CHINA CLAIMS VICTORY OVER JAP INVADERS

Half Sea-Borne Force Slaughtered; RAF Active Over Burma

Chungking, May 23.—(AP)—More than half the Japanese invasion force which gained a foothold Wednesday on Chuanshih island at the mouth of the Min river in Fukien province has been wiped out, and the survivors have fled to their ships, abandoning large quantities of equipment, the Chinese announced officially today.

The announcement followed swiftly a communique reporting the Japanese also had been repulsed in an attempt to land under the guns of warships on the north bank of the Min east of Poochow, capital and chief seaport of Fukien.

While the Chinese did not claim the threat to Poochow had been smashed, they indicated that the invaders had suffered a heavy setback.

There was no official statement on the strength of the drive against Poochow, but some Chinese reports said the Japanese had thrown 25,000 men into it and the frustrated landing effort was said to have been backed by the guns of 10 warships.

To the north, meanwhile, four Japanese columns pushed across Chekiang, neighboring maritime province, and enemy raiders bombed Mamoi, a Min river port about 20 miles downstream from Poochow.

Kinhwa, provisional capital of Chekiang and a gateway to Kiangsu province and China's interior, was in growing danger as one Japanese column reached Tunglu, 35 miles southwest of Hangchow, and continued westward along the north shore of the Chingting river toward Lanchi, about 65 miles southwest of Tunglu and 12 miles northwest of Kinhwa.

Another Japanese column was reported attacking Iwu, about 32 miles north of Kinhwa, after an advance of 15 miles within 24 hours. The present positions of two other enemy spearheads pushing southwest were not reported.

New Delhi, May 23.—(AP)—Akyab airdrome in western Burma was raided yesterday by British bombers for the second successive day, an RAF communique said today. Bombs were seen to burst on the runways.

"One of our aircraft," the communique said, "was attacked by four enemy planes, and during the ensuing encounter one Japanese navy '97' was shot down into the sea."

A low level bombing attack also was reported on Japanese river craft in Mayu creek, just north of Akyab.

The communique said that during an attack on nearby Maunggyith-awing a steamer received a direct hit. All the raiding planes were said to have returned safely.

AFL Holds Out Peace Offer CIO

Washington, May 23.—(AP)—The AFL today held out a new offer to its offshoot, the CIO, asking the rival labor organization to come back home again "because of the war."

Old wounds in the side of labor immediately became apparent in the response of Philip Murray, CIO president, who said that obstacles to reunion were perhaps the same the organization "had to meet back in 1935."

It was then that John L. Lewis, towering figure in the United Mine workers, led a dozen unions away from the parent AFL in the unended controversy over the craft versus the industrial union organization.

William Green, AFL president, announced at the end of the organization's executive council meeting yesterday that the council had instructed him to advise CIO representatives that "the peace committee of the AFL stands ready to meet with them for the purpose of negotiations peace and unity."

"Such action is necessary first because of the war," Green said.

Liquor Prices Pegged
Raleigh, May 23.—(AP)—Retail prices in North Carolina liquor stores will be pegged at March levels under OPA orders, Carl Williamson, chairman of the State ABC board, announced today.

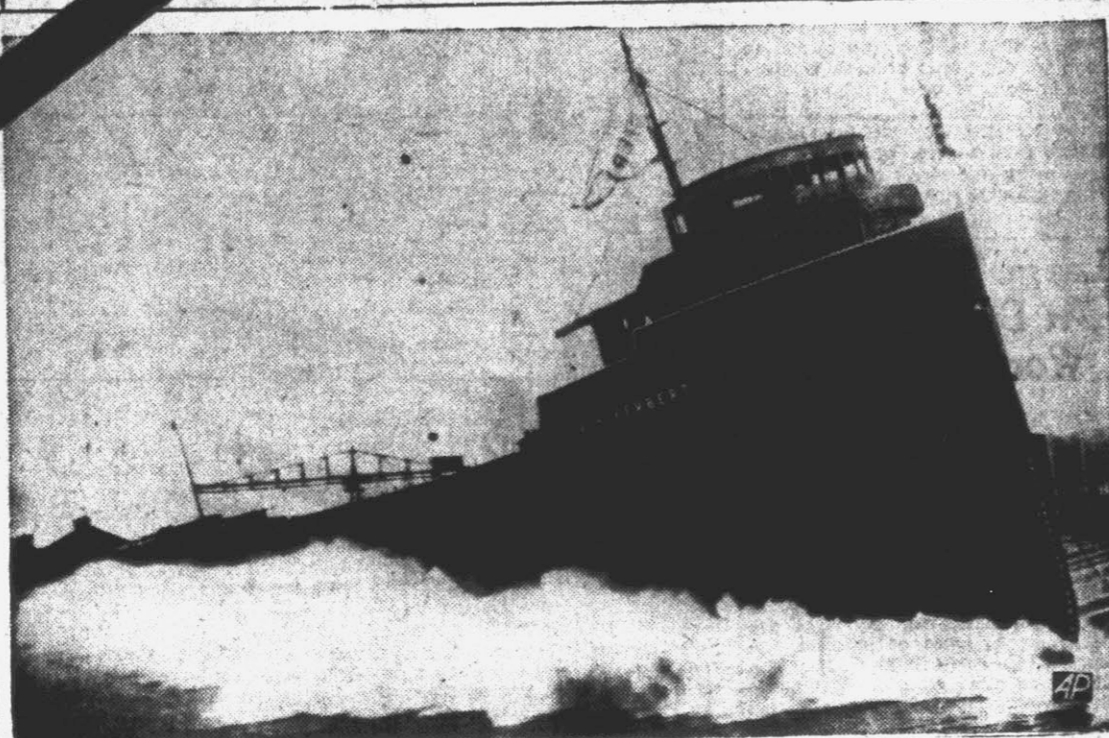

The only changes that may be made, Williamson said, will be decreases because of lowered wholesale costs, or increase because of new federal taxes.

A La Hitler

Berlin (from German broadcast), May 23.—(AP)—The Laval government at Vichy was reported today to have ordered all Jews in France to wear the identifying yellow star of David on a bank of space and not religion alone.

The Jews, it was said, would be required to give up one ticket on their clothing ration cards to obtain the stars.

A Maritime Day Launching—Just One Of 27

One of 27 ships launched in the United States May 22 in celebration of National Maritime Day, the 539-foot ore carrier, A. H. Ferber, hits the water at the yards of the Great Lakes Engineering Works at Detroit. The Ferber is one of the largest ships ever built on the Great Lakes.

BOMBERS SINK TWO JAP SHIPS

Allied Airmen Take Toll 13 More Jap Planes

Allied Headquarters, Australia, May 23.—(AP)—Allied bombers knocked two more Japanese ships out of the enemy's potential invasion force, gathering above Australia, and have scored his air strength by another 13 planes, General MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

Both ships were in the principal Japanese invasion bases among the islands north of Australia—a large transport at Rabaul, New Britain, which was reported "left in a crippled condition" and a tanker at Lae, New Guinea, which was "severely damaged."

The Japanese offered only feeble resistance to these new air smash-ups, part of the positive defense plan by which Allied airmen have hammered at Japan's chief advance concentration centers without respite since the enemy moved into Australia's island roof.

Eight Japanese fighter planes rose to challenge the raiders at Lae, the communique said, but five were shot down and "all our planes returned safely."

Two enemy bombers were destroyed around on the Lae airdrome.

At Rabaul, the communique said, "enemy interception was ineffective" and "six heavy Japanese bombers were badly damaged."

The Australian government, in the meantime, moved to step up this continent's defenses by approving plans to treble the corps of volunteer observers who now keep a watch of 24 hours a day for the appearance of enemy planes.

Air Minister Arthur S. Drakeford said the corps would function in close liaison with the United States army air force and would absorb a large number of Australian air force officers to maintain contact with the vast network of observers.

London Calls It Old Axis Trick

Berlin (from German broadcast), May 23.—(AP)—DNE reported today from Algiers, Spain, at the Gibraltar frontier, that a British destroyer which left Gibraltar yesterday afternoon sighted a French naval formation composed of a battleship, two cruisers and six destroyers in the Mediterranean and put back into port.

London, May 23.—(AP)—British sources said they regarded today's Berlin report of movement of a French naval force in the Mediterranean with suspicion and declared it probably was a continuation of a campaign to make trouble between British and French fleets.

They added that if a British destroyer had sighted French warships on the move it was not likely that anyone in Algiers, Spain would know it.

As Mr. Roosevelt said, there is no special reason for this way of optimism. Apparently, however, it stemmed from a combination of the repulsion of the Japanese fleet in the Coral sea, the preliminary reports on the Russian offensive before Kharkov, and on the "gloomy offensive" which has come out of Germany itself. The WAR TODAY

By DeWitt MacKENZIE, Wide-World News Analyst

This daily feature, conducted by DeWitt MacKenzie, Wide World news analyst, is being written in his absence for a fortnight by Fred Vanderschmidt.

A surprising amount of pleasant but vague talk about how the war is going to end this year provided the background for President Roosevelt's cautionary remarks of yesterday to the effect that, on the contrary, it was going to be a long

Mobilization For Total War Making Headway

Production, Rationing And Inflation Get Attention

Washington, May 23.—(AP)—America's mobilization for total war is speeding up, official reports showed today.

Armament production is forging steadily ahead and manufacture of many peacetime products is grinding to a stop. Steps are being taken to ration train and bus travel. The defense housing program is being revised to center on temporary dormitories for war workers. New anti-inflation moves are in the making.

The overnight developments: Production—"Output of machinery, chemicals and armament of all kinds has continued to expand at a rapid rate," said a Federal Reserve Board report covering April and the first half of May. On the other hand, output of many products for civilian use... has been sharply reduced.

Rationing—"The Office of Defense Transportation started a survey preliminary to rationing of passenger space on trains and buses. The survey covers inter-city bus and railroad passenger travel originating in 100 cities and will end at midnight Thursday. There will be a check on tickets sold. Some 20,000 passengers will be interviewed about where they are going and why, their occupations and how often they travel.

Sale and delivery of safety razors now in the hands of manufacturers and jobbers was prohibited and the razors were ordered made available for soldiers and sailors. The freezing order does not apply to retail stores and is expected to last only until plastic-handle substitutes are in production.

Housing—"War Production Board officials decided that only an 'irreducible minimum' of public housing projects would be carried on. Many projects were stopped for lack of lumber and others were slowing down, so it was decided to concentrate on 'duration dormitories' for war workers. Privately financed defense housing now under way will be completed if found essential to the war effort.

Inflation—"The administration will report considering industry-wide wage arrangements to prevent unwarranted pay increases, taking as an example the government's pact yesterday with the 19 AFL building trade unions for handling any wage adjustments by a federal board.

In its first ruling on wages since the President called for stabilization, the War Labor Board turned down a union request for a general increase for 1,700 employees of the Breeze Corporations, Inc. plants at Newark, N. J. However, it raised the hiring rate and allowed upward revision of rates in 10 different classes of work as a standardization measure.

"A Surprise"

Havana, Cuba, May 23.—(AP)—A mysterious broadcaster, who identified himself as the commander of a German submarine lying only a mile and one-half off the Havana waterfront, promised the Cuban people last night they were in for a "surprise." Havana newspapers reported today.

"This is the second time we have visited Havana and very soon we will give you a surprise," the broadcaster was quoted as saying in perfect Spanish after giving his identity and the location of his vessel.

"It isn't fair," he added, "that while the German people are suffering the consequences of the British blockade with the support of the United States, American girls should be enjoying themselves on the beaches."

"Our submarines will take care of that." The broadcaster was said to go off the air after making this threat.

Conference Agrees On The Senate Figure

Washington, May 23.—(AP)—A Senate-House conference committee agreed today on a general pay increase measure for men in the lower ranks of the armed services to a minimum of $42 monthly.

This tentatively rejected House attempt to raise the minimum pay of back privates and sailors to $50 monthly, from present minimums of $21 and $30.

Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) one of the Senate conferees, said the pay raise as agreed to in conference would cost the government about $285,000,000 additional each year based upon the number of men in the army, navy, marines and other armed forces on January 1.

Johnson said elimination of the House attempt to boost this minimum another $8 monthly would save an estimated $175,000,000 on the same basis.

RAF BOMBERS RENEW ATTACK ON CONTINENT

Heavy Bombing Attacks On Libyan Front are Also Reported

London, May 23.—(AP)—Violent explosions on the French coast rocked towns on the British side of the English Channel today as vast squadrons of the RAF swept to the offensive once more after a night attack on the Nazi submarine nest at St. Nazaire.

Observers at Folkestone said the fliers sped out at such height their only visible signs were vapor trails high in the sky. These soon were joined by others in intricate, winding patterns which meant, the watchers said, that German fighters were offering resistance.

The night attacks, which included mine-laying operations in enemy waters, were announced by the Air Ministry. It said all the raiders returned safely.

Cairo, Egypt, May 23.—(AP)—British bomber attacks on Axis landing fields at Derna and Martuba, on the Libyan front, and air battles between British and Axis fighter planes were reported today by the RAF headquarters.

A communique said the landing grounds at Martuba were effectively bombed Thursday night while enemy airdromes at Martuba and Derna were raided in daylight yesterday.

The RAF said its planes shot up 10 enemy transport vehicles in the Martuba vicinity Thursday night.

British fighters shot down three Messerschmitts, the RAF said.

A Junkers dive bomber which attempted to cross the coast west of Alexandria, British naval base city, today was intercepted and shot down into the sea.

The RAF declared there was little activity over Malta yesterday morning, with RAF fighters shooting down one Messerschmitt fighter. Four British fighters were reported missing.

Berlin, (From German Broadcast), May 23.—(AP)—The German high command announced today that a few British planes flew over Heligoland Bight and the north German coastal region last night without dropping any bombs.

Victory Choir In Concert Here

By CHESTER WALSH
Lewis Sidney Bullock's American Victory Choir of North Carolina received encore after encore when it presented at East Carolina Teachers College in Greenville Friday night the first of a series of "victory concerts" to be given in nine eastern states including several army camps during the summer.

The talented singers delighted with an impressive array of songs and gave a foretaste of the musical treats in store for music-lovers at Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va., Richmond, Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and New England cities, including Boston. The municipality is sponsoring the concert in Boston. A special platform will be provided on Boston Common in anticipation of an audience of 20,000 persons.

The program here last night included "The Star Spangled Banner," "The Call of America," "Flag of the Free," "Soldier, Soldier," with Mary Ida Moe, of Snow Hill soprano, and Pat McLawhorn, Washington, bass, as soloists; "Echo Song," "Home on the Range," "Built on a Rock" with Harry Best, Goldsboro, baritone soloist; "Celestial Voices," "Praise Ye the Name of the Lord," "Abe Lincoln Had Just One Country," "Go Down, Moses," "Water Boy," with Jimmie Kannon, Goldsboro, tenor soloist; repeating for an encore, "Old Black Joe," "Ol' Man River," with Pat McLawhorn, Washington soloist; "Send Forth Thy Spirit," "Beautiful Savior," with Margaret Long, Goldsboro soprano soloist; "The Song of Mary," with Elizabeth Bridgers, soprano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Bridgers, of Greenville, as soloist, and "Alleluia Christ is Risen!"

The Victory Choir concluded the impressive program with Eutkin's "Benediction."

Mexico City, May 23.—(AP)—Mexico lacked only the formality of apparently certain congressional approval today to become a full-fledged ally in the war against the Axis.

Her decision was made rapidly last night as a wave of public fury swept the country over the news that Axis submarines had sunk the second Mexican ship within eight days.

Even while awaiting President Manuel Avila Camacho's formal proclamation of war, the first in Mexico's history, the republic put precautionary measures against Axis aliens quietly into force and took its first military steps.

A special session of the full cabinet announced after three hours' deliberation that congress would be called in special session "to authorize the president to declare the existence of a state of war."

Congress must be convened within 10 days, but next Thursday was set tentatively for the session and (Continued on Page Six)

Prescribe Attire For Women's Army

Washington, May 23.—(AP)—Members of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps will be chic in khaki.

The War Department has picked the uniforms, and aside from silks and satins there's quite a variety of materials.

Skirts will prevail in all cases. For summer there's khaki cotton twill and gabardine. For winter there's olive drab covert cloth.

The hosiery will be cotton and rayon, but no one in the department had a word to say about the underthings, either summer or winter.

Russians Reported Digging In Along The Kharkov Front

Reds' Advance Checked At Kharkov

White Russian troops out-flanked Germans and Funs in the Karelia area to cut one of their main roads north of Leningrad (A), German counter-attacks virtually stopped the Russian advance (B) on Kharkov. However Moscow said the Nazi counter-attack (C) southeast of Kharkov was a serious menace. Red troops were reported still fighting on the eastern part of the Kerch peninsula, blocking a German attempt to drive through the Crimea on a short cut to the Caucasus oil fields (D).

Mexico's Declaration Of War Considered Certain

Will Be Tenth Latin-American Country Join Allies

By The Associated Press.
A formal declaration of war by Mexico will make her the tenth Latin-American republic to join actively in the conflict against the Axis powers.

War already has been declared by Panama, Costa Rica, the Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Salvador, Nicaragua, Honduras, Haiti and Cuba. Most of them acted within a few days after the Japanese attack upon Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7.

Diplomatic relations with the Axis have been broken off by Colombia, Venezuela, Brazil, Uruguay, Paraguay, Peru, Bolivia and Ecuador. Relations are maintained by Argentina and Chile.

Outlook For Utility Companies

Babson Park, Mass., May 23.—(AP)—Due to the war, we have lost sight of many activities of the New Deal. Among these is the "death sentence" provision of the Holding Company Act. In its recent annual report to Congress, the SEC stated that there would be no moratorium on the "death sentence" because of the war. Hence, utility holding companies may continue to be liquidated. Among the most orderly of such breakups is that some time in the North American which has been taking place for years. This was one of the first great holding companies to bow to the SEC. Stockholders will undoubtedly receive far more in liquidation than the currently quoted price for this stock.

Admit Reverses On Southern Flank; Nazis Throwing Masses Of Air-Borne Troops Into 12-Day Battle; Reds Claim 15,000 Germans are Killed

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Moscow, May 23.—(AP) Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's shock troops were reported fighting from newly fortified positions before Kharkov today and a Red Star dispatch said the Germans were "having alternate successes" in flanking counter-attacks to the south despite a loss of 15,000 killed there in three days.

One Soviet gain was reported officially in the Kharkov sector.

"Our units dislodged the enemy from a powerfully fortified position," the information bureau said "in retreating, the Germans abandoned five field guns, 12 machine guns, a mine dump and a radio station."

Red Star, the Soviet army newspaper, reported a sea-saw battle in the Iyuzm-Barvenkova sector, a Ukrainian region below Kharkov in which the Germans concentrated huge forces to attack several points simultaneously. Russian defenses, however, were described as "strong" and "firm" and "not as solid."

The Germans hurled three groups of tanks into a narrow sector in an effort to drive a wedge into the Russian lines, the dispatch said, but the Soviet troops destroyed 39 of the tanks and then drove the invaders back several miles with a counterattack.

"During the night of May 22-23 our troops in the Kharkov direction consolidated their positions and engaged the enemy in offensive battles," a mid-day communique reported.

The Soviet information bureau announced a digging-in process of Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's divisions (logical procedure as a backdrop in any slowing battle) and again it made no claim to a general advance.

(Quoting a Moscow broadcast, the British radio said masses of German air-borne troops—parachutists and plane-transported infantry—were used in stubborn counterattacks, but they "are being wiped out as fast as they land.")

The midnight communique said "our troops fortified their positions and carried out offensive operations" and again it made no claim to a general advance.

"In the Iyuzm-Barvenkova direction (80 miles below Kharkov) our troops repelled enemy attacks and inflicted large losses upon them," it said. "During three days of battles on any sector of the front along which 15,000 German soldiers and officers were killed."

A single division was said to have repelled 11 Nazi attacks and wiped out more than 3,000 of the invaders in a day.

The Russians prior to publication of the Red Star dispatch never conceded a German gain in this effort of Field Marshal Gen. Fedor Von Rokk to turn their left flank and divert Red army manpower from the big Kharkov push. The 15,000-man toll exceeds by 3,000 the number of Germans reported slain from May 13 to 17 in the first phases of the battle of Kharkov proper.

Moreover, Russian resistance again was declared continuing on the Kerch peninsula against German-Rumanian forces which need that easternmost section of the Crimea for any serious thrust at the oil-rich Caucasus.

Evaluation of all aspects of the work was made by the First Service, which gave the paper an average of 45 points ("very good") on coverage, balance, vitality, originality, and treatment, and rated it excellent on news writing and editing.

Kindergarten Festival. Mrs. Bowen's kindergarten ended a most enjoyable and successful year on Friday afternoon with a May Day Festival. The garden made a beautiful setting for the festival and many mothers and friends were delighted with the lovely costumes and able performances of the children. Bobby Browning and Curtis Cosby as May king and queen, mounted the throne accompanied by Jackie Spain as trainbearer and Sarah Baughan as flower girl.

Mother Goose sent several of her children to sing, dance and play for the king and queen. Elizabeth James as Mistress Mary and the flowers in her garden, represented by Betty Rall Raynor and Louise Emsw. came first, followed by Ann Wilkerson as Little Boy Blue, Jimmy Phelps as Little Boy Blue, Joe Taft and Julia Ann Tracy as Jack and Jill. Fred Hubbard Haar was the Jolly Clown, Rachel Lang gave a Christlike dance as the Tamborine Girl, and Billy Bost was Charming. Several members gave a folk dance and the rhythm band under the leadership of Elizabeth James and Fred Hubbard Haar played two numbers. The program ended with "God Bless America." Miss Vera Hamilton was the accompanist.

This was the culmination of many delightful experiences which the children have enjoyed this year and Mrs. Bowen gave to each member a picture of the group made on their recent train trip to Bethel, as a reminder of many happy days together. Lou White Winstead, Stewart Savage and Jimmy Little were members of the group for most of the year but were unable to attend for the last month.

Party For Mr. Hodges.
Troop 36 Boy Scouts, sponsored by the American Legion, gave a farewell party to Mr. Al Hodges, assistant scout executive of the East Carolina Council, before leaving for the army.

The party was held on the lawn of A. B. Stallworth, Scoutmaster of Troop 36. They cooked supper on the lawn and in closing, Alvin McArthur presented Mr. Hodges with a gift.

Guy Evans made the following farewell speech: "Mr. Hodges, we have heard the regretful news of your leaving for the army. We all remember you saying how you honored your scout uniform. Now you will wear another uniform and we know you will honor that one as much, if not more. We all know how much you have inspired us in scouting, always saying 'don't give up.' We know you will be as loyal to America as you have been a scout executive. We shall show our loyalty by going on through scouting and bringing in new members. We all hope you will come back to be executive again and even if there are other boys here in the troops. We know they will have a good time with you as well as we did. We have thoroughly enjoyed your helping us in scouting and we will always remember you and we want you to remember us."

Why Sugar Must Be Rationed
War is cutting off the supply of commodities the United States usually imports from other parts of the world. At the same time our own war efforts are consuming greater quantities of these commodities than ever before. This has created a serious shortage of some vital products which all of us use. The first of these was rubber.

The second is sugar, of which we are using 20,000 pounds a minute or 28,800,000 pounds a day.

The main reasons for the shortage are clear. First, in normal times 27 per cent of the sugar we use comes from the Philippine Islands and Hawaii. Today we are receiving no sugar from the Philippines and very little from Hawaii.

Second: 35 per cent of our sugar normally comes from the West Indies. Today the ships and tankers that carry this sugar to us are needed to transport vital war materials, not only to us, but to our allies, and especially to our armed forces outside the United States. Third: Sugar is required in large amounts for the men in our armed

To Make Series Of Talks Here

DR. TIMOTHY TINGFANG LEW Ph.D., D.D., S.T.D.

LEW WU TSOH-SANG B. S., M.A. (Columbia)

The schedule of church services and other meetings at which Dr. and Mrs. Lew will speak is as follows:

Sunday, 11:00 a. m. - Dr. Lew at the Eighth Street Christian Church.
8:00 p. m. - Mrs. Lew at Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, with Dr. Lew participating. This will be a union service in which all congregations are invited to participate.

Monday, 6:30 p. m. - Dr. Lew at the Rotary Club.

Monday, 8:00 p. m. - Both Dr. and Mrs. Lew at East Carolina Teachers College.

The guests have been asked to speak in the interest of United China Relief, a matter in which all Americans are intensely interested. There will be no special offerings for this cause in connection with the services held in the churches. However, at the meeting at the college on Monday night a free-will offering will be received. The total amount received at this meeting will be forwarded to United China Relief, since all expenses incident to these meetings have been met by the participating groups which sponsored the visit of Dr. and Mrs. Lew. During their stay in Greenville the visitors will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huber.

Dr. T. T. Lew, who arrives in Greenville today for speaking engagements for Sunday and Monday, in addition to his educational and governmental activities, has had a wide experience in the field of religion, which will make his presence here of particular interest to the churches of Greenville. He is well known throughout China as editor of one of the most progressive periodicals "The Truth and Life Journal," and is also founder and editor of the "Amethyst Quarterly Journal" which promotes Christian fellowship, devotion and worship. Perhaps his outstanding work has been done through the work of the many Christian organizations in which he has cooperated. He has been president of the General Board of China Christian Education Association, being the first Chinese to be elected to that position. When the 16 national bodies organized the National Committee of Christian Religious Education, he was unanimously chosen to serve as chairman and was re-elected for five successive years. He served as chairman and general editor of the commission appointed by the six leading denominations in China to prepare a Union Hymnal; a work which required four years of labor, but which resulted in a book which became the best seller among religious publications, next to the Bible, with a circulation of 300,000 among the 300,000 Protestant Chinese. Dr. Lew was a charter member and one of the leaders in the organization of National Christian Council of China and is a member of the executive committee of the council. Since the beginning of the war he has served as chairman of the Consultative Council for Western Provinces, a body consisting of mission and church executives, to study and advise the churches in wartime needs in the interior of China. The other offices which he holds in denominational and interdenominational organizations of China are so numerous that a list of them reads like a roster of the Christian groups in China.

Lew Wu Tsoh-sang does not come to us merely as the wife of Dr. Lew. She comes with preparation, experience and personal ability in her own right. Her scholastic training was received in LaGrange College, Atlanta Normal School and Columbia University, from which institution she received the degrees of B.S. and M.A. She has served as professor and lecturer at the National University of Peking, the National Normal University of Peiping, and Yenching University. Among the many organizations in which she has held executive offices are president of the Peiping Women's Political Association, president of the Soroptimist Club (International) of Peiping, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Peiping, president of the Soroptimist Club of Shanghai, and member of the National Committee of Y. W. C. A. of China, associate editor of "Education of Tomorrow Weekly." China's delegate to the World Educational Conference, and either chairman, vice-chairman, or member of boards of directors of a score or more of social, educational and religious institutions in China. She is Past Worthy Matron of the Order of the Eastern Star, International Chapter No. 1, Peiping, China. Mrs. Lew was a classmate of Madam Kung, sister of the wife of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. Described as a woman of great personal charm, marked intellectual ability, thorough academic training, and wide experience, she will bring to the people of Greenville messages such as no American and few Orientals in the United States are capable of bringing. The committee hardly dared hope that it would be possible to have Dr. Lew come to Greenville, and when it was learned that Mrs. Lew also would come the committee members felt they had arranged, through the good offices of Mr. Huber, to bring to the people of our community the very best in ability, training, experience and character. Sunday and Monday the Orient will be brought to our doors by loyal subjects of both Jesus Christ and the government of China.

forces and for the manufacture of explosives. Fourth: (and this has recently become a serious problem) Many short-sighted people, thinking only of themselves, have been hoarding sugar. They have bought more than they needed and store it away, thus depriving their neighbors of sugar and hindering our war effort. Through rationing of sugar, your government controls the amount of sugar every individual consumer and every seller or bulk user can buy. This rationing assures two things: that the nation's war needs for sugar will be met, and met first; and that all the sugar available after that will be fairly divided between all civilian users in the United States.

To accomplish this your government has already issued to you and to every other man, woman and child in the United States, with few exceptions, War Ration Book One. Each consumer holding a War Ration Book shall be entitled to additional amounts of sugar for home canning. Many homemakers in Pitt County have been concerned over the first allotment of five pounds per member of family for canning. However, new regulations stipulate that the housewives may obtain one pound of sugar for every four quarters of fruit put up. This compared with the average peacetime canning recipe of one pound of sugar for every 21-2 quarters of fruit. Only an honor system and the threat of grave penalties if caught prevents the home canner from putting more sugar into juice or cans of fruit. Jams and preserves are the canned home products which will require much of your sugar allotment for home canning and unfortunately you can't cut down on the sugar in these as much as you can when you reduce the sugar somewhat in two ways in making jams and preserves: 1. Use the minimum of sugar suggested in the recipes for jellies, jams and preserves. You will notice most of these call for 3-4 to 1 part sugar for every part fruit juice, fruit pulp or fruit pieces. In each case, use the 3-4 part sugar to 1 part fruit. If you use the lesser amount of sugar you also get more of the natural fruit flavor. Cook jams and preserves somewhat longer when you cut the amount of sugar. With less sugar it takes a little longer cooking to get the product as thick as you want it.

2. Replace part of the sugar with honey or corn syrup. Replace up to half the weight of sugar called for in the recipes with honey or corn syrup. To make substitutions by cupfuls rather than by weight it is necessary to know that 1 pound of honey or corn syrup measures approximately 1-1/3 cups. If you are replacing half the measure of sugar called for with honey or corn syrup and half the sugar equals 1 pound or 2 cupfuls you will need 2 cups of sugar and 1-1/3 cups honey or corn syrup. Cook somewhat longer than if sugar were used.

This is the first time your government has called upon every individual in the United States to take a definite part in winning the war. It is not much to ask when others are giving their lives. But it is of tremendous importance. It is a part of everyone's share in achieving victory.

Falkland H. D. Club

Mrs. H. Pittman was gracious hostess to the Falkland club Monday night. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Pittman, Mrs. T. L. King gave a most interesting review of the book "White Cliffs of Dover."

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. R. B. Tyler, Foods and Nutrition leader, who assisted the home agent in the demonstration "Whole Wheat for the Whole Family." After a discussion of wheat and its value in the diet, wheat was milled into cereal and flour with a hand-mill. Whole wheat muffins were then made. Mrs. Tyler and Mrs. Pittman then served Boston brown bread, whole wheat nut bread, whole wheat cookies and rolls with

Some folks call our town a manufacturing town and it is, too. And some of the self-same folks say the writer of these items is a manufacturer also, but we deny the charge. We have ever adhered to the truth from earliest infancy and expect to until we die. Just because Winterville is going to be a great big town some of these days and we brag about it, they say we are funny. Plague take a man who has got a good thing and won't crow about it. This town is growing, and don't you forget it, brother.

Large Delegation At District Farm Women's Meeting

One hundred fifty-six people from Pitt county attended the Fifteenth District meeting of the Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs in Williamston on May 15. The district is composed of seven counties; Beaufort, Bertie, Hyde, Martin, Pitt, Tyrrell, and Washington. There was a total attendance of approximately 328. Pitt county is to be congratulated for the large attendance, in spite of gasoline rationing the day before. For the third year this county brought home the gavel.

From the beginning to the end of the program was lovely in every respect. Mrs. T. C. Wheeler presided in a most gracious manner. After the song, America, the Reverend W. R. Burrell led the invocation. Mayor John L. Hassell extended a hearty welcome. Mrs. H. A. Early of Martin county also welcomed the group. The response was given by Mrs. L. L. Gibbs. Greetings were given by Mrs. Porter Paisley, president, North Carolina Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs and Mrs. C. C. Hilton, president Fifteenth District of the N. C. Federation of Womens Clubs.

County reports pictured the untiring efforts of Home Demonstration club members in the war program. The reports were interesting and attractively presented. Mrs. Norman Baker and Mrs. B. R. Fields gave the report for Pitt county. It was a conversation between a club member and a Red Cross nurse.

Mrs. Estelle T. Smith, assistant state home demonstration agent, presented the guest speaker, Mrs. Charles W. Sewell, administrative a delicious drink. During the business session a motion was made by Mrs. R. B. Tyler and passed that the Falkland club change its time of meeting to three o'clock. They adjourned to meet again June 15 at the home of Mrs. Tyler at three o'clock.

Winterville H. D. Club
The May meeting of the Winterville H. D. club was held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. F. Worthington, with Mrs. R. L. Worthington and Mrs. L. S. Worthington assisting hostesses.

Mrs. Woodrow Worthington, mayor of Winterville, was present and told about the progress of the community building. He said they were expecting it to be ready for use by the last of next week and that the town was cooperating in every way.

Miss Joyner gave a glowing report of the district meeting which was held in Williamston last Friday. We were proud to learn that Pitt county brought home the gavel for the third successive year. Our Poultry Leader, Mrs. John Garriss, gave a helpful report.

The club voted to have a canning demonstration at the July meeting. The president appointed the following members to serve as a committee to plan a social meeting in August. Mrs. Grace Gaylor, Mrs. McCoy Tripp and Mrs. Rick Jackson.

The demonstration for the afternoon was "Whole Wheat for the Whole Family." Whole wheat nut bread, Boston brown bread, whole wheat cookies, rolls and nuts were prepared and served as refreshments to the guests. They were not only wholesome but delicious. Sandwiches and an iced drink were also served.

We had 19 members present and four visitors. Mrs. F. A. Worthington, Mrs. Cecil Worthington, Mrs. Lester Allen and Miss Irene Worthington.

At the last club meeting the members were divided into two groups and a contest was held to see which could bring the largest number of new members to the May meeting. The losing side will entertain the winners with a picnic.

After the business meeting the boys and girls were divided for project work. The hostesses served refreshments. Group singing was enjoyed by all.

Members of this club are taking an active part in church work. On Sunday night, May 17, a special program was presented at the church by the club members.

director of the Associated Women of the American Farm Bureau Federation. Mrs. Sewell's talk on the activities of farm women in the war effort was most inspiring. During the luncheon hour, the Williamston High School band presented a special musical program. At the beginning of the afternoon program, Mrs. B. L. Tyson led group singing. Twenty 4-H members with flags and four speakers followed. Mrs. Jarvis Tripp was the accompanist. The formation on the stage was lovely with the girls in green and white uniforms, holding 4-H flags forming the letter V. The boys holding U. S. flags formed semi-circles on the sides.

Inspiring citizenship talks were given by Edna Kirby, assistant home agent, Mrs. B. L. Tyson, local leader for the Red Oak club, Lou Nell Morgan, of the Farmville club and Leland Flanagan of the Lang's club.

Rev. G. W. Perry Is Kiwanis Speaker

By CHESTER WALSH
An interesting talk on "Citizenship," by Rev. G. W. Perry, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, featured the weekly supper session of the Kiwanis club last night. The popular minister suggested looking for the good things and building around them. He enumerated the worthwhile things of everyday life. Interestingly emphasizing the importance of investing one's life wisely in useful service. Mayor Bruce Sugg presented the speaker.

Don Conley announced that Dr. Timothy Tingfang Lew, internationally known Chinese leader, educator and legislator of Yuh Province, and a close friend of Dr. Sun Yat-Sen and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, will be in Greenville Sunday and Monday to deliver several addresses on the Chinese situation. Mrs. Lew speaks at 11 a. m. at Baptist church Sunday at 11 a. m. Dr. Lew will be at the Christian church at the same time. Both will speak at Jarvis Memorial Methodist church Sunday at 8 p. m. Dr. and Mrs. Lew will speak at the college Monday at 8 p. m.

Lt. H. M. Phillips, of Greenville, now an instructor in the U. S. flying corps in Texas, was a guest of the club. Berry Bostic led the singing of Kiwanis songs, with Mrs. Ray Tyson as accompanist. A number of Greenville Kiwanians will attend the international convention at Cleveland, O., June 14-18. President Claude Ward presided.

When a case goes through two, three or four terms of court the cost piles up, which the defendant or the county has to pay. Further, think of the great expense and sacrifice to witnesses who have to attend court day after day, term after term. The Solicitor has charge of the docket; he sets the cases. Why set twice as many or more cases for a day or a term than can be tried? A little work before court would enable the Solicitor to know approximately what can be tried in a day or a week.

If nominated and elected, I propose to set a calendar for each term of court of the approximate number of cases that can be tried and to try them in their order, one, two and three. By proper arrangement of the docket and following it with speed and dispatch, enough cost can be saved to more than pay the Solicitor's salary. GIVE ME A CHANCE TO PROVE IT.

Your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.

Himmler Has Gigantic Task Ahead Of Him In Holland

SECRET ARMY STILL ACTIVE

Firing Squads Fail To Break The Dutch Spirit

London, May 23.—(Wide World)—Ghostly battalions marching on an unseen battlefield, soldiers who fought hopelessly in the open for four days and who have fought underground for two years: That's the Dutch army which Heinrich Himmler, high executioner for Adolf Hitler, has been sent to the Netherlands to conquer.

Firing squads have by no means "liquidated" this secret force, which is organized with military thoroughness, largely by military men—the officers of the queen who had no real chance to show their worth in May of 1940.

They have shown it since. As long as a year ago, 13 of them were condemned by German judicial courts, sitting on the bench of the high court of justice at The Hague. In the last few weeks, 96 more have been shot, thousands arrested.

But Hitler knew the work went on, so this week he sent Himmler. Some details of how these secret organizations function, made available today by Aneta, the free Dutch news agency, show plainly that neither assassination nor sabotage is the real aim of the secret high command, although both are frequent.

As one member said at a recent trial: "We are not so much a terror organization as we are an organization preparing, nay, ready, to assist the British when they land in Holland."

In the last trial not one of the accused persons knew his leaders. They had been working with special liaisons between the various ranks of the organization. These ranks received their instructions in codes that were changed almost every day, and the system of distribution never has been discovered by the Germans.

One section of the organization collected information for the use of the EAF. Its main activity was concentrated in the districts along the mouth of the river, Maas between Rotterdam and the hook of Holland.

A second group had the special task of examining and listing all bridges in order to make the record available to the ultimate allied invaders.

A third section, formed into ostensible hiking clubs, was charged with finding out everything possible about disposition of German defenses, so that its members could act as guides for invading forces.

A fourth group agreed to lose no opportunity of killing German soldiers. They made excellent work of the combination of the German enforced blackout and the country's network of canals, but they had also more subtle means.

Pins on desks used by Germans were turned into tiny poison arrows. Many a thirsty German never lived to thank the Dutchman who brought him a cocktail or a glass of champagne.

A fifth section set to work on the wharves, where they collected information and conducted as much sabotage as was opportune.

This particular trial lasted for five days, and many times during the sessions the German president of the court roared with anger at "the impertinence of these barefaced liars."

Chapter Ten

Blow For Kathleen
Neither spoke for a little while after that. They looked at the countryside, and were lost in thought. Only Fred did most of the looking, when he didn't have to pay too much attention to his driving. Kathleen did more thinking than looking. While Fred admired the blue of the sky, the green of the foliage, and the way a small calf awkwardly kicked up its heels, Kathleen was trying to think of a way to bring up the subject of her acting.

There was no need putting it off, she reasoned. The weeks would be gone almost before she knew it, and the theatrical people departing. And when a girl wanted to go places in any line of endeavor, that girl had to grasp every opportunity.

She drew a deep breath. "You remember what you said to me on Saturday night?" she asked.

Fred gave her a quick look. "I remember saying a lot of things to you, he replied, "and I meant 'em." "I mean about my looking like one of the girls in 'Goodbye Honey Chile!'" said Kathleen. "Remember?"

"Sure. You did look that way."

"Then if I do," Kathleen went on, gathering courage "maybe you could do me a favor."

"It's about acting."

"Yes?"

"I have done some acting. Here in Linville, I mean."

"Yes, I know."

"You do? Who told you?"

"Mrs. Buxton," said Fred. "She gave you quite a boost last night when we were having a little visit in between dances."

"That was sweet of her," said Kathleen. "Only I hope she didn't bore you."

"Oh, no," said Fred. "I had an idea you'd taken an active part in home-town productions. You see, I've been around quite a bit, and I'm pretty well qualified to pick out the girls with acting ambitions in whatever town I visit."

"And you picked me out?"

Fred nodded slowly. "And I was rather sorry," he said.

Discouraged
"Sorry?" Kathleen was puzzled.

"Why?"

"Because you're such a sweet girl," he answered. "I hated to feel that you wanted to become an actress—and leave all this." He made a gesture with one hand toward a field of corn. "If I had my life to live over again, I'd stay in place like Linville. I did come from a small town, you know."

Kathleen was upset. She had expected almost any sort of reaction from Fred but this one. Joe discouraging her. Uncle Frank doing the same. And now—Fred.

"But suppose all girls who wanted to act stayed home," she said. "What would the world do for actresses?"

"Do without them," said Fred. "And that might not be a bad idea."

"I suppose it's more or less in my blood now, after such a lot of time fooling around with it, but—" Fred stopped short. "Oh, yes, the favor you mentioned. I suppose it has something to do with your ambition to be an actress."

"It has," Kathleen admitted. "I was wondering if there weren't some small parts you could give me—you know, a bit, the regular scenes and actresses couldn't do."

"Fred was thoughtful for a moment. "Yes," he said finally, "there are such parts. There are several in 'Goodbye, Honey Chile!'"

"Really?" Kathleen cried. "Oh,

"I'd love to be in that play!"

"Yes, might fit in at that," Fred continued, "only I'm afraid I can't do much about it."

"But I thought you had a lot to say about casting."

"Only a rumor, my child. You see, Paul Pennell and Ruby Howard have invested in this summer theater venture—and they rule the roost. I mean, they have the definite say-so about who plays what, and so on."

"You mean I'd have to convince them that I could play a part?" said Kathleen.

"Yes. Especially Paul—since he's the heaviest investor."

Kathleen frowned. Here she was wasting her time riding around the country with Fred DeMille, because she had been confident he was the man who could help her—and he wasn't.

"Do you think I might be able to handle one of those small roles?" she asked presently.

"You might," said Fred. "Can't tell much until I hear you read lines."

About Joe And Ruby
"But how can I read lines if I don't get a role?" Kathleen said, a sort of wall in her voice.

"That," said Fred, "is what actresses have been saying down through the ages. Of course," he added thoughtfully, "I might speak a word about the matter to Paul."

"Oh, would you do that? I'd be ever so grateful."

"Not that it would mean a lot," Fred went on. "Paul and I don't hit it off any too well together, and my suggestions are usually tossed into discard. However, in your case he might lend a more willing ear."

Kathleen gazed dreamily before her.

"I'd give almost anything," she said softly, "to have a part in that Civil War play."

"Why don't you mention the matter to Paul, yourself?" said Fred.

"Do you think I should?"

"I don't see why not. You mentioned it to me, didn't you?"

"Yes," Kathleen turned and studied Fred's profile. "You don't think it terribly nervy of me, do you?"

"Certainly not," said Fred. "After all, one never gets places without trying."

"But you don't like the idea of my acting, do you?"

No, I don't like the idea of any sweet, wholesome girl like you acting."

Kathleen tried to think of something to say and couldn't.

Fred broke the silence that had fallen between them.

"How much farther to Miss Camilla's farm?" he asked.

"Not far," Kathleen answered. "You turn to the right down by that group of apple trees."

Fred pressed his foot down upon the accelerator.

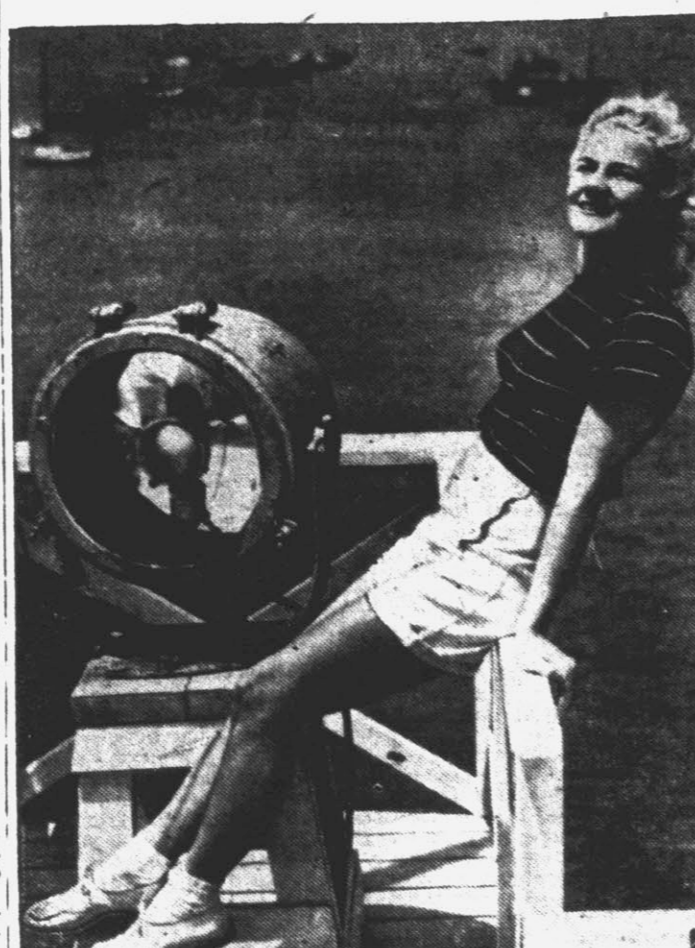

"Now for some genuine pre-war stuff!" he said gaily. And then: "Kind of funny, isn't it, you wanting to act with Paul, and your friend, Joe, wanting to do a play for Ruby?"

"I don't see anything funny about it," said Kathleen crossly. "People can be ambitious even in a hick town."

"Joe doesn't waste any time, either," Fred went on. "I saw him driving off with Ruby just before I started to call for you."

"You did?" said Kathleen, trying to sound casual.

TRUE HOUSE OF GOD

What is worship? How can we make it real?
Some people think of worship in terms of a definite place. This is only natural. The home church, the shrine to which one has often repaired, come to assume in one's heart an importance which makes such particular geographical location stand out in our spiritual landscape like great beacons.

But worship is not primarily a geographical matter. The fugitive Jacob felt that he was getting away from God and God's country when he left his home and struck out across the wilderness of Syria. But that very night God spoke to him as he lay on a wind-swept barren place, a stone for his pillow and the ground for his bed. Jacob had a dream in which he saw the angels ascending and descending upon a ladder let down from God. And when he awoke in the morning his conclusion was, "This is none other than the house of God."

Ruskin has said that God's house is any place where God lets down His ladder. It may be the home, the cathedral-like silence of the forest. This does not mean that we should be indifferent to churches and shrines. It only means that holy places are nothing unless we carry holy impulses into them, and that every place is sanctified when the heart is right before God.

Whenever we happen to be at this present moment God is willing to let down His ladder and send His angel visitants to bless us.

NOW IS THE TIME FOR PITT COUNTY TO STAND TOGETHER

On next Saturday the people of this county will go to the polls to vote their choice for a man to represent this district in the next session of Congress. There are in the race for the office three candidates, Marvin K. Blount and Jack Edwards, both of this county, and Herbert Bonner, of Beaufort County. Of course it is the privilege of every voter to cast his or her vote as he or she desires, but we do hope that the people of Pitt County will show, first, sound judgment, and second, county pride, by voting for one of the Pitt County candidates.

This is the first opportunity in sixteen years the people of this district have been to the polls with the opportunity of expressing a choice among congressional candidates for it has been that long since there was a contest. After winning his contest for a seat in the House of Representatives eighteen years ago, Lindsay Warren continued in that office unchallenged for the nomination for sixteen years and when he finally gave up the office for an appointive government job it was after he had held on to his seat in Congress and the nomination for another term until it was too late for anybody to run against his secretary, Herbert Bonner who was hand-picked for the office.

Frankly, we have never felt that Mr. Bonner was qualified to fill the office of Congressman from the First

Try To Look More Confident, Admiral

SPENCER REYNOLDS AND GASTON STEPHENS

District, and even though he had had the qualifications we have felt that the people of the district must resent the manner in which he was thrust into office without giving the people an opportunity to approve or disapprove. That opportunity will be at hand next Saturday and the manner in which we vote will indicate whether we wish to continue to elect our officers or whether we want them picked for us by the politicians and placed in office without any say-so from us.

Now getting back to the Pitt County angle. We have supported Marvin Blount's candidacy since the day he announced for the office because we felt, and still feel, that he has every qualification to fill the office with credit to his people. His past legislative record is evidence that he would make a good Congressman and could render valuable service to his district. For years we have wanted to see the Congressman from this district come from Pitt County, but we would not even now let county pride cause us to want to injure our district by voting for a person of inferior qualifications just because he came from this county. But in view of the fact that Pitt County is offering not only one but two candidates, both of whom, in our opinion, are better qualified for the office than the third candidate in the race, we cannot understand any Pitt Countyman even thinking of wanting to vote for the candidate from another county.

If Pitt Countyans are willing to stand together in this primary we can nominate our candidate for Congress, but if we are going to continue to be a house divided among ourselves and give our support to an outsider we can hope for nothing more than to remain the "red-headed step-child" of the First District, which we have been for nearly half a century while we gave our support to candidates from another county and received nothing, and we mean NOTHING, in return.

While we hope that every Pitt Countyman will cast his or her vote for Marvin Blount next Saturday, if you do not wish to vote for Blount in the first primary, we urge you to vote for Jack Edwards, the other Pitt County candidate. In this way our county would be assured of having a candidate in a second primary and then with our solid support and backed by support of other people in the district who don't like the idea of hand-picked candidates, we can be assured of victory for a Pitt County candidate in the second primary.

Washington Daybook
Washington. — If Washington's any example, the nation's first rationing got off to a pretty poor start. . . . I'm talking about gasoline, not sugar or tires. . . . Fires are not rationed on the registration basis. So far as the public is concerned, they're forbidden. Sugar is on a registration basis but the allowance in general is sufficient to the needs of the individual and everybody gets the same. It wasn't until gasoline rationing came along in the eastern states that the bugs in the machine actually became apparent. . . . The squabble in Congress about whether the gentlemen on the Hill should have the wide-open X cards or restricted A's; the counter complaints that the government's 3,000 departmental cars and trucks here shouldn't all have X cards either; the discovery that a small percentage of the populace was taking it on the chin with 3-gallon a week A's; the crowded mess of actual registration itself were just a few of the dissatisfactions that arose. . . . Just how effective this interim rationing is going to be in curbing consumption between now and July I can't be determined yet—but one thing seems pretty certain. It won't be the same come the first of July. . . . This is no time to be making predictions on anything, but the rumblings in government circles and out are loud. There have been ureats already of investigation of the X-card holders. Some action might be taken along this line, but this country couldn't spare the force for policing general rationing. . . . The clamping down on violators—the investigations of the truth of claims as to individual needs—will have to be made at the source; at the time cards are issued. . . . That is very likely what will happen in July. Motorists may need much more than their own say-so that their tanks have to be full to keep the war machine running smoothly. . . . The confusion of this temporary rationing, however, is probably more important as a sample of the wrinkles that have to be ironed out. . . . Automotive statisticians here are estimating that there will be a half-million to a million fewer cars on the roads before mid-summer; that it may reach 5,000,000 fewer by fall, because of the rubber shortage. . . . That, with even partially successful rationing; curtailed deliveries to filling stations; and the honest patriotic efforts of hundreds of thousands of drivers to reduce mileage, may ease the gasoline situation considerably. . . . The point is that if there is going to be general rationing of other products and if those products have to be apportioned on a basis of whether they will affect war needs, a lot of the kinks in the gasoline rationing system are going to have to be taken out.

The WAR TODAY

What has been overlooked by the optimists are these facts:
1. The Japanese fleet north of Australia remains an extremely sinister factor.
2. The Red army's Kharkov offensive was a preventive military action, designed to weaken the power of the expected German offensive and the Caucasus which today appears to be in its developing stages, despite heavy German losses in material.
3. The Hitler-Goering lamentations about how tough the going is for Germany were carefully wrapped up and delivered in America by the Nazi short wave radio "news services because the Nazis wanted them to be believed; but in their more reason for believing Hitler when he talks that way than when he said: "This is the last territorial demand I have to make in Europe." Remember?
Several keen students of the Nazi propaganda strategy have become convinced in recent days that Hitler's present efforts are directed toward creating an early military stalemate and the Caucasus which is trying to build up a peace mood among the people of the United Nations.
Axis radio broadcasts certainly bear out this theory.

from high earnings which spell higher taxes. Hence, gross up; but is of operating units of holding companies, have in many instances during the past year been called upon by the government to expand their systems and up their generating capacity for the expanding war program. This has entailed considerable new construction at high costs. Holding companies have, hence, been obliged to go to the banks to provide funds for their subsidiary companies.

The majority of the utility holding companies have become reconciled to the Holding Company Act and are willing to break up. It must be remembered, however, that there are outstanding in the hands of the public huge amounts of bonds which must be taken care of in some way. Due to the SEC requirements it has been particularly difficult for several past years for these companies to carry on any refunding operations. This situation is now worse than ever due to the necessity of keeping the banking and public market open for such new financing and refunding operations as becomes necessary for U. S. city requirements.

Tax Situation Easy B. Utilities
There is many a city throughout the country in which property owners think they pay almost no municipal tax due to city-owned utilities. However, while the property owners in these localities may not get much of a tax bill from the municipal authorities, they are paying taxes just the same. Such taxes are buried in the bills they receive for electric power, gas and other municipal services through the relatively high rates they are paying therefor. In the majority of instances it would probably be cheaper for most such cities to buy their juice from outside private utilities, have it delivered to a central switchboard, and distributed over the city-owned lines. This is true in my own home town where residents enjoy some of the lowest light and power bills in the country.

To aid utility holding and operating companies now suffering from high taxes, I believe that legislation should be passed to allow these companies rate increases to cover their tax bill. A customer might get a $5 utility bill, but a separate item thereon of $2 for taxes. In this way the government could use the utilities as tax collectors in a fair and above-board manner. If the utility companies would voluntarily change their methods of billing or if they were provided with rate increases to take care of a portion of their taxes, both investors and consumers would be treated more fairly. Today the utilities are being treated like a tax collector who might be compelled to pay all taxes out of his own pocket instead of being permitted to collect them!

Relationship Of SEC
One thing more. I hear much complaint that the SEC is hurting investors by forcing the holding companies to dissolve. Let me say for personal experience that the SEC is working hard to protect legitimate investors. If the stockholders of the utility companies will follow cheerfully the suggestions of the Commission as to swapping securities and purchasing operating companies' shares, they need suffer no shrinkage in any actual values they ever had.

I am decidedly bullish on most utility operating companies' preferreds and some holding company preferreds. Ordinarily I do not like preferred stocks. They are a hybrid type of security and generally speaking I was brought up to avoid them. Ordinarily, from an investment point of view, I would prefer a first mortgage bond having a distinct claim upon the assets of a company or else a common stock having voting power and a real

Two Big League Games Today For Army-Navy Relief

GIANTS BEAT DODGERS 5-1

Only Three Games Were Played Yesterday

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

Almost anything can happen in the seven major league baseball games scheduled today, but a sure winner in two of them is army-navy relief fund.

Proceeds from games in the nation's capital, where the New York Yankees meet the Washington Senators, and at Boston, where the Red Sox take on the Philadelphia Athletics, will go help care for the families of those who fall on the fighting fronts.

The two contests are part of a series of 16 scheduled in the two leagues for the fund.

An added attraction at Boston will be a curtain-raiser between service teams, with Sailor Bob Feller pitching for the navy nine and Soldier Hugh Mulcahy opposing him for the army squad.

Army and navy bands will be on hand, and all high ranking officers of the services in the Boston area have been invited.

At Washington, there will be bands and parades and possibly a speech or two. And everyone who enters the park will buy a ticket.

Only six teams saw action yesterday in an abbreviated program, shortened further by the weather.

In the lone afternoon game, moved up to daylight by New York's ban on night baseball, the Giants bunched Brooklyn's National League leaders, 5-1, handing the Dodgers their second straight defeat and Pitcher Ed Head his first loss after five triumphs.

The second-place Boston Braves chopped another half-game off Brooklyn's margin and reduced the Dodger lead to five lengths by whipping the Philadelphia Phils, 10-7.

At Chicago, the White Sox downed the Detroit Tigers, 7-4, in the only American league game, hanging up their eighth victory in ten starts.

Two managers missed the final outs in the night games. Jimmy Dykes of the White Sox was chased in the ninth for protesting a baseline decision by Umpire Bill Greve and Hans Lobert of the Phils was banished late in the final frame at Philadelphia.

The Run That Snapped Dodgers' Winning String

Walker Cooper (left), St. Louis Cardinals catcher, slides across homeplate in a game at New York that snapped the Brooklyn Dodgers' eight-game winning streak. Cooper's slide scored the only run in the game. Dodger Catcher Mickey Owen (right) has just taken Dixie Walker's throw-in of Frank Crespi's sacrifice fly to center field—but the ball came too late.

... Last spring he decided to call it quits and play baseball instead. But when examinations kept him from taking a southern trip with the ball team, he asked to go along with the track squad on a shorter jaunt. ... Johnny won both the 100 and 220-yard dashes against Bucknell, and now he swears he'll never again train for sprinting.

Service Dept.
Lieut. George "Blitzkrieg" Barr, one of the Yanks who bombed Tokyo, got his nickname when he was a member of the Northland College basketball team at Ashland, Wis. that ran up a great winning streak a few years ago. ... And two of his flying mates, Lieuts. Howard A. Sessler and Gene McGill used to play a lot of hockey around Boston. ... Sessler played for a while with the Boston Olympics. ... Thirty of 33 members of Georgia Tech's Orange bowl football squad now are in uniform. ... Ben Kish, the Dodger pro footballer who received his discharge for dependency last fall, is back in his old outfit. When he re-entered the army he asked to be assigned to the "Fighting Falcon" regiment of the ninth infantry at Fort Bragg, N. C.

Sox Continue Winning Streak

Charlotte, May 23—(AP)—The league leading Greensboro Red Sox continued their winning pace last night, shelling two Norfolk hurlers for ten safeties and winning the series opener 7-3. The game was called at the end of the seventh.

Oil Torres' triple in the ninth with one aboard saved the Charlotte Hornets from a shut out as Portsmouth won 9-1. Wes Liveness, the veteran righthander, held the Hornets completely at bay for eight innings.

Poor pitching on the part of the Durham hurlers cost the Bulls a ball game and Asheville's Tourists won the series opener 9-5. Howard Muderaki, the Bull left fielder, got five hits in five times up and drove in four of his team's runs.

The Richmond-Winston-Salem contest was postponed on account of the weather.

Several Divorces Granted This Week

This week's Superior Court for the trial of civil cases with Judge J. Paul Frizzelle presiding came to a close here yesterday afternoon with but few cases other than divorces actions having gone to the jury during the week. Several of the matters heard by the court were settled by the litigants before the cases reached the jury stage.

Cases which finally went to the jury included a wreck case in which J. L. Stocks was awarded judgment of $54,200 against E. D. White, and a $10,000 damage suit in which the plaintiff Roy Morgan was awarded judgment of $30 against Lloyd Balance.

The latter case brought by Morgan against Harvey Ward, W. S. Moyer, M. D. Lasitter and Biggs T. Cannon, operators of the Dixie and Centre Brick warehouses and Lloyd Balance, employee of the firm, resulted from an affray engaged in by Morgan and Balance when Morgan went to the warehouse to get a dog which he accused Balance of employed in a basket factory.

stealing from him. Hearing of the case was begun Thursday morning and was not completed until noon Friday.

Divorces granted during the week were to the following: Sarah Frances Harris from Floyd Richard Harris; Margaret Teel Duncan from Dennis Edward Duncan; Ardel Glenn Hamer from Eugene S. American; A. L. Mizelle from Lidia Muzelle; Clarence A. McLamb from Myrtle Estelle McLamb.

The second week of the term will get under way Monday with Judge J. J. Burney, of Wilmington, presiding.

Umpire Harry S. (Steamboat) Johnson, colorful dean of Southern arbiters, goes into his pre-game practice of rubbing some dampened Birmingham, Ala., dirt on new baseballs to remove gloss and allow the pitchers a better grip. For some reason, says Steamboat, Birmingham dirt is the best that's been found for this purpose and has been sent to number one circuits, including New York, St. Louis, the Texas league and other Southern Association points. "Maybe it's the iron ore deposits," he opines.

LEADERS SPLIT ON PROPOSAL VISIT ENGLAND

Question Wisdom Of Sending Delegation Discuss War Problems

By JACK BELL Washington, May 23.—(AP)—Congressional leaders were reported divided today on whether to send ten senators and representatives of both parties to England for talks with Parliament on war problems and peace aims.

A tentative invitation for the visit was laid before a group of Senate and House leaders by a British spokesman at a secret conference at the capitol yesterday.

Democrats were said to have given the idea general approval. However, Senate Republican Leader McNary and House Republican Leader Martin were reported somewhat skeptical about the wisdom of sending such a large delegation to Great Britain at this time.

A reported suggestion at the conference that the leaders of both houses be included among the five Republicans and five Democrats who would make the trip, probably in July, brought questions as to the effect of their absence on the progress of important legislation, particularly the tax bill now pending before the House Ways and Means Committee.

There was some doubt among leaders, it was said, whether an announcement of plans for such a conference might not draw the ire of senators who were critical of Great Britain and the British war effort before Pearl Harbor.

Those interested made it plain that no definite invitation had been issued in behalf of the British Parliament or would be issued until congressional leaders determined for a certainty whether it would be accepted.

TEN HOSTAGES ARE EXECUTED

Ten More Frenchmen Are Slated To Be Shot

Vichy, May 23.—(AP)—The Germans announced today that 10 hostages had been executed in occupied France in reprisal for an attack against a German soldier May 19 and that 10 others would be shot if the attackers were not found within eight days.

The Nazi notice, signed by "The German Commander for Greater Paris" and dated today, said: "An attack was committed May 19 in Paris against a member of the German army. The young man responsible for the attack escaped. As reprisal, 10 persons, communists and Jews and persons closely linked with criminal circles, were immediately shot."

In case the authors of the attack are not found within eight days following publication of the present notice, an equal number of persons will be shot. In addition, a number of persons closely associated with the criminal circle will be transferred to a labor camp."

Mexico's Declaration (Continued from Page One) there were indications that the aroused public might insist on a meeting still earlier, possibly next Monday or Tuesday.

The government's statement clearly defined the reasons that swept Mexico toward war—the Axis sinking of the Mexican tanker Potero Del Llano off Florida, its refusal to accept a protest of that sinking and then its sinking Wednesday of the tanker Faja De Oro, all within 8 days.

Survivors from the ships still had not reached the capital when the war decision was made last night, but a great patriotic demonstration was organized to greet their arrival today as the wheels started turning to bring congress back from its recess.

Government sources indicated the alien control measure would not be announced publicly until they had been enforced fully. The military activities also were kept a state secret.

Mexico's entry into the war would place on the side of the allies a nation of 200,000,000, the most populous in Latin-America except for Brazil. Mexico has a standing army of 70,000, 400,000 more semi-trained men ready to be called and a navy of 15 ships already active on patrol in the Pacific.
