HOUSE PASSES NO-STRIKE BILL

Stiff Penalties For Strike Instigators Or Leaders

Washington, June 4—(AP)—Legislation providing for prison sentences and fines for persons instigating or leading strikes in government-operated plants was passed today by the House and sent back to the Senate for action on amendments. The roll call vote was 231 to 141.

A conference committee of the Senate and House will have to adjust changes unless the Senate accepts without a fight the House amendments to the original Connally bill.

The legislation continues major provisions of the Senate-approved Connally bill and a substitute measure drafted by the House Military Committee.

It provides that anyone instigating a strike or directing a strike or lockout shall face a maximum penalty of $5,000 fine and one-year imprisonment. In addition, it bars the use of union funds for benefit payments to workers on strike but does not interfere with the right of an individual to refrain from work.

The measure represents the consolidation of a bill drafted by Representatives Harness (R-Ind.) and Smith (D-Va.), following the general lines of the Connally and the House Military measures.

Removed from it was a clause that would have prohibited the War Labor Board from issuing a closed shop or maintenance of union membership orders.

The House retained in the bill authority for the board to subpoena witnesses, a section inserted as the result of refusal of UMW President John L. Lewis to deal with the board.

Typhoid Clinics To Begin Monday

Free typhoid clinics for both white and colored will be held throughout the county by the Pitt County Health Department beginning Monday of next week and continuing for three weeks. The department workers will have the opportunity to pay only three visits to each of the clinics and therefore persons who will need all three treatments are advised to be on hand for each of the clinics as the time set forth in the schedule. Persons who have taken the treatment within the past three years will need only one treatment and can get same at any of the clinics held in their community.

The schedule of clinics follows: Monday, June 7-14-21-9 a. m. D. T. House's Farm; 10 a. m. Leens; 10:30 a. m. Stokes; 11:15 a. m. Oak Grove; 9 a. m. Winterville; 10 a. m. Renston; 10:30 a. m. Ayden; 9 a. m. Rock Springs; 10 a. m. Falkland, Colored School and White School; 11 a. m. Sharp Point.

Tuesday, June 8-15-22-9 a. m. Lewis' Farm; 10 a. m. Farmville, Colored School and White School; 11 a. m. Fountain, Colored School and Owen's Drug Store (white); 9 a. m. Hanrahan; 10 a. m. President Castillo and Associates Have Taken Refuge On Warship; Revolt Is Seen As Move To Complete Pan-American Solidarity Against Axis

(By The Associated Press) Argentine military leaders engineered a coup d'etat today against the government of President Ramon S. Castillo, whose insistence upon strict neutrality has left Argentina the only nation in the western hemisphere maintaining relations with the Axis.

Castillo transferred the seat of his government to a warship. He proclaimed in a statement by all Argentine radios that the government would assure the stability of national institutions and that "I will not consent to the installation of a government by force which does not respect the popular will of the country."

Troops said to have been directed by Gen. Pedro Ramirez, minister of war, swarmed into Buenos Aires, seized control of police headquarters and deployed at other strategic centers.

Opposition was light. A gunfight on the outskirts led to the death of one or two men and the wounding of others. Within the capital, the streets were quiet.

Buenos Aires broadcast an announcement that Castillo had ousted Ramirez and named General Rodolfo Marquez as war minister. Private advices from Buenos Aires received in New York this afternoon said Castillo had left the capital but reports he had resigned were not confirmed. It was added that it was not yet clear whether the uprising was definitely pro-Alled.

Unconfirmed reports reaching Montevideo said the President said some of his supporters had taken refuge aboard a gunboat. Little more than two hours after a major force led by Gen. Arturo Rawson entered Buenos Aires, the British legation at Montevideo, said "the impression is that the revolutionary movement has been successful."

Condemned Traitor Seeking New Trial

Cincinnati, June 4—(AP)—Max Stephan, Detroit restaurateur convicted of treason, asked the Sixth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals again today to order retrial of his case.

Once sentenced to be hanged, and scheduled to go into court at Detroit tomorrow for re-sentence, Stephan appealed from an order issued May 22 by Judge Arthur Tuttle, denying him a new trial. The Supreme Court of the United States early this week refused for a third time to review the case.

In today's action, counsel for Stephan contended Judge Tuttle erred in holding that alleged newly-discovered evidence "would be immaterial."

Stephan was convicted of aiding Oberleutnant Hans Peter Krug of the German Luftwaffe flee toward Mexico after his escape from a Canadian internment camp.

Proposal To Limit Term Of Presidents Favored

Washington, June 4—(AP)—A proposal to limit future presidents to eight years in office attracted strong Democratic and Republican support in the senate today with the prospect that it may become one of the major talking points both for and against a possible fourth term nomination for President Roosevelt.

Minority backing for the proposal—a resolution for a constitutional amendment—came from Republican Leader McNary of Oregon, who told reporters:

"I think congress should pass the resolution and submit the question to the legislatures of the various states for their consideration." Republican National Committee Chairman Harrison E. Spangler said its adoption would be "a great thing for the nation."

Across the political fence, Senator George (D-Ga.) said he would support the president on the understanding that it will not directly affect President Roosevelt's future in office.

"It is sound in principle and I have always felt that some such restriction should be written into the constitution," George said.

The measure, introduced by Senator Bailey (D-N.C.) in a form requiring a two-thirds vote of both houses and ratification by three-fourths of the state legislatures, provides that no person shall be chosen or be eligible to hold the office of president if he has held (Continued on Page Four)

British Warships Blasting Italy's "Little Gibraltar"

Pantelleria Bombarded For Fourth Time This Week; Allied Planes Drop Block-Busters On Port Of Naples; Axis Faces Trouble In Balkans

By DANIEL DE LUCE Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 4—(AP) British warships have bombarded the Italian fortress island of Pantelleria for the third and fourth times this week, hurling shells into the harbor and battery areas, it was announced today.

Both Wednesday night and Thursday morning the big ships stood off and pounded the rocky island in duplication of their previous assaults at the start of the week. There was some slight return fire from Italian batteries, but as in the two previous attacks the British naval units were reported to have suffered no damage or casualties.

Bombed day and night by American and RAF planes in the air, Pantelleria's shore gunners could reply but weakly as the British ships raked their emplacements.

An Allied announcement disclosed that RAF Wellington bombers battered the island outpost Monday and Tuesday nights and on the latter date also delivered a block-busting raid on the damaged port of Naples. Two-ton bombs exploded on the Naples industrial area and among the docks and many were seen as burst among plants and port buildings," it was stated.

Besides block-busters—each capable of leveling a city block—the twin-engined Wellingtons dropped other types of high explosives on the vital Italian shipping center. The Wellingtons encountered no fighter opposition over Naples or Pantelleria, striking evidence of the depleted state of Axis defenses.

(CBS said the Moscow radio quoted Swiss dispatches as reporting that all foreign newspaper reporters, including even those from Axis countries, have been forbidden to enter Naples. It added that correspondents of neutral countries were allowed only in Rome and Milan.)

The two RAF night raids on Pantelleria were said to have started several fires and many hits were reported in the dock area.

American daylight bombers reported scoring numerous hits on Pantelleria's military targets and (Continued on Page Three)

FDR And Stalin Are In Accord

Washington, June 4—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today that the understanding and accord between him and Premier Joseph Stalin of Russia is excellent, in commenting at a press conference on the return of his special emissary to Moscow, Joseph E. Davies.

The chief executive made his brief statement when asked whether he could disclose anything about the reply to his letter that Davies brought back from Moscow late yesterday.

Mr. Roosevelt, referring to the Soviet head as Marshal Stalin, said Davies had brought back a letter and that the understanding and accord between the President and Stalin is excellent.

That was all he said about it and reporters did not press him for details. Davies left Washington about a month ago with a sealed letter to Stalin.

Giraud And De Gaulle Reach New Compromise

Algiers, June 4—(AP)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle and Gen. Henri Giraud were reported today to have reached a new compromise under which Giraud will remain commander in chief of the French army but in return will make a number of concessions to the Fighting French leader.

Sources who cannot be named said Giraud's concessions involved the replacement of a number of high officers by generals from the Fighting French forces such as Paul Le Gentilhomme, Edward Rene De Larminat, Marie Louis Koenig and Jacques Leclerc.

It is understood that Giraud's command will be purely a headquarters job. He will not extend his activities to field command.

The new agreement, the general war effort of those parts of the French empire not under Axis control was taken up by the new committee for national liberation.

The issue of command long has been one of the main points of difference between Giraud and Gen. Charles De Gaulle, who now are serving as co-presidents of the committee. De Gaulle has maintained from the beginning that Giraud should disassociate himself from the military command if he desires to have a hand in the political administration.

A new spirit of conciliation which appeared to pervade political quarters in Algiers following the formal establishment of the committee yesterday gave rise to hope, however, that this question might be resolved. (Continued on Page Four)

Planes Destroyed In Raid On Kursk Totalled 162

By WILLIAM MCGAFFIN Moscow, June 4—(AP)—The German air force lost 162 planes out of 500 that attempted to raid Kursk Wednesday, it was announced today as the full story of the raid unfolded.

It was announced previously that 123 German craft had been destroyed over Kursk in one of the biggest air battles of the war as the aerial struggle all along the front intensified and land action remained desultory.

A correspondent for Red Star, the army newspaper, said the Germans attempted an elaborate new plan of approach in the attack on Kursk. (Continued on Page Six)

Warehousemen Hold Meeting In Wilson

Greenville was well represented at the annual meeting of the Eastern Carolina Tobacco Warehousemen's Association at Hotel Cherry in Wilson today. A. W. Fleming of Wilson, presided. The warehousemen discussed a number of problems resulting from the war. Special consideration was given Governor Broughton's request that the warehousemen stretch out the tobacco selling season to permit harvesting of the cotton and peanut crops.

Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock. The business session got under way shortly after 2.

Miners Who Fail To Return To Jobs Face Reclassification For Military Service

Washington, June 4—(AP)—John L. Lewis announced today that he would recommend the return of the mine workers to their jobs on Monday.

In a suddenly announced retreat from his adamant stand, the UMW chief disclosed he has written this reply to a letter from Secretary Ickes, the federal mine boss:

"I have your letter of June 4. I have no power to direct. I shall, however, recommend to the Policy Committee of the United Mine Workers of America that it direct the mine workers to return to work on Monday, June 7.

"Sincerely yours, (Signed) John L. Lewis."

Secretary Ickes told John L. Lewis today that he, as federal boss of the mines, expected that you will direct the members of the United Mine Workers to return to work on Monday.

Whether Ickes has reason for such an expectation being realized, or whether he simply is trying to smoke out the mine union leader into a statement of intention was not made clear in his terse message.

It simply said: "As operator of the coal mines on behalf of the United States government, I expect that you will direct the members of the United Mine Workers of America to return to work Monday, June 7."

Ickes' follow to the still-silent unionist followed a morning White House press conference at which President Roosevelt laid down a simple rule that a man who quits essential war work thereupon becomes liable for army service.

He brought up this phase of the coal controversy himself at a press conference without saying whether he has any drastic work-or-fight order in mind.

Meanwhile, nothing but silence came from Lewis, whose hold on his so-far personally loyal miners faces a real test in view of the President's order.

First, Mr. Roosevelt was asked (Continued on Page Six)

Youth Rally Here Ended Last Night

By WYATT BROWN The faith of your fathers and the old time religion will not and cannot save you unless it is your own," warned Reverend Robert Bradshaw of Durham in his sermon to the young people in the closing session of the Christian Youth Rally sponsored by the Greenville Christian Youth Movement and being held at Jarvis Memorial Church for the last three days with good attendance every day. Following the sermon the three-day rally was climaxed with the partaking of Holy Communion administered by Rev. Bradshaw. Dr. R. S. Boyd, Rev. Hartwell Campbell, Dr. J. D. Simmons and Rev. G. W. Perry, Jim M. Haney conducted the devotion.

Warning that there is danger of religious people permitting their religion become a tradition or hand me down, Rev. Bradshaw told how Christ had found more difficulty in reaching the religious people of His day than the out and out sinner.

"Is your religion just something you know is good because it helped somebody a little bit? Or does it get into your fibre and effect the way you treat your brother and sister or mother and father and other people? If it doesn't it is merely a tradition," he declared.

He related how some people let their religion be a kind of "spiritual bath." They feel good when they hear church music or a sermon even if the sermon is supposed to make them uncomfortable. The "spiritual bath" kind lets one be religious and greedy, unkind, and inconsistent at the same time.

"We can very easily substitute religion for Christianity.

"By being religious we can reach a level of good and stop seeking the highest level. Sometimes the good things we do erect a barrier to our best. We think so much of how good we feel at the good we have achieved, we neglect trying to be the finest. A religion that lets us be satisfied. (Continued on Page Four)

GIVE SCORE IN ATTU FIGHTING

Capture Of Island Cost 1,535 American Casualties

Washington, June 4—(AP)—Capture of Attu in Aleutians cost the United States 1,535 army casualties including 342 men dead, 1,135 wounded and 58 missing up to midnight Tuesday, the Navy reported today.

The deaths represent a ratio of about five Japanese killed for each American lost in the battling over the snow covered crags and tundra. Known Japanese deaths the Navy has said, total 1,791 exclusive of enemy soldiers killed by air bombings and naval bombardments and cremated or buried before American troops took the island.

Small groups of Japanese still were roaming Attu harrassing American troops on Tuesday, the Navy said.

However, their activities have been confined to sniping and wiping out all remaining enemy troops. (Continued on Page Six)

Three Executed By State Today

Raleigh, June 4—(AP)—The State of North Carolina today asphyxiated Bill Bryant, 40, of McDowell county, for murder, and Purcell Smith, 22, and Harvey Hunt, 21, Robeson county Indians, for rape.

It was the sixth triple execution in the state's history and the first since July 7, 1939, when three murderers were put to death.

Bryant began inhaling the gas fumes at 10:01 and was pronounced dead in nine minutes. He was followed by Smith, who died in eight minutes, and Hunt, who died in eight and a half minutes. Hunt was the 246th person executed by the state, the 92nd by gas and the 48th by rape.

Battle of Upper Yangtze has Turned Into Rout For Japs; 10 Towns Retaken By Chinese

Chungking, June 4—(AP)—Chinese forces have smashed into the Yangtze port of Itu after annihilating 2,000 Japanese troops in the area and have captured Nanshan on the northern shore of Tungting lake, a Chinese high command communique announced today.

The report said the battle on the upper Yangtze had turned into a rout of enemy forces, which were battered ceaselessly by American and Chinese armies. Fierce street fighting was reported in progress in Itu, 23 air miles below the main Japanese base of Ichang.

Cut Point Costs On Tomato Juice

Washington, June 4—(AP)—The OPA cut tomato juice ration point costs in half today, announcing however that all other current ration coupon values are expected to stand unchanged for another month.

The tomato juice cut—which applies also to other vegetable juices containing 70 per cent or more tomato juice—is effective Sunday morning. The new value is two points a pound—which comes to three points for a No. 2 size can and four points for a 46-ounce can. This was the second sharp cut on tomato juice, both prompted by slow sales.

Paul M. O'Leary, deputy administrator in charge of rationing, said point changes would be made in the future only once a month, "to ease the burden of rationing."

A new schedule of meat point values, which are one to three points a pound higher on most beef cuts also goes into effect Sunday.

15 Of 19 Students Pass College Exam

Fifteen of the 19 high school 11th grade students who ranked in the upper third, who took the college entrance examination at East Carolina Teachers College last week, passed successfully, a record percentage for the state, it was announced today.

The examination was conducted under the auspices of the State Department of Education.

Successful passing of the examination will enable 11th graders to enter college without having to complete the 12th year of high school.

The WAR TODAY

AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Again today Allied headquarters in North Africa report naval bombardments of Pantelleria, which the National Geographic Society describes as the cork in the Mediterranean bottleneck between Sicily and Tunisia.

Shelling of this fortress is taken as further substantiation of the belief that the occupation of the island is imminent.

In any event, it is true that the Mediterranean is feverish with signs of approaching invasions. Not only Pantelleria but Sicily and Sardinia also have been so thoroughly sowed with bombs that it shouldn't be long before they are ready to bring forth fruit.

It's possible that Allied strategy may contemplate the occupation of Pantelleria before proceeding with invasion of Sicily, Sardinia and perhaps the Italian mainland. The reason would lie in the fact that Pantelleria is a mighty, dot strategically.

This rocky little island, which contains only 1,000 to 1,500 square miles, stands right in the middle of the eastern mouth of the ninety-mile-wide channel between Tunisia and Sicily and is in position to raise hub with Allied shipping. All our vessels must go through this narrow, shallow channel and run the gauntlet of Pantelleria's big guns.

Invasion of Sicily will be no child's play. The Allies need absolute freedom in the channel if and when that operation begins. Therefore it wouldn't be surprising to see a preliminary move to dispose of Pantelleria.

Pantelleria really is an important item in Allied calculations. Its strategic value has been recognized for thousands of years, and it was fought for by the ancient Romans and Carthaginians.

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

June 4, 1903

The board of aldermen met in regular monthly session Thursday night and transacted a considerable amount of business.

The standing committees, police officers, tax collector and chief of the fire department made their reports for the past month.

The street committee was authorized to proceed to condemn and lay out a street so as to complete the opening of the street to Dickson avenue near the depot.

The balance due, $1,880 on the purchase of the lot on the corner of Fifth and Cotanche streets, for market house and fire department buildings, was ordered paid.

An appropriation of $50 was made for the entertainment of the Confederate veterans at their reunion on the 3rd of July.

The board of internal improvements asked for an appropriation of $100 to make a test to determine whether it is best to obtain the water supply for the town from a system of gang wells or from the river. The appropriation was made.

Preacher Appeals To Young People

"Preparing to Meet God" was the subject used last evening by the Rev. Clarence Bowen, preaching in revival services at the local Free Will Baptist Church. The text used was from Amos 4:12.

The minister began by asking the question "what is the most important matter to think about in life?" After discussing a number of important matters demanding the attention of the average man or woman, such as the choice of the right mate for life, the choice of the right profession, etc., he gave answer to the question in a quotation from Daniel Webster, who once declared that the most important matter that had ever occupied his mind was the question of his personal relationship and responsibility to God.

"Every individual among us must one day stand face to face with God, and no one, no matter how much they might love us, can answer for us there." The speaker then proceeded to advance three reasons for preparing to meet God, emphasizing each reason with illustrations, related in his most pleasing manner.

The reasons advanced were: (1) Because preparing to meet God will bring greater happiness in this life. (2) Because we must meet Him. (3) Because our situation will be a sad one if we come into His presence unprepared. (4) Because there are great blessings awaiting those who are prepared.

Endeavoring to answer the question "How may one prepare to meet God?" the preacher gave three steps as necessary: (1) One must realize and be willing to admit that he is a sinner. (2) One must repent of sin and be willing to turn away from wrong living. (3) One must look to Jesus Christ in faith for atonement and forgiveness and for the power to live a righteous life.

Rev. Mr. Bowen's manner of preaching, while interesting to persons of all ages is especially appealing to the young people. He has devoted a great part of his ministry to work with young people, and seems to have unusual understanding of the problems of youth. For this reason appeal is being made especially to young people of the city to hear him.

Services are being held each evening at 8:30 in the Free Will Baptist Church on the corner of Cotanche and 11th streets, and will continue through next week.

War Mobilization Director And Wife Hear Address

Miss Nellie Maude Lanford, 18, (above) of Woodruff, S. C., takes her throne after being named "Queen" of the cotton-goes-to-war celebration held at Spartanburg, S. C., which witnessed an address by War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes. Miss Lanford won out over some twenty other contestants.

Their Neutral Ship Sunk By Nazi

Checking on the latest war news after being brought ashore at Miami, Fla., following their rescue at sea, these subordinate officers of the Swedish motorship Industria, sunk by a Nazi submarine in the South Atlantic, seek word of the whereabouts of their captain, first officer and second officer who were taken prisoners aboard the U-boat. Left to right, second Mate Eric Olander of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Radio Officer Vilho Vilmit of Franklin, Mass.; Radio Officer Erik Saarman of New York, and Second Engineer Oliver Skult of Danderyd, Sweden.

Wilmington, N. C., June 4.—(AP)—The North Carolina Shipbuilding Company has been awarded the 7th and 8th gold stars for its Maritime Commission "M" pennant for what was termed "the continuation of outstanding production of Liberty ships."

Set Goal For War Fund

Raleigh, June 4.—(AP)—North Carolina's goal in the national war fund campaign this fall will be $1,880,681.

The figure was set by the board of directors of the state organization meeting here yesterday to organize the state drive.

A series of district meetings will be held during the last two weeks in June at which county chairmen will be named and county goals set up, Chairman R. M. Hanes of Winston-Salem said.

Strength FOR THE DAY

REPUTATION—GOOD AND BAD

Some men spend their lives trying to live down a reputation, and other men wear themselves out trying to live up to a reputation. A bad reputation is like sticky fly paper—the more we try to get away from it, the worse we seem to get involved in it. On the other hand, living up to a good reputation is no easy job either. Public opinion is often inaccurate. The people who have done something wrong are usually completely condemned as behaved paragons of virtue. It is well for us to remember that all of us have a lot of bad in us which has to be lived down, and that there is probably not a person on the face of the earth who does not have considerable capacity for good, if it could only be brought out into the open and utilized.

Reputation is a hard taskmaster.
The evil we do lives after us, the good, as Shakespeare remarked, is oft interred in our bones. On the other hand, if we are widely admired, we find it extremely hard to live up to that good estimate which people have of us. We have to watch our tempers, guard our utterances, and see to it that we give people considerable justification for continuing their good opinion of us.
It is hard to live down a bad reputation, but it is equally hard to live up to a good reputation.

All of which, of course, is as it should be. For we are here in the world to grow, not to slide along easily and have a nice time.

IT'S YOUR WAR, TOO

The Allied bombings of Europe are naturally good news to our people and there is no doubt that we are making headway toward ultimate victory in that theatre of the war, but we have not yet reached the stage
that there is time to lessen our war efforts. Victory in the war depends upon every individual in this country doing his or her part in the war effort and the sooner we get down to such an all-out war basis the sooner we can hope for victory.

The road ahead is still a long and hard one and we must be willing to make sacrifices to win. There are still too many of our people who apparently feel that it's the other fellow's war.

THE COUNTRY LOOKS FOR ACTION NOW

Now that President Roosevelt has ordered the striking coal miners back to work the nation is looking to him to see that the order is obeyed or to crack down with all the force at his command. This matter of the coal strike has narrowed itself down to the issue of open defiance of the government during the emergency of a world war and the government must settle this issue now in such a manner that hereafter our war effort may not be hampered by like strikes and disturbances from workers in other industries. The country is looking to Mr. Roosevelt to settle this matter without

REG-MANNING

further delay and unless he can handle it there will no doubt come a general public demand for a universal draft law that will place the services of everyone at the disposal of the government in the prosecution of the war.

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

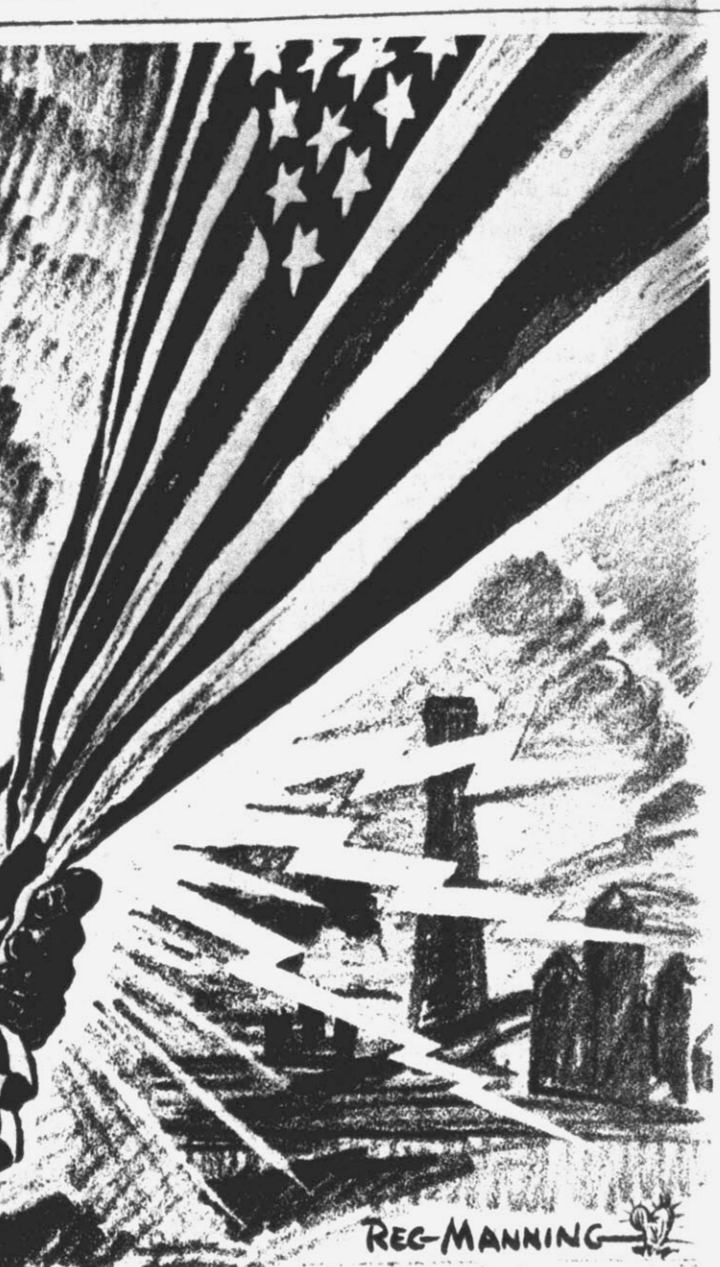

By JACK STINNETT

Washington — The capital in wartime.

Complaints about the number of training and home front plane accidents continue to harass the Army Air Corps safety experts, who have recently done a phenomenal job of increasing the safety quotient by leaps and bounds.
One official here who knows his airways and the men and machines learning to fly them was griping at the grippers:
The Army has never failed to make public an accident that is reported in every city in the land.
That makes them seem like a lot.
In one year, 32,000 people in this country were killed in bath-tub accidents, teen-times over the number of men killed in training and flying the home front in the United States last year. If all those bathtub accidents were made public, you would read of 90 such a day.

As a matter of fact, I know 95
out of every 100 pilots in training now will go off to the wars without

The Black Hand

ever having had an accident of any kind."
Jerry Klutz, recorder of government employment affairs for the Washington Post, is compiling a
"Washington dictionary of red tape language." Here are a few samples:
It's under consideration means:
never heard of it. Under active consideration: will try to find it in the files. Has received careful consideration: it's in a state of inactivity covering time lag. Have you any remarks? give me some idea what it's all about. The project is in the air: am completely ignorant of the subject.
You will remember: you have forgotten or never knew, but try to find out, because I don't know either.
Am transmitting to you: you hold the bag. I'm tired of it. I concur generally: haven't read the document and don't want to be bound by anything I say. In conference (the now almost trite remark round phrase) it may mean anything from her's home nursing a hangover from her gassing with a couple of other red-tapers.

Passed to higher authority: pig-non-holed in a more stuporous office.

Kindly expedite reply: for the juvva mike, try to find those papers.

In spite of the remarks in some high places that the coal miners are now "working for the government," some of the best legal minds here are unanimous in declaring that it will take an opinion of the United States Supreme Court to prove it.
If the court should hold that way,
they say, the miners would be due
all the rights and privileges accorded other government workers—and with pay pensions, etc., those rights and privileges are generous.
Most attorneys here just laugh
off the possibility that such a test that office during all or part of two prior terms.

Its adoption, however, would not prevent a president from serving out the remainder of his term. Barley said because of the length of legislatures "it will not head off a fourth term, but it will head off a fifth term" for Mr. Roosevelt.
While some legislators said a majority senate vote in favor of the resolution might be interpreted as a congressional slap at any fourth term ambitions the President may have, others said they were not so sure Mr. Roosevelt's friends might not argue that if the President is allowed to finish out the rest of his office the proposed amendment would offer assurance that he would not seek a fifth term.
Proponents conceded it will be impossible to obtain the necessary
two-thirds vote in the senate unless the administration unexpectedly supports the resolution. Should such support not be forthcoming,
they will aim—for the political effect it might have—for a majority there.

ed without too much difficulty.
There was evidence of general satisfaction, meanwhile, with the new French setup, which marked the culmination of seven months of patient effort to bring the divergent elements together under one banner.
American minister Robert Murphy declared he was delighted.
"A new baby has been born," he exclaimed. "It falls all on my feet and there is no doubt that there is sincerity in all quarters."
From a close analysis of the situation it appeared that Giraud and De Gaulle had fared about equally well in their bareheaded march, until formal creation of the committee, had produced many signs of tension.

In the course of his remarks Mr.
Bradshaw took occasion to praise
the young people who have ideals to work out and put into a rally
the one he had in mind for the two days he was in town. Young people from Washington and from Farmville heard of the rally and came to enjoy it. One young per-and enjoyed it so much that he brought some more young people from Farmville with him today.

They all wanted to know if they could put on such a Rally in their communities.

HIGHWAY TO HER HEART

Chapter 26
Constable Rennick, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, was as Penny had pictured him. Tall, straight, with quick penetrating eyes. He came up to Bill's hotel room two days after her brother had been released from the hospital.

Bert Stringer had been captured.
"He confessed everything," the Mounty told Bill, Powell and Penny. "Your friend, Mr. Rockwell, helped me track him down."
"So that's where Cleve has been lately," said Bill. "I've been wondering where he was keeping himself."
Penny had been wondering, too.
"Make a fine policeman, that chap Rockwell," Rennick said ad-miringly.
"Sure," Bill grinned. "He's got the nose of a crack news photographer."

Powell said, "I hope you see to it, constable, that Stringer gets a good long stretch. He caused us no end of trouble."
Rennick nodded. "I think I can guarantee that. Other counts have turned up against him. He has quite a record."
When the policeman had left Powell turned to Penny.
"Are you going to fight a man like Stringer all alone?"
"Bill said, 'Penny's quite a girl.'
"The most wonderful girl in the world," said Powell softly. "That's why I don't want to wait any longer before making her really mine.
How about it, Penny?"
"Let's get married right away,
here at Fort St. John."

He seized her hands. "Modern frontier wedding—it'll be great!
Something we'll never forget. Something to tell our grandchildren,
when the famous Alcan Highway is old."
Penny said uncertainly. "It—seems so—all of a sudden."
"These are the days of sudden weddings," said Powell.
"More boyish and impulsive than she'd ever seen him, he caught her to him. Penny had the peculiar sensation of being swept headlong down some strange rushing stream.
White water. If only Bill would say something, advise her—if only Cleve were here—she was lost in a wilderness of emotion, stumbling, uncertain of her trail."
She heard Powell's persuasive voice, felt the warm urgency of his arms.
"Say you will, my darling. Say it!"
"Will, I—"

"You will!" He kissed her tempestuously.
"Y—yes, Powell, if you like." Her voice, far away and a bit frightened.
"That's a girl! Congratulate us, Bill."
Looking somewhat bewildered,
Bill did so.
"You'll be best man, of course,"
said Powell. "I'll go out and see about getting the license. I'll—"

Flushed and exuberant, he reached the door just as Cleve Rockwell thung it open.
"Hello, what's this?" asked Cleve.
"Where you going in such a hurry, Powell?"
"Y—You'd be in a hurry, too, old man, if you were getting married!"
He clapped Cleve on the back.
"Bill's going to be best man, but maybe Penny'll let you be man-of-honor, or bride's man, or something. Or, better yet, you can take pictures of the big event. Wedding at the Alcan—how does that strike
you?"

Cleve looked as if it had struck him—hard. His eyes went wide and dark, as they left Powell's face for Penny's. His gaze was long and searching. Blushing, Penny tried to laugh away her sudden restlessness.
"Powell and I thought getting married up here would be sort of a —lark."
"Your climate's done something to Powell," said Bill. "He wants what he wants when he wants it—which is right now, a cupid picks out hot pots' most eligible bachelor."
Cleve smiled briefly. He grasped Powell's hand, shook it, then reached for Penny's.
"Mind if I kiss the bride-to-be, Powell?"
"Certainly I mind," said Powell,
"but so ahead."

Fleeting, Cleve brushed Penny's lips then straightened.
"Guess I'll trot along. Got some things to do."
Bill decided to go with Powell to see about wedding arrangements.
When the three men had left,
Penny sat down on the bed.
Through the window, she could look out over the booming settlement,
could glimpse the strategic Alcan Highway threading north into the wilderness toward Alaska. Odd to think she was going to be married here. A few short weeks ago, Fort St. John had been little more than a name to her.

Powell and Bill came back an hour later.
"Everything's settled," said Powell, kissing Penny.
"Bill said, 'Cleve's packing. He's leaving for Edmonton on the next plane. Told us to say goodbye to you.'"

Penny's mouth went dry. "Cleve—
leaving? But why?"
"His plans for treatment for his arm there, then enter the service." Bill explained, watching his sister closely.
"We tried to get him to stay on,"
said Powell, "at least until after the wedding. But he wouldn't.
Damn'd discourteous. Resigned his job, too."
Penny said wildly, "Cleve can't go. He's got to stay—got to!"
Both men stared at her, startled by her vehemence. But she didn't care.
"Why, Penny?" began Powell.
"Is Cleve isn't here," cried Penny.
"I won't get married!" She burst into tears.
Powell gripped her shoulders.
"Which, he asked coldly, 'is more important to you—our wedding or

Report Slaughter Of Jews In Poland

Stockholm, June 4 (AP)—The Germans were reported today to have virtually wiped out the Warsaw Ghetto by deporting 14,000 Jews to the east after three weeks of desperate street-fighting in which 2,000 were shot to death and 3,000 died in their flaming homes.
A secret Polish radio station heard here last night said the Jews in the walled Ghetto, scene of other bloody pogroms since the Nazis overran Poland, had given a good account of themselves by killing 300 German Elite Troops and wounding 2,000 others.

The broadcast said the Jews defended themselves behind the barricades as the Nazi troops marched on the Ghetto April 12.
Resistance at the barricades continued until April 24, the report added, and then street and house fighting raged for a week or more as the Germans pressed in with the aid of artillery, machineguns, flame throwers and light bombing planes.
Mines and bombs blasted entire blocks of buildings and fires swept many sections of the Ghetto, the broadcast said. Water, gas and electricity were shut off and the Jews
finally were forced to give in.

Hupei border from newly-occupied towns in the north, rice-producing regions of north Hunan province,
west of Tungting lake.
The position of the Japanese in their stronghold at Nanchuan, north of Tungting lake, was said to have been rendered untenable with the fall of outlying positions.
Meantime, donations from all over China poured in for the victorious armies of Gen. Cheng Chien, which turned the Japanese back from China's rice bowl and averted
the threat of a drive upon Cheng-

YANKS BEAT BROWNS IN TIGHT GAME

Cubs Blast Dodgers To The Tune Of 8-1 In Walkaway Contest

By JUDSON BAILEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The National League is having a two-horse race for the pennant and it's a good show that the Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals are giving the fans.

But the really wide-open scramble is in the American League, where the sixth place club is closer the lead than is the third club in the National. Furthermore it wouldn't take much to make all eight clubs contenders.

The New York Yankees have been showing the way except for one lapse ever since the season started, yet they have not convinced anybody that they are a real good ball club.

Certainly they have not convinced Luke Sewell, manager of the last place St. Louis Browns, whom the Yanks beat yesterday 2-1 when Bob Muncief forced home the deciding run in the ninth inning with a walk. It was the 12th loss in 15 games for the Browns and eight of the defeats have been by one run and another was by a shutout. In other words a hit here or a good fielding play there might have changed the story many times and even with all their troubles, the Browns are only seven games behind the Yanks.

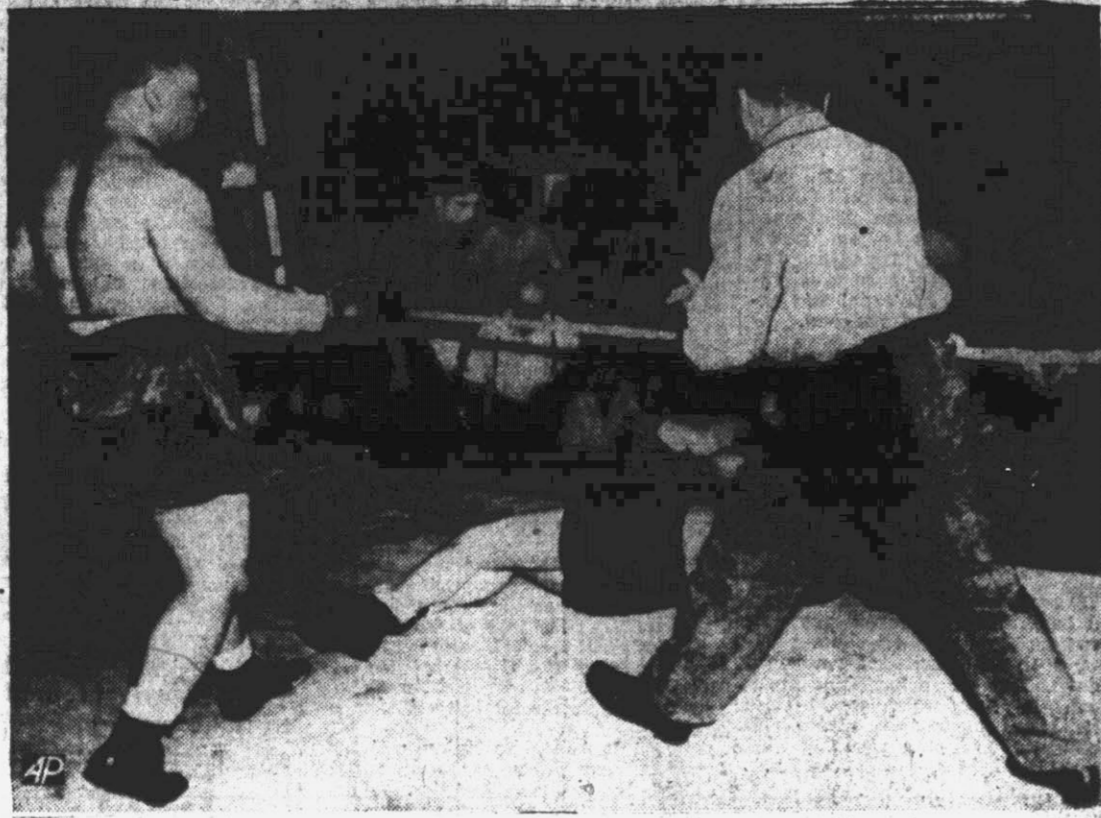

After yesterday's game Sewell was miserable. "The only place close ones count is in horse shoes," he moaned. "But the truth is I haven't seen any ball club in our league that stands out. The Yankees don't and it's anybody's pennant. If we get a few hits we'll be up there. If we don't get a few hits I'll go nuts."

The Browns made only four safeties off big Ernie Bonham yesterday, but one was a homer by George McQuinn. The Yankees made just six hits off Muncief, although Joe McCarthy shook up his batting order.

Detroit scored seven runs in a big eighth inning of a night game at Washington to subdue the Senators 8-2 and the result of this was to expand the Yankees' margin over second place to a full game, but to hold their distance over the third place Tigers to a bare game and a half.

Tony Galento Scores A Knockout In Tampa

powered Cleveland 10-4 with an 18-hit offensive while rookie Don Black held the Indians to nine scattered blows. This kept the A's in fourth place 2-1-2 games back of New York while the Indians skidded to sixth with their ninth loss in 11 games. Even so Cleveland is only four games out of first place.

The Chicago White Sox bounced from seventh to fifth by beating the Boston Red Sox 6-4 with five runs in the third inning. Chicago kicked around in the early weeks of the season, now is 3-1-2 games out of the lead.

In the National League the Chicago Cubs caught the Brooklyn Dodgers still in a reverie from their final victory at St. Louis and dynamited the Dodgers 8-1 while the Cardinals romped to an 8-2 decision over the Phillies. This shaved Brooklyn's lead again to half a game.

Lon Warneke, who hadn't scored a victory all spring, stopped the Dodgers with a six-hit pitching job while his teammates racked up 13 hits and bunched them for four clusters of two runs. Bill Nicholson hit his fifth home run in six games. The Cardinals made a dozen hits and Murry Dickson coasted to victory in his first complete game after many relief appearances.

The Pittsburgh Pirates pounded out a 9-6 victory over the New York Giants for Truett (Rip) Sewell, who now has won six and lost just one game. The triumph enabled the Pirates to hold third place 4-1-2 games out of the lead, by a shade in the percentages over the Cincinnati Reds, who beat the Boston Braves 7-4 in a night game. The Reds rallied for four runs in the eighth inning to save the victory for Johnny Vander Meer.

Stars And Stripes Fly Again Over Attu Island

The battle of Attu is over—and the Stars and Stripes once again over the barren but strategically important little island at the western end of the Aleutians. This map illustrates the two-way invasion of Attu by American forces that resulted in crushing the Japs. The arrows indicate the paths U. S. forces took from beachheads (1 and 2) on the northeastern coast in the fighting that wiped out all but isolated Japanese snipers (3). Tokyo admitted final defeat that ended enemy domination established in June, 1942.

J. K. Galbraith (above) has resigned as deputy administrator in charge of the price department of OPA.

Quits OPA Job
Launching a publicity drive to persuade the miners to return to their jobs.
Reaction from the idle coal fields was sparse and wary. The President gave the strikers four days to think it over, and to contemplate these possibilities:
1—Adverse public reaction as coal supplies dwindle, steel production plummets, and Congress acts on anti-strike legislation.
2—Loss of their deferment from military duty, which has started already in Alabama and Tennessee by gubernatorial order.
3—Invoking of laws affecting aliens. Many coal diggers are aliens.
4—Use of federal troops to protect men who want to work in the government-operated mines from demonstrations by pickets.
Whether any of these possibilities materialize was a matter of pure conjecture. John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, who takes the position he never ordered the walkout, could send the men back, but after a long meeting yesterday he held his own counsel. The men quit Monday midnight when their contract expired, the union says.
That "no contract, no work" attitude still existed in the face of the President's flat command—a 22-word blunt statement—was evidenced in several coal-producing areas.
Only two of 50 miners interviewed in the Pittsburgh section indicated they would go back without orders from Lewis himself. One local president belligerently warned that any men brought in to work the mines "had better watch out."
Hugh White, vice president of the UMW in Illinois asserted:
"I don't believe the order means a thing. The miners are, if anything, more bitter now than at the time of President Roosevelt's back-to-work order because negotiations for their new contract have lagged."

Lewis To Order
Whether troop protection would be provided for those miners who obey his order to get back to work.
He preferred not to comment on that because, he said, it was in a sense a bit "iffy." He hoped, he said, that the miners would go back Monday.
Then, without any further questioning, the chief executive said there has been a good deal of work about the inclusion of miners into the union. He commented that there was nothing startling or new about that and that the rule is a simple one and applies to all, not only the miners.
Mr. Roosevelt went on to say that if anyone is deferred because he is engaged in an occupation essential to the war, he normally remains deferred as long as he continues to work.
But as soon as he stops work, he stops that work for the nation, and then becomes liable for army service, the President said.
A great deal, he said, had been unnecessarily made of that feature in the newspapers.
Asked about those miners who have dependents, the President said they would be treated just like everyone else.
To a question as to whether alien laws might be invoked to deal with the strikers, the President replied he did not understand what was meant. He added that aliens are inducted and the same rules are applied to them as to citizens.
Selective Service headquarters said its occupational deferment figures are not itemized to show the number of miners deferred because of their work, but that it appeared unlikely that the number is great.
War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt said recently there were but 1,000,000 men in all non-union occupations who have been deferred as "necessary" individuals.
Meanwhile, more than a dozen Office of War Information representatives held a long conference with Interior Department agents preliminary, it was reported, to nos Aires radio said this afternoon that Castillo had appealed to the population, public officials and police to help suppress the revolt.

Montevideo dispatches also said there was no confirmation of rumors that Castillo, who proclaimed strict neutrality to be the "policy of prudence" for Argentina two years ago and maintained that policy in the face of internal and external pressure, had resigned.
Montevideo reports said handbills distributed by the revolting units described the movement as aimed at "complete and frank Pan American solidarity and respect for Argentina's international treaties" and an objective recalling Argentina's ratification of the Rio De Janeiro conference resolution calling for all American democracies to break with the Axis.
Argentines in New York expressed belief that the revolt was well organized and backed by liberal elements in the army. They asserted that clamor for an Argentine break with the Axis, which would close the ranks of western hemisphere solidarity, had been rising, backed by 90 per cent of the population.
Castillo apparently had known he was sitting on the lid of a revolt.
A Montevideo dispatch said Castillo, former vice president who had headed the Argentine government since President Roberto Ortiz was forced from his desk by ill health July 4, 1940, was given an ultimatum by military leaders recently demanding modification of his policies within 48 hours.
Quoting a source which cannot be specifically identified, the dispatch said Castillo curtly rejected the demand.
Buenos Aires, June 4—(AP)—General Pedro Ramirez, leader of a revolt against the government of President Ramon S. Castillo, entered Government House in downtown Buenos Aires this afternoon amid shouts of "long live democracy" and "long live freedom!"
These cries rose from crowds gathered in the famous Plaza de Mayo, before Government House, which contains the presidential offices, abandoned by Castillo.
They gave an uproarious welcome to Ramirez, who had been war minister in Castillo's government.
The afternoon newspaper "Noticias Graficas" issued a special edition bearing the streamer headline "Triumphant Revolution."

Navy communique No. 401:
"North Pacific:
"1. On June 1, on Attu Island, small bands of Japanese troops still roamed some areas of the island, although there was no further enemy resistance.
"2. The United States army casualties on Attu as of midnight June 1 were as follows:
"Killed—342.
"Wounded—1,135.
"Missing—58.
"3. In addition to the known Japanese dead of 1,791 on Attu Island (previously reported in Navy Report communique No. 400) U. S. Army troops have captured 11 prisoners.
The announcement that eleven Japanese had been taken prisoners increased by seven the number of enemy troops reported captured in the campaign.

quickly stopped, with many Junkers 88's and Dornier 215's shot down. The Germans then sent in one squadron of 100 planes at great height, but only a few of them succeeded in unloading their bombs on the target area, the Russians said. The Russians previously said they lost 30 planes in defense of the city.
The Soviet noon communique declared 23 German planes were shot down yesterday in the Kuban valley but that land action was minor. (There was no confirmation from the Russians of a German claim that the Soviet troops had launched a new drive near Teryuk, at the northern end of the German Caucasus bridgehead anchored on the sea of Azov. The Germans said the Red offensive had not gained any lasting success.)

R. C. (Dick) Stokes, Jr., donated a boat and Seth Hooker a motor for it, to be used by the Fire Department on the river to recover bodies after drownings. A vote of thanks was given the donors. A proposal was made that the city buy a trailer for the boat and also buy a pulmotor to be used for artificial respiration in cases of drownings, asphyxiation or electric shock. The matter was referred to Fire Chief George Gardner and Police Chief George Clark and Martin Swartz, utilities superintendent.
The aldermen granted permission for a wine and beer license to be issued to James Balafas, owner of the Busy Bee cafe. When complaint was made against Balafas' place some time ago he voluntarily surrendered his license.
The board agreed to pay an extra week's wages to street department employees if they forego their usual week's summer vacation because of a shortage of labor and equipment. The Otis Elevator Company was employed to regularly inspect the City Hall elevator. All aldermen were present except Rufus V. Keel, who is in New Orleans.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Good morning, Doc. Your good wife tells me you're working night and day now that so many of the younger doctors are in the army."
"That's right, Judge, and I'm glad I'm still able to do it. Had a long letter from Harry... that bright young fellow I was broken in to take over my practice. He said the boys in the service are getting the best medical care of any armed force in our history. They really should with all those brilliant doctors and plenty of supplies to work with."
"Speaking of supplies, Doc, not many people realize that a large part of the war-alcohol required to make the medical supplies that are being used right this minute to alleviate pain, combat infection and save human lives, is produced by the beverage distilling industry. This entire industry stopped making whiskey months ago and has been working night and day producing nothing but war-alcohol."
"Nobody knows better than I, Judge, what an important contribution to our war effort that really is."
