Expect Floods To Wipe Out Levees Along Mississippi

Area Between Cape Girardeau And St. Louis Endangered; 10 Dead And 22,000 Homeless; Army Engineer Believes Some Dams May Hold

By The Associated Press An army engineers officer expressed confidence today that some levees along the Mississippi river between St. Louis and Cape Girardeau, Mo., could be held against rising flood waters, while emergency civilian and military crews fought climbing river crests over a wide area of the Middle West.

Vern Alexander, regional hydrologic engineer at Kansas City's weather bureau, after completing a tour of the Missouri and Oklahoma flood areas, said he believed all Mississippi levees between St. Louis and Cape Girardeau "will be wiped out." The levees protect thousands of acres of rich farm lands.

Lt. Col. J. A. Adams, St. Louis district army engineer, disagreed, however, with Alexander's opinion. "From predicted stages," Adams said, "I don't think it's true that the levees will break down. However, we're pretty sure we cannot hold some of them because they'll be topped."

Adams declined, for security reasons, to name those he thought would not hold.

Alexander predicted that the levees at St. Louis and East St. Louis, Ill., will hold, although he said he believed by Saturday or Sunday the crest at St. Louis will reach 37 1/2 feet, which would be just six inches under the second all-time peak, the 38-foot level of 1903, when disastrous floods occurred. The St. Louis weather bureau said the stage yesterday was 32.9 feet, a rise of 2.7 feet in the last 24 hours, and predicted a rise of 2 feet in the next 24 hours. The all-time peak at St. Louis was 41.2 feet in 1844, Alexander said.

There was only slight measure of relief in the flooded area in a six-state mid-continent section where surging waters have driven thousands from their homes, covered millions of acres of farm lands, causing disruption of rail and motor traffic, and halted work in many war plants and factories.

The number of dead in the flooded area was 10, plus in Indiana, three in Missouri and one in Oklahoma, while the estimated number of persons driven from their homes was more than 22,000, including 12,000 in Indiana and 10,000 in Illinois. Many others were evacuated from homes in Oklahoma, Arkansas and Kansas. Property damage was extensive while damage to crops was expected to be severe although no official estimates were given.

Damage thus far in Missouri is in the southwest section, along the Osage river in the central part and in the Missouri river bottom area from Jefferson City to the mouth of the St. Charles area. The Osage already is past all previous marks and a power plant at Bennet, Mo., is threatened. Roy Wingate, district (Continued on Page Six)

Next Saturday Is Poppy Day

Faith in America with those who have died in the nation's service will be pledged anew on Poppy Day, May 29, Greenville American Legion Auxiliary Poppy Chairman said today as the Auxiliary continued preparations for its annual distribution of memorial poppies.

"The wearing of the poppy is a personal pledge that we will not 'break faith' with those who died but will carry on to the achievement of the things for which they gave their lives," said Mrs. Worthington.

"Millions of Americans will wear the poppy this year as a tribute to the dead of both World Wars and a mark of their determination to conclude this war with complete victory. The flower is the symbol of life given in service for America. The wearer makes an unspoken pledge to the nation's heroic dead that he will live as they died, serving America."

Poppies will be offered to everyone in Pitt County by the women of the Auxiliary on Poppy Day. No price will be asked for the flowers, the pennies of children being just as welcome as the dollars of the wealthy. A poppy over every heart is the goal.

SOVIETS SMASH NAZI ATTACKS

Report Constant Air Action All Along Russian Front

By EDDY GILMORE Moscow, May 20 (AP)—New German counterattacks in the Kuban valley, fed by fresh reserves of men and tanks, have been smashed by Red Army artillery and planes, the Russians announced today, with heavy losses inflicted on the Nazis as they made their second unsuccessful effort in two days to cross a river in the Kuban delta.

There was constant air and land action all along the Russian-German front from the Karelian Isthmus of Leningrad, where the Finns were reported to have manned their forward lines with more heavy guns to the arc northeast of Novorossisk, where the Germans still held their positions in the Black sea port.

The fiercest fighting, the Russians said authoritatively, was in the Kuban and around Izyum, on the Donets river 70 miles southeast of Kharkov.

Fighters and bombers, with the Red air force holding superiority, continued major scale battles in the sky. The German air force made repeated efforts to raid Leningrad. At least eight German craft were brought down in air duels and by anti-aircraft fire, the noon communique said.

The Germans attempted to land on the Soviet-held bank of the Kuban valley's lower reaches and were ambushed. The hidden Soviets allowed the boats to approach, in some cases to make a landing. Then rapid fire rifles were turned on the enemy, killing about 200. The others took to the boats in a futile attempt to retreat. Fourteen of the craft were sunk and their occupants were drowned, the midnight communique said.

Northeast of Novorossisk last night's action was restricted to artillery bombardment and the bombing and strafing of German positions by Russian armor.

A dispatch to Red Star, the army newspaper, said the Germans were counterattacking in numerous sectors and that the strength of their blows indicate the enemy is getting plenty of reinforcements into their Kuban bridgehead.

North of Leningrad the Russians kept the new Finnish Karihin defenses under continual artillery harassment. It was said.

On the northwestern front Russian scouts bagged two German staff officers in a raid on the enemy headquarters, the noon communique declared.

Russian artillery also was busy west of Rostov, the war bulletin added.

CIO Men Strike At Chrysler Plant

Detroit, May 20 (AP)—Within a few hours after he said collective bargaining between union and management had "completely broken down" at the Kercheval and Jefferson plants of Chrysler Corporation here, Ed Carey, president of the United Automobile Workers (UAW) local 7, announced shortly after 10 A. M. today that day shifts in both plants had walked out.

Carey said about 4,000 employees were involved.

A corporation spokesman confirmed the walkout and said union pickets had been placed at gates of the plants.

"The strike undoubtedly is authorized," he said. "Four thousand men don't walk out of their own accord."

Striding up and down the committee room in Washington, and at times waving his finger at members of the House Military Committee, Rep. James H. Here, Morrison waves his finger at Rep. John J. Sparkman, Democrat of Alabama.

LEWIS ASKS TO RETURN TO AFL

Labor Circles Unable To Explain Action Of Miners' Head

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS Washington, May 20 (AP)—John L. Lewis returned to the doorstep of the American Federation of Labor stumped all but a few insiders in labor circles today and left them groping for an explanation.

The unpredictable president of the United Mine Workers, who defied the AFL in 1935 and was suspended for organizing the rival CIO, formally petitioned in behalf of the miners for readmission. An AFL statement yesterday said the application was "welcomed" and was being considered in "an orderly and sympathetic way."

Lewis withheld comment at his New York hotel but his friends said his action was evidence of his desire for a unified labor movement.

Critics doubted if that told the whole story. Many believed he made the jump because he had no other place to go, while still seeking the top spot in the American labor movement.

When Lewis lost control of the CIO and left it last year he virtually burned his bridges behind him. He tried a third movement under the banner of district 50, a catch-all unit of the UMW. The result was less than spectacular.

As the leader of a single union, the United Mine Workers, his influence in politics has its limitations. By rejoining a federation of unions whose membership soon may aggregate 7,000,000, he could be seeking a potent alliance in political councils, perhaps starting with the 1944 presidential campaign.

What effect the miners' reintegration with the AFL would have upon the CIO is speculative. The respective membership claims make the CIO numerically inferior now.

The miners, who have been independent since last October, would add 500,000 to 600,000 to the 6,250,000 members who now pay per capita tax to the AFL.

The aggregate membership of the CIO unions is believed to be less than 5,000,000. It has never made public its treasury figures.

In any future unity negotiations, the AFL would thus hold a more commanding position than ever. Lewis might be in a position, then, to dictate peace terms to the CIO. The AFL alternative to peace might be an AFL organizing drive that would prove more costly than the CIO could afford and even peace might mean the abolition of some CIO unions.

New Ration Books

Charlotte, N. C., May 20 (AP)—Mail carriers began today distributing application forms for War Ration Book No. 3.

Officials of the Charlotte district office of Price Administration said yesterday that approximately 4,000,000 books were expected to be issued by the state mailing center here.

MAY EXTEND DRIVING BAN

Ickes Says Further Cut In Gasoline Is Necessary

Washington, May 20 (AP)—Secretary Ickes said today further reductions in use of gasoline for driving will have to be made "before the present crisis is over" despite repositioning of the pleasure-driving ban in most of the east at noon.

New restrictions may have to be imposed on driving in the middle west as well as the east because "we might temporarily have to bring in more supplies from the middle west to the east," using the shorter haul, the interior secretary told a press conference in his capacity as Petroleum Administrator.

Ickes declined to discuss the form of the indicated restrictions, possibly further reduction in ration coupon allowances and perhaps extension of the pleasure-driving ban to the middle west — because he insisted that is the province of the Office of Price Administration.

Ickes reiterated "what I've been saying for a year and a half—there might be no non-essential driving and there is a lot of it," he added. "If non-essential driving had been banned long ago, gasoline stocks would have been larger enough to avert the present critical position of the east."

Biggest blow to the east 1,800 said was the break in the 20-inch pipe line near Little Rock, Ark., which a section was washed out by the flood.

He said this would mean net loss to the east of 200,000 barrels of oil each day until flood waters subside. (Continued on Page Six)

The WAR TODAY

AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

British Prime Minister Churchill in his address at the joint session of congress yesterday made a couple of statements which gave rise to the question of whether he has signalled any fundamental change in Allied strategy, and they are these:

CALL FOR HUGE ARMY OUTLAY

President Boosts January Figures By Six Billion Dollars

Washington, May 20 (AP)—President Roosevelt asked Congress today to make available nearly $72,000,000,000 for the Army in the fiscal year starting July 1, boosting his January budget figures by more than $6,000,000,000.

White House Secretary Stephen Early explained that the increase is accounted for by a projected expansion of the aircraft program.

The Army expects to see, he said, 1,147,000,000 pounds of planes in the next year, exclusive of the weight of engines and motors, compared with 911,000,000 pounds in the current fiscal year.

The total, Early said, will exceed the combined production of all other nations.

A $29,000,000,000 naval bill is awaiting house passage today.

The President said in a letter to Speaker Rayburn, transmitted a request for War Department appropriations totaling $59,425,386,500. He asked also that $12,472,913,200 of unappropriated balances of current appropriations for the Army be made available again in the coming fiscal year. The total of the two items is $71,898,499,700.

The new budget figure provides for pay food clothing and equipment for more than 8,000,000 individuals in the Army, including 375,000 W.A.A.C.s for whom an intensive recruiting service is in progress.

Funds also were provided for overseas construction, including facilities for a rapidly expanding air transport command, operating ferry routes throughout the world and construction in theaters of operation.

Military construction in this country, however, a statement said, will be much smaller than in recent years.

More than $11,000,000,000 will go for pay for members of the military establishment and allowances to their dependents. Nearly $2,900,000,000 is set aside to buy the Army and guarantee a steady flow of food to soldiers wherever they go.

NEW SPREAD IN COAL STRIKES

Miners Violate Agreement to Work Until May 31

Pittsburgh, May 20 (AP)—Strikes of soft coal miners protesting their lack of a working contract spread in Pennsylvania and broke out in Ohio and Kentucky today, leaving more than 6,000 men idle and 14 mines closed.

Eleven pits were closed in United Mine Workers District 2 (central Pennsylvania), which comprises 45,000 miners. Another pit had been closed, but its 900 employees voted to return to work and were doing so today.

Meanwhile the strikes spread to the Pittsburgh area in UMW District 5 with the closing of a mine employing 380.

The miners struck in protest against the War Labor Board's retention of their contract negotiations. The walkouts violated the union's agreement to continue working until May 31.

Neither the midnight nor 8 a. m. shifts reported for work, Wilhelm said, and a committee of mine workers informed him they could not work until a new contract was signed. The mine employs 700 men.

Adolph Pacifico, vice president of the UMW's District 6, said at Columbus, O. "It has reached a stage where men are so disgusted that they will be pretty hard to be made to continue working. They are talking about going out in other mines."

Pacifico directs the UMW's affairs in the big East Ohio and West Virginia Panhandle district.

The mine workers are sick and tired of being made a political football between the administration and Chairman Davis of the War Labor Board, Pacifico said.

Wilhelm said he tried to argue with the committee that told him the miners were quitting, point out that President John L. Lewis of the UMW had extended a contract trace to the end of the month.

"We are running this local," Wilhelm quoted the men as replying.

The committee members, Joe Kales, Charles Wise and Joe Vechnan, were not available at once for comment.

To Investigate Gas Situation In State

Washington, May 20 (AP)—Two investigators have been sent to the Carolina to check on allegations made by the Carolina Motor Club that residents of those states were being discriminated against in the distribution of gasoline. Petroleum Administrator for War Ickes announced today.

The action came after Senator Reynolds (D-N.C.) told Ickes in a letter that he had received a tremendous volume of mail voicing complaint.

"Some of the letters I have received," Reynolds said, "are extremely caustic and utter in their denunciation and criticism of what they claim to be discrimination and unfair treatment made of the distribution of gasoline in North Carolina, in which criticisms I concur."

Railroads Ask For Increase In Rates

Raleigh, May 20 (AP)—The State Utilities Commission today heard 38 railroad companies, which operate in North Carolina ask for an increase in their intrastate rate from 1.65 cents per mile to 2.2 cents.

The Office of Price Administration protested against any increase.

It was contended by the railroads that such an increase would merely bring the intrastate rate up to par with the interstate rate.

No change is contemplated in the fare for service men on furlough, who are charged 125 cents a mile round trip.

Naval Bill Passes

Washington, May 20 (AP)—A $29,463,897,198 naval appropriations measure—largest one-year allotment in history for Uncle Sam's sea-fighting forces—was passed unanimously today by the House.

By roll call vote of 360 to 0, the measure was sent to the Senate, where quick approval was deemed certain.

Vener Plant Destroyed

High Point, N. C., May 20 (AP)—Fire destroyed the Armstrong-Caddell vener plant here yesterday involving loss estimated by fire chief E. K. Ingram at $30,000, partly insured.

Firemen battled the blaze for two hours. No one was hurt.

The plant was said to have been engaged 75 per cent on government orders.

Coal Act Extension Passed By Senate

Washington, May 20 (AP)—Legislation extending the Guffey Coal Act from May 23 to August 23 was passed unanimously by the Senate today and sent to the White House.

The action came after an administration warning that failure to continue the bituminous coal commission might imperil efforts to settle the soft coal wage controversy and make government operation of the mines "practically impossible."

The warning was given Tuesday to the Senate Interstate Commerce committee by Howard A. Gray, deputy solid fuels administrator, testifying on the House-approved legislation.

A previous 30-day extension was voted some week ago. Permanent legislation is pending in both houses.

To Collect Quinine

Raleigh, May 20 (AP)—The State Highway Patrol will collect all available quinine from North Carolina hospitals and drug stores May 25-27 to be turned over to the Army for use in combating malaria among troops on foreign duty.

This was announced yesterday by T. Boddie Ward, state commissioner of motor vehicles, who said the patrol was cooperating in a drive sponsored by the American and State Pharmaceutical Associations to collect the quinine.

State highway patrolmen here pital to collect quinine on May 25 will visit drug stores and the hospitals on the 26 and 27. They are authorized to sign for the drug.

Farmers Should File For Oil Now

Farmers who use fuel oil for the curing of tobacco, should file their applications for allotments immediately, stated officials of the Pitt County War Price and Rationing board today. They may either file with the site administrators in their community or with the county rationing board at its offices on fourth street in Greenville.

Form 1103 will be used in the registration, and information which is required is the type of curer, size of barn, number of gallons used last year, and the estimated number of gallons required for this year.

New rulings from the fuel division of the OPA provide for the issuance of rations for equipment installed before December 19, 1942, and rations for use in oil burning equipment installed since that date are to be issued at the discretion of the ration board, however, registration should be made for such equipment now.

Should rations granted be insufficient, additional oil may be obtained later as needed, this to be granted upon receipt of a signed statement from the farmer, as to the amount needed in addition to the original allotment. The board stresses the necessity for immediate registration.

American Troops Driving Japs Back To The Sea in Battle For Attu; Enemy Claims Heavy Damage Inflicted On United States Forces

By ROGER GREENE Associated Press War Editor American troops and warships have snapped the trap on Japanese remnants in the 10-day-old battle of Attu island and seized the enemy airfield, the Navy announced today, while a Tokyo radio broadcast acknowledged Japanese losses running as high as 66 per cent.

Survivors of the dwindling Japanese garrison are now completely encircled in the Chichagof harbor area on the northeast coast except for isolated snipers hiding in the bleak volcanic mountain ridges, the Navy said, and U. S. army bombers had started plastering the enemy's last-ditch defenses.

Apparently in hopeless straits, barring an eleventh-hour attempt at reinforcement, the Japanese were fighting with their backs to the sea with U. S. warships lying off shore in a position to blast any effort to escape.

United States forces captured Sarana Pass leading to the Chichagof area, the navy bulletin said. "The contacts of the U. S. north and south forces from the Holtz Bay and Massacre Bay area have confined Japanese resistance to the Chichagof area, except for isolated sniper activities."

This was the first official disclosure that no other enemy forces occupied the western areas of the strategic island, which lies only 2,000 miles from Tokyo via bomber.

War Secretary Stimson had previously announced that the Americans were making satisfactory progress and captured the enemy-built airfield.

A Japanese reporter's dispatch said there was "not a single man free of some wound" when Japanese troops retreated from exposed positions along the beach in one sector.

"The next day, May 15, shortly after 11 a. m., came word that the Japanese headquarters of our positions in the ridge east of Holtz Bay was destroyed by the combined bombardment of aircraft and warships," the dispatch said.

While admitting virtual suicide losses among the Japanese garrison, the enemy account asserted that the defenders took a heavy toll on seaborne U. S. forces, blew 10 American landing craft out of the water and saw a "tremendous explosion shatter a warship"—described as a battleship or cruiser—after the vessel either hit an automatic mine or was attacked by a Japanese submarine.

None of these Japanese claims has been confirmed, and Secretary of the Navy Knox has officially announced that American losses were "much lighter than expected."

The Japanese account said the Americans landed at Holtz and Massacre bays, on the east end of the 35-mile-long island, under cover of heavy aerial and naval bombardment.

Other Pacific developments saw Gen. Douglas MacArthur's bombs pound the Japanese base at Korpang, Dutch New Guinea, destroying probably seven enemy planes while on the Burma front both Americans and British raiders stepped up the fury of their assault on the Japanese.

U. S. army 10th air force planes dropped more than 100 tons of bombs on enemy fuel depots, rail (Continued on Page Six)

Playground Nursery

The nursery held at the Cotanche Street playground for the past five months closed yesterday. The children, averaging 8 in number, were kept interested in playing outdoors in the sandpile, swings, see-saws, and other amusements at the park. Too, the children stayed in the hut during bad weather and during their resting period.

The nursery was operated by the home economics teachers, Miss Alice Swann and Miss Louise Strawn, college teachers and the high school girls. The classes received a lot of practical education about children, their care, habits and training. "I really think everyone enjoyed having the nursery and I feel sure it was beneficial," stated Miss Louise Strawn upon the close of the nursery.

Misses Strawn and Swann, practice teachers, and home economics teachers did excellent work with the nursery, and are to be congratulated for it.

New Paintings On Display At Center

By LUCY CHERRY CRISP

Now on display at the local Service Center is a group of drawings and water colors by Pfc. Russell Boutell, of New Albany, Ind., a marine who has made a number of friends during his week-end leaves here in Greenville.

Included in the group—whose display is sponsored by the Community Art Center—are two iris designs in water color, one commercial design of considerable interest, a small portrait in charcoal, and a child in black and white featuring a charming little elephant of strange origin.

Sent to Pfc. Boutell from his home in Indiana, at the request of the Art Center director, these drawings had considerably more travel experience than was anticipated for them. Boutell brought them to Greenville but left them on the bus, and for some time it appeared that they had completely vanished, leaving no trace or clue of their whereabouts. But search was continued by his company officials, and eventually the missing drawings were located and routed to their proper destination. They will be on display at the Service Center through this week-end. Pfc. Boutell, until recently in the Aviation Q. M. Battalion at New Payer is now stationed at Cherry Point.

Tobacco Standing Up Well In Fields

By CHESTER WALSH
Farmers here today from various parts of the county reported that transplanting of tobacco, now in full swing, will be completed by the end of the week or early next week. The plants are standing up well and there will be very little retreating. There was enough plants to go around and some left over, they said.

Farmers report particularly good stands of cotton, while a number

Marine Orchestra At Woman's Club

By LUCY CHERRY CRISP
An extra festive air was added to the regular Saturday evening dance at the Service Center last week-end by the presence—and the playing—of 11 members of Col. Jones' 23d Marine orchestra from Camp Lejeune, under the direction of Sgt. Herbert Brown. Pianist and soloist with the orchestra for the evening were Mrs. Arthur Smith and Mrs. Margaret James, of Greenville.

For such a special occasion, long evening dresses were definitely indicated, and the Junior hostesses rose to the occasion well, appearing in lovely summer evening dresses whose beauty was appreciated by at least one Marine. All evening this Marine sat merely looking on, but when he said good-night to a senior hostess, he added "I certainly have had a good time."

"But how in the world did you have a good time—you didn't even dance one dance," she said.

"Yes, but you don't know how I enjoyed just looking at those pretty dresses," he came back in reply. "We don't get to do that often these days." And his tone was most convincing.

The interest and cooperation of the members of this orchestra from New River who added so much to the general enjoyment of the week-end at the club were greatly appreciated by everyone connected with the Service Center. Widely spoken of and highly approving comments on the delicious supper served at the club on Sunday night by the Woman's Club members of Ballard's Cross Roads.

Elias Saied Died At His Home Here

Elias Saied, 64, died at his home, 1023 Evans street, Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock after several months of illness.

Funeral services will be held at St. Peter's Catholic church by Father Charles Gable at 11:30 P. M. Monday morning, and burial will follow in the Tarboro city cemetery.

Mr. Saied is survived by his wife, Mrs. Josephine Saied, two sons, John Edward Saied of Washington, D. C., and Sgt. Phillip Saied of Fort Jackson, S. C.; three daughters, Mrs. Frank Sullivan of Norfolk, Va., Lt. Jennie Saied of Camp Sherman, Ala., and Mrs. Charles Harris of Wilson, N. C.; three grandchildren, and three brothers, John Saied of Greenville, Charlie Saied of Tarboro and Joe Saied of Greenville.

Mr. Saied was born in Hamman, Mt. Lebanon, Providence, Syria. He came to this country in 1898. He moved to Greenville 23 years ago from Tarboro, and for many years had operated a grocery store at 11th and Evans street.

RAF Blasts Two German Dams

British bombers, attacking the Ruhr area the night of May 16, blasted apart the Mohn and Eder dams, two of the largest in Germany. The bursting dams flooded the river valleys below, according to Berlin reports, and caused a heavy toll of casualties. Allied leaders said the attacks constituted a powerful blow at Hitler's vital war industries.

New Workers Should Have Security Cards

High schools all over the country are graduating their seniors this month or next. Many have not worked before under the Social Security Act, in private commerce or industry. Each person who does go to work should obtain a social security account number card. This card may be obtained by mail or in person from any field office of the Social Security Board. The Rocky Mount office is located in the post office building in Rocky Mount, North Carolina. An application for account number may be obtained from any postoffice or Employment Service office.

Practically all employment in private business is covered by the social security law. Part time and intermittent employment is covered. Each wage earner must show his employer his account number card so that the name and number may be copied exactly for the employer's records. The employer reports all wages to the Bureau of Internal Revenue by name and number. This is to insure the worker's getting full credit for all wages he earns.

The records division of the Social Security Board in Baltimore, Maryland, posts these wages to the individuals own ledger sheet. When a worker dies or becomes age sixty-five and retires, this ledger sheet is consulted to see if an insurance payment is payable, and if so, the amount of such payment. It is most important that each worker get a social security account number card and retain it for his full working life.

Strength FOR THE DAY
By EARL L. DOUGLAS

TRUTH COME ALIVE

One of the most astonishing things in life is the manner in which some truth to which we have long subscribed in an academic fashion suddenly comes up out of the turmoil and striking us square-between the eyes, makes us realize its full import.

Every parent has had the experience of trying to teach some important truth to a child only to have the truth continually disregarded. Then one day someone else tells the child the same thing—a teacher perhaps, or a companion—and the child rushes into the house and repeats this truth with the enthusiasm of one who has made a new discovery.

The only knowledge that does us any good is the knowledge we use. The important thing is not just that we should learn a certain thing, but that we should learn its usefulness to our scheme of life. Truth becomes a living thing only when we incorporate it into our living.

DON'T WORK FOR THE SABOTEUR

Spring clean-up time has arrived. Attics, basements and garages cluttered with a winter's accumulation of rubbish should be cleaned out now. They are fire hazards that promote the processes of combustion with the approach of warm, humid weather.

Fire prevention is of the greatest importance. The busiest war worker can find time for a thorough spring cleaning of his premises. Preventable fires which destroy irreplaceable property, to say nothing of human life, are utterly execrable. They slow down the war effort far more than most of us realize. When a home is destroyed by fire, one or more persons lives, if not interrupted permanently by death, are inevitably interrupted for a measurable period while a residence is being re-established.

Each spring, communities throughout the nation conduct fire prevention clean-up campaigns. No estimate can be made of the actual cash value represented by the saving of life and the improvement in health and property resulting from these annual campaigns. They remove disease-breeding conditions which might cause pestilence, in addition to eliminating fire hazards which might result in conflagrations.

Removing rubbish may not be as spectacular as catching a saboteur, but the beneficial result is the same. A fire is a fire no matter how it started. If, through stupidity and neglect on the part of otherwise patriotic citizens, valuable property is destroyed, it simply means that the saboteur can rest in his lair with a cynical chuckle.

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME
By JACK STINNETT

Washington—Here is a composite of capital opinion, predictions and plain guesses on two major issues:

The invasion of Europe actually will take place on more than one front, and President Roosevelt's threat that the Allied Nations would attack from Norway to the farthest islands of the Aegean wasn't idle chatter.

Some commentators here now are positive that Italy won't be the point of man concentration. Italy, they contend, is virtually out of the war now, and if that nation were occupied attacking France through the Maritime Alps or Germany through the Brenner Pass would present more problems than invasions from the coasts. If these armchair strategists are right, Italy may be merely by-passed when the big drive comes. One or two well-established bridgeheads on the continent probably would result, they argue, in the unconditional surrender of Italy without a shot being fired.

The coal strikes, those already called on and off and those still threatened, will have four prime results:

- (1) They will cause vigorous legislation against strikes in war industries; (2) They will bring about either a new War Labor Board or, if the present one will be much strengthened by authority to circumvent the Little Steel 15-per cent wage scale increases in special cases; (3) They will force OPA to take positive action holding down price ceilings in heavy industry areas and in seeing that those areas get plenty of energy-producing foods; and (4) In spite of any general unpopularity that accrues to United Mine Workers Chief John L. Lewis, he will come out of this with a stronger grip on labor than he has ever had since he was the czar of CIO.

Lewis has angled WLB, Economic Stabilizer James F. Byrnes and OPA into a position where they have to admit that "something must be done" that something can be done. That something can be done regardless of whether it is increase in wages, decrease in food prices, elimination of black markets, or the granting of additional ration points to all workers in heavy war industries.

He has also placed himself in a position where the CIO and AFL can do nothing but back him up

The result can only be some concessions to the miners and, as a result of that, concessions to other heavy industries and transportation. If you think that won't elevate Lewis again in the minds of the workers, think again.

Cancer Control Drive Now Under Way Here

It was announced today by Mrs. Dink James, Greenville Chairman of the National Women's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, that membership in the Army is now being solicited in Greenville.

This is the eighth annual campaign for Cancer Control and the membership fee in the Army is one dollar.

The local campaign is under the auspices of the Greenville Woman's Club.

Mrs. James states that she is in need of volunteer workers in order to be able to close the campaign within the next few days; that she does not want to close without giving everybody a chance to join the Army for Cancer Control.

Ralph Hardee of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company is treasurer.

Dr. J. L. Winstead, Surgeon, will broadcast Saturday night at 7:30 over the local station.

Mrs. James said that the following symptoms were danger signs and should be heeded by consulting a physician promptly:

- 1. Any persistent lump or thickening, particularly in the breast.
2. Any irregular bleeding or discharge from any body opening.
3. Any persistent and unexplained indigestion.
4. Any sore that does not heal normally, especially about the tongue, mouth or lip.
5. Any sudden change in the form or rate of growth of a mole or wart.

Funeral Services For Monfort
Greensboro, Ga., May 20—(AP)—A burial service was held here yesterday for Read Monfort, 46, chief of the Charlotte, N. C. Bureau of the Associated Press, who died early Tuesday at his home there.

Services were held in Charlotte Tuesday afternoon and the rites were at the graveside with Rev. Charles H. Kopp, pastor of the Greensboro Baptist church, officiating.

HIGHWAY TO HER HEART
By MAXINE SHORE

Chapter 13
The course that Penny and Cleve were following took them along the Peace River in the general direction of Port St. John. They went along the stream, but never very close to it now. Deep cut banks, rocks and driftwood piled the shore. It was impossible to walk there and make any progress. So they had climbed the long, steep slope of the river valley to its top where the ground was more level.

The day following Cleve's injury Penny estimated that they had traveled only four miles. Cleve had to pause every little while to rest. The land they were traversing was cluttered with thick brush. Branches kept snapping back, no matter how careful they were, to strike Cleve's wounded arm.

When they made camp, Cleve said, "I guess I didn't do so well, tot. But tomorrow I'll be feeling better." His face was still flushed. His eyes had a strange glassy look. Penny was alarmed. "Penny, there's any way, we'd stop and rest for a day or two."

He forced a laugh. "Not on my account." "If you should play out, what would happen to us then?" Cleve waved the possibility aside. "The way I figure," he said, "we can't be more than five or ten miles from Long Portage. If there's any trail on the river at all, we should meet up with somebody there. Perhaps wangle another canoe."

"Possibly," answered Penny. "From Long Portage it's just 20 miles to the mouth of Moose Creek." "And from there, 25 miles to Le Frene's shack," said Penny.

They were taking an inventory of the miles. A mile didn't sound like much when one was talking about it, Penny reflected. But to travel over one in this wilderness with all the barriers of rocks, brush and hills, was entirely different. It was a continuous struggle, with new hazards every minute. There were small streams to ford, steep slopes to climb, swamps of muskies unexpectedly barring the way.

"Altogether only about another 50 miles," she said gloomily. "She threw down her pack and averted her head so Cleve couldn't see the discouragement welling in her eyes.

"Yes," said Cleve, "only 50 miles. We're halfway there."

"Halfway there," repeated Penny dully.

"What I'm banking on is Long Portage and another canoe," said Cleve. "This constant walking is too hard on you, Penny."

"Too hard on her! Here he's been stumbling along all day through a fog of pain, fever, hunger and fatigue, yet his concern was for her. What a dear he was, Penny thought. Involuntarily, she wondered what Powell Ward would have done under such circumstances, how he would have reacted to such heart-breaking difficulties.

"I'm not worrying about me," Penny said. "I'm worrying about you. We might as well face it, Cleve. Your injury is much worse than you or I care to admit."

"Nonsense," said Cleve. "You're going on nerve. Only your will is driving you. You're burning with fever. No use denying it. I'm not blind." "Trouble is," Cleve admitted reluctantly, "that blamed bullet lodged next to the bone. It sets up constant irritation."

"Oh, Cleve!" "I didn't want to tell you, Penny, but you can see now why we can't stop. We've got to push on to Portage."

Penny moistened her lips, nodding. She thought about that as she busied herself gathering firewood, fetching water from the nearby

EMBELLISH LOW POINT MEATS FOR EYE-APPEAL

Eye-appeal is such an important factor in appetite-appeal that home-makers should be ever mindful of its great value. This is particularly true when preparing foods which serve a special need, such as those of low-pot value or those which are highly nutritious.

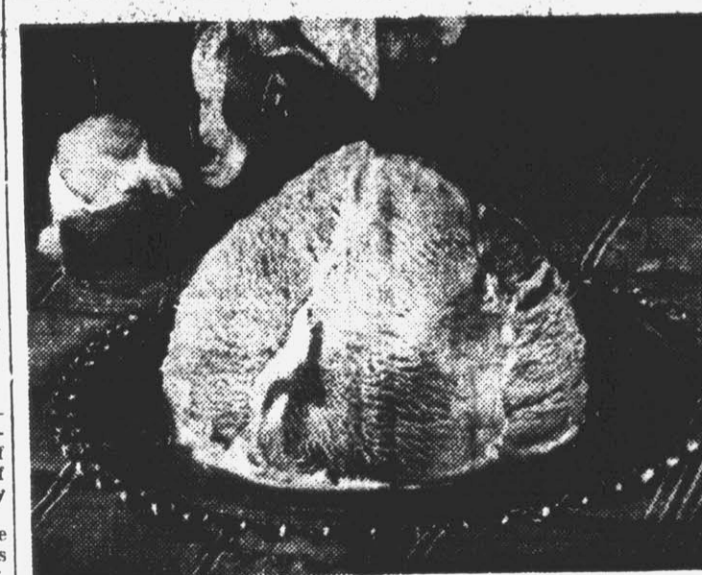

The wieners crown roast, illustrated above, adds glamor to what is usually considered an ordinary meat. Line up 14 lbs. Wilson's Certified Frankfurters on a meat board, placing curved end up. Using darning needle run a string through center of each wieners, crosswise. Repeat about one inch below.

THESE GARNISHES ARE NUTRITIOUS
Have bread dressing hot before putting in "crown." Dressing is extra good if seasoned with Wilson's B-V along with onion and sage. One tsp. B-V dissolved in one tbsp. (hot water) to 2 qts. soft bread crumbs gives a grand broth flavor. B-V is now ration-point free.

MEAT MAKES GOOD GARNISH
Wilson's Certified Pure Pork Sausage, either fresh or smoked, makes a most attractive garnish for a vegetable dish such as escalloped corn and serves also as the meat for the meal. Saves time as well as points. Conserves every bit of that precious sausage flavor, too.

Know Your Garnishes
Garnishes are more important now than ever. Why not make a list of garnishes available to you and then make

Sealtest Quality HAS NOT BEEN RATIONED

In the face of war shortages of basic ice cream ingredients—we make this statement. There has been no lowering of Sealtest Ice Cream quality to stretch the supply. You may not always be able to get just the flavor you want—but you can get Sealtest Ice Cream—and you will find that it has the same outstanding flavor and quality as always.

BOSTON MAY UPSET LEAD OF DODGERS

Weather Forces Postponement Of All American League Games For Third Day

By JUDSON BAILEY (AP Sports Writer)
The Brooklyn Dodgers are in the position of the noisy tenants who are going to get kicked out of their top floor apartment as soon as the lease expires.

The Bums have been occupying the penthouse of the National League ever since the season started, but two consecutive defeats by the St. Louis Cardinals have placed them in jeopardy of losing their first place perch—not to the world champions but to the Boston Braves. Boston with good pitching and a surprisingly well-balanced attack, has won seven straight games, including a doubleheader yesterday from the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 in 11 innings and 5-3.

If the Braves should win again today and the Dodgers lose, Boston would move into top place by a percentage margin of .652 to .630. This is enough to boost the blood pressure in Brooklyn to the Berlin Perit, because the Braves have not shown to advantage in the first three games of their four-game series with St. Louis.

They were smothered by southpaw pitching again yesterday 3-2 as Max Lanier and Rookie Harry Brecheen combined to hold them to six hits. Brooklyn's hopes for today's final game rested chiefly in the fact that they would be facing a righthanded pitcher for the first time in the series—but the righthander happened to be Mort Cooper, the league's leading pitcher last year.

In a move of desperation, Manager Leo Durocher planned to call on Rube Melton to pitch for the Dodgers on two days rest. It was the former Phillie ace who beat the Redbirds 1-0 in a twilight game Monday. Buck Newsom would have been called to his home in South Carolina by illness in the family.

The Braves had difficulty downing the Pirates in their first game, although Nate Andrews kept nine outs well spaced and allowed no runs after the first frame.

In the second game the first four Braves who came to bat against Frank Gornicki hit singles and knocked him out of the box in the midst of a three-run rally. George Jeffcoat, pitching five-inning ball, muzzled the Pirates on one run till the ninth, when they tallied twice and forced Jeffcoat to have help. In the day's only other game Melton pitched a two-run homer off Johnny Vander Meer in the first inning to lead the New York Giants to a 3-2 conquest of the Cincinnati Reds. All games in the American League were postponed for the third day in a row because of weather conditions and the Chicago Cubs at Philadelphia in the National League also were postponed.

Army Plane Crashes
Chicago, May 20—(AP)—A large army airplane which cleared from Tarrant Field, Fort Worth, Tex., crashed into a tank of the Peoples Gas, Light and Coke Company at 71st street and South St. Louis avenue today and fell to the ground in flames.

Public relations officers of the Sixth Service Command said all information regarding personnel aboard would be cleared by the plane's home base.

Baron Gottfried von Cramm (above), German tennis champion and once a Davis Cup team star, was among German prisoners captured in the Tunisian campaign, Allied Headquarters in North Africa announced.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, May 20—(AP)—There's nothing like a fight to start a fight, so here's another hot one getting under way. Seems that Eddie Mack, the Boston promoter, is holding to Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, that Mike Jacobs is bossing the New York State Athletic Commission and, incidentally, damaging Mack's Willie Pep-Sal Bartolo featherweight title fight at Boston, June 8. And since Mack was a sergeant during World War One, he's no green hand at huller.

P A Long Story, Mates
The point of the yelp is that the New York Commission's plan was for Bartolo to face ex-champion Chaiky Wright and for the winner to fight Pep. But instead Willie and Sal signed for the Boston bout, so the Commission refused to recognize it as a title scrap and picked Phil Terranova for the elimination.

Food Conference Chairman Meets Press

Marvin Jones (seated), temporary president of the United Nations Food Conference, meets members of the press at the Homestead in Hot Springs, Va., as the conference sessions prepared to get under way. M. Koenigsberg, reporter who has been particularly active in protesting restrictions against the press, is talking with Judge Jones. Koenigsberg is correspondent for the Gannett newspapers, the Cincinnati Enquirer and the Indianapolis Star.

A lot of things seem to call for explanations, including how Massachusetts, A. N. B. A. State, can recognize Pep-Bartolo as a title scrap while Jackie Callura is N. E. A. champ. But Mack's holler is that Uncle Mike told the commission to say "no" because he wanted the fight for himself or at least a good piece of the profits. And Eddie in phoning and writing to Gov. Dewey, offers to furnish proof. It's one of those things that might create quite a disturbance unless the scrappers decide to quiet down and become pals again.

That's Why Its Peoria
In case you've wondered why Peoria (which isn't a bad spot at all) is the accepted symbol for a bush league town, here's what happened in a high school game there the other day. The third baseman made a putout at second base on a throw from the right fielder, who picked up a ball that dropped between the center fielder and the second baseman. And in the same contest the umpire raced from the plate to second to call a play. Gong back, he picked up his cap at the mound, his indicator half way to the plate and then asked "Where's my mask?" It was under his arm.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pain, leg pain, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

WRITES PUBLIC SPIRITED TAVERN KEEPER

The man who sells you a refreshing glass of beer has in him a strain of the old-time host. He is proud of the business he is in. He takes a decent self-respect in running his place as you would like it. And as we would like it, too.

Once in a while such a man sits down and writes us a letter. We're always glad to get it. Here's one that came the other day:

"It's a great satisfaction to do business in an industry as well run as the legal beer business in this state. The fellow who runs the nicer place gets the trade. Your Committee has made us conscious of our responsibilities. I'm glad you're on the job..."

We're glad to have him on the job, too... like most, a decent, law-abiding man who maintains high standards, who is honest in his transactions—who protects beer's good name.

Grain Market

Chicago, May 20—(AP)—Flood news provided some bullish enthusiasm for grains today and prices advanced moderately, although inability to estimate the extent of crop damage served to limit buying. Wheat was in good demand and paced the upturn.

With trading in May contracts ending tomorrow there was considerable short-covering in May wheat, and that contract was up more than a cent at times. Pit rumors that flour ceilings might be advanced and reports the government had bought some cash wheat locally for distilling use aided the advance.

At the close wheat was 1/4-1/2 higher, May $1.45 1/4-1/2, July $1.43, corn was unchanged, May $1.05, oats were 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher and rye was up 1/4-1/2.

New York Cotton

New York, May 20 (AP)—Cotton futures opened unchanged to 15 cents a bale lower. Noon prices were 20 to 40 cents a bale lower. July 19.93, Oct 19.65, Dec 19.53. Futures closed 25 cents a bale higher to 15 cents lower.

Urge Housewives To Save Waste Fats

"Not a pound of flesh, but a half pound of grease per capita must be the goal of every housewife in North Carolina," Mrs. Estelle Smith, chairman of the women's division of the State Salvage committee.

Saving waste fats is one of the simplest war aids asked by Uncle Sam and it is one of the most important ones. No amount is too small to save. One tablespoonful per day will mean about a pound per month.

War in the Pacific has greatly reduced our supply of vegetable oils from the Far East. It is necessary to find substitutes for them. Fats make glycerine. Glycerine makes explosives. Explosives are needed to down Axis planes, stop their tanks and sink their ships. We need millions of pounds of glycerine now!

Pitt County housewives are helping to supply this need by saving waste fats. Get all the cooking good from fats and then follow these three steps:

- 1) Strain fat as you pour it into a clean wide-mouthed can.
- 2) Keep in cool dark place until you have collected at least one pound.
- 3) Take to your meat dealer who is cooperating patriotically in this matter.

OUTFIT THE OUTFIT

"Dear Mom" (Bill writes), "We had beans tonight and they tasted fine, because I knew you'd helped pay for them. It was well of you to skip that new coat and buy a Bond instead. With you and me on the same team, we'll lick that Axis gang."

Your War Bonds and Stamps help outfit the outfits fighting for you. Buy an extra Bond today. Remember, they give their lives.
