U.S. Bombers Continue To Hammer Axis Supply Lines In North Africa

Axis Supply Ships Hit By Bombs Yesterday; Both Sides Believed Moving In Reinforcements For A Show Down Battle

By FRANK L. MARTIN
Cairo, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Striking anew in an almost non-stop attack on Axis supply shipping across the Mediterranean, United States heavy bombers scored hits yesterday on two freighters escorted by three destroyers off the coast of Crete and a few minutes later shot down two Messerschmitt 110's and a Junkers 88.

By bringing down these three German planes the American gunners destroyed one-third of the attacking force of land based Nazi aircraft which arose to defend the freighters.

The vessels were estimated at 8,000 tons each. One of the heaviest bombs carried landed squarely on the stern of the first ship and when it last was seen it appeared to be sinking, returning fliers reported.

The second freighter, trailing the first by 500 yards, was hit by smaller bombs.

British bombers, meanwhile, were credited with scoring a direct heavy bomb hit on an enemy destroyer by night in the eastern Mediterranean, and two near misses on another.

Reports here indicated that in an effort to get out of range of Malta's bombers and remain as long as possible under the umbrella of Axis land-based fighters, much of Italy's shipping to North Africa was being detoured hundreds of miles out of the way, via Greece and Crete.

(South London commentators anticipated a renewal soon of the battle for Egypt. Vicious radio broadcasts were heard reporting that both the British and Axis were bringing up reinforcements and hastily improving positions for a further test.)

The next battle of North Africa promises to be a test of the respective merits of American and German arms. It had become apparent to correspondents in Egypt Marshal Rommel will find more representatives of the United Nations arrayed against the Axis than ever.

There was an increase yesterday in air activity over Malta, the enemy carrying out five heavily escorted bomber raids, but the defenders of the British Mediterranean island destroyed at least 15 of the attackers and damaged many more as against the loss of one fighter.

Junior Red Cross Active In County

"Our Junior Red Cross will bring to you opportunities of service to your community and to other citizens, all over the world and guide your service with high and religious ideals. It will teach you how to save in order that suffering children elsewhere may have the chance to live. It will teach you how to prepare some of the supplies which wounded soldiers and homeless families lack. It will send to you through the Red Cross bulletins the thrilling stories of relief and rescue. And best of all, more perfectly than through any of your other school lessons, you will learn by doing those kind things under your teacher's direction to be the future good citizens of the great country which we all love," declared the late Woodrow Wilson.

The children of Pitt county have already learned to "be citizens of the great country which we all love." Schools have written in to Mr. J. B. James, the chairman and asked for their quota without waiting for the Roll Call. The Greenville High School has put on a scrap campaign, the funds therefrom to be used to buy medicines for the New River-Camp Davis hospital camp.

The work is being organized and is under way throughout the county. In the city and county schools zone chairmen and sponsors have been appointed for the Junior Red Cross.

For the city schools Miss Reed of the Greenville High School is the zone chairman.

Sponsors for the city schools are Miss Newell, high school; Miss Jane Hadley, West Greenville; Mrs. Carter, Third Street school; and Miss Walt, Training school.

In the county zone chairmen and school sponsors are Miss Thelma Grimesland; Miss Esther Hardy, Grifton; Miss Bess Gilliam, South; Miss Pauline Aboynous, Belvoir; Miss Olive McCallum, Chocoma; Miss Fanny Woodward, Bell Arthur; Miss Joyce Stokes, Belhel; Miss Estelle Criteher, Ayden; Miss Estelle McErick, and Margaret Lewis, Farmville; Mrs. Ellen Carroll, Winterville; Miss Essie Lewis, Fountainville; (Continued on Page Two)

U. S. Navy Lashes Japs In North Solomons

Striking a terrific blow south of Bougainville Islands in the north Solomon group, U. S. Navy planes and destroyed eight enemy planes. On Bougainville, Kieta airfield was damaged. No U. S. men, ships or planes were lost. There was no word from Guadalcanal (I) where the Japs have landed reinforcements in their attempt to wrest an airport from U. S. Marines.

EIGHT HURT IN COLLISION

Accident Near Ayden Early Sunday Morning

In a head-on collision of two cars driven by James H. Brooks of Grimesland, and Charles Williams of Greenville, on the outskirts of Ayden early Sunday morning, four occupants of one car and three in the other machine were painfully injured, some of them seriously. The cars were practically demolished. The injured were taken to Pitt General Hospital.

Williams, driver of one car, suffered bruises and lacerations and probably internal injuries. Three Marines were riding with him. Bernard G. Mersch suffered a fractured skull and a broken scapula. Victor Musz and Bill M. Lunsford suffered bruises and lacerations.

Brooks, driver of the other car, suffered a fractured arm and lower mandible. Robert Ben Wilson received cuts and bruises. Paul Matjette had a fractured arm and lacerations and bruises, and C. L. Godley suffered cuts and bruises. They were all from Grimesland.

One of the Marines, Bernard C. Mersch, is at the hospital in a serious condition.

Weekend Rain Helps Winter Cover Crops

Farmers in town today said the saturating rain over the week-end was a blessing to fall cover and other crops. Rye recently sown is expected to make a good stand; collards, turnips and other greens got this rain when they needed it most, a farmer said.

Ayden ABC Store Robbed Saturday

During a rainstorm last Saturday night two white men held up night Police Chief Walter Hamilton at Ayden, disarmed him, and at the point of guns, forced the officer and "Johnnie Doe," colored street sweeper, to help them load eleven cases (194 bottles) of whiskey from the Ayden ABC store into a car stolen at Greensboro. The stock was insured.

Burglars Steal $40 From Shell Office

Robbers broke into the Shell Oil Company's office and stole about $40 in cash some time during the week-end. They entered the building through a window, police said.

Will Explain Fuel Oil Ration Rules

A district meeting of rationing board officials and clerks will be held at the City Hall tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Representatives of the Office of Price Administration, Raleigh, will explain and discuss the new rationing rules governing fuel oil. Theodore S. Johnson, state OPA director, ordered the meeting. J. B. Kittrell, the chairman of the Pitt County Rationing Board, will preside.

Nazis Ambushed

Moscow, Oct. 12 (AP)—The Moscow radio reported today that the fighting French sympathizers had ambushed a column of German soldiers in a Paris suburb, killing 17, and setting fire to two trucks. No other details were given.

The WAR TODAY

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
Wide-World News Analyst

London, Oct. 12—British censorship of news is based on the philosophy of the wartime morale of a nation is in direct ratio to the amount of information the public gets, especially from battlefields.

Since this principle is producing fine results in John Bull's domain, it encourages me to reiterate this view.

The way we Americans can get the real feel of the war is to transport us through the press into bat-

Germans Give Up Frontal Assaults On Stalingrad

SAYS HITLER ON THE WANE

Churchill Declares Allies' Strength Grows Daily

Edinburgh, Scotland, Oct. 21 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill pictured the United States, Russia, China and Britain today as moving "steadily onward from strength to strength" while Hitler's "prospects have darkened to an immeasurable degree."

In a belligerent and confident speech accepting the freedom of the city Churchill assured Edinburgh's citizens that "no weakness will be shown to the Germans" in the dispute over the chaining of war prisoners and reported:

1. August and September were the least bad months since January in Allied shipping losses, and new building outweighs sinkings.
2. They "marked the definite growth of Allied air superiority with the RAF dropping its "great-est tonnage" of bombs on Germany.
3. They brought "the most numerous safe arrivals of U. S. troops in the British Isles."

Churchill, speaking in the presence of U. S. Ambassador John G. Winant, said the United Nations have "reached a stern and somber moment" of the war in which "we must strive to combine the virtues of wisdom and courage."

This was as close as he came to indicating a second front. His words recalled the declaration he made to the House of Commons last week that the war had arrived at a "significant" period.

After reviewing German losses in Russia, he mentioned other matters which probably troubled Hitler and "his somewhat ridiculous confidence."

Churchill gave a thumbnail review of growing Allied power and declared that "the Australians with their American allies have made a good advance in New Guinea."

"These are solid and remarkable facts" he added.

The Prime Minister disclosed that he came to Edinburgh from a visit to the home fleet. Speaking in the great Usher Hall which was packed for the occasion, he lauded Scotland as an "example of national unity."

A great crowd gathered outside the hall cheered the speech.

Winant in a brief speech made a remark which some interpreted as advice to leave the question of a second front and other decisions to the armed forces.

"We asked what kind of road lies ahead," the Ambassador said. "We must await the soldiers' answer because our faith and our future rest with the soldiers of democracy."

Sir Stafford Cripps, lord privy seal and House of Commons leader, and Capt. Randolph Churchill, the Prime Minister's son, were in the official party.

Sir Harry Lauder led the singing.

Red Cross First Aid Classes Begin

Red Cross first aid classes will begin at the High School Tuesday night at 7:30. Clarence W. Willard, Pitt county chairman of Red Cross first aid, announced today. The standard course in first aid will be taught. Miss Maggie Ellis and Mrs. Dave Proctor will be instructors. Classes will be held Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7:30 to 9:30.

All persons connected in any way with civilian defense are required to take the Red Cross first aid course. President Roosevelt, the army and navy and marine and air corps heads, governors of states and mayors of cities urge that young people and adults take the first aid training enables a person to save a life.

The first aid classes are free and the instructors give their time without compensation.

Siege With Big Guns Continues While the Russians Carry Out Series Of Counter-Attacks Along The Whole German-Russian Front

By CLYDE A. FARNSWORTH
(Associated Press War Editor)

At the end of seven weeks of terrific attack and epic defense, the indomitable defenders of Stalingrad have forced the Germans by the sheer tax on flesh and blood to halt mass troop assaults on that ruined but strategically valuable city.

With signs of a great defensive victory merging, the Russians themselves reported capture of "advantageous positions" in their flanking action northwest of Stalingrad—to the further peril of the immobile Germans—as well as gains by counter-attack in the Mosdok area of the Caucasus.

Adolf Hitler's time table for 1942 seems to have been beautifully scrambled.

For the third day the Germans and their puppets were largely confined to artillery and air assaults on Stalingrad. The Russian communiqué said that artillery and mortar duelling continued in the immediate Stalingrad area. The Germans actually had won positions inside the Volga city but failed to reach the river.

The reiterative thump of the German Minenwerfer and the grumble of deep cannon while Axis troops dug in to hold their Stalingrad wedges were nothing like the Fuehrer intended when on Sept. 30 he declared:

"We shall take Stalingrad, you may depend on that."

Typical of the price level by the Russians on the German front effort to save the Fuehrer's race as Stalingrad was today's communiqué report that two companies of German troops were wiped out when the Germans attacked the outskirts of a Stalingrad workers' settlement.

For the first time in weeks the Stalingrad battle took a secondary place in the Russian communiqué—the Germans had been playing it down for days. The Russian communiqué took a broad approach by reporting continuing action on the whole Russian-German front.

In the Caucasus, the Germans were striving to take the Grozny oil fields southeast of Mosdok, but the Russians reported a counter-stroke with which they disrupted the German offensive and recaptured positions.

The Russians were reported advancing also in the zone southeast of Novorossisk, Black Sea port which the Germans now hold, storming a town house-by-house surrounded. American-made Jeeps were delivering anti-aircraft guns to the Caucasus front.

The German command also reported that a Russian group was "annihilated" in Stalingrad. That was the only direct mention of Stalingrad.

Mayor Proclaims Nat'l B.P.W. Week

The week of October 11-17, will be observed nationally as the 15th anniversary of National Business Women's Week. This is an event in which all of North Carolina will be deeply interested, because the Business and Professional Women's clubs have long been identified with the growth and progress of our state. An increasing number of women are taking an active part in the business and professional life of the state and also of the city of Greenville. The war emergency has greatly enlarged the program of Business and Professional Women's clubs, because inevitably women must continue to take a responsible part in the industrial, business and professional life of their communities. On every hand women have responded to the challenge of the hour with an unsurpassed spirit of loyalty and patriotism.

The influence of the local club, which is in its fifth year, has been felt and appreciated in Greenville. Whenever an opportunity has arisen in connection with any humane or progressive movement, the members of the Greenville club have been among the first to respond. The programs and achievements of our local club are of the highest standard, and their members are among our best citizens.

It is earnestly hoped that all our citizens will cooperate in making this national business women's week a complete success.

This the 10th day of October, 1942. B. B. STODOL, Mayor of the City of Greenville, North Carolina.

OPA OFFICE OPENS HERE

Branch Here to Serve Twenty-One Counties

A branch of the Office of Price Administration, scheduled to open here October 1, was opened today at 217 East Fifth Street. The office will be in charge of John Hill Paylor, of Farmville, who has been serving as associate field attorney for OPA for some time.

The local office is a branch of the Raleigh office but was placed in Greenville to make more convenient the handling of price administration matters in 21 eastern counties of the state.

Besides Paylor the list of the personnel of the local office was given out today as follows:

Don Leach, ration officer; A. A. Chappell, field price officer; Stacie L. Bowen, Carl W. Willard and Claud J. Gray, assistant investigators; clerical employees include Mrs. Hilda Rowlette, Mrs. Charles Gaskins, Mrs. Chester Walsh, Miss Bettie Tyson and Miss Emmie Lou Scales.

Tobacco Prices Climb Again Today

Season's sales on the Greenville tobacco market passed the 38 million pound mark today when offerings were heavy despite the rain over the week-end and prices showed still further increases.

Supervisor of Sales, R. C. Rankin said that the sales would all be completed by closing time of the market this afternoon. While prices on all grades showed improvement today the greater increases were in the better grades when some of the domestic buyers went as high as $2 above previous limits on some of the grades.

Fifth District Cases

Raleigh, Oct. 12 (AP)—The State Supreme Court will hear appeals from the Fifth and 16th judicial districts beginning tomorrow and will hand down opinions Wednesday on appeals previously heard. Only nine appeals from the two districts are docketed.

Says We Are Fighting For Oppressed People

Washington, Oct. 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt, terming the war a conflict to determine "whether the march of progress shall proceed or be halted by the totality of conquest," declared today that a United Nations victory will be "a victory for oppressed and enslaved people everywhere."

"Our cause is not only liberty for ourselves but liberation for others," he said in a Columbus day statement.

Tonight, at 10 o'clock (Eastern War Time) the President will broadcast a report to the nation, and the White House said his talk would have "domestic as well as international interest."

His Columbus day statement followed (200).

This was the American experiment, a bold experiment and successful. Our immigrant ancestors, yours and mine, made it successful.

But now the free nations we created on two continents, the very (Continued on Page Four)

Crute-Smith.

Miss Marie Anne Smith became the bride of Lieutenant William Elam Crute, Jr., United States Army, in an impressive ceremony celebrated Sunday afternoon at 5:30 in Eighth Street Christian Church. The Reverend R. E. Crossfield was the officiating minister.

On the church altar ferns formed a background for the urns of white gladioli and chrysanthemums. Seven-branched candelabra at each side of the altar held burning cathedral candles. Cut flowers and fern decorated the choir loft.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Ray Tyson, aunt of the bride, presented a program of wedding music. Selections included "Indian Love Call," by Primi; "To An Evening Star" from "Trauhaus"; "Lebestraum" and "Vendetta Love Song," by Nevin. While the vows were being spoken, the organist softly played "I Love You Truly" by Carrie Jacobs Bond. The traditional wedding marches by Wagner and Mendelssohn were used for the processional and recessional.

Mrs. Knott Proctor, cousin of the bride, sang "O Promise Me" and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." Both Mrs. Tyson and Mrs. Proctor wore vestments.

Ushers were Robert Lee Smith, James Thomas Smith, brothers of the bride, Levi Hines, Jr., of Kinston, and John Crute of Wilson. The groomsmen were Lieutenant Frank Binz of Sarasota, Florida, and Lieutenant Larry Schryer of San Francisco, California.

Mr. James Crute, Jr. of Wilson, was the groom's best man. The bride was attended by Miss Jane Smith as maid of honor. Mrs. Lovit Hines, Jr., of Kinston, was matron of honor. Miss Smith and Mrs. Hines wore dresses of open blue velvet made with fitted bodice, full skirt, three-quarter length sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. Their Juliet caps were of matching velvet and they carried arm bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums tied with gold ribbon. The bridesmaids were Misses Bernice Smith and Frances Clarke. Their dresses were identical in color with those of the maid and matron of honor. Little Misses Barbara Jean Bullard and Edwina McMullen were the flower girls. Their dresses were of pink net and they carried a basket of yellow and blue flowers showered with ribbons.

The bride entered with her father, Mr. William Hugh Smith, by whom she was given in marriage. She wore an exquisite gown of luminous white slipper satin styled round white molded bodice with high round yoke and marquisette eras as well as lovely seed pearls, long light-fitting sleeves and full floor-length skirt with sweeping train. The bride's veil of white illusion was worn full length and was attached to a high coronet of seed pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of white gardenias and bouvardia.

Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride, was dressed in brown with a blue yoke of sequins and wore a shoulder corsage an orchid. Mrs. Crute, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dress of blue crepe and also wore an orchid.

For traveling the bride wore a purple velvet dress with matching hat. Black accessories were used, and her shoulder corsage was an orchid.

Mrs. Crute, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hugh Smith, is a graduate of Greenville High School and attended Blackstone Junior College. She is also a graduate of East Carolina Teachers College.

Lieutenant Crute is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Elam Crute of Wilson. He attended Oak Ridge Military Academy and for several years was employed by the Wilson Tobacco Company.

Out-of-town wedding guests included: Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Crute, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Blalock, Mrs. Francis Tidale, Mrs. C. B. Green of Boynton, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. U. M. Marshman, Misses Jean and Elele Marshman of Rocky Mount; Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Collins, Miss Mary Frances Collins, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Crute, Miss Mary Alice Young, Mr. Earl Young, Capt. Ralph Giles, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crute of Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. Lovit Hines, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hines, Miss Hazel Faulkner, of Kinston; Mrs. C. R. Townsend, Misses Nita Lee and Mary Anne Townsend of Farmville.

Christian Science Church. "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, October 11.

The Golden Text was from Psalm 3:8. "Salvation belongeth unto the Lord: thy blessing is upon thy people."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases; who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with lovingkindness, and tender mercies." (Ps. 103:2-4).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Sin, sickness, and death are comprised in human material belief, and belong not to the divine Mind. They are without a real origin or existence. They have neither Principle nor permanence, but belong, with all that is material and temporal, to the nothingness of error, which simulates the creations of Truth. All creations of Spirit are eternal; but creations of matter must return to dust."

Breaks Ankle. Frank Diener, Jr., fell from his bicycle on Friday, breaking his ankle. He is confined to his home on West Third street.

Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
October 12, 1902

Democracy stands for equal and just laws to all the people; for the greatest good to the greatest number. It is opposed to laws that give any man or set of men the power to fatten at the expense of the people.

Beefsteak for forty-four cents a pound in Berlin. This is in contrast to the protection given to German farmer in raising of cattle to supply the home market. While the cattle raisers are getting exorbitant prices, the balance of the people go without meat.

An encouraging sign of the times is the statement of the Indiana labor commissioners of the growing favor for arbitration as a mode of settling labor disputes.

The King's Daughters Meet. The Patient Circle of the King's Daughters held their first fall meeting with Mrs. Richard Williams at her home on Green street, October 8th.

The prayer of the order was used for the opening. The devotional was given by the president, Subject, "The Happiest One, Jesus of Nazareth."

Which would you choose for a leader, a gloomy person or a cheery happy one? I am sure we all will agree with Shakespeare that a merry heart goes all the day. A sad heart tires in a mile. I heard the outdoor work. His father's world; he loved children. Then follow a gladly welcome guest at feasts and at weddings. Then this expression of his which is repeated over and over again is this: "Be of good cheer" and the queer thing is that he said it most often when events were anything but cheerful.

"Be of good cheer. I have overcome the world." All this was built upon his love for and trust in God, and his service for others. Do we want happiness? Are we trying to find it for ourselves? Jesus of Nazareth found it in making it for others. Let us as King's Daughters try this way by leaving self for service—in Jesus way.

After the secretary and treasurer's report and plates were collected, plans for the fall work were discussed.

The circle voted to contribute to the Laughinghouse bed and to the Christmas card fund for the soldiers. Mrs. Moyer read the resolutions for Mrs. Bryan. The circle voted to go to the surgical dressing rooms each week for as many hours as possible. Ten promised to go October 9. The meeting adjourned to meet in November with Mrs. Hortense Moyer.—Reported.

College Service. Because of a downpour of rain just at the vesper hour last night, the pledge service of dedication for students joining the YWCA and YMCA at the college was postponed, and those who were present in spite of the rain, spent the time in a song service. Charlotte Shearin, president of the YWCA, presided.

The other week-end service on Friday night, given at the Y Hut, was shared with the group by Willie Mae Daniels, a sophomore, and Miss Louise Williams of the faculty, of their experiences this past summer at leadership conferences sponsored by the American Youth Foundation.

The devotional period was led by W. S. Johnson, and the speakers were presented by Mabel S. Watson, Forum chairman of the YWCA.

Miss Daniel sketched briefly the life of the founder of the American Youth Foundation and his chief aim, the four-square life. She then described the setting of the camp on the shores of Lake Michigan and gave the daily schedule, followed by the 35 girls in camp. Her description of the atmosphere of the camp brought out the purpose and spirit that made it different from most camps.

In giving something of the spirit of the place, Miss Williams said that to her the camp made life seem "all of a piece," with nothing set off in a pigeon hole from anything else, and described the adults gathered there as people ready to say "We are seekers." She was particularly impressed by the power and creativity of "group dances" as presented there. She limited herself to a discussion of some of the ideas presented by two of the speakers, giving them in a way to show their bearing on her own audience.

For the vesper service this Friday night there will be an outside speaker, and on Sunday night Evelyn Stewart a student, will talk on "Our Supreme Allegiance to Christ."

Joint Hostesses. Grifton, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Elmo Smith and Mrs. Bill Cole were joint hostesses on Thursday night when they entertained at a pretty party at the home of Mrs. Smith. Lovely arrangements of Mexican sunflowers and roses were used as decorations throughout the rooms where four tables were placed for bridge.

After several progressions the high score prize went to Mrs. Ben G. Tucker. The hostesses served a delectable salad plate with lead drinks. Guests were Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. Norwood Lockhart, Mrs. Julius Chanancy, Mrs. F. L. Cox, Mrs. Milton Hart, Mrs. Edward Hart, Mrs. L. B. Cox, Mrs. Walter Patrick, Mrs. Clay Burney, Mrs. Ned McGlohon, Mrs. Wiley Gaskins, Mrs. Carey Garris, Misses Mollie and Pallie Taylor and Eugenia Smith.

West Greenville P. T. A. Meets. The Parent-Teacher Association of West Greenville School held its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday afternoon, October 7. Mrs. W. J. Lewis, president, presided.

Miss Jane Hadley read the Scripture and led us in the Lord's Prayer.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was then given.

Miss Agnes Fullilove gave a report from the Welfare Committee concerning the lunch room and the "eye clinic" which will be held on October 21 and 22.

Mrs. Lewis then appointed the committees which are to serve during the school year 1942-43.

Mrs. B. F. Singleton outlined the plans of the Program Committee for this year as follows: November, Dr. R. J. Slay will speak on "Nutrition"; December, Rev. A. H. Campbell is to talk on "Why the School Census Was Taken"; January, Mayor B. B. Sugg will discuss "Civilian Defense"; February, the West Greenville Glee Club will present the program; March, Dr. A. D. Frank is to discuss "Current Events"; April, the program will be presented by the West Greenville piano pupils of Mrs. W. O. Prandle; May, the topic is to be "Summer Recreation."

The new members of the West Greenville faculty, Miss Elizabeth Norman and Mrs. R. E. Sellers, were introduced by Miss Fullilove.

A very interesting talk on "Girl Scouting" was given up by Miss Jane McConnell, Girl Scout leader of Greenville. She called to our attention the large part of the world that is saved by this organization. She said that the main objective of the Girl Scout organization is to teach girls, through fun, to meet the needs of today and tomorrow. Miss McConnell stressed the importance of trained leaders and expressed a hope that some West Greenville mothers would be interested in becoming Girl Scout leaders.

Mr. Con Lanier, who was to be our speaker, was unable to attend, so Miss Fullilove explained to us the Constitutional Amendment which is to come up for a vote on November 3. This amendment will consolidate the present five boards into one Board of Education. This central board is to assume all the duties of the present five boards. It is to be made up of three ex-officio members—the Governor, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the State Treasurer—and 12 others appointed by the Governor, one from each of the 12 Congressional Districts. Miss Fullilove urged those present to discuss this amendment with their friends and, if possible, with the laymen of Greenville. It was a very inspiring report on the activities of West Greenville children in regard to the "Scrap Metal Drive" was given by Miss Laura Taylor.

Miss Fullilove extended a special invitation to the parents to visit the school during American Education Week, November 3-14.

The attendance prize was won by Mrs. George Gardner's third grade.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.—Reported.

Entertaining Contract Club. Grifton, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Eleanor Gosnell was gracious hostess on Thursday night at her home here, where she entertained members of her contract club. Four tables were placed for the games in the living room, where lovely fall flowers were used as decorations. After several progressions the high score awards went to Mrs. L. D. McCarter and Mrs. Thurman Williams. Mrs. J. T. Bigner was given guest prize.

Making up the tables were Mrs. R. E. Nelson, Mrs. Robert Mewborn, Mrs. L. L. Mewborn, Mrs. Ivan Bisette, Mrs. Vance Wick, Mrs. Jack Chapman, Mrs. Jack Tucker, Mrs. Alton Chapman, Mrs. Josh Worthington, Mrs. A. D. Wall, Miss Louise Moberg, Miss Bert Johnson and Miss Marie Chapman. Miss Gosnell served a delicious sweet course.

College Service. Because of a downpour of rain just at the vesper hour last night, the pledge service of dedication for students joining the YWCA and YMCA at the college was postponed, and those who were present in spite of the rain, spent the time in a song service. Charlotte Shearin, president of the YWCA, presided.

The other week-end service on Friday night, given at the Y Hut, was shared with the group by Willie Mae Daniels, a sophomore, and Miss Louise Williams of the faculty, of their experiences this past summer at leadership conferences sponsored by the American Youth Foundation.

The devotional period was led by W. S. Johnson, and the speakers were presented by Mabel S. Watson, Forum chairman of the YWCA.

Miss Daniel sketched briefly the life of the founder of the American Youth Foundation and his chief aim, the four-square life. She then described the setting of the camp on the shores of Lake Michigan and gave the daily schedule, followed by the 35 girls in camp. Her description of the atmosphere of the camp brought out the purpose and spirit that made it different from most camps.

In giving something of the spirit of the place, Miss Williams said that to her the camp made life seem "all of a piece," with nothing set off in a pigeon hole from anything else, and described the adults gathered there as people ready to say "We are seekers." Library News
Among the new books recently added to the Sheppard Memorial Library are these of special interest and varied appeal:
"The Seventh Cross," by Anna Seghers—This novel translated from the German tells in scents of authenticity the story of one man's escape from the Nazi hell, Westofen. But more than escape, this is the record of man's resistance to brutality.
"The Cup and the Sword" by Alice Tisdale Robert—A novel about the wine-land of California and how one French-American family prospered to its heart's content. The theme is colorful, the treatment romantic.
"They Were Expensible" by W. L. White—The heroic story of the MTB's at Manila, narrated by Lieut. Bulkeley and his Junior Grades. This tells as no other book what the young Americans experienced and thought during the fall of the Philippines.
"Last Train From Berlin" by Howard K. Smith—How does it feel to be living in Germany after three years of war? This is the most graphic answer we have yet had.
"Small Town South" by Sam Byrd—Here we find all the tragedy, comedy, sleepiness and bustle of that familiar small town that is not more than one generation from its infancy.
"The Lieutenant's Lady" by Bess Streeter Aldrich—This is her first full-length novel in over three years—it was well worth waiting for.

Let's Go, North Carolina... Let's Top the Nation!

Uncle Sam Needs All Old Metal...NOW

SO, GET IN THE SCRAP

Men! Women! Children! This Job Is YOURS. It Is Urgent. It Is Vital. We MUST NOT Fail Our Boys in the Service.

Our Nation is calling for scrap metal. The need is real and very urgent.

Steel cannot be made without scrap, so every pound of old iron and steel you can find means guns, ships and tanks to put Victory into the hands of our boys in the service.

Copper is short. Aluminum is needed. Tin is scarce. Production cannot wait. These things are needed NOW!

That call means us, North Carolina! Let's go! Today! Let's show the Nation how North Carolina delivers in an emergency. Let's put North Carolina's name at the top of the list of states for pounds collected per capita.

Scrap is everywhere—in homes, on farms, on business premises. Today, gather up all the scrap you can find. Turn it in at your local collection depot or sell it to the scrap man. He is cooperating in the drive. He will pay you full scrap price. For special information call your local Salvage County Committee.

Our Nation can win only if every person does his utmost. Here is your chance to do one job that is vitally needed NOW. Only you know where your scrap is. Only you can find it and bring it out where it will be used. Success depends on you. We must not fail!

Win for your County! Win for your State! Win for America! $3,300.00 IN PRIZES IN WAR BONDS

To spur North Carolina's effort in the Scrap Collection drive participating newspapers of North Carolina are giving $3,300.00 in War Bond prizes to the leading counties, the leading business firm, the leading junior club or school, and the leading individual.

All scrap turned in between October 1 and October 21, whether taken to a collection depot or sold to a scrap dealer, applies on your county total.

So it's a race! County vs. County, School vs. School, Club vs. Club. Everyone in competition for the prizes, but working together to start North Carolina scrap on its way to Tokyo and Berlin by the quickest and most devastating route. Let's go, North Carolina!

PLEASE READ THE RULES

LEADING COUNTY WINS: $1,000.00
IN WAR BONDS, TO BE GIVEN TO THE CHARITY OF ITS CHOICE

SECOND COUNTY: $500.00
IN WAR BONDS

FIRST BUSINESS FIRM: $300.00
IN WAR BONDS

FIRST INDIVIDUAL: $150.00
IN WAR BONDS AND STAMPS

First Junior Club or School: $75.00
IN WAR BONDS AND STAMPS

Every North Carolina Boy and Girl Should Wear One of These Badges Before Contest Ends—October 21st

Here is a picture of today's BADGE OF HONOR... One will be given for each 25 pounds of scrap turned in. It is hoped that at least 700,000 of these badges can be given away for then there will be at least one Badge of Honor in every North Carolina family. Get yours from your salvage collector.

RULES OF THE CONTEST

PURPOSE

To encourage the collection in North Carolina of every possible pound of scrap metal to help meet the nation's war needs; to make North Carolina one of the first states in the Nation to complete an exhaustive clean-up of this material; to supplement and encourage all activities of other agencies gathering this vitally-needed war material.

PLAN

Prizes will be given by the participating newspapers of North Carolina to the North Carolina county, business firm, individual, and units of junior boys' or girls' organizations or schools turning in free or selling to dealers the most scrap metal in the three weeks, according to the prize rules. It does not matter whether the scrap metal is given free to the government or sold to dealers. It all counts in the prize competition. The main purpose is to get all the scrap for the government. Get a receipt to show your County Committee.

PRIZES

Prizes given by participating newspapers of North Carolina will be series E and F War Bonds as follows:

- $1,000 War Bond will be awarded to the county reporting the greatest total percentage of scrap metal collection per capita.
- $500 War Bond to the county reporting the second largest collection per capita.
- $100 War Bond to the county in each Congressional District reporting the largest collection per capita. (Counties winning the two prizes above not eligible).
- $300 War Bond to the business firm turning in the largest percentage of scrap metal.
- $150 War Bond to the individual delivering the largest number of pounds.
- $75 War Bond to the local junior organization or school delivering the largest percentage in the State.
- $50 War Bond to the local junior organization or school delivering the second largest percentage in the State.
- $25 War Bond to the local junior organization or school delivering the third largest percentage in the State.

The prizes going to counties are to be used for some charity or public purpose of general value to the county. The local salvage committee in conjunction with the local chairman of Civilian Defense shall designate the organization to receive the prize War Bond. If they so elect a contest among eligible organizations may be carried on in the various counties.

ELIGIBILITY

Every person residing within a county is eligible to contribute to that county's total collection. Persons and their families engaged in the business of buying and selling scrap iron, or collecting it on a commission, are not eligible to compete as individuals or firms. They may, however, help to increase the county's total by initiating scrap collection, the contest credit to go to the originator.

All firms, partnerships and corporations and their employees (living in the State) not engaged in the business of scrap buying or collection are eligible to collect scrap metal to be entered in the name of the firm. The same material, however, may not be credited to both a firm and an individual. Every individual living in the State and not engaged in the business of collecting scrap metal is eligible to compete for the individual prize. Every school or State junior organization (in units) such as 4-H Clubs, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, etc., is eligible to compete for the junior prizes.

PROCEDURE

The County Salvage Committee will within each county be in charge of the program. All scrap metal must be received at point of delivery. (Call your local salvage committee or representative for location of delivery point.) Credit in the contest will be ONLY upon the basis of such receipts. Be sure to get a receipt in pounds. Each county will telegraph the total of the previous day's collections each day during the contest, these results to be published regularly as a box score to heighten interest in the contest. Additional local contests and local prizes will be encouraged by the county committees under rules they may prescribe. In all questions of interpretation of the rules of the contest the decision of the Newspaper Salvage Contest Committee will be final.

JUDGES

The judges of this contest will be a committee of three, named by Mr. James B. Vagler, Executive Secretary for the North Carolina Salvage Committee. The decisions of this committee of judges as to the winners will be final.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

ELEVATOR NOT RUNNING

When the mother of Balzac, the great French man of letters, sent her twenty-year old son out into the world to fashion for himself a career, it was with these words: "Write your masterpiece! And do not forget that in your profession there is no middle state; you must be king—or be only a laborer."

Thereupon young Balzac betook himself to Paris, rented a little room on the top floor of a cheap boarding house, and seated at an old table in front of a dormer window he started to write tragedies and novels. It was during these years that he formed those habits of diligence made him one of the most voluminous writers among the literary men of the world, as well as one of the most distinguished. When he died, at the age of fifty-one, his mother was at his bedside and standing beside her was the great Victor Hugo. The boy had taken his mother's advice seriously and had done the work which had made him a king among the literary men of his day.

Too many people keep pressing the button impatiently, wondering when the elevator will come along and whisk them to the top floors of success. But life doesn't work that way. The elevator isn't running in the temple of success. There is plenty of room upstairs, but you have to get there by climbing.

DON'T SLOW DOWN NOW

Come on folks. Let's get the rest of that scrap metal turned in. We have done good so far but the job cannot be considered well done unless we get every piece of available scrap in this county placed in the hands of those who can use it in our war effort. Don't slow down now. Let's do a 100 per cent job of it.

THE SAME KIND OF FAITH WILL PULL US THROUGH

It was 450 years ago today that Columbus after a hazardous journey discovered America which became the cradle of liberty and freedom. In connection with Columbus' voyage it has been pointed out that he was operating on borrowed money and apparently didn't know where he was going, but in the end he discovered America.

There are many persons at this time who spend much of their time criticizing our government, its war efforts, and asking whether or not our officials know what they are doing. If these people will have the same faith that was displayed by Columbus and back it up with the same amount of effort and determination our victory will be assured and we will preserve for the world the freedom that was made possible by Columbus' discovery of America.

As an American believing in liberty and freedom, are you doing your part to assure victory for our government and its allies in the present world struggle?

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

Washington.—If Elmer Davis, the director of the Office of War Information, hadn't done anything but cut or curtail the publication of 523 government publications, his appointment would have been justified.

His order is a good deal more severe than it appears on the surface and it is just the beginning. Davis at the same time set up the Inter-Agency Publications Committee with instructions that it report within a month on further eliminations and curtailments. Also, while Davis' handymen were making their original survey, a lot of agencies got busy and did their own discontinuing and curtailing, some agencies cutting as much as 40 per cent their output of publications, official reports, news releases, etc.

How many bales of such stuff rolls off the government presses every month is anybody's guess.

Certainly for the duration, we can't struggle along without such things as the Index-Catalogues of Medical and Veterinary Zoology; the Department of Agriculture Extension Service Recreational Letter; the Bureau of Plant Industry Cereal Courier; some of the issues of World Economic Notes; the routine press releases on Domestic Economy; the Molybdenum Report; and the Foreign Minerals Quarterly.

Washington is the arsenal of rumor. Some interesting ones that persist are:

(1) That Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, won't go to England to take over personally second front activities.

(2) That President Roosevelt in coming weeks will be seen and heard more often—personally, on the radio and in the newsreels.

(3) That Mme. Chiang Kai-shek is on her way to visit the United States.

(4) That the post-election period will see the civilian man-power and armed forces go into high gear, in drafting men for military duty and essential industry and the resultant upheaval in everyday life will be something that Mr. A. Citizen doesn't now even dream of.

(5) That Ferdinand Eberstadt and C. E. Wilson, the new vice-chairmen of WPB, are really making the fur fly and will have the production mess straightened out within a few months. And that they will do it by going back to our old post-World War I industrialization plan—the one that the Nazis swiped, revamped slightly and used to build the production machinery with which they are still carrying on their war against the world.

son is that the two are go-betweeners for the armed services and the public.

Censorship of news relating to operations originates with the Navy, Army or Air Force. Fighting branches are notoriously inclined to maintain silence. Admiral Thomson admitted this to me with a grin. It becomes a matter of persuasion on the part of the Ministry of Information when one of the services gets sticky about giving up news.

There is liberal interpretation on the rule excluding the publication on information which might aid the enemy. He is given full credit for having an intelligence service which keeps him informed. The British public isn't made to wait unless it is obvious that circulation of news would do harm.

liberties we made law, are endangered by destructive forces from without. We are in the midst of mankind's greatest war, a war to determine whether the march of progress shall proceed or be halted by the totality of conquest.

Our cause is not only liberty for ourselves but liberation for others. An American victory will be a United Nations victory and a victory for oppressed and enslaved people everywhere. I like to remember on this significant anniversary the words of a contemporary poet:

ALLIED PLANES BLASTING JAPS

Two Direct Hits Scored On Seaplane Tender

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, Oct. 12—(AP)—Allied medium bombers, following up two successive night assaults by flying fortresses on the Japanese base at Rabaul, New Britain, heavily damaged a 10,000-ton seaplane tender southeast of that island yesterday, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

Two direct hits were scored on the vessel, which when last seen was motionless and apparently badly crippled, the announcement said.

Pilots participating in the attack reported that 12 planes were visible on the upper deck of the tender and observers believed the craft might have been engaged in carrying plans to outlying Japanese bases—perhaps in the Solomons or in New Guinea, where enemy troops have been suffering from an acute lack of air support.

Musicians Win In Court Fight

Chicago, Oct. 12 (AP)—Federal Judge John P. Barnes today refused the government's request to restrain James C. Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians, and the federation from enforcing its ban against making recordings.

Thurston Arnold, assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust proceedings, came from Washington to argue personally. After hearing more than an hour of argument by Arnold, Judge Barnes made his ruling without hearing the Petrillo side of the suit which Joseph A. Padway, general counsel for the American Federation of Labor, was prepared to submit.

Negroes Lynched In Mississippi

Shubuta, Miss., Oct. 12—(AP)—The bodies of two 14-year-old Negro boys were found today swinging from a railroad trolley under which they attacked a 13-year-old white girl last week.

Sheriff Lloyd McNeal of Clarke county, investigating reports of the absence of the youths from Quitman jail where they were held, found the bodies of Charlie Lang and Ernest Green.

They had been arrested last Tuesday and pleaded guilty to attempted rape of the girl, who was waylaid on her way home from school.

The sheriff said a mob of unidentified men overpowered the jailer Sunday, locked him in a cell and proceeded with the lynching.

U. S. Troops Reach Africa

London, Oct. 12 (AP)—Reuters reported from Johannesburg today that United States troops arrived recently in the Union of South Africa and had visited Johannesburg.

Reuters said the visit was an official one and that the troops were taken on a sight-seeing tour and entertained at tea by the mayor.

There are no national holidays in the U. S. Each state has jurisdiction over the observances.

following day," Mr. Rose stated.

The above mentioned letter received the day following the school board's action says in part:

"The rationing of gasoline is within the jurisdiction of the Office of Price Administration, and questions of eligibility should be raised with your local rationing board. It is safe to say, however, that these buses would not be eligible for either gasoline or tires if they were used for the transportation of athletic teams.

The official order from W. H. Hofer, state rationing officer, also referred to above is as follows:

"It is the opinion of the state OPA legal division that no gasoline ration shall be issued or may be used under the provisions of rationing order 5A, for the operation of any 'motor vehicle' or boat for the purpose of transporting any school, college, or amateur athletic teams, or representatives to and from places where their contests are held."

In issuing his statement this morning Mr. Rose declared he hoped that these facts would clear up any misunderstanding that might have been brought about in the minds of the citizens by the action of the school board.

"We expect to abide by the rationing laws and any other rulings that will help our country to win the war," Mr. Rose said, "and the children in the schools are 100 per cent behind it. Under these circumstances we will endeavor to carry out a well rounded physical education program within the schools."

JOE LOUIS TO QUIT THE RING

Brown Bomber Says Winning War is Big Fight Now

By SID FEDEB
New York, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Unless Joe Louis changes his mind—or Uncle Sam changes it for him—the greatest fistic career of this era is ended.

The quiet, simple colored boy who skyrocketed out of an Alabama cotton patch into such fistic fame that many experts rank him as the greatest fighter of all time, paused in Omaha yesterday to say casually that his "fightin' days are over."

He said it in the typical Louis way, without frills or drum-beating, the same way in which he dropped all the glory and financial success that goes with the heavy-weight championship to enlist in the United States army as a private last January.

"By the time this war is over," he reckoned, "I'll be in my 30's, and that's too old for a fighter. I'm too old for it now."

"I know, I really don't care much any more about going back into the ring."

Of course, it would all change if the War Department decides to let Joe—he's a sergeant now—out to toss his bombs again. But the army already has turned thumbs down on one fight for the bomber—his eagerly-looked-for return go with Corporal Billy Conn.

"I'll do anything the army asks," Joe said. "I'm in the army now and they're taking care of my plans."

Naturally, Joe could change his mind. He wouldn't be the first champion who couldn't get the "rosin out of his blood." But matters stand now, the bomber, at 28, is giving up a reign that already has netted purses of more than $2,000,000 and has broken all records for successful defenses of the fight game's most prized bauble. He has turned back 21 challengers since he won the crown from old rough-and-ready Jim Braddock back in 1937, and no champ ever came within shouting distance of that mark.

Louis' statement, which he made to Associated Press Staff Reporter David Kaufman after marching with the Fort Riley (Kansas) precision drill team in an exhibition, left the fight world gasping in astonishment.

Tony's Headed For Last Round-Up

Forty-two-year-old Tony, the horse Tom Mix bought for $14 and rode to fame in western pictures that thrilled screen audiences for a generation, games mournfully into the camera at San Fernando, Calif., as if aware he is to be put to final sleep by a veterinarian. The former "wonder horse" has become weary, rheumatic and almost toothless. It was decided to destroy him to end his suffering.

A Promise for Tomorrow

Chapter 21
Pain In Her Heart
Julie's dread interview with Harry Kelland left her emotionally upset for the remainder of the day. The older man's drawn white face, his quiet, almost resigned acceptance of her bad news had been heart-breaking. Harry Kelland was no longer the hard-driving, ruthless money-maker he'd always been. Something—or someone—had broken the man's spirit. He was beaten. Even the tone of his voice showed it.

"She's dead," Mr. Kelland repeated senselessly at the end of the third day of fruitless waiting for some news from the searchers on the mountain. "My poor little girl. Don't give up, yet, Mr. Kelland." Julie tried to cheer him. "They haven't found the body. Until then, there is still hope that she is alive and safe somewhere."

He shook his head. "Where would she go? Why wouldn't she notify me?"
That of course was unanswerable. "Was there anyone living near the cabin with whom she might have taken refuge? Anyone camping on your property—any of the rangers that she knew—?"
There was no one, Kelland repeated doggedly.

But even as he said it, Julie sensed that he was lying. There was something about all this that didn't ring true. That a man of Kelland's temperament was content to sit at home patiently waiting for news that never came, to resign himself so easily to the death of his beloved daughter—it just couldn't happen! Either he was playing some kind of game—or his illness had altered him tragically.

Pete Is Changed
She didn't have an opportunity to discuss her suspicions with Pete until late that evening. He called her just after dinner.

"Julie, I'm stuck down here at the yard office. Been rushed breathless since I got back. Haven't had a minute to talk to you. Would it be too much to ask you to drop in down here when you finish your calls tonight?"
"Why no. Of course not. I want to see you a minute. And it will be impossible for me to get through here much before midnight probably."

"I'll be there," she promised. "Probably around nine."
It was after ten when she waited at the gate for permission to drive on into the yard. Men on the MacArthur shift were beginning to pour through the gates. Everywhere was teeming activity. And much of all this speedy production, Julie thought proudly, could be credited to Pete Fowler, Jr.

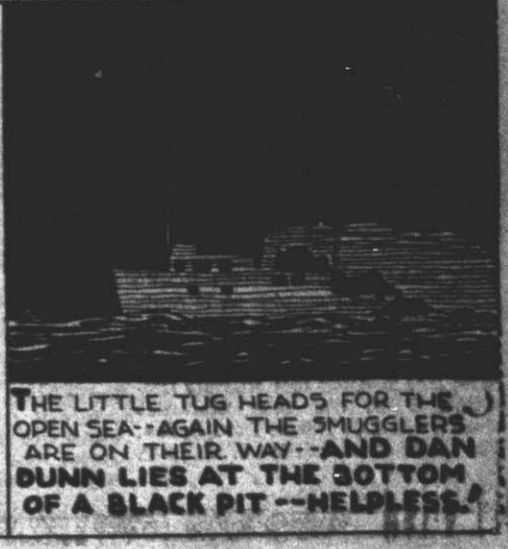

Pete looked tired, she noticed when a few moments later she stepped into the tiny cubicle that was his office. Smiling, he pulled a chair up for her, pushed back the blueprints spread out on his desk.

"You're working too hard, Pete," Julie said anxiously. "You weren't supposed to come back to the office for more than half a day to start with."
He grinned. "The boys on Bataan couldn't lay off half a day! This—" he nodded at the pile of blueprints, "is more important."
Julie smiled. "That's good news—coming from you, Pete." And wondered if he'd forgotten the vehemence with which he had once de-

He looked at her sharply. "What do you mean, now?"
"Now that you can see a 'front line' can be right here at home."
"Don't tell me I'm agreeing with you," he laughed. "Being guided by a smart woman! Not here, Little Sis. It's what you intended. I should decide all along, wasn't it?"
Pushing, Julie shook her head. "I only hoped you'd decide it."
"Great Scott! A fellow's a fool to think he can get ahead of a smart woman!" he said, still teasing. "Well, put your wits to work on this problem, Doctor Julie." He went on, more seriously.
And, Julie realized aching, exactly as if she were a man, a fellow-worker, a team-mate.
More Chases
"I thought you'd want to know that we've collected a couple of clues to Dawn's disappearance," he announced calmly.
"What?"
"A couple in a green phaeton stopped for gas at the station just below the intersection of the ocean highway and the Santa Felice road shortly after midnight last Sunday. They headed north."
"Was it Dawn?"
Pete shrugged. "The station attendant couldn't describe her. But he did say the man was dark-skinned, tall, dressed in riding clothes."
"Did you notify the police?"
"Yes and they radioed the description. But after all, we were about 24 hours too late." He looked at her steadily. "I think the F. B. I. ought to hear your story."
Julie shook her head. "Not yet, Pete. Suppose Dawn is merely having a love affair? After all, it might have been merely coincidence that the fire started. And tankers are passing all the time."
"Maybe, but it isn't coincidence that I've been shadowed every moment of the time since I got back from the Kelland place Monday."
"Shadowed?" Julie echoed, startled. "But—why?"
"Somebody thinks I know too much, I guess."
Julie felt fright take hold of her heart. "Or someone realizes how important you are to the work going on at this shipyard."

on at this shipyard."
He laughed again. "Don't take me that seriously, Julie. Maybe some guy doesn't like the way I part my hair."
"Seriously, Pete, you must be careful," she said anxiously. "Do you really think it has anything to do with Dawn's disappearance?"
"Don't know," he shrugged. "Might. Suppose you have a talk with Kelland in the morning, find out if he's heard anything. If not, we'll get in touch with the Bureau. The longer we delay reporting it the less value the information will be."
Julie nodded. "Poor Mr. Kelland. I dread having him involved in an investigation."
"Don't waste too much pity on him, Julie," Pete said dryly. "He hasn't exactly spent his life shedding sweetness and light, you know."
But Julie couldn't help hoping Dawn wasn't involved in anything criminal or treacherous. Because chief among those betrayed would be Pete!
"I don't really believe Dawn is seriously involved in sabotage or arson," Pete said slowly. "If in answer to her thought. But her sweetness, her generosity could be imposed on. We've got to help her out."
Julie watched him, a smile on her lips, but a pain in her heart. Whether she deserved it or not, Dawn still had Pete's loyalty.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist
New York, Oct. 12 -- You probably can get a fresh idea on baseball's future from every guy in the business, but here's one angle that's brand new to us--relayed from a minor league club owner by Lawrence Skiddy of the Syracuse Herald-Journal... The owner figures that any effort to shorten the season would wreck the minors... Double-A players, he points out, get an average of about $2,000 for a 20-week season or $100 a week... Cut three weeks off that and they would get only $1,700 -- because without those Sunday doubleheaders the owners couldn't afford to pay as much as they would for a full season... The result... that most players would be sticking to their factory jobs, which pay almost that much the year round.

Today's Guest Star
Carl Bell Fort Smith, Ark. Southwest American: "In case Coach Homer Norton still is looking for an alibi for the Texas Aggies' loss to Louisiana State, he might find some connection in the fact that the game was played at night and that LSU's star back was Al Dark."

Scrap Collection
The Southern Conference again has turned down the proposal that freshmen be allowed to play varsity football, but we'll bet it wasn't the coaches who dit it... South Carolina's Rex Enright took a bunch along for last Saturday's non-conference game with West Virginia and Jim Tatum of North Carolina wanted to do the same for the Fordham game but couldn't get permission from his college... Only 21 clubs registered for the Sacramento, Calif., winter baseball league this year as compared to 49 last season... Kill Keefe of the New Orleans Times Picayune points out that the big problems in football from now on will be training and coaching. Railroad training and day coaches. Postponed Payoff.

When Chief Bender, the old Athletics' pitcher, made his pro baseball debut in Dillsworth, Pa., 41 years ago he was promised $5 for his day's work... The locals passed the hat and dumped the coins in Bender's hands, and when he counted the pennies and nickels the sum was $1.80 short... That's the way it stood until a couple of weeks ago... Then William Sheffer read about the occasion in a Philadelphia paper, and to clear his home town reputation he took up another collection to pay off the Chief.

FIGHT LOOMS ON TIRE ISSUE

Use Of Rayon Or Cotton Bone Of Contention

Washington, Oct. 12 - (AP) - Rubber Administrator William M. Jeffers told farm state senators today "we have gambled too damned long" already on the rubber situation in defending a WPB order to substitute rayon for cotton in heavy tire manufacture.

Despite a bombardment of questions from members of the Agricultural committee, most of whom were critical of the change, Jeffers declared that if Rayon did a "better job" than cotton "then I am for rayon."

"So far as I am concerned, and make no mistake about it," he continued, "I am not influenced by anybody or anyone."

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.) contended that seven of the nine members of a WPB advisory board which recommended the substitution were tire manufacturers and others interested in rayon.

Jeffers said he did not know whether that was correct, but "I'm assuming that in a war that you can trust Americans."

He asserted that expansion of rayon facilities would require a year to complete while tests of cotton were continuing.

If cotton will do the better job," he added, "I am for cotton."

In the meantime, Jeffers said, the rayon expansion would proceed as "we've been gambling too damned long on this situation - that's what's the matter with this situation."

Senator Downey (D-Calif.) announced that he and Senator Reynolds (D-NC) would introduce tomorrow a bill to permit the government to purchase private automobiles either through requisitioning or voluntary transfer.

Downey said the object was to permit the government to purchase older cars from persons engaged in essential war work, scrap them and replace them with cars "obtained by the government from sources less vital to the war effort."

Senator McKellar insisted construction of rayon facilities ought to be held up for the conclusion of the tests to see which would be the better to use, cotton or rayon cords.

"Do I understand you gentlemen to say to me that I am to continue to hold up this program for 60 to 80 days while tests are made on cotton?" the rubber administrator demanded.

Mrs. Forrest Died Suddenly At Home

Mrs. Martha Cooper Forrest, 50 died at her home near Bell Arthur at 2:45 a. m. Monday morning. Death was unexpected as Mrs. Forrest was in her usual good health. Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home by Rev. Gilbert Davis, Christian minister of Bell Arthur. Burial will follow in the Garris family cemetery near Frog Level.

Mrs. Forrest is survived by her husband, W. F. Forrest; three daughters, Miss Annie Laura Forrest of the home, Mrs. Herman Smith of Greenville, R-1, and Mrs. Otto House of Walsenburg; five sons, William A. Dainak, Rowan Ollie Franklin, Jesse Vernon, and Wallace Forrest, all of the home; five grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Cleveland Incent of Winterville, and two brothers, Dene Cooper of Winterville and Dallas Cooper of Bell Arthur.

Mrs. Forrest was reared in the Winterville community and lived there until about six years ago when she moved to Bell Arthur.

Must Get 400 Lbs. Scrap Or Go Jail

In Police Court today Judge J. W. H. Roberts sentenced Johnny Jackson, colored, to 30 days in jail for being drunk. His Honor suspended sentence provided Jackson does not drink any liquor for a year and report to the court on October 30 that he had brought in 500 pounds of scrap metal to the community salvage pile.

Jackson does not have to take in the scrap metal, but if he does he will not have to spend 30 days in jail. It's up to Jackson, the judge said.

The following cases were disposed of: James Freeman, found guilty of larceny from the person of Tom Tripp, was sentenced to six months on the county roads. About $19 of the missing $25 was recovered.

Lucille Ward, colored, drunk and disorderly, 30 days in jail or $25 fine, costs deducted.

Drunks: S. W. Page, colored, 30 days, suspended on payment of $25 fine, costs deducted, and he is not to drink liquor for a year. J. O. Edwards, 30 days or $15, costs deducted. Wiley Moore, colored, drew the same sentence. Zeno Little and Ephraim Harris, both colored, 30 days, or $25 fine, costs deducted; Sheppard Vance, colored, drew the same sentence and must pay $15 or go to jail. B. C. Manning, same offense, same sentence.

Disorderly conduct: Ernest Walston, colored, 30 days or $15 fine. Assault with deadly weapon and disorderly conduct: Willie Williams, 30 days, suspended on payment of $20, costs deducted.

Making left turn at Five Points: Johnny Conway, $3 on costs.

Scrap Collections Reach 23 Millions

Raleigh, Oct. 12 - (AP) - Headquarters for the state scrap drive reported collections to date amounted to 23,131,611 pounds.

Previously, the total had been given as 25,434,141 pounds. It was explained that the Harnett county total was 324,077 pounds instead of 3,240,077 as previously reported. The error was attributed to transmission to Raleigh of the report.

Durham county, with 2,578,744 pounds, leads in poundage, and Graham leads per capita collections with 62.2 pounds.

Tanker Is Sunk Off West Coast

A West Coast port, Oct. 12 (AP) - A Japanese submarine operating in the gloom of an October night, sank a coastwise tanker, killing six of the 44 men on board, the Navy disclosed.

Four of the men killed were members of a Navy gun crew. The other victims were the chief engineer and the third mate of the tanker. All of the 38 other men were saved, many of them by a lumber schooner that came upon the scene and dared attack by turning on its searchlights to hunt the survivors.

The sinking was the first off the Pacific coast announced since June. It was the eleventh reported submarine attack in west coast waters, and the fifth sinking.

The Navy announcement said the surprise attack occurred on a foggy night and that the gun crew had no chance to return the submarine's fire. Machine gun ammunition was exploded by the flames, hampering escape of the crew.

Approve Change Legion Charter

Washington, Oct. 12 - (AP) - Legislation to extend membership in the American Legion to veterans of the current war was approved today by a House Judiciary subcommittee.

The measure would amend the American Legion charter, granted September 16, 1919, "so as to extend membership eligibility therein to certain American citizens, non-orally discharged from the active military or naval forces of the United States, or of some country allied with the United States during World War II."
