Russians Capture Three More Towns

German Reports Series of Strong Attacks But Have Been Repulsed; Reds Claim Heavy Losses In Donets River Area

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, April 2 (AP)—Three more villages have fallen to Soviet troops closing about Novorossisk and other Nazi positions along the Black Sea coast, the Russians announced today, but elsewhere on the long front only minor activity was reported by the Soviet noon communique.

The German communique broadcast today by the Berlin radio and recorded by the Associated Press said that the Russians had launched a series of strong attacks south of Lake Ladoga, but that German firepower and close-range fighting beat them down in front of the Nazi lines.

The Russian war bulletin made no mention of this front, which is close to the Finnish border.

The Germans declared that the Russians had lost 1,267 planes during March.

The advance in the Kuban Valley of the Caucasus last night followed gains reported previously in the mid-night communique. Although the direction of the advance was not immediately defined, it was believed to be in an area north of Novorossisk with the Red Army expanding its gains out of recaptured Anastasvskaya, 33 miles north of the Black Sea port.

Air duels continued in the area, the Russians asserting that nine enemy planes were shot down and three damaged when Soviet airmen intercepted a Nazi air force raid.

The Russians announced they were consolidating positions northeast of Smolensk in the drive for that German base and that German counter-attacks were repulsed. A company of German infantry was wiped out in one sector, at least 60 Germans were shot down as they attempted to storm through the wire about one recaptured position in another sector, and about 200 were killed in engagements south of Bely, it was said.

The struggle for mastery of Donets river positions on an arc east of Kharkov was marked last night by the exchange of gun-fire, with heavy losses inflicted on enemy infantry attempting to attack, the noon war bulletin said.

Russian counter-attacks threw back a German force in the Sevsk area, 170 miles northwest of Kharkov. (Continued on Page Four)

Says Black Market Thriving In Italy

By FRANK BRUTTO

Bern, Switzerland, April 2 (AP)—Thriving black market restaurants in Italy, where it was said, people who can afford $10 or $15 for a meal are "eating better than before the war," were under violent attack today by Premier Mussolini's newspaper Popolo D'Italia.

Declaring that "the insolent racket must end," the newspaper said the food consumed in the luxury restaurants "amounts to shiploads." "Lump together the restaurants of Italy, from the luxury establishments to the small eating places, and we would have mountains of food."

A Rome dispatch to the Geneva Tribune said authorities were reminding black marketers that the death penalty could be inflicted.

An official Italian announcement Wednesday said black markets prevented any possibility of ration increases.

Nine Nations Accept U.S. Conference Invitation

Washington, April 2 (AP)—Nine countries, including Soviet Russia, already have accepted the United States invitation to a United Nations food conference scheduled for April 27, Secretary of State Hull said today.

Invitations were sent last week to 30 members of the United Nations and eight other countries associated with them in the war.

At his press conference today Hull noted that acceptances are coming in rapidly and said he was particularly glad to note the promptness with which the U.S.S.R. accepted.

British Sweep North From Gabes

British Eighth army forces have captured Oudref, in the "bottle-neck" north of Gabes, the Allied command announced, and in Northern Tunisia, the British First army has taken Sedjenane. Meanwhile, the Americans continued to press forward toward the Axis "escape corridor" along the eastern Tunisian coast, striving to disrupt Marshal Rommel's retreat from the broken and encircled Mareth Line.

SIDETRACK DRAFT BILL

Await Information on Effects Of 48-Hour Work Week

By JOHN H. WIGGINS

Washington, April 2 (AP)—Legislation to draft men and women civilians into war production jobs was shunted to a congressional sidetrack today—apparently to await a green light from President Roosevelt—amid official indications that induction of fathers into military service will start in about three months.

While hearings continued on the controversial Austin-Wadsworth national service bill members of the Senate Military Committee said a decision on the measure likely would be delayed for at least another month.

By that time, authoritative sources said the White House is expected to have some definite information on the workings of the 48-hour work week placed in effect in critical labor areas yesterday, and of the recent directive designed to push non-essential workers into war jobs or military service.

Testifying on the Austin-Wadsworth bill today, Julius G. Luhrsen, executive secretary of the Railway Executives Association which claims more than 1,000,000 members, told the committee the proposal represents "nothing but a grant of brute power over the manpower of America." He added that the association believes the use of selective (Continued on Page Six)

Independence Bill Introduced Today

Washington, April 2 (AP)—Legislation to give complete independence to Puerto Rico was introduced today by Senator Tydings (D-Md.) who told the Senate such action would follow the policy already adopted by the United States for Cuba and the Philippine Islands.

When Puerto Rico gets her independence, the United States will have completely divested itself of the populated island which she obtained as a result of her war with Spain," he added.

VETOES BILL TO INCREASE FARM PRICES

President Says Measure 'Inflationary And Dangerous'

Washington, April 2 (AP)—Branding it inflationary and dangerous, President Roosevelt vetoed today the Bankhead bill to increase farm prices by excluding benefit payments in figuring the farm parity price formula.

Returning the measure unsigned to the senate, Mr. Roosevelt said in a message: "I am compelled to this action by the deep conviction that this measure is inflationary in character. It breaks down the barriers we have erected and which we must maintain in order to avert all the disasters of inflation. It is wholly inconsistent with our stabilization program and, therefore, dangerous alike to our constructive farm policy and to our whole war effort."

Administration opponents of the bill, which won easy victory in both house and senate, have estimated it would add approximately $3,300,000,000 to the nation's annual food bill.

It takes a two-thirds vote of both house and senate to over-ride the President and make a vetoed bill law. The Bankhead measure originally passed the senate by a vote of 78-2. The house showed a standing vote in its favor of 149 to 40.

At the capitol Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky said the senate might vote next week to override the veto but that the house (Continued on Page Six)

WOULD LIMIT TRADE PACTS

Seek To Avoid Controversy Over Agreements

By JACK BELL

Washington, April 2 (AP)—An administration move to avoid a controversy over renewal of the reciprocal trade program prompted a proposal today by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) that congress extend the authority for three years but provide that all agreements expire six months after the war ends.

Taft told reporters he thought it unwise at this time to "make a political fight" on the trade agreements program and said he was willing to see the authority renewed if congress could have assurance that it would be reassessed at the close of hostilities.

"The whole tariff and trade question will have to be considered after the war in the light of conditions then," he said. "That will be time to decide whether we want to continue under that almost amounts to free trade, or whether (Continued on Page Six)

The WAR TODAY

AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE The expression "soft belly of the Axis" takes on special significance these days when we hear about a possible Allied invasion of Italy following the campaign in Tunisia. The Tunisian incubator hasn't yet hatched its chickens, and we shall be smart not to count them before they're out of their shells, but we are warranted in looking ahead.

Italy is without doubt a "soft" spot in the Axis. Many Italians are unwilling participants in a war to support Hitlerian barbarism which they abhor. I dare say many of them would welcome an Allied invasion if it could be achieved without too much bloodshed and destruction.

How much would it hurt Hitler if the Allies overran Italy? It wouldn't help us get at the all highest direct, for the Alps across Italy's northern border form a tough barrier. To be sure, Hannibal in 218 B. C. took an army, including elephants, through what we know as Little St. Bernard Pass into Italy. But it isn't being done so much these days.

AIRPORT PLAN PROGRESSING

Aldermen Discuss Many Matters In Meet Last Night

By CHESTER WALSH Plans for paving and developing the county-city airport to meet U. S. Navy specifications are proceeding satisfactorily, Harvey Wendorff of Atlanta, Ga., supervising engineer of the C.A.A., stated to the Board of Aldermen in a session at the City Hall last night.

Summons have been served on many of the property owners in condemnation proceedings; the others have been notified by publication. The Aldermen and County Commissioners will work out plans for closing roads and moving buildings. The airport plans are nearly completed and the specifications are nearly ready. Contracts for the work will be awarded early in May. The contracts will provide for completing the project in 90 days.

The C.A.A. allotted $800,000 for the work. The Superior Court clerk will appoint the appraisers next Tuesday. They are to make their report within five days or may make it in a day. After they have placed prices on the land the county and city will deposit with the court clerk (Continued on Page Six)

PLAN TO CURB SALES AGENTS

Navy Says Commissions Paid Are 'Outrageous'

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

Washington, April 2 (AP)—The navy officially asked congress today for aid in cracking down on manufacturers' representatives who "have their offices in their hat" and sales agents of "little ability" receiving "outrageous fees" for procuring war contracts.

Endorsing a proposed legislative curb on their profits Jacob E. Davis, special assistant to the undersecretary of the navy and a former Democratic representative from Ohio, told the House Naval committee:

"Conceding that an agent should be compensated for his services in introducing a new and untried article to the government, he should not receive enormous fees during the (Continued on Page Six)

Says Executions Were Conspiracy

New York, April 2 (AP)—Earl Browder, general secretary of the communist party, said that the execution of the Soviet Union's Henryk Ehrlich and Victor Alter, Polish socialist leaders, was a result of a conspiracy of American capitalists, organized on American soil, to overthrow the Soviet government.

Speaking in Brooklyn yesterday, Browder asserted the two socialists had been appointed the agents in Russia of "this group of American conspirators." He said they were "heavily financed" through the channels of the Polish government-in-exile, which are most extremely anti-Soviet and anti-semitic.

Principals In Tax Fight

Rep. Frank Carlson (R-Kans.) (right), shakes hands with Rep. Robert L. Doughton (D-N.C.), in the House after his bill incorporating the Ruml skip-a-year-plan income tax was rejected 215-198 and sent back to the committee. Chairman of the Ways and Means Doughton, opposition leader and a Committee, said he did not know whether the pay-as-you-go plan "ever will come up again."

American Fliers Bomb Jap Destroyer Force

Aussies Capture Nipponese From Smashed Convoys

Washington, April 2 (AP)—American bombers battered a Japanese force of five destroyers southwest of Kolombangara while almost at the same time, fighter planes were engaging 30 to 40 Japanese Zero fighters and shooting down 16 of the enemy planes, the navy reported today.

In these Solomon island engagements, six United States planes were lost in the aerial combat, fought northwest of Guadalcanal island, but two of the pilots were rescued.

Results of the attack by bombers on the Japanese surface force were not observed, the navy reported in communique No. 333 which told also of two more attacks on the Japanese base at Kiska in the Aleutians.

Shooting down of the 16 Zeros in the aerial dog fight off Guadalcanal brought to 902 the number of Japanese planes announced here as lost in the Solomons.

No official explanation of the Japanese force off Kolombangara island 190 miles from Guadalcanal, was given. It was presumed because of the presence of a cargo vessel in the force that it was engaged in carrying supplies to one of the Japanese bases in the Solomons area, possibly that at much-battered Munda.

New Delhi, April 2 (AP)—Eleven British Hurricanes intercepted 30 Japanese bombers with fighter escort which attacked Peni in southeast Bengal yesterday, and in combats over a wide area destroyed five of the raiders and damaged several others of which at least three probably did not regain their base, a British communique said today.

One Hurricane was shot down, but (Continued on Page Three)

Claim Junction of Allied Armies Without Official Confirmation; Montgomery's Forces Engaged In Mopping Up Operations Near Oudref

By EDWARD KENNEDY

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, April 2 (AP)—The British First Army was reported today edging east and north of recaptured Sedjenane while Americans in the central sector engaged in some fighting and Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery maintained pressure upon the new German-Italian lines 24 miles north of Gabes.

"The Tunisian front was generally quieter yesterday," a communique announced, indicating a lull in preparation for the next round of the battle to drive Field Marshal Erwin Rommel into the sea. "Our patrols were very active over the whole front." (A French communique broadcast from Algiers and recorded by the Associated Press said strong Axis resistance and difficult terrain failed to halt French operations in the Sofiane area and in the central sector our units continued to advance east of Ouedjina without notable enemy opposition.)

"The personnel of an enemy post attacked in the Oued el Kobr valley (southwest of Pont du Fahs) was entirely destroyed," the bulletin said.

A report from the Eighth army said "winking out" was proceeding in western Germany, yesterday, General Montgomery's way of saying that his troops were mopping up the remaining enemy pockets of resistance in the West Wall.

RAF Raids Targets In Western Germany

London, April 2 (AP)—Speedy RAF Mosquito bombers swooped down over Trier and Ehrang in western Germany, yesterday, dropping delayed action bombs from as low as 50 feet and speed away while Germans in the streets were still gaping at them in astonishment.

RAF pilots said their bombs smashed through the roof of a railway workshop at Trier and a power station also was attacked. An Ehrang "terrific explosion" was caused, pilots said, and it was believed a gasoline pump was hit.

None of the British planes was lost and only two German fighters were sighted on the trip. However, four British planes were missing from sweeps over Belgium and France in which railways and other targets were attacked. Another plane failed to return after a daylight reconnaissance flight over northwest Germany.

There was no enemy air activity over England last night.

Reject Demands. New York, April 2 (AP)—Anthracite mine operators rejected today major demands made by the United Mine Workers Union in negotiations for a new contract to replace the one expiring April 30.

The Union asked for a $2 a day wage increase over the basic rate of $5.08. The contract would cover between 80,000 and 100,000 miners in the hard coal fields of Pennsylvania.

Say Roosevelt Has Been Tapped For Fourth Term

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

Washington, April 2 (AP)—A contention that President Roosevelt already has been selected by New Deal leaders for a fourth-term nomination and that their campaign is now under way by the Republican answer to National Democratic Chairman Frank Walker's suggestion for a short 1944 campaign.

Harrison Spangler, G. O. P. national committee chairman, said "it is a matter of regret that New Deal leaders have waited to make the proposal of late political conventions until after their candidate has already been selected," an congressional Republican echoed his implication that Walker was seeking an advantage for his party.

"The conference of the Democratic National Committee leaders at the White House a few weeks ago indicates that the New Deal party already had its real convention," Spangler declared. He referred to a March 4 meeting after which Walker said there had been some mention of a fourth term for President Roosevelt.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said he agreed with Spangler that the campaign already had begun. "I do not think the war effort need be disturbed by a political campaign," he said.

Belhaven Woman Aids Red Cross In Novel Way

Donates Receipts From Operation Of Museum

Belhaven, April 2—(AP)—A collection of more than 10,000 curios gathered by Mrs. Harvey R. Way, 73, during the past 56 years, is being used to aid the Red Cross.

Located in one of the oldest homes in Beaufort county, the museum contains objects ranging from specimens of the flora and fauna from the region of the Pamlico and Pungo rivers to snakes and black widow spiders.

It was opened to the public for Red Cross benefit three years ago. Visitors from all over the nation drop voluntary contributions in a small box just inside the door and every Monday Mrs. Way empties the "cash register" taking the contents to the local Red Cross chapter. No account has been kept of the proceeds, but sometimes the contributions amount to $4 weekly.

She has received curios from all over the world from people who have visited the museum. Her collection includes several thousand buttons, including many military buttons brought from France by her son, who was in the first World War.

Mrs. Way's collection also includes shells from the coast of France and China, coral, pitchers and bottles of all shapes and sizes, jewelry, baskets, old paper money, samples of wood, a stone from the walling wall of Jericho, and a watch fob, made from the first Atlantic cable laid from Havana to Liverpool in 1857.

Mrs. Way, also a zoologist, has preserved in alcohol 27 varieties of snakes, with male and female of each kind. She says they are "home grown," most of them killed by her on the Way's Beech Wood farm.

In other jars she raises black widow spiders.

Local fishermen bring her things from out of the sea and visitors from the Bronx zoo and Smithsonian Institution say she has the largest known specimen of sea horse. Included in the natural history section of the Way museum are a leopard crab, large stone crab, the saw from a sawfish, the sword from a swordfish, lizards and lizards' eggs, a mummified squirrel and an albino rat.

Woman Skipper

Mrs. Mary Parker Converse (above), of Denver, Colo., aged 41, is believed to be the only woman merchant marine navigating officer holding the rank of captain. "Captain Mary," who is teaching navigation to navy enlisted men, is shown here as she visited Coast Guard headquarters in Boston, Mass.

Dr. J. A. Battle Thanks Contributors

The major, Dr. J. A. Battle, wishes to thank the loyal contributors to the American Red Cross War Fund. Through the most able captains and cooperative lieutenants, not forgetting the children's efforts, we have realized a greater sum this year than ever before. The contributions by zones are as follows:

- Negro Schools, W. H. Davenport, Captain, $145.20; Down Town, Mrs. Mattie Huffine, Captain, $59.80; New Town, Mrs. Rena Cherry, Captain, $63.03; Riverside & Cherry View, Mrs. Madge Allen, Captain, $21.61; Perkins Town New Higgs, Fleming, Moore Field, George L. brushing aside a recommendation by Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass.) that opened a schism in the Democratic leadership on the issue of tax "forgiveness."

Doughton made known his position after McCormack issued a statement calling for a quick pay-as-you-go compromise abating part but not all of the 1942 taxes. McCormack's action ran counter to the stand by a majority of his party's Ways and Means members opposing any tax abatement.

The Massachusetts Democrat said a "current payment measure, with a withholding levy on the taxable portion of wages and salaries, should become effective July 1."

Doughton said the committee, before turning again to tax matters, would consider measures extending the bituminous coal act and reviewing the reciprocal trade authority.

A division appeared also within Republican ranks, with Knutson leading a compromise movement and Minority Leader Martin (R-Mass.) and Rep. Reed (R-N.Y.) sticking by the Ruml plan.

"sacred or closed to discussion." "But," the report added, "it does seriously and earnestly call labor's attention to have serious effect upon prices and that history has demonstrated conclusively that labor suffers more than anyone else in a wage-price spiral of inflationary increases."

Lewis claims that the miners' diet was deficient to the point of endangering productivity were interpreted by the committee as an effort "to create the impression that widespread hunger was forcing the miners to fight for higher wages."

"The evidence shows," the report declared, "that coal miners now working six days a week at increased wages and with overtime for the sixth day are earning 50 per cent more in dollars than they were earning two years ago when they worked only five days a week."

The committee said that a practice of citing price increases without giving any effect to wage increases because of a longer work week "is general among labor leaders," and recommended that in-

Allied Bombers Pound Japs

A lone Flying Fortress was believed to have sunk a Jap destroyer off Finschhafen, New Guinea, one of a convoy of four spotted earlier off the New Guinea coast. Allied bombers also pounded Lae and Salamaua, Madang, the Gas mata airdrome and the Cape Orford coastal area. A Jap coastal vessel was sunk in Rottock Bay.

The Japanese attack caused some civilian property damage and casualties in Peini, the war bulletin said. British fighters damaged Japanese aircraft on the Magwe airfield, set fire to enemy-occupied buildings near Pamina and machine-gunned supply sampans on the Chindwin river. Other British aircraft bombed Chauk and Myingyan last night. One British plane was reported missing after these operations.

More than 100 of the Japanese were killed when they offered resistance, the dispatch said. Goodenough island lies about 50 miles off the southeastern tip of Papua and the Trobriand islands are situated another 90 miles to the northeast.

Allied airmen have smashed repeated Japanese attempts in recent months to reinforce garrisons in northeastern New Guinea. Most notable was the destruction of a 22-ship convoy in the Bismarck sea early in March, as a result of which Allied headquarters estimated that some 15,000 Japanese met death.

COLORED NEWS

RALLY DAY AT PITT COUNTY TRAINING SCHOOL

The public is reminded of the big event that will take place at the Pitt County Training School at Grimesland this coming Sunday.

The Masons of Greenville, also the Odd Fellows and Elks of Greenville in cooperation with the Odd Fellows of Grimesland will stage a mammoth parade that will begin at 2 o'clock. The parade will start from the Odd Fellows hall just beyond the white school and proceed through town to the school. The Elks band will lead the parade and a color guard of students from the physical education class will lead the entire parade. The scouts of Troop 63 of this school will also join the parade.

The Rev. Mr. R. H. B. Morris, Worshipful Master of the Mt. Hermon Lodge will deliver the sermon for the day. Each fraternal organization will have 30 minutes for a program and ceremonies. The Odd Fellows of Greenville and Grimesland will have their program and ceremonies together. The Masons in their ceremonies will conclude with the laying of the corner stone on the stage, temporarily. The stone will be placed in the pillar on the following day. This is done in this manner in order that they will stay within the ruling of the Grand Lodge which prohibits the operative work on Sunday. The Choral Society of the Pitt County Training School will furnish music for the occasion.

After the program each fraternal will have a table for their collection. It is hoped that each and everyone will come prepared to give generously and to help all they can. It has been learned that quite a number of churches and Sunday schools have and are planning to raise money to bring down and represent. Quite a few of these organizations are planning a pleasant surprise. Each organization will be read out so that everybody will get full credit for what they have done.

This is a worthy cause and we should work together and help this cause. A large number of colored and white people have already helped on this drive and this is very encouraging.

It is hoped that baskets will be present to feed those that may be hungry.

Western Pitt Dies
Funeral services for Western Pitt

will be held at York Memorial Methodist church Sunday at 2 o'clock.

Western Pitt was born September 16, 1910. He was married to Miss Mable Hill in 1934. He died Monday night at the hospital at Newport News, Va., following one day's illness.

Pitt was the son of Mrs. Lucretia and Ned D. Pitt. He is survived by five daughters, three brothers, Ned D. Pitt, Jr., Ernest W. Pitt, Willie T. Pitt and two sisters, Lillian B. Prichard and Lee Helen Pitt.

Pitt County School News
National Negro Health Week begins April 4 and runs through April 11. Each day has been assigned to carry out a special program. Sunday, April 4, will be known as Mobilization Day. Health sermons and lectures should be given by such qualified speakers as ministers, nurses, doctors and teachers. Reference should be given to the sources of health material. April 5 is known as Booker T. Washington's birthday and should be observed. That is also Home Health Day. There should be a parents and teachers meeting with visiting nurses and doctors. Stress should be made on venereal disease control and the value of social hygiene education. Provision should be made for an annual check-up of children and parents' health.

Tuesday, April 6, is Community Sanitation Day. Clean all places around the home that breed flies, rats and mosquitoes. Stress the importance of screens, sanitary toilets and a pure water and a pure milk supply.

Wednesday, April 7, is Special Campaign Day. Contact health departments and present particular health problems and cooperate with whatever service the office renders.

Thursday, April 8, is Adult Health Day. Programs should be arranged to explain to grown-ups the major reasons for disability and the high mortality among adults due to tuberculosis, syphilis, cancer and organic diseases. Emphasize right diet, proper living and periodic health examinations.

Friday, April 9, is School Health and Safety Day. Everything around the school should be cleaned and ### programs should emphasize the value of health education and Health clubs organized.

Saturday, April 10, is General Clean-up Day. This is the day to finish cleaning all grounds, homes, and premises. All cleaning should be reported and material and pictures collected for newspapers. Pictures of all areas before and after they were cleaned would be inspiring.

Sunday, April 11, is Report and Follow-up Day. The closing programs should include reports, lectures and real experiences. Permanent organizations should be organized and planned to continue the years health program.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

PHILOSOPHY NOT ENOUGH

The younger Pliny, Roman author and orator, wrote to a friend upon his daughter's death: "Give me some fresh comfort, great and strong, such as I have never yet heard of read. Everything I have read or heard comes back now to my memory, but my sorrow is too deep to be reached by it."

Out of the heart of this pagan came a cry which is still to be heard in the world today. From the beginning of time men and women have been losing loved ones and have been sending their anguished queries across the immeasurable void, hopeful that some word of comfort would return to bless them. Yet at the time Pliny wrote, thousands of men and women in the Roman world were finding comfort in their sorrow because of this new religion called Christianity, which was just beginning to make itself felt among the masses. Pliny knew of this religion but regarded it as an ignorant superstition. So he wrote to his philosophical friend and asked for some fresh word of comfort, great and strong, which would support him in his grief.

The remedy was at hand, but the Roman man of letters was too proud to give it any consideration. Those who had faith drank of the refreshing water that springeth up into eternal life, and he who had nothing but the philosophy is never enough. Only the gospel explains and comforts.

UNIONS MUST CLEAN HOUSE

From Alameda, Calif., comes the story of a machinist now out of a job because he would not pay a union fine imposed for failure to demand double time for Sunday work.

On last Christmas weekend, this shop steward and several other members of the machinists union answered a call from the Navy for a rush repair job. One of the days which they worked was Sunday, but, for what they believed to be patriotic reasons, these men did not ask for double time. The business agent of the Oakland CIO Machinists Union brought them to trial for conduct inconsistent with union procedure, and fined four of them $75 each and several others $25 each. The men refused to pay the fine. The steward was expelled from the union, but he refused to quit his job. Thereupon the union ordered its men to quit the job, if he did not.

The steward has been a member of the union since 1914. He is fifty-two years of age and is now idle. He has been a machinist nearly all of his adult life. His wife finds it hard to understand why one individual can deprive another of the right to work. Her husband feels that if the union can do what it did to him, then this country is not as good to live in as it used to be.

There are serious-minded citizens who feel that union members cannot, unaided by law, clean house; that be-

...this is so, Congress will sooner or later, have to pass a law making it mandatory for the unions to publish a financial statement and the number of their members; in addition, the law will have to guarantee union members an honest election of officers. Only in this way can the unions be retrieved from the control of such racketeers as John L. Lewis.

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

Washington—Don't make me take an oath that this story is true. I know a couple of men in a sea-going branch of our armed forces here who will.

His name isn't John Henry, but we'll call him that. He's a New York millionaire in his forties. He has a big estate on Long Island and almost at his front door is Long Island Sound. His hobby was speed boats—sea-going speedboats—and he had four of them.

Immediately after Pearl Harbor this salt water sportsman went to the Navy, offered them the use of his boats and his own services. He explained that he knew every wave and ripple of Long Island Sound, had been sailing it since he was old enough to hold a tiller.

The Navy was delighted. They told him so. They took over his boats and his harbor and made him Commander Henry, in charge of patrolling certain waters of the Sound.

In that capacity he acquitted himself to the complete satisfaction of his superiors and so it went for months. Then one night, in the midst of a party at his seaside chateau, the commander was called to the telephone and told to report at 90 Church Street, New York City, the following morning. The commander did, and met his superior. The superior said: "These, Commander Henry, are your sealed orders. You will proceed to Brooklyn where you will take command of the destroyer USS (censorable). You will sail at 2:30 this afternoon. I think I might be permitted to tell you that you will rendezvous with a convoy."

Says Roosevelt . . .

Walker, who just returned from a political survey of the west, declined at a press conference yesterday to comment on the prospects of a fourth term nomination for President Roosevelt and said it was too early to predict who the Republican nominee might be.

Nine Nations . . .

At 27, at a point as yet undesignated, the State Department recently announced that 38 governments have been invited to send their technical experts to the conference.

While it was known that Russia had been invited to participate, today's official announcement was believed to be the first indication of the Soviet reaction—and it immediately gave rise to speculation concerning other conferences on varied post-war problems.

Following talks with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden a few days ago, the President projected the possibility of an early Russian-American conference on current and post-war issues, while avoiding disclosure of specific details concerning such meetings. He made it clear that he and Eden had laid a pattern for additional huddles among various members of the United Nations.

However, until today's announcement there had been no official indication as to how Moscow might be inclined towards such suggestions. Especial emphasis has been laid on the food conference and its probable importance as an opening wedge for other international sessions—the past two or three days by an openly voiced congressional warning to be represented. The President previously had indicated that the press probably would not be invited to attend and there was no word as to whether legislators would be asked to sit in.

Russians Capture . . .

The Germans claimed almost a week ago that they had captured Sevsk.

The army newspaper, Red Star, said the thaw which had slowed the Russian advance in the Kuban Valley had given the Germans time to consolidate positions and to establish artillery and trench mortar concentrations in flooded areas.

The entire Russian front was said to resemble a great slushy lake. Melting snows and fresh rains had swollen creeks and rivers, and converted the steeples into expanses of mud, but transportation drivers worked night and day to keep the supply lines open, it was said.

Isolation Island

By JOHN C. FLEMING and LOIS EBY

Chapter 26 Riding the crest of an emotional wave Landa marched out into the entrance hall, swept her shawl from the table where she had hurriedly flung it, and tossed it about her shoulders. She turned to leave when she heard her name ring through the hall.

"Landa, Landa, dear!" Don called to her. She turned to see the flush of excitement on his face. In his hand she saw the dull blue of an automatic.

"I'm going after Hansen!" he said breathlessly. She leapt in her heart as she looked up through clouded eyes at this man who only a moment before had been an enigma—a cringing coward who had flattered her at a time when she had needed him most. Now he was the old Don again.

"She was looking up into his dark, handsome face. His arms went gently around her waist as he drew her close and kissed her. "Please be careful!" she whispered softly.

"You really care?" "Of course, darling! It was only when I thought you were a coward."

"We'll be married then?" Don's voice was tight with excitement. "Yes, just like we planned."

Don's arms released her and he whirled and left. Landa stood for a moment immobile as she heard his foot-steps die away into the jungle. She ran a hand over her burning forehead. She felt her knees go watery and she for an instant she thought that she might faint. She wavered on her unsteady feet and then she felt a heavy arm on her shoulder. The towering bulk of O'Shanessy smiled down at her.

"I'm thinking our little girl has had too much excitement for one evening," he said gently. "Come into the library with me, child, and I'll fix you up."

The windows to the east showed thin streaks of grey light melting into the black night sky. O'Shanessy guided Landa into a deep leather chair and as she sank into the cushions she closed her eyes like an exhausted child. O'Shanessy poured out a small glass of brandy. He held it to Landa's lips. Landa drank it in one gulp. Presently she felt life tingle through her tired body again and a rising tide of excitement again take possession of her. She opened her eyes and looked into the tired face of O'Shanessy who sat close by.

"I think of you, child, as so when I think of Don and Jim out there in that jungle with that desperate man. He would stop at nothing!"

"They'll be all right, dear, stop worrying. Remember there's two against one, you know."

"But he could ambush them and they wouldn't have a chance," Landa said nervously. "Nonsense, Don knows every foot of this island like a book. He can take care of himself."

As Landa sat there she could feel excitement welling up within her until she could stand it no longer. She got to her feet and started pacing the room with quick anxious steps. It was like waiting to hear a death sentence. She felt suddenly her uselessness. "If she were only a man she would be out there now sharing in the hunt."

"She hesitated a moment in her rapid pacing. "We must think," she said in a tense voice. "Maybe there's something we could do to help. It seems terrible sitting here, waiting, just waiting to hear gun shots."

"The most we can do now is to keep calm," the old man said in a tired voice. "But how can you keep calm at a time like this?"

"I have learned the virtue of patience, child, in my years on this island."

With a look Landa brushed aside the old man's advice and started her pacing again. The jungle seemed deadly still as she hesitated for a moment to peer out the open windows. The silence was like a heavy oppressive hand tightening around her throat. Her head felt like it would burst if something didn't happen to break the tension. She was walking again. She stopped short in front of O'Shanessy and looked down at him.

"There aren't many places on this island where a fugitive could hide for very long without being found."

"The mere utterance of those words seemed to turn up an idea in her whirling brain and her face lighted briefly. "The pirates' cove!" she shrieked. "That's the place he would hide! That's the best place on the island! I wonder if Don or Jim will ever have a chance before they are shot!"

"She whirled toward the door—to be stopped by a sudden thought. "But Hansen wouldn't know about that. Not unless you took him there. Did you? Did you, Uncle Mike, when you were taking him about the island?"

"The old man turned a puzzled face to her as though struggling to remember. "I guess we went about every place," he said. "Yes, I remember now. I did take him to the cove and he seemed quite interested in it."

Landa made a dash for the door but O'Shanessy was right behind. He caught her by the arm. "Don't be a fool, child," he said harshly. "There's nothing you can do."

tanoe north and west of Oudref, itself 12 miles north of Gabes, and consolidating for the next thrust. United States forces of Lieutenant General George S. Patton, Jr., were again in action, but no details were available here. (The Algiers radio reported, without official confirmation, that Patton's divisions had established a junction with the Eighth army by a push eastward from the El Guetar sector.)

Stowed by mine fields, the British and French forces commanded by Lieut. K. A. N. Anderson pressed from Sedjenah, 40 miles southwest of Bizerte, toward Mateur, 18 miles south of that naval base, and made good almost the last of the losses in the fighting a month ago. (The Algiers radio said First Army vanguards were in the vicinity of Mateur.)

Even as the hull developed in land operations, Allied airmen pressed their destructive blows despite bad weather and fresh details became available of the raid by 100 light and medium bombers yesterday upon El Maou air field at Sfax, the biggest single operation by the western desert air force since the days of El Alamein.

The whole area of the strategic field was covered with a pattern of bomb bursts and almost everything on the ground must have been destroyed or damaged, officers said.

Bombers participating were South African Bostons, RAF Baltimore and American Mitchells and they were escorted by Curtiss fighters flown by American, South African and British pilots and Spitfires of the RAF.

As in Wednesday's raid by almost 100 U. S. Flying Fortresses upon southern Sardinia, all the raiders returned. Heavy anti-aircraft fire was encountered over El Maou, but no enemy planes attempted to interfere.

North African air force bombers escorted by Spitfires bombed La Faouconerie air field, 35 miles northwest of Sfax, just as five Messerschmitts were taking off. Two were stopped short and damaged by bursting explosives and two other aircraft were damaged in subsequent dogfights. Boston bombers, furthering the program of demolition of Rommel's bases, blasted the air field of El Djem, midway between Sfax and Sousse. The communique said these operations left fires burning.

The RAF's four-motored Wellingtons, losses incendiaries and two-ton explosive bombs in a night raid on objectives at Bizerte.

Tunisian air forces assisted the Americans in the El Guetar sector by shooting up enemy tanks and trucks and downing several Axis planes in operations to which the pilots refer as "delousing sweeps."

The day's bag of enemy aircraft shot down was nine, with four Allied planes reported missing. After yesterday's hard work the British air personnel—except those on night missions—observed the 25th anniversary of the founding of the RAF. In some cases they had chicken dinners and champagne. U. S. fliers joined in the celebration and toasts were exchanged.

Pirates Banking On Pitchers This Season

Infield Seems To Be Weak Spot Of Team

By DAVE HOFF

Muncie, Ind., April 2—(AP)—There's a suspicion brewing in this North Central Indiana community that "Onkle Franz" Frisch's 1943 Pittsburgh Pirates are cooking up an old-fashioned scuttling act to be applied against the seven other national league entries this season.

The optimism is not the mere outgrowth of the fact the Bucs have scored 24 runs to none for the two opponents they have encountered so far. The teams the Pirates beat were the Ball State Teachers nine and a local factory array—not the utmost in competition—but still Pittsburgh reads good on paper.

The pitching staff does it. Here is a collection of hurlers only one of whom could get better than a 300 winning ratio in 1942, behind team mates of uncertain hitting ability. But this is heralded as a pitcher's year, isn't it? Well, the Bucs have pitchers.

Foremost is Truett (Rip) Sewell who in compiling 17 noteworthy triumphs last year had to take 15 beatings. Mark him down as the probable starter opening day in Chicago.

Then there's Johnny Lanning, who won six and lost eight; Max Butcher who took five and dropped eight; Lloyd Dietz, a six and nine man; Bob Klinger with an 8 to 11 record in '42 and Hank Gornik, winner of five and loser of six. And there's a 34 year old "youngster" Frisch regards highly—Wally Herbert—who averaged 18 wins a season for the past several campaigns with San Diego of the Pacific Coast League.

Buck up these boys with a catching department containing the energetic Al Lopez and young Bill Baker, and there's the makings of a creditable and potentially successful battery squad.

That infield situation, though, is a worrisome one for Frisch and his assistant managers of strategy. Take the printed roster who is now a naval cadet, and Huck Geary, the ex-Minneapolis flash who quietly elected to stay at his factory job. You have left exactly four pliers.

They are first baseman Elbie Fletcher, second baseman Pete Coscarart, shortstop Frankie Gustine, and third baseman Bob Elliot—not a bad looking unit—but who'll be their replacements?

Well Frank Zak, a Hornell-Harrisburg minor league graduate, has joined up since his old Harrisburg club folded for the duration, and the adaptable Jimmy Russell is be-

New York, April 2 (AP)—Somewhat encouraged by the success of Henry Armstrong's comeback, Al Weill is thinking of bringing Arturo Godoy back, too—if Al ever can get tin touch with the Chilean chopping block. Armstrong was all through, Weill maintains, but Godoy—well, he did all right against Joe Louis, won a couple of fights afterward and recently took the South American title from Alberto Lovell. All already is looking into transportation priorities and hopes the good neighbor idea and plans for exhibitions in army camps will have some weight there. Of course, he admits, Godoy isn't essential. Which is saying a mouthful.

Scrap Collection

Beau Jack, who has April-fooled the fight experts more than once, was 22 years old yesterday. Tonight he'll probably get a present from his old friend, Henry Armstrong—a mouthful of leather. The Dodgers ban on gambling did not keep Leo Durocher from betting one of the Brooklyn scribes a $20 hat that he'll play 18 innings at shortstop this week-end. Ted Williams, who has had 40 hours in the air since he joined the Navy, is so enthusiastic over flying that he plans to have his own plane after the war. Big Boy Harry Boykoff of St. Johns received six offers to play in Red Cross benefit games at $25 to $75 a game. Harry declined them all, but Coach Joe Lapchick figures he would have accepted if he'd been asked to play for free.

Camp Croft, S. C., where the golf driving range got such a big play last summer, is planning a seven-

In the outfield look for John Barrett, Frank Colman and Jimmy Wassell to open the season, since Vince Di Maggio got a late start because of his wife's illness. There's possible help too, from Maurice Van Robays, and rookie John Wyastek. If only they can muster those hits to help the pitchers.

Medford, Mass.—Lacking the benefits of even one intra-squad practice game, the Boston Red Sox head south to Brooklyn today to launch their exhibition series. Manager Joe Cronin has selected Tex Hughson to start against the Dodgers tomorrow, to be followed by southpaw Al Olsen and Norman Brown.

Wallingford, Conn.—Just as Casey Stengel has suspected all along, Nate Andrews is the most advanced of all the Boston Brave pitchers. Andrews was impressive in every indoor workout at Choate school, and when he worked with five other moundsmen in yesterday's game he appeared several weeks ahead of them. He started for the regulars and faced only 10 batters during his three-inning turn.

Cairo, Ill.—Catcher Walker Cooper already has been earmarked by Manager Billy Southworth for the fourth spot in the St. Louis Cardinals' batting order. "He's fast, a fine hitter and a natural for the place," says Southworth.

Cape Girardeau, Mo.—The current worry for Manager Luke Sewel of the St. Louis Browns is pitcher Bob Muncie, who reported a sore arm after a three-inning workout. That news, however, partly was offset by the four innings of hitless pitching turned in yesterday by Fritz Ostermueller and the encouraging performance of Paul Dean.

Wilmington, Del.—Add wartime casualties—Connie Mack's scorecard signals to Athletic outfielders. With pitchers like Grove, Earnshaw and Walberg, Connie says, one could tell where the batter might hit a curve or a fast ball, but with the 1943 model hurlers one guess is as good as another.

Hershey, Pa.—Bucky Harris says he has two deals pending for a shortstop to round out the present three-man infield of the Philadelphia Phils.

Evansville, Ind.—The Detroit Tigers' cripples rapidly are getting back into shape. Centerfielder Roger Cramer, who has been out with a thumb injury, will be the leadoff batter in the exhibition series with the Cubs this week-end. Manager Steve O'Neill announced, Pitcher Hal White worked out Thursday for the first time since he suffered a back injury a week ago. Hal Newhouse and Virgil Trucks will pitch Saturday and Paul Trout and Tommy Bridges will face the Cubs Sunday.

Norfolk Va.—The Nats were one down in their three-game series with the Naval Training Station's Tars as they went into their second tilt today—but Seaman Phil Rizzuto and Husky Gerry Priddy, former roommates, were even with a homer apiece. Rizzuto rapped one in the third as the Sailors were getting under way for their 10-5 triumph yesterday, and Priddy parked one over the left-center wall for the Nats in the seventh—the only Senator up to that time to nick the Tar tossers for a safety.

Discontinue Issuing Temporary Rations

Raleigh, April 2.—The present system of issuing temporary transport rations to commercial motor vehicle operators who are appealing their gasoline or mileage allowances has been discontinued, the Office of Defense Transportation announced today.

Appeals or requests for adjustment of certificates of war necessity must now be filed with ODT district offices in the regular manner, the ODT said. The only difference is that the applicant is not authorized to apply to his local War Price and Antioning Board for a temporary gasoline allotment to carry him while his appeal is being considered. District offices of ODT are located in Raleigh, Asheville, Charlotte, Winston-Salem and Wilmington.

Chicken Thieves Get Limit Court

In Police Court today Judge J. W. H. Roberts bore down on chicken thieves and gave the limit of the law. Cases disposed of were: Levy Jones and James Edward Joyner, both colored, larceny of chickens from Graham Flanagan, two years for Jones, 90 days on city streets for Joyner. Levy Jones, colored, larceny of chickens from Joe Hatem, two years, to begin at the end of other sentence. Leland L. Linton, reckless driving, 60 days on road, suspended provided he pay to C. T. Fleming, Jr., $104.13 for damage to truck. Sam Fleming, Jr., colored, hit-and-run driving, reckless driving and no license, 90 days and lose license a year, suspended provided he pay Mrs. Annie McDaniel $13. Alvah J. Barnhill, speeding, costs. Drunks: Dennis B. Robertson and Willie Mooring, each 30 days or $15, costs deducted; Johnny Harris, 30 days or $20, costs deducted.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Sure been a great year for crops, Judge... best we've had in quite a spell."
"That's true, Henry... all over the country. As a matter of fact, there's been quite a surplus supply of grain according to some figures I saw in one of your farm papers the other day. But that surplus is being used to mighty good advantage and is making the contribution of you farmers to the war effort more important than ever."
"Here's just one example of what I mean. The beverage distilling industry alone will use 100,000,000 bushels of this surplus to make alcohol seriously needed by the government for gunpowder, synthetic rubber, chemicals and medical supplies."
"So, keep it growin' Henry... you're doing a great job."

Grain Market

Chicago, April 2—(AP)—Presidential veto of the Bankhead bill unsettled grain today, but the market showed no tendency to break on the action. The veto was expected during early trading and when the news confirmed previous rumors prices tended to move higher.

Wheat was down about a cent in the first hour on selling by local traders. When the news of the veto failed to bring in much selling, however, traders joined with commission houses on the buying side and the bread cereal rallied from the day's lows. Other grains followed wheat.

At the close wheat was 1/4-1/2 lower. May $1.45 3/4-1/2, July $1.45 3/4-1/2, corn remained unchanged at ceilings. May $1.01, oats dropped 3/4-1/2 and rye was off 1/2-3/4.

American Treated On Tunisian Front

Capt. Harmon L. Monroe (left) of Erwin, Tenn., a medical officer, assisted by Sgt. G. C. Caddy of Wilder, Idaho, treats the wounded leg of an American soldier hit by bomb fragments on the Tunisian front. The "hospital" is a portable operating room mounted on a truck, near the front. Note the steel helmets.

Allies Punch Toward Sea In Tunisia

Mileage boxes indicate proximity of the Allies to the sea, with arrows and flag symbols representing U. S., British and French drives. Major battles were raging in the Mareth line sector and in the Fondouk-Maknassy-El Guetar areas. British forces were reported to have taken El Hamma. Heavy solid line is battlefront.

(Continued From Page One) tariffs are necessary. This is not the time to make such a decision. He said that so far as he is concerned, he felt there is little to fight over now because it obviously is difficult to conclude any major trade agreements with other countries under war conditions. He emphasized, however, his belief that congress should make all agreements subject to review after the war.

Taft's proposal came after administration-inspired compromise proposals were reported to have been laid before Democratic members of the Senate Finance Committee by Chairman George (D-Ga.). George met with the group yesterday after a White House conference with President Roosevelt and members said there were suggestions that the program be extended for a single year or that congress write into the law a provision permitting it to abrogate any agreement by a majority vote of both houses.

tronomical figures." Davis reported the navy itself had investigated more than 40 agents representing more than 200 manufacturing concerns and said their annual compensation ranged from $20,000 to upwards of one half million dollars "in the case of a few." "Compensation of from $200,000 to $500,000 in one year was not uncommon," he added. Davis told the committee the great majority of sales agents originally were employed because of their familiarity with government procurement methods—"their know how in the government rather than because of their familiarity and experience with the products they were attempting to sell."

Thousands of draft-deferred fathers saw in a statement of Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey a likelihood that many of them will be in military service before fall. Hershey acknowledged at a press conference that drafting of fathers is likely to begin about July 1—despite his "sentimental" desire to postpone their induction as long as possible. He said no specific draft classification changes have been ordered thus far, but reports indicated that at least some "paper shifting" to clear up other classes before drafting fathers was under consideration.

The Aldermen passed a resolution giving full control of the city-county armory to Capt. Jasper L. Jones, the commanding officer. If this is agreeable to the County Commissioners. Hereafter dances will be held in a warehouse or some other suitable building.

The board authorized reopening of the Cotanche Street playground and hired a supervisor to keep it in order. Playground activities are under the direction of a recreation committee. Three new members were named for the committee to succeed those whose time has expired. They were Guy Smith, Mrs. W. S. Bost and O. A. Hankner. Permission was given the Eastern Carolina Firemen's Association to use the curb market building for its convention and supper on April 13 if agreeable to County Farm Agent Floyd F. Hendrix. The Minges fire tower will be dedicated during the convention.

Following is a list of the Negro Recreation Committee: Rev. O. James Rook, Rev. S. B. League, George L. Jenkins, Sam Weatherington and W. B. Planagan. The board allotted $10 a week for the colored playground. The new state law regulating the sale of beer became effective yesterday. The Aldermen and County Commissioners will confer about adopting an ordinance prohibiting the sale of beer on Sundays. Attention was called to a state and city law prohibiting dogs to roam the streets. In conformity with a new state law regulating taxicabs the city will require taxi drivers to secure permits and show good character. The board authorized roping off ninth street from Charles to Lawrence street Saturday mornings until noon for children to skate. The Aldermen ordered the tax department to advertise the unpaid 1942 real estate taxes. The department was also ordered to secure a rate taxes and turn it over to city attorneys for tax foreclosure suits.

Vetoes Bill . . .

(Continued From Page One) might sustain Mr. Roosevelt's rejection of the measure, pointing out the so-called "city" vote is much larger there. Barkley told reporters immediately after the veto message was laid before the senate that it would be taken up next Tuesday, adding: "The President's message squarely before congress the situation affecting inflation and the effort to curb it on all fronts. It seems to me the veto ought to be sustained."

Mr. Roosevelt contended the measure would go beyond the goal of parity income and give farmers "an unwarranted bonus at the expense of the consumer."

He said the farmer is substantially better off than in the last war but would not remain so "if we set loose an inflationary tornado."

What he called the present relative favorable position of American farmers, he said, can be held only if the general stabilization program succeeds, and this will succeed "only if all groups except those on the very margin of subsistence are willing to recognize that for the duration they not only cannot expect to improve their living standards, but must indeed be willing to bear their fair share of the cost of stabilization."

Mr. Roosevelt himself estimated the bill might swell the cost of living more than 5 per cent and add more than $1,000,000,000 to the consumers' food budget and several hundred million dollars to the cost of feeding the armed forces and supplying our allies. If by this bill the cost of basic foodstuffs is forced up, he said, and the National War Labor board increases wages as a result, "no one can tell where increases will start or what those increases will do. They will ultimately cost the farmers and all people of the nation." If food prices and wages rise, the chief executive continued, the cost of armaments, ships and planes necessarily would mount and the government would have to borrow even greater sums to meet the cost of the war.

greater sums to meet the cost of the war. Urging adherence to the stabilization program, Mr. Roosevelt added: "I appeal to the considered judgment of the congress to reject the Bankhead bill which I am returning unsigned. It will not help the farmer with his immediate war difficulties. It will make it infinitely harder for the farmer to protect himself from war-time inflation and post-war chaos. It will add to the burdens of those most heavily burdened. It will make the winning of the war more difficult and gravely imperil our chances of winning the peace."
