British Columns Push Nazis Back

Rommel's Flank Pushed Back Toward Sea; U.S. And British Bombers And British Submarines Continue to Hammer At Supply Lines; Seek Keep Rommel On Defensive

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Cairo, July 10.—(AP)—British mobile columns southwest of El Alamein squeezed Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's armored right flank back toward the sea today while United States bombers and British submarines sought to cut his Mediterranean supply line.

(A British broadcast quoted reports from Ankara that the Axis was moving reinforcements to North Africa from the Balkans, pulling German troops from Yugoslavia and even Crete in an effort to restore Rommel's striking power.)

British headquarters announced that long-range United States bombers hunting Axis ships in the Mediterranean shot down two German fighter planes which attempted to intercept them.

(An Admiralty communiqué in London credited a single British submarine with sinking one merchant ship from a strongly guarded Axis convoy bound for Libya and sending a naval auxiliary vessel to the bottom.)

The change in Rommel's line eliminated a sharp angle where the German front turns back to the west. Now the line forms an arc extending from the coast west of El Alamein into the desert some 30 miles south of El Daba.

The British maneuver apparently was a continuation of the salient which had-hitting armored patrols have been carrying out daily to keep Rommel on the defensive and thereby postpone a showdown in the battle for Egypt.

Allied bombers and fighter bombers, meanwhile, were reported blasting at the Axis leaders' tenuous lines of communication and were credited with destroying more than 30 enemy transport vehicles in one assault.

United States bombers, participating in the RAF operations, ranged over the Mediterranean in search of Axis supply ships and shot down two enemy fighters which attempted to intercept them, British headquarters said.

The announcement reporting Rommel's latest withdrawal said: "In the southern sector our mobile columns engaged enemy forces, including tanks, and forced them to move northward."

The communiqué did not specify the size of the forces involved, but apparently the engagement was purely local in character.

Elsewhere in the L-shaped front, the bulletin said, there was merely "normal artillery and patrol activity," yesterday.

Military advisers indicated that Rommel's movements have been confined almost entirely to countering threats to his right flank in the week that has elapsed since the British beat off an all-out assault on their positions at El Alamein, some 65 miles west of Alexandria.

While there was no expectation here that General Sir Claude Auchinleck's harassing tactics might compel Rommel to execute a general withdrawal, the British seemed satisfied that they were keeping the wily Axis chieftain so busy that he could not regroup his forces for a new offensive.

The British patrols have been (Continued on Page Six)

Medical Society Met Last Night

The Pitt County Medical and Dental Society held its regular July meeting at the Country Club in Farmville last night. Drs. Paul Jones and R. T. Williams were hosts.

After a delicious chicken dinner the business meeting was held with Dr. Paul Fitzgerald presiding. Dr. Mark Prizel gave a very interesting paper on "The Relation of the Economic Status of the Community to the Medical Profession" in which he urged the doctors to get behind the movement to improve the economic status of our own citizenship through the influence of an enlarged Farm Bureau membership. The paper was widely discussed.

Dr. John Winstead gave a case report on the unusual surgical condition of "Mesenteric Thrombosis." Dr. John M. Newborn then gave a very timely paper on "The Responsibility of the Medical Profession in Civilian Defense" in which he outlined the organization of the local medical units for duty during air raid attacks.

Dr. O. H. Spigle of Grimesland, was admitted to membership.

Roose Sales Tax

Washington, July 10 (AP)—Representative Robertson, (D-Va.) said today a survey of the House members convinced him that "we can't get a general sales tax" into the present revenue bill.

After surveying replies to a questionnaire he sent to all 435 members, Robertson said, "It looks like we are up against a stone wall."

"I do not have half of the members' replies but I have enough to convince me that we can't get a general sales tax at this time," Robertson said. "There is more than a majority against it in the replies that I have received."

JAPS MOVING TOWARD INDIA

British Bomb Convoy; Chinese Give Japs Setback

New Delhi, India, July 10.—(AP)—The RAF, in announcing a new series of destructive raids on the Japanese in Burma, disclosed today that Japanese convoys of troops and supplies are moving steadily toward India under a continual rain of British bombs.

In the past 46 days 200,000 pounds of bombs have been dropped on these Japanese, a communiqué said.

Today's announcement said many casualties were inflicted on Japanese troops in a low-level bombing of a barracks at Myitkyina and heavy damage was done to locomotives and the right-of-way of the Mandalay-Myitkyina railway in northern Burma on Wednesday.

Chungking, July 10.—(AP)—The Chinese high command announced today the recapture of Chungking, 45 miles southwest of Nanchang, in a new repulse of the Japanese and a sharp set-back of the invaders' latest push along the Kiangsi rail line to Hsuanping.

Also recaptured, the Chinese said, was the town of Tsungling, 70 miles south of the Japanese base at Nanchang.

The high command confirmed Chinese dispatches which reported yesterday that a Japanese force of 30,000 had been ambushed and beaten back to the north and east in heavy fighting in Kiangsi.

The first fruits of the repulse were the recapture of Nanchang, Hsiwang and Foyang, into which Japanese columns had stabbed from Nanchang and the Chekiang border to the east.

The Chinese gains took on an even larger significance with the reported recapture of Tsungling, where the Japanese had driven south toward Kwangtung province. (Continued on Page Four)

Minges Fire Tower Nearing Completion

The Minges fire tower, six-story structure in the western part of the city, funds for which were donated by M. O. Minges, head of the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company, is practically completed and will shortly be ready for use of the firemen for practice drills. The tower is six, instead of five stories, as originally planned. The city owned the site.

With a new extension ladder truck and the other fire-fighting equipment overhauled, and repaired, and the tower about ready, the firemen plan to do some intensive drilling under the code of the National Firemen's Association. Civilian defense auxiliary firemen will participate in some of the drills, Fire Chief George Gardner said.

Inflation Ahead Unless Stringent Action Taken

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Editor
New York, July 10.—(AP)—Are inflation controls holding?

Some Wall Streeters doubt it. In the past two days, buyers have given the stock market its busiest trading of the year, boosting leading shares 2 to 4 or more. Meanwhile, wheat prices were bid up around 6 cents a bushel at Chicago.

At the same time, others pointed out that President Roosevelt's seven-point program for keeping prices down was announced only last April 27, that Price Administrator Henderson's retail price ceiling was clamped down only May 18. While some adjustments, and some apparent wavering may appear, they said, control is so vital that firmer measures are eventually inevitable if needed.

Only last Wednesday, Jesse Jones, Secretary of Commerce and Federal Loan Administrator, warned that price inflation would "lead to ultimate bankruptcy—national and individual."

Ten Killed In Crash Of Trolley Car And Freight

NORRIS WANTS HAND IN PEACE

"There Must Be No Appeasement" Says Senator

Washington, July 10.—(AP)—There's just one present that Senator George W. Norris would like for his 81st birthday tomorrow—a hand in drafting a peace treaty that not only would take the Axis bull by the horns but "cut 'em right off."

Aside from that hoped-for gift which he believes he'll never get, the White-bellied Nebraska Independent whose 39 years in Congress represent the longest service of any member, would like to forget that another birthday has rolled around.

"I guess I'm a good deal like a young woman about my age," he confessed. "I'm getting well along in years now. There probably won't be so very many more."

So, Norris planned to spend the day like many another—confering with colleagues, meeting visitors, dictating correspondence, and even discussing his idea of terms for "a peace that would last."

The battling insurgent of more than a quarter of a century ago when he held an angry Senate in session for two days and two nights to help defeat President Wilson's request for authority to arm American merchant vessels against German raiders, doesn't want peace yet.

"Not until it's an unconditional surrender of the Axis," he said. "There must be no appeasement, no compromise. Then we must cut off their horns."

Nazis Claim Three More Convoy Ships

Berlin (from German broadcasts) July 10.—(AP)—German military quarters reported today that Nazi submarines and warplanes had sunk three more ships in attacks on a big British-American convoy en route to the Russian arctic port of Archangel.

Thus 35 ships so far have been sunk by German forces out of this convoy, which consisted originally of 39 merchant vessels, "these quarters declared.

In the latest phase of the engagement, German submarines were credited with sinking two ships—one of 6,000 and the other of 7,000 tons—while bombers were said to have sunk a third of unspecified size.

Pitt May Lose

Raleigh, July 10.—(AP)—Representations have been made to Gov. Broughton that the Highway and Public Works Commission vacancy be filled by an appointee from the southeastern section of the second division.

The governor said today, however, that he had no comment to make other than the appointment would be made before the commission meets August 7.

The presence of military establishments in the southeastern section, it was set forth by individuals of that area, has created highway problems that could best be met by a person in that vicinity.

The highway vacancy was created several weeks ago by the death of E. G. Flanagan of Greenville.

SEEK VICTIMS OF MINE BLAST

Twenty Bodies Of 2 Trapped Crews Recovered

Morgantown, W. V., July 10.—(AP)—Rescue workers early today located the bodies of 20 men from the Purigoso Company's No. 2 mine, where an explosion and a fire had trapped two crews of miners four and a half miles inside the workings.

Officials indicated it would be only a matter of hours before the bodies of the men, killed in the blast yesterday, were taken from the mine. Eighteen of them have been tentatively identified.

Company officials said 70 of the mine's 300 employees were inside at the time of the blast and that 26 men had been definitely checked off as safe. Many others, however, began aiding the rescue work without reporting their escape.

Within a few minutes after the blast, a silent crowd, including wives and children of the trapped men, gathered to await eagerly the (Continued on Page Two)

Navy Hasn't Lost Soldier Crossing

Des Moines, Ia., July 10.—(AP)—Senator Herring (D-Iowa) said today the U. S. Navy "has not yet lost a single American soldier while under convoy to foreign shores."

In the keynote speech before the Iowa Democratic convention, Herring deplored merchant shipping losses to submarines, but said: "It should be remembered that we have only so many ships for so much water. We had to get men and supplies to Australia. We had to get materials of war to England and we had to deliver our soldiers to northern Ireland. . . of necessity some part of the oceans had to be neglected because we simply do not have the ships as yet."

BIG NAVY BILL SIGNED BY FDR

Measure Provides Three Million Tons Ships

Washington, July 10.—(AP)—President Roosevelt signed legislation today authorizing the construction of 1,900,000 tons of additional combat ships and 1,200,000 tons of auxiliary vessels for the navy.

The new combat tonnage, raising to 5,469,480 the authorized strength of the navy, is expected to be in service by the end of 1944.

"It will give us the largest navy in the world," commented Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Naval Affairs Committee. "It provides not only for a two-ocean navy, but for a seven-ocean navy. One that will win the war and keep it won."

Included in the new fighting ship tonnage, for which Congress has appropriated $3,550,000,000, are 300,000 tons of aircraft carriers, 500,000 tons of cruisers and 600,000 tons of destroyers and destroyers escort ships.

Congress previously had authorized the construction of 3,749,480 tons of fighting ships, of which, Vinson said, 1,069,245 tons now are in service and 2,646,606 tons are under construction. The navy estimated that the last keel under the expanded program would be laid by December 31, 1944.

Vinson said right-of-way would be given to construction of the aircraft carriers, with the cruiser and destroyer program being started early next year.

The 1,200,000 tons of auxiliary vessels, such as tenders and service ships, brings to 2,550,000 tons the authorized auxiliary tonnage, the cost of which was not estimated.

Officers To Enter Training School

Captain Jasper L. Jones and the commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the Greenville unit of the North Carolina State Guard, will leave Sunday for Henderson to attend a First Regiment training school for officers. They will be away a week.

The State Guard was organized to have trained soldiers at the various county seats during the war for the protection of lives and property until the regular army could take over. There are 50 men in the local company. They have been drilling weekly since April, 1941.

Few of those connected with the war were seen to enter the walled-off area on the fifth floor of the Justice Department building where the commission is sitting. Apparently the officials came through a maze of inner offices or by private elevators.

ADOPT BUDGET FOR NEW YEAR

Much Business Transacted by Aldermen Last Night

By CHESTER WALSH
The Board of Aldermen last night tentatively adopted the budget for the coming year of $124,977.54, continued the 61 tax rate, reported that 92 1/2 per cent of last year's tax levy was collected and that the city lived within the budget. That improvements had been made in all municipal departments; that ample funds are available to cancel sinking fund bonds when they come due; that the city's credit with bankers and others is gilt-edged; that all appointive municipal employees had been re-elected; that the administration had not only lived within the budget, but had improved various equipment for the street department and a modern extension ladder truck for the fire department, installed more fire alarm boxes and brought about a reduction in the fire insurance rate, but then wound up the important session with the announcement from Mayor Bruce Sugg that the city's affairs are in better condition than in many years and will be better next year. The meeting concluded after midnight.

The tentative budget will be finally adopted at the next meeting. From the $1 tax levy 60 cents go to the city; 40 cents to the schools. Thirty cents goes to the general fund, 30 cents to the city debt service, 25 cents to the school debt service, and 15 cents to school maintenance. City Clerk J. O. Duval stated.

Attorney J. B. James requested the aldermen to cooperate with the School Board in purchasing some land near Fifth Street colored school in Riverside.

June H. Rose, superintendent of public schools, requested that a committee be appointed to study the school board and County Commissioners concerning the bond issue recently voted for enlarging the high school.

Leo Burke was granted a license to operate a pool room at 304 Evans street.

Dr. W. I. Wooten requested an adjustment on city taxes against the hospital, some of which are listed. (Continued on Page Four)

J. M. Harrington Dies Suddenly

Jesse M. Harrington, 50, a native of Pitt county, for 30 years a well known businessman of Washington, died suddenly of a heart attack at his home shortly after last midnight. He was extensively related in this section.

Funeral services will be held from the home in Washington Saturday at 5 p. m. The Rev. L. E. Jones of Tarboro, and the Rev. D. A. Clark, pastor of the Washington Methodist church, will officiate. Burial will be in Oakdale cemetery.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Mary Simmons Jones Harrington; two sons, Jesse M. Harrington, Jr., and Gene Harrington, both of Washington; a brother, Walter Harrington of Greenville, and three half-sisters and five half-brothers. Mr. Harrington was a son of the late Emily Lancaster and William Henry Harrington of Greenville.

Mr. Harrington left here while a young man. After graduating from a business college he became a member of the firm of Harris Hardware Co., of Washington. He was president and general manager at the time of his death. He was a member of the Rotary club and took an active part in religious, educational and other community affairs.

Secrecy Still Shrouds Trial Of Nazi Saboteurs

By JAMES J. STREIBIG
Washington, July 10.—(AP)—The two big vans carrying eight accused Nazi saboteurs to their life or death trial swung into the Justice Department court yard 45 minutes earlier than usual today as the secret proceedings moved one day farther toward a decision on their fate.

Whether the early arrival meant a stepping up of the trial's gait or whether it was just another maneuver to evade the curious was only one of many questions left unanswered by the military commission's policy of almost airtight secrecy.

Few of those connected with the war were seen to enter the walled-off area on the fifth floor of the Justice Department building where the commission is sitting. Apparently the officials came through a maze of inner offices or by private elevators.

War information officials continued their efforts to expand the information available to the public perhaps by securing the release of

NIMITZ HAS A CLOSE CALL

Admiral In Plane Crash On The West Coast

Washington, July 10.—(AP)—The navy reported today that Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, recently "escaped serious injury," in an airplane crash on the west coast which cost the life of the plane's co-pilot.

Nimitz, normally in the Hawaiian area, was on the mainland for a meeting with Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the U. S. fleet and to receive from King the distinguished service medal for his conduct of naval operations against the Japanese, particularly the Coral Sea and Midway actions.

The plane crash in which his life apparently was gravely endangered occurred, the navy said, "at an altitude at a west coast port of the United States."

The co-pilot killed was Lieutenant Thomas Morton Roboe, 39, of Oakland, Calif. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ruth B. Roboe.

The navy said that several passengers were "slightly injured" and described Nimitz's injuries as minor and insufficient to cause any interruption of his journey.

Nimitz, 57, who has been commander in chief of the Pacific fleet since the relief from that assignment of Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, received this citation from King:

"For exceptionally meritorious service as commander in chief, U. S. Pacific fleet. In that position of great responsibility he exercised sound judgment and decision in his employment and disposition of units of the Pacific fleet during the period immediately following our entry into war with Japan. His conduct was of the highest order." (Continued on page two)

British Sub Sinks Two Axis Vessels

London July 10 (AP)—The Admiralty announced today that a British submarine had sunk a medium-sized merchant ship and a naval auxiliary bound for Libya.

The merchant ship was picked out of a strongly escorted convoy carrying supplies to Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces in north Africa, and the naval auxiliary ship, also southbound, was attacked later, a communiqué said.

Two More Ships Reported Sunk

By The Associated Press
The sinking of two United Nations vessels, announced today by the navy, raised the unofficial Associated Press tabulation of allied and neutral cargo vessels sunk in western Atlantic waters since Pearl Harbor to 251.

The navy reported the torpedoes of two Axis cargo ships off the coast of South America with the loss of 31 members of its 39-man crew, and of a medium-sized Belgian merchant vessel in the Caribbean. These two sinkings raised to 14 the number of allied vessels reported this week as destroyed.

At a Gulf Coast port, survivors of the Belgian ship—only one man of a crew of 44 was lost—told how a warship, speeding to their rescue, dropped a barrage of depth charges in the vicinity of an Axis submarine, but the U-boat's fate remained in doubt.

They said that loss of the vessel was small because they had just received an explosion on another merchant vessel sinking in the Caribbean. The identity and fate of the other vessel and its crew were not learned.

Fierce Battles Rage Around Voronezh And Rossosh; Russians Admit Situation 'More Complicated' and 'Very Difficult'; Reds Strike At Nazi Northern Bases

By HENRY C. GASSIDY
Moscow, July 10.—(AP) German tank forces which crossed the upper Don bit into the Soviet defenses before Voronezh today while 100 miles to the south a second furious battle raged full force at the approaches to Rossosh where reinforced German troops had driven a new salient 90 miles into the Russian line.

Red Star, organ of the Soviet army, said conditions west of Voronezh were becoming "more complicated" and those near Rossosh "very difficult" with combat close to the city.

An important Red army counter-attack designed to relieve pressure on Voronezh was reported threatening the German flank, however, and Red Star said "stubborn battles there may have a serious influence over the position near Voronezh."

It was not disclosed whether this counter-attack was in the Orel sector 185 miles northwest of Voronezh where the Germans have reported Russian troops on the offensive. Russian tanks, leading an attack on one position where the Germans were described as particularly vulnerable, were said to have rolled the Nazi line back and recaptured several points.

Major German advances in northern Norway and Finland, the Red Star said, have inflicted heavy new damage on the beach from which German planes have been raiding ports and shipping of the Arctic supply line to Russia, without dispatching reports of today.

The raids followed the Russian torpedoing of the powerful German battleship Tirpitz as it led a cruiser and destroyer force in an attempted attack on an Allied convoy bringing British warships from Iceland to the United States, the Russian account said.

In the battle before Voronezh, key rail line between the Russian central and southern armies, the Germans have established two main bridgeheads across the Don at tremendous sacrifices of men, accounts from that front said.

One column of 180 tanks was reported attacking a Russian settlement on the east bank, still encountering stiff resistance.

However, the Russians said the main force of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's fourth tank army was massed west of the river, waiting under Russian aerial attack and long-range bombardment to cross for a renewed attack as soon as the Nazi foothold on the east bank could be widened.

The Russians also were reported battling hard on the defensive in the Rossosh region where the Germans drove another deep salient toward the big bend of the Don 100 miles south of Voronezh and 300 miles north of Rossosh, north gate to the Caucasus.

The fighting has swelled to an immense scale, Russian dispatches declared. Red Star, the army news agency, (Continued on Page Four)

LIBRARIES
(News and Observer)
An interesting and encouraging report on the extension of library service to new areas in North Carolina was given recently at a session of the American Library Association in Milwaukee.

North Carolina is the first state in the southeast to appropriate state funds for library development. But this state took the step only after the per capita expenditure for libraries in North Carolina had dropped to 10 cents a year—compared with $1.02 in some states and a national average of 43 cents.

In March, 1941, when the Legislature voted to spend $100,000 annually throughout all the counties for library extension, the situation actually was so distressing that 48 per cent of the people of the state were without public library service of any kind.

Since then, more than 1,900,000 North Carolinians have been provided with library facilities for the first time. Seventy-six out of 100 counties are taking advantage of state financial aid.

North Carolina was one of three states selected as a model of state aid. Speaking for this state was Miss Marjorie Beal, director of the North Carolina State Library Commission.

Before state aid, said Miss Beal, "most of the people had been taught to read at state expense, and then had little opportunity to exercise the privilege." Now, she said, counties are making the most of the $600,000 offered them by the state to buy books, provide mobile equipment, obtain supplies and employ trained librarians. Because $600 plus a county's own contribution does not go far in meeting all these expenses, counties have banded together in groups of three or four, and share in the salary of a trained executive who meets the state certification law requirements. This state also fared well in a comparison with other states on other phases of the program. For example, in a survey of the states reporting Pennsylvania, only 19 of 66 counties have taken advantage of state aid.

May Probe Delay Enforce May Act

Raleigh, July 10.—(AP)—Unless enforcement of the May Act begins in North Carolina within "a few more days" the House Military Affairs committee may investigate the delay, Congressman Andrew J. May (D-Ky.), chairman of the committee, said today.

He said he had no definite information as to when the Federal Anti-Vice statute would be invoked in the state, but added that he had been informed "that steps are being taken to invoke the act, both at Camp Jackson and Fort Bragg."

It was announced by Governor Broughton several days ago that the May Act would be enforced in North Carolina to curb prostitution and attendant evils.

"I have been urging prompt and vigorous enforcement of the act upon the Secretary of War for some time," May said in a letter to the Associated Press, "and recently I had a conference with the Secretary and representatives of the Federal Council of Churches of America, in which it was agreed that vigorous steps would be taken to enforce the provisions of the act in many parts of the country."

"But shortly after that there was some arrangement made, of which I am not advised, by which a certain group set up in the Federal Security agency are concerned with the recommendations as to when and where the act shall be enforced."

"A few more days' delay in reference to the matter is very likely to bring forth an investigation from the House Military Affairs Committee."

SEEK TO LIMIT POWER OF OPA

Farm Group Would Hobble Henderson's Authority

By JACK BELL

Washington, July 10.—(AP)—A Senate Appropriations subcommittee approved today an appropriation of $120,000,000 to operate the Office of Price Administration for the current fiscal year—$90,000,000 less than Administrator Leon Henderson originally requested but $45,000,000 above the sum voted by the House.

Washington, July 10.—(AP)—Members of a Senate appropriations subcommittee were reported fashioning today a financial straitjacket which might keep Price Administrator Leon Henderson from blocking sharp increases in the prices of such staple commodities as bread and canned vegetables.

Likely to be offered in the form of a limitation, the proposal would prohibit the use of any of this year's OPA operating funds to place ceilings on processed agricultural articles that did not reflect the 110 per cent of parity fixed by Congress as the lower point at which Henderson could step in and control prices. Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) said an amendment of this nature was certain to be offered to the $1,808,000,000 supplemental appropriations bill now before the committee. He predicted majority support for it.

The committee has heard complaints this week from farm organizations that in its efforts to curb rising living costs Henderson has ruled that bread, for instance, does not fall within the field where congress prescribed the administrator's authority.

Henderson has made no attempt to control the price of wheat, since it remains below 110 per cent of parity, a figure calculated to give farmers a return equal to that of a past period, usually 1909-14.

But the farm representatives were said to have protested that policies placed on bread and other such processed commodities ignored a section of the Price Control Act which states that prices fixed for processed articles must reflect the 110 per cent parity figure. The result to congress' expressed wishes.

Henderson was reported to have asked for a minimum of $140,000,000 with which to employ a staff of from 55,000 to 57,000 persons, warning that the price control job could not be more satisfactorily with a smaller number.

The subcommittee completed testimony on the measure yesterday and Chairman McClellan (D-Tenn.) said he hoped to obtain early approval of the bill by the full committee so it could be considered by the Senate Monday.

While Thomas said he had no doubt that a limitation such as that suggested would be adopted, he predicted the committee would make "rather liberal" increases in OPA operating funds over the $78,000,000 previously voted by the House.

You Have To Be Tough To Stay In Uncle's Tank Corps

MEN TRAINED TO BE ABLE TO STAND STRAIN

Group Now In Ireland Wants Crack At "Jerries"

With the United States Army in Northern Ireland—(Correspondence of Wide World)—"Hang on!" is the cry of the United States Army tank men in these parts—and it's good advice.

Just ride with them full tilt over the Ulster gorge, bouncing their 19 and 28-tonners over gullies, crashing through stone walls, spashing through mudholes and creeks, and you'll find out.

After half an hour of what they consider daily routine, I crawled out of a turret with bruises everywhere, skinned knuckles and plenty of damage to my handsome war correspondent's uniform.

These "tankers" are physically a tough lot and, under rigorous training they're getting tougher every day. Hardened and skilled, they ride these brutes easily and automatically—like a yachtsman in a small sailboat.

After about a year of training together they're adept at manning the guns and quickly executing re-ordered orders in complex formations. Typical is the formation of five 28-tonners commanded by Platoon Sergeant Bill Shepperd, six foot two, 28-year-old veteran of eight years in the armored force.

His responsibility is the welfare in battle of 20 men and more than a quarter of a million dollars worth of equipment. He does the talking for the "whole crew" in drawing the same words as you would expect from a man born and reared in Assisaton.

"Now, doesn't take a big man to handle one of these things," says Bill. "Take Watkins over there. He's got one just like this one."

Watkins is five feet six, weighs 190 pounds and seems better built to be riding a racehorse at his native Louisville, Ky., than a General Grant tank.

"We thought sure we were getting ready to smack the Jerries right away when we got on the ship," Bill Shepperd went on. "We sure got a hit when we heard how our tanks were getting on in Libya even if the Jerries did have too much for our side. We'd be right pleased to take ours up against them."

Charitably Corporal Robert Williams, 30, Bluefield, W. Va., drives Shepperd's tank. Corporals Henry Wood of Boston and Arnold Repschlager of Bancroft, Neb., are the gunners. Private Jerome Rosenbaum, New Orleans, is assistant gunner, and Private Raymond Bodeweger, Milwaukee, radioman.

No matter where the armored tank goes from Northern Ireland, there'll probably have someone with them who can speak the language—except maybe Japanese. A survey has shown nearly every one of the principal languages has been mastered by someone in his outfit.

Lieut. Henry Frankel of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., for instance, speaks French, Italian, Norwegian, German and Spanish and is teaching the tank military terms in European tongues.

And there is Captain Martin Phillipsborn, Jr., another armored force officer, is hoping to get to France with the outfit. He was educated at Oxford and for years worked in a Paris bank before he returned to his home in Chicago.

Lieut. George W. Webb of Tallahassee, La., a medical officer, hit a gopher (about the size of a dime) at 50 yards the first time he ever fired a Springfield rifle. Medics aren't armed, but a lot of hunting in Louisiana made Webb a crack shot.

Federal Graders For More Markets

Washington, July 10.—(AP)—The Agriculture Department announced today that federal inspection service will be inaugurated this season on 47 additional fine-cured tobacco markets in Georgia, South Carolina and North Carolina.

The markets are Bazley, Hazelhurst, Tifton, Vidalia and Waycross in Georgia, opening July 28; Mulhens, South Carolina, opening August 8; Wilson and Ahoakie, North Carolina, opening August 23, and Winston-Salem, North Carolina, opening October 1.

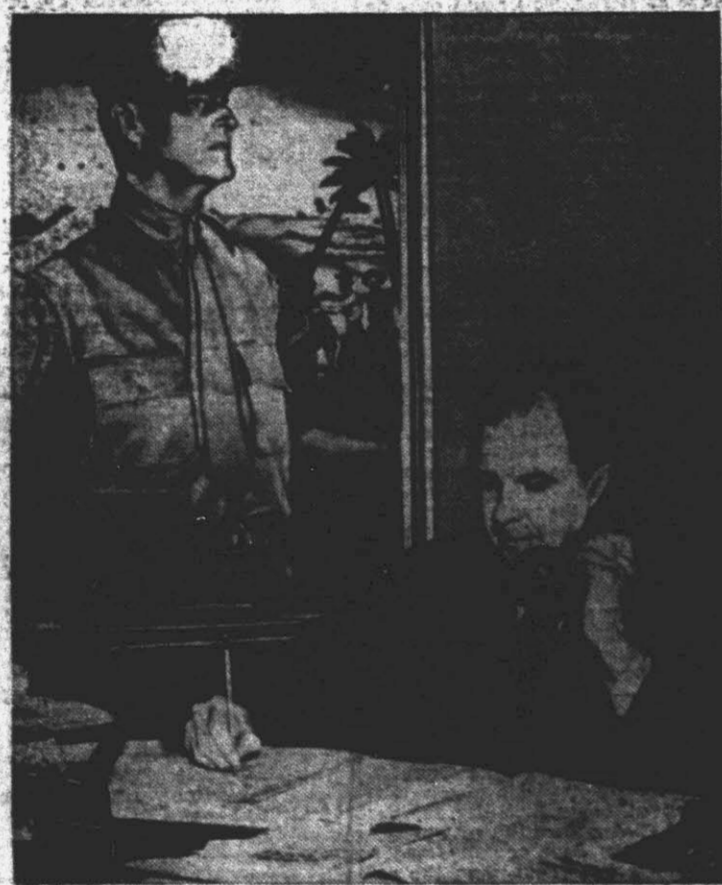

In a referendum held in May, about 70 per cent of the eligible growers participating approved the free and mandatory inspection service on the 46 fine-cured markets not already covered by such service. However, the service will be extended to only nine markets because of the department's inability to obtain qualified inspectors.

Officials said the service would be extended to the other 46 markets as soon as inspectors could be obtained, but they expressed doubt it would be this year. The inspection service will be available on the 26 southern fine-cured markets which it had last year.

Carver Library News

The Reading club for children is one of the principal attractions at the library this summer. The group of youngsters meet on the library lawn each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. On some days a visiting story teller entertains the children with a number of stories, and have various members of the group contribute numbers. On other days more time is spent with the various reports on the books that the children have read, and work on their memorandum books. A large number of children have enrolled in the Reading club, and seems to be getting a great deal of pleasure from it. However, it is that a much larger number attend and derive some of the golden values from wide reading. This reading club furnishes most wholesome recreation for the boys and girls who find so much leisure time on their hands in summer.

A fine war information center has been arranged in the adult room of the library. From the many books, papers and pamphlets in this group one is able to gather about any type of information concerning the war found in print. Releases are received directly from the National War Information Bureau before the news they contain is published in the newspapers. It is important that every loyal American citizen visit this department and inform themselves concerning the war activities and needs. How can one be sure that he is giving all that he has toward the goal of victory unless he keeps sufficiently informed? There are many things which each American can do to help make this nation stronger. Visit the war information center and from the material found, learn what you can do. There are books, pamphlets on health, instruction for protection against air raids, first aid, how to save for Victory Bonds, victory gardens, etc.

The titles of some of the books found in this collection are: America or the Sacrifice, by Chambers; Feeding the Family, by Rose; America's Nutrition, by Sims; Home and doing about it all. They came away disappointed. The price administrator's office is using those street mats—the building never has had anything else—and the only broken backs thereabouts were found to have nothing to do with what was under foot on rainy days.

Practically overnight, Congressional tobacco chewers received their greatest challenge to aim in history. Acting on orders from Speaker Sam Rayburn, Capitol Architect David Lynn had all the gabbon mats picked up and dumped on the stockpile.

Just when the mat story was going good, along came word from Akron that scrap rubber in rubber mats wasn't good for much of anything except making more rubber mats.

In the White House, where President Roosevelt holds forth as the nation's No. 1 rubber salvage urger, Diana, daughter of the White House star boarder, Harry Hopkins, tossed in her collection of rubber dolls and dolls, the President's Scotch dog and the spirit of the times, and dug up a couple of bushels of rubber bones. Total White House contribution: approximately 400 lbs.

The President himself urged rubber contributions to the limit, suggesting that Capital autoists even throw in their rubber floor coverings. Washington traffic and safety officials bounced right up to the ceiling, saying there was a traffic safety ruling that all cars must have rubber floor coverings as protection against gas fumes and electric shock.

Branded as the District of Columbia's biggest chiselers during the drive were a few persons who, during the night, stole old tires off the unguarded scrap piles. One irate custodian of the scrap heaps stayed up several nights to catch the marauders—found they were taxi drivers—who can get retraced if, and only if, they turn in old casings.

WAGNER GIVES FOUR HITS IN 11 INNING TILT

Red Sox Win From Detroit Tigers 2 to 1

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR (Associated Press Sports Writer)

With long rests behind all of them, pennant drives in front of some of them and artificial light around most of them, major league pitchers enjoyed one of their best days of the season yesterday.

As the teams returned to action after the three-day intermission for All-Star games, both leagues produced some sparkling mound performances, including a four-hitter in 11 innings, four five-hitters and a trio of six-hit jobs, two of which still weren't good enough to win.

Five of the winners had the help of the arc lights last night, but the masterpiece of the day was the 11-inning stint of Carlisle Wagner, who held the Detroit Tigers to four hits in pitching the Boston Red Sox to a 2-1 decision in broad daylight.

Hal Newhouse, Wagner's opponent, pitched four-hit ball for ten innings but yielded two singles in the 11th and Manager Joe Cronin inserted himself as a pinch hitter, bringing in Boston's winning run with a long fly.

The Red Sox needed the victory to stay within four lengths of the American League leading New York Yankees, who dropped the St. Louis Browns, 5-2. Hank Borowy kept his place at the top of the circuit's pitching ranks by holding the Browns to six safeties but had to have help in the eighth inning when a blister appeared on his pitching hand.

It was the seventh triumph against one defeat for Borowy, who was aided by the long-distance clouting of Joe DiMaggio, Tommy Henrich and Charlie Keller against three Brownie hurlers.

Buddy Blair helped Phil Marchildon of the Philadelphia Athletics whip the Cleveland Indians, 5-2, in a night game. Marchildon turned in a five-hitter after a shaky first inning and Blair lashed a home run

Warneke With Cubs

In a surprise deal, Lou Warneke (above), 32-year-old National League pitcher, was returned to the Chicago Cubs from the St. Louis Cardinals. He was traded to the Cardinals by the Cubs five years ago. Said Manager Jimmy Wilson of the Cubs: "I'll use him regularly."

and a triple, driving in two runs and scoring twice himself.

In another night tilt on the American League program, the Chicago White Sox dumped the Washington Senators, 4-2, as Johnny Humphries hurled five-hit ball and didn't permit a runner to get past first base after the third inning.

Whitlow Wyatt pitched and batted the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 3-2 decision over Johnny Vander Meer and the Cincinnati Reds. Wyatt held the Reds to five blows and collected one of his team's six hits, a single that brought in two runs and helped chase Vander Meer to the showers in the second inning.

While Wyatt was notching his 9th victory against two defeats under the lights at Cincinnati, the St.

Portsmouth Loses To Durham Bulls

Charlotte, July 19 (AP)— Portsmouth's league-leading Cubs dropped a ball game last night to the Durham Bulls, while the second place Greensboro Red Sox narrowed the gap between them and the leaders by trouncing Asheville.

It was the sixth victory in succession for the Durham Bulls as they won 7-5. The win also sent the Bulls into the first division of the loop. The rampaging Bulls out-hit the Cubs, 12-11, with Behrman setting credit for the triumph.

Roger Wright, the tall Greensboro righthander, limited the Tourists to two hits as the Red Sox won 2-1. It was Wright's tenth mound victory of the season. Lee Sherrill was the victim of the Sox' two-run rally in the third inning that spelled the victory.

Charlotte's Hornets beat the Winston-Salem Twins 3-0 behind the 3-hit pitching of Gil Torres. Torres also batted in two Hornet runs, struck out five and contributed four assists.

Bill Wright pitched the Norfolk Tars to a 4-2 win over the Richmond Colts. Tossing a five-hitter, he struck out four but got in trouble several times as he issued eight passes to first. The Colts' hurler, Big Jim Bivin, allowed the Tars 10 hits.

Louis Cardinals blanked the New York Giants, 9-0, to maintain their pace eight and a half games behind the first-place Dodgers in the National League.

Johnny Beazley shut out the Giants on six hits while his mates pounded three New York pitchers for ten blows, including two home runs, two triples and a double. Beazley himself sparked a six-run Cardinal uprising in the sixth inning, smacking a three-bagger with the bases loaded.

The Philadelphia Phils met a similar fate, as Pittsburgh, where the Pirates whitewashed them, 9-0, in a night game for Army-Navy relief which drew 29,488 fans and a sale of $98,208.51.

Rip Sewell handcuffed the Phils on five hits, but had only a one-run advantage over Rube Melton when the latter was removed for a pinch hitter in the eighth. Then the roof fell in on three relievers who were tagged for seven hits and eight runs in one frame.

The Boston Braves and Chicago Cubs played the longest game of the day, an afternoon affair that ended when Buddy Gump smacked a home run in the 13th inning to give the Braves the nod, 4-3.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist

New York, July 19.—The hale American game you can't catch the Yankees on one leg. ... Starting the second half of the big-league season, we can't find an important club, unless it's the Cards, that has a full squad of able-bodied players. ... Unless you count those batting slumps, the Yankees seem to be in the best shape, since Bill Dickey and Buddy Rosar are recovering from their leg injuries. ... The Dodgers' most prominent casualty is Dixie Walker, the peopler there, but they're not getting much good out of Whit Wyatt. ... It might look pretty bad for the leaders if most of the other clubs weren't in just as bad shape. ... Best comment we've seen on the affair Ted Williams comes from Francis Sargent of the Lowell, Mass., Sun: "It looks mighty like the 'Street' Williams in the Sox victory garden has turned out to be poison ivy."

Today's Guest Star
B. M. Atkinson, Jr., Louisville Times: "Viewing all the gold 'Whiffs' has earned, he won't be retired to Stud. They're going to put him in the vault at Fort Knox."

One-Minute Sports Fact
Have you stopped to think that football is less than a month away? The Detroit Lions start training at Chassell, Mich., August 8, and the Bears will be getting a few days later. ... Toronto fans are really enjoying the thin atmosphere of the first division. Attendance so far is more than 20,000 above last year's all-season mark. ... Iowa claims the No. 1 golf fan in Roger Barnes of Burlington, who followed Denny Shute in an 18-hole exhibition hobbling around on crutches with his leg in a cast. ... Folks who knew Lou Novikoff in his Texas league days say Jimmy Wilson had better stop before he promotes the mad Russian to the clean-up spot. No matter how well he's hitting in another position, soon as they put him at No. 4 in the lineup—blooie.

The Oster Faires
Harry Postove, who used to be a sports writer in Norfolk before he joined the navy swears this really happened in a recent game between the Norfolk Naval Air Station and Fort Story. ... Lynch, the soldier second baseman, socked a terrific drive. ... Walter Hyson, the sailor outfielder chased the ball out beyond the field and behind a building. Just as he stooped to pick up the ball a sentry commanded: "Halt. Let's see your identification card." ... It took quite some explaining why Hyson was so far away from the ball field.

Service Dept.
Latest word on Bob Fuller (from Bob himself at Cleveland) is that he expects to enter a gunnery school after finishing out the ball season with the Norfolk outfit. ... Reunions in service; fourteen years after two Princeton athletes, Clement Newbold and Winthrop Matthews, roved together and won two middle states championships in one afternoon, they are together again as buddies at the marines basic training school at the Philadelphia navy yard. And Morris Shawkey, former Toledo Mud Hens business manager, writes home that he recently had a reunion with Maurice Alexander, who used to be the club's office manager—at Pearl Harbor.

New York, July 10—(AP)—The rallying set ceased out of the stock market today as profits were cashed on the lengthy advance and some buyers stood aside to await international developments over the week-end.

Within 30 days 25 of the big vehicles, each with a passenger capacity of 110 men, will begin plying between here and Terminal Island carrying shipyard workers and putting 1750 private automobiles out of the defense transportation business.

The capacity of each trailer, say transportation authorities, is equal to that of 70 automobiles under the average load carried by defense workers operating their own cars.

The service will be operated three times a day to accommodate the day, afternoon and night shifts.

Escaped Convict Caught Maryland

Frederick, Md., July 10—(AP)—North Carolina authorities started back to Raleigh today with a 56-year-old man who they said had escaped from the State Penitentiary while serving a seven to 10 year term for assault with intent to kill.

William Henry Jernigan, who has only one arm, was arrested by Frederick officers, and state police on a tip furnished by North Carolina authorities.

The policemen said Jernigan told them he was convicted of shooting a man during an argument at Raleigh in 1939 and had served two years of his sentence.

Ever since the announcement last December that Hitler had assumed the military leadership of his armies, following the dictates of his "intuition," there have been recurring rumors of drastic shake-ups in the Nazis' top military command.

The replacement of von Brauchitsch, when the Germans were stalled before Moscow and beginning to feel the terrible hardships of the Russian winter, has been the only major shift officially announced, however.

Rumors of von Brauchitsch's reinstatement to Hitler's good graces, if not in his former high position, have been recurrent.

Reports reaching Switzerland from Germany last March indicated that Hitler, apparently convinced that he could not direct his war alone, had summoned von Brauchitsch and others, at least for consultation.

At that time, Germany's high command probably was laying out plans for the great offensive which her armies are now putting into motion.

Another report in London last May attributed to "a responsible source with unusually reliable information" on affairs within Germany, said a group of Hitler's generals, headed by von Brauchitsch, had warned him they would try to set up their own plan if his 1942 Russian campaign failed.

Hitler, this source said, calmly accepted the challenge and named von Brauchitsch as a member of the supreme command.

WORK ON PLAN TO FREE INDIA

Gandhi And Associates Holding Conferences

Wardha, India, July 9 (delayed)—(AP)—Wizened Mohandas K. Gandhi brushed aside his physicians' advice to rest and went ahead with his Indian Congress colleagues today in a conference, seeking agreement on action to free India from British rule without paving the way for the Japanese to come in.

Concerned about overwork and exhaustion from which the shriveled little Indian leader has lost much ill-spared weight in the past three months, Gandhi's physicians have urged him to rest for two weeks as soon as possible.

In consideration for Gandhi's weakened condition, the conference have been meeting in a one-room schoolhouse, part of Gandhi's school colony, at Sevagram, five miles from here.

A conference of such potential importance to the war situation scarcely could be held in less pretentious surroundings. Wardha is a formless, heat-ridden little city in India's cotton belt and the conference chamber is a small room in which the Congress leaders sit barefooted on a padded quilt on the floor.

The resolution which will outline a course of action still is to be written but some members have expressed hesitancy about too aggressive a policy for the present.

Indians said the meeting may call for general civil disobedience or for some specific demonstration such as the "salt marches" when Gandhi led thousands of his followers to the sea to make salt in violation of the salt monopoly.

British Columns . . .

From information gleaned from prisoners, the British said these forces were preventing the weary Axis forces from getting the rest they needed after their rapid 350-mile drive across the desert. The Germans, they declared, have shown an aversion to night fighting and have tried to plan their operations so that the troops can get a reasonable amount of sleep.

Observers believed that Rommel would like to avoid a general engagement for two or three weeks in order to rebuild his striking power.

Military circles declared it was a question merely of time until either Rommel or Auchinleck felt his forces were sufficiently rested and reinforced to strike a blow on a scale to force the issue.
