President Sets Saturday Deadline For Return To Work By Nation's Miners

Calls Lewis' Bluff By Threatening To Use All Powers At His Command To Assure Production Of Coal; Makes Appeal To Patriotism Of Workers

Washington, April 29—(AP)—Terminating walkouts of more than 70,000 soft coal miners "strikes against the United States Government itself," President Roosevelt today set a deadline of 10 o'clock Saturday morning for a return to work or action by him to prevent interference with the war effort.

Coupled with his flat statement that he would "use all the powers vested in me as president and as commander in chief" to protect the national interest, was an appeal by Roosevelt "as the friend of the men who work in the coal mines" for them to return to their jobs and let the War Labor Board handle the controversy between the United Mine Workers and the operators.

The chief executive stepped into the wage dispute between miners and operators after the government turned over to him by the War Labor Board, which has been ignored by John L. Lewis and his associates in the United Mine Workers.

Action came also from the legislative branch of the government Monday a bill by Senator Connally (D-Tex.) authorizing the government to seize strike mines or industrial plants. Connally called Lewis "a defector."

Whether troops might be called out in the mine dispute was only a matter of speculation at this stage. Secretary of War Stimson said "I have no comment" when asked at his press conference whether the army had any plans for moving soldiers into the mine fields.

Mr. Roosevelt sent telegrams to Lewis and Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the union in which he asked the men in the mines to resume work immediately and submit their case to the National War Labor Board for final determination.

Thus far the union leaders have ignored efforts of the board to handle the case through a three-man panel set up to investigate the facts.

"The strikes and stoppages in the coal industry that have occurred and are threatened," Mr. Roosevelt said (Continued on Page Four)

AGREE ON PLAN TO END POLISH RUSSIAN BREAK

Churchill and Roosevelt Decide Course To Be Followed In Dispute Settlement

London, April 29—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt were reported in diplomatic circles here today to have reached an agreement on the course to be followed in attempting to patch up the differences between Soviet Russia and the London Polish government-in-exile.

Some sources declared a personal appeal would be made to Premier Stalin of Russia to cooperate in the move.

It was understood on good authority here that either, or perhaps both the British and the United States governments, were scheduled to confer with Stalin, and no further conferences were planned here currently.

However, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Ivan Maisky, the Russian ambassador to London, talked about the situation this morning.

The Daily Mail said Churchill and Roosevelt had been in direct contact, presumably by transatlantic telephone.

The Russian government severed relations with the Polish leaders over the latter's request for the International Red Cross to investigate German charges that 10,000 Polish officers had been slaughtered by the Russians.

It was speculated here that Stalin was being asked to cooperate to clear up what the British and United States governments regarded as an unfortunate break in the United Nations front, caused by the Goebbels trick, which must be trumped by a frank exchange of views among the Allies and by strong and binding agreements as to the future.

"The German radio exploiting the Nazis success in having driven a wedge between Russia and Poland now as pouring out thousands of words in an attempt to open a fissure between Russia and the remainder of the United Nations, and to picture the Germans as the true friend of the Poles."

Tax Collections Continue to Climb

Raleigh, April 29—(AP)—Sales tax collections continued to climb in the early spring months of this year as compared with 1942. Edwin Gill, state commissioner of revenue, said today.

He indicated that an expected decline in the volume of collections would not come this month.

Collections resulting from the 3 per cent levy through April 24 of this fiscal year amounted to $14,506,966.93 compared with $13,087,629.48 for the same period last year, Gill said.

Beverage taxes alone are more than $1,000,000 ahead of last year. Current year collections have amounted to $4,074,265.75 compared with $2,769,891.67 for 1942, the commissioner said.

British Sink Trawler

London, April 29—(AP)—An armed enemy trawler was sunk off the Dutch coast by eight British naval forces before dawn this morning during a brisk fight it was announced officially today.

Coastal forces under the command of Lieut. Peter G. C. Dickens were making an offensive sweep off the Dutch coast when the enemy trawler was met and engaged and sunk. The trawler was hit repeatedly and was seen to sink, it was announced.

Their Friendship Ends As Russia Breaks Relations

BOMBERS RAID MAIN JAP POST

Launch Drive to Force Enemy From Gilbert Islands

Washington, April 29—(AP)—The Navy reported today that an army bomber force had struck heavily at Tarawa Island, one of Japan's main advance posts in the South Pacific, while in the North Pacific an American naval force bombarded Japanese occupied Attu Island.

The air raid on Tarawa was regarded by authorities here as particularly significant because of its relation to other recent events in that strategic sector of the Pacific.

Tarawa, a Pacific atoll, which actually consists of a chain of long narrow islets located on a triangular reef is roughly in the center of the Gilbert Islands. The Gilbert group in turn lies on the southeast flank of Japan's Pacific empire.

Moreover, it has always served as a vital link in the Japanese supply routes for American supply lines between Hawaii and the southwest Pacific.

A movement to drive the Japanese out of the Gilberts would have the effect both of denying their strategic advantages which they now possess and of gaining strategic advantages for the Allies.

In the last several weeks there have been several maneuvers which indicated that the American strategy in the South Pacific might be developing toward fulfillment of those purposes.

Last March 22, Navy Catalina patrol bombers attacked and destroyed Japanese bombers which had been attacking the island.

On April 23 a large force of army bombers made a daylight attack on Tarawa and encountered heavy anti-aircraft and fighter resistance but succeeded in damaging enemy installations.

Then on April 25 the Navy here in a series of attacks destroyed Japanese air bases on the island and established a base of operations on the island of Fanning.

Airport Assured

The Navy order cancelling 20 proposed airports does not affect the county-city airport near Greenville and plans are moving forward on schedule for beginning of work at an early date.

Reply to inquiries this morning as to whether the Navy's order included the local project Congressman Herbert Bonner's office advised the Associated Press and Mayor B. R. Sugg.

Mayor Sugg received the following telegram from Jack Spain, secretary to Congressman Bonner:

"Replying to your inquiry Philip Moore, chief engineer Board of Aeronautics, conducting civil airports, advised that the Greenville airport is not affected by the Navy order revoking the Wilmington airport project."

Roxboro Fire Wipes Out Six Buildings

Roxboro, N. C., April 29—(AP)—Fire early yesterday destroyed six buildings in the heart of this town, including the county school, courthouse and the office and two other buildings of the Roxboro Lumber Company. Damage was estimated at $200,000.

County Court Superintendent of Schools R. B. Griffin said the fire apparently started in the school building, which was a two-story brick building. A gasoline truck carrying a quantity of repair parts and some fuel was parked nearby.

He estimated the damage to school property alone at $100,000.

Prime Minister Resigns

Belfast, Northern Ireland, April 29—(AP)—Prime Minister James Watson resigned today, the Belfast Telegraph said.

Watson's resignation followed the resignation of the British Minister of Commerce in Belfast, which was announced today.

Conferring With Hitler

Berlin, Saturday, April 29—(AP)—Prime Minister Laval, French chief of government, was reported today to be conferring with Adolf Hitler.

Such a meeting has been the case in the round of conferences held by the Nazi chieftain and Premier Mussolini and leaders of Axis satellite nations.

SOVIETS PUSH AIR ATTACKS

Planes Of All Types Blasting Nazi Supply Lines

Moscow, April 29—(AP)—The Red Air Force is continuing its heavy attacks on German communications and airbases, the Soviet press reported today, declaring they had destroyed more than 50 planes within 24 hours, had raided two enemy airbases and had smashed German truck supply columns.

The German communique broadcast by the Berlin radio and reported by the Associated Press, said that Russian attacks yesterday against the Kuban bridgehead and southeast of Leningrad were unsuccessful. The German air force it was reported destroyed 32 Russian planes without any loss of Axis planes.

Nikolai Akimov, a military reviewer of the Moscow News, reported that Germans were experiencing great difficulty in protecting their supply lines across the Kerch strait from aerial blows.

Akimov said Soviet planes of all types were taking part in raids in the Kerch strait, in the Caucasus as well as in the northern Donets basin.

It was indicated these attacks were increasing daily rather than decreasing.

There was some increased activity in the sea area fighting.

Cannons were engaged in various sectors of the front and there were three reports of bloody clashes between scouting parties with the Germans operating behind smoke screens in some places.

From the northern front came a dispatch telling that the submarine M-172 had returned to base after sinking 10 transports and two torpedo boats.

Swedish Naval Base Hit

Stockholm, April 29—(AP)—The newspaper Aftonbladet said today three bombs had been dropped by a foreign plane at a point on an island outside the Swedish naval base of Karlskrona.

Karlskrona lies on the Baltic 200 miles by rail south southwest of Stockholm. It had been the headquarters of the Swedish navy since 1860. The city has a navy arsenal and a large number of docks are cut out of the surrounding islands.

Communes Sentence

Raleigh, April 29—(AP)—Governor Broughton commuted today to life imprisonment the death sentence of Harvey Wilton, Negro, convicted in Catawba County on an arson charge.

Wilton, who was to have died tomorrow in the gas chamber, allegedly broke into a house late September, tried to rape the housewife and set fire to the bed upon which he had knocked her.

CLEVELAND'S TRANSIT TIED UP BY STRIKE

Union Ignores Appeal Of Undersecretary Patterson To Negotiate Wage Dispute

Cleveland, April 29—(AP)—An AFL strike today tied up Cleveland's mass transportation system, forcing uncounted thousands of war workers to thumb rides from friendly motorists or to walk to their jobs.

Not a street car or city bus could be seen on busy public square during the morning rush hour as the City Transit System's riders—averaging 1,315,000 fares daily—pulled their frequently-idle automobiles from garages and created traffic jams reminiscent of pre-ratification days.

Mayor Frank J. Lausche urged automobile drivers to "travel the main streets" and pick up pedestrians and motorists reported so many people were cooperating that, on well-traveled thoroughfares, cars were filled to capacity.

In walking out at midnight, the unionists defied an order by their international officials and also ignored a telegraphed plea by Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson to refer their wage dispute to government agencies.

Michael Garvey, an international vice president of the street car and motorcoach operators' union, said he received a telegram from Edward McMorrow, first international vice president, instructing him to "convey to our membership that the deadline must be lifted at once, and negotiations carried on as the laws of our association provide."

"It's out of our hands," declared Thomas P. Meany, the local's president. "The men voted for it and the transit board broke off negotiations."

Meany said the union was maintaining its original demand for a wage scale of $1.05 an hour for street car motormen and conductors and $1.15 an hour for bus drivers who operate alone. At present street car men receive 90 1-2 cents an hour and bus operators 97 1-2 cents hourly.

As a substitute the union would accept a 40-hour week at the present wage scale with time and a half for all overtime, Meany asserted. Most men now work about 54 hours weekly at regular rates, he added.

Walter McCarter, City Transit System general manager, has offered a 2 1-2 cents an hour increase for each class of employees. He said the union's attitude was "completely unreasonable" and a strike at this time was "an outrage."

Thunder Storm Last Night Missed City

A thunder storm heading into Greenville late last night with strong wind veered off into another direction. There was only a sprinkling of rain here. The temperature took a decided drop.

Reports from the lower part of the county, especially in the Clay Root section, indicated a heavy rainfall.

The skies were clear here this morning with a stiff northeast wind keeping the mercury down in the 30's.

British Withdraw Following Attack By Enemy Troops

ROOSEVELT ENDS TOUR OF WAR CENTERS

Sees Need For Use of Training Camps After Present Conflict Is Over

Washington, April 29—(AP)—President Roosevelt ended a 20-state war inspection tour today with an idea that the youth of America making use of industrial plants and military camps, might well give a year's service to their government in the post-war era.

He had traveled 7,652 miles in seventeen days, checking up on the widely scattered war activities and dropping down into Mexico to confer with President Manuel Avila Camacho.

Mr. Roosevelt told reporters accompanying him that the trip convinced him that the armed forces and the home front factories are in their stride, but that he was wondering what could be done, after victory is won, with camps and plants in which millions have been invested.

He had no specific plan or program to offer but he emphasized the benefits in physical, condition and mental alertness that men and women in service and war-workers uniforms had realized in the last few months. And he indicated that he thought their training should be extended to all young men and women in some form after we win the war.

Objecting to the term "compulsory military service," the Chief executive preferred to speak of a year's contribution of services to the government. Any program that develops, he said, probably would be only partly military.

The President left Washington April 13. When he returned late this morning, he had swung through most of the southern states, down to Monterrey, Mexico—nearly 150 miles below the border—out to Denver and back through the middle of the country.

He visited eleven army posts, four war plants, and one marine base, one WAAC school and one naval air training center. He talked with a dozen governors and at least a dozen number of plant executives.

Everywhere he went, Mr. Roosevelt saw action. He saw green troops in the first days of their training, and hardened troops just about ready for an expedition to the battle zones.

He saw the most minute facets of military training, even sampling three times the food the neophyte soldiers were eating. He warned how the army schools its men for the multitude of duties they must perform, several times watching combat problems employing real ammunition.

He saw bomber and fighter planes on the assembly lines and in the air and a clattering factory rolling out 30 calibre ammunition by the carload.

News stories on the early part of his trip were released midway of his travels. He went off the record again after parting with Mexican President at Corpus Christi, Texas, April 21.

Attack?

By The Associated Press

The Tokyo radio warned the Japanese people today that the United States was "making all kinds of preparations" to raid Japan again and appealed to air raid precautions workers to be on the alert.

"A raid similar to that of April 18 last year will be carried out," declared a domestic broadcast, which was intercepted by U. S. Government monitors and reported by the Office of War Information.

The expected attack, however, the radio declared, would be primarily a "propaganda" move to "appease" the American people and to divert attention from "confusion and disunity" in U. S. war industries.

Believe Americans Are Planning Big Campaign

By GLADWIN HILL

London, April 29—(AP)—The marked slackening in operations of the Eighth U. S. Air Force during a period when the RAF was raiding Europe nearly every day and night caused informed observers to speculate today on the possibility that Americans may be busy shaping a large-scale aerial campaign.

There have been two stretches of more than ten days each this month when the Flying Fortresses and Liberators made no raids. They have made only four for the month, against nine in March, the busiest month to date.

Official refusal to comment on this slackening suggested that the cause might be the organization of a much bigger force.

It is known that one mass flight of four-engined bombers across the North Atlantic, recently completed without loss, was the largest yet to negotiate this route. The exact number of planes in the flight was not disclosed.

Reinforcements would call for extensive practice to train newcomers for night formation flying against German fighters.

It was also considered possible that the American bomber crews may have been practicing night flying. Maj. Gen. Ira C. Baker, commander of the Eighth U. S. Air Force, announcing the end of the "experimental" period late in March said that in the coming expanded campaign, when daylight weather is bad, the Americans would bomb at night as the RAF does.

American and French Forces Continue Progress On Tunisian Front; Allied Planes Destroy 17 Axis Aircraft, Sink One Ship And Damage Three Others

By EDWARD KENNEDY

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, April 29 (AP)—United States troops gained some important ground in North Tunisia yesterday, but Axis resistance has stiffened along the entire front and all indications are that the Germans are determined to resist to the end.

Tank-supported German shock troops counterattacked twice yesterday against British vanguards which had bloodily won the summit of Djebel Bou Aoukaz, 12 miles northeast of Medjed-el-Bab, and, although their own losses were heavy, compelled the British to withdraw slightly.

Before this retirement, the British were in position only 20 miles west of Tunis.

Daniel De Luce, Associated Press correspondent with the British First Army, said in a dispatch from the field it appeared that the first phase of Gen. Sir Harold Alexander's offensive had been definitely concluded and a climactic breakthrough had not been achieved.

German combat troops have taken over all positions on the western front before both Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson's First Army and the second U. S. Army Corps.

Germans had dominated also on the southern front, where Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth Army has been able to gain only two to seven miles since the Enfidaville attack last week despite steadily pressure against heavy fortifications throughout both the mountains and the coastal flat lands. But 30 per cent of that Axis defense was reported to be Italian.

The temporary seizure of Djebel Bou Aoukaz was the high mark of the Allied advance in a week of struggles of attrition.

The offensive of Alexander's 18th Army group, led off by Montgomery's assault upon Enfidaville, was likened by De Luce to jabs and (Continued on Page Four)

Madry Elected To Head Rotes

Rocky Mount, April 29—(AP)—Robert W. Madry, mayor of Chapel Hill and director of the University of North Carolina News Bureau, was elected governor of the 18th District of Rotary International this morning at the business meeting of the annual convention which is in session here.

Madry's nomination was the only one advanced prior to the convention, which opened yesterday.

In addition to the elections, today's program included a breakfast for club presidents and secretaries; a business session for consideration of reports of committees and the present district governor, Hal Orr of Rocky Mount; and a luncheon at which the speakers were Theodore S. Johnson of Raleigh, state director of the Office of Price Administration, and Algie Blair of Montgomery, Ala., a representative of Rotary International.

The governor's banquet and a ball will be held tonight. The speakers will be Governor Broughton and Don Blair of New York, a news commentator.

Steve G. Wilkerson, president of the Greenville Rotary Club, and John G. Fleming, president; Charles B. Bissette, vice-president, and Robert A. Darr, secretary and treasurer, recently elected for the coming year, attended the meeting.

Chinese Leader Says Japs Wiped Out Coastal Area

San Francisco, April 29—(AP)—Every man, woman and child in the coastal areas of China where American fliers found haven after the bombing of Tokyo a year ago has been butchered by revenge-mad Japanese troops, official China has notified the United States Government.

The horror of blood-letting reported to American authorities by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and announced by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, was Lidice reproduced on a wholesale scale.

Morgenthau read Generalissimo Chiang's cablegram at a meeting of war loan workers in San Francisco last night. He recalled the Japanese announcement of their execution of some of the captured American fliers—"those gallant fighting men, who were by all military law and precedent prisoners of war."

"Now," Morgenthau said, his voice vibrant with emotion "with a deep sense of shock and anger I must bring you further news. I have here a cablegram which reached me this morning. It comes from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. Let me read it to you."

After they had been caught unaware by the falling of American bombs on Tokyo, Japanese troops attacked the coastal areas of China where many of the American fliers had landed. These Japanese troops slaughtered every man, woman and child in those areas—let me repeat—these Japanese troops slaughtered every man, woman and child in those areas, reproducing on a wholesale scale.

Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR April 29, 1903

Quite a large crowd left on the gas boat this morning for Washington to attend the carnival. Greenville never grew faster than now.

You can't exactly hear things grow, but this warm weather is making them hump.

This weather is making people threaten to discard heavy underwear and go into something thinner. Better wait until after the cold spell in May.

To Enter Advanced School: Private Alex B. Dail, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dail of Greenville, has graduated from the radio school of the Air Force Technical Training Command. It has been announced. He will now enter a more advanced school to receive instruction as part of a bombing team.

To Deliver Address: E. C. Hollar of the history department at East Carolina Teachers College will deliver the commencement address at Arapahoe high school tonight.

Round Table Meets: The ladies of the Round Table held a most delightful meeting at the home of Mrs. B. B. Brandt on Lewis Street with Mrs. Brandt and Miss Marguerite Austin as hostesses. The house was beautifully decorated with spring flowers.

The president, Mrs. J. E. Winslow, presided and after a short business session Mrs. J. W. Hugg presented Mrs. D. S. Spain, Jr. who gave a most interesting paper on Health Conditions in Latin America. She began by saying that we hear much about how Latin Americans live but very little about how they die. Health conditions in general are much poorer there than in the United States. Such diseases as tuberculosis, infantile paralysis, yellow fever and malaria are much more prevalent than in our country and the ravages much more virulent. In addition so many people are reduced in resistance by malnutrition that they readily fall victim to these diseases.

Mrs. W. T. Kiser presented an outstanding news item that is pertinent on our relations with Latin America. She stated that United States is now getting a large share of its mineral supply from Latin America.

The hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Howard M. Ginnis and Mrs. F. E. Snyder, served delicious refreshments.

The club was glad to welcome Miss Madeline Powers as guest of Mrs. W. A. Browne for the remainder of the year.

Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Paul Fitzgerald, Jr., Miss Lillian W. Blanks and Miss Katharine Holliday.

Birth Announcement: Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lee announce the birth of a daughter, Lillian Ann, on Thursday, April 29, 1942, in Pitt General Hospital.

Commandery Meets Friday: B'nai B'rith Commandery No. 29, Knights Templar, will hold a special convocation Friday night at 8 o'clock. All members are invited to attend.

These cards were developed by the Office of Education with the cooperation of representatives from the Army, Navy, Selective Service War Manpower Commission, U. S. Department of Agriculture and the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

The effective utilization of manpower concerns all of these agencies. The success of this card will depend upon the voluntary effort of local high schools in filling it out for each graduate and drop-out over 16 years of age, who at the close of school will enter the armed forces or the labor market. It should also prove helpful to the pupil if he contemplates further training of any sort. The card will also take the place of previously proposed Victory Certificates for special pre-induction courses, stated the letter accompanying the questionnaires.

"Chimes of Normandy": Be sure to attend the operetta "Chimes of Normandy" tonight. The glee clubs have worked hard and have a good program for your entertainment. The light opera begins at 8 o'clock.

Last Performance Of Operetta Tonight

"The Chimes of Normandy" matinee was presented yesterday afternoon in the high school auditorium to grammar school students and others. The final performance will be given tonight at 8 o'clock.

The scene of the operetta is in Cornville, one of the old-fashioned villages of Normandy; during the 17th century, at the time of the great annual fair. Gossipers are on the loose and Serpolette, a "cut-up" is one of the topics of conversation. A young mix-up occurs in the plot when Gaspard, an old miser wishes to marry his niece, Germaine, to the Balli but Germaine feels she must keep her vow to wed the sailor, Granchoux, who saved her life. Serpolette and Henri, Count de Cornville, also have ideas about Germaine's marrying. The dawn sheds a little light on the subject and that is the plot which will be solved at the high school tonight.

The cast includes: Josephine Gibson, Anos Leggett, Mimi Tripp, Bobby Clark, Beverly Ballard, Ernest Cahoon, Myrtle Gray Pollard and Delphine Flye.

The overture will be played by the high school band. Miss Imogene Roubek designed the chorus costumes and assisted Miss Deanie Deane Baskett with the dramatics. The music was by the Flemming brothers, Ralph and Dennis, and J. L. Brandt and Jimmy Warren are responsible for the scenery. Eddy Howard acted as prompter.

Chesterfield To Continue Series

A doctor caring for his patients, a farmer tending to his crops and a storekeeper waiting on his customers... all are serving their country in the same fine spirit that's bound to beat the enemy. This is the key-note of Chesterfield's tribute campaign which has been running since the first of the year in newspapers all over the country. It has won so much favorable comment from the Government, various trade groups and the general public that the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company, makers of Chesterfield cigarettes, will continue it.

The first ad in the current series pays tribute to the men and women of medicine. American doctors are making medical history... serving on all the fighting fronts and doing double duty at home, caring for their own patients and those of doctors who have gone into the service. Never before has the doctors' pledge meant so much, to serve humanity faithfully wherever the need may be. As Chesterfield says, "They're True To Their Pledge."

Another ad in this series pays a well-deserved tribute to the small storekeeper of America. Their work is not spectacular, little publicized... yet, day in and day out they're doing their best to supply America's food, clothing, furnishings and the friendly white Chesterfield package that gives smokers what they want.

In this series Chesterfield pays tribute to the farmer, to WAACs, warworkers and WAVES and to the men and women of radio. Chesterfield invites your attention to its two top-ranking radio shows: Fred Waring and his gang with victory tunes and the nation's top-notch 15-minute variety show—Harry James and America's leading dance band.

Grifton Negroes Taken To Prison

Sheriff's officers yesterday took Booker T. and William Henry Peyton, Negroes, to the State Prison camp near the city and Rosa Lee Picott, their sister, to State Prison at Raleigh, each to serve two years.

They were convicted of disorderly conduct and inciting a riot at Grifton last Saturday night. Judge Dink James sentenced them in County Court Tuesday. They pled not guilty and testified that they were drunk. "That's no excuse in this court for breaking the law," the judge stated. Rosa Lee Picott resisted arrest for being drunk at Grifton Saturday night. The Peytons, her brothers, attacked Police Chief Lloyd Manning and Constable Manning while a mob of Negroes threateningly crowded about the jail. They were dispersed when state highway patrolmen arrived.

How You Can Do As Much HOME BAKING As Ever!

SAVE RED RATION POINTS BY USING OBELISK SELF-RISING (OR PLAIN) FLOUR THIS NEW WAY

Ladies! If you have been forced to cut down on home baking because shortening is rationed, read these important facts. Discover how you can serve home-baked biscuits to an average family every day in the week for only two red ration points! Find out how to use 25% to 50% less shortening with Ballard's Enriched OBELISK Flour.

In order that homemakers and mothers might continue to serve nutritious hot biscuits and other home-baked goods in keeping with established southern traditions, chemists at the Ballard & Ballard laboratory have collaborated with nutrition experts of a well-known southern university to bring you new ration-point-saving recipes. Thanks to these new discoveries, you can now bake light, nourishing, grand-tasting biscuits by using only one tablespoon of shortening to every 1 1/2 cups of Enriched OBELISK Self-Rising (or Plain) Flour. Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

CHRISTIAN KINDNESS PAYS
We all know the story of the little Chinese boy in Mason, Georgia, who being invited by a kindly man to attend Sunday School, did so because one of his daughters married Sun Yat Sen and another the Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek, the thoughtful invitation to attend Sunday school became in later years a factor of real historical significance.

On the other hand stands Matsuko, the Japanese leader who was raised in this country by a devout Christian woman. Matsuko greatly reveres the memory of his foster mother. He is a Christian, at least nominally so but he stands today behind the whole attempt of Japan to crush America. Matsuko feels that he was discriminated against in childhood and youth by the Americans, and there is probably not a man in the world today more energetically opposed to the American way of life than this Japanese who was raised right in our own country and despises us all because he believes that our ideals are superficial and our attitude toward Asiatics contemptible.

Little did the people of a certain western village know how much anguish they were storing up for their countrymen when they made wise cracks about the little Japanese youngster that a good Christian woman in that community had taken to raise. History turns on very little events, and sometimes without knowing it we are, for better or worse participants in its most dramatic situations.

GOOD NEWS

When reports were read this morning that 20 airfield projects including Wilmington had been abandoned there was much anxiety here as to whether or not our project might likewise be abandoned. Replies from inquiries to Washington that the local airfield was in no way affected by the order caused officials to breathe a sigh of relief.

NO TIME FOR SOFT WORDS

President Roosevelt has appealed to the patriotism of the coal miners to continue on their jobs in effort that the entire war effort might not be threatened but to our way of thinking when an individual or a group deliberately defies the government by refusing to submit its grievances to the body authorized to handle such matters the time for appealing to patriotism has passed. John L. Lewis and other racketeers who are stampeding labor forces to seek personal gains for themselves regardless of the interests of the nation have never been regarded as having any patriotism or any other desire than to feather their own nests at the cost of the workers and the rest of the country. If labor is so foolish as to blindly follow Lewis' leadership it's time the government used an iron hand in the matter.

It's time to stop pleading with such groups and start telling them what to do.

Tube Or Not TUBE—That Is The Question

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

Washington Since we got into this war almost a billion words have been written about the President's "war cabinet." Commentators have written reams of copy and spent hours on the air telling about how thin authority was spread; about how necessary it is to concentrate that authority in a few responsible individuals.

There were periods when this was so but out of the muddle of divided authority, the true picture of the "war cabinet" is beginning to shape up. I started when Associate Justice James P. Byrnes was pulled off the Supreme Court bench to become Director of Economic Stabilization. It was put a bit forward when Charles E. Wilson was given added powers in WPB that made him actually the superior of Donald Nelson in most executive matters; and when Prentiss Brown was placed at the head of OPA.

The President's "war cabinet" today actually consists of: 1. President Roosevelt, whose decisions are supreme in the matter of global war strategy; and in so far as the executive branch of government is concerned, supreme in matters of economic production, labor, and manpower controls on the home front.

2. "Little Jimmy" Byrnes, who is "czar" of the home front and probably exercises more authority than any man in the country other than the President.

3. The War Department, personified by Secretary Henry H. Stimson and more importantly Chief of Staff Gen. George C. Marshall.

The dastardly execution of these American fliers, who were taken as prisoners of war, has made it clear to all Americans that we face an enemy who knows no codes of law or decency. The only language which such an enemy understands is that of the weapons of war, and in the bond campaign which you are pushing for tonight, effort our people wish you all success.

On the Paris raid of April 4, 48 enemy fighters were destroyed for the loss of four American bombers and on the Bremen raid April 17, 63 enemy fighters were destroyed against 16 American bombers lost.

Voluntary compliance in participation of the nation. Mr. Roosevelt had to be sure they will remain to their job when they realize the effect that stopping work would have on men at the home front.

He has no doubt that what action he would take if the miners do not meet his Saturday morning deadline. He has the power, however, to order government seizure and operation of the mines, covering the entire production of coal on, he said, because we will not let them turn out to be anti-American and anti-union. It is not the weapons he holds on soldiers on the high seas and on planes in the field will be brought against our enemies."

Mr. Roosevelt said he was sure the miners will not want to retard the war effort to which they have contributed loyally and in which they will all other Americans have so much at stake.

After reviewing some of the recent history of the coal industry, the President called attention to the membership of the panel appointed by the WLB, Daniel P. Robertson of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and engineers to represent the employees, Walter White to represent operators, and Morris L. Cooke to represent the public.

Such personnel, he said, assures "an impartial investigation of the facts, to be used by the board in settling the controversy in accordance with law."

Yet his telegram noted UMW officials have ignored the WLB's request that the case be presented to the panel together with a re-

HORSE PRAIRIE BY CLEM COLT

HORSE PRAIRIE, M. Chapter 21

The night was getting on to being pretty near morning and why a woman should be abroad at such an hour was neither clear nor understandable, but as Tubac was passing the mouth of Boggs' Alley a scream brought his horse up sharply.

Then the scream came again. Tubac came out of the saddle with a sixgun in hand. The scream had come from the alley and Tubac went plunging into it.

Muzzle flame spurted from the gloom and lead shrieked above Tubac's head.

He drove two swift shots at the flash and jumped to the left to flat-footed against the wall he stood, breath held, listening. He concluded finally that the fellow had slipped away from him.

Still, you never could tell; so he stayed where he was for another five or ten heartbeats while his narrowed stare searched the darkness. Then, easing the cramp from his muscles, he took a forward, investigating step. Took another. Took a third and dropped flat as the hidden man's gun belched flame again.

Flat on his belly Jones loosed three shots; and through their din he caught the diminishing clatter of the fellow's departure.

With a disgusted oath Jones jumped to his feet. He got a match from his hand and struck it.

The flame in that inclosed space showed a crumpled form. A woman's face down she lay, not ten feet away. Holstering his gun he hurried forward, hands cupping the match. Reaching her he dropped the match and turned her over.

Then, cautiously lifting her to a sitting posture, he got a knee brace of behind her back and struck another match.

A startled oath burst out of him and he almost dropped the match from his hand. It was Sue.

Her eyes were closed, and Jones in a panic thought she must be dead—thought perhaps he, himself, had killed her with one of the shots he had fired at her assailant.

But the match glowed and he was stooping to lift her when something hard bored into his back and a cold voice told him gratingly:

"Reach—an' reach quick!"

Tubac reached—but not for the stars.

Tubac spun on his boot heels, and his grabbing right caught the sheriff's gun by the barrel. It blazed and the slug flew into the ground.

And with a sudden swift twist Jones had the gun away from him. In the next split second the butt of it took Sheriff Ike Shallet square in the face and, with a wheezy sigh, he came down like an empty tin.

quest that the strikers be urged to return to their jobs.

He said telegrams from some members of the UMW had reached him complaining that OPA price regulations had been disregarded and the cost of living had gone up disproportionately in mining areas.

"I have directed OPA," the President said, "to make an immediate investigation of the facts and where-ever a violation of the law is disclosed by that investigation, to see that the violators of the law are prosecuted."

"But hell's hinges! What does a nice young girl like you wanta go gittin' mixed up with a bunch of dang—" "Oh, dear!" she sighed desperately. "I'm not ellin' it very well am I?" "Might help," Tubac grunted. "If I knew who you was wastlin' with in that alley—" "Oh! That horrible Carlin!" Honey Hair shivered. "Mr. Haines says I've got to marry him—" "Who? That ape? The devil you have! You ain't—" "But Mr. Haines says he'll send me to State's prison—" "Aw—no," tugged in Tubac sardonically. "Mister Haines is a gentleman." Sue gulped, and through her long lashes she peered up at Tubac reproachfully. "If you're going to throw that up to me—" "Well, you can't say I didna warn you," Jones couldn't resist reminding her; but Sue's shoulder got to shaking again, so he put on an arm to steady her and was considerably amazed to find how snug she fitted into it. Why, she wasn't no bigger than a wasp, it seemed like. "Say!" he muttered, remembering Ike Shallet. "We better get a wagon. Wait here till I get a horse for you—" "Oh, but—" "No buts about it! You're going out to the ranch with me, an' the quicker we git there the better!" To Be Continued

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"

Without Painful Backache Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up late, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and bladders. Frequent or scanty passages with enuring and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney tubes filter poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Looks Like Draft Boards Will Be Winner This Year

However, Teams Continue to Rock Along, With Yankees in First Place

By HUDSON BAILEY (AP Sports Writer)

The American League's pennant race seems to be in the hands of the draft authorities today.

It has been right within their reach all along, of course, and all the pennant predictions this entire season have been based on a forecast of "ifs" and "buts" covering the possibility of the loss of key players by contending clubs.

However, the matter is down to brass tacks now. Today's shortstop George Fox of the New York Yankees will have an induction examination at Hartford Conn. and last night it was disclosed that an article board at Mansfield, O., has retained second baseman Ray Mack of the Cleveland Indians in class 1-A.

Neither of the players is as prominent as some that are sure to be called later in the season, but they are vital cogs in the clubs that now rank one-two in the American League and their cases are as controversial as any baseball is likely to produce.

Mack was married on Oct. 16, 1940, the date of the first draft registration is the father of an 18-month-old daughter and expects another child this summer. The Indians had expected him to be deferred by the selective service rule that fathers of children born before last September 15 would not be called until the supply of single and childless married men had been exhausted.

The appeals board said its decision was not unanimous, leaving Mack the right to take his case to the presidential board.

Stirnweis, a bridesroom of about six weeks is understood to have stomach ulcers and Yankee spokesmen have said he was rejected for this reason when he tried to become a naval aviation cadet last winter. Thus there is doubt about the future of both players, but no doubt that the decisions on their cases will have a bearing on the pennant race.

The pace-setting Yankees have played five games, winning four, and Stirnweis has hit safely in every contest for a batting average of .500 to show that even though he is a 24-year-old rookie he is as valuable to the club as any veteran.

Yesterday the Yankees shut out the Boston Red Sox 5-0 with Ernie Bonham pitching six-hit ball. Stirnweis made three of New York's eight hits, scored one run and batted in another.

Cleveland took over undisputed possession of second place as Lefty Smith shut out the Chicago White Sox, 2-0.

The Indians in winning five of their first seven games have distinguished themselves as pennant

The Washington Senators, who moved into third place as Ewald Pyle pitched them to a 3-0 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics, also suffered a draft blow when infielder Gerry Priddy was summoned to New York for his physical examination.

The Detroit Tigers, making their delayed opening at home before 17,943 fans, stopped the St. Louis Browns, 4-2.

The world champion St. Louis Cardinals lost their contest with the Chicago Cubs, 4-0, on four errors and the tight seven-hit hurling of Hiram Bithorn.

There were nine errors in the Brooklyn Dodgers affair with the Philadelphia Phillies and Brooklyn's National League leaders finally obtained a 4-3 decision with an unearned run in the tenth.

These teams also made seven errors the day before, but didn't kick in at Shibe Park. They had 2470 fans yesterday, out-drawing among others the world champion Cardinals in St. Louis.

WAAC's Missionary Work Outstanding

By CHESTER WALSH

Auxiliary officers Eudora Stauffer of Ohio, Claire Johans of Minnesota and Noni Jaramillo of California, representing the Woman's Auxiliary Army Corps, were in Greenville today on routine recruiting work for the WAAC's. Lieut. Olga Taylor of California, scheduled to be here, was called to duty elsewhere. The recruiters for the WAAC's are doing intensive work in Greenville and Pitt county for that branch of the service. The WAAC's are doing signally outstanding duty in replacing men of the armed forces. They are women from every walk of life. Each WAAC has an important task to perform. They are doing their jobs efficiently. Secretary of War Stimson stated.

The WAAC's have made innumerable contacts in Greenville and the county. They have conferred with the leaders of Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions, Chamber of Commerce, Business and Professional Women's Club, college groups and the Women's and the Junior Women's clubs and others. They have done some splendid missionary work here for the WAAC's. They invite the women to join now. They may be called later on if understood. It is particularly interesting to observe that Pitt county with its full quota of men in the armed forces by the draft and many extra through volunteer service does not have half a dozen women in the WAAC's. The women are meeting the men more than half way in home service, but have not measured up with the men of the county in volunteering for the WAAC's and other women's organizations to relieve men for duty in the armed forces," a well known Greenville man stated today.

British Sailors To Visit Greenville

By LUCY CHERRY CRISP

Four British sailors from a ship now in at Norfolk will arrive in Greenville tonight to spend the week-end here. The invitation was sent to them following a letter from their Padre to Mrs. John Mitchell, stating that there were a number of his men who were in great need of brief leaves from the ship and contact—if possible—with family life again.

The four men will be the guests of Prof. and Mrs. R. C. Deal for rooms, and will have breakfast in Mrs. Mitchell's home. If there are people in town who would like to have these boys—the oldest of them is only 25—as their guests for one or more meals, either as a group or individually, they are requested to call Mrs. Deal or Mrs. Mitchell and make the arrangements.

"The boys will arrive in Greenville on Thursday at 10 p. m.," the Padre wrote Mrs. Mitchell. "I envy them—for I know what a grand time they'll have. They have to come back to arrive on board by noon on Tuesday the 4th."
