Russians Staging Counterattack In Stalingrad Area

Invaders Thrown On Defensive Despite Masses Of Reserves Being Rushed Into Action; Russians Admit New Withdrawals Along Caucasus Front

By EDDY GILMORE Moscow, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Red army men drove back the Germans in the Kletskaya area of the Don bend northwest of Stalingrad by surprise attack last night while the Germans generally maintained the initiative in other southern theaters, the Russians said today.

Close-quarter fighting developed from the Soviet thrust and the Nazi survivors were reported to have left on the battlefield 300 dead, two field guns, eight machine-guns, 13 munition trucks and a radio station.

This relatively limited operation and a report that Russian detach-

Berlin (From German Broadcast), Aug. 22.—(AP)—DNE said today German and Romanian troops campaigning in the western Caucasus had captured the towns of Krymskaya and Kurkhanakaya, in the valley of the lower Kuban river.

Krymskaya is a railroad city some 20 miles by air northeast of Novorostsk, an emergency base of the Russian Black Sea fleet.

Central forces ever deeper into the central Caucasus, had plucked off and wiped out German vanguards in the hills southeast of Pyatigorsk were balanced by acknowledgement of sustained Nazi attacks southeast of Kletskaya, northeast of Krasnodarovsk and southeast of Krasnodar.

The Moscow radio said Soviet forces southeast of Kletskaya were launching one counter-attack after another and in some places were throwing the Nazis on the defensive.

Several small German forces, mostly of automatic riflemen, which crossed the Don at its curve southwest of Kletskaya in an attempt to establish a bridgehead only about 40 miles from Stalingrad, were declared by Moscow newspapers to be suffering heavy punishment. A machine-gun ambush accounted for about 60 of the riflemen, it was announced.

Need Leaders For Boy Scout Troops

The Boy Scout Council held an informal meeting Thursday night to make plans for increased activity in scouting here when the schools open. James Uzale, executive secretary, and the councilors mapped out the work to be undertaken. The need of Boy Scout troop leaders was stressed. A number of the Boy Scout leaders have gone into the armed forces.

An invitation was extended to men who like boys to become troop leaders. Men willing to serve and "be boys again" should communicate with Ed Batchelor. Through the years Boy Scouts have been learning and doing much of the work now being done in civilian defense in the war. The training is invaluable to the boys. It makes them better and more useful citizens. L. M. Buchanan, chairman of this district, said.

The Rev. William A. Ryan, pastor of Eighth Street Christian church many years, was complimented for his aid to scouting. Those participating in the Boy Scout meeting were Sam Underwood, James Uzale, L. M. Buchanan, L. S. Spence, Ed Batchelor, Eustace Conway, Wallace Bourne, Dr. Alfred M. Schultz and Chester Walsh.

Executive Secretary Uzale will leave at the week-end for Atlanta, Ga., to attend a regional meeting of Boy Scout executives. He will be away a week.

Seize Ships

London, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The Admiralty announced today that 14 Danish fishing vessels had been seized and moved into British ports.

Denmark is German-occupied. The Admiralty communique said the seizures were in line with a warning issued last month that vessels proceeding outside coastal waters in the North Sea would do so at their own risk and peril.

Pitt Negro Hero

General MacArthur's headquarters, Australia, Aug. 22 (AP)—Two Negro soldiers from the Carolinas who swam through a flaming river to rescue a fighter pilot "from death or serious injury," yesterday were awarded the soldiers medal to win the first decoration for Negroes in this war zone.

The two members of an Engineer unit, were Pvt. Julius S. Franklin of 31 America Street, Charleston, S. C., and Pvt. Harvey M. Crandle of (Route 5) Greenville, N. C.

Another Negro in the unit, Pvt. James Scott of Montgomery, Ala., was decorated also.

Harvey Crandle, who is now 21 years old, volunteered to the local draft board January 3, 1941 and was formally inducted into the service April 2, 1941. He is the son of Emily Crandle, route five.

INCOME TAXES MAY BE RAISED

Senate Committee Is Likely To Boost Individual Rates

Washington, Aug. 22.—(AP)—With the double objective of averting inflation and finding more war funds, Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Finance Committee today called for "frank and candid" consideration of the individual income tax provisions of the new revenue bill.

That will be the first matter to come before the committee Monday when it begins two weeks executive consideration of the measure. As it passed the House, the bill called for $6,271,000,000 more taxes over a full year's operation, including about $2,900,000,000 more from individual income taxpayers.

George implied to newspapermen that individuals might be asked for even larger contributions when he declared that "from the standpoint of the Treasury, this is the harvest time, and later on with declining incomes it will be too late."

"If we are serious about paying for this war, and checking the rising living costs due to inflation, now is the time for us to act," he said.

George said there was a possibility the committee might approve some modification of the "pay as you go" income tax collection plan advanced by Bardsley Ruml, chairman of the New York Federal Reserve Bank. The plan could best be (Continued on Page Six)

Salvage Chairman Organizing Work

Miss Lelia Higgs, chairman of the Pitt County Salvage Committee, is visiting salvage leaders in all parts of the county, perfecting an organization to begin a campaign for scrap metal, rubber, etc., on September 12. Volunteer workers are needed to carry on the work. Those willing to help should communicate with Miss Higgs.

At a recent meeting of the committee nearly a score of representative men and women pledged support to the new chairman in the search for scrap metals. Many large steel mills are now closed for lack of scrap iron and steel. There is an abundance of iron ore available, but the steel mills cannot operate without mixing in some scrap iron. Community scrap piles will be established all over the county. The smallest piece of scrap iron or rubber will help. Those who own scrap are asked to sell it to junk dealers. Money derived from the sale of scrap metal and rubber in community piles will be used to buy medical supplies for Red Cross work in case of disaster or air attack.

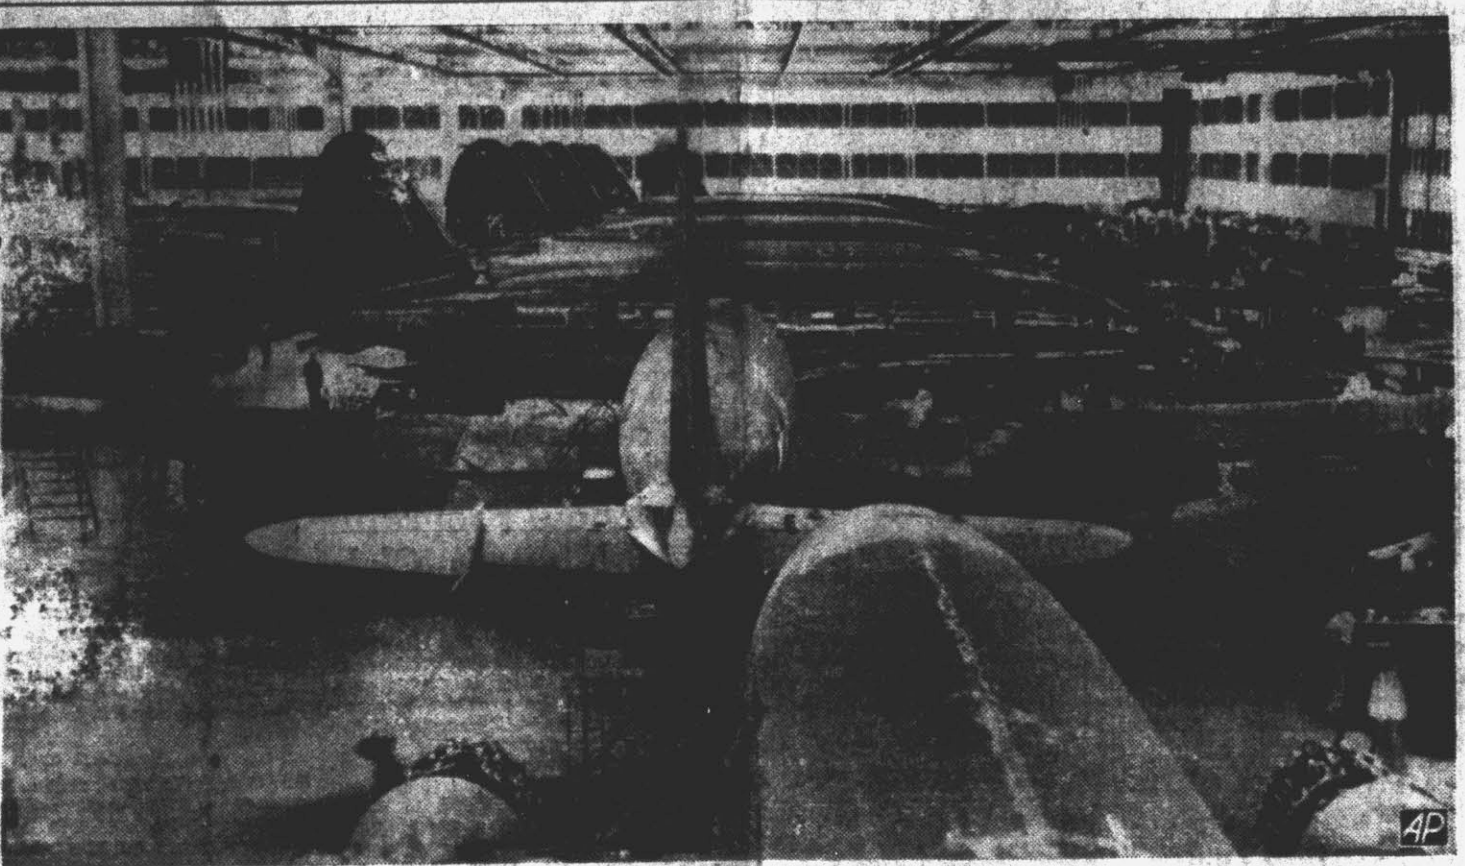

The WAR TODAY

By DeWITT MacKENZIE, Wide-World News Analyst

(This column, conducted as a daily feature by DeWitt MacKenzie, Wide World news analyst, is written today in MacKenzie's absence by Glenn Babbs.)

The five-year-old war in China recently has undergone a startling change. Three months ago the Japanese opened a campaign that some feared might knock China out of the war. Six weeks ago most of east-central China seemed to be

Great Flying Transports On Assembly Line

This scene in the final assembly room of a Curtiss-Wright plant at Buffalo, N. Y., shows how mass production of the giant torpedo-shaped Commando (C-46) military transports is proceeding day and night. The Commando's wingspread is 108 feet, sufficient to cover two Curtiss Warhawk fighters of the type being assembled in the line in right background. This plant's production caused it to be listed to receive the coveted Army-Navy "E" award.

NATION FACES CUT IN POWER

Civilian Use of Electricity To Be Curtailed

Washington, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Civilians were confronted today with probable "widespread curtailment" of electricity consumption as the War Production Board suspended or halted work on 85 public and private power projects.

Readjusting its entire wartime expansion program to reduce the amount of power available for work as well as essential civilian needs, the board announced last night that its action had "substantially enhanced the probability of widespread curtailment" in luxury uses of electricity.

The revised program, WPB said, gave the green light only to sufficient power prospects to assure electricity for war and indirect war production with a "small margin" allowed for possible additions to the present munitions schedule.

Demands of the war program, the board explained, made it impossible "to preserve the standards of reliability of service observed in peace" (Continued on Page Six)

Committee To Aid Buyers Feed Wheat

Farmers of Pitt county now may purchase government-owned wheat for feeding livestock and poultry at prices in line with the cost of corn, according to F. F. Hendrix, secretary of the county AAA committee.

The wheat is being offered for sale in Pitt county by the Commodity Credit Corporation at 99 cents per bushel, for August delivery, in carload lots. Minimum cars contain between 1,333 and 1,607 bushels and delivery will be made at any railroad point in the county. Prices will be advanced one-half cent per bushel for September delivery, and another half-cent for October delivery.

Mr. Hendrix said the county committee will assist any farmers wishing to purchase feed wheat in less than carload lots by grouping orders and handling purchases and distribution. Each sale to a feeder or group of feeders is subject to approval of the committee. The wheat also may be purchased by gain dealers and feed processors, but bond must be posted to guarantee that the wheat will be used only for feeding purposes.

Mr. Hendrix emphasized that the wheat being offered for sale is hard wheat, of which there are large surpluses, especially in western areas. Soft wheat used for grinding into flour is not being offered for livestock feeding, he said.

Politics In New York Holding The Spotlight

Races In Many States To Be Decided Next Week

By D. HAROLD OLIVER Washington, Aug. 22.—(AP)—With candidates chosen for 18 of the 34 Senate and 282 of the 435 House seats to be filled in the November elections, political observers eyed with interest today the Texas Democratic senatorial primary runoff and the New York American Labor party convention.

After next week's Republican state convention in New York and primaries in California, Mississippi and South Carolina, the first half of September will close the pre-election campaigns which, with few exceptions reached an all-time low in attracting voter interest.

To date, 12 House members—8 Democrats and 4 Republicans—have missed renomination. Three other House Democrats lost out in races for senatorial nominations. Only one incumbent senator—William J. Bulow, a South Dakota Democrat—has been defeated in nomination races thus far.

Today's Texas run-off decides the 19th senatorial contest with Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, who failed to get a majority in the July 25 primary, vying with the runner-up James V. Allred.

Fliers Bomb Axis Forces In Egypt

Cairo, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Despite dust storms which prevented widespread aerial operations over the Egyptian front, RAF fighter-bombers successfully attacked Axis vehicles and troop concentrations yesterday, a British communique said today.

Land activity, however, was confined to artillery exchanges in the northern and central sectors and to night patrol skirmishes, the bulletin declared.

One German plane was shot down over the Nile Delta last night and an Italian aircraft was destroyed off Cyprus, said the announcement.

War Labor Board Gives Attention To Strikers

By The Associated Press By The Associated Press A War Production Board agency undertook today to bring to a quick and peaceful conclusion a strike at the Chrysler tank arsenal in Detroit.

The case was in the hands of the WPB Board of Review, which was set up under a stabilization agreement with the Building Trades Council of the American Federation of Labor.

H. L. Weckler, vice president of the corporation, reported that 475 AFL construction workers had stopped work at the arsenal on orders of Ed Thal, secretary of the Detroit Building Trades Council, in protest against the hiring of some members of the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

E. J. Hunt, operating manager, said that the strike "does not interfere with tank production" at the arsenal. The men on strike are not tank-makers, but construction workers. Their action, Hunt asserted, con-

YANKS READY TO GO AGAIN

Rangers No Longer Afraid Of Invading Europe

London, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Four American Rangers who believe they may have been the first United States soldiers to fight on French soil in this war when they scrambled ashore at Dieppe with British Commandos agreed today they're ready to tackle almost anything after their experiences in that foray.

The quartet—Corporal William R. Brady of Grand Forks, N. D.; Staff Sergeant Kenneth Stinson of Russell, Minn.; Corporal Franklin M. Koons of Swope City, Ia., and Sergeant Alex J. Spina of Dayton, O.—sprayed the Germans they encountered with new Garand rifle slugs and, as one said, "We were picking 'em off like ducks all day long."

"We found we were having fun," they said.

Their first task was to scale a 75-foot cliff north of Dieppe and knock out two German pillboxes. "It looked like a suicide mission, but damned if we didn't make it," said Corporal Brady. The first pill box was empty when they arrived.

"What the hell? We thought we'd get the other one," Brady related.

They were heading for the second pillbox under fire from German snipers when two British Spitfires flew low and put it out of action with machinegun bullets.

With their British Commando unit, the Americans moved on to a crossroads and found a ten-man German patrol. In the shooting (Continued on Page Six)

Announce Loss Of British Sub

London, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Admiralty announced today the loss of the submarine Upholder, and in doing so paid an almost unprecedented tribute to the services of the vessel and crew in "arduous and dangerous" duty in the Mediterranean.

"It is seldom proper for their Lordships (the board of the Admiralty) to draw distinction between the different services rendered in the course of naval duty, but they take this opportunity of singling out those of His Majesty's ship Upholder under the command of Lieut. Commander M. D. Wanklyn for special mention," said the communique.

Constable Loses Badge. Gus Stokes, veteran constable of Greenville township, lost his badge the other day. The officer will appreciate its return, if found, to the Daily Reflector office.

INDUSTRIAL MIRACLES Babson Sees Coming Age of Substitutes

Washington, Aug. 22.—Most readers know that the steering wheels of automobiles are no longer made of wood, aluminum or steel but from a form of plastic derived from soybeans. Along with certain trimmings on automobiles it was the forerunner of hundreds of substitutes with which the American people are going to become more and more familiar. As rubber, metals and other critical materials become scarce, substitutes will offer new opportunities for merchants, workers and investors.

What Are These Substitutes? Substitutes are mostly derived from common materials which we have in great abundance. These include wood, coal, sulphur, clay, milk, vegetables and oils. From these basic materials can be developed all kinds of plastics and "ersatz" items. Most of them have been known in chemical and other research laboratories for some years. They have been produced and tested in small quantities. Many of them are already being made from milk as are also blankets and bathrobes. Casein is also being used in the manufacture of paint, this releasing vital chemicals necessary to the (Continued on Page Three)

Brazil At War With The Axis

Buenos Aires, Aug. 22. (AP)—Argentine Foreign Minister Enrique Ruiz Guinazu announced today that the Brazilian ambassador had informed him a state of belligerency exists between Brazil and the Axis. Diplomatic reports from Montevideo said Brazil had declared a state of war against Germany and Italy.

PASTOR FACES PRISON TERM

Convicted On Espionage Conspiracy Charge

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 22 (AP)—Stocky, Rev. J. E. Moizahn today faced a prison sentence, possibly 20 years, after being convicted of a charge of conspiracy to violate the espionage act by attempting to deliver military secrets of the United States, his adopted home, to Axis powers.

The 47-year-old pastor of an ancient German Lutheran church in Philadelphia's Franklin Square showed no signs of emotion late yesterday as a Federal Jury of 8 men and four women, after two hours deliberation, found him guilty.

Although Judge J. Joseph Smith, granting a defense plea, continued the pastor's case until Tuesday, he immediately sentenced three of the clergyman's co-conspirators including Gerhard Wilhelm Kunze, former "Fuehrer of the German American Band."

Kunze, a self-described German citizen; although born in Camden, N. J., was sentenced to 15 years. The others, Dr. Wolfgang Ebell, 48, El Paso, Tex., physician, was given 7 years, and Dr. Otto Willmet, 37, Chicago ex-Band leader, was sentenced to 10 years. (Continued on Page Six)

Air Raid Practice Was Fine Success

The air raid control center of the Civilian Defense Council had a practice session at the City Hall last night and functioned as though an actual air raid were being made. Commander Charles A. White was in charge. When calls came in reporting bombings in different parts of the city, ambulance units, rescue, fire, police and other squads answered them as though the town had been attacked. The air raid filter center at the City Hall is set up along the same lines of those in England. If there is ever an air attack the control staff and the various squads will know what to do, June H. Rose, assistant state director of Civilian Defense, said.

Another practice will be held at the City Hall next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

A complete blackout of the night has been ordered by the War Department for Friday, August 28, for 30 minutes some time between 9 and 11 P.M. Army officers and an army plane will be here from Norfolk, Va., as observers. Everything is to be blacked out when the whistles and sirens are sounded. The local company of the State Guard will go on duty and traffic will be stopped while army officers check up on the completeness of the blackout.

All But Thirty Of Jap Landing Force Of 700 Killed In Solomons; Another Marine Force Destroys Jap Seaplane Base And Stores On Gilbert Islands

By ROGER D. GREENE (Associated Press War Editor) United States Marines, writing a new type of South Seas drama in Japanese blood, were credited officially today with wiping out two enemy forces in the 17-day-old battle of the Solomon Islands and inflicting heavy damage in an assault on Makin Island, 1,500 miles to the northeast.

Altogether it was announced by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the U. S. Pacific fleet, the hard-hitting Leathernecks killed 943 Japanese and captured 30 prisoners.

American losses were small. In the Solomons, the Marines crushed a stealthy night attack by 700 well-equipped Japanese last Wednesday, killing all but 30 in savage hand-to-hand fighting which raged through the night until late Thursday afternoon, and on the same night annihilated an enemy force of 92 officers and men who resisted "until the last man was killed."

Total American losses in the two actions were 34 killed and 100 wounded.

In the bold raid on Makin Island in the Gilbert Islands, 2,400 miles southwest of Hawaii, U. S. Marines and Bluejackets wrecked the enemy base, killed at least 80 Japanese troops and withdrew after completing their mission.

This was the same attack reported yesterday by Imperial Tokyo headquarters, which asserted that about 200 American troops, landing at dawn on Aug. 17 had been "completely repulsed."

Admiral Nimitz said the Marines, with Major James Roosevelt, the President's eldest son, as second in command, shot up the Japanese garrison, smashed radio installations and stores, and destroyed two seaplanes in the water.

Roosevelt, who left film producing in Hollywood in 1940 for active service in the Marine Corps, was un-

Information High School Students

All this year's eighth grade pupils and the seventh grade pupils who are to attend school in the high school building this year are asked to report to the high school auditorium Thursday morning, August 27, at 9 o'clock.

All pupils who have moved into Greenville from some other town and expect to attend the Greenville High School this year are asked to report to Room 25 in the high school building on Thursday morning beginning at nine o'clock.

All the pupils in grades 9, 10, 11, and 12 who wish to make any change in their schedules are asked to come to the high school building on Wednesday, August 26, beginning at 9 o'clock and go to Room 21 to make any changes that they desire to make in their schedules.

The following matters should be considered by the pupils: First, there will be two classes of Bible taught in the high school, and all those who desire Bible instruction are asked to change their schedules so that they can get in one of those classes. Second, there will be no art classes in the high school this year, due to lack of demand.

Those few pupils who chose art last spring will have to take something else instead.

Third, all junior and senior boys who have not had physics are urged to change their schedules in order to get in a class in physics. Supt. June H. Rose stated.

Good Swap

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP)—Cannon and cannon balls placed on Court House lawn as memorials of bygone wars may be swapped for memorials of the current war.

The War Department, reporting that more cities and towns had turned in to the Army some 600,000 cannon balls, tanks, etc., has announced today that to "face the war is won" a memorial from it will be made available to replace the donated material.

To Speak At Methodist Church. Rev. George W. Perry, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, is spending several days with his family in Thomasville. During his absence services at this church will continue as usual. On Sunday morning, Mr. R. Hoy Whitlow will talk at the worship service hour. Mr. Whitlow will use as his subject "Life's Supreme Values." He is a regular teacher of the Ellington Bible class of the Methodist church, and those who have heard him will be interested in hearing him Sunday morning. Come out Sunday morning and hear Mr. Whitlow at Jarvis Memorial Church.

Methodist Hymnal Service. On Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church an instructive and inspirational service of liturgical hymns from the Methodist Hymnal will be presented under the direction of Miss Helen Zechiel, director of Religious Education of the local church.

Those taking part are Harper Garden, Sarah Lee Eland, Phyllis Moore, Gladys Trudell, Ralph Manning and Evelyn Foley, assisted by Mrs. Hadley and the young people's choir.

The hymns substituted will be "A Call to Courageous Service," "Jesus Christ," "Praise," "Comfort," and "Securid," and the hymns used will be "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus," "Fair Lord Jesus," "Crown Him with Many Crowns," "Sun of My Soul," and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

The public is invited to witness this service presented by the young people of the church.

Soviet troops were said to be cutting down a German infantry column mouse-trapped behind minor Nazi tank penetration southwest of the Stalingrad industrial center on the Volga.

The mid-day communique reported the invaders had lost heavily in that sector—centered along a 95-mile railway line from Kotelnikowski—and were throwing up reserves.

Twelve tanks of a 50-tank formation were declared knocked out of action and about 300 Germans killed in a battle against an unyielding Soviet front.

New Russian withdrawals were recorded below both Pyatogorsk and Krasnodar, but the Soviet Information Bureau said Red army mortar crews of one unit killed over 1,000 German officers and men in three days and destroyed 12 tanks and a number of trucks.

Red army men on the northwestern front—part of an area in which the Russians have been probing on the offensive—were reported to have driven the Germans from a populated place, killed several hundred and destroyed six German tanks and four enemy blockhouses.

I LOVE YOU

(Apologies to a popular radio recording)

I love you— Not as a man would love A girl for wedded bliss But just because I know what you've encountered In your struggle for a place In life.

I love you— Just because you've stayed On the defensive, And yet—though enemies Have tried to conquer— You have held your ground— Lost not an inch.

When gossip stabbed you With her deadly bayonet, You took it with a smile, Knowing that something Within was for you and You could not lose.

I love you— Just because you won— It cost you tears and heartaches And yet you smiled And carried on, Knowing that in the end You'd win—and so you have— Today you've conquered And you can hold your head As high.

As any conquering hero for you've Overcome vast odds That tried from birth to Make your road a bed of thorns— But now you deserve velvet To walk upon for you have Conquered life.

And so I count your many victories And just because you are What you are. —Edw. W. Hearne.

Our Farm Folks

VERONA LEE JOYNER, N. D. A.

EDNA KIRBY, Assistant

Farm Bureau Training School. Mrs. J. J. Tripp of the Red Oak club and Mrs. Henry Pittman of the Falkland club, and Miss Verona Lee Joyner, home demonstration agent, attended the Farm Bureau training school held in Raleigh at the Sir Walter Hotel on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. We met delegates from the 11 southern states. An excellent program was planned for each day.

Sunday night the convention opened with a "Get Acquainted" meeting.

On Monday morning the meeting opened with Gov. J. M. Broughton delivering the address of welcome. During the day the delegates were fortunate to have address them: Joseph B. Eastman, director Office of Defense Transportation, on "Winning Through in Production," Roy Hendrickson, administrator Agricultural Marketing Administration, U. S. D. A., on "Policies for Prices and Purchase," R. E. Short, president Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation, on "Winning Through in Legislation," and W. R. Ogg, director of research, American Farm Bureau Federation, on "Pending Legislation."

Monday evening the Associated Women entertained the convention at a social hour.

Tuesday morning we began by attending a breakfast given by the Associated Women. The 75 ladies present enjoyed the fine hospitality of the group.

Following this, an address by M. Clifford Townsend, Agricultural Adjustment and Conservation administrator, was heard by the group.

The highlight of the convention was the address "Winning Through in Organization," by Edward N.

Glamorous Miss Shearer To Wed Again

One of the screen's leading women, Norma Shearer, is shown as she and her husband-to-be, Martin Aronow, applied for a marriage license in Los Angeles. Aronow, 28, and former University of Nevada student, met the 36-year-old Miss Shearer while serving as a set decorator. She's the widow of screen producer Irving Thalberg, who died six years ago.

Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR August 22, 1902

The Board of Town Aldermen has purchased a new bell to be used to strike at 11 o'clock p. m. hour instead of using the fire alarm. The bell has arrived and it is hoped that it will be placed high enough to be heard all over town.

Miss Essie Henderson who has been visiting Miss Sallie Cotten at Cottdale, left for her home in Salisbury this morning.

O'Neal, president American Farm Bureau Federation. We returned home Tuesday, happy that we had the privilege of attending such a fine convention of an organization which means so much to our farm friends.

N. C. Federation Meets. Mrs. Herman Baker, county council president, attended a two-day business meeting of the North Carolina Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs at N. C. State College on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Pierce Club Picnic. The members of the Pierce Home Demonstration Club entertained their families at a supper at the club house on Thursday night. Mrs. J. C. Whitehurst, Mrs. Blaney Sumrell and Mrs. Jerome McGlohon, committee in charge, had the club house and table beautifully decorated in flowers and flags. After all singing "America" followed by the "Pledge to the Flag," everyone enjoyed a most delicious supper.

Games were played after supper, which concluded a very delightful evening.

Winterville H. D. Supper. The Winterville Home Demonstration Club members entertained their families and friends at a lovely supper Tuesday, August 18. Approximately 80 people were present. Games, songs and contests were enjoyed by everyone present.

Stokes H. D. Picnic. The annual Stokes Home Demonstration Club picnic was held at the school Wednesday, August 19. The 4-H club members are also invited. Those present enjoyed the many good things to eat.

4-H Campers To Leave Monday. A large number of 4-H club members are anxiously looking forward to Monday, August 24, when the campers will leave for White Lake. The week will be filled with interesting activities. All club members will meet at the Curb Market building Monday at 7:30 a. m., and will return to the same place on Saturday, August 29, at 1 p. m.

Speech Class Ends With Banquet Here

A banquet at the Olde Town Inn last night was a fitting climax to the graduation exercises of about 38 representative business men and women from Prof. Leroy Lewis' class in personality development and effective speech. He is head of the speech department of Duke University. Dr. Leon R. Meadows, president of East Carolina Teachers' College, was a guest. Charles B. Bisette was toastmaster.

Twenty of the graduates made brief speeches, manifesting general proficiency as a result of the training received. Certificates were awarded.

Greenville Boy At West Point Of Air

Randolph Field, Texas, Aug. 22—Another rough and ready group of potential Axis-busters, with 18 aviation cadets and student officers from North Carolina among their number, have reported to the "West Point of the Air" for nine weeks training as Army Air Force fighting and bombing pilots.

Among the group is Lieut. James S. Woolfolk, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Woolfolk, 401 Library street, of Greenville, who has now begun basic training toward becoming a flying officer. He graduated from West Point Military Academy this year.

Tuckers Held Annual Reunion

The annual re-union of the descendants of J. J. Tucker and wife Susan Galloway Tucker was held at the home of the youngest daughter, Mrs. Jesse P. Wilson, near Grimesland, on Thursday afternoon and evening, August 20. The family began to gather about 2 o'clock and by 4 o'clock the house and yard were filled to overflowing with grown-ups and children. All of the surviving children of J. J. Tucker and wife, were present except the son, Samuel D. Tucker, who was confined to his home on account of illness. He and his family were much missed by the others.

After much playing by the youngsters, and the full exchange by the oldsters of "I told you so," and "don't you remember?" a most bounteous basket picnic dinner was spread on the lawn, and about which all soon gathered submitted themselves to the full enjoyment of barbecue, fried chicken, and the other viands that go to make a picnic dinner a success.

When dinner was over, the family went into a short business session, as to officers, and time and place for the next re-union. Arthur E. Corey, the president of the association, and Robert B. Wilson, the secretary-treasurer of the association were re-elected for the ensuing year, and the question of time and place was left for them to decide.

It is needless to say that one and all enjoyed the occasion, and said goodbyes with the hope that all would again meet together at the next reunion.

Marines Wipe Out . . .

First details on fighting in the Solomons disclosed that the Marines commanded by Maj.-Gen. Alexander A. Vandergriff, have fought daily skirmishes with surviving Japanese troops, who fled into the hills and jungles after the Marines landed on August 7.

Complete masters of beachheads on at least three islands in the 900-mile-long archipelago, the Marines have been hunting down enemy forces which resorted to guerrilla warfare and sniping.

Meanwhile, no further word was forthcoming on a British radio report yesterday that U. S. Army flying fortresses were launching a big attack on Japanese warships off the Solomons.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported only that Allied fliers, steadily pounding Japanese strongholds in the great arc of islands above Australia, struck their second successive blow at Moabise, an enemy-occupied Timor Island, and "finished off what remained after the Thursday attack."

The raiders shot down one of three Japanese Zero fighters which rose to challenge the attack, while one Allied plane was lost.

Politics In . . .

D. McGoldrick, New York City comptroller, as a third contestant in the New York gubernatorial race because of its leaders' announced opposition to State Attorney General John J. Bennett, selected as the Democratic nominee.

On Monday, Empire State Republicans open a two-day convention to pick a candidate whom most everyone believes will be Thomas E. Dewey.

California selects candidates on Tuesday, for 23 House seats—three more than at present because of census reapportionment.

Governor Culbert L. Olson is running for renomination on the Democratic ticket. Taking advantage of a state law permitting cross-filing, Attorney General Earl Warren, a Republican, filed both as a Democratic and Republican candidate for governor. Will Rogers, son of the late comedian, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the House.

South Carolina Democrats decide a primary contest Tuesday between Senator Burnet R. Maybank, who is filling out the term of James F. Byrnes, now on the U. S. Supreme Court, and Eugene Blease, former State Supreme Court Justice.

Nominees for six House seats also will be chosen and Olin D. Johnston, former governor, faces Wyndham Manning in the Democratic gubernatorial contest for the office now held by R. M. Jefferies. State law prohibits a governor from serving two successive terms.

Mississippi's primaries on Tuesday designate Democratic nominees for seven House seats and decide a contest between Senator Wall Doney, successor to the late Pat Harrison, and Rep. Ross Collins for the senatorial nominations.

Splendid Program At Kiwanis Club

BY CHESTER WALSH

When Dick Bundy has charge of a program it's always good. Last night at the Kiwanis Club's supper meeting the program was exceptionally good—it was one of the best of the summer. The former lieutenant governor of the Carolinas Kiwanis district ad libbed and imprompted a program in which Bill Aycock, Charley Blair, Judge Dink James, Bill Bloom, Hicks Corey, Joe Taft, Dave Moore and Chester Walsh provided the "unexpected and needed." Bundy opined at its conclusion.

"Tige" Gardner, known as "Sweatpea" in the minstrel world, sang "I Ain't Got Nobody," with Mrs. Ray Tyson as accompanist and was at once signed up for a major part in the next Kiwanis minstrel. The Kiwanians provided an entertaining program, diffused with some timely suggestions for the good of the club, much wit and an abundance of fun.

William H. Taft was welcomed as a new member. Berry Bostic led the singing of Kiwanis songs with Mrs. Tyson as accompanist; greetings were sent to Kiwanian E. W. Moseley, who is resting at the hospital; attention was called to a "vacant chair" formerly occupied by Ed Batehner, a charter member of the club when it was organized shortly after the World War.

Secretary Moore reminded that the Greenville club ranks second in public services performed in the district and he said Bill Aycock's lengthy oration on Kiwanis was a classic. Fellowship featured the meeting.

Friday, October 16, will be "ladies' night." The Carolinas Kiwanis district will hold its annual meeting at the Carolina Hotel at Pinehurst on October 25-27. Vice President Joe Taft presided.

Says Iraq Will Join The Allies

New York, Aug. 22—(AP)—Gen. Nuri Pasha Es-Said, Premier of Iraq, asserted his country would declare war and fight on the side of the Allies "if the Germans break through the Caucasus, a British broadcast of a Reuters News Agency dispatch reported today. The broadcast was heard by NBC in New York.

The news agency said the Iraq Premier in an interview challenged Mohandas K. Gandhi of India to "ask the Japanese to withdraw from China and other occupied territories before asking the British to withdraw from India."

Deaths Predominate In Recorder's Court

Judge J. W. H. Roberts disposed of the following cases in Recorder's court yesterday:

Drunks—Jim Freeman, 30 days, suspended on payment of $20.00. Stocks, 30 days, suspended on payment of $15. Heber Ross, same sentence; George Wingate, same sentence; O. J. Carnelius, drunk, called and failed to answer; bond forfeited. Costs were deducted from all fines.

Larceny—James Frizzelle, colored, 90 days.

A Letter To Our Customers

Dear Customer:

One of the most important metals in our country's War Program is Copper. Supplies of this vital material must be stretched to the limit to provide for War needs. Therefore, none can be spared for civilian use.

Copper is also vital to you. It forms the "nerve system" of your home. Every time you flick a switch to turn on lights - to make toast or waffles - to vacuum rugs - to start up your washer or ironer - to hear late war news - copper wires carry the electric current which makes these things possible.

The copper in many homes - particularly those built ten years ago or more - was installed to take care of lights and a few appliances, without thought for the new and improved electric labor-savers to be added as time went on. Today, the wiring in such homes is inadequate to carry a full measure of electricity for all the lamps and appliances.

Homemakers everywhere are seeking to learn how to make the best use of the things they have. The wires which carry electric current through the home are seldom thought of, for they are out of sight, within the walls. But without them, the home would cease to function. Isn't it important that we know how best to protect and use this vital part of the home?

A leaflet will be enclosed with your Electric Bill in the near future titled "Check Your Wiring for Wartime Service." It will show how you can use what you have to the best advantage until it is again possible for every home to obtain adequate wiring.

James of near Greenville and Mrs. F. T. Whitehurst of near Bethel.

Active pallbearers will be N. S. Tyson, Tom Manning, Frank Manning, Perene Tyson, Leon Tyson, and L. C. Coward.

DEATH OF INFANT

Cecil Edward Dunn, four-months old, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Dunn of near Greenville, died in Pitt General Hospital at three o'clock Friday afternoon. He had been sick several weeks. Funeral services will be conducted at the graveside in Greenwood Cemetery at five o'clock Saturday afternoon by Rev. A. Hartwell Campbell, pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church.

Surviving are the parents, four sisters, Misses Gladys, Estelle, Betty and Thelma Dunn, and one brother, Ernest Dunn, Jr., all of the home.

JAPS POISED ON ALEUTIANS SPRINGBOARD

Dutch Harbor Only Protection Against Invasion Threat

(The following story is by Sam Jackson, Wide World Features writer who toured Alaska extensively shortly before the outbreak of war between the United States and Japan.)

San Francisco—Events in the Pacific Sea indicate that America must be on guard against a Japanese landing on the mainland of North America.

The stepping-stone strategy of invasion which the enemy employed so successfully in the bright sunlight of the tropics might be much easier when hidden by the dense fogs of Alaskan waters.

Japanese are in possession of the tip of the bleak Aleutian island chain with a force estimated all the way from "twenty or thirty tents" to 25,000 men. Considering the size and terrain of the occupied islands, this latter figure is incredible unless the Japanese are assembling a real invasion force and quartering the men on troopships.

Our navy has bombarded, sunk and battered enemy vessels at Kiska Island, but has not dislodged the invaders.

The most disquieting report is one from fishermen that the Mikado's forces have taken over the four Pribilof, long famed as the source of the finest sealkins in the world.

The U. S. Navy says it has no information to support these reports. The islands are undefended and have a population of only 412 natives and 14 government agents.

This might indicate that instead of heading for the populous southeastern part of Alaska, the Japanese plan to seize the mouths of the Yukon and Kuskokwim rivers or to take over the immense Seward Peninsula and its tiny "metropolis" of Nome.

U. S. Bases In Southeast To an Alaskan such a move would be described as an attack on the "second and fourth judicial districts." The other two making up the mighty territory are in the southeast and account for 83 per cent of Alaska's population and most of its commerce.

It is in this latter section which is protected by the big naval bases at Sitka and Kodiak, the main army base at Anchorage and various air bases and smaller installations which are a matter of military information.

This area is sharply divided from the northern coastline by the 500-mile-long Alaska peninsula, which tapers off into the broken island chain of the Aleutians North of the peninsula, and fronting out of the Bering Sea, is a desolate broken coastline stretching hundreds of miles up into the Arctic regions.

Dutch Harbor Is Blocked The only town of any size is Nome, population 1,500, of which two-thirds are white.

The principal deterrent to major enemy incursions is the base which Uncle Sam established for just that purpose—the Navy's Dutch Harbor on the Island of Unalaska. From there, ships and planes can range northward toward the Pribilofs and Nome or south and east toward Alaska's major towns.

Unless they have been effected recently and secretly, there are no defenses on the mainland coast from the Alaska peninsula northward. In deed, the shores would seem indefensible against individual landing parties. The territory is too vast.

If the Japanese strike northward it will have to be soon. In October, the Yukon and the ocean waters freeze. At this season they are open and there are also 24 hours of daylight.

The most optimistic view of Dutch Harbor picture frommorr... can be an effective interceptor to a landing force. The Bering Sea is as large as the Gulf of Mexico. And in fogs thick that a mariner often cannot see 50 yards ahead the odds against a naval patrol encountering an enemy invasion force are terrific. A thousand to one.

BABSON

(Continued From Page One) manufacture of gunpowder. Fibreboard is replacing iron and steel. Paper containers are being used for milk, oils and other liquids. Glass is replacing aluminum and even fabrics. Wood pulp may be used for solid industrial truck tires; while bearings are currently made of powdered iron instead of brass babbit metals. Many other illustrations could be given such as using apple juice for burns, restoring blood volume and keeping tobacco moist; using paper reinforced by chemicals as a substitute for metals in making containers, flashlights, etc.; developing a non-spoilable butter for shipping; and using sorghum for making tapoca. The developments in new metals and wires can be done with oil and gas are almost miraculous.

Effects on Householders, Merchants Housewives and home owners will hardly miss their old gadgets and appliances. Instead of having to shove around a heavy steel refrigerator they will have a light weight plastic box showing probably but little outward change in appearance. When it comes to re-decorating a room our wives will have a variety of new and colorful materials to choose from. These will be better looking than the old materials and will be designed with efficient living in mind. Remember that always out of the chaos of war or depressions, born of necessity, come new articles of utilitarian use. As merchants find their present stocks of goods running out, substitutes will refill their shelves.

How U.S. Rangers Attacked With Commandos

These two photos show U. S. Rangers (below) and British Commandos (top) simulating an attack as they trained for the type of a assault hurried against Dieppe, France. Headquarters of the U. S. Army in England announced the participation in the heavy raid by a detachment from the specially trained U. S. volunteers.

People are going to spend their money for something besides War Stamps and Bonds. This is why I have not worried over the outlook for retail trade. Hence, a proposition of our manufacturing capacity, not using critical war materials, will be permitted to make these new products. These substitutes will render a real service through releasing more important materials necessary on the battle fronts.

Management And Labor Already we hear a lot of talk as to what is to occupy our service men after the war is over. If the war ends suddenly in an armed truce much of our manufacture of armaments will go on. If the war continues over a long period of years a final "clean up" of the Axis powers, labor will be needed in the rebuilding of Europe. In either event substitute products developed during the war period will hold over and may enter upon a period of growth comparable to the automobile or radio industry.

Ultimately, of course, we will run into a severe depression but for the immediate years after an armistice or a peace is declared this great new plastic and wood industry will occupy our thoughts and hands. Manufacturers, jobbers, workers, engineers, chemists, retailers and designers may all find new outlets for their time and energy in the development, manufacture and sale of these new products. These are bound to play an important part in our industrial and commercial life in the near future. After the war, next to iron and steel they may be our saving grace.

The Investors Angle Each generation usually enjoys some profitable investment opportunities. We had the age of shipbuilding in which great profits were made through foreign commerce. We have seen the development of our great transportation systems embracing railroads, street cars, motor cars, trucks and aeronautical systems. Light, heat and power plants, as well as means of communication embracing the telegraph, telephone, wireless and even television, have all come in my lifetime. Out of these inventions and developments fortunes have been made and livelihoods for millions of people the world over have been provided.

Many of the old line blue chip investments may go out of fashion. It may be smart to seek out so-called "special situations" in which to place investment funds. It may be that the development of substitutes will uncover many such situations. They surely embrace the entire chemical industry. The plywood business may be one of them. Entirely new businesses on a small scale will spring up but remember also that some of our great industrial corporations are already investigating the possibilities of substitutes. In fact, it is largely to them that we owe the development to date.

Negro Youth Camp Opens On Monday

The Baptist Youth Congress which is composed of Youth Councils of the various churches of Pitt, Beaufort and Martin counties will be at camp at the Pitt County Training School, Grimesland, beginning Monday, August 24, and continuing through the 28th. The camp is open to all young people of other denominations. Courses will be offered in leadership training, religious education, church work, music appreciation, art and handicraft. The camp was held last year for the first time and it was a huge success. Several teachers, doctors and nurses took part and rendered a great service to the camp. This year we will have the following persons to work along with others that worked last year: Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Simmons of the First Baptist church in Greenville will be present each day at the camp. Dr.

Simon will act in the capacity of lecturer and camp counselor. Mrs. Simon will conduct several classes in poetry appreciation and art work. Miss Velma McConnell, educational director of the First Baptist church of Greenville is hoped to be present each day. She will give a series of talks on her missionary experience in China and will give several musical concerts. Mrs. Spillman, formerly of the East Carolina Teachers College had planned to be present but due to the illness of her daughter in Durham she is not expected to be present. Mr. Hugh Morris Jenkins will again offer several classes in music appreciation. Rev. Mr. Earl Artis of the Bishop Tuttle College of Petersburg, Va., will conduct several classes in religious education. Miss Florence Boyd of Greenville will again offer courses in art and handicraft work. Mrs. Brown, matron and director of mission work at Shaw University is expected to be present also. Several other teachers will be present to offer their services as heretofore. Miss Barbara Walker, Mrs. O. L. Sherrill Miss Carrie Venters and Mrs. E. D. Graves will act as matrons. Other senior members of the Youth Congress will assist with the program.

The public is invited to be present and to offer suggestions and criticism for the success of the camp. —O. A. Dupree, President.

Negro Girl Scouts Going To Day Camp

A "day camp" for Negro Girl Scouts will open at the wooded area of Fifth Street colored school Monday at 9 a. m. Miss Sadie Salter, school teacher and president of the Negro Girl Scout Leaders' Association, will be camp director. Miss Carolina Sinclair, of Atlanta, Ga., regional director for Girl Scouting, will visit the day camp during the week with Mrs. J. B. Kittrell, local Girl Scout commissioner. Outdoor sports, arts and crafts are other pastimes will be provided for the six troops of Negro Girl Scouts. Showers have been provided.

Drive For Negro YMCA Nears Close

By J. H. DONALDSON Our drive to raise funds with which to establish a Y.M.C.A. for our young men at home as well as our soldier-boys who come home on a furlough is nearing its close. So far, we have no reason to complain about the work that has been done. But during the next three weeks leading up to the second Sunday in September which will be the final close of Rally-Day, we are expecting all workers to redouble their efforts so as to reach our goal.

On Monday evening, August 24, at 8 P.M., we are holding our next meeting at the Corner-Stone Baptist Church. All workers are urged to be present, and committeemen be prepared to make their reports. The public is invited to attend all meetings and to help us establish a place where our young men may enjoy wholesome entertainments in a Christian atmosphere. We believe that this will make for better citizenship and more useful men in our community.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

GOD AND MAJORITIES

God's victory is sometimes long delayed, but we can be sure that in the end it will sweep overwhelmingly across the pathway of evil.

In the fifteenth century, the English were attempting to wrest the whole of France from the grasp of the people. "The English will take Orleans," Joan of Arc was told, "and you and ten thousand like you cannot stop them."

She and her contemporaries indeed lived to see that day, although she herself later suffered martyrdom. But the inspiring thing to men and women of every age is that the faith of this undaunted French girl was based not on what men can do to protect the right, but on what God is eternally doing to bring about such triumph.

THE FIGURES SPEAK FOR THEMSELVES

Liquor sales in North Carolina's twenty-five wet counties doubled last month compared with the same month last year, according to official reports published yesterday.

Only a small part of the sum total. The figures speak for themselves, revealing that much more liquor was purchased in this county last month than for the same month a year ago. It is our opinion that a month by month comparison for the whole twelve months will probably reveal a growing increase in the consumption of liquor which is a dangerous situation at any time but more especially in war time when our entire nation must be physically and morally fit to meet the sacrifices necessary to defend our lives and freedoms.

annually in the United States—half of them in dwellings, directly traceable to rubbish and trash," says the Saturday Evening Post. "Probably twice as many more are written off as 'Cause Unknown.'"

"Yet while we suffer these deadly accumulations of junk in our homes and business places, three war plants in New Jersey, making cardboard packing for artillery shells, close down for lack of scrap paper. The trash that would keep those plants going is burning at least 275 American homes a day!"

Every one of these trash fires is unnecessary—every one is simply and easily preventable. Every community, whether it be a village or metropolis, should at once start a trash elimination campaign.

And get rid of it. Usable trash should be turned over to salvage committees for transfer to war agencies which want it. Unusable trash should be destroyed.

Washington Daybook

Washington.—In recent years there were approximately 2,500 state and county fairs held in the country every summer and autumn. Now the war is giving them an awful beating—but not for the reasons you think.

It has been applied in many areas. But in many other sections, the reported reason for cancellation of fairs and expositions has nothing whatever to do with transportation. It is based on the simple fact that the armed forces have taken over the fair and exposition grounds for quarters, training fields, and warehouses.

One of the biggest eastern fairs is the Eastern States Exposition at Springfield, Mass. Five states participate and have buildings there. The Raleigh State Fair in North Carolina has been cancelled at Army request. Some western coast fairs and expositions have been cancelled on Army orders.

On the other hand, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Kansas (except for a couple), and almost all the big Canadian fairs, to mention only a few, have been given the green light. In many cases, it is considered that the benefits of stimulating production, circulating war economy ideas, and boosting morale through entertainment and breaks in the working routine, far outweigh the transportation disadvantages.

In either case, however, evidence points to the early opening of a new phase of the Pacific war, taking the form either of a bold new Japanese stroke or of the passing of the initiative in China from Japanese hands. Our information thus far comes entirely from the Chinese. The Japanese are silent about what is happening in Kiangsi and Chekiang provinces, where the most marked change has come about as their went when things are not going well for them or they are plotting something.

Yanks-Senators In Benefit Game New York On Sunday

BABE RUTH AND JOHNSON WILL PLAY A PART

American League Hopes To Match National League Benefit Funds

By AUSTIN DEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer
The American league, which holds the upper hand over the National league in world series and all-star game performances of the past few years, will attempt to catch up with its older companion loop tomorrow in baseball's contributions to war relief.

Far behind the senior circuit in funds produced for the armed forces through receipts of designated games in the American league has pinned its hopes on the New York Yankees for boosting the total somewhere near the National league's gift of better than a quarter of a million dollars.

The Yankees will be aided by the Washington Senators and both teams will have the help of their brightest stars of former years—Babe Ruth and Walter Johnson. Although the main attraction at Yankee stadium is supposed to be the doubleheader between the two clubs, top billing has gone to the Babe and the "Big Train."

With Johnson pitching, Ruth will step to the plate between games and attempt to belt the ball out of the park, just as he did no less than 714 times in his 22 years as a major league player.

Other extra-curricular activities, including a relay race around the bases, a 60-yard dash, a fungo hitting contest for pitchers and a throwing test for catchers, will make it a field day for players and customers alike.

Advance ticket sales indicate a near-capacity crowd of more than 75,000.

Before yesterday's game which opened the New York-Washington series at the stadium, Ruth did little practicing. Batting against Gerry Friddy, an infielder, the Babe drove three balls far back into the right field seats.

After their former slugging star retired, the Yankees went out and put on a demonstration of their own, blasting 21 hits off three Washington pitchers to crush the Senators, 17-7.

Phil Rizzuto led the way with five hits, two of them in the six-run first inning, while Charlie Keller poked his 22nd home run and Joe Gordon blasted his 14th into the stands.

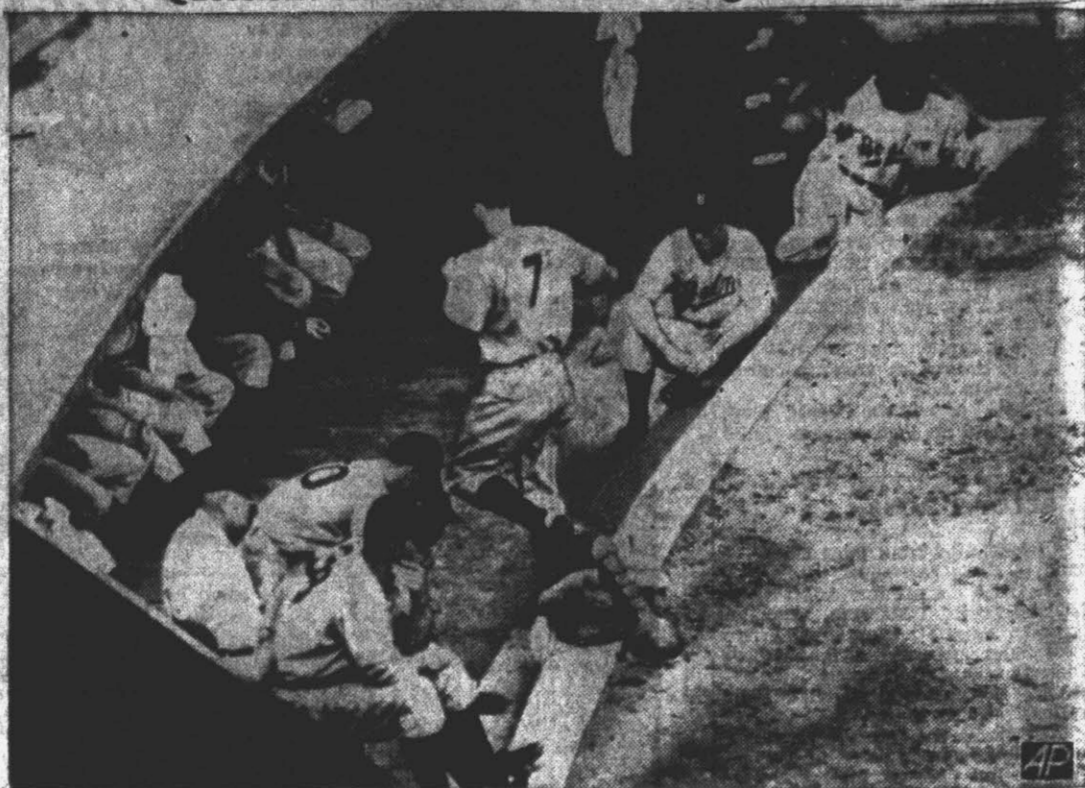

The Yankees needed the victory to preserve their 10 1/2 game margin, for the second-place Boston Red Sox whipped the Philadelphia Athletics, 7-5, in an arc light game, although they were out-hit, 12 to 11.

Tony Lupien hit two singles and a triple and drove in four of the Red Sox runs, three of them on a hit-run single with the bases loaded.

Cleveland's Indians squeezed out a 3-2 decision over the Chicago White Sox in another night game, strengthening their hold on third place with the help of the Detroit Tigers, who tripped the St. Louis Browns.

Mel Harder pitched five-hit ball for the Tribe to shade Lefty Thornton Lee, who gave up only seven blows but nicked Oris Hockett with a pitched ball after loading the bases and forced in the deciding Question: Are The Braves Leading Or Losing?

Eddie Miller (7) Boston Braves shortstop, has just knocked a home-run and is running into the Braves dugout to present this scene in one of the most unusual baseball pictures of the season. Not a teammate seems to care whether it was a home-run or not, even though Miller knocked in another Brave on base to score two runs with his homer. It was in the fourth inning of the game with the New York Giants and made the score 6 to 2. Giants. Final score: 10 to 2, Giants. The Braves have been lagging badly in the standings.

Portsmouth Wins From Richmond

Charlotte, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Portsmouth's Cubs increased their slim lead in the Piedmont League chase last night by winning from Richmond 3-0, while the second-place Greensboro Red Sox were dropping a game to the Charlotte Hornets.

It was the third consecutive shut-out for the Cubs. Pate limited the Colts to five scattered hits. Three of the Colts' blows were doubles, two by Ray and the third by Manager Ben Chapman.

Two runs in the ninth gave Charlotte its 2-0 victory. Adam Glucholotte hit the best of a pitching duel with Gil Torres until the ninth, was struck on the pitching hand by a drive with two runners on the sacks in the ninth and had to retire. Joe Ostrowski relieved him.

He served up a double to Smut Adersholt which cleared the bases for the two winning runs.

Norfolk won a 4-1 decision over the Durham Bulls behind the four-hit pitching of McKinney. Larry Kempe scattered nine hits and batted in two runs with a long double as the Asheville Tourists whipped Winston-Salem 6-2 in the "cellar" series.

A FISH STORY

Athens, Ala., (AP)—Deep Hill is telling how he landed a 300-pound catfish after fighting it for two days and a night. Hill said he caught the big fish on a line struck across the Elk River. He tied two cedar posts on each end of the line, followed the posts until the fish gave up a mile and a half after entering the Tennessee River.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist

New York, Aug. 22.—(AP)—One thing the war hasn't changed is the pre-season moaning of football coaches. Here's a sample from Notre Dame's Frank Leahy, as relayed by tub-thumper Joe Petruzzi: "If we can get past Wisconsin in the opener, we may have another representative season. We'll consider it an excellent year if we can win six or seven out of our 11 games." And in compiling his new Clemson grid brochure, Joe Sherman put the data on Coach Frank Howard and his staff on perforated sheets so they could be torn out easily. Sounds like a vote of no-confidence. But Jim Crowley, says at the North Carolina pre-flight school, doesn't hesitate to nominate Fordham, along with Penn and Boston College, as the class of the east this fall.

Today's Guest Star
Dale Stafford, Detroit Free Press: "Before they go too far, the fall of 1942 crop of Detroit promoters should look up the definition of the noun probation. That's what they're on."

Georgia Kleban, the Coast Guard middleweight from Akron, Ohio, will celebrate his 21st birthday Tuesday by fighting Winnie Rossano of Brooklyn in New York's Queensboro arena. When Seaman, 2nd class, Max Steiner, former Tennessee footballer who now is learning radio at the Navy's training school at Colorado U., went to bat in a softball game the other night, the announcer gave out this way: "The boy batting now is Maxie Steiner of the University of Tennessee. He has played in the Orange Bowl—strike one—he has played in the Sugar Bowl—strike three." The fans loudly suggested that Maxie had better return to football.

The House has approved a 3 per cent withholding levy against salaries and dividends next year—not, however, as an additional tax, but simply an advance collection of 1943 taxes.

In 1944, under the House plan, 10 per cent of such income would be withheld.

The fifth conspirator Anastase A. Vonsiatyky of Thompson, Conn., a Russian Fascist leader, drew a five year term before the four-weeks-long Molzahn trial began.

Only the pastor stood trial. The others pleaded guilty.

As soon as the foreman announced the decision, "guilty," in a voice, so low that none of the tense, perspiring spectators heard it, Prosecutor Thomas J. Dodd, Jr., urged that the maximum penalty of the peacetime espionage act—20 years in prison—be invoked immediately.

Judge Smith informed the defense, however, that its motion to set aside the verdict and grant a new trial would be heard on Tuesday.

"Civilian inconvenience and sacrifice," it added, "must be expected, particularly during the period of drought or other adverse weather conditions or in the even of serious accidents affecting utility systems."

Accordingly, WPB stepped up priority ratings on power projects regarded as urgently necessary and acted to bar others from obtaining critical materials needed for war purposes.

In addition, 28 government projects authorized by Congress were reduced to low priority ratings or unranked status. Work on these projects will be continued only when materials are unneeded for war uses.

Coffee Rationing Is Expected Soon

Washington, Aug. 22—(AP)—Possibility of coffee rationing appeared closer today with the government ordering further restrictions in deliveries to dealers because of the shipping shortage between this country and Latin America.

The order, issued yesterday by the War Production Board, will restrict deliveries beginning Sept. 1 to 65 per cent of last year's as compared with the present monthly quota of 75 per cent.

The new quotas on which the board left the question of equitable distribution to wholesale and retail dealers, will reduce the per capita coffee consumption from about 11-8 pounds a month in normal times to less than 7-8 of a pound.

Seventh Death From Explosion

Waynesville, N. C., Aug. 22 (AP)—Lawrence L. Kerley, 36, Waynesville Fire Chief, died last yesterday afternoon in the Haywood County Hospital, the seventh person to succumb from burns received when a gasoline storage tank exploded at a distributing plant of the Standard Oil Company here, July 14.

The explosion took the lives of Andy Caldwell, his wife and two children, W. L. Hardin, plant manager, and a truck driver.

The funeral for Mr. Kerley will be held tomorrow afternoon.
