ROMMEL RETREATING NORTHWARD

Soviets Refuse German Assault In Kharkov Area

Russians Wipe Out Two Companies Of Infantry With Artillery, Mortars And Machine Guns; Enemy Routed On Leningrad Front With Heavy Losses

London, April 7 (AP)—New German attempts to storm Russian positions south of Izyum, on the Donets river, have been hurled back by the Red Army, with almost two companies of German infantry wiped out by Russian artillery, trench mortar and machine gun fire, the Soviet midday communique announced today.

This was in the area where the Russian midday communique said that a strong Russian counter-attack had driven the Germans from a favorable position.

Northward on the winding Donets, southeast of Kharkov, an enemy tank attack was repulsed and Soviet guns destroyed a number of German pillboxes and the men holding them, the noon war bulletin said.

On the Sankovsk front Soviet artillery smashed 10 trucks in a supply column, it was said.

Soviet patrols were active in a raid west of Rostov where an ammunition dump was blown up and enemy equipment captured, it was declared.

On the Volkhov front a German-occupied area lying southeast of Leningrad and northeast of Staraya Russa, the Russians said that two groups of attacking Germans were thrown back with big losses in one sector, and that Red army fire power silenced enemy artillery and mortar guns in another sector.

The noon communique was silent on the activity in the Kuban valley, but the preceding war bulletin said that Russian reconnaissance units broke into an enemy-held town and killed more than 100 Germans in street fighting and captured another village.

The Red army previously had been reported unofficially as fighting in the suburbs of Novorossisk, the Black Sea port.

Four German planes were shot down yesterday by Russian fighters, the Midday communique said.

File Supplemental Judgment In Suit

Washington, April 7 (AP)—The Justice Department announced today the filing of a supplemental judgment in an anti-trust suit under which Standard Oil Company of New Jersey will make available to all persons at "a reasonable royalty rate" licenses for certain patents used in producing high octane aviation gasoline by a low-cost process which it has been claimed, will revolutionize the automobile industry.

The supplemental action was taken before Judge William F. Smith in Federal District Court at Newark, N. J., where the original consent decree under which Standard was required to give unrestricted, royalty-free licenses during the war on synthetic rubber patents and some other patents was filed March 25, 1942.

Former Ambassador Arrested

Stockholm, Sweden, April 7 (AP)—The Swedish newspaper Aftonbladet reported today, without confirmation, that Dr. Hans Luther, former German chancellor and former ambassador to Washington, had been placed under arrest by Nazi officials.

The newspaper was unable to give the reason for his reported arrest.

Great Britain Proposes Bank And Currency Plan

London, April 7 (AP)—Great Britain proposed the most far-reaching world banking and currency plan for the expansion of world trade thus far advanced by any major power, with publication today of a white paper by Lord Keynes, economist and adviser to the exchequer, going considerably farther in some directions than the U. S. treasury's proposal for a currency stabilization program announced by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau yesterday, the British plan nevertheless announces similar objectives, and both are advanced as a basis for discussion.

Lord Keynes calls his proposed mechanism an international clearing union, from which countries in temporary need of funds to finance international trade would borrow, and in which countries with a favorable balance of payments would accumulate credits.

The plan places responsibilities on both creditor and debtor countries to work toward balancing of the world economy.

Lord Keynes describes his proposal as providing the same facilities between nations that a banking system provides within nations. He writes:

"No depositor in a local bank suffers because the balances, which he leaves idle, are employed to finance the war."

CONTINUE TO POUND KISKA

Navy Announces Total of 51 Attacks Since March 1

By The Associated Press

Japan's bleak outpost at Kiska island is becoming little more than a "storm cellar" under the tempest of American bombing assaults, it was indicated today in the navy announced that U. S. warplanes blasted the enemy base five times Monday for a total of 51 attacks since March 1.

Kiska lies in the westernmost Aleutians, off the coast of Alaska.

The raiders also struck at nearby Attu island, the navy said.

In the Solomons, U. S. dive bombers with fighter escort bombed Japanese positions at Bita and started fires, the navy communique added.

Elsewhere in the far Pacific conflict: A new British setback on the Burma front was disclosed today as Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell's legions fell back on the Mayu peninsula, along the Bay of Bengal, to counter a threat by outflanking Japanese troops from the north.

British forces thrusting down the peninsula from India had previously failed in four attempts to crack the powerful Japanese defenses guarding the big coastal base at Akyab.

"Infiltrating across the Mayu river south of Kwazoo, the enemy succeeded over the week-end in mounting a direct threat to our communications in the narrow strip between the hills and the sea north of Donbaik," a British communique said.

"To meet this outflanking movement, necessary readjustments have been made in our positions on the Mayu peninsula."

Official quarters said Gen. Wavell's forces had withdrawn to new positions three miles northwest of the Mayu peninsula, in the Kyau region.

Question Authority Of Department Order

Washington, April 7 (AP)—Republicans raised the question in the house today whether the War Department's ban against soldiers seeking or accepting political office was a violation of the constitution, a move to bar Gen. Donaghe MacArthur as a presidential candidate, and a contribution toward a four term for President Roosevelt.

The order, disclosed yesterday, was issued at the direction of Secretary Stimson.

Rep. Kearney (R-N.Y.) told the house this "disfranchised" American men and women who are fighting to save America, and Rep. Bennett (R-Mo.) commented that it "eliminates MacArthur, while, he said, the Office of War Information is seeking to build up the prestige of Mr. Roosevelt."

Waldrop Presides War Bond Meeting

The Greenville War Finance Committee met at the City Hall this afternoon to perfect plans for selling Victory Bonds in the second and largest bond sale in the history of the world.

John J. Herbert Waldrop, vice-president and cashier of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company, the chairman presided.

"If we all put our shoulders to the wheel and do our part we hope to underwrite Greenville's quota in the early stages of the drive for funds to help to conquer the Axis nations," Waldrop stated.

Barkley Asks For Veto Sustainment

Washington, April 7 (AP)—Majority Leader Barkley told his fellow senators today that if they keep the Bankhead farm parity bill behind the door of the agriculture committee as a club against John L. Lewis, the mine workers, "Mr. Lewis, not congress, may come out with the club."

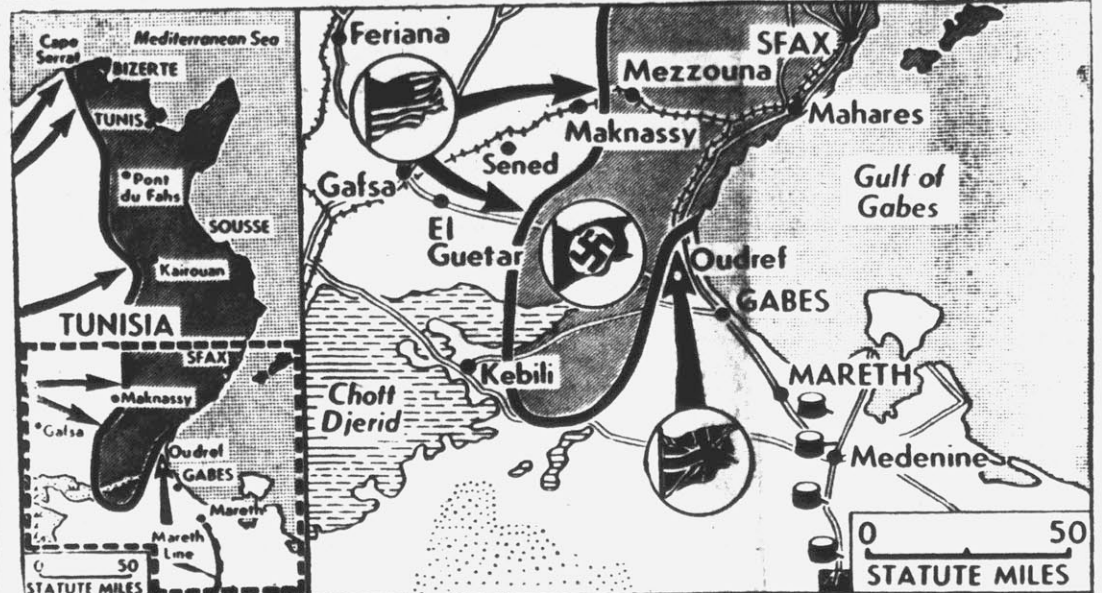

Urging that President Roosevelt's veto of the controverted measure be sustained openly on the senate floor, Barkley declared:

"It has been suggested that the bill should be sent back to committee to be kept behind the door as a club against labor increases, with particular reference to John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers."

"Whatever you may think of John L. Lewis, he's a very able and skillful strategist. I am not so sure that if this bill is to be used as a club, that the club will not be used the other way. Mr. Lewis, instead of in the open to run the gamut in an effort to make a junction with the club."

British Poised For Junction With U. S. Troops

The close-up map at the right indicates the position of the British Eighth Army (arrow) which was poised for another blow at Field Marshal Rommel's troops in an attempt to effect a junction with United States forces (arrows). The relation of this fighting zone to the full Tunisian front is represented by the broken line-boxed area on map at left. The arrows at left indicate the direction of current Allied drives along the entire battlefield (solid line). The shaded area denotes Axis-held territory.

Surprised

Allied headquarters in North Africa, April 7 (AP)—A statement announcing that General Dwight D. Eisenhower had read with surprise a French national committee statement of two days on the postponement of General Charles De Gaulle's visit to North Africa was issued today.

The statement, from Allied headquarters, said:

"General Eisenhower's attention has been called to the communique issued by a spokesman of the French national committee in London relative to the proposed visit of General De Gaulle and other members of the committee to Algiers."

"He has read this communique with surprise. Since the communique was issued in London he has no doubt that a full statement of the circumstances will be made in London."

FAVOR EXCESS PROFITS BILL

Naval Committee Approves Measure by Vote 16 to 10

Washington, April 7 (AP)—Legislators today curbed "excessive" profits realized by commission sales agents for procuring government war contracts, a measure approved by the House Naval Committee today by a 16 to 10 roll call vote.

The action came after a series of public hearings during which several of the agents acknowledged profits running up to millions of dollars on fees ranking in some cases as high as 10 to 20 per cent.

The measure would define sales agents handling war contracts in excess of $25,000 as subcontractors and as such subject them and their earnings to government scrutiny and renegotiation through an existing statute.

Although he voted for the measure, Rep. Lyden Johnson (D-Tex.) expressed belief it did not go far enough and that the committee should take some action to curb the salaries of manufacturers as well as cracking down on "the little fellows."

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) said, however, this measure in particular is aimed at the "five per cent boys" who have been obtaining

Battle Over Spending By War Agencies Looms

Hearings Begin Tomorrow On Appropriations Requests

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

Washington, April 7 (AP)—Financial demands of the vast federal structure of war agencies will be presented to Congress within a few days, and a bitter three front battle is shaping up over the Bureau's records of spending, hiring and regulation.

A House Appropriations subcommittee will begin hearings on the omnibus fiscal bill tomorrow or Friday and it seems certain that its total, representing requests for funds from nearly a score of agencies, will make even the big money bills of last year look like small change.

Included in the group are such sub-staffed agencies as the War Production Board, the Office of Price Administration, the Office of War Information and the Office of Civilian Defense.

Committee chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) disclosed the size of three of the requests which already have been trumpeted up Capitol Hill—Office of Defense Transportation, $14,900,000; Office of Conscription, $29,998,400; and Office of Coordinator for Inter-American Affairs, $33,860,000 in direct appropriations plus $18,000,000 in contract authorization.

In executive session or the next three weeks government officials in charge of the nation's wartime domestic economy—such men as Price Administrator Prentiss Brown, WPB chief Donald Nelson, and War Manpower Commissioner Paul McNutt—will be called upon to justify their estimate on how many millions they will need.

And, from repeated indications in Congressional cloakroom discussions and speeches on the floor of the House and Senate many of the group may encounter sharp criticism and demands for retrenchment of activities deemed by some lawmakers as non-essential to the war effort.

Rep. Taber (R-N.Y.), a ranking minority member of the committee has served notice that he for one would seek curtailment of some projects of the OWI which he has charged with spreading "New Deal propaganda."

The WAR TODAY

AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

General Von Arnim in the north. The Wadi El Akarit was a strong position which Rommel had prepared in advance as a second defense behind the Mareth line. However, this Wadi, or deep valley, is about the last of such natural positions along the central coastal area of Tunisia until you get in the vicinity of the port of Sousse.

While Rommel undoubtedly has prepared positions for just such a contingency, there is no indication that he has any place which approaches the strength of the Wadi which he now has been forced to flee. His army will be compelled to fight more or less in the open coastal plain and to suffer terrific bombing from massed allied warplanes.

One assumes Rommel now will make an effort to race through to Von Arnim before one of the allied columns can cut through to the coast ahead of him and so surround him. In any event the Axis forces in Tunisia are hemmed in without hope of escape.

Dispatches from Madrid said that Spanish correspondents in Berlin, taking their cue from articles appearing in the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, agreed that the Germans are concerned particularly with the possibility of an Allied attack through southeastern Europe.

That there will be no effort to erect such a barrier was emphasized by Assistant Secretary of State Adolf A. Berle, Jr., in a broadcast last Sunday when he said:

"Today the idea of a buffer state is as dead as a dodo."

Buffer states, Berle said, are a relic of the old era of secret diplomacy.

His words were widely interpreted as meaning the United States would not insist on postwar restoration of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania (the Baltic states absorbed by Russia in 1940) or restoration to Poland of eastern areas occupied by Russia in 1939.

In some quarters, however, his assurance was criticized as too narrow to cover the whole range of Russia's postwar security requirements. This view was reflected on the editorial page of the Daily Worker, which frequently follows the Communist line, in an article accusing Berle of advocating the

FLAYS BILL TO CURB UNIONS

Pressman Says Law Would Ban Collective Agreements

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington, April 7 (AP)—Legislation to curb union activities and outlaw the unionization of managerial workers was assailed today by Lee Pressman, general counsel of the CIO, as seeking to make all collective bargaining agreements unlawful.

Pressman was the first witness heard by the House Military Committee in opposition to the legislation, which has been advocated by representatives of war industries.

The CIO lawyer told the committee that the bill, introduced by Representative Smith (D-Va.), basically "expresses the viewpoint that collective bargaining is not a democratic institution and is not encouraged, but rather is an institution that must be destroyed."

The Smith bill, Pressman contended, "is not directed toward achieving the maximum utilization of manpower but is simply and solely a bill to destroy collective bargaining and trade unions."

Pressman said most of the important CIO unions do not accept membership from supervisory employees, but the organization believes "it should be the right of any employee to join with his fellow employees into an organization if he chooses to do so."

"To lay down a flat rule by congress that no supervisory employees may belong to organizations of their own choosing for the purpose of collective bargaining with their employer would simply constitute a fascist dictate which might well be the forerunner to similar legislation for other employees," he asserted.

Pressman also opposed provisions of the Smith bill and other legislation to effect the induction into the armed forces of men who strike or violate other proposed restrictions in time of war.

President Starts Second Loan Drive

Washington, April 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt sent the second war loan drive—this one for $13,000,000,000—to a head start today by selling a $25 war bond to a veteran Negro messenger at the White House and by asking the American People to observe this slogan:

"They give their lives. We lend our money."

The drive opens nationally April 12.

Today's advance ceremony took place on a portico outside Mr. Roosevelt's office, with White House employees gathered around the President and Treasury Secretary Morgenthau. The messenger who got the first bond was John H. Pye, who has been at the White House ever since the Chief Executive has been here that he was Mr. Roosevelt's chauffeur for five years when the President was assistant Secretary of the Navy.

Bulgaria To Resist Invasion By Allies

London, April 7 (AP)—The Berlin radio reported today that a member of the Bulgarian cabinet had declared that Bulgaria would resist any Allied invasion of the Balkans.

The broadcast, heard by the Associated Press, quoted Dimitar Vassilev, minister of public works, as saying that if the Allies attempted landings on Greece, Albania or Dalmatia "Bulgaria would become the theater of war proper" because she would resist.

Dispatches from Madrid said that Spanish correspondents in Berlin, taking their cue from articles appearing in the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, agreed that the Germans are concerned particularly with the possibility of an Allied attack through southeastern Europe.

British Submarines Attack Italian Ships

London, April 7 (AP)—British submarines in the Mediterranean have attacked an Italian cruiser of the Regolo class and torpedoed two tankers and an enemy supply ship, the Admiralty announced today.

It said the attack on the cruiser occurred in the straits of Messina, between Sicily and the Italian mainland, and a heavy explosion was heard but results were not observed.

He Raided Paris

Lieut. Harold W. Whiteman (above), 23, of Atlanta, Ga., was the navigator of the "Fighting Pappy," one of the U. S. Flying Fortresses which raided Paris April 4 to bomb the Renault Motor Works. "We really plastered the target," said the youthful lieutenant when he and his companions returned to their base in England.

Accurate firing U. S. 155 MM. guns earlier had destroyed three heavy German howitzers in that area with direct hits at 16,000 yards—more than nine miles—and Allied planes had smashed a large concentration of Axis tanks.

News of the 8th army's spectacular triumph was disclosed to a

Simultaneously, dispatches from Allied headquarters said the American Second Army corps had lashed out in a heavy attack on the El Guear sector, on the road to the sea.

British infantry, charging with bayonets, seized all key positions in the line in seven and one-half hours of assault, it was announced.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, April 7 (AP)—The British Eighth Army, advancing Akarit defenses, took additional prisoners today and Americans beat down German resistance in pushing in from the west on Marshal Erwin Rommel, it was officially reported from the front.

Rommel's army is now retreating northward and being hotly pursued.

London quarters said the capture of 6,000 more prisoners, along with 8,000 seized in the Mareth line battle 10 days ago, meant that Rommel had lost about 17 per cent of his 80,000-man army, not counting dead and wounded.

(An Allied communique listed the number of prisoners taken at Wadi El Akarit as 5,000.)

Rommel still had a force of perhaps 170,000 troops under Col. Gen. Jurgen Von Arnim in the north, however, to bolster his hard-hit Africa Corps.

The Americans, attacking 40 miles to the west in an effort to link hands with Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's warriors and also to threaten Rommel's rear, launched their new attack.

They tried desperately to dislodge entrenched German forces from their formidable artillery positions and strong lines of machinegun

U. S. Will Not Foster Buffer State Barriers

By WADE WERNER

Former Chief of the Moscow Bureau of the Associated Press

Washington, April 7 (AP)—Convincing Russia there will be no effort to build a barrier of anti-Soviet states across Europe after the war was viewed in diplomatic circles here today as one of the thorniest problems confronting postwar planners.

That there will be no effort to erect such a barrier was emphasized by Assistant Secretary of State Adolf A. Berle, Jr., in a broadcast last Sunday when he said:

"Today the idea of a buffer state is as dead as a dodo."

Recently Married

Mrs. Kenneth S. Butler has announced the marriage of her sister, Dorothy G. Sullivan, formerly of Oshkosh, Wis., but now residing in Tucson, Ariz., to Staff Sgt. West B. Owens, now stationed in Tucson. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Albert Chappa of Berlin, Wis.

Sgt. Owens is the son of G. P. Owens and the late Mollie E. Owens of Fountain, N. C., and the brother of Mrs. John W. Timbelcke and W. F. Owens of this city. Prior to Sgt. Owens' induction into the armed forces on February 16, 1942, he was associated with The Dollar Studios, of Durham, N. C., in which he traveled extensively throughout the northwestern states as photographer.

The ceremony uniting the couple was performed by Chaplain George M. Gerner, March 12 at the base chapel of Davis-Monthan air base. The bride was attired in a period white satin gown, trimmed with inserts of Spanish lace in the yoke and the shoulders of leg-o-mutton sleeves which tapered to points at the wrists. Lace inserts also accented the long train with satin appliqued flowers. The bride wore a single strand of pearls. Her fingertip-length veil fell from a silver and pearl beaded Juliet cap, caught with clusters of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white baby calla lilies and a Spanish lace handkerchief. Thomas Glantz, a friend of the couple, gave the bride in marriage.

Attending the bride was Miss Betty Utzman, attired in a French blue taffeta gown, with inserts of lace and beads and she carried a bouquet of baby pink carnations. Sgt. Kenneth Powell of Las Vegas, Nev., was best man. Mrs. Isola Brooks, a friend of the bride, was vocalist and sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" at the close of the ceremony. Sgt. Herbert Brooks played the organ accompaniment.

Forty-One Book Club Meets The Forty-One Book Club held a most enjoyable meeting on Tuesday, April 6, at the home of Mrs. Charles Wilkerson.

Mrs. Ollie Van Nortwick, who was in charge of the program, graciously presented Mr. A. L. Dittmer of the college faculty. Mr. Dittmer, in an interesting and informal manner, discussed with the club members the appreciation of music. His talk centered around four thoughts:

- 1. A person does not have to know music to appreciate it.
2. Music cannot be classified as good or bad; it has appeal or it does not.
3. Music is an art which appeals to the esthetic senses.
4. Music is an expression of some inner feeling experienced by the composer.

Mr. Dittmer played the following record selections: 1st movement to Symphony in D Minor by Caspar Franck; Dans Macabre by Saint-Saens; and Sorcerer's Apprentice by Dukas.

He concluded his talk with this statement: "The only reason why we have art is because of someone's strong feeling about something which he wishes to share with others."

The president, Mrs. R. H. Evans, then presided over a business meeting after which the hostess, assisted by Mrs. George Wilkerson, served a desert course. Mrs. Lindsey Wilkerson was a welcome guest for the afternoon.

WAACs Coming Here To Recruit By CHESTER WALSH The WAACs are coming! They'll be in Greenville next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. They will be stationed at the postoffice. They will recruit members for the Woman's Army Auxiliary Corps.

Lieut. Olga B. Taylor of California, Lieut. Jane Sewell of Texas, Sernt. Mike Lis of Pennsylvania, and Auxiliaries Elvira Jaramillo of California and Claire Johns of Minnesota will perform the task of interesting the women of Greenville and Pitt County in the grand opportunity of serving Uncle Sam during the war and releasing men for duty on the battlefronts.

The WAACs made a fine impression here. Mayor Bruce Sugg and Bank President W. H. Woolard, after seeing the natty officers, said, "All of the men in the county would join if these fine women commanded them."

Incidentally, the men of Greenville are interested in seeing that the WAAC recruiting officers get a lot of members enrolled. "When the men here get behind something, it moves along progressively," said a dignified matron who is approaching the span of life at three-score and ten.

Full information on the various features and inducements offered by the WAACs for women desiring to enlist may be obtained at the recruiting station in the lobby of the Greenville postoffice next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Lieut. Taylor and Lieut. Jane Sewell of Texas were in the city today completing details for the WAAC recruiting campaign here next week. Sergeant Mike Lis and Auxiliaries Jaramillo and Johns were also here checking arrangements.

"California, Texas and Minnesota produce wonderful women. They show to wonderful advantage in WAAC uniforms, but just wait 'til you see some of our Pitt County women in WAAC uniforms," a newspaperman said today after serving as guide for two WAAC officers in the city today.

NO EXTRA CASH NEEDED IN PLAN

Says U. S. Could Transfer Stabilization Fund

By GEORGE CULLEN

Washington, April 7 (AP)— It apparently would cost this government nothing extra to participate in a postwar gold currency stabilization program evolved by the U. S. Treasury.

The program, which has been submitted to 37 nations for discussion, calls for a $5,000,000,000 stabilization fund to which Secretary Morgenthau says the United States would contribute about $2,000,000,000 or 40 per cent. Other nations would contribute proportionately under a specified formula.

The Treasury now holds a $2,000,000,000 domestic stabilization fund which has been in operation for nine years. Should the international agency be established, it is believed the treasury could simply switch this fund to the new world pool, thus providing the United States' share without the necessity of extra financing.

With the projected international fund operating to stabilize currencies, treasury officials said, the need for continuance of exchange control by individual countries would be almost entirely removed. The domestic stabilization act expires on June 30 but Morgenthau is expected to ask Congress to continue it another two years.

Although some department attorneys believe the secretary has authority under existing law to enter into the international arrangement, Morgenthau told reporters he had no intention of acting without legislative sanction.

Greenville Man Is Released on Bond

By CHESTER WALSH

Walter Lee Dail, driver of a tank truck for the Quality Eastern Oil Company of this city, who is charged with involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of five persons as a result of a collision between his truck and a car driven by Mrs. Emma Baysden on March 29 near Richlands, was released from custody yesterday on bail, Judge Albion Dunn, counsel for the oil company, stated today.

The collision occurred at the junction of the Kinston-Kenansville highway, several miles from Richlands. Testimony at an inquest before Coroner G. W. Jones of Onslow county at Jacksonville indicated that the car was on the left side of the road when the collision occurred.

Dail will be tried in Onslow Superior Court at Jacksonville May 31. He is charged with the death of Mrs. Emma Baysden and Mrs. Cagle Houston and three children, Harold and Charles Baysden and Roburn Houston, occupants of the car.

New OPA Ruling For Retailers Of Food

"After April 10 no retailer may transfer or acquire foods unless he has registered" is the official news from the Office of Price Administration in regards to registration of retailers.

Form R-1302 is the registration form, two copies of which were mailed to every retail dealer in the county. These forms must be completed and filed at the Pitt County War Price and Ration Board on or before April 10.

Dealers who have canned goods and surrendered points for them during March must bring their invoices to the Board at the time of registration.

Germans Executed. Stockholm, April 7 (AP)— Unconfirmed reports in Stockholm today said that 40 Germans had been executed in Berlin for criticizing and speaking ill of leading Nazi personalities.

The Swedish newspaper Aftonbladet reported from Berlin that 40 Germans had been tried by a special court in Berlin and received heavy sentences.

Public Backs Up Police About Dogs

By CHESTER WALSH

Dogs running at large in the city are a public nuisance; they are damaging spring flower and vegetable gardens; they are turning over garbage cans on other premises; they are gamboling like lambs in the springtime to the embarrassment of passers by; they revert to Jack London's "Call of the Wild," and become wild again, barking and howling in the early morning in competition "with the birds and the bees when the first glint of golden sunrise comes over the eastern horizon."

One woman, a lover of flowers and a nature lover, when "nature is natural," said in exasperation and anger today, "The Lord made the world in seven days, but a stray dog can destroy a garden with his two hind legs in two minutes flat."

Incidentally, a city ordinance provides a fine of $10 and costs for any owner of a dog to allow the canine to run at large. The law provides that the police may take up any dog at large, impound the animal, feed it and hold it three days, and then dispose of it.

If the owner claims his missing pet, he or she will be hailed to court and be fined for breaking the law.

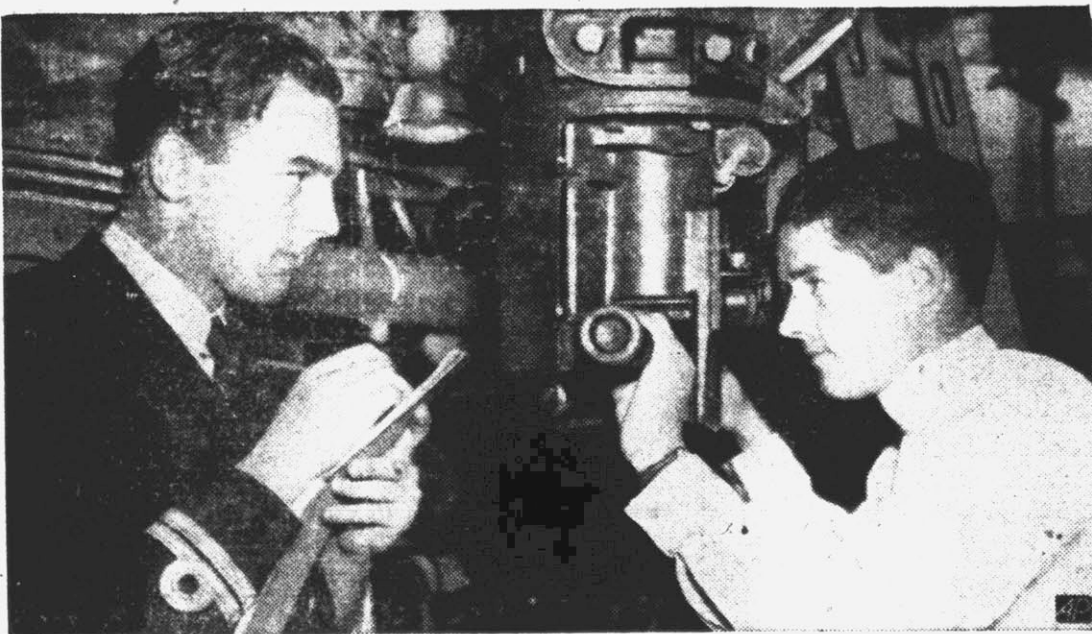

If the owner of a dog fails to claim it at the end of three days, then the police may kill the dog or turn it over to any person who will pay the fine and for the cost of feeding the canine.

A member of the "War Cabinet," (that's the group that spends time in front of Hotel Proctor solving the world's problems) drew a ripple of smiles and favorable comments when he said to the crowd, "If you like dogs and own one, you keep him at home!"

Greenville is noted for its attractive gardens in front and back yards in the spring. The police department's enforcement of the dog-at-large law is meeting with popular approval.

Stocks During Past 3 Months Climb to June 1940 Level

The rise in the New York Stock Exchange the past three months has carried prices back close to the levels before the fall of France in June 1940, this chart shows. The steady rise since May of 1942, analysts point out, makes the chart pattern similar to the recovery move of 1935, although many see warnings in declining corporation earnings after taxes.

Chapter Buys Braces For Colored Girl

J. H. Rose, chairman of the Pitt county chapter of the National Foundation to Combat Infantile Paralysis announced today that the chapter had paid for double leg braces for Hattie Lee Moore, a Negro girl, Route 2, Ayden.

This Negro girl is a victim of infantile paralysis and has been in the orthopedic hospital at Gastonia for several months. The hospital requested the Department of Public Welfare of Pitt county to buy these braces for this infantile paralysis victim. The Department of Public Welfare sent its request over to the Pitt county chapter of the Foundation. These braces cost $85.10.

The incident is one illustration of the use to which the money received in the infantile paralysis drive is being put locally to benefit Pitt county children.

Asks Users To Shop With Certificates

To relieve banks from the pressure of handling an excessive number of ration currency accounts, OPA has instructed local War Price and Rationing Boards to encourage small restaurants, hotels, and other small institutional users to shop with ration certificates instead of ration checks. T. S. Johnson, state director said today.

"As a temporary measure to lessen the strain on North Carolina banks, OPA has authorized local boards to issue up to six certificates to an institutional user for his use in buying each rationed food commodity during the allotment period. The number of certificates issued to any individual will add up to the user's total point allotment for the period.

"Since many small institutional users may buy only very limited quantities of rationed foods at one time, the complete cooperation of the supplier and the buyer is necessary. In many cases, the customer may want to spend some of the points from his certificate and leave the balance on deposit with the supplier to be taken out in trade at later date."

"Suppliers will contribute materially to the success of the ration banking plan by allowing institutional users to spend their certificates in this way until such time as a new and permanent system goes into effect," he added.

Ignition key in your pocket—ACID locked in your engine

YOU CAN'T "pull the cork" to clear out every cylinder after pocketing that key. A chemical mixture always lingers on inside. The corner druggist—with no axe to grind—would tell you that the cylinders hold the acid products of combustion... the makings of corrosion.

Heretofore you didn't have all that worry, when the worst acid was chased out again and again, by repeated driving and continued speed that heated the engine thoroughly. Now however, when you are counting every coupon, how long will it be till you next use your car and drive it far enough to make the engine stay real warm? Meanwhile, with acid in your one and only engine, as it stands for long stretches, you'd better take the precaution of having its insides OIL-PLATED by changing to Conoco Nth motor oil this Spring.

OIL-PLATING is really a close cousin of platings you see every day retarding corrosion. Corroded metal is "rotting," and that's what Conoco Nth oil helps to prevent, by making OIL-PLATING come between acids and inner engine surfaces.

Conoco Nth—at a popular price—includes the costly synthetic that's able to insert OIL-PLATING in your engine. Unlike mere liquid lubrication, ready to drain back down to the crankcase promptly, OIL-PLATING tends to stay at its topmost point in your inactive engine, keeping up strong interference against acid attack on costly inner parts that can't always be replaced these days. The simple key to OIL-PLATING is Conoco Nth oil for your needed Spring change—at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station today. Continental Oil Company

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS
WHAT IS VICTORY?

We talk a lot about victory today, but few people seem to know the meaning of the word.

They say that victory means cleaning up the Germans and the Japs, and certainly we would all agree that and until that occurs, victory is not possible. But we can do all that and still not have victory, and that for the simple reason that victory is a spiritual thing. It lives in men's hearts. It consists in a lot more than winning a battle. The matter of greatest importance is what the battle does to us. Victory is the result not of what we achieve over certain persons and circumstances but of the change which takes place in us as the result of the struggle.

Our Army and Navy are engaged today in a great potting expedition. A group of men have persuaded, deluded, or bludgeoned their associates into conformity with their criminal plans, and international anarchy has resulted. The disorder must be quelled and the leaders of the riot punished. But after this is done, victory is still a long distance away. Germany, Japan, and Italy may be crushed but there will never be victory until those who have crushed and those who have been crushed have learned valuable lessons from their experience.

We may have to wait a generation to know whether we have been victorious or not. We will be victorious only if the struggle has made more precious to us the things we are striving to protect.

FOR THIRTY PIECES OF SILVER

A letter from members of the 750th Tank Battalion, Company A, at Fort Knox, Kentucky, to workers who recently struck in a war industry, said in part:

"We feel deeply hurt to think you would let the boys overseas down. Just what do you think would happen to this country if the boys overseas would sit down, and quit fighting, because they just make $50 a month? We need more fighting equipment. What do you Americans want? More money now and slavery later, or less money and freedom? Just think how some of your sons and brothers over there would feel if they knew how you were selling them out, and that's what you are doing when you stop production."

There is a Bible story of a sell-out for 30 pieces of silver. Read it.

NO TIME FOR LOAFING

Secretary of State Thad Eure has sent out a call to all law enforcement officers in the state urging compliance with a resolution by the recent legislature that all vagrants immediately be arrested and hauled into court. The legislature acted wisely in taking such action and every city and county in the state should comply.

In times like these when there is a manpower shortage in all lines of work there is no excuse for any able bodied person to be walking about without a job. Our whole effort is needed if we are to win the war and persons who are not willing to work should be dealt with by the courts.

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

Washington—Any day now, the government will announce its wartime policy for civilian vacations. It probably will be a composite of best wishes from the Office of Defense Transportation, the War Production Board, the War Manpower Commission, the Rubber Administrator, the Petroleum Administrator, and the Office of Price Administration.

If I knew the exact wording I would be psychic, because it hasn't been written yet. But I can give you a nutshell version. It's going to be "Hang your clothes on a hickory limb, but don't go near the water."

In other words: Take a vacation, folks. You need it. You deserve it. It will be both an antidote and preventive medicine for war nerves. It'll zoom your morale. By all means, take a vacation—but don't go anywhere.

If the country's 130,000,000 cleave to the government's wartime policy, there will be more "wish-you-were-here" postcards sent from backyards and on-the-trolley-and-bus-line golf courses than ever before. If they don't cleave, look out for the ax on all vacation travel. As a matter of fact, no matter what the government's hopes and wishes are, due to car driving and rail travel restrictions, stay-at-home vacations are going to be a necessity almost everywhere.

The American Automobile Association has been seeking a clarification of 1943 vacation policies and it is pretty positive now that there will be no relaxation of present automobile mileage controls. On the other hand, it is likely that OPA rationing regulations will be revised to prohibit any gasoline beyond that provided in the "A" books for vacation driving anywhere. This could be done by prohibiting the holders of other than "A" cards from purchasing any gasoline anywhere outside of their own residence areas.

So much for automobile travel. Train and bus passenger accommodations already are taxed almost to the limit and if it were to be rationed, start any stampede on those forms of travel. ODT Chief Joseph B. Eastman already has warned that rationing will result, and there won't be any pleasure junketing in that ration book either.

According to the A. A. A. hardest hit by the vacation-at-home policy will be the hotels and vacation centers, especially those remote from large cities, and the owners of seashore or mountain cabins which are farther than the gasoline limits from home.

On the other hand, the Coney Islands, Venices, and so forth of the nation probably will have a boom summer.

The Japanese adopted western games such as track and field, baseball, basketball and tennis as early as 1883.

Just as the development of national banking systems served to offset a deflationist pressure which would have prevented otherwise the development of modern industry, so by extending the same principle into the international field we may hope to offset the contractionist pressure which might otherwise overwhelm in social disorder and disappointments the good hopes of our modern world.

Lord Keynes' plan makes no fixed proposal for the amount of gold or capital which the union would have, while the U. S. treasury proposes $5,000,000,000.

He suggests each United Nation be given fixed quotas as to the amount of borrowing which they may do, based on their average trade balances over a period of time, and rather flexible quotas as to the amount of credit they may accumulate.

He proposes transactions between the nations operating in the union be in terms of a new currency to be called "bancon," its value fixed "but not unalterably so" in terms of gold, and accepted as the equivalent of gold.

opening of a second front in the Balkans, instead of western Europe, with the idea of using American troops to erect "hostile" Fascist states led by men like Darlan on the borders of the Soviet Union.

On the other hand, Berle's flat statement that the buffer state is a thing of the past, "dead as a doornail," aroused perturbation among representatives of some of the smaller European states who asked what was to become of them.

They drew attention to a dictionary definition of the buffer state as "a country or state, for example Switzerland, which intervenes geographically between larger states and lessens the danger of rupture from immediate contact of their unfriendly elements."

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Fighter Plane Equipment
When a lightning fighter plane catapults from the deck of an American cruiser or other War Ship, it is evidence that your War Bonds have borne fruit in providing the necessary equipment. Catapult equipment for a cruiser costs $27,000.

Fighter plane protection for our Navy is essential in modern warfare. Our Navy heroes must have this protection. We can help give it to them by our purchase of War Bonds and other Government Securities. They give their lives—you lend your money.

HORSE PRAIRIE BY CLEM COLT

YESTERDAY: Tubac Jones, squatting on the Holeman grant, is warned by the Stampede Hog and Cattle Co. that he'll run into trouble if he doesn't get off. Tubac, who knows his legal rights, tells the shady syndicate he intends to see the trouble through.

Chapter 2
There was a steely glint in Tubac Jones' eyes and he banged the desk with a big-knuckled fist. "Don't anybody get any hangin' ideas that ain't afraid of gettin' hurt himself. I come into this hog waller gentle as Mary's lamb. I've known about this Holeman grant; six years I been watchin' that grass come belly-high to a full grown boss, an' nary one boss to eat it! So I says, by jinks, I'll fall heir to that place, an' over I come without a care in the world—"

"If gall was dollars—" "Never mind antagonizin' me—I'm plumb filed up a ready-an' good reason fer bein' so! No sooner do I get settled cozy than up comes this range-hoggin' Deckerman an' starts throwin' cattle onto my graze like a country kid heavin' curn to a grist mill."

"You hadn't no right to go stringin' fence—"

"Who says so?" Jones glowered at Haines with such intensity the banker made haste to put the desk between them. "Who says so? I got a sight more right on that grant than Deckerman—or anyone else if it comes to that!"

"That's a lie!" Deckerman surged forward angrily doubling his fists. "The Stampede Hog—"

"I'll stampede your hogs if you don't git the dang critters off'n it!" Jones blared. "You're so good at servin' warnin'—here one you can play on your mouth harp: Startin' tomorrow mornin' I aim to salivate any stray stock I catch on the place! Go smoke that with your chawin' terbacca!"

They were all on their feet now, glaring, hands fisted, hate and turbulence savaging their cheeks, when the door was flung open and a scar-faced man strode in silently and shut the door.

"Ike!" Banker Haines shrieked squeakily: "I demand you arrest this man immediately! This instant!"

The newcomer looked at Jones mildly. "What's the charge?" "Charge! Great jugs to Bacchus! Did you say what charge?"

Lot Deckerman said: "You get him under lock an' key. We'll figger out the charges later—"

But Haines had dragged a pistol from his pocket and, bolstered by the sheriff's presence, was waving it wildly in the direction of Jones! Put 'em on 'em, I say! Right now, if you want this bank to back your election! I'll give you all the charges you want—illegal entry, threats an' intimidation!"

"Just a minute," the sheriff said. "Let's take this in order. Now, illegal entry—"

"Never mind that," Lot Deckerman growled. "You've got a surefire case on fraudulent possession. He's squattin' on the Holeman grant, he refuses to budge an' he's threatened to kill off stock owned by my company."

Jones gave the Stampede boss a look of contempt then turned to the sheriff. "If you expect to hold down your office much longer you better not back no hand like that. I've filed due claim on the Holeman grant; an' what's more I got possession, to boot. This range hog ain't got a leg to stand on, Sheriff."

"That's a stunkin' lie!" the banker shouted. "I say it's a lie! The Holeman grant is a property held in trust by this bank for the lawful heirs of Sam Holeman—as you should know, Sheriff! In the interests of the aforesaid heirs this bank has been leasing the property to the Stampede Hog an' Cattle—"

"Since when?" Jones jeered. "For the last six years?" "For the last six years?" Jones' mouth dropped open and he stared at the banker through a startled silence. Then his jaw snapped shut and he said through his clenched teeth: "If that's the truth why ain't it aint'ratix with all persons holding

Russian Front As Reds Describe It

The dotted line on this map traces the Russian front as it now stands as described in an official war map published in Moscow Saturday (April 3). The shaded area indicates the territory retaken by the Red Army from the point of farthest German penetration occurring in both 1941 and 1942.

General Pierre Boisson (above) of French West Africa has said his territory is ready to furnish the Allies 100,000 trained Senegalese troops and a reserve of 200,000 more if equipment and leadership is provided.

Harris Getting Kick Out Of Phillies Managership

Thrill Might Be Attributed To A Number Of Things

Hershey, Pa., April 7 (AP)—This probably sounds like a guy cheering the arrival of his mother-in-law but Stanley R. Harris is getting "a terrific kick" out of managing the Phillies.

It could be that Bucky's thrill comes from the knowledge that he definitely has escaped from Bobo Newsom, because at his request, Bill Cox, the Phils' new owner, turned thumbs down when Branch Rickey wanted to trade him the big wind from Hartsville, S. C. Bucky Harris admits that when Bobo could pitch, there was at least a reason to put up with him, "but now that he can't pitch much any more, well..."

Or it could be that the bang Bucky gets comes from getting away from the Washington Senators, which could hardly be called a manager's garden of Eden, with or without apple trees. Yet, jumping from the Nats to the Phillies would appear to be something like making a choice between wearing tight shoes or just having your toes pinched with a pair of pliers.

"Don't kid yourself," Bucky replies to this. "Nothing much has changed down at Washington this spring. It's still the same old thing—which is no situation to start with."

"That's the reason I'm getting such a bang out of this new job here. This is strictly a 'new faces' show. I have a chance to build a ball club from the group up under Mr. Cox, who is a hustling young executive. I'm having pretty much my way in how to put the team together and in tabbing players I'd like to have in trade."

"Of course, we still need a more than we have, but no one can say the Phils aren't improved. We're rid of some players who couldn't help us, and we've added some who are going to do us a lot of good. And we have several promising youngsters, particularly those young pitchers, Al Gerbeuser and Jack Puchs, the southpaw, and Charlie Krich, the right-hander from Detroit."

Bucky won't make any predictions, but at least he has a collection of ball players with more get-up-and-go than the Phils have shown in a long piece. That, alone, ought to boost them a little over their 42-games-won record of last year.

Bucky realizes he still needs a whole lot more than just a smile and best wishes to bake his cake. That's why the wires into this town built on chocolate bars have been buzzing with trade talk ever since the Phils opened camp.

"We have something on the fire right now," Bucky admits. "You can see we need another infielder in a hurry. We only have four in camp—Babe Dahlgren on first, Danny Murtaugh on second, Garton Del Savio (on waivers from Cincinnati) at short and Merrill May on third. And we'll probably need some more pitchers than the nine we have here now."

In 1942, the game birds and animals caught by sportsmen provided about 253 million pounds of usable meat.

Training Camp Briefs

Lakewood, N. J., April 7—(AP)—Dick Bartell, veteran infielder who may be the New York Giant third baseman if Sid Gordon passes his physical draft examination, has gone to New York City for treatment of an ailing arm.

Bartell's throwing arm has troubled him in recent weeks and Manager Mel Ott wants to know the reason why, now that Gordon may be called up.

Indianapolis—Hard luck is pursuing pitcher Bill Brandt of the Pittsburgh Pirates. He twisted his left knee in a basketball game during the Pirates' first week of drills and yesterday a line drive off the bat of Maurice Van Robays struck him above the right knee. The Bucs remained here over night and will try for their third in a row against Cleveland today.

Bloomington, Ind.—Johnny (double no-hit) Vander Meer will hurl the first five innings of Cincinnati's clash today against the Indianapolis Indians of the American Association. Fireman Joe Beggs also is slated for an appearance.

Brooklyn—A majority of the Brooklyn Dodgers went to New Haven, Conn., today and a contest with the Yale nine of Red Rolfe. The remainder, however, appeared at Ebbets Field for a brief workout in the sliding pits.

French Lick, Ind.—Orval Grove, Gordon Maltzberger and Floyd Speer will pitch for the Chicago White Sox today in the club's informal game with the Chicago Cubs. Maltzberger and Speer are rookies while Manager Jimmy Dykes is sending Grove to the mound to see if he has fully recovered from a knee operation.

Baltimore—Most of his friends laughed when he said he'd do it but Al Simmons, who will be 40 next month, has virtually clinched a Boston Red Sox outfield berth. Rookie Tom McBride and veteran Pete Fox will flank the centerfield veteran.

The Sockers wind up their Baltimore stay today with Oscar Judd and Lefty Olsen picked to twirl against the minor leaguers.

French Lick, Ind.—Although Chicago Cub Manager Jimmy Wilson got a lot of satisfaction out of defeating Cincinnati, 7 to 2, yesterday he got the most pleasure out of the hitting displayed by catcher Chico Hernandez. With regular catcher Clyde McCullough continuing his holdout, Hernandez and the veteran Al Todd loom as the Cubs'

They're In The Navy Now

Asbury Park, N. J.—The New York Yankees go to Newark today for their third meeting with their International League farmhands. It will be the rubber game between the two teams and the contest has created so much excitement the schools are being dismissed in the afternoon.

Wallington, Conn.—Now that it is time for Casey Stengel to name the lineup for his Boston Braves, he has discovered that only regular-center fielder Tommy Holmes—of last season will be playing the same position this year. Virtually his only other tested regular is Eddie Joost, shortstop, but he was with Cincinnati in 1942.

Cairo, Ill.—Manager Billy Southworth expresses no concern about the back injury which took his star pitcher, Mort Cooper, back to St. Louis for medical examinations. He still counts on using the big St. Louis Card righthander against the Browns in the first seven exhibition games between the two clubs on Saturday.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, April 7—(AP)—Horse race bettors who have been enjoying an enforced vacation for a few days will have a fresh lot of horses to put their money on when the eastern season opens tomorrow. Most of the southern favorites haven't reached Jamaica yet, and Narragansett, which opens Saturday, has only about half as many nags as usual. The reason—transportation. Shanty Hogan will manage the ball team and rabbit Maranville will coach at the Fore River, Mass. shipyard where they're both working. And between them, they'll probably drown out all the riveters. Al Buck is back covering the fight and boss race beats for the N. Y. post after being discharged from the army because of age.

No. 1 Fan
One reason why all good ball players seem to wind up at the Norfolk Naval Station is Capt. H. A. McClure, commanding officer at the base. He's the only non-player allowed to sit on the bench; he's the first one to congratulate anyone who socks a home and the other day when Dom Dimaggio tumbled over the fence chasing a fly, the captain jumped into the nearest car and whizzed out to see if he was hurt.

Shorts and Shells

The Dodgers recently asked the Connecticut interscholastic athletic conference for a list of high school coaches they could contact for names of boys eligible for a summer training camp. The conference turned down the request. Arturo Godoy is all set to come to the United States after he fights Fernando Menchelli in Santiago, Chile April 24. That Louisville company that makes the bats for big league baseballers is turning out a side line of policemen's billes. Maybe the cops could use a few. Young T. Stripling, son of the former boxer, is a promising sprinter at a Macon, Ga., high school. French Bordagaray, who once wowed the Dodgers with his whiskers, will be one of the "battling beavers" who play against them bums in a movie that's being shot at Ebbets field.

Today's Guest Star

Henry Vance, Birmingham (Ala.) age-herald: "Any ball player who has 12 kids, Lumbago and a couple of arches on the verge of falling will be pretty much in demand. Bill McKechnie, Sr., may be calling the venerable Ray Starr 'kid' before they ever find out who is to be queen of the May this year."

Blank Night

Colleague Lou Black reports that a New Haven, Conn., movie theater put on a boxing card on the stage one night to plug a fight picture and turned the customers away. But when boxing was revived in the New Haven arena a short time later after a six months lapse, the fans stayed away in droves. Now the fight promoters are wondering whether to book a movie with the next card.

Service Department

Tommy Loughran is touting Phil De Angelis, one of the physical training instructors at the Parris Island, S. C. marine base, as a coming welterweight champion. Report from St. Louis is that ex-cardinal Terry Moore is due to be elevated to a Lieutenantancy when he gets back to Panama. Lieut. Joel Hunt, former Georgia and Wyoming grid coach and Cardinal farm hand, as been transferred from Gowanus Field, Idaho, to Topeka, Kas., army air base where a big baseball program is planned. Although the Fort Sill, Okla., artillerymen cleaned up in the state amateur boxing tournament, which was held right on the post, the four-night tourney drew only about 2,000 spectators a night at 50 cents ahead. Lieut. Larry Louge, former Dartmouth athlete now a ski trooper at Camp Hale, Colo., reports that if they're still up there after the snow leaves a lot of the boys are planning to pan for gold. The mountains thereabouts are pock-marked with old diggings.

Too Big For Armed Forces

Paul McDonald, 26-year-old Hf guard who steps on the scales at Miami Beach to let Elizabeth Tucker take note of his 240 pounds, can't get into the army, the navy or the marines because of his height—six feet, 7 1/2 inches. But a Hollywood movie studio is looking for a big fellow with a 4-F classification to play the role of Ursus in "Quo Vadis," and so gave McDonald an invitation to take a screen test.

Grain Market

Chicago, April 7—(AP)—An easy undercurrent prevailed in grains today, although earlier losses in most pits were partly canceled before the close. Further selling on indications that the Bankhead bill would not be passed by the senate over the President's veto depressed prices. A feature of the trade was a decline in September corn contracts to $1.04, shortly after the opening. A later rally sent the price back to $1.05, the ceiling and considerable trading took place at and slightly under that level. At the close wheat was 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, May $1.44, July $1.43 3/4, corn was unchanged at $1.05, oats were 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher and rye was unchanged to 1/4 higher.

Navy Recruiter On Duty This Section

Chief L. B. Scruggs will open a Navy recruiting station at Snow Hill Thursday and Friday. He will be at Ayden on Saturday. The recruiting office was in Farmville yesterday and today. Men and women interested in enlisting in the Navy are invited to meet him for an interview. Any boy 18 years old and of sound health may join. Many women are needed in the Navy. Asks Observance Of Anniversary

Raleigh, April 7—(AP)—Governor Broughton has asked North Carolinians to observe April 13 as the 200th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson. In a statement issued yesterday the governor said that Jefferson, the author of the Declaration of Independence, "more than any of the fathers, set the new republic upon the road to the character of government which has become the example to all liberty loving people of all eras. North Carolinians need no urging to make this anniversary a day of new dedication to freedom and peace."

Churchill Approves Eisenhower Request

London, April 7—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill said in the House of Commons today he was in full accord to Gen. Charles De Gaulle to delay his proposed trip to North Africa. The fighting French leader delayed his trip for conferences with Gen. Henri Giraud, high commissioner in French north and west Africa, at Eisenhower's request. Gen. Charles Catroux, liaison officer between De Gaulle and Giraud, is already in North Africa, and De Gaulle has been expected to follow early this week. It was generally believed the active military situation, with American and British armies in pursuit of Axis Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces in Tunisia had made it difficult for the allied commander-in-chief to devote time to political discussions. Records of the Canadian census in 1941 have been photographed on film in a manner similar to that used for "V-mail". Some of the parts of a torpedo must be accurate within a limit of 25 millionths of an inch.

Copper And Brass Urgently Needed

Charlotte, N. C., April 6—A "Victory Call" for copper, brass and bronze scrap — three badly needed war metals — was made today throughout the Carolinas by the industrial-special projects salvage branch of the War Production Board. Citing the acute shortage of these metals, English B. Deschamps, Jr., district salvage head, wrote industrial plant salvage managers: "You will make a definite contribution to Victory if you personally see to it that all idle, unusable brass, copper and bronze scrap and other waste materials are immediately channelled back into war production. Our supply of copper is not adequate and never will be so long as the war lasts. Scour your plants for every ounce of dormant scrap lying on the home front when it should be fighting on the battle front." Volunteer industrial salvage committee chairmen in each county in the Carolinas are asked to assist in the "Victory Call" by calling a meeting of all plant salvage managers in their area and requesting their full cooperation.

To Inaugurate New Training Program

By HAROLD TAYLOR Official information regarding the Navy College Training Program has been received by the ECTC boys in classes V-1 and V-7 in the Naval Reserve. The new Navy College Training Program will be inaugurated students enlisted in the Naval Reserve will be ordered to active duty as Apprentice Seamen under this program on or about July 1, with pay, subsistence and uniforms. They will be assigned to colleges with which the Navy will have contracts for further training. Class V-1 and V-7 students will initially be assigned to training on the basis of their present or indicated major field of concentration and the needs of the service. The present class V-7 students who, as of July 1, 1943, have one term or less to complete in order to meet the requirements for a bachelors degree may, if they desire, remain on inactive duty at the college in which they are now enrolled. The Navy will enter into contracts with selected colleges and universities for the training, housing, feeding and medical service of its students. Colleges are selected by joint committee consisting of representatives of the Armed Forces and the War Manpower Commission. The list of colleges with which the Navy will have contracts in connection with the Program has not been announced yet. Students who are able to carry elective courses in addition to their Navy Curriculum may do so provided the extra work does not interfere with their proper performance of assigned duties. Under similar conditions they will be allowed to participate in college athletics or other extra-curricular activities. Navy students may, at their own personal expense, join all previously established college organizations and fraternities which are available to all students on the same terms. The discipline standards of the Navy will be maintained. Pitt county boys in the Reserve are W. B. Harris and James Worsley of Greenville, Samuel Craudell of Stokes and Max Tucker of Bethel. In all there are twenty ECTC boys in the Naval Reserve.

Labor Assured For Strawberry Crop

Raleigh, April 7—(AP)—An adequate labor supply to harvest the state's strawberry crop, which will begin ripening around April 20, appeared assured today. Governor Broughton said yesterday that arrangements had been worked out to obtain the necessary labor. He made the statement after a conference with Harry B. Caldwell and Dr. J. S. Dorton, farm manpower leaders in North Carolina, and said he was not at liberty to disclose the plans. The governor said 1,000 to 1,500 laborers would be required to pick the strawberries during the harvesting season of about six weeks.

(Continued From Page One) "unconscionable" profits. "Under this statute," he added, "We may not get all of them, but we'll do the best we can." The action represented the naval committee's second attempt to restrict the profits of what the Navy Department has termed "war brokers." The committee last year recommended and the House passed a bill which would outlaw all commission or contingent fees on all government contracts. That measure, however, was pigeon-holed by the Senate Naval Committee on the grounds that it was too broad.

Wavell at that time was preparing to retire to more favorable positions to await the flooding monsoon rains. In the southwest Pacific, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced that Allied forces bombed Japanese-occupied villages in the Aro Islands, enemy's closest foothold to Australia, and set big fires in the Japanese base at Salamaua, New Guinea. United Nations airmen also raked the enemy at Aititi, in the Tanibar Island, and at Gasmatia, New Britain.

Rommel . . .

(Continued From Page One) The Americans attacked in a new sector, nine miles north of Maknassy, and first were reported to have driven to the mouth of Matzila Pass and then to have mopped up the Germans remaining on the dominant heights. (At last reports, the Americans in that sector were only 28 miles from Rommel's coastal road.) The Allied air war kept pace with every ounce of dormant scrap lying on the home front when it should be fighting on the battle front. The enemy held two hills, the Djebel Tebeza Fatassa and Djebel El Roumana, about two miles apart and inland from the coastal highway. These were the only high ground in the battle area and the British riflemen attacked them under a blazing counterfire. By 6 a. m. both hills were in British hands. Half an hour later the enemy tried to retake them but met a bloody repulse. By 6:30 a. m. all organized opposition in the area had ceased. There was no official information on how far the British had progressed after that, but the desert is flat for 30 miles to the north and afforded little opportunity for Rommel to stop and give battle.
