Winter Campaign Nets Huge Gains For Red Armies

More Than Million Axis Troops Killed Or Captured In The Sweeping Drives By Russians; Much Territory Regained; Nazi Equipment Losses Heavy

By EDDY GILMORE Moscow, April 3.—(AP)—The Red army, in a sweeping winter offensive now ended which is officially declared to have resulted in the killing of 850,000 Germans, has pushed its lines almost to Velizh, 70 miles northwest of Smolensk on the central front, and within about 15 miles of White Russia, war maps published in the official press indicated today.

Russian communiques have not announced the capture of any specified localities which would advance Soviet lines so far. Hammering hard to drive the Germans from their Kuban bridgehead in the Caucasus, the Russians have advanced to the eastern gates of Novorossisk, the Black Sea naval base, are practically at the front doors of Staraya Russa in the Lake Ilmen area and are but 12 miles east of Targanov on the Sea of Azov west of Rostov, the maps disclosed.

The maps were the first full war maps ever printed in Moscow of the long Russian front. Publication of the maps came after a special communique last night announced the end of the winter offensive in which it was said the Germans lost 1,193,325 men, including 850,000 killed and over 340,000 captured and in which the Russians regained 185,328 square miles of their territory and captured or destroyed 5,000 German planes, 9,190 tanks and 20,360 guns.

The German high command in a communique recorded by the Associated Press from the Berlin radio declared the Germans had launched their own offensive south of Lake Ilmen. Red Star, printing its first full war map, disclosed that Soviet gains were greater in some places than had been believed by observers. Velizh, still held by the Germans, is about 60 miles southeast of Velikie Luki. The Russians captured Velikie Luki on the central front early in the winter and then began (Continued On Page Six)

BRITISH BOMB NAZI SUB BASES

St. Nazaire And Lorient RAF Targets Last Night

London, April 3.—(AP)—RAF heavy bombers attacked Nazi submarine pens at Lorient and St. Nazaire in western France last night, the Air Ministry announced today. Two bombers were lost on the raid.

It was the first RAF night raid Monday night when Berlin and the Ruhr were targets. St. Nazaire was also bombed last Sunday night. The two German U-boat yards have been among the most frequent and most heavily bombed targets of the war. The Air Ministry communique said "last night aircraft of the Bomber Command attacked submarine bases at Lorient and St. Nazaire. Mines also were laid in enemy waters. Two bombers are missing."

Residents at Folkestone reported they heard a heavy force of aircraft returning over the channel early today following the sound of explosions in the direction of Dunkerque, on France's channel coast. Britain itself was free of raids for the second successive night and early today marked 36 hours in which not a bomb had been reported dropped on all England.

With cannon blazing and bombs spilling from the planes, a squadron of seven or eight P-51 Mustangs raided a town on the south coast late this morning. Several persons were killed when a bomb hit a surface air raid shelter. Anti-aircraft gunners reported they damaged several of the planes. Previously Britons had confessed they were puzzled by the absence of German reprisal raids. A week has gone by since Berlin suffered its heaviest punishment at the hands of the RAF, and until today's raid there had been no concerted (Continued On Page Six)

Many Attend Second Forum

In the second of a series of public forums in the City Hall auditorium last night, a number of people in the audience participated in the discussion which centered around the churches of Greenville and Boy and Girl Scout work. Miss Sallie Mae Davis of the Pitt County Welfare Board, talked interestingly about cases of youth delinquency referred to her. Mrs. E. L. Henderson, commissioner of Girl Scouts, and Mr. John G. Fleming, district chairman of Boy Scouts, reviewed briefly work being done with Greenville boys and girls through their organizations. After hearing these short talks, members of the audience asked questions and started discussions which led to the conclusion that excellent as the Boy and Girl Scout work is, it should reach many more boys and girls, and the only reason it does not is that adults, well qualified for leadership, are not interested and enthusiastic enough to assume this responsibility. The discussion around the churches had Greenville showed the churches had not increased in membership in proportion to the growth of the town, and that only about one out of five church members attend church and Sunday school. Questions were asked by both ministers and laymen, "why do more parents, adults and young people assume responsibility for church, Sunday school and community?" A third forum will be held in the City Hall Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

JONES SPEAKS TO KIWANIAN

Says Crimes of War Endangering Moral Standards

By CHESTER WALSH "When we are engaged in the business of murder in war the lesser crimes seem unimportant and our moral standards are in danger of crumbling," said Dr. James A. Jones, pastor of Myers Park Presbyterian church, Charlotte, at the weekly Kiwanis Club's supper session last night. The distinguished minister and scholar from Mecklenburg reviewed the chaotic conditions prevailing as a result of the war. He touched on the vital importance of everyone performing his duty fearlessly and patriotically and with the love of God. Dr. Jones left an indelible impression on the Kiwanians when he said the prime virtue of life is integrity and intelligent patriotism (civic consciousness of our duties). His after-dinner speech was informative, inspiring and entertaining. Dr. Jones is conducting a series of meetings at the First Presbyterian church, of which his father-in-law, Dr. Robert S. Boyd is pastor. He is a profound scholar, a brilliant speaker and "with this he has a magnetic personality that gets a place for him in men's hearts," a Kiwanian said. American Airmen Blasting At Jap Ship Concentrations Over Wide Area; RAF Bombers Set Fires In Burma

By The Associated Press Allied warplanes have scattered another concentration of nearly 20 Japanese ships in the islands above Australia. Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today, amid signs that other enemy warships may be thrusting anew to the Solomons. Two actions suggested the new enemy threat to Guadalcanal: 1. A Japanese communique broadcast by the Berlin radio asserted that Japanese fleet planes had shot down 47 Allied aircraft off the Russel islands, 50 miles northwest of Guadalcanal. Nine Japanese planes were listed as lost. 2. Tokyo's claim followed issuance of a U. S. navy announcement yesterday that American bombers attacked a force of five Japanese destroyers on the night of March 31-April 1 near Kolombangara island, 190 miles northwest of Guadalcanal. Currently the navy said American fighters shot down 16 out of 30 to 40 Japanese Zeros in a violent air battle northwest of Guadalcanal. The Tokyo claim that Japanese fleet planes shot down 47 Allied planes indicated a sizable force of Japanese warships in the waters immediately north of Guadalcanal. There was no information however whether this force included the five Japanese destroyers attacked by U. S. fliers three nights ago off Kolombangara. Allied headquarters said United Nations airmen pounded 13 Japanese ships, including destroyers in the harbor at Kavieng, New Ireland, 550 miles above the Allied base at Port Moresby, New Guinea, and half a dozen others in nearby Stef-fens Strait. A communique said the fliers scored probable hits on a 10,000-ton Japanese transport and on a 6,000-ton cargo ship, but darkness prevented observation of further results of the attack. Other Allied planes bombed the enemy bases at Kavieng, Madang, New Guinea, and Gasmata, and Cape Gloucester, New Britain, and carried out low-level bombing and machine-gun attacks on Japanese trenches in the Mubo sector in northern New Guinea. U. S. Flying Fortresses and Liberators also pounded the harbor and airbase at Finschhafen on the northeast coast of New Guinea. On the Burma front, RAF Blenheim bombers set fires at the Japanese-occupied rail town of Kanbalu and bombed enemy targets on the Mayu peninsula along the Bay of Bengal, where Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell's British legions have been driving toward the Japanese base at Akyab. Meantime the War Department in Washington disclosed that U. S. army fliers have shot down seven Japanese planes for every one they have lost in the last three months, destroying 3,84 enemy aircraft against 54 of their own.

Firemen To Meet Here On Tuesday

Impressive exercises will be held at the convention of the Eastern Carolina Firemen's Association in Greenville next Tuesday night. State Fire Marshal Sherwood Brockwell of Raleigh Mayor Bruce Sugg and others will have parts on the program. Fire Chief George Gardner, president of the association, will preside. The convention will be held in the Curb Market. Supper will be served. The Minges fire tower, a five-story brick structure built as a practice tower for firemen of the district will be dedicated. Mr. Minges donated $5,000 toward construction of the tower. The city owned the lot. Some of the funds and labor were contributed by the WPA. The Minges fire tower will be used to train firemen in fighting flames in tall buildings. Its need became apparent two years ago when the Germans were bombing England and using incendiary bombs. Chief Gardner studied types of explosives and incendiary bombs and has charts of their action at the fire department. June H. Rose, assistant state director of civilian defense attended a special course at a Texas college last year equipping himself with valuable knowledge of disposing of incendiary bombs and controlling resulting fires. Firemen from a score of Eastern Carolina counties will attend the convention. The Board of Aldermen recently provided funds for the supper and entertainment.

Farm Bloc Threatens To Override The President

By ERNEST B. VACARRO Washington, April 3.—(AP)—Administration forces in Congress worked feverishly today to stem a new farm bloc revolt that threatened to override President Roosevelt's veto of a bill prohibiting the deduction of government benefit payments in calculating agricultural parity prices. Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) author of the measure rejected by the President on the ground it was inflationary in its effect and dangerous to both the "constructive farm policy" and the "whole war effort." He also apparently did not agree with the chief executive's veto message contention that enactment of the Bankhead bill would not aid farmers in the long run. The President said that instead the measure would start an inflationary upward spiral on both wages and prices which would add to the burdens of all and make "the winning of the war more difficult and gravely imperil our chances of winning the peace." Just how much effect his arguments would have on Congress was expected to be shown Tuesday. The house originally approved the bill by a 149-to-40 vote. The senate with only Rhode Island's Democratic Senators Green and Gerry opposing. However, Barkley told reporters today "there has been some change in sentiment, and the growing fears of inflation will be reflected in Tuesday's vote."

ORDER CHANGE IN OIL SUPPLY

Reshuffling Will Expand Flow of Fuel To The East

By CHARLES MOLONY Washington, April 3.—(AP)—Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes today ordered a drastic reshuffling of the petroleum supply and distribution system in the midwest to expand the flow of fuel to the oil-short east. Midwest consumers will not be visibly affected, aides said. The major objectives of the order, affecting 15 midwestern states, comprising petroleum district two, are: (1) to secure maximum efficiency in the use of all transportation facilities in the area, thus releasing additional railroad tank cars to swell the number serving the east coast and (2) to increase supplies available for shipment to the east. "What we are here directing," Ickes said in a statement explaining the order, "is the coordination of the supply and distribution of about 1,000,000 barrels of petroleum products per day (more than the peacetime consumption of all Europe) as though it were all distributed by a single company. "While consumers will continue to order their requirements of petroleum products from their usual sources of supply, the industry, through exchanges, loans, sales and purchases among its members, will see to it that these requirements actually are filled from the nearest terminal." To achieve nearest-terminal deliveries, a network of zones is set (Continued on Page Six)

OPA Faced BY TWO PROBES

Seek to Learn If Body Has Exceeded Its Authority

By GEORGE CULLEN Washington, April 3.—(AP)—The Office of Price Administration was faced with a double-barreled congressional investigation today as administrator Prentiss Brown took steps to cultivate better relations with the public. Soon after Brown disclosed that he had authorized a deputy, Lou Maxon, to review "all actions which bear on OPA relations with the public in order to minimize irritations flowing from them." Chairman Patman (D-Tex.) of the House committee on small business, announced he had ordered an immediate investigation of Brown's agency to determine whether it has exceeded powers granted by Congress. Said Patman: "Our committee is convinced that the emergency price control act has not been complied with. Conditions are forced upon retailers and wholesalers which do not follow the provisions of this act. This has caused no end of trouble to retailers." The inquiry was ordered, the Texas said, on the petition of 19 national retail organizations representing some 50,000 retail merchants. In addition, various operations of the OPA have been slated for study by a special House committee investigating actions of federal agencies to determine whether they exceeded authority granted by Congress. Brown's action in designating Maxin, a Detroit advertising man, to review all OPA activities to determine whether they will help or hurt OPA's relations with the public was regarded as significant. It stressed the different trend of administration advocated by Brown in contrast to the "tough" policy which prevailed under his predecessor, Leon Henderson. Glenn Brooks Gets Caterpillar Honor Flight Officer Glenn W. Brooks of the U. S. Army Air Force, who had to parachute from a plane near Pelham Field, Oregon, while in training as an air cadet, has been awarded the emblem of membership in the Caterpillar Club, according to a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Brooks of the city. The young officer saved the record from his chute and set it to the Switlik Parachute Company, of Trenton, N. J. The company sent Mr. Brooks the emblem caterpillar pin today.

Food Dealers Must Register On Time

Wholesalers and retailers of processed foods are required to register with the local War Price and Rationing Board between April 10 and 15, and according to the caliber of their factor 3, while the wholesale factor is 6. Retailers will register on Form R-1302, and are required to register the factor 3 in item 18 of the registration form which is necessary to determine his allowable inventory. Wholesalers will register on Form R-1310 which is provided by the Bureau of Census, and will use the factor 6 for the determination of his allowable inventory.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS Babson Analyzes First Quarter Activities

Washington, D. C. April 2.—The first quarter of 1943 was marked by several outstanding events in business and finance. Some of these are resulting in vital changes in our economic and family life. I have space to comment upon just a few of them. Congress Below Standard We entered 1943 with a better political situation than had existed for some time. There has been continued evidence that the caliber of Congress has improved. It remains, however, below the standards of the democracy it represents. This may not be the fault of Congress itself but the fault of the voters who elect the Congress. Even in these stringency times people are failing to take an interest in government. Until they do, we can expect little of a constructive nature from Washington. Commodity Prices The prediction I made in my Annual Forecast that there would be continued pressure to pierce price ceilings has materialized. There has been almost a complete disregard of retail price ceilings. Inflationary forces are set for a good ride, which pressure on wholesale prices, which have been quietly getting up since may blow up the whole price system. Inflation of prices may slow down, but will not stop. Hence, wholesale prices will undoubtedly go higher. Rationing Starting with tires, gasoline, fuel oil and extending to food, shoes, rationing, together with drying up of many consumer supplies, has been the means of bringing our war economy home all. Certainly, the point system (Continued on Page Four)

The WAR TODAY AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE What guarantees are our hard-working statesmen going to be able to devise against the whelping of another war-mongering Hitler when once we have ended the present conflict? The Nazi Fuehrer himself practices wholesale sterilization to prevent perpetuation of elements he doesn't like. That's an idea, but sterilization of entire militaristic nations doesn't seem to fit in with civilized practices. British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, speaking Friday before the Canadian Parliament in Ottawa, gave an answer for one angle of this complicated problem in declaring as regards Germany, Italy and Japan: "There is only one security for mankind in respect of all of them: to ensure that they are totally disarmed and in no position ever to try their strength again." Our own Undersecretary of State Welles carried the matter deeper in an address the same day in New York City. He said: "In attempting to put an end to war we face a problem that the human race has never yet been able to solve. But of one thing I am perfectly sure: the greatest obstacle to success is defeatism—the assumption that nations are by nature so antagonistic, that foreign peoples are so untrustworthy or that the technical problems of constructing peace machinery are so great that the task is a hopeless one." That seems to invite the further question of whether human nature can be changed. History is likely to (Continued on Page Six)

Ingram Walters in Recital.

Before an appreciative audience last night at the college, Ingram Walters, senior student in music at East Carolina Teachers College, presented a piano recital with a skill and artistry that won much applause.

The program was varied and interesting. Among the numbers given were those of modern composers seemed to win most response from the audience. Walters' own composition, "Prelude," with its rather modern dictation, was so well received by his listeners that he repeated it at the end as an encore.

The two-piano number, "Auf den Bergen" by Grieg, played by Walters and his teacher, Miss Lois V. Gorrell, was a feature of the program because of the close coordination attained between the two instruments.

Assisting the pianist was Miss Jean Abeyounis, soprano, with Denton Rossell of the music faculty, as her accompanist, in a group of three pleasing songs.

Walters will graduate in music at the college in June. Below is the program of last night's recital:
Bourée in G Minor—Bach.
Sona, Op. 26—Andante con Variazioni, Scherzo, Marcia funebre sulla morte d'un eroe—Beethoven.
Enchantment—Howard Hanson.
Prelude No. 1—George Gershwin.
Nocturne—Edward Grieg.
Hungarian—Edward MacDowell.
Prelude—Ingram Walters.
Tell Me, Oh, Blue, Blue Skies, Giannini; Spanish Johnny, Sacco.
Vissi d'arte (from "Tosca"), Puccini—Miss Jean Abeyounis, Denton Rossell, accompanist.
Menuet de L'Arlesienne—Bizet.
Auf den Bergen—Grieg (Arranged for two pianos), Grief. Miss Gorrell at second piano.
Prelude in G Minor—Rachmaninoff.

Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
April 3, 1903
The first Saturday brought a large crowd to town.

The county commissioners will meet Monday.
There is no neutral position on the question of improvements and schools. You cannot stay away from the polls Tuesday and say you are having no part in it.
"I want to see Greenville keep up with Winterville and Ayden," is the way one advocate for improvements expressed himself at the mass meeting Thursday night. He got liberal applause.

Christian Youth Council To Meet.
The Christian Youth Council will meet at the Methodist Church at 7:30 Monday night.

Vesper Service Program.
A program of the doctrine and practices of the Quakers was presented at the YW-YMCA vesper service at the college yesterday evening in the "Y" hut, by Miss Esther Mae White of Belvidere, a sophomore and a member of a small Quaker group on the campus.

Miss White explained the belief of her church in "the inner light," the idea of waiting to be "moved by the Spirit" to speak in meeting, and the attitude that makes members of this religious group conscientious objects to war.

Pointing out how much the Friends have contributed in personal service during wartime, often in the actual battle area, she said that this would show that it was principle, and not fear that dictated the Quaker attitude toward war.

The speaker showed, too, how the church organization differs from that of most Protestant groups, and described some of the customs and ways of worship of the church.

Miss Madge Lane of Winfall, conducted the devotional, and Miss Iris Lee of Newton Grove, was pianist.

Missionary Circles To Meet.

The circles of the Woman's Missionary Society of Immanuel Baptist Church will meet Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the following homes:

Julia Meadows Circle, Mrs. B. M. Reagan, chairman, with Mrs. R. J. Slay.

Nettie Patrick Circle, Mrs. A. T. Bilbro, chairman, with Mrs. Felix Snider.

Claud Wilson Circle, Mrs. C. L. Herring, chairman, with Mrs. C. L. Herring.
Mary Ayscue Circle, Mrs. Clarence Barnhill, chairman, with Mrs. C. B. Rice, Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Methodist Circles To Meet.

The circles of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church will meet Monday afternoon at 3:30 in the following homes:

No. 1, Mrs. S. B. Underwood, Jr., Chm., with Mrs. J. B. James.
No. 2, Mrs. Robert Taylor, Chm., with Mrs. Taylor.
No. 3, Mrs. R. W. Stark, Chm., with Mrs. J. Roy Wilkerson.
No. 4, Mrs. C. E. Okey, Chm., with Mrs. Edw. Bateheer.

Junior Red Cross News

"Service" the watchword of the Junior Red Cross, was demonstrated during the past week by a very splendid gift of four magazine subscriptions, sent by Miss One Shindler, director of music in the Greenville High School, to the Naval Section Base Dispensary at Morehead.

"Green Lights," the high school paper, has had quite a compliment paid it by the area office at Alexandria. The office is very particular in selecting exchange papers from the United States schools, but so pleased was it with "Green Lights" that the high school was asked if it would like to establish an exchange with a school in Argentina—Escuela No. 38, Bme 98, San Juan, Argentina. Mrs. Mims, the Spanish teacher at the high school, immediately wrote that the school would be glad to make the exchange. The translations, which are done in class, are instructive and interesting and much enjoyed by the students.

Work in the county schools continues with marked interest on the part of both pupils and sponsors. One hundred and fifty-five kit bags will be turned in by Belvoir, Chicod, Bethel, Bellarthur, Fountain, Just, Grifton and Winterville, just as soon as the articles necessary to fit them out arrive, and the chairman of the Junior Red Cross reports that 34 kit bags, which the students of the Greenville schools made and filled, have already been turned over to her. Bedroom shoes for the camp hospitals in this area are being made by the dozen.

The attractive Junior Red Cross insignias have been distributed in most of the schools, and are being worn with pride by the members of the councils.

The coat hanger campaign, under the direction of Mrs. William H. Taft, was most successful. Fifty-five hundred hangers were collected, of which 1,700 went to Cherry Point and 3,800 to Fort Bragg.

Several members of the Junior Red Cross Committee have completed the Nutrition course under Miss Holtzclaw at the college, and will take Canteen, beginning April 16. This will assure the school canteens more help, and will afford another type of service, which officers of the Junior Red Cross, a part of the Pitt County chapter, are happy and privileged to render.

Spring Federation.
Over one hundred fifty ladies attended the third Annual Spring Federation Meeting of the Pitt County Home Demonstration Clubs on Wednesday afternoon in the New Classroom building at ECTC.

The Entrance Hall was decorated with peach blossoms and bridal wreath. Mrs. J. R. Jones, president of the Ballads Club and Mrs. R. B. Stirling, president of the Red Bank Club, greeted the guest as each arrived.

Mrs. Herman Baker, president of Pitt County Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs, called the meeting to order at 3 o'clock. Mrs. W. C. Whitehurst led the group in the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," following with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Mrs. L. E. Everett, chairman of the Spring Federation Committee, extended to everyone a cordial welcome. Mrs. W. P. Little responded. Mrs. Lonnie Stocks led the devotional in a most impressive manner.

Mrs. J. H. Waldrop in her usual charming manner sang "Heaven" and "Yesterday and Today."

Mrs. Cecil Satterthwaite, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting and called the roll by clubs. Every club in the county was well represented. Cannon's Crossroad Club won the gavel with the largest percent of attendance. Winterville Club had the largest number of women present—seventeen.

Mrs. W. C. Whitehurst and Mrs. Ralph Carson sang a duet "There is a Star Spangled Banner Waving Somewhere."
Miss Joyner presented the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. W. B. Murphy of Snow Hill. "Women in De-

Red Cross Package Displayed In Store
The American Red Cross provided a lot of comfort and good cheer for servicemen "out on the battle lines" when the organization arranged for a compact package of food which contains all the chemicals the body needs, some convenient toilet articles, some smokes, etc., which is sold for $3.50 to persons who want to cheer up a serviceman (or woman) in the service.
The Red Cross package contents are displayed in a window at Key Brown's drug store at Five Points.

Seven Jap Zeroes Downed Over China
Chungking, April 2—(Delayed)—(AP)—Seven Japanese Zeroes definitely were shot down Thursday while attempting to raid an advanced American airbase in Kiangsi province.
Nine Zeroes were intercepted by 12 P-40's and, after the battle, unofficial reports said that only two damaged Japanese fighters got back across the enemy lines.
Several other waves of attackers attempted to reach the American airbase but turned back without engaging the United States fighters. One P-40 was shot down and its pilot was killed.
Capt. John Hampshire of Grants Pass, Ore., scored his sixth confirmed aerial victory. Other fighter-pilots who got one each confirmed were Lieut. Charles Tucker of La Crescenta, Cal., Capt. Elmer Richardson of Butler, Penn., Second Lieut. James Lee of Greensboro, N. C., and Verne Brewer of Fairview, Okla. It was Brewer's first air fight.
The engagement involved the first real dogfighting in China since activation of Maj.-Gen. Claire L. Chennault's new 14th United States Army Air Force.

Germany Has Invasion Jitters Adding to German fears of an Allied invasion are reports of Allied parachute troops establishing a Norwegian base from which to raid Nazi-held factories (1). Britain established a forbidden zone along portions of her shores (black outlines) from which an invasion might spring (2). Italians announced that Sicily had become a "fortified outpost" (3) and frankly feared attack. A Nazi-formed "army of the Balkans" for defense against invasion (4) was reported, and to the east lies the Russian foe (5). Turkish military men, meanwhile, are conversing with the Axis in North Africa.

Admits Slaying

Amos Raymond Latshaw (above) 19, arrested in Los Angeles after a month's search, has admitted, said Police Capt. Vernon Rasmussen, that he killed his parents, his grandparents and a brother, 6, on a California ranch last February 11. A traffic policeman who recognized him from a picture arrested him at a theater where he was employed.

The Price of Victory TAXES AND WAR BONDS It Takes Both

What You Buy With WAR BONDS Fighter Plane Equipment When a lightning fighter plane catapults from the deck of an American cruiser or other War Ship, it is evidence that your War Bonds have borne fruit in providing the necessary equipment. Catapult equipment for a cruiser costs $27,000. Fighter plane protection for our Navy is essential in modern warfare. Our Navy heroes must have this protection. We can help give it to them by our purchase of War Bonds and other Government Securities. They give their lives—You lend your money. U. S. Treasury Department

Miss Blount Honored At Shower. Miss Louise Kluge was hostess at bridge and a linen shower on Thursday evening at her home on East Ninth street as a courtesy to Miss Myra Blount whose engagement and approaching marriage have recently been announced.

Jacquets, flasks and snowdrops in varied arrangements decorated the living room where three tables were set for bridge. Miss Blount was presented perfume for making high score, and table prizes, white pottery vases filled with carnations, were won by Mrs. Jack Horton, Mrs. John Wells and Miss Jane Smith.

At the close of the games, the honor guest was invited into the sun room to "gather her linen," which consisted of a beautiful assortment of linens hung on a line across the room, giving the appearance of an old-fashioned "wash day."

The hostess' shower gift was a hamper in which to place them. A frozen salad plate with coffee was served. Mrs. J. H. Blount, Mrs. H. L. Hodges, Mrs. Burke Standell and Mrs. Marvin Blount joined the group for the refreshment hour.

Eighth Street Christian Church. The pastor will receive into the fellowship of the church Sunday morning a group of five young men and women who were baptized on Friday night. A systematic visitation of all unaffiliated disciples in Greenville and vicinity is under way at the present time and all these are given a cordial invitation to affiliate with the Eighth Street Church.

The class of intermediates will be taught on Sunday morning at the class period by Dr. Haney. This is a combined class studying the meaning and significance of Church Membership and the Church ordinances.

The choir will sing at the eleven o'clock service Guiton's "Prayer" and the pastor speaks on "Fishers of Men."

Ingram Walters In Recital.

Before an appreciative audience last night at the college, Ingram Walters, senior student in music at East Carolina Teachers College, presented a piano recital with a skill and artistry that won much applause.

The program was varied and interesting. Among the numbers given those of modern composers seemed to win most response from the audience. Walters' own composition, "Prelude," with its rather modern diction, was so well received by his listeners that he repeated it at the end as an encore.

The two-piano number, "Auf den Bergen" by Grieg, played by Walters and his teacher, Miss Lois V. Gorrell, was a feature of the program because of the close coordination attained between the two instruments.

Assisting the pianist was Miss Jean Aveyonist, soprano, with Denton Rossell of the music faculty, as her accompanist, in a group of three pleasing songs.

Walters will graduate in music at the college in June.

Below is the program of last night's recital.

Bourée in G Minor—Bach. Sonata, Op. 26—Andante con Variazioni, Scherzo, Marcia funebre sulla morte d'un eroe—Beethoven. Enchantment—Howard Hanson. Prelude No. 1—George Gershwin. Nocturne—Edward Grieg. Hungarian—Edward MacDowell. Prelude—Ingram Walters. Tell Me, Oh, Blue, Blue Skies, Giannini; Spanish Johnny, Sacco; Vissi d'arte (from "Tosca"), Puccini—Miss Jean Aveyonist, Denton Rossell, accompanist. Menuet de L'Arlesienne—Bizet. Auf den Bergen (Arranged for two pianos), Grieg. Miss Gorrell at second piano. Prelude in G Minor—Rachmaninoff.

Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR April 3, 1903

The first Saturday brought a large crowd to town.

The county commissioners will meet Monday.

There is no neutral position on the question of improvements and schools. You cannot stay away from the polls Tuesday and say you are having to part in it.

I want to see Greenville keep up with Winterville and Ayden. It is the way one advocate for improvements expressed himself at the mass meeting Thursday night. He got liberal applause.

Christian Youth Council To Meet. The Christian Youth Council will meet at the Methodist Church at 7:30 Monday night.

Vesper Service Program. A program of the doctrine and practices of the Quakers was presented at the YW-YMCA vesper service at the college yesterday evening in the "Y" hut, by Miss Esther Mae White of Belvidere, a sophomore and a member of a small Quaker group on the campus.

Miss White explained the belief of her church in "the inner light," the idea of waiting to be "moved by the Spirit" to speak in meeting, and the attitude that makes members of this religious group conscientious objects to war.

Pointing out how much the Friends have contributed in personal service during wartime, often in the actual battle area, she said that this would show that it was principle, and not fear that dictated the Quaker attitude toward war.

The speaker showed, too, how the church organization differs from that of most Protestant groups, and described some of the customs and ways of worship of the church.

Miss Madge Lane of Winfall, conducted the devotional, and Miss Iris Lee of Newton Grove, was pianist.

Missionary Circles To Meet. The circles of the Woman's Missionary Society of Immanuel Baptist Church will meet Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the following homes:

- Julia Meadows Circles, Mrs. B. M. Reagan, chairman, with Mrs. R. J. Slay. Evelyn Leonard Circle, Mrs. E. J. Everett, chairman, with Mrs. E. B. Higgs. Nettie Patrick Circle, Mrs. A. T. Rice, Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Methodist Circles To Meet. The circles of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church will meet Monday afternoon at 3:30 in the following homes:

- No. 1, Mrs. S. B. Underwood, Jr., Chm., with Mrs. J. B. James. No. 2, Mrs. Robert Taylor, Chm., with Mrs. Taylor. No. 3, Mrs. R. W. Stark, Chm., with Mrs. J. Roy Wilkerson. No. 4, Mrs. C. E. Oakley, Chm., with Mrs. Edw. Batchelor. No. 5, Mrs. H. C. Sugg, Chm., with Mrs. C. W. Hearne. No. 6, Mrs. Frank Wilson, Chm., with Mrs. J. E. Winslow. No. 7, Mrs. Wyatt Brown, Chm., with Mrs. G. B. W. Hadley. No. 8, Mrs. Fred Blank, Chm., with Mrs. A. D. Frank. No. 9, Mrs. Ed Parkinson, Chm., with Mrs. Joe Moyer. The Wesleyan Service Guild, Miss Frances Wahl, President, will meet Monday night at the church at 8 o'clock.

Memorial Baptist Circles. The circles of the Woman's Missionary Society of Memorial Baptist Church will meet Monday afternoon at 3:30 as follows:

- Heck Circle, with Mrs. A. C. Howard, 308 Lewis street. Armstrong Circle, with Mrs. H. S. Moore, 203 Jarvis street. Shuck Circle, with Mrs. Minnie Briggs, Cotanche street. Lawrence Circle, with Mrs. W. Z. Morton, 425 West Fifth street. Moon Circle, with Mrs. E. W. Reiben, 502 Elizabeth street.

"Service" the watchword of the Junior Red Cross, was demonstrated during the past week, by a very splendid gift of four magazine subscriptions, sent by Miss Ona Shindler, director of music in the Greenville High School to the Naval Section Base Dispensary at Morehead.

"Green Lights," the high school paper, has had quite a compliment paid it by the area office at Alexandria. The office is very particular in selecting exchange papers from the United States schools, but so pleased was it with "Green Lights" that the high school was asked if it would like to establish an exchange with a school in Argentina—Escuela No. 38, Bme 98, San Juan, Argentina. Mrs. Mims, the Spanish teacher at the high school, immediately wrote that the school would be glad to make the exchange. The translations, which are done in class, are instructive and interesting and much enjoyed by the students.

Work in the county schools continues with marked interest on the part of both pupils and sponsors. One hundred and fifty-five kit bags will be turned in by Belvoir, Chicod, Bethel, Bellarthur, Fountain, Ayden, Griffon and Winterville, just as soon as the articles necessary to fit them out arrive, and the chairman of the Junior Red Cross reports that 34 kit bags, which the students of the Greenville schools made and filled, have already been turned over to her. Bedroom shoes for the camp hospitals in this area are being made by the dozen.

The attractive Junior Red Cross insignias have been distributed in most of the schools, and are being worn with pride by the members of the councils.

The coat hanger campaign, under the direction of Mrs. William H. Taft, was most successful. Fifty-five hundred hangers were collected, of which 1,700 went to Cherry Point and 3,800 to Fort Bragg.

Several members of the Junior Red Cross Committee have completed the Nutrition course under Miss Holzbach at the college, and will take Canteen, beginning April 16. This will assure the school canteens more help, and will afford another type of service, which the officers of the Junior Red Cross, a part of the Pitt County chapter, are happy and privileged to render.

VERONA LEE JOYNER, HIDA EDNA KIRBY, ASSI.

Spring Federation. Over one hundred fifty ladies attended the third Annual Spring Federation Meeting of the Pitt County Home Demonstration Clubs on Wednesday afternoon in the New Classroom building at ECTC.

The Entrance Hall was decorated with peach blossoms and bridal wreath. Mrs. J. R. Jones, president of the Ballards Club and Mrs. R. B. Starling, president of the Red Bank Club, greeted the guest as each arrived.

Mrs. Herman Baker, president of Pitt County Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs, called the meeting to order at 3 o'clock. Mrs. W. C. Whitehurst led the group in the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" following with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Mrs. L. E. Everette, chairman of the Spring Federation Committee, extended to everyone a cordial welcome. Mrs. W. F. Little responded. Mrs. Lonnie Stocks led the devotional in a most impressive manner.

Mrs. J. H. Waldrop in her usual charming manner sang "Heaven" and "Yesterday and Today."

Mrs. Cecil Satterthwaite, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting and called the roll by clubs. Every club in the county was well represented. Cannon's Crossroad Club won the gavel with the largest percent of attendance. Winterville Club had the largest number of women present—seventeen.

Mrs. W. C. Whitehurst and Mrs. Ralph Carson sang a duet "There is a Star Spangled Banner Waving Somewhere."

Miss Joyner presented the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. W. B. Murphy of Snow Hill. "Women in Defense" was her topic and Mrs. Murphy kept the group spell bound for an hour. She said that now all women need first, a radiant heart and that each must take her place on the home front cheerfully and bravely. Women have a place in this war and they will do much to speed Victory.

She paid tribute to our own Dr. Jane S. McKimmon, Assistant Director of North Carolina Extension Service, by saying that she had done more to make the farm homes of North Carolina beautiful than any other person. At the conclusion of Mrs. Murphy's talk, Connie Edwards from Snow Hill sang "Jolly Molly Pitcher." Announcements were made after which the group sang "God Bless America" and the meeting adjourned for the tea.

Mrs. Herman Baker headed the receiving line. Others receiving were Mesdames C. J. Satterthwaite, W. B. Murphy, Ole Tucker, J. H. Waldrop, Lonnie Stocks, W. C. Whitehurst, R. R. Whitehurst, Misses Verona Lee Joyner and Blair Cox. Mrs. Alton Chapman invited the guest into the living room which was beautiful with arrangements of Spring Flowers.

Mrs. J. D. McArthur and Mrs. M. E. Hart invited the guest into the dining room. The table was a scene of beauty, with a lovely centerpiece of ponjuls and candles.

Delicious green-yellow ice was served from each end of the table by Mrs. Amos Evans and Mrs. J. R. Jones, respectively, assisted by Mrs. R. B. Starling and Mrs. Wilbur Worthington. Mrs. R. F. Little passed individual ice cakes. Mrs. J. H. Bynum, nuts, and Mrs. Heber Sum-Jill, mints. Others assisting were Mrs. J. R. Jones, Mrs. Carl Crawford and Mrs. L. E. Everette. Mrs. Ralph Carson presided over the register.

Goodbyes were said by Mrs. J. T. Dupree and Mrs. D. N. Nobles, Jr. Club members left, feeling that it was the best hour of fellowship they had had at a county meeting.

Seven Jap Zeroes Downed Over China

Chungking, April 2.—(Delayed)—(AP)—Seven Japanese Zeroes definitely were shot down Thursday while attempting to raid an advanced American airbase in Kiangsi province.

Nine Zeroes were intercepted by 12 P-40's and, after the battle, unofficial reports said that only two damaged Japanese fighters got back across the enemy lines.

Several other waves of attackers attempted to reach the American airbase but turned back without engaging the United States fighters. One P-40 was shot down and its pilot was killed.

Capt. John Hampshire of Grants Pass, Ore., scored his sixth confirmed aerial victory. Other fighter-pilots who got one each confirmed were Lieut. Charles Tucker of La Crescenta, Cal., Capt. Elmer Richardson of Butler, Penn., Second Lieut. James Lee of Greensboro, N. C., and Vern Brewer of Fairview, Okla. It was Brewer's first air fight.

The engagement involved the first real dogfighting in China since activation of Maj.-Gen. Claire L. Chennault's 14th United States Army Air Force.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

WE MUST HAVE GOOD WILL.

A little girl said to her mother recently: "Mother, if people loved each other as I love you, the boys would all come home and there would be no more war." Also we are told that when one of the Quaintlets was told that, along with her sisters, she was to christen certain boats about to be launched, the youngster remarked: "That will please God very much. Maybe it will please Him so much that He will stop the war."

Very often a child will make a remark about a situation which astounds adults. Very often they have a way of looking into the very center of meaning. With all our big talk about plans and after-war reconstruction, the fact remains that what this world needs is more love. And this fact little children can see plainly, even though the statesmen cannot.

Let us begin now to plan for the kind of world we ought to have after the war is over. But let us not believe for a moment that we can build that world on anything but love. A new world requires new people—not necessarily a new generation but the old generation with new hearts. It was hate, distrust, indifference, and lack of religious faith which got us into this mess, and we will have to have plenty of the opposite qualities before we are out and walking on the open road of peace and opportunity again.

Let us have plans for the new world, but let those plans be leavened with plenty of compassion and human understanding.

CONTROLS FOR LABOR

(N. Y. Sunday News)

The Senate's Truman Committee the other day requested John L. Lewis to attend one of the committee's hearings on strikes, war production, inflation, jurisdictional disputes, etc.

Mr. Lewis, with typical graciousness, replied that he would turn up if he could, but might not find it convenient. The committee then issued a subpoena ordering Lewis to appear, and after a grunt of anger from Lewis his office stated that he would obey the subpoena.

The incident was a straw that shows the way the wind is blowing, we think, in American labor matters. The wind is blowing toward laws controlling labor, and especially labor leaders, after about ten years of virtual freedom for labor organizations to do as they please no matter who else is hurt.

Very few human beings can take as much freedom as that without abusing it. It's human nature to want the power to act just as you wish, and to enlarge upon all the power you can grab.

There is no objection to that, so long as you don't injure other people in getting and using your power. When you step over that line, though, it is time for the Government to step up and push you back. That is the main reason why we have governments—to see that no one person or group gets all the breaks and the rest of us none. It is common knowledge that some labor leaders and labor unions have abused the rights granted them by the Wagner Labor Relations Act and enforced by the National Labor Relations Board, War Labor Board, etc.

Most annoying and costly of these abuses to the general public have been the numerous jurisdictional strikes — production-stopping battles between two unions to decide which shall organize the plant, with the management caught in between and unable to settle the trouble.

Some unions have hoisted initiation fees to outrageous levels; and there have been frequent reports of unions admitting some worker, taking his initiation fee, then kicking him out and keeping the fee. Abuses of this type have been practiced especially in connection with Army camp construction.

Not all unions are thus run by racketeers. Many unions are reasonably well managed and reasonably honest. But racketeer control of unions is on the upgrade, and one reason for that is the lopsided character of our present labor laws, which give most of the breaks to the labor leaders and few to employers and the general public.

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

Washington—Just why one of the best legislative stories of recent weeks has been more or less ignored is something of a mystery. It's the so-called "Rehabilitation Bill." With little more than a murmur, it passed the Senate and then the House without the necessity of a record vote. But with the possible exception of the raise-in-pay bill, this probably is more important to our armed forces than any measure voted since the first draft bill.

Here are some of the reasons why: 1. Under this bill every person honorably discharged from the armed forces before the end of this war for reasons of health, aggravated by training ordeals, or disabilities, incurred in training or combat, will have access to the Veterans' Administration's rehabilitation training program.

2. This means that for up to four years these persons will be paid from $80 to $100 a month (according to dependency obligations) and given other benefits while they are studying to take their new places in vocations to which they are suited.

3. That even when this bill was being prepared, which was before casualties were being returned from North Africa, India, and other recent hot spots, there were more than 800 such persons in the United States. Military experts warn that our casualties will probably run into the millions and point out that most of these will be disabled, or slightly wounded (because of new advances in medicine). That means the new rehabilitation law might well turn into our greatest federal-financed program of vocational education.

4. This rehabilitation program applies to women. Just before the Senate voted on the bill, Sen. Chan Gurney of Yankton, S. D., offered amendments which made it "him or her" all the way through. Sen. Bennett Champ Clark, of Missouri, author of the bill in the upper chamber, accepted the amendments without objection. The House, which had a similar bill sponsored by Rep. John Rankin (of Mississippi) Committee on World War Veteran's legislation, also doffed its hats to the Waacs, Waves, Spars, etc., when it passed the bill.

With the President's signature on the measure, all any man or woman who has been discharged from the army, navy, coast guard, marines, or merchant marine for reasons of health need do is apply to his or her nearest Veterans Administration regional office to come under the benefits of this new bill. The ink is hardly dry on the bill, but I understand that the Veterans' Administration already has its machinery rolling and within a few weeks or months will be expanding the vocational training and hospitalization programs to take care of every case as it comes along.

BABSON

Stock Market We have had a gradually rising stock market now for over twelve months. The advance in securities was particularly marked during the first two months of the current year. But it took a few million-share days to wake up most investors. Right now there is a decided rush for peace stocks and for cheap stocks. Many have foolishly bought stocks without any asset value at all behind them. Holders of good stocks should continue their position and disregard minor and corrective fluctuations. Considering the large amounts of available cash, it is only natural to expect that its ultimate investment will be a dominant factor in further higher stock averages.

Manufacturing During the first quarter, a great many industries showed unusually good results. The total volume of business has been well maintained, but profits on the whole, due to tax provisions, have fallen. Exceptions to this, however, are not uncommon to find. Competition has been keen. Many small manufacturing concerns, stores and shops have had to shut up. It has not been a time to establish new enterprises, but certainly we can look forward to many new developments to take up some of the post-war slack.

Retail Trade February and March were pretty good months for retailers. Volume was some 25 per cent higher than the corresponding months of a year ago. Prices may be well maintained but as I stated in my Annual Forecast I expect the year to show a decline in volume. Customers have jumped the gun on clothes and on other types of merchandise. With employment at its highest level and many families able for the first time in years to replace worn out goods and materials, it was natural for retailers to benefit. The record national income of $121,115,000,000 has also been a factor in the retail

Isolation Island

By JOHN C. FLEMING and LOIS EBY

Chapter 29 As Landa rounded a dark corner of the castle, a hand closed on her arm. She screamed. "A warning whisper answered her. 'Senorita!' It was Maria. The old Indian had been following her and was gasping for her run. 'Senorita—do not go out into the jungle with the three who are armed to kill!'"

"I must go," Landa whispered gently. "I might help." At that minute the side door slammed, and Landa pulled the servant behind a clump of shrubbery near the wall. She saw O'Shannessy running out, and calling anxiously. "Landa! Landa!" Landa put her hand over Maria's mouth. When O'Shannessy had disappeared around the corner of the castle, Landa took down her hand thoughtfully. On a sudden impulse she turned to whisper urgently. "Go to Uncle Mike's room, Maria, while he is still outside. Take the key from the potted plant beside his desk and unlock the small middle drawer. Bring me the pistol you will find there. Hurry!"

For a moment the bright eyes of the Indian woman searched Landa's face for signs of relenting, then with a heavy sigh, her hand dropped from the girl's arm. In a few minutes she was back with the long, ornate old duelling pistol that was O'Shannessy's pride and joy. "Thank you, Maria. I'll be all right now. And say nothing of this to anyone!" She ran lightly down the path and into the darkness of the trees. As she hurried along the dark path, the music from the castle grew fainter, the boom of the surf came up to her. But now the rustling trees, the crackling progress of small animals through the brush brought no familiar feeling of security.

Somewhere in the dense undergrowth was a dangerous, armed fugitive. A wave of fear swept through her for the first time. Her cold hand tightened on O'Shannessy's pistol as she paused, listening. Then another fear drove her on—a far greater fear than that for her own safety. She had to get to the pirates' cave, to hide near it and warn Don or Jim before they wandered blindly past the opening. Don might think of Hansen's hiding there—but Jim!

She hurried. Her thudding heart told her what she had not allowed herself to admit. It was Jim she was afraid for—Jim whose safety meant more now than her own. She turned off the main path for a narrow short-cut that led down through a ravine. Her hands and legs were cut with thorny branches as she climbed up out of the ravine and started around the shoulder of the hill. She hardly felt them as she struggled on, her eyes searching the jungle, grey now with the first light of dawn, her ears alert for the sound of moving bodies. She knew only with a strange radiance that she loved Jim Blair.

She brought herself from the bright realization with sharp effort. Her mind turned to Don. Don, who loved her—loved her so much he was risking his life for her now—and what was even more—had finally stood up to his father! Her gasping breath became tortured sob as she fought against the justice of the situation. And gradually she knew what she must do. No matter how much she loved Jim, she could never be his. Her father had taught her a creed of justice beyond desire that she could not violate. She would never break faith with Don.

She slowed her pace as she rounded the next bend, and went forward more cautiously. Her anxious gaze found the vine-covered entrance to the pirates' cave several hundred feet ahead. There was no sign of life around it, nor any figures moving in the thinning jungle growth that pushed before it down the hill to the coastline. She flattened herself against the dark trunk of a tree and waited. Her nerves cried out that it was hopeless—it was too late—she had missed the fatal sound of gun shots that had ended the horrible hunt! It was then she heard the first low roar of a motorboat. It grew to an angry buzz. The boat was rounding the end of the island—approaching the rocky coastline below. Suddenly she saw it—a low, powerful speedboat, cruising with slow purposefulness beyond the line of rocks, the four men in it gazing intently through the grey mist enveloping the island. It was the raiding party—and they were searching for their leader. A slight noise snapped back her gaze—but she knew what she would see before her eyes reached the cave. Yes—there he was—Hansen! Breaking through the tangle of vines before the cave—leaping out through the matted undergrowth to the path that led to the promontory!

MEAT SUPPLY NOW ADEQUATE

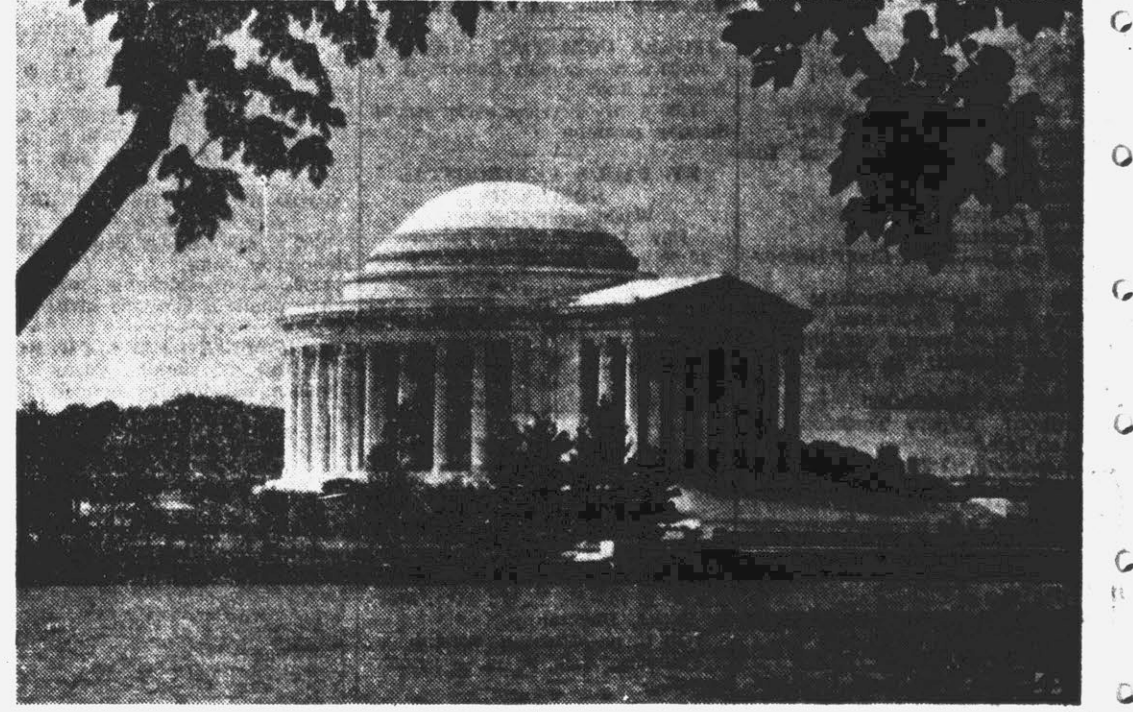

Purchases Drop As Housewives Hoard Ration Points

By The Associated Press Washington, April 3.—As the nation's housewives do their first week-end shopping under the meat point-rationing system today, they can choose from stocks which—in most places—are sufficiently increased that the Office of Price Administration has issued a warning against "point free" sales. While in some instances the pre-rationing rush left butchers' supplies still depleted, the general improvement in stocks during the past week is so marked that cases of unrationed sales to avoid spoilage were reported last night. OPA promptly said that its regulations provide ample protection for butchers whose supplies are threatened with spoilage, and warned that "point free" sales will be dealt with sternly. Officials reminded retailers that they are permitted to "stimulate sales legally" by lowering point values, providing they post signs to that effect, report to their local rationing boards and follow the OPA-outlined procedure. Reluctance of housewives to part with their points until they understand their "counter" value better was blamed largely for the cases of over-supply. A survey showed these situations in various sections: Chicago—Dealers in five-state Great Lakes area generally well stocked compared with last week when runs were commonplace. Denver—Shops slightly overstocked, but points expected to come in for week-end buying. Some danger of spoilage of certain meats. New York—Shortage apparently ended as result of temporary relief measures, curtailed consumer demand and point hoarding.

Hog Prices Hit New Peak Level

Raleigh, April 3.—(AP)—Hog prices are hitting a new high in North Carolina. A. B. Harless, market specialist at the State Department of Agriculture, reported hog prices went to their highest peak yesterday since 1920 on state and terminal buying markets. Top hogs ranged from $14.85 to $15 a hundred pounds on state markets, made $16.35 in Baltimore and reached $16.10 on the Chicago market. Long steer yearlings went to their highest price since 1937. Present Facts On Milk Prices. Raleigh, April 3.—(AP)—Commissioner of Agriculture W. Kerr Scott, and other agricultural leaders will go to Atlanta Monday to present to the regional director of OPA the milk situation in North Carolina. Scott said that the cost of milk production in the state now is greater than the price being paid the producer for it, and labeled the situation a "rank injustice."

MEMORIAL FOR BI-CENTENNIAL—Two hundred years after Thomas Jefferson's birth, the beautiful memorial (above) in Washington, D. C., is being dedicated. The architects, Otto R. Eggers, Daniel Paul Higgins and the late John Russell Pope, adapted the classic pantheon form which Jefferson himself called the "perfect model" of a circular building.

BACK TO EARTH FOR BLIMP—A big U. S. Navy blimp slowly settles earthward after an anti-submarine patrol while a sister ship cruises nearby.

FATAL NOSE DIVE—Four crewmen were killed and three reported missing when this Navy patrol bomber crashed after taking off from Norfolk Naval Air Station.

Coaches Now On Receiving End Of Training

Five coaches of southern schools, now at Maxwell Field, Ala., to learn the army's method of muscle building talk over plans with Capt. H. B. Crowley (left), director of physical training in the AAF Pre-flight School. The mentors, who will undergo 10 days of training and then return to their respective schools to tutor flight students stationed there, are: (left to right, after Crowley) A. C. "Scrappy" Moore of University of Chattanooga, Tom Lieb of Florida, Ted Petroskey of Wofford College, Frank Thomas of Alabama, and Murray Warmuth of Mississippi State. HUGHSON IN GOOD SHAPE

May Be Top Pitcher In American This Year

By JUDSON BAILEY
Brooklyn, April 2.—The funny thing about Cecil (Tex) Hughson is that about this time a year ago he was ready to quit baseball. Now he is booked as a potential 30-game winner for the Boston Red Sox.

Persons not connected with the Red Sox knew of his intentions a year ago. But last spring Tex had a sore arm and he was doubtful of getting it fixed. He had hurt it in August, 1941, soon after joining the Red Sox.

Hughson remembers the day. It was the second game of a double-header with the St. Louis Browns and Tex pitched in a cold drizzle for eight innings till the fracas was called because of darkness. The next day his right shoulder was sore. He pitched a little after that, and he saw several doctors, but he didn't get rid of the trouble.

It was still there last spring and finally Hughson told Manager Joe Cronin that unless he could get his arm in shape there was no use staying around. The Red Sox were in Miami to play an exhibition game and Hughson was sent to a young doctor and was left in Miami when the Red Sox pulled out.

"I don't know yet what was wrong, or exactly what cured me," Hughson said today, "but this doctor, a swell young fellow, and the nurse who ran the clinic, injected novocaine in my shoulder and did a lot of bending and stretching of my arm for a few days—and all of a sudden I was well."

Hughson rejoined the Red Sox and made his first start on May 18. He still was an unknown quantity, but soon became the scourge of the American league and in spite of his late start won 22 games—the most victories in the circuit.

This year a lot of observers think he will win more if he has any kind of a ball club behind him. In Boston they are talking of him as a potential 25 or 30 game winner. Tex takes all this in stride—and being a 6' 3" farmer he has a big stride.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, April 3.—(AP)—The National Pro Football League will start a three-day meeting in Chicago Tuesday to decide what's what for next fall. And indications are the answer for most clubs will be "football is what." Three or four clubs have hinted that they'd like to suspend for the duration but Prexy Jack Mara of the Giants figures if the others vote to play, the lukewarm gent will string along with them. Otherwise the word is that the franchises likely will be "frozen" and the remaining players distributed among the other clubs. What's more interesting, Mara thinks, will be to see whether the clubs "draft" college players for this season or pick the big name guys in hope that they'll still be available after the war.

Optimistic Note
Still quoting Mara: "From what we have heard, there will be a good many football players next fall—boys in the various reserves who don't expect to be called until December or January and those who have been deferred. As long as we can get eleven men (maybe just a few more, eh, Jack?) and the other guys can get eleven there'll be football at the Polo Grounds. Maybe we'll have to put a call out before the games and get some of those old all-Americans or Monday morning quarterbacks in the stands to come and help us."

Controversial Note
Very much agan' freezing franchises is owner Fred Mandel of the Detroit Lions. "Unless the owners are in some branch of the service, he says, "I feel that the franchise should be taken up. If a club quits because it hasn't the fortitude to take a losing season, financially, or hasn't the aggressiveness to dig up players, I think it should forfeit its right to play in the league."

Statistical Note
Three years of research by the National Football league, writes Drum Beater George Strickler, has revealed that the losing team in a game gets as many plays as the winner. The survey also has revealed that there is one foul in every 13 plays and that Jimmy Conzelman has to have his glasses to play the piano by ear.

Changing the Subject
The demand for press tickets for last night's Henry Armstrong-Beau Jack fight was about as big as for one of Joe Louis' outdoor showings, but there weren't nearly as many ringside seats. The Indians claim that Pitcher Joe Heving, listed as 38 years old, is the only grandfather still active in the big leagues. John Wiethe, the oversized ump who used to be a pro footballer, has retired as an American Association arbiter to devote all his time to his law practice. The West Texas Teachers' freshman basketball team, averaging 6 feet 5, claims it must have set a record of some sort by winning three games in four hours in a city tournament at Dumas, Tex.

Today's Guest Star
Jimmy Murphy, Canton Ill. Daily Ledger: "Pitcher George Munger of the Cardinals is a chicken pox patient and Eddie Lake, Red Sox infielder, is suffering from measles. And we thought there'd be no kids in baseball this year."

Service Dept.
Lieut. Matt Tiesler, former Illinois athlete now athletic officer at the Army Air Force Gunnership camp at Apalachicola, Fla. figures it's an aid to morale to have the obstacle course end right at the door of the hospital. He claims the soldiers are thrilled to be able to complete the course and walk the other way instead of being carried through the door.

Asbury Park, N. J. — Because Manager Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees isn't quite certain about Tommy Byrnes' control the rookie southpaw is certain to see action today in the game against the Newark Bears of the International League at Plainfield, N. J. Spud Chandler, however, will start.

Bloomington, Ind. — Cincinnati's Redlegs will use Ray Starr for five innings and fireman Joe Beggs for four today against the Chicago White Sox in the game at Louisville, Ky. The Reds break camp here Thursday.

Norfolk, Va. — The Washington Senators, happy because of their 9 to 6 victory over the U. S. Naval Training station nine yesterday, opposed the same opponent again today. A third game, set for Tuesday, was cancelled, however, because of transportation difficulties.

Manager Ossie Bluege was most pleased with the pitching of Ewald Pyle, rookie southpaw, who gave the sailors only one hit in three innings.

Cairo, Ill. — With the draft beckoning at two of his fingers and three others on the casualty list, Manager Billy Southworth of the St. Louis Cardinals isn't too worried. He still has 10 prospects in good condition. Howie Pollet is in Houston to confer with his draft board.

MAKE GOOD RECORD ON FARM LOANS

FSA Reports Borrowers Well Ahead of Schedule

Former tenants and sharecroppers, buying farms under the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, are paying well ahead of schedule on their loans.

Taking advantage of the "variable" payment plan, the 1,605 "farm ownership" borrowers in this state in 1942, repaid 205 per cent of the amount they owed under their purchase agreements.

Congress passed the legislation to provide financing for competent farm families who are unable to obtain suitable credit to buy farms through other credit channels.

In Pitt County 19 new home owners working under the FSA plan repaid a total of $9,310 on their farms last year, paying on an average of $490 per family.

House-Passed Anti-Sabotage Bill Draws Fire

By WILLIAM F. ABROGAST
Washington, April 3 (AP)—Opponents of a death penalty anti-sabotage bill which some congressmen claimed could be used to curb freedom of the press and speech.

House passage followed three days of intermittent debate that started last week and brought charges by opponents that the justice department, which requested the legislation, could use it to intimidate and persecute innocent citizens.

These charges were the oasis of the opposition, led principally by Representatives Hoffman (R-Mich.) and Shafer (R-Mich.).

Council Considers Number Problems

At the meeting of the Council on Cooperation in Teacher Education in Chicago last week-end, from which President Leon R.
