BATTLE FOR AFRICA GROWS IN FURY

Allies Moving To Clear Japs From The Solomons And South Pacific Areas

American Hold On Guadalcanal Described As Secure; Knox Reports 28 Jap Ships Destroyed And 10 Damaged In Recent Battle; Japs Face Disaster In New Guinea

Washington, Nov. 21. (AP)—An American drive to wipe out remaining Japanese bases in the Solomon islands appeared near at hand today as terrific destruction of enemy troops and ships seemed to clinch the United States' hold on Guadalcanal.

Announcing for the first time that the American grip on the prized island and its strategic airbase is "now very secure," Secretary of Navy Knox reported yesterday that half of a force of 1,500 Nipponese landed on Guadalcanal had been slaughtered and the rest were routed.

Possibility of duplication in the Navy's reports of enemy ships lost in the great American sea victory of last week was dispelled by Knox, who declared 28 Japanese vessels had been sunk. These comprised a battleship, another battleship or heavy cruiser, six heavy cruisers, two light cruisers, six destroyers and 12 transports and cargo ships. Ten more were damaged.

The reported American losses of two light cruisers and six destroyers in the same battle brought the nation's total of destroyed vessels in the Pacific war to 50 combat and 34 non-combat ships since Pearl Harbor.

Official announcements of the Navy and allied headquarters boosted the total Japanese losses to 126 combat and 246 non-combat ships. Meanwhile, the first American Naval officer to return to Pearl Harbor since the defeat of the Japanese armada estimated that the foe's attempts to recapture Guadalcanal had cost the lives of perhaps 10,000 Nipponese on the island alone. From 20,000 to 40,000 more were believed killed in the sinking of eight loaded enemy transports.

Declaring that the marines, soldiers and sailors felt that they had "been through everything and have taken everything the Japs could offer," Lieut. DeWitt Peterkin, 29, added at Pearl Harbor last night: "They're optimistic and already are talking about the next move westward."

Peterkin, banker assistant to the J. P. Morgan partners, was a ground officer for the carrier torpedo squadron eight which participated in the Midway battle that struck the Japanese carriers in June. Slaughter of a thousand Japanese in one sector of the island on one night, he said, was not unusual.

Christmas Season To Begin Nov. 27

Friday night, November 27, has been selected as the date for Greenville's Christmas opening. On that day Merchants are expected to be in complete readiness for Christmas shoppers. Decorations, window displays, and the display of Christmas merchandise in the stores should be completed. Several cities have already held Christmas openings as early shopping will be the style this year more than ever. There are several patriotic reasons for shopping early. The Postoffice Department says, "Mail early," deliveries must be curtailed 25 per cent. Sufficient and capable salespeople is a problem. Better service can be assured those who trade early.

At 7 p. m. on Friday Santa will arrive in all of his glory and will ride from the Atlantic Coast Line railroad to the Postoffice accompanied by the Greenville High School band. Stores will remain open that night and starting December 17 stores will remain open each night until Christmas.

REDS GAINING OVER GERMANS

Capture Important Positions From Nazis

Moscow, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Successfully storming heights at Stalingrad and in the Caucasus, the Russians were reported showing fresh strength today in their bloody give-and-take with the German invaders.

During the night a Red army unit dislodged the enemy from a strongly fortified height southeast of Nalchik in the mid-Caucasus and killed 300 Germans, the midday communique said. In the Mordok sector to the northeast of Nalchik another Soviet unit was credited with killing 100 of the foe in a small scale attack such as the Russians have been launching in increasing numbers for several days.

Over night at Stalingrad attacks by small enemy groups were reported beaten off in the southern outskirts, where Red counterthrusts had taken a height a few hours earlier. Aggressive scouting activity in which enemy trenches were entered and 80 Germans killed also was credited to the Stalingrad Garrison.

The Red army lines in Stalingrad were reported to have stood up under all German assaults since a gap made by a recent breakthrough into a northern workers' settlement was filled in and the enemy ejected.

The German command, defeated in its Caucasian drive on Ordzhonikidze apparently was struggling to repair its broken lines southeast of Nalchik and recapture positions lost to the Russian counterblows.

Nazi infantry supported by tanks and Rumanian Alpine troops struck at Russian forces which had thrown them back from the approaches to Ordzhonikidze. The army newspaper Red Star declared all these attacks along the Nalchik plain and in the foothills of the Caucasus mountains—repulsed, with many more dead added to the original Axis battle losses of 5,000 or more.

The Russians struck out yesterday near the Volga stronghold, captured the height and entrenched themselves there after killing about 400 Germans and capturing 30 machine-guns, the midnight communique reported.

Elsewhere in the siege-shattered city the Soviets repulsed invader thrusts and strengthened their own positions, front line reports said.

On the central front west of Moscow, 620 German officers and men were declared wiped out in a heavy exchange of artillery, rifle and machine-gun fire.

Typical of the tactics which the Red army is using to bleed the invaders night and day was an incident reported in the midnight communique. In the Tuapse area, a reconnaissance group was said to have filtered through enemy lines, laid an ambush upon a mountain road, wiped out an unsuspecting platoon after it had come within a few paces and then escaped unscathed.

Our Coming Thanksgiving Ten Reasons For Which To Be Thankful

Babson Park, Mass., Nov. 20.—As we draw near to Thanksgiving Day it seems to me that this year, of all recent seasons, we have much for which to be thankful. I should like to comment specifically upon ten reasons why this is so: 1. First and foremost, we can celebrate this year for the same reason that occasioned the first Thanksgiving of the Pilgrim Colony in 1623, namely a fine harvest. As I recently wrote, crop yields this year surpass all previous records. There is plenty of wheat, corn, and other farm products. America will not go hungry and we shall have an abundance for our Allies. 2. Without good health and strength none of us can work or think efficiently. Hence, those of us who are in good health should be particularly thankful. Health is the greatest of all blessings. We should educate those who suffer poor health, that all may have the strength and energy to live vigorously and usefully. 3. Now that the Thanksgiving season finds us in the midst of our greatest war we should be thankful for the crystallization of war effort on the part of our people. Remember that we are a democracy and thus unused to regimentation, to controls over our individual wills and dislikes. But our people have rallied and are cooperating magnificently with the rules and regulations that the Administration has thought necessary to the times. 4. Whether Republicans or Democrats we should be thankful that we could enjoy an election this month. Here is tangible evidence of the continued existence of our country as a true democracy. The people have again spoken. The two-party system still lives. Political control is not to lie in the hands of a few but in the hands of many. 5. In view of the intensity of the fighting action in which our armed services have participated throughout the world, we at home should all be grateful and thankful for the moral and physical courage that our men and women have shown. Our fighting forces believe, first, that they are engaged in a great moral crusade, and second, they have the courage to back up their beliefs. This is giving them victory in all parts of the world. Yes, and we should be thankful that World War II is three years nearer its end. 6. A short time ago we were in the midst of a depression, saddled (Continued on Page Four)

COFFEE SALES HALT FOR WEEK

Sales Under Rationing To Begin After Nov. 28

Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Coffee sales at retail stores halt for one week at midnight tonight. The sales suspension is intended to give grocers a chance to stock up for the start of coupon rationing at midnight, November 28, when every adult will be entitled to buy one pound every five weeks.

"Coffee will be available for every person over 15 when rationing starts," an Office of Price Administration spokesman said, "but we're hoping that housewives won't cash in all the family's coupons at once right at the start. This would tax distribution facilities and might run some grocers temporarily short. "Just buy the amount that you need. We can give absolute assurance there will be enough for all." The first coffee ration may be purchased next Sunday or thereafter by presenting stamp number 27 from the sugar ration book, or ration book number 1. Any person who has more than one pound on hand November 28 may not purchase coffee until the excess is used up.

Department to Intensify Anti-Venereal Drive

Health Officer To Order Warrants for All Delinquents Immediately

The Pitt County Health Department will go after venereal disease patients in this county with a "gloves off" policy as a result of a meeting last night of the department members, the health officer and members of the American Legion venereal disease committee. The meeting was called by the health department as a result of discussion arising from an American Legion meeting earlier this week when post members, while admitting that the anti-venereal campaign was making progress, expressed the feeling that the health officer and his assistants were too lenient in their attitude toward persons who had not reported for any treatments or who had begun treatments and then become delinquent and that as a result of this the campaign was not getting the fullest possible results.

U. S. BOMBERS RAID JAP BASE

Fires And Heavy Damage Inflicted At Lungling

With American Air Forces in China, Nov. 20.—(Delayed)—(AP) Fighter-escorted American medium bombers, striking down the Burma road from Free China, unloaded three tons of explosives today on the Japanese army base at Lungling, starting several fires and inflicting heavy damage.

The mission was led by Lieut. Col. Herbert (Butch) Morgan of Freedom, Pa., and was aimed chiefly at a large munitions dump and barracks.

After two runs over the target the bombers had caused fires which billowed smoke so dense that the crews were unable to assess full results. A big cache of munitions, however, was believed hit.

Col. Merion C. Cooper of Jacksonville, Fla., chief of staff of U. S. Army Air Forces in China, accompanied Col. Morgan to inspect the area, which offers a possible invasion route into China.

Lieut. Patrick Daniels of Van Nuys, Calif., led the fighters in today's raid, the second on Lungling since Nov. 8. There was no air opposition or ground fire from the surprise Japanese and all the raiders returned to home base.

Daniels strated warehouses, an immobilized tank and a Japanese staff car beside a rest house. "The car was wrecked," he said. "If I didn't get them in the rest house it looks as if they'd have to walk home."

The local post of the American Legion became interested in the matter of venereal disease in the county during the early summer when it was brought to their attention that many persons infected with venereal diseases and were making no effort to be cured, thereby evading military service. The post appointed a committee to confer with health authorities in the matter and promised the full support of the Legion membership in the campaign. In addition to its activities in connection with the local health department's drive on venereal disease, the Legion post has petitioned the government to make provision for the army to accept venereal infected draftees and give them treatment in the army camps instead of deferring them from military service and leaving the burden of treatment on the local communities. The post has also taken cognizance of the growing vice conditions and is taking steps to try to aid officials in curtailing prostitution in this community. Five Chrysler employees have been car-sharing since 1937, cutting transportation expenses 80 per cent of their 50-mile daily round-trip to work.

LESS BUTTER FOR CIVILIANS

Forty Per Cent Set Aside For Military Use

Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—To keep Johnny Doughboy from being fed dry bread while fighting far away, the folks at home may soon see use of some substitute. Frozen in more ways than one, 40 per cent of the nation's cold-storage butter supply today was set aside for fighting men and the lease-lend program under terms of a war production board order. And housewives started eying such table-fat substitutes as margarine and peanut butter, for the "temporary" wording of the order failed to ease the threat of eventual shortage. Agriculture department officials asserted that present butter production was not meeting market needs and pointed out that the WPB slice of nearly 35,000,000 pounds would be felt in the near future. However, WPB officials planned (Continued on Page Six)

The WAR TODAY

By DeWITT MacKENZIE, Wide-World News Analyst

Cairo, Nov. 21.—I find most gratifying the air of solid confidence in both British and American military headquarters on the Nile as the chase of the disorganized Axis forces continues westward across the Libyan desert into the Crimson glow of Hitler's setting sun. Now of course figures of speech are among the world's greatest ills and must be used with great reserve. So I hasten to add that it is with deliberation that I refer to the master gangster's sinking sun, for it most assuredly has passed its zenith, considering all aspects of the European war. Still, while confidence among our captains of the war is 100 per cent, there is not the slightest disposition to underestimate the magnitude of the task ahead of us. The Boche has plenty of fight left in him and his striking power is great despite his losses. It is true that the only way we can lose now is through Allied errors in judgment, but a major mistake might prove disastrous. As regards the Libyan wing of the great Allied North African show we are in the midst of the battle. Unless the Germans unexpectedly step entirely out of character there still is heavy fighting in the offing.

POLL TAX TEST VOTE MONDAY

Agreement Reached To Vote On Debate Limitation

By JACK BELL Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The senate prepared to go through the motions today of debating abolition of state poll taxes as a prerequisite for voting in federal elections, although even its supporters concede the measure was marked for the legislative graveyard.

Balked by a seven-day filibuster carried on by senators from southern poll tax states, proponents finally succeeded in bringing the bill formally before the senate under the terms of an involved "gentleman's agreement" calling for a vote at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon on a motion to limit debate.

Adoption of such a motion would require two thirds approval of those present and even administration strategists, who have fought to obtain action on the measure acknowledged that upwards of 40 of the 96 senators would oppose limiting debate.

Viewing this situation realistically, Senator Chandler (D-Ky.), who has favored enactment of the measure, told reporters he could not see for the life of him why the senate wanted to conduct a three-day vote.

"This bill ought to be withdrawn now," Chandler declared. "Everybody knows it is dead. Why drag out the funeral services for three days when you could bury it right now?"

Chandler said there was no doubt the senate would refuse to vote for cloture, which would limit each senator to an hour's discussion. Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky pledged as a part of the "gentleman's agreement" which he effected with Senator Connally (D-Tex.), leader of the opposition, that he would move to lay the bill aside and would oppose any move by another senator to bring it up again in this session.

Unless the bill is passed before this congress adjourns on January 2, it will die automatically and sponsors will lose the advantage of its previous approval by the house.

Rommel Is Cut Off From Joining Comrades in Tunisia; Allies Nearing Bizert And Tunis; RAF Bombs Tunis; War Weary Italians Greet King With Cries Of "Peace"

By ROGER D. GREENE Associated Press War Editor American and British troops, scoring a five-mile advance in one direction, pitched into the Germans on the outer defenses of Bizerte Tunis today while U. S. Flying Fortresses rained deadly punishment on the enemy hemmed in along a 30-mile wide coastal strip. A Nazi broadcast, quoting Allied sources in Spanish Morocco, said Allied forces had reached the area of Hammamet, about 40 miles southeast of Tunis, on the Gulf of Gabes. This, it confirmed, would mean that the Allies had now pinned the Axis into a small corner in the northeast Tunisian coast and cut off the route of retreat to Italian Tripolitania. In that case, the two main Axis forces in Tunisia and Libya would be split. The Algiers radio said French troops had beaten off a new German attempt to land on the coast below Tunis and captured some 500 men in a light southwest of the port of Gabes. German reports said Adolf Hitler was rushing a stream of airborne reinforcements, including tanks, across the Mediterranean in a desperate effort to stem the Allied offensive. Field dispatches said the battle was growing more bitter hour by hour, with Allied troops storming Nazi fortifications only 30 miles from both cities in the French North African colony. One Allied vanguard was reported to have driven forward five miles to a point 25 miles southeast of Tunis, the capital, fighting over ancient battlefields of the Carthaginian empire. British headquarters asserted the battle was developing "on the Tunisian-Algerian border"—about 50 miles west of the scene described by Allied dispatches—and declared that operations "have gone to the advantage of the Allies." A Fascist communique said British and American troops were turned back in the frontier region after losing armored cars and trucks. The German radio claimed that Axis forces Thursday night seized a railway station east of Tabarika, 65 miles west of Bizerte, and reported that fighting French De Gaulle (Continued on Page Five)

Going forward from last week's discussion of conditions, of inequalities from which the race suffers, the group this time considered "What can we do to better relations between the races?" Though some difference of opinion was brought out, the majority who spoke seemed to feel the need for some improvement, for definite effort on the part of white people to see the individual Negro as a person, not as a colored person, to respect his rights and his feelings, and to help see that he gets justice and equal opportunity.

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
World Sports Columnist

New York, Nov. 21—(AP)—Judging by the noise in the Garden last night, Willie Pep must be the biggest thing that's happened to the State of Connecticut since the Danbury Fair closed down. The out-of-town customers were a lot livelier than anything in the ring. At that, Pep proved that you don't have to be as old as Chalky Wright to know a lot of boxing tricks. By winning the featherweight title, Willie cleared the way for settlement of another of the disputed championships. Manager Harry Eppenstein reports that Pittsburgh Jackie Wilson, the N. B. A. boss, will be ready for action about December 15, which should be just in time to pull in another big crowd with Pep. There wasn't any crowd appeal in trying to settle a title dispute between Wright and Wilson, and as Chalky remarked about his 40 per cent of that $72,000 gate last night, "That's nice compensation."

Today's Guest Star
Jerry Mitchell, New York Post: "That reformed character, Lippy Doocher, will now lead the congregation singing, Praise the Lord—and play only chess and checkers."

Shorts and Shells
The lightweight title tournament to determine a successor for Sammie Angott probably will start at the Garden, December 18, with Beau Jack vs. Tippy Larkin and Cleo Slians vs. Chester Rice. And the latest name mentioned for this affair is Chicago's Willie Joyce. C. J. (The Busy) Bee will be on the bench for Grumman A. A. in next week's basketball tournament at the Garden. Christie East, daughter of Bud, the Dartmouth captain, won't get a football to add to her collection after today's Columbia game. No matter who wins, the ball will go to the highest bidder in the weekly war bond auction. The hottest race since the Turf and Field Digest started its "horse of the year" poll is going on this year between Whirlaway and Alsab. Probably will end in a photo finish.

Little But Powerful
Marshall county, West Virginia (population 3,500) will have two boys on the college all-star basketball squad that plays the Oshkosh, Wis., Pros at Chicago next week. Rudy Baric of Benwood and Roger (Shorty) Hicks of Moundsville, both chosen for the all-stars, live eight miles apart, played on opposing high school teams, teamed together at West Virginia U. and now are co-coaches of the Mountaineer Court squad since Coach Dyke Reese has gone into the navy.

Help, Help
Not knowing the answers, we'll pass along these questions from Hank Wolfe of the Richmond (Va.) News Leader as received: (1) St. Christopher's school of Richmond has defeated Benedictine's high in football 15 years in succession. Do you have a longer consecutive winning streak to offer? (2) Quarterback Ray Marshall of John Marshall high (a relative, hey?) ran 102 yards with an intercepted pass last week. Is or isn't it the longest so jaunt of the season?

Service Department
Pvt. George "Oce" Mitchell of Camp Barclay, Tex., is about to enter an Officers' Training school and the boys who knew him when he was physical education instructor and coach of the crack boxing team at Southwestern Louisiana Institute figure he'll make out all right when he gets his commission. Story they tell is that his physical examinations always included troops had been thrown back to the Tunisian frontier in the south. The Nazi broadcast said 12 Allied tanks and 18 armored cars were destroyed in the first clash in Tunisia.

On the Libyan front, Britain's victorious Eighth Army raised its flag over the "escape port" of Bengasi again and mobile British vanguards pressed hotly on Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's retreating forces near Agedabia. Agedabia lies 100 miles south of Bengasi and only 70 miles from the El Aghelia defile, a narrow corridor between salt marshes and the sea, where Rommel is expected to make a last stand.

While the German radio exulted that Rommel managed to escape the British trap at Bengasi, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's headquarters reported that the eighth army's advance forces were giving Rommel's legions, exhausted by a 700-mile retreat across the desert, no rest.

Hitler's headquarters acknowledged yesterday that Rommel had fled Bengasi without a fight, abandoning his last chance of escape by sea east of Tripoli, 400 miles away. On the Tunisian battlefield, both Allies and Axis were rushing tank troop and plane reinforcements into the struggle for the two key cities of Bizerte, once France's second biggest naval base, and Tunis. "Allied armored troops are pouring across the Tunisian border," said a broadcast from American-occupied Algiers. "Allied paratroopers are proceeding eastward without making contact with this enemy," it added, indicating that the sky troops rapidly were seizing airports and other strategic centers as the Germans pulled back toward the coast on the Gulf of Gabes.

The Berlin radio said Nazi forces in Tunisia were being rapidly strengthened, with both troops and tanks transported by plane, and declared that Axis dive bombers were pounding Allied columns. Hitler also was apparently attempting to move in reinforcements by sea. The British reported that RAF bombers flying from Malta attacked an Axis ship off Cape Bon, Tunisia, and raked it with cannon fire. Follow-up attacks by RAF torpedo planes left the vessel sinking.

Invasion-jittery Italy meanwhile underwent another terrific assault during the night as Britain's far-ranging bombers soared 1,500 miles round trip across the Alps to blast the royal arsenal city of Turin. London declared the raid was "the heaviest yet made on Italy." With scores of the RAF's huge Stirlings, Halifaxes, Lancasters, and Wellingtons inflicting fresh havoc on the war center. The Italian high command said the raiders dropped incendiary bombs "in great quantities" and listed 29 dead and 120 wounded. It was the fourth attack on Italy in eight nights. Coincidentally, the British radio reported that cries of "peace" greeted King Vittorio Emanuele when he went to see the bombed ruins of Genoa and Milan recently and demonstrations by the war-weary Italians led to dismissal of the city's governor.

Other major developments:
France—Living up to expectations, France's pro-Nazi Dictator Pierre Laval came out openly for an alliance with Germany and declared new voluntary legions would be raised to answer "the fresh front" which France has had to suffer from the Allied campaign in North Africa.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The buying tide ebbed in parts of today's stock market as profits were cashed on Friday's bulge and commitments lightened for week-end protection but gold mines and other post-war favorites retained a degree of popularity.

The battle news, dividends, earnings and technical factors involved in the recent correction of the length recovery push still were props for bullish sentiment.

The list lacked a definite direction at the start. Dealings, generally, were sluggish although sizable blocks of low-priced issues, the majority of which were about unchanged, helped put the two-hour volume in the neighborhood of 300,000 shares. Closing prices were a trifle spotty and narrow.

Above is pictured John Wayne, Bud McTaggart and Greg Barton as they discuss the movie "Flying Tigers," a story of the Yanks who blasted the Japs over Burma before Pearl Harbor. Film comes to the Pitt Tuesday and Wednesday.

London, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Three Axis destroyer and an Axis tanker and probably have sunk a second destroyer and another Axis supply ship in the Mediterranean, the Admiralty announced today.

The tanker was sunk in the Aegean, and the supply ship damaged was one of a convoy of three ships attacked in the same area, the communique said.

The destroyers were hit off the Sicilian coast.

Jap Burma Base Bombed By RAF

New Delhi, India, Nov. 21.—(AP)—RAF bombers raided a Japanese air-drome at Magwe, Burma, about 250 miles north of Rangoon, last night and caused explosion on the runways and the dispersal area, a British communique said today.

Japanese night fighters attempted to intercept the bombers, but no fights took place, the communique said. None of the British planes was lost.

Issues Warning To The Japanese

Santiago, Chile, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The government announced today that Japanese Minister Kiyoshi Yamagata had been advised Chile "would reject with the greatest energy" any threat of reprisals in connection with her international policy.

The Japanese envoy was reported so notified by Foreign Minister Fernandez, who asked an explanation of a threat of "serious and far-reaching political, economic and military consequences" if Chile abandoned neutrality, reported in Axis broadcasts Nov. 18 to have been voiced by Tomokazu Hori, Japanese spokesman, in a Tokyo press conference.

Bible Teacher Is Kiwanis Speaker

By CHESTER WALSH
Miss Isabel Reid, teacher of the Bible in the Greenville schools, was the guest speaker at the Kiwanis Club's supper meeting at the Woman's Club last night. She impressed the Kiwanians when she described the method of teaching the Bible in the schools, scrupulously avoiding sectarianism. "It is our policy to advise students and pupils to consult their pastors when they have a problem resembling a sectarian matter," Miss Reid stated.

In questioning the young people as to why they were taking Bible in the schools they gave some interesting answers. For example, one youngster said "I am taking the course because I did not know enough about the Bible." "My dad wants me to study the Bible," another said. A high school student said she was taking the Bible course because it helps her since she began teaching a Sunday school class.

Miss Reid is a gifted speaker. She has philosophical outlook on life, has a fine sense of humor and understands human nature. "We need the Bible every day, not only on Sundays. Too often the Bible is a closed book in the home except when that shelf is to be dusted. There are now 34,000 school children taking non-sectarian Bible courses in the public schools of the State," Miss Reid said in concluding.

Judge Dink James, chairman of the Committee for Support of Churches had charge of the program and presented the speaker. Ed Parkinson sang two solos, "The Blind Plow Man" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Ray Tyson was accompanist.

Two Killed In Bus-Truck Crash

Edenton, Nov. 21.—(AP)—A heavily-loaded passenger bus collided with a beer truck two miles south of here early this morning, killing two persons and injuring more than a dozen others.

The bus, privately owned and carrying negro workers to the Edenton air base, had about 35 passengers aboard. W. T. Partin, Windsor chief of police, said.

One of the passengers was killed instantly and another died immediately after being admitted to a hospital at nearby Windsor. Three others admitted to the hospital were in a critical condition, Partin said. All the injured were passengers of the bus.

The crash occurred about 6:45 a. m. Names of the dead and injured were not available immediately.

Less Butter . . .

to supplement the freeze as quickly as possible with a limitation order which would cut consumption about 10 per cent—or two pounds per person a year.

(They added that the shortage might not materially affect the retail market before January, and that rationing might not be necessary, although the board's food requirements committee—headed by Agriculture Secretary Wickard—reported that butter supplies have been reduced to the lowest levels since 1932.)

Because of the shortage, attributed to seasonal production slumps and increasing civilian purchasing power, the Army and Navy have found it increasingly difficult to get sufficient supplies, WPB said. At a time when improvement in the shipping situation made it opportune to ship more butter to the men overseas, many vessels with space for it were forced to sail with other cargo.

"This situation requires prompt and drastic action," the board said. The order earmarked for government purchase half the butter in cold storage in the nation's 35 principal marketing centers, which hold about 80 per cent of the entire supply.

Allies Moving . . .

agely to forestall what seemed to be imminent disaster. The fiercest fighting of the campaign raged in the Bun-Gona areas where American and Australian troops had pinned the invaders back against the northeastern coast.

The Japanese increased their aerial activity, Gen. Douglas Mac-

Arthur's Allied headquarters reported today and lashed back at the advancing allies with light artillery, mortars and machine guns.

In the absence of more important nearby targets, army bombers from Guadalcanal airport attacked cargo vessels in the Bunl area at the southeastern end of Bougainville Island, November 18, the Navy announced, and shot down 14 enemy planes during the attack. No American losses were reported.

Knox disclosed that two American battleships had participated in last Saturday night's battle in which three large Japanese cruisers, a destroyer and either a battleship or heavy cruiser were sunk.

"All told," he added, "the Japanese fleet has been pretty badly punished."
