Allied Invaders Gaining Ground In Sicily Today

British Turn Back Nazi Divisions At Gateway To Catania Plains; Important Towns Captured By Americans And Canadians

By RELMAN MORIN Allied Headquarters in North Africa, July 17.—(AP)—Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's great desert army was believed to be approaching the outskirts of Catania today after smashing back the Hermann Goering and elements of the 15th German armored divisions in the biggest battle yet fought for Sicily.

Going forward with a powerful Allied fleet on his seaward gunning the enemy's positions, Montgomery has captured both Lentini and Scordia, at the entrance to the Catania plain. Allied headquarters announced, while on all other parts of the Allied front the advance continued.

Lentini is about 15 miles below Catania, the prize seaport about half way up the east Sicilian coast, and Scordia is nine miles inland from Lentini.

Rounding out the capture of four more towns by the Allies, the Canadians took Caltagirone, 20 miles to the east.

With French Goumiers, fierce knife and tommy gun wielding warriors from the Moroccan hills on their left flank, the Americans of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., were believed to have emerged from the hilly ground that ringed their beachheads and to have penetrated inland for perhaps 30 miles.

The Canadians had cut into the heart of the enemy's defense system in central Sicily by their capture of Caltagirone, about 28 miles due west of Montgomery's forces at Lentini.

The whole Allied line in that sector had moved up almost abreast of Montgomery, and the new surge gave the Allies possession of a lateral east-west highway and a valley running east-west which will greatly facilitate the task of maintaining unbroken communications with the British Eighth army.

It was assumed also that the capture of the nest of airfields in and around Gerbini, 12 miles southwest of Catania and at the edge of the Catania plain, was now threatened by British forward elements.

The British, however, were fighting their way across terrain which greatly favored the defending forces. It is crisscrossed with waterways large and small, and contains three large rivers which run at right angles to Montgomery's advance.

Bombers Raid Japs At Kiska

Washington, July 17.—(AP)—The Navy announced today that Army bombers raided Japanese positions on Kiska island four times Thursday, starting several fires among the enemy's anti-aircraft batteries.

The air attack fell the same day as the latest shelling of the enemy-held island, which had been reported by the Navy yesterday. A small American warship bombarded Japanese defenses at Gertrude Cove, southwest of Kiska harbor in the early morning.

Apparently a break in the weather, which has held bombing operations to a minimum in the western Aleutians since April, made it possible for the Aleutians command to coordinate the aerial assault with the surface attack.

The WAR TODAY AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE The masterful manner in which Sicily has been invaded emphasizes unselfish Allied cooperation is the ranking reason for success. Taking it by and large, there exists between the Allies a cordiality which wasn't dreamed of in World War I. We are swapping our resources and our hospitality. There's no limit to the exchange. The lid is off. On the battle-fronts it's share and share alike, and the greatest soldiers of one country are happy to subordinate themselves to the command of a colleague from another—if that's the best for the cause. Perhaps the most potent factor in drawing us together was the mortal danger the Allies were in. We found ourselves fighting for survival

INCREASE AIR WAR ON ITALY

Sicily And Mainland Undergo Devastating Poundings

By RELMAN MORIN Allied Headquarters in North Africa, July 17.—(AP)—Allied air units struck new paralyzing blows at the Axis lifeline from Italy to Sicily yesterday and the previous night with heavy attacks on the Messina strait transport system and enemy air bases from heel to toe on the Italian boot.

American Flying Fortresses battered San Giovanni, mainland terminus of the Messina ferry route, following up a night attack on the same target by Wellingtons of the RAF.

The big bombers planted rows of explosives on docks, railroad sidings and the ferry line itself. Aerial reconnaissance showed that at least 50 direct hits were scored in the target area.

Other Allied raiders battered airfields at Reggio Calabria and Vibo Valentia in daylight raids, continuing assaults that started the previous night on these objectives and another airfield at Crotona, kept up their pounding of Axis communications in support of Allied invasion forces.

American Liberators from Middle East bases again joined in the daylight offensive, striking this time at Bari airdrome, Axis fighter and fighter-bomber base on the Adriatic coast of southern Italy.

Hangars, administration buildings, dispersal areas and runways were covered by concentrations of bomb bursts and at least four grounded aircraft were set afire, a Ninth Air Force communique said.

In this raid the Americans bumped into heavy fighter opposition, destroying 11 enemy planes, probably destroying seven others and damaging two more. Three of the Liberators were lost.

Urges Vote For Tobacco Quotas

Raleigh, July 17.—(AP)—Governor Broughton told tobacco growers in a radio broadcast last night that experience of recent years had demonstrated beyond any possible question the wisdom of fixing quotas for growing tobacco and urged them to vote in favor of marketing quotas in the referendum to be held in the blue-cured tobacco belts on July 24.

The governor, terming himself as "an individual tobacco grower of many years experience," pointed to the lean years of 1930 to 1933 when there was no quota for growers and compared them with the years 1934 through 1937 when tobacco was sold under the quota plan. In this period, he said, there was a price increase of about 15 cents.

Farmers To Support Control Of Tobacco

Farmers in the city today attending to business after a week of hard work cropping and curing tobacco were cheerful over the prospects of a heavy crop and some good quality as a result of first and second curings. Farmers are vigorously in favor of continuing the control plan for the growing of tobacco.

The records show that in 1931 before the tobacco crop was controlled that the average price of tobacco was $8.40 a hundred pounds. In 1942 under the control plan the average price of tobacco was $38.40 a hundred. Farmers favor the control plan.

Part of the members of the unit will remain in Greenville while the others are at camp. The company has regular army equipment, is well drilled and ready at all times for service. The company, on a surprise call, was recently assembled in the armory ready for duty in less than 30 minutes.

Guard Unit Will Go to Fort Bragg

By CHESTER WALSH Capt. Jasper L. Jones, commanding officer, will leave here Sunday morning at 8 o'clock with 25 members of the Greenville company of the North Carolina State Guard for a 10-day period of actual wartime maneuvers. Lieut. W. H. Woolard, Jr., will accompany the platoon. Mayor Bruce Sugg and other city and county officials today gave high praise to Captain Jones for his splendid work in command of the militia company. With a background of many years' experience in the National Guard and the U. S. Marines, Jones, has done exceptional work and the Greenville company ranks among the best in Washington is battalion commander. Col. James W. Jenkins of Henderson is brigade commander of the State Guard. The guard was organized and equipped and trained to take care of any emergency resulting from the war and to cooperate with police and sheriff's officers in time of trouble.

BOMBS REDUCE Rome Intimates Italy To Stick With Hitler

Munda Airfield Being Dive-Bombed To Destruction

By C. YATES MCDANIEL Allied Headquarters in the South-west Pacific, July 17.—(AP)—Munda is being dive-bombed to destruction.

Eighty two more tons of bombs burst Friday upon the Japanese air base whose defenders, from their foxholes, have seen the central Solomon skies darkened by Dauntless dive bombers and Avenger torpedo bombers from the first day of the American invasion on June 30.

More than 100 of these planes delivered the latest of these low level pick-your-target attacks which in a short while have exploded in excess of 300 tons of bombs on Munda.

Twenty eight tons of 1,000 and 2,000 pound bombs blasted at Munda's guns and men on July 3; 70 tons on July 9; 67 tons on July 10; 52 tons on July 11; 31 tons on July 13. Other raids have been made without the communique disclosing bomb weights, but always the raiders are dive bombers and torpedoes.

Says Italy Has Strung Along With Hitler Too Long To Turn Back Now

London, July 17.—(AP)—In the first direct reply to the Roosevelt-Churchill ultimatum demand, the Rome radio intimated today that Italy had strung along with Adolf Hitler too long to turn back now.

"Even if Italy surrendered," it said, "it would not mean she would have found peace once again. If, as the British and Americans say, their goal is Berlin, then their way to it is Italy."

"The Italian people would still be in the war; they would be asked by the invaders to turn their weapons against Germany."

"Italians know full well that for them this war is one of life or death."

The broadcast came soon after the Italian high command communique had announced that Allied planes flew over Rome last night and dropped leaflets.

Presumably the leaflets contained the Churchill-Roosevelt proclamation issued yesterday demanding that Italians capitulate or suffer the consequences.

The Rome radio unexpectedly went off the air last night, suggesting that an air raid alarm had been sounded.

Without mentioning the radio barrage, which are spreading the Roosevelt-Churchill ultimatum all over Italy, Fascist propagandists hastily marshalled arguments today against an Italian capitulation.

Neither Italian radios nor newspapers picked up the Allied appeal, but the Italian newspaper Cor Iere Della Sera was quoted in a Berlin broadcast as saying that "capitulation would only bring us shameful

FOURTH TERM CHANCES SLIM

Senators Believe That Roosevelt Can't Win Again

By The Associated Press Washington, July 17.—Two outspoken U. S. senators—a Republican and a Democrat—voiced belief today President Roosevelt might not seek or accept nomination for a fourth term.

Senator Nye (R-ND), asserted that if the president "finds there's a large chance of his being whipped," he will step aside.

"And," Nye told a reporter, "if he looks around enough, he'll find just that."

Senator Smith (D-SC), declared in another interview that "Roosevelt won't win the nomination even if he should seek it, and by convention time, I think he'll be convinced of that."

"If he should be able to swing the nomination," Smith declared, "he'd be beaten for re-election, regardless of whether the war is in progress."

Nye said the principal job of his own party was to find a man behind whom "the party and the American people can unite."

Nye asserted in congressional testimony in September after their summer recess and conversations with their constituents, "will have more realistic ideas than now as to the type of candidate the people will follow."

A National Committee spokesman said today that the council, organized by Chairman Harrison E. Spangler and composed of GOP governors, senators, representatives and committee members, would meet in "two days of hard work and hard thinking" in an effort to agree on basic principles of a postwar policy to be recommended to the national convention.

Says Saboteurs Held In Check

Washington, July 17.—(AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of investigation, declared today that "not a single successful act of foreign-directed sabotage has occurred to hinder our war efforts."

Addressing the graduating class of the FBI National Police Academy, Hoover said the coordinated efforts of federal, state and local law enforcement agencies have curbed activities of foreign espionage agents "before they could accomplish their fiendish aims."

"We have, by planning and coordination, avoided the hysteria which prevailed in World War I, when innocent persons were persecuted and harmed as the result of ill-advised vigilante activities," he said. "We have kept the home front secure."

William M. Jeffers, rubber administrator, told the graduates "there is unusual room for improvement in law enforcement, particularly in communities where politics still play a major part in the selection of police officials."

"Even today, there are many communities wherein sheriffs and police officers must spend a great portion of their time campaigning if they are to hold their jobs," he said.

Russian Advance Adds New Threat To Nazis At Orel

AIR OFFENSIVE STILL GOES ON

Daylight Sweeps Follow Last Night's RAF Raids

London, July 17.—(AP)—Britain-based RAF bombers smashed at Italy's transportation system with a second straight night assault across the Alps last night by blasting the power facilities which feed Mussolini's electrified railways while mosquito bombers battered Munich on the German-Italian Brenner line.

With the rising sun today the precision daylight assault on continental targets was resumed in great strength, with hundreds of two-engined and four-engined bombers and fighter-bombers shuttling across the channel.

In mid-afternoon a tremendous armada stretched all the way from London past the southeast coast town of Poolestone. To watchers the big bombers appeared to be American Flying Fortresses.

The bombers came back in a very few minutes, however, indicating they had been on a practice mission or were turned back, perhaps by bad weather, before reaching their target.

Last night's targets in Italy, as was the case the night before, were transformer and switching stations through which flow the current generated in the Alps to keep Italian rail supplies moving.

The strength of the raiding force was not given immediately, but the fact the RAF bombers set alarms wailing in western and central Switzerland would indicate it was a powerful one.

Abbeville, important French railway center, was the target for American medium bombers which struck at dusk yesterday to leave great fires burning in that control point for all rail traffic to the north.

The raid was made at the cost of one bomber and protected by a thick blanket of Allied fighters.

Flying Fortresses had bombed Abbeville in three previous assaults. The dusk attack followed up night blows by the RAF which cut a path of ruin from northern Italy to the low countries.

In releasing additional information on the Thursday night raids over northern Italy, the Air Ministry said the attacks were on electrical nerve centers and were closely tied up with the battle of Sicily in crippling the Italian railway system.

GERMANS THROW IN New Divisions In Effort To Halt Onrushing Reds; Russian Heavy Artillery Now Within Range Of Orel

By WILLIAM MCGAFFIN Moscow, July 17.—(AP)

The German high command has thrown two new divisions, one armored and one infantry, against the Russian spearhead now threatening Orel, front dispatches said today, but the Red army was reported repulsing all Nazi thrusts and continuing to advance.

One wing of the Red army's smashing counter-attack was reported to have rolled to within 25 miles of the heavily fortified Nazi base as the Germans frantically rallied all available manpower and equipment in a desperate effort to stave off a major breakthrough.

Soviet columns stabbing in from the north and east are within heavy artillery range of Orel, dispatches said, but it was not disclosed whether barrages had actually been the Orel-Bryansk railroads.

(The German communique reported that "fierce fighting of defense continued in the Orel area" yesterday, and that Soviet attacks were repulsed in the "hard, fluctuating struggle" with 251 Russian tanks destroyed.)

The dispatches said the Russians were sending motorized infantry with tanks and mobile command to comb the forest clearing for Nazi troops.

One of the most serious battle took place around a village on the bank of an unidentified river not far from the Russian wedge in the German line, it was reported. The Russians said they captured the village.

Dispatches reported that the northern column of the Russian counter-offensive against Orel was advancing southward and had progressed another six to ten miles after overcoming 11 heavy German counter-attacks.

There is no indication of the present location of the other Russian column advancing on Orel from the east. Its original advance put it to within about 25 miles of Orel, dispatches indicated.

Woolard, Waldrop At Bankers' Meet

U. S. Fliers Smash At Japs In Burma

New Delhi, July 16.—(Delayed)—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Clayton L. Bissell, commander of the U. S. 10th air force, announced today that his fliers had smashed at Burma through the monsoon with heavy and medium bombers on 12 of the 15 days of July.

Buffed by driving rains and strong winds and curbed by thin black and seemingly endless monsoon clouds, the planes averaged three missions a day in the first half of the month.

Heavy, medium and fighter bombers made nearly 330 sorties against the Japanese and completed 47 missions, he said.

Maj. Gen. Bissell said that during the first week of July there were executed what he believed to be the longest medium bomber mission of the war, who were sent to collect a round trip from 1,500 miles from India to bomb the Shweli ton bridge near the border between Burma and China's Yunnan province.

The crew included Second Lieut. Jasper L. Godwin of Clayton, N. C.

Babies, Soil, Work and Bombs Babson Gives Some Sensible Advice

New York, July 17.—This week I will write about my own line of business, namely, statistics. There are four things that this country should learn from statistics. I hope parents will cut this column out and save it for their children to read.

We Need More Good Babies It is true that the birth rate has jumped up since the draft went into effect, but all these babies are not the kind the country needs. In many instances they have been sired by timid fathers who are hoping a baby will get them exemption!

The truth is that the U. S. birth rate has been going down for years. Even more serious is the fact that the decline is greatest among those more fit to raise good children. This tendency must be stopped or American will some day be conquered by some other race. Higher education is raising with our birth rate. The two siders for instance; one sister goes to college and usually either has children or works only, while the other, who goes not to college, raises a good family of three or four. Women have not been allowed to fight in the battle lines, during the past centuries, because they are far more valuable in raising their children. This is a hint to the WAG WAVES and SPARS!

We Need More Good Soil The real difficulty with our situation is the over-cultivation of our soils. For years, the cutting down of forests has caused a erosion which is a basic cause (Continued on Page Five)

Homecoming Event For Dr. Crossfield

By CHESTER WALSH
It was "homecoming night" for Dr. R. H. Crossfield, distinguished minister of the Christian church and former president of Transylvania College in Kentucky at last night's supper meeting of the Kiwanis Club. The Kiwanis warmly welcomed him, expressed appreciation of his good nature and inspiration during his temporary pastorate at Eighth Street Christian church last year and then there was a period of genuine fellowship.

Dr. Crossfield, internationally known religious and Christian educational leader, who has traveled all over the world in his work, gave a vivid and dramatic narrative history of China and her people. "If all of the Christian missions in China had done nothing but convert and educate Dr. Sun Yat Sen, China's George Washington, and Generalissimo and Mrs. Chiang Kai-Shek it would have been worth all of the price and sacrifice," he declared.
Dr. Crossfield, who for the past six months has been serving as temporary pastor at the First Christian church in Washington and doing some fine work, members of the congregation stated, will leave shortly for his home in Birmingham, Ala. for a rest and then take up other work in the field of his church's religious and Christian educational program.

Forty Years Ago Today
THE DAILY REFLECTOR
July 17, 1903
A Good Sign

We could not be strictly truthful and say that Greenville is one of the most good spirited towns in the state, but we can express gratification at the fact that we all seem to be of one mind regarding the importance of waterworks and electric lights. These improvements have been the subject of much bitter discussion in the past, causing a great deal of hard feeling. But fortunately for the welfare of the town, the last evidence of personal prejudice and ill feeling has vanished. There is no longer a bond element and anti-bond element, but all are supporting the board of internal improvements with a spirit of unity that means peace and advancement.

We congratulate those who originally opposed the bonds upon the good sense and town pride they have shown in accepting the result of the election as final and falling into the line of practical progress and education.

Didn't Take His Own Advice

Bernard Galkin (above) promoted to the rank of corporal last week after several months as an army private, scratches his head humorously as he reads some of the advice he gave others in his fast-selling book: "How to get a rating or commission." Galkin was busy writing the book, he says, when his draft board called him and he didn't get a chance to pursue the methods of getting a commission that he pointed out for others. He is now stationed at Fort Myers, Fla. (Army Photo).

New Commissioner

Henri Hoppenot, (top), was named by the French National Committee of Liberation, as high commissioner of Martinique, succeeding Admiral Georges Robert (below). The change in commissioners thus switched Martinique from Vichy control over to the anti-Axis group.

SOUTH PACIFIC 'ROUNDHOUSE'—In the railroad "yard" of a tiny line on a South Pacific island, taken over by the U. S. Army, three soldiers turn a locomotive on a turntable. The narrow gauge line, built in 1910, had been abandoned, but Uncle Sam now finds good use for its two steam and three Diesel engines, as well as its 40 cars.

SEWELL LEADS PITCHERS IN NATL LEAGUE

Puts 'Something On The Ball' That Batters Can't Locate

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

There was that time out of "Tin Pan Alley" a while back about "The Dipsy Doodle" that gets in your "ear" and National League batters, who've been breaking their backs on Rip Sewell's new Sunday pitch this season, tell you the guy who wrote this little number didn't know the half of it.

The way they tell it, in fact, this probably the funniest dipsydoo since Wes Ferrell presented his nuthin' ball to a palpitating public. That is, it's a laugh to everybody but the hitters. It's a little thing Sewell cooked up in his spare time and finally perfected, and since he discovered the "dodo," the Pittsburgh Pirates' twirler has become the leading elbow in the National league. At the moment, he's sporting a slate of 13 wins, including a 9-5 job over the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday.

One batter described the new toss as a cross between a parachute jump and a yo-yo, which gives you a rough idea. It's a kind of crossed curve that breaks up and down instead of side to side. Rip throws it without any more steam than you'll find in a bowl of mush.

It was the subject of almost as much gassing and grunting at the all-star get-together in Philadelphia as the Brooklyn "rhubarb." This stew-pot, incidentally, has now simmered down to a mere boil, with Bobo Newsum, the strong, silent — Wellstrong, anyway — man, agreeing to report to the Browns to pitch Sunday, just as everyone expected he would, even when he was howling loudest about the injustice of it all. Ducky Medwick, too, thinks his sale to the Giants might be a good thing, on account of it'll get him out of Brooklyn. And the Bums, meanwhile, blew a 3-2 decision to the Boston Braves yesterday, right after Branch (the reverend) Rickey made a special speech that was to bring peace among them again.

The clan that gathered there in Philly early this week cut up quite a few touches about Rip's new dipsy-doo. They told about the time he served it up to Dom Dilesandro, the short Chicago gardner who is built something like a fire hydrant. Dom had two strikes on him and watched this thing coming up overhead, figuring it was a pitch that got away from Rip. It hovered up there for a moment, then dropped over the ump's head to call strike three. Needless to say, Dom called something else.

"I," he roared at Rip, "have a good mind to come out there with this bat and thump on your noggin

Bobby Doerr Scores On Three-Run Homer In All-Star Game

Bobby Doerr of Boston, is congratulated as he scores on his three-run homer in the second inning of the 11th annual all-star game at Philadelphia. The blow gave the American leaguers a 3-1 advantage and they went on to win, 5-3. Umpire Rommel and Catcher Walker Cooper watch the proceedings.

Pittsburgh's win, however, coupled with the Dodger defeat, left the Pirates only 3 1-2 games out of second place.

These were the only tussles in the National league, while over in Will Harridge's shop, the New York Yankees nipped the Athletics 6-5 on Frankie Crosetti's eighth-inning run-making single. Since the Boston Red Sox knocked off the Washington Senators 4-1 behind Oscar Judd's five-hit hurling, this boosted the Yanks' league lead to 5 1-2 games and dropped the Nats into third place, back of the idle Detroit Tigers.

In the only other game, the St. Louis Browns connected for only four hits, but bunched three of them in the first inning to nose out the Cleveland Indians, 4-3. The Browns thus pulled themselves up to a fourth place tie and dropped the tribe into seventh, with the cellar door open.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, July 17—(AP)—A couple of weeks ago Branch Rickey was defending the Giants—and incidentally his own—failure to buy certain ball players by saying that during the winter bargaining season both clubs were interested only in the kind of athletes who could help win a pennant. . . . The Giants, he added, might change their attitude and show some interest in candidates for a sixth or seventh-place team. . . . Wonder if he had Ducky Medwick in mind all the time? . . . But somehow we can't see the Newsum and Medwick deals helping the Dodgers along towards the flag—the farmers' troubles. Then our big cities began to grow and they added to the difficulty. The beef and crops which contained the necessary minerals were shipped off the farm to the cities. Following their consumption these necessary minerals went down the sewers of these cities into the ocean. Farms have also suffered from automobiles since farmers began to buy gasoline. This there is no refuse from the houses and the necessary cover crops of hay and oats were lost, all of which had heretofore built up the soil.

Now the country has gone crazy over synthetics and is bragging about the manufacture of synthetic rubber, synthetic plastics and synthetic textiles, all of which will rob the soil still further. The farmers are fighting to have the rubber made from alcohol; while the oil men want to sell petroleum. For every ton of rubber made—either from alcohol or petroleum—we are robbing our grandchildren at a criminal rate. This craze for synthetics may easily become an important factor in the downfall of America.

We Need More Manual Workers

I have a number of letters from young people wanting jobs, but very few want to work with their hands except to press the keys of a typewriter or some other machine. As a result, we are getting to an actual shortage of manual workers. The real reason that John L. Lewis has been able to hold up 136,500,000 people is because his union is made up exclusively of manual workers, namely, the miners. No labor union, consisting of those doing work which we can do for ourselves, could hold us up. Hence, we should get back to the soil and be less dependent upon the labor of others.

The simple truth is that all of us were designed to do some manual work in order to live healthy, courageous and useful lives. In the long-run, people cannot hire others to exercise for us and do all our manual work any more than we can hire others to eat for us, sleep for us or breathe for us. If you want further advice on this subject read the eleventh verse of the fourth chapter of I Thessalonians and the tenth verse of the third chapter of II Thessalonians, which were the first books written for the New Testament. Whether our educational system is to blame for today's dangerous tendencies, I do not know; but they must be corrected or we will end up with John L. Lewis, or someone else who controls manual labor, the dictator of America. Labor union control can be prevented only as we become less dependent upon their members.

We Need More Good Bombers

I am no army or navy expert, but I am a statistician. When my Washington friends tell me that one of our bombs will wipe out 50 German buildings, I can reach an important conclusion. For instance, we know how many buildings there are in Germany which if bombed would cause the Germans to surrender. By simple division we know, therefore, how many bombs would be necessary to complete this job and hence how many bombers would be required to make a slaughtering invasion unnecessary at this time.

My Washington friends tell me that we must be prepared to lose from three to five per cent of our bombers on each successful raid. Hence, it is only a question of making enough bombers and bombs. This we can do. If this would require dropping 300,000 tons in six months it would mean dropping 50,000 tons a month or 12,000 tons a week. If we must lose a plane for every fifty tons dropped, this would mean a loss of about 6,000 bombers and perhaps 60,000 men in the process of wiping out Germany. To a statistician, it seems a grim loss the lives of 1,000,000 good Americans in too hasty invasion attempts.

Conclusion

When my associates read this copy they say, "The above four facts are self-evident; but what is needed to bring these changes about? Well, unfortunately, they cannot be brought about by legislation and I fear education of itself will be unsuccessful. These four great needs require voluntary willingness to sacrifice on the part of all of us for the common good. Only a spiritual awakening can bring this condition about. Hence, only a spiritual awakening can save America."

many cases a joint effort. History never has seen such well prepared forces go into battle as now are taking the field.

Many of the American, English, Canadian and French soldiers who fought their way up the beaches of Sicily from the landing barges, underwent months—and some of them years—of terrific training. They not only are physically perfect, but they know their jobs the way a pianist knows his keys. Thousands of these specialists received their training in an Allied camp.

The antithesis of this cooperation and coordination is the Axis imbroglio in Sicily.

MILITARY BODY TO RULE SICILY

Group Trained For Purpose Accomplished Invasion

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, July 17-(AP)-The first combined American-British military government of its kind accompanied the Allied invasion army to govern Sicily, it was announced.

Hundreds of American and British officers and men, who were trained secretly for months to govern occupied enemy territory, quickly established headquarters.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower designated Gen. Sir Harold Alexander as military governor with supreme authority in Sicily.

The Allied military government organization itself is headed by Maj. Gen. Lord Rennell of Rodd as chief civil affairs officer.

It was officially declared that establishment of the Allied military government has "no political implications of any kind."

The action was authorized by Washington and London through a directive from the combined chiefs of staff in Washington to Gen. Eisenhower.

"AMGOT," Allied military government organization - officers are responsible for the obedience of Sicilian civilians to prohibitions of the military government.

Although the administration of Sicily is to be benevolent, so far as the civilian population is concerned, the influence of Fascism will be destroyed.

"The Fascist party will be abolished and the ringleaders of Fascism will be removed from office.

"Freedom of religious worship will be upheld and the position of the Catholic church and all religions will be provided.

"Rationing will be supervised by AMGOT. When found necessary medical supplies and food for the destitute will be provided.

"No local politicians will be given preferential treatment. AMGOT will attempt to govern the people of occupied provinces and cities through their own officials who are not active members of the Fascist party.

"When found necessary medical supplies and food for the destitute will be provided.

"Freedom of religious worship will be upheld and the position of the Catholic church and all religions will be provided.

Writer Wounded

William F. (Bill) Boni, (above), an Associated Press war correspondent in New Guinea, received nine shell-splinter wounds in an attack by Japanese planes on the Salamaua front. Under treatment at a field hospital, Boni described his wounds as "superficial."

It was officially stated that the laws which discriminate on the basis of race, creed or color will be annulled.

"Physical symbols of the culture of true Italy, buildings, libraries, monuments, archives and works of art will be protected from damage.

"Within military necessity free press, and free speech will be promulgated.

"Those accused of crimes against the Allies will be tried by Allied military courts under AMGOT.

"Today the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack fly side by side at every AMGOT headquarters in Sicily. They will be flown together as symbols of the Allied military government's supreme authority until the Allied forces attain their final objective: To liberate the Italians."

It was disclosed officially that Field Marshal Baron von Richtofen, cousin of the German World War ace, now is directing the air defenses of the Axis in Sicily.

The score against him during the first week of the Allied invasion was 163 Axis planes destroyed against a total of five merchant ships have been sunk and one tanker and four destroyers damaged.

Wide spread attacks on enemy rail and highway communications continued with "large numbers" of transports destroyed or damaged.

An Allied air communiqué said the enemy command center of Randazzo, just west of Catania from which Axis bombers moved at will over Sicily, almost unimpeded, but raiders attacking targets on the Italian mainland reported heavier resistance.

Flying Fortresses went out in strength for their renewed attack on San Giovanni, the ferry terminus on the mainland across the strait from Messina. They were forced to fly through heavy and accurate anti-aircraft fire but reached the target area and strung necklaces of bombs over the ferry terminus, barracks and railway yards.

Auxiliary intruders plastered airfields and railways in Germany, France and the low countries. The Air Ministry announced that an RAF Beaufighter squadron caught a heavily-laden, medium-sized enemy supply vessel off the Norwegian coast this morning and set it afire with bombs.

Axis Ship Sunk In Channel Clash London, July 17-(AP)-An enemy ship probably was sunk and two others were damaged when light coastal forces of the Royal Navy attacked a convoy off the Dutch coast early today, the admiralty announced.

The surprise attack was made at close range and without damage or casualties to British forces, the announcement said.

(Filling in the picture of what such an attack means is a delay in dispatch by Associated Press correspondent Lieft. Erickson on Guadalcanal, from whence he reported planes blasting at Munda. He said pilots as saying the bombs are dropped from altitudes as low as 2,500 feet by skilled pilots such as Lieut. George Gay, sole survivor of the aircraft carrier Hornet's heroic Torpedo Squadron Eight. It is reflective bombing which sends pieces of an anti-aircraft gun flying apart.)

Allied Invaders... (Continued From Page One) vance. (The London Daily Express said American and Canadian troops also were pouring onto the Catania plain from the Vizzini area, joining in its push on Catania, key Sicilian port and air base midway up the east coast.

The Algiers radio said the British were attacking the outer defenses of Catania itself. (Indicating that the Americans were putting on a powerful push to broaden their coastal base to the west also, the Italian high command announced in its communiqué that a bitter battle was raging near Agrigento, as well as near Catania.

Capture of Agrigento would give the Allies possession of well over half of the Sicilian south coast and occupation of about 150 miles of Sicily's coastline.

Some observers estimated that one-eighth of the area of Sicily was now in Allied hands.)

At the end of a week's lightning campaign the Allied armies were thus firmly established at bridgeheads all along the southeast coast and in control of the most strategically important roads in the area.

Allied air and sea forces maintained their cropping blow to isolate the island and reduce its defenses to impotence.

The shortest water route by which Axis reinforcements and supplies can flow from the mainland, Allied motor gunboats scattered destruction amid Italian motor torpedo boats Thursday night, sinking one of the enemy craft and damaging two others.

Heavier naval forces continued to patrol the narrow waters farther south, under the nose of Axis air forces on the nearby mainland, and the Italian navy still had not dared to interfere.
