Russians Continue Drive On Rostov Smashing Through Nazi Resistance

Planes Blast Way For Onrushing Russian Tanks; Retreating Nazis Burning Villages and Scattering Mines In Frantic Effort To Hold Back Reds; Civilians Evacuated From Rzhnev

By ROGER D. GREENE Associated Press War Editor

Russia's victorious armies, ripping through a wall of German resistance with tanks and planes, were reported to have advanced today within 65 miles of the great German base at Rostov, on the lower Don river, and for the first time Berlin admitted Nazi reverses in the bitter struggle.

The fall of Rostov, gateway to the Caucasus, would cut off German forces unofficially estimated at between 500,000 and 1,000,000 troops.

At the same time, a British broadcast said the Germans had announced the evacuation of the civilian population of Rzhnev, key Nazi citadel 130 miles northwest of Moscow, as a precautionary measure.

This suggested that Rzhnev, a vital link in the German defense system on the central front, was dangerously threatened by Soviet troops who have been storming its approaches for weeks.

Dispatches from Moscow said Russian forces sweeping along both banks of the lower Don river, supported by planes blasting a path for their tanks, had smashed an attempt by hard-pressed German troops to form a new defense line and were driving ahead toward Rostov.

The thrust to a point only 65 miles from Rostov represented a 10 mile gain since yesterday, when Red army vanguards reached the Sal river town of Bolshaya Arlovka.

Front line advances said the Germans were battling desperately to keep open a corridor into the Caucasus, but declared the Red army was steadily battering its way through massed tanks and infantry.

Hitler's armies of the Caucasus were slogging down the long road back, were reported burning villages and scattering thousands of land mines in an effort to impede the triumphant Soviets.

A series of bulletins from Red army headquarters said battered Soviet infantry columns had stormed into more than 40 additional towns and villages in the Caucasus during the last 24 hours.

"Our troops, breaking the resistance of the enemy and wiping out his manpower, continued to advance," the Russian command said referring to the lower Don offensive.

Simultaneously, a Reuters (British news agency) dispatch from Moscow reported that Russian troops sweeping westward across the flat and barren Kalmyk steppes in the Caucasus had reached within 40 miles of a junction with north-bound Soviet columns.

RAF Bombers Blast Ruhr Valley Again

London, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Large formations of Allied fighter planes were seen streaking back and forth across the channel today in what appeared to be continuous attacks on targets in northern France to follow up last night's bombardment of the German Ruhr.

Most of today's assaults appeared to be directed at the Calais district, from which one formation of planes was seen returning at 20,000 feet.

The armistice reported that all British bombers returned safely from last night's raid on the Ruhr, the third against the great German industrial area since the first of the year.

Entire East Feels Pinch Of Gas And Oil Shortage

The ban on pleasure driving and the cut in fuel oil rations combined today to put motorists back on their cold feet.

With traffic thinned streets a horse and pedestrian's paradise in 17 Atlantic seaboard states, law enforcement officers already had begun to crack down to effectuate Office of Price Administration orders against driving for fun.

In Miami, motorists were summoned to explain their presence at sports events. And in Rochester, N. Y., there was no indulgence for culture—OPA agents seized gasoline ration books of several motorists attending a philharmonic concert.

HEAVY BLOWS DEALT TO JAPS

Planes And Troops Blasted; New Raid On Kiska

By The Associated Press Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced virtual completion of the bitter Papuan campaign in New Guinea today, with the annihilation of a Japanese army that once totaled 15,000 troops even as Allied warplanes smashed at the remnants of a 10-ship Japanese convoy off the New Guinea north coast.

Meanwhile, the Navy in Washington reported that U. S. Army Air forces again blasted the Japanese bases at Kiska, in the Aleutian Islands off Alaska, and at Munda, New Georgia, and the Solomon Islands.

Results were not disclosed.

Dispatches from the New Guinea front said Allied planes carried out a shuttle-service attack on Japanese sea-borne reinforcements approximately 160 miles north of the Papuan sector, making more than 50 sorties in the opening phases of the battle.

After a running 24 hour battle, Gen. MacArthur listed these blows inflicted on the enemy convoy and its aerial defenders:

1. Two big transports sunk, including a 14,000 ton ship "heavily loaded" with Japanese troops.

2. A third transport heavily damaged, hit by a 500-pound bomb.

3. Eighteen Japanese fighter planes definitely destroyed, five probably destroyed, four others damaged.

Presumably thousands of Japanese lost their lives in the sinking of the two large transports, one of which sank with its entire load during a night bombing attack.

Dispatches said allied planes were continuing the assault today in Huon Gulf, off the big Japanese base at Lae.

On the Papuan front, Allied headquarters said Japanese survivors trapped on Sanananda point faced "certain destruction" and announced that the primary object of the campaign—annihilation of Lieutenant Tomatore's army—could now be considered accomplished.

Gen. Horii, who only last September drove his forces within 10 miles of the strategic allied base at Port Moresby, was reported killed on Dec. 21.

An Allied communique listed 107 Japanese warships and merchant vessels destroyed or severely damaged since July 23—two days after the Japanese first landed on Buna—and reported 333 enemy aircraft destroyed, 81 others probably destroyed and 117 damaged.

On the Burma front, RAF bombers set big fires at the Japanese base of Akyab, on the bay of Bengal and strafed enemy position near Rathedaung, 25 miles northwest of Akyab, to clear the way for field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell's British columns driving back into Burma from India.

Senator Lanier Is On 15 Committees

With Senator J. Con Lanier's appointment as chairman of the Proprietary and Grievances Committee in the North Carolina State Senate and 14 other committees, Pitt County is well represented from a committee standpoint in the 1943 Senate. The Pitt County senator is a member of the following committees: Appropriations; Agriculture; Judiciary No. 1; Banks and Currency; Caswell Training School; Commercial Fisheries; Counties, Cities and Towns; Federal Relations; Internal Improvements; Military Affairs; Unemployment Compensation; Trustees of the University; Public Welfare and Public Health.

Nazi Planes Raid English Coast Town

London, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Seven German raiding planes, believed to be FW-190's, bombed a southwestern coast town and caused considerable damage today. A hotel was reported hit, but casualties were few.

Four Spitfire fighters broke up the attack. As the enemy fled smoke poured from one Nazi plane, indicating it had been hit by anti-aircraft fire.

Six Die, 100 Injured In Bowling Alley Fire

Flames belch from a bowling alley in Chicago's south side as firemen fight to control the fire that brought death to at least six people and injuries to more than 100. Many of the 200 patrons who escaped to the street were blown through doors by a violent explosion that accompanied the fire.

TO ALLOCATE BURLEY CROP

Government Takes Control In Burley Tobacco Areas

Washington, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The Agriculture department announced today that Secretary Wickard had issued an order providing for the allocation of the short crop of 1942-grown burley tobacco among dealers and manufacturers. The order became effective yesterday.

Allocation became necessary, the department said, because the tobacco has been selling on auction markets at government setting prices and as a consequence the customary method of distributing the crop through competitive bidding was no longer effective.

Burley tobacco is grown in Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, Kansas, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama.

Wickard directed the food distribution administration to administer the allocation program. That agency said it would issue later a statement on how supplies would be allocated and how growers would be protected on price.

Officials said the allocation order would affect the unsold portion, or about one-half, of the 1942 crop of 340,000,000 pounds. They said the crop was between 60,000,000 and 70,000,000 pounds short of buyers' expanded war demands.

The allocations will take into account purchases already made by dealers and manufacturers. The burley markets have been closed since shortly before the Christmas holidays. They will reopen January 11.

The order provides that no person shall purchase or otherwise acquire burley tobacco from the 1942 crop unless acquired in accordance with an allocation. It provided also that no burley tobacco from the 1942 crop purchased on an auction market may be offered for resale at auction. The purpose of this provision, the department said, was to curb purely speculative activities on the markets. These activities were said to have become so widespread since the opening of the present season as to impede orderly sale of the crop and its distribution through normal trade channels. It was explained, however, that this provision will in no way impair a grower's right to reject an offer and put up his tobacco for resale.

President To Take Up Social Security Soon

Will Submit Facts And Data To Congress; Expresses Hope For Allied Victory In 1944

Washington, Jan. 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt disclosed today that he expected to submit some data and facts to Congress on the social security question but he said he did not know whether he would recommend any specific legislation to the legislators soon.

A Congress which exhibited unusual bipartisan approval of President Roosevelt's road-to-victory message noted further today what many members called the "congratulatory" tone of the speech and pondered its significance.

Many Republicans joined the Democrats in predicting the restrained, non-belligerent wording on domestic questions would go far toward strengthening prospects for unity in the newly-sworn legislature. One Republican asked the question whether the President had not cast his hat in the ring for a fourth term.

While the comment on the congratulatory nature of the address did not contend that the chief executive was heeding last November's election results, some informed legislators expressed the belief privately that Mr. Roosevelt was attaching greater weight to the counseling of conservative members of his party.

I was a new Republican congressman from Washington, State—Rep. Holmes—who saw political ghosts hovering over the address. He said it "might possibly be construed as a good campaign speech for the 1944 presidential election, and added:

"The question might be asked: Did President Roosevelt throw his hat into the ring on January 7, 1943?"

The Senate was in recess today until Monday, but Republicans planned a party conference to re-elect Senator Barkley of Kentucky was renamed the majority leader today but only to listen to a few speeches and go through the formality of ratifying six Democratic vacancies on the important Ways and Means Committee filled in party conferences yesterday.

Chungking, Jan. 8.—When you have climbed from India into Chungking over the adventurous aerial route which is substitute for the Japanese-controlled Burma road, then and then only can you realize how tenuous is the lifeline between China and the outside world.

It runs as thin and delicate as a spider's thread among and over the great, jagged mountain peaks of this region. Fogs envelop it, icicles cling to it and fierce monsoon winds tear at it until the wonder of it is that it doesn't snap and often the Mikado's men lurk among the clouds hoping they may catch some wayfarer unawares.

Last week I reported from India something of the great work our American fliers are doing in maintaining this link between China and her allies. It not only is great work but it also is vital to the cause of the United Nations. Should the spider's web be severed it would be a staggering blow to our gallant al-

CITY FATHERS HOLD SESSION

Many Matters Given Attention By Aldermen

By CHESTER WALSH

A panorama of community problems were considered and disposed of by the Board of Aldermen at a regular session at the City Hall last night. Incidentally, the board "functioned like an algin," wound up its important and routine affairs and closed the meeting by 10:30, in striking contrast to the midnight session held in the "not-so-long-ago." Mayor Bruce Sugg presided.

A request by J. Herbert Waldrop, banker, who lives on Tenth Street Extension, to have that area taken into the corporate limits was referred to the aldermanic Legislative Committee, J. A. Watson, L. B. Fleming and Dave Evans.

A report of investigation of fire hazards in public meeting places by Fire Chief George Gardner and Street Supt. Henry L. Rivers was received. A citizen who "listened in" on the meeting passed along the suggestion afterwards that the two men should continue their investigation and not let up.

The report of the activities under the direction of J. T. Welch, city sanitary inspector, was read and approved.

The aldermen complied with a request of City School Superintendent June H. Rose that permission be given high school students to use the armory afternoon for basketball and other games. Jasper L. Jones, commanding officer of the Greenville company of the N. C. State Guard, stated that the County Commissioners had agreed to the proposal. One hundred dollars was allotted for the purpose from the playground fund.

Mayor Sugg told the aldermen that the street department was cooperating with the government's war time requirement to save tires, gasoline and reduce mileage in collecting garbage and trash. The aldermen expect the housekeepers and businessmen to cooperate.

The aldermen passed a resolution requesting Pitt County's representatives in the Legislature to support the legislative program offered by the N. C. League of Municipalities.

The board stressed its previous order to collect delinquent personal property taxes, allotted an officer to assist Tax Collector, W. L. Patrick in his work.

Twelve Miners Trapped By Fire

Morgantown, W. Va., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Twelve men were reported trapped today by fire which broke out in a mine motor at the Pursglove No. 15—operation about seven miles from Morgantown.

Sheriff Clarence E. Johnson reported that about 60 men were at work in the section where the fire broke out but that "all but 12 miners" got out safely.

Pursglove No. 15 is only about a mile or two from the opening of the Pursglove No. 2 operation where 22 men were killed in an explosion last July.

Rescue teams from Monongalia and Marion counties were rushed to the mine.

At Charleston, State Mines Inspector Peter McLinden notified him that 12 men were trapped about 4:30 a. m. There was no indication as to whether or not the men were faced with death.

He quoted McLinden that rescue crews from surrounding operations in Monongalia county and Marion county were dispatched to the scene.

ASSEMBLY IN SHORT SESSION

Bill Presented That Would Do Away With "Gag Rules"

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Rep. Umstead of Orange introduced a resolution today to amend rules 52 and 65, dubbed the "gag rules," which require a two-thirds vote before a bill may be withdrawn from a committee to which referred and before a minority report of a committee may be adopted so the bill may be placed upon the favorable calendar.

Umstead's resolution, sent to the rules committee of which Rep. Glass of Forsyth is chairman, would substitute the word "majority" for "two-thirds."

With the exception, both the House and Senate received only a few bills and neither was in session more than 10 minutes. The House adjourned until 11 A. M., tomorrow and the Senate until 10 A. M., with the understanding that only local bills would be introduced. Monday's sessions will begin at 8 P. M.

The senate received a petition from North Carolina, a beauty shop operator of Spruce Pine, in which she said the beauty shop industry faced a crisis because of the shortage of operators. "We are asking you," she said, "to help us solve this problem by giving us authority and permission to train our own operators for the duration." The petition was sent to the committee on propositions and grievances.

A measure introduced by Senator Brock of Durham would relieve partnerships, firms and corporations from paying income taxes on contributions to the Red Cross, Boy Scouts, religious and charitable organizations. It was referred to the finance committee.

The senate also extended its sympathies to W. P. Horton, former lieutenant governor, whose wife is seriously ill. The resolution was introduced by Senators Barber of Chatham, Taylor of Anson and Ballentine of Wake.

The Senate Appropriations committee, after acting with unprecedented swiftness, was ready today to return to the senate with a favorable report the bill directing the governor and council of state to set up a post war reserve fund of $22,000,000.

As introduced yesterday by Senator Taylor of Anson, chairman of the committee, the bill called for the investment of $20,000,000 of the state's expected $31,000,000 surplus in state and federal bonds. Taylor's committee, meeting during the afternoon, quickly upheld the proposed reserve by $2,000,000 and voted a favorable report to the bill.

Thus Governor Broughton got fast action on one of the major proposals in his biennial message in which he also recommended a state-wide nine-months school term on an optional basis for counties, with a provision for adjusting holidays and vacations to meet local conditions.

Meanwhile, the governor's recommendation for the optional nine-months term drew strong endorsements from John C. Lockhart of Charlotte, president of the N. C. Education Association, and Harry B. Caldwell of Greensboro, master (Continued on Page Two)

Taxes Likely To Be Put On Pay-As-You-Earn Plan

By JAMES MARLOW And GEORGE ZEILKE Washington, Jan. 8.—Some kind of pay-as-you-earn plan for the income tax may be enacted before March 15.

The general idea has gained wide support in congress and Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Finance committee expresses hopes for quick action.

Earlier there was some sentiment for waiting to see what the March 15 installment payments netted then to proceed on the basis of that showing—how many war bonds, for instance, might be cashed in to meet the payments; how much was delinquent, and so on. But apparently congressmen have been getting an earful from the voters about having to pay the in-

French And American Camel Corps Capture Town Near Tripolitanian Border; Weather Halts Ground Actions In North; Allied Planes Busy Blasting Axis Over Wide Area

By WES GALLAGHER Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Jan. 8.—(AP)

Attacking against heavy odds, a French and American camel corps has captured Tanout Maller, 14 miles from Tiaret in the southern Tunisian desert near the Tripolitanian border, only 200 miles southwest of Tripoli, a French military spokesman declared today.

This was the closest Allied penetration so far reported to Tripoli in a sweep to the south of the main Axis defense line through northeastern Tunisia.

Two hundred and fifty Italians were reported killed in the attack. This action was the only reported land operation on the front, as bad weather closed in again on the northern sector.

There was limited air activity. United States Air Forces attacked the Germans at Kairouan, 35 miles southwest of Sousse, and at the Port of Gabes. The RAF's Blenheims started two low-flying, in a new attack on the Tunis docks.

The RAF reported that its forward field anti-aircraft defenses shot down four German planes attacking airbases yesterday, and another was said to have been destroyed last night. A recount of reports since Wednesday showed that a sixth plane also had been shot down in the forward area.

An air force spokesman said light bombers with a Curtiss Warhawk escort achieved good results in the bombing of Kairouan, in the north.

He said also that aerial reconnaissance had disclosed that the power station at the eastern Tunisian port of Sfax was destroyed in an attack last Tuesday.

German barracks were the targets of the raid by B-26 Martin Marauders and P-38 Lightnings on Gabes and direct hits were reported.

One P-38 pilot, Lieut. W. J. Hoelle of Sammarco, Calif., ran into a telephone pole while strafing a Tripolitanian road convoy, and lived to tell about it, the spokesman said.

He quoted Hoelle as saying: "I dove down on the motor convoy, attacked it and set some trucks on fire, and then banked to get away. My wing hit a telephone pole. The plane tipped over on its back and there I was, going about 300 miles an hour, upside down, about a dozen feet off the ground. I fell like my face was scraping the ground."

Hoelle righted the plane and landed safely, with a hole ripped in the wing.

Cairo, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Heavy American bombers blasted the harbor of Palermo, Sicily, in a daylight attack yesterday without the loss of a plane, a communique from United States headquarters announced today.

"Cloud conditions prevented observation of the results except for one great yellow explosion in the target area," the war bulletin said.

"The Italian high command acknowledged the force of the attack in a communique which said 'American four-engine planes raided Palermo yesterday with explosive and incendiary bombs, causing damage in the central part of the town. It said losses among the population so far ascertained were 46 dead and 272 wounded.'

An earlier British communique said that in addition to the Palermo (Continued on Page Three)

Earlier there was some sentiment for waiting to see what the March 15 installment payments netted then to proceed on the basis of that showing—how many war bonds, for instance, might be cashed in to meet the payments; how much was delinquent, and so on. But apparently congressmen have been getting an earful from the voters about having to pay the increased income tax out of paychecks bottlenecked by the victory tax deduction.

Now most of them seem agreed that it's too much to expect the average taxpayer to save enough out of his income to pay the tax the following year without dipping into his current income; that it's far better—and that most citizens would prefer—to have the money deducted from the paycheck before it ever goes into the taxpayer's pocketbook.

What's to be done? Essentially, a pay-as-you-earn plan means that payments made this year are to apply on taxes on this year's income. To prevent a doubling up of the taxpayer's liability, there must be some sort of (Continued on Page Three)

ALLIED CONVOY REACHES PORT

Vessels Reach Russia After Running Fight

London, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The Admiralty announced today that an allied convoy had reached north Russian ports without loss or damage after a hot naval action previously reported December 31.

The convoy was attacked by "a greatly superior enemy force thought to consist of one pocket battleship, one cruiser and a number of destroyers off North Cape at the extreme north of Norway," the admiralty said.

The first announcement of the contract December 31 said an enemy cruiser was damaged and forced to withdraw and an enemy destroyer was severely hit and "was last seen in a sinking condition."

The admiralty said a small force of escorting destroyers drove off the enemy's strong forces in a two-hour fight.

Then, it said, more powerful British forces reached the scene and engaged the enemy until his ships escaped in low visibility, fleeing at high speed to the shelter of Norwegian bases.

It listed British casualties as the destroyer Achates, 1,350 tons, sunk; flotilla leader, and H. M. S. Onslow, a new destroyer, damaged. It said there were some casualties.

(A German communique last Saturday declared that German U-boats and surface ships sank a destroyer, damaged several cruisers and torpedoed four merchantmen in an attack upon Allied convoy December 31 near Bear Island about midway between Spitzbergen and the northern tip of Norway. The Germans admitted the loss of a destroyer.)

Taxes Likely To . . .

deferment (or cancellation) of taxes on 1942 income.

And that's where the argument will start.

Shall we forget all about 1942 income? Or shall we postpone the taxes on 1942 income in the hope of peacetime collection? Or shall we defer part of the payment and collect the rest? Or forget the rest? The system for deducting payments from your paycheck is at hand—the victory tax, effective Jan. 1, which lops off 5 per cent of your income over $12 a week.

Likeliest form of pay-as-you-earn is an extension of the deduction—to, say, 1 per cent—with a final reckoning at the end of the year, when you'd figure out your exact tax, and pay or collect the difference.

The history of the pay-as-you-earn idea shows nearly everyone in favor of it in some form—but this matter of deferment (what's to happen to the 1942 taxes) has been the point of issue.

The treasury, in offering the 1942 revenue act, proposed to make a start on the pay-as-you-go principle by inaugurating a pay roll check-off of a straight 5 per cent this year, to be increased to 10 per cent in 1944—always with a reckoning at the end of the year.

But most congressmen looked upon this proposal as double taxation—since it would have meant paying both 1942 and 1943 taxes in 1943. However, the house approved it.

The senate looked around for alternate ideas. One was the so-called Ruml plan. Beardsley Ruml, chairman of the New York Federal Reserve bank, suggested "forgiving" 1942 taxes entirely and starting in a pay-as-you-earn deduction in 1943.

But the treasury protested that this would mean a "windfall" to those executives who got big salaries in 1942 and got a lot less this year. The treasury suggested a compromise which would "forgive" part of the 1942 taxes but still tap the big money-makers.

Finally the senate converted the pay roll deduction part of the treasury's plan into the complicated victory tax. The house agreed to it.

Now it appears that the treasury's compromise may be the method finally to be chosen.

Ominous Decrease In Law Violations

By CHESTER WALSH

Only three defendants appeared in today's session of Police Court at the City Hall. A considerable decrease in law violations is attributed partly by law enforcement officers to the absence of many men, white and colored—in the armed forces, and to the recent ruling by the N. C. Alcoholic Board of Control rationing of hard liquors. Solicitors of police, recorder's and county courts as well as Superior courts, are reporting names of law violators to the ABC boards, who suspend or terminate the law violator's liquor ration books.

An array of regular week-end law violators—white and colored men and women—is now in hibernation or elsewhere. At least they are not keeping sheriff's officers and policemen of the county "on the jump," rounding them up for varied offenses. With regularity until recent weeks from a dozen to 20 drunks were tried in Police court every Monday. Times have changed. Less than half a dozen drunks have been arrested in Greenville during the past two weeks. The atmosphere of a serious war is now spreading over this territory. Highway accidents are a rarity. Arrests are few and far between. "The war is now being felt by the people here. They are now getting serious about how long it is going to last—not who is going to win," a police officer told a reporter today.

The three cases tried in Police court today were:

James O'Neal, colored, assault with a deadly weapon (an iron bar) on Joe Barrett, colored, was given six months on the roads, judgment suspended on payment of $20 to the prosecuting witness and a fine of $50, costs deducted.

Beatrice Williams, colored, disorderly conduct, profane language damaging city property and resisting an officer, four charges. She was found guilty in each case and given four 30-day sentences in jail, to run consecutively, which means four months behind the bars.

Catherine Crump, white, charged with larceny of a coat suit and jacket from Jessie Mae Jones, was found guilty. She was given three months in jail, sentence was suspended and she was placed on probation for one year.

raid. Allied fighter bombers attacked sulphur factories at Licata on the southern shore of Sicily.

The Axis airbase on Lampedusa Island between Sicily and Tunisia also was attacked, the announcement said.

While there was nothing to report concerning land operations on the Libyan battlefield, Allied fighters swept to within 40 miles of Tripoli to strafe columns of enemy motor transport moving westward along the coastal road, the communique declared. At least one German plane was reported shot down and other: damaged in accompanying aerial battles.

FDR APPROVES NEW TAX PLAN

But Says Change Will Involve Big Problem

Washington, Jan. 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt gave his approval today to a pay-as-you-go tax plan but qualified his endorsement by saying there was a big problem involved.

The real problem in all pay-as-you-go plans and their modifications, he told a press conference, is whether the government will forgive a part or all of current taxes due.

If this is done, he said, the poor old treasury would be out of pocket that much.

There was a lengthy discussion on whether the treasury would be out immediately, or whether its loss would be spread over a period of years, and the chief executive finally agreed that probably the loss would extend over the lives of all present taxpayers.

Unless a portion of all of current taxes were cancelled upon a shift to a pay-as-you-go tax plan Mr. Roosevelt said a taxpayer would be confronted with the difficulty of paying present taxes and also saving ahead for next year's taxes.

Mr. Roosevelt laughed and remarked that probably everybody felt the same way when a reporter interrupted a complicated question by saying he did not want to get things too involved.

The subject was brought up by a request for comment on the so-called Ruml pay-as-you-go tax program. The President said he thought we all were in favor of getting on a pay-as-you-go basis instead of saving out in 1942 the taxes we have to pay in 1943.

This is hard to do, he said. Some people think the only thing is to forgive all or a part of current taxes, he asserted, so that people would not be paying two tax bills at once.

Soil Experts Can Help Farmers

The Soil Conservation Service, cooperating with the Coastal Plain Soil Conservation District, has a full-time man in Pitt, Edgecombe, Greene and Martin counties—to assist farmers in their problems that deal with the land.

W. C. Eagles, the soil conservationist in Pitt County, is willing and anxious to assist the farmers in every way possible so that the war goals for this county will be met.

The Soil Conservation Service can assist farmers in their production problems, especially those problems that deal with land treatment and land use. Some of the problems

- which the soil conservation service can assist farmers with, are:
1. Selecting the soil for the crops that are to be grown;
  2. Staking lines for terraces and contour tillage, showing the farmer how to construct needed terraces and helping the farmer to lay-out a row system that will conserve moisture and soil;
  3. Working out rotations (cropping plan) that will maintain or increase production by conserving moisture, adding organic matter and plant food, and conserving the soil;
  4. Establishing new pasture—selecting and preparing the land—fertilizing and seeding; treating and maintaining established pastures;
  5. Laying out a drainage system—

6. Woodland Management—clearing open ditches, and fire; installing fire breaks, and cutting methods in cutting products (fuel, logs, poles, etc.) for sale;
7. Using non-productive areas for wildlife;
8. Working up a complete conservation plan for the entire farm, that is suited to the individual farmer and farm, and assist the farmer in getting the planned practices established.

1942—$17,590,802.05

These figures, which register the strength of the Guaranty, are however, of much less importance than is the fact that this bank endeavors, day by day, to be the most useful bank. Years alone mean little in the life of a business or a man. But when those years include periods of every kind of business conditions both good and bad, and when the institution's record has always been one of progress—then those years furnish proof of stability and sound principles.

Such is the 42 year record of the GUARANTY. Since 1901 this bank has grown with its surrounding trade territory. It has kept in constant touch with the times. It has developed new policies and new methods. It has continually widened its service to meet the needs of the community. With sincere pride we call your attention to our record of service in figures in our bank statement.

During the year 1942 we purchased for our own account more than $1,700,000.00 in U. S. Government Bonds and sold more than $1,000,000.00 to our customers. We offer safe and efficient banking service to every individual firm and corporation. We invite YOUR business.

TACT IS NOT DIPLOMACY
In his Epistle to the Philippians, Paul says, "And this I pray that your love may abound . . . in all judgment" (Phil. 1:9).

We speak of a man being tactful, and by that we mean that he has the gift of touch. Some people lack this gift, and every time they come in contact with their fellows there is a collision.

Now Paul connects this grace with the growth and deepening of love. There appears never to have been any heresy in the Philippian church but there was a great deal of personal misunderstanding.

Diplomacy and tact are essentially different. Diplomacy has its roots in self-interest, while tact has its roots in unselfishness.

WORDS ALONE WON'T DO IT

Governor Broughton has emphasized that he believes it's time to quit playing Santa Claus and that there should be no public aid for persons who can work but won't work.

We realize that when the state enacted laws bringing this state under the federal act it was somewhat in self-defense because the federal government would collect the taxes in this state whether or not the state participated, and naturally there was a feeling that we should have our part of the "gravy" if we had to help pay the bill.

Therefore, if Governor Broughton means what he says about wanting to see an end to the public Santa Claus business, he might urge the legislature to repeal our state unemployment compensation law and at the same time memorialize the entire North Carolina delegation in Congress to make every effort to have the unemployment provision of the Federal Social Security Act repealed.

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STENNETT

(First of Two Articles on the New Congress.)

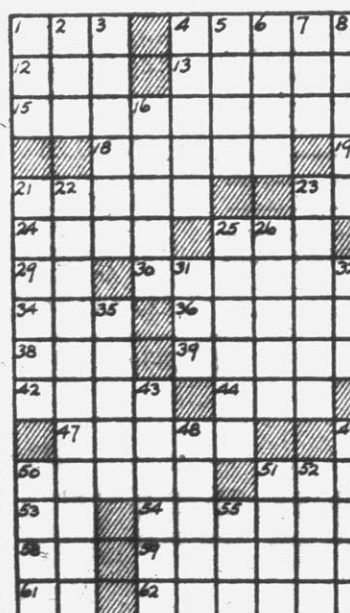

Washington—Administration leaders and some high-handed bigwigs in the war effort aren't sleeping well these nights. Their nightmare—the 78th Congress.

For two years Congress has taken a battering. Public opinion and on occasion even the Administration knocked down the old fellow in the big black hat and flowing tie, rolled him in the dust and kicked him in the stomach.

But having passed his 78th birthday, he's up again, dusted off and squared away. And those who tossed haymakers at him in the last round, have taken one look at Congress rejuvenated and are wishing they could crawl off and hide in strictly neutral corner.

The smelling salts that brought the old fellow around are two parts Republican gains made last November and one part the conservative (anti-New Deal) Democrats formerly in Congress.

Already Democratic leaders have ducked one threatened fight and acquiesced in Republican demands for greater representation on congressional committees.

There are 47 standing committees in the House, 33 in the Senate. They are the cogs that really grind out the legislation.

In the Senate the Democrats' majority still is substantial and the committee majorities still will be important.

As your breath gets thin and short you wonder whether you really have led the sort of life you should—if you see what I mean.

I encountered one group of about a dozen of these mechanics at a lonely airfield among the mountains. When they found that I was an American they crowded about me as though I were a long lost brother.

So American skill and nerve keep up the lifeline open and thus perform an essential operation for the Allied cause.

There is just one fly in the ointment and this is that the value of the service could be multiplied if a few more transport planes were available.

One hundred more transports, as I understand it, would make a mighty difference to China's supply problem.

PACIFIC PATROL

BY ELEANOR ATTERBURY

Chapter 18
The Wreck

Early that evening, Mary climbed into warm pajamas and a robe and took a new novel to bed, hoping to read herself to sleep.

Mary slipped out of bed, padded down the hall to her father's room. "Can I make you some coffee, Daddy? Pretty cold out tonight."

"No, thanks, dear. I won't have time." He came out into the hall pulling on a heavy slip-over sweater.

"Your mackinaw? Where are you going?" "Down to the harbor. There's been a wreck on the Saints' Islands."

"And you're going to take her out?" Mary demanded, alarmed. "Oh, Daddy, not tonight. The storm is awful. Just the thought of pitting the frail little power boat against the ruthless fury of the ocean on a night like this struck terror to her very depths."

And rocks they were, Mary knew. The Saints' Islands were scarcely more than huge, jagged boulders thrusting sharp edges up through foaming water or lying treacherously just below the surface to trap the unwary vessel that ventured too close.

She dashed to the front window in time to see her father's car leaving the drive, turning into the

There just wasn't anyone she could call. Most of the boys who like herself, had learned to manage small boats just as a matter of course were gone now.

Mary turned now, dashed up her stairs to her room, shedding the warm, quilted robe as she went. She had no choice. She'd go herself, of course.

Fingers flying, she laced up her long hiking boots, tucked the tail of her warm woolen ski shirt into her breeches, pulled on her ski jacket and mittens and cap.

The wind snatched at her evilly as she ran out to the garage. It pushed at the car, turning the wheels capriciously, howling like a thousand mad demons through the deserted streets.

A guard stopped her at the foot of the stairs, passed her along as soon as she identified herself.

Horses May Move From Florida To New Orleans

New Orleans, Jan. 8.—(AP)—In an effort to take full advantage of the "ill wind" that has blown nearly all of the south's winter racing into New Orleans, fair grounds officials are taking steps to see that leading thoroughbreds will find quarters in already crowded stables.

Predictions also are being freely made—but not yet confirmed by racing officials—that purses will be boosted as business increases at this historic Crescent City track.

With 1,500 horses stranded in Florida because of the tropical park and Hialeah closing, telegraph wires have been kept hot by horsemen there asking for stable room in New Orleans.

In an effort to accommodate as many of the Florida contingent as possible, Julius G. Reeder, fair grounds general manager, has asked horsemen here who plan to ship to Hot Springs for the Oaklawn opening in February to notify him as soon as possible.

"Stables here are filled," Reeder said, "and the situation has been tight since the opening. But some vacancies might occur through shipments to Hot Springs or the return to the farm of horses not ready to race."

In a notice to horsemen asking their cooperation Reeder said considerable requests for stable accommodations have been received from Florida and added:

"In fairness to all horsemen in a wartime situation your cooperation is increasingly important."

Meanwhile, sports writers and the betting fraternity recalled the glamorous twenties when Col. E. R. Bradley of Kentucky was at the head of the fair grounds and made it the winter racing capital of the country.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Whirlaway and lesser known horses still made the rounds of Miami's two race tracks today, but the thoroughbreds were strictly in the non-profit ledger as the ban on automobile pleasure driving cut short the Florida racing season.

Officials of Hialeah and tropical parks reported that stables would be kept in top shape, pending decisions by owners as to the future. Track officials have not closed the door to a resumed season.

Hirsch Jacobs, a leading trainer sounded the keynote for trainers and owners by saying:

"I think 20 per cent of the horses will stay right here for the winter. It would be dangerous to ship them from a warm climate to a cold climate now. My string of 25 is staying here, as far as I can tell right now."

Ben Jones, Whirlaway's trainer with 48 other Warren Wright horses stabled at Hialeah, described the situation as "terrible" but said he hoped Wright would give him permission to ship the long-tailed champion money winner to New Orleans. Jones was in California with a string of horses when tracks closed last season.

Johnny Adams, champion jockey with 246 wins last year, planned to "hang around a while and see what's cooking." If the tracks remain closed he'll probably go home to Topeka, Kan., and visit the folks a while. Johnny's hopes of setting a world's record by winning the top ranking for a third year seemed pretty well blasted. He had won 13—he grinned at that—since January 1.

Seasonal employes at both tracks were paid off, as were a number of State Racing Commission men. Jockeys packed up their silks.

Two Greyhound tracks, the Biscayne Kennel Club at Miami and the Sanford-Orlando Club at Longwood, also found the going too rough and suspended operations last night. A third, the Hollywood Kennel Club, cancelled its season when the driving ban in eastern seaboard states was first announced.

Sports Roundup

By RICH FOLEY, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Umpire Bill Stewart, who was the first pro baseball player to enlist in the other war, has come around to the conclusion that sports still are useful so the home folks can "let off steam" and get things off their chest. And those things usually land right on Bill's paid head. . . . Although plans still are nebulous Ned Irish has reserved March 27 three days after the end of the invitation basketball tournament, as the date for a war charities court game. . . . Brigham Young U. has come up with a new reason why a star athlete can't play. Dwayne Esplan, all-conference basketball forward in 1941, dropped out of school to look after his 3,000 sheep. . . . if the Dodgers train in Yale's Cove Memorial Field house, do you suppose "dem bums" will become "Coxe's army"?

Quote, Unquote
Joe Cronin (enroute to his new Red Cross job at Pearl Harbor): "There is a lot of difference in the physical condition of the average ball player of today when he reports for spring workouts as compared to the shape in which the average player reported, say, 10 to 15 years ago. Very few players left themselves get far out of condition now."

Family Food in 1943
Now that we are in a new year, it is the traditional time for predictions and plans for the year to come.

Probably the most important prediction and plans for 1943 concern food, suggested by home economists of the U. S. department of Agriculture. The often quoted statement of the Secretary of Agriculture—"Food will win the war and write the peace," may well be remembered by every American homemaker as she plans, grows or buys and prepares food for her fam-the 235-pound Marine corps douter who looked like a heavyweight prospect, has been transferred at his request from Norfolk to an outward bound west coast outfit. But before he leaves he's like a shot at Turkey Thompson. . . . Navy Lieut. Carl Stockholm, former six-day bike racer, has been appointed executive officer of the shore patrol battalion in the Chicago area. . . . Pvt. Werner Kearney, 260-pound son of the Rhode Island basketball coach and a fair court performer for his dad is in charge of recreation at White Horse, Alaska. . . . Freddie Archer, crack Newark, N. J. welterweight, has joined the Seabees and is stationed at the Camp Endicot, R. I. training center.

Training Trip
Pittsburgh Jackie Wilson, the N. B. A. featherweight champ, must have taken a trip from the baseball clubs about training at home. He is drilling at Pittsburgh in preparation for his January 18 bout with Jackie Gallura at Providence, R. I. Monday he comes here to work out at Stillman's for two days and Wednesday he'll move on to Providence. . . . Wilson expects to fight Willie Pep for the undisputed title in February.

COLORED NEWS

Pendleton Field, Oregon—Promotion of William H. Green, 28, from Private First Class to Corporal in a colored truck company, U. S. Army Air Force at Pendleton Field, Oregon, was announced Dec. 25. He is the son of Mrs. Dora Green, 27 Cooper's Lane, Greenville, N. C. His wife and daughter, 7, resides at 210 Long St., Greenville, N. C.

Green was inducted into the Army May 1, 1942, at Fort Bragg, N. C. He was also at Fort Warren, Wyo., and Victorville, Calif. Air Base previous to arrival at Pendleton Field. Before entering the Army he retreated tires for the Mixon Retread Co., Greenville, N. C., for six years.

The Elks Pitt Lodge No. 234 I. B. P. O. E. of H. Golden Rod Temple No. 368 Junior Elks Herd No. 68, gladden many hearts by donating to the older citizens of this city. Everyone who received a gift from the above organizations rejoiced and were very thankful.

Committees are T. J. Wood, Walter West, Grant Bell, Lottie Belcher, Charles Bell and Carl Knight.

ingly during the year. Under stress of war it becomes more important than ever to have a well-fed nation. The diets in this country were better in 1942 than they had been during the previous five years for several reasons. Many families had more money so they could buy more and better food.

But in 1943 more money to buy food and more interest in good nutrition will not be enough to insure better diets. For civilians will be unable to get as much of some important foods such as meat, butter, milk, and many vegetables and fruits so they would be able and willing to buy. The food civilians can have in the coming year will depend on many things—the weather, on necessary farm supplies such as labor, machinery and fertilizer, and on processing and transportation.

Looking into '43 every one is aware of the rationing of canned fruits and vegetables at an early date so we see family gardens and home food preservation will be more important than ever.

Family Planning
Today you are faced with increas-

these things you must do and at the same time maintain an adequate living for your family—improve the nutrition levels and the comfort of your home. More careful planning is necessary now than ever before. Old habits and old budgets won't fit the fast changing conditions of today.

Four of the most important jobs facing the members of your family, who are now living on the farm, are:

1. Produce foods, fats and fibers for our armed forces, our allies and ourselves.
2. Put your farm on a sound business basis.
3. Buy War Bonds.
4. Make the best possible use of labor available for your farm.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

WILL ENFORCE DRIVING BAN

Highway Patrol Helps Check On Pleasure Driving

Raleigh, Jan. 8. (AP) - With the co-operation of other law enforcement agencies, including the state highway patrol, the OPA is making a state-wide check of automobiles being used for pleasure.

Theodore S. Johnson, state OPA director, said OPA enforcement agents were taking the license numbers of cars parked near pleasure spots and leaving notices that the owners must show cause why their gasoline rations should not be cancelled.

Special attention, it was pointed out, would be given automobiles parked near country clubs, golf courses, theaters, roadhouses, night clubs and other pleasure spots.

When a car is believed in use for pleasure, investigators will take the license number and leave a typed note saying:

"No pleasure driving on war-rationed gas. You will be required to show cause why your gasoline ration should not be cancelled for disregarding a national necessity in this emergency."

Governor Broughton revealed that the OPA had called on the state highway patrol to assist in reporting violators of the ban on pleasure driving. In a statement stressing the critical gasoline shortage, he called on the state civilian defense organization "to take immediate steps toward forming car-sharing groups in larger cities and to encourage informants."

Court Upholds Death Penalties

Raleigh, Jan. 8. (AP) - The State Supreme Court, sitting in final session today for the fall term, found no error in cases against Sam Hairston, Ernest Howard Vincent and Mary Neal, alias Mary Gardner, Negroes, convicted of capital crimes, thus upholding the death sentences against the three.

Hairston was convicted in Forsyth county of criminally attacking a 52-year-old white woman on Nov. 30, 1941, in her home.

Germans Have New Sub Supply Ships

Stockholm, Sweden, Jan. 8. (AP) - Dispatches from Berlin today reported that the Germans were using new type supply ships for submarines - tanker U-boats averaging 3,500 to 4,000 tons.

The submarine-like tankers can tow two or three under-water depots to designated spots in the ocean to supply submarines which are warring against Allied shipping, the accounts said.

The tankers are manned by a crew of 10 or 12 and haul oil, medicine, provisions and repair parts, the Berlin correspondent of Svenska Oagbladet reported.

Depots which are towed by the tankers carry no crewmen. They apparently are surfaced through radio action, the report added.

A German spokesman was quoted in the dispatches as saying the new supply tankers enabled Nazi subs to stay at sea now for months instead of 10 weeks.

Tar Heel Fliers Get Decorations

Cairo, Jan. 8. (AP) - On windswept desert airfields strewn with the wreckage of Axis planes, 49 additional American Air Force members received the Distinguished Flying Cross today from Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, commander of the United States Air Forces in the Middle East.

Lieut. Frederic E. Whitaker of Bowling Green, Ohio, got a special citation for bringing home a badly damaged medium bomber from a raid in October after he was wounded in the leg. Whitaker also received the Purple Heart for his wound.

Others decorated included Technical Sergeant Lewis E. Pulliam of Roxboro, N. C., and Sergeant George L. Bickett, Jr., of Charlotte, N. C.

Concrete Dike Saves Portsmouth From Flood

Topped by sand bags, the great five-mile wall of concrete has saved the industrial city of Portsmouth, Ohio, from a disastrous flood once more. A man and a boy stand atop the sand bags and watch the surging water. The flood water on the Ohio river rose to 66.9 feet, just 1.1 feet under the top of the 62-foot dike. The same wall saved the city in the great flood of 1936.
