

Red Armies Pushed Back On Stalingrad Approaches

Massed Tanks From Southwest Cut Dangerous Wedge Into Stubbornly Defended Positions; Vichy Radio Says Nazis Are Only 7 Miles From Heart of City

By EDDY GILMORE
Moscow, Sept. 3.—(AP)

The German assault against Stalingrad from the north-west stood checked at the very approaches to the Volga city today, but to the southwest the Red army again recoiled before the massed tanks which drove a menacing wedge into the most stubbornly defended positions.

Both the noon communique and field dispatches announced a further retreat in this vital sector, while 400 miles to the southwest a similar retreat was made by the Soviet forces defending the Black Sea naval base of Novorossiisk.

A dramatic battle was reported northwest of Stalingrad where a Russian anti-aircraft battery leveled its guns against 50 German tanks.

London, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The Vichy radio heard here today, said German forces were only seven miles from the center of Stalingrad.

The Germans themselves did not make this claim.

charging into the approaches to the city and stopped them until reinforcements arrived.

The newspaper Izvestia said that German planes dive-bombed the northwestern approaches to Stalingrad after which tanks appeared suddenly and moved toward a Russian anti-aircraft battery.

Swinging their guns to horizontal, the anti-aircraftmen halted the tanks, but two companies of German infantry trailing the machines closed in about the battery.

Until nightfall the Russian gunners fought, wrecking 17 of the tanks. The battery exhausted its supply of shells, but the crews captured a mortar and shells from the enemy and held on to their position through a night illuminated by rockets. They effectively blocked a German supply route and in the morning were relieved by tank and troop reinforcements.

Hungarian and Rumanian divisions were said to be speeding eastward to swell the ranks of the Nazi shock troops.

Guns flamed through the night on the Stalingrad front and above Novorossiisk, a provisional Red naval base on the Black Sea, the mid-day communique disclosed. Bitterly, the Russians fought to hold against intensified assaults.

In the Kletskaya area Soviet troops harassed the Axis flank with the Don bend and repulsed an attack by a German infantry regiment which was supported by 28 tanks, it said, adding:

"Six enemy tanks were disabled and more than 200 Germans were killed and prisoners were taken."

In all, the communique said, 40 Nazi tanks were knocked out of action and it indicated more than 1,200 Germans were killed in the newly reported actions on the southern battlefields.

The German command expended 14 German tanks and a battalion of infantry in four vain attacks upon a Soviet-held village near Stalingrad, but a new Russian withdrawal was forced in another sector, it was announced.

Four Red army men among the thousands northwest of the arsenal city were officially credited with having killed about 50 Germans with bayonets and hand grenades.

Minor operations by scouts, snipers and gunners were reported from the Leningrad front, where autumn (Continued on Page Two)

Mitchell Field, N. Y., Sept. 3.—(AP)

Col. Dasche M. Reeves, commanding officer of the first air ground support command has been relieved of his duties here along with Major Lynn Farnol, public relations officer for the same command, it was announced today by the office of Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, commander of the eastern defense command and first army.

The relief of the officers from their air force duties followed closely upon a press release in August purporting to expose ground markers laid out by saboteurs and allegedly discovered by fliers under Reeves' command.

Major Farnol, former movie publicity agent, released the story, on August 10, the War Department issued a memorandum saying the story "may be untrue" and ordered General Drum to investigate.

Over Iceland

Reykjavik, Iceland, Sept. 3.—(AP)—American army fliers, in their first combat with hostile aircraft after a year in Iceland, shot down a German Focke-Wulf Kurier plane near Reykjavik.

The bomber exploded before crashing and the crew was lost. One American plane in the encounter was damaged slightly, and all returned to their bases safely.

The Army said this was the first German plane shot down by American fighter pilots in the European theatre of operations, as the victory occurred last month.

SPECULATION ON JAP MOVE

Allied Bombers Blast Jap Bases Without Opposition

By The Associated Press
A mysterious slum in Japanese aerial strength in the southwest Pacific, coupled with the continued withdrawal of enemy invasion armies in China, renewed speculation today that Japan was preparing to spring a big-scale attack elsewhere in the Pacific.

Russia's "back door" in Siberia India and even the United States have been cited as likely objectives for a new Japanese offensive.

The apparent withdrawal or diminishing of Japanese air power in the southwest Pacific was reflected in a communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reporting that allied fliers were unopposed by enemy planes in attacks on two big Japanese bases.

A spokesman for Gen. MacArthur said he had no explanation for the recent lack of Japanese aerial activity, but it was apparent that any major Japanese offensive would call for the marshaling of all available air power.

A United Nations communique said land-based American bombers ranged far out over the Pacific to attack the naval and air base at Buaka, at the northern tip of the Solomon Islands. No interception was noted, it added significantly.

Again the enemy failed to intercept when fast United States medium bombers—the B-26 type known as marauders—attacked the Japanese airbase at Lae, New Guinea.

On the China war front, Japan's invasion armies abandoned another key point in their apparently voluntary retreat from hard-won territory as Chinese dispatches reported the recapture of the important highway and river center of Lupao, 25 miles northwest of Canton.

Chinese troops have encircled Kinshwa province and one of the last (Continued on Page Six)

New Divisions To Be Formed

Washington, Sept. 3 (AP)—Formation of four new armored divisions to give the army a total of 14 such units was announced today by Secretary of War Stimson.

This major expansion beyond a previously indicated goal of some ten armored divisions this year also involved creation of a third armored corps.

The war secretary reported in addition at his press conference formation of the Twelfth Corps of Infantry Troops. A corps is composed of two or more divisions.

Reflecting the nation's mounting military effort, Stimson disclosed that troop movements in 9 months since Pearl Harbor had been more than three times the number transported during the comparable period of the first world war.

Single Authority For Oil Matters Demanded

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY

Washington, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Growing demands for a single government wartime oil administrator, to end the confusion of authority in several quarters for public confusion, appeared headed today toward a showdown at the White House.

Credible but unquotable sources said meanwhile that the oil industry's choice for such a powerful job was Harold L. Ickes, the Secretary of Interior who now bears the title of "petroleum coordinator."

Ickes himself, nettled by involvement with the Office of Price Administration headed by Leon Henderson, joined with those insisting that all regulatory authority be placed in the hands of one official. He stated his position to members of the petroleum industry war council.

GAS CHAMBER FOR MURDERER

Negro Must Suffer Death Penalty For Double Killing

By CHESTER WALSH
William Lang, 31-year-old Negro tenant farmer, convicted of a jury in Superior court last night of murdering his wife, Nancy Lang, and Nannie Powell, colored, heard his death sentence pronounced twice today.

Judge Luther Hamilton of Morehead City, in passing sentence, made it brief. Lang stood with folded hands while the Carter jurist solemnly intoned the fatal words. He manifested no emotion when the judge concluded with the words, "You shall be turned over to the warden of the State Penitentiary for safekeeping, and on Friday, October 23, 1942, you shall be taken to the death chamber of the penitentiary between 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. and caused to inhale lethal gas until you are dead! May God have mercy on your soul!"

Before pronouncing sentence Judge Hamilton asked Lang if he wished to speak. The prisoner stood up, held up his right and said, "I ask the court to have mercy on my soul."

Lang's wife left him some time before the tragedy. When he failed to effect a reconciliation with her at a neighbor's home he killed her and fatally wounded Nannie Powell, who remained with him, and slightly wounded James Powell, colored. It was testified that David Pitts, colored, had been paying attention to Lang's wife before and after she left him.

The jury agreed on its verdict within 13 minutes of the time they were sent to their room to deliberate last night, M. A. Clark of Black Jack, who had charge of them, stated.

Unusual Case
James Redmond Wilkes, colored youth, submitted a plea of attempted assault, a misdemeanor, on a charge of a crime against nature on a four-year-old girl. He was given 12 months, at hard labor on the roads. Judge Hamilton explained that the child was so young she could not and did not testify against him, and that Wilkes was charged with which he was charged.

The court, J. M. Clark and defense counsel agreed to submission of the misdemeanor charge. In passing sentence the court stated that it believed Wilkes was guilty of some mischief, but "we cannot convict a defendant without competent testimony. The legislature, recognizing a crime against nature as the most contemptible committed by man, has made the minimum penalty for it five years and the maximum 60 years, the heaviest penalty to be imposed for any crime, except death."

Three Years For Rapist
At a previous session of court Judge Hamilton sentenced Frank Greene, colored, to serve three years in the penitentiary for attempted criminal assault on Queenie Wilson, 64-year-old colored woman on the Oscar Tucker farm near Red Bank church.

Rogers On Trial For Life
A jury was selected and introduction of testimony was begun for hearing of the case of George B. Rogers, 41, farm worker, for the alleged murder of Mrs. Addie Peavy, a middle-aged housekeeper for Mrs. Rogers, an invalid, Sheriff J. Knott Proctor was the first witness called by the prosecution. He was on the stand when court reconvened after the midday recess.

Rogers is charged with beating Mrs. Peavy to death with a brick mason's hammer after she remonstrated with him for alleged intimate relations with her 17-year-old daughter, Marie Peavy. Rogers is also alleged to have wrapped the woman's body in a quilt and hid it under a bed while he and Marie Peavy went to the low grounds to (Continued on Page Four)

Roosevelt Calls On Youth to Join Freedom's Fight

Allied Victory Will Bring Lasting Peace And Freedom Declared The Chief Executive

Washington, Sept. 3.—(AP)—President Roosevelt called upon world youth today to join the fight of the United Nations to "mold the shape of the new world... toward the highest goals that men have ever imagined."

"The cause of youth itself," Mr. Roosevelt said, in contrast to "nothing except death" offered the younger generation by the German Nazis, Italian Fascists and Japanese militarists.

Addressing the international student assembly, and by radio possible listeners everywhere on the globe, the President again stressed that in "the four freedoms, in the basic principles of the Atlantic charter, we have set for ourselves high goals, unlimited objectives."

"We know," Mr. Roosevelt said, "that this is to be a long and hard and bitter fight—and that there will still be an enormous job for us to do long after the last German, Japanese and Italian bombing planes have been shot to earth.... But we must keep at it—we must never relax, never falter, never fear—and we must keep at it to the end."

The President added: "We have profited by our past mistakes. This time we shall know how to make full use of our victory. This time the achievements of our fighting forces will not be thrown away by political cynicism and timidity and incompetence."

Mr. Roosevelt said there were those—"a handful of men and women, in the United States and elsewhere, who mock and sneer at the four freedoms and the Atlantic charter."

GIVE 'EM HELL SAYS WILKIE

President's Envoy Visits Troops In Egypt

By HARRY CROCKETT
With United States Forces near Cairo, Sept. 3 (AP)—"I just want to say I'm damned glad to see you. God bless you and give 'em hell," Wendell Wilkie told American troops today after looking over their big army workshops and repair facilities here.

Wilkie was accompanied by Maj. Gen. Russell Maxwell, U. S. Army commander in the Middle East, at this base where shell-damaged General Grant tanks were being put back into fighting trim.

Speaking informally to the soldiers, Wilkie told them the primary purpose of his stop-over in Egypt en route to Chungking and Moscow was to focus more attention at home on the Mediterranean front.

He said Americans generally were not sufficiently aware of the importance of this war theatre where, he observed, an Axis breakthrough on the western desert would greatly prolong the war.

"The days of Germany's glory are over," Wilkie said in an interview. "I'm here as President Roosevelt's representative. It is because 130,000,000 Americans are behind the President to beat the Germans."

Of the Pacific ocean front, he said, "we're doing very well there but it's only the start."

Six Army Airmen Killed In Crash

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Six occupants of an army medium bomber of the B-26 type from Barksdale Field, La., were killed when their plane crashed and burst in an isolated wooded area 18 miles west of here shortly before last midnight.

A Little Rock undertaking establishment announced shortly before noon today that it had received orders from military authorities to take charge of six bodies located at the scene of the crash.

The happy topic of hanging Herr Hitler was discussed in this column Tuesday and I intended to pursue it yesterday, but Rommel's make-or-break offensive intervened and it seemed best to deal with that because, after all, we must defeat the fuhrer and then catch him before we can hang him.

Anti-Venereal Drive Goes Into Full Stride

Warrants To Be Issued For All Delinquents After Ten Days

A campaign to stamp out venereal disease in this county, especially among draftees who have been deferred from military duty pending treatment, got under way today with the local post of the American Legion giving its full support to a drive to indict all persons in the county known to be infected with such diseases, who refuse or fail to take treatment as provided by law.

The Legion Post took cognizance of the matter at a recent meeting and a committee appointed to handle the matter in the post's behalf last night completed arrangements with the county health department for the drive. Both the local draft boards are also cooperating in the matter as far as it pertains to men subject to action by the draft boards.

There are at this time more than 200 deferred draftees in the county who are delinquent in taking the treatment and F. E. Brooks, follow-up-worker, for the county health department with the approval of Dr. N. T. Ebnett, head of the department, is sending out notices to all known delinquents to the effect that if treatments are not begun within a period of ten days warrants will be issued and the delinquents brought into court.

The law requires that all persons infected with the disease take regular weekly treatments either from their private physician or from the (Continued on Page Two)

24 Americans Are Decorated

London, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Awarding of 24 decorations in the war's first mass citations of Americans in Europe was announced today by Major Gen. Cral Spaatz, commander in chief of U. Five of the latter awards were posthumous.

Morgenthau Asks For Additional Billions

Washington, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Secretary Morgenthau said he was proposing a tax on consumer spending which will reach into the lowest income groups above the level of bare subsistence and will provide high penalty rates for luxury spending.

In addition, he urged a further lowering of the exemptions for the income tax applying to family income, involving a cut back to $500 exemption for an individual, $1,000 for married couples and $350 credit for dependents.

The Finance Committee recently cut the latter credit from the $400 level approved by the House to $300. The program, if adopted by the committee would provide for $2,000,000,000 in direct new taxes, Morgenthau said. The remainder, of $4,500,000,000, he said would not be (Continued on Page Four)

British and American Airmen Continue to Blast Rommel's Troops as They Seek Soft Spot In British Lines; Ground Action Limited to Brief Skirmishes

By The Associated Press
Cairo, Sept. 3.—Cautious probing by Marshal Erwin Rommel's African corps has encountered a fury of air attack, artillery fire and harassment by mobile forces, and four days after the British expected an Axis offensive the showdown battle for the Nile had failed to develop.

British ground troops in strong-points and slit trenches along the 40-mile El Alamein line had not yet come into action with the enemy. Only screening mobile forces were reported thrusting and attacking the German armored columns which had filtered eight miles into the minefields of the Ruweisat-Himeimat sector on the south.

Whether Rommel was puzzled by the British tactics, was playing a game of his own, or was made hesitant by the storm of artillery fire and thunderous aerial bombardment of his armored and supply columns which greeted his first move, observers could not say.

"In London," an unidentified British source said, "Rommel's failure to strike in full force after concentrating a great weight of armored equipment for a general offensive might mean he had been surprised by the violent artillery and air bombardment which met his first thrusts."

Today's communique said Rommel's Axis army was subjected yesterday to a record-breaking bombing by RAF and American planes.

Never before since the start of the North African campaign, a communique said, have so many bombing sorties been carried out in the course of a day.

From dawn until after dark allied bombers shelled over the battle area, unleashing high explosives on Rommel's communications and troop concentrations in an effort to break up his preparations for an all-out assault on the El Alamein defense line.

At the same time enemy armored forces, which had sifted through minefields in the Ruweisat-Himeimat sector on the extreme southern flank of the line were attacked from the east and southeast by mobile British forces.

Many Axis vehicles were destroyed, headquarters declared.

Considerable activity also was reported on the part of the Axis air force, resulting in numerous dog-fights in which, the communique said, six German dive bombers and nine fighters were shot down.

Assurance that the Axis forces had not achieved any important gains since they made their first offensive gesture Sunday was given by Lieut. Gen. B. L. Montgomery, commander of the British eighth army, who declared last night at his field headquarters:

"In no place and in no part of the eighth army area have the enemy penetrated our organized defense area."

May Invite Hutson Discuss Leaf Here

J. E. Winslow of this city, president of the North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation, stated at a meeting in Wilson last night that J. B. Hutson, president of the Commodity Credit Corporation, Washington, D. C., and Office of Price Administration officials may be invited to attend a picnic in Greenville next week to discuss the recent tobacco price ceiling order.

A representative group of tobacco growers and others attended the meeting but no official action was taken.

Flake Shaw of Greensboro, secretary of the Farm Bureau, quoted Hutson as saying last Sunday that the Commodity Credit Corporation, which had committed itself for a large quantity of cigarette tobacco for Great Britain under the lend-lease agreement, had been unable to buy sufficient quantities under present prices, and indicated that the recent price ceiling order was intended to help CCC purchases.

California Treats

Service Men 'Swell'

A Greenville boy now in the armed services and stationed in California writes The Reflector that the people of that western state are treating the service men "swell" and he just wants the folks back home to know about it.

Emphasizing that he desires no

publicity but merely wants the folks who have sons, brothers, sweethearts etc., in the service to know how those now on the west coast are being treated, he requests elimination of his name in the publishing of the letter which follows:

"I would like to be the people back home, to know that the people in California are certainly treating the boys from the east swell. (All serviced men in fact).

Of course we are having a little difficulty getting used to this climate.

I think maybe they stretched the description of the weather, but nevertheless most of us think the people out here are swell.

I would like to be able to describe the difference in the ways we have been treated by the people in the different states, but I guess I had better not put that on paper.

I am also sure, most of the men here would like for the people back home to know that the American Legion is playing a great part in the campaign to make us feel at home.

When treated as we are being treated now, it is a pleasure to be in the armed forces of these people and all people of our fine and beautiful country.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO U.S. ARMEN

Says U.S. Entry Marked Turning Point Of War

London, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The army of U. S. air forces in the European theater was acclaimed by the RAF today as one of the outstanding events of the third year of the war—a year which the British army said had brought an all-out invasion of Europe within the range of practical possibility.

It was three years ago today that Britain and France declared war on Germany, two days after her invasion of Poland.

Commenting on the fact that American planes and American pilots in growing numbers now are helping carry the battle to Germany, an Air Ministry statement summarizing developments of the last 12 months said:

"Appearance of these forerunners of the American air fleets of the fourth year of the war will perhaps be regarded by future historians as the most significant event of the period under review."

Among the contributions which the United States already has made to the air war the Air Ministry mentioned specifically precision bombing attacks on Germany by Flying Fortresses and the work done by American-made bombers, Liberators and Catalinas with the coastal command.

The latter was credited with sharing in the "notable achievement" of conveying "every one of the American soldiers who reached this island without loss."

The ministry also declared that Mustang fighters with the army co-operation command had "performed admirably" during the August 19 Commando raid on Dieppe.

A hint of the growing striking power of the RAF, bolstered by the resources of the United States, was given by the Air Ministry when it declared that while the bomber command was capable of 1,000-plane raids on Germany "little more than 10 per cent of our operational aircraft have been engaged in bombing Germany."

During the past year, the statement said, home-based British fighters have shot down "close to a thousand" German planes over Europe while 200 Nazi night raiders have been destroyed over Britain.

RAF losses in the European theater in the same period were put at 700 planes.

Authoritative sources said the Air Ministry's figures brought to 4,500 the number of Axis aircraft destroyed during the first three years of the war compared with 6,231 British planes lost.

Britain's war industries were situated for 15 minutes today as workers and soldiers, clerks and statesmen joined in prayer for victory in observation of the third anniversary.

Services were held in churches and in chapels of the armed services. American troops in London held their own services.

Arthur Cardinal Hinsley, Roman Catholic Archbishop at Westminster Cathedral, requested a special prayer for Pope Pius XII who, he said, was "maligned and misrepresented by malice or ignorance on this side and that."

Clement R. Attlee, secretary of state for dominion affairs, said the opening of the fourth year of the war "finds free people united, resolute, eager and better prepared to meet the enemy at sea, on land and in the air."

OPA TO ACT ON MEAT PRICES

Ask Court Action Against Packers And Dealers

Washington, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The Office of Price Administration announced today that it would file actions in federal courts in 16 cities today in connection with a campaign against alleged violators of price ceilings on beef and veal. More than 100 meat packers and wholesale distributors are involved.

Most of the cases, OPA said, involve so-called "up-grading" of beef and veal, although many were "concerned as well with plain and simple overcharging."

The packers and wholesalers also will be charged with issuing incorrect invoices, and failing to issue invoices, as provided for by regulations. OPA said.

OPA will seek injunctions to compel compliance with its regulations. There have been complaints from all parts of the country, OPA said, that packers and wholesale distributors were violating price regulations and "are palming off inferior cuts above OPA ceilings."

OPA defined "up-grading" as stamping and selling meat of inferior grades at prices established for higher grades. Under the regulations, all carcasses and wholesale cuts of meat must be accurately stamped and sold at prices not exceeding the legally established maximum prices for the particular grades.

SAYS FIGHT ON SUB-BEING WON

British Admiralty Says Balance Now Favors Allies

By NOLAND NORGARD
London, Sept. 3 (AP)—July and August were record-breaking months in the destruction of Axis submarines, and, moreover, British shipyards have practically made up Britain's admittedly heavy warship losses, first Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander declared today.

"The German U-boats have now turned the offensive back to their more usual haunts," he said, indicating a shift of submarine pressure from the Western Atlantic.

"If the U-boats found this attack upon our forces dangerous last year, I think they will find it doubly dangerous now."

"New methods have been developed and new devices are in action." Addressing a war anniversary luncheon, the first Lord said that in one or two warship categories new British construction had exceeded losses and added that at the same time what amounts to a new fleet of corvettes, motor torpedo boats, gunboats and landing craft of all descriptions have been built.

He did not specify the categories in which Britain now has more tonnage than when the war began. To date the Admiralty has announced loss of 423 warships, among which were three battleships, 24 cruisers, 85 destroyers, 39 submarines, and 14 armed merchant cruisers as well as other small but valuable craft such as trawlers and corvettes.

Alexander's statements recalled publication in July of an official report that 485 warships were on duty with the British navy which were not in service at the outbreak of the war and that with the allowance for sinking at least 500 warships of all sorts must have been delivered by shipyards in about 30 months.

Alexander, saying that the past two months had been the most successful in the entire campaign against the U-boat, said:

Francisco 5, Portland, Me. 4, Milwaukee 11, St. Louis 11, St. Paul 6, Omaha 7, Kansas City, Mo. 10.

almost U-boats added:

"This is encouraging, but we wish to do better still," Alexander said, adding that in addition to those destroyed a large number have been put out of action.

Replying to what he said was criticism that "we are slow in adjusting our anti-U-boat methods to meet changes in their tactics," Alexander declared:

"It is the other way round. When changes in German tactics occur it is because our new methods and devices forced them on the U-boats."

MORE WOMEN FOR WAR WORK

Stimson Says Present Number To Be Doubled

Washington, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Secretary Stimson reported today the War Department intended to meet a growing manpower shortage by possibly doubling the number of women war workers in army arsenals, depots and office jobs.

About 300,000 women already are working on guns, planes and tanks and filling clerical and supervisory posts, and Stimson told his press conference as many more could be absorbed.

The War Department, he said, has adopted a policy of using women employees in all capacities for which they are qualified or may become so by training.

"As far as practicable, women will be employed in preference to men of war service age or capabilities," he explained. "However, this policy will not limit the employment of qualified men who are ineligible for military service by reason of age or physical disability."

War Department employing and training officers have been directed to "fully utilize, immediate and effectively, the largest and potentially the finest single source of labor available today—the vast reserve of women power," Stimson said.

Roosevelt Calls ...

"slavery and degradation under

Hitler." Throughout the world, men in America's fighting forces were listening to their commander in chief. Much of the address was directed specifically to them and he gave assurance that "we here at home are supremely conscious of our obligations to you," now and in the future, and "we will not let you down."

The United Nations, Mr. Roosevelt asserted, have the technical means, physical resources, courage, vision and will required to build and sustain the kind of world order which alone, he said, can justify youth's sacrifices now.

"But we must keep at it—we must never relax, never falter, never fear—and we must keep at it together," he said.

"We must maintain the offensive against evil in all its forms. We must work and we must fight to insure that our children shall have and shall enjoy in peace their inalienable rights to freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom from want, freedom from fear. Only on those bold terms can this total war result in total victory."

We exult, Mr. Roosevelt said, in the thought that the young, free men and women of the United Nations and not the "wound-up robots of the slave states" will mold the shape of the new world.

Mr. Roosevelt spoke from the White House and some three score delegates to the International Student Assembly were seated before him. Midway in his address he delivered what he termed a special message to our fighting men wherever they may be.

He said they were conducting themselves in a manner worthy of the nation's highest proudest traditions and that none of the early pioneers showed greater fortitude or determination. The men who fought in 1812, 1863 and 1776, he said, showed no greater gallantry or selfless devotion to duty and country. Furthermore, he said, American men realize why they are fighting.

"You know," he said, "that the road which has led you to the Solomon Islands, or to the Red Sea, or to the coast of France, is in fact an extension of Main street, and that when you fight, anywhere along that road, you are fighting in the defense of your own homes, your own free schools, your own churches, your own ideals."

The President declared that the responsibility of government to try to find jobs for those willing and able to work is a responsibility of the war.

When the fighting men return, he added, it is not proposed that they be involved, as last time, in a "domestic economic mess of our own making."

They must come home, he said, and take a part in shaping the world of the future. Furthermore, he said, his words applied equally to all young men and women of the United Nations facing the common foe.

Mr. Roosevelt paid tribute to the "embattled youth" of Russia and China, who, he said, were casting off the last links of the "ancient chain of Imperial despotism which had bound them so long."

The old term, "western civilization," no longer applies, he said, MORE MORE since world events and the common needs of all humanity are joining the cultures of Asia, Europe and the Americas to form a real world civilization for the first time.

None of the soldiers or sailors battling today, he declared, would so willingly endure the rigors of warfare if they thought their own sons would be fighting another war in another twenty years.

"Victory is essential; but victory is not enough for you—or for us," he asserted. "We must be sure that when you have won victory you will not have to tell your children that you fought in vain—that you were betrayed."

"We must be sure that in your homes there will not be want—that in your schools only the living truth will be taught—that in your churches there may be preached without fear a faith in which men may deeply believe."

The President said the Axis radio, using terms of "growing hate" and "complete falsehood," had devoted exceptional comment during the past week to his speech and to the student assembly.

The Nazi radio in Paris, he said, tells French youth that "Roosevelt was solely responsible for the defeat of France" and argues that he was not qualified to speak to the youth of the world because America has done nothing for youth.

He said the Tokyo radio declared he was admitting that the American people were decadent, weaklings, play boys—spoiled by jazz music and Hollywood pictures.

"Of course," he remarked cheerfully, "this broadcast did not originate from any of the Japanese who bumped into our playboys in the southwest Pacific...."

Dodgers Gain Another Game Over St. Louis Cardinals

DEFEAT REDS AS CARDS LOSE TO THE GIANTS

Dodger-Red Contest Went To Twelve Innings

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Brooklyn Dodgers now have a 4-1-2 game lead in their National League pennant race, so who's nervous?

Well, Mr. Leo Ernest Durocher, the Dodgers' peerless pilot, appears to be—for one.

What he's been doing with his pitchers in recent days scarcely can be described without a map and a seeing-eye dog, but it may be worth a try to prevent posterity from confusing the movements with those of troops.

Yesterday Durocher called on no fewer than five of his best pitchers to curb the futile Cincinnati Reds, 2-2 in 12 innings. From left to right and start to finish his field included Curt Davis, Hugh Casey, Kirby Higbe, Les Webber and Whitlow Wyatt.

Davis started the game, although he had been used for relief two days in a row in the preceding series at Pittsburgh. In the second of these appearances, on Monday, Davis replaced Larry French in the tenth inning when French had retired the only man he faced in that frame on a fly ball.

Davis was knocked out in the 8th yesterday and Casey took complete charge until removed for pinchhitter in the ninth. Then Higbe, who had pitched to full 9 innings to beat the Pirates Tuesday, was sent to the mound. He walked the first batter and immediately was flagged out in favor of Webber. The rookie gave one hit in the tenth and then Durocher, taking no chances, called in Wyatt for his first relief chore of the year.

The Dodger finished strongly and gained his 17th victory when a walk and sacrifice and a single by Arky Vaughn scored a run for Brooklyn in the twelfth.

The defeat was charged to Plucky Bucky Walters, who himself made three hits, batted in one Red run and scored the other.

The triumph added another game to Brooklyn's slender margin because the New York Giants slugged out an 8-2 win over the St. Louis Cardinals. Babe Young doubled with the bases loaded for three runs in the third and the Giants tallied two more in the fourth to rout Max Lanier. Altogether New York made 18 hits off four hurlers while Bob Carpenter checked the Cards on 8 for his first victory since July 3.

The Boston Braves beat the Chicago Cubs, 2-1 in ten innings, after Lon Warneke had held them scoreless for seven frames.

The Pirates stopped the Phils, 5-2, by scoring four runs without a hit in the eighth inning of their night game. Frank Hoerst held the Bucs to two singles, one of which drove in a run in the fourth. In the big blowoff, Hoerst walked four men and threw low to the plate on a grounder. Then relief pitcher John Podgajny hit two batsmen.

At New York the Yankees swept a doubleheader from the St. Louis Browns, 3-2 on Charley Keller's 25th homer in the tenth inning and 6-0 on Hank Borowy's masterful one-hit hurling. The huge mid-week crowd of 27,000 thought it was seeing a no-hitter, not knowing that Harland Clift's boulder off Joe Gordon's glove in the first inning had been scored as a single instead of an error. When the totals were posted on the scoreboard the fans, already milling jubilantly on the field, booed.

The Cleveland Indians rose into a virtual tie with the Browns for third place in the American League by overwhelming the Philadelphia Athletics, 12-3. The tribe scored 8 runs in the first inning, but Connie Mack left his pitcher in — and swapped catches.

The Boston Red Sox kept pace with the Yankees by taking a double bill from the Detroit Tigers, 3-2 and 4-2. Charley Wagner pitched five-hit ball in the first game, which was decided by Ted Williams' 20th homer in the eighth inning.

Williams also doubled three runs across in the second game to win that—boosting his runs batted in total to 121 and giving the Sox the 22nd victory in their last 26 games.

The Chicago White Sox whipped the Washington Senators, 8-2 and 7-6, making 17 hits in the first tilt and 12 in the second. Washington contributed six errors to Chicago's cause in the opener and Lou Bevil, a rookie fresh from Chattanooga, led the Sox four runs before he was removed in the first innings of the nightcap.

Greensboro And Charlotte Split
Charlotte, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Asheville's lefthanded pitchers were in fine fettle last night, and the Tourists took a double-header from Winston-Salem, 3-1 and 7-1.

Lefties Goodall and Trine held the Twins to four hits in each game. In the Piedmont's other double feature, Charlotte and Greensboro split honors. The Hornets won the opener, 2-1, behind the three-hit pitching of Gil Torres, but dropped the seven-inning nightcap, 4-3.

Dewey Wilkins, a southpaw, held Portsmouth to four hits while Richmond was getting next to Red Williams for 10 safeties and a 6-2 triumph—the Colts' second straight over the Cubs.

In the league's other game Garland Braxton for Norfolk and Hal Haub for Durham hooked up in a thrilling mound duel, which Durham won, 2-1. Each pitcher allowed only three hits. Two of Norfolk's were doubles, both by Al Clark. It was Haub's tenth victory for the Bulls this season.

The clubs play at the same stands again today—Greensboro here, Asheville in Winston-Salem, Durham in Norfolk, and Portsmouth in Richmond.

New York, Sept. 3.—Fun with a gun: J. P. McConkey, who works in a Wichita, Kas., airplane factory, comes up with a new version of trapshooting that has made a big hit out that way. He calls it "Jap-shooting." ... Instead of the conventional clay pigeons being tossed from a trap, a guy with a bow shoots a target consisting of a dummy with unmistakable Japanese features rolled up in a parachute. ... As the Jap glides toward the ground, the marksman with a shotgun gets his crack at it. ... The Notre Dame football ticket office reports receiving an order from the Solomon Islands—merely a Marine who wanted to make sure his parents and his girl would see some games. ... When a Richmond (Va.) softball team was knocked off 25-1 the other night, the winning manager offered his condolences to the losing pilot. "Oh, that's all right," said the loser, "we've lost to better teams."

Stars and Gripes
Here's one reason baseball scouts go nuts: The Cincinnati Reds recently received a letter from a Kentucky village telling of the feats of a local 16-year-old who was hitting .332 and had belted 30 homers in 14 games. ... A scout was dispatched immediately. ... A day or so later he came back with a very red face to report that the hero's team averaged eight years in age and the opposition nine.

Bi-State Games Set For Wilson
Two games of the semi-finals of the Bi-State League are scheduled to be played in Wilson Friday and Sunday between the Wilson and Rocky Mount clubs. Friday's game will be a night affair starting at eight o'clock while the Sunday contest will begin at three o'clock in the afternoon. Many Greenville baseball fans are expected to attend these games.

A short time earlier several formations of Spitfires swept homeward from the direction of Calais and Dunkerque.

Observers on the English south-east coast said explosions and vivid flashes developed across Dover Strait around midnight and German searchlights could be seen

Two German bombers were reported shot down in raids shortly before midnight last night upon ar-
