ITALY DECLARES WAR ON GERMANY

Allied Forces Make New Gains In Central Italy

Advance Of Nine and Eight Miles By Fifth And Eighth Armies, Respectively, Result In Capture Of Several Towns; Artillery Duels In Volturno Sector

By NOLAN NORGARD
Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Battering down powerful enemy positions in central Italy, Allied troops have punched nine miles northeast of Pontelandolfo to seize San Croce, while the Eighth army advancing along its entire front captured Riccia and Boniferno, official front line dispatches announced today.

The plunge to San Croce sent deeper northward the spearhead outflanking the strong German Volturno river line.

Although this dispatch did not identify them, Fifth army troops apparently took San Croce.

Riccia, seized by the British is only eight miles northeast of San Croce.

Along the Adriatic coastal flank, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's troops smashed four miles ahead beyond Termoli against strong German resistance.

Boniferno, 20 miles southwest of Termoli and five miles northwest of British-held Colletorto, was captured after exceptionally sharp fighting.

Southwest of Colletorto, patrols of Montgomery's British, Canadian and Indian troops penetrated six miles to the village of Santa Elia.

Along the Volturno river line, a tremendous artillery duel raged, with British and American artillery of the Fifth army hurling hundreds of shells across the flooded stream.

The Nazis are reported to have brought up strong artillery units also, and front dispatches indicated their lines on the river's north bank are being strengthened against Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's expected assault.

There was no report of any fresh gains anywhere along the Volturno front, and nothing to indicate whether Allied patrols were succeeding in penetrating to the north bank. (Continued on Page Six)

Call Meeting Of War Fund Workers

A county-wide meeting of Key Workers of the United or National War Fund will be held in the Main Auditorium of the Municipal Building on Thursday, October 14th at 8:00 p.m.

This meeting will be conducted by Jas. T. Little, County Chairman, who will explain local plans and activities. Key speakers will be Lt. Col. Louis J. Lampke, U.S.A., and Mr. Gurney P. Hood, State Vice Chairman of the United War Fund. Mr. E. E. Rawl, Publicity Chairman, will outline plans for local publicity and promotions. Also a short sound movie film will be shown.

Personnel from each township organization in the county will be present for the purpose of perfecting plans to conduct a campaign to raise funds for the USO, Seamen's Service, War Prisoners and Allied Relief Agencies. This drive is described not as a financial campaign but as a part of the war effort and therefore an opportunity for every worker to be of important service to his or her country and to every citizen to have a part and a share in winning this war.

Rationing To Continue Beyond End Of The War

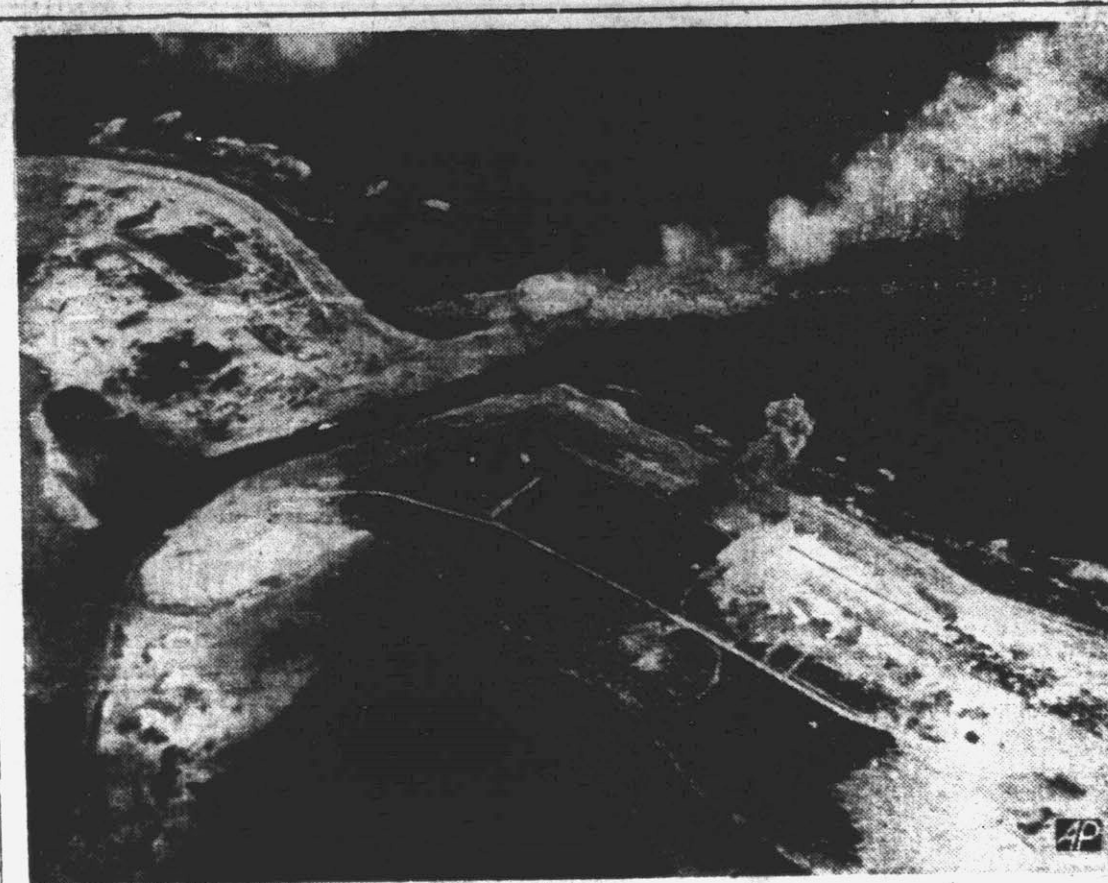

Washington, Oct. 13.—(AP)—How long will rationing, price ceilings and other wartime controls continue after the war ends?

A consensus of government and private post-war planners, reported to the Senate's War Relocation Committee by a subcommittee of investigators, is that some controls will have to continue to prevent an inflationary spiral.

The report speaks of a potential accumulation of 75 billion dollars which otherwise would be turned loose at war's end—"a large part of which will burn the pockets of the consumers of motor cars, refrigerators, vacuum cleaners and a thousand and one other products whose production has been cut off or greatly restricted by the war."

Then the report says:

Thirty Five Nations At War With Nazis

Washington, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Italy is the 35th nation to declare war on Germany in this war. She is, however, the only one not a member of the United Nations, or an affiliate, such as the French Committee of National Liberation. The first country to declare war against Germany was England on September 3, 1939.

The other nations which have declared war against Germany are: Australia, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Canada, China, Costa Rica, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Ethiopia, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, India, Iran, Iraq, Luxembourg, Mexico, Netherlands, New Zealand, Nicaragua, Norway, Panama, Philippines, Poland, Union of South Africa, Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, United States, Yugoslavia, and France.

Committee Deplores Lack Of Employment Control In Washington

Washington, Oct. 13.—(AP)—A congressional committee charged today that "inexperienced youngsters" holding some of the top personnel jobs in Washington "constitute a real bottleneck" to the government's war effort.

The youthful executives lack "the experience and tact" necessary in "top-notch management officials," declared the House Civil Service Committee headed by Rep. Ramspeck of Georgia, the Democratic whip.

Experienced executives "have been turned down completely or ignored by these younger personnel officers," the report added.

Other findings in the committee's unfinished investigation of federal jobholders.

Government workers are "blowing up" their own descriptions of their jobs and getting salary hikes ranging from $600 to $1,200 a year for doing practically the same work.

Some administrators build up "personal machines" of friends on the payroll who move with them from job to job. "Their salaries usually being boosted on the doubtful excuse that their duties have" (Continued on Page Six)

Delay Action On Allowances Bill

Washington, Oct. 13.—(AP)—House action on legislation to boost benefit payments to dependents of service men of enlisted grades was put off today by the death of Representative Creal (D-Ky.).

Speaker Rayburn announced that general debate on the bill, scheduled to have started today, would begin tomorrow, with a vote expected Friday. The house held only a brief session today, adjourning out of respect to Creal.

A military subcommittee also was redrafting legislation to delay the induction of pre-war fathers.

A party fight threatened to erupt over the amount of payments to be made to dependents of service men of enlisted grade.

Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts announced he would support an amendment by Rep. Clason (R-Mass) to boost the payments to $80 monthly for a wife and one child, with $20 extra for each additional child. This scale was approved by the senate last week, but the Democratic-controlled house committee recommended $75 monthly for a wife and one child, $95 for a wife and two children, and $15 for each additional child.

The WAR TODAY

AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst
Italy's declaration of war on Germany represents moral and material gain for the Allies.

It may well be that the moral advantage will be the greater. By this revolt Germany is branded before civilization for ferocious barbarities which, as Premier Badoglio puts it, have "surpassed even the limit of the human imagination."

However, the Italians still can give considerable material aid to the Allies in the drive up the peninsula, and in forthcoming amphibious operations elsewhere the small but powerful Italian navy should serve the United Nations well.

This declaration doesn't in any way alter the terms of the armistice. Italy is not an "ally" in the accepted sense of the term, but as a "co-belligerent" must pay the penalty for her partnership in the Axis.

It is a striking coincidence that Italy should have taken this step just as Portugal implemented her bond of friendship with Britain. Portugal's move in permitting the Allies to use the Azores as a base has given us a powerful new weapon with which to combat the U-boat menace, but one of the most impressive aspects of the concession is the fact that this country is the first of the little European neutrals to lock Hitler squarely in the eye and say "who's afraid of the big bad wolf?"

The British press today is speculating hopefully whether Portugal may be the spear-head to open the way for other neutrals* and non-belligerents. Sweden and Turkey are clocking the small Axis satellites—Eulakra, Rumania and Hungary—which are eagerly trying to find an able to all parties.

REPORT NAZIS MOVING OUT OF CITY OF GOMEL

New Power Drive North Of Kiev; Bridgeheads West Of Dnieper Widened

New York, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The Germans are evacuating Gomel, the White Russian fortress," the British Broadcasting Corporation said today in a broadcast recorded by CBS.

London, Oct. 13.—(AP)—With the German air force reported definitely on the defensive over the vast Russian front, Soviet armies were steadily developing their ever-widening bridgeheads on the west bank of the Dnieper river today, and have, according to Berlin, launched a new power drive north of the key city of Kiev, capital of the Ukraine.

(The Russian newspaper Izvestia announced today that the Red army has driven within 18 miles of Kiev, great German bastion on the Dnieper river.)

The Russian army newspaper Red Star reported the abandonment of aerial offensive tactics by the Nazis. The newspaper's military expert, Lieut. Col. Nikolai Denisov, said the initiative had passed to Soviet airmen and described the situation as a radical change from the earlier days of the campaign when the Germans were blockading Russian frontline air bases and sweeping the skies over the Russian front with huge formations of fighter planes.

Pacific bomber losses suffered by the Germans in air battles over Orel, Belgorod and Kharkov and the steady deterioration of enemy fighter strength combined to wipe out Nazi air superiority, according to Denisov, and today the Germans have turned from mass operations to patrolling sorties, with restricted bombing missions carried out at dawn or dusk.

Berlin did not expand in its report of the new Russian drive "north (Continued on Page Six)

Nazis Forced To Move More Troops To Balkans

Yugoslav Patriots Reported Storming Croat Capital Of Zagreb

London, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Germany has discovered that she has insufficient soldiers in Yugoslavia to hold the patriotic armies at bay and has been forced to send in large reinforcements, a Yugoslav liberation army communique said today.

Troops that are badly needed in Italy and elsewhere along the Mediterranean front have been ordered by the German high command to all sectors of Yugoslavia, declared a war bulletin broadcast by the free Yugoslav radio.

The communique said that around these cities the Germans have concentrated sufficient strength to open an offensive against the patriots. Bitter fighting has been reported in these areas for the past several days.

The Swiss radio, broadcasting reports from Yugoslavia, said that patriots had battled their way into the outskirts of the important city of Zagreb and that fierce fighting for possession of the city and begun. The Yugoslav communique, however, made no mention of fighting in the Zagreb environs.

Repeated attempts by German troops to recapture Tuzla, agricultural center 100 miles southwest of Belgrade have been beaten off, the communique said. It added that when the patriots occupied the town they freed 400 citizens being detained as hostages.

Greenville Seaman Is Reported Dead

Mrs. Annie Moore Morgan of this city has been advised by Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox that her son, Seaman Second Class Charles Gray Morgan, 20, who was reported missing in action September 13, 1942, is dead. Morgan attended Greenville High School. He enlisted in the Naval Reserve about two years ago.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Morgan of Greenville; two brothers, Earl and Douglas; and two sisters, Virginia and Ruby Morgan; his maternal grandfather, T. L. Moore of Bath, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Lydia Morgan of Greenville, and an aunt, Mrs. Louise Moore of Greenville. His father is in the Merchant Marine and is overseas.

NEW PROGRESS IN NEW GUINEA

Thunderbolts Blast Japs; Aussies Nearing Madang

Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Japan's badly mauled New Guinea airforce now has to reckon with a new sky menace—the P-47 Thunderbolt.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters disclosed today that four of these new fighters piled into 32 Japanese fighters over Wewak, New Guinea, Monday and sent at least eight down to join the approximately 500 enemy aircraft which have been wiped out there since mid-August. Two others may have gone down.

The four Thunderbolts were unscathed. One Thunderbolt pilot, Col. N. E. Kearby, 32, of Dallas and San Antonio, Tex., got five Japanese planes to become an ace in a single engagement. He also got credit for the probable and he carried a record of three downed enemy planes into the battle.

Survivors of the big enemy fighter formation, which was escorting 12 bombers, broke off the engagement. (Continued on Page Three)

Warns Senators Against Stirring Up Bitterness

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Washington, Oct. 13.—(AP)—President Roosevelt showed increasing signs today of being less chary about giving out war news.

With official reports from all over the world at his elbow, he has volunteered, at his last two press-radio conferences, appraisals of late developments in Europe, the Pacific and at home.

While no reasons were given for offering these analyses to the American people, there have been complaints from the press, Congress and other quarters that the country was not getting enough war news.

Yesterday, minus prompting, Mr. Roosevelt singled out as the important news of the day Britain's agreement with Portugal for use of the

Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin Announce Action Indicating Full Approval; Italy's Co-Belligerency Does Not Change Status Of Armistice Terms

Washington, Oct. 12.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin announced today that Italy had declared war against Germany.

The White House said Marshall Badoglio had communicated Italy's declaration against her former Axis partner to General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander in the Mediterranean theater.

In his message to the general, Badoglio said that "by this act all ties with the dreadful past are broken and my government will be proud to be able to march with you on to the inevitable victory."

In a joint statement released by the White House, Mr. Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin accepted "the active cooperation of the Italian nation and armed forces as a co-belligerent in the war against Germany."

Italy thus turned against her former partner a little more than a month after her armistice with the Allied powers.

In a proclamation to the Italian people, Badoglio said that "shoulder to shoulder, we must march forward with our friends of the United States, of Great Britain, of Russia, and of all the other United Nations."

Badoglio said an Italian government headed by himself would be completed shortly and that representatives of every political party would be invited to participate so that it may constitute a true expression of Democratic government.

"The present arrangement will in no way impair the untrammelled right of the people of Italy to choose their own form of Democratic government when peace is restored," the Marshall said.

"Italians! I inform you that his majesty the king has given me the task of announcing today, the 13th day of October, the declaration of war against Germany."

The British, Soviet and American governments acknowledged the Italian pledge to submit to the will of the Italian people after the Nazis have been driven from their homeland. (Continued On Page Three)

Purchase Land To Enlarge Airport

Negotiations were completed this afternoon by county and city officials with property owners for between 65 and 67 additional acres of land to permit 1,000 feet extension to two of the runways at the county-city airport. The cost of the property was approximately $12,000.

Work on the original portion of the airport containing over 600 acres with three 4,000 foot runways has been completed and final inspection by Civil Aeronautics Authority officials will be made within the next few days.

The Marines are expected to take over the field immediately after the inspection but the number of men to be stationed here and the extent of the use of the field has not yet been revealed by the Navy Department.

Grifton Book Club Meets.
Grifton, Oct. 13.—(AP)—On Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. P. Quinley the Grifton Book Club held their October meeting. Lovely fall flowers were used as decorations throughout the home. Mrs. Robert Rasberry presided in the absence of the president. After the roll call and response of the members the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Quinley who gave an interesting talk on "Safety in the Home." Later in the afternoon tea and sandwiches were served.

Inter Se Club.
"Simon Bolivar as much more than the George Washington of South America," Mrs. A. B. Stallworth emphasized in her splendid paper on the life of this great soldier and statesman which was read by Mrs. Denver Baughan before the Inter Se Book Club Tuesday afternoon. "He is the Washington, the Patrick Henry, the Thomas Jefferson and the Abraham Lincoln of South America," continued Mrs. Stallworth's paper. "He initiated the revolution against Spain which gave five nations birth; he commanded the armies which won their freedom; he formulated the principles upon which the republics were founded, formed their governments and wrote their constitutions."

Mrs. Stallworth's paper further explained that to millions of South Americans today, more than a century after his death, Simon Bolivar is almost a deity. Far more than a figure in English or North American history, the great liberator exists in the consciousness of his people as a living entity. In South American cities statuesman raise their hats at mention of his name.

Bolivar was born with great confidence in himself and with an unlimited capacity for wonderful dreams which always demanded immediate efforts toward realization.

On July 3, 1811, Bolivar uttered the word "Liberty" for the first time that it was spoken publicly in his native land—and demanded absolute independence from Spain. The Spanish forces fell, one by one, before him and his own troops increased with each victory until they became a true army.

For 14 years the battle raged, spreading across the whole face of the continent.

Bolivar achieved everything that he had sworn to achieve. It was not his fault that the forces of nationalism and political factions opposed the formation of a union of all the new states under one strong central government after the plan of the United States.

Mrs. Wrist Brown was hostess to the Inter Se members for the first meeting of the new club year. The president, Mrs. Denver Baughan, presided and welcomed two special guests, Mrs. Wiley Brown and Miss Mary Ann Brown of Schenectady, N. Y.

After a business session, Mrs. P. D. Duncan and Mrs. W. H. Taft distributed the new books with a few well-chosen words of interest about each one.

During a delightful social hour, Mrs. Brown, assisted by Miss Mary Ann Brown, served delicious cakes, salted nuts and coffee. Exquisite roses and dahlias decorated the living room and dining room for this enjoyable occasion.

Surgical Dressings
The response to the urgent call for volunteers for surgical dressings has been splendid. The college girls and members of the faculty at E. C. T. C. have enrolled in numbers sufficient to fill the work room for Monday and Tuesday nights—48 worked Monday night and that many have volunteered for Thursday night.

The business women of Greenville reported in large numbers Tuesday night. Thirty-eight were present. The entire personnel of several offices volunteered their services. The supervisors and instructors were particularly happy to welcome such splendid groups.

The housewives have not yet reported in sufficient numbers and it is urgent that we have more workers in the mornings and afternoons. If you have to work in the mornings—rest as you make surgical dressings in the afternoons. The work is easy—the company congenial and the cause urgent.

James Clark Died Grimesland Today

Mr. James Clark, 56, died at his home at Grimesland at 7 o'clock Tuesday night after having suffered a heart attack two hours earlier.

Funeral services will be conducted at the home at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon by Rev. W. A. Crow, Methodist minister of Richlands, a former pastor of Mr. Clark's church, assisted by Rev. R. L. Vickery, Methodist minister of Grimesland, and Rev. G. W. Perry, Methodist minister of Greenville. Burial will be in Greenwood cemetery. Members of the Grimesland Masonic Lodge will have charge of the services at the grave.

Active pallbearers will be W. H. Woolard of Greenville, J. L. Peterson of Vanceboro, and Dr. C. H. Spengler, R. B. Wilson, C. S. Mills, M. H. Godley, Arthur Porter, and J. H. Brooks of Grimesland.

Mr. Clark was the son of the late W. L. and Telitha Dixon Clark. He was born and spent all his life in the Grimesland community. He received his education in the Pitt county schools, Whitsett Institute, and Russell Business College. He was first married to Miss Daisy Porter of Pitt County. She died in 1922. Surviving this union are three daughters, Miss Linelle Clark of the home, Mrs. James Sanders of Penderlee, and Mrs. Phillip Barden of Aulander.

In 1923 Mr. Clark married Miss Roxie Abernathy of Piquay Springs, who survives him. Surviving this union are two sons, James Cecil Clark, and Donald Henry Clark, and a daughter, Miss Mary Lou Clark, all of the home. Also surviving are five brothers, Amos and George A. Clark of Greenville, Gordon and N. A. Clark of Black Jack, and W. V. Clark of Fayetteville, and two sisters, Mrs. W. A. Buck of Hudson's Cross Roads and Mrs. J. D. Hudson of Grimesland.

Mr. Clark was a well known merchant and manufacturer of tobacco flues. He was a member of the Methodist church of Grimesland, Red Men's Tribe of Grimesland, and Grimesland Masonic Lodge.

Change Date Shrine Meeting To Oct. 19

Wilmington, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Sudan Temple of the Mystic Shrine, which had scheduled a "dry sand" ceremonial here October 20 coincidental with the launching of a C-2 type freight ship at the North Carolina Shipbuilding Company yard, has advanced the date to October 19.

This was announced today by Potentate Luter A. Raney. Rapid progress in the work at the shipyard was said to have prompted the action.

The ship to be launched is the SS. Kathay.

After the ceremonial and launching, the Shriners will hold a banquet and close the event with a dance.

New York City banks and trust companies have resources in excess of $30,000,000,000—28 per cent of the national total.

To Celebrate 86th Birthday Friday

The seven children of Jonas Dilda of Fountain will celebrate his 86th birthday at a barbecue for the family Friday. Relatives and friends are invited to call during the afternoon. Mr. Dilda is exceptionally active mentally and physically. He supervises his farming interests, drives a car and truck and takes an interest in community affairs. He remembers three wars—the War Between the States, World War I and the present conflict.

Mr. Dilda has seven children, the eldest 67, the youngest 27; 41 grandchildren, 53 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild (five weeks old). He has five grandsons and one great-grandson in the armed forces. Mr. Dilda's children are Mrs. Robert McArthur of Greenville, J. C. Dilda of Wilson, J. L. Ben, S. L. and R. M. Dilda, and a daughter, Mrs. Allie Phillips. Five of the children live in the Fountain community. Mr. W. F. Owens of Greenville is Mr. Dilda's grandson and Dave Owens, president of the senior class at East Carolina Teachers' College, is a great-grandson.

TALY DOES ABOUT FACE

Action Almost Duplicates Her Course in World War I

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Foreign Staff
In declaring war on her former partner, Germany, Italy today impleated an about-face which almost duplicates the course she followed in World War I.
Her stand at the side of Germany in the present war ended Sept. 8 when Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower announced the unconditional surrender of the government of Premier Pietro Badoglio.
Actually the armistice was signed Sept. 3 the day Allied troops entered the Italian mainland after their 38-day conquest of Sicily.
Italy was an Axis partner for five years, two months and 29 days. Benito Mussolini's forces attacked a prostrate France on June 10, 1940, in the hope of winning the easily gained loot.
Since her surrender she has given the Allies some help in the form of untrained resistance to German occupation—ordered by the Badoglio government—and a valuable prize—the Italian fleet, but today's action places her once more in the position of turning formally against power with which she had been allied.
When the first World War began, Italy had a truce with Germany and Austria. She declared, however, that the pact did not call for participation in "aggressive action" and declined to take up arms. She remained neutral for 10 months, then came into the war on the side of the Allies and participated in one of the "big four" in the treaty of Versailles.
Italy's part in the present war has been filled with defeats and increasing German domination. Theoretically an equal partner of the Allies at the outbreak of the war, she found herself at the time reduced to German vassalage and the object of German scorn. Italy's casualties which fighting the side of Germany were considerable, although nothing like those suffered by Germany on the Russian front, and a total of nearly 1,000,000 Italian prisoners now in Allied prison camps.

Azores Bases ...

announced last night the grant of cillities in the Portuguese-owned and for the duration of the war. The initial British forces were understood to include RAF personnel, aircraft and other defense equipment, engineers and technical corps.
Official confirmation that these bases were put ashore was lacking in London.
British newspapers, meanwhile, apparently reflected general opinion here, hailing Portugal's action in granting Britain the Azores bases as another proof of Germany's waning military strength.
There was growing hope, too, that Turkey and other neutral nations might follow Portugal's example and extend military facilities to the United Nations. Britain and Turkey are parties to a treaty similar to the 570-year-old Portuguese-British agreement under which yesterday's action was taken.
"Discussing the developments, which strengthen the Allies' control over the sea routes from the United States to Europe and the Mediterranean, the London Daily Mail said: "This is an act against Germany which once would have been followed by swift and terrible reprisals. Portugal still may not escape unscathed. But the day when Hitler merely had to threaten and people bowed to his will has passed."
The Daily Herald said:
"The neutral countries no longer are terrorized as they were by the read of an invincible German army ready at any moment to crush them."
Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express said editorially:
"There are other neutral countries with plenty of help to offer us and powerful means of cutting short Germany's career in war. Portugal sets them an example. The time has come for them to cast off their four years of fear and act again as honor dictates."

Urge Removal ...

Urging that tobacco crop control measures be eliminated, Howard Cullman, vice president of Tobacco and Allied Stocks, Inc., declared that unless farmers were allowed to produce more leaf the industry could not continue to meet market demands.
Cullman said American cigarette production this year was estimated at 25 per cent more than last year, and declared the present reserve stock of cigarette tobacco was sufficient for only a year and eight months. Normally, he said, a two and a half year to three-year supply was kept in reserve in case of crop failures or other contingencies.
"The apparent shortage of raw material for cigarette manufacturing is basically due to crop control measures remaining static as to acreage over a period of years," Cullman asserted, "while production of cigarettes during the same period approximately doubled."
He stated if crop restrictions were removed "as in my opinion should be for the 1944 crop, it is doubtful if any substantial relief in the acute shortage of raw material would be felt before 1947."

Warns Senators ...

In the 855-plane raid Friday on Bremen and Vegesack, almost 1,000,000 gallons of gasoline and 25,000 gallons of oil were used. The planes carried some 2,500,000 pounds of bombs, 2,750,000 rounds of ammunition, 800 pounds of maps, and more than 5,000 crewmen. They flew at least 850,000 miles and traveled 1,400 miles in taxiing, taking off and landing.
"The OWI reported last night that the gasoline shortage will intensify for the duration" because of swelling war demands.
Most of the presidential news conference was devoted, however, to taking apart statements of some of the five senators just back from a round the world inspection tour. Mr. Roosevelt made it clear that he thought this is no time to be stirring up bitterness.
While displaying no evidence himself of any deep-seated resentment, he did take definite issue with things the traveling legislators have been saying about oil. Russian air bases near Japan, and American civilian trucks in Australia.
To a question whether he shared a British feeling that the current discussions about oil and postwar rights to air bases are unfortunate, he replied that he didn't know.
But he added that when public servants get up in a legislative body or an administration and say things whose effects are not carefully thought out, it tends to create bitterness. He said he did not think we should go out and try to create bitterness.

New Progress ...

By the Japanese airforce got in some ticks elsewhere. The communiqué said the enemy raided Guadalcanal on an unspecified date and caused damage to American shipping in those Solomon waters. Other enemy planes struck three times at General MacArthur's newly acquired air base of Lae, New Guinea.
In ground fighting, headquarters said that Australians mopping up northwest of captured Mischiefhagen had killed 400 Japanese. Other Aussies moving along the Ramu valley against the enemy coastal base of Madang continued to oust the enemy from outpost positions on high ground.
A spokesman at Admiral William F. Halsey's South Pacific headquarters disclosed that for the first time in the war New Zealand ground forces had gone into action in the Solomon theater and had led the mopping-up of Japanese troops on

POSTWAR PLAN IS APPROVED

Senate Subcommittee Votes Seven to One For Proposal

Washington, Oct. 13 (AP)—A Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee approved 7 to 1 today a post-war foreign policy declaration which would pledge the United States to people of free and sovereign nations in the establishment and maintenance of international authority with power to prevent aggression and to preserve the peace of the world.
The resolution, voted over the opposition of Senator LaFollette (Prog-Wis), goes to the full committee next week. Chairman Connally (D-Tex) predicted the full committee would approve it soon and expressed the opinion that the senate also would concur.
LaFollette's opposition to the measure was presented by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), in the absence of the Wisconsin Senator, in a Madison hospital. LaFollette had sent instructions to vote his name against any resolution at this time.
The resolution, which represents a compromise in viewpoints, is as follows:
"Resolved by the Senate of the United States:
"That the war against all our enemies be waged until complete victory is achieved;
"That the United States cooperate with its comrades-in-arms in securing a just and honorable peace;
"That the United States, acting through its constitutional processes join with free and sovereign nations in the establishment and maintenance of international authority with power to prevent aggression and to preserve the peace of the world."
Those who voted for the resolution were Senators Connally, George (D-Ga), Barkley (D-Ky), Thomas (D-Utah), Gillette (D-Iowa), Vandenberg, and White (R-Me).
Barkley told reporters he thought the proposal was "very constructive, brief and to the point," adding that in his opinion "it will meet with the general approval of the country."
Connally summed up his views like

Japs In New Drives Against Burma Road

Chungking, Oct. 13 (AP)—Heavily reinforced Japanese troops in the Yunnan-Burma border region have opened a three-column drive to expand their holdings along the Burma road where it enters southwestern China, the Chinese high command announced today.

A communique said two Japanese columns have been held by the Chinese in fighting during the past ten days or so, but it acknowledged that a third, thrusting northward from Chengachieh, east of Lungling, reached the vicinity of Mentshichai on Oct. 9 where it was intercepted and fighting continues.

materials and the market for finished products after the war unless the controls are continued through the armistice emergency.
At another point the report says: "It is pointed out that we have a greater explosive mixture than ever before in the history of a country in the form of great civilian scarcities on the one hand and a huge volume of purchasing power on the other, with the two held apart by the wartime controls.
If these two get together after the war before the levels are equal-

Overweight Oil Undermines Your Car

Why Lightest grades of oil are made safe for you by changing to Winter OIL-PLATING

Any oil that has been doing its best in your car for a while back, will be badly overweight this Winter. Everything ever said about not being caught with overweight oil goes double today on account of rationing. Your battery has been undercharged, because your car now runs fewer miles per start. Your gasoline has been wasted by the drag of overweight oil. Your engine has been abused because it hasn't been warm steadily enough for ideal lubrication. Your car could approach the end of its rope with any overweight oil apt to become jelly-like. Before Winter causes that, go light.
Whatever you do, change oil for lightness. At the same time though, you can make the whole big change to an OIL-PLATED engine, by getting popular-priced Conoco Nth motor oil—just as light as needed. OIL-PLATING is applied to inner engine surfaces as closely as chrome plating on your bumpers. The "magnet-like" properties of a Conoco Nth synthetic are the basis of OIL-PLATING. No plating would all drain down to the crankcase fast. It can long remain at its topmost point to safeguard the very first starting stroke. And right after that, even the lightest Conoco Nth oil assures an extremely strong normal type of fluid oil film. Oil film and OIL-PLATING are both present to rebuff wear, and that's how your engine can go through a long Winter—and a long War—always using its lightest possible Nth oil economically. Change at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station today. Continental Oil Company

Dread Engine Acid is Fought by OIL-PLATING

Normal combustion always leaves acids inside of your engine when it stops. Formerly it seldom stood idle long. Soon mileage and speed heated your engine enough to oust acids. But nowadays rationing may force long rests, while corrosive acids gnaw. To combat corrosion, metals are plated. You combat acid corrosion with your engine OIL-PLATED.

Italy Gives Adolf The Boot

Reg-MANNING

The most frequent complaint of occasional visitors to Washington is: "What makes us sore is that you folks here, from the President down to the youngest stenographer, seem to think that we don't know we are in a war—that we are dodging our responsibilities and trying to go on with business and life as usual."

If any such feeling exists here, it's confined to the few observers who can't see across the Potomac. All communities are afflicted with persons who are near-sighted. Washington perhaps has more than its share.

In the few days between the collapse of Italy and the bad news from the beach-head at Salerno, business men stationed in Washington practically tripped over each other trying to get back home to convert their businesses to peacetime pursuits. As I mentioned in a recent column, a foggy rumor that the Office of Civilian Defense was going to fold, because there was no further danger of invasion of this country from air or land, caused more than a third of its personnel to take a run-out powder. There were few states and fewer cities of similar size that had a harder time topping quotas on the Third War Loan drive than Washington.

Those and many kindred facts, such as over-emphasis on politics and the operations of the war brokers, to mention only two, give the sincere Washington official a cold chill. Couple that with reports from war industry areas that production drops off like a spent rocket every time the war news turns good, and you can understand why some government bigwigs make statements in the press and on the radio employing that unfortunate phrase "national complacency."

That's why President Roosevelt said recently the great news from General Eisenhower that Italy had surrendered wasn't yet any reason for celebration (and how true that is proving); why Secretary of the Navy Knox came out with an emphatic warning that the Battle of the Atlantic wasn't yet won weeks before the Nazis struck their most jangling blow in months at an Atlantic convoy; and why Chief of Staff General Marshall, in his recent extensive report on progress of the war, pointed out that we had only got one foot on the ladder to victory.

That is why, also, although it isn't generally known, that the President has issued a "secret" directive to War, Navy and the State departments that they are not to take out of the dictionary until this war is over. It was born because a lot of people (perhaps more in Washington than elsewhere) are showing too much eagerness to jump the gun in the race back to peacetime pursuits.

There are a good many reasons, mostly military, why bad news is withheld from public consumption, but from now on, there won't be much untold unless it definitely gives important military information to the enemy.

This is a new policy of realism in war news. It wasn't born because Washington, official or unofficial, thinks the rest of the country is complacent, that word should be taken out of the dictionary until this war is over. It was born because a lot of people (perhaps more in Washington than elsewhere) are showing too much eagerness to jump the gun in the race back to peacetime pursuits.

Change Ruling On Sale Of New Cars

Ration Order 2B, Amendment 9, Paragraph 2.8 (a) provides in part, "Any dealer refusing to transfer a car rationed under this order" to a financially qualified holder of a proper ration certificate or government exemption permit, "may be prohibited as provided in paragraph (b) from acquiring for resale and from transferring, except to dealers, any car rationed under this order."

Dealers are prohibited from requiring trade-ins by a qualified certificate or permit holder purchasing a new car. Hereafter the storage-maintenance certification, instead of being filed with the local ration board, is to be sent by the seller to the OPA Inventory Unit, New York City, within five days after delivery of the car to the purchaser.

Where the seller has refused on or after October 9, 1942, to sell any new passenger automobile to a bona fide holder of a ration certificate, or of a government exemption permit, who possesses the financial qualifications customarily required of a purchaser, is legally capable of entering into a contract, and is willing to pay the maximum price, such a seller shall not receive any new passenger automobile any allowance permitted by this paragraph (c) for the period beginning with the date of the refusal up to the date this regulation ceases to be in effect.

The allowance referred to is the monthly increment for the storage and maintenance charges and it applies to all cars in the dealer's stock.

Any seller at wholesale or retail of a new passenger automobile shall deliver to the purchaser an invoice or bill of sale on which shall be stated a description of the vehicle sold and of the trade-in, if any, the actual price paid showing separately the allowance for the trade-in, if any, and the following, separately listed if applicable:

- The list price of the vehicle.
- The Federal Excise Tax.
- Transportation allowance.
- Handling and delivery charges.
- Allowance (increment) for maintaining vehicle in storage.
- Special equipment (separately itemized with respective selling prices).
- State and local taxes imposed on the transaction and paid by the buyer.
- Any other charges separately itemized.

Pope Intends To Stay In Vatican

By JOHN COLBURN
Stockholm, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Pope Pius XII apparently intends to remain in Vatican City even if Rome becomes a battleground, reports from Italy indicated today.

The Pope has been continuing his usual activities, these unconfirmed reports continued, and, although the papal guard of the Holy See has been increased, the Vatican's defense remains purely symbolical as the Swiss guards are ordered never to use their rifles.

The Germans with three divisions in Rome have taken the Vatican "under protection," but German soldiers have not stepped inside the Catholic religious center nor has any move been taken to interfere with the Pope, dispatches from Rome said.

With the war zone drawing closer to Rome, however, the Stockholm newspaper Stocial Demokraten said, it was learned privately that the Pope had declined a German offer for a safe refuge in Liechtenstein.

In the Wake of MURDER

By ADELINE McELFRESH

Chapter 24

The narrow bed was rocking. The walls and ceiling were spinning in mad circles. And somewhere far away voices.

Jane lay very still for a long time. The voices went on and on, fading into almost nothing at times, then growing stronger.

"That government man is here, Doctor Jay," one of the voices said. "Shall I let him in?"

So this was the hospital. Jane realized wearily. And that government man the nurse mentioned... she didn't want to see him. He would ask questions. Questions about Brad Forrester.

But Brad was dead. The sergeant had said so. They couldn't hurt him now. The memory came back, bringing with new pain that stabbed at her heart. With a strangled cry, she sat bolt upright.

"Take it easy, Miss Carter," Dr. Jay was beside her instantly. "You took a long time in coming 'round.' Jane glanced from him to the nurse, who smiled reassuringly.

"There is someone to see you," the doctor said then, as naturally as though she were here for an appendectomy or something.

She nodded. The nurse hurried out. Jane wanted to ask Doctor Jay to stay but he, too, left. She turned her face to the wall.

"You poor darling," Jane's heart turned over and zoomed to new heights. Brad! She tried to sit up and couldn't.

"If anything had happened—" Brad left the sentence unfinished. "Jane," he said.

Pain was in those gray eyes now, but there was happiness too. Brad smoothed a curl back from her forehead.

"Darling," he said, "What happened? I can't get the straight of it."

With his help, Jane sat up. Then, leaning against his shoulder, she told him.

"—and then I passed out," she finished. "Completely."

"Poor kid. He kissed her. 'I've got a lot to make up to you, haven't I? But I couldn't let you, Jane not even when I was sure.'"

He nodded. "Yes, dear. We've got our man, as the saying goes."

Even then, Jane thought later, something warned her. "Well?" she asked.

Brad hesitated, refusing to meet her eyes.

"Jane, it's Ed Black."

"Just that simple statement, but it was enough to bring Jane's world crashing about her ears."

"Oh, Brad, no!" she whispered. "No."

But Brad only held her closer. The very silence shouted that it was true, Jane shuddered.

Uncle Ed an Axis agent! The tricks fate plays!

"And all those things I told him," she was crying now. "Brad, why didn't you tell me sooner?"

"I couldn't," replied Brad. "I didn't know myself until almost too late. Oh, I should have. I realize that now. But Ed seemed so anxious to help that—"

He shrugged, letting the gesture complete the sentence. "We knew this territory was a hot spot. I came here to find the leader. We had to have him, Jane. And to think Black even cooperated with us by hiring me as a reporter. He was smart, though. He knew he could watch me closer."

"But how did you know?" Jane asked. "What really tipped you off?"

The answer came quickly. "You did. You were so angry last night you spilled information all over the place."

"When you told me that you had sent that piece of material to your uncle for him to give to the police I knew. Jim Thompson would have told me about it. If he had ever seen it. But he didn't."

"Ed Black wanted to destroy that evidence and, after that he had to keep you and me apart. We might have put two and two together and arrived at four. Hence the wild story about another government agent and me being an imposter. You believed that one, didn't you, darling?"

Jane flushed. "I tried not to, Brad. Only you were so stubborn. You wouldn't tell me anything. Why, when you—"

"Yes, I know," he interrupted. "I met Brandt at the funeral. I was every place I shouldn't have been. You couldn't know why."

"I was safe for you to know," he said then. "Well, we got all of them. The blonde woman, Brandt, and half a dozen others."

Jane was thinking of all the times she should have suspected Ed Black—and didn't. He was out so much of the time, she and Brad had trailed him and the blonde woman to Emerson, where they had lost the long black sedan in the foreign section. The blonde woman had been at the powder explosion, too. Even at the funeral, when Brandt had been driving that long black sedan, she had not known.

And Ed Black had been the only other person, outside of Brad and herself, who knew of that letter. "I should have known," Brad. Jane said simply. "I didn't tell you enough. When I think of telling Uncle Ed about that letter and causing Mr. Billingsley's death—Oh, Brad, how could he?"

That last was almost a wall. The strain of the last few days had been too much. Great, racking sobs shook Jane's body.

"There, there, darling," Brad soothed. "It's all over now. We'll go away somewhere and forget all this."

We. Even in her sorrow, Jane noticed that. We'll go away, he had said. There was comfort—and strength—in the words.

And then suddenly the memory of Joe Masters leaped into her mind. But somehow it wasn't the same memory—the one that had kept telling her there could be no other man—the memory that had been forcing her to battle with herself.

She knew, now, that a girl could love twice, and just as deeply.

Brad would be leaving soon, going on to a new and perhaps more dangerous assignment. But we've got our lives ahead of us, her heart sang. Just one long honeymoon. Brad and I. Mrs. Brad Forrester. It's a nice name.

"The fire?" Jane forced her thoughts back to reality.

"We've got it licked," Pride was in Brad's tone. "And don't ask me how Roberts and I escaped. You wouldn't believe me, darling."

Jane smiled. "And Aunt Ella?"

"Chipper as you please, everything considered. She's pretty upset. She found out about Ed. When she confronted him with her information, well, he couldn't risk detection, so he—"

Jane closed her eyes. She didn't want Brad to see the new pain that was so much worse than the other.

"Darling," leaning over, he kissed her again.

Chicod Gives Full Support War Fund

By CHESTER WALSH

The home economics department of Chicod school was host last night to a group of leading citizens of that area and served a delicious supper preceding a meeting called by Newman Lewis, township chairman for the United War Fund of Pitt county.

Mr. Lewis, who presided, outlined the purpose of the meeting and introduced Ed E. Rawl of Greenville, who explained in detail the functional purpose of the United War Fund. Sheriff J. K. Knott Proctor made a splendid talk about the responsibility in connection with the humanitarian part of the war effort.

Numerous short and inspiring talks were made by leading citizens of the Chicod community.

Those at the meeting were L. C. Venter, H. Manning, Z. O. Whitford, J. E. Halstead, Blount S. T. Porter, Sr., Urn Cox, Major Smith, Jimmie Edwards, Marvin Smith, Ed Hooks, Tom Tyson, W. C. Spencer, Newman Lewis.

Sheriff Proctor and Ed Rawl. A rising vote of thanks was given the girls who prepared and served the supper. The meeting closed with an enthusiastic agreement that Chicod township will "as always," subscribe its proportionate part of the total county quota for the United War Fund, which is $1400. Pitt county's quota is $37,500.

Free Quota For Lost Ration Book

Raleigh, Oct. 13.—If you find a lost OPA ration book—owner is just as near as the nearest mail box.

Here's all you do to return it to the owner:

Drop any found ration book into the mails without wrapper or postage and the postoffice will deliver the lost book to the owner whose name appears on the cover.

The postoffice will collect a five-cent "postage due" charge from the owner. If the owner cannot be found, the postoffice will deliver the book to the nearest war price and rationing board, Theodore S. Johnson, Raleigh District OPA director, said today.

Confine Talks To Winning The War

Moscow, Oct. 13.—(AP)—In the first announcement here that the tri-power conference would be held in Moscow, the Communist party organ Pravda let the world know today the Soviets do not intend to discuss frontiers or the status of the Baltics, declaring firmly that the second round and complete defeat of Hitler is the question before the meeting.

"It should be known to everyone," Pravda said, "that the borders of the Soviet Union could not more serve as a subject of discussion than for instance, the borders of the United States or the status of California."

In addition, Pravda also replied and commented on some conjectures appearing in the foreign press which stated that political questions would be uppermost on the agenda when the foreign secretaries shortly sit down across the conference table in Moscow.

"The New York Times and many other American papers say political and not military questions will be the main item before the conference particularly questions regarding the post-war organization of Europe," said the editorial. "These papers forget at the present moment the main task of the United Nations is to speed the advent of the post-war period more rapidly."

London, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Lieut. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, commander in chief of U. S. air forces in Britain, was made a knight of the British Empire today by King George VI in a ceremony at Buckingham palace.

SALE OF VALUABLE FARM PROPERTY
Notice is hereby given by the heirs at law of the late C. J. Harris that they will sell at public sale to the highest bidder for cash the Court House door in Pitt County at 12 o'clock noon on Saturday, October 15th, 1943, the following described real property, to-wit:

Situated on the North side of Tar River, on both sides of the Greenville-Belvoir Road, bounded on the North by the lands of S. J. Harris and Thaniel (Jack) Warren on the East by the lands of S. J. Harris, on the South by the land of Louise Rogers and S. M. Gorn on the West by the Benson Road and known as the Moses Teal and T. E. Pollard lands, containing acres, more or less, and being the same identical land conveyed to J. Harris by T. E. Pollard and wife Ida Pollard, by deed dated August 23, 1918 and recorded in Book O, page 334 in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County.

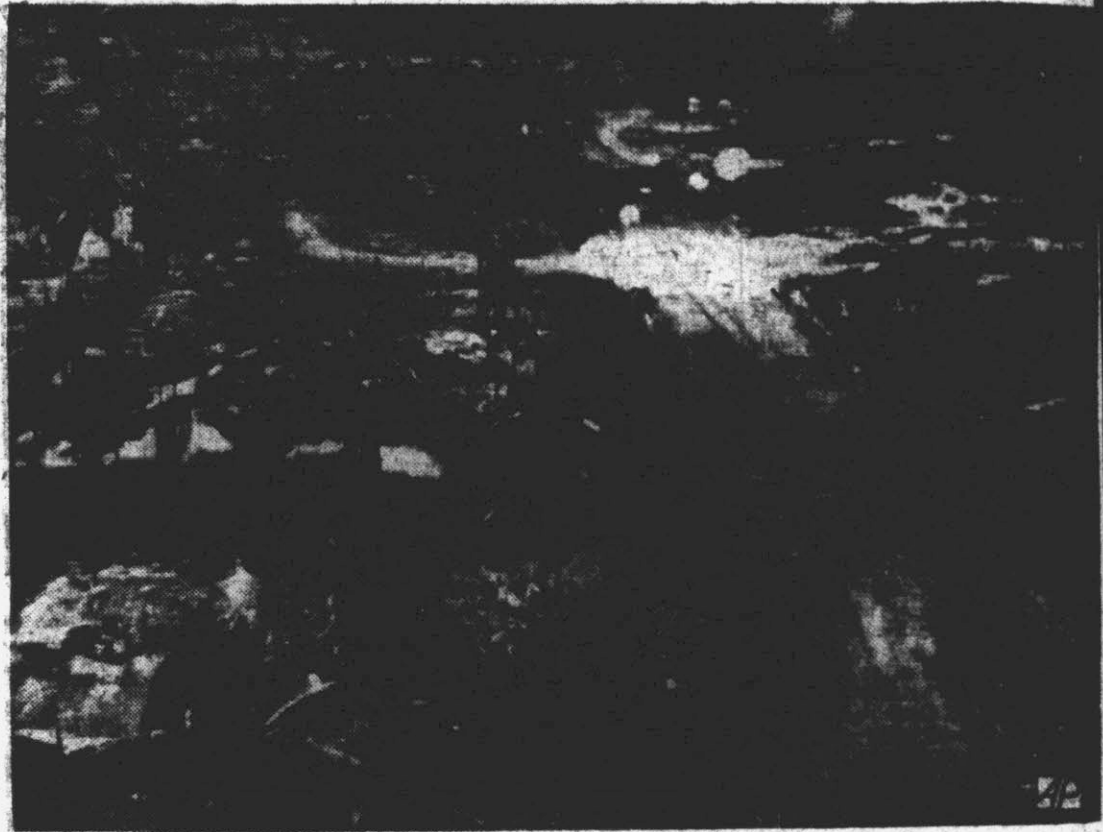

There is an allotment of 9.7 acres of tobacco, 51-2 acres of cotton and 51-2 acres of peanuts. The farm has sufficient buildings to take care of its needs, and an abundance of wood.

The sale will remain open five days for the purpose of giving anyone an opportunity to raise a bid if they desire to do so. The purchaser at the sale will be required to make a deposit of ten per cent of his bid on the day of sale, and the remaining portion of the bid will be payable upon delivery of the deed to the purchaser.

The heirs at law of the late C. J. Harris are anxious for the public generally to attend this sale and bid on the lands, and all of the heirs at law invite any and all bidders who desire to purchase the farm.

This the 4th day of October, 1943
FLOYD B. HARRIS and DAISY H. MOORE,
Adms. for the heirs of the late C. J. Harris.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

ANXIETY NEVER PAYS

There is no burden man bears which is more onerous than that of anxiety. The burden of work after quitting time. Even the burden of sorrow grows more tolerable with the passing of time. But the burden of anxiety deepens the longer we bear it. It digs grooves into our nervous systems which deepen with the passing years. It confines us in an attitude of mind which is morbidly prone to enjoy and which at last we cherish in a quite unwholesome fashion. There is nothing more destructive to health of mind and body than anxiety. It never does any good; it does an infinite amount of harm.

It has been said of pensioners that they never die. Insurance companies have found that the certainty of steady income on the part of those who hold income producing policies seems to result in the lengthening of the policyholders' lives. Anxiety concerning financial matters has been arrested by this provision. Furthermore, it has been the experience of those who have been able to throw anxiety over their shoulders and adopt a new outlook on life, that most of their troubles have evaporated like fog before the morning sun, and that they have experienced a marked improvement in health, appetite, and the capacity to sleep at night and to do their work by day.

Anxiety is the devil's own device for keeping people in bondage and reducing their effectiveness. It never pays.

THE GREATER THE EFFORT—THE QUICKER THE VICTORY

The acquisition of anti-submarine bases in the Azores and today's declaration of war by Italy on Germany are added signs of the ultimate defeat of the Axis but today Prime Minister Churchill added his warning to wishful thinkers by declaring that the people would be "absolute fools" to count on "an altogether unexpected collapse" of the enemy. Mr. Churchill declared that the worst fighting of the war lies ahead. This solemn warning is one that should be heeded by all of our people who are getting the feeling that it's all over but the shouting and that it is no longer necessary to carry on the war effort on the home front.

Naturally all of us want the war to end victoriously for us as quickly as possible, but the best way to quicken that end is to do everything possible in connection with the war effort. The way to win a fight is to put everything you have into it while the enemy is groggy, and that is why the present situation calls for added effort on the part of all our people. We cannot hope for victory unless each of us does his or her part now and every day until the victory is won.

V. M. I. CADETS GUNNING FOR THIRD GAME

Close Contest Expected As Spiders Outweigh V. M. I.

Richmond, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Virginia Military Institute's Cadets will be gunning for their third conference victory and a tighter grip on first place in the standings when they clash with the University of Richmond here Saturday.

The Spiders will go into the contest outweighing the 17-year-old aggregation of Coach Pooley Hubert almost 30 pounds to the man. And, in addition, Richmond will have the advantage of more reserves.

So far this season the Cadets have defeated two conference foes—Payson, 13 to 0, and last Saturday Clemson, 42 to 7. The Spiders have played only one conference tilt when they took a 61 to 0, walloping from the powerful Duke Blue Devils.

Coach Hubert is drilling his charges in aerial warfare in the hope that he can overcome the handicap of the Spiders' greater weight.

Other inter-collegiate contests this week-end feature North Carolina at Durham and Wake Forest and North Carolina State at Raleigh.

The Tar Heels' backs and ends are working on defenses against Duke's passing attack and Coach Tom Young yesterday put Hosea Rodgers at tailback and Billy Myers in the wing position in an effort to develop more power against the Blue Devils.

Meanwhile, Duke, made sensitive by their loss last week-end to Wake Forest, is seeking to iron out the weaknesses which Coach Eddie Cameron believes went a long way toward giving the Middles the margin of victory.

Pass defense also was the order of the day at Wake Forest where the Deacons are working to be ready to stop North Carolina's Wolfpack.

Both teams yesterday scrimmaged against formations used by their potential foes.

At Davidson, N. C., Coach Gene McEver, with an eye on the approaching game Saturday with the Charleston, S. C., Coast Guard Station in Charlotte, is brushing up his secondary defense.

Heartened by prospects of effective backfield strength after weeks of experiments as injuries and transfers dogged the squad, South Carolina's Gamecocks are working for their game October 21 with Clemson at Columbia.

Lieut. Larry Sullivan, also from Notre Dame, already was holding down one tackle berth.

DAN DUNN—SECRET OPERATIVE 48

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Much to their surprise, the football experts are learning that some 17-year-old kids can play pretty good football. Maybe they're not as good as the "men," but here's this for a 17-year-old All America backfield: Bob Hoernschmeyer, Indiana; Joe Moeks, Pitt; Dean Senenbaugh, Ohio State, and Johnny (he's only 16) Small, Peabody. Additional nominations will be accepted. Red Schoendienst, Rochester's 20-year-old, 4-F shortstop who'll likely land a spot with the Cardinals next spring, got his job of trying to save some dough. Three years ago Red and a pal wanted to see the Cards play the Dodgers, so Red applied for a morning tryout with the idea that they'd be allowed to stay for the game. Within an hour, Schoendienst had signed a contract and next day he was off to join the Albany, Ga., club.

NAVY'S TIT WHALE—An Army tank rolls from the cavernous jaws of a Navy LST (landing ship, tank) during the amphibious training maneuvers along the eastern coast of the U. S. Many such craft are now in use in combat.

After reaching the broadcast- ing coop for the Michigan-Notre Dame game, Bill discovered that the only chair available was so high that he couldn't talk into the mike. So he leaped a saw somewhere and cut off the legs.

Jimmy Miralitta, Virginia's starting football center, competed in the 127 and 135 pound classes on the boxing team last winter. Jim Thorpe, still most people's idea of Mr. Football, has four sons enrolled in Oklahoma Indian schools, two at Chilocco and two at Pawnee. Grain Market

Chicago, Oct. 13—(AP)—Heavy disappearance of feed grains, as revealed in the latest government crop report, spurred a good upturn in grains today. Wheat was up about a cent, the December contract hitting its seasonal high established in March.

Barley was ahead about two cents at times and gains in rye ranged to more than a cent at their highs.

COAL BONANZA IS DISCOVERED

Million Tons Mined
50 Years Ago To Be Used Now

Pottsville, Pa., Oct. 13—(AP)—A million tons of hard coal, mined a half-century ago and forgotten, has been rediscovered just in time to help relieve the pinch of an acute fuel shortage in the east.

The coal is small-sized anthracite,
for which there was no market
when it was mined before the turn of the century. But stokers and other modern equipment make it suitable for home heating now. Operators estimate there is enough of it to heat 100,000 homes all winter.

When the anthracite shortage became serious recently, and talk of rationing was heard, an official of the Stevens coal company suddenly remembered the huge banks of "waste" piled about 10 miles outside this city. Investigation revealed that most of the coal could be salvaged with comparatively little effort.

Yesterday the Stevens company signed an agreement with the Philadelphia and Reading coal and iron company to lease the waste piles, and work was started immediately on preparing the coal for market.
Most of it will be shipped to cities along the eastern seaboard.

Anthracite operators said the bonanza would lift some of the great burden on the hard coal fields, which have been hard hit by abnormal war demands and labor shortages caused by miners leaving the pits to take war jobs or to join the armed services.

on October 1 according to the Department of Agriculture, were approximately 337,000,000 bushels under those of a year ago.

December wheat closed at 1.53-
1/2, oats 78¢, rye 1.11-1/2, barley
1.22-1/2.

Ayden Man Helps Bomb Jap Islands

Washington, Oct. 13—(AP)—An
"I bombed Japan Club" has been organized by 156 members of air crews of the Eleventh Air Force in Alaska who have participated in bombing missions to Japan's Para-mushiri and Shimushu islands in the Kuriles group.

The charter members have dreams of the roster's growing to gigantic size, with membership as enviable as any club in American history. Membership cards are made and issued on the spot at a small photographic laboratory in a building somewhere in the Aleutians.

Major Louis C. Bleu of Los Angeles, Calif., is president. The charter members include these North Carolinians: 1st Lt. Irvin L. Smith of Linwood, navigator, 2nd Lt. Cecil D.
May, pilot, New Bern; Tech. Sgt.
Lambe, engineer, Charlotte; Tech.
Sgt. T. Ring, radio operator, Charlotte; Staff Sgt. Raymond G. Gaylor, Asst. engineer, Ayden, and Staff Sgt. Colus L. White, High Point.

Allied Forces . . .

to test the enemy's strength.
The break-through on the central front, which brought new threats of eventual flanking movements from the east against the Vulturno line, also resulted in capture of the towns of Cercello, Colle and Caltanagrosso.

On the Eighth army front from the Adriatic south to the mountainous backbone of central Italy, Allied gains were general, while enemy opposition was uneven. At some points, British patrols forged ahead against only mild resistance, but the Germans fought back desperately elsewhere.

Possibility that the Germans are rushing early reinforcements to the Adriatic battlefield was seen in an air force announcement that Allied fighter-bombers had scored many hits on a train loaded with motor transport on the rail line between Pescara and Termoli.

"Fifth army patrols again have been active and positions gained have been consolidated," the war bulletin added.

Light bombers hammered road junctions around Vasto, 18 miles above Termoli, yesterday, and fighter-bombers struck at enemy gun positions and trains in the Terminioli area.

Night-flying fleets also blasted at railroad bridges and yards at Civi-tavecchia 40 miles northwest of Rome.

No Allied planes were lost.
(A broadcast last night by radio France at Algiers said American troops had advanced more than 14 miles in the last 24 hours, penetrating deep into the mountains.)

(The Fifth army is beginning to turn the German flank on the Volturno river front north of Bene-vento, with the Germans making a tougher stand, said this broadcast heard by the British Ministry of Information.)

(Radio France announced this morning that since the liberation of Corsica, the Germans had sent 20 new divisions into France, guarding against an invasion there.)

In Cairo the RAF announced that heavy bombers, continuing the bomb-lashing of the Dodecanese, had hammered Maritza airfield on Rhodes Monday night, and other planes hit the harbor of Cos last night.

Arrest Suspect In Robbery Case

Wilson, Oct. 13—(AP)—Police Chief C. P. Hocutt today announced the arrest of a suspect in Baltimore in connection with the slugging and robbery of Henry P. Elliott, 55, independent tobacco buyer of Chadbourn. Hocutt said the suspect was listed as Paul A. Jenkins, 21, of Fairmont.

Elliott remained unconscious in a hospital here today. He was attacked at his apartment here Saturday night. Hocutt said $300 of Elliott's money was missing after the attack.

reason was given.

ish papers printed in Spanish and did not apply to the foreign press of any other language.

SAYS END OF WAR NOT NEAR

Churchill Urges British Put War Above
Politics

By E. C. DANIEL

London, Oct. 13—(AP)—Telling the British they would be "absolute fools" to count on an "altogether unexpected collapse" of the enemy, Prime Minister Churchill declared today "the worst fighting of the war, so far as the British people are concerned, lies ahead."

He told Commons the government will not at present attempt any "far-reaching changes of a constitutional character" such as a Socialist proposal for the nationalization of coal mines because the controversy might seriously impede the war effort.

Serving as the leader of the House during the absence of Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, Churchill took unusual action in intervening in a purely domestic debate over the coal mines to re-define the national coalition under which all major parties cooperate in the government.

The principle of this coalition, he said, is "everything for the war
