

Germans Hurdled Back In First Heavy Fighting For Bases In North Africa

Allies Reported to be Within 30 Miles of Tunis and Bizerte; French Capture Nazi Forces In East Tunisia; Rommel's Fleeing Forces Abandon Benghazi

By ROGER D. GREENE (Associated Press War Editor) Allied headquarters announced today that American and British troops, locked in the first heavy fighting in Tunisia, had driven back every German attempt to thrust out from their newly formed lines around Tunis and Bizerte, while pro-Allied French soldiers captured small Nazi forces in eastern Libya.

An Allied spokesman said British and American troops were closing in on all landward sides of the big Axis-held naval stronghold of Bizerte and Tunis. Allied vanguards were reported within 30 miles of both cities, striking from several directions. At the same time, Adolf Hitler's high command acknowledged that fleeing Axis columns in Libya had abandoned Benghazi, the last escape port in North Africa east of Tripoli.

United Nations headquarters said Allied troops, including American mobile artillery units, drubbed the Axis in three sharp clashes yesterday, destroying about one-third of a German armored column and driving two other Nazi columns into retreat.

Dispatches said the opening battle for control of the strategic North African buffer state developed between 30 and 40 miles from Bizerte, with the Germans using their best medium tanks and dive-bombers.

Allied losses were described as "minor." American and British mechanized troops now have driven 50 miles eastward from the Algerian frontier and were reported moving toward climactic assaults on Bizerte and Tunis, the capital.

German headquarters gave a non-committal version of the initial clash, declaring: "In the Algerian-Tunisian frontier area, close-ranged German fighters attacked enemy advanced units and De Gaulle (Fighting French) units were attempting to stop our advance."

Allied headquarters said crack new American mobile artillery had combined with British and French troops to shatter an advance by a German motorized force 20 miles south of the scene of the main tank battle.

"It appears that the Germans are digging in about 30 miles southwest of Bizerte and in the Tunis area and are preparing to make their stand there," an Allied spokesman said. The spokesman declared that the French situation was "extremely (Continued on Page Six)

Says Essential Workers Be Deferred From Draft

Washington, Nov. 20—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today that a manpower program to be announced soon would provide machinery for draft deferment of essential workers in munitions plants. The President told a press conference he did not know whether the manpower problem would be handled through administrative action, but he said probably little legislation would be required in any event. He said, too, that he had written the war and navy secretaries directing that they accept no enlistments and grant no commissions, effective as of last Monday, to governmental employees. This followed his instructions to heads of all governmental agencies and departments to cancel draft deferments for federal workers and to ask for no deferments except in exceptional cases.

HALSEY TO BE MADE ADMIRAL

Doolittle, Hewitt and Others Named For Promotion

Washington, Nov. 20—(AP)—Vice Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr., who led an American fleet to a spectacular victory over Japanese naval forces in the southwest Pacific last week was nominated by President Roosevelt today to be a full admiral.

At the same time the President gave recognition through promotions to the two leaders in the North African campaign. Brigadier General James H. Doolittle in charge of American air forces in North Africa, was nominated to be major general. Doolittle, who commanded the airmen who raided Tokyo, holds the permanent rank of major in the Air Corps Reserve. Rear Admiral Henry K. Hewitt, who had a leading role in bringing the invasion forces successfully to North Africa and subduing the opposition of French naval vessels, was nominated to be a vice admiral. Halsey will be the Navy's fifth full admiral. The others are Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the fleet; Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific fleet commander; Royal E. Ingersoll, Atlantic fleet commander, and Harold R. Stark, commander of American naval forces in European waters.

Also today, the President nominated five other army officers for promotion in recognition of their exploits in the landings in North Africa. Brigadier generals Lucian K. Truscott, Jr., of Enid, Okla., and Lunsford E. Oliver of Falls City, Neb., were nominated to be major generals, and Colonels Paul M. Robb, of Mountain Grove, Mo., John W. O'Daniel of Newark, Del., and Benjamin F. Caffey, a native of Castle Gate, Utah, to be brigadier generals.

Asks Co-operation Rat Control Drive

H. L. Rivers, superintendent of the City Street Department, requests the cooperation of all business houses and housewives in the city in the rat control program to begin Monday, November 23rd, and continues through the 24th and 25th.

Mr. Rivers states that the Street Department is putting on extra force to haul all trash and all garbage away from the premises promptly. He requests the food handling establishments "or any other place where food is sold to be careful not to leave any waste food around where rats can get to it. And he requests all housewives to be certain to put the garbage in a tightly closed container.

He stresses the fact that if the rats can get to the food, they will not eat the poison bait, therefore if a success, the city must have the full cooperation of every house wife and every food handling establishment in the city.

Local Man's Brother Killed In Action

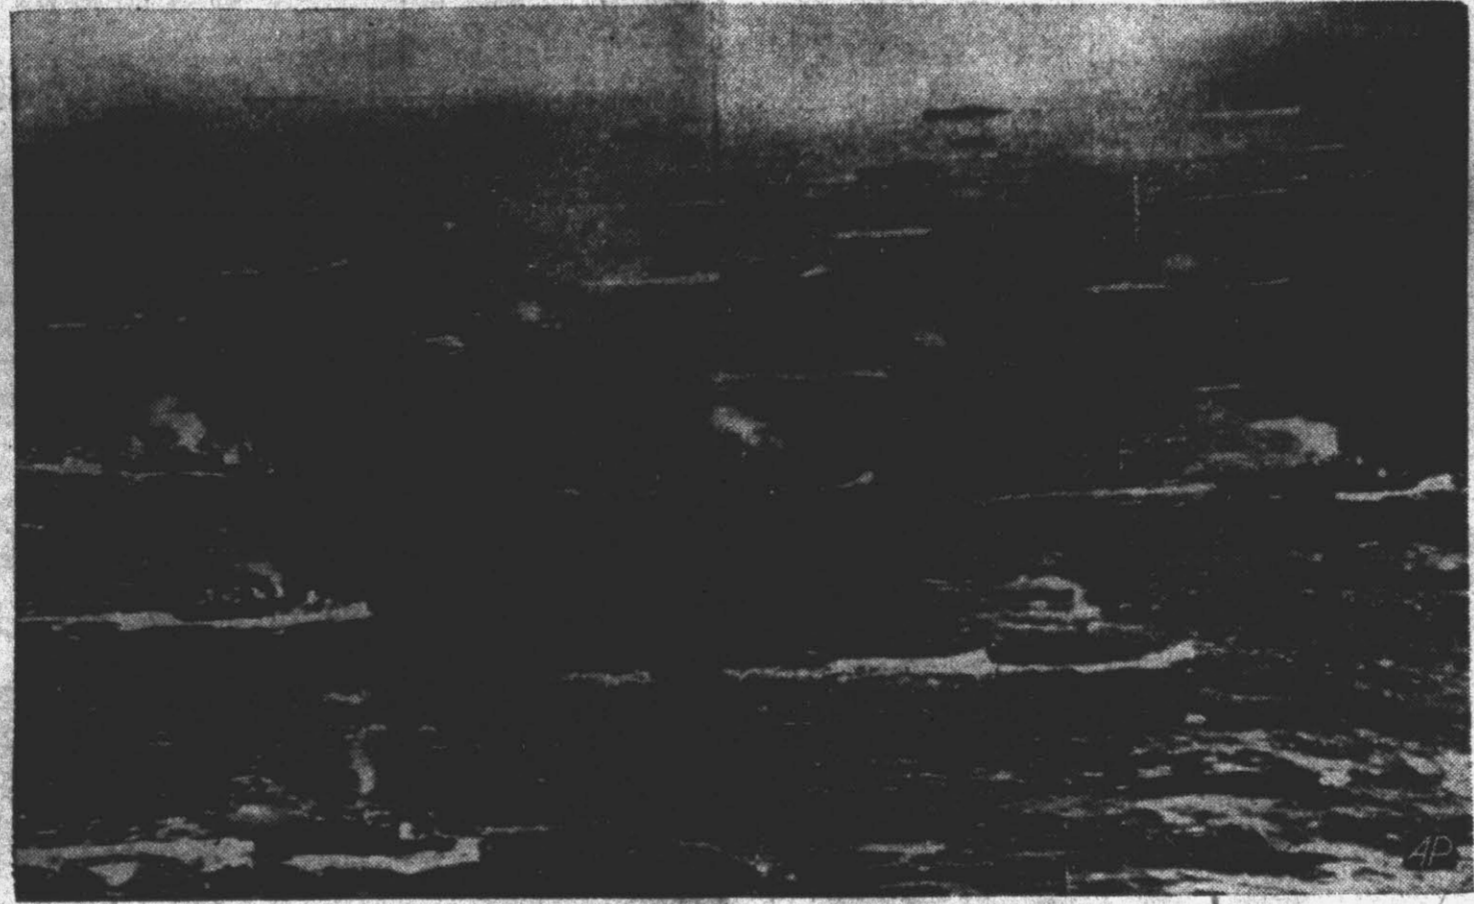

Eugene Johnson, a member of the United States Marines, has been reported killed in action in the South Pacific, according to a message to his brother, B. D. Johnson, of Greenville, a former manager of Coburn's Shoe Store. He was stationed for a time at the Marine Base at New River and frequently visited in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left last night for Littleton, N. C., to be with the family.

Meadows Named On Committee

Dr. Leon R. Meadows of East Carolina Teachers College, has been appointed a member of a special committee to check the turning of funds in housing education in Florida for the American Association of Teachers Colleges. Dr. Meadows, a former vice-president of the association, is at present a member of its executive committee, and in this capacity spent last week-end in Gainesville, Fla., attending a meeting of the committee. The housing experiment, begun last year, is a long-time study of the effect on community homes of definite education in housing. The committee has arranged through the schools in three Florida communities to give pupils training in building, equipping, and maintaining at moderate cost homes that meet high standards. These have been paired with three schools of similar size in neighboring communities, where such education will not be given. At the end of a period long enough to show the effect on the homes the pupils themselves set up, housing conditions in the first three communities will be compared with those in the second group of three so that conclusions as to the value of such education can be drawn. Similar experiments are being carried on by the association in the teaching of foods in Kentucky and clothing in Vermont.

Allied Convoy Approaching North African Coast

This official RAF aerial view shows the Allied convoy as it plowed through heavy seas off the African coast with troops and equipment for the occupation of French North Africa. American and British troops from these ships landed on the coasts of French Morocco and Algeria November 8, came to terms with French forces after brief fighting, and then fanned out toward Tunisia to contact Axis enemies. FILIBUSTER IS TO CONTINUE

Fail In Agreement In Anti-Poll Tax Row

Washington, Nov. 20—(AP)—Senator Bilbo (D-Miss) said today that "all negotiations are off" for ending a filibuster against anti-poll tax legislation and that debate would continue until January 3 unless majority leaders Barkley withdraws his motion to put the measure before the Senate for formal action.

Bilbo told a reporter of the development while Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) told the Senate that the measure to abolish poll taxes as a prerequisite to voting in federal elections would change the fundamental Constitution law illegally. O'Mahoney spoke with the consent of the filibustering southern members, interrupting a speech which Bilbo started yesterday, and the southerners held a strategy conference at which time new decisions were reached to plan for debate to continue until the measure dies with adjournment of the present Congress.

"The discussion of this important question is going to continue until January 3 unless Mr. Barkley sees fit to withdraw his motion to call up the bill," said Bilbo. O'Mahoney took the floor for what opponents of the measure described as a "full dress" speech. The weight which the southerners attached to O'Mahoney's action in publicly joining the opposition to the bill was emphasized by a note sent to the press gallery by Senator Connally (D-Texas), one of the leaders of the filibuster.

On the back of a printed Legislative bill, Connally wrote: "To the press: We hope you will give us a break by carrying O'Mahoney's reasons for opposing this bill." "Connally," immediately below his signature. (Continued on Page Three)

Nazi General Now In London

London, Nov. 20—(AP)—General Ritter Von Thoma, Nazi Africa Corps Commander under Marshal Rommel, was in London today, the first captive Axis General to be brought to the British capital. Von Thoma, who was captured by British advance troops on the north African desert Nov. 4, was brought here by special train yesterday from the British airport where he had been landed as a prisoner of war. He was flown here by Canadian airmen. Von Thoma was commander of German tank forces in Spain during the Spanish Civil war and fought against the B.E.F. in France and Belgium and at Dunkerque. He was knighted by the Germans for valor during the world war.

Greenville Boy Aboard The Boise

No report has been received here from Silverthorne but absence of any official report to the contrary led to the belief that he is well and came through the battle uninjured.

The WAR TODAY

By DeWITT MacKENZIE, Wide-World News Analyst

(This column, conducted as a daily feature by DeWitt MacKenzie, war analyst, is written today by Glenn Babb, Mr. MacKenzie's relief in the Middle East war zone, is expected to resume tomorrow.) The Japanese are taking punishing, costly defeats at the farthest fingerhorns of their zone of conquest. Both in the Solomons and on and around New Guinea they are paying dearly for desperate efforts to check the turning of the tide. General MacArthur's reports leave little doubt that their ill-starred adventure on the Papuan peninsula, which two months ago menaced Port Moresby and represented the high tide of the drive toward Australia, is near an ignominious end. The land troops are pinned back to a narrow strip of coast between Buna and Gona and efforts to relieve them from the sea have only added to the toll exacted from the Japanese navy in the bitter war of attrition in the South Pacific. In the Solomons Japanese fortunes have been worse, if possible. Our navy now adds more ships to the already formidable list of enemy losses, suggesting that what Secretary Knox calls round two of the Solomons slugging match has cost the Mikado's fleet two battleships, eight cruisers and some 18 lesser craft. These are truly crippling losses, but it is too early to suggest that they have altered the balance of sea power in the Pacific definitely in our favor. Our navy is preparing for round three in the Solomons and there is no disposition among the men who know best to count the Japanese navy out in advance. For one thing, the Japanese battleships sunk or damaged are said to be of the Kongō class, a group of remade battlecruisers which composed the last formidable unit of the Japanese first line. Nearly 30 years old, they represented an early, experimental stage of Japanese battleships. (Continued on page four)

CALLS DEATHS MASS MURDER

Gains Also Scored At Other Vital Points

Salem, Ore., Nov. 20—(AP)—A powerful poison, possibly an insecticide mistaken for powdered milk and used to cook scrambled eggs, caused the deaths of 47 insane asylum inmates, an investigation revealed today, and Governor Charles A. Sprague termed the tragedy "mass murder."

The governor said he had directed the state police to "leave no stone unturned in their effort to affix responsibility for this mass murder." The possibility of homicide was studied.

Nothing was wrong with the frozen egg yolks supplied the Oregon State Hospital for the Insane by the Agricultural Marketing Administration, Gov. Sprague said. The poison was evidently added in the preparation of the food. Dr. J. C. Emans, hospital superintendent, said an analysis of the eggs served at dinner Wednesday night showed they contained a deadly poison commonly used in insecticides. He cited the possibility that roach powder, kept in a barrel in a cellar under their preparation instead of powdered milk, stored nearby. The powders are similar in appearance.

He said an inmate kitchen helper preparing the eggs left the pot unattended for five or ten minutes while he went to the cellar in search of powdered milk. It is possible, he said, that the poison could have been put into the eggs during this time.

A total of 467 inmates who ate the eggs became violently ill in a matter of minutes afterward. All were nauseated, complained of stomach cramps, paralysis of the legs and difficulty in breathing. The strong lived; the weaker died in agony. Dr. Evans said many still were critically ill and he feared the death toll might increase within the next week or two.

Wainwright In Jap Prison Camp

New York, Nov. 20—(AP)—The Tokyo radio has announced that Lieut. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, Lieut. Gen. A. E. Percival, Sir Thomas Shenton Thomas, Sir Mark Atchison Young, A. I. Spits, and other high allied officers are quartered in a war prison camp on the island of Formosa. Wainwright succeeded Gen. Douglas MacArthur as United States commander in the Philippines. Percival was the commander of British forces in Malaya. Sir Thomas was Governor of Malaya. Sir Mark was Governor of Hong Kong, and Spots was governor of Sumatra.

This was the first official disclosure of their whereabouts since their capture early in the Pacific war. Japs Increase Holdings Canberra, Australia, Nov. 20—(AP)—The Japanese have completed occupation of nine anchorages in Portuguese Timor by moving into Lantem, it was stated officially today. It was said that motor trucks were being assembled there. Dills the capital, was occupied by the Japanese early in the Pacific war. Members of a radical section of the Democratic party in New York state in 1835 were called "Locofocos."

Allied Drive To Clear Japs Out Of New Guinea Now In The Final Stages

AGAINST DELAY GAS RATIONING

Efforts To Delay Nationwide Program Likely To Fail

Washington, Nov. 20—(AP)—A spokesman in the office of Rubber Administrator William Jeffers said today the office was "unabashedly opposed" to postponement of nationwide gasoline rationing as a bi-partisan congressional block sought a 30 to 90 day stay of the order now effective December 1.

The spokesman, who desired not to be quoted by name, said: "The Baruch report clearly demonstrated the necessity of nationwide rationing to keep passenger cars on the road for essential driving. Any impartial and thorough study of the situation will arrive at the same conclusion."

Inquiry at the Office of Price Administration as to reports from Rep. Boren (D-Okla.) that hundreds of residents of Oklahoma were refusing to register for rationing brought the reply: "They just won't get gasoline or tires after December 1 if they don't have coupon books."

Members of the congressional committee expressed the view in general, that the only way they could get a delay was by persuasion, rather than compulsion, because the December 1 deadline was so near. Rep. Hope (R-Kan.) a member of a special committee formed to gain a delay in the order through legislation, expressed belief that a further study would prove helpful, but conceded that "I don't think there is much that can be done."

Meanwhile, the committee—its membership made up largely of western lawmakers and congressmen from the oil-producing states—was scheduled to meet today for an executive session later today to draft the strategy for the fight.

Greenville Boy Is Missing Overseas

Charles Gray Morgan, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan of Greenville, who joined the United States Naval Reserve last year, and was on overseas duty, has been reported missing by the department, according to a message to his mother here. Morgan had a rating of seaman second class and a good record. He was in Greenville last May visiting his mother. He had a cheerful outlook on the war situation. He knew that sooner or later he would be out there where the fighting is, but was cheerful and courageous about it. "We've got to lick those Germans and the Japs," he said to a friend while here and expressed a willingness to go back and do his part for his country.

Future Blackouts To Be Unannounced

Local Civilian Defense Chairman Charles A. White today stated that in the future there would be no previous announcements of blackouts and that all such blackouts would come unannounced. We are expecting such a blackout sometime in the near future and it is to be hoped that everyone in our community will stay on the alert, Mr. White said.

Chairman White issued particular warning to people who are using open fireplaces for heating. In case of a blackout arrangement must be made to screen such fireplaces from outside view or it will be necessary to put the fire out immediately upon the sounding of the blackout alarm.

"Since all future blackouts will be unannounced, when they come there will be no way of knowing whether they are tests or the real thing so it is absolutely necessary that we take no chances," Mr. White warned.

Byrd To Seek Reduction In Government Spending

Washington, Nov. 20—(AP)—Declaring the federal payroll had almost doubled in the past year, Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) of a joint economy committee today pledged an effort to prune the expenses of all government agencies, from the White House down. In what appeared to be a well-defined move to cut deeply into the forthcoming new budget, Byrd told reporters the committee would concentrate largely on reducing the administrative costs of war agencies. "That seems to be the chief place where savings can be made," he said. "We may be able to obtain abolition of the WPA, which was given about $400,000,000 this year, but not many other cuts can be made in the non-war agencies." Byrd said the committee learned that on September 1 the executive staff payroll under President Roosevelt entailed a yearly outlay of $2,389,460 for employment of 726 persons in the District of Columbia and 180 persons outside. This did not include, he said, any of the emergency agencies set up under executive authority, such as the Office for Emergency Management. By contrast, Byrd said the White House payroll under President Woodrow Wilson in July 1917, during the last war, contained the names of 40 persons and involved a yearly outlay of $164,900. The monthly payroll for government employees this September totaled $410,622,000, he said, exclusive of payments to the 30,000 members of county agricultural committees who draw a total of $300,000. Japs Driven Into Narrow Corridor Along Coast; Allied Airmen Sink An Enemy Cruiser And Destroyer; Late Reports Reveal Greater Jap Losses In Solomons

By C. YATES MODANIEL Gen. MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, Nov. 20. (AP)—American and Australian jungle fighters pinned the Japanese into a narrow corridor along the Papuan coast between Buna and Gona today after Allied airmen had smashed an enemy sea and air relief thrust, sinking a cruiser and destroyer and downing three planes. Today's noon communique said that Allied ground forces were fighting in the outskirts of Buna, main enemy base in the battle area, and Gona, the settlement about 30 miles northwest along the coast where the Japanese made their initial landing in this region last July 22. After days of withdrawal with little or no resistance, the Japanese apparently were making a stand on Buna and Gona in a last effort to prevent expulsion from the area which they had held since the drive that menaced Port Moresby, on the Australian side of New Guinea, only last September. Under the personal leadership of General MacArthur, the Allies seemed close to the climax of the counteroffensive which has driven the enemy back along the Papuan coast. Owen Stanley mountains and down to the coastal plains in about seven weeks. A light cruiser and two destroyers stood in to shore near Gona under cover of darkness, the communique said, and were meeting landing barges when they were surprised by Allied heavy bombers dodging through rain squalls and under low clouds that the enemy evidently was counting on for concealment. Using flares to guide them, the bombers drove in low, quickly scoring a hit amidships that sank the cruiser and planting another bullet-eye shot with a 500-pound bomb on one of the destroyers which split in two after a second explosion. The remaining destroyer was damaged and forced to flee and the barges then were bombed and strafed. In the accompanying aerial action three enemy Zero fighters were shot down. Today's official report did not indicate whether the barge rendezvous which the bombers turned into a disaster was an attempt to withdraw some of the hard-pressed enemy troops or to reinforce them. (During the last attack, the Australian correspondent said, a number of small boats filled with troops were seen between the warships and the shore but it was difficult to determine whether they (Continued on Page Six)

In remembrance of our father, Mr. William Harvey Elks, who passed away two years ago today, November 20, 1940.

We miss you more dear father. Your face we cannot see. To hear your voice once more would mean happiness for me.

We always go into your room and find a vacant chair. Although we feel your presence is there.

From early morn til set of sun Your tasks of love were never done. You shared our hopes, our dreams, our plans.

And you always seemed to understand. And even though we had to part. We keep your interest in our heart. Your life was a symbol of enduring and sunniness love.

Father, just to know that someone's caring. Really caring every day. What we do and how we're faring. Help us to brighten up our way.

Let others share your sunny days And you will find it's true. That others will be glad to share. The rainy days with you.

People sometimes decline to subscribe for their home paper for the reason that they already take several papers published in New York or elsewhere.

Yet these same people often ask and receive favors from the local paper, while none is received or expected from the far off journal.

When they wish to express gratitude for kindly assistance during sickness or misfortune, the local paper is asked to publish a card of thanks.

When they wish to have a supper or reception of any kind, the local paper is asked to give it a free notice.

When a public meeting is to be held for any purpose, they want the local paper to give due publicity.

If there is a battle for right in the county precinct, the editor is expected to bear the brunt of it.

When birth of wedding occurs in the family, they expect the local paper to give a glowing description of the event.

This is the start of Book Week but remember your high school motto: "Reading good books giveth pleasure and profit."

Red Cross
The program by the high school Junior Red Cross presented last night in the high school auditorium was even more effective than it has been during the day. The senior mixed chorus sang and the high school band played.

For Seniors
The Skyland Signal Corps School was set up for operation on August 3 by the War Department. The purpose of this school, Skyland Signal Corps School, CDTs, Winston-Salem, is to train people between the ages of 18 and 45 for the construction, repair and maintenance of radios and radio equipment. This school does not train people for the sending and receiving of code messages. It has strictly to do with the mechanical side of radio.
For further information see the "For Seniors" notice on the main bulletin board. However the paper is dated Sept. 28, 1942, and the information as outlined there is subject to change without notice, so for even further information write to James A. Woodson, Representative Signal Corps, SDTS for North Carolina, the Skyland School, Winston-Salem.

Junior Red Cross Play Fine Success

By CHESTER WALSH
Presentation of the Red Cross war drama, showing actual scenes in the Solomons and elsewhere, by a talented cast of boys and girls at the high school last night was entertaining and inspiring. The importance of Junior Red Cross work was stressed in a number of battle-front and hospital scenes. High school students wrote the script for the play and enacted the parts. Miss Naomi Newell, English teacher, directed the play. It was a creditable performance and won new friends for the Junior Red Cross. Admission was free.

The high school band, under the direction of Bandmaster Harold A. McDougle, played several patriotic marches and concluded the program with the National Anthem.

The high school glee club, under the direction of Miss Osa Shindler, impressively sang several numbers.

The play was presented to arouse interest in the Junior Red Cross drive for new members and a service fund of $200 above enrollment.

Last night's performance was especially for Civilian Defense workers, Charles A. White, county Civilian Defense director, stated.

Ralph Fleming, Lottie Thomas, Nancy Harris and Louis Dupree wrote the script for the play. They and the members of the cast, paid fine tribute to Miss Newell for the success of the play.

Those taking part were William Keck, Ralph Fleming, Louis Dupree, Charles Whitford, Jack Scott, Shirley Warner, Joyce Corbett, Henry Andrews, Larry Tucker, Della Frances Perry, Sara Frances Williams, Lottie Thomas, Billy Tucker, Peggy Reid, Mary Ann Harris, Mary Ann Duncan, Leon Fleming, Arthur Whitehurst and Herbert Waldrop.

The Junior Red Cross war play has been presented here twice and at Winterville and Ayden. Nearly 2,000 persons have witnessed it.

The Junior Red Cross enrollment, which means "enrollment for service," will continue through this week, Mrs. J. B. James, chairman, stated. All young people are invited to join.

The case will be tried in County Court Friday morning. There were eight children in the bus when the accident occurred. Beyond a shaking up they were not injured.

GIVES CHILD LABOR FACTS

All Workers Under 18 Must Have Employment Certificates

By CHESTER WALSH

A case was before Judge Dink James in County Court recently in which a mother was on trial for failure to send her children to school. The North Carolina laws require that children attend school at least until they are 14 years old, and the law provides a penalty for parents or guardians who violate the law. This case suggested that the child labor laws of the state are for a good purpose—to prevent the exploiting of child labor. School and welfare officials and others interested in the youth of the land suggested that we pass along some of the provisions of the child labor laws.

1. All minors under 18 employed in any gainful occupation except agricultural and domestic work must have an employment certificate.
2. Minors 16 and 17 years of age are allowed to work nine hours per day six days per week but not more than 48 hours per week. The hours of work must be between 8 a. m. and 12 p. m. for boys and 6 a. m. to 9 p. m. for girls.
3. Minors, both boys and girls, under 16 years of age are not allowed to work in any manufacturing or mechanical job.
4. Minors both boys and girls under 16 years of age (14 and 15) are allowed to work in non-manufacturing jobs during summer vacation and during hours when school is not in session. During summer vacations they may work eight hours per day, six days per week but not more than 40 hours per week and the work must be between the hours of 7 a. m. and 6 p. m. When work is to be outside school hours the combined hours of work and the hours of school must not exceed eight hours in any one day.

5. No boy under 14 is allowed to engage in any kind of gainful occupation, except boys 12 and 13 may engage in the delivery of newspapers and magazines but work must not exceed 4 hours in any one week.
6. No girl under 14 is allowed to engage in any gainful occupation.
7. The provisions of the new child labor law do not authorize exceptions to be made allowing longer hours of work for boys who are sole support of self or mother. Under no circumstances will boys under 16 be allowed to work longer than eight hours per day, nor boys between 16 and 18 longer than nine hours per day.
8. Boys 14 and 15 years of age on newspaper delivery routes are allowed to work between the hours of 5 a. m. and 8 p. m.
9. Street trades badges are not required. In cases where certifying officials in cities or towns desire to continue the use of badges, the Department of Labor will furnish the badges for a minimum price of 10 cents each.

Farm Wages Don't Affect Pensions

Marshall H. Barney, manager of the Rocky Mount office of the Social Security Board, said today that persons who are receiving Old-Age and Survivors Insurance benefits may continue to receive such benefits and at the same time earn maximum wages in agricultural work.

Mr. Barney said that although the Social Security Act prohibits the payment of benefits to anyone who receives wages of $15 or more per month, in a job that is covered by the Act, this ruling does not apply to farm labor, because agricultural work is not covered by the Act.

Beneficiaries under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance system, who receive checks from the Government every month, found a leaflet with their November checks which points out these facts:

"Farm labor is urgently needed. YOU can help your government win the war if you will accept farm work. The extra money you earn will not stop your monthly Old-Age and Survivors Insurance payments, because agricultural work is not covered by the Social Security Act.

"Boys and girls who are 16 or 17 years old who wish to extend their summer vacations in order to work on a farm may continue to receive their monthly insurance benefits while so working. However, they must notify the Social Security Board office of the date they expect to return to school.

"Your local United States Employment Service office will give you full information about available jobs.

Increasing Demand For Real Estate

By CHESTER WALSH

The demand for desirable real estate in the eastern part of the state is a barometer indicating that the thousands of persons who have come into this part of the state during the last year appreciate the mild climate of the coastal section," said Vernon Ferrell, widely known real estate agent of Winston-Salem. "There appears to be a steady and increasing demand for suburban lots and the indications are that there will be considerable building of homes when the war is over. The tens of thousands of soldiers from all walks of life are saying good things to the 'folks back home' about the North Carolina people and the mild climate."

There is an increasing demand for small farms. This is attested by the ready sale of farms offered for sale in recent weeks. Real estate buying is on a conservative scale and not along the land boom lines which characterized World War days.

Building of homes and other structures is at a standstill for the duration of the war, but close observers are predicting that the population of Eastern Carolina is going to experience unusual increase when the war is over.

Men Wanted For The Signal Corps

Attention young men and boys 18 to 35. The Signal Corps of the United States War Department is urgently in need of men and boys between the ages of 18 and 35 to be trained as Radio Repairmen at a school in the Piedmont section of North Carolina. Trainees will be paid $5 to 120 dollars per month depending on ability. Applicants must have completed 10th grade in school with at least one year Algebra. Will be required to enlist in the Enlisted Reserves of the Signal Corps before enrolling. This course offers an excellent opportunity to young men who meet the qualifications. The course will last three months and is equivalent to one year in college.

he wrote.

"They prove we have real grounds for opposing bill and we are not a mere bunch of Legislative ragamuffins."

A move to set a time limit on the arguments fell flat yesterday but was expected to be renewed today.

Southern opponents of the measure which would eliminate payment of poll taxes as a voting qualification in elections of federal officials appeared grimly confident as they began their second week of filibustering against the bill.

Even die-hard advocates of the legislation admitted the fight seemed lost. Although already approved by the House in slightly different form, the measure will expire unless the Senate votes it prior to the end of the current session, next Jan. 2.

Senator Chandler (D-Ky), the colleague of Democratic leader Barkley, blocked acceptance of the proposal. He said he did not want a precedent under which a Senator would have to agree to numerous conditions before being allowed to call up one of his own bills—"and then agree to attend its funeral if defeated."

yearly.

This represented what Byrd termed a "staggering" increase over the government's $226,155,000 payroll for September 1941.

The committee estimated the number of government employees federal, state, municipal and county, at about 5,982,000, and Byrd said many of them should be transferred into war enterprises to help solve the manpower problem.

A survey of the September payrolls of federal agencies created since 1919, Byrd said, showed the Tennessee Valley Authority with the largest number of employees, 41,697. The Federal Security agency, with 34,522, was second and the Federal Works agency, with 31,141 third.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Strength FOR THE DAY

A GRUDGE IS A BOOMERANG

Some people burden their lives by carrying grudges through the years. Let us be sure of this—a grudge never buries anyone except the person who carries it.

Psychology explains it by saying that when our thoughts turn out, energy flows merrily along through creative channels, and when our thoughts turn in, energy backs up and stalls the machinery.

IT TAKES MONEY

"Money won't win the war. Neither can it be won without the things to fight with which money provides"

TIME TO TRY HARDER

The news from the Pacific as well as the African front, still sounds mighty good to our people, but we must remember that we have not yet won the war and that our wholehearted effort is needed and must be continued until final victory is won.

IT SHOULD BE DONE

Announcement today by Senator Byrd that every effort would be made by a joint economy committee to see that government spending other than necessary war expenditures were drastically curtailed will, in our opinion, meet with hearty approval.

REG-MANNING

Elimination of a lot of unnecessary government functions at this time and elimination of every employee that is not absolutely essential to the operation of the government and the prosecution of the war would not only save a lot of money for the government but would go a long way in relieving the present manpower shortage.

BARKER PICKS THE WINNERS

Favors Carolina Over Virginia; Duke Over State

By HERB BARKER
 New York, Nov. 20—(AP)—Staggering down the home stretch of the football guessing marathon: Michigan-Ohio State: Don't even try to expect this one. It's a guess no matter how you look at it. Two high-scoring outfits which likewise have been fairly easy to score on. The only safe prediction on this is that it should be wide-open and free-scoring. Resorting strictly to the coin... Ohio State.

Georgia-Auburn: This could be the spot where Frank Sinkwich and Georgia stub their collective toe. Unpredictable Auburn has a great back in Monk Gifford and hits hard on occasion as Tulane and Louisiana State can testify. Nevertheless this vote goes to unbeaten Georgia.

Minnesota-Wisconsin: The Badgers seem to have sloughed off considerably since the Ohio State game. At any rate, a flier on Minnesota.

Boston College-Boston University: Should be just a warm-up for the undefeated Eagles of Boston College.

Army-Princeton: The Tigers have been the east's toughest team to figure from week to week. Bearing that in mind, this corner casts the ballot for Army.

Harvard-Yale: This Ivy clad struggle rarely follows any form. However this vote for Yale is cast largely in admiration of the splendid coaching job Howie Odell has turned in at New Haven in his first season.

Northwestern-Notre Dame: It's hard to believe a team strong as Northwestern can go through an entire season without beating a single midwestern college rival. This is the Wildcats' last chance and it's a long shot one at best. The vote goes to Notre Dame.

Stanford-California: Study the comparative records of these two and then forget the whole thing. Out of the hat... Stanford.

Florida-Georgia Tech: Even with the Georgia game just ahead, can't see how Tech could be careless enough to lose this one. Georgia Tech.

Indiana-Purdue: Another traditional duel in which the edge, it seems, belongs to Bo McMillin and Billy Hillenbrand. Indiana.

Missouri-Fordham: Hardly the spot for Fordham's weary rams to get any rest. May be close but we'll take Missouri.

Arkansas-Detroit: The Razorbacks have been well and often beaten. Detroit.

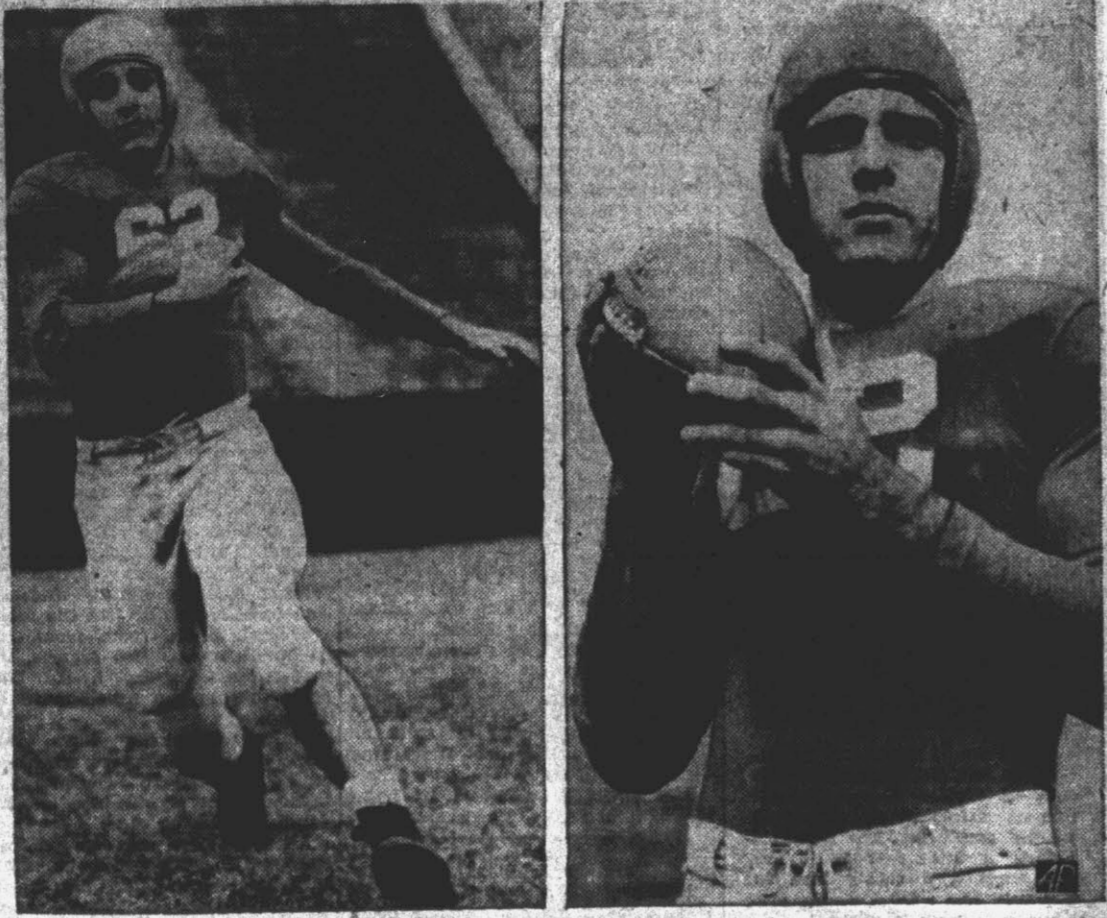

Boylor-Southern Methodist: Probably very close. Following the home team line... S.M.U.

Dartmouth-Columbia: Columbia simply can't seem to score enough. This should be close but we'll take Dartmouth.

Georgetown-George Washington: The Hoyas have faced much the tougher opposition. Georgetown.

Kentucky-Tennessee: The Wildcats, at the tag end of the season,

How Trippi Trips And Tosses For Georgia

These two close-ups show you in intimate detail how Charley Trippi, Georgia's sterling tailback, does his running and passing chores. Left: He is off on a run typical of his dashes that have earned him an average of 6.5 yards per try this season. Charley passes and punts just as well as he runs. Right: He demonstrates how he grips the ball for a pass. He has thrown 23 good ones out of 45 tries this season for total gains of 452 yards. Although his role is that of chief substitute for Frankie Sinkwich, Trippi has played about half of the total time of all games. He comes from Pittston, Pa.

appear overmatched. Tennessee. Manhattan-Holy Cross: Holy Cross, strictly without guarantees. Nebraska-Iowa Naval: The Pre-flighters seem much too tough. Iowa Naval.

North Carolina State-Duke: Storm signals on this one. State, with Faircloth and Teague, is very good. No real upset either way. Out of a deep fog, Duke.

North Carolina-Virginia: The Tar Heels seem much the sounder outfit. North Carolina.

North Carolina Navy-William & Mary: The Southern Conference team carries an unbeaten record into this game. But the Pre-flighters have been beaten only by Boston college and then by one point. In the face of that record, North Carolina Navy.

Oklahoma-Temple: The Sooners' tie with Missouri was a big surprise and influences this vote for Oklahoma.
