

American And Japanese Naval Forces Fighting Hit And Run Battle Off Solomons

Both Sides Suffered Losses; Details to Be Withheld Until Battle Ends; Americans And Australians Begin Drive On Jap Beachheads In New Guinea

Washington, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Japanese and American warships sparred with each other in a battle of maneuver today as Allied jungle fighters closed in on the enemy stronghold at Buna, New Guinea.

The Navy reported that a "determined effort" was underway by the Japanese to recapture positions in the Guadalcanal-Tulagi area of the Solomon Islands, but said details would be withheld until the outcome of a running sea battle was decided.

The action at sea was described as "hit and run, hide and seek, touch and go."

Numerous enemy surface forces are active in the southeastern Solomons in an attempt to reinforce the enemy troops now on Guadalcanal and to disrupt our delivery of supplies to our forces which now occupy shore positions in this area," the Navy reported.

While official details were lacking here, the German radio broadcast a Tokyo dispatch declaring the fight would "decisively influence the whole war situation" and J. M. Makin, Australian Navy minister, said in Melbourne that the outcome might determine whether Australia is invaded.

Continuing their ceaseless hammering of enemy ships and supplies throughout the area, Allied bombers under General Douglas MacArthur's command struck the Japanese over American and Australian ground troops as they converged for an attack on Buna.

The Australian and American columns are in contact with each other and are jointly moving into attack," said a communique.

"The enemy, under command of Lieut. Gen. Tomotome Horii, now faces the Allies to the west and south, with the jungle and the sea at his back. Our air force is attacking without respite."

No mention was made of an enemy convoy previously reported off New Georgia island, northwest of Guadalcanal, which apparently was aimed at strengthening the Japanese forces that have been trying vainly to recapture Henderson airfield.

One 12,000 ton transport in this convoy was reported set afire by Allied attackers.

Heavy bombers also scored direct hit on two enemy ships in the harbor at Rabaul, New Britain, and started fires in the supply dump area at Malguna and in the docks area, where eight explosions were observed.

Want Names ECTC Alumni In Service

East Carolina Teacher's College wishes to secure the names and full addresses of all former students now with the armed forces.

Names of most of the Greenville boys have already been secured from their families, but some are probably still missing. Be sure your boy's name is there.

Only a few addresses of students from outside Greenville have been obtained. Relatives or friends of these boys and girls will please send their names and addresses as they now are, and later changes, if any are made, to Miss Maria D. Graham, in care of the College.

The Tecu Echo will be mailed regularly to all those full addresses are received. A Christmas letter will also be sent to each address secured in time.

Iron Rule For Civilians In Jap-Held Countries

Washington, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Japanese military authorities were reported by an American official observer today to have imposed an iron rule on the Philippines and Malaya, shooting without trial anyone who ventures into forbidden zones.

REDS GAINING OVER GERMANS

Make Successful Stabs At Long Nazi Lines

Moscow, Nov. 16.—(AP)—With a frigid, wintry wind sweeping across the steppes, the Red army again beat off German attacks within besieged Stalingrad, advancing slightly in the Caucasus and, in a surprise move far to the north, snatched a "place of great tactical importance" from the Germans on the Volkhov front between Lake Ilmen and Leningrad, the Russians announced today.

The Russian troops broke into the German-occupied community in an unnamed sector of the Volkhov front, forcing the Germans to withdraw, and then held it against all counter-attacks, the Soviet mid-day communique said.

"About one battalion of infantry was wiped out and war material was captured," the communique reported.

The action seemed to indicate that the Red army planned to take advantage of the German high command's preoccupation with the new front in North Africa with winter jobs at the long German line in Russia.

After a period of fierce fighting within Stalingrad during which, the report said, the Germans gained only a few yards, "over literally mountains of their dead," the action there again subsided yesterday.

The mid-day communique reported Soviet troops repulsed attacks by small enemy groups and three tank assaults by a German infantry battalion in one of the city's factory districts. Northwest of the city, a Soviet patrol raided German positions during the night and killed 60 Germans.

A slight advance southeast of Nalchik was reported. Here the Germans have been stalled for weeks in their effort to drive toward the northwest terminus of the Georgian military highway over the Caucasus mountains. Two hundred Germans were reported slain in a night engagement in the Nalchik area.

Northeast of Tuapse, too, the action apparently was on a small scale.

The midnight communique issued earlier said the Russians had improved their position south of Stalingrad by driving the Germans from a fortified point and entrenching themselves there after killing 120 of the enemy.

Asks People Aid In Rat Campaign

Mayor B. B. Sugg calls upon all citizens of Greenville to prepare for the rat campaign which begins Monday, November 23rd.

According to health authorities the way to prepare for a rat campaign is to see that no garbage is available to stop up rat holes in out-buildings and other harboring places.

The mayor declared that rats are not only destructive to property and therefore an economic problem but what is far more serious, the rat is a health menace being the carrier of the dreaded disease known as typhus fever.

He explained that the city campaign would consist of putting out rat poison and that rats would only eat such bait when he was unable to get other food. Therefore, if any are made, and later changes, if any are made, to Miss Maria D. Graham, in care of the College.

The Tecu Echo will be mailed regularly to all those full addresses are received. A Christmas letter will also be sent to each address secured in time.

German Prisoners Rounded Up In Egypt

These German soldiers were captured by the British on the first day of the current offensive in Egypt that drove Axis forces back into Libya. Guarded by smiling Australian troops, the prisoners await transportation to a prison camp in the rear of the Egyptian front. This is one in a series of British official pictures fresh from the battle zone.

SAYS PEOPLE MUST BE FED

America Must Provide For Occupied Countries Says Wickard

New York, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard told the New York Herald-Tribune forum on current problems today that it was "a political necessity that starvation disappear from any country occupied by American forces."

"We must make sure that re-occupation by our forces," he said in a prepared address, "will be accompanied by a swift and well-planned importation of food, seed and essential supplies."

Wickard said that there might be chaos behind the lines if freed people were not fed, but that when the word went out that freedom meant a square meal "the people in territory still under the conqueror will work just that much harder for liberation."

He told the forum that the United Nations were working together to get the most out of their food resources; that Britain had increased her cultivated acreage by half; that Australia and New Zealand were providing food for American soldiers stationed in their part of the Pacific, and that Canada was sending large amounts of grain and beef to Britain.

"The victorious British eighth army—as well as our own troops in Africa—is eating American foods, dried eggs, dried milk, canned pork, chow, orange juice and others," he said, and he added that more American food was going to Russia to meet mounting needs.

The secretary said that the United States raised 20 million more hogs this year than ever before and that the production of eggs would be about 600 million dozen over last year—an all-time record.

There is enough wheat in the ever-normal granary to last two average years without adding more, he said. He warned that next year the farm manpower situation would be serious and that as many skilled workers as possible must be left on farms.

During the next few months, he said, the nation will be short of beef, even though production is the largest on record. The reason is because of army requirements for tinned beef in quantities for expeditionary forces of maximum size.

Church Pays Off All Obligations

An important service is announced for the Christian Church next Sunday, November 22, when a note and mortgage burning will take place at the close of the sermon, according to a statement made by Dr. R. H. Crossfield, the pastor.

All bills, notes and the mortgage on the parsonage have been paid in full, and this service will indicate that the incoming pastor, who is to be church entirely free of debt.

A turkey banquet for the evening of December 2nd is announced, to which all members and their friends are invited. Heading the committees on arrangements for the banquet are Mrs. L. B. Fleming, Mrs. Travis Hooker, Mrs. W. H. Woolard and Mrs. D. H. Conley.

Free French Denounce Recognition Of Darlan

Want No Part In Negotiations With Vichy Regime

London, Nov. 16.—(AP)—General Charles De Gaulle and the Fighting French committee which he heads announced officially today they were "taking no part" in Allied negotiations with Vichy representatives in North Africa.

The statement followed a conference between De Gaulle and Prime Minister Churchill. It added that the Fighting French would not accept decisions made by the British and Americans in North Africa "should the negotiations result in arrangements which would in effect confirm the Vichy regime in North Africa."

A number of British diplomatic and political advisers have reached French North Africa to help clear up the ambiguous situation revolving about Admiral Jean Darlan, the former Vichy vice-premier and defense chief.

Darlan, with the cooperation of American military officials who found him in Algiers, has announced that he was taking over French interests in North Africa in the name of Marshal Petain.

He also has named Gen. Henri Honoré Giraud, the former prisoner of war whom the Germans found too slippery to hold, as army chief in North Africa, a position which American military authorities previously had announced he would occupy.

Petain in Vichy was said by the radio there to have rebuked Darlan for declaring an armistice with the Allies, repudiated Darlan's assertion that he was acting in the marshal's name and accused him of going contrary to orders in allowing French troops to oppose Axis forces.

Darlan replied that Petain no longer dared express his real thoughts since the Germans have occupied all of France.

Today the Vichy radio said Petain (Continued on Page Six)

New York, Nov. 16.—Nowhere was our swift and decisive blow against the Axis in Africa more applauded than in Latin America, where the isolationist stand of the Argentine and Chilean governments was shaken.

Argentina and Chile are the only Latin American countries which maintain diplomatic relations with the enemy, but Chile is edging closer to a break, and Argentine President Ramon S. Castillo has been forced to make several gestures to quiet a redoubtable popular outcry against the Axis.

British-American Forces Battle Nazis In Tunisia

DAVIS REPORTS ON CASUALTIES

U. S. Dead, Wounded And Missing Placed At 48,956

Washington, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Announced casualties of the armed forces now total 48,956.

In a recapitulation today, the Office of War Information said the total included killed, wounded, missing and prisoners of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard and Philippine scouts since the outbreak of war, but not casualties in the African campaign.

Most of the army's casualties are classified as missing. A majority of these were in the Philippines and in Java and are presumed to be prisoners of war, although information is lacking due to the absence of prisoner lists from Japan.

As of November 12, Army casualties totaled 32,429, divided as follows: killed 1,069; wounded 1,531; prisoners 161; missing 29,668. Of the missing 17,500 were American troops in the Philippines and 11,000 others were Philippine scouts. An additional 500 troops were reported missing in Java. Of the 1,531 wounded, 552 have returned to duty.

Announced Navy casualties between Dec. 7 and Oct. 31: Dead 3,854; wounded 1,190; missing 7,972. Marine Corps: Dead 734; wounded 703; missing 1,900. Coast Guard: Dead 37; wounded, 11; missing 126.

Some of the missing in the Navy's last are presumed to be prisoners.

He Saved Doolittle

A United States air crew headed by Pilot Lieut. John C. Summers (above) of Lexington, Tenn., fought off four German planes which attacked their Flying Fortress in which Brig. Gen. James H. Doolittle, chief of the Twelfth Air Force, and 12 staff officers were passengers somewhere in the North African area. The co-pilot was wounded and Doolittle took his place during the running gun battle.

First Contact Between American And German Ground Forces Since World War I; Rommel's Shattered Forces Continue To Retreat From British; RAF Blasting Nazis

By JAMES M. LONG (Associated Press War Editor)
The Axis admitted today that it had moved German and Italian forces into the French protectorate of Tunisia, and British and American fighting men came to grips with them there with an evident determination to give Hitler and Mussolini a taste of Dunkerque.

The Berlin radio broadcast a DNB dispatch that the Axis troops had counter-attacked against United States forces in the French protectorate, with fighting centering at a point which the Germans described as important strategically and tactically. This might be the Bizerte naval base, one of the major prizes in Tunisia.

An Italian communique said "Italian and German troops have landed in Tunisia with the approval of civil and military French authorities."

Whatever French civil and military authorities the Italians had in mind in this version, they obviously did not include the stout-hearted French garrisons of the Bizerte naval base and the Tunis airfield which welcomed the invaders only with bullets and put up what resistance their limited forces permitted.

Allied sources who had said the Axis troops were in Tunisia by the middle of last week, estimated that the initial force aggregated 10,000, and said desperate attempts were being made to reinforce them by sea and air.

The British and American assault force from Eastern Algeria streamed across the border into the attack, apparently ready for any issue and able to back up its bid for Bizerte and Tunisia with powerful force.

This was the first regular action by United States ground troops against the Germans since the closing days of World War I when the doughboys and their French allies smashed through German defenses along the Meuse river and drove through the Argonne forest in an offensive that ended with the Armistice of November 11, 1918.

In the new meeting, the Americans were part of a predominantly British assault force under Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson, who declared he wanted to smash east "as quickly as possible and kick Rommel in the pants" in cooperation with the British eighth army from Egypt.

Elsewhere on the European-African warfronts, Field Marshal Rommel was reported still in flight, racing down the road from Bengasi to El Agheila, where he was expected to try one more stand on the battlefield where he stopped another British army in 1941—a battlefield more than 500 costly miles from El Alamein, Egypt, and still 400 miles short of the escape port of Tripoli.

For the fourth time this month English-based British bombers brought the war of bomb-wrought ruin home to Italy in a 1,500-mile round-trip raid last night on Genoa. It was the RAF's second attack in three nights on the badly-battered naval base and supply port for North Africa.

The Vichy radio broadcast a dispatch from La Linea, Spain, reporting that two Allied battleships, two aircraft carriers, four cruisers, and nine destroyers sailed into the Mediterranean from Gibraltar this morning. Such a force could hit heavily at Axis efforts to open troop reinforcement lanes to Tunisia across the central Mediterranean.

Leaf Mart Sets New Money Mark

The Greenville tobacco market closed its 1942 selling season Friday after having paid out $17,888,316.59 the largest amount of money ever paid out on the local market in a single season regardless of the number of pounds sold. Total sales for the season were 50,622,332 pounds at an official average price of $35.29 per hundred pounds.

Official figures on the past three seasons are as follows: 1941 season, 43,760,734 pounds sold for $13,500,374.65 an average of $30.85; 1940 season, 49,594,306 pounds sold for $8,667,268, an average of $17.48; 1939 season, 79,097,530 pounds sold for $12,934,385.52 an average of $16.35.

Callaghan, 52, was naval aide to the President from 1938 until April 1941, when he assumed command of the San Francisco.

He was in Pearl Harbor, where his ship was undergoing repairs when the Japanese attacked December 7. Later he took the cruiser to the South Pacific and more recently was chief of staff to Vice Admiral Robert L. Ghormley, when the latter was commander of United States naval forces in the South Pacific.

A navy spokesman, describing Callaghan as "a great gunner man and a fine seaman," said that detailed reports of the action in which he was killed have not been received by the navy.

It was a recent action, however during the current critical struggle for possession of the southeastern Solomons, now in its sixth day.

Callaghan's home was in Oakland, Calif.

U. S. Planes Blast Nazis In Europe

London, Nov. 16.—(AP)—United States fighter planes attacked German soldiers and German installations in occupied Europe today, and all the American planes returned, Maj. Gen. Carl Spaatz, chief of U. S. air forces in Europe announced today.

Spaatz reported that the raid, carried out from low level, was led by First Lieut. Eugene M. Potter of Chicago, former member of the now disbanded Eagle squadron.

Trucks loaded with German soldiers, military outposts and gun emplacements were among the Americans' targets. Machine-gun and cannon fire scattered the Nazis, inflicted casualties among them and destroyed materials, the announcement said.

CHEST FUND IS NEARING GOAL

More Than $7,000 In Subscriptions Already Made

Greenville's Community Chest fund for the coming year is already within $1,000 of its goal according to announcement made this morning by James T. Little, president of the Community Chest organization.

Mr. Little stated that the response to the drive has been most satisfactory and he was sure that the goal of $8,000 would be reached just as soon as the canvassers had the opportunity to complete all their calls.

He pointed out that while it had been hoped to complete the drive during last week, many of the people were out when the canvassers made their calls and this necessitated many call-backs which have not yet been completed.

Nine of Greenville's charitable and welfare organizations are included in beneficiaries of the fund and taken on this basis, the chest sponsors pointed out that the $8,000 being asked was low compared to fundings being raised in other cities.

John G. Clark, drive chairman, and Charles B. Bissett, vice-president of the chest organization, both expressed optimism this morning that the goal would be reached quickly.

Continue Search Missing Actress

Beverly Hills, Calif., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Search widened today for Barbara Bennett as police sought without success a trace of the former film actress who disappeared after preparing to attend a party at the home of friends last Friday night.

Her husband, screen cowboy Addison Randall, told detectives she had been dependent since a Bridgeport, Conn., judge recently awarded custody of her five children to her first husband, singer Morton Downey, who obtained a divorce from her in June.

Japanese Suffer 5,000 Casualties

Chungking, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The Chinese have won an important victory in the whittling of the Yi mountains in Shantung province where more than 5,000 Japanese have been killed or wounded, the Chinese high command announced tonight.

The main body of the Japanese, swollen to 40,000 by the arrival of reinforcements, has been forced to fall back, a communique declared.

Early this month the Japanese launched a campaign in the Yi foothills, in the central part of the coastal province of Shantung. Chinese forces there have been operating since early in the war far behind the main Japanese lines.

Japs Make New Claims As To American Losses

New York, Nov. 16.—(AP)—A Japanese imperial headquarters in a revised report of the October 25 naval battle east of the Solomons asserted today the Japanese sank one battleship, two aircraft carriers identified as the U.S.S. Enterprise and Hornet, another large-type aircraft carrier, three cruisers and one destroyer.

A U. S. Navy communique Oct. 26 reported the United States destroyer Porter was sunk by enemy action, one U. S. aircraft carrier was severely damaged; and other United States vessels reported lesser damage when a Pacific fleet carrier task force exchanged air attacks with strong Japanese forces northeast of Guadalcanal. Then on October 31 the Navy announced that the carrier, which was not identified, was destroyed after she had been heavily damaged by Japanese bombers and torpedoes. Except for the loss of the carrier and the destroyer, there has been no U. S. or other Allied announcement to confirm the sweeping Japanese claim.

In addition to the vessels reported sunk, the Japanese said three unidentified warships and three destroyers were heavily damaged. The Japanese announcement follows: "Imperial headquarters at 5:30 P. M. announce further details in the results of the south Pacific battle upon the survey of reports received since the previous announcement on October 27. Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
November 16, 1902

And now look out for the chronic kickers who are going to oppose consolidation of county school districts. They are wedded to the schanty-on-the-hill idea.

At the meeting of the Anti-Saloon League held in the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon, there was an interesting discussion of what steps should be taken now to get the county of barrooms. It was decided to begin at once, a canvass of the county for signatures to a petition to the next legislature to accomplish this end.

Talk On Juvenile Delinquency. A talk on Juvenile Delinquency will be given over the radio Wednesday evening at 7:30 by D. M. Clark.

This is the first in the series of talks on this truly vital subject which is being sponsored by the North Carolina Conference of Parents and Teachers.

Announce Birth and Death. Mr. and Mrs. Noah Carson Moore, Jr., announce the birth and death of a son on Sunday, November 16, 1902, at 160 East Eleventh street.

Mrs. Moore is the former Miss Alice Ward, daughter of Mrs. Clara Ward of this city.

Girl Scout Council To Meet. The Greenville Girl Scout Council will meet tomorrow night at eight o'clock in the Girl Scout office. All members are urged to be present as important matters will be discussed.

Promoted. Pvt. Carroll A. Whitchard, who was inducted into the Army in August, has completed the aerial gunner's school at Tyndall Field, Fla., and was promoted to sergeant on November 3. He is now stationed at Carsbad Air Base, Carsbad, New Mexico.

Sgt. Whitchard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Heber Whitchard of Stokes.

Promoted. Jack B. Griffin, 18, son of John H. Griffin, 208 Marlborough Street, this city, has been advanced to the rating of Aviation Machine Gunner, third class, at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., according to the public relations office of that station.

Griffin enlisted in the Navy in July, 1941, at the local recruiting office, and was sent to the Naval Training Station in Norfolk, Va., for his preliminary training.

Upon reporting to Pensacola, the "Aviation of the Air" in October, 1941, he was assigned to duty with a ground crew of one of the flying squadrons stationed there. His first promotion carries with it a petty officer rating.

Birth Announcement. Pvt. and Mrs. James E. Henry announce the birth of a son, James Edward, Jr., on October 29, 1942. Mrs. Henry is the former Miss Gloria Whitehurst of Bethel. Pvt. Henry is now stationed at Key West, Fla.

Christian Science Service. "Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, November 15. The golden text was from Romans 8:19. "The earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ: According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love." (Eph. 1:3-4).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Important man was and is God's image or idea, even the infinite expression of infinite Mind, and immortal man is coexistent and coeternal with that Mind. He has been forever in the eternal Mind, God; but infinite Mind can never be in man, but is reflected by man. The spiritual man's consciousness and individuality are reflections of God. They are the emanations of Him who is Life, Truth and Love. Immortal man is not and never was material, but always spiritual and eternal."

Silk and Nylon. Old silk and nylon stockings officially became a war salvage item today. The War Production Board is asking all women to take worn and discarded hosiery to the Hosiery Collection Depots, one of which will be found at the hosiery counter of each of the local hosiery retail stores.

Only stockings containing silk and nylon are desired—all silk and all nylon, and those of the following combinations or mixtures: silk-nylon, silk-rayon, silk-cotton, nylon-rayon and nylon-cotton. All stockings should be washed before being donated.

After the silk fibre has been reclaimed, it will be woven into powder bags to carry the explosive charges in big-calibre guns of the Army and Navy. Silk burns completely, making it unnecessary to clean the gun's breach before reloading. Reclaimed nylon also has important military uses.

Thank you all for a very enjoyable evening. I am sure that all the students to Mr. J. B. Kirtland and his parents, committee who were responsible for the fun frolic Friday night. Most pupils, many former pupils, teachers, and a number of town people attended the dance. Square dancers were shown a thing or two by eight-year-old Billy Langdon who stopped playing the guitar once or twice to take part in the dancing. Thanks again for the nice party, parents.

Speaks At Vesper Service.
 "Christianity offers you hope, love, faith. Will you accept them and in accepting them find not only peace for self but a foundation for the world brotherhood we are seeking to build? This was the question asked at the vesper service of the college by Miss Mabel Spence Watson of Fremont.

As youth today views the chaos in the world, its first reaction is one of bewilderment, Miss Watson began. If people do not experience that feeling, they may develop an attitude of cock-sureness or false assurance to hide their uncertainty, or a warped attitude toward life, because of present conditions.

To answer the question of what can protect the individual from these attitudes, and show that Christianity can do so, the speaker put together parts of two Bible verses, "I offer... these three, faith, hope and charity, for her theme.

Turning first to "hope," she pointed out its effect on the individual and its importance for the future. Now more than at any other time, we need hope, she said, hope for the future, hope for a better, more peaceful world after the war.

Charity, or love, is the offering of Christianity, said Miss Watson, and went on to emphasize the importance of love for those who come after, and love for peace. Love needs to show itself through service. To make our hope and love complete, she declared, we must have faith, which is really a three-fold philosophy of life involving faith in ourselves, that we can do our jobs in spite of difficulties, faith in our fellowmen, and faith in God that we may start afresh after this war and "with Divine guidance, build creatively for the future."

Miss Helen Stone of Reidsville, conducted the devotional, and Miss Dorothea Massey of Pleasant Hill was pianist for the service.

Miss Watson, who has shown a great interest in Christian work during her three years on the campus, is at present a member of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, having charge of singing Friday night vesper services.

EASTERN STAR HOLDS DISTRICT MEETING HERE
 The twentieth annual meeting of the Second District of the Order of the Eastern Star was held in Greenville on Thursday, November 12, at the Masonic Hall, with Greenville Chapter No. 149 as hostess chapter.

The hall was beautifully decorated with baskets of red roses and red and white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Annie J. Stroud of Ayden, District Deputy Grand Matron of the Second District, presided. She was assisted by Judge J. Frank Harrington, District Deputy Grand Patron. J. A. Phillips of Kinston, acted as District secretary in the absence of Mrs. J. J. Lewis of New Bern. Mrs. Julia P. Stanley, Worthy Matron, of Kinston chapter, and Mrs. Edna M. Loftin of Kinston, were pages for the day.

The welcome address from the Masons and the civic and business organizations of Greenville, was given by W. J. Bundy, District Deputy Grand Master of the Masonic Order of North Carolina. His welcome was timely and sincere.

After the ritualistic opening by Greenville chapter in the count for the attendance prize, given according to the greatest number present and mileage traveled, Aurora chapter was found to be winner and the W. J. Matron of the Aurora chapter gave the $5.00 won for use in the Masonic and Eastern Star Home in Greensboro.

The United States flag and the Eastern Star flag were each presented to the winners.

sented and tributes given both. Among the distinguished guests present were the Worthy Grand Matron, Mrs. Mary K. Fleet, and her mother, Mrs. King, both of Rocky Mount; Mrs. Nancy C. Weatherly of Rich Square, Grand secretary; Mrs. Blanche Twiford, Grand conductress, and W. J. Pell, Grand chaplain, both of Elizabeth City; Mrs. Kathryn Daniels of Asheville, Grand Ruth, and Mrs. Dora Thurston of Rocky Mount, Grand Electa; Mrs. Alice Culpepper of Elizabeth City, and Mrs. Alice H. Parker of Farmville, were Past Grand Matrons present, and George R. Bennett, superintendent of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home in Greensboro, and a Past Grand Patron of the Grand Chapter of North Carolina, also attended the meeting.

There were 150 delegates and members present from the ten chapters in the district, Ayden, Bayboro, Aurora, Cove City, New Bern, Kinston, Tyden, Trenton, Washington and Greenville.

Hearty welcomes were given by Mrs. Nell Moore, Worthy Matron of Greenville chapter; Mrs. Annie J. Stroud, District Deputy, and Judge Harrington, assistant Deputy. It was deeply regretted that the Grand Patron, Paul Renninger of Winston-Salem, could not be present on account of the draft. A special welcome was given to a member in uniform, Ray Lewis of Aurora, who is with the U. S. Navy and is at home on furlough.

The Worthy Grand Matron gave a splendid talk on "Love and Service," and urged the members to do all the war work possible. She was presented a gift of silver from the members of the district by Mrs. Louise Wells, Past District Deputy, with original verse.

Mrs. Edna Moag, Past District Deputy and Red Cross chairman of Greensboro, also made an appeal for more workers and more time given by workers for Red Cross work and war relief.

Several phases of the ritualistic work was exemplified by New Bern, Hyde and Kinston chapters. A delicious luncheon was served the members and visitors in the Woman's Club at 1 o'clock. Mrs. C. T. Mumford, Past District Deputy, was chairman of the committee, and planned and executed the beautiful table decorations, the tables forming a star, each in appropriate color, and centered with a pentagon with five silver holders, containing candles of blue, yellow, white, green and red. The lovely favors were made by Mrs. Edna Moore Loftin, daughter of the Worthy Matron of Greenville chapter.

After fine reports from the ten chapters in the district, the members of Aurora chapter gave a splendid play, written by one of their members, Miss Elizabeth Warren, "Home for the Homeless."

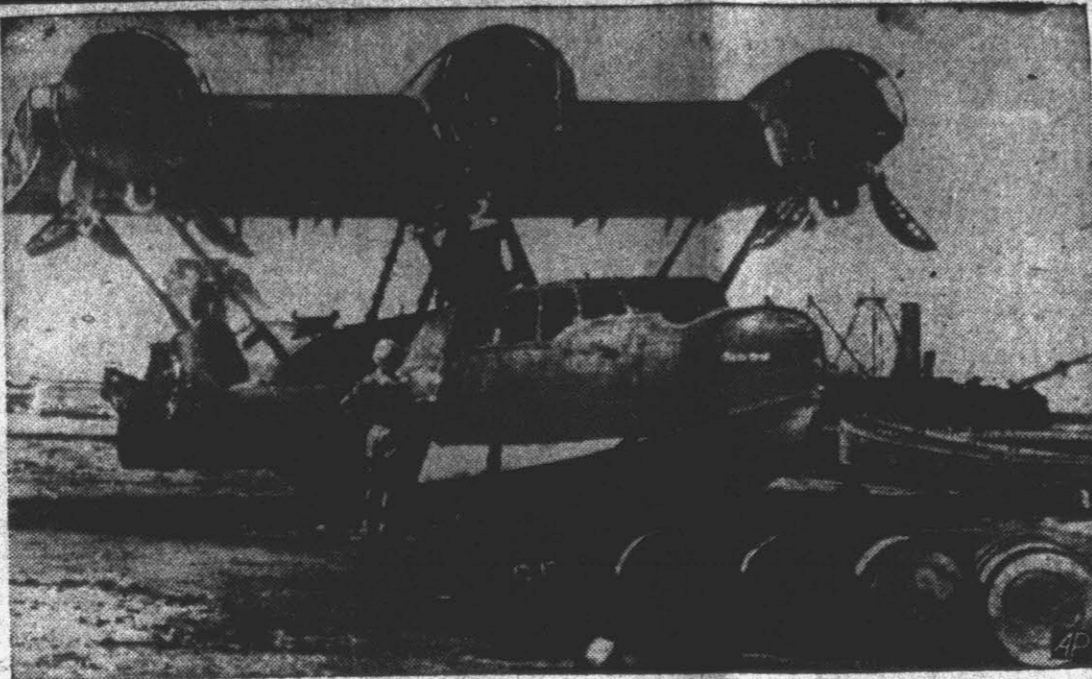

George R. Bennett then told about the work at the home for old people supported by the Masons and Eastern Stars of North Carolina. Mrs. Alice H. Parker, Past Grand Matron, gave a fine talk, stressing all doing everything possible to win the war. Several other fine talks from visitors were enjoyed.

A pageant, "The Place of the Eastern Star in the World at War," was given by Washington chapter, featured by 24 Red Cross nurses and a patient in a rolling chair, and the singing of "Angel of Mercy." The little twin daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Duke of Washington, also sang a group of songs. Dr. Duke presented a gift to Deputy Stroud, on behalf of the district, in a few well-chosen words.

The invitation for the next district meeting was extended by Kinston chapter, and after the ritualistic closing, the meeting adjourned after many had expressed their pleasure of a most interesting meeting.—Reported.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Judge, I didn't realize till the other night when I ran across an article in the paper what a whale of a lot of industrial alcohol the government needs for the war."
 "I should say it does, Chet. I understand the beverage distillers around the country are producing about 240,000,000 gallons of industrial alcohol this year for ammunition, tires, and other things. I'd say it's mighty fortunate these distilleries are available to do the job. Otherwise, if we still had prohibition, the government would have had to spend millions of dollars and use up a lot of critical materials to build plants... to say nothing of all the time it would take. It might have been just another case of 'too little, too late.'"

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

PORCED TO HIS KNEES
A missionary, recently returned on the Gripsholm, tells the story of a Chinese Christian, a very devout man, whose grandson was kidnapped by bandits and held for ransom. The grandfather said from the first that he neither could nor would meet the ransom demands. But he forthwith asked all his Christian friends to begin praying for the delivery of the boy.

Two amazing things happened. The first was that within two weeks the little lad was returned. He had received the best of care, had been well fed, and was not harmed in the least by his experience. Why he was returned no one knew—save only those who had fervently prayed.
But a second miracle had occurred. It seemed that the little boy's father was by no means a good Christian. The devout grandfather had tried to make him so, but the young man cared nothing about religion. But naturally he joined with the others in praying for his son's return. The result was not only the deliverance of the little boy, but the whole transformation of the young man's inner life. The worldly young fellow had been compelled to face one of the most trying situations in all the world, and being forced to his knees he had found God in the experience of travail.

It reminds us of the statement of Abraham Lincoln that in the dark days of the war between the states he was often forced to his knees because he had nowhere else to go.

GOAL IN SIGHT

The Community Chest drive is within $1,000 of the goal of $8,000 and there should be little difficulty in reaching the goal. There are a number of our people who were missed by the solicitors on their first rounds and we are sure that these people want to do their part in this great community work. If you have not already been called upon you can help the committee tremendously by calling Campaign Chairman John G. Clark and telling him you would like to make a contribution. If you will do this now it will lighten the work of the canvassing committee and help to reach the goal more quickly.

IT'S A GLOBAL WAR

Looking at it purely from the standpoint of the war in the Pacific, Representative Maas might have been right in declaring that we have not yet made the desired headway in winning the war in that area, but, viewed from the standpoint of the whole, the United Nations now appear to be moving in an offensive picture in no uncertain terms. No one thinks the task ahead of us is an easy one but a redoubled effort on the part of everyone will help to bring a quicker victory. Once Hitler is defeated the combined forces of the United Nations can and will destroy the Jap threat in the Pacific. In the meantime we are fighting what might be termed a holding action in the Pacific and if we succeed in doing this while our forces are engaged in the European area we will be well on our way to final victory when Hitler is crushed.

He doesn't belong to that outfit. In the first place his title isn't "some sort of." He's vice chairman of the War Production Board and head of the newly created Facility Clearance Board. At the moment, he has more say-so about what goes into military and what into civilian production than any person in Washington. In his capacity as head of FCB, he's taking a look-see at present and planned construction projects with a view to eliminating waste.

As for "contracts"—hold your breath. This was Under Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal who brought Eberstadt to Washington nearly two years ago to get the Army-Navy Munitions board into line as a going business institution. But, and this is important, probably his closest friend here is Under Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, a sidekick in World War I.

His other "contacts" include those he made at Princeton, where he picked up a Phi Beta Kappa key; on the Mexican border, where he was a member of one of those snappy Part Avenue cavalry regiments; in France where he rose to captain in field artillery; as a member of the law firm of McAdoo-Cotton-Franklin; and as Wall Street investment banker.

His only resemblance to those "mystery men" is that he doesn't talk much. When he does, it's in snipped-off sentences and the word he uses most frequently is "No." When it comes to publicity, he's a Hollywood starlet in reverse.

From this, it should be apparent that "innuendo" is too long a travel for dynamic Mr. Eberstadt to route and if he has ever bothered with a "rumor" I haven't heard of it. As for spending money, he could, but he doesn't.

In a recent weekly magazine article Eberstadt was referred to as an "energetic icicle." Employees and the newsmen who are on his run are generally less picturesque. They just say he's "tough."

That crack isn't really uncomplimentary. His position in WPB and his connection with the Army, as well as the Navy, places him in what could be the most powerful job in the country so far as production is concerned.
Some observers think (and the ranks are growing every day) that he has that quality of toughness which may iron out our production kinks—may even result in his superseding Donald Nelson, in authority, if not in title.

The WAR TODAY

in some Chilean quarters that Chilean neutrality was condoned at Washington.

But Argentine sources are doubtful that the Castillo government will quickly abandon its neutral policy.
President Castillo is considered proud, stubborn and a fighter. He's a thorough nationalist, representative of the up-country cattle and wheat barons who have been conservative and isolationist since Colonial days.

The conservatives have the government by accident—the death of pro-Democratic President Roberto Ortiz, which elevated then Vice President Castillo to the presidency.
The government is concentrating its energies on heading off the presidential candidacy of General Agustín P. Justo, leading pro-Allied political figure in the country. Elections take place next October.
Observers say that a break with the Axis would boost Justo's stock tremendously. Some Argentines feel that Castillo won't break with the Axis until he can make such a move help the conservatives and not the opposition.

The Castillo regime controls the senate, but not the chamber, and is in a minority throughout the country.

Biggest faction in the provinces is the pro-Allied but loosely-organized and loosely-led radical (liberal) party. Strongest in Buenos Aires is the equally pro-Allied Socialist party, whose socialism is moderate.
But radicals and socialists haven't been able to get close enough together to make their real weight felt.

Sentences Will Be Imposed Next Week

Chicago, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Federal Judge William J. Campbell announced today that the six Chicagoans convicted of treason probably would be sentenced early next week.
The judge said he would hear any motions by defense counsel on Friday and, unless circumstances dictated his taking motions under advisement, sentence would be pronounced next week. Penalties range from five years imprisonment and $10,000 fines to death.

DEAR SUSAN

Chapter 23
The Offer
Todd and Susan walked out of the stadium together to Susan's car. Most of the traffic had melted away by then and they had little difficulty.

"It'll come straight to the point," Susan said bluntly. "You know I'm an engineer, I assume. Well, I'm taking over a tremendous project down in South America next June. It's big. Really big," he emphasized. "We're going to have a small army of men working down there—Americans and natives mixed. Maybe four or five thousand, and about 90 per cent of them aren't going to have their families with them."

"Those men are going to need planned activity to help keep them happy and that's where you come in," Susan went on. "I want you to come down there when you graduate and set up and direct an athletic program for those men. In addition, you'll be sort of an administrative assistant to me. You'll be doing me a great service, and what's more you'll be doing those men and your country an even greater service."

"I can start you at fifty a week and all your expenses. I hope you'll find that satisfactory," said Susan, because you're the man I want."
Finally Todd said, "South America—why I don't know—it seems like a swell opportunity, but—"
"But what?"
"Why do you want me?" Todd asked him simply.

He kept his eyes on the street ahead. "I know exactly what's in the back of your mind," he said easily, "so I'll put you straight right away. I know everything about you that I need to know, including a little unpleasantness you've had lately. I think I'd have picked you anyway, but it happens I went to Pete Bailey and I told him I wanted a State athlete to do this job for me and asked him to recommend a man. You were it."

It was a little too much for Todd to think about then and there. He was a little bewildered. "I'll have to give it some thought, Mr. Susan. I just don't know. I was considering the air force."
"Of course," Susan said. "Take your time. Give you a month."

Eddie was all excited when Todd told him about Susan's offer. "Jeez, it's wonderful!" Eddie enthused. "You're going to take it, of course. You can't afford not to. Not because of the money, but think of the experience, the opportunities it presents."

There was an undecided look on Todd's face. "It sounds swell," he admitted. "Wish I knew. Maybe I ought to write Dad. He might have an angle on it. Also—I thought we were going to join the air corps together after graduation."

Eddie made an impatient gesture. "Sure we were, but don't you realize you're actually doing as much good as you could in the air force. Look it square in the face. I've got a month to make up my mind. I'll probably change it twelve times in those 30 days."

On second thought, Todd figured, maybe this was the opportunity he

The War in Mediterranean Area

The British Royal Air Force smashed at an airfield near Tunis (B) November 12 in delivering the first blow in a gigantic air battle to gain control of the Mediterranean corridor. Meanwhile, U. S. forces raced across Algeria: (1) toward Tunis and Bizerte as their drive to head off Gen. Rommel's retreating Axis forces in Libya. The Vichy radio reported that American troops have occupied the Algerian town of Bone, 60 miles from the Tunisian border. Axis forces were shifted around the area (2) skirted by Bizerte, a principal port in Tunisia, and the islands of Sicily, Sardinia, and Corsica. Some Italian troops were sent into Corsica, and others reached Nice (3), a French port. German forces arrived on the coast of southern France but Axis sources said Tunis (A), the French naval base, would not be occupied.

GREENVILLE CITY OF SUNSHINE

The leaves are falling fast now and it is only too common to see others being raked into piles and burned. We would scarcely be so foolish as to burn money, yet that is what we actually do when we destroy this valuable source of humus and minerals.

The peatmoss we buy is really just decomposed forest litter and as for nutritional value of leaves, a table given out by Cornell University shows that leaves furnish large amounts of nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium and lime. Furthermore, if one's soil is stiff and heavy, well rotted leaves dug into it will lighten it, while if it is sandy the addition of leaf mold will help it retain moisture.

The problem of course is how to save this cheap but valuable source of fertilizer. One way is to rake a quantity of leaves over the flower beds and under the shrubs and leave them there all winter. In the spring many of them will already be incorporated into the soil and the others, partly decayed, may be worked into the soil by hand.

One of the best ways to save the leaves is to make a compost pile. If there is a secluded corner of the garden or any place where such a pile is not too unsightly, by all means save the leaves this way. Dig out a shallow pit and put the soil to one side, then build up a pile of leaves, rectangular in shape, with some soil added once or twice and the remainder on top. This not only helps decompose the leaves but keeps them from blowing around.

Remember that moisture too hastens decomposition, so build the pile with the center lower than the sides. After this is a year old it will prove to be a valuable source of well rotted artificial manure.
Asales find our climate just what they like and if we give them the proper soil and partial shade they respond beautifully. Use only oak leaves and keep a supply of them under the bushes at all times. As the leaves decay they provide just the right amount of acid fertilization. Cotton seed meal may be used for supplementary feeding but oak leaves alone will produce good growth and brilliant flowers.

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

Washington—"Mystery men" in Washington are about as common as tumbleweeds in Texas and usually get as important in the national scheme of things.
Generally, they are fellows with some sort of title or "important contracts" who look wise, say little, spend money, and by innuendo and rumor create the impression that they are riding very firmly on the coattails of the inner circle.

STATE DUKE IS BIG GAME SATURDAY

Big Five And Conference Honors At Stake

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 16—(AP)—With big five and southern conference honors at stake, N. C. State and Duke will play at Durham Saturday in the final big five game of the season.

The wolfpack is undefeated in big five competition so far, having turned in an impressive victory over North Carolina and scoreless ties with Wake Forest and Davidson.

Victory over Duke would give coach De Newton's boys the first state championship in several years for a wolfpack football team, and it probably would clinch state's hold in second place in southern conference standings.

If the Blue Devils win, they will gain a tie with North Carolina for the big five championship. That would be rather appropriate in view of Duke's 13-13 deadlock with North Carolina in their hard fought game at Chapel Hill last Saturday.

The wolfpack journeyed to Washington Saturday and were handed a 20-20 licking by the Hoyas of Georgetown university. Maybe the State players had their minds on the coming battle with Duke just as they appeared to be thinking of what they were going to do to North Carolina when Holy Cross whipped them 20-0.

The Wolfpack was crippled when it went to Washington, but it suffered no additional injuries against Georgetown, and coach Doc Newton said that he hope the squad would be at top strength next Saturday except for wingback Dick Callaway. Dick suffered a broken arm against Miami and is out for the season.

The Tar Heels who came from behind twice to earn their tie with Duke and then staged a fourth period spurt that came within a whisker of giving them victory will travel to Charlottesville for the traditional battle with Virginia. The Cavaliers, aided by sensational Bill Dudley, Drubbed North Carolina 26-7 last year. Virginia hasn't showed much this year, however, and the Tar Heels shouldn't have much trouble in avenging that defeat.

The Demon Deacons of Wake Forest, who took George Washington in stride last Friday night, will take things easy this week and wind up their season against South Carolina at Charlotte on Thanksgiving Day.

Davidson whipped Washington and Lee 21-13 Saturday and will start practice today for a game with the Citadel at Charleston, S. C. next Saturday.

Candidates For All-America Team

Tulane University's Martin Gerner (left), 200-pound senior from Gary, Ind., and George Foschner (right) of the University of Georgia are candidates for an end position on the Associated Press All-America football team. Foschner is from Youngstown, Ohio. His catching of passes tossed by Frankie Slavovich is one reason why the Georgia Bulldogs were rated the No. 1 team of the nation in the Associated Press poll.

Journal tells this one about a football coach who was trying his best to get the players worked up for a big game... The day of the game the coach failed to appear... The kids were donning their uniforms when the phone in the dressing room rang... "I'm in the hospital," came the coach's voice over the wire. "I got run down by an automobile filled with our opponents. Think they tried to kill me. Go in there and win that game for your old coach..." The kids won easily and an assistant coach hurried to the hospital with the news... "It worked, boss," he shouted. "We won easy. Get up and let's celebrate..." "Celebrate, H—," moaned the coach. "I really got hit."

Monday Matinee
Branch Riskey apparently has taken Larry MacPhail's advice that all Dodgers should live in Brooklyn. He has moved into the hotel where a lot of players and visiting teams used to stay... Luke Johnson, Chicago Bears' coach, had to turn down an offer of $50 a game to scout Notre Dame for his old alma mater, Northwestern, because of a club rule that no Bear can scout a team coached by an ex-Bear. Bob Snyder is the ex working for Frank Leahy... When he goes overseas for the Red Cross, Freddie Corcoran, the PGA tournament man, wants another peek at Scotland's Troon course... "It was just a run-of-the-mine golf course before the first war," says Fred, "but the RAF used it for a practice bombing field and the craters and natural hazards that resulted made it one of the most difficult and picturesque courses in the world."

Has Total Of 165 Points For Six Games

New York, Nov. 16—(AP)—Eddie McGovern of Rose Poly, apparently has clinched the individual football scoring championship for 1942, plowing through six opponents for 165 points.

He collected 30 points Friday as he and his mates blanked the principal of Esch, Ill., 48 to 0, in their final game.

Jim Seestr, Rochester University got six touchdowns and an extra point as the New York eleven bruised Hobart, 59 to 0, in its final game and moved next to McGovern with 133 points.

Bob Steuber, Missouri halfback is third with 87 and has three games left.

SAY FOOD CZAR IS NECESSARY

Food Men Think A Strong Man Should Be Named

By JAMES HARLOW AND GEORGE ZIELKE

New York, Nov. 16—Food men continue to hammer on the idea that some sort of food administrator should be appointed, saying the next half-year may bring sharp reductions in civilian food supplies.

They speak of need for a "strong man" who would have a job similar to that of William Jeffers, now in charge of the rubber program, and would head a kind of semi-independent agency within the War Production Board.

"Plans for naming a food administrator," says the American Institute of Food Distribution, Inc., "have shifted to appointing a strong man who will command confidence of farmers and congress so effectively that he will be able not only to coordinate all government activities toward larger food supplies but can induce congress to pass whatever legislation is necessary to recruit ample labor for growers and food processors."

Says the Institute: "Wholesalers, retailers and consumers are facing serious curtailments in foods available for civilian consumption during the next 7 or 8 months. Most distributors will not have sufficient stock to earn overhead expenses.

"Rationing consumer purchases of sugar is now to be followed by coffee. Meat rationing is planned for early in 1943, and probably doing out of butter.

"OPA is moving toward requiring wholesalers and retailers to spread sales of canned foods and probably quite a number of additional items. New rationing books may be employed early in 1943 to limit consumer purchases of quite a variety of foods on a point system.

"Shortage of butter and dairy products and approaching shortage of fresh vegetables are largely due to farmers reducing production because of labor shortage and unwillingness to maintain maximum production unless OPA allows prices which will cover greatly increased labor costs and give farmers profits that will satisfy them.

"Shortage of meats results from such large buying power in the hands of the public and failure of Washington to thoroughly organize the country for meatless days and much larger consumption of satisfactory substitutes for meats.

"Shortage of canned vegetables and fruits is due to the army taking 35 per cent or much larger portions for use in satisfactory feeding about seven per cent of our population expected to be in armed

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. Wide World Sports Columnist

New York, Nov. 16—(AP)—Ever hear the one about how "Germany" Schulz, Michigan's great center of 1904-08, made an All-American player out of Bill Hollenbach? This is the way Harvard's Dick Harlow tells it: When Penn played Michigan in 1908, Schulz knocked out both Penn centers in the first half. A sub lineman was hurriedly instructed how to pass the ball on five plays, and to make sure the quarterback wouldn't try any others, the coach chalked the numbers of those five on the seat of the new center's pants... On the first scrimmage, Schulz made the center sit down hard, and when he came up, only one number was legible... The quarterback had to keep calling that one on an end run by Hollenbach—and Bill looked so good that he won All-America fame.

Church Observes 50th Anniversary

The Presbyterian church of Falkland celebrated its 50th anniversary on the night of November 12.

The occasion was one of spiritual inspiration and was enjoyed by many former members and friends who gathered to enjoy the fine spirit of happiness and good fellowship.

The meeting was opened at six o'clock with a devotional period presided over by the supplying pastor, Rev. A. G. Courtenay. Rev. Clyde Carter, assistant pastor of Greenville, led the singing and Dr. E. C. Lynch of Wilson brought an inspiring devotional message of commendation, remembrance and exhortation for greater endeavors in honor of the success of the past half century.

Special music was supplied by Mrs. Carter Smith, accompanied by Mrs. W. R. Harris of Fountain. The meeting then adjourned to the school building to enjoy a sumptuous repast, prepared and served by the ladies of the church and letters were received from former pastors, Rev. H. M. Wilson, Concord; Rev. A. G. Harris, Marion, Ga.; Rev. J. T. Wildman, Parkersburg, and these messages of love and best wishes were gratefully received by the assembled group.

Rev. C. A. Lawrence, who served the field in 1922-23 was present and brought a message of greeting to the brethren and Rev. Norman Johnson, First Presbyterian church, Rocky Mount, brought reminiscence of days 27 years ago when he had supplied the church.

Mr. H. H. Littrell, devoted elder of the Rocky Mount church, gave thanks for God's providence. At eight o'clock the group reassembled at the church for a final service of dedication. Special music was graciously supplied by Mr. William Morton, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. J. M. Hobbog, both of Farmville.

Rev. R. S. Boyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Greenville, led in prayer and Rev. Norman Johnson, of Rocky Mount brought a message on "Prayer" which inspired the hearers and brought to a climax the spirit of the meeting.

Boy Scouts Seek Interest Parents

"Interest in boy scouting here is on the increase. Parents are beginning to take an interest that is going to be helpful in perfecting the Boy Scout organization here," said James T. Uzzell, scout executive for the Greenville district. "If the parents will go along with us in helping to get 'cubbing' established on a larger basis we will be able to do better work during the war." There has been a gratifying increase in memberships in the various troops, but we still need troop leaders - men who will spend time with the boys and help to train them. One of the fine points of a Boy Scout troop leader's experience is that he always gets more out of it than the boys, but is at the same time doing a fine service, says L. M. Buchanan, district chairman for Boy Scouts here.

The boys are active. They are performing their tasks manfully and anxiously to do more. One of the principal objectives of the Boy Scout Council at this time is to develop "cubbing." That is the training of boys from nine to twelve years of age and prepare them for membership in the Boy Scouts when they are twelve.

In civilian defense activities, in the salvage campaign for scrap metal and rubber, the Boy Scouts have done good work. The boys are now asking through their Boy Scout executive that more parents take an interest in what they are doing and back them up.

Led Secret Mission

The army has disclosed in Washington that Maj. Gen. Mark W. Clark (above), deputy commander of the Allied forces in French North Africa, went secretly by submarine to enemy-dominated territory before the Allied attack in North Africa and opened negotiations with representatives of Gen. Henri Giraud, the friendly French commander. The disclosure came in the announcement that President Roosevelt has nominated Clark for promotion to a lieutenant general.

Funeral services were conducted in Durham this afternoon for Mrs. Jessie Woodward Thomas sister of G. J. Woodward, of this city. Mrs. Thomas, widow of the late Charles C. Thomas, prominent Durham business man died from a heart attack Saturday night.

A native of Fayetteville, she had been a resident of Durham for a number of years and was an active and influential member of Trinity Methodist Church. She was also quite active in the D.A.R., the Colonial Dames and the U.D.C. Survivors include: one daughter, Mrs. Erskine Boyce of Asheville and Gastonia; one granddaughter, Mrs. Hargrove Bowles, Jr., of Greensboro; one niece, Mrs. Earl Sears of Durham; three brothers, George J. Woodward of Greenville, N. C., Frederick W. Woodward, of Atlanta and John A. Woodward of Hendersonville; three nephews, Woodward W. Williams of Columbia, S. C., Charles K. Woodward of Charlotte and Frederick W. Woodward, Jr., of Atlanta.

Police Court Had Variety Of Cases

In Police court today the case against Joe Manning, white, charged with operating a disorderly house, a number of witnesses testified that the place was used for couples to meet; that there was drinking and carousing and disorderly conduct. It was also testified that a soldier contracted a venereal disease from a girl he met there, and that the police had had trouble there before. A number of neighbors and Police Chief George Clark and Assistant Chief H. E. Wooten testified the reputation of Manning's place is bad. Judge J. W. H. Roberts will pronounce judgment at Friday morning's session of court.

Mary Tyndall, young white woman, was convicted of prostitution and sentenced to a term at the Farm Colony for Women near Kingston. The Farm Colony is an institution similar to Samaritan in the western part of the state, where women and girls who have gone astray are given opportunity to rehabilitate themselves.

Wiley Hines, colored, drunk and carrying a concealed weapon, was given six months in jail, sentence suspended on payment of $75 fine, costs deducted, and the pistol to be confiscated for the N. C. State Guard.

Young People Wake Up The Old Folks

High school students - boys and girls - at the beginning of the school week today recalled the happy evening of last Friday night at the high school when J. B. Kittrell and others provided what the young people consider the finest gesture "the old folks" have ever made toward those growing up, in their sports and playtime activities. Talking with the youngsters (who have been deprived of competitive sports) a newspaper man got the impression that the boys and girls of the Greenville High School are "more grown up" as a result of the stress and strain of the war, and are better equipped, through their observation and experience, to match mother and dad in doing things for the good of the community.

We will venture the opinion that last Friday night is the first time in the history of the Greenville schools that the parents and children have met for all-out recreation and entertainment and "consultation" for the welfare of all. Every mother and father who had anything to do with that "get-together" period of fun and merriment understand the youngsters better.

Nearly a thousand high school students and parents and some who are not parents hobnobbed cheerily in the pastime of making each other happy. There was dancing, music, fellowship, recreation on a general scale, and a "get acquainted session" for the grownups and youngsters that is going to lead to better things for this rising generation and their parents. At least, J. Burt James, chairman of the school board, and J. Herbert Waldrop and Supt. June H. Rose and Principal Roy Wilkerson think so. Last Friday night's event at the high school marked a "waking up" of parents to the fact that "children grow up" and that some of ours are "on the way."

If the "commando recreation" affair at the high school on Friday night, November 27, the night after Thanksgiving, is anything like the "good cheer and fellowship" meeting of last Friday, there is reason to believe that there will be many more parents there, and that the community will begin to function along the lines required by war and the necessities of the civilian defense spirit.

All of this story is the echo of what parents and boys and girls of the high school said to a newspaper reporter. This is war! It now appears that the youngsters are setting the example.

New Restriction On Gas Rationing

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP) - Motorists in the eastern states must write the license identification, by state and number, in ink on the back of all gasoline coupons surrendered for fuel after November 21 the Office of Price Administration said today.

The new regulation will become effective in the presently rationed eastern states and District of Columbia 10 days before it does in the remainder of the country, but when nationwide rationing starts December 1 all operators of motor vehicles will be required to put the identifications on the backs of coupons surrendered.

Free French . . .

The muddle is partly occasioned by the alarm in Fighting French quarters over even a temporary recognition being given Darlan, who headed the Vichy government under Adolf Hitler was the guiding policy of the hotel-room government. Some Allied governments in exile have expressed the belief that recognition of Darlan in the North African situation was purely a military expedient to expedite an armistice with the French forces that otherwise might remain loyal to Vichy and that he soon would be supplanted by Gen. Giraud or some other French leader whose loyalty to the Allied cause is unquestionable.

British-American . . .

(Continued from page one) Turkish newspaper Ikdam said that once the Allies had cleared the Axis out of North Africa they could be expected to occupy the islands of Crete, Sardinia and Corsica and "make their first jump into Europe via the Italian mainland."

The RAF meanwhile, announced another destructive blow at the Axis held Tunis airbase at dusk Saturday, and further attacks after dark which destroyed six big German planes and left airport buildings ablaze.

Establishment of contact between the British and American assault force from eastern Algeria and the Germans and Italians in Tunisia, keystone to control of North Africa and the narrows of the central Mediterranean, was announced by the Allied-controlled Morocco radio at 9 p. m. (3 p. m. EWT) last night.

It was not disclosed immediately where the fighting had started, but it seemed likely that the powerful Allied force engaged the enemy close to his chief prizes, Bizerte, 70 miles east of the Algerian border, and Tunis, 60 miles southeast of Bizerte and 80 miles from the border.

The Morocco radio said the Axis was working feverishly to get reinforcements by ship and plane through to these positions, seized by French troops despite resistance by Vichy garrisons which stood aside with what force they had.

Gen. Anderson's British-American striking force crossed the Tunisian frontier east of the Algerian port of Bone which the Allies took last week. A Vichy broadcast said that paratroopers which the Allies dropped at Bone had taken only five minutes to capture Italian troops who landed there.

Admiral Jean Darlan proclaimed himself administrator of French North Africa, where the rest of Lt. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's AEF was consolidating its position swiftly. Darlan declared that he acted upon authority granted by Marshal Petain as commander in chief of French forces in North Africa in cooperation with the Allies.

Japs Make . . .

"Heavily damaged—three unidentified warships and three destroyers. "Losses of enemy aircraft—more than 5 enemy planes shot down in air combat over enemy positions; 25 enemy planes shot down in air combat and by our fleet gunfire over Japanese positions. Total number of planes lost exceeded 200, including those lost with the sinking aircraft carriers.

"Note—it has been ascertained that the aircraft carrier of the Hornet type previously announced sunk in the Midway battle was the Yorktown; that an aircraft carrier of the Enterprise type was damaged also off Midway; and that the aircraft carrier of the Yorktown type previously announced sunk in the Coral Sea battle was a specially fitted aircraft carrier."

In its Oct. 27 version of the battle which took place off the Santa Cruz Islands, east of the Solomons, the imperial headquarters claimed the sinking of six United States warships, including four aircraft carriers, one battleship and an unidentified vessel, and heavy damaging of a battleship, three cruisers and a destroyer.

In the new announcement there was no mention of Japanese casualties. The Oct. 27 version, however, said two Japanese aircraft carriers and a cruiser received slight damage. The U. S. Navy department announcement of Oct. 26 on the other hand said two Japanese carriers, two heavy cruisers and one light cruiser were damaged. On Oct. 31 it was stated one of the two Japanese carriers had been badly damaged and one of the cruisers also was listed as badly damaged and a battleship was hit.

The committee for the proposed Negro Y. M. C. A. held their first rally meeting on Friday evening, November 13, at the C. M. Epps high school building. The meeting was presided over by the Rev. J. A. Nimmo. The main speaker was Dr. J. D. Simon of the first Baptist church (white) who stressed the need of conserving the health and morals of our young men. Encouraging remarks were made by Mr. Wyatt Brown who promised his moral and financial support. We were also favored with the presence of Mayor B. B. Suggs who spoke in the interest of establishing a Y. M. C. A. The Mayor's remarks were inspiring and encouraging. He admonished the parents to see to it that their boys and girls refrain from those places that serve only to destroy their morals, their health and finally their lives. He also gave advice as to how this institution should be established as not to fall nor ever reflect discredit upon those who helped to establish it. Dr. Trigg, president of State Teachers' College at Elizabeth City and Prof. W. H. Davenport also spoke briefly, their remarks were encouraging. Prof. D. D. Dupree responded.

The president of this committee, Rev. S. P. League who conducted the rally called for reports of the volunteer workers, $80.32 being reported.

Throughout the meeting the choral club under the competent direction of Mrs. W. H. Davenport furnished the music which was excellent. Mrs. Mildred Thompson accompanied.

The next meeting will be held on Monday evening, November 16, at the Cornerstone Baptist church. All workers and friends are invited.
