Violent Air-Land Struggle Continues In Kuban Area

Soviet Sources Report Increased Activity All Along Entire Russian Front; 197 Nazi Planes Shot Down In Three Days Of Fighting On Kuban Front

By WILLIAM MCGAFFIN Moscow, May 29.—(AP)—Large forces of Russian and German planes are continuing their aerial fencing with increasing intensity north of Novorossisk and tank-led infantry forces have clashed in sharp fighting, Russian dispatches said today, but they still did not mention the "Red army offensive" which Berlin has been reporting for the last two days.

The correspondent of Red Star, Red Army organ, said it was the Germans who were attacking in local battles from the German's Kuban river bridgehead in the Caucasus. Red Star said 197 German planes had been shot down in three days in the heavy air battles there.

The Saturday German communiqué as broadcast by the news agency DNB and recorded by the Associated Press reported strong new attacks by the Russians in the sector of the Kuban bridgehead. The attacks failed and the Russians suffered heavy losses, it added.

The Russian dispatches said that the Germans had suffered considerable losses and that booty and prisoners had been taken.

(The Berlin radio, in describing what appears to be the first major assault of the long-expected summer campaign, has put Russian forces battering at the German-held Caucasus bridgehead at 150,000 strong, supported by tanks and planes. It said the Russian assault began Thursday and that after initial penetrations of German lines, the attackers were driven back with heavy losses.)

The Russian press prominently mentioned the renewed air battles, which it said suddenly erupted on May 25 and increased in tempo during the two days following.

Front-line reports also disclosed that the Germans are using heavy Hamburg-139 seaplanes on the Russian front, presumably for the first time. The multi-engineined (Continued on Page Six)

Chinese Readjust Central Positions Chungking, May 29.—(AP)—The Chinese high command announced today that it had readjusted its "central positions" in Hupui province where the Japanese are striking toward Chungking, the provincial capital, and save severe fighting raged all along the entire line.

The Japanese made gains north-west of Ichang, on the Yangtze, the communiqué said, but in one sector to the south of the Yangtze an enemy unit was thrown back with heavy losses.

Three Killed In Train Collision Norfolk, Va., May 29.—(AP)—Engineer Leon Lionel Simms was killed and Firemen Brett and Brakeman Thomas Woodrow Hough were injured early today in an accident involving two freight trains at Hemingway, S. C., according to reports received at headquarters of the Seaboard railway here. All three men were residents of Hamlet, N. C.

Among the damaged cars on the northbound train was one in which there was an explosion after the accident. The force of the explosion added somewhat to the damage to the freight cars, but caused no loss of life or injuries.

DOOMED JAPS FIGHT TO END

Small Groups On At-tu Still Fight Fiercely

Washington, May 29.—(AP)—United States troops have captured Fish-hook ridge, important Japanese stronghold on Attu island, the Navy reported today, and the main enemy force on the island is now contained in a mountainous area of only three to four square miles.

The conquest of Fish-hook ridge flanking the main remaining Japanese-held area was described by officers here as contributing to the security of American lines stretching northward along the base of the north-eastern peninsula on Attu into the Chichago harbor area.

A navy communiqué said that the Japanese positions on Fish-hook ridge were entrenched above the cloud line and American soldiers fought the war in progress it might easily produce a catastrophe. This quarrel is no academic conflict of words.

There have been many clashes at arms between the communist-led armies and the central government forces, notably in the summer of 1940 when bloody dissension involved the Chinese ranks along the Chino-Jap battlefield.

Fortresses Raid Continent Today; 12,000 RAF Crewmen Have Taken Part In Week's Raids

London, May 29.—(AP)—A great force of Flying Fortresses raided the continent today, returning in mid-afternoon, flying high and unescorted over the Folkestone area.

The forts came back in several close-flying formations and were barely distinguishable as they returned to base at 20,000 feet.

There was no immediate announcement of the Fortresses' targets nor of combat scores.

Considerable aerial traffic back and forth over the channel was heard during the night.

The Air Ministry news service said that six bomb-carrying Albacores of the fleet air arm surprised a fleet of 12 German motor gunboats off Cherbourg peninsula during the night and sank six and damaged three.

A total of 12,000 RAF crewmen took part in the super raids this week on Dortmund, Düsseldorf and Essen. Lord Sherwood, undersecretary for air, disclosed in a speech at Dumfries, Scotland.

Warning Italy to be prepared for greater air attacks he said.

"She is starting to feel a little of our air power, but she will receive much more both in Sicily and Sardinia and on the Mainland, despite the walls of the Rome radio."

With tonight still to go, the British armers already have run up the highest total of bombs dumped on Europe in any week of the war.

In three raids on a city-by-city demolition program in Germany's industrial Ruhr valley a record of nearly 5,000 tons of block-busters and other heavy bombs were loosed by the RAF heavy bombers.

The week began last Sunday night with the 2,000-ton bombing assault of Dortmund, one of the Ruhr cities affected the week before in the breaching of the Hoehe and Eder dams. This was described as the heaviest raid ever made on one city.

Düsseldorf was smashed with almost equal strength on Tuesday night and the big Lancasters Stirling and Halifax roared out against Thursday night to drop some 1,000 tons on Essen, site of the oft-bombed Krupp munitions works.

Twice during the week—yesterday and last Sunday—RAF bombers attacked the coke ovens at Zebruggen, Belgium, by daylight, and Thursday evening the speedy new plywood Mosquito bombers blasted the Zeiss and other important plants at Jena, Abbeville (Continued on Page Six)

Bond Election To Improve Schools

By CHESTER WALSH Registration books are open at the City Hall daily for a special election to be held here Tuesday, June 29, for a levy of 10 cents on the dollar instead of the 15-cent levy legislators authorized by the recent legislature. All persons who wish to vote in this election must register again.

The school tax, when approved, if collected will net about $12,000. About $8,000 of the fund will be used to employ a truant officer to cooperate in preventing delinquency in compliance with President Roosevelt's request, provide music instruction in the band and orchestra so that the boys and girls of poor parents may study and develop their talent free, provide library service for elementary schools and to provide an extra teacher in the high school and wherever an emergency may require. The $4,000 left over will be used wherever necessary for teaching staffs intact.

"It is important that we pass this school bond issue at this time," a friend of education stated today.

"The band and orchestra are rated as among the best in the State. School officials want to make music instruction as free as arithmetic or history. We need a truant officer and we must line up with other cities in the country to control juvenile delinquency and the youngsters at the elementary schools need library service. The tax levy will prevent crippling of our schools during the war and it will help us to get extra teachers if necessary instead of waiting for another legislature to do it," he stated.

Thirty-First Annual Alumni Day At ECTC

Mrs. Clem Garner Installed As New President; Baccalaureate Sermon Tomorrow Morning; Graduating Exercises On Monday

Mrs. Clem Garner, Ruth Blanchard of Greenville, was installed as the new president of the Alumni Association of East Carolina Teachers College at the morning program of the thirty-first annual Alumni Day which is being observed at the college today.

The Alumni Day celebration began officially this morning with registration in Austin auditorium at 9:30. At the program at 10:30 President Leon R. Meadows made the welcoming address, and the retiring president of the Association Mrs. J. C. Holland of Raleigh, presented the Alumni Award.

President Meadows said that though rationing might cause the college to seem less hospitable than formerly, it has the same warm welcome as always for its alumni. He then talked about the effect of the war on education, discussing the shortening of the period for formal education in an effort to speed up the production of trained people, the changes in the courses in instruction being offered, the greater shortage of teachers because of the low salaries in the profession, and the closing of colleges because of decrease in enrollment.

Emphasizing the need to get as many young people as possible to go to college now, he pointed out the great decrease in the number of college-trained people the nation will be able to draw on if the war ends on long enough and said that the students now being trained must be ready to help rehabilitate their people.

Miss Bonnie C. Howard, recipient of the Alumni Award, was unable to be here for Alumni Day. Her sister, Mrs. A. B. Aitman of Snow Hill, also a graduate of the college, was present to accept the award for her and to read Miss Howard's report.

Invasion May Take One Or More Of Ten Routes

By WILLIAM FRYE Washington, May 29.—(AP)—The Allied march to Berlin may follow one or more, and preferably more, of ten roads, none of them easy. Some of the enormous difficulties to be expected were outlined today by Col. Conrad H. Lanza, retired army officer and one of the country's most noted military students, in an article for the authoritative Field Artillery Journal.

The routes he discusses are these: (1) Norway; (2) Denmark and north Germany; (3) Northwest Germany, and the Dutch coast east of Texel; (4) The low countries south of Texel; (5) North France and Brittany; (6) West France south of the Loire; (7) South France; (8) West side of Italy with Sicily, Sardinia and Corsica; (9) The Adriatic and south Italy; and (10) The Aegean Sea area.

His estimate of the force needed varies from a comparatively limited number for the seizure of southern Norway to "millions of men" for a campaign through northern and central France. And an invasion of the continent will be really effective, he suggests, only as the result of landings in great force at several points.

Congress Pleased With Selection

Applaud Naming Of Byrnes As Home-Front Commander; Moves To Cut Confusion Suggested

(By The Associated Press) Washington, May 29.—(AP)—Visibly pepped up by President Roosevelt's order placing James F. Byrnes in command of the home front, members of Congress hastened today to propose additional moves to cut through the "confusion" many of them said has marked the domestic war effort.

Ranging widely in variety and subjected to immediate controversy, these suggestions included:

1. Passage of compulsory manpower control legislation to "vitalize" this aspect of the far-reaching program outlined for the new Office of War Mobilization headed by Byrnes.

2. Creation by Congress of a separate civilian supply agency having equal claim with the army and navy on resources and materials and its representation on Byrnes' mobilization committee.

3. Reorganization and consolidation of civilian war agencies, with a 25 per cent reduction of unnecessary personnel and the elimination of duplicating efforts.

4. Operation of the mobilization committee, which includes Secretary of War Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Knox, Chairman Harry Hopkins of the Munitions Assignment Board, Chairman Donald Nelson of the War Production Board, and Judge Fred M. Vinson, who succeeds Byrnes as stabilization director—as an actual war cabinet to resolve disputes without public controversy.

Indicating his intention to grapple with some of these problems, Byrnes told a press conference yesterday he would have full responsibility over the home front, with power—subject only to Mr. Roosevelt's approval—to formulate policy as well as to direct operations.

He will direct, he said, programs entailing the maximum use of natural and industrial resources for military and civilian needs, the effective utilization of national manpower outside the armed forces, and the stabilization and adjustment of the civilian economy to wartime demands.

This centralization of authority was hailed in Congress by such men as Chairman Truman (D-Mo.) of the Senate War Investigating Committee, Republican Leader McNary of Oregon, Chairman Murray (D-Mo.) of the Senate Small Business Committee, and others.

But from Senator Austin (R-Vt.) came the assertion that if Byrnes is to be a competent job he must have the greater statutory authority over manpower that is proposed in a compulsory control bill he and Rep. Weaver (R-N.Y.) have authored.

While Austin said the President's order appears to put into effect many of the proposals of that bill, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) said he hoped the President is not attempting to assume compulsory manpower control at this time.

"We need guidance and direction," he said. (Continued on Page Six)

Important Port Of Leghorn Smashed By Flying Fortresses; Other Planes Rain Heavy Damage On Airfields Of Sicily And Sardinia

By EDWARD KENNEDY Allied Headquarters in North Africa, May 29.—(AP)—Almost 100 Flying Fortresses, striking the most distant objective yet assigned in the attack on Italy from North Africa, bombed Leghorn yesterday and left a smoky trail of devastation in the oil refineries, docks and shipyards of that large port 160 miles north of Rome.

At the same time, Cairo dispatches said, some two scores American Liberators smashed at Foglia and dropped 80 tons of bombs on that air base 80 miles east of Naples.

(Dispatches from London said large units of Italy's fleet which has seldom ventured to sea since the start of the war, may have been at Leghorn—known as Livorno to the Italians—when the Flying Fortresses visited the harbor.

This was the first time that Leghorn had been bombed. Two waves of Liberators attacked Foglia, near the Adriatic side of the Italian peninsula, and a United States communiqué from Cairo said direct hits were made on several hangars, numerous fires started, and at least 13 enemy bombers were destroyed or damaged.

Two waves of Liberators attacked Foglia, near the Adriatic side of the Italian peninsula, and a United States communiqué from Cairo said direct hits were made on several hangars, numerous fires started, and at least 13 enemy bombers were destroyed or damaged.

Among these targets were the Castelvetro airfield in Sicily, which was attacked by Mitchells, Mustangs, Lightnings and Warhawks, and the railway station and oil installations at Augusta, Sicily, which were attacked Thursday night by big RAF bombers from the desert air force.

Leghorn is the seat of the great Ansaldo shipbuilding yard. Many of Italy's submarines were built there and it is an important submarine base. General Dwight D. Eisenhower's communiqué said the shipyard was plastered with bombs, and "great damage" done. Two large explosions were seen in the refinery area, and they were followed by fires which sent up such thick clouds of smoke that further observation proved impossible.

Three supply ships received hits, however, and other large fires were started in the railroad yards and oil storage tanks.

Alimony Cases In Court This Week

"We believe we need much of the wisdom of Solomon in passing on these alimony cases," said Judge Henry L. Stevens of Warsaw shortly before he adjourned the civil term of Superior court Thursday.

In the action of Mrs. Desale Mayo Hart against Eugene Hart, farmer of the Ayden community, Judge Stevens modified the order requiring Hart to pay his wife and two children $100 a month to $50. Hart secured a divorce from his wife in Reno not long ago. The children divide their time with their parents.

The judge threw out the case of Mrs. Zillie Bowen, in which she asked for a division of property and alimony.

In the case of Mrs. Annie Lee Albritton against B. G. Albritton, which has been in court some years, Judge Stevens reduced the alimony from $50 to $30 a month, beginning December 1.

Finished Sub

Lieut. Gerard Bradford, Jr., of Mobile, Ala., teamed up with another southerner, Ensign Thurmond Edgar Robertson of Spartanburg, S. C., to sink an Axis sub in the Atlantic several weeks ago. Robertson made the initial attack, employing the unprecedented action of dive-bombing a heavy PRY bomber. Using his radio, he called in Bradford who finished off the crippled sub after which both planes strafed crew members until the sub sank. They then dropped life rafts to some 35 or 40 survivors, who are as yet unreported.

Bombs Dropped On Three Airdromes In New Guinea

Allied headquarters in Australia, May 29.—(AP)—Nineteen tons of bombs, a considerable weight for the southwest Pacific where the targets involved are much smaller than those being mass-raided in Nazi-controlled Europe, cascaded down upon three Japanese airdromes in the Wewak New Guinea sector yesterday.

Defying bad weather, formations of Flying Fortresses and Liberators swept 325 miles up the New Guinea north coast beyond Lae, where 28 tons were dropped Thursday, to lash at the airfields of Boram Dagua and Wewak. Many of the fires started appeared to be burning planes, today's communiqué reported.

Fighting their way through heavy storms, Fortresses opened the attack before dawn. They were followed by Mustangs and Mustangs. (Continued on Page Six)

U. S. Industries Growing Fast

Babson Sees Great New Developments

Babson Park Mass., May 28.—Mr. Babson should remember particularly when making investments that some industries are always declining whereas other industries are showing healthy growth trends. During the war we have been in a kind of new industrial revolution. Our engineers and scientists have developed certain existing principles and made important new discoveries. After the war we all can benefit in our every-day lives from the progress being made in science and industry.

Normal Growth Vs. Stability

Investors and industrialists who wish to play more-or-less safe have a rather wide choice for their investment capital between the newer stocks and the old-timers. Among the industries which are now in a normal growth period are office equipment, electrical equipment, radio, rubber, electrical utilities, petroleum, building supplies and automobiles. Most of these industries are now concentrating upon war work, but after the war they will resume their customary operations. They may be expected, over a period of years, to grow slowly in their utility services and supplies. Industries which have more-or-less already "arrived" are characterized by their stability of operation. Among them may be railroad, mining, farm implements, telephone and telegraph, leather, lumber, ice, soap, cosmetics, containers, food, paper, steel and iron, the textiles and amphetamine, merchandizing, banking and the printing and publishing industry. May also be considered in the stable group. All these groups will be part of the American business scene for many (Continued on Page Three)

Home Drying of Fruits and Vegetables

Drying is a satisfactory method of preserving certain fruits and vegetables. Used to supplement and store, it reduces the cost of the total budget and provides an adequate variety of foods for winter use.

There are some fruits and vegetables that it is not advisable to dry at home either because drying decreases their palatability or because they deteriorate rapidly after drying. Many vegetables are kept for long periods in storage, either in outdoor pits or in an ordinary cellar.

Drying is more than merely removing enough water to insure the product against spoilage. Drying must be done in such a way as to preserve food value, natural flavor and cooking quality of the raw material.

Fruits
Begin drying as soon as the fruit is two-thirds ripe, and continue as long as it can be handled without mashing the pulp.

Caution: In drying, cleanliness of product and equipment cannot be over-emphasized. If the fruit is to be sun-dried, it should be spread much more thinly than much more than two slices in depth, and the trays should be immediately exposed to the sun.

If the fruit is to be sulphured, it should be spread upon the trays to a uniform depth of 1 to 1 1/2 inches as rapidly as it is sliced, and immediately placed in the sulphuring box for 20 to 30 minutes, after which it is transferred to the evaporator.

Sulphuring Fruit
Wrap one teaspoonful of sulphur in paper and place it in a pan in the bottom of a large barrel or box. Hang the fruit in trays or in a basket from a crosspiece at the top of barrel or box lightly and leave fruit exposed to the sulphur fumes for 20 minutes. There is some objection to sulphured fruit, but no proof that it is injurious to human beings in the small quantity used in the drying process.

After the fruit is sulphured, it should be placed in the drier. Begin drying at 160 degrees F. and decrease to 150 degrees as the drying proceeds. Sulphured fruit should be washed well before it is cooked.

Purpose of Treating Fruits and Vegetables
1. To destroy enzymes which, if not destroyed, bring about the following results:
(a) Loss of color, (b) loss of texture, (c) loss of flavor, (d) loss of food value.

2. To aid and hasten refreshing period.
3. To shorten cooking period.
4. To retain qualities during storage period.

Vegetables not blanched are tough and develop a hay-like odor and flavor after storage. Fruits not treated are dark and tougher than those treated.

Vegetables
Drying is advised for a limited number of products, since dried vegetable materials are prone to deterioration in flavor and table quality. This is especially true of those selected very young as asparagus, spinach, cauliflower and green peas. Vegetables to be dried require partial cooking before they undergo the drying process. This pre-cooking should be done in steam rather than water to preserve food value.

Corn is delicious when dried. Gather only young, fresh, tender corn, and prepare immediately. Pre-cook 15 to 20 minutes in boiling water or steam. Cut from the cob in whole grains. Sun drying is especially good for corn. Stir frequently so that it will dry evenly and quickly.

Green Beans—Select pods when beans are just beginning to form. Wash, stem, and tip. Cut into pieces 1/2 to 1 inch long. Steam 15 minutes or until thoroughly heated through. Dry between 2 cloths. Place on the drier. These are best not stored too long.

Greens—Trim, remove heavy stems. Wash, steam 5 to 6 minutes or until wilted, and spread thin to dry.

Peas—Shell the green fresh peas, steam 5 to 7 minutes. Spread 1/2 inch on trays. Begin drying at 130 degrees F. and continue to 140 degrees. Stir frequently. Certain varieties are better for drying than others.

Time Required for Drying
The time required for drying fruits and vegetables will depend on climatic conditions and the method of drying. Offer part of the product dries before the rest. In this case, remove only the thoroughly dried product, and allow the remainder to continue drying. When no thermometer is available the product is drying satisfactorily when the product feels cool in the midst of circulating warm air. If the product feels hot, it is drying too fast.

Canning's H. H. Club Meets.
Miss Verona Lee Joyner, assisted by Miss Kirby gave a canning demonstration at the Canning Crows Roads club meeting, Monday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. David Smith.

H. I. Pruitt was back a few days this week. The Hookerton district convention of the Disciples of Christ will meet with the Arthur church Saturday at 10:30 a. m.

If there are no Sunday night services at the Christian Church there will be prayer meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Allen. Listen for announcement at Saturday night's service.

Rev. Newton Robinson has been preaching five sermons this week at the Christian Church.

REMEMBER THEM WITH WAR BONDS

There aren't many of these grand old warriors left but 7 million of the great-grandsons and great, great-grandsons of these men and their comrades are in fighting uniform today. They're united in a common cause—to lick the Axis. Place a wreath in memory of those who are gone; carry on with another War Bond for those who fight today.

WARTIME RESTRICTIONS AFFECT ALUMNI LUNCHEON

The alumni luncheon at the college today differed from previous years, because it was a wartime occasion—limited in menu, simple in decorations, opened only to those students and faculty members who regularly take meals at the college, and to those rather few alumni who made reservations almost a week ago.

It had for its chief guests the class of 1943, most of whom live in the dormitory and fifteen members of the class of 1918.

President Meadows, in his welcome address, emphasized that the college was stronger than ever, but that food was scarcer than ever. Rationing limitations have created the new experience for dining hall authorities of not being able to invite even members of the college faculty to this usually gala occasion for all alumni who came and for all faculty members.

years to come. But sooner or later they may proceed to the point where radical new developments will force them to change their methods or products or else they will enter a period of declining usefulness.

Mid-Trend Industries
There is also a midway group which will perhaps reflect over the long pull, new growth and expansion. These lighting and heating fixtures, bituminous coal, farming, suburban transportation, food preservation, photography, pulp products and home appliances. We all know that the lighting of factories and office buildings has improved immeasurably in the last few years. Further strides will be made in this field until perhaps the ordinary electric light fixture as we know it, will be a veritable antique.

Industries in another classification are literally in the cradle. They may become to our grandchildren what the telephone, the automobile and the airplane have been to us. They include television, wired photography, electronics, prefabricated houses, synthetic fibres, fast aviation, chemicals and plastics, insulated and air conditioning, alloys and light metals and the wonders of fermentation. It is in these fields that our engineers and scientists are doing their most constructive work. Investment and manufacturing capital may well consider the opportunities these fields offer for postwar growth.

The war has made many United States industries self-sufficient and others obsolescent. This may react both to our advantage and to our disadvantage. Other nations are looking forward to selling us, after the war, certain of their war products in competition with ours. If we do not purchase them, the working class manufacturers and exporters of certain foreign nations may suffer greatly unless the needs for reconstruction take up the slack. Certainly religion and science, in our postwar world, hold the joint key to solving the dilemma.

Industries to Avoid
All industries go through a life cycle and many eventually become extinct. The manufacture of the Conestoga wagons which carried so many of our settlers west was a great industry in its day. The barge canals also did a great business. Even the corset industry has moved from whalebone to two-way stretch! The only thing that is certain in our lives is change. We must be equal to adapting ourselves to changing modes of living and to ever-changing investment and manufacturing conditions. In ordinary times, without the stimulus of war, it might take decades to bring about the changes which I now expect to see compressed into the next few years. Too many people are characterized by their inertia which keeps many in decadent businesses and investments. Hence, my advice to readers is to acquaint themselves with what is going on.

The WAR TODAY

immediately ahead. She is woefully weak from every point of view. About her only resources are manpower (for which she lacks equipment) and unlimited courage and determination. Her task is to keep herself from being knocked out pending the time when the Allies can give her adequate aid.
The present Jap offensive along the Yangtze towards Chungking may provide the crucial test. Should the Nipponese capture Chungking and overrun the surrounding territory it might to all intents end the Sino-Japanese war.

The period of emergency may last for some months before the United Nations can launch a major blow at the Japanese on the continent and thus relieve the pressure on the Chinese. As things now stand, the United Nations will have to open up a route to Chungking by ousting the Nipponese from Burma. Unless circumstances change, this means a great water-borne invasion of Burma from India and that can't come before the end of the monsoon deluge in the fall as this column has pointed out before.
The minimum time that the Chinese will have to shift largely for themselves, except for increased help from the Allies in the way of air power, therefore would seem to be some six months. The United Nations may undertake operations in the Southwest Pacific which will act as a deterrent to the Japs on the continent, but these operations can scarcely halve the Jap efforts to complete their conquest of China while the Allies are engaged in defeating Hitler.

Thus the solidarity of the communist and the central government forces at this juncture may be the link with victory.

AMERICAN HEROES BY LEFF

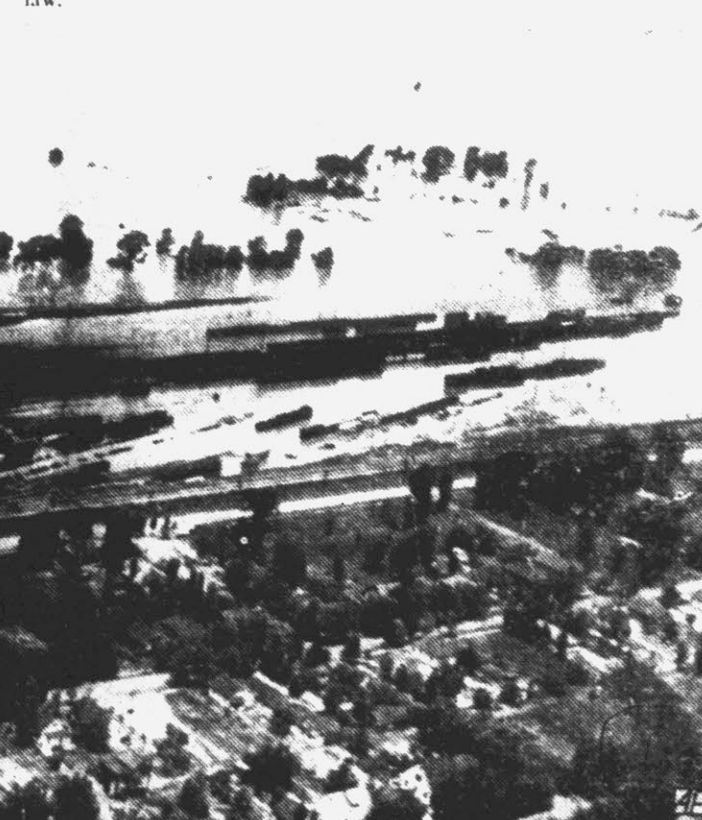

Hyman Epstein knew that after wounding a man the Japs around Sanananda were withholding their fire, using the injured soldier for bait until unarmed medical aides like himself came into range. Yet again and again he crept out under sniper fire to rescue wounded comrades until at last the Japs got him. "That kid was the best," his commander said of determined little Hyman Epstein. Are you buying War Bonds as determinedly?

BRIDE-TO-BE—Miss Jill E. T. Chandon of England, a showgirl in pre-war days, arrives in this country by plane to marry Lt. Stanley Pierce of Boston, Mass.

Levees failed under the tremendous pressure of the flooded Mississippi river, and water poured into the north end of the Missouri Pacific railroad yards (top) at Dupon, Ill., largest in the nation, and threatened the town (below). Yard operations were brought to a halt. Dupon is just below and across the river from St. Louis where a flood crest of 38.5 feet, highest since 1844, was forecast.

Dedy Lamarr Plans

Vienna-born actress, Hedy Lamarr, and Actor John Loder, are shown above after applying for a marriage license at Santa Monica, Calif., and announcing that they will be married as soon as they can get leaves from their studios. They met about six months ago.

Anti-Sub Craft Lands On Tanker Deck

A wingless helicopter, the Army Air Forces R-4, comes to rest on a limited space cleared for it on the deck of a moving tanker in Long Island Sound in a demonstration of this new means to combat subs. Liberty ships are now being provided with a small deck space to permit helicopters to be used at sea for added protection against marauding subs, the Maritime Commission reports.

WHERE were the airplanes?

While the American public was being fed reports on our growing airplane construction and accepting those reports as accurate, the startling fact was that eight months after the start of the war our navy in the Pacific could get only twenty-nine planes to send into Guadalcanal, and those arrived nearly two weeks after the landing!

HONEYMOON IS OVER FOR THE BRAVES, PHILS

Both Teams Head Back To Fight For Cellar Position

By SID FEDER
AP (Sports Writer)

It may be a little early to say the honeymoon is over for the bewildering Boston Braves and the high-flying Phillies, but off the developments of recent days there are indications the bride and groom are getting ready to start fighting over the biscuits, anyway.

This is not to say the Phils and the Braves are about to nose-dive right out of the stratosphere and head back to their old stomping grounds down among the old shoes and the empty barrels in the cellar. As a matter of fact, they have a tough time getting past Jimmy Wilson's woolly Chicago Cubs and Frankie Frisch's pathetic Pittsburgh Pirates, who are having a high old time—well, a time, anyway—trying to see who's going to get lower in the National League's sub-basements.

But when the Braves bowed to the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 in ten innings yesterday, and the Phils blew a five-run lead to hand the Cincinnati Reds an 11-8 win, it marked the fourth loss in the last five trips to the post for both the Boston and the Quaker City "darlings."

Two of the Braves beatings were by the Cubs, and this is quite a trick, like trying to change a three-dollar bill at your favorite bank. It just isn't done. And the Phils have let the Reds score 19 runs in three games, which might even give the Rhinelanders the mistaken impression they're slugging Johnny Cool.

The 11 runs the Reds chalked up yesterday's coffee-klatch, for instance, were four more than they'd scored in any previous game this season. But they finally turned the trick when the Cincinnati outfit landed on Johnny Podgajny for three runs in the eighth. The big gun in the 14-hit Red spree was Steve Mearns, who rapped out a double and two singles and knocked in four runs.

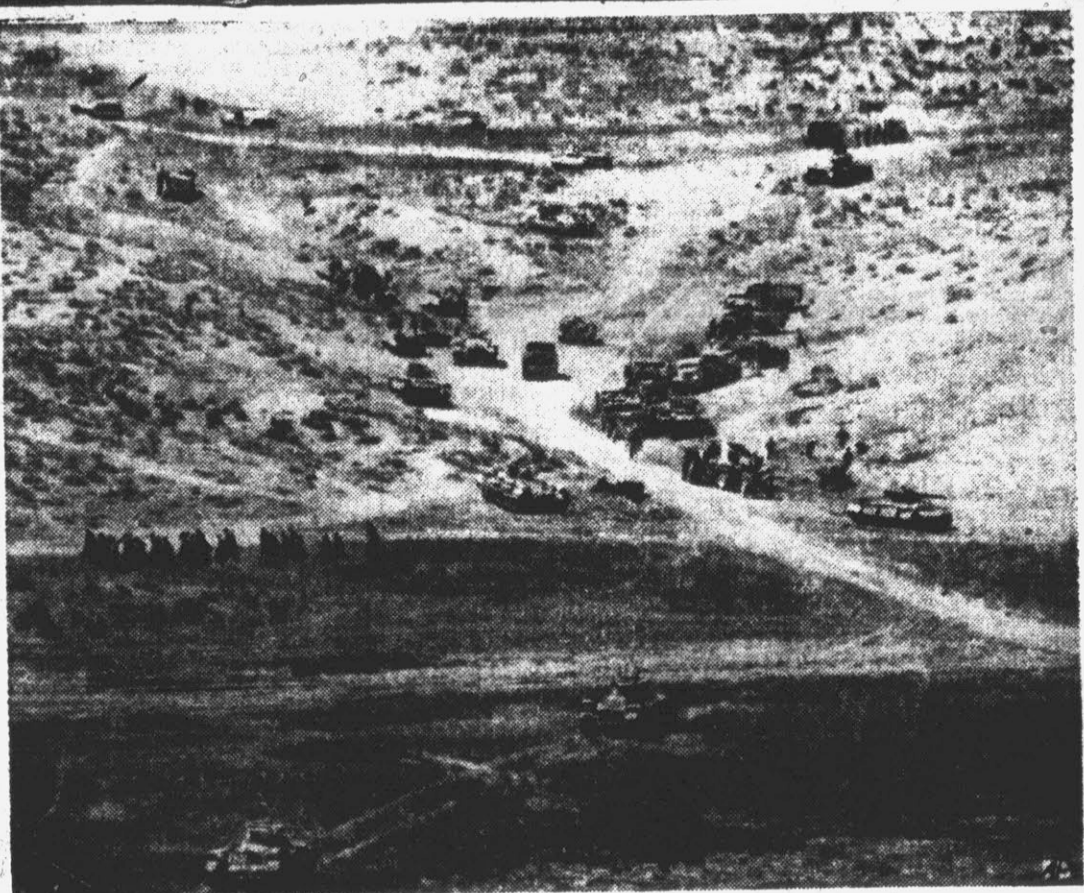

The most remarkable thing about the Braves loss to the Cards was that they even made Max Lanier like a pitcher. Max lasted less than two frames his last out and went only six the time before, but yesterday he was part Johnson and part Mathewson as he served up a five-hit affair against Boston bats that appeared to have holes in them.

The pat-off poke in this affair was Lou Klein's tenth inning triple that sent the cincher home.

Meantime, the Cleveland Indians cleaned up to a first-place tie with the Washington Senators in the American League by belting Boston's Red Sox 5-2 behind Jack Salvo's steady ten-hit hurling. The Nats and St. Louis Browns were idle.

The New York Yankees broke their five game losing streak with a 2-1 edge over the Tigers, but Hank Borowy's jinx over the Detroit bats to be extra-hot to do it. The sophomore right hander, who downed the Detroit four times in a row last year, tried his whammy for the first time this season and found it was still working as he tossed an eight-hitter. Russ Christopher went the whole way to give the Philadelphia Athletics a 5-2 win over the Chicago White Sox.

The New York Giants moved up to sixth place in the National League by clouting the Cubs 3-1 behind Harry Feldman's tight elbowing. Sid Gordon knocked in two of the runs as the New Yorkers, winning their fifth straight over the Cubs, introduced a resolution suggesting that they'd like to play the rest

A wild pitch with the bases loaded and a homer by Dixie Walker produced four runs for Brooklyn in the first inning against Pittsburgh and it was to trick at all for the Dodgers to coast from there to a 6-2 win over the Bucs. Ed Head hurled a six-hitter, but he didn't even have to be half that good to get by.

Lanza estimates that 220 Axis divisions, about 150 of them German, are engaged on the Russian front. In western Europe and in reserve are about 100 German divisions, he says, and the Axis satellites have about 100 more divisions in various European areas.

To accomplish one of the major objectives of an invasion—making it impossible for Germany to replace troops exhausted in Russia—Lanza figures the invading forces must engage at least 100 divisions in battle, commenting that "the magnitude of the invasion task is apparent."

Miners To Stand By Wage Demands

Washington, May 29 (AP)—John L. Lewis scheduled a meeting with the policy committee of his United Mine Workers today as soft coal operators and union leaders resumed bargaining negotiations on the knotty portal-to-portal pay issue.

Lewis, UMW president, will report to the committee following a morning conference with representatives of the mine owners.

The miners were reported to be sticking to their demand for time and a half pay for 90 minutes a day of underground travel, which would add about $2.25 to the underground workers' daily wage.

The operators' offer, rejected by the miners, proposed pay for 48 minutes of underground travel time, which would amount to 80 cents a day at straight pay or $1.20 at time and a half.

Lewis' demand for time and a half pay for 90 minutes underground travel would give the miners including surface workers, an overall average of about $2 per person, which is the UMW's original demand.

Giraud Decorates American General

Algiers, May 29 (AP)—Gen. Henri Giraud placed his own Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor today on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, and the American commander-in-chief of Allied forces declared he would emulate the French leader's example in wearing no decoration until France is liberated.

The French military and civilian commander-in-chief kissed Eisenhower on both cheeks in the traditional French embrace, after placing a red sash on the American and tapping both his shoulders with a sword.

The ceremony took place under the palm trees of the governmental palace before an honor guard of fine French, British and American regiments and before brilliantly uniformed Spahis mounted on white horses.

LESS DRIVING—MORE SERVICE?

In many cases, the effect of wartime conditions on car driving is a considerable reduction in the distance a car travels every month.

And the strange effect of this is that it can happen that less driving may create a need for more service.

Official sources have said that any car which travels less than 90 miles a month does not get enough "exercise" to keep in good "trim." While this low mileage may not always prevail here, the same kind of logic calls for a recasting of ideas about servicing.

That's why it is a smart move to go into the details of possible special servicing requirements resulting from wartime driving. A good car dealer is always glad to talk over problems concerned with car care and driving habits, and is always glad to give helpful advice.

If the way you use your car now is changed to any extent from peacetime habits, it may have made necessary a new slant on the attention you give it. It pays to know about such possibilities and make sure your car is getting the proper attention whether it results in more service or less.

Airmen Blast ...

(Continued from Page One) loved by a mixed flight of Liberators and Fortresses. Despite the intensity of the anti-aircraft fire, not a single Allied bomber was lost. The Japanese chose Millingford, Allied air base on Australia's north coast 300 miles east of Darwin for the targets of eight bombers, escorted by six Zeros, but the communiqué said the 50 bombs dropped caused only slight damage and no casualties. Spitfires engaged the raiders at 15,000 feet, shot down three bombers, for certain and damaged others at a cost of two defending fighters.

Doomed Japs ...

(Continued from Page One) had to scale 60 degree ridges in the face of strong enemy fire to reach them. Washington, May 29 (AP)—The final splitting up of Japanese forces on Atsu island into little groups who fight with the desperation of doomed men was underway today with some of the battling high in the mountains above the clouds. Navy reports on the progress of the campaign now in its 19th day, indicated that the most intense American attacks were in an area between Lake Cories on the south and Lake Corica on the north. Army troops were reported in a Navy communiqué late yesterday to have advanced along a ridge commanding the area between the two lakes and other units assaulted a second ridge running at right angles to the Cories-Corica line. This latter ridge extends east of Fish-hook and as a result of the advance, which followed artillery and mortar preparation, a Japanese strong point on Fish-hook was in the Navy's words, neutralized. Meanwhile patrol units felt out Japanese strength on still a third ridge extending eastward from the floor of Chicago valley. In an earlier bulletin yesterday the Navy had reported that on Wednesday an attack by U. S. troops to eliminate the enemy from the ridge south of Lake Cories is in progress. There was no further report on this action, but some authorities here said that in order to make an effective assault on the southern end of the Cories-Corica line units of the American forces must have broken through the ridge positions south of Lake Cories.

Congress Pleased ...

Producer Organization Would Be International

By OVID A. MARTIN Hot Spring, Va., May 29 (AP)—A move to link the farmers of the world by means of an international organization of producer marketing cooperatives was advanced today by delegates of more than 30 countries attending the United Nations food conference. Advocate of the cooperative movement—a system of business enterprise, owned and operated by the people they serve—agreed at a special meeting to ask the parley to formally recommend, in its final resolutions, that an international agency be set up to help farmers organize. Such an agency would be connected with the international agricultural authority which has been proposed at the conference as the mechanism for increasing world production, distribution and consumption of agricultural products. Murray D. Lincoln, of the United States, delegation and chairman of the special meeting, predicted the time would come when "cooperatives in my country will trade directly with cooperatives in your country to make more goods available to more people with less profits." Lincoln is president of the Cooperative League of America. Lincoln said he wanted it understood that "I'm still for private enterprise, because we who believe in cooperating want competition, but we don't want monopolies." The cooperative movement here is young compared with some other countries, particularly Scandinavia, Lincoln declared, but "we in the United States are beginning to join in this great movement to bring economic democracy to the people." The meeting agreed to ask the full conference to recommend also the establishment in all countries, a system of rural cooperative banks for farmer credit.

RAF Sets Record ...

(Continued from Page One) targets were hit on Tuesday. The Air Ministry disclosed yesterday that a newly-devised wave-bombing pattern of attack was used for the first time on the Essen foal-plant, with the four-engined giants roaring over their targets in ten separate sweeps in a period of 50 minutes. Bomb loads varied so that each would cause the greatest devastation at successive stages. The week virtually was an exclusive RAF affair. Britain-based four-engined American bombers, have been able since the two-pronged attack on the submarine bases at Wilhelmshaven and Emden Friday a week ago.

Allied Planes ...

(Continued from Page One) attack, meeting only light fighter opposition and shooting down one of the few planes that dared attack the closely packed formations. The Fortresses made the raid alone, without fighter escort. The curious English form of the name of the city—Leghorn—came from British sailors who requested it when it was a thriving commercial port some two centuries ago. It is the home town of Count Galeazzo Ciano, former Italian Foreign Minister and Premier Mussolini's son-in-law. Pantelleria has been under daily attack for the past week. Besides Castelvetrano, airfields at Sciacca, Milo and Borizzo in Sicily were attacked by the American twin-engined bombers and fighters. And in these sweeps 18 of the 21 enemy planes shot down in combat yesterday and the preceding night were accounted for. In the operations the Allies lost but two planes.

(The Italian communiqué acknowledged the raid on Leghorn and Foggia and also listed an attack on Lucera, about 12 miles northwest of Foggia. Rome said 51 were killed and 349 injured at Leghorn, while six were killed and nine injured in the neighborhood of Lucera. The Italians admitted "very considerable damage to public and private buildings" in Leghorn.) Assaults were made on Axis airfields in Sardinia Thursday night by Wellington bombers, headquarters announced. Big RAF bombers also struck at Augusta, Sicily, Thursday night, a Cair announcement said, registering hits in the area of the railway station and near oil installations. The Americans returned to Sicily yesterday with Mitchell and Liberator bombers, escorted by Lightnings and Warhawks, and bombed airfields, including Castelvetrano. Many bombs were dropped in the dispersal areas, causing damage among the grounded aircraft. Bomb-carrying Lightnings joined in the attack on the Castelvetrano airfield. The day's Pantelleria attacks were carried out by Warhawks and Bostons.

Violent Air-Land ...

(Continued from Page One) bombers, saw Russian shores at night with contact mines, delayed-action bombs, and anti-personnel spring bombs called "frogs" which explode into flying splinters. Presumably they were being used on Russian-held shores of the Black Sea and the Sea of Azov. London, May 29 (AP)—Red Army troops were locked in a swaying, bitter struggle to drive the Germans from the lower Kuban today, and land and aerial activity further northward indicated that this first major campaign of the summer may be only the forerunner of several to develop along the long Russian front. The Soviet midday communiqué made no reference whatever to the Novorossisk area in the Kuban. Both the midday and midnight communiqués, however, stressed sharp activity in the Smolensk area, almost 700 miles northwest of the major Kuban campaign, and important communications and rail link between German-held Kharkov and Orel sectors and Leningrad. The midday communiqué, recorded here by the Soviet Monitor, described artillery action, reconnaissance, and heavy guerrilla activity in that important area, and the midnight communiqué, in addition to describing Russian artillery and reconnaissance activity, told of German attempts to scout the area which were beaten off. German defense positions were demolished by artillery while guerrillas striking near Vitebsk, 75 miles northwest of Smolensk, wrecked troop trains and attacked German garrisons, the midday communiqué said. Planes joined with artillery near Leningrad to smash German outposts, artillery and mortar batteries, and Red airmen shot down six German planes which attempted to beat off assaults on German supplies and communications there, it said. The Smolensk area of the western front, the Lischansk area of the Donets front, and the lower Caucasus west of Rostov also were scenes of Russian softening-up stab. Near Lischansk, the Russians said, Red Army troops testing defenses there dislodged the Germans at one point, then beat off two German counterattacks. Material and prisoners were said to have been taken. The Russians said they dispersed two companies of German infantry west of Rostov with artillery fire and knocked out guns, blockhouses and dugouts.

Miss Howard's graduation from East Carolina Teachers College and then from Columbia University, and of her teaching positions, among others her work as teaching principal of the Barbee school in Raleigh and critic teacher at East Carolina Teachers College, before going to her present work in Louisville. In an effort to meet the need for material in the social studies to be used in the public schools for remedial reading, said Mrs. Holland, Miss Howard wrote the history text "On the Trail with Lewis and Clark" which was published in 1939 and is now being used in several states as a supplementary reader. "This certificate is presented to Miss Bonnie C. Howard," she said, "in recognition of her achievement in the field of education, and this plaque bearing her name will be hung on the wall of the Alumni office as an expression of our faith in her ability to contribute to a continually higher level of teaching." Miss Howard's response, as read by Mrs. Alderman, said in part, "The great desire of the human mind is to win the things worth while, to get on in the world, to succeed! Someone has said that he has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has always looked for the best in others, and given the best he had. To me this is the spirit of East Carolina Teachers College. "We salute our president, Dr. Leon R. Meadows, a true friend and an inspiration to all of us. Through his wise leadership, his vision, and his straightforward thinking, he has made and is making our Teachers College one of the greatest in America," she continued. "In brief, we who graduate and go out into the world with the blessings of this college never cease being grateful for the efforts of all of the faculty who have played such a big part in instilling in us the principles of right thinking, right feeling, and right acting." The new officers, who will serve for a period of two years, were installed at a business meeting following the program. Besides Mrs. Garner, the president, they are: Mrs. J. L. Marcum (Augusta Woodruff) vice-president; and Miss Grace E. Smith, treasurer. Mrs. J. C. Holland and Miss Martha Whitehurst, president and vice-president, respectively, are the outgoing officers; Miss Grace E. Smith was reelected treasurer.

The new president was graduated in the two-year normal class of 1929 at East Carolina Teachers College. She received her A.B. degree in 1934 and her M.A. degree in 1942, both at the College. After teaching in Newport, Whitakers, and Grimesland, she started teaching in Greenville, in 1937, and has been here since. In 1938 she married Clem Garner, who is now serving in the United States Coast Artillery, Camp Haan, California. Mrs. Garner has served the Greenville chapter of the Alumni Association, both as vice-president and president.

Mrs. J. S. Holland, the former Alia May Jordan, has done outstanding work during the two years she has been president of the Alumni Association in holding the organization together in these trying times. During her first year in office twenty new chapters of the Association were organized. At the morning meeting special recognition was given to the three honor classes—the class of 1918, the class of 1933, and the class of 1942, the 25-year class, the 10-year class, and the 1-year class.

The twenty-five year class, of which Miss Mamie E. Jenkins was adviser is the war class of 1918. According to Miss Jenkins the members are now scattered from California to New York. For the 1933 A.B. class, Dr. R. J. Slay was faculty adviser; and Dr. Slay and Miss Katherine Holtzclaw were for the 1942 class. In receiving the graduating seniors formally into the Alumni Association, this morning, Mrs. Holland declared, "This hour is the climax of Alumni Day for me. You have lived up to your pledge made a month to make this a record breaking year in both attendance at this meeting and number of members joining the Association. "I welcome you, the graduating class of 1943, our youngest sisters and brothers, into our family circle," she said. The response was made by the president of the class, Miss Joyce Dunham of Wilmington. At 1:00 a simple lunch was served in the college dining hall. Only those who had made reservations in advance were able to be cared for because of rationing restrictions. President and Mrs. Meadows will entertain the alumni at tea at their home on East Fifth Street this afternoon from 4:00 until 6:00. Tonight at 6:30 there will be an allegiance service in the Austin auditorium. The state president of the Alumni Association and Miss Marguerite Austin, faculty adviser of the senior class, will make short talks. The senior class will make a pledge of allegiance to its Alma Mater. A public recital by the music department at 8:30 in the Wright Building will close the day.

for a period of two years, were installed at a business meeting following the program. Besides Mrs. Garner, the president, they are: Mrs. J. L. Marcum (Augusta Woodruff) vice-president; and Miss Grace E. Smith, treasurer. Mrs. J. C. Holland and Miss Martha Whitehurst, president and vice-president, respectively, are the outgoing officers; Miss Grace E. Smith was reelected treasurer.

The new president was graduated in the two-year normal class of 1929 at East Carolina Teachers College. She received her A.B. degree in 1934 and her M.A. degree in 1942, both at the College.
