Large Force Of Allied Airmen In New Sweeps Across Channel Today

RAF Bombers Sunk Two German Ships And Damaged Others Off Dutch Coast This Morning; New Air Blows To Be Aimed At Axis Railway System

By E. C. DANIEL London, June 28.—(AP) A large force of Allied warplanes, believed by watchers to include U. S. heavy bombers, swept across southeast England late today toward France after morning British fliers sank two German ships, forced another on a beach and brought three others to a standstill off the Dutch coast.

The drum of the multi-engine machines continued for several minutes as the big formation headed toward the continent between Boulogne and Calais.

Coastal watchers said the force apparently had struck deep inland because no bombs were heard on this side.

The RAF employed Typhoons and Hurricanes in the German convoy, found sailing in a line, the Air Ministry said.

These vessels were attacked in waves and the final wave of fliers also attacked ships, believed to be tugs, trying to aid the convoy. One RAF plane was lost, the Air Ministry announced, in contrast to the German high command's claim that nine were shot down. The Germans also asserted that the convoy suffered only minor damage.

Hurting through intense anti-aircraft fire fighters closed in to 500 or 600 yards with guns blazing in the initial attack on the convoy. An explosion and yellow flames suggesting an ammunition fire burst out on one 800-ton ship, which was beached, the Air Ministry said.

One pilot saw a 600-ton ship sink within ten minutes. When the second wave of planes came over, another 600-ton ship had disappeared.

Other Typhoon bombers arriving later found two more ships which looked like tugs ploughing to the assistance of the remaining two vessels at a standstill. One of these poured out smoke after hits were poured.

The service flag hangs at the right hand side of the pulpit—the left opposite that used by the choir. The stars are arranged in the design of a cross. The two gold stars are located at the base of the cross.

Each person represented by a blue star will be sent a copy of the special dedication service bulletin used yesterday morning. The Woman's Society of Christian Service will do the sending. Each copy going to the service men will be autographed by Mr. Perry.

Eisenhower To Brook No Interference By French

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON Washington, June 28.—(AP)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle and his adherents had unofficial but emphatic notice today that the Allied commander in French Africa charged with final preparations for an assault on Axis-held Europe will brook no interference due to French political controversies.

An exposition of Anglo-American policy and purposes made available to this writer by such informants and in such circumstances as to leave no doubt as to its authenticity makes it clear that General Eisenhower will be firmly supported by both governments in whatever additional steps he finds it necessary to take to secure his communication lines, avert delay in fixing the French African bases for aggressive

Official Says Allies Approaching "Final Victory"

Washington, June 28.—(AP)—Congress was assured today the United Nations were rapidly approaching a "final victory" and that the war would be brought home to Japan in such a manner that "the whole empire will feel its full impact in a most violent and destructive way."

This statement from Lieut. General Joseph T. McNarney, deputy chief of staff, was included in testimony made public by the Senate Appropriations committee as the Senate made ready to pass the Army's $71,500,000,000 "decisive budget" war bill.

At one point, General McNarney told Senator Gurney (R-S.D.) the use of the word "rapidly" might have been an overstatement, but added:

"In the training and equipping of our armies and getting them ready for combat, we have made enormous progress in the last year. We have now committed to act in concert with other united nations, a rather large force."

Asserting that "strong and experienced enemies" confronted the united nations, General McNarney nevertheless declared in a statement bristling with confidence:

"The co-ordinated operation of our land and air forces is rapidly bringing us toward a final victory. Our operations in the Pacific have turned the tide of Japanese advance into a gradual withdrawal toward their home bases. Since our movements of the Japanese have followed our lead."

"It is our intention to bring the war home to Japan in such a manner that the whole empire will feel its full impact in a most violent and destructive way."

In this, he declared, "Our allies are with us and we are united in efforts to defeat the Axis," and added: "The combined chiefs of staff have well-defined plans to accomplish this end."

Pointing out that the nation had only 2,500,000 partially-trained and equipped men in the army last year, McNarney declared "we have in the service at this moment in

Promises Heavy Blows For Japan

At U. S. 14th AAF Headquarters in China, June 27.—(Delayed)—(AP)—Major Claire L. Chennault declared today at his first press conference since returning from vital discussions in Washington. "I anticipate that Japan will receive very heavy blows, if not decisive ones, within a reasonable time."

The general declined to specify what he meant by a reasonable time, but said "I was greatly encouraged by the attitude of the people and the authorities back home."

Chennault looked better than he has in months.

"We aren't forgotten men out here, by any means," he said.

Boisson Resigns. London, June 28.—(AP)—Pierre Boisson has resigned as governor general of French West Africa and the French Committee of National Liberation has accepted his resignation. Reuters reported today from Algiers.

The report added that Boisson had been asked to remain in office until his successor could be appointed.

Boisson's territory includes the strategic naval and air base of Dakar, against which the Fighting French of Gen. Charles De Gaulle made an abortive attack earlier in the war.

Russians Capture Finnish Position

London, June 28.—(AP)—Red Army troops captured a Finnish strong point in hand-to-hand combat in a brief flare-up on the Karelian Isthmus last night, the Russian news communique broadcast by the Moscow radio and recorded by the Soviet Monitor announced today.

Elsewhere on the Russian front it was quiet with intermittent exchanges of artillery fire resulting in the destruction of German machine-gun nests and blockhouses. Soviet airmen shot down three planes, the war bulletin said.

The attack on the Karelian front, which had entrenched itself on a high point, it was declared, Russian troops drove out the Finns, killing 300 officers and men, the communique said, and then fought off a counterattack by the Finns.

Chinese Soldiers Move Up To Continue Harassing Japs

Constantly harassing the Japs, threatening China's "back door," at the Salween front, these Chinese soldiers move up across a rushing mountain stream. A line across the channel helps them to keep their feet. Branches on their backs make it difficult for the enemy to detect them against the background foliage of the area.

Vote Tomorrow

Tomorrow is the day when the friends of educating the children vote for the 10-cent school tax levy to supplant the 15-cent levy assessed before the State took over the nine months school term.

The school tax levy is to provide about $12,000 to be used by the schools to provide music instruction for all students (band and orchestra), to handle juvenile delinquency matters and to provide funds to keep enough teachers on the job to maintain Greenville's high standard.

Those who registered are entitled to vote. The polls will be open tomorrow morning at 6:30 and close tomorrow afternoon at 6:30.

NEGRO KILLED BY OFFICERS

Housebreaker Attacked Patrolmen Who Arrested Him

By CHESTER WALSH Woodrow Wilson, 26 Negro recently discharged from the U. S. Army, was fatally wounded by state highway patrolmen last night Saturday while resisting arrest for alleged attempted burglary. A coroner's jury exonerated Patrolmen C. L. Teague and R. W. Young and commended them for fearless performance of their duty.

Mrs. G. S. Steppes, 1109 Chestnut Street, saw Wilson on her porch. She called her husband, Wilson ran, Steppes borrowed a shotgun from T. Welch, a neighbor, and the two men followed the Negro Wilson, threatened them with a brick when cornered.

The officers accosted Wilson. He was under the influence of liquor and resisted arrest. In a scuffle through backyards in the Negro section, the man kicked Patrolman Teague while going over a wire fence in the dark. The officer fired downward. He did not know whether the bullet struck the man who ran. With a bullet in his abdomen, Wilson fought the officers for 20 minutes. They used their guns to club him with little effect. They finally got the handcuffs on him.

Patrolman Teague, with a patrolman, went to the highway and left Patrolman Young with the weakened prisoner. A crowd of Negroes—men and women—gathered and threatened the officer. He was in a tight spot in the dark.

"You people get across the street and line up and keep quiet. I will drop you one by one," Patrolman Young commanded. The crowd pressed closer. (Continued on Page Six)

The WAR TODAY

AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By MAX HILL An Englishman who is in a position to speak with authority wrote a special article for the Associated Press which was published yesterday and in which he said:

"The people in Britain know they can expect no joyride to Berlin or Tokyo."

The author is W. J. Haley, who is joint managing editor of the Manchester Guardian and Evening News, and a director of Press Association of Great Britain and of Reuters.

Haley has just returned to England from an extensive trip through the South Pacific, and the message that Japan no longer is a myth to him.

Let us hope it was from knowledge and not sentiment that he said:

"Churchill spoke for the nation when he pledged that Tokyo must go the way of Berlin and Rome."

It is time, also, that America awakened to the critical situation in the Pacific. The status of the war in that area can be summarized in a few words, and I only hope the readers of this column won't be too shocked by the definitely ominous factors.

Our government is aware of the danger, as are the responsible heads of our armed forces. They know the long and bitter and bloody battles which face us before the Japanese bow in defeat, as they must in the end.

But a spirit of complacency seems to permeate the attitude of the av-

Raids On Kiska Continue; Six Raids In Solomons; Jap Subs Bombed

Washington, June 28.—(AP)—American bombers, blasting Kiska in seven raids, started large fires in the Japanese camp area and damaged anti-aircraft emplacements at that Aleutian island enemy outpost, the navy reported today.

The attacks by heavy and medium bombers, escorted by swift-flying fighters, came in a battering series on Saturday and brought to 16 the number of times Kiska had been struck in three days.

The navy also reported six South Pacific aerial attacks, with damage to Japanese bases at Kahili, Rakaka Bay, Munda, Vila and Balalaie in the Solomon Islands. Communique number 425.

South Pacific: "All dates are east longitude." On June 27th: (A) During the early morning heavy bombers (Consolidated B-24) heavily bombed Kahili, Rakaka Bay, Munda, Vila and Balalaie. PB4Y bombers carried out attacks against Balalaie island. Shortland area. Results of these attacks were unobserved.

(B) Prior to dawn navy Avenger (Grumman TBF) torpedo bombers bombed Rakaka Bay, Santa Isabel Island.

(C) During the morning, navy Dauntless (Douglas SBD) dive bombers and Avenger torpedo bombers attacked Munda, New Georgia. Hits were scored on the area and Revettment area.

(D) At about the same time navy Dauntless bombers and Avenger torpedo bombers attacked Vila, Kolombangara island. Hits were scored on the runway and in the

MANY MINERS ARE STILL OUT

Today's Operations Better But Far Below Normal

Pittsburgh, June 28.—(AP)—Scattered gains in the number of men working in the coal fields were shown today in early reports which indicated the movement to restore full shifts in the partially-operating fields might be a slow process.

In Ohio, United Mine Workers leaders reported all except 2,350 of 13,000 miners back in the pits with the expectation all would be back tomorrow. Only 3,200 worked in Ohio last week-end.

On Sunday many union meetings were held in the Appalachian field at which scores of locals voted to go back to work and scattered reports from the Pennsylvania soft coal field gave an increase in the number of men working but the captive steel mills still see shorthanded.

The United States Steel Corporation reported operations "better" at its mines but none of the four Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation mines worked. A J. and L. spokesman said pickets prevented workers from entering one mine.

General Giraud To Visit Washington

Washington, June 28.—(AP)—General Henri Giraud plans to come to Washington on an official visit, in response to a formal invitation from President Roosevelt.

The White House said in a statement today that the President, through Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower at Allied headquarters in Algiers, sent the invitation May 27. It suggested that Giraud visit the United States as soon as the burden of his heavy responsibilities made it possible for him to leave North Africa temporarily.

The general accepted next day, through Eisenhower, saying "for the kind invitation of the American government, you have my deepest thanks."

ASK INCREASE IN BENEFITS

Bigger Allotments for Service Men Dependents Sought

Washington, June 28.—(AP)—The armed forces recommended to Congress today a minimum increase of 10 percent in the dependency allowances to children of military personnel in the lower ranks, along with broadening of the whole allowance system.

The effect of the proposed increases, incorporated in a bill introduced by Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) of the Senate Military Committee, would be to boost the allowance for a wife with one child from the present $62 a month to $68. Each additional child would receive $11 instead of $10.

A wife with no children would continue to receive $50, of which the government contributes $28 and the enlisted man $22. The government meets the entire cost of allowances for children.

Chairman Johnson (D-Colo.) of a military sub-committee said a joint committee representing the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard recommended that a new classification be set up for dependents which would boost their allowances from the present level of $25 a month to $50.

On recommendation of the joint committee, the Reynolds bill also incorporated a provision permitting the upper three grades of army sergeants and those in similar ranks in other services to elect to take on the dependency obligation instead of receiving $37.50 a month for quarters, as now.

The measure also would relieve men inducted in the armed forces from making the first payment toward the dependency allowance, which would be made by the government at a total cost estimated at $104,000,000 yearly.

The proposed increases would boost government dependency outlays a total of $393,000,000 yearly, Johnson said.

Submission of the armed services' recommendations came when the committee called Brig. Gen. M. G. Jones of the War Department for testimony on a proposal by Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) to boost the government's contribution toward dependency allowances a blanket 15 percent.

At the same time Chairman Johnson made public a War Department report urging the committee to delay action on the measure until it could present an analysis of the need for increases.

In this report, Secretary Stimson said the War Department "is satisfied that facts of common knowledge with respect to present day living costs indicate that there is justification for giving favorable consideration to some increases for certain categories of dependents."

Tobacco Crop Looks Better Than 1942

The growing tobacco crop in Pitt county at this time appears to have many broken stands, with about 10 percent of the plants of the common variety and the balance ranging from good to fairly good, was the opinion expressed today by several tobaccoists who rode over the territory inspecting the crop yesterday.

All in all, the crop appears to be much better than last year and the plants showing better growth.

Scattered reports of unusually early curings have come in but curing of the leaf will not get under way to any extent until about two weeks from now, tobaccoists said.

Approves Nomination

Washington, June 28.—(AP)—The Senate Judiciary committee approved today President Roosevelt's nomination of James B. McNally to be United States Attorney for the southern district of New York, succeeding Mathias F. Correa, resigned. McNally's name now goes to the Senate floor for consideration.

Jones Says End Of Year Will Bring Plenty For All

Washington, June 28.—(AP)—America's $700,000,000 rubber industry by the end of this year will be capable of meeting all essential civilian as well as military requirements, Commerce Secretary Jones said today.

Manufacturing capacity of the 40 plants throughout the country by December will be in excess of 800,000 tons a year "which is more than we have ever used and sufficient for our essential purposes," Jones declared in an address prepared for a "made in America rubber" luncheon at Houston, Tex. U. S. Bombers Blast Japanese In Burma

New Delhi, June 28.—(AP)—Medium bombers of the Tenth United States Air Force ranged over central Burma yesterday pounding at Japanese-controlled rail centers and industrial plants, a U. S. communique announced today. All aircraft returned safely.

At the same time IAF fighters carried out offensive patrols and RAF bombers struck at Japanese troop quarters on Akyab island off western Burma.

Crews of the B-25 bombers which carried out the American operations said that hits were scored on switchbacks at the Sedaw railway station east of Mandalay, and that many fires were started by bombs at the cotton mills of Myingyan.

Italians Warned To Be Prepared For Invasion

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS Bern, June 28.—(AP)—The Italian press, apparently certain that the increased tempo of Allied raids on Sicilian, Sardinian and Italian invasion is imminent, stepping up its attempts to steel the civilian population for the blow.

Taking a sternly realistic slant, editors warned over the week-end that every Italian would be expected to play a part in defense of the homeland, and one paper asserted that cities would be turned into "fortresses" which would be defended street by street.

"The soldiers will have knives and the people guns and knives," declared this article. "Everyone will fight—the rich and the poor, the

Naples And Other Points Blasted During Week-end; Italian Fleet Reported To Have Left Its Base; Nazis Preparing For Expected Attack In Balkans

By GEORGE TUCKER Cairo, June 28.—(AP)—U. S. Ninth Air Force Liberators shattered Axis hangars, pitted runways and started fires at two airbases near Athens yesterday in a powerful followup to the Thursday raid at Salonika which opened the trans-Mediterranean aerial offensive against German and Italian holdings in the Balkans, it was announced today.

High explosives were loosed effectively at the air fields of both Elefsis, west of Athens, and Hassani, a short distance southeast of the capital, and Allied leaflets were showered over the entire area.

Despite brave efforts by defense forces to break up the raids, the four-engine bombers executed their missions and returned without a loss.

"At both targets our aircraft were attacked by large formations of enemy fighters and fighter-bombers, the latter making unsuccessful attempts at air combat," said the Ninth Air Force communique. "Seven enemy aircraft were destroyed, with eight others listed as probably destroyed."

(The dock area, industrial plants of Naples were bombed Saturday night by RAF Wellingtons which were guided to the city by the red glow of neighboring Vesuvius, it was announced at Allied headquarters in North Africa. Incendiaries and blockbusters were scattered upon the west Italy port in a concentrated 15-minute attack.

The Italian high command, which announced Sunday that some damage had been caused at Naples by Allied air raiders, reported in a Rome broadcast communique that the Sicilian towns of Gerbini and Reggio Calabria and other Italian mainland localities across Messina Strait were attacked yesterday.

Reach Compromise On Funds For FSA

Washington, June 28.—(AP)—Differences between the Senate and House over the $75,000,000 farm bill were whittled down today to soil conservation payments and crop insurance when conferees reached a compromise on the Farm Security Administration program.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.) said the Senate conferees agreed to accept House limitations of $20,000,000 on administrative funds for the FSA's rural rehabilitation loan program and $60,000,000 in borrowing authority for the making of new rehabilitation loans.

No fight was made over House language transferring authority over FSA's program to the War Food Administration, Senator Russell declared, because FSA "now operates" under Chester Davis' organization.

It also reported new concentrations of invasion barges along the North African coast and said that British transports were pouring war material into North Africa from Gibraltar.

Many of the papers took pains to spike rumors published abroad that Premier Mussolini had relinquished part of his power to Carlo Scorza, secretary of the Fascist party.

Miss Jane Elizabeth Smith of Greenville, N. C., and Lt. Otis Leon Yeargan of Durham and Ft. Eustis, Va., were married in a double ring ceremony Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, June 26th at the Eighth St. Christian Church.

Rev. H. G. Haney, pastor of the church officiating.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Ray Tyson aunt of the bride rendered a program of nuptial music including "To a Wild Rose" and "Schubert's Serenade," "Venetian Love Song" and "Romance." Miss Louise Kilgo sang, "Because" and "All For You." The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. William Hugh Smith. Her wedding gown was of white chantilly lace and marquisette, designed with long flowing lines. The basque of her gown, was of lace styled with sweet heart neckline and long pointed sleeves. The skirt of marquisette extended into a long circular train. Her veil of bridal illusion edged with chantilly lace and attached to a Mary Stuart hat was worn long and extended the length of the train. She carried a showered bouquet of brides roses.

Miss Burnie Smith, maid of honor and Mrs. Lovit Hines, Jr., of Kinston, matron of honor, both sisters of the bride, wore blue green marquisette dresses, with flowing skirts, with matching picture hats of horse hair braid and carried arm bouquets of pink briarcliff roses. Mrs. William E. Crute, Jr., sister of the bride and Miss Hazel Faulkner of Kinston were bridesmaids and wore dresses identical to those of the maid and matron of honor. They also carried arm bouquets of pink briarcliff roses.

Mr. Frank Bennett of Durham attended the bridegroom as best man, and ushers were Robert Lee and James Thomas Smith, brothers of the bride. Lovit Hines, Jr., of Kinston and Henry V. Yeargan, Jr., of Durham brother of the groom, were groomsmen.

Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride wore a powder blue suit with accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Yeargan, mother of the groom, wore a print dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride received her education in the Greenville city schools and East Carolina Teachers College.

Lt. Yeargan, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. U. Yeargan, Sr., of Durham, attended Durham high school and Kennedy's Business School. He is stationed at Fort Eustis, Va.

After a wedding trip to unannounced points, Lt. and Mrs. Yeargan will be at home in Williamsburg, Va.

Mrs. Yeargan chose for traveling a navy and white ensemble with white accessories and a corsage taken from her bridal bouquet.

Out of town guests were: Mrs. Henry U. Yeargan, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Henry U. Yeargan, Jr., Miss Hilda Yeargan and Mr. Frank Bennett of Durham, Mrs. W. M. House of Richmond, Va., Mrs. Albert E. Clarke and son David Simms of Richmond, Va., Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crute, Sr., of Wilson and Mrs. Prudie Hartsell of Kinston.

On Thursday morning Mrs. Bob Moffett entertained at a Coca-Cola hour, complimenting Miss Smith. With the Coca-Colas were served delicious sandwiches, cheese biscuits and other dainty accompaniments. The honoree was presented gifts of crystal from the hostess and Mrs. Hill Horne.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis G. Cooper entertained at an informal cake cutting at their home on Evans street Friday evening honoring Miss Jane Smith and Lt. Leon Yeargan and their bridal party and out of town guests.

The home was beautifully decorated with gladiolas and roses. Punch was served from a beautifully appointed table in the reception hall by Miss Mary Ann Townsend and Mrs. P. T. Anthony, Jr., after which the guests were ushered into the dining room, which was aglow with candlelight. The table was lovely with an embroidered Madeira cloth using the wedding cake as its center piece, with lighted tapers, banked with carnations and ferns at either end. Bridal ices and cake were served by Misses Mary Cooper, Nancy Moyer and Betty Tyson.

On Saturday at one o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Lovit Hines, Jr. entertained at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Hines parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith, honoring Miss Jane Smith and Lt. Leon Yeargan and their bridal party and out of town guests. The home was lovely with spring flowers and lighted candles.

Birth Announcement.
Corp. and Mrs. Vernon Hardee of Greenville announce the birth of a daughter, Letitia Lee, on Tuesday, June 22, 1943.

Mrs. Hardee was the former Miss Irene Dickinson of Greenville.

Christian Science Service.
"Christian Science" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, June 27.

The golden text was from Isaiah 60:1. "Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in me. And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. If ye love me, keep my commandments. And I will pray the Father that he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever." (John 14: 1, 13, 15, 16.)

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus demonstrated Christ; he proved that Christ is the divine idea of God—the Holy Ghost, or Comforter, revealing the divine Principle, Love, and leading into all truth. In the words of St. John: 'He shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you forever.' This Comforter I understand to be Divine Science."

Pressure Cooker In Demand

With increased quantities of vegetables becoming available which require the pressure canner method many calls are coming into the office for the canner. It is very important that vegetables be engaged ahead of time and that the home agent's office be called well in advance in order to be sure of getting the canner when needed.

Library News

Some More Gifts

Two weeks ago the End of the Century Book Club gave its club books of the year and a new book to Sheppard Memorial Library. The new one, "Art and Freedom" by Horace M. Kallen, is a two volume study, sweeping and detailed, of the interrelations between philosophy and the arts, in which the discussion ranges from the Greeks to the latest saving bond.

It is a classic book, altogether excellent, being brilliantly conceived and beautifully written. It is a learned book, but the author wears his learning lightly even though he is a professor of philosophy. It is a book to read, to enjoy and to study. Nowhere can a better history of the ideas of beauty, use and freedom be found, for it is a veritable harvest of wisdom wherein the teaching that beauty is a relation whose consequence is use and whose consummation is freedom. It is the conviction of the author that the true nature of beauty must be found in the category of relations and not in the category of things. Whatever powers there will be that liberate the human spirit, whether they be powers of patterns and order or of disorder and confusion, beauty is the relationship between those powers and ourselves.

The author believes that the artist has a role to play in the enterprise of freedom, for the artist who is true to his being must of necessity be free. The book is thus a defense of the freedom of art, and of the personal use of art. The author also firmly believes and amply demonstrates that of all human enterprises art can most effectively challenge totalitarian authority and uphold humanitarian values, whether they be political or ecclesiastical.

But more than this, the book in its entirety is a defense of the fundamental and inalienable right of men to be different from one another while living with one another.

The other books which the End of the Century Club gave to the library were:

Marsman—I Escaped from Hong Kong

MacInnes—Assignment in Brittany

Walley—Pink Camellia

Rawlings—Cross Creek

White—One's Man's Meat

Algeria—Broad and Alien is the World

Hicks—Only One Storm

Wesley—Song of Bernadette

LeFarge—The Copper Pot

Young—A Man About the House

Nathan—Seagull Cry

Weaver—Wind Before Rain

Chevalier—Drivin' Woman

Crumbull—The Raft

Roberts—One Small Candle

Wilkins—Seven Tempest

Huss—The Fox We Face

Aldridge—Signed with Their Honor

Wright—Islandia

Medorova—The Children

Another book club, the Round Table, has also presented its books to the library recently. A list of them follows:

MacInnes—Assignment in Brittany

Fletcher—Men of Albemarle

Runbeck—Our Miss Boo

Goudge—Castle on the Hill

McCann—Cheerful Cherub

Agar—A Time for Greatness

Grabb—Dinner at Belmont

A Close Brush With a Jap Cruiser

Chapter 25

THE Princess headed straight out into the China Sea for about ten miles and then turned south along the coast of Luzon. The last we saw of Corregidor was its giant searchlights illuminating the waters north of us and shining on the jungle-covered south shore of Bataan.

The most ticklish part of the trip that first night on the voyage to Cebu was passing through the Verde Island passage between Luzon and the Island of Mindoro, which lay to the south. The straits were only eight miles wide, with an island in the middle. We knew that the Japs had stationed garrisons on both the Mindoro and Luzon shores of the straits and probably on the island. For all we knew there were torpedo boats or destroyers on the straits. Even an armed launch would have meant curtains for us. Our hull was so thin that a stream of .50-caliber bullets would have sunk the ship.

We landed next day at the port of Looc on the island of Tablas and the following day at Estancia on the northeastern tip of Panay.

NEXT morning we anchored off Barilli, on the west coast of Cebu. Husky young Filipinos from the crew of the Princess carried us the last few feet to shore on their shoulders. We thanked the Princess's portly captain and the other officers and said good-by. The mayor of Barilli met us in the palm-lined, paved streets of the town. He began an enthusiastic speech of welcome to the "reinforcements" for Bataan. One of the Englishmen interrupted him: "I say! We're not reinforcements. We've escaped from Bataan." The mayor's face dropped a foot.

On smooth-paved roads we drove forty miles across the island to the city of Cebu, on the east shore. We found Major Bird of the Quartermaster Corps in an air-conditioned office down by the waterfront. He was young, handsome, and efficient. He looked at the credentials MacArthur had given us and said: "There should be a ship along sooner or later. I'll keep an eye out for you. If it doesn't show up, we'll try to get you to Mindanao and maybe you can catch a plane from Del Monte to Australia."

Several days later, at four o'clock in the morning, a car pulled up in front of the Liloan Beach Club where we were staying. It was Lieutenant Colonel Edmunds and his aide.

"Pack up your things and get going," Edmunds said. "Bird sent me out here to tell you to come on into Cebu as fast as you can."

We were on our way in fifteen minutes. We went up to Bird's apartment and he gave us some breakfast. "I thought it best to get you down here," he said. "The Dona Nati is pulling out this morning."

He looked grim. "Here's the score," he said. "A Jap cruiser is coming up the coast, heading for Cebu. It is due here at noon at the speed it is making. If you want to go on the Dona Nati you run. I'm going down to the dock."

At the dock we held a last minute consultation. Mel, Annalee, and I couldn't make up our minds. It seemed highly likely that the cruiser would catch the Dona Nati a few miles out of Cebu and our voyage would end abruptly. But while we were talking we walked up the gangplank.

A naval officer, a friend from Corregidor, shouted at us from the dock. "Don't be damn fools," he said. "Come down off of there. The Bird's shouting. This may be your last chance."

Even then we considered going ashore, but it was too late. The gangplank had already been pulled up.

WE steamed out through the north channel from Cebu, passing two smaller and slower inter-island ships. Both of them were sunk by the Jap cruiser that afternoon. We hardly dared look to the south across the calm blue waters. The ship's crew went about their jobs as if nothing was up. At noon they announced lunch and we went down to the comfortable dining salon. There was a large table in the center with eight places where the American fighting gimmers sat, and two smaller tables at each side. The Englishmen who had come out of Corregidor with us were already eating.

We turned east after leaving the harbor and within a couple of hours the northwestern corner of Bohol was between us and Cebu. There was no sign of the cruiser. We listened to the Cebu radio station. At two fifteen it went off the air and a half hour later it came back on.

"News flash!" said the announcer. "A Japanese cruiser shelled the docks and water front of Cebu from 2:25 P.M. until two-forty this afternoon. It has just left the harbor and is speeding away to the southeast." The cruiser wasn't following us.

The days that followed were not eventful, but they were not monotonous. Captain Pons wouldn't tell us exactly where we were going, but we knew it was Brisbane and we knew that we would have to run east between Japan's Caroline and Marshall Islands and the points in New Guinea and New Britain where the Japs had landed. Van Landingham had a compass, and Jacoby had a map, and we were able to work out our course and daily position pretty well.

THAT first night out, Captain Pons told me. "The eighteenth will be the most dangerous day. If we can get past that and the next two days, we should be fairly safe." We had left Cebu on March 8. Studying our map, we figured that on the 18th we would pass the converging point for all the Japanese shipping lanes from Truk and the other Mandated Island bases to the Dutch East Indies and to New Guinea. On the 20th we would pass within sixty miles of the furthest south of the Mandated Islands, and just west of it and Rabaul, where the Japs had set up headquarters on New Britain.

Hearing the captain talk about trouble on the 18th, we all began to expect it. When the 18th finally came we stayed on deck all day, watching the sea and sky. The unbroken circle of sea around us had come to be all important. As long as nothing appeared we were reasonably certain to stay alive. Toward afternoon we began to encounter scattered rain squalls. There was a neat sign posted in the dining room informing us that one alarm meant torpedoes, two, airplanes, and three, "surface raiders." At four o'clock the key-alarms sounded three times. I grabbed my life jacket and ran up to the bridge. The ship was already swinging northward from our course, running for a near-by rain squall.

"There are eight ships over there," Captain Pons said with an air of finality. "One seems to be an aircraft carrier, and the others smaller warships." Within two or three minutes after we sighted them a black squall hid the ships from us and we ducked into another squall, hiding until dark and then going back on the course again.

For four months I congratulated myself that we had given a Jap task force the slip that day. In July when I was traveling on an American aircraft carrier to the Solomon Islands attack, I told Admiral Frank Jack Fletcher the story. "I know all about it," he grinned. "That was my ship the Lexington. We had been in to attack Rabaul. We knew you were there all the time."

OVER the radio we also heard the startling news that General MacArthur had reached Australia. We were stunned and delighted. Captain Pons put it into words for us. "That's the best possible news for my country. If anybody can save the Philippines, MacArthur can and will. These American soldiers on board tell us there are many planes and men in Australia. MacArthur will lead them back to the Philippines."

By going off course we had lost so much time that two days later we had to pass between Rabaul and the Jap Mandated Island in daytime, instead of at night as Pons had originally planned. We watched intently all day without sighting anything. From then on we began to relax. After the 20th it was smooth sailing. We steamed east almost to Fiji, turned south around New Caledonia, and then west through the Coral Sea to Brisbane. We arrived there on March 30 after a trip of twenty-two days from Cebu. As we sailed up the narrow river to the port we passed many American ships and saw American jeeps and trucks on the shore. We shook hands with each other and exulted. "By God! The United States is moving. Now to get started back to the Philippines."

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS
ONE BOY'S EXAMPLE

I should like to pass on to my readers a brief paragraph taken from a letter which I received recently from a soldier.

He writes: "The second night I was in camp, the boy who sleeps next to me got down on his knees to pray. He was a Catholic, and what he did encouraged me to do likewise. I noticed the next night that three or four more were doing the same thing. This soldier made me realize more fully the value of Christian example."

There were probably a dozen or a score of boys in the barracks that night who, as they undressed, were turning over in their minds the question as to whether or not they would get down on their knees as they had been accustomed to do through the years and pray in that somewhat public place. The boy who did pray set a fine example to all the rest and demonstrated the fidelity with which he responded to his training. Most of the rest of them probably tumbled into bed, half-ashamed of themselves that they had not done what the one boy had done so boldly. But his example was bound to count not only in the establishing of a custom for many men in the barracks, but we can imagine also that when the beat of battle is on, the good example of this one soldier will be felt by others who, in the tragic hour, will ask God's help with fervor and intensity.

Did you ever stop to consider how much better it is to look ahead and prepare than to look back and regret?

COSTLY RIDDANCE
Advocates of government deficits without limit should now take a good look at their theories in action. The only limit on deficits is the speed with which borrowed money can be spent.

There is no use kidding ourselves. The country has been rocked back, back on its heels, and it cannot all be blamed on the fact that most of the productive effort is being shot away in the war. Skyrocketing public debt has wrecked normal laws of supply and demand and savings. The prospect of state socialism has been immeasurably increased as a result of the debt. Wasteful spenders have had their day.

And the people themselves are largely to blame—their hands were out for money taxed from the "other fellow."

Taxation must be as balanced as crop rotation is to soil fertility, if savings and wealth are preserved for a continuous tax crop. Winning the war and the peace depends on both. Fumbling either agriculture or taxation means hunger and suffering, or worse.

Railroad passenger traffic last year exceeded the total for 1922, 1923 and 1924 combined.

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT
Columbus, O. — Notes on one Thomas E. Dewey from the biggest Conference of Governors in all the 35 years these pow-wows of the state exact have been held.

This is the first time since he has become Governor of New York that Dewey has made a public appearance outside of his state. To those of us who knew him in his racket-busting days as district attorney, and later during his ill-fated drive for the Republican nomination at the Philadelphia convention two years ago, here was a different Dewey.

Articles emphasized that Mussolini had personally appeared Friday at a meeting of the Fascist Directorate to give his approval to Stizza's program. Italian papers did not publish his speech lest it reveal military secrets, but asserted the Duce would lead an "inspired" nation in its resistance against invaders.

Italy was warned by the press that an Allied landing in Italy might be successfully carried out, but declared that a bridgehead on the Italian mainland, if won, would be of little value. "Nothing would be won thereby," Il Popolo Di Roma said, "since the Allies would be unable to hold it any length of time."

ment in the military situation in French Africa, or that French political controversies will be dealt with on a strictly military basis and regardless of the effect on the status or ambitions of De Gaulle or any other individual.

Elaborating on the existing situation in North Africa, this government views it, the informant added: "This controversy developed in an effort to obtain complete control of French military forces and to a persistent effort on the part of General De Gaulle to replace with his own adherents officers of the (French) army, navy and air forces who were previously associated with the government of unoccupied France in Vichy."

Ann sitting beside Jerry on the way back to Terrence House said frigidly, "You can find a will only once." "You were in Mr. Baxton's office too that night, I should have known by the remark you made about other people pilfering rooms. I suppose I disturbed your own search when I had the bad luck to choose the same time."

her visitor, the more her confusion grew and the more eager she became to know the name of the person who asked the builders to make remodeling plans. "There's one way to find out," she said to herself, "I can ask them."

"The lawyer? That would be Mr. Baxton. Then who was the lady?" She had a few of the pieces but nothing fitted together. "Did the lawyer say anything about when you were to begin?" "He said we ought to be able to start by next week. As soon as he gets a contract of sale, I understand you're in a hurry."

Free Showing Nazi War Film Falkland

The public will have a chance to see some German army motion pictures at the Falkland school Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. These movies were taken by the Germans during their conquest of some European countries. Allied troops captured the films from the Nazis. They will be shown at Falkland Wednesday and at Grimesland on Thursday. Officers from the U.S. Army filter center at Norfolk will accompany the films. All civilian airplane observers and others are invited. Admission is free.

Perry Preaches On Unselfish Service

By WYATT BROWN
Those inspired by God or love of country never ask what they are to get out of it or whether they have done their share. Reverend George W. Perry said yesterday morning at a special service for the dedication of a service flag for the people of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church.

"I do not believe in war. I wish men would adhere to the teachings of Christ. We will never have peace until men all over the world accept Him. But I am not the sort of pacifist to sit still and let someone run over my home. I am ready and you are ready to lay down our lives to protect the principles that make life worth living," declared Mr. Perry.

Gordon's Two-Run Homer Features Opening Game

By SID FEDER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Don't look now, folks, but the latest hospital reports indicate Joe Gordon's long-ailing bat may be about to sit up and take a little nourishment again.

The patient is still pretty weak, and you, with a hitting "temperature" of only 238 at the moment, which means no visitors and plenty of sunshine still to come. But in the last few days it's been showing that there are still signs of life.

Topping off the "recovery" with four hits in the win over the Yankees cut up with the Red Sox yesterday—including a two-run homer that won the opener for the bombers—the flash has chipped in with eight safe wallops in four games and pulled his average up 45 points.

Now, this may not mean that the slump which has been taking all the shine off Joe since early last September has finally responded to medical treatment. But the fact that he shows he still knows a bat may be used for something besides stirring up bathtub gin is heartening, at least.

It's been one of the worst slumps in modern times, largely because there didn't seem to be any reason for it. In the World Series last fall, he wasn't only the got—he was the whole sheep ranch.

But now he's on the way again and yesterday, with a single, two doubles, a homer and three runs batted in, he was the head man of a big league party that popped up with some of the fanciest parlor tricks of the year.

There were such things, for instance, as hurler Howie Krieger winning both ends of a doubleheader for the St. Louis Cardinals; Cleveland's Cris Hockett, who once wanted to quit baseball, climbing to the top of the American League batting pile, and the Cincinnati Reds taking both ends of a double bill for the first time since last September.

As for the pennant chasers, both leagues might just as well have stood in bed, because the Yankees held onto their two-game bulge in the American League and the Cards played half a game in front in the National.

Gordon's homer gave the Yanks a 3-2 opener win over the Red Sox, but in the afterpiece, Bobby Doerr belted a four-bagger to tie the score and then knocked in the deciding run with a hit in the 12th for a 4-3 decision. Meantime, Washington's second-place Senators, after taking the first game from the Athletics 3-0, blew the nightcap 5-4 when the A's showed three runs across in the ninth inning, two of them on Jojo White's single.

The Cards clouted the Chicago Cubs 3-2, on Danny Litwiler's two homers, and 4-3 on a two-run rally in the eighth, with Krist taking both verdicts in relief roles. They had to do it to stay in the driver's seat, because the cooler-off Brooklyn Dodgers got hot and flailed the Phillies 6-3 and 5-1 to move into the National League's first division. The Boston Braves bombed the New York Giants 10-1 with a seven-run six inning spree in the opener. Then Mel Ott's Otters came back 6-0 in the second act behind Johnny Witt's five hit elbowing.

The Cleveland Indians, whipped the Chicago White Sox 2-1 in their opener, but Edgar Smith tossed a four-hitter to give the Sox a 2-0 edge in the five inning afterpiece. The St. Louis Browns knocked over the Detroit Tigers 6-3, and the Toppers came back 9-5 in the nightcap, with Rudy York rifting two homers and Dick Wakefield walloping one.

Montecristi, "hat capital" of Ecuador, has been a hat-making center for 300 years.

Stars At Box And On Mound

Milo Candini, Washington Senators' ace right hander, crosses the plate on an inside-the-park home run soaked against the New York Yankees Wednesday as he huns up his seventh straight victory without a loss. He blanked the Yanks, 8-0, allowing but six hits. Ken Sears, Yank catcher, ex-teammate of Candini, watches. Candini has complained of a sore arm all season, but it isn't reflected in his record. He also hit a double in defeating the Yanks in New York.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, June 28—(AP)—End of the great experiment: Al Lang, the voice of St. Pete, is touring the major league cities dropping hints that Florida would be glad to have the baseball clubs train there again next spring — especially since the Army is giving up its leases on a lot of hotels. Bob Foote of the Pasadena, Calif., Star-News adds that the White Sox already are pledged to drill in Pasadena next spring, if possible, and suggests that the Dodgers might join them.

There's a good field right next door to California Tech, says Bob, and such close association of the erudite and the screwy might do both some good. Evelyn Chandler, the ice skater who is summering in Colorado Springs, might be interested to know that her two sons, Bruce Maples, Jr., and Jerry Maples are performing in the New Stars on ice show.

No Less There
Laurie Apitz, University of Louisville athletic director, reports that out of 25 men who made up his 1928 football squad, 20 are army and navy officers, one is a preacher, one a private, one a sergeant and two are chemists in a war plant. The varsity backfield, if reassembled, would consist of one chemist, two air forces captains and one air forces major. This, says Apitz, justifies football in every school in the land as far as he is concerned.

Military Courtesy
Ever hear about the soldier who reported to a new C. O. failed to salute or say "sir" and was ever reprimanded. Well, back in 1929 Ray Navin played right end for the University of Detroit and Art Anderson was right tackle, and they did a good job of teaming up on opposing linemen. Recently Pvt. Ray Navin was transferred from Port Custer, Mich., to Indiantown Gap, Pa. And that's where it happened. The new commanding officer was, of course, Lieut. Art Anderson.

Monday Matinee
Joe Engel, president of the Chattanooga baseball club, has wired Angelo Pucci, manager of Tippy Larkin, asking for fistic talent for some fights he plans to promote. If Joe lives up to his baseball reputation, something new soon will be added to the boxing business. After 16 years as a hockey player and manager, Larry Aurie has decided to give up the game to become a field investigator for the juvenile probation division of the Detroit probate court. Lieut. Ted Lyons of the marines has a watch that plays tunes to wake him at 5:30 a. m. No doubt the tune is "Oh how I hate to get up in the morning."

West Greenville Takes Two In Row

In a free scoring game in which the outcome was in doubt until the last man was out, W. Greenville won over Third Street by the score of 13 to 12. The game started like it would be a tight one, but in the sixth with the score at 7 to 5 in favor of the Westsiders, Third Street put on a rally that scored five tallies to go ahead 10 to 5. This lead was short lived for in their half of the inning W. Greenville went back in the lead again by scoring five markers for themselves. In their last time at bat Third Street made a valiant effort to tie the count but could not quite make the grade.

Lewis Clark, Carawan and Howard Williams led the winners at bat with three hits apiece. Mitchell White, Stump Garrett and Gurganus were the big noise for the losers. White hit two doubles and a triple while Garrett pounded out two doubles and a single.

Pirate Ace Wins Ninth Game

Truett Banks (Rip) Sewell, (above), native of Decatur, Ala., and ace of the Pittsburgh pitching staff, is off to a fine start this year with nine games in the win column—five of them at the expense of the Chicago Cubs. In 1941, Sewell led the league—in games lost with 17, but last season reversed his form and won 17, finishing in sixth place. However, he lost 15 games in 1942, being seventh on the list among National league hurlers.

Chicago, June 28—(AP)—Rye surged upward to new seasonal peaks today, gaining more than a cent at times. Oats were strong but wheat weakened as buying demand slackened.

Expectations of heavy feeding demand, emphasized by the government's forecast of a pig crop this year of 127,000,000 head, was the main factor supporting both oats and rye.

Rye closed 1 1/2-1 3/4 higher, July $1.00, wheat unchanged to 1/4 up, July $1.44 1/2-$1.45, and oats were 1/4-1/2 higher, July 68 1/4-69.

New York, June 28—(AP)—Stocks generally kept trend signs pointed upward in today's market although recovery marksmanship wavered a bit here and there as the proceedings drew to a close.

Steels, aluminum, rails, motors and utilities were among the day's favorites, with scattered issues touching new 3-year tops.

Stocks touching peaks for 1943 or longer included Chrysler, Willys-Overland, Standard Oil (N.J.), Texas Company, U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, American Can and General Electric in front were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Santa Fe, Boeing, United Aircraft and Glenn Martin.

Bonds were mostly higher.

Mrs. Arthur P. Wilson of Kinston was reelected president of the North Carolina Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at the twenty-fourth annual convention in session on the campus of Woman's College of the University of North Carolina last week-end.

Mrs. Hazel W. Jordan of Greenville was installed as director of the Sixth District, having been elected to that office at a district meeting held here at the Proctor Hotel in March.

Mrs. Chester Walsh, also of this city, was appointed publicity chairman at a meeting of the executive board after adjournment.

Delegates from Greenville in attendance included Mesdames Jordan and Walsh, Mrs. Lela Belle Hoell, Mrs. R. T. Burnette, and Mrs. J. O. Morton.

Mrs. Marion H. Britt of Washington, D. C., who is Washington representative of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club and its delegate on the Women's Joint Congressional Committee, headed the imposing group of guest speakers.

The 1944 convention will convene in Asheville.

RECREATION NEWS

Tournament play began today at the various playgrounds and a large number have already signed to take part in the contests. At the present time Madaminton, Ping-Pong, and Horseshoes are the activities being run off and next Monday will be the final day for the first bracket to close. Each bracket will run for one week, the semi-finals and finals to be played about the 1st week in July. Winners of these tournaments will compete with winners from each playground and a final victory in each sport will bring an award to the champion.

Much enthusiasm was displayed last week in the contests and games held during opening week as victory was sought among the contestants. At the Cotanche Street Playground prizes were awarded to the following winners: Johnnie Aman, Winner of the Horseshoe Games with Franklin Brown running a close second; Elizabeth Sugg, winner of the Ping-Pong Match with Francis Skimon coming close in second place; Chicko Burton won over Elizabeth Sugg in the Basketball Throw; and Elizabeth Sugg winner of the Hopping Relay.

Don't forget the Softball game tomorrow girls, starting time is seven o'clock and the place Cotanche Playground. We are still anxious to have an even larger number come out and sign up with the league so if you haven't yet been to play, be sure to come Tuesday night, June 29th.

Announce Arrest Of German Agent

Washington, June 28—(AP)—The Justice Department announced today the arrest of Ernest Frederick Lehmitz in New York City on charges of gathering espionage information for Germany.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said Lehmitz had written letters to the German intelligence in Europe containing information on shipping conditions in New York harbor and describing troop and convoy movements.

The arrest was made by FBI agents on a warrant issued by the United States commissioner in Brooklyn.

If convicted, Lehmitz would be subject to the death penalty or 30 years in prison.

Hoover said the man a United States citizen, was born in 1886 at Hamburg, Germany.

Big Tomato Crop.
Raleigh, June 28—(AP)—The State Agriculture Department said today that 180,000 bushels of tomatoes would be harvested in North Carolina in the next two months, compared with a yield of 120,000 bushels last season.

Restrictions In Detroit Removed

Detroit, June 28—(AP)—All emergency restrictions in effect in Detroit since the race rioting of a week ago were lifted today by Governor Harry F. Kelly and military authorities. The United States army troops that have been on riot duty, however, will remain in the city as a precautionary measure.

Amusement places and saloons are permitted to resume normal hours and bottled liquor again may be sold.

The only restrictions left on civilians, under the order, are that they shall not bear arms of any sort and shall not gather in public assemblies of a type which would "aggravate or incite" the situation.

There has been no report of violence since the appearance of troops last Monday night.

Firms Indicted For Conspiracy

Washington, June 28—(AP)—The Department of Justice announced today that three American chemical companies had been charged in a federal grand jury indictment with creation of a worldwide cartel in conspiracy with German, British, Italian, Japanese and other foreign interests.

It was charged that the cartel had been in operation since July 30, 1920.

Tom Clark, assistant attorney general in charge of the anti-trust division of the Justice Department, said the cartel was in titanium compounds used in the production of strategic war materials.

Clark, saying the companies and four of their officers were charged specifically with violating of the anti-trust act, disclosed that the indictments were returned by a federal grand jury in New York city today.

Named as defendants were the National Lead Company and Fletcher W. Rockwell, its president, and Claude F. Garsche, general manager of the firm. E. I. Dupont De Nemours and Company and Carl H. Rupprecht, general manager of the Krebs pigment division; Titan Company, Inc., subsidiary of National Lead Company, and Gustav Jenson, vice president of Titan Company, Inc.

A Justice Department statement said substantially all the important foreign chemical companies of the world were named as co-conspirators.

Strike At Chrysler Plant Begun Today

Detroit, June 28—(AP)—Approximately 2,200 workers in the Highland Park plant of Chrysler Corporation quit work shortly after the shift reported for duty this morning, a company spokesman announced.

The men comprised the entire working force of the first shift and were engaged on war work output.

The spokesman said the company had no knowledge of any grievance. Representatives of local 490, United Automobile Workers, CIO, said the work stoppage was spontaneous and attributed it to the penalizing of a steward in the plant. The steward, union officials said, had been laid off for one week for leaving his bench to handle a complaint from a union member.

Though Five Points At 55 Miles Hour

A young man driving a cream colored Chevrolet car caused consternation among traffic and pedestrians on Fifth street across Five Points and on out the Falkland highway Saturday night about 9 o'clock. The car sped past Five Points at about 55 miles an hour, unlooked for. A girl was in the car. It narrowly missed a car at Fifth and Washington streets and then side-swiped with a bang a car driven by a young woman, considerably damaging it.

Names of the occupants of the cars was not available.

incomplete reports showed 15,000 out of 45,000 miners were working an improvement over last week by several thousand.

Kentucky reported 51,500 of its 60,000 miners working—a gain of more than 7,000 over last week.

Hopes for a back to work surge in the Pennsylvania anthracite fields collapsed when less than 25,000 of the industry's 83,000 workers returned to their jobs. Last week 28,000 worked in the anthracite mines.

Although at least 18 United Mine Worker locals voted at stormy week-end meetings to resume production in the hard coal fields, only a few thousand miners carried out the decision, and some mines that operated last week failed to reopen.

Unofficial estimates last week placed the number of idle miners in the country at slightly over 200,000 leaving more than 300,000 on the job in the nation's underground pits.

To Carry War ...

The army had no plans he said for raising its armed forces beyond the 8,200,000 officers and men, including 150,000 WAACS set for its goal by the end of this year.

McNary's testimony was made public as Congress drove ahead toward clearing up $115,000,000 in appropriations bills ahead of a summer recess.

Barfing into uncharted complications congressional leaders hope to start a vacation soon lasting until about the middle of September, after taking the usual precaution of empowering minority leaders, as well as those of the majority, to call members back into session in event of an emergency.

Meanwhile, the Senate Approriations committee sought to complete hearings today on a $2,800,000 war agency bill from which the house lopped $35,000,000 of Price Administration funds. The House wrote in a ban against subsidies and deducted $5,500,000 from Office of War Information (OWI) funds with a view to scrapping its domestic operations.

ated and then hustled to obey when a woman said, "We better do what he says — he killed my husband."

Patrolman Teague returned and he and Young took the Negro to a hospital. He died in a few minutes. "It took 50 blows with our pistol but to subdue Wilson. We didn't want to kill him," the officers testified. They did not know Teague's bullet struck the man until they arrived at the hospital. Teague lost his badge and eyeglasses during the nearly 30-minute struggle. Police found the badge, the glasses were ruined.

A jury impanelled by Coroner Griffin H. Rouse of Pitt County believed Wilson died from the blows on his head and not the bullet wound.

pling program, Jones declared: "About this time in 1940, 18 months before we were drawn into the war, your government began protecting our rubber supply. In July, 1940, President Roosevelt asked the RFC (Reconstruction Finance Corporation) to build up a stockpile of rubber. Between that time and the capture of the Dutch East Indies by the Japanese, we bought every pound of rubber we could possibly get.

"As a result, when we entered the war we had accumulated the largest rubber stockpile the world has ever known. We have drawn upon that stockpile for all our essential needs, as well as for those of the united nations, and we still have several hundred thousand tons. We have been stimulating the production of natural rubber in south and Central America and in Africa by every means possible, and we are getting some natural rubber from these and other sources."

On the synthetic program, the Commerce Secretary said "the task has not been an easy one. Those in charge of the program have had to overcome not only such problems as shortages of material and manpower, but also the confusion created by critics who sought — not always unselfishly — to question means and methods, without knowledge of all the facts.

"Now that the storm of words has subsided and government, together with industry, has been allowed time to do the necessary work, we have what we set out to get when forced into the war — a completely integrated rubber industry."

Six shattering raids on the island last Friday damaged the main Japanese camp area there, the navy reported yesterday. There was little resistance to the assaults, indicating the enemy garrison already may be feeling the pinch of the Ait'u blockade.

Naval observers expressed belief the United States forces were undertaking a campaign to immobilize the Japanese garrison on Kiska as a prelude to landing operations. The Friday raids followed three air attacks Thursday.

Kiska is the last enemy-held foothold in the American chain in the North Pacific.

Two Japanese submarines were attacked from the air in widely separated parts of the South Pacific over the week-end.

South Pacific headquarters announced today that a Hudson navy patrol bomber on reconnaissance spotted an enemy submarine Friday some 200 miles southwest of Suva in the Fiji islands, and dropped a depth charge on the undersea craft. Shortly afterward, the announcement said, heavy oil slick appeared on the surface of the water. A search of the area for the enemy vessel or further evidence of its possible destruction is being continued.

Another Japanese submarine was bombed in the southern Coral sea yesterday afternoon, headquarters reported, and was last seen making a crash dive.

registered all over her, it was stated.

In the blows by the Mosquitos the Air Ministry said two railway yards were hit, locomotives were raked with machine-gun fire and R-boats off Cherbourg were straddled with bombs.

There were no indications that British planes were over Germany during the night.

It was the first time after seven consecutive nightly attacks against the Ruhr and western Germany that the RAF failed to strike at war plants in Germany proper.

A new series of air blows at Germany's strained railway system was forecast by military observers today as a possible follow-up to the terrific battering of the industrial Ruhr in the Allies' campaign of strategic bombing to sap the Nazis' strength.

This phase of the air war was suggested even as Reichsmarschal Hermann Goering was reported being lured into risking the German air force which he had been carefully husbanding in a desperate at-

CONSERVE with ICE

Proper moisture protects the important nutritive juices and insures the flavorful goodness that you expect in tasty food. And this protection is found only in a modern ice refrigerator. The thin film of water that is ever-present on your ice provides just the right amount of moisture to keep your meats rich and juicy, and your vegetables dewy fresh. The clean-washed air circulating from your ice keeps foods from exchanging flavors and the constant cold prevents spoilage. This year, when it is so important to cut out waste, you will find that your ICE refrigerator will be your silent partner for food conservation and will save you extra pennies that can go towards your War Bond purchases.
