

Allies Win First Clash With Hitler's Forces In Tunisia

Showdown Battle In North Africa Imminent; Second American Column Moving In From Southern Tunisia; British Continue Chase Rommel

By ROGER D. GREENE (Associated Press War Editor) Adolf Hitler's air-borne invaders of Tunisia were reported to have been driven back today in their first clash with the vanguard of a powerful American-British expeditionary force driving into the French North African protectorate.

An Algiers radio broadcast said the Nazi setback came in a skirmish with Allied reconnaissance forces, spearheading a thrust by perhaps 150,000 American and British soldiers.

Other British-American troop columns were reported sweeping into Tunisia from the south.

All signs pointed an imminent showdown battle.

The struggle for Tunisia, French North African protectorate, appeared to be heading rapidly toward a climax.

Simultaneously, competent foreign military quarters in London, said advice from the continent indicated that Hitler was preparing a new thrust from the Balkans against the Middle East in an attempt to counter the Allied victory in North Africa.

These quarters said Hitler was withdrawing or had already withdrawn 40 divisions—perhaps 600,000 men—from the Russian front and that most of them were being massed in the Balkans, especially in Greece, for "big action" in the eastern Mediterranean.

Lieut. Gen. Kenneth A. N. Anderson's Anglo-American expeditionary force was reported rolling steadily nearer the Axis-held naval bases at Bizerte and Tunis, where air-borne Nazi reinforcements were said to be under orders by Adolf Hitler to hold at all costs.

DNB, the German news agency, said Nazi planes had "discovered" United States and British forces in the southern border area of Tunisia and bombed them heavily.

This indicated that an Allied pincer movement was in progress to drive the Axis out of the key French buffer state, with one Anglo-American force cutting in from the south and another advancing eastward along the Mediterranean coast in the north.

Confirmation was lacking on London reports of a fierce battle already raging between the Allies and Germans near Tunis, the capital. The American consul at Tunis, who escaped to reach Algeria, said French troops near Tunis had thrown back German patrols and that "the French population is eagerly awaiting the arrival of the Americans."

On the other side of the giant Allied "vice" in the Mediterranean, Britain's triumphant 8th army was officially reported to have occupied the Libyan port of Derna, 150 miles east of Benghazi, and seized the town of Mekkili, 45 miles inland from

Urges Citizens Buy War Bonds

Mrs. James S. Ficklen, Pitt county clerk for the sale of War Saving Stamps, makes this appeal to the people of Pitt county, particularly to the women and school children: "Buy War Saving Stamps, as many as you can, as often as you can. Help slap the Japs and humiliate the Hun!"

"The buying of War Stamps fulfills a two-fold purpose. (1) Saving our money for post-war financial security. (2) Giving the U. S. government the use of our money to buy the necessary military supplies for our armed forces. Every penny that you invest in War Stamps is just that much insurance toward future security, both economically and in a military sense. We save our money, and our government uses every cent derived from the sale of War Stamps to buy guns, tanks, planes, ammunition and ships for our boys at the front, and to protect our homeland.

REDS TAKING INITIATIVE

Thousands Of Nazis Killed In Fresh Fighting

Moscow, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The Red army killed more than 3,000 Germans in fresh fighting while holding steadily all along the wintry front and taking the initiative at some points, today's early war communique reported.

The official report said the Germans in the past two days spent 1,500 lives in futile efforts to retake an important town on the Volga front in the Leningrad sector where the Russians had seized the initiative and advanced after a long period of relative calm.

A like number of Nazis were sacrificed Monday in renewed attacks at Stalingrad, the communique said, and the invaders made no headway at all as their siege of the Volga citadel entered its 13th punishing week.

The Russians even reported that minor gains purchased at appalling cost a few days ago in one part of Stalingrad were nullified by counter-attacks which showed the enemy from a line he occupied two days ago.

Another slight Russian gain was reported in the mid-Caucasian area southeast of Nalchik where only a few weeks ago the Axis threatened to effect a major break-through toward the great Soviet oil stores.

Northeast of Taupse along the Black Sea fighting zone the enemy advanced slightly but was dislodged quickly by a Red counter-thrust and thrown back to his initial positions, the report said.

Today's midday communique reported a light German attack repulsed last night at one point in Stalingrad while elsewhere in the city the Russians were active offensively and artillery destroyed four invader strong points northwest of the town.

Dakar?

Monrovia, Liberia, Nov. 16.—(AP)—(Delayed)—Radio listeners heard a Vichy broadcast tonight reporting that a military mission was on route from Dakar, the French stronghold in West Africa, to North Africa, now under American-British occupation.

British officials in West Africa interpreted this report as meaning that negotiations for peaceful capitulation of Dakar to the United Nations were under way.

This meeting will be held under the auspices of the county Defense Council, the County Nutrition committee, and the County Agricultural Department. C. H. Ferguson of Raleigh will attend the meeting as representative of the State Nutrition Committee in order to explain the program and give instructions to the volunteer workers who will put the program over. In order to do this job it will be necessary to visit every home in the county. In towns the plan is for the Block Leaders of the Citizens Service Corps to carry out the work. In the smaller towns and rural areas the work is to be carried out by the neighborhood leaders of the Agri-

MACARTHUR IS IN NEW GUINEA

General Is Leading Troops In Drive Against Japs

General MacArthur's headquarters, Australia, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Led by General MacArthur, jungle-toughened American and Australian troops forged within heavy cannon shot of Buna today, ready to fight the Japanese for the key Papuan base or take it by default.

The commander-in-chief of the southwest Pacific went into the field himself to direct the campaign and with him were General Sir Thomas Blamey, his commander of Allied land forces.

Today's headquarters communique said that Australian patrols had reached the vicinity of Awia, only 30 miles by trail from Buna, with Australian and American forces closing in rapidly from the west and south against a steadily retreating enemy.

The Japanese faced either a last-ditch stand or an attempt to flee by sea. Buna is their only coastal toehold in Papua but up the New Guinea coast they have strongholds at Lae and Salamaua, some 150 miles away.

General MacArthur last had been in the field during the battle of Bataan to direct active operations. American B-25 medium bombers and A-20 attack planes teamed with Australian heavy bombers to strafe and bomb the retreating enemy around Buna, and along the Kumusi river. Japanese were fleeing toward the coast in canoes going down the Kumusi which reaches the sea north of Buna, and these craft thrice were made the targets for Allied planes.

At Awia the advancing Allies went closer to Buna than the Japanese were in port Moresby last September when their thrust across the towering Owen Stanley mountain range reached its highwater mark at Toribaiya, only 32 miles from the Allied base on the south coast.

General MacArthur's presence testified to the importance attached to the job of clearing the enemy out of Papua. But MacArthur's forces were keeping up with their tasks in other sectors, too.

Today's communique reported American heavy bombers again had struck at Japanese ship formations in the Buna-Faisi area of the northern Solomons, damaging a destroyer and a transport.

Patrolmen Ask For War Service

Raleigh, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Members of troop A of the State Highway Patrol, which has headquarters at Greenville, have petitioned that they be taken into the army as a unit. W. H. Rogers, assistant motor vehicle commissioner, said today.

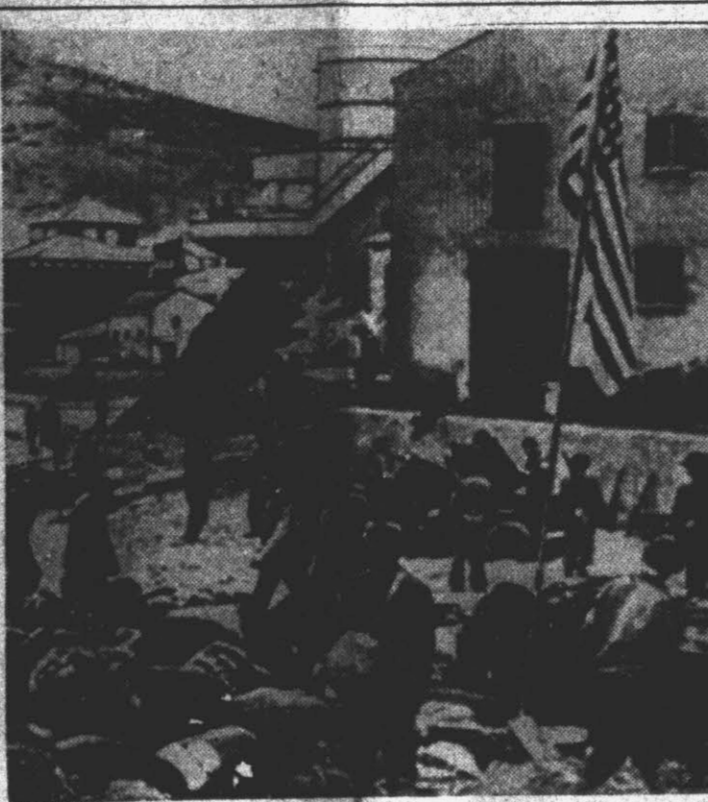

Rogers said he understood members of the troop were lured at intervals that they were draft dodgers and that they were "hiding behind their uniforms."

Warren And Ferrell Sell Grifton Farm

Auction sale yesterday of a part of Live Oaks, the B. R. Moore farm 2 1/2 miles from Grifton, to Nehemiah Garris of Ayden for $14,950 was another indication of a demand for good farm and suburban property. Norman O. Warren and J. W. Ferrell, selling agents, stated. The farm is located on a hard surfaced highway at the Grifton-Gardner's Cross Roads. It is a valuable piece of property, observers at the sale said.

There were 242 acres in the tract with tobacco and cotton allotments. It has a variety of soils, is well drained and is adapted to general diversified farming, Warren said.

Gas Coupons In East To Be Cut To Three Gallons

Move To Delay Nationwide Rationing Under Way

Washington, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Reduction in the value of basic gasoline ration coupons from four gallons to three gallons in the 17 eastern seaboard states has been approved at least tentatively by the Office of Price Administration, an informed government source said today.

The reduction is expected to be announced shortly along with additional measures to save fuel oil, he said. There was no indication, however, of curtailing household rations of fuel oil for heating below the present 65 degree standard, and OPA officials have expressed reluctance to do this.

The source can not be quoted by name. The cut in gasoline rations will apply only to the Atlantic coast states whose supply is affected by acute shortages of transportation, and is not expected to affect the four gallon basic ration to be instituted December 1 in the rest of the country under the nationwide mileage rationing program, he said.

Leon Henderson, price administrator, said later today that the eastern seaboard can expect within 24 hours a comprehensive outline of the gasoline, fuel oil, and other petroleum savings it must make.

Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes has recommended that a curtailment of almost 140,000 barrels (Continued on Page Five)

The WAR TODAY

By DeWITT MacKENZIE, Wide-World News Analyst

(Editor's note: The following article by Edwin Shanke, analyzing the Nazi position on the home front at the start of another war winter, substitutes for "The War Today" by DeWitt MacKenzie. Disorganized by war, flood, drought, peasant hoarding and guerrilla warfare, the rest of Europe is much worse off. In France the total wheat production is down a half-million tons to 6,000,000 tons. The Germans have ordered the French to double their deliveries to the Reich despite the recent loss of African supplies. Italy can barely squeeze through with its 7,000,000 tons.

The Balkans, supposed to be the Nazi granary, will have barely enough food for themselves. Fodder is generally less, meaning that there is likely to be extensive livestock slaughter. The Nazis are claiming nothing from the Russian Ukraine this year, Finland, Poland, Belgium, Norway and Greece are Europe's black spots, with young and old sinking under food deficiencies and diseases.

REACTIONS TO NAVY VICTORY

United Nations Jubilant Over Victory In Solomons

(By The Associated Press) Widespread rejoicing today among United Nations at the United States' smashing victory over the Japanese in the Solomons carried a note of caution against over-confidence.

In Chungking, while excited newsboys cried their extras with news of the victory, a government spokesman said: "The news satisfies us completely. Victory can come only in installments."

At Melbourne, Prime Minister John Curtin said he was "grateful to the United States for the magnificent forces used in this most important theater of the war."

"The battle isn't over, but the enemy knows he has been fighting," he added.

The Australian navy and munitions minister, Norman J. M. Makin said the Solomons action would give Australia much needed relief from possibility of invasion, but he termed it only a round in the fight to free the western Pacific.

London newspapers headlined the battle as "the greatest sea battle of the war."

The Daily Express said: "It likely will prove to be the decisive action of the whole campaign."

Meanwhile the Office of War Information at Washington recorded a Tokyo broadcast in which the Japanese people were told the American navy's "miserable defeat is kept in the dark" the Japanese command's exaggerated claims of virtual destruction of American naval power were repeated.

Mrs. Roosevelt In Washington

Washington, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt returned to Washington today from a war-time trip to England.

In England she was the guest of King George and Queen Elizabeth and carried out an arduous inspection of military and civilian activities.

The White House said she would hold a press conference at 11 a. m. eastern war time, tomorrow.

SAYS PRESS IS DOING BIG JOB

Elmer Davis Declares War Is Being Well Run

New York, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information, said today there was every indication that the nation's free press "by doing a superlative job of news-gathering, reporting through this war stronger in the confidence of the people than ever before."

"Our other free institutions, what is called our 'way of life,' are likely to survive if we are wise enough to fight a democratic war," he said in an address prepared for delivery before the Herald-Tribune forum on current problems.

"We did it before under Woodrow Wilson—we can do it again under Franklin Roosevelt. We can run a citizens' war and we are doing it, in fact."

Davis said that "Some people... are not satisfied with the amount of war news that is being released from Washington."

"Well, we are doing the best we can to balance the need of public information against the requirements of military security," he continued.

Davis said that in the last war there was "continued and sometimes violent criticism (of the administration)—and some of it was deserved."

"Yet as we look back today, it seems that on the whole that war was pretty successfully run by the citizen army under President Woodrow Wilson," he said. "At that time the size of the job seemed staggering—yet it was relatively simple, compared to the complex responsibilities of war in 1942. And yet

Knox Warns May Be Other Rounds, 23 Jap Ships Sent To Bottom And Seven Damaged; U. S. Loses 40 Thousand Japs Slain

By JOHN M. NIGHTOWER, Washington, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Secretary of Navy Knox said today that the United States clearly had won round two of the battle for the Solomons Islands, but that it "must not be forgotten" that there may be a round three.

The secretary called last week's American naval victory—which cost the Japanese 11 warships and 12 other vessels sunk and 7 ships damaged—a major action, but not a decisive one.

"We have at the moment," Knox said in response to a press conference question, "naval supremacy around Guadalcanal."

He declined to claim more advantage than that strategically, but, commenting on the over-all result of the greatest naval engagement since the battle of Jutland in the World War, said that it leaves American forces "in complete and undisputed possession of the (Guadalcanal-Tulagi) area and of the island of Guadalcanal and the airfield there and has caused the enemy very severe losses both in ships and personnel."

The effect of these losses, Knox said, obviously will be hurtful to the Japanese navy, but he declined to say that the Jap fleet had been crippled.

The secretary was asked whether, if the Japanese came back to the southeastern Solomons with a strong naval force, our forces would again defeat them.

He replied that "we will defeat them. I don't know when or in what location."

In a savage three-day conflict that sent the foe's battered naval remnants into hiding, 23 Japanese ships were sunk, seven damaged and possibly 20,000 to 40,000 Japanese troops were lost in the swirl of smoken transports.

First details of the battle that raged from Nov. 13 to 15 were released by the Navy last night. Further reports may boost the staggering toll taken of enemy ships but already the victory was hailed by naval officers unofficially as the greatest of the war thus far, and perhaps of modern times.

The partial reports listed the sinking of a Japanese battleship, three heavy cruisers, two light cruisers, five destroyers, eight crowded transports and four cargo ships. The American losses were given as two light cruisers and six destroyers.

Thus, in 11 months of war, Associated Press records show that 265 Japanese ships have been sent to the bottom of the Pacific as against 84 American vessels, including those at Pearl Harbor.

Of these losses, 119 were Japanese warships and 50 were American.

Much of the running sea fight was fought at close range and in darkness. So furious was the action that at one time two of three large Japanese units that converted for American Home Department. The American Home Department was indeed fortunate to have Mrs. Charles White speak to them Friday afternoon. Mrs. White was president of the club by Mrs. W. T. Kyles, and used as her subject "Leisure Hours." Her discussion was confined to the children in the home, and was most timely as most of the mothers have children, and since so many are at home more and more and need to know how to use their leisure hours to the best advantage. She gave valuable information as to the best type of equipment for all ages, and the members were gratified to know that the things children needed to use in their play were for the most part inexpensive and within the means of the average family. Constructive cooperation was emphasized, children can help and assume responsibility in the home and it is up to the parents to make that responsibility a pleasure instead of a task. Her parting thought was an inspiration and a challenge to parents, "children find their greatest happiness through service to humanity."

Mrs. Earl Forbes, and Miss Stella Grogan of East Carolina Teachers College, who has recently been appointed key nurse of the American Red Cross.

Mrs. Edward Woodard and Mrs. Walter Woodard of Wilson, were special guests for the afternoon.

Mrs. Walter Woodard very graciously told of the Confederate Women's Home in Fayetteville. She said the old ladies were now very feeble and very appreciative of any little present sent them. They need sweets for breakfast trays, and enjoy simple trinkets and warm coats or sweaters. This institution is helped through the State of North Carolina and through donations from the U. D. C. and friends. Mrs. Woodard told of the three hospital beds for T. B. patients which are supported by North Carolina U. D. C. chapters.

She then said the United States government, through U. D. C., will place a stone on any Confederate veteran's grave which is not marked. She asked that those present would try to find any such graves and report them to this local chapter. These markers are engraved with the veteran's name, rank and regiment.

Mrs. Edward Woodard was then introduced and made a wonderful, inspiring talk upon the objectives of the U. D. C.

These are: 1. Historical; 2. Educational; 3. Memorial; 4. Benevolent; 5. Social—and added to these was the place of U. D. C. in National Defense.

Mrs. Woodard told of the essay contests held, of the efforts to keep records correct, fair and just. Of the recording of historical facts of the War Between the States, the collection of old clippings, articles and relics.

She told of the hundreds of girls and boys who have received help through U. D. C. scholarships. These scholarships range from $100 to $1,200, and some are gifts, others loans.

She told of monuments, markers, memorial library shelves given, and of old veterans and their families who have helped; also hospital beds financed for those needing hospitalization. There is a Nurses' Fund in North Carolina whereby young girls wishing to become registered nurses may be helped.

Mrs. Woodard stated the general convention last month in St. Louis, Mo., was "streamlined." All social functions were "out" for the duration.

following work was done by general organization of U. D. C.: Organized 439 Red Cross chapters and auxiliaries; gave $448,000 to the American Red Cross; gave $393,000 to other relief agencies; bought officially as members $25,000,000 in Liberty Bonds; established and maintained 72 beds in the American Military Hospital in France, at a cost of $43,000,000; adopted French and Belgian orphans, contributing $82,000,000; made 500,000 hospital garments; 14,000,000 surgical dressings, and 688,000 knitted garments.

She added that this was a record of which all Daughters could be proud, and that we must keep it in mind so that we can better it in this World War II. Mrs. Woodard emphasized the necessity of keeping all records of National Defense work done by the U. D. C. chapters.

She concluded her most interesting talk by saying "Keep our purposes and aims. Do not let them die. We are carrying on work we've done in the past. And remember—first and last you are a U. D. C."

Mrs. Woodard has attained national prominence in U. D. C. She is second vice-president general and has been endorsed by the North Carolina division for the next president general.

Both Mrs. Walter Woodard and Mrs. Ed Woodard have served as president of the North Carolina division. The North Carolina Daughters are justly proud of both the Mrs. Woodards of Wilson.

Mrs. Fleming invited the members and guests into the dining room for delicious tea and sandwiches.

Mrs. Deal, a past president, poured tea, assisted by Mrs. Winstead, John Linsay and Lou White Winstead. The red and white colors of the organization were used in decorating the dining room. The table was centered with a large bowl of white chrysanthemums with a "V" of red chrysanthemums.

After a delightful social hour the chapter adjourned to meet with Mrs. K. B. Pace December 10.

THE STORMS OF LIFE

The storms of life are brewing in the thunder of my soul, And may heart through the night is crying Like a wolf that's lost its mate, As I live in this world of desolation and hate, A world wherein all people seem to have lost their faith.

Oh, there's no wonder that my heart does weep. When I think of the innocent whom shells caused to forever sleep, And the brave who perished in the deep, Then too there are the bombers that claim the sky, Bombing cities, accepting fame, rejecting shame.

This is the period of darkness for all mankind, But some day the light of victory will shine, And happiness will be yours and mine, Then will the church bells ring, And youthful voices in harmony sing.

Flowers will bloom in the spring to live, not die, Beneath marching feet or be killed by shrapnel that falls like sleet, Mothers will again their sons hold, A treasure to them dearer than gold, The old folks will cheer and smile, And their joy will be heard for many a mile, Then will the cloud that hovers over my heart Be lifted and as a mist from me depart.

THEN
As the night winds gently cry and the evening star glows bright, As the moon on ripples dance with the pine's rhythmic sway, Then all nature seems to say, "Cease your scheming, Come now dreaming To a land so far away." Let me in my slumber glide to that isle over yonder, to the place Where I some day will forever stay. —Chesley Venable Morton, New River, N. C.

It's a terrible atmosphere. The clocks are two-faced, the scrapbooks are all pasted, the lights frequently become lit-up, somebody framed all the pictures and the statues are the actual work of chieftains.—Exchange.

Godly People Real Wealth Says Perry
"Godly men and Godly women are the real wealth of nations," declared Reverend George W. Perry, pastor in his sermon Sunday morning at Jarvis Memorial Methodist church. His subject was "The Wealth of Nations," with his text chosen from verses 14, 15, 16 of the thirteenth chapter of Second Kings.

"The wealth of a nation is not its armaments, not its gold reserves, not its political chicanery or prestige. The wealth of a nation is its community. Money is the medium of exchange but it is quickly gone. It is the lives of noble men and women that count. Leave all the property and money in this community and move out the Godly men and women and you will leave poverty."

"When we come to wrestle with our stubborn sins, we must keep our eyes on. I wonder so often are we ever going to conquer and not have a new sin each day."

"So often we fall into sin and forget we have a God who has promised to be sufficient to conquer sin. There is always something after men and only in Jesus is that victory. If it is not intoxicants it is something else. It takes you and Jesus Christ to stand up to the things that 'bound' you every day. It takes Christian manhood to say no."

"When men and women are Godly in our nation and other nations, war will be impossible," declared Mr. Perry in conclusion.

Missing Actress Is Back At Home
Beverly Hills, Calif., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Barbara Bennett, whose desire for a little rest caused Southern California police officers to lose a lot of it, is safe at home and says she can't understand what all the fuss was about.

While the widespread search for her was on, Miss Bennett, she said, was in seclusion in a rest home and knew nothing of the alarm her absence had caused. She was reported missing Saturday morning by her husband, Addison Randall, actor-cowboy.

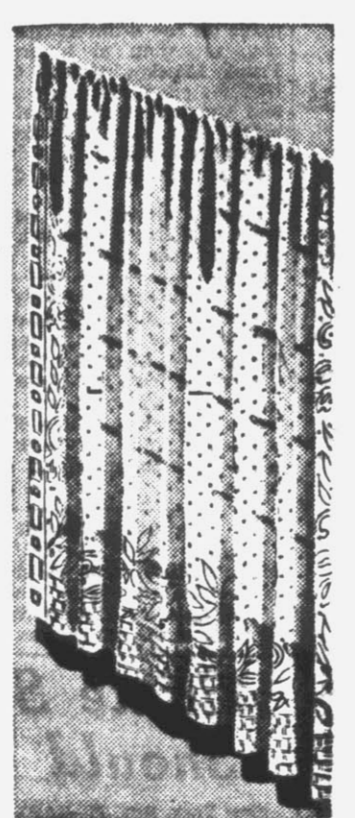

Miss Bennett, former wife of singer Morton Downey, left her apartment Friday evening, presumably to keep a dinner engagement at the home of James Doane, actor's agent, and Mrs. Doane.

"But I changed my mind," Miss Bennett said. "I decided I needed a rest, so I went to a rest home where I registered under an assumed name."

MURDER on the Campus

Chapter 24 The Earlton At 12

Saturday was to be an open date for State, giving them two full weeks to prepare for that final big scramble with Michigan.

They were a couple of sweet plays. Ought to work beautifully if he could set 'em up properly. They'd need 'em, too. Michigan was tough.

STATE DUKE TILT DECIDES BIG FIVE RACE

Victory Over Duke Duke Will Make Wolf Pack Champs

By WOODROW PRICE
Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 17—(AP)—N. C. State's Wolfpack, twice tied but not yet beaten in big five play, will be striving for its first state championship since 1927 in Saturday's game with Duke's Blue Devils at Durham.

The best Duke can hope to gain is a half interest in the state title. A Blue Devil victory would place Duke and Tar Heels on an even basis in front, with State and Wake Forest in a deadlock for second place.

As the teams hit the home stretch the standings read like this:

	Won	Lost	Tied
N. C. State	1	0	2
North Carolina	2	1	1
Duke	1	1	1
Wake Forest	1	1	1
Davidson	0	2	1

If the Wolfpack can perfect its pass defense enough to throttle the Blue Devil air game and can stop the Dukes on the ground—no mean task—they are in position to take undisputed possession of the title, the only team that could do so.

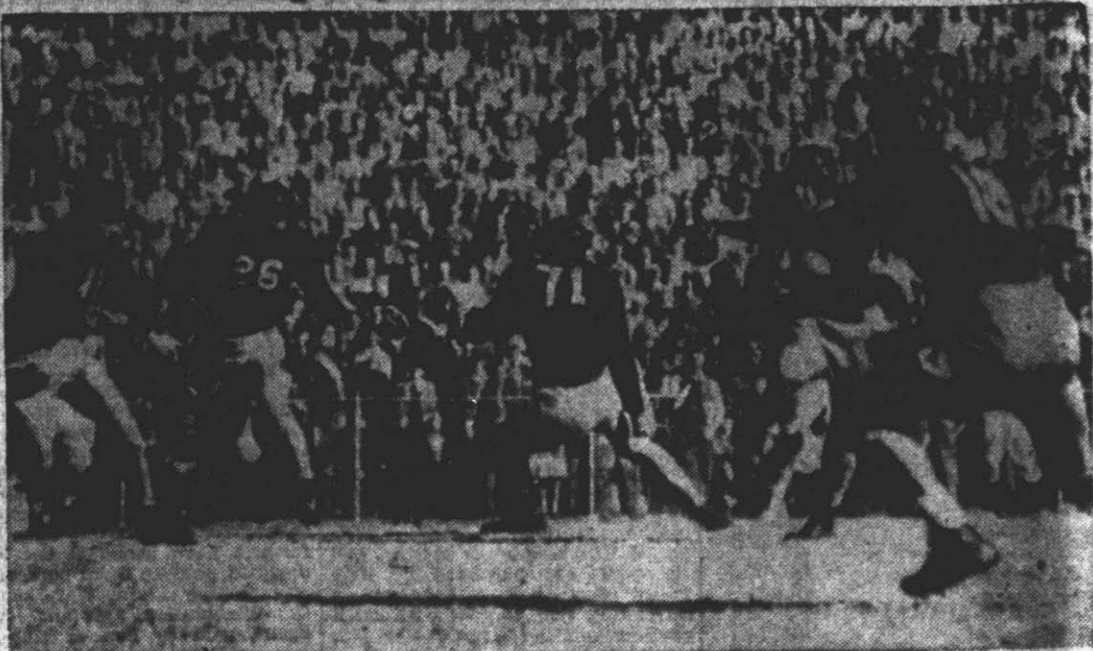

The Tar Heels have hopes for a share in the title on a Duke victory, while Wake Forest and Davidson are out of the picture. The Deacons' best bet is third place. The Wildcats have clinched fifth position, their only claim to distinction being a tie with the current leader, State, in an early season encounter at Wilmington.

Doc Newton, coach of the Wolfpack, is laying stress in this week's practice session on air defense. State, in losing to Georgetown, permitted the Hoyas to amass 201 yards on passes last Saturday, and has been notably inefficient at protecting its goal line from other enemy serials.

While the big five rivals prepare for their important family battle, North Carolina and Davidson are drilling for other games scheduled for the coming week-end, will meet the Citadel Saturday at Charleston, S. C., while the Tar Heels play Virginia at Charlottesville in a traditional-bound contest.

The Deacons of Wake Forest, meanwhile, got an unexpected holiday when coach Peabody Walker told them to stay out of uniform until Wednesday. They don't play again until Thanksgiving day when they take on South Carolina at Charlotte.

Two Big Plays Of Tech's 7-0 Win Over Alabama

These were the two big plays of the Georgia Tech Engineers' 7-0 win over Alabama in Atlanta Saturday afternoon. At bottom: Ralph Plaster, fullback for Tech, indicated by arrow, is making a flying dive for Tech's first period score. He's met head-on by Tide Quarterback Al Sabo (19) and smashed from the side by Tackle John McKewen (48). At top: The Tide scored, too, but it didn't count. Russ Mosley, with ball, is going around left end for a second quarter touchdown which an offside penalty nullified. Vainly trying for Mosley are Tech's Georg Manning (41) center; Wilbur Stela (26), back; F. P. Page (71), end. At right the Tide's Russ Craft (18), back, and Dave Brown (17) another back, are coming up to help.

expected. ... But in the fourth a red blur appeared on Stolz's eye where the unorthodox puncher had landed a clout and from there on about all Allie could do was try to protect himself until the general got up and shouted to the referee, "call in the doctor." ... And the fight was over. There was the usual argument afterward with some folks, mostly managers, claiming Stolz wasn't seriously hurt and should have been allowed to continue. ... The customers didn't get their money's worth, they claimed, but somehow you felt that any cut is serious and a sour ending is better than having some kid's eye permanently injured.

Saturday it was Baker field for the Yale-Princeton game, with a bitter wind whistling through the almost unprotected press box. ... You just sat there and shook. And pretty soon Dillon Graham came along and asked, "Why is it that down in the South they have steam-heated press boxes while up here they need heat they don't even plug the cracks in the floor?" You didn't have the answer. ... Down on the field the wind did some strange tricks with the ball and so did the players, but mostly it was pretty good football, especially when Yale found a weak spot in the right side of the Tiger line and smashed through for two touchdowns and the ball game. ... As an old grad, the result wasn't pleasing, but still Yale hadn't won for four years and maybe the five-in-a-row Jinx is a real one.

Sunday's a hickey night and it seemed queer to be expecting a poor game. ... Between the Rangers and Bruins, always in the past those meetings had been the season's highspots. ... But rookies will perform like rookies and they put a lot of action into it even if they did lack skill.

Monday there was a long subway ride to Van Cortlandt park for the I. C. 4-A Cross Country meet and a journing ride on the tailboard of a truck over the rough trails and shortcuts through the picnic grounds. ... But that way you saw the whole race and, as someone wisecracked, got some training for riding in a jeep. ... Frank Dixon, a well-built, tan-skinned Negro lad from New York U. made a show of the field and you look forward to seeing him again in the winter track meets. He ran some pretty good miles last winter. It was a busy week-end, all right, but there's nothing doing for a few days now and you wonder what you'll write about until the next one comes along.

Gas Coupons

GPA officials said they could not state immediately whether a reduction from four gallons to three would accomplish the 80,000 barrel saving, because of the fact that a reduction in the basic "A" card ration would throw the supplemental "B" and "C" rations out of proportion.

In other words, essential drivers whose ration is gauged to match exactly their necessary driving will find themselves short of motor fuel to extend of the proposed cut.

Some machinery would have to be set up to provide for readjustment of the supplemental rations, it was indicated.

A congressional drive to postpone the nationwide rationing of gasoline, now scheduled to start on December 1, was reported by its backers today to have gained strength in influential quarters.

Without disclosing the names of more than a score of congressmen he said had assured him of support, Representative Johnson (D-Okla.) said there was "a splendid chance" for an early hearing on a resolution he introduced yesterday to set up a three-man board to study the entire petroleum situation.

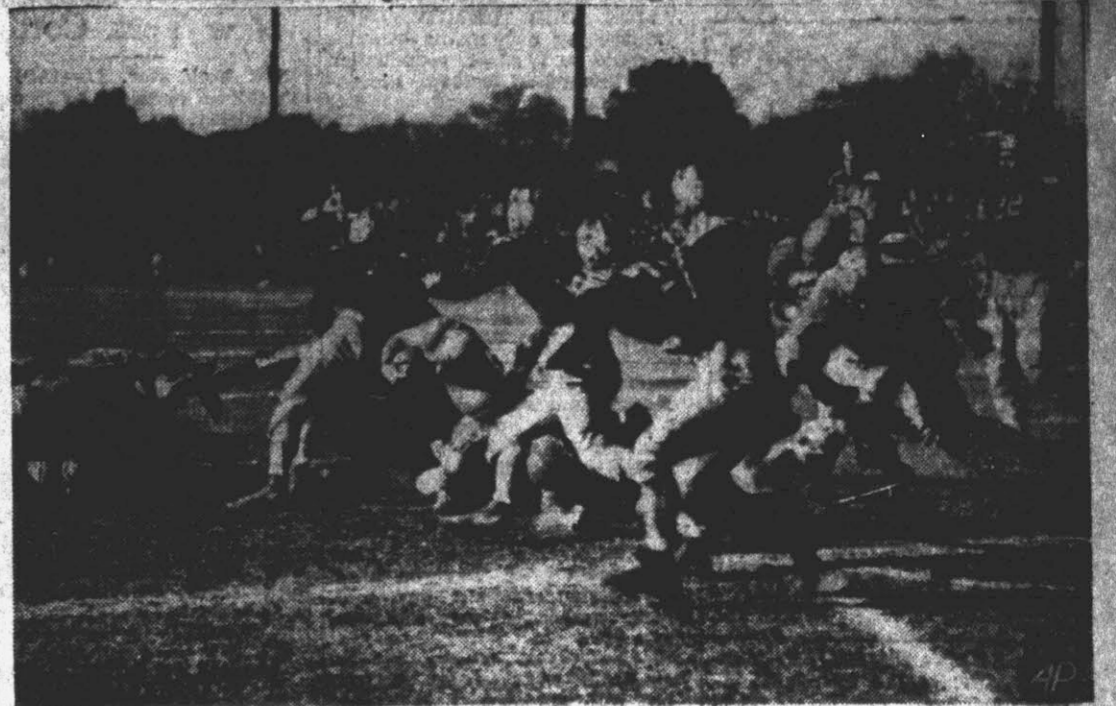

Johnson's resolution automatically would forestall nationwide application of gasoline rationing for three months to give the board a chance to complete a survey. It was referred to the Banking and Currency committee, several members of which have been outspokenly opposed to extension of rationing in areas having plentiful supplies.

Sinkwich Sets Up Touchdown Against Chattanooga

Georgia smashed Chattanooga Saturday, 40 to 0, and, as usual, Sinkwich starred for the Bulldogs. Here the fireball, on ground with the ball, helps set up a score with a knife-like thrust for four yards through tackle to the three-yard-line. Swarming toward him are Chattanooga's Kovacevich, (15), Martin (19), Smallwood (22), and others unidentified.

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Nov. 17—(AP)—Notes on a heavy week-end in the sports-writing business:

Friday is fight night at the garden, and sometimes you wonder why you keep going there week after week. ... Of course you see some good scraps—and some bad ones, but it's one sure place to pick up the odd bit of news or gossip to use in a column. ... Besides there's some satisfaction of sitting in front of the Bigwigs who pay stiff prices for ringside seats. ... Last Friday there was an undercurrent of excitement as the ringworms discussed Sammy Angott's sudden abdication of the lightweight title and the probable effect upon the Beau Jack-Allie Stolz affair they were about to see and several of them stopped by boxing commissioner Phelan's seat right behind you to confirm Sammy's retirement.

The fight was pretty good while it lasted, too. ... And with some satisfaction you remembered that piece a couple of days ago about how different boxing styles made good or bad scraps. ... Beau Jack rushed up in his own odd way and Allie sank a left deep into his body and that was about what had been

Six Who Came Back
These six men, five marines and a navy pharmacist's mate, were part of an outpost of 46 men who were cut off from the main body by advancing enemy the night of October 24 when Japs made their first big attempt to recapture Henderson Field on Guadalcanal. They fought their way through after spending five nights in the Jap-infested jungles. Left to right: (front) Pvt. Matthew C. Comstaine, Rochester, N. Y.; Pfc. Mate Homer H. Berry, U. S. N., Roanoke Rapids, N. C.; Pvt. 1st Class Richard F. Hollinger, York, Penn.; Rear: Pvt. Cecil A. Gaskell, Thomaston, Georgia; Pvt. George A. Safely, Minderal, Va.; and Pvt. Edward C. Kothman, Hartford, Conn.

official respiration for more than half an hour.

Dr. Frank, in his interesting analysis of Japan's power, reminded that the United Nations "now have the ball on both ends of the field," and from what news is coming from North Africa and the South Pacific, the United States and her allies have "made a touchdown and are going to win the war from the Germans and the Japs."

Guests at last night's meeting were Howard Morrison of Charlotte, James T. Uzzle, and J. A. Gaskins of Wilson, Boy Scout executives; Dr. John Mewborn and Paul K. Ewell of Farmville, and the "Idle Reporter."

The Rotary club was organized here in 1921. It is the only Rotary club owning its own building, and has a reputation for excellent attendance and outstanding community service.

It was apparent to the invited guests last night that the magnet that holds the club together is the "good neighbor spirit and that of the Good Samaritan."

Jaycees Will Meet On Thursday Night

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will meet at Respass Barbecue Stand on the Bethel Highway Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. President Fred Forbes, Jr., will preside. The Jaycees will be host to a number of guests. More than a score of members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce are now in the armed forces.

At Thursday's meeting the committee will outline the plans for the Junior "commando" drive for new members.

Naval Officers Killed In Battle

Washington, Nov. 17—(AP)—Rear Admiral Norman Scott of Kirkwood, Mo., 53, and Captain Casin Young, 48, of Coronado, Calif., were killed in the furious night naval battle in the Solomon islands of November 13, the Navy Department announced today.

Rear Admiral Scott was in command of a naval unit in the engagement and Captain Young, holder of the medal of honor for heroism at Pearl Harbor December 7, was commander of Rear Admiral Daniel J. Callaghan's flagship. The death of Callaghan was reported by the navy yesterday shortly before announcement that American naval forces had scored a major victory over the Japanese armada.

Rotary Club Here Versatile Group

By CHESTER WALSH

Ninety-eight per cent of the members of the Greenville Rotary club were present at the weekly supper session last night to hear Dr. A. D. Frank, professor of history at East Carolina Teachers College, give a narrative report of a radio broadcast about the American forces in the South Pacific destroying and damaging 26 Japanese warships and troop transports. The college professor thus prefaced his scheduled talk on Japan's relative weaknesses in essential war materials. The report of the Americans having the Japs "on the run" stimulated morale and spread good cheer.

F. C. Harding, dean of the Greenville bar and chairman of the Rotary club's Inter-Service committee, had charge of the program and presented the speaker.

President Steve G. Wilkerson presided.

Secretary John Proctor, checking the attendance, reported that only two Rotarians were absent. Ernest Willard is sick and Wayland Sermons was out of town and will make up his attendance at Farmville to give the Greenville club a 99 per cent attendance for last night.

Joe Moyer, general program chairman, called on Rotarian Roy Martin, insurance adjuster, to give a brief outline of his life's history. Martin did it in a fine way but failed to mention that through his knowledge of first aid he saved the life of a swimmer in the Pamlico river last summer by applying ar-

Indict Priests For Espionage

Detroit, Nov. 17—(AP)—Two priests of the Rumanian Orthodox church, one of whom investigators said had sought to arrange entrance into the United States for Former King Carol and Magda Lupescu, were indicted along with an editor of Rumanian publications by a federal grand jury today on charges of espionage.

The priests are Father Giharie Moraru of Dearborn, Mich., identified in the indictment as leader in North America of the free Rumania movement; and Father Stephan Opreanu of Detroit. Opreanu and George Zamfir, Detroit editor of Rumanian publications, were named as agents of Moraru.

War Play At High School Thursday

The Junior Red Cross here is functioning efficiently and effectively. They are carrying on their membership drive with good results. They wrote, staged and perfected a dramatic story of what is going on at the battlefronts and what the Junior Red Cross is doing in the war work. Under the direction of Mrs. J. B. James, Junior Red Cross chairman, the young people are doing work that would be a credit to grownups.

The Junior Red Cross play, shown to audiences totaling nearly 2,000 here and elsewhere, is a wonderful dramatization of what Americans are doing in the war. It is directed by Miss Naomi Newell, English teacher at the Greenville high school. The script was written, and the parts are portrayed by high school students. It is so intensely interesting that those who witness it advise others to see it.

The war drama will be presented at the High School auditorium Thursday night at 8 o'clock. Admission is free. The public is invited.

L. J. Smith Buys Business Property

The building at Fourth and Washington streets, occupied by the News-Leader and owned by Mrs. E. G. Flanagan and Mrs. Alice Keeler, was offered for sale again today under court order for division. L. J. Smith, Greenville real estate agent, raised the bid to $5,307.50. According to court ruling, the bid may again be raised. The property can be offered again and again until there are no higher bids.

Norman O. Warren and the J. W. Perrell Company were the selling agents for Joseph O. Moyer, commissioner for the court.

Victory Pig Sale Be Held Dec. 8th

All farmers having hogs ready for market are urged to sell them at the Victory Hog Sale to be held on Tuesday, December 8, at J. N. and J. L. Williams' stockyard in Greenville according to F. F. Hendrix, county agent, and Robert A. Darr, secretary-treasurer of the Production Credit Association.

The Production Credit Association, extension service, and other agricultural agencies are sponsoring a Victory Pig Club in which any hog raiser is eligible for membership. The farmer, farm boy, or girl can qualify for membership by agreeing to raise one or more hogs and sell them and invest the money in War Bonds. Mr. Darr stated that although the program has been underway for only a short time, many farmers have joined in the movement to produce more pork and to promote the sale of War Bonds. S. C. Winchester, assistant county agent, said 59 Four-H club boys and girls are raising Victory pigs.

"Any farmer may sell his hogs on the Victory Auction Sale, provided he will accept War Bonds as pay for part of his hogs. He can sell all of his hogs through the sale and invest as much as possible in War Bonds," said F. F. Hendrix, "and we hope that our farmers will cooperate in this patriotic movement."
