Russian Army Continues Headlong Drive Against Germans On All Fronts

Stage 50-mile Advance From Voronezh Sector to Point 79 Miles from Khar'kov; Further Widening Of Break That Liberated City Of Leningrad Reported; Other Points Taken

By HENRY C. CASSIDY Moscow, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Red Army pressed ahead today with mounting force on its two newest offensive fronts, toward Khar'kov in the Ukraine and along the newly opened corridor to Leningrad, and the Russians declared that the Germans had been unable to hold a successful defense anywhere along the battle-line.

In their push southwest of Voronezh, where the Russians were within 79 miles of the German base at Khar'kov, Red Star reported a "large enemy force" encircled and the pace of the Russian advance was increasing.

In the north the army newspaper declared that two powerfully fortified Nazi garrisons were under heavy Russian attack—one described as the "main stronghold" in the Volkhov sector south of Leningrad and the other on the Leningrad front. They were not otherwise identified.

British military sources said in London that in the Russian offensive so far 60 German divisions had been badly mauled and 28 of their satellite divisions practically knocked out. It was said these divisions would represent some 1,335,000 men.

The advance on Khar'kov, stemming from the Voronezh sector, had pushed 50 miles through Valutki junction point of three railroads directly east of the Ukrainian capital often called the "Pittsburgh of the Ukraine" because of its industrial importance.

The occupation of Valutki enabled the Russians to cut for the first time the rail line which runs north of Kastornoye, between Voronezh and Kursk, paralleling the main Moscow-Rostov line. The penetration to Urazovo put the Soviet army within 30 miles of Kupiansk, one of the first cities taken by the Germans in their offensive on the Khar'kov front last summer.

A special communiqué claimed the capture of Kamensk after hard street fighting. This at once consolidated the Red army's bridgehead on the south bank of the Donets river and put a main body at a point 85 miles north of Rostov on the main Moscow-Rostov railway. Advance guards are 10 miles nearer Rostov.

Legion Post Holds Meeting

Pitt County Post 39 of the American Legion had its guests last night at Moore of the U.S. Navy who is here on furlough. Judge J. Paul Frizzelle, and Charles Taylor Pace and Pat Corey, who represented this city and county at the Boys' State held in Chapel Hill in August.

The visiting navy man was introduced to the Legionnaires by his uncle, Lee H. Moore. Young Moore has already seen much action in the war, having experienced a narrow escape from one of the vessels sunk at Pearl Harbor, and since that time having seen further action in both the Pacific and Atlantic.

Judge Frizzelle in a brief talk expressed appreciation for the work and efforts of the American Legion in behalf of prosecution of the war and its utterances regarding the peace that must follow. He also paid high tribute to the men now serving in the armed forces and declared that it was the duty of everyone on the home front to give them 100 per cent support and see to it that their sacrifices are not in vain.

Charles Pace and Pat Corey made full and interesting reports on their week's stay at Chapel Hill during the session of Boys' State. They reported that in addition to an enjoyable week they learned much that will prove valuable to them in the future.

Several business matters received action including the adoption of a resolution urging the present legislature to give careful study to the need for increased facilities for feeble-minded children of this state with a view to establishing in the western part of the state another institution similar to the Caswell Training School at Kinston.

DAYLIGHT RAID OVER LONDON

Nazi Planes Drop Bombs And Machine-gun Streets

By The Associated Press London, Jan. 20—London was bombed and machine-gunned today in the largest German daylight raid since the battle of Britain, and preliminary reports indicated that at least 11 of the attacking planes were shot down by the British fighters alone.

A school was smashed and set afire, and from its wreckage workers recovered many bodies and dug into the debris for others believed killed or trapped alive.

Twenty-four children were killed in this school alone, authorities said. Ten children and six women were killed in one London district when a single bomb destroyed three houses, while in another section six children and three women were killed when a bomb passed through the top of a cafe and burst in a row of houses.

These brought the total of London's deaths to at least 49. Raiders skimmed the rooftops while others dodged anti-aircraft bursts in cloud cover shortly after noon and the air clear was sounded a short time later.

The planes attacked during the lunch hour, machine-gunning streets and buildings after sweeping in over southern England in greater force than in any daylight raid in two years.

It was a small-scale repetition of any of a score of days during the nearly aerial battle of Britain when the Luftwaffe frequently struck by daylight.

It was the first daytime alert for the British capital since last October 26 and the first daytime bombing since last July 17. Heavy and light anti-aircraft batteries in some sections fired almost constantly for ten minutes. British fighters also engaged the raiders in aerial battles.

The attacks today followed up overnight operations in which the (Continued on Page Four)

Can't Get Parts For Fire Siren, States

City authorities are still unable to secure necessary parts to repair the fire siren atop of the City Hall due to war priorities. The alarm signal has been out of order some time its irregular sounding of fire alarm numbers has caused confusion. The siren can't be heard half a dozen blocks unless the wind is blowing in that direction.

At a recent signal for a practice blackout ordered by the United States Army at Norfolk the siren went haywire and caused confusion. Suggestion has been made by various persons that the city discard the siren until it is repaired and use the big whistle at the electric power plant on the river.

Minges Fire Tower Is Now Completed

The fire tower in West Greenville for practice by local firemen and those of Eastern Carolina cities and towns has been completed. M. O. Minges, prominent Greenville business man, donated $10,000 for building the fire tower when it was apparent that this country would have to go to war. The modern structure provides all of the hazards and handicaps firemen might meet in fighting fires in tall buildings. State Fire Marshall Sherwood Brockwell said the Minges Fire Tower, named in honor of the donor, is one of the best in the state. The city owned the land on which it is built.

Arrangements are being made for special exercises when the fire tower is dedicated.

Conflict Over Agency To Pass On Rail Wages

By JOSEPH A. LOFTIS Washington, Jan. 20—(AP)—With a request expected daily from the non-operating railroad brotherhoods for appointment of an emergency board to hear their wage demands, government officials still were at odds today over which agency should pass final judgment on railway wages.

An apparent conflict in the provisions of two presidential orders will have to be resolved, officials agree. The railroads and the unions meantime have chosen sides, the railroads arguing for the War Labor Board and the unions preferring a hearing by an emergency board which would then report directly to the President.

CONFIRMATION FLYNN URGED

Official Says He Is Qualified For Appointment

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—Edward J. Flynn, minister designate to Australia, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today that when he swore in the late Arthur Plegenheimer as a special deputy Sheriff of Bronx county he did not know that was the real name of Dutch Schultz, the gangster.

Earlier an assistant secretary of state testified that Flynn's experience as Federal Commissioner for the New York World's Fair helped equip him to discharge the duties of minister.

Flynn, testifying at his own request, offered denials to all specific charges raised against him by Senator Bridges (R-NH) in opposing senate confirmation of the diplomatic appointment.

The appointee testified immediately after assistant Secretary of State G. Howland Shaw presented the State Department's endorsement of the appointment before it was sent to the senate.

Flynn said his opponents had tried to imply that Schultz was appointed a regular deputy sheriff, which was "not so."

"He was never appointed as a paid appointee of the sheriff's office," said the former sheriff of Bronx county.

Flynn explained it had long been the custom in New York counties to appoint friends as special deputy sheriffs. He had merely continued the practice, he said.

"A group would come into the office and I would swear them in," Flynn explained. "They received no salary and had no duties to perform. It was merely a gesture of the sheriff at that time to the people with whom he was friendly, who made requests of appointments."

Indian Will Speak At Library Tonight

Boy Scouts and Cubs (junior Scouts) and their parents and boys from nine to 15 years old and their parents and others are invited to Sheppard Memorial Library tonight at 8 o'clock to hear Chief William Red Fox, a descendant of Chief Sitting Bull of the Sioux Indian Tribe, speak on matters of interest to youngsters and grownups. The Indian chief is here under the auspices of the Boy Scouts. James T. Uzzle, executive field officer of Boy Scouts, stated.

State's Finances Given Attention By Assembly

Surpluses, Appropriations And Revenues Discussed

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 20—(AP)—Still concerned with financial conditions in post-war days, the Senate passed today an amended bill to authorize the governor and state treasurer, with approval of the council of State, to invest surplus state funds interest bearing securities of the federal or state governments.

The measure was concerned with a surplus that might develop after a sizeable portion of the present surplus is invested in securities.

The bill, introduced by Senator O'Berry of Wayne, was amended by the house to allow the funds to be invested in paper guaranteed but not necessarily issued by the federal government.

Senator Weathers of Cleveland introduced a measure to fix the terms of office and qualifications of members of the State Board of Health. It would provide that one member be a commercial dairyman, another a food processor and another the owner or operator of a restaurant or like concern.

In all, 21 bills were introduced in the Assembly today, but none was considered by Legislators as being of outstanding importance. Both the Senate and House adjourned until noon tomorrow.

The Legislature's joint finance committee sliced off part of the state's expected revenue today while the Appropriations Committee heard urgent requests for increased allocations of funds.

To top off that predicament, another committee placed a heavy gag on efforts to abolish the gag rule adopted near the end of the 1941 Assembly session to prevent a statewide liquor referendum bill from reaching the House floor. Rep. Umstead of Range had tried to change the rule requiring a two-thirds vote to make a bill from the unfavorable calendar to a majority vote. The House rules committee voted to report unfavorably on the Umstead measure.

GIRL SCOUTS HOLD BANQUET

Organization's Accomplishments Are Praised By Speakers

By CHESTER WALSH The annual meeting and banquet of the Girl Scouts at the Woman's Club last night was a brilliant affair, attended by nearly a hundred parents and friends of scouting.

Dr. Harry Comer, executive secretary of the Y.M.C.A. at the University of North Carolina, guest speaker, saluted the Greenville Girl Scouts and their leaders with a brilliant and practical heart-to-heart talk to parents about the girls "achieving womanhood and becoming homemakers" in an upset and disturbed world.

The philosophical university executive won a warm place in the hearts of his hearers when he said "it is great to forever be a freshman."

Sugar Stamp 11 Is Valid After Feb. 1

Sugar stamp No. 11 becomes valid on February 1 and will be good for three pounds of sugar until March 15. No. 10, also good for three pounds, expires January 31.

Percentage allotments for institutional users of sugar remains at 60 per cent industrial users at 70 per cent, and certain hospitals at 85 per cent.

Allotments for institutional users of coffee will be on a one-month basis from now on. Coffee will be allotted to new institutional users of coffee on the basis of one pound per 100 meals in February instead of the former basis of one pound per 60 meals served.

February allotments for coffee and sugar may be obtained now at the War Price and Ration Board Office, 119 West Fourth Street, C. V. Cannon, executive secretary, stated today.

Axis Is Facing Three-Way Squeeze In North Africa

Japs Pressed In Solomons, New Guinea And Burma

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—Wiping out of 1,032 Japanese in five days of battling on Guadalcanal Island in the Solomons was reported today by the Navy in a communique which told also of the bombing of a Japanese cargo vessel at Shortland Island 300 miles to the northwest.

The heavy casualties inflicted on the enemy in the land action were part of a series of actions in which ground forces fought slowly forward against stiff enemy resistance.

For the most part they could be described as mopping up engagements to clear Japanese groups away from Henderson airfield.

New Delhi, Jan. 20 (AP)—United States heavy bombers based in India struck yesterday at the docks at Bassein, in southwestern Burma, and caused damage, an American army communique said today. The Bassein facilities have been used by the Japanese army.

On the first day three large fires and 16 smaller ones were started. The second attack was made in still greater force, scoring direct hits on the Japanese headquarters, a barracks and a warehouse.

"As a result of these operations," the communique said, "it is estimated that half of the enemy base was completely destroyed."

No American planes were lost in the attacks.

Allied headquarters in Australia, Jan. 20 (AP)—Allied ground forces have cut the last garrison of Japanese on the Papuan Peninsula of New Guinea into four isolated groups after capturing the village and point of Sanananda, an Allied headquarters communique said today.

Heavy casualties were inflicted on the Japanese in the bitter fighting and only 27 were taken prisoner. Some of the Japanese were reported wandering in the swampy jungle country.

The only remaining enemy resistance was from two Japanese pockets on either side of Sanananda point and two more on Sanananda road leading to the beach.

The Japanese attempted to aid their apparently doomed ground troops in the Sanananda sector by (Continued on Page Six)

"Bob" Eason Now Lieutenant-Colonel

"Bob" Eason, home town boy who worked his way through East Carolina Teachers' College, and who enlisted as a private in Battery A, 113th Field Artillery, with headquarters in Greenville, some years ago, has won signal recognition and honor in the United States Army. J. Herbert Waldrop, a former company president and cashier of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company, stated to a staff representative of the Daily Reflector today after learning that Major "Bob" Eason has been promoted to be lieutenant-colonel.

Eason served through the ranks of Battery A. When there was a vacancy in the battalion he was promoted to first lieutenant. When the National Guard was called into the service more than two years ago Lieutenant Eason was with the battery when it went to Fort Jackson. He was sent to Officers' Training School at Fort Sill, Okla., and later promoted to captain and made an instructor of artillery. Through merit and ability the Greenville soldier was promoted to major and continued as instructor at the officers' school.

Major Eason was a good soldier and an excellent officer and went on up the line until recently when he was promoted to be lieutenant-colonel, one of the youngest in the service," former Captain Waldrop said.

Striking Miners Face Expulsion From Union

Wikes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 20—(AP)—The United Mine Workers served notice on striking anthracite miners today that they face "dishonorable expulsion" if they refused to obey President Roosevelt's order to return to work by noon tomorrow.

The UMW executive committee of District 1, to which the unauthorized work stoppage now is confined issued the warning as thousands of miners, increasingly resentful of what they regard as the government's unwillingness to negotiate their grievances immediately, voted to stay out.

M. J. Kisk, district 1 president, declared that "the majority of mine workers should not suffer because of the action of a small minority."

Better Relations

Chauncey Sparks (above), 58-year-old lawyer and banker from Eufaula, began his administration as Alabama's 45th governor Jan. 18 with a promise to seek betterment or racial relations through "independent development" for the Negro race. He was inaugurated at Montgomery, succeeding Gov. Frank M. Dixon.

CHILE BREAKS WITH THE AXIS

American Government Informed of Action Today

Santiago, Chile, Jan. 20—(AP)—Chile broke relations today with Germany, Italy and Japan, leaving Argentina the only American republic maintaining diplomatic contact with the Axis.

The decree was signed by President Rios after representatives of other American countries and Britain were notified of the step.

The announcement followed a 30 to 10 senate vote approving President Rios' decision for the break with Germany, Italy and Japan.

Unofficial sources said Axis diplomats would be notified during the day and President Rios planned to inform the country in a broadcast over all Chilean stations at 7 p. m. tonight.

Baroness Von Schoen, wife of the German ambassador, Baron Wilhelm Von Schoen, already has left by train for Argentina, the one remaining nation which will be left in the Americas maintaining relations with the Axis.

The senate's vote was taken last night after Foreign Minister Joaquin Fernandez, speaking for the president in a private session, announced the rupture decision and asked for the senate's approval. Of (Continued on Page Six)

Pitt Killers Are Paroled

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 20—(AP)—Rebecca Inez Stanley, who was convicted in Guilford county in April, 1942, of second degree murder and sentenced to from three to 10 years in prison, was among 14 prisoners paroled today by Governor Brroughton.

Joe Gurganus of Pitt County, who was convicted in October, 1939, of second degree murder and sentenced to serve from eight to 10 years in prison, also was released.

Others paroled included: Vallie Lee Gray, convicted in Pitt County on August, 1941, of manslaughter and sentenced to from three to five years in prison.

Expulsion from the UMW would prevent a man from working in the mines under the closed shop agreement between the union and the operators.

Angry mutterings of "let the troops come!" were heard at meetings at which strike ballots were taken.

President Roosevelt served notice yesterday that the strikers must go back within 48 hours and said if the order was not obeyed the government would "take the necessary steps to protect the security of the nation against a strike doing serious damage to the war effort."

Rommel Continues Flight Losing Prisoners, Guns and Vehicles; Axis Forces Make Slight Gains In Ground Action Near Pont Du Fahs; British Army Is 30 Miles From Tripoli

Allied headquarters in North Africa, Jan. 20 (AP)—Axis forces advancing southwest of Pont Du Fahs on the Tunisian front have scored a penetration of about seven miles, an Allied Headquarters communique said today.

The communique also reported that "minor engagements continue in the Bou Arada-Goubellat area" further north.

The Pont Du Fahs area, about 40 miles southwest of Tunis, has been held largely by French forces.

The Allied command also reported that Flying Fortresses yesterday attacked the coastal area of Sousse, where "hits were made on industrial buildings and railway yards."

Besides the heavy bombers, United States medium bombers and fighters ranged over most of the Tunisian front from the capital area in the north to points near the Tunisian-Libyan border in the south.

Three B-25 Mitchell medium bombers bombed targets at Medenine in the far south, the communique said; P-38 Lightning fighters attacked a column of enemy vehicles near the frontier, destroying about 20 others, and Monday night Allied medium bombers attacked railroads and railways in the Tunisia-Sousse area, destroying a train and scoring hits on motor transport.

The communique reported that enemy bomber destroyed Monday and concluded, "from all these operations two of our aircraft are missing."

Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's retreating Axis army was reported attacking headlong into a three-way Allied squeeze in Tunisia while on the political front confused north Africans watched for the first move of the new Algerian governor general, Marcel Peyrouton, long time foe of Pierre Laval.

Peyrouton was named yesterday to replace Yves Sinalet, in what observers here regarded as a move to install a firm, anti-expert administrator and ally of the late Algerian general, Marcel Peyrouton, long time foe of Pierre Laval.

Peyrouton was named yesterday to replace Yves Sinalet, in what observers here regarded as a move to install a firm, anti-expert administrator and ally of the late Algerian general, Marcel Peyrouton, long time foe of Pierre Laval.

Caïro dispatches said air reconnaissance had shown Rommel's forces flowing westward on the final lap of his retreat from El Aïnain to Tunisia and the Caïro radio put the British Eighth Army, now in Tunisia, on a high alert, the only remaining bastion of Mussolini's African empire.

Thus Rommel was being hounded relentlessly from the east by the Eighth Army, hemmed in from the south by French forces moving north across the Sahara and central Libya and faced in Tunisia by a combined American-British-French Allied army.

The Tunisian front, long bound up in mud, shifted uneasily as Rommel's forces approached. Axis tanks and infantry initiated attacks in the area southwest of Tunis and made a slight penetration of French lines at one point, an Allied communique reported.

The action was believed to be related to Rommel's retreat, if only as an effort to test Allied strength.

A French spokesman reported that the Italians had been driven out of the Sahara desert, except at (Continued on Page Four)

Abron Sumrell Is Given 12-15 Years

In Superior Court today Judge J. Paul Frizzelle of Greene County sentenced Abron Sumrell, colored, to from 12 to 15 years in the penitentiary after a jury found him guilty of manslaughter in connection with the fatal shooting of Louis Brown, colored, at a rural point some months ago. Sumrell's attorney submitted a plea of manslaughter after the man was charged with murder.

A jury found Thad Little, of the Ayden community, not guilty of a charge of illegal sale of intoxicating liquor.

Unusual progress has been made in disposing of cases on trial this week. Judge Frizzelle and the court officers and the attorneys have done good work. Court Clerk J. Frank Harrington stated.

Legislative Committee Meets The Legislative Committee of the Greenville Board of Aldermen met at the City Hall last night with Mayor Sugg to discuss proposed legislation to be submitted to the North Carolina Legislature now in session in Raleigh.

NEWS OF GREENVILLE HIGH By CORA REDDITT

Sophomore Class. There will be a meeting of the Sophomore Class Thursday morning during homeroom period in the library. The meeting is being held to decide about having their picture in the annual, to discuss class colors and motto, and possibly a class song will be presented. This is the first time the eleventh grade has been known as the Sophomore Class.

Assembly Held. Chief Red Fox, a Sioux Indian, spoke to the high school students today in an assembly held at sixth period. A free-will offering was received from the students to defray the expense of this program. Chief Red Fox has spoken to the Boy Scouts and other groups during his visit here in Greenville.

War Stamp. A War Stamp Party will be held Friday night in the auditorium. The price of admission is from a 10c war stamp up.

The dance is being sponsored by the ninth grade. A good time is assured to all as well as their helping Uncle Sam.

Tin Can Salvage Quiz

Q—How do tin cans contribute to the war effort?

A—Tin cans contain 1 per cent pure tin and 99 per cent No. 2 steel scrap, both vital materials.

Q—Why is tin a vital material?

A—Nearly 90 per cent of our tin supply formerly came from Malaya, now in enemy hands. Of the 100,000 tons of tin used in the United States last year, only 44 tons were produced in this country.

Q—How could the few tin cans used by one home be helpful?

A—The average American family discards 36 tin cans each month—not much in itself. But, when taken as part of a complete picture in which we realize one ton of cans monthly for every 1,000 population the importance of the tin can becomes evident. On this basis approximately 125,000 tons of tin cans are thrown away each month throughout the United States, so you can readily see what vast importance is attached to the lowly tin can in today's economic set-up.

1,250 tons of tin and 123,750 tons of No. 2 Steel Scrap available monthly! Yet it takes the "few" cans from every home throughout the land to make this impressive showing!

Save your cans and have them ready for the collection which will be made in Greenville early in February.

Axis Subs Prove Menace To Allies

By JAMES KING

London, Jan. 20.—(AP)—In an attempt to keep the tremendous output of Allied war factories from the battlefields, Adolf Hitler was said by British naval observers today to be maintaining 200 U-boats of his fleet of perhaps 500 at sea all the time.

As the Germans gave indications of pinning the hopes more and more on an ever-increasing fleet of submarines, which many Allied leaders rate as the greatest menace to the United Nations, demands were heard in Britain for faster freighters to outrun the U-boats.

An unofficial British estimate was that Germany is building from 15 to 20 submarines a month—faster than naval observers here believe the Allies are sinking them.

The German radio meanwhile boasts to the world that the new U-boats are able to stay longer at sea than the old ones and that they are getting torpedoes, supplies and even new crew members from large "mother U-boats."

Germany now is reported to be building U-boats by prefabrication in much the same way as freighters in the United States. Parts are being made all over Europe, it was said, and assembled in great bomb-proof caves and concrete pens in French Bay of Biscay ports.

Most of the submarines met in the Atlantic are of the heavy ocean-going type with a surface speed of 18.5 knots.

The earth completes one rotation on its axis in 23 hours, 56 minutes and 4.09 seconds.

On the other side of the budget ledger, the joint spending committee heard Labor Commissioner Forrest Shuford assert that unless an appropriation double that recommended by the advisory budget commission was granted his department, North Carolina faced federal instead of state administration of labor problems. For the 1943-45 biennium he asked $345,460. His original request before the commission was for $212,076 for the biennium but that amount was shaved by the commission to $186,760. He asked the committee for increased personnel, asserting that the federal government was insisting on improved safety inspection and accident prevention by the states, and that work in the wage-hour branch for the war production board and other war agencies was suffering.

Senate Finance Committee voted favorably on a measure by Rep. Barker of Durham to exempt members of the armed forces and merchant marine from paying poll taxes.

The money-raising committees, meanwhile, neared the end of suggested amendments to the continuing revenue act and there were indications the full measure would be reported to the floor in a few days. The Appropriations Committees are not expected to report their spending bill before February 1.

PUBLIC HOLDS TO WAR BONDS

Only Few Purchasers Are Cashing Bonds

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

New York, Jan. 20—(AP)—Americans are doing a good job of hanging on to their war bonds.

There has been some concern from time to time as to how well the bonds sold would stick, as to whether there might not be a tendency to sign up to buy in moments of patriotic inspiration, only to cash in the bonds later.

The Series E bonds are redeemable in cash after 60 days, and they account for more than two-thirds of $15 billions of war savings outstanding. The other two issues are redeemable after six months.

Perhaps one reason why redemptions have not been very heavy is that the sales efforts have been conducted with a considerable degree of restraint, compared with the Liberty Loan drives of the first world war.

Canada has had something more of a problem with public cashing in of war bonds. To check the movement, display advertising appeared throughout the country last autumn urging "don't be a Welsher."

This coincided with the inauguration of the very stiff withholding taxes in Canada taking effect in September.

Another aspect of the Canadian situation which seems to aggravate the problem of redemptions is the "blitz" method of bond sales. Instead of a continuous campaign to sell war bonds to the public, Canadians have concentrated their effort in a high pressure sales campaign every few months.

The United States moved in the direction of the Canadian plan with the highly successful offering of close to $13 billion in treasury issues in December. This campaign, however, was directed chiefly to large investors. Meanwhile, the various efforts to keep up sales of war savings bonds to the public go forward.

While this country has shown considerable interest in Canadian "blitz" method, it appears that the chief disadvantage of that method, in so far as the general public is concerned, is that it induces signing up for more bonds than many individuals can handle in the wave of high-pressure selling.

On the other hand, the American method of trying to keep the campaign of selling to the general public going continuously has the disadvantage that, as an every day proposition, the fervor begins to wane. Possibly a combination of the two methods, is the ideal.

Striking Miners . . .

Leaders of the 21-day wildcat walkout, now involving 12,000, had asked the War Labor Board to consider the issues—demands for a $2 a day wage bonus and protests against a 50-cents a month dues increase—but the board ordered the controversies submitted to processes provided in their working agreements.

If such negotiations should fail, Chairman William H. Davis said, the board then would act.

The ruling was made after UMW president John L. Lewis, against whose leadership the insurgents are revolting, declared that WLB had no authority to intervene.

Lewis and other UMW leaders, as well as the WLB and other governmental agencies, have condemned the strike since it began, saying it has created a coal shortage endangering prosecution of the war.

Workers at five collieries voted last night and yesterday to continue the strike, three acting after receiving Mr. Roosevelt's telegraph order. Four other locals ordered votes taken last today.

About 5,000 returned to work early yesterday. Some 60,000 miners never have participated.

were extended "to cover all industries and all employees." It also stipulated that no increase in wage rates, "granted as a result of voluntary agreement, collective bargaining, conciliation, arbitration, or otherwise, shall be authorized" unless the WLB approves.

The language of the two orders thus would seem to give exclusive jurisdiction to two different agencies.

Officials who favor the emergency board procedure question the logic of having one board hear testimony and judge such issues as inequities, or maladjustments, and then submit its work for possible drafting by another board unfamiliar with the problem.

The WLB, on the other hand contends that unless it has some right of preview over railway wages it can not be responsible for a national wage policy which exempts major industry.

Eastern, southeastern, and western railroads have made strong representations to the WLB to insist upon jurisdiction.

"If," said the carriers, "the railroad employees are to be singled out for special treatment, there may well result a feeling of dissatisfaction and discrimination which would weaken the whole anti-inflation policy of stabilization."

BOXING HELPS THE MARINES

Ring Tactics Handy In Bayonet Fighting

By SID FEDER
New York, Jan. 20 (AP)—The difference between a boxing glove and a bayonet is apparent even to the most casual observer, but take it from Col. Harvey Miller, the Marines who know their best-busting have found it an especially healthy habit in places like Guadalcanal.

The boys are "learning like never before," says Colonel Miller, that a practical knowledge of boxing is important stuff, and the reason is as simple as sitting down. This is it: "In the ring, the correct side-step means only the difference between scoring a knock-down or being knocked down. In the jungle, the same side-step instinctively performed—without boxing gloves but, plus bayonets—may mean the difference between life and death. That's a big difference."

"There's no loser's end in the jungle league," Colonel Miller adds for the special benefit of the Jacobs beach-combers who might like their theory knocked down to the simple terms of the trade. "The motto is 'kill or be killed.'"

Colonel Miller is more widely known as Helme Miller, the permanent secretary and former president of the national boxing association. A fight fan from "way back," the Colonel is the most prolific letter-writer in all the fight industry.

In his latest literary production from marine headquarters in Washington, Miller suggests boxing give up such intra-marine merry-go-rounds as the current lightweight middle.

Calling for boxing to recognize its duty and concentrate on encouraging and teaching youngsters the sport as a means of self-defense in the "jungle hand-to-hand league," Miller contends that a state commission has no more license to give away a world championship "Than the Arizona Legislature has to give away the Statue of Liberty."

"Unity of purpose is most essential to boxing now," he writes, "because it has suddenly become big enough to be very important in national defense."

New York, Jan. 20 (AP)—The other day Morris Siegel, who was a sports writer before he became a sailor, wrote a column for the Norfolk "Seabag," Naval Training Station paper. It was headed, "We Want Baseball," and since Siegel ought to know what his shipmates think, we'll give you a few samples of what he has to say. "We feel that professional baseball is as legitimate as any other business and is more necessary than a lot which are operating today under the guise of being 'essential to the war effort.' Baseball is part of America, part of what we're fighting for today. How would we regard a big strapping outfielder at a ball park when some of us thought he should be in a defense plant? Well, if he struck out, we wouldn't think so much of him, but if he hit a home run he'd be 'good people' in our book. We don't recommend the deferment of men to play baseball. NEW ORLEANS TRACK THRIVES

Crowds And Betting Above Last Season

By FRED HAYDEN
New Orleans, Jan. 20 (AP)—The sport and business of horse racing, like virtually everything else in this town, is thriving. The fair grounds meeting scheduled for 75 days, is just past the halfway mark and shows average daily wagering practically double that of last winter. Paid attendance has increased about 1,000 a day.

A group of the turf set revived Crescent City racing last winter and, after a game struggle through a river of red ink, somehow pulled through. At any rate, the new deal was welcomed and now it seems the sponsors are being rewarded. It is reported the fair grounds can make ends meet very nicely on an average daily play of $100,000.

The first 38 days or through Saturday, brought total wagering of $4,317,811, an average of $114,626. Last winter, the 44-day meeting saw $2,625,424 being bet, or only $59,668 daily. Average daily paid attendance this season to date is close to 3,000. It was less than 2,000 last winter.

The blackout of Florida raising resulted in several "name" horses being shipped here, so it is only natural for local turfites to anticipate even more success for the second half of the fair grounds session.

Tar Heels Meet State, V. M. I., Va. Teams

Chapel Hill, N. C., Jan. 20—A basketball game at N. C. State tonight, a wrestling match at V.M.I. Saturday, and a boxing meet with Virginia here Saturday night headline Carolina's sport card for this week.

All three events will be preceded by freshman contests.

Carolina and State split their two court battles last year. The Tar Heels met three Conference leaders last week, losing to Washington and Lee, beating Virginia Tech, and playing George Washington a 33-34 thriller. State beat Clemson and lost to Davidson. Hartley and Nagy pace the Tar Heels. Mock, Johns, and Reid top the Techs.

V.M.I. nosed out the Carolina matmen last year, 16 to 14, but the Tar Heels beat the Cadets out for the Southern title, 30 to 28. Virginia, long the No. 1 ring team in this section, barely whipped the Tar Heels last season 5 to 3. Both meets are due to be fine contests, and especially the ring show here Saturday.

BAUGH CASE IS DROPPED

Layden Says Baugh's Failure Unintentional

Chicago, Jan. 20 (AP)—Elmer Layden, commissioner of the National Football league, said today the case of Sammy Baugh, "charged with willful failure to attend and participate in a benefit game at Philadelphia December 27 between his Washington Redskins teammates and a league all star squad, had been "dropped for want of evidence in substantiation."

"Investigation has proved conclusively," Layden declared in a statement, "that Baugh did intend to play," that "he was sick at the time he was originally scheduled to leave his Rotan, Tex., ranch," and that transportation difficulties thwarted his efforts to reach Philadelphia the day before the game.

So there was "no alternative," Layden said, "except to find Baugh not guilty of any violation of good faith or of any disregard for his obligation to the public, the league and to his fellow players. The publicity and subsequent investigation attendant upon Baugh's failure to appear is deemed sufficient punishment under the circumstances."

It is gratifying to the farmers of Pitt county to know that they took part in 1942 in one of the greatest agricultural productions in the history of the country. Through the thoughtfulness of Mr. Hendrix (white), county agent, each farmer in all parts of the county were invited to attend the meeting nearest him. This showed the kindness of Mr. Hendrix in view of the fact that many of the farmers would have been unable to attend any place because of the shortage of gas and tires.

This mobilization day signaled the starting gun for a new record production to meet the increased needs of our fighting soldiers, our allies and our people at home.

At this particular time we are all interested in one subject. This one thing means more to us than any other thing, when will we have peace? Let us do all we can to have peace.

Although we produced much food last year, the nation will require more this year.

Despite the shortage of labor farm machinery and fertilizer, I think we will be able to raise sufficient food to meet the war needs. One thing we do know that a number people in Pitt county who had never had a cow, hog or garden, began raising their own food last year. We are encouraged or garden, began raising their own year and that others will do the same.

Start your garden now, you may plant cabbage (seeds or plants) carrots, turnips, lettuce onions, kale spinach, celery cquards (seeds) and beets, and don't forget to set out a few fruit trees, grape vines and berries.

Again let me urge you to start your garden early, canned goods are running short, leave it for the boys over there.

Place baby chicks as soon as it is warm enough. Let me remind you for the month, plant more oats clean up orchard, repair tools start keeping farm records and let us mobilize our forces for the production of more food.—D. D. Du-Pree, Negro County Agent.

Heavier loads and more efficient handling have added the equivalent of 151,000 freight cars to the American railway system.

GIRL TELLS OF FLYNN ATTACK

Alleged Victim Tells Of Intimacies With Film Actor

Los Angeles, Jan. 20—(AP)—The question of whether Peggy La Rue Satterlee, 16-year-old club entertainer, discussed her age with Errol Flynn during the time she says he raped her on his yacht a year and a half ago came to the fore again today as the girl underwent in tense cross-examination.

Defense attorney Jerry Giesler referring to her testimony for the state, queried:

"You asked him (Flynn) if he knew that you were J. B.—or something? He said he would take his chances, or something of that order?"

"Yes, sir," Miss Satterlee replied. Giesler read then from her preliminary hearing, in which she said the only time J. B.—which she described as "jail ball"—and S.Q.Q.—which she said means "san Quentin quail"—were mentioned was when she first met Flynn, several weeks before the yacht voyage.

"This, then, is the first time you have said anything about this?" Giesler continued, referring to mention of her age on the yacht.

"Yes, sir," she answered.

The state of her fingernails, her person, and the noise of the motors aboard the yacht also came under Giesler's notice.

"Did you scratch Flynn," he asked, "or attempt to?"

"No, sir."

"You had rather long fingernails?"

"No sir."

"Were they injured or damaged?"

"No sir."

"Did you have any bruises the next morning?"

"No sir."

"Then he asked if she had made any outcry."

"I was so frightened and embarrassed," Miss Satterlee said, "All the people on the boat were friends of his and the motor was noisy. If anyone had heard me they would not have done anything about it anyway."

In further questioning, Giesler pointed out that she went on deck after the asserted intimacy, yet made no cry toward shore, 70 feet or so away from the yacht, the next day but did not stay, returning to the boat where, she charges, Flynn was again intimate with her that night in his own cabin, to which she had followed him.

Mrs. William Satterlee, the mother, and Peter Stackpole, cameraman for a national picture magazine, were summoned to testify as prosecution witnesses upon completion of Miss Satterlee's cross-examination.

Miss Satterlee, who said she is only 16, yesterday related the incidents of a week-end cruise in August, 1941, aboard the actor's palatial yacht Sirocco, during which she said he twice had intimate relations with her. Charges against Flynn also involve 17-year-old Betty Hansen.

"I was after a Saturday evening spent on the isthmus at Catalina Island, some 20 miles off the southern California coast, Miss Satterlee said that the yachting party, consisting of herself and another young woman, Flynn and a friend, Buster Wiess, returned to the Sirocco, and retired for the night.

Before she had gone to sleep Miss Satterlee testified, the actor knocked and then entered her stateroom, and despite her protest, "why pick on a nice girl?" he ravished her after professing that he merely wanted to talk with her.

"I asked him if he forgot I was J. B.," she said, referring to previous testimony that Flynn had called her by those initials, which she explained meant "jail ball."

"He said he would take his chances, or something of that order," she resisted him at first, but I didn't fight or anything. I just told him he shouldn't do that. I pushed him away, but that is about all."

The next night, Miss Satterlee continued, the yacht was approaching its home port. She and Flynn were on deck and "I think he kissed me once."

She admired the moon, she said, and that the actor invited her below decks with the assurance that it "looks prettier from a port hole."

But when she sought to leave Flynn's stateroom, Miss Satterlee related, the actor again urged his attentions upon her.

"I didn't fight too much," she added, "I kicked and knocked the curtain down."

Several Dead From Cold Wave

By The Associated Press
Subzero cold that ranged as low as -32 in Roseau, Minn., frosted a wide expanse of the middle west today. Deaths attributable to the wintry blast were reported from several states. Travelers endured bitter hardships in stalled cars and trains.

Official reading as of this morning recorded by the weather bureau in Chicago included:

Garrison, N. D., -31; Glasgow, Mont., -26; Lemmon, S. D., -25; Valentine, Neb., -22; La Crosse, Wis., -20; Elletts Bend, Ind., -17; Battle Creek, Mich., and Spencer, Ia., -15; Chicago and Rockford, Ill., -14.

Wisconsin counted four cold deaths, Illinois five, Iowa two, and Nebraska one.

More Foods Added To Rationing List

Washington, Jan. 20—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Wickard has signed an order delegating authority to the Office of Price Administration to ration evaporated and condensed milk, sterilized cream, fruit butters, pickles, relishes, products which contain meats.

Wickard, acting in the capacity of food administrator, had previously announced that the OPA had been directed to ration canned and bottled fruits and fruit juices, canned and bottled vegetables and vegetable juices, canned soups, dried and dehydrated fruits, and frozen fruits and vegetables. Those products are scheduled to be rationed under a point system late next month.

An order delegating authority to the OPA to ration the processed fruits and vegetables also included the other commodities.

Juror Jailed For Contempt Of Court

Charlotte, Jan. 20 (AP)—W. C. Hollis, Jr., a member of Jehovah's Witnesses, was sentenced to 10 days in jail here today for contempt of court when he interrupted the trial of a case in which he was sitting as a juror and announced he could not serve further because of his religious beliefs.

The sentence was imposed by Judge W. H. S. Burgwyn who was presiding at the trial in Superior Court of John A. Williams, Negro soldier, on a robbery charge. A mistrial was ordered after Hollis' outburst.

"I can't serve on this jury because I can't serve God and Mammon and here I am serving Mammon," Hollis said in interrupting the trial.

He read various portions of the Bible to explain his position.

Restore Civilian Rule For Hawaii

Washington, Jan. 20—(AP)—The White House announced today an agreement had been reached for a "substantial restoration of function" to the appropriate civilian authorities in Hawaii.

Details of the new arrangements worked out by the war, justice and interior departments and Hawaii's governor, are to be announced in the territory. The White House said martial law would remain in effect and writ of habeas corpus would continue to be suspended.

Martial law has been maintained in Hawaii since shortly after the attack on Pearl Harbor.

TOJO ILLNESS TO DELAY DIET

Action May Be Move Set Up Dictatorship

New York, Jan. 20—(AP)—The Office of War Information said the Tokyo radio broadcast a report today that Premier Hideki Tojo is ill, and that the 81st Diet would be recessed until January 27.

The broadcast was recorded by the Federal Communications Commission as it was relayed by the Harbin, Manchukuo, station at 6 a. m. the OWI said.

A Domei broadcast from Tokyo said later that the premier was suffering from a cold but was expected to recover by January 27.

The Diet has been in new year recess since December 27 but was scheduled to reconvene tomorrow.

On tomorrow's program were several speeches by cabinet ministers outlining the empire's war policies domestic and foreign. Tojo was to have delivered two addresses, one as premier and the other as war minister. A review of foreign affairs by Foreign Minister Masayuki Tani also was on the program.

The day on which the Diet reopens after the new year usually is the most important in the session and a postponement for any cause is most unusual.

Technical opening ceremonies will be observed tomorrow, the broadcast reported, and then the Diet immediately will vote the extra week of recess.

The OWI said the broadcasts were intended for the Japanese public, rather than foreign listeners. It suggested that "the recessing of the imperial Diet may have been the real purpose behind the report since recently Tojo has been assuming more and more dictatorial powers."

The OWI said it was interesting to note that on Jan. 15 the Japanese put out an English language broadcast boasting of Tojo's health. It quoted that broadcast as saying:

"The Nippon Times editorially said: 'The prime minister never looked more robust.' It is reassuring to millions of ordinary citizens to know that their robust leader overflows with energy despite the weighty affairs which occupy him day and night."

Students End Strike.
