Cardinals Win Over Yankees

Morton Cooper pitched 1942 World Champions To Four To Three Victory Over New York Yankees In Second Game of 1943 Series

By SID FEDER Yankee Stadium, N. Y., Oct. 6.—(AP)—Burdened by news of the sudden death of his father, Mort Cooper pitched with his arm and his heart in a great competitive exhibition today to hurl the St. Louis Cardinals to a 4 to 3 victory over the New York Yankees and squared the 1943 World Series at one game apiece.

Before another tremendous throng of 68,578—just about 100 less than yesterday's first game turnout—the ace right hand fire-baller held the Yankees to six hits, was backed up by home run slugging by Marty (Slats) Marlon and Ray Sanders, and, holding on grimly through the tough spots, gained revenge for the two occasions in the 1942 series on which the Bombers drove him to the showers.

He and his catching brother, Walker, decided to stay on and help the Cards in the fall classic in spite of their loss, because this is the day Dad would have wanted them and between the two of them they brought the National League champions on even terms with the Yanks again.

The score: RHE St. Louis (NL), 001 300 000—4 7 2 New York (AL), 000 100 002—3 6 0

The lineup: St. Louis (NL) New York (AL) Kline, 2b Crane, 1b ss Walker, 1b Melhery, rf Musiar, rf Johnson, 3b W. Cooper, c Keller, lf Kurovski, 3b Dickey, c Sanders, 1b Eiten, 1b Litwiler, lf Gordon, 2b Marlon, ss Starnback, cf M. Cooper, p Bonham, p Umpires—Reardon (NL) plate; Rue (AL) first base; Stewart (NL) second base; Rommel (AL) third base.

First Inning Cardinals—Klein flied to Metheny. Walker fanned. Musial lifted a high fly to Starnback. No runs, no hits, no errors. Second Inning Yankees—Crossetti grounded out to Marlon. Metheny was thrown out by Klein. Johnson lined directly at Klein, who speared the ball with his gloved hand. No runs, no hits, no errors, no left.

Roosevelt Pleased With Progress Against Japs

Washington, Oct. 6.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's assertion that the Japanese are being beaten in the south Pacific was regarded today as possibly an indirect proof to those critics demanding more aid for the forces of General MacArthur.

The President left the impression by his remarks at a press-radio conference yesterday that MacArthur is doing very well with what he has, and it is the Japanese, in fact, who are unable to get enough material and men into the area.

Several U. S. senators, on a tour of the war zones, recently added their voices to public clamor for greater allocation of war tools to the New Guinea-Solomons sector—eventual springboard for giant naval forces toward Tokyo.

Mr. Roosevelt singled out the plight of the Japanese on the Kolombangara, noting that they are fleeing by small barges, many of which have been sunk by Allied airmen. Obviously, U. S. naval forces have drawn such a tight ring around the Solomons that the Tokyo ad-

AIRPORT WILL BE ENLARGED

Authorization To Extend Runways Approved

Extension of two of the runways at the city-county airport to 5,000 feet was assured today when city and county officials received information from the Civil Aeronautics Authority that authorization for the project had already been granted. City and county officials will meet in joint session at the city hall tomorrow to study the matter and plan necessary steps to acquire the additional lands needed.

With the exception of the planting of grass and the cleaning up of a few odds and ends the original project consisting of three 4,000 feet paved runways, taxiways and parking strips, has already been completed and is expected to undergo final official inspection within a few days and be turned over to the Navy Department for use as a Marine flying and training base.

About 10 days ago local officials were advised that the government was contemplating the extension of all three runways by 500 to 1,000 feet if the city and county would cooperate by procuring the necessary land. Local officials immediately advised that they would cooperate in every way possible and would await further notice from the government. Whether today's advice meant that only two of the runways would be extended was not known but local officials felt that in the end the third one also would be extended. The proposed extensions would greatly increase the capacity of the field and would place it on a higher rating for civilian and commercial use after the war.

JAPS DRIVE ON CHINESE BASES

Four Divisions Moving In From Manchuria

By CLYDE A. FARNSWORTH Chungking, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Chinese officials reported today that the Japanese were moving four divisions into China proper from Manchuria and interpreted the Japanese offensive in the Hanchow and Nanking area as principally an effort to save the Japanese mainland from China-based air attacks.

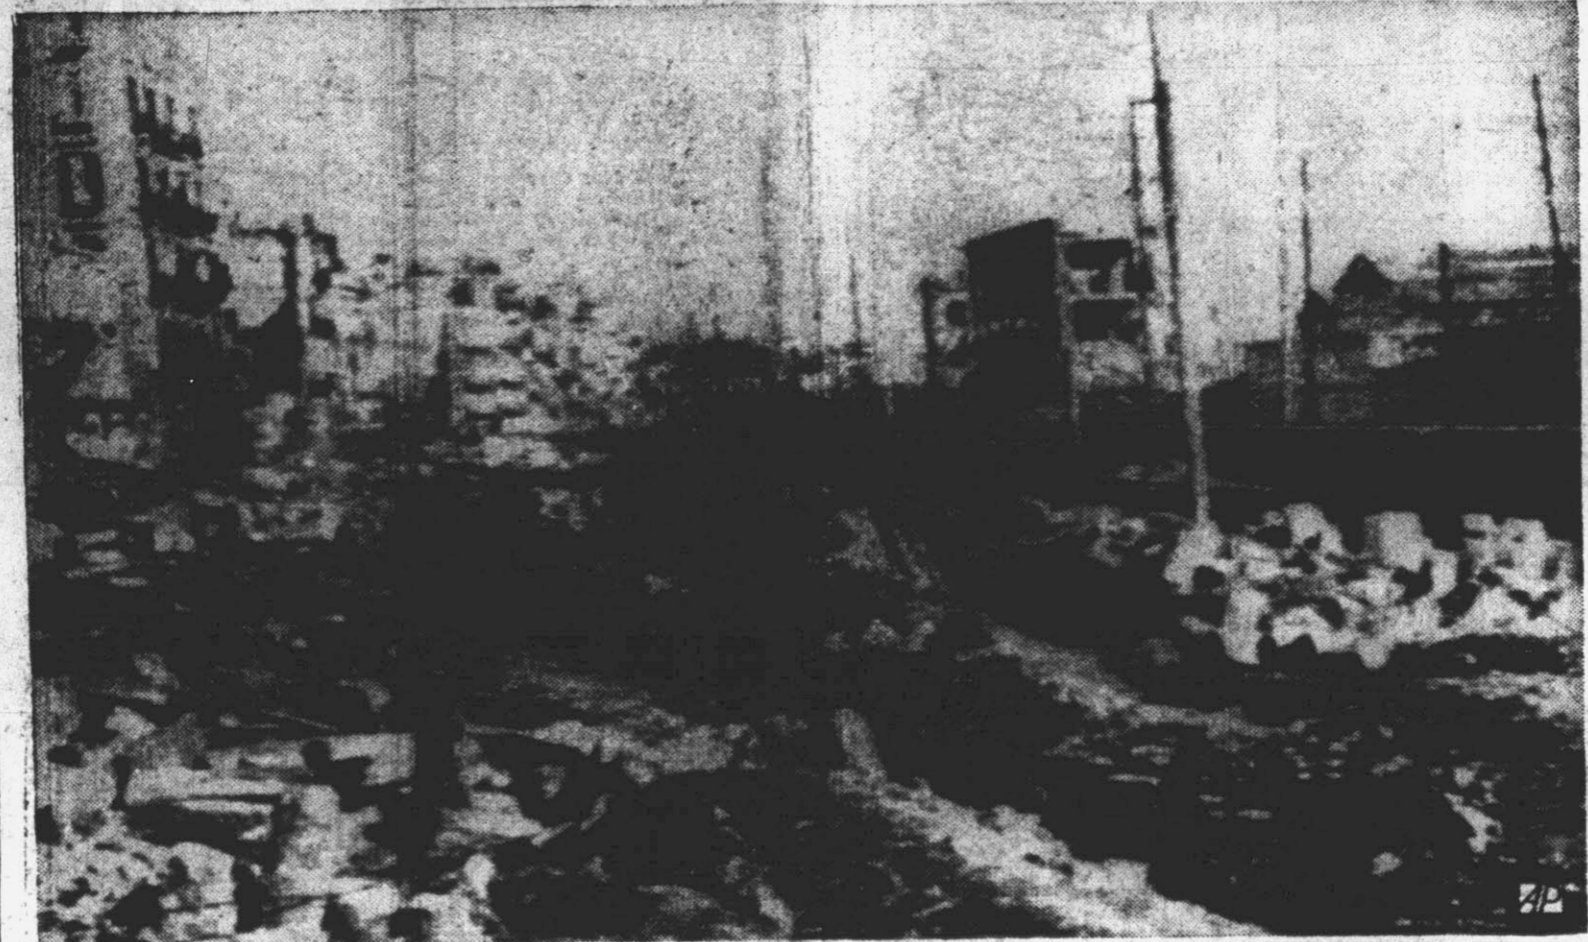

Asked in a press conference about the possibility of British troops taking an active role in the fighting in China proper, one official said, "It is not customary to give details of military plans in advance."

The Chinese said the four Japanese divisions from Manchuria might be employed in China, or be scheduled to go ultimately to some theater outside of China.

One official said that the Japanese were trying to extend their occupation in the vital eastern area of China, which is within 150 miles of Shanghai, by "grabbing some of those points to prevent his own territory from being bombed. The enemy also intends to do a little plundering, seizing resources and materials in that area."

SUCCESSES IN SOUTH PACIFIC

Naval Conference Indicates New Offensive Plans

Allied Headquarters in the South Pacific, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Australian troops have fought their way into New Guinea's Ramu valley, 60 miles from the Japanese coastal base of Madang, and the tightening American air and sea blockade in the central Solomons has increased the price the enemy is paying in ships and men to evacuate Kolombangara island.

The new successes were announced today by headquarters which also acknowledged receipt of congratulations by Gen. Douglas MacArthur from Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, for the tactics and speed which have won MacArthur new air bases from the Japanese in northeastern New Guinea.

(An indication that major developments in the Pacific offensive may be in the offing was given last night at Honolulu. There is disclosed that Adm. Ernest W. King, commander in chief of the United States fleet, had visited the Pacific area for the first time since the war's outbreak to confer with Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, and Admiral William F. Halsey, commander of the south Pacific force.)

Admirals King and Halsey since have returned to their headquarters after a conference which undoubtedly concerned plans to step up the Pacific offensive.)

On New Guinea, Australians have crossed the divide between the Markham and Ramu valleys and ousted the Japanese from the village of Kaigulin, 60 miles south of Madang. Madang is the next enemy base of importance up the coast from captured Finschhafen.

Red Troop Movements Suggest New Offensive

Flanking Drives Begin From Each End Of Line As Rain And Mud Slow Central Front Action

London, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Reports of growing activity of Russian mobile columns on both ends of the long, rain-soaked eastern front suggested the possibility today that Red army forces were preparing a new drive in force to turn the flanks of the Germans in one or both of these widely separated sectors.

The central front, on which the rival armies stood massed on either side of the Dnieper river line from Kiev south to Dnepropetrovsk, remained quiet.

Despite almost impassable roads and German counterattacks, the Red army apparently was keeping the initiative in the soggy marshlands of White Russia. Yesterday Russian forces captured 46 towns and villages in the Vitebsk sector to anchor their spearheads only 30 miles from the important Nazi bastion, a Soviet communique broadcast from Moscow said.

Berlin reported that Russian forces were deploying in strength around Lake Imen, far to the north, and at the southern end of the front just north of the Sea of Azov.

Outside of the gains in White Russia, Moscow dispatches reported that German counter-blows were increasing in number and strength, but that the front as a whole was relatively inactive.

Soviet air force pilots silenced 16 Nazi batteries on one unidentified sector, the communique said and destroyed 70 loaded trucks while dispersing infantry concentrations. Off the Taman peninsula, other Red army warplanes sank four troop-laden barges, presumably some of those evacuating the last German remnants from the western Caucasus.

Berlin indicated that the Germans would probably make a stand on the Dnieper river. Capt. Ludwig Sertorius, Nazi military commentator, asserted: "The German command has obviously decided upon the Dnieper line as a general line for the end of the disengaging movements."

GAINS SCORED BY GUERRILLAS

Yugoslav Patriots Cut Strategic Railway Line

London, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Important new successes against the Germans, including the cutting of the strategic railway line between Trieste and the Austrian border, were announced by the Yugoslav National Army of Liberation today.

A communique said that Croat patriots had won complete control of the former Italian island of Lussino 50 miles off the Dalmatian coast, following a surprise naval assault which overpowered the German garrison. Croat units attached to the partisan army of Josip Broz completed the occupation of the island, the communique said.

Severance of the Trieste-Austrian railway, one of the three main lines feeding German troops and equipment to the Italian battle front, was described as an effective blow in support of Allied forces battling their way up the Italian peninsula. The successful attack was carried out 14 miles from Postumia.

The communique broadcast by the Free Yugoslav radio, reported that fighting had spread to all parts of the Yugoslav mainland, with the patriot forces striking lightning blows against the Nazis. Battles were in progress in Bosnia, Montenegro and Herzegovina, and additional Croatian forces were said to be joining the army of liberation.

The Rome radio acknowledged heavy losses to German forces attempting to clear out Yugoslav, Albanian and Greek guerrillas from along the Dalmatian coast of the Adriatic.

Quoting an official German statement, the radio said: "Mopping-up operations are continuing against the Yugoslav and Badoglio troops in the eastern Adriatic provinces, along the Albanian-Greek frontier and in northern Montenegro."

Asks Resignation Director Of SBI

High Point, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The High Point Enterprise said today that the resignation of Fred Handy, director of the State Bureau of Investigation, has been requested by Attorney General Harry McMullan.

The paper quotes McMullan as saying that the resignation request is not an aftermath of the recent trial and acquittal at Wilkesboro of SBI Agent Guy Scott. It was decided upon by both the governor and the attorney general on the ground that in their opinion Handy was not giving satisfactory service, the Enterprise asserted.

The effective date of the SBI chief's resignation has not been decided, said the Enterprise, but will be between now and January 1. McMullan has not decided on the appointment of a successor, the paper said, adding that several men, including the assistant chief of the bureau, Tom Creekmore, are under consideration.

SENATE KILLS WHEELER BILL

Substitute Increases Allotments For Dependents

Washington, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The Senate voted today to raise the government allotment for dependent children of servicemen to record new highs after shelving the Wheeler bill to postpone induction of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers until January 1.

By a vote of 77 to 1, it amended an administration substitute for the Wheeler bill to provide an allotment of $30 monthly to the first child of a service man and $20 monthly for each additional child.

Final action on the substitute bill awaited consideration of other changes.

Senator Johnson (D-Colo) offered the allotment amendment without advance warning, first proposing a flat $50 a month for each child. Majority Leader Barkley (Ky) persuaded him to lower the figure.

The Senate voted to substitute for the Wheeler "don't draft fathers" bill a measure designed to steer thousands of federal and war plant workers into the armed forces requiring evidence of the "indispensability" of all draft-age non-fathers holding occupational deferments.

The action, by voice vote, scuttled the bill by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) to postpone further inductions of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers until January 1.

The Senate previously, with administration approval, wrote into the substitute Wheeler's amendment requiring written explanations to draft boards for all requests for industrial deferments.

ALLIES BLAST NAZI SHIPPING

U. S.-British Naval Forces Strike Off Norway

London, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Planes from a U. S. aircraft carrier, teamed up with units of the British home fleet, have struck a sharp surprise blow at Nazi supply lines off the coast of Norway in bold defiance of strong German naval forces reported concentrated in that area.

The daring raid, which failed to draw the Nazi warships from their hiding places in the Norwegian fjords, was disclosed in an Admiralty communique which said that a number of U. S. vessels, including an aircraft carrier had participated. The raid was carried out early Monday in the Bodoe area north of the Arctic circle, the bulletin said. It declared that only preliminary reports on the operation had been received, but added:

"It is clear that United States carrier-borne aircraft obtained hits with bombs on a number of large enemy merchant ships, including a 3,000-ton tanker."

The battle fleet was under command of Admiral Sir Bruce Fraser. The Germans apparently showed no inclination to oppose the Allied sally, either by surface craft or by air. Two Nazi planes—which attempted to shadow the fleet after the attack were shot down by (Continued on Page Three)

Fifth Army Forces Cross Volturno River; Seven Towns Captured; Eighth Army Meeting Stiff German Resistance Near Termoli

By EDWARD KENNEDY Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The Allied Fifth army has forced a crossing of the Volturno river, the Germans' strategic first line of defense on the road to Rome, it was announced today, and captured the towns of Aversa and Maddaloni north of Naples.

One unit crossed the Volturno, which runs 20 miles above Naples, at an unspecified point. The river, flowing into the coastal plain on the west side of Italy, had been expected to be the scene of a delaying action by the Nazis.

Fifth army units rolling through the coastal plain of Naples occupied all the territory up to Lago Di Patria, a marshy lake 10 miles north of Cape Miseno, and about eight miles from the mouth of the Volturno.

The advance swept up the towns of Pozzuolo, Qualiano, Villarecca, Anzano and Marano, and straightened the Allied line to run almost due west from Aversa to the coast. Reserves of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's troops were thrown into action because of stubborn German resistance.

On the Adriatic side, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth army engaged the Germans in heavy fighting along the Biferno river line near Termoli as the enemy attempted a strong delaying action there.

The Germans have thrown four to five divisions (up to 60,000 to 75,000 troops) into the Italian theater.

Couraging far ahead of land troops, four waves of flying Fortresses rained hundreds of tons of bombs on Bologna, rail center on the Brennero Pass line 180 miles below the German border, in "one of the most accurate and successful attacks" ever made by the northwest African air force. Other planes hammered Nazi communications elsewhere in a wide area.

The Volturno river crossing probably was made inland in the mountains, where the river is a tortuous stream.

Aversa, seized in the steady Allied thrust northward in the face of heavy road demolitions, is an important rail junction eight miles (Continued on Page Three)

Allied Bombers Raid Paris Area

London, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Allied fighters and fighter bombers kept the aerial assault on German Europe going yesterday with attacks on targets in France and the low countries, some Typhoons penetrating the Paris area close enough to see the Eiffel tower.

The Typhoons shot down two Junkers-88 and two Fieseler Storch army cooperation planes just south of Paris.

Other Allied planes struck at communications, factories and military installations, destroying a number of locomotives, an oil refinery near Ghent, Belgium, and planes around on Nazi airbases.

Six Allied planes were missing from the Paris area operations which followed heavy RAF raids on Frankfurt, the second in 12 hours. Luftwaffe planes, Mannheim, Worms, Offenbach and Saarbrücken Monday night.

The issue was raised before the committee yesterday by the New York Board of Trade, M. L. Seidman, chairman of the board's tax committee, urged a ten per cent sales levy which, he said, would yield $600,000,000 annually.

Rep. Taber (R-NY) aligned himself in the ranks of sales tax proponents, saying he considered this the best means of producing revenue and at the same time combating inflation.

The WAR TODAY AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press War Analyst

Should the Germans decide to hang onto Rome, despite the certainty of ultimate encirclement by the Allies, it will pose one of the war's toughest tactical problems for the Anglo-American armies which are continuing their steady advance up the Italian peninsula.

Hitler is in effect holding the Pope as a hostage to shield the Nazi troops in the eternal city. As added protection the Hitlerites are surrounded by hundreds of thousands of civilians, and are encamped in the midst of shrines of Christendom and monuments which are among the priceless relics of history.

The Allies have sworn to free Rome, the Vatican and the Pope. President Roosevelt the other day attributed something of the aspects of a holy war to this operation, saying there were certain elements of a crusade in driving out the Germans. Because of all this, and because the capital city is the center of Italy's chief railways, its capture is one of the main objectives of our campaign.

Obviously, however, the last thing the Allies want is to have to take Rome by force. That would mean the death of many civilians and the destruction of some of the world's most cherished heirlooms. Yet if Hitler should order several divisions of his troops to make a stand there, the Anglo-American armies would be compelled either to storm the city or accept the alternative of leaving the Nazis in temporary possession. Any idea of starving the metropolis into submission seems outside the pale.

Completion of the conquest of the island of Corsica, just off the western coast of Italy, will facilitate the landing of an amphibious force above the capital to cooperate with Generals Clark and Montgomery who are advancing from the south.

Still, Hitler might consider it well worth while to sacrifice his force of occupation in order to keep the Allies out of Rome. From his standpoint there are two arguments in favor of this gamble. One is that possession of the heart of the Italian railways would handicap the Allies advance up the peninsula.

The other has to do with the moral effect, which would be calculated to impress the might of Germany on the small Axis satellites and any wavering Italian Fascists.

Should this situation materialize it might be that the Allies would leave Rome alone for the moment and advance against the main Nazi forces in the north. It would be a hard decision to make. Such tactics probably would require more troops than they "now" have in Italy, because they would have to protect their left flank against the German divisions which were behind them in the capital.

We mustn't assume that the Germans will decide to hold in face of certain encirclement, or if they do, that the Allied command will elect not to use force to oust them. It's a fair assumption, however, that if the Nazis try this trick the Allies will consider the practicability of letting Rome alone for a bit.

Should the Germans be left in possession until their army in the north has been defeated, they then presumably will be able to surrender with no danger to themselves.

Strength FOR THE DAY

FIDELITY COSTS

Many years ago Admiral Li Hsun, a Chinese Christian, declined to attend heathen sacrifices and was excused by the President of China who was an understanding and broad-minded man. But when he was called upon to take an oath of allegiance to this President and to do so by swearing in a heathen temple, he refused, even though he knew that by so doing he was placing himself in considerable jeopardy. Some prominent Chinese Christians, however, went to the President, Yuan Shih Kai, and interceded in the admiral's behalf; and it was agreed that he would take an oath of allegiance in some other place and way. Accordingly, Admiral Li, standing on the steps of a heathen temple, took his oath of allegiance and sealed it with an earnest Christian prayer.

It is hard for us to realize in this free country of ours how desperately people in other parts of the world sometimes suffer for their faith. There is nothing more noble than to see a man standing up for his religious convictions, and nothing more despicable than the tyranny which would make him suffer for these things. But we should also remind ourselves that while in this free country of ours people are not put to physical suffering because of their beliefs, they are nevertheless frequently tested as regards their religious fidelity by thoughtless people who laugh at their faith or try in some way to lead them into paths of unfaithfulness.

GET THE "FEARS" STRAIGHT

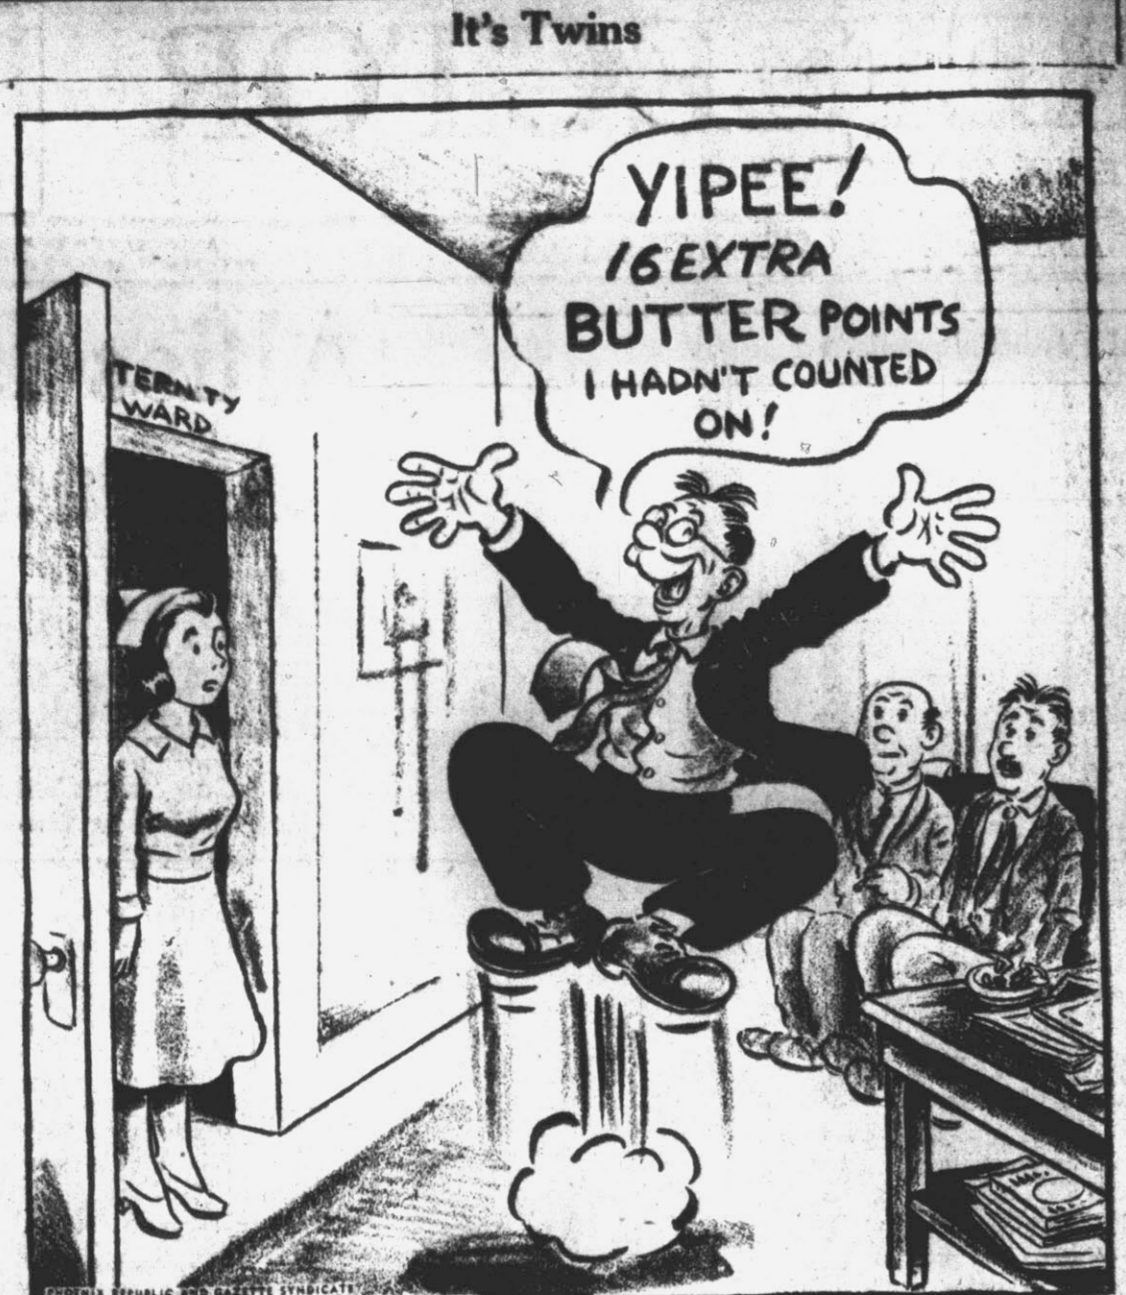

A recent advertisement shows the picture of a wife plowing in 1777, while her husband was away fighting for their country's independence. The advertisement then stressed that by building up certain financial reserves, one can gain "freedom from the ugliest fear of all—want."

Nowhere was the point made that the woman plowing was doing a job to help free herself and her husband and her country of a fear much greater than that of financial want, namely, fear of tyranny, fear of oppression, fear of injustice. "Freedom from fear" and "freedom from want," as they are generally presented to our people today, seem to be based entirely on material things, as if easy living and a full stomach were the principal guarantees which we should worry about.

The right to be independent and free of domination by any government, any king, or any bureaucracy, is what the 1777 woman and her husband were fighting for. A full stomach or financial security were the least of their fears.

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

Washington—Your Capital in Wartime: Rumors that the Office of Civilian Defense would be liquidated, following the resignation of Director James M. Landis, have almost wrecked the home office here. More than 400 workers have quit the 1,100-employee agency in recent weeks. Acting Director John Martin has had to make mass and individual appeals to slow down the wave of resignations.

As a matter of fact, if present plans are developed, OGD might be one war agency carried right on into peacetime. As the danger of air attacks has lessened, OGD has been concentrating more and more on justice aid. The effectiveness of the OGDers in aiding police, firemen and medical authorities in the Boston night club fire pointed up the value of such a nationally supervised agency in peacetime.

One of the more tiresome storms in the congressional teacup is the continued complaint that there are a lot of government workers still at their desks who should be in the armed forces.

The long-drawn harping on the subject resulted recently in the Bailey-Clark bill in the Senate which would restrict the employment of any able-bodied males in the government here between the ages of 18 and 35. One of the local columnists who devotes himself entirely to federal employe matters has issued a challenge to the senators or any one else to find him one government worker within those ages who isn't 4-F, a father, or deferred as essential. The revision of the last named lists has been going on for a year or more and there could hardly be many left who are not legitimately essential.

Coddly enough, it's the Army and Navy that are most opposed to the Bailey-Clark bill. They are in the throes of trying to get their uniformed personnel here, capable of combat duty, into the field. The number of civilians they will need to replace them in coming months may run into the thousands.

There is no doubt that there were many abuses here early in the development for essential duty clause but congressional criticism started cleaning that up long ago. In fact, congressional criticism drove out of the government a good many men who really were essential and in some cases men who were ill-suited for military duty.

One such case was that of Edward Prichard, the 300-odd pound assistant to Economic Stabilizer Vinson. Being one of the New Deal's "bright young men" and a protégé of Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter, Prichard was a fair name for anti-New Deal Congressmen. He finally gave up and asked his draft board to induct him. At Fort Custer he became the biggest private in the Army, only to spend most of his first month of basic training in Port Custer's post hospital. He now has been discharged because of overweight and bad legs, and probably will be returned to some government civilian job here, an example of what extremes some federal workers have to go to if they would escape the stigma of hiding under the essential deferment clause.

Latest rumor has it that W. Averell Harriman, lend-lease coordinator of the combined production and resources board, will be appointed ambassador to Russia. Harriman has had numerous dealings with Russia and is said to be very popular there.

Martial Law In Denmark Lifted

London, Oct. 6. (AP)—The Berlin radio announced today that German occupation authorities in Denmark had lifted martial law which was clamped down on the country last month in an effort to end a wave of sabotage.

At the same time dispatches from Stockholm quoted Swedish press reports as saying that the Germans also had ended a nationwide curfew under which Danes had been banned from the streets between 9 p. m. and 5 a. m.

The situation within Denmark, however, apparently remained unsettled.

Overweight Motor Oil Costs You Dear

Be sure of changing to your lightest possible grade
—by having your engine WINTER OIL-PLATED

Sure as you live... sure as your car must live... you'll want a change to the lightest motor oil that your engine can use this Winter of War.

Waiting for a "real cold day" before draining overweight oil that drags when it chills, is like waiting for your battery's doom. This drag of overweight oil wastes gasoline, too. And even worse is the big chance of internal damage because overweight oil won't squirt and spray into friction zones of your engine quickly. For the sake of your battery, your gasoline, coupons, and your engine, change to your lightest practical grade of oil.

You can quit wondering whether "one grade heavier might be on the safe side." You can be as safe as possible with your engine OIL-PLATED by even your lightest suitable grade of Conoco Nth motor oil. Its load-carrying capacity is doubled by synthetic means. And this also creates "magnet-like" action to keep lubricant closely fastened to inner engine surfaces, in the form of OIL-PLATING. Even the lightest grade of Conoco Nth oil will give your engine the high protection of OIL-PLATING. Ask Your Mileage Merchant today to recommend the grade suitable for your car. Dread Engine Acid is Fought by OIL-PLATING Normal combustion always leaves acids inside of your engine when it stops. Formerly it seldom stood idle long. Soon mileage and speed heated your engine enough to oust acids. But nowadays rationing may force long rests, while corrosive acids gnaw. To combat corrosion, metals are plated. You combat acid corrosion with your engine OIL-PLATED.

(Continued From Page One) north of Naples, and was much-bombed by the Allies. Maddaloni is 14 miles northeast of Naples. The Germans are using tanks in their battle with the Eighth army and lively artillery duels took place yesterday along the Biferno river, which British units have crossed in some places.

Bologna, one of the strategic links in the Nazi rail supply system, is a heavily defended area, and the fortresses met strong opposition. Bombs ripped into freight yards, locomotive sheds, workshops, buildings, warehouses, oil tanks and a sugar factory in Bologna, focal point of heavy rail traffic, setting huge fires. The fortresses send down eight of 30 to 35 opposing enemy planes.

This attack followed an assault Monday on Bolzano on the same rail line 35 miles below Brenner Pass. The Eighth army pushing west of Termoli, seized in a surprise landing Sunday, and on the general line of the Biferno river southwest of the port encountered enemy forces.

"Heavy fighting is reported," the war bulletin said. German resistance also stiffened in the mountainous frontal sector of the 100-mile zig zag front line across Italy—which now runs from the area on the west coast a little north of Naples through Aversa, Benevento, and Montecelio on the Adriatic at the mouth of the Biferno.

Along the Tyrrhenian coast, in the west, the land is comparatively level up to the Volturno river North of that stream rise the hills of Carinola. Twenty miles north of the Volturno another river—the Garigliano—flows into the sea and after that come the Aurunci mountains. The Germans undoubtedly will make use of all these natural advantageous features in impeding the drive on Rome.

The Germans at present are placing their resistance on units armed with mortars, machineguns, and German fast bombers effectively attacked enemy tank and vehicle concentrations and sank three large landing craft totaling more than 5,000 gross tons.) Allied fighter-bombers in forays yesterday destroyed half of an enemy convoy of 150 motor vehicles, and shot down two Junkers-52 transports north of Naples.

Possessing the type of voice suitable for singing ballads, folk songs, dramatic selections, light opera and making other types of musical selections, it is his wish that he has climbed the ladder of success so swiftly. Dressing Room Needs Workers

The production of surgical dressings due to a number of unavoidable causes is far behind schedule. Now we are happy to announce that the work room has a delightful and permanent location.

Through the generosity of East Carolina Teachers College, a large sunny room has been placed at the disposal of the Red Cross for a Surgical Dressings Workroom. This room is located in the rear of the Austin Building at the corner easy walking distance of a large part of Greenville and is on a paved drive so workers from farther away may ride to the door.

Every effort is being made to facilitate production. The room is ideal, volunteers are ready to assist in distributing material, collecting and packing finished dressings but we need from thirty to forty workers each day to fold the sponges and pads.

Every American is proud of the wonderful work our doctors and nurses are doing. The dressings we make here are essential for their use and are sent to stations designated by the Surgeon General of the U. S.

It is our privilege to help—this is one vital contribution which we can make.

The work room will re-open Monday, Oct. 11th at 9 a. m. at the above address. Reports of progress will be made in the regular Red Cross column.

RESPECT IS NOT RATIONED

In these days of war needs, all of us are called upon to make sacrifices—to do without the things we would consider indispensable in normal times. In serving our friends we try to make sure that such sacrifices involve only material things—not matters of the inner spirit. Respect is not rationed nor is the amount of consideration that we give to every service—regardless of the material values involved.

The second team tore gapping holes in the starting line and made numerous long gains. Tough disappointed in his starting team, Coach Farley could find some solace in the fact that his reserve powers is showing improvement and can take over part of each game.
