Soviet Forces Preparing Pincer Movement On Kiev

Fierce German Counterattacks Hurdled Back; Nazis Announce Final Evacuation Of Caucasus Positions; Another Russian Drive Fans Out From Nevel

London, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Blasting huge wedges into the 30-mile-deep German defense zone west of the Dnieper river north and south of Kiev, strong spearheads of the Red army have hurled back fierce Nazi counterattacks and entrenched themselves for what appeared to be a huge pincer movement aimed at enveloping the great fortress city.

Moscow announced today that the major breach in the German lines was carried out south of Pereyaslav 50 miles below the Ukrainian capital. It was expected expansion of this wedge may collapse the whole front. Carried out under the cover of darkness, the attack caught the enemy by complete surprise.

Of almost equal importance was the storming of the German west bank defenses north of Kiev near the confluence of the Pripiet and Dnieper rivers.

Here Soviet advance guards were fanning out to the south in a drive evidently aimed at hitting Kiev from the rear and meeting other Red army columns sweeping up from the south.

A third important Red army foothold on the west bank, between Kremenchuk and Dnepropetrovsk, was also being established, the Moscow communique indicated, and Russians were repulsing counterattacks in which the Germans hurled tanks, planes and men to no avail.

More than 2,800 Germans fell in the fierce bridgehead battles. Soviet armor, screening the crossings, shot down 32 German planes in air combats over the river.

Berlin broadcasts admitted "marked accentuation" of the Russian fan-like operations on the west bank of the Dnieper and said Red army spearheads were probing for more crossings at other strategic points.

Henry C. Cassidy, Associated Press correspondent in Moscow, said in a dispatch that the Red army positions on the west bank were now regarded as secure.

Cassidy added that nobody was more surprised by the Red army's new offensive than the Russian people themselves, and that its initial successes, coupled with its strategic possibilities stimulated the hope that the end of the war might soon be in sight.

The Moscow bulletin also reported major battles for the north where it claimed 3,400 Nazi troops were killed in Soviet drives aimed at Vitebsk and the Latvian frontier. On the Taman peninsula the last remnants of the German suicide rearguards were being mopped up, and the eastern Caucasus was reported practically cleared of the enemy.

West and south of captured Nevel, 70 miles from the Latvian border and 80 miles north of Vitebsk, the Russians were fanning out in ever-widening circles. Here, in two days, they killed 3,600 Germans, took 600 prisoners and scooped up huge stores of enemy war gear.

A Berlin broadcast heard today by the Associated Press said the Germans had moved their last forces in the Kuban to the Crimea during the night in the face of "superior enemy forces."

Sub Attack

Tokyo broadcasts said that an Allied submarine had sunk a Japanese steamer in the strait (A) between the Japanese mainland and Korea. The broadcast related that the steamer was on a regular ferry run and that more than 500 lives were lost. (AP Wirephoto).

SET QUOTA IN FUND DRIVE

Greenville Must Contribute Total Of $22,500

In accordance with a directive of the War Relief Control Board, the Community Chest will be combined with the United War Fund into one campaign for the purpose of eliminating the time, effort and expense of a multiplicity of drives and at the same time to avoid conflict with War Bond campaigns.

The county quota for the United War Fund is $37,500 of which Greenville's share is $15,000. The Community Chest budget of $7,500 is in addition to this. Therefore the total amount to be subscribed in Greenville is $22,500.

Local participating agencies of the Community Chest budget approved by the board of directors are as follows: Boy Scouts, Child Delinquency, Colored YMCA, Girl Scouts, Kings Daughters, School Free Lunch Fund, Service Men's Center, Thrift Shop.

Members of the board of directors of the Community Chest are: Mrs. J. H. Blount, J. G. Clark, E. Graham, Flanagan, R. M. Garrett, W. Howard, R. V. Keel, J. B. Kittrell, Jas. T. Little, Dr. K. B. Pace, R. J. Slay, Mrs. R. C. Stokes, J. H. Waldrop.

Good Enrollment At The College

Figures for the fall enrollment of students at East Carolina Teachers College, released by the registrar's office today, at the close of the registration period, show 937 students on the college rolls. Among these are 45 men.

The freshman class, an unusually large first-year class, boosts the figures by over 300, says Registrar McGinnis.

Last year's enrollment here, though off around 17 per cent from the preceding year, was considerably less than the average decrease of 25 per cent in teachers' colleges throughout the nation, and it is thought that this year's figures will show an equally encouraging comparative standing for this college.

JAP VESSELS SUNK BY NAVY

Cruiser And Two Destroyers Sunk, Others Damaged

Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Oct. 9.—(AP)—An out-numbered force of United States destroyers, wlaying a Japanese task force bent on rescuing troops from the central Solomons, sank an enemy cruiser or heavy destroyer and at least two other destroyers in a moon-lit battle.

The engagement, in which American losses were described as "moderate," occurred shortly before midnight Wednesday northwest of Vella Lavella island. It first was reported today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

(A Japanese headquarters communique today announced the evacuation of both Kolombangara and Vella Lavella islands. Domei news agency, ignoring reports of the American victory, claimed the transfer of troops from the central Solomons islands was carried out successfully and "almost without enemy interference.")

The Japanese ships, in three groups, were intercepted by a force commanded by Capt. Frank Robinson Walker of Alabamas while attempting either to pull off Nipponese remnants still holding out against the Americans on Vella Lavella or to complete the evacuation of bypassed Kolombangara to the south.

Without waiting for reinforcements, Captain Walker maneuvered his forces for battle against the first enemy group. MacArthur's communique said gunfire exploded a light cruiser and one destroyer; a torpedo sank a second destroyer; and two other destroyers, badly mauled, limped away. (South Pacific headquarters said a third destroyer probably sank, and two or three other destroyers were damaged.)

The second Japanese group, probably destroyers, and the third, consisting of barges and small combatant craft, saw at a distance the flaming action, then swung around and retired at high speed. The losses increased to more than 25 the number of warships the Japanese have expended in the Solomons since MacArthur launched his current offensive June 30. They also have lost approximately 1,000 planes, more than 500 barges and uncounted thousands of men.

The new enemy move was anticipated by Admiral William F. Halsey's units. For weeks, American fliers and navy guns have exacted a heavy toll of barges sneaking enemy troops from their air base of Vila on southern Kolombangara north to Bougainville by way of Choiseul.

Leaf Prices High On Local Market

The Greenville tobacco market has sold more than 34 million pounds of tobacco this season at an average price of $39.93 per hundred pounds, according to information made public today by R. C. Rankin, supervisor of sales.

Last week's average was the highest of the season, with 4,855,576 pounds being sold for an average price of $44.33. Sales for the week ending yesterday were 4,693,740 pounds at an average of $44.12, giving a two weeks' total of 9,549,316 pounds sold for $3,960,899.55, or an average of $44.26.

Season's sales to date, 34,014,326 pounds for $13,581,315.75, an average of $39.93 per hundred. Mr. Rankin stated this morning that Monday's sale was expected to bring the season's total close to the 35 million pounds mark and the average to $40.00.

Air Offensive Against Nazi Targets Continues

RAF Blasted Bremen Last Night Following American Daylight Raid; Fortresses Downed 142 German Planes

By ROBERT STURDEVANT
London, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Strong formations of heavy American bombers flew deep into Europe today to bomb important targets in Pomerania, in eastern Germany, Poland and East Prussia. It was announced.

This deepest daylight penetration into Hitler's fortress from British bases followed up an RAF raid in great strength last night on the German rail hub and a lesser raid on the port of Bremen, which American bombers had left in flames yesterday.

The round trip from the vicinity of London to East Prussia would involve a flight of at least 1,600 miles. Referring to yesterday's Bremen raid, the Berlin radio claimed that 48 planes out of the "powerful North American air formations" had been shot down. The Americans announced the loss of 30 bombers yesterday.

It admitted "considerable damage" in last night's annover raid. The RAF's night assaults climaxed a day of intense aerial activity and preliminary reports showed the assault was concentrated. The British lost 31 bombers.

It was the second time in four days that British and American heavy armadas had thrown a double day-night punch at German industrial cities.

Expect Investigation Of Lend-Lease Operations

By JACK BELL
Washington, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The Senate's two-day private review of what's going on at the war fronts spawned today an investigation of lend-lease operations and a request for an additional $50,000,000 appropriation to the Office of War Information.

In a cantankerous mood after nearly six hours wrangling behind closed doors yesterday, members showed a pressing desire to look into the operation of some agencies that were criticized roundly by five senators who inspected the war theaters.

One of the touring Senators, Brewster (R-Me.), served notice that lend-lease is in line for a thorough going-over by the Truman War Investigating Committee, on which he serves. Brewster charged that there had been instances of "trucks sent to Australia, 30 loaded with 15,000 were left for use of civilians in this country."

Brewster said the Truman group also is interested in the President's request for more funds for overseas operations of the OWI—a subject at which the House Appropriations committee will have the first crack.

Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) previously told the Senate he felt some OWI propaganda in foreign lands was childish. Brewster supplemented this with the information that touring Senators found OWI busy with material on how Americans live, work and eat. He added that he had discussed this with Elmer Davis, OWI director, who "wasn't any too clear as to the reason for on the Danaher resolution."

GUERRILLAS LAUNCH DRIVE

Fierce Battles Raging For Two Italian Ports

London, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Yugoslav troops have launched fierce battles in a new drive to wrest the Italian ports of Trieste and Fiume from the Germans, a Yugoslav communique announced today, and have delivered smashing blows at German forces along interior railways. "Bitter fighting is going on in the southern suburbs of Trieste and south of the port," said the war bulletin broadcast by the Free Yugoslav radio.

Italian battle fleet units, turning against their former allies to support the Yugoslav guerrillas, have bombed Nazi-occupied towns on the Dalmatian coast, the Bari. Italy radio declared last night in a broadcast heard by the London Daily Express.

The Yugoslav communique said there was spirited fighting also in the Susak sector, with the Germans throwing a complete division against Yugoslav liberation forces holding heights dominating the port of Fiume.

The German garrison at Ogulin, 22 miles inland from the coast, was declared to be completely surrounded, and a large-scale offensive along a 50-mile stretch of railway between Ogulin, Karlovac and Zagreb was said to be growing in strength.

The guerrillas, the war bulletin said, blew up the largest bridge on the rail line as the seventh division fought its way toward Karlovac.

The Germans, in turn, were reported to have employed more than 250 tanks in attacks along another railway, but the Yugoslavs said the attacks were repulsed.

On the northern tip of Dalmatia, the first Dalmatian division was reported to be advancing toward Zara, an important port 70 miles north-east of Split.

The Yugoslav war bulletin said that huge amounts of war materials were captured.

Big Plane Losses Suffered By Axis

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The campaign that began in North Africa last November 11 has cost the Axis more than 6,000 planes up to October 1. Allied Air Force headquarters said today.

Of that number, 3,411 were destroyed in the air. Nearly 2,500, mostly wrecked by bombing, were found on captured Axis airfields.

The number of enemy planes counted on fields occupied on the Italian mainland has mounted to 880. More than 600 were found in Tunisia, and more than 1,100 in Sicily.

The total does not include planes destroyed by bombings in fields still held by the Germans.

The northwest African air force also reported sinking of 185 ships totaling 173,000 tons.

The weight of bombs dropped on Italy in September was computed as 15,989 tons. This was over 3,000 tons more than the last previous high for this theater in August.

Convict Killed In Break For Liberty

A prison guard shot and killed Charlie Whitmore, 25-year-old Bund-county man serving a five year sentence for highway robbery, when he jumped from a prison truck near Falkland yesterday.

Two other convicts jumped from the truck with Whitmore and escaped. Kyle Matthews, prison camp director, said they were Wadell Filmingham, 32, sentenced in Carteret county to a 10-year term for manslaughter and a three to five year term for larceny, and Robert Griffin, serving a 20-year sentence imposed in Vance county for breaking and entering and a three to five year sentence imposed in Lee county for larceny.

A corner's jury absolved the guard T. J. Stocks, of blame for the killing, ruling that he shot the man in line of duty and without intent to kill.

The truck was returning the prisoners to the Putnam county prison camp near Greenville after a day's work on the county roads near Falkland.

WORLD BANK IS PROPOSED

Plan Hailed As Move For Insuring Peace

Washington, Oct. 9.—(AP)—U. S. Treasury proposed for a $10,000,000 world bank to help war-ravaged lands get on their feet was hailed in at least one capital today as another move toward insuring the peace.

The banking plan was widely published in the British press last night, confirming what Treasury Secretary Morgenthau had been reported to have said.

Tension Grows Inside France

London, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Tension inside France mounted today as reports from both Allied and Axis sources indicated that the Germans had virtually completed plans to take over the government of the entire country.

Arrests were reported from all parts of the country as resistance to the repressive measures of the conquerors increased. In Paris, Robert De Gaulle, Nazi radio spokesman asserted the Germans would take over if French authorities were unable to subdue what he called "terrorism."

Radio France, Free French station in Algiers, broadcast reports that the Germans would seize the country's government "any day now."

(The Swiss newspaper Gazette de Lausanne said in an article reported to the Office of War Information today that the Vichy government "gradually losing all its prerogatives in every field," and that "rumors are growing more persistent" that Premier Pierre Laval "intends shortly to leave the political scene.")

The Moscow radio, quoting a Tass dispatch from Geneva, said the Germans had appointed Gestapo agents as Laval's bodyguard, and that he was regarded as a "gestapo prisoner."

What About Future Interest Rates?

Believes Postwar Rates Will Be Higher

New York City, Oct. 9.—From the December, 1941, low in 19 cities of 2.40 per cent as the average rate for top-notch commercial loans to bank customers, interest rates have been gradually creeping upward. In August, 1942, the average bank rate was 2.46 per cent. By June of this year rates were up to 2.76 per cent. Currently the bank rate for commercial loans is averaging three per cent. Rates for prime commercial paper now average 4 per cent. These are up over the average for 1941 but unchanged from the average for 1942. I believe that after the war all interest rates will be higher.

Present Rates Too Low
Up to the time of the New Deal, economists considered the actual hard-earned savings of individuals as the primary source of capital. In the past, out of such accumulations were financed our railroads, public utilities and other great enterprises. The rate of interest depended upon the amount of such capital available at any given time and the faith of the owners thereof that it would promptly be paid back when due with money of equal value. In other words, upon the old law of supply and demand, we depended for interest rates. Now under our "managed currency" system, the picture temporarily is changed. Because of the large current supply of bank loans for commercial purposes and the yields on short-term, high-grade bonds are absurdly low. Dollars are being multiplied very rapidly through the expansion of bank credits. But the rapid rise in the quantity of dollars has been at the expense of their intrinsic value. The Federal Reserve Board's policy should change their policy and should have sharply rising interest rates. This may become necessary in order to attract investors' funds. (Continued on Page Two)

The WAR TODAY

AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst

The warning by Senator Chandler (D-Ky.)—just back from the five-senator inspection trip to the war theaters—that the Japanese may move their seat of empire to the Asiatic mainland will strike many observers as a rather startling conclusion.

This column long ago called attention to the possibility that surrender by Japan proper wouldn't be any means necessarily guarantee the capitulation of the Japanese militarists and their great armies on the continent. My point was that the Nipponese general in command of the armies of occupation in China, being in control of a vast new empire, might decide to ignore orders from the home government and carry on.

However, that's different from the idea of transferring the Jap seat of empire to China. Removal of the government and the person of the Mikado from Tokyo to the continent would represent a veritable cataclysm in the history of Nippon—a loss of face which would almost call for national suicide.

The Japanese says he has good reason to believe that some of Japan's heavy industry already has been moved to the Asiatic mainland, besides the concentration of industry in Manchukuo. That's a true bill. The Japanese have transferred some vital war industries to Chinese territory where advantage is being taken of natural resources.

Moreover, during a decade of control in Manchukuo the Japs have developed both resources and manufacturing. The picture in China is not clear, but the invaders have made some progress there. In any event, the ten per cent of China which they have overrun (apart from Manchukuo, Outer Mongolia and Tibet proper) represents the country's richest territory, both in (Continued on Page Two)

Strength FOR THE DAY

By E. L. DOUGLAS

FULFILLING OUR DREAMS

A man was once set a rare plant which he set in a big flower pot at the side of a fountain. But it never had a healthy growth. One day a careless workman broke the flower pot, and the plant, earth and all, fell into the water. Seeing that the plant had sunk to the bottom of the pool, he made no attempt to lift it out.

But a short time later a luxurious and unknown plant grew up through the water. The plant was in fact a water plant. It had pinned away as it sat on the edge of the fountain. It was not until it fell into the water and got back into its element that it really began to fulfill its life.

We might apply this to people who are trying to do a type of work for which they are not suited. Or again we might apply it to people who are living a dry and barren life amid superficial interests. The best applicants would probably be to —those people who live day by day in vicinity to God's unseen powers and fail to realize that growth and abundant life are so near.

We all have within us latent powers which are never fully used.
Sometimes it is our fault. We lack discipline and diligence. But sometimes we have not put ourselves in the midst of circumstances which would encourage growth. Happy for us if some unexpected event casts us into such circumstances.

DON'T DISAPPOINT HIM

It's never a good plan to delay your Christmas shopping, even for the gifts for the homefolks, but to delay getting that gift package off to the man in the armed forces abroad is unpardonable.

Next Friday is the last day that Christmas parcels may be mailed to soldiers overseas, with any assurance that they will be received by Christmas. The receipt of a Christmas package by that man overseas will be added assurance that he is being remembered by the folks back home. Don't put this matter off any longer. Get that package in the mails before next Friday, Oct. 15.

IT IS ALWAYS SO

There will be a lot of wrangling in Washington before the next tax bill is finally passed, but we can rest assured that in the end we'll pay more taxes, directly or indirectly, regardless of what plan may be decided upon.

DON'T TAKE HIS GUN AWAY FROM HIM

There still come reports that many persons who purchase war bonds through the payroll savings plan, or during intensive drives, are flashing them in at the first opportunity. To be sure, you couldn't lend a soldier a gun to fight with and then take it back at the very minute it was needed most. It is the same way when you lend our money to the government to purchase war equipment and then take your money back by cashing in our bonds at the very time our government needs it most. Don't do it.

Banker Celebrates His 30th Milestone

By CHESTER WALSH

Mr. and Mrs. J. Herbert Waldrop celebrated Mr. Waldrop's 30th milestone in his banking career at a delightful social affair at their home on East 10th street last night with officers and members of the Guaranty Banking and Trust Company staff as guests. Mr. W. H.
Woodard, president, presented Mr.
Waldrop a ring in appreciation of nearly a third of a century of faithful service. He presented Mr. Andrew J. Moore, who has been with the bank about 40 years, a $50 War Bond and paid tribute to Mr. J. R.
Connelton, who has been with the bank 35 years.

Mr. Waldrop came to Greenville from Henderson in 1913. He attended East Carolina Teachers' College a year, then attended King's Business College. He came back here and worked as bookkeeper for Mr.
Frank Wilson a short time and then went to work for the Greenville Banking and Trust Company as a runner and bookkeeper in October, 1913. He became a teller later and was made assistant cashier in 1919.
He was promoted to cashier in 1923.
Up to this time the late E. G. Flann-agan was president and C. S. Carr was cashier. Norman O. Warren was assistant. The bank then had no branches.

The name was changed in 1935 to the Guaranty Banking and Trust Company with Mr. Flannagan as president. Branches were established from time to time until the bank now has 10 branches in Carolina cities. Mr. Waldrop was promoted to be vice-president and cashier in 1942 shortly after the death of Colonel Flannagan, when Mr. Woodard was elected president.

When Mr. Waldrop first went to work at the bank it had resources of about $1,000,000. The Guaranty Bank and Trust Company's resources now are over $21,000,000.

Are Economic Laws Changing?
Economic principles cannot always be depended upon to hold water consistently. Their course can be diverted to some extent by wars.
Legislation and perhaps by human nature. The old "quantity" theory of money is that increasing the amount of gold or silver money always causes higher commodity prices and/or lower interest rates. The new conception of the "quantity" theory of money is as follows: Any increase in its quantity, however derived, will lower rates; also that all forms of new bank credits, although perhaps basically dangerous, can be a real source of capital. In other words, these quantitative presuppositions, however they are manipulated, are necessary to wait for individuals to accumulate or save capital.

Both the old and amended money theories assume that the faith of the lenders will remain 100 per cent and constant. Loss of faith by the lenders will offset the effects of more available money and credit.
If lenders come to believe that the money which they are to get five or ten years hence in payment of their loans will be poorer money and will have less purchasing power, then these lenders will demand a higher rate to compensate for this risk. Fearing this "loss of faith" factor is the reason why I expect higher interest rates after the government takes off its control which one day it must do.

What Is Capital?
All of us have some capital. It may be represented by the clothes we wear or the stocks, bonds and real estate which we own. Capital is primarily derived from work or production. It may consist of factory buildings, machinery, raw materials, farm produce, barns or inventories. Examples are almost inexhaustible. The principal sources of capital are (1) consumers' thrift; (2) direct capitalization of the product of labor; (3) governmental thrift or taxation for capital purposes; and (4) new bank money or a deposit credit resulting from a loan.

The first three of the above-mentioned sources of capital are absolutely sound. I am not so sold on the fourth which is nothing more than borrowing. There is now too large an amount of borrowing or expanding bank credit against the purchase of government securities. The size of this is far above the amount of brokers' loans preceding the 1929 stock market crash.
And all this credit is being secured at a ridiculously low interest rate.
I wonder how long the Federal Reserve system can go on buying for its member banks, government securities to the extent it has been doing and letting the banks expand their credits for this purpose.

Effect on Investors and Banks
As an inflation brake and to stop expanding bank credits, the Treasury Department is now endeavoring to get government bonds into the hands of individuals rather than into banks. But to do this they must ultimately pay higher rates of interest on government paper. If rates go up investors' bond portfolios will shrink in value and there will be a general switching to equity stocks.
This is another reason why I am bullish on the stock market and do not like high-priced, low-yield bonds.

Even a small rise in interest rates will help banks and their stockholders. Long-term, high-grade bonds held by banks will, of course, then slide off. However, rates for unsecured and for collateral loans, together with loans on real estate, should rise to swell the banks' gross income. Banks holding a large quantity of short-time investments in governments, municipals and commercial paper will be in the best position. Such banks can jump back into the corporate bond market later on and pick up some bargains in discount bonds. Banks holding large quantities of long-term bonds may take a licking.

Air Offensive . . .

four-engine bombers and Thunderbolts beating their way to Bremen and Gagesburg through fierce opposition which returning flyers said included small bomb-loaded rocket planes.

There were lost from the force of Flying Fortresses and Liberators which blasted the Stuka dive-bomber plant at Bremen and submarine installations at nearby Vegesack. Three of the Thunderbolts, which provided cover halfway to the targets also failed to return.

The German raid admitted that "particularly heavy destruction" resulted from the raids.

The toll of 142 German planes was the second heaviest of the war.
There was no indication in the preliminary reports of the raid as to what portion of the heavy American losses were the result of the new German technique or how many were the victims of flak from ground batteries or fighter fire. The loss was more than half that sustained by the British in eight days of intensive activity over Haguenau, Munich, Kassel, Frankfurt, Ludwigshafen and Stuttgart in which the RAF toll was 54.

World Bank . . .

ported as telling a secret congressional meeting earlier in the week.
Immediately from Lisbon, Portugal, the neutral outlet for many fleeing Europeans — came this reaction:

"It is a colossal effort that only a powerful, rich nation, full of generosity and capable of large scale initiative, could realize."

The statement in the Lisbon newspaper Diaro De Lisboa added that "peace would be another just as wonderful and generous victory should serve only to give satisfaction to plutocratic appetites."

Morgenstern was reported to have told the congressmen that the United States' contribution to the bank would aggregate about $3,500,000,000 and Britain about $1,000,000,000.
Other nations would contribute their proportionate shares.

LOCALS LOSE TO NEW BERN

Phantoms Suffer Second Defeat By 12 To 0 Score

New Bern won over Greenville last night at the stadium in a hotly contested game 12 to 0. This was the second defeat suffered by the Phantoms at the hands of the Bears who previous to this year had not scored on the Phantoms in five years. The game last night was very similar to the first that was played in New Bern last week in that the visitors took advantage of the mistakes of the inexperienced Greens and made the most of them. The Bears first touchdown came when after a long quick kick had caught the Phantoms flatfooted, a bad pass from center went rolling back to the local ten yard line and was recovered by New Bern, from where they scored after several running plays.

After the first score that came midway of the first quarter the game settled into a dogfight with the advantage with the heavier and more experienced visitors. The Phantoms offense last night spluttered and popped like a T model engine out of time, gaining on one play only to lose on the next. The difficulties of the Phantoms can be attributed to some extent to the many changes that had to be made in the backfield. Billy Mac Batchelor had to leave the game after the opening kickoff with a sprained knee and Howard Williams who was played a good game at fullback all the year was not present the last half. This coupled with the loss of Jim Lanier last week weakened the offense considerably. Both replacements, Dennis Fleming and little Jim Futrell played well. Fleming who was playing his first game as a back did exceedingly well considering his experience.

On the other hand New Bern played a hard consistent game and deserved to win. They have a very experienced team and should have the most successful season that they have enjoyed in quite a while. The game was witnessed by a large crowd, a big part of them coming over from New Bern. From the looks of the New Bern band as well as the team, it seems that the war effected very little the program of their school.

The Phantoms are young and anxious and will come back next week harrier than ever, using the terms of the military commentators, the boys will disengage the enemy and regroup for next week's battle.

Cardinals Will Pitch Lanier In First Home Game

By SID FEDER
St. Louis, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The mound city, all prettied up for the travelling world series troupe, has a hot quiz program popping today over whether tomorrow's fourth game of the big show would present an old left-handed lumber that hasn't been seen in six years or a Carolina Teachers' College, warned against German propaganda which may tend to cause England and the United States to suspect that Russia might sign a separate peace with Hitler. In an informative and interesting short talk Dr. Frank struck a timely note. He is always a welcome speaker with the Kiwanians. A. C. Tadlock had charge of the program.

Charles Fisher, head of the music department at the college, sang two songs, with Mrs. Fisher as accompanist. Former President Claude Ward welcomed two new members into the club. Odell Calhoun, member of the C. and S. Bakery Company, now operating Mrs. Morton's Bakery on Dickinson Avenue, and Glenn Scott's Service Station, President Joe Tait appointed a committee to work in the fats salvage drive. The members are John Glover, chairman; Judge J. W. H. Roberts, Dr. H. G. Haney and Chester Walsh.

It was announced that the Carolinas Kiwanis District convention will be held at Durham next Thursday. Don H. Conley, Dr. S. M. Crisp and Joe Tait are delegates. "Ladies and Charter Night" will be observed at a special meeting of the club next Friday.

J. B. Kittrell explained the plan to raise money here for the United War Fund, which will include the annual community chest project. J. T. Little is county chairman of the drive.

The following were guests of the club: Coast Guardsmen Edward C. Kilpatrick and Richard W. Lee, Sgt. Edward J. Stant, U. S. Army; Charles Whedbee, H. J. McDonald, principal of the New Bern High School and K. H. Griffin, who recently succeeded the late Frank M. Park as manager of the local branch of the National Biscuit Company, and Walter L. Alexander, supervisor of the A. and P. Tea Company.

RESPECT IS NOT RATIONED

In these days of war needs, all of us are called upon to make sacrifices—to do without the things we would consider indispensable in normal times. In serving our friends we try to make sure that such sacrifices involve only material things—not matters of the inner spirit. Respect is not rationed nor is the amount of considerate attention we give to every service—regardless of the material values involved.

Not since 1937, when El Gufo Gomez and Cliff Melton were hotter than pistol packin' mama, have two southpaws hooked up in the same world series game. Now with all signs—including the numbers on the Sportsman's park cash registers—pointing to a sellout of more than 34,000 for the Sunday scuffle, the old act may be revived, unless Joe McCarthy is only kidding about pitching Lefty Marius Russo for the New York Yankees against the Cardinals' Max Lanier in an all southpaw slinging duel.

Down two games to one and faced with what amounts to a win or else, life and death job of taking tomorrow's tilt, Manager Billy The Kid Southworth definitely is going with Lanier, the chunky curver who dropped a close opening game decision to Chandler because of some haunting hocus-posus afflict.

On the other hand, Marse Joe McCarthy obviously sure just what he's going to do. e points to Russo, but says he can change his mind if he wants to, like the fabulous fellow who can get a steak when he wants it, then switches to a cheese on rye.

And the boys and girls were just about split even on whether Joe would do just that. A lot of the smarties insisted that with this big one giving him a chance to gallop out to a spot where he'd need only one more game to reach the paying teller's window, Joe is just playing with the Russo deal and will lead with his ace, Chandler, in spite of Russo's four-hitler against the Dodgers in the 1941 set.

on patrol, but had little to report. It was their first appearance over the Aegean. Bad weather grounded most planes in Italy yesterday. In operations of the last 24 hours, seven enemy planes were shot down and no Allied planes were reported missing.

Before retreating across the Volturno, the enemy laid mines and installed booby traps in "every possible place." These have taken a heavy toll of Italian civilians.

The patrol actions were the first Allied operations on the north bank of the Volturno in the vital plains area stretching 16 miles from Capua to the sea. Farther inland, Americans several days ago crossed the Calore river, and thus were in position to menace the left flank of the Germans massing to defend the lower Volturno. The flanking effort probably will be comparatively slow, however, both because of rains and deep mud and the mountainous terrain. Because of this many armored and motorized units of both the Allies and the Germans have been fighting dismounted actions.
