Miners Begin Strike In Protest Of Wage Dispute Certification To Board

Estimate 8,000 Men Out in Pennsylvania Soft Coal Fields; Lewis Refuses To Name Labor Member To Panel For Discussions in Washington

Pittsburgh, April 26 (AP)—An estimated 8,000 miners, protesting certification of their wage dispute to the War Labor Board, were idle today as strikes spread in the southwestern Pennsylvania soft coal fields.

The latest of the ten mines struck included two of the largest pits of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation. The United Mine Workers union, whose district officials described all the walkouts as unauthorized, said pickets also kept some men away from two other mines, operated by the H. C. Frick Coke company and the Pittsburgh Coal Company, the nation's second largest producer.

Meanwhile an official of the Castle Shannon Coal Corporation, who asked that his name not be used, said his company was experiencing "a lot of absenteeism" and "it looks like there is a deliberate slowdown" among miners remaining at work.

"Industry is screaming for coal and we can't get it out of the ground. We have a committee ringing doorbells to find out why miners aren't reporting for work," he said.

John P. Busarello, president of UMW district 5, pessimistic over chances of getting the miners back to work, said:

"The War Labor Board rendered a decision in this case before it heard the evidence. It more or less publicized the fact that the miners (Continued on Page Four)

Local Flier Shown In Picture In Life

That Lieut. (1st) John David Bridgers, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Bridgers of this city, was one of the Navy fliers on Guadalcanal pictured in Life magazine April 19th was confirmed yesterday, when Mr. Bridgers received a letter from the magazine publishers that their records showed his son to be in the picture. The publishers stated that they also have two additional pictures of Lt. Bridgers in their files, copies of which are available to Mr. Bridgers, if he desires them.

The first identification Lt. Bridgers' family had that he was or had been on Guadalcanal was when the picture appeared in Life and was brought to their attention by local friends of the flier as well as some of his friends, now in the armed forces serving in various sections of the country. Since the picture did not carry identification of the flier, Mr. Bridgers wrote to the magazine publishers to ascertain if they had the names of the men in the group.

According to information published with the picture, the fliers were receiving last minute instructions before taking off for a bombing attack on the Japs.

Lt. Bridgers has been in the Pacific war zone for the past 14 months and has seen action over a wide area including the battle of Midway last June at which time he was a flier aboard the ill-fated Yorktown.

Diplomatic Break With Finland Now Imminent

Stockholm, April 26 (AP)—A break in diplomatic relations between the United States and Finland appeared imminent today—perhaps only a matter of hours—according to Helsinki officials. The possibility of a change in Finnish foreign policy which might ease the situation.

While the Finnish public was reported deeply disturbed by the prospect of a break, Finland's official position was summed up tersely by a source close to the government with these words:

"The Americans cannot expect us to tie a noose around our own necks. The statement was an obvious reference to American desires that Finland settle her differences with Russia, break her ties with Germany and withdraw from the war."

Germany has been reported bringing strong pressure on Finland to step up her military efforts against Russia and aid the Nazis in mounting a spring offensive against

POLICE HUNT MISSING MAN

Body Of Worker Believed Buried In Housing Area

Portsmouth, Va., April 26 (AP)—Plans were being made today by Norfolk county officers to excavate around a culvert in Century Homes, Housing Project near Simonsdale, on the theory that James Floyd Layman, of Barlow place, missing since March 13, was murdered and buried in that section.

Deputy sheriff Wilson said that a check revealed Layman's money was still in a local bank and that none of his clothing has been taken from his home, leading police to believe the man has met with foul play.

Layman was reported missing March 14 by his wife who said he had failed to return home from work the day before. She said he was devoted to her and their two children and she did not believe he had disappeared voluntarily.

County officers Paul Grimes, J. J. Kelly and J. Walter routine returned Saturday night from Raleigh, N. C., where they questioned Cecil Bennie Ward, 26, in the North Carolina State Penitentiary. They made the trip after information had been given to them by a woman who said she had been Ward's companion in North Carolina since he left this area.

The officers said the woman volunteered her information and that she reported Ward told her he had killed Layman and buried his body on the Century Homes Housing project where both were employed. Layman was a carpenter and Ward was a bulldozer operator. Ward denied he had killed Layman but admitted he last saw the man on the day of his disappearance. The officers said Ward was arrested in Durham March 23 on a charge of fornicacy and is now serving a prison term. They reported.

Commonwealth's attorney A. O. Lamb, of Norfolk county who was busy in court today, said he expected to confer later with officers on plans to search for Layman's body.

Ranger Safe

Washington, April 26 (AP)—The Navy denied today German claims that the aircraft carrier Ranger had been torpedoed and sunk in the North Atlantic.

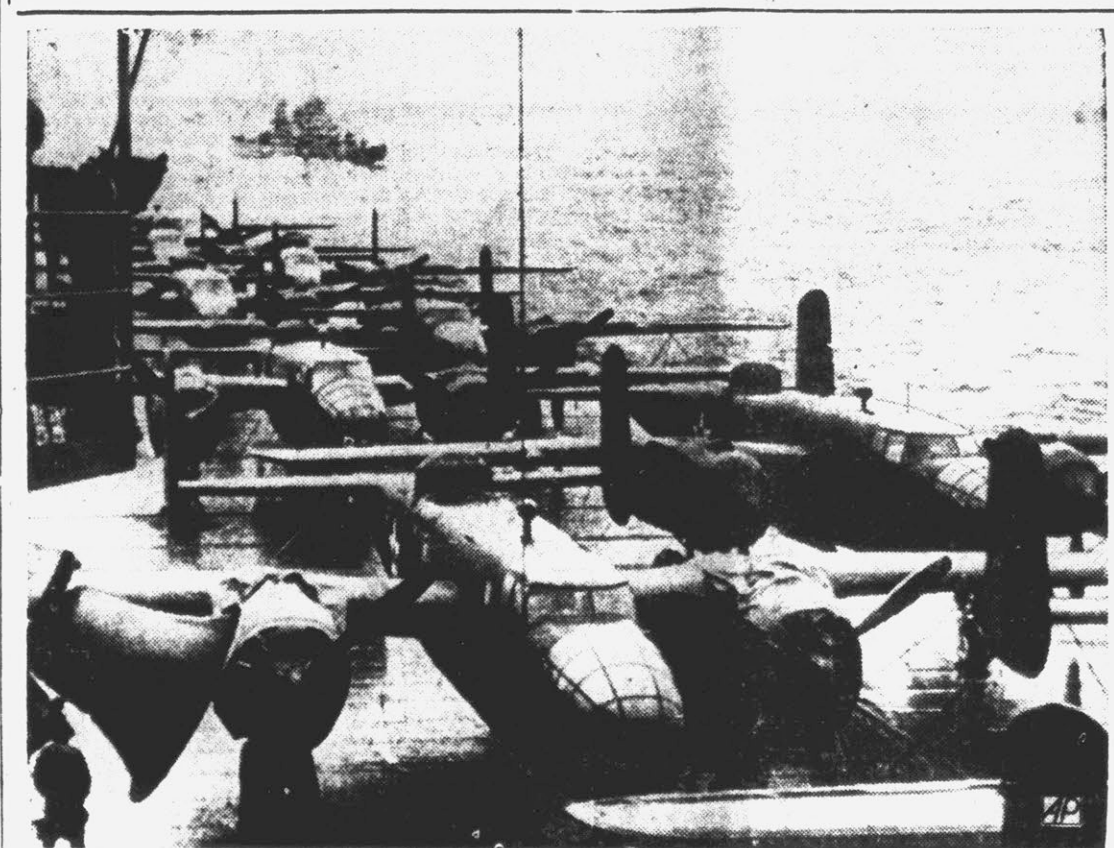

"Neither the Ranger or any other United States carrier has been sunk or damaged in any ocean," a Navy spokesman said.

The Berlin radio claimed Sunday night that the ten-year-old aircraft carrier had been sunk by a German submarine in the North Atlantic.

The broadcast asserted that a submarine commanded by Lieutenant Commander Von Buelow attacked the carrier which was employed, Berlin said, in guarding a convoy lane across the Atlantic.

Launched at Newport News, Va., in 1933, the Ranger was the first American naval vessel specifically designed as an aircraft carrier.

Russia Severs Relations With Polish Government

Moscow, April 26 (AP)—Soviet Russia severed relations with the Polish government in exile yesterday, accusing it of being in league with the Germans in carrying out a "hostile campaign" against the Soviet Union in connection with German charges that the Russians had killed 10,000 Polish officers near Smolensk.

Foreign Commissar Molotov indicated the Polish ambassador a note denouncing the Polish government. The news agency Tass also reported it charged the Poles with carrying on a hostile campaign against the Soviet Union and the same lines as the recent German propaganda diatribe accusing the Russians of murdering 10,000 Polish officers near Smolensk. The Russian note today charged that the Germans had killed the Polish officers.

The Polish government to Hitler's tyranny deals a crushing blow to the Soviet Union, Molotov's note said. The Soviet government is aware that this hostile campaign against the Soviet Union was undertaken by the Polish government in order to exert pressure on the USSR to withdraw from the territorial concessions at the expense of the interests of the Soviet Union, Soviet-Belarusia and Soviet Lithuania.

All these circumstances confirm the Soviet government's conviction that the government of Poland, having slid to the path of alliance with Hitler's government, has become an unswerving ally of the German aggressor against the USSR and against the Soviet Union.

Washington, April 26 (AP)—With Secretary of War Stimson vigorously opposing its enactment, Senate consideration of a proposal to grant blanket military draft exemptions to fathers was postponed another week today.

Senate Minority Leader Charles McNair (D-Mont.) planned to offer an amendment prohibiting the calling of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers for the remainder of 1943.

Stimson's views were made known in a letter dated April 20 and made public by the Senate Military Affairs committee. He said approval of the War Department proposal would be postponing.

Allied Fliers Stage 'Easter Parade' Over Jap Base In New Guinea

By The Associated Press

Some indications that the recent lull in the south Pacific is the forerunner to new offensive operations following American occupation of the Ellice Islands were seen by Washington observers today as allied air forces rained the Pacific arena continued day by day bombing forays.

Bombers and fighters roared through a north Pacific storm again Saturday to blast at rocky Kiska in the Aleutians after a two-day interval of fog. The Navy reported yesterday. At the same time American torpedo and dive bombers paid Munda and other Solomon bases another of their harassing visits.

Four American fighter planes, intercepted 30 Japanese in an attempted raid on Guadalcanal, shot down five of them. The Navy said today. Two of the Americans failed to return.

Meanwhile Flying Fortresses held a 26-minute Easter Parade over Weak the Japanese strong point on the North New Guinea coast, and after setting off thunderous explosions at that base, straddled Manda, 100 miles down the coast.

The British announced from New Delhi that the Japanese had launched an attack on Allied positions in the Malay river area of Burma, but said there had been no change in the lines, although the fighting continued.

RAF bombers hit Rangoon, Burma's chief port, in a night attack, wrecking a bridge and killing a number of enemy troops.

Delayed dispatches said five Japanese planes were destroyed and four others probably were shot down Sunday when 25 enemy aircraft attempted a raid on an advanced American air base in Hunan Province, China. One of the American planes was damaged.

American bombers from China rained the lead and zinc mines at Nantia in Burma, scoring direct hits on the reduction plant and storage sheds.

Americans Force Nazi Withdrawal

Enemy Throwing Last Of Armored Reserve Into Fight; British And French Continue Closing In

Allied headquarters in North Africa, April 26 (AP)—The Germans were reported in retreat today on the American-manned northern sector of the Tunisian front, after yielding mountain strongholds at the southern end of their abbreviate west wall with little resistance and concentrating armored strength against tank-supported blows by the British First Army at their center.

Even as a field dispatch said that the Germans had begun withdrawing from positions before the second U. S. Army could slash a path between headquarters announced that the French 19th Army corps, serving at the "hinge" between the British First and Eighth armies, had won five mountains without heavy opposition and wiped out a German salient that had poked dangerously into Allied lines.

A military spokesman said Col. Gen. Jürgen Von Arnim was known definitely to have committed most of his armor to "fight it out" against British tanks which penetrated the narrow plain east of Goubellat, between the French and American sectors.

"This is a vital area," the spokesman said.

The possibility of a British breakthrough in the Goubellat sector, which would slash a path between the Tunis-Bizerte area and the Axis secondary southern defense line based at Pont Du Fels, Zaghouan and Bou Ficha, may have influenced Von Arnim to order withdrawals on the flanks while he yet had the power for a delaying action.

Even before news of the Nazi retreat was received, advanced elements of the second U. S. Army corps had reached a line three miles east of Sidi N'Sir and only about 10 miles southwest of Mateur, a junction from which highways lead to Tunis and Bizerte.

In a companion action to the north, other Americans captured an important hill called the Djebel Nechat, 20 miles north of Mateur, and 30 miles southwest of Bizerte, this in an advance slowed both by heavy enemy action and difficult terrain.

All forces of Gen. Sir Harold Alexander's 18th Army group were declared in the communique to have "continued their steady progress on all sectors" with powerful air support yesterday.

African and Moroccan divisions of the 19th French Army corps made a general advance on its mountain lines to occupy the five important hills, the Djebel Mansour—capture (Continued on Page Four)

Joins Marines

The man that Irene Jones loved and was going to marry was a Marine corporal who was killed on Guadalcanal. That's why the pretty Atlanta girl, shown above, joined the Marine Corps. "I want to feel like I'm carrying on for him," she says. Corp. Milton Pratt, of Liberty, Ga., already had purchased the wedding ring but it pulled out for the Pacific front before he could marry her. Irene wears the ring on her right hand.

Married

Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. J. G. Reeves, three miles from town, his daughter, Mrs. Lillian and Mr. A. A. Forbes, Jr. were married by Rev. J. N. Booth.

Miss Lucy Johnson went to Ayrden Saturday evening and returned this morning.

Bruce Sugg, of Rocky Mount, spent Sunday here.

To be important is one thing; to look important is another thing; but to feel important, there you have a fellow who really enjoys his own society.

Christian Science Service "Probation After Death" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, April 25.

The Golden Text was from Psalms 49: 15 "God will redeem my soul from the power of the grave; for he shall receive me."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible: "Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you. And when he had so said, he showed unto them his hands and his side. Then were the disciples glad when they saw the Lord. Then said unto him Jesus, Peace be unto you, as my Father hath sent me, even so I send you." (John 20: 19-21).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Master said plainly that physique was of spirit and after his resurrection he proved to the physical senses that his body was not changed until he himself ascended. In other words, those even higher in the understanding of Spirit, God Jesus, unchanged physical condition after what seemed to be death was followed by his exaltation above all material conditions, and this exaltation explained his ascension, and revealed unmistakably a probationary and progressive state beyond the grave." (Page 46).

Concert of Vocal Music A concert of vocal music will be given at Austin Auditorium on May 4th by Jean Abovynsky, soprano, Lorraine Prichard, mezzo-soprano, Linwood Gurganus, baritone, and Denton Russell, tenor. Mr. Russell who for the past two and one-half years has taught the singers, will appear with them in song duets and other ensemble numbers from the realm of opera and modern song literature.

Miss Abovynsky, a Greenville girl, has been heard here in previous concerts and was heard this winter in the leading role of the opera, "Martha." Miss Prichard has also been heard in concerts at the college and more recently distinguished herself in the supporting lead in "Martha." Linwood Gurganus, whose home is in Bethel, was heard last spring in a vocal concert at the college.

One of the features of the concert will be an arrangement of melodies from George Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess" which was made especially for these singers by Pvt. Vernon A. Kuetemeyer. Pvt. Kuetemeyer gained local recognition by his concert arrangement of tunes from "Showboat" last year while he was still a student at East Carolina Teachers College. The present arrangement has been made during the current year while he is serving in the air corps stationed in New Orleans, La.

No admission will be charged. The public is invited to attend the concert.

Entertains Bridal Party Members

Mrs. H. L. Hodges was hostess at a dinner on Saturday evening at her home on West Fourth Street. Her guests were members of the Hodges-Blount bridal party and out-of-town friends here for the wedding.

Covers were laid in the dining room at a table beautifully appointed with a center arrangement of flowers in rose, purple and yellow combination.

Small vases of flowers, matching those on the dining table, centered the small tables in the sun room and art living room. Bridal cards decorated the places for the guests.

Dutch iris, red tulips, narcissi, sprays and jonquils with burning tapers decorated the mantel shelves and auxiliary tables throughout the house.

Recital on Thursday

Pupils of the Applied Piano class of Miss Lois V. Gornell at the college will give a recital in the Austin Auditorium on Thursday evening, April 29 at 8:15.

The public is cordially invited to attend this program.

Library News

Report From Tokyo Ever so often the lay reader wants to obtain some real information about a particular phase of this war. He desires it in order to better understand the news of the day. And since so many books have already been written on every angle of the war, geography, armaments, actual fighting, historical background, peace plans, military procedure and larger ships of our statesmen, military leaders and privates, he has only to choose what he wants most to read.

One book from the historical background group that is proving popular is Joseph C. Grew's "Report from Tokyo," because it so adequately gives the history of our Japanese-American relation for the past ninety years. The author who was Ambassador to Tokyo for ten years, draws on his personal experiences to bring a survey of our dealings with Japan. Mr. Grew says that every American citizen should read it. The author's dealing policy on our country has consistently followed that it stands in contrast to almost every point of the trickery, dishonest behavior of Japan. Yet he reminds us that we cannot exterminate the Japanese. Providence has made them our neighbors, and somehow we must be friends, must give them and other people fair and equal opportunity for peaceful development. And that development can't begin until the present military leaders of Japan are wiped from the face of the earth.

This book was put in circulation at the Sheppard Memorial Library last week, as were also nine other books. Another war book, a journal of small adventures and seven of fiction. Short resumes of these books follow.

"Sweet Beulah Land" by Berrell Harris — From "Purilane" which showed the life of slaveholders and "Portulaca" the life of "big small-town bourgeoisie." Mrs. Harris turns to the old plantation house and there lets us see a proud, delicate, cultured and aristocratic heroine living a thoroughly independent life until the hero comes along.

"Journal for Josephine" by Robert Nathan This book is not a novel, but a journal of Nathan's life in the Cape Cod country last summer, where you see patrol planes, convoys slashing out to sea, and could hear the gunfire over the horizon. But ashore there were gardens, rombs, fishing trips and the hopes and fears of an American family in that first year of the war.

"Into the Valley" by John Hersey — An attempt to bring to the five senses of the reader the actuality of one skirmish that might have occurred anywhere, and of which we shall have to fight hundreds before this war is won.

"The War Is Over" by Hester Pine — This is the drama of three generations of a family founded in this country. Today it is an American family and from talking to its young men and women you would not know the struggles that lie in the past. Here they are, and the loves and prejudices, the struggles and failures to understand.

"Washington, U.S.A." by Faith Baldwin — Another of the many books about the fabulous city of Washington. A fiction writer gives her viewpoint of the metropolis, which is a number of stories, love stories for the most part.

"The Human Comedy" by William Saroyan — A wartime novel of the home front which succeeds in capturing and which nowhere oversteps the modesty of ordinary human beings.

"For All Men Born" by Margaret Mackay — The story of how the Pearl Harbor attack affected the relationship of one man and one woman, what it meant in their lives, especially in their love for each other.

"The Prodigal Women" by Nancy Hale — A novel of human relationships which follows the fortunes of a group of young women of their twenties, with its emphasis on their emotional lives.

"Wide Is The Gate" by Upton Sinclair — The story of an American, Lanny Budd, born to the realm of international society and diplomatic intrigue, who dedicated his life to his wealth, his intelligence, to fighting for things he believed in. In "World's End" he saw civilization condemned at Versailles. He viewed the mad 1920's in "Between Two Worlds."

"In Dragon's Teeth" by H. L. Hunt — The birth of Fascism and the "Wide Is The Gate" he became involved with the days that follow Hitler's rise to power.

Nutrition Class Reports Progress Winterville, April 26 — The Adult Nutrition Class which meets at the Home Economics Department is still in progress. This group of alert and progressive minded homemakers have been meeting twice each week on Tuesday and Wednesday night since February 15 for the purpose of learning more about the planning, preparation, and serving of wholesome and well-balanced meals on a wartime basis.

An interesting and enlightening lesson was taught recently on "Peanut Cookery." The value of peanuts as a good source of protein, a rich source of phosphorus and a valuable source of nicotinic acid and the pallegara preventive vitamin was discussed by Mrs. R. H. Forest, Winterville home economics teacher. It was emphasized that raw peanuts are richer in minerals and vitamins than the cooked ones.

After the discussion, a demonstration on making peanut butter at home, was given by Mrs. Forrest, with the assistance of Miss Elizabeth Peal, practice teacher. This delicious peanut butter was then served to the group present at the demonstration so that they might enjoy its freshness and its flavor.

This is the recipe used for the making of "homemade peanut butter." Parch peanuts without getting them too brown. Grind through the food chopper, using the finest plate. Add a sprinkle of salt and a sprinkle of sugar until it tastes right. Repeat the grinding several times or until it is oily enough to spread. If the peanuts are an oily variety, three grindings may be sufficient. It is not necessary to add any oil at all to the peanuts, for the natural oil in the peanuts is brought out by repeated grindings.

The use of Australia's white ants lays at least 30,000 eggs a day for a total of more than ten million a year.

About 60 per cent of all white babies born in 1940 were delivered in hospitals.

Approximately 90 per cent of all American homes are of wood frame construction.

Surgical Dressing Room To Open

The surgical dressing room of the Red Cross has "gone to town." The room has been moved from the ECTC campus to over the J. C. Penney Store on Evans Street.

The move was motivated by the need to encourage more women to work in the room, for the site is nearly equidistant from all parts of town.

To the president of ECTC goes the thanks of the local Red Cross for putting the nice room in the new classroom building at their disposal. This comfortable room was used and enjoyed during the winter months. With summer approaching it was necessary to screen the room and no screen wire was available. This and the realization that a more central place would bring more women to work necessitated the moving.

To Mrs. R. B. Lee goes the credit for making the rooms down town clean and attractive. She gave most of last week to this job and she certainly made a success of it.

Mrs. John Mitchell, hopes the women will speed up the work.

If you are down town and have just an hour to spend, come up and see the work. Give a day of your time during the week to this cause. If the women of Greenville would fill all the tables in the work room twice a day to capacity, the quota for Greenville would be filled within two weeks, however, with only a few women working at a time, the work stretches to many weeks.

The work room opens tomorrow at 9 o'clock and will operate on the same schedule as heretofore: 9-12 and 2-5.

Leagues Can't Get Used To New Balata Baseball

Players Claim Ball Is 'Dead As A Door-nail' But Still Using Them

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The major leagues are as confused about the Balata ball as a bunch of freshmen at the Junior Prom and perhaps it is a good thing today is an open date so that everybody can take stock—of themselves and of the balls that are being used.

In games played at Brooklyn against the Phillies this week-end a leftover supply of last year's balls was used, the changeover being made in the third inning of Saturday's struggle. But other clubs in both leagues still are using the new 1943 model even though all parties concerned say it is dead.

The Herald-Tribune in New York raised the question today of whether or not it was legal for the Dodgers to use a different ball from other major league clubs and pointed out that the national and American leagues were bound by agreement to use exactly the same ball—dead, alive or maimed.

Another question beginning to sprout in some people's minds is whether the lack of hitting in early games should be blamed on the ball at all, or whether it has simply been that the hitters haven't sharpened their batting eyes.

Dead ball or not, the Washington Senators had 19 hits and scored 12 runs in the first game of a double-header yesterday. They also scored five runs on six hits in the nightcap to sweep the bargain bill from the Philadelphia Athletics 12-2 and 5-0. Alex Carrasquel pitched two-hit ball in the nightcap.

The New York Yankees also succeeded in making 12 hits while blasting the Boston Red Sox 7-1 to continue unbeaten in first place in the American league. There was one game in the National league in which 20 hits were made, ten by each team, as the Pittsburgh Pirates conquered the Chicago Cubs 6-2.

All of these games were played with the "dead" ball and marmoset as the batters managed to stir up quite a commotion, there was room for suspicion that maybe the reason the St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds played another 1-0 game could be attributed to good pitching or weak hitting—or both.

Yesterday it was Lefty Johnny Vander Meer who lost the decision to Lefty Howard Pollet of the Cardinals as the two western rivals grappled in their hitting vacuum at Crosley field. Vander Meer, who had won the 1-0 nod in 11 innings on opening day, allowed just four hits to Pollet, five but in the fifth inning. Walker Cooper tripled and came home on a squeeze bunt by Buster Adams.

The Reds received two other setbacks. Catcher Ray Mueller suffered a split finger and outfielder Mike McCormick went home to visit before being inducted.

The Dodgers were handed their first licking and the Phillies regained their first victory, 3-2, as Rookie Jack Kraus, former Brooklyn farmhand, held Leo Durocher's dandied to six scattered hits. Philadelphia's scoring included Danny Litwiler's second homer of the new season.

Nate Andrews held the New York Giants to seven hits as the Boston Braves copped an 8-3 verdict with five runs in the seventh and eighth innings.

Detroit and Cleveland divided a doubleheader, both scores being 4-1. In the first game Jim Baebly hit two-run triple to help win his own game although the tribe was held to three hits. Little Frank overmire's five-hit chugging captured the second game for the Tigers.

With George McQuinn hitting a homer, the St. Louis Browns stopped the Chicago White Sox 5-1 in a game that had to be called after seven innings. The second game of a scheduled double bill was postponed.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, April 26 (AP)—Four of the likely starters in Saturday's Kentucky Derby cost their owners just $9,000 two years ago when they came out of the wearing sales.

Eddi Anderson's Burnt Cork, and J. Graham Brown's Seven Hearts were $400 bargains. Blue Swords cost Allen T. Timmons $3,300, and No Wrinkles, Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' "mystery horse" was sold for $4,900.

But don't think that's any better way to get rich than betting in the winter books. If you own any sort of a stable you have to win more than the derby to break even.

Whelchel Navy pitcher had to win his own game. He smashed a home run with one on to clinch the battery.

MARINE—Maj. Gen. Alexander A. Vandegrift, who commanded the U. S. Marines during their successful campaign against the Japanese on Guadalcanal Island, sat for this portrait in department of the Pacific headquarters, San Francisco.

When the Dodgers busted loose with that 11-run spurge Saturday, the fans couldn't decide whether it was the old ball or just the same of Phillies.

Kibitzer
Workmen at the Pittsburgh Gardens didn't complain when a man who appeared regularly before fight shows and bossed the job of setting up the ring, ordered them to get a new canvas floor covering or new ring ropes. But when they finished the job early on time and he demanded that they pull down the ring and set it up again, they told President John Harris that the boxing commissions ring inspector was asking too much. Investigation showed that there wasn't any such official, so before the next show Harris asked to see the inspector's credentials. "Oh, I'm not representing anybody," came the reply. "I just like to come around and see the men work."

Today's Guest Star
Whitey Grubler, Atlantic City, N. J. Press: "In a poll at Fort Sheridan, servicemen voted Joe Dimaggio a better all-around centerfielder than Terry Moore. We think they're right, but the choice would have looked silly last October."

Monday Matinee
Henry Armstrong is really making hay—and don't say it ain't while the comeback sun shines. Hank is listed to fight Saverio Turkelio at Washington Friday, Tommy Jessup at Boston, May 7, and Johnnie Bull, who gave up pro ball to become an airline pilot on the Atlanta to Brownsville, Texas, route, only gets in about one round of golf a week now, but he hopes to play in the Tam O'Shanter tournament if it's held this year. Says John, "I hope George May has a big tournament with $15,000 prize money and the field consists of one man, Bulla." The breath of scandal touched lightly on the Penn relays Saturday when officials recognized Eddie Morgan, former Mercersburg Academy and Penn A. C. athlete running on the Westinghouse Electric team that won the defense industry relay. Someone remembered that Eddie didn't work for the company so the team was disqualified. The Electricians, apparently, didn't have the right kind of transformer.

They Had Their Inning
In a class with "sighted sub, sank same" is the report by an unidentified radioman of the bombing of an American destroyer during the early days of the war in the South Pacific. The ship's anti-aircraft couldn't reach the high-flying Jap planes as they came over five times, so the Americans couldn't do anything but broadcast a running description of the attack, ending "Five runs, no hits, no errors."

Sailor George Abrams, the midweight boxer, claims he has a real prospect at the Jacksonville, Fla. Naval Air Station in Marine Howard Boyd of Utica, N. Y. also a middleweight, whose punching won him the vote in the recent station tournament that drew 25,000 fans.

Escapee is "Faithful Worker"

Five years after he is alleged to have violated a Christmas parole by failing to return to Kilby prison at Montgomery, Ala., at expiration of a holiday parole, a man identified as Irving Lemuel Martin, alias, Charles Sanders (left), was taken into custody at Tampa, Fla., at request of Alabama authorities. From Gadsden, Ala., Martin was sentenced to 20 years in 1933, in connection with a robbery at Jackson, Ala., and since his liberty became "a faithful worker" and married. With him is Detective Chief Stephens of Tampa.

Marines Capture Germans In River

By CHESTER WALSH
Corporal Mike Stevens, one of the United States Marines on guard duty at the County-City airport across the river, captured six Germans in shallow water in Tar River near the airport today.
He brought the captives to the Reflector office and attracted a large crowd, including Lieut. Dorothy E. Cooper of Arkansas and Junior Leader Mary Foster of Missouri (that's Carl E. Bolte's State) of the WAAAs and Pvt. Bill Mitchell, a Tar Heel, mayor Bruce Sugg and others.
The Germans were carp — a heavy and grass-feeding fish that spawns in shallow river waters at this time of the year. The Marines caught the fish with his bare hands and threw them ashore to his buddy, P. Donald F. Ritter.

Negro Jailed For Shotgun Assault

Jackson, who had been drinking, assaulted his wife (who is Taylor's mother). Taylor went to the home during the family row and repossessed with Jackson. Jackson bludgeoned Taylor, seriously wounding him, some of the shot wounding his wife on a hand. Sheriff's officers stated they arrested Jackson late Sunday.

Sunrise Services Largely Attended

An Easter sunrise communion service for all denominations, and both college and town, planned by the YWCA and YMCA of the college and administered by members of the Greenville Ministerial Association, began the observance of Easter day at East Carolina Teachers College yesterday. Over three hundred worshippers gathered at the old lake site on the campus at 6:30 to participate in the service. The vesper service at night, a meditation with music, closed the day.

Sunrise Services Largely Attended

An Easter sunrise communion service for all denominations, and both college and town, planned by the YWCA and YMCA of the college and administered by members of the Greenville Ministerial Association, began the observance of Easter day at East Carolina Teachers College yesterday. Over three hundred worshippers gathered at the old lake site on the campus at 6:30 to participate in the service. The vesper service at night, a meditation with music, closed the day.
