Russians Score More Gain in Severely Defended Areas

Three Strongly Fortified Towns in Rostov Sector Taken As Reds Pursue Quarter Million Nazis Along Sea of Azov; Eight Towns West of Kharkov Captured

By EDDY GILMORE Moscow, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Thrusting forward everywhere along the southern Tunisian front, the Red army is expanding its gains in the northern sectors about Kharkov and Kursk, aiming both at the German-held strong point at Orel to the north and westward at the rich Dnieper industrial valley, the Russians said today.

(The German high command reported that "heavy defensive fighting" was continuing between the Sea of Azov and the area south of Orel. The broadcast communique, recorded by the Associated Press, declared that counterattacks by German infantry and tanks had repelled the Soviets in several sectors and had destroyed 32 Russian tanks. The German air force, it said, was attacking Russian supply lines day and night.)

New gains were hammered out in the Donets basin and along the Sea of Azov shore west of Rostov against a stubborn, counter-attacking foe. It was announced, and in the lower Kuban valley of the western Caucasus a communique told of capturing five more towns in the drive to force German remnants of the Caucasus army into the tiny Taman peninsula.

The first signs of warmer weather were noted today in the Rostov area and Red Star, the Red army newspaper, reported that numerous streams in the region were running free of ice.

The dispatches also revealed that Col. Gen. Rodion Malinovsky, who directed the recapture of Rostov, now was the commander on that southern battlefield.

Between Kharkov and Kursk, the Russians declared the railway and the highway were cleared for uninterrupted Soviet use with the capture of Oboyan, 35 miles south of Kursk, where the surrounded Nazi garrison was smashed.

West of Kursk, the Germans were rushing in tanks and reserves. Among them detachments of an infantry division only recently arrived from Lyons, France, a Soviet war bulletin said, but the enemy was pressed back and a strongly fortified place was occupied.

RAF Bombers Blast Jap Bases in Burma

New Delhi, India, Feb. 20.—(AP)—RAF Liberator bombers unloaded their cargo on the Japanese air base at Toungoo, in southeastern Burma, last night and started a number of fires, a British communique said today.

Enemy night fighters attempting to intercept were driven off.

Two villages on Akvab island were bombed and machine-gunned yesterday, the British said, and small shipping and rail lines were attacked by fighter planes elsewhere on the Burma front.

Tar Heel Promoted

London, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Colonel Frank A. Armstrong of Nashville, N. C., three decorated commander of a heavy United States bombardment group, has been promoted to brigadier general, the Eighth Air Force headquarters announced today.

Will Workers Be Drafted? Sees Need For Greater Civilian Effort

Babson Park, Mass., Feb. 19.—In this global war in America are fighting for the non-essential and inefficient businesses as much as we are striving to build up businesses essential to the war effort. We want to continue certain of our recreations, our rights of free speech and other factors which make up our American way of living. However, temporarily, we must now be prepared to give up many things which we have long felt constitute our inalienable rights.

Not War Minded I venture to say that by far the bulk of our people still do not realize we are at war. People are either having one last fling or are to-

OPPOSE DRAFT OF FAMILY MEN

Committee In Favor Calling Single Men First

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST Washington, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The House Military Affairs Committee today went on record—apparently for the benefit of local draft boards—as opposed to general drafting of family men, and termed such a policy injurious to the nation's welfare.

In a formal report of the reasons it approved the Kilday bill to give family men deferment priorities and to put draft quotas on a statewide basis, the committee expressed belief that "it would be injurious to the welfare of our country to have local draft boards feel that men with families can be freely inducted into the armed services."

The report asserted "many local boards throughout the country, due to confusion and difference of opinion in the construction of the rules and regulations adopted by the (Selective Service) Bureau have been inducting large numbers of men into the armed forces with little regard for the number of dependents, particularly in relation to men who are the heads of families."

The committee reiterated its adherence to "the fundamental principle" that "there is certainly a genuine social reason for preserving established families." It said that "established families should not be indiscriminately uprooted and torn from their moorings solely because of the fact that their financial needs have been taken care of by previously enacted legislation providing for government allowances to dependents."

The report emphasized that the Kilday bill "does not in any way bar the induction of heads of families, but does provide that based on the degree of dependency, single men without dependents, and single men with collateral dependents, as well as married men without children, shall be inducted into the service under proper rules and regulations prior to the induction of heads of families with one or more dependents."

The committee held that enactment of the legislation would be "highly beneficial to the armed forces and aid much in the prosecution of the war and at the same time maintain and preserve the institution of the American home, as well as alleviate to some extent the urgent and much needed demand for additional productive manpower on our home front."

House Receives War Power Bill

Raleigh, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The House received a Senate bill today to give the governor wartime powers to protect the welfare, health and security of North Carolina.

Under the measure's provisions the governor would have emergency wartime authority similar to that other states have awarded their chief executives.

The bill passed the Senate Thursday with a minimum of debate. The powers which it would delegate automatically cease six months after the war or until voided by a General Assembly.

The Senate passed a bill by Reps. Caviness, Mosley and Shreve of Guilford to give the city of High Point authority to pay from federal funds now or hereafter in its possession for work and services performed by certain contractors and others on the hydroelectric project on the Yadkin river.

Approximately 40 legislators attended today's brief session. Seven bills were introduced and 16 were passed before the assembly adjourned until 8 p. m. Monday.

tally unconscious of what is going on in the world. Many people justify their usual way of living today by saying that it is what the boys in the armed services expect. They say that the country clubs, amusement places and general hilarious way of living must be kept going for the boys to enjoy when they leave or when they return after finishing their job. I do not begrudge anyone a good time. Moreover, I do not believe that good times can be or should be legislated out of our lives. Whatever we can do and can enjoy without effect upon the war effort should be continued as a part of (Continued on Page Four)

FAVOR NELSON STEPPING OUT

White House Advisers Want New WPB Head

Washington, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Removal of Donald M. Nelson as chairman of the War Production Board was reported today to have the favor of three major White House advisers—James F. Byrnes, Harry Hopkins and Judge Samuel Rosenman.

This was without confirmation from any of the three, however, and even anti-Nelson quarters said there were indications that President Roosevelt would stand by the WPB chief regardless of the opposition.

Military quarters have reported that some army and navy officials would like to see Bernard Baruch, production boss of the first world war, brought in as Nelson's successor.

While admitting they would be pleased to see Baruch in the job, these officials insisted they were not "campaigning" for Nelson's ouster. One commented that for the army to react unfavorably, in view of the President's distaste for intra-governmental wrangling and the repeated conflicts that have occurred in the past when WPB policies imposed on the services' own control over production and procurement.

It appeared likely that civilians, therefore, would bear the brunt of the movement, and this gave added significance to reports Economic Stabilization Director Byrnes, along with Harry Hopkins and Judge Rosenman, were leaning to Baruch. The services' opposition to Nelson. (Continued on Page Four)

Ernest E. Brown Died Yesterday

Ernest E. Brown, 45, head of the Brown Laboratories and local drug store operator died in Pitt General Hospital, at 5:30 yesterday evening after brief illness. Funeral services will be conducted from the home, 800 West Third Street Sunday afternoon at three o'clock by Rev. George W. Perry, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church. Interment will follow in Greenwood cemetery.

The body will remain at Wilkerson Funeral Home until tomorrow morning.

Fallboarders will be H. B. Drum, Roy Coburn, W. C. Harris, George Gardner, John Karsnak, Louis Harrison and Earl Brown.

Mr. Brown was a native of this county, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Brown, of Bethel. He was a graduate of Bethel High School, Oak Ridge Institute and Crow School of Pharmacy, Atlanta, Ga. Upon graduation from the Atlanta institution he received his pharmacist's license in North Carolina and engaged in the drug business at Ronda and Ekin prior to moving to Greenville in 1934. He was member of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church and the Scottish Rite Order of the Masonic Fraternity with membership in Sudan Shrine Temple.

In 1919 he married Miss Beulah Wike, of Cullowee, who with a daughter Mrs. Troy Dodson, of this city, survive. Other survivors include his parents, two brothers, Larry Brown of Greenville and Caswell Brown, Newport News, Va.; three sisters, Mrs. Claude Williamson, Bethel, Mrs. B. S. Manning, of Greenville, and Mrs. Alton Worthington of Winterville.

Sale Of Canned Goods To Be Stopped Tonight

Nation-wide Registration For Point Rationing Gets Under Way On Monday

By IRVING PERLMETER Washington, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Don't hoard, but buy today all the canned fruits and vegetables you need next week because none may be sold legally from midnight tonight until the morning of March 1. Serious food rationing—the first in American history—is starting to hit its stride.

Cugar and coffee already are being doled out on coupons. Tonight rationing of canned fruits and vegetables stops. On about March 28 meat rationing will start. Rationing of butter and other edible oils, of canned milk and other meats on the way. Canned meat and canned fish whose sale was stopped Wednesday night will be rationed along with "fresh meat."

Another phase of the general food picture finds price ceilings due to be based on fresh vegetables within the next two or three months, according to an OPA announcement, thus leaving fresh fish the only important food group still unregulated on price.

But, returning to rationing here, your time table after today.

Tomorrow (Sunday) Count the cans of fruits and vegetables you own, excluding home-canned and small cans under 8 ounces. With this information fill out your "consumer declaration" either clipped out of a newspaper or obtained from a ration board. This tells how many cans are owned in each family in excess of five cans per person in the family, how much coffee your family had in excess of one pound per person last Nov. 28 and lists the names of each member of the family.

Monday, Feb. 22 Starting Monday and running through the week in most communities, a nationwide registration will be held in schools, houses and other public places. One adult should appear for each family bringing with him the "consumer declaration," and all the

New Shortage Looms In Food Production Program

By OVID A. MARTIN Washington, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The government's meat, milk and poultry production program—already beset by serious labor shortages and other problems—today faced threat of a bottleneck in actual and artificial feed supply shortages.

Reports reaching the Agriculture Department indicated that dairy men, poultrymen and cattle and hog feeders who must buy feed are having to get sufficient supplies to maintain operations.

Chief crisis prevailed in high protein feeds. Maximum feeding results can be obtained from coarse grains only when mixed with protein feeds.

An official who asked that he not be quoted by name said there were actual shortages in some of the protein feeds, particularly those produced from meat scraps and fish. In the case of others—especially those made from soybeans and cottonseed—the shortages were partially artificial, he said. He said many of those who own protein feeds, or uncured soybeans and cottonseed, were holding them for possible higher prices, be-

JAPS BLASTED IN ALEUTIANS

Warships Bombard Enemy Bases On Attu Island

Washington, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The navy reported today that American warships had bombarded Japanese positions on Attu island, westernmost of the Aleutians.

Communique No. 287 said: "North Pacific: (A) United States surface forces bombarded Japanese positions at Holtz Bay and at Chicago harbor on Attu island. Results were not observed.

(B) United States aircraft shot down two Japanese float planes, which attempted to attack United States positions in the western Aleutians. No damage was suffered. "South Pacific (all dates are east longitude: "2 On February 19, United States aircraft bombed Japanese positions at Vila on the southern coast of Kolombangara island and at Munda, on New Georgia island. All United States planes returned."

The significance of the surface bombardment of Attu was unclarified by naval authorities here who said they could not comment on it in the absence of additional information.

The fact that results were not observed was taken as an indication that the warships' raid was carried out under cover of a fog. Aerial reconnaissance when the fog has lifted may show the extent of damage inflicted.

One of the main questions unanswered by the communique was the size of the American force involved.

Opposes Proposed Confirmation Bill

Washington, Feb. 20.—(AP)—President Roosevelt declared today it would be "little less than tragic" if Congress required presidential nomination and senate confirmation of all federal employees receiving more than $4,500 a year.

Expressing his "unqualified opposition" to a pending bill making such a requirement, Mr. Roosevelt wrote Vice President Wallace that the proposal "presupposes congressional responsibility for the operation of executive agencies."

"An agency head is responsible for the success or failure of his program," he wrote. "This accountability is dissipated if responsibility for the appointment of employees is divided."

Mr. Roosevelt estimated that more than 33,000 positions would be affected if the bill introduced by Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.) became law, and declared that neither he nor Congress had time to examine into the qualifications of that many individuals.

British Attacking German Forces In Southern Tunisia

NEW RAIDS ON GERMAN BASES

Wilhemshaven And Other German Points Hit

London, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Royal Air Force squadrons dropped another heavy load of bombs on the German naval base at Wilhemshaven and other objectives in western Germany last night, the Air Ministry announced today.

At the same time army cooperation command planes attacked electric transformed stations in France. Eleven bombers and three army cooperation command planes were lost.

It was the second night raid in a row on Wilhemshaven, where U-boat facilities and shipyards are prime targets, and the thirteenth night attack on Germany this month.

"One enemy fighter was destroyed by our forces," the communique said.

A DNB dispatch broadcast by the Berlin radio said that 36 persons were killed and a great number injured during RAF raids over occupied territories in the last 48 hours.

The German radio said that high explosive and incendiary bombs had been dropped on western and northwestern Germany. Nine raiders were shot down, the German broadcast said.

German planes raided two towns on the northwest Scottish coast, causing a few casualties. At one point a number of settlement dwellers were forced to vacate their homes because the Germans scattered time-bombs over a large area. Several houses were demolished at another place.

Crash Kills Nine. Kearney, Neb., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Nine men died in the crash of an army bomber near Hutchinson, Kas., late yesterday, the public relations officer at the Kearney air base said today.

Names of the victims will not be released until later.

New Ruling On Coffee Ration

Raleigh, Feb. 20.—(AP)—State OPA Director T. S. Johnson ruled yesterday that any person listed in ration book No. 1 as 14 or older is entitled to a coffee allowance. When the books were issued last November minors had to be 15 or older to be allotted coffee.

Another change in regulations provides for the removal of one coffee stamp from the ration book of the parent, guardian or other adult in whose household the minor lives.

If a coffee stamp has been removed from the minor's ration book, previously the regulations called for a penalty of two stamps for each stamp misused.

New Fighter Planes Now Used In Pacific

Pearl Harbor, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The United States Navy's Vought Corsair fighting planes, among the fastest high altitude scrapers in the world, have entered action in the Solomon area, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander in chief of the U. S. Pacific fleet, announced today.

He said this probably was the first report of 2,000 horsepower single-engine fighters, in combat anywhere.

Designed for high altitude operations, the "Gulwing" Corsair "has been described as being in the 400 mile an hour class," Nimitz stated.

The Corsair is said to outspeed any other models flying in upper levels of 35,000 feet or above, and is far superior to anything the Japanese have shown.

The WAR TODAY

AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS By GLENN BABB The Japanese army boasts that it is ready now to deliver the long delayed knockout blow against China. A spokesman in Tokyo says the legions of the Son of Heaven are prepared to "take all conceivable measures to crush Chungking resistance." That may be propaganda, to hide some other sinister design. Or it may be that the Japanese mean what they say, that they are impelled by the logic of their strategic situation to deliver their full power now against the valiant but ill-armed, virtually isolated armies of Chiang Kai-Shek in an effort to destroy them before the Allies can come to the rescue.

Montgomery's Eighth Army Driving On Center Of Mareth Line; British-American Forces Crush The New Nazi Thrust Toward American Base In Algeria

By ROGER GREENE (Associated Press War Editor)

Fighting in swirling dust storms, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British 8th Army troops were reported attacking the Axis in the Medenine area at the center of the 60-mile long Mareth Line in southern Tunisia today, while in the north the Germans and Italians were said to have resumed offensive operations.

Frontline dispatches said U. S. and British troops guarding a stabilized mountain line in central Tunisia had crushed a new Axis attempt to thrust toward the American base at Tebessa, Algeria, through passes above Ebeilla.

Allied military quarters said "the tide had turned" and declared that future Axis efforts in the central sector would probably be limited to jabs for weak spots in the Allies' new mountain defense line.

Simultaneously, a bulletin from Allied headquarters announced that Allied forward troops in the Ousseltia valley had been withdrawn.

The valley, scene of bitter sporadic fighting for many weeks, lies between mountain chains extending 50 miles southwest of the Axis base at Pont Du Fais.

Coupled with other adjustments, the latest withdrawal suggested a wide realignment of the Allied front as a result of the new 60-mile-deep Axis salient carved into the center near the Algerian frontier at Feriana.

"Our forward positions in the Ousseltia valley have been withdrawn from the eastern to the western line of hills," it was announced.

A communique said Allied troops yesterday beat off a small enemy attack northwest of Axis-captured Kasserine, 16 miles above Feriana, and destroyed several German tanks and self-propelled guns in clashes near Siza.

Sibbia is 40 miles southwest of the village of Ousseltia.

On Feb. 18, French forces took 40 prisoners in a successful patrol action in the hills north of Ousseltia," the communique said.

A Nazi communique, unconfirmed by Allied sources, asserted that nearly 3,000 prisoners, "almost all Americans," had been captured in the week's fighting.

The German-controlled Vichy radio said Field Marshal Rommel's veteran tank forces had struck out to the southwest, after clearing the American troops from the Gafsa-Feriana-Sibbia triangle, and had torn fresh breaches in the Allied lines.

The broadcast said Rommel's columns, led by new 60-ton Mark VI (Continued on Page Six)

Robbers Enter Two Places Last Night

Police shortly after last midnight discovered that robbers had broken through a window at the service station at Fourth and Greene streets, in the rear of Blount-Harvey's store and took away a quantity of cigarettes and some small change.

Aske's Fruit Stand on Dickinson Avenue, next to White's Stores, was broken into some time last night. A small quantity of fruit and a bunch of keys were taken.

Police found the keys nearby. Both robberies appeared to be the work of youngsters. The police are investigating.

The president, Mrs. J. D. McArthur, urged all to continue to save salvage materials. She stressed the importance of washing tin cans so that all food would be removed from them.

Mrs. Harry Worthington gave the highlights of the county council meeting.

The demonstration "Three Meals a Day" was given by Miss Joyner, assisted by Mrs. Harry Worthington, nutrition leader. Shredded eggs and health salad were prepared and served with rice and spiced tea by the hostess.

Every member went home feeling that she had learned something to promote better health in her family.

Below is the recipe for the spiced tea served by Mrs. Weathering:
1 tsp. tea, 2 qts. water, 1 cup sugar, juice of 2 oranges, juice of 1 lemon. Steep tea in 1 quart water for 20 minutes. Add sugar, fruit juice, spice and remaining quart of water. Bring to a boiling point and serve hot.

Appear In Opera At College

Above are two of the principals in the famous spinning scene from the opera "Martha," to be given at East Carolina Teachers College on February 26 and March 2. They are (right) Miss Jean Abovyn's soprano, as Martha, who is really Lady Harriet, and Miss Loraine Pritchard, mezzo soprano, as Nancy, her vivacious and loyal companion.

The opera will have a colorful setting, new scenery being prepared for the performances, and elaborate costumes being secured from an outstanding New York costumer.

DuBose Simpson Is Flight Instructor

Lieut. DuBose Simpson, a member of the United States Army Air Corps, has been promoted to flight instructor at Eagle Pass Army Air Field, Texas, according to a message to friends here. "Every time we start the student fliers on something new it is an ordeal of expectancy until they get the planes back on the ground in one piece. But, I am thoroughly enjoying the work and gaining valuable experience. They are teaching me more than I'm teaching them," he stated.

Lieutenant Simpson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Simpson, formerly of Greenville but now of Athens, Ga. His address is Eagle Pass Army Air Field, Eagle Pass, Texas.

Dr. Eddy Speaks At College Here

Two audiences at East Carolina Teachers College yesterday heard Dr. Sherwood Eddy, noted author, lecturer, and student of world affairs, on the campus as the guest of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. discuss the present world crisis and the bases needed for a lasting peace. He spoke in the afternoon on "The Men of Destiny Who Are Making the War and the Peace" and at night on "Winning the War and the Peace" and conducted a forum after each talk.

In the afternoon he talked of the many great personalities he has come in contact with, characterizing Stalin as one of the greatest politicians of the world, its greatest industrialist, one of its most passionate believers in justice for all but a man absolutely ruthless to his enemies; describing Churchill as the man who would win the war for England, but not a man who would "win the peace" because of his imperialistic ideas; painting Gandhi as a combination of Gantama Buddha, the gentleness of St. Francis of Assisi, and the revolutionary spirit of Thomas Jefferson, "a man who has found God if any man has"; presenting Roosevelt as one of the five greatest presidents of the United States because of both his foreign and his domestic policy; he went on to point out the relation of each of these leaders to the war and to comment on the difficulties in the way of their winning the peace. He was introduced by Miss Lois Grigsby, the Y. W. C. A. adviser, Sam Crandell of Stokes, Y. M. C. A. head, presided.

At night, with Miss Charlotte Shearman of Rocky Mount, president of the Y. W. C. A., as presiding officer, and Dr. R. L. Hildrup, Y. M. C. A. adviser, introducing him as a speaker "who has thrilled the hearts of college students on many campuses," Dr. Eddy discussed the four corner stones that any new order that is to be lasting must have—Righteousness, Justice, Brotherhood, and Peace. Saying that the other three must precede peace, he took up each of the three and showed how far short this country still falls in each of them, in spite of all its fine qualities which make him proud to be an American. He brought out particularly the injustice worked by race and color prejudice and the danger of such prejudice for both the world and the white race itself, and the injustice in the top-heavy distribution of wealth and opportunities.

Plans concerning the victory program are steadily progressing. Miss Verona Lee Joyner and Mr. Hendrix, Pitt county agents, will be at Chicod school next Wednesday to speak to the student body on the subject of "Poultry Raising, Gardening, Dairying and other projects connected with the Victory Campaign."

Registration for War Ration Book 2 will begin in the Chicod school auditorium. Hours are 9:30 to 12, and 1 to 4:30 p. m.

Junior Commandos Drive Progressing

The scrap pile is growing rapidly with all the boys and girls of Third Street, Training and West Greenville schools searching every nook and corner for additional scrap. The Jaycees have received the complete support of all the teachers and students in these three schools. Each is entitled to great praise, only by the Jaycees, but also by the entire public for their fine patriotic spirit in collecting, so far in this drive about 100,000 pounds of scrap.

Wiley Gardner of Third Street school, is still the leading individual, having better than 2,000 pounds of scrap to his credit. This entitles him to the rank of lieutenant colonel. He is commended for his fine work. The newest commissioned officers of Third Street school are First Lt. Guy Smith, 2nd Lt. Mary Sideris, 2nd Lt. Jimmie Cheatham, 2nd Lt. Billy Jordan, 2nd Lt. Sarah Stancill and 2nd Lt. Billy Landing. Lt. Vernon Byrum is now Capt. Byrum.

New commissioned officers of the West Greenville school are 2nd Lt. Vernon Wingate, 2nd Lt. Mary Lou Brannon, 2nd Lt. Lonnie Allen and 2nd Lt. Earl Daugherty.

The enlisted personnel of the Junior Commando Army must also be commended for their fine work and efforts in making this campaign a success. As in the regular army, all cannot be commissioned officers, however, the cooperation between the enlisted personnel and the commissioned officers are necessary for success of the war. Plans have been made to end the Junior Commando scrap drive on Friday, March 5. There is only about two more

Here is OPA's consumer instruction sheet on point rationing. It explains how point rationing works and how to buy canned and other processed foods with the new point ration stamps.

Consumer Instruction Sheet

WHY CANNED FRUITS, VEGETABLES, AND SOUPS ARE RATIONED

Every week we are sending shiploads of canned goods to feed our fighting men and our fighting allies in Africa, Britain, and the Pacific islands. We must see that they get all the food they need.

We at home will share all that is left. Point Rationing will be used to guarantee you and everyone a fair share of America's supply of canned and processed fruits and vegetables, soups and juices.

HOW they are rationed

1. Every eligible man, woman, child, and baby in the United States is being given War Ration Book Two. (This book will not be used for sugar or coffee.)

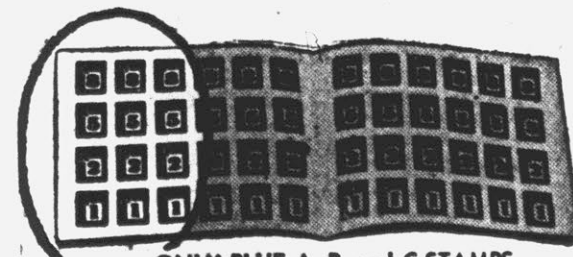

2. The BLUE stamps are for any kind of Canned or Bottled Fruits and Vegetables, Canned or Bottled Juices and Soups, Frozen Fruits and Vegetables, and Dried Fruits.

(The red stamps will be used later for meat.)

3. The stamps in this book are POINT stamps. The NUMBER on each stamp shows you how many POINTS that stamp is worth.

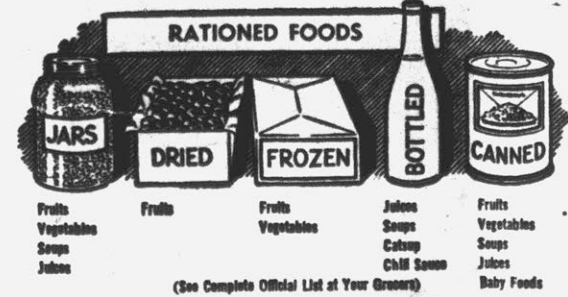

4. The LETTERS show you WHEN to use the stamps. The year will be divided into rationing periods. You can use all BLUE stamps marked A, B, and C in the first rationing period. A, B, and C stamps cannot be used after the first rationing period ends.

ONLY BLUE A, B, and C STAMPS CAN BE USED IN 1st PERIOD

5. You must use the BLUE stamps when you buy ANY KIND of the rationed processed foods. See the official list, showing every kind of rationed processed food, at your grocers. Different kinds of these foods will take different numbers of points. For example, a can of beans may take a different number of points from a can of peas.

6. Of course, the more of anything you buy the more points it will take. For example, a large can of peas takes more points than a small can.

7. The Government will set the points for each kind and size and send out an Official Table of Point Values which your grocer must put up where you can see it. The Government will keep careful watch of the supply of these processed foods and make changes in point values from time to time, probably not often than once a month. The Government will announce these changes when it makes them and they will be put up in the stores.

WATCH THE OFFICIAL TABLE OF POINT VALUES

8. The number of points for each kind of processed food will be THE SAME in ALL STORES and in all parts of the country.

Use Your OLD Ration Book for SUGAR and COFFEE

HOW TO USE YOUR NEW RATION BOOK TO BUY CANNED OR BOTTLED FRUITS, VEGETABLES, SOUPS, AND JUICES; FROZEN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES; DRIED FRUITS

1. The Government has set the day when this rationing will start. On or after that day, take your War Ration Book Two with you when you go to buy any kind of these processed foods.

YOU GIVE MANY POINTS FOR SCARCE FOODS

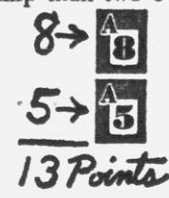

YOU GIVE FEWER POINTS FOR FOODS THAT ARE NOT SO SCARCE

2. Before you buy, find out how many points to give for the kind of processed foods you want. Prices do not set the points. The Government will set different points for each kind and size no matter what the price. Your grocer will put up the official list of points where you can see it. It will also be in the newspapers. The points will not change just because the prices do.

3. When you buy, take the right amount of blue stamps out of the book. Do this in front of your grocer or delivery man and hand them to him. The grocer must collect a ration stamp, or stamps, for all the rationed processed foods he sells. Every rationed processed food will take points as well as money.

4. Do not use more stamps than you need to make up the right amount. For example, if the food you buy calls for 13 points it is better to tear out an 8-point and a 5-point stamp than two 5-point stamps and a 2- and a 1-point stamp. Save your smaller point stamps for low-point foods. You can take the stamps from more than one book belonging to your household if you need to.

5. Every person in your household, including children of any age, has a total of 48 points to use for all these processed foods for one ration period. This means that you may use ALL the blue stamps marked A, B, and C from all the books during the first period. You may use as many of the blue A, B, and C stamps as you wish at one time. When they are used up you will not be able to buy any more of these processed foods till the next stamps are good. The Government will announce the date when the next stamps are good.

6. Use your household's points carefully so that you will not run out of stamps. And buy with care to make your points come out even, because the grocer will not be able to give you change in stamps. Use high-point stamps first, if you can.

IMPORTANT

You may use ALL the books of the household to buy processed foods for the household. Anyone you wish can take the ration books to the store to do the buying for you or your household.

A FAIR SHARE FOR ALL

We cannot afford to waste food or give some people more than their fair share. . . . That is why canned fruits and vegetables are rationed, and that is why meat is going to be rationed. Rationing of some foods is the best and fairest way to be sure that every American gets enough to eat.

NO EXCUSE FOR WASTE Senator Byrd of Virginia has long and courageously opposed governmental waste. The problem has become many times greater as the war has progressed.

The Way It Works THE CANNED GOODS ON YOUR GRILLER'S SHLF WITHOUT RATIONING WITH RATIONING is not so much the amount of money that is wasted during any given period that will hurt, it is knowingly permitting the waste. In these days of hundred billion dollar budgets, a single billion may not seem like much. But a wasted billion which is part of a trend toward more wasted billions, is a danger signal that cannot be ignored.

Senator Byrd has revealed the waste. The voters and Congress must apply the remedy.

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME BY JACK STINNETT

Washington—There's a dog fight going on in the House of Representatives. It started when Rep. Fred Bradley of Rogers City, Mich. lost his white-and-ivory Springer spaniel, Curley. Curley has been pretty much the Congressman's constant companion, even taking plane trips with him.

ley's tale first, he's back with his master but it wasn't until after he was bedded down at the vet's that things started exploding in Congress.

Mr. Bradley's investigations disclosed some things that are pretty shocking to all owners of lost dogs. As a result he has introduced a couple of laws.

Well, that's what started the dog fight in Congress. Rep. Jed Johnson, of Oklahoma, came into the pit with a preliminary statement that he loves dogs as much as the next man, but that, "In these dark and perilous times, with our country engaged in a life and death struggle, I was frankly amazed that the gentleman from Michigan would consume ten minutes of the valuable time of the House discussing proposed legislation affecting the welfare and security of dogs, pedigreed or otherwise."

suggested that perhaps the House should appoint a committee on canine activities; while another suggested that it was a matter for a sub-committee of the city council (I suppose he meant the District commission, which being composed of only three members, is hard put to create sub-committees).

forces to maintain the defense that has persisted now for five years and seven months is a matter of anxiety concern in the capitals of the United Nations. China has the men but not the weapons. This is, she has potential soldiers by the scores of millions but neither the industrial capacity nor military organization to put more than a small portion of them in the field, armed and trained.

Help from her Allies is China's hope but it still is on a pitifully small scale and grows at a painfully slow pace. The "sky dragon" of General Chennault—bomber and fighter units from the tenth United States Army Air Force—represents by far the greater part of that help and they still are far, far short of the 500 planes that returning veterans say would be enough to drive the Japanese from Chinese skies.

Japan's ultimate objective is obvious, the destruction of free China. The immediate and intermediate objectives of the campaigns now in progress in at least seven areas are less clear but in Chungking it is suggested that they fall under these heads: 1. Tightening the blockade of China's coasts, which explains present local offensives in Kwangtung, in the far south, and Kiangsu in the East.

STABILIZER—James F. Byrnes (above), director of economic stabilization, says 48-hour week will be needed to support big Allied offensive in Europe in near future.

Problem of the WIRE CAGE BY JOHN DICKSON CARR

Chapter 26 "Er—sit down, Superintendent," invited Hugh, moving over. Events had moved so fast that he had not time to readjust himself to a new, and very much more ominous, aspect of Hadley. Hadley glanced at Hugh. He glanced at Brenda, who was hastily stuffing the photograph into her handbag.

Even Hadley stirred at the vicious whip-noise across the theater. Tex Lannigan's white hat was in evidence again. The Flying Mephistos, going through their ground routine, moved in a quick, scarlet Catherine-wheel.

"Hold on! You're not going to put Chandler under arrest?" "He doesn't know it," Hadley contemplated the stage. "Have a good time, my bucko," he added with satisfaction. "You had a good deal of fun taking Fell and me over the jumps this morning. We'll see how you like a bit of your own treatment tonight."

"He couldn't have walked on top of the net," insisted Hugh. "That's impossible. The net was too weak to support anybody; and, in any case, Chandler doesn't do wire-walking."

"You also tell me there was a lot of wind blowing, both before the storm and during it? Yes, Hadley nodded. Given both those two circumstances, what would happen?" "It was Brenda who spoke out clearly here. 'They're going up to those trapezes. Look at Chandler! He nearly missed his grip on that silver ladder when he started. If you're not going to stop our friend Clarence, I am. Let me pass.'"

"Brenda! Here!" "Sit down, Mr. Rowland," said Hadley impatiently. "If she thinks she can stop that fool with the whip, let her go. So you still don't see what I'm getting at?" "A tennis-net," said Hadley. "Is heavy. And, if it sagged as much as that, about three or four inches of it would be lying on the ground, including the weighted cloth border of the underside, the border being over an inch wide? Yes, you are right. If the weather is blowing the net does more than drag on the ground. It flaps back and forth. Consequently, if the sand surface of the court is soft enough during a thunderstorm, the flattened net leaves marks. It leaves a trail of its own clear across the court. You look at that trail; and you never think twice about it because it looks so natural."

"But a man could walk on the border that lay flat on the court, and leave no footprints of his own. More than that—he could jump or spring on it. Starting with a long spring from the side of the court (such as Chandler could manage easily), he would land on the nearest edge of the net. Two more springs, and he's at the middle. He makes no marks, because the trail has already been made for him. That's how our acrobatic friend did his acrobatics; and it's going to hang him."

hang him." "Does Dr. Fell agree with you?" "That's of no consequence. Fell never agrees with anybody but himself. Chandler is the murderer because he had motive, opportunity, temperament, and method; and because he's the only person who could be guilty."

Hugh heard that final, vicious lash high, because the orchestra was banging with exaggerated loudness to drown out the whip. But he heard it just as he looked behind him—and saw Brenda standing in the middle aisle, staring, with Tex Lannigan's coiled whip in her hands.

Chandler had returned his partner to her trapeze-bar where she caught and, magnificently, held his weight while he gained impetus to swing back. They were on the trapezes facing the audience, and Chandler's was nearest. He swung and spun, his hands out, towards his own trapeze-bar and towards the auditorium. They saw his face, pale and glistening, with a staid look under the overhead lamps.

He was dead, of course, when they picked him up. Since he was wearing red tights and had red hair, it was a minute or two before anyone noticed the three bullet-holes in his corpse: two through the body, and one through the crown of the head.

the familiar American scene. But 1943 should be our readjustment year. It may be our hardest year of the war or it may be just a preliminary-to a harder one to come. At any rate, some real sacrifices are now in order to back up to the fullest extent our armed services.

Easy Days To Date If every civilian were to ask himself, "What have I done to help the war effort?" perhaps only one-third of them would be able to state a clear case. Many of these are registered for enlistment, while over 60,000 parents have had a boy killed, wounded or captured. Certainly, these have contributed their share. Millions of people are actually engaged in war work and even though highly paid they feel, and rightly so, that they are doing their part. Many millions more have bought War Bonds which, while commendable, is only a passive form of contribution.

The only way the majority of us have felt the war is through a slight readjustment in our normal way of living. This has resulted from rationing, restrictions, priorities, lack of residential building, limited use of automobiles and the cumulative effect of wartime upon our nervous systems. The rank and file of our people have continued their lives in accustomed ruts. They feel that things are getting better and leave the worrying to the military.

For some weeks now we have been informed of much territory regained by Stalin's great armies. Lots of the booty captured from the Germans, of hundreds of German fighter and transport planes being shot down. Russia is certainly waging some real offensive attacks, but her success to date does not necessarily mean Germany is all through on the Eastern front.

The line of battle in Russia is a series of spearheads. A great attempt is being made by Russia to turn the German flanks. From a military point of view, the territory now retaken in middle Russia is of relatively small importance. Only when the main German strongholds are evacuated can the flanks be turned and the territory between collapse into the hands of the Russians. Smolensk and Rostov must both be retaken before we can get a clear picture, but the fall of Rostov may be the beginning of the end.

Furthermore, they over-emphasize the intellectual rather than the spiritual qualities, although the latter are more important. GANDHI GROWS MUCH WEAKER

Indian Leaders Petition For His Release

Poona, India, Feb. 20 (AP)—Frustrated 73-year-old Mohandas K. Gandhi—with ten days of fasting still ahead in his self-imposed 21 day ordeal—has grown so weak and caused so many "alarming reports" that a committee of prominent Indians petitioned the Viceroy last night for his immediate release.

The leaders, representing wide differences of political opinion, asked for the unconditional release of the Hindu leader. A government communique issued today at Bombay said Gandhi's condition had changed considerably for the worse and was regarded as grave.

Gandhi, who was reported yesterday by his large staff of physicians to be "weaker—much weaker than yesterday," was said to be remaining in bed in meditation now during his morning and evening prayers.

Speaking at an open air meeting, he said "this struggle is between a positive force—I won't call it brute force—and public opinion. I may have had differences of opinion on the policies pursued by the Mahatma (Gandhi) but there's no difference of opinion among Indians on his release."

Friends said that if Gandhi is not released soon the effects of his fast might be very serious, even if he survived. They said there is a danger that he will suffer permanent disability from the strain put on his system.

Authoritative medical circles said Gandhi's mental condition was better yesterday than the day before.

WILSON LOSES TO ROBINSON

Harlem Hammer Is Winner In Ten-Round Bout.

By SID FEJDE
New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—California's Jackie Wilson didn't make any mistake in showing up at Madison Square Garden last night, although it's a matter of arguments as to whether the $10,000 or so he got was worth the thumping he absorbed from Ray Robinson.

But he made several other mistakes in the course of the evening. The chief one of these cost him the fight.

This error was in trying to trade long-range artillery with the sugar man at odd moments during the ten rounds. Sugar may be rationed, but the sugar man's Sunday shots definitely aren't, a fact he proved particularly in the fourth round when he floored Sergeant Jackie for a nine-count.

Whenever Wilson waded in, stayed close to Robinson and whacked away at the Harlem hammer's skinny sides, he had considerable success. In fact, that's how he won all the four rounds he did.

The way Robinson walked out against Wilson from the word go last night, tossing his block-busters and pulling the trigger on his big guns, he resembled his hero, Joe Louis, the night Joe all but took Max Baerling apart in a couple of minutes.

Most of the 16,336 customers, wondered how any one guy could take the punishment Wilson did, or, as Referee Frankie Fullam wondered when the taffy-pull was over, "I don't know what was keeping him on his feet."

Duke Cagers Off To Meet Navy, Colonials

Durham, Feb. 19—Duke University's loop-leading cagers left here last night for a brief northern sojourn to take on the basketweavers of the United States Naval Academy and the Colonials of George Washington on Saturday and Monday nights.

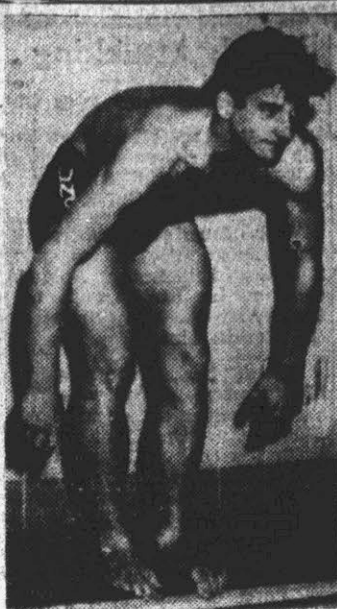

The Blue Devils hope to take a revenge win over the Colonials for their 68 to 53 defeat on January 11 the conference until the tournament and thereby clinch top honors in on March 4-6 in Raleigh.

Duke was catapulted into first position in the conference race when Coach Dwight Stuessy's William and Mary cagers defeated George Washington last week. Both Duke and George Washington have had only one conference defeat on their record.

Tomorrow the Blue Devils will open their week-end of activity against the Naval Academy team at Annapolis, the first meeting of the year for the two teams.

The Blue Devils, coached this season by Gerry Gernard who took over when Eddie Cameron was called on to serve as Acting Director of Athletics in the absence of Lieutenant Colonel Wallace Wade have now won 14 out of their 19 starts this season, and have scored 1,013 points to their opponents' 892.

A considerable contribution to the success of the Duke basketball team this season has been the stellar playing of the Durhamites on the squad. Durham High School for years has consistently produced some of the country's best high school teams. Two sets of brothers on the Blue Devils' roster are from Durham, the Loftis and Gantt brothers. Until Dave Hubbell graduated at mid-semester there were nine Durhamites on the squad.

Ward in turn is the only man to beat Navy's great sprint corps all season.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—Looks like a photo finish in the race between the Army and the end of the basketball season. Those kids who were "safely" in the reserves last fall are being called up so fast a coach hardly knows from one day to the next who are the regulars and when the next big bunch of local boys goes March 2 there may be slim pickings left for the invitation tournament later in the month.

Shear Nonsense.
The Cincinnati Reds' latest wrinkle in equipment for spring training in the north is a "sweat suit" like those track athletes wear and Frank Grayson, veteran Times-Star baseball writer, describes it as a cross between a west end zoot suit and an explosion in a pawn shop.

Now you just go on back there and sit down and I'll get out of this all right.'"

CAGE SEASON NEARING END

Eight Southern Conference Teams Clash Tonight

Richmond, Va., Feb. 20 (AP)—With the basketball season drawing to a close and bids to the Southern Conference basketball tournament in the offing, eight conference teams will battle tonight and for at least five teams, the games will be crucial.

V.M.I. and Richmond will collide here. The winner will keep alive his chances for a bid to the tourney. The loser virtually will be removed from a title shot.

The Cadets beat William and Mary last night, 41-38.

At Chapel Hill, North Carolina needing two wins in its last two tilts, engages once-beaten South Carolina, who edged out Wake Forest last night 39-34.

The flashy Gamecock quint has six wins and one loss and stands third in the conference.

Washington and Lee plays William and Mary at Williamsburg, the Indians, need a victory to stay in the fight.

North Carolina State plays Wake Forest. A win would shove State ahead of Richmond which trimmed Citadel, 54-49, last night.

Down The Heavyweight Trail

By James J. Johnston

Freckled-faced, broad-shouldered, spindle-legged Bob Fitzsimmons discovered his now famous solar plexus punch when he knocked out Jim Corbett.

Fitz was an ungainly, knock-kneed, bald young man with long arms and a knockout punch at the end of them. He had a peculiar style and was easy to hit but if he hit you first, you seldom recovered Fitz's style was bothersome to his foes. He was always shuffling in, trying to get you to lead, and then countering with a terrific hook to the stomach that knocked the breath out of you. He'd stun you with the punch and was quick to see that you were ready for his short right hand that always followed to your chin. Fighters rarely got up after that one.

He was about six feet tall but never weighed more than 170. Fitz had shoulders like a giant but from his shoulders and chest down he tapered off until he had practically no hips. His legs were long and boney, and as he shuffled toward his opponent, he appeared more knock-kneed than ever. This gave him great hitting power.

Fitz never bothered to block punches. He relied upon his eyes to see what you had to send his way and he would try to get you to punch at him the way he wanted.

They knocked on Jeffries' dressing room door and were told to wait a minute. They heard some moving around inside, then the door opened. In the far corner of a dimly lighted room, on a rubbing table, lay a hairy and powerful man, Jeffries, naked, a living picture of a modern Hercules. As Fitz entered, Jeffries sprang from the table as lithe as a panther, ran across the room with his hand extended and belittled to the champion. "Hello, Bob." Then, without another word, he ran back to the rubbing table. Fitz gazed at the big fellow as in a daze, then walked out.

Fitz was silent as he undressed but finally he said to Julian: "E's a big fellow, ain't he? My, e's a big lad, powerful too, I'll bet."

After the seventh round of the fight, in which Fitz was being beaten although he had punched Jeffries' face out of shape, Fitz said to Julian: "I'll try to knock 'im over this round."

Late in the round he landed his left hook and Jeff started to slump. Fitz shot his right hand to Jeff's face as the bell rang and the seconds sprang into the ring to carry Jeff back to his stool. But Jeff was okay when the eighth round started and went on to win the title.

Louis Would Beat Jeffries.
Jeffries' style would suit Louis. Louis is a great counter puncher and Jeff would do all the leading which would make a Jeffries-Louis contest a real classic. But I am sure Louis would have beaten Jeffries, the best day Jeff ever saw, but only after a grueling contest.

COLORED NEWS

A Letter from Grant Bell, Jr. By O. A. Dupree

It is gratifying to note the fine calibre of young men that Greenville has produced for the American armed forces. There are young men that the writer knows that are of high character and are a credit to any town. The parents of Greenville should know of their merit and feel proud of them. The writer thinks that we do not raise enough "fuss" over these boys that are going their all for the preservation of all that we stand for.

One of the first men that General MacArthur decorated for heroism was a Negro from this county by the name of Crandel. We did not raise enough noise over that great deed. The writer is afraid that some of us held back some of our praise and failed to give vent to our feelings by expressing ourselves in such a way that it would have been felt as far as the Coral Sea. Let us be lavish in our praise for these boys who are at the bat, and whose courage and tenacity depends to a very large extent to the amount of "fuss" that we make over them.

Below is a letter sent by Grant Bell, Jr. to his father. Grant is now in North Africa and this is what he writes:

"Dear Father:
It has been my intention to take time out and express my gratitude for all the big and little things you have done in the preparation of shaping me into manhood. You have done "a day's work." Had it not been for the whippings, the mild talks, the companionship of a good father and the million and one things it takes to make a good man; I would probably have been behind the "black ball" like many other men who have fallen victim of circumstances. Mother has the right understandings so she knows I am only telling you half of the story. I'm always writing telling her side of this precious story. I am waiting for peace to be declared, so I can marry some nice young girl and receive the same compliments from my son.

I haven't had time to read the quarterly (Sunday School book) as I desired, but I'll read it during my first leisure moments. You haven't forgotten, I am in a combat section where anything is likely to happen to alter all conditions. Father, I have learned that the strongest weapon is prayer and I am really putting it into effect.

I am still in Africa and not complaining because I have many things to do to keep from getting lonesome. You know it's a war going on over here. Enclosed is a money order for you, buy yourself a cigar. I am doing clerical work.

Your son

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Grant Bell of this city. Grant, Jr., represents many of the fighting men that left this city. He deserves a great deal of credit, but his parents deserve more. The writer can say the same about many other parents that have sent their sons to our armed forces that live in Greenville and Pitt County.

Dr. Frank Guest Speaker Kiwanis

By CHESTER WALSH
An interesting talk on "The Citizen and the Man in Wartime" by Dr. A. D. Frank, head of the history department at East Carolina Teachers College, was given by Dr. Frank to the Kiwanis Club of Greenville last night. Dr. Frank, pastor of Eighth Street Christian Church, endorsement of public recreation program here and a period of fellowship featured last night's supper session of the Greenville Kiwanis Club. President Joe Taft presided.

Dr. Frank said the home front is the main base of the army during a war, and it is our job to keep that army in operation with food as well as ammunition and transport and morale. War consumes commodities. They are used or completely destroyed. Those on the home front should make sacrifices, the speaker said, and added that when one individual or group dodges their part in war work it places double duty on some other individual or group. Dr. Frank concluded his informative talk with the warning that "we at home owe the same loyalty to our commander-in-chief as the men in uniform and must provide economic security for the servicemen when they win the war and return home." He warned that the skyrocketing of prices will eventually result in a precipitate drop and a depression within a year or two similar to that of 1933. He pointed out that farmers and laborers made more money last year than they did in any recent two years.

Marvin K. Blount had charge of the program. Invited guests were Rufus V. Keel, member of the Board of Aldermen and warehouseman; Miss Elise Barefoot and Miss Loraine Pritchard of the college, speaking for the opera "Martha," to be presented at the college next Friday; Capt. C. C. Daves of the U. S. Marine Corps, recruiting here; Alderman John A. Collins, and Sgt. Walter Teague of the Marines.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Feb. 20—(AP)—Steels, rails and selected industrials put a rallying foot forward in today's brief stock market after considerable early hesitancy. While there was a handful of soft spots at the start, trends stiffened in the final hour and advances near the close ranged from fractions to 2 points or so with many new highs for the past year in evidence. Transfers for the two hours ran to around 500,000 shares against last Saturday's 794,390 aggregate, biggest for any short session in 1943.

AIRMEN BLAST JAP SHIPPING

Four Enemy Ships Bombed In The Solomons

Allied Headquarters in Australia, Feb. 20—(AP)—Heavy and medium Allied bombers scored hits with 500 pound bombs on four Japanese ships totaling 27,000 tons in a night raid on enemy shipping at Buin in the Solomon Islands, and Allied communique said today.

The communique reported there was no change in the situation at Wau, southwest of Salamaua in New Guinea where Allied ground troops have driven the Japanese back toward the coast.

One of the four vessels damaged at Buin, a 9,000-ton ship, was hit twice and left burning from stern to stem and another of 7,000 tons also was hit twice and was last seen with smoke pouring from her side, the communique said.

Medium bomber units attacked the airdrome, supply dumps and dispersal bays at Kahili and other targets in the area including a seaplane base, starting fires which were visible for 30 miles. All Allied planes returned safely from the mission.

One heavy bomber, attacking a 5,000-ton cargo ship at Gasmata, New Britain, was suddenly attacked by 12 Japanese Zeros. In a running fight, two of the Japanese planes were seen falling into the sea in flames and a third was listed as destroyed. The bomber returned safely.

Claim Sinking of U. S. Destroyer

London, Feb. 20 (AP)—The Tokyo radio today broadcast a Japanese Navy high command communique which claimed that Japanese Navy planes sank two destroyers and one large transport in an attack Wednesday on escorted convoys in the area of San Cristobal Island in the Solomons group.

San Cristobal Island is southeast of Guadalcanal.

The broadcast was recorded by the Associated Press.

The Japanese communique said that Japanese planes had carried out several attacks on the convoy and had scored direct hits. Three Japanese planes were missing, the Japanese said.

This claim has not been confirmed from any Allied source.

British Attacking

tanks, were thrusting down between the western rim of the Chott (dried salt lake) Djerid and the Atlas mountains below Gafsa.

With American armored forces temporarily knocked out of action it appeared likely that Rommel was speeding his tanks south to meet the British 8th army threat against the Mareth Line.

British headquarters said Gen. Montgomery's forces were "in contact" with the enemy in the Mediterranean sector—the first mention of ground troops fighting there for several days—while 8th army groups continued to blast the Mareth works in preparation for a breakthrough.

"In the southern sector, our patrols were in contact with the enemy north of Four Tatahouine," the British communique said.

From Tatahouine, whose capture was announced by the British yesterday, lies 30 miles below Medine at the southern flank of the Mareth Line.

In another strategic development, Reuters (British news agency) correspondent with the 8th army reported that British troops had driven Axis forces off Djerba Island, in the Gulf of Gabes just above the Mareth Line.

If true, this would provide a sharp flanking threat to the north end of the Mareth works.

New dispatches from General Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters conceded that the destruction inflicted by Rommel's forces might upset the spring timetable in the Mediterranean, but there was no confirmation of German assertions that the Americans had lost 125 heavy tanks, 50 big guns and more than 40 armored cars.

DNB, the German news agency, said 1,200 Allied prisoners had been taken and declared that the list was increasing.
