Russians Beat Back Nazi Attacks In Caucasus Area

Two American Spearheads Join Main Drive To The North Scoring Gains; British Push Forward As Allied Planes Smash Enemy Positions

By EDDY GILMORE— Moscow, April 24.—(AP) The furious German counterattacks in the Kuban region of the Caucasus, which in the last few days had approached the intensity of an offensive, slackened significantly today as the Germans counted several thousand of their dead in addition to a heavy loss in airplanes, tanks, guns and munitions, Russian front dispatches said.

The dispatches gave no immediate explanation for the cessation of the Nazi attacks, which had been marked by numerous futile charges against the Russian lines from the Black Sea coast near Novorossk through the Kuban delta to the coast of the Sea of Azov.

The Germans lost almost 5,000 men and almost 200 planes in less than a week, probably far in excess of the losses they had counted on it was reported.

Dispatches yesterday had reported the use of fresh Axis reserves in their Caucasus bridgeheads.

The fury of the air fights did not slacken in the sector, however.

The Red army air force raided a German airfield, causing a number of explosions and large fires.

Russian tanks also struck one of their biggest blows of the war Thursday night and Friday when more than 200 bombers raided Insterburg successfully, the fourth raid on East Prussian cities this month.

It began to appear that the Russians and the British-American coalition forces had diverted their military targets and now were working on a definite plan.

Insterburg is a large German commissary base, a concentration point for reserves and an important rail junction between Koenigsberg and Riga.

Red Star said the plane arrived precisely on schedule in good weather and encountered heavy ground.

AIRMEN POUND JAP BASES IN SOUTH PACIFIC

Single Bomb Hit Sinks 8,000-Ton Jap Ship In Bismarck Sea

By The Associated Press— Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today that Allied warplanes pounded five Japanese bases in the islands above Australia, carried out 16 strafing attacks on enemy troops in New Guinea, and sank an 8,000-ton ship in the Bismarck Sea with a single bull's-eye hit with a 500-pound bomb.

Apparently the attack was hit-and-run raid, since the main Allied forces were last reported some 100 miles below Salamaua, although patrol fighting had been noted in the Mubo sector 12 miles below the enemy base.

Allied fliers poured cannon and machine-gun fire on Japanese troops in the Milne-Salamaua region yesterday and landed the enemy strongholds at Lae and Finschhafen, New Guinea, Ubbi, New Britain, Toel on the Kai Islands, and Dobo in the Aroo group.

Meanwhile Prime Minister Churchill said in a message to Gen. H. H. Arnold, U. S. Air Force commander, that British fliers "earnestly look forward to the day when they will be able to fly side by side with their American comrades to attack Tokyo and other cities of Japan."

Churchill denounced Japan's execution of American aviators captured after the raid on Tokyo last year as "barbarous" and declared "the Allies would strip this cruel and greedy nation of their power to molest the civilized world."

On the Burma front, British headquarters reported that Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wevell's forces inflicted casualties on the Japanese in renewed clashes along the Bay of Bengal coast.

A communique said the general situation remained unchanged in the coastal area, where the Japanese have been thrusting toward the Burma-India frontier, while the British dug in to await the imminent approach of the Monsoon rains.

Washington, April 24 (AP)— American bombers and fighters attacked the Japanese air base at Munda in the central Solomon Islands again Thursday. The Navy reported today, silencing anti-aircraft weapons and setting fire to three grounded enemy planes.

Other raids were carried out against Vila and Kaituli, the latter in the northwestern Solomon, still on Fire's bombers and fighters assaulted enemy positions at Keketa Bay, a seaplane base on Santa Isabel Island.

Mr. Bonner stated that in the past the hospital program in the war would be thorough and the Congress should at once take steps to make ample provisions.

The committee would report its findings and recommendations to this the 78th Congress.

Convoy Reaches African Theater

Valletta, Malta, April 24 (AP)— Important convoys have reached Malta and Tripoli bearing vital supplies and war materials for Allied forces.

The vessels, including deeply laden American liberty ships, traversed the Mediterranean under a powerful Royal Navy escort and under constant air protection from the coast of North Africa.

One convoy threaded its way into Tripoli harbor past the wreckage of Axis shipping to carry munitions for Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British 8th Army.

Germans Suffer Several Thousand Killed In Addition To Heavy Losses In Planes, Tanks and Other Equipment; Red Planes Smash Nazi Bases

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, April 24.— (AP)— American troops, transferred from the southern Tunisian front to the north, have advanced six miles toward Mateur, 18 miles southwest of Bizerte, and the British First Army has taken Long Stop Hill, 28 miles west of Tunis, dispatches from the front said today.

Another U. S. unit hacked its way for seven miles through stiff enemy fire northeast of Beja and to the north of the Beja-Mateur road, fighting its way hill by hill.

While the Americans pounded forward in the most difficult terrain of all Tunisia and parried violent enemy counter-attacks, British First Army armor extended the Allied advances to practically all the Axis western flank by hammering out a gain of six or seven miles in the Goubellat-Bou Arada sector.

Allied air forces' bombers and fighters yesterday flew a "record number of sorties in collaboration with the Allied ground thrusts, an official statement said.

Despite the fact these sorties numbered 1,500, only six Allied aircraft were lost against the diminishing Axis opposition.

Flying Fortresses attacked two motor vessels off the Sicilian coast and scored direct hits on one which was left burning.

Railway targets and motor transport at Mateur were heavily attacked by medium bombers.

While the British Eighth Army of Gen. Sir Bernard I. Montgomery engaged in vigorous patrol work during which it repelled a local German counter-attack on the southern front, the Americans advanced to within 30 miles of Bizerte and continued to maintain pressure against determined enemy resistance.

"American troops made successful attacks, capturing more than 100 prisoners. In several areas advanced." (Continued on Page Six)

OPA Head Urges Bond Purchases

By PRENTISS M. BROWN— Price Administrator (Written for the Associated Press and The Daily Reflector)

It is estimated that Americans this year will have about 45 billion dollars more to spend than there will be civilian goods to buy.

Lending this money for war bonds contributes immeasurably to winning victory on two fronts. The money can then be spent to provide our armed forces with what it takes to beat the enemy in the field and at the same time, it is kept from threatening our victory against inflation at home.

In buying war bonds an American saves three things: The lives of many fighting men, his way of life at home, and money that he will be able to use some other day without hurting himself or his neighbor.

Crash In Wages Ahead Babson Talks To Wage Earners

Babson Park Mass., April 24.— In 1929 when stocks were selling eight times present price, I told investors that these prices could not possibly hold up and that a price collapse was ahead. It surely came with a bang. In a few months prices dropped 80 per cent and in two years all the banks were closed with ten million unemployed.

Today the situation is exactly reversed. It is true that the stock market has come up a little since 1932. The averages, which then stood at 27, now are about 60, but this is far from the level of 200 in 1929. It is however, the new paper would rubbly the wage averages the same as they rubbly the stock averages, what would the show? I'll tell you they should show every munition worker stiff.

Hence now I want to talk to members of the American Federation of Labor and the C. I. O. the same as I talked to investors in 1929. You munition workers are today just where your employers were in 1929. You are headed for just as much of a licking as they got. Your labor leaders are blinding you to the real facts now the same as Wall Street bankers blinded your employers 14 years ago this very month and day.

Millions Will Be Unemployed When War Stops— Twenty million people are now engaged in war work. Some day that war will suddenly stop. Admiral Halsey is reported to have said it will end this year, but I don't believe it will end until after elections in November, 1944. Whenever it does end there will be an awful crash in the union labor market, the same as there was in the stock market in 1929. Millions of union labor will quickly be thrown out of work. Those getting the highest wages will be dropped first. There will then be a job panic and a job depression and all kinds of job troubles. Moreover, this labor panic could take place with increasing commodity prices, greater real estate activity and even higher stock prices.

New Tires Available For Passenger Cars

Raleigh, April 24 — The OPA today made passenger car drivers with mileage rations exceeding 240 miles monthly eligible for any grade of new tire when their present casings are not recognizable. T. S. Johnson, state OPA director, said: "The change in OPA regulations will become effective on May 1. On information from Rubber Director William M. Jeffers that supplies of Grade II tires are inadequate to meet present needs of motorists eligible for them, OPA took the action Johnson pointed out.

The action has the approval of the Rubber Director, who governs the number of tires that may be issued to eligible drivers through his assignment of monthly allotments for OPA ration.

At present, Grade I casing—new tires of the best quality—are reserved principally for drivers with mileage rations over 560 monthly, while the Grade II's, which are new tires in a lower quality bracket, are for motorists whose mileage is between 240 and 560 monthly.

After May 1, there will be no distinction between tires now in Grade I and II, and all new passenger car tires, those manufactured before

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

A PITTANCE FOR CHURCH

In a day when vast sums of money are being spent to destroy human life, we are struck by the little pittance that is spent in every country and in every age to advance human welfare and to support the cause of religion. It is true that in this country we spend several hundred million dollars every year for the support of our churches, but when we realize that this is hardly a circumstance compared with the amounts spent for certain luxuries, it makes us wonder what might happen in the world if people were only more generous in matters of this sort.

The amusing story is told of a conversation between a dollar and a penny. Said the dollar to the penny: "You are an insignificant little fellow. It takes a hundred of you to make one of me. In fact you are so insignificant I am ashamed to be seen talking to you." "Yes," replied the penny, "I know I am small but that does not mean that you are better than I am. Because I bet I go to church and Sunday school oftener than you do." "Some people think that the point of the Biblical story about the widow's mite is that the woman gave only a few cents. The point of the story is, however, that she gave her all, and the fact that this happened to be but little made the giving of it more commendable. We never lose anything by giving to the cause of religion. The time may come when we shall look upon such gifts as the only money we have ever really saved."

EASTER STANDS FOR LIFE

By EARL L. DOUGLASS, D. D.

The lesson of Easter is very simple—so simple that the humblest may understand, yet so rich in spiritual meaning that the greatest minds have never been able to plumb its spiritual depth. The first lesson taught by the resurrection is that Christ still lives, and because He lives He is an ever-present force in our lives and in the life of the world. If we can believe in His living presence and the certainty of His triumph over every circumstance in life, then indeed we have nothing to fear.

The second teaching of the resurrection has to do with life after death. We believe that because Christ lives, those who believe in Him will live also.

"Even for the dead I will not find My soul to grieve; death cannot long divide. For is it not as if the rose that climbed My garden-wall had bloomed the other side?"

The Christian gospel not only claims that the rose that climbed the garden-wall blooms on the other side; it is very definite in its assertion that the life men will enjoy beyond is the same kind of life that their Lord displayed in His risen body. It will be personal. It will involve reunion with loved ones. It will be supernatural, glorious, perfect, even as He was in His risen state.

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

Washington—On a recent Saturday, while milling among the boys scuttling the free hot dogs and beer at the National Press Club Canteen, I came upon a fellow I had known in Texas. He was a sergeant in the Marines. He had been overseas. He used to be a newspaperman himself.

We got onto a subject that has been often talked about, but not much by soldiers themselves. When I asked this chap if I could quote him, he said "Gosh, don't use my name, it might sound maudlin."

"There's nothing that gets a soldier down quicker than not hearing from home," he said. "I've seen them and I know. The army knows it too and APO is doing a whole of a job in getting the mail through to places that up to this war didn't get a mail packet every six months."

family or the gal. Sometimes it's assurances of affection from a wife, sweetheart, or mother. But mostly I think it's just that reestablishment of contact. It's like thinking you are all alone out in a foxhole at night, under fire, and then discovering your outfit is all around you.

"These marines, soldiers and sailors we are turning out are tough when their fighting to be done but when it's over they're just like any other kids."

"Let me tell you about one in my outfit. We had just answered mail call, when all hell started to bust loose up front somewhere and we were ordered into action pronto. The rest of the day the going was pretty thick. The Japs still were breathing in faces when we dropped back to a ridge to hole up for the night. We hadn't any more than got settled when I noticed that one of my outfit was missing."

"About an hour later, he came scrambling back from the Jap lines. I asked him just where in thunder he had been."

"He said, 'I dropped a letter from Ma out there and I hadn't had time to read. I had to go back and get it.'"

"Say, if you are going to write about this, there's one thing I wish you'd drop quicker than hot hearing from home," he said. "I've seen them and I know. BABSON

Beware of Political Promises Then think of this: If the government takes over factories to make shoes, or textiles or motor cars, so as to give ex-war workers jobs, how is the government going to sell the shoes, clothing, textiles or autos? There is only one way and that is by cutting prices below what regular manufacturers are charging. This would mean that these private manufacturers would need to shut down and throw their employees out of work. Hence, the "cure" would be worse than the disease. The politicians would only be "robbing Peter to pay Paul."

For every vote they might get from the war workers, they would lose two votes from peacetime workers and returning soldiers.

In the above calculations I have said nothing about these ten million soldiers who will be returning home. They will have six days to return to their old jobs, but they have been given no promise about wages. This is another reason why the present employers paying higher wages for war workers will be compelled to let these war workers go after peace is declared. The only way these employers can take back former employees who were drafted into the service, will be by discharging those who have stayed home cashing in at high wages, while their brothers suffered hell in the South Sea Islands for fifty dollars a month.

Higher Wages Now Mean More Grief Later

I repeat that all war workers are now living in a false paradise. No labor leaders nor politicians can prevent a terrible crash in the labor market after World War II. Furthermore, the higher John L. Lewis and the Railroad Unions push up wages now, the greater the fall will be and the more grief after Peace comes. Will the United States, after peace comes, take back former employees who were drafted into the service, will be by discharging those who have stayed home cashing in at high wages, while their brothers suffered hell in the South Sea Islands for fifty dollars a month.

I believe in labor unions the same as I believe in corporations. To have workable unions, they also must have well-paid officials the same as do successful corporations. My message this week is simply this: These union labor officials are as blind to present wage conditions today as were the corporation officials blind to future conditions in 1929. These labor leaders are causing their unions to go for a "terrible fall and disappointment" the same as the corporation officials led their stockholders to a disaster in 1929. I hope every war worker now getting high wages will get out this article and paste it on his wife's mirror to read from now until the war ends.

What War Workers Should Now Do

1. You can do more and better work every day. This will keep down prices and make it unnecessary for the government to borrow so much money.

2. You can stop asking for higher wages and thus avoid making the returning soldiers any uglier when they do return than they would be if they came back now.

3. You can save every cent possible now for the days after the war when you'll be out of work. The cost of living has not advanced more than 20 per cent. Keep your expenses down to what they were before the war plus 20 per cent. Save the rest by putting it in the savings bank or War Bonds. I say this as your best friend.

HORSE PRAIRIE

Chapter 17

So Tubac told the marshal that he was the man who had put the bum money into Hi Grab's bank. "But how did I know it was bum money?" he growled. "I took it in payment of a debt—an I supposed the guy was a gentleman."

Jinx Mueller eyed him dubiously. "Lack of knowledge is a poor excuse," he said grimly. "You had quite a real pile of jack, an' you ain't got the look of having forty-five cents. What would a man be with you all that money for? I'm not promising anything, but if you don't come clean, by the gods you'll stay here till hell freezes! Now what about this money? Who's the guy that owed it to you? An' when did he pay you? An' why?"

The way Tubac told it was quite an involved story. Boiled down it summed up to just this: Two-three years ago he had a small spread in Texas, the company had been out been raising horses for the army, and doing well at it, too, until one night his place had been raided and half his best stock run off. Revolutionists from across the line, he'd guessed, and a couple hours later he'd had confirmation when a bunch of Rurales had come up, hot on the trail of the bandits.

Well, they seemed to figure they'd ought to have remounts and the Captain, he give me his note for the stock—said if they didn't get back to return it he'd send me the money next day."

"But you still ain't explained how you got that fake currency," Mueller said.

"If you'd shut up a spell I could get to it. Like I was fixin' to tell you before them Rurales called off with my stock this Captain feller he give me his note, an' when he seen me next time he paid me off."

"How much?" said Jinx Mueller. "Five thousand bucks!"

"Jinx whistled. 'An' you expect me to believe you hung onto that money all this time?'"

Mueller just stood there and gaped. "Well, it's the truth," Tubac grumbled.

"An' you're claimin' this queer you been shovin' the dinero this Captain give you?"

The WAR TODAY

I was sitting in the quarters of a couple of captains in the Middle East. A limited mail arrived, and one of the boys got five letters while the other got none. The lucky fellow immediately plunged into his treasures, and the other started to peep the little room. I was completely out of the picture but I watched developments with interest. Finally the letterless lad stopped in front of his friend and said:

WPB Official . . .

(Continued from Page One) political, religious and civic groups all meet on one common ground—working for the uplift of humanity. Don't be like the signs on the highways which read 'keep off, soft shoulders'; but get in and do your part to make your community a better and happier place in which to live."

He stated that one aim of our democratic government should be to sponsor local organizations which promote good fellowship. "Only in this way," he said, "can we fully know the meaning of a democracy."

Turning to the part smaller businesses are playing in the war effort Mr. Bolte said that we need the total production of every plant in the country to win the war. "We don't need just a few of the big organizations," he said, "we need everybody."

The speaker gave many facts and figures which brought out the tremendous part the smaller businesses of the country are playing in the war effort. Scattered small shops which produce one or two items needed by this country are a "hedge" against bombing and sabotage, he said. "And not only that, but to utilize the facilities of each community tends to decentralize the war effort, keep those employed nearer home, relieves the housing shortage and in many ways tends to keep the worker contented."

He said the government places millions of dollars in orders each week with the smaller businesses of the country to meet its needs.

He stated that a greater effort should be made to push production to the limit. Much time has been wasted, he said, by wrangling over details. A good slogan to remember he said, is "If it won't help win the

Lewis Absent From Hearing

Washington, April 24—(AP)—Neither President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers nor any of his associates showed up today as the War Labor Board formally began consideration of the union's wage dispute with soft coal operators.

The board assembled for a preliminary hearing with only the operators represented.

No UMW official had made an appearance as the board began the hearing called for the announced purpose of getting a summary statement of the issues and to arrange procedure and timing for conducting the case.

In New York, K. C. Adams, the press representative for Lewis, said he was in New York City and "has no plans to go to Washington today."

Both the northern and southern Appalachian operators' groups were represented.

Lewis himself was not reachable at the Roosevelt Hotel, where he is staying in New York, but Adams indicated that Lewis might hold a press conference later today or issue a statement.

Asked if Lewis would go before the War Labor Board "at any time," Adams said he did not know.

Bolte Would Like Pay Another Visit

"Missouri is a great state and my home, but I met some wonderful people here in Greenville at your Chamber of Commerce banquet—warm-blooded, keenly alert people who are of the calibre of the go-getter," said Carl E. Bolte, of the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., after he concluded his inspiring address to more than 300 leading men and women of Pitt County last night.

"I would like to come down here again and know the people of the county better. Tonight I spoke to the friendliest and most appreciative audience I have faced since I joined Donald M. Nelson's staff in Washington."

Incidentally, the distinguished Missourian said Congressman Bonner told him on the way here that he would meet some of the best people in the world when he came to Pitt County.

Lester Edwards Is Now 2nd Lieutenant

Pvt. Lester W. Edwards of Greenville recently completed a course of training at the Army Air Forces Officer Candidate School at Miami Beach, Fla., and was awarded a commission as a second lieutenant in the Army Air Corps. His duties will be to direct vital administrative and supply operations of the Army Air Corps ground forces.

Lieutenant Edwards is a son of Mrs. Mabel H. Edwards, 109 Long Street, Greenville.

Tank Plant Closed By Strike Today

Detroit, April 24—(AP)—The Detroit tank arsenal operated by the Chrysler Corporation was closed this morning, a corporation spokesman said, after 500 workers paraded about the building to protest a day-and-a-half layoff imposed Friday afternoon on one employee for leaving the arsenal to smoke.

Fire At Henderson

Henderson, April 24—(AP)—Fire early today destroyed the J. M. Burnett general store and the Saurilley Market both situated in the heart of the retail business section of the city. The damage, run into thousands of dollars as both the buildings and the stock were almost a total loss.

Family Week May 2-9

Raleigh, April 24—(AP)—Governor Broughton has asked North Carolinians to cooperate fully in observance of "family week" May 2-9.

Family week is sponsored by the churches in cooperation with the Office of Civilian Defense.

Our Farm Folks

Important notice to dairy leaders and hostesses for the May Home Demonstration meetings:

The dairy leaders and hostesses are urged to attend a leader school which will be held in the auditorium of the Agricultural building on Thursday afternoon, April 29, at 2 p. m. Every hostess and dairy leader should be present in order that they will know what preparations they are to make for the May meeting. The demonstration "Milk For Better Meals" will be a most interesting lesson.

Red Oak Club Meets The Red Oak Home Demonstration club held one of its best meetings of the year on Wednesday, April 7, at the club house with Mrs. Liza Vandford, Mrs. H. E. Allen and Mrs. R. W. Vainright as hostesses. The meeting was called to order by our president, Mrs. Amos Evans. She sang several songs and repeated the collect of the Club Women of America, after which the minutes were read and approved. As the roll was called each member was asked to report what she had done since our last meeting for the war effort. Each one of us had done most of the following things: Planted a victory garden, saved tin cans and fats, helped make garments, collected for the Red Cross and bought War Bonds or Stamps. In the presence of Miss Joyner the meeting was turned over to Mrs. James Allen, our Home Management leader, who made a very interesting talk on "Clean to Save." At the close of the meeting each of us made up our minds to do more since our last meeting. We had made some very attractive and the material was well chosen in each case. We were then served coffee and sandwiches by our hostesses after which we adjourned to meet on May 5.

—Reported by Mrs. Carl Crawford. Stokes H. D. Club Meets The Stokes club met April 12 in the Home Economics room. Due to bad weather there were only eight members present and two visitors.

Mrs. D. N. Nobles, president, called the meeting to order. There was a short business meeting before the demonstration. Miss Joyner gave the demonstration, "Clean to Save." She stressed that we have the pinner cleaning tools and if we did not have a storing closet to have one made.

We were reminded again to continue to save tin cans, fats and hoes.

The hostesses, Mrs. H. C. B. Hill and Miss Bess Gilliam served chocolate milk with salt nuts and coffee cakes.

—Reported by Mrs. J. B. Congleton. Red Oaks Club Meets The Red Oaks Home Demonstration club held its most enthusiastic meeting at the home of Mrs. Oscar Hardee on April 13. Mrs. Tom Elks was assistant hostess. Twenty-one members responded to roll call, three new names were added and there were three visitors.

Follow the Gleam" was sung and the regular order of business followed. Mrs. S. B. Tucker, chairman of the condolence committee reported the work she had done and asked for the names of sons in service, that they might be placed on a mailing list. A report of the work for the Red Cross was given which is still gratifying.

Mrs. Bob Stirling then gave a book report, "The Woman You Want to Be" by Mary Wilson. Everyone seemed interested from start to finish and it was thoroughly enjoyed.

Members gave a list of the things that each had planted in the garden. Mrs. Burney Hardee gave a package of seed for the high school of seventeen varieties.

On a dirty day the demonstration "Clean to Save" members who wish edible soybeans may purchase them at the home agents office.

Delightful refreshments were served, iced drinks and chicken salad sandwiches, after which adjournment followed.

Mrs. E. H. Boyd, Reporter. Bethel Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. L. W. Ward and Mrs. A. L. Whitley April 14 at the home of Mrs. Ward. We had 19 members present and six visitors.

Our president Mrs. Ralph Carson opened the meeting with a song, "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean." After a short discussion the club decided to have the service boys on Sunday night in June. Plans have not been definite, but a committee was appointed to decide and report at the next meeting.

In the kitchen Miss Kirby demonstrated quick and easy methods of cleaning house. An interesting topic it was, because this is the time of year when every housewife begins to think of house-cleaning, and any helpful suggestions are welcomed indeed.

Back in the living room for our recreation, Mrs. Ralph Carson and Mrs. W. C. Whitehurst rendered a number of musical selections which everyone enjoyed.

Our hostesses served delicious plate whipped cream and cake.

Mrs. Robert S. Whitehurst, Reporter. Meeting of Winterville H. D. Club The Winterville Home Demonstration club held its April meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry W. Huntington on Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Amos Jackson as co-hostess.

A lovely and inspiring devotion was conducted by Mrs. M. C. Sermons.

There was the regular routine of business.

Mrs. Harry Wordingham passed on many timely suggestions on "Victory Meat Extenders."

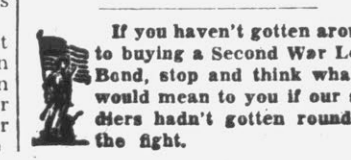

The Home Beautification leader, Mrs. J. D. McGlohan gave some helpful information, and emphasized that the name of Victory Garden might have to be changed to Victory Garden No matter how much food we produce this year, it will not be enough. Louis Bromfield, noted novelist and leafy author says: "Food is the background of our whole military campaign. We need enough to feed ourselves, our allies now under the heels of the Nazis. The more food you raise in your own back yard or on the farm the greater will be your patriotic and your devotion."

Five book reviews were given. Our women are realizing the fine lessons gained from reading and also that it is recreation for them after hard hours of work.

There was much fun and laughter during the dress parade. The prize was awarded Mrs. Thurman Vincent for the best house dress.

We were very fortunate to have an efficient member of the club Mrs. O. H. Jackson, to give the demonstration "Clean to Save" due to the absence of Miss Joyner. This lesson was learned—we have got to do more—and do without more.

After adjournment delicious lemonade and cookies were served to 27 club members and seven visitors by the hostesses.

If you haven't gotten around to buying a Second War Loan Bond, stop and think what it would mean to you if our soldiers hadn't gotten round to the fight.

NEW BALL FOR MAJOR LEAGUE

1943 Ball Only Three-Fourths As Lively As Old Pill

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

Just a few hours before Easter the major league baseball players learned they would have a rabbit ball this season, after all.

The announcement that the official ball would be revitalized came yesterday before the Philadelphia Athletics blanked the Boston Red Sox, 5-0—the success by the lowly A's with the Gibraltar pellet surprising even the manufacturers but not influencing their decision.

The game, the only contest on the abbreviated Good Friday schedule, resulted in the eighth shutout in the 12 games played this spring. During that time there has been only one home run, in contrast to the six on opening day of 1942.

Lou Coleman, vice president of A. G. Spalding and Bros., said the present ball was dead because of the cement used to bind together the various layers of wool yarn and balata, wartime substitute for rubber.

The balata center is OK, he said, but the cement became hard when it dried, making the ball as solid as a bride's first cake.

A new cement has been perfected and a pellet which will resemble the 1942 ball in agility will be ready in two weeks. Ford Frick, president of the National League, said the second crop of baseballs would put into play immediately upon their arrival.

Despite grumblings and protest from various players it was a home-made experiment by Warren Giles, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds and a member of the committee which approved the new ball, that brought action.

Giles took a half dozen of 1943 balls and a similar number of 1942 pellets to the top of the stadium in Crosley field and dropped them in pairs to the concrete array below. The groundkeeper standing near by reported the 1943 models bounced only three-fourths as high as those of 1942.

More scientific tests at New York yesterday brought virtually the same results. The laboratory tests showed the 1943 asate was only 74.1 per cent as "alive" as its immediate ancestor.

That meant that a 400-foot home run of a year ago was a 300-foot put-out this spring.

The teams swing back into action today with the Philadelphia Phillies and the Boston Braves hoping to make their belated inaugurations. The former comes to Brooklyn while the latter is host to the New York Giants.

Sports Roundup
By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

Philadelphia, April 24—AP—The boys around Broad and Locust Philadelphia's Bash boulevard, can't see those 2-1 odds favoring Beau Jack to retain his lightweight title against Bob Montgomery, May 21. They claim Montgomery has regained his old form since he had his tonsils yanked out and can pace himself better over the 15-round route. What's in a name? One of Michigan's relay runners is Ernest Lombardi and they say he can step a quarter in about the time it takes his baseball name-sake to get down to first base. Jeanne Cline, the good-looking Bloomington, Ill. gal golfer, broadcasts a sports program in her home town and hopes to land with one of Eight days ago Carmichael pitched in the winning runs and pitched the Tar Heels to a 5-2 victory.

Today's Guest Star
Lynn C. Doye, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "The press notices the new 'clunk' ball has been getting won't help business. We must get hold of the first foul that works its way up to the press box and look for the 'made in Japan' label."

Franklin Field Filibuster
Lawson Robertson, Penn track coast, still is snooping around under the Franklin field stands hoping to find those eight vaulting poles he bought and hid away when he realized there would be a bamboo shortage. George W. Orton, who ran for Penn in the first relays in 1895, failed to attend this year for the first time since then. He couldn't get away from his camp in New Hampshire, but sent word he'd be on hand for the 50th anniversary meet next April. Frank Palermo, Gus Dorazio's manager, tells friends that he was talking on the long distance phone to Luke Carney, manager of Fritzie Ziva, when Carney collapsed and died.
