,000—had been sunk.

On the basis of information disclosed by the navy, however, it was believed the sinkings were not connected with the recent Coral Sea battle, which—with related actions—was reported officially to have cost the Japanese 23 or 24 ships sunk or damaged.

Of the Japanese planes listed as knocked out of action, two bombers and one fighter were destroyed on the ground by allied planes in a low-altitude surprise attack yesterday on the airfield at Lae, New Guinea, headquarters said. Two other grounded planes were badly damaged.

Three of eight Japanese fighters which tried to break up the attack were shot out of the air by the allied raiders, all of which returned safely to their base, the communique added.

Headquarters said it had been learned that three other Japanese planes were destroyed and three more damaged in a recent attack on the air field at Koepang, Timor. This apparently was a reference to the assault on that base Wednesday.

New York Blackout. New York, May 22.—(AP)—Manhattan island—22 square miles—from the Battery to the Bronx and from the East River to the Hudson will be blacked out tonight from 9:30 to 9:50.

Treason

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—Attorney General Biddle today ordered the United States attorney at Detroit to seek an indictment for treason against Max Stephan for allegedly aiding Peter Krug, a German air force lieutenant, after the latter's escape from a prison camp in Canada.

This is the first time in the present war that prosecution has been ordered for treason, a charge which carries a penalty ranging from five years imprisonment and $10,000 fine up to death.

Krug was recaptured by FBI agents in a San Antonio, Texas, hotel on May 1 and returned to Canada.

Axis - Mexican War Is Near

Sinking Of Another Tanker Increases Tension

Mexico City, May 22.—(AP)—With the Axis crisis heightened by announcement of the second loss of a Mexican tanker to submarines in a week, government sources declared tonight President Avila Camacho was preparing to call upon Congress to declare war against the Axis or a state of national emergency.

As the crisis loomed, commanders of military zones and a number of state governors came to the capital to confer in shaping the nation's course.

Reporting the second attack, the newspaper La Prensa said in a dispatch from Havana that the 6,067-ton tanker Faja De Oro—formerly the Italian ship Genoano—had been torpedoed off the coast of Cuba with the loss of most of her crew.

The newspaper El Universal also reported the tanker lost but gave no details.

Newspapers in the capital devoted practically their entire front pages to the crisis which developed from the sinking a week earlier of the tanker Potrero Del Llano off Florida.

President Manuel Avila Camacho gathered his cabinet and military advisers when Berlin rejected Mexico's protest against the sinking.

The chief of the Mexican general staff announced tersely: "The army is ready."

Three Tank Attacks Repulsed; Report Break Through South Of Ilmen

By HENRY C. CASSIDY Moscow, May 22.—(AP)—The Germans once more have hurled strong tank forces into counter-attacks in the raging battle for Kharkov, this time employing tricky new tactics of screened attack, but the new mechanized thrusts have been repulsed, Red Star said today.

"The enemy is making furious efforts to take the initiative out of our hands," the army newspaper reported, "but this is not last year, and the relation of the opposing forces in quite different."

The army organ intimated that the Germans might have "succeeded in obtaining some partial, limited successes," but declared that on the whole the Kharkov was developing satisfactorily and "we have everything necessary to keep the initiative."

Asserting that new German counter-attacks had been repulsed, the Soviet Information Bureau announced at least local Russian gains.

"On the heels of the retreating enemy," the communique said, Russian troops "broke into a populated place."

In its account, Red Star said counter-attacking German tanks were sent into the attack in three groups—two small forces intended to distract Russian attention, the third strong surprise force attempting to catch the Russians on the flank.

This failed and heavy losses were inflicted on the Germans, Red Star said.

Previously large-scale tank operations had dwindled temporarily except in one sector of the Kharkov front. Even there, Red Star said, a big tank clash which had been under way for the several days continued at a lower pitch.

"The Germans had tremendous losses here," the army newspaper reported, "and are running out of breath."

Red Star said German successes on the Kerch peninsula also cost the invaders a tremendous price in men and war material.

London, May 22.—(AP)—Reuters recorded a German broadcast today which said the Russian had broken through "the main German fighting line" over an eight-mile front south-east of Lake Ilmen after heavy artillery preparation in an assault with tank and plane support.

The German broadcast was quoted as saying that the break through was only temporary and that the Russian attacks "collapsed in the face of stubborn German resistance" but did not specify whether the Nazi line had been reestablished.

Fewer Tires

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—Fewer tires will be made available for rationing in June than in May, contrary to normal seasonal demand, Price Administrator Leon Henderson announced today in releasing quotas for the states and territories.

The cut, necessary as "a further step to conserve rubber," applied to new and recapped tires and inner tubes for passenger vehicles. A moderate increase was made in the number of new tires available for trucks was made, but was more than offset by a decrease in the recapped truck tire quota.

SAYS NATION MAY NEED CARS

Strict Rationing Necessary To Save Tires

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—Government requisitioning next year of several million privately-owned automobiles was envisioned as a distinct possibility by the Brookings Institution today.

The private research organization in a survey and report by Charles L. Dearing made this prediction in urging immediate nationwide rationing of gasoline to save tires and cars for later allocation to essential war uses.

The administration is studying the question of extending to other parts of the country the gasoline restrictions now enforced in the east and northwest. To save more than 100,000 pounds of crude rubber, it already has ordered a ban on sight-seeing and unessential charter buses after June 1.

The Brookings survey said immediate rationing of gasoline on a nationwide basis offered the "only reasonable prospect of averting a breakdown in essential automobile transportation."

But even with this in force, it added, it "may prove necessary to requisition several million vehicles during 1943 in order to insure maintenance of adequate automobile transportation throughout the re-

Speaker Praises This State's Part In Conflict

Democrats Pledge Continuation Self-Government

Raleigh, May 22.—(AP)—Meeting in the midst of "the crucial test of our long history," the state democratic convention today adopted an eight-point platform which pledged the continuation "even in war" of "the open and orderly processes of self-government."

These eight points included a pledge that state taxes would not be increased nor new taxes levied during the war.

The shadow of war lay across the biennial gathering of North Carolina's democratic party from the time it convened at noon until it adjourned its deliberations. War-borne gasoline and tire rationing cut the attendance sharply.

In keeping with this mood, the platform and the keynote address delivered by Major L. P. McLendon, were concerned chiefly with the war.

McLendon told the thousands of assembled Democrats that during all of the first World War, North Carolina furnished 86,457 men to the armed services and that only four months after Pearl Harbor she had already sent 81,139 "so that today North Carolina's sons, more numerous than those of the last war, are bravely upholding our state's honor wherever the forces of decency are in combat with the enemies of the Democratic way of life."

"Our young men have the spirit and the will to win," he added. "You ask how long this war will last. The answer is, as long as Hitler fights for war we will continue to fight for peace."

Undoubtedly we have been inclined to under-estimate our task," McLendon said. "We might as well here and now realize without doubt and hesitancy, that the lives of a few thousand American soldiers and sailors, the expenditure of a hundred billion dollars and the production of thousands of tanks, airplanes and guns will not win this war."

"It is going to take that and many times all of that. This is true not only because it is a war to be fought on the seven seas and every continent of the globe, but primarily because it is a war to the finish—to the death."

"What we have done is but a token of what we shall do. More and more of us, many times more of us, will have to join the armed forces. We shall buy more and more war bonds—we shall work longer and harder; we shall deny ourselves food and clothing and even homes. "The casualty lists will grow until nearly every home will mourn the loss of their blood kin. It is not an easy task, but it is a noble task."

McLendon praised the state's response to the call to war—its farmers, its industrialists, its industrial worker the state administration. "As in all wars, the farmers will furnish the essential sinews—food and much of the clothing," he said. "North Carolina farmers... are buckling down to their task with a courage and determination afforded (Continued on page three)

Says Vessel Sub Victim Off Brazil

Sinking Said to Have Taken Place Wednesday Morning As American Naval Force Steamed South; Brazilian and American Officials Deny Knowledge of Encounter

Rome, (From Italian Broadcasts), May 22.—(AP)—The Italian high command said in a special communique today that its submarine Barbarigo sank a United States battleship of the Maryland class with two torpedo hits off the Brazilian coast Wednesday.

(There was no confirmation from any other source to bear out the Italian claim.)

Rio De Janeiro, May 22.—(AP)—Official Brazilian and United States sources, commenting on the official Italian report of the sinking of an American battleship off Brazil's coast, said today they had no knowledge of any naval encounter in these waters.

"The submarine Barbarigo," it said, "commanded by Captain Enzo Grossi, attacked the United States naval formation as it was steaming south."

The Barbarigo was said to have dodged two destroyers in making the attack from "some meters" distance.

The submarine launched a salvo of torpedoes, the communique said, against a vessel of the Maryland class and scored hits with two of them on the fore part of the vessel.

These were declared to have sunk her within a short time.

The communique said that escorting vessels of the United States naval formation did not reply to the attack.

It gave the time of the asserted attack as 2:50 a. m., Rome time, and the place as 400 miles west of the Brazilian island of Fernando Noronha, 125 miles off the easternmost extremity of Brazil.

(The Barbarigo, with a submerged displacement of 1,280 tons and surface displacement of 941, has eight 21-inch torpedo tubes. The displacement of the three Maryland class battleships, the Maryland, Colorado and West Virginia, range from 31,000 to 32,000 tons.)

The Italian communique put the displacement of the battleship at 32,000 tons and said that it mounts eight 406 millimeter (16-inch) guns.

Registration

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today set June 30 as registration day for young men between 18 and 29 years of age.

This will complete for the present the registration of the nation's manpower for both fighting and non-combatant war duty, and will be the fifth registration under the selective service act.

Those who register on June 30 will not be subject to military draft until they reach the age of 20.

Men between 20 and 45 are now subject to military service.

Approximately 45,000,000 persons between 20 and 45 have been registered in the four previous drafts.

Issues Warning To Gas Stations

Raleigh, May 22.—(AP)—Norman Shepherd, attorney for the Office of Price Administration here, warned filling station operators today that "drastic action" will be taken against any caught violating the gasoline rationing law.

"Reports of flagrant violations in North Carolina have reached this office," the attorney said. "Some operators are filling the gas tanks of people without even asking the driver for his ration card. This is a very serious situation."

Rationing, he said, "is a war-time measure, and whether gasoline retailers like it or not, it must be obeyed."

Estimating private cars now in use at 27,000,000, the report suggested gas rationing be highly selective, permitting all "necessary mileage" for about 20,000,000 vehicles it held necessary to maintain the civilian economy without serious disruption; between 30 and 40 miles a week for 5,000,000 cars, and immobilizing 2,000,000 extra cars by limiting each family to five tires.

It estimated that the existing supply of tires would not be sufficient to meet essential requirements by mid-1943 "if normal driving habits" continue and that the supply would be completely exhausted by 1945.

"The 27,000,000 cars now on the road will afford an ample supply for essential requirements for several years," the report continued, "but only if allocated by the government to those who need them. The cars in dealers' hands plus those on used car lots may compensate for scrappage for the first year or so, but during subsequent years it may be necessary to invoke public requisitioning and allocation controls."

FEAR THRUSTS IN RUSSIA NEXT

Fall Of China Would Endanger Russia-Alaska

Washington, May 22—(AP)—Belief that Japan is trying for a knockout blow against China to be followed by an attack on Russia or Alaska was voiced today by Senators who urged all possible speed in aiding Lieut. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's Chinese troops.

Senator Hill of Alabama, the Democratic whip, said the recent reinforcement of invaders fighting their way along the Burma road into China made it apparent that the Japanese were trying desperately to "get China off their backs."

"If the Japanese can knock out China," he told reporters, "they will be in a position to attack Alaska or Russia. A victory over China would release thousands of men, hundreds of planes and much equipment for attacks elsewhere. We must do everything we can to prevent that from happening."

Citing a recent Chinese appeal for help, Hill said he thought that such assistance ought to be given at once.

Agreeing with the view that the Japanese were going "all out" in China, Senator George (D-Ga.) said it seemed obvious if that venture were successful it would be followed by an attack on Russia by the large army which Japan has maintained on the border in Manchukuo.

George said he did not believe the Japanese would attempt to attack India at this time and would delay any major assault on Australia until the results of the fighting in China had been determined.

The Georgia Senator also cautioned against too optimistic forecasts that the war would end this year. The story was going around in some unofficial circles in Washington, he said, that eight months might see the end of fighting. He said he did not believe that such a speedy conclusion was possible.

Auxiliary Plans For Poppy Sales

New names on America's roll of honor head give new meaning to memorial poppy this year. Mrs. J. Hicks Corey, Poppy Day Chairman of the local American Legion Auxiliary Unit, pointed out as she worked on final arrangements for the distribution of the little red flowers Saturday, May 30.

"Wearing a poppy is the individual way of honoring the men who have sacrificed their lives in the nation's service," said Mrs. Corey. "Ever since the first World War the poppy has been worn in tribute to the men who gave their lives in that conflict. Now new names are being inscribed among America's heroic dead. The poppy is for them, too. It is a symbol of our sorrow and pride. It is a pledge that we will always remember them and serve on in the cause for which they died."

Farnum warned that it was "entirely possible that the enemy may attempt to land parachutists or other air-borne troops in Maine" and added that "an attempt may even be made to organize bands of fifth columnists."

He urged the public to be watchful, "think before you act, but act instantly if your suspicious cannot be fully satisfied."

SPIES LAND IN NEW ENGLAND

Said To Have Landed On Coast Of Maine

Augusta, Me., May 22—(AP)—Francis H. Farnum, state director of Civilian Defense, said today that "accurate information is in the possession of police and army authorities to show that foreign agents have recently been landed on the coast of Maine."

"Others have come into the state over the Canadian border or from other parts of the United States," Farnum said in a prepared statement. "They are here for no good purpose and they are in our midst now. They come to plot, to damage, to destroy."

Only yesterday civilians and members of the volunteer defense corps were warned by United States and state officials in Boston to exercise special watchfulness for enemy and fifth column action along the New England coast.

"Sometimes a special agent is sent to this country to perform some single task," Farnum added. "He is the pinch hitter, or the hit-and-run worker. Once his assignment is completed he tries to make his way back to his native land or to join other spies in this country."

Farnum warned that it was "entirely possible that the enemy may attempt to land parachutists or other air-borne troops in Maine" and added that "an attempt may even be made to organize bands of fifth columnists."

He urged the public to be watchful, "think before you act, but act instantly if your suspicious cannot be fully satisfied."

Nazis Feel Pinch United Nations Economic Warfare

ALLIES BUY UP GOODS NEEDED BY THE NAZIS

Axis Popularized Barter System Now Being Used Against It

London, May 21.—(Wide World)—A half million dollars worth of sheepskin gloves are bought in Spain and 3,000 miles away in Russia two months later German fingers freeze on the triggers of their rifles.

A million dollars is deposited in Turkey to buy dried fruits, and the German people tighten their belts another notch.

This is economic warfare—slow, un spectacular, but far-reaching and deadly. Since December 7 America has taken her place beside the British on this war front as well as on the fighting fronts of Australia, India and the Middle East.

On the door of a small apartment just off named Berkeley Square a small brass plate has appeared. It reads: "American Embassy Economic Warfare Section."

None of the small staff behind those doors wears a uniform nor carries a gun.

But their job is to kill the enemy, too—with money and sometimes barter, that device the Nazis made so popular.

Each day some of the staff go to the British Ministry of Economic Warfare. There, in a brown paneled room, they sit with three British economic experts around a table filled with reports—reports of cotton for sale in Turkey, opium in Persia, tungsten in Portugal and hides in Irak. Cables start going out.

Buy the cotton—Germany needs it for clothing.

Buy the opium—Germany needs it for drugs.

Buy the tungsten—Germany needs it for munitions.

Buy the hides—German soldiers are short on boots.

What the price is doesn't matter. Nor does it matter that Britain and America control more hides and cotton than they can use.

Britain has been engaged in this type of warfare since the war began—pouring out millions. She fought battles in the Balkans, for chrome, oil, bauxite, tobacco and a hundred other items.

Now the battlefields are narrowed. America and Britain have shut Germany and Italy out of South America through the blockade. That has become a naval matter and Germany can buy only in the places she can reach by land.

Turkey is the main battleground, closely followed by Spain, Portugal and North Africa.

Soviet sources said this picture, radioed from Moscow, shows Russian planes attacking a German tank column along a highway somewhere in Russia. Smoke boils up from burning tanks and shells exploding on the road. The Russians say they have destroyed or captured hundreds of Nazi tanks.

Agents of America, Britain and the Axis countries scour these regions daily in a grim race to find something of use.

Sometimes it isn't money the sellers want but barter for something they need.

And the hard-pressed Nazis find their own device used against them. With their industriss tied up with war orders, and their railroads overloaded with troop and munition transport, they cannot guarantee deliveries.

The United Nations, with control of the seas and plenty of money to buy goods in South America for barter if they do not have the articles available themselves, can supply anything that is asked.

This is one war front on which the Axis is in retreat," one American official asserted.

He arose, stepped out of his pajamas, and got under the shower. But he did not sing, as was his habit. He didn't feel like singing. He felt more like making another placard and going out to picket the Vaughan residence as he had done on that other morning.

It would show Kathleen that he still meant business. Only he would look sort of silly to the Linville churchgoers. And he would probably embarrass himself more than he would embarrass Kathleen. Besides, he might also embarrass Mr. Frank, and he didn't wish to do that. He was fond of Kathleen's uncle, and he wanted to remain in the man's good favor.

Just then the telephone bell rang. He went to answer it, tripping water across the carpet. Maybe it was Kathleen calling to say she was sorry about last night. Maybe she was calling to ask him to drive his little car out to the house and take her for a long ride into the country.

"Hello!" he said.

"Good morning!" said a feminine voice. "I hope I didn't call too early."

"Oh, no," Joe said. "Who is this?"

"Ruby Howard."

"Oh!" Joe almost dropped the telephone.

"What's the matter? You sound odd."

"Nothing's the matter. Just surprised and pleased. After all, it is early for an actress to be up."

"It's too beautiful a morning to lie in bed," said Ruby. "Besides, I've been doing a lot of thinking about your play—and the second act you say you must rewrite. I couldn't wait any longer to urge you to get it ready for reading."

Stagestruck Boy

"I got the manuscript out of my trunk when I got home last night," Joe confessed. "I thought I might work on it today. Only it is too swell a day to stay inside. How about taking a ride with me?"

"I'd love it!" Ruby said.

"We can discuss the play and see the country at the same time."

"I think that would be delightful!" Ruby exclaimed. "I tell you what—let's have a picnic! I'll ask the hotel people to fix a lunch, and—"

"I'll get the lunch," Joe cut in. "I haven't been on a picnic in ages."

"No, the lunch is my treat," Ruby insisted. "You supply the car—and the play."

"What time shall I call for you?" "I can be ready by noon. That all right with you?"

"You bet!" said Joe. "Don't you

Chapter Nine Picnic For Joe

When Joe Neely awoke late the next morning, his first thought was of Kathleen. And it was an angry thought.

The idea of her making such an obvious play for two men as she had made for Fred DeMille and Paul Pennell! She ought to be spanked like a spoiled small brat. It would serve her right if her Uncle Frank did spank her. As a matter of fact, he would like to spank her himself.

He arose, stepped out of his pajamas, and got under the shower. But he did not sing, as was his habit. He didn't feel like singing. He felt more like making another placard and going out to picket the Vaughan residence as he had done on that other morning.

"On the bus," Kathleen retorted. "It passes only a short way from the house."

"It looks," said Fred, "as though everything was going to work out perfectly. I'm sorry we can't pay cash rent for any furniture you people let us use—but it can't be done. Summer theaters never have much profit. They usually run on a shoestring."

ing a worthwhile example to all of us.

"North Carolina's industries have been geared to the needs of National Defense," McLendon added. "Many hundreds of millions of dollars in war contracts have been undertaken by North Carolina industrial plants. . . machine shops, cotton and woolen textile mills, aluminum plants and hydro-electric plants. . . are working at capacity."

"Labor in North Carolina has responded to the nation's call for increased production with genuine and patriotic enthusiasm," the keynote continued. "In 1941 our industries produced the highest value of products, employed more people, paid the highest total wages and the highest wage rates in the state's history."

"We are proud that such a great record was made without the loss of a single hour by strikes or lockouts in the production of war goods—a record not equaled by any other state. . . Much of the credit for this fine and conclusive proof that North Carolina labor and capital do work together in a spirit of understanding and mutual benefit is due to the present and past administration of state affairs by our party. . ."

McLendon said that some Americans have fallen victim to the "insidious propaganda" concealed in the question, "Why should we fight for the British, the Chinese, the Hindus, the Ethiopians and the Russians?"

"North Carolina white men and North Carolina Negroes all know the answer," he asserted. "If all the world is made slaves to Germany, Italy and Japan, we could not hope to remain free. We are fighting for the freedom of every man."

"In this war for the preservation of the Democratic way of life for all men, there is plenty of room on our side for the Jew and the Gentile, for the Catholic and the Protestant, for the white man and the Negro, and for all men of all racess, religions and faiths. "We would be untrue to ourselves, our sons in khaki, Navy blue and Marine green and to our fathers if we, as representatives of the Democratic party in North Carolina, fail to recognize that our first sacred duty is to stand united with all American citizens of every religious and political faith in a common war against common enemies."

Rockefeller, 26, has been assigned to an infantry unit, while Morgenthau, 25, has been sent to Governor's island.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

IT'S WHAT REMAINS THAT COUNTS

The value of a gift we make to God is not estimated by the size of the gift but by the amount we have left after giving it.

Our Lord sat in the treasury of the temple on one occasion and saw the worshippers casting in their gifts. One poor widow cast in a few mites, and our Lord praised her. How many people think that he praised her because she gave a few mites, and following her example they have been giving a little pittance for the support of the church and its enterprises ever since. But what the Lord praised was that this gift, so small as to be practically unnoticed, constituted the whole of the woman's living. When she cast that in, she had nothing left. The thing which impresses God is not how much we give Him but how much we have left after we have made the gift.

A man may give a million dollars to some project and still have so much money left that he scarcely knows what to do with his income. You may be the largest contributor in your church, and yet the amount you give compared with the large amount you have left over makes your gift seem a petty matter of small change in deed. The Lord is pleased with those whose giving involves denial and sacrifice. The world looks to what a man gives; God looks to what is left.

A WISE PLEDGE

The Democratic convention platform pledge adopted in Raleigh today to the effect that the state will make no further tax increases during the war while the people are carrying exceedingly heavy federal tax burdens is certainly a pledge that should be strictly adhered to. The state and the cities, towns and counties within the state should not only do everything possible not to increase taxes during such times as these, but on the other hand, should do everything possible to lower even the present burdens if it can be done without cutting off the absolutely necessary functions of government. Every citizen is willing to carry burdens to the limit in order to aid our country in winning the war and it should be remembered that the lower the state and local taxes the more there will be to go into the war fund.

THE OUTCOME IS WHAT COUNTS

It was wise counsel President Roosevelt gave the American people in his press conference today when he urged that they refrain from becoming over-optimistic or over-pessimistic from day to day as news reports present good or bad pictures of the war happenings. No stone will be left unturned by the United Nations to win this war and in the end they will be victorious and will win freedom for the people of the world. In war, however, it must be remembered that there must be bad news and maybe more of it than we like, before the day of final victory. Americans are so constituted that they can take things as they come and the same is true in times of stress. When the news looks bad, just make a little more determined effort to do your part in our war effort and when it looks bad, don't get the feeling that the time has come for you to let-up in the effort you are making.

The time for Americans to feel free to turn aside from their whole-hearted war effort is after the victory has been won and not before, and between now and that time our energies should be so devoted to the war effort that we should have no time left to spend in pessimistic thought.

Although the "brain corps" is an infant organization and has had no more publicity than the announcement of the president's executive order establishing it, already applications are pouring across Davis' desk at the rate of one thousand a day and the corps already has a long list of requirements from the army for men needed.

There has never been anything like it in the army before and its only precedents in the present war are the Nazi civilian tank and airplane specialists and Great Britain's civilian technical corps.

The officers and enlisted men of the corps will have uniforms similar to those of the army; they will enlist for the duration or in some cases for specific jobs which might take only a few months.

The corps generally will take men over draft limits or men with physical deficiencies or other reasons for not being acceptable in the army or navy, but who have special training and abilities that the army needs. The corps is determined that it shall not become a way out for draft evaders but there seems to be little chance of that. Draft evaders and men of the accomplishments that the corps seek don't belong in the same class.

Davis, in explaining the corps, said: "A one-legged or one-eyed man, if he has the special talents required, will be enlisted or commissioned just as quickly as anyone else. Brains, not physiques, will be our test. "Stutzman couldn't have passed Army physical requirements. We would commission such an expert almost immediately."

Some of the corps will serve overseas in the fighting lines—

Aside from Davis and his staff, no appointments have been made yet, but it will happen any day now. The first appointments may be experienced business men in each corps area to expedite the work of the corps area commanders in filling their "brain corps" requirements.

About the only men in the "brain corps" who won't have a commission or enlisted rating will be 62-year-old Dwight Davis. There probably will be few in it who have a better background entitling them to the regular army three stars of a lieutenant general that it was first intended for. He went into the World War a captain of infantry; came out a lieutenant colonel; served for years as a colonel in reserves. He turned down the stars, believing he can best serve the corps as its civilian chief.

The WAR TODAY

Pearl Harbor—a major endeavor to complete the "pacification" of China, which after five long years, remains Japan's No. 1 problem in Asia.

Chiang Kai-Shek's government, which for a time seems to have assumed that Japan's Burma campaign was directed mainly at India, now is thoroughly alarmed, and is pressing for more aid, particularly large numbers of aircraft.

This is the interpretation placed on the Chinese developments by some close students of the Jap war strategy:

1. Japan is beginning to consolidate, or mop up, following her sensational victories over thousands of miles of the west Pacific area.
2. She prefers to try to knock China out, no trivial undertaking, rather than attempt new major conquests.
3. This precludes any larger-scale invasion of India or Australia, although parts of east India may be attacked in order to break the last allied communications with China, and there may be sizeable naval action in the Coral sea area for the purpose of blockading Australia from U. S. aid.
4. Therefore, so far as Japan is concerned, collaboration with Germany is finished and the Axis no longer is a real factor in Japanese military strategy. Germany can do nothing now for Japan; why should Japan do anything for Germany, such as attack Siberia, until it suits Japan's own selfish ends?

ships, composition of convoys, troop concentrations, battle casualties, damage done to the enemy or damage inflicted by the enemy, air routes, or points of arrival or departure by air.

Arrival in Northern Ireland of the largest troop convoy of the war, including armored units, was announced Sunday by American and British officials.

But American troops, fighting or ready to fight, are found in dozens of other overseas outposts—including, presumably the Philippines. Despite a Japanese report that all American-Philippine forces had surrendered as a condition of the cessation of attacks on Corregidor, the War Department has received no official word to indicate that fighting has stopped on Mindanao.

In Australia, large numbers of Army air and ground forces are concentrated with the Australian troops under General Douglas MacArthur's command. Other American forces, under Maj Gen. Alexander M. Patch, Jr., cooperating with the Free French, have occupied New Caledonia in the South Pacific.

American armies are fighting with the British in India, and officials have disclosed the presence of American supply troops in Eritrea and other parts of the middle east. Hawaii, Alaska and the Canal Zone are now, more than ever, fortresses for defense of the continent.

Austria, Curacao, Aruba, the Republics of Panama and Guatemala, the West Indian islands of Antigua, Santa Lucia, Trinidad and Jamaica, are the sites of army outposts, and so are Newfoundland and Iceland.

were attacked by brutal American mobs who even went to the extent of lynching some innocent Japanese residents.

"They said assaults against Japanese were fiercest at terminal island, San Pedro, where there is a Japanese fishing village.

"Questioned regarding treatment of Japanese residents since the outbreak of war, members of the Italian party said Japanese, irrespective of whether they were Nisei (American born) or not, were being subjected to much harsher treatment than Germans and Italians, and huge numbers of them were being interned in concentration camps which the United States government had the Japanese build, as in the cases of Germany and Italy.

"They said of the total of 10,000 Axis nationals who are interned, 6,000 were Japanese, 3,000 Germans and 1,500 Italians.

"Members of the party went on to express belief that it was apparently the policy of the United States government not to leave a single Japanese resident, whether he be an American of Japanese ancestry or not, at large.

"Citing an instance of brusque treatment accorded Japanese nationals, the Ashai correspondent reported a Domei newsman in New York was rudely awakened in the middle of the night by several American policemen who broke into his house and struck him in the face without provocation.

"Infuriated, the Domei correspondent lashed back at the unreasonable policemen and in a furious fight knocked out four officers before he was finally handcuffed and taken to a concentration camp with other Japanese residents."

Walk Costs Chicago 1 To 0 Loss To New York Yankees

ONLY SCORE ON BASE ON BALLS

Cleveland Now Full Game Behind Yanks

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Yankees seem to win their pennants by breaking the hearts as well as the backs of their rivals.

This year the Chicago White Sox were supposed to be one of these rivals, but the Sox couldn't get going and they languished in the American league cellar while the other clubs drew away from them.

Then Chicago started winning and pieced together a surprising streak of seven games to get out of the dark for one fleeting day—until the Yanks blew into town and burst the bubble.

Yesterday the Sox sent out to the mound a chunky southpaw named Ed Smith, who hadn't won a game this year and had been beaten five times. Smith pitched well, held the world champions to one run, and still they beat him.

It was Smith's misfortune to have to match his 0-5 record against the 5-0 star of the Yankees hurling corps, Ernest (Tiny) Bonham, the b's righthander, who proudly pitched his fourth shutout and sixth victory of the season.

The 1-0 score was determined in the fourth inning when Smith walked Buddy Roser with the bases loaded to force in a run.

Bonham allowed only three hits, two of them bunts. Sid Hudson pitched six-hit ball to lead the Washington Senators to a 5-2 verdict over the St. Louis Browns although his teammates almost asphyxiated the job with six errors. A two-run homer by Bob Escalante in the fifth helped to take the pressure off him and clinched defeat for Bob Muncie.

Phil Marchildon, looming as one of this season's finest pitchers, held the Detroit Tigers to six hits as the Philadelphia Athletics hammered 17 blows and an 11-3 triumph that lifted the A's into 5th place.

Rockie Tex Hushon pitched seven-hit ball for the Boston Red Sox against the Cleveland Indians and Ted Williams drove in four runs, two of them on his ninth home run

Air Station Commissioned.
Cherry Point, N. C., May 22 (AP)—Naval authorities announced today that the new Marine Corps Air Station here had been officially commissioned, with Lieut. Col. T. J. Cushman as its commanding officer. Started last August, the station is still under construction.

of the season, for an 8-3 victory. This knocked the Indians back a full game from first place.

Only one game in the National league escaped the weather and in this the Philadelphia Phils nosed out the Cincinnati Reds 3-2 as Si Johnson bested Paul Derringer in a hurling duel. Johnson held the Redlegs to six hits, one a homer by Eddie Joost. Derringer was tapped for seven.

Ed Head Heads The Class!

Practice is being held at the Colored WPA Recreation Center at 5th

St. Colored School for the Track and Field Meet to be held May 30. There are already approximately one hundred children registered who will take part in the program and others are invited to come out and join in the sport.

There have been some good records made in the practice races, jumps, etc., and by the day of the meet it is hoped that the records will show even more speed and competitive spirit.

This Field and Track Meet will be under the direction of Prince Bey, WPA Junior Recreation Leader, and is operated as a part of the WPA-City Recreation Program.

Norfolk Wins Only Game In Piedmont

Charlotte, May 22.—(AP)—There was only one game in the Piedmont league last night and Norfolk won that, beating the Charlotte Hornets 4-1 behind the six-hit pitching of Vic Raschi, former William and Mary college star.

In winning the game the Tars kept their record intact of not having lost a home game this season. It was Raschi's initial Piedmont league triumph.

The other games in the league were postponed.

The teams shift today with Portsmouth going to Charlotte, Asheville to Durham, Greensboro to Norfolk and Richmond to Winston-Salem.

New York, May 22.—Rationalizing the nations: While the navy is pleading for more competitive athletics to toughen up prospective sailors and fliers, a good many eastern schools are scrapping their sports programs because they can't get the gas or buses to transport athletes to out-of-town games. . . . ## N. Y. Stock Market

New York, May 22—(AP)—Peace-thinking waned as a stock market stimulant today when Washington authorities warned that optimism in this respect was unwarranted or at least premature.

However losses for the most part were in fractions. Scattered modest gains were in evidence in the final hour although minus marks were numerous. Transfers approximated 300,000 shares.

FDR PREDICTS WAR BE LONG

Warns Against Over-Optimism And Over-Pessimism

Washington, May 22—(AP)—President Roosevelt reiterated today an opinion that the war would be a long one and cautioned against over-optimism one week and over-pessimism the next.

The war, public opinion and the news go up and down with things that appear big at the moment, he told a press conference, but more that can be done to prevent this, the better it is for the war effort.

The fluctuations, he said, are caused by a tendency toward overstatement on the part of the American people.

It is a great mistake to overstate things, the chief executive declared, adding that he thought the press could help.

"Do you think censorship should pass some bad news?" he was asked.

Yes, he replied, as soon as it does not affect military operations. There is only one reason for withholding bad news, he said, and that is that to release it might create more bad news.

The President was unwilling to say whether he thought an army-navy committee last week-end had contributed to over-optimism about the war program. He said he had not read it.

Under further questioning, Mr. Roosevelt said he thought official army and navy statements should be relied on but that there should be no over-emphasis on what a person reads into them, personally.

Oh my, yes, he ejaculated in reply to an inquiry as to whether the ship-sinking situation was not still "pretty serious."

Berlin Claims 20 Ships Sunk

Berlin, (From German Broadcasts)—May 22—(AP)—German submarines have sunk 20 enemy merchant ships totalling 111,600 tons in the Caribbean and the Gulf of Mexico and three others aggregating 14,000 tons in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, the Nazi high command announced today.

The sinkings in the St. Lawrence, a special communique said, were executed by a single submarine which entered the gulf "in defiance of the guard by numerous naval and air forces."

(The Canadians announced last week that two ships had been torpedoed and sunk in the St. Lawrence and indicated the possibility that a third might have been sunk.)

NOT TO DIVERT FARM BENEFITS

Tobacco And Cotton Payments To Continue

By OVID A. MARTIN

Washington, May 22—(AP)—Southern congressmen have won from the Agriculture Department a promise to abandon plans to divert upwards of $125,000,000 in government benefit payments from cotton and tobacco to so-called "war crops" under next year's AAA farm program.

The promise was made authoritatively sources said today, in connection with the Senate's approval Wednesday of a measure permitting the department to sell up to 125,000,000 bushels of government owned wheat for livestock feed at below parity prices. This measure was opposed by some senators from corn and wheat states, but was supported by many southern lawmakers.

Plans had been made to overhaul the AAA program in such a way that a large portion of the $500,000,000 soil conservation benefit payment fund would be used as "incentive" payments to encourage larger production of soybeans, peanuts and flax for vegetable oils, truck and vegetable crops, dairy and poultry products and fruits.

The department says more of these commodities are needed to meet military and civilian needs.

The proposed new plans would have eliminated payments to cotton and tobacco farmers for complying with the AAA's control programs for these crops, neither of which would have been classed as war crops.

Details of these plans were outlined at a meeting of state AAA committeemen at Chicago early this week. Southern senators, upon learning of the possible loss of cotton payments, threatened to join corn-state senators in opposing the administration's request that it be allowed to sell grain at sub-parity prices.

It was then that the AAA planners agreed to continue cotton and tobacco payments.

Nazis Demand French Colony

Moscow, May 22—(AP)—Tass, official Soviet news agency, said today that Germany was pressing the Vichy government to consent to Axis occupation of Tunisia and "defense" of the French empire on the grounds that Britain and the United States intended to seize Tunisian ports.

Quoting reports from Vichy via Geneva, the agency said Pierre Laval, Vichy's chief of government, was afraid to make the deal lest it cause a negative reaction in a France, but that the Germans were threatening to go ahead even without Laval's consent.

Tass said also that German forces now outnumbered Italian in the central Mediterranean, completely dominating all air and sea communications between Italy and North Africa, with the German command having undivided control over the most strategic points.

German planes and squadrons of small submarines restrict Italian operations and Italian staff orders are cancelled at German discretion, Tass said.

For example, an Italian plane which was carrying out an assignment contradictory to German instructions was shot down by the Germans over Pantelleria recently, Tass said, and Italian fliers at Marsala were arrested by the Germans for refusing to obey Nazi orders.

Chance To Fight May Come Soon

A. E. F. Headquarters, Northern Ireland, May 22—(AP)—United States troops in training here were today told by General Sir Alan Brooke, chief of the British Imperial general staff, that their chance to fight "no doubt will come soon."

After spending several days inspecting American units which have been toughening up since January in maneuvers over rugged terrain, General Brooke declared:

"We shall expect great things from the Americans when an opportunity is given them—an opportunity which no doubt will come soon."

Among the forces which he inspected, giving close attention to equipment as well as men, also were armored, artillery and infantry units whose arrival in northern Ireland was announced this week.

Before departing today Brooke told war correspondents he had a "high opinion" of the tanks and guns the American had brought with them.

Slayer Is Slain In Court Room

Hollywood, May 22—(AP)—John Barrymore shows signs today of rallying from a serious illness that sent him to Hollywood Presbyterian hospital last Tuesday.

Suffering from a kidney and liver infection complicated by hypostatic pneumonia, the 60-year-old actor underwent an operation to remove fluid from his lungs.

"We feel quite hopeful," Dr. Hugo M. Kersten, his physician, said today. "He still has a chance to pull through this illness."

TWENTY-SEVEN LAUNCHINGS

Observance of Maritime Day

Washington, May 22—(AP)—The United States, now in the midst of history's greatest merchant ship construction program, observes National Maritime Day today with the launching of 27 vessels and ceremonies in many cities.

While the Maritime Commission issued no advance schedule of the launchings it said the first of 27 vessels would slide into the water shortly after midnight, with the last near 24 hours later.

Launchings were scheduled for all coasts and the Great Lakes. One yard will launch three ships, six yards two each, and 12 yards one each.

The day marked the inauguration of a two-day production rate, the commission said. This is to be increased to three a day in the fall.

Thirty launchings had been planned for today, but three vessels were launched earlier to make way for new keels.

In addition to the shipyard activities, Maritime Day was observed in about 100 industrial plants which contribute to the shipbuilding program. Executives and employees of these plants will gather for ceremonies, including the raising of the flag and the "launching" of pieces of equipment.

Dinner meetings were arranged for tonight by branches of the Propeller Club of the United States, Chambers of Commerce, American Legion posts and other civic and service organizations.

The merchant ship program calls for approximately 23,000,000 dead-weight tons of shipping by the end of 1943. The goal this year is 8,000,000 tons. Next year's goal is 15,000,000 tons is expected to be increased, possible to 20,000,000 tons.

Will Seek Prevent Undue Wage Demand

Washington, May 22—(AP)—President Roosevelt declared today that the government would do everything it could to prevent what he termed unwarranted pay increases by private plants.

A half dozen steps might be taken, the President said, but he did not enumerate any of them to his press conference.

He remarked that efforts would be made to keep private plants in line with the general policy of wage stabilization as a result of a question about an aircraft company in Southern California which was willing to raise wages. Asked whether that would conflict with his program to hold down living costs, Mr. Roosevelt said he thought it would because we could not have one plant, which was able to pay, granting raises which would make workers in other plants unhappy.

Twenty-One Lost In Gulf Sinking

New Orleans, May 22—(AP)—Ninety seconds after two torpedoes crashed amidships, a medium sized United States cargo ship plunged to the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico Saturday, May 16, carrying to death at least 21 members of the crew and gun crew, the navy disclosed today.

The attack and sinking came with almost unprecedented speed which contributed to the heavy loss of life. There was no time to use the radio to summon help and the 19 survivors rode life rafts for about 30 hours before being picked up. Five were hospitalized in Galveston Tex., when brought ashore.

The submarine was not sighted. Two torpedoes struck 30 seconds apart, many of the crew dying in the engine room which was directly hit.

Although injured, Captain A. Henry Rowe, a veteran of the world war, spent four hours directing picking up of survivors, then set a course for shore. A makeshift flag of underwear was rigged when a ship was sighted, and the men picked up and taken to a Texas port.

It Will Take A Year To Raise Normandie

Washington, May 22—(AP)—The Senate Naval committee has prepared a tentative report holding confusion of command partly responsible for the Normandie fire and recommended creation of an office of Inspector General of the Navy to prevent any future mixups.

Carelessness, poor supervision and lack of precautions also contributed to the fire and capsizing of the Normandie, said the report which is now in printed form and awaiting final committee approval. It declared that while sabotage played no part in the incident, there was a lack of adequate safeguards against subversive activity.

The Navy disclosed last night that preliminary salvage work had been started on the Normandie, which was being converted into the troopship Lafayette when it burned and turned over Feb. 9. It will be at least a year before the vessel is raised.

The two missing fliers were not identified.

Chilian Officers Arrest Nazi Ring

Santiago, Chile, May 22—(AP)—Police, reporting discovery of a terrorist plot among members of the Nazi-like popular Socialist Vanguard party, seized a quantity of bombs and ammunition and made several arrests in raids early today.

Circles close to the police said the plot was directed "against the present democratic government" and financed by "a foreign fifth column."

Investigators said the seized bombs were constructed according to a foreign technique.
