REDS TIGHTEN PINNERS ABOUT NAZIS AT OREL

More Than 100 Villages Taken in Gains of Five To Seven Miles; Latest Gain Place Russians in Nine Miles Of Important German Base

Moscow, Aug. 2—(AP)—Red army troops, continuing the slow, relentless investment of the German defenses around Orel, yesterday hurled the Nazis out of 100 villages and tightened the pincers threatening that base with advances of five and 7.1-2 miles, the Russians reported today.

Soviet troops operating to the north and northeast of the city beat off counterattacks in a drive which took 40 villages, leaving 3,000 German dead on the field and smashing a number of tanks, mobile guns and trucks and heavy artillery, a communique said.

The spearhead operating to the northwest of the city is aiming at cutting the Orel-Bryansk railway, a feeder line for the Orel base. Soviet reports in the last few days have indicated that the line is under fire of Soviet artillery.

Front line dispatches reported the Russian air force was harassing the Nazis in an attempt to prevent them from consolidating new lines. The Soviet advance to the south of Orel was somewhat hampered by numerous enemy minefields, the communique reported, but Soviet engineering units in one day cleared 4,000 land mines from 23 separate fields.

Counterattacks in the sectors east of Orel were repulsed with heavy German losses, the war bulletin said, and Soviet troops advanced, capturing quantities of German war material.

The Red army, principally occupied on the central front where the fall of Orel seems to be a matter of days, met with some successes in sharp fighting southwest of Voroshilovgrad in the Donets basin, the communique added.

Bombers Blast Jap Positions In Burma

New Delhi, Aug. 2—(AP)—U. S. B-25 medium bombers heavily blasted wharves, warehouses and shipping facilities of Katha, Japanese-occupied head of navigation on the Irrawaddy during Sunday operations over Burma by both American and British squadrons, it was announced today.

"Direct hits were reported on three large river steamers and near hits on other river craft," U. S. AAF communique said. "Bombs were seen to burst between wharves and storage buildings. Rolling stock was demolished and warehouses in the northern section of the town were destroyed and damaged. Many fires were left burning."

The communique said the destruction and damage inflicted at the Katha rail-river junction "seriously interfere with military traffic at all points on the railroad between Katha and the rail terminus at Yitkyina," 100 miles to the north-east.

Hero Visits Cherry Point Cherry Point, N. C., Aug. 2—(AP)—Settling Albert A. Schmidt, who is credited with killing or wounding 200 Japanese soldiers in the battle of the Tenaru river on Guadalcanal, is visiting the Marine Corps air station here.

Train Kills Nine. Nokomis, Ill., Aug. 2—(AP)—Nine members of a 13-man section gang were killed today when westbound New York Central passenger train plowed through the group working on tracks near Ohlman, Ill.

Survivors, none of whom was injured, were quoted as saying the group failed to notice the approach of the train.

Scrap Collections In County a Big Success

Pitt county has collected more than seven million pounds of scrap materials for the war effort from September first up to the present time. These accurate figures were submitted today by Miss Lella Higgs, chairman of the Pitt county salvage committee to J. H. Rose, civilian defense chairman for the county. This report by Miss Higgs was contained in a letter in which Miss Higgs resigned as chairman because of other duties. In accepting the resignation of Miss Higgs, Mr. Rose paid tribute to her for the remarkable piece of work done. Mr. Rose said, "Miss Higgs has been able to enlist the cooperation of leaders and workers in all communities of the county, and has been untiring in her

ITALIANS AND GERMAN OIL SUPPLY HIT NAZIS CLASH

Former Allies Reported Fighting In Crete And Greece Fortresses Blasted Rumanian Fields Yesterday

London, Aug. 2—(AP)—Bitter clashes between German soldiers on the island of Crete and Italian troops whom they sought to disarm and growing friction between Axis garrisons on the mainland of Greece, were reported in dispatches reaching here yesterday from Cairo and Istanbul.

British middle east headquarters said yesterday it had "irrefutable evidence" of a German plan to disarm Italian troops in Crete and to arrest the commanding officer and staff.

Some Italian troops, the British said, were tricked into surrendering their weapons and one unit which refused to obey was surrounded and fired upon. The dispatch added that the Italians "are standing firm."

From Istanbul came a report that German and Italian garrisons on the Greek mainland were at boy-on-boy points at one Italian barracks which the Germans approached and tried to take over.

Italian guards were said to have resisted and to be waiting instructions from Rome.

Light Attacks In Munda Area

Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Aug. 2—(AP)—Navy bombers hacked away Sunday at Japanese barriers commanding the approaches to Munda.

Escorted by army and navy fighters, the bombers dropped 27 tons of explosives on gun positions and supply dump areas around the strongly-fortified central Solomons airbase. Many of the bombs fell squarely on their targets.

It was a light attack, compared with other recent raids on Munda in which the bomb weight has been as high as 186 tons.

For the second consecutive day the communique from General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said nothing about how American troops were doing around Munda.

Five barges were destroyed off Cape Gloucester, New Britain, and a reconnaissance plane bombed Lar New Guinea, with unreported results.

Aged President Of China Dead

Chungking, Aug. 2—(AP)—Lin Sen, 81-year-old American educated president of the Chinese republic died last night after a long illness. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek was immediately designated by the Kuomintang Central Committee, the nation's highest executive body, as acting president. Lin Sen, who became ill May 12, became President of China in 1932 when he succeeded Chiang Kai-Shek who resigned at that time to devote all his time to preparing the army for the war with Japan. He was born in Fochow, Fukien, in 1862 and came to California where he received his early education, remaining in the United States for many years. Despite the relative political unimportance of the presidency, his age, his dignity and his interest in China and its problems, particularly those of the youth of China, had made him a great national figure. Lin Sen left a political testament expressing confidence that his countrymen "will continue to act as one man in accordance with the bequeathed teachings of the father of our republic and under the guidance of the generalissimo, and will fulfill their duties to the nation."

American Forces Gain In Sicily; Italians Flee Industrial Centers

Italians Given Final Warning To Surrender Or Be Destroyed; Millions Have Fled From Industrial Areas; Rumors Of Peace Talks At Vatican Continue.

(By The Associated Press) London, Aug. 2—Italians were warned in radio broadcasts from Algiers tonight that Allied land forces would soon invade the mainland to follow up resumption of the aerial offensive, caused by the temporizing of Italy's military government on demands for surrender.

"We warn you again: our air force will strike at you from the air and soon our land forces will be fighting on the Italian mainland," the radio said.

The Allied offer of peace has remained unanswered by Marshal Pietro Badoglio's ministry, the message to the Italians declared, and it added: "Our attitude is clear, regimes based on violence and on slavery must be eradicated and destroyed."

By the hundreds of thousands, Italian civilians were reported fleeing metropolitan areas of Italy even before U. S. Flying Fortresses headed for Naples yesterday to pick up where they had left off in attacks upon its many military objectives.

Radio interference—generally a sign that Axis operators are attempting to block out a transmission—badly jammed the Algiers station, from which Gen. Wright D. Eisenhower's headquarters told the Italians Saturday that the air war would go on.

The demand for unconditional surrender was reaffirmed. "We insist on the unconditional surrender of these evil forces," the broadcast said. "You have been betrayed by Mussolini. Now Pietro Badoglio is betraying you."

Dispatches from Madrid said Rome advised indicated a flurry of activity at the Vatican which apparently was connected with some sort of peace discussions, but there was no evidence that Badoglio had made any move to deliver a direct request for an armistice.

The impression grew here that nothing short of a direct reply would satisfy the Allies and that possible attempts to put forth peace feelers through an intermediary would not save Italy the pounding she has

Common Tobacco Prices Are Off

By The Associated Press Common grades of flue-cured tobacco dropped fractionally on some markets today as the second week of auction sales got under way but first reports on better grades showed prices steady at around the ceiling price of 41 cents per pound.

The bulk of the leaf sold at 39 to 41 cents on the Valdosta market with common grades slightly lower than last week. Opening prices of from 42 to 45 cents were paid for good grades on the Adel market where warehouses were well filled with tobacco.

Nearly $10,000,000 was paid farmers in Georgia and Florida during the first four days of the season.

German-Italian Fighting Reported

Madrid reported new outbreaks of fighting between German and Italian soldiers in North Italy. German troops were said to be moving from Klagenfurt (Nazi symbol) in the Udine area and toward Trieste and Fiume (arrows). Other German forces previously were reported pouring through the Brenner Pass (arrow). A center of Italian disturbances is Milan (1). Fascists at Forli (2), Mussolini's birthplace, who had taken possession of the village, agreed to surrender. Small arrows indicate purported German defense line along the Po river.

Germans Determined To Defend Northern Italy

TEN KILLED IN GLIDER CRASH

St. Louis Mayor And Aircraft Officials Among Dead

St. Louis, Aug. 2—(AP)—Before a large crowd of horror-stricken Sunday spectators, a troop-carrying glider, its right wing gone plummeted for 1,500 feet and smashed like a strawberry box near a runway at Lambert-St. Louis field, carrying to their deaths 10 persons including Maj. William B. Robertson, pioneer airplane manufacturer whose company built the glider.

Mayor William Dee Becker, three other city officials, and Thomas N. Doyart, president of the Chamber of Commerce, were killed in the crash which occurred during the army's first public glider demonstration here.

Lt. Col. J. R. Johnson army air force public relations officer described the crash as the nation's first fatal glider accident since the

Nazi Pressure Diminishes Italian Hopes For Peace

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS Bern, Aug. 2—(AP)—Nazi troops are determined to defend northern Italy as one entrance to the so-called German "reduit national" (inner fortress) and Italian hopes of peace have diminished sharply, dispatches from Germany and Italy indicated today.

The Tribune of Geneva headlined a story from Chiasso, Swiss border point, to the effect that "German troops are to assume the defense of northern Italy and refered especially to the Po region."

An official Italian source said privately he confirmed the story. Berlin dispatches emphasized the necessity of Italy continuing the war and there appeared to be little hope of Marshal Pietro Badoglio's regime withstanding Nazi pressure.

The Allies have already made it clear that they would not deal with any government which permitted the Germans to gain time and are willing only to accept unconditional surrender.

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ Madrid, Aug. 2—(AP)—A German army estimated at 18 divisions garrisoned points in northern Italy today with apparent confidence that, if Marshal Pietro Badoglio surrendered anything, he could surrender only that part of Italy lying south of the Po river line.

Nazi troops have been on the move all during the last week of shilly-shallying by the Badoglio government, according to advices to Madrid.

Strong German units were reported today to have occupied the upper Adige river valley both above and below Trento, itself 70 miles south of the Brenner pass.

Italian divisions along the Dalmatian coast were reported to have

SIX KILLED IN NEW YORK RIOT

Hundreds Injured In Fighting In Negro District

New York, Aug. 2—(AP)—Mayor F. H. LaGuardia imposed a 10:30 p. m. curfew upon the Harlem district today after declaring the disorders in which six persons died and 201, including 40 policemen, were injured, had been brought under control.

At the same time the mayor announced that a committee of 1,500 persons, mostly Negroes, armed with nightsticks and wearing identification bands, would aid authorities in patrolling Harlem's streets tonight in an effort to prevent recurrence of the disorders.

Meanwhile, Major General Thomas A. Terry, commanding the Second Service Command, said he would not declare Harlem out of military bounds. General Terry, who conferred with the mayor, said, however, that all soldiers in the district would be asked to state legitimate reasons for being there.

Fresh disorders broke out in Harlem today when Negroes set fire to a parked, unoccupied automobile. Flames shot 30 feet into the air and smoke rose 100 feet. Fire department apparatus was called to extinguish the blaze.

There was another outbreak of looting. Negroes inside grocery stores, having entered through broken windows, clung to shelves and looted cans of fruits and vegetables into the street where other Negroes waited, grabbed the cans and ran.

A white man walking along Lenox avenue near 137th street was attacked by a crowd of Negroes. Two Negro soldiers, walking nearby, ran to the victim's aid, ordered the assailants to get away and then escorted the man to safety in a subway station.

Special policemen were placed on duty on subway trains and in subways

San Stefano In American Hands; British Open Big Push On Catania; Bombing Of Italy Resumed With Raids On Naples; Warships Bombard Italian Coast

By REILMAN MORIN Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Allied forces "have started an offensive" in Sicily, with U. S. troops seizing San Stefano to crumble the north flank of the Axis and the British Eighth Army reported making a big push against Catania.

An official statement declared the offensive had begun, and British, American and Canadian armies obviously were making an all-out drive to fold up the Messina bridgehead.

Flying Fortresses shattered Naples in a heavy assault following up the Saturday ultimatum to Italy to quit or be bombed, and Allied warships have hammered Italy's aching foot as great knockout blows were aimed by Allied land, sea and air might.

San Stefano is the northern anchor of the Axis Etna line, and its loss threatened to roll the Axis armies rapidly back in the dwindling Messina bridgehead.

San Stefano is about 60 miles west of Messina. Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth Army has gained important new positions near Catania—the other anchor of the Axis defenses on the east coast—in a series of furious assaults, the German and French radios admitted.

The Allied communique failed to mention the Eighth Army drive. (A message by Montgomery indicated his troops were in action.) Powerful formations of Flying Fortresses rained 500-pound bombs upon dock areas of Naples and the nearby Capodichino airfield Sunday to put into action the warning given by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower that Italy again would be rocked from the air because Premier Pietro Badoglio's government had temporized, and permitted the Germans time to strengthen their defenses.

Allied warships steamed into the heightening and perhaps decisive action, shattering railway communications in the foot of Italy and setting the port of Crotona afire, and American warships shelled enemy land positions in Sicily ahead of the advancing U. S. Seventh Army troops.

This American advance also swept up Messina, six miles directly south of Catania, to the troops

Warns Of New Allied Thrusts

Algiers, Aug. 2—(AP)—Eimer Davis, head of the Office of War Information, speaking on the Algerian radio tonight, forecast that a great invasion would be launched from England that would sweep Europe as Sicily had been swept.

He said Americans would continue the war "until the last of our enemies are beaten down."

Davis who came from Britain over the week-end declared Axis war criminals would be punished and he called upon "freedom-loving Germans and Italians to let themselves show their feelings by their action."

He declared the free people of the world were on the march to victory.

"America is now a nation at war, fully at war, and will remain committed on winning that war until the last of our enemies are beaten down."

"From England will some day come that great invasion which will prove that the festung of Europe (European fortress) was no more invulnerable than was the festung of Sicily."

Local Office Handles Ration Book Requests

The taking of applications for War Ration Book 3 for those who have not made applications, and of requests for adjustments on Book 3 already issued was begun in the office of the Pitt County War Price and Ration Board today, stated Clarence Cannon executive secretary of the Board, and will continue through Tuesday August 10. The board calls specific attention to the fact that if application has already been made and none or only part of the books have been delivered, an adult member of the family must bring, when the second application is made, the stub from the original application. Also if duplicate books have been issued, they should be sent intact with a note of explanation, either to the Pitt County War Price and Ration Board or to the OPA Mail Center, Charlotte.

Will Seek Curtailment In Government Spending

By The Associated Press Washington, Aug. 2—President Roosevelt's renewed request for "stiff" increases in taxes—made in a review of the revised $105,829,000,000 budget for this fiscal year—appeared likely today to be countered in Congress with bipartisan demands for closer scrutiny of government spending. Senator Wherry (R-Neb.) told an interviewer he believed the huge financial problem ought to involve reduced government outlays as well as enactment of new taxes. "Some of the unnecessary appropriations must be curtailed if we are going to keep America financially sound," Wherry declared. Similarly, Senator Radcliffe (D-Md.) said he thought Congress was preparing to look much more closely into future army and navy requests, a subject the Byrd committee on reduction of non-essential expenditures has marked for early expeditious action. At the same time, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) predicted that Congress will have trouble in finding additional revenue sources for the "truly stiff program of additional taxes, savings, or both" that Mr. Roosevelt said ought to be enacted. Taft said it seemed impossible on the basis of figures compiled by the joint congressional committee on internal revenue, to obtain more than about $3,000,000,000 in direct new taxes. He said the committee's figures showed that the federal

The WAR TODAY AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE The downfall of Mussolini and the collapse of his Fascist regime strike me as likely to have a much greater effect on the morale of other Axis adherents than would have been the case had Mussolini and his government gone down to defeat in Italy with flag flying. It's one thing to admit to die with its boots on and another for it to go down with a bullet in its back while running away. Such an ignominious end is bound to trouble deep waters in other Axis-inclined countries where people are wondering whether their own governments are worth fighting for. Germany itself will be one of these. So will Bulgaria, Rumania, Hungary and Finland. As Italy is being knocked out of the war, so will Rumania—and perhaps without great pressure. A few more devastating raids such as the liberators carried out over the Rumanian oil refineries at Ploesti yesterday should set the country to shaking. As these Axis adherents fold up what forms of government are they going to select for their rehabilitation? I think it's safe to say that they will be waded heavily by the guidance of the Allied nation under Christian Science Service. "Love" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, August 1.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "Know therefore that the Lord thy God, he is God, the faithful God, which keepeth covenant and mercy with them that love him and keep his commandments to a thousand generations: Wherefore it shall come to pass, if ye hearken to these judgments, and keep, and do them, that the Lord thy God shall keep unto thee the covenant and the mercy which he swore unto thy fathers: And he will love thee, and bless thee, and multiply thee." (Deut. 7:9-12)

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science Textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "That God is a coporeal being nobody can truly affirm. The Bible represents Him as saying: 'Thou canst not see My face, for there shall no man see Me, and live.' Not materially but spiritually we know Him as divine Mind, as Life, Truth and Love. We shall obey and adore in proportion as we apprehend the divine nature and love Him understandingly, waring no more over the coposeity, but rejoicing in the affluence of our God."

Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR August 2, 1943

Opening of Tobacco Market The Greenville tobacco market opened the new season today with very large breaks. It had not been expected very much tobacco would come at the opening, as the farmers are so busy curing that comparatively little of the crop has been graded, and there was also much uncertainty about prices that most of them wanted to hold back until they knew about how it would sell. Yet the first sale was considerably larger than had been anticipated. Six out of the seven warehouses were ready to begin business today and each of them was well patronized.

About 150,000 pounds were reported sold. As was expected, the prices opened very low and there is complaint among the farmers. It makes a poor outlook for the season, so far as prices go, but as the trust has control of the situation, there is no remedy.

Visitors in Greenville Staff Sergeant and Mrs. Dana L. Reed are visitors in Greenville, at the home of Mrs. Reed's mother, Mrs. Lydia Trel. Sgt. Reed is stationed at Camp Roberts, Calif. After spending a few days here, they will continue their trip to Maine and then return to California.

Another Backyard Victory Garden Mr. and Mrs. Milo Smith of East Fifth street, guests at the party, reported that their backyard victory garden has been producing abundantly. In Mrs. Smith's pantry snags led in the number of jars but she also has butter beans, tomatoes, soup mixture, greens, corn, bread and butter pickles, and jelly. Although she has never canned before she is thoroughly enjoying the experience and she plans to can more of the vegetables listed and some pickles.

Mr. Smith declares that making a victory garden in the backyard is easier and more fun than keeping the grass out. Some of his tomatoes weighed one pound and 4 ounces each. They have stored onions and are transplanting collards for fall and winter use.

Miss Swann Returns The good news comes from Miss Louise Swann at her home in Murray, Ky., that she will soon return to her work in Greenville. She has been away during July for her vacation. Incidentally, she has helped to keep the family "well-nourished" and to can the winter supply of food as well as visiting the local cannery in her home town. Miss Alice Strawn is now having her well-earned vacation.

Correction The last paragraph which appeared in this column Friday should have read as follows: "It was very interesting and inspiring to visit with Miss Alice Strawn, Superintendent and Mrs. June Rose, Mrs. E. B. Ferguson and Mrs. P. T. Anthony, at the Greenville Cannery on Wednesday and to see the splendid work being done there."

Meat Committee Studying Permits Recently appointed by the Pitt County USD War Board as serving as a part of the Food Distribution Administration, is the Pitt County War Meat Committee. It is the responsibility of this committee to govern the distribution of meats not only for the consumer but for the dealer, retailer and slaughterer.

These responsibilities are governed by the fact that legal permits must be obtained by slaughterers, outchers, and farmers, who kill meat for sale, in order to standardize the critical situation of distribution. The County War Meat Committee will acquaint itself fully with the need for and objectives of the permit system, as well as the black market problems, and it will also disseminate information concerning these by all possible means, including public meetings, group meetings with housewives, the meat industry, farmers, local public officials and public organizations through newspapers and radio.

It will create and maintain a strong public support of the meat program. So that this extremely important food will serve its fullest possibilities as a weapon of war. Under the technical guidance of the area supervisor, it will call the provisions of the slaughter permit order to the attention of persons who are not aware of its existence or operating in willful disregard of it, and obtain such compliance as is possible by persuasion, dissemination of information, or other informal means.

These slaughter permits shall be issued generally on the basis of the 1941 slaughter for delivery. For instance, a farmer comes into the Pitt County USDA War Board office located in the Agricultural building and applies for a permit to slaughter for sale or delivery. He must furnish information as to his information and application is submitted to the special meat committee which examines the evidence and grants the applicant whatever quota seems fair and just.

Permits are granted "farm slaughterers" who must be bona fide farmers residing on their farms and not killing beyond 10,000 pounds of live weight for delivery. Others are issued "butcher" permits until they reach 300,000 pounds of livestock when they become "local slaughterers."

As one goes up in the scale naturally the restrictions become somewhat more rigid.

Your meat committee is now actively reviewing evidence as to the correctness of the permits issued so far, and ironing out such inequalities as may exist. It asks for the active cooperation of butchers, meat dealers and housewives.

Any excuse you can give for not upping your payroll savings will please Hitler, Hirohito and puppet Mussolini.

Hoyle of Winterville, Mrs. Irwin Clark of Scotland Neck, Mrs. C. E. Taylor of Charlotte and Mrs. R. M. Squires of Wake Forest.

Mr. Carroll was born June 13, 1921, a son of the late S. C. and Lucy Belle Langston Carroll of Winterville. He was educated in the Winterville High School and at Campbell College. He was a member of the Winterville Baptist church.

Active pall bearers will be Ransom Hoyle, Paul Hunsucker, Vernon Cox, Elwood Davenport, Royce Hunsucker and W. A. Forbes, Jr.

Copies Of New Book Received Mrs. Ethel R. Watters, of the home economics faculty of the Carolina Teachers College, has just received notice the first copies of the new edition of Youth Makes the Choice, have been released, a book by her late husband, Dr. H. E. Watters, on which she had originally collaborated and which she has herself revised for the second edition. It was first published in 1938.

The fact that in the first edition Dr. Watters listed his wife on the title page as his assistant in the work on the book and said in the preface that she had "been active in collecting and arranging material, in transcribing notes, and in the actual writing of the book" from the time the first note was taken, indicates her preparedness for the task she undertook in revision.

The book written, according to a new Foreword by Mrs. Watters, "to help young people solve for themselves the major problems of their lives," grew out of a life devoted to the counseling of youth. Though Dr. Watters considered both medicine and the ministry before settling on his own life work, he finally chose to enter the field of education because he felt called to train young people, "to help them discover and measure their talents, choose wisely their life work, and to get the training for it." From the time he became president of a Baptist junior college in his twenties until his death in 1938 he served ed various colleges of his denomination including Georgetown College, Kentucky, and Union University, Jackson, Tenn., as president. His book is dedicated to the young people of America in special memory of those who obtained their training under his leadership.

Youth Makes the Choice has received warm praise from leaders in work with young people, such, for instance, as that accorded it by Dr. Daniel A. Poling, widely known pastor of the Baptist Temple in Philadelphia, who called it "the most complete volume of its kind, and the most timely, I think, that has come from any source." Said Dr. Poling, "It belongs in every library and should be available to all who are interested in the vocational guidance of youth."

In the foreword to the new edition, Mrs. Watters declares that no change has been made in any part of the book based on the author's own personal experiences or expressing his own philosophy. Instead, she has brought up to date the factual material on conditions affecting young people and revised the bibliography on material on guidance to include the best of the articles and books on the subject that have appeared since the book was first published.

Acknowledgement of the valuable assistance rendered by Dr. Lucile Turner, head of the English Department of East Carolina Teachers College, in reading the manuscript and offering suggestions, is made in

AMERICAN RED CROSS Pitt County Chapter News

Services To The Armed Forces In its club operations overseas, the Red Cross in this war has developed, at the request of the military authorities, an innovation in the field of welfare service. At one point or another in nearly every theatre of operations, there has been established one, if not many, American Red Cross clubs. The primary function of such a club is to provide sleeping and eating facilities for men in our armed forces who are on leave in cities of central location. Some clubs have sleeping accommodations for as few as 20 or 25 men, while others in large cities have capacity for hundreds of men at a time. Other important functions of the clubs are to provide places where soldiers and sailors may read, write, dance, play games, and otherwise be entertained or just rest and relax. Many clubs have restaurants, snack bars, and information centers where arrangements may be made for going to theatres, movies, sight-seeing trips, picnics, fishing trips, and to do such other things as the facilities of the community may offer. At the end of April, Great Britain had 55 clubs which was still the largest number in any theatre of operation. The number of clubs in Australia had increased to 20, and in Africa to 15. The total number of club personnel overseas at the end of April was 776 workers, consisting largely of club directors, assistant club directors, program directors, assistant program directors, personal service directors and staff assistants.

Funeral of Graham Coward Thursday

Funeral services for Cadet Edward Graham Coward, 23, of the U. S. Army Air Corps, who died last Thursday of uremic poisoning in a government hospital near Sacramento, Calif., will be held at the home of his parents Mr. John H. Coward, Pitt county auditor, and Mrs. Coward, of Ayden, Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Rev. W. H. Brunson, pastor of the Ayden Christian Church, will officiate. Burial will be in the Ayden cemetery. A military escort is accompanying the body to Ayden.

Pallbearers will be county officials, members of the Ayden Rotary Club and the Ayden Christian Church board. Mr. and Mrs. Coward are expected to arrive in Rocky Mount with the body of their son Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. They went to California about two weeks ago, when they received a message that their son was seriously ill.

Surviving are his parents, two sisters, Miss Gertrude Coward of Wilmington, and Miss Frances Coward of Richmond, Va.; two brothers, John H. Coward, Jr., of Grifton, and Reid Coward of Ayden. Mr. Coward volunteered in the Army Air Corps early last year and was called to duty in December. He entered the Pre-Flight Training School at Santa Ana, Calif., and was later transferred to Mather Field, Calif., where he was in training as an aerial navigator. He graduated from Ayden High School and from the school of engineering at State College in the class of 1942. He was a Pi Kappa Phi and president of the fraternity during his senior year at college.

Funeral Spurgeon C. Carroll Tomorrow

Spurgeon C. Carroll of Winterville, who died in Dallas, Texas, last Thursday, will be buried in Winterville Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The body arrived here this morning. It will remain at Wilkerson's Funeral Home until Tuesday morning, when it will then be taken to the home of Mr. Carroll's stepmother, Mrs. Ellen Lewis Carroll, in Winterville. Funeral services will be conducted there Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. J. E. Cole, Baptist minister of Winterville, will officiate. Burial will be in

Conferences Plan For Postwar Demobilization

Washington, Aug. 2—(AP)—What are you going to do after D-day, the day war ends?

The first impact of peace will be felt by the homefront workers in government agencies and arsenals, war plants and civilian shops.

Demobilization of the armed forces will take time but demobilization of the home front may take place in some jobs overnight. War contracts will be cancelled, industries will start converting to peacetime production.

The longer a plant takes to convert, the longer workers will be out of a job.

Only one million persons are unemployed now but in the first six or nine months after peace the unemployed now but in the first six or nine months after peace the unemployed may total 10 million.

That is the estimate of the 12-man conference—composed of civilians and military leaders—appointed by President Roosevelt to outline plans for readjusting Americans from war to peace when the time comes.

The board believes complete demobilization—civilian and military—may take two years. There will be tremendous shiftings in that time, in jobs and industry.

The conference has suggested arrangements for demobilized military, which the demobilized civilians may not expect, such as mitering out pay.

That this the conference did suggest—in its report to the President last week—for civilian workers to help them bridge that gap from war production to peacetime production, the time in which they may be out of a job.

Extension and improvement of unemployment compensation and of old age and survivors insurance, which might insure older workers to retire and leave room for younger ones, federal assistance in providing extension of educational services for workers displaced from jobs because of demobilization.

Most war workers in manufacturing establishments will be eligible for unemployment compensation under the unemployment insurance laws of the various states, the national Planning Association points out, but those existing laws provide an average weekly payment of only $10.

The conference called upon the government's bureau of labor statistics for an estimate of how long demobilization—military and civilian—might take. The bureau said: Perhaps two years.

The conference remembered, too, what happened here in Washington the day after the first World War armistice: Many large and important offices were deserted. Leading officials and run-of-the-mill employees stamped in all directions looking for peacetime jobs.

The resulting confusion was indescribable, said the conference, warning that the same thing could happen again unless plans are laid now. It said:

"In any event it seems unlikely that the 'dollar-a-year' men and other important key officials in the war agencies will be able for any considerable period after the termination of the conflict to resist the pressure to return to their own business and employment."

So the conference suggested: The government now should learn which individuals in war agencies desire and are qualified to remain in the service of the government as a career; from among them key individuals should be selected and so placed that they can acquire a full understanding of the business of the agency and its methods of work with a view to continuing the operations of the agency after the termination of the war in accordance with then existing need.

Into this problem of demobilizing the home front comes the method of demobilizing the armed forces which was fairly simple after the last war when there were no long-range plans: Service men were turned out as quickly as the services could manage it.

The NPA recalls: The army's system of priorities discharge was based upon the usefulness of particular classes of men to the army itself with practically no attention paid to civilian experience or responsibility of the men who were serving.

But now the conference—keeping its eye on that critical home front—recommends demobilization of the armed forces with selection based as follows: Service men whose service had been particularly hard should be demobilized before those whose service had been restricted or whose more recently inducted.

Domestic status reversing the method of induction, this would be the order of demobilization: Married with dependents; married without dependents; unmarried with dependents; unmarried without dependents.

Occupation: Demobilization preference should be given those men trained in fields where domestic shortages were occurring such as industry, business, agriculture or the professions.

NEW CURRENCY FOR INVADERS

New Allied Money Is Now Being Used In Sicily

Washington, Aug. 2—(AP)—An Allied military currency—first of its kind—is being used by invasion troops in Sicily, the Treasury and War Departments announced jointly today.

Printed by the Treasury's Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington, the money, which bears the words "issued in Italy," was flown to Sicily shortly after the Allied landing and now is serving "as the medium of exchange in that part of Italy that we now hold."

In addition to the worth designation on the face, the four freedoms—freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom from want and freedom from fear—are prominently listed on the reverse side. All of the legends is in English.

Previously American forces in North Africa had used regular United States currency with a distinctive gold seal while the British used a "military pound." The new currency takes the place of both of these and is used by all invading troops.

Preparation of the Allied currency together with postage stamps also introduced under the same plan, began four months ago when high officials of the Treasury, the War and Navy Departments, State Department and British officials laid the groundwork in a series of extraordinary conferences.

No inking of the project was ever put into writing, no word spoken over a telephone and no discussion carried outside the conference rooms. Basic printing of the notes started early in June, with the name of the country and the currency designation omitted. Huge stocks of the partially finished notes were thus accumulated.

When news of the Sicilian invasion was flashed on the night of July 9, key employees of the Bureau of Engraving waited by their telephones for the go-ahead signal. This however, was not given until Tuesday, July 13.

Huge presses immediately began to roll, over-printing the partially completed notes with the identifying legends.

On July 19 two transport planes carrying seven tons of the military money took off, reaching Sicily on July 22. Other shipments have since followed.

Nazi forces. Many of the Italian troops returning from the Balkans are from northern Italy.

To perhaps eight Nazi divisions stationed along the Po for just such an emergency before Mussolini quit have been added at least 10 more, most of them from Austria and France. (The 18 divisions might total from 180,000 to 270,000 men.)

Of these reinforcing divisions, two were stationed immediately north of Milan, reports from Italy said.

The German defense plan is founded on the idea that three or four Nazi divisions now in Sicily will be sacrificed or, at best, will fight a delaying action back up the Italian peninsula.

Nearby Madrid was rife with rumors about developments in Rome itself, but so far they seemed nothing but rumors. All agreed armistice negotiations were underway but all disagreed about the status and avenues of negotiation.

Some of these nebulous reports insisted Badooglio still pinned his faith on Vatican conferences, where the Germans themselves were reported sounding out the Allied attitude toward a negotiated peace despite the reiterated demands for unconditional surrender.

The Americans took 10,000 more prisoners in the fall of Mistretta alone. The majority were Nazis, giving the Americans their largest bag of Germans.

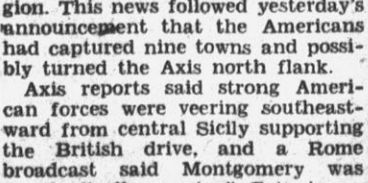

Both American and Canadian forces were battling through high ground frequently reaching an altitude of 2,500 feet, studded with German machine-gun positions and covered by Axis heavy artillery.

The capture of San Stefano put the Americans in full control of a major road running from there southward through Nicosia and gave them a strategic artery for quick transport of troops and guns through the vital north central region. This news followed yesterday's announcement that the Americans had captured nine towns and possibly turned the Axis north flank.

Axis reports said strong American forces were veering southeastward from central Sicily supporting the British drive, and a Rome broadcast said Montgomery was "methodically nearing" Catania.

Reported Killed

Virginia Gayda (above), former editor of the Giornale d'Italia and long known as Mussolini's "mouthpiece," was reported killed during anti-Fascist rioting after Il Duce's downfall, according to word reaching Madrid from Italy.

Gayda was also reported a suicide and a prisoner charged with high treason in other rumors circulating from Italy.

Five enemy planes were shot down over Sicily, besides the eight destroyed over Italy itself, while one Allied plane was lost in all operations, headquarters said.

Allied seapower again carried the war to the Italian mainland, with warships bombarding the port of Vibo Valentia Marina, on the south side of the gulf of San Eufemia 50 miles northeast of Messina, a rail-headquarters said.

Both target areas at Naples and Capodichino were "well covered by bomb bursts," the headquarters communique stated, and eight Axis planes were shot down in aerial battles.

Fortress planted 500-pound bombs on two troop transports in Naples harbor, blew up a gas works, and again battered the railway station, which was described officially as "almost completely destroyed."

At Capodichino, great new holes were blown in already-damaged hangers and administration buildings and a "large number" of parked aircraft was destroyed. Destruction increased as big oil dump exploded, spewing burning fuel over a group of big transports nearby.

Here occurred the aerial battles in which eight enemy interceptors were downed. Lightnings escorted the big bombers.

The Italian high command admitted "considerable damage" and listed 10 persons killed and 63 injured at Naples. It said five Allied raiders were shot down.

Other Allied planes ranged ahead of the attacking ground troops in Sicily, with medium bombers hammering the port of Milazzo, used to bring in Axis reinforcements, and other planes hitting the vital communication centers of Adrano and Randazzo in the diminishing Axis bridgehead.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By MARY L. DOUGLAS

A MISSIONARY TO AMERICA
When the history of these significant days is written, the name of Madame Chiang Kai-shek will stand out in luminous letters of light. She is not only a woman of great charm and beauty, of high patriotism and noble purpose—best of all she is a true daughter of the living God, who gladly acknowledges that all she is and has come from His hand.

Although it has appeared numerous times in press and magazine during recent months, I venture nevertheless to call the attention of my readers to that fine statement which appeared in the article "I Confess My Faith," published by the Methodist Church.

Madam Chiang tells of the first period of her life, when she wanted to do something for her country. She realized that her life lacked something. Then came the second phase, when she was driven back to her mother's God and knew that there was a power greater than hers. "Thus I entered into the third period where I wanted to do not my will but God's. I used to pray that God would do this or that. Now I pray only that God will make His will known to me. I wait to feel His leadership, and His guidance means certainty.

"With me religion is a very simple thing. It means to try with all my heart and soul and strength and mind to do the will of God. People have been prophesying for some years that the day would come when China would send missionaries to America. It has come sooner than we expected.

HOW DO YOU SPEND YOUR MONEY?

The War Advertising Council in cooperation with publishers all over America has begun a concerted drive against unnecessary buying, which in turn produces only one thing—inflation. Pointing out that Americans this year will earn something like 45 billion dollars more than they will need to live, giving many of us more money than we have ever had before, the Council in its effort to control this extra spending power, has adopted the slogan:

Use it up—
Wear it out—
Make it do—
Or do without!

And it's a good slogan. But the trouble is—it won't work. It won't work if, after reading this article, we lay down the paper and forget about it. It won't work, if we say to ourselves: "That's for the other fellow—not for me." It won't work if, every time someone yells "ration," we rush down to buy out the town. It won't work, if we listen to salesmen: "This is the last we'll have," "better buy this, we're getting short," etc., etc. It won't work, if we just buy something because we "think" we'll need it later on, or we "think" it will be short. It won't work, if we let ourselves become like the little boy—with "eyes bigger than our stomachs."

But it WILL work! Right here in Greenville—and in every community—if we are honest enough with ourself to put the slogan into actual practice.

The Government, in an attempt to do its part, among other things, has curtailed all "sale" advertising, unless it is a bona-fide clearance; has forbidden the "marking-up" of "values," and "pressure" salesmanship.

Now, it's up to us to do our part.

There is ample food and merchandise for all our needs. True, we may not be able to obtain the exact color, or size, or material, or the particular article we want, but there are plenty of other things which will do just as well, and to date no one has been hurt by their use.

So let's make a beginning: Let's memorize the slogan—and take it with us every time we go shopping.

Let's buy carefully—only the things we actually need.

Let's begin to be thrifty, and teach our children to do likewise. (The Lord knows some of them need it).

Let's think more about that little "nest egg" we'll have after the war, and less about what we "want" today. (And a great many of

MURDER IN TIN

By CARL A. PETERSON

Chapter 22
I stared at Johnson and tried to think. Lew Fall had felt that our best bet would be to pick up Johnson and his location, and after they had done so, to close the net.

Johnson, of course, had ripped all our nets. His new scheme, no doubt, included techniques to break any other nets of ours. He was clever and he had a good chance to ever defeat us. The dust we had thrown at him had whirled back into our own eyes. He had only been taken in by the pretended love affair.

And as I glanced at Lila's frightened face, her large brown eyes moving from Johnson to me and back again to Johnson, I knew that it was no longer pretense. What had been pretense had changed under the impact of the last few days into the real thing. Time had worked for the Gestapo and not for us.

"What about it?" he said. "What about it?" The veins on his temples were filled with blood. The heat of his play was everywhere visible on his face. He was contemplating the moves open to me and what they meant for himself. Chevalle didn't count. He, too, had been over-run by Johnson's panzer drive. Suddenly Johnson approached me. "Caldor, get in the bathroom there! You know the deal. You know it now. Get in!"

I stood there. I knew that if I jumped at him he would shoot. I knew that he would kill her, too. He would keep on shooting until he was killed himself. I knew everything about Johnson in that second. "What about her?"

"She gets free as soon as we get her old man. Get in there." I stood there not knowing what to do. I couldn't trust him. I thought, He would kill her. And he would kill us both if I stood there. "Get in," he cried. "I'm pulling the trigger if you don't start walking when I tell you to. Walk."

I walked. I walked across the room into the small bathroom. I heard a key lock. I heard footsteps outside and then I heard nothing. My unconscious spell didn't last long. I came to and pulled on the knob of the heavy old-fashioned mahogany door. The door was the only exit. There was no windows. I rapped the door with my shoulder until the bone felt splintered. I pounded the door. I shouted. My voice had to carry through two doors and the space between them. All the time I kept thinking that our men were sure to pick up Johnson and Chevalle.

But when assistance came and I was released, I found out that none of our people had seen Lila and the two agents. Staggered, I phoned Lew Fall.

When he arrived in Room 12, he tossed questions at me. He listened and then sent a man after the building plans of the club Opalo. "Why don't you sit down?" he said to me.

I sat down. "They've licked us." "No they haven't." "They've got her." "Do you mind a personal question?" "I know what it is. Yes." "I assure you that they haven't licked us." "They've licked us." "No. I appreciate your frame of mind."

"I should have called his bluff."

"From what you tell me, Johnson wasn't bluffing. If you would've called for help, he would've killed you and himself. A cornered Gestapo rat is dangerous."

"You're saying that to make me feel better?"

"No, I'm not. I don't know how you will take this. But our primary motive is still the tin. That's our primary motive. Why don't you go back to the hotel and get some sleep?"

"I can't sleep." He glanced at me, his own face sleepless and alert. "Then listen to what I have to say. Evidently, Johnson had a pretty accurate notion of what we were up to. Instead of our invalidating that strategy, Gestapo strategy has invalidated ours."

I felt terrible as he spoke. I couldn't say a thing.

"However," he said. "It's not too hopeless. Their strategy is brilliant but it's also desperate. They, Johnson and Mirtilo, know that we will close in on them or try to, once they have the discovery maps in their possession. Yet they are counting on getting possession of the map and slipping through us out of the country."

"They are counting on one of their short waves still at large to get them passage out. Passage on a Nazi sub. We leaned towards that unless they have the proper passage. The members of each ring know each other. Each ring has a leader. Each ring has a specific job. Instructions come in by shortwave. Johnson realizes that Berling could bloodily calculate on some of its agents turning government witness. Johnson knows this. He must succeed or face a prison sentence if he turns government witness."

"As for Chevalle, his position even more desperate than Johnson. Psychologically he still hasn't made the switch in his own mind from merchant to spy. He was flustered panicked when I phoned him. I wasn't listening. I was thinking to hell with his logic. Lila was gone."

The first was launched 88 days after the contract was awarded. The ships are 170 feet long.

Allies Breach German Line In Sicily

The capture by United States forces of Nicosia (flag symbol and arrow) and the Canadians' capture of Agira (flag symbol and arrow) threaten to trap the German defenders of Catania or force a general retreat to Messina. The Seventh Army column under Lieut. George S. Patton, now past Nicosia, appears to be striking out for Troina and Randazzo on the way to Taormina (open arrows), which would if successful, cut off the German escape route to Messina. The Canadians are now within 20 miles of Catania and threaten that city from the west.

Washington—The war seems definitely to have sidetracked the highly controversial antilynch legislation issue.

Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind), chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee and long a supporter of bills to penalize peace officers in communities where lynchings occur, puts it this way:

"We've got the votes to pass such a bill in the Senate, but the only way to halt an inevitable southern filibuster against such legislation is to adopt a cloture rule to limit debate."

"This requires a two-thirds majority of those present. The Senate three times has refused to invoke cloture. Many supporters of the legislation itself opposed the rule."

"It seems futile to bring the bitterness of this issue with the nation at war. I, for one, can't take the responsibility with the cards stacked against us."

Van Nuys and Senator Wagner (D-NY) and Capper (D-Kan) were Senate sponsors of the anti-lynching bill filibustered to death in 1940 in that chamber.

Such legislation cleared the House in 1922, 1937 and 1940 only to die in the Senate on all three occasions.

Walter White, secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, says his group, with the help of church and labor organizations, will insist on action this year if possible.

An anti-lynching bill introduced by Rep. Gavagan (D-NY) is pending in the House Judiciary Committee. White says the committee has been too slow about acting.

"We have a petition in the House to discharge the committee from jurisdiction over the bill," White said recently. "We'll get the necessary 218 signatures to bring it to the floor for passage soon after the recess."

"We are counting on Senator Wagner to bring it up in the Senate when the bill reaches there."

White said his association was attempting to persuade Senate supporters of the legislation they will have to vote for cloture.

Meanwhile, a House-approved bill to prohibit collection of poll taxes as a qualification for voting is pending before a Senate Judiciary sub-committee headed by Senator McFarland (D-Ariz). A similar bill was filibustered to death in the Senate last fall. "We are going to concentrate on the poll tax repealer first," White said. "If we can win votes for cloture, it will pass quickly."

Yanks Breezing Along To Third Straight Pennant

Cardinals Having An Easy Time Staying Ahead In National

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Like the brook in Tennyson's poem the New York Yankees keep rolling along towards their third straight American league pennant and seventh in eight years.

Less than month ago — July 4 — the Yanks seemed on the verge of collapse. They dropped five out of six to the Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers and figuratively hung on to first place by the skin of their teeth. The Tigers, along with the Washington Senators and Chicago White Sox, all were closing in for the kill.

Overnight the situation changed. The Yanks started to get good pitching and good hitting at the same time. They swept four straight from the Browns, took four of five from the White Sox, four of four from the Athletics, three of five from the Browns and two of three from the Indians before their current series with Detroit.

They lost the first game of the series to the Tigers on Saturday, but turned around yesterday and beat the Bengals twice, 5 to 1 and 2-1, to chalk up their 21st victory in their last 27 starts.

First baseman Nick Etten personally accounted for both triumphs by whacking out three homers. He socked two in the opener that ended a seven-game winning streak for Tommy Bridges. His circuit clout in the nightcap followed a base on balls to Budd Metheny and Nullified Hal White's feat of holding the league leaders to four hits.

Spud Chandler won his 13th game against three defeats in gaining the nod over White. The Tigers had the tying run at third when Don Ross popped out.

The White Sox stayed in second place, 8 1-2 games behind, by sweeping both ends of their twin bill from the Athletics, 5 to 1 and 15 to 9. In stretching their winning streak to four, the Sox outscored the A's in both games behind the eight-hit pitching of Buck Ross in the opener and Joe Haynes' relief twirling in the nightcap.

In the national league the first place St. Louis Cardinals increased their lead to 11 games by outpacing the collapsing Brooklyn Dodgers, 7 to 1 and 5 to 4. The Cards won the first easily behind Harry Brecheen's six-hit pitching, but had to come from behind with a four run outburst in the sixth to win the afterpiece. Catchers Mickey Owen and Walker Cooper were banished in the opener for fighting.

Rip Sewell came up with a three-hit mound performance for his 17th victory to save the day from being a complete flop for the Pittsburgh Pirates. Sewell's feat beat the Braves, 7 to 1, after the Boston Red Sox came from behind in the club had won the opener, 6 to 3, in 19 innings. It was the 11th straight victory for the 35-year-old Sewell. Cincinnati pulled within one-half game of the third place Dodgers by beating the New York Giants twice, 5 to 3 and 3 to 2 in 13 innings. The ninth inning of the nightcap to tie the score and won out in the 13th on Bert Haas' long fly that brought home Eric Tipton from third.

Washington walked the St. Louis Browns twice, 5 to 3 and 20 to 6 in an old-fashioned slugfest. Rae Scarborough scattered 10 Brown hits in taking the opener, his last game before entering the Navy as an Ensign. The Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians split their twin bill. The Indians won the first game, 8 to 6, and the Red Sox the second, 4 to 1.

The Phillies stopped — temporarily, at least — the climb of the Chicago Cubs towards a first division berth by whipping the Bruins twice, 4 to 1 and 5 to 3.

CHAMPIONS TO TAKE PART IN TARBORO MEET

Contest of Swimming Stars To Get Under Way Friday

Tarboro, Aug. 2—Tarboro will be the scene of some of the world's greatest swimming talent during the ninth annual Carolinas A. A. U. and junior national swimming championships beginning Friday, August 6th and continuing through Sunday afternoon, August 8th.

Heading the list of world record holders and American record holders is Adolf Keller, now in the U. S. Navy, who will attempt to break his own world record marks on Saturday and Sunday. Ensign Jack Smith of New York City, Metropolitan and New York state diving title holder will enter the diving events. One of the youngest contestants to enter is the 15-year-old son of Matt Mann, famous coach of the University of Michigan's swimming team. He will come from Chikopi, Ontario, Canada, where he is attending a summer camp. Lorraine Fischer from New York City and the holder of 19 American breaststroke records is coming down to compete in the special 100 meter breaststroke open event on August 8th. Miss Fischer is the American record holder at this distance. One of her competitors will be North Carolinas winner of the Louis E. Teague Memorial award last year, Peggy Pate of the Goldsboro Swimming Association and the holder of the American 50 meter record in this stroke.

Nine girls representing the Watchung Swimming Club of Newark, N. J., will compete, among them Miss Pat McWhorter, holder of the Senior National 100 meter freestyle championship and the present indoor 100 yard National Junior backstroke record holder.

The Rocky Mount Swimming club will be represented in the men's 300 meter freestyle by Snooky Procter, Carolinas A. A. U. champion at this distance. An entry list of 175 to 200 swimmers is expected by the time the meet begins Friday morning.

The first day of the meet will see four junior national champions crowned. The women's junior national 150 meter relay will be held Friday afternoon and the women's 100 meter backstroke will be held Friday night. North Carolina's strongest teams in the women's 150 meter relay are expected to be from Tarboro and Goldsboro. Tarboro's team being chosen from All Hinson, Ruby Hudson, Ethel Laughlin, Frances Keeny and Barbara Moore. Goldsboro's team will be made up of Evelyn Barbee, Peggy Pate, Tootsie Powell and Celesta Gurganus.

Three entries in the Women's Junior National breaststroke Friday night will be Evelyn Barbee and Celesta Gurganus of Goldsboro; Ann Hinson, Frances Keeny and Ethel Laughlin of Tarboro. Saturday's program will be featured by two national events in the afternoon, the 200 meter breaststroke for women and that night, men 800 meter freestyle.

On Saturday night Governor J. Melville Broughton and his party will be present. Saturday night will also see the conclusion of the district championships.

A total of 60 events plus exhibitions and water ballet by the girls from Newark, N. J., demonstration of war-time functional swimming by men in the various branches of the services and diving exhibitions by Ensign Jack Smith and Buddy Crone, national junior diving champion of Goldsboro, will be featured daily. As in the past, newsreel camera men will be present for the various events.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Aug. 2—(AP)—You've heard a lot about post-war sports planning; here's some that really is going on... Willis Vance, a Cincinnati theater man, has been touring the big-time sports arenas and has drawn up complete plans for an arena to be built in Cincinnati after the war. It'll be located right in the center of things and Vance thinks he has eliminated the bad features of other places... And talk hereabouts is that one reason why Red Dutton didn't want to be National Hockey League President is that he's still thinking seriously about a place in Brooklyn for his Americans and he has friends with plenty of dough to build it... The Garden's contracts with the circus, rodeo, etc., might deprive Red's roost of some attractions, but he'd be in a good spot to cut in on the indoor track meet business.

Futile Question
Herb Simons' "Baseball Digest" reports that Casey Stengel recently received a letter from a young hurrer who wrote: "I'm also a first class utility player"... How many guys in the big leagues can you think of who could qualify for that title?

Monday Matinee
Those Georgia Marine gridders who raised Duke's hopes so much when they appeared on the campus have decided they won't play football this fall... Wonder if Uncle Sam's $50 per is below the union scale where they come from?... Golf ball manufacturers have discovered that re-processed pellets are about eight yards longer off the tee than new ones and that they'll stand as many as four re-coverings... Semi-pro baseball is feeling the war boom, too. The Kansas state tournament at Wichita paid out $11,000 in prizes, including $3,700 to the victorious port Riley team... Columnist Joe Palmer of "The Blood Horse" has this word for prospective buyers at the Lexington horse sales: "Kentucky still produces fast horses and about woment this deponent doesn't care to speak, but the whiskey situation is terrible."

Today's Guest Star

Romney Wheeler, Associated Press: "Jeff Dickson of Natchez, the old Paris sports promoter, is reported missing in action — and two bucks'll get you ten that when they find him he'll be booking fleeing Italians for a six-day foot-race against Gunder Haegg and Arne Andersson."

Headache Haven
Scribes who wondered why Athletics Directors of colleges that had dropped football wore most of the grins at last week's meeting found out when they heard tales like this from the "Navy" schools... At one New England college the "skipper" ruled that the trainees couldn't take part in athletics until the end of the first period (the middle of October) and then only the top 25 per cent of the class in the scholastic ratings could compete... "Why," he added, "the boys looked so glum that the college president picked up a few, took them out to a park seven miles from town for a swim and then helped raid the ice box for a few bottles of beer... When he told the C. O. about it, the guy looked up the regulations and said they'd gone beyond the five-mile limit — and, of course, beer was forbidden."

EVACUATION OF BERLIN BEGUN

Populace Fears City Will Be Next Allied Target

By JOHN COLBURN

Stockholm, Aug. 2—(AP)—Spurred by the stupendous air attacks on Hamburg, which have left that once great port a heap of smoking rubble, German authorities were reported speeding the evacuation of all non-essential civilians from Berlin today in fear that the city may be next on the Allied blitz list.

Advices from the German capital said leaflets were being circulated instructing women, children and elderly people to find homes with relatives outside Berlin or go to special evacuation areas prepared in eastern Germany.

The instructions, these dispatches declared, were issued during a day of frantic preparations as Berlin papers warned the population it must be prepared to meet bomb attacks on a scale never before seen in the capital.

A Berlin dispatch to Stockholm's Aftenbladet reported that "near panic" prevailed in the city and said that Berliners were out early yesterday in parks, squares and yards digging trenches and preparing family air raid shelters.

"All Germany is now impressed that a new phase of the bomb war is at hand and that for the first time a really serious situation confronts most people at home," the Berlin correspondent of the Swedish newspaper Dagens Nyheter wrote.

He said that all schools had been closed in Berlin and that pupils were being moved as rapidly as possible to the eastern evacuation area. Mothers and small children were being given an opportunity to accompany the students, the correspondent said.

Leaflets told women not employed in war work and elderly peoples that "it is your own interest to go to less threatened places."

Licenses Revoked
Raleigh, Aug. 2—(AP)—For the week of July 24-30, the State Highway Safety Division revoked 111 drivers' licenses. This brought the grand total of revocations since the division was organized to 50,282.

Sees Trouble For French
San Juan, Puerto Rico, Aug. 2—(AP)—Admiral George Robert, deposed high commissioner of Martinique and Guadeloupe in the Caribbean, says he believes that Generals Charles De Gaulle and Henri Giraud have created a situation that will divide France after peace comes.
In an interview yesterday he declared that Marshal Petain's supporters will never associate themselves with those who have worked against the Vichy government.

Airlifts Bombed
London, Aug. 2—(AP)—U. S. medium bombers raided German air fields at Merville and St. Omer in France today without loss, it was announced officially.
Squadrons of RAF, Dominion and Allied Spitfires escorted the bombers.
The Allied planes roared out in waves at dawn to continue the air war against Europe.

way stations of the Interborough and Independent lines. One special subway policeman or patrolman was posted at every stairway leading to subway stations and additional men were posted in the stations.

The new trouble came within an hour after Mayor LaGuardia had gone on the air for the second time and called on the "decent, law-abiding citizens of Harlem" to help curb the wave of disorders.

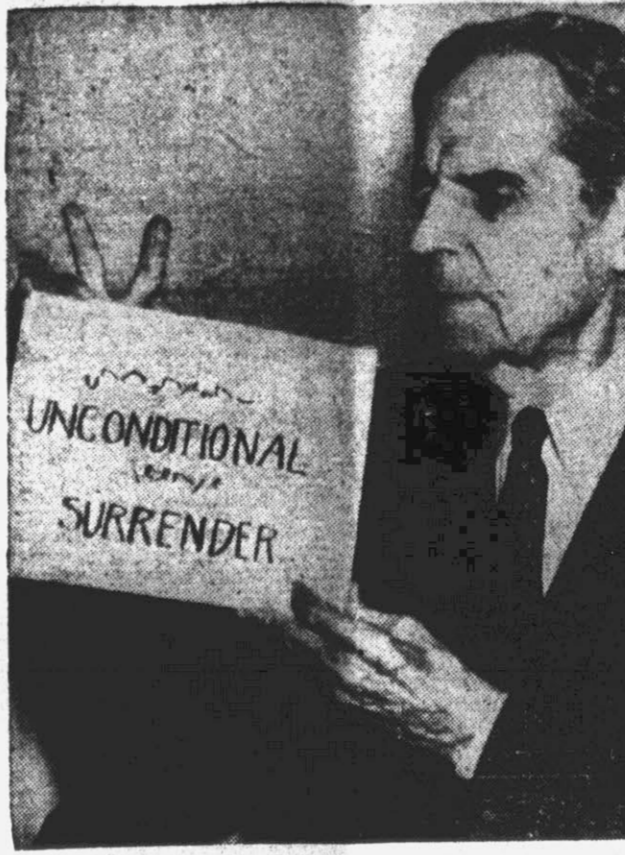

In his third radio appeal since trouble started last night when a policeman shot a Negro who was attempting to interfere with the officer's arrest of a Negro woman in a hotel lobby, the mayor emphasized what he had said earlier:

"This was not a race riot, there was no conflict between groups of our citizens, what happened was the thoughtless, criminal acts of hoodlums, reckless, irresponsible people. 'Shame has come to our city and sorrow to a great number of decent, law-abiding citizens residing in the Harlem district.'

"I saw the recklessness of this mob in action. Strange to say, there was no concerted action. Groups of hoodlums on their own initiative."
The mayor added that a group of citizens would address Harlem residents through the day through amplifiers set up in strategic sections.
"I ask the people to listen and cooperate," he added.
Five thousand patrolmen and 1,000 detectives were touring Harlem's streets and an extra detail of firemen was on duty under police command. All police leaves were cancelled.

Ex-Senator Has 'Global Alphabet'

Using a famous United Nations ultimatum, former Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma exhibits it in Washington by showing how the words look translated from English into the "global alphabet" he has devised and which he says is capable of breaking down the world's language barriers.

The mayor, Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine and Fire Commissioner Patrick Walsh set up headquarters at the West 123rd street police station and directed activities of police and firemen from that point.

Bullets, knives, bottles, fists, bricks and other missiles accounted for the majority of injuries.
Precipitating the disorders, police spokesman James Collins and Pct. Robert Bandy, 26, of Middletown, Conn.

Police said that Bandy interfered when Collins attempted to arrest a Negro woman on a disorderly conduct charge, grabbed the patrolman's nightstick and beat him on the head with it.

Collins, police reported, drew his service revolver and shot the soldier in the shoulder. Bandy was taken to a hospital where his condition was reported as good.

Harlem hospitals were overflowing with injured men and women, the majority Negroes. Some were being treated in corridors and as the injured list increased, police began taking patients to hospitals in other sections of the city.

Italians Given . . .

Hour after hour yesterday, Allied radio stations dinned into Italian ears the ominous warning of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower that aerial death and destruction would be the penalty if Badoglio's government continued to harbor German soldiers on Italian soil.

An immediate psychological effect on the populace was reported in Bern, which said that some 3,000,000 Italians already had fled the cities.
Officially, however, the government's position was no clearer than it was when first formed after Benito Mussolini was ousted as Premier.

The Algiers radio reported that in one of the Italian town marching women shouted "peace" and "set free our prisoners," but press reports and broadcasts from Rome continued to criticize the Allies for failing to offer Italy "a place of honor" among nations after Fascism was ended.

"We want to negotiate but we don't want to capitulate," was the tenor of Italian press and radio reaction.
Reports that Badoglio's aim in holding out was to win a form of neutrality which would remove Italy from the war but avoid an Allied occupation were met with a barrage of ridicule here. The press emphasized that Italy will be used as an Allied base for striking Germany whether she surrenders or prefers to be taken by force.

The nature of the discussions in the Vatican was not disclosed in the Madrid dispatches but they said that Luigi Cardinal Maglione, papal secretary of state, and Mgr. Giovanni Battista Montini, Vatican under-secretary of state, were meeting foreign diplomats "day and night."

One semi-official report received in Madrid said that Cardinal Maglione, after conversations with Harold Tittman, American charge d'affaires, called on Premier Badoglio at the royal palace.

With the Sicilian campaign running ahead of schedule, the general reaction was that the Allies were justified in letting Italy "stew in her own juice" for a time before signaling the bombers back into the air, but the reports that Pre-

City Court Tried Three Cases Today

Three cases were disposed of in City Recorder's court here this morning and three others were continued for hearing at later dates as follows:

Charlie Wells (colored) was found guilty of letting his dog run at large and bite Moses Green and was fined $3 and ordered to pay an additional $2.70 to cover a doctor's bill for the complaining witness.

Jake Watson (colored) was found guilty on a charge of assault on a female (his wife) and sentenced to 30 days in jail, assigned to work the roads, or pay the costs in the case.

Marion Knott Williams (white) charged with speeding, was sentenced to 30 days in jail suspended upon payment of costs and on condition he not drive an automobile for 30 days unless accompanied by his grandmother, Mrs. Emma L. Glasie.

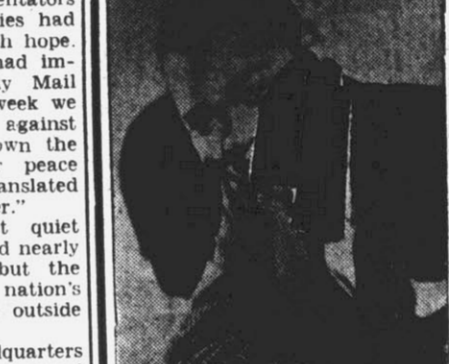

A charge of larceny against Jasper Louis Mills and Willie Hardison, (both colored) was continued until August 6.

A case against James Wilson (colored) charged with drunkenness was continued to August 6.
A case against Charlie Carmon (colored) charged with profanity, was continued until August 16.

lon stockings collected and shipped (Other shipments were made directly by chain stores); 26,892 pounds of fats. Also large quantities of tooth paste tubes and other tubes shipped directly by drug stores and chain stores.

This is a grand total of 7,070,753 pounds.
Special credit must be given Mr. John Fleming who has been chairman of the county collection of fats for the large collection made. His efforts, and this record gives credit to one of the very best records in the state in the collection of fats. Mr. Fleming will continue this collection with added emphasis.

Mrs. J. T. Little, director of the Citizens Service Corps of Pitt county and Miss Helene Long here in their efforts in the salvage program. Mr. Rose said it would be impossible to mention all the people who worked so hard in the salvage campaign, giving their time and money. The high school boys and girls, white and colored, the elementary school children, white and colored, the teachers in all the schools of every town in the county, the rural sections and the city of Greenville, the mayors of every town, the radio stations, the newspapers, and thousands of individuals have furnished their trucks, and given their time, in order that this scrap material might come in.

A new chairman will be appointed shortly, and other drives will be made during the fall and winter to continue the scrap campaign here in corporate profits in the present calendar year.

The Ohioan said he doubted this tax total could be increased more than $1,000,000,000 at the outside, with about $2,000,000,000 in new revenues obtained from individuals and from miscellaneous sources.
The administration has been searching around for $12,000,000,000 additional.
Senator Walter F. George (D-Ga.) chairman of the Senate Finance committee, said at his home in Vienna, Ga., yesterday he believed the upper limits of taxation would yield only five or six billions in new taxes. He warned that drastic increase in taxation rates might be ruinous to the middle classes, which he described as essential to any civilization.
In his first budget summation in five years, the President disclosed Saturday that while the over-all war spending outlook remains unchanged, the army now is expected to use $6,000,000,000 less than the $62,000,000,000 estimated for it last January, while the navy's share will be upped $4,000,000,000 to $28,000,000,000. Congressional circles viewed this as perhaps indicating greater offensive power was being sought for the Pacific theatre dominated by the navy.
