Reds Smash Through At Many Points; Nazis Facing Greatest Disaster Since Russian Campaign Began; London Estimates 1,500,000 May Be Entrapped

By EDDY GILMORE
Moscow, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Red army, speeding up its marathon offensive and attacking violently in many sectors, was throwing the Germans back scores of miles today in the face of very heavy counter-attacks.

There were signs from several areas—particularly southeast of Kremenchug in the Dnieper elbow—where the Russians are fashioning the southern arm of a clamp, and southeast of Kiev at the Pereyaslav bridgehead—that the German command was unable to halt breakthroughs.

Moscow is expecting to be able to hold a Saturday night celebration of another Russian victory—the fall of Melitopol, ravaged by many days of as fierce street fighting as has occurred anywhere.

By JUDSON O'QUINN
London, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The fleeing hordes of Adolf Hitler, outsmarted and cut to pieces by smashing Soviet forces along almost the entire eastern front, are in imminent peril of suffering their biggest disaster since the Red army launched its sweeping summer offensive.

The Nazis' lengthy retreat to the Dnieper river defense line was made with not too great a loss and in a rather orderly fashion, in the opinion of London military observers, but the Germans now face annihilation at the hand of the Red army in the trap at the Dnieper bend, at outflanked Kiev and Gomel, and below the Dnieper elbow and in the Crimea when Melitopol falls.

According to estimates based on reports from the battlefield possibly 1,500,000 Germans are crowded into the Dnepropetrovsk area alone.

Red army columns have slashed their way to within 31 miles of Dnepropetrovsk to the northwest and were within 18 miles of Krivoy Rog, the Russian communiqué said today.

Below Kiev, swift tank spearheads smashed out from their bridgehead at Pereyaslav to lengthen the northern pincer arm around the (Continued on Page Three)

British Cruiser Sunk Last Night
London, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A British cruiser was sunk and a destroyer set afire in a clash with light German naval formations near the Channel islands off the French coast last night, German broadcasts asserted today.

The German claim said the cruiser was hit by three to four torpedoes and blew up.
The German fleet was escorting a convoy through the channel when they were sighted by the British destroyers 60 miles southwest of the Channel islands, the broadcast said. There was no immediate British confirmation.

Germans Pull Out Of Crimea

German armies in the Crimea were reported evacuating the Crimea over the Perekop land bridge, and were said to be rushing reinforcements in an effort to stem the onrushing Russians (open arrows). Soviet forces (solid arrows) raced south toward Krivoy Rog, steel center, threatening to trap the Nazis in the Dnieper bend and also cleaned up last-ditch defenders of Melitopol. (AP Wirephoto).

Swedish Airliner Shot Down By Nazi FighterNotice To Our Advertisers

Because of the manpower shortage due to war conditions over which we have no control, beginning Monday all display advertising must be in our hands the day before the date of publication. Our regular solicitation will be made each morning but for advertisements for the following day instead of the same day has been our custom heretofore.

For the past four months, because we lost one of our employees to defense work and could not replace him, the five remaining men in our mechanical department have been forced to turn out the work previously done by six. After this week we will be short another employee which means that the remaining reduced force will have to carry on. In view of this situation we are sure our advertisers will realize our dilemma and cooperate with us by anticipating their advertising needs and meeting the day-in-advance deadline for their copy.

Thirteen Persons Including One American Lose Lives In Disaster

Stockholm, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A Swedish airliner flying from London to Stockholm was shot down in flames late last night on Sweden's rocky west coast, presumably by a German fighter plane, killing 13 persons, one a California clergyman.

The plane crashed near Haalo. The American was Dr. T. C. Hume of Claremont, Calif. The craft's radio operator had time only to send a brief, dramatic message saying "We have been shot down" before the plane was smashed to bits on the rocks.

One crew member and one passenger, a Swedish sailor named Olson, were thrown clear and were rescued by fishermen. The dead were not immediately identified. Late last August another Swedish transport plane flying from England to Stockholm disappeared and is believed to have been shot down over the sea.

There was no radio communication from the plane last night indicating trouble of any kind prior to the single sentence telling of the attack.

Besides the American, the plane's passengers included one Englishman, two Swedes and two women members of the Russian legation in Stockholm with four of their children.

The rescued mechanic named Grupp, described the shooting and crash. He said: "Our Douglas DC-3 was pursued and shot down at about 10:35 p. m. by a military plane of unidentified nationality. During the next 10 minutes our pursuer sent three cannon and machine gun blasts into our plane. One engine was hit and the wings caught fire. The pilot gave the order to land on the water. We opened the door and got the rubber dinghy ready, but before we were able to land the second engine quit, making it impossible to maneuver the ship. She crashed into the rocks and broke in half. Superior Court To
Have Civil Session

Judge J. Paul Frizzelle of Suwa Hill will convene a week's civil term of Superior Court here Monday morning at 10 o'clock. A number of important cases are on the calendar for hearing.
A week's criminal term will be convened the week of October 31, when the trial of Mario F. Jobbe, U. S. Marine from New River, charged with attempting to rape Miss Margaret Roebuck, is expected to be called. The Marine has been in jail here since arrest on September 24.

RAF BOMBERS
POUND KASSEL
IN NIGHT RAID

Forty-Four Heavy Bombers Failed To Return From Attack On Nazi Industrial Center

By ROBERT STURDEVANT
London, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A great force of RAF heavy bombers fought their way through many Nazi fighters last night to deliver a concentrated attack on the German war and industrial centers of Kassel in the ninth—and costliest—major British raid of the month.

Forty-four heavy bombers failed to return from the mission, but the four-engined planes fought back stubbornly, sending "several" fighters hurling from the dark skies.
A smaller force of heavy planes struck at the same time at Frankfurt, making it the second raid in 18 days on that industrial center, and Mosquitos rounded out the night's bombing attacks with an assault on the Cologne area.

As the heavy bombers again added their terrific punches at German industry to the day and night attacks that American and RAF lighter planes have been conducting against Nazi communications and fighter fields, German raiders stabbed at London for the seventh successive night, dropping a few bombs.

Not since an RAF armada hit Berlin on the last night in August had British bomber losses been so severe. Forty-seven aircraft failed to return from that raid. The Berlin radio increased the figure of last night's British losses to 48 shot down over southwest Germany.

The lesser attack on Frankfurt, more than 400 miles from Berlin, was the 29th of the type on that big automobile, rail and rubber center. While the official report mentioned that bad weather was encountered during the 400-mile roundtrip to Kassel, it said that visibility was good over the target and that first reports indicated the explosives had been concentrated, indicating that the RAF probably had equalled or even exceeded the 50 tons of bombs a minute dropped during the last Kassel raid on Oct. 10.

The attack on Kassel was the ninth major British raid of the month and the fifth heavy bombing of that German city of 200,000 in six months. Canadian bombers participated, carrying the heaviest weight of bombs to date by that (Continued on Page Three)

Jap Submarines
Renew Activity

By The Associated Press
Navy-appealed reports of hostile submarines operating between Hawaii and the Pacific coast today indicated the possibility of a new enemy attempt to reduce the flow of war supplies to New Guinea and the Solomon where Japan is taking an incessant pounding.

Freighter and tanker crews arriving at a west coast port told of recent brushes with long-range underwater craft. One tanker underwent two attacks and escaped torpedoing only by smart maneuvering.

Pacific fleet headquarters announced this week that an enemy submarine launched an unidentified plane which attempted to scout Pearl Harbor's defenses Sunday and then fled upon detection. The west coast has been troubled by submarines since June, 1942, when two attacks occurred in the northwest.

The rescued mechanic named Grupp, described the shooting and crash. He said: "Our Douglas DC-3 was pursued and shot down at about 10:35 p. m. by a military plane of unidentified nationality. During the next 10 minutes our pursuer sent three cannon and machine gun blasts into our plane. One engine was hit and the wings caught fire. The pilot gave the order to land on the water. Senators Demand Probe Of Maritime Commission
By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Washington, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Senator Aiken (R-Vt.) said today the Maritime Commission recently paid $3,296,500 for five merchant ships, upon which it had placed a total valuation of only $203,807, and he demanded a congressional investigation into all spending by this federal agency.

Aiken said Comptroller General Lindsay Warren's official reports were the basis of his complaint. "One engine was hit and the wings caught fire. The pilot gave the order to land on the water. We opened the door and got the rubber dinghy ready, but before we were able to land the second engine quit, making it impossible to maneuver the ship. She crashed into the rocks and broke in half. The Lafayette built in 1919 for the Shipping Board at a cost of $1,681,631, it was sold to Lux Steamship Company in 1932 for $52,025. The Maritime Commission, Warren said, paid $676,000 for it in July while it was valued on Commission books for only $14,200.
The Kofresi, built in 1919 for $1,881,600, and sold to the Waterman Bros. Steamship Company for $79,236 repurchased in July for $680,700 although valued at only $35,492.
"The Gateway City, built in 1920 for $1,428,627 and purchased by Waterman in 1931 for $79,236, repurchased by the Commission for $686,900 despite a $35,715 valuation.
The Arizona, built in 1918 at a cost of $2,066,807, and sold to Waterman in 1931 for $79,236 repurchased for $686,900 despite a $38,239 valuation.
Aiken said he also would submit to the senate on Monday reports on the Pan Gulf and the Panama City, which the Commission purchased from the Pan-Atlantic Steamship Corporation, owned by Waterman. The senator said they were valued at $97,759 by the Commission, but that the Commission on September 14 paid $1,069,000 for them.

TALK SHIFTS
TO SALES TAX

Congress May Accept Plan As Wartime Measure

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY
Washington, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Congressional emphasis shifted back today to proposals for a national retail sales tax, after the House Ways and Means committee turned thumbs down on any further increases in individual income levies.

Senator George (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Finance committee, told this writer that "if the treasury were willing to withdraw active opposition, I'm inclined to think Congress would accept a 3 per cent sales tax as a war measure."

The Ways and Means group, which originates tax legislation, voted 16 to 8 yesterday against all proposals to increase burdens on personal incomes. It was decided, however, to repeal the victory tax and adjust normal income tax to pick up the $3,200,000,000 net now derived from the victory levy.

This threw out completely the administration's proposal to collect $6,500,000,000 additional from individuals.
The committee action left a sales tax, increased levies on corporation income and larger excises on so-called luxuries—such as cigarettes, liquor, fur coats and pop—as the only major avenues to new billions of wartime revenue.

The CIO said in testimony before the House that if a sales levy became law, then labor would demand a proportionate increase in wages. Economic stabilization director Fred M. Vinson warned that this sort of tax might cause a "breakthrough" in the wartime "hold the line" economic policy.

Liberators Rain Death
On Japs In New Guinea

Troop Concentration Center Plastered With 221 Tons Of Bombs

Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Death was strewn among concentrations of Japanese soldiers and their quarters were leveled Thursday by 221 tons of bombs in the biggest display of American aerial destructiveness ever concentrated in a single day of the New Guinea jungle war.

Reinforced enemy troops at Sattelberg, 15 miles northwest of Australian-held Finschhafen, came under the bombsights of Liberator heavy bombers in a raid announced today by General MacArthur's headquarters.

"We just blew that place all to hell," said Capt. George P. Dunmore, bombardier of the first plane over the target.

"I never saw such good bombing before."

Twenty-five of 28 buildings were blown up. The others were damaged. (Continued on Page Two)

Add More Items To Ration List

Washington, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Jams, jellies, preserves and fruit spreads are the next—and probably the last—food items on the nation's ration list.

The Office of Price Administration slapped an eight-day retail sales freeze on fruit spreads at midnight, preliminary to rationing which starts Sunday, October 31. Officials said they did not now see any other foods likely to need the ration treatment.

The butter shortage sent demand for jam soaring beyond the supply prospects. The production outlook for 1943-pack jams and jellies meanwhile dropped to a point about 50,000,000 pounds annually under the present curtailed buying rate.

War Surpluses and Civilian Goods
Babson Says Excess Army and Navy Supplies May Present A Problem

By ROGER BABSON
Babson Park, Mass., Oct. 22.—At the end of World War I the government held a bag containing $5,000,000,000 worth of goods of every kind and description. We all remember the so-called "army and navy stores" which for more than 20 years disposed of a portion of these goods. Undoubtedly they were a nuisance to old-line established retail stores. These army and navy stores seemed to have a never-ending inventory.

Unfair Competition
The great bulk of the $5,000,000,000 surplus was bought up by mail-order houses and speculators at private sales or at auctions. Through catalogues and low-rent stores these goods were then re-sold to the general public at considerably less than retail prices for similar goods. It took from one war to another to clean out army and navy inventories of these materials. Few, if any, of them were adapted to the needs of World War II. Probably little of the surplus which remains at the end of this war will be retained by the army and navy.

Hence, the government will be faced with another great problem of disposal. World War I excess supplies brought about 35 cents on the dollar cost. I should judge that the government will take another loss (Continued on Page Two)

By WES GALLAGHER
Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Oct. 23.—(AP)—American artillery—"Queen of the Battle" from Africa through Sicily—crushed a Nazi counter-attack at Alife on the Fifth army's right wing in Italy yesterday, knocking out "a number of tanks," and in the central sector Fifth army troops have seized commanding heights, it was announced today.

This was the first appearance of German tanks in any number in some time, but Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring's counter-attack failed as did a similar effort on the Eighth Army front near Montecassino.

The Germans, now firmly entrenched in their new mountain positions, launched a series of counterblows designed to throw the Fifth and Eighth armies off balance. Allied troops not only beat off every attack, but Eighth army forces advanced two miles to take Lupara, which controls high ground in central Italy.

In sea actions, small units of the American and British navies, including U. S. patrol torpedo boats, sank, captured or damaged five Nazi-controlled vessels. The torpedo boats darted far up the northwest coast of Italy near Leghorn, from new bases in the Mediterranean to make their raid.

In the air, Allied bomber fleets continued their Balkan campaign, bombing the Nazi airfield at Eleusis near Athens.

The Allied communiqué said Fifth army troops had captured commanding heights in the central sector of their front and "are exploiting this gain," but did not identify the area.

The heaviest fighting yesterday occurred near Alife, captured earlier in the drive up the bend of the Volturno river.

Eisenhowers Are Behind War Fund

"From opposite sides of the world, the Eisenhower brothers, one of them a general, the other a college president, join the backers of the National War Fund and its 17 war-related agencies for which 6,000 campaigns are now under way, uniting appeals for military and foreign services with local welfare agencies," said Ed E. Raul, publicity chairman for Pitt County, today.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commanding the Allied forces in North Africa and Italy, has transmitted the following message through military channels:

"Delighted to endorse National War Fund campaign and to extend best wishes for complete success."

His brother, M. S. Eisenhower, president of Kansas State College, had this to say about the National War Fund's appeal:

"Our taxes and our funds invested in war bonds go to the federal government to finance strictly official war needs. But there are other vital human needs in war. I have seen some of them. In North Africa I saw refugees from France, Poland, the Low Countries, Yugoslavia, who had fled from their homes to escape Nazi tyranny. They preferred even homelessness and starvation to Nazi oppression. And what I saw does not, I know, match the indescribable situation in China and elsewhere. We can help by contributing to the National War Fund."

Hence, the government will be faced with another great problem of disposal. World War I excess supplies brought about 35 cents on the dollar cost. I should judge that the government will take another loss (Continued on Page Two)

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. HITCHCOCK

WE CAN'T ALL CLICK
TOGETHER

Many people entertain the singular notion that everyone should think alike on religious matters, else
the world is in turmoil.

Now the truth of the matter is that all people will not arrive at the same conclusion on religious matters. There are differences of opinion in every other field and to the end of time there will be an honest difference of opinion regarding certain aspects of religion. Absolute truth never varies, but no man or no group of men on earth are able properly to apprehend the fulness of that spiritual truth. In heaven we shall see things as they really are, and differences of opinion will probably not exist. But so long as we remain on earth, our diverse experiences will cause us to look at religion from the point where we happen to stand, and our outlook, therefore, will never be the smallest detail be precisely like the outlook and belief of anyone else.

However, on the fundamentals all Christians in all branches of the Church are agreed. We all believe in the Fatherhood of God, the Son-hood of Jesus Christ, the power of the Holy Spirit, the sufficiency of the Word of God for all our spiritual needs, and the certainty of everlasting life. If we agree on these things, we can well afford to hold a wide variety of opinions on matters of secondary importance.

All good clocks indicate the time accurately, but all good clocks do not tick together.

WASHINGTON
IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNEY

Washington—In spite of the fact that Japanese propaganda provides a lot of snickers (boys back from the Pacific tell me that they listen constantly to the Nip radio for first the good American dance band music, but secondly for the laughs they get out of Jap efforts to discourage or frighten them) the Administration had to make two major moves recently to block it.

In the first instance the Jap beat us to the draw and badly. No sooner had President Roosevelt asked Congress to give him the right to establish Philippine independence the moment the time is ripe instead of waiting for 1946, then Tokyo announced the immediate independence of the Philippines.

That is a laugh, but don't think it isn't an effective propaganda weapon. By merely relaxing some military regulations over the Philippines civilian population and testing the ball to puppet leaders, they can create a semblance of independence that might leave many civilians there with little heart for seeing their islands again a battleground.

The second move to cut out a Jap propaganda cancer came when the Administration urged the House Rules Committee cleared the way for a vote on the Magnuson bill, which would repeal the Chinese exclusion act.

No single move by our government or statute on our books has provided the Japanese with such an effective propaganda weapon as the act by which the Chinese, out of all the peoples in the world are for-bidden entry to these shores and of course denied the right of naturalized citizenship.

Both editorially, here and among supporters of the Magnuson bill on the hill, the Chinese exclusion act has been depicted as one of the most antiquated and unfair laws on the books. Its intention was perhaps, almost a humanitarian measure, for it came when eastern immigrants were supporting Chinese coolies by the boat load. They were virtually slave labor and in some sections so upset wage scales as to reduce American labor to pauperism.

Those were the lush days of immigration. Immigration quotas have been shaved and shaved until today, if the Magnuson bill passes, as most observers are positive it will,
the Chinese under present quotas could enter only at the rate of 105

Don't Sigh And Gaze At Me--

By MANNING

In view of this and of the damage the act has done in our relations with our ally, it is difficult to see how there could be strong objection to its repeal.

Two amendments to the Magnuson bill that are almost certain to come to vote are those which would
(1) cut all immigration quotas in one-half for 10 years, and (2) collected by Representative Martin of Texas, would allow all immigration for the duration.

Whether either would provide the same with an alternative propaganda weapon is hard to say, but propagandists here are deploring the fact that any amendment has to be considered along with outright repeal of the Chinese exclusion act.

Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
October 23, 1903

The Athenian Literary Society of the Bethel graded school held its regular meeting on Friday afternoon. There was very warm debate on the subject that "traveling is more helpful than reading." Messrs. Henry V. Staton and Judson Blount represented the negative.

to be on the Duke University campus for a similar period in November and at State College about the same time. He left Thursday night for his home in Tennessee.

Graduates

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Fornes, 412 Cotanche St., Greenville, N. C.

To Meet At Surgical Dressings Room
The Literature Department of the Woman's Club will meet Tuesday afternoon at the Surgical Dressings room.

Pitt County Chapter News

The college group working on Red Cross surgical dressings has increased its production this week over last by more than 1,500 bandages, having turned out 5,445 last week and 6,975 this one. The students and teachers, working some 55 at a time, spend two hours each Monday, Tuesday and Friday nights in the surgical dressings room in the Austin building.

The bandages now being made by the college group, two inches square, can be made a little faster than the large ones being worked on in the daytime.

The girls almost invariably sing at their work, often beginning with the Marine Song and ending either with "America" or "The Star Spangled Banner."

Hiking in the Woods!
Brownie Troops 5 and 6 met at the club house Thursday afternoon at 3:45. Mrs. Skinner, Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Proctor were in charge and there were 37 Brownies present. After the meeting was called to order and money was collected, the Brownies went hiking in a beautiful wooded section of the city. There they saw morning glories and trees filled with beautiful autumn leaves. They played a while, having a grand time. Then they returned to the club house.

A SERVICE WITHIN THE MEANS OF ALL

We know that the sudden passing of a loved one often places a severe strain on family resources and limits the amount of money available for the last services. That is why our range of prices covers such needs. Whatever the cost, our patrons are assured of our best professional efforts and a dignified, beautiful service. We ask that anyone faced with such a situation to come and talk over the problem with us.

Kassel, which is 100 miles north-east of Cologne, is one of Germany's key aircraft towns and also the site of the Henschel Locomotive Works, largest of its kind in Europe. The city has a big assembly works for Messerschmitt 109s.

The Berlin radio said that the British raiders also had hit Frankfurt-on-the-main. It admitted damage was caused.

Almost every type of daylight craft, except Fortresses and Liberators, went back and forth across the channel yesterday in a speeded-up aerial offensive led by American Marauders which blasted the Nazi airbase at Evreux, France, near Paris and returned without mishap.

Repeating their assaults on Britain for the seventh successive night, the Nazis sent a small number of planes across the Kent and Sussex coasts and a few of them reached the London area last night. Bombs were dropped in east Anglia and in two sections of the London area. A small number of casualties were reported.

The Marauders flew all the way to France and back without encounter.

countering one enemy plane, but a group of Spitfires on patrol sweeps over occupied countries hit a sizeable nest of German fighters and shot down eight of them against one loss.

Six Boston bombers failed to return from an attack against a target in the low countries. The only other loss for the day was a Typhoon bomber.

Dnieper bend. More than 50 towns were liberated and the important rail line between Dnepropetrovsk and Kriovi Rog was severed. Other Soviet units were within 16 miles of Znamenska, rail terminal to the northwest and an important point in the Nazi communications setup.

In the most stubbornly contested battle since Stalingrad the Red army has the Nazis backed up to the northern edge of Melitopol. The city is in flames, Moscow reports said. Fierce street-to-street fighting continues.

The Ukrainian capital of Kiev, principal German base along the middle Dnieper is slowly being thrilled in a Red army pincer movement and Gomel, strategic enemy defense base, has been passed in the Soviet offensive into White Russia.

Fall of these centers would mean an end to the German reign in the Ukraine, the Crimea and even in all southern Russia, with the Red army gaining another wedge in its drive toward the old Polish frontier.

If the Germans keep up their furious pace of counter-attacks against the Russian steamroller, it was reasoned here, there will be little time for them to organize their next line of defense, and they may be driven out of Russia entirely.

Nazis presumably figured that their elaborate Dnieper "defense in depth" positions and the advent of the torrential rainy season would help them halt the powerful Red army offensive, but it is evident that Premier Joseph Stalin has clearly outgeneraled Hitler and the German general staff.

The valiant Red troops punched their way across the Dnieper so quickly and in so many places that the German army was unable to get off its boots, much less organize adequate "communications in its rear for a quick getaway.

Russian engineers threw bridge after bridge across the Dnieper river under a constant pounding by the German air force.

Soviet tanks and an infantry rolled over the river in the Autumn rains with such momentum that the best efforts of Hitler's famed shock divisions failed to hold them.

Stalin's most spectacular gains were made below Kremenchug and just above the great river bend. In this sector the Red army spearheads cut most of the German escape corridors against Masses of German reserves, counter-attacking under cover of formations of Nazi warplanes sorely needed on other fronts.

Patriotic Window Displays.
The center window at Belk-Tyler's store on Fifth street, decorated by Ed Hearn to arouse interest in the National or United War Fund drive, is attracting much attention and favorable comment. The display is arranged to tell the whole story of what the War Fund will help. Attractive displays emphasizing the merits of the War Fund are in the windows of Blount, Harvey's and J. C. Penney's stores.

President Sick
Washington, Oct. 23—(AP)—The White House said today that President Roosevelt has a case of gripple with one degree of fever.

Secretary Stephen Early said the Chief Executive's physician, Rear Admiral E. A. T. McInire, Navy surgeon general, had ordered the President to remain in his room again today and to cancel all appointments.

Thomas Ennett, head of the Pitt County Health Department and president of the North Carolina Public Health Association, will preside at the association's 23rd annual meeting at the Sir Walter hotel in Raleigh next Monday and Tuesday. Dr. Ennett will deliver his presidential address on "Trends in Public Health" at the banquet Monday night. Dr. William P. Richardson will be installed as president.

New York, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Specialized buying continued as the principal prop for today's stock market and assorted favorites added fractions to 2 points or more to their recent advance, a number touching peaks for the year or longer.
It was far from a one-way sortie, however, and from the start many leaders were unable to shift out of the minus column. Dealings picked up at intervals and transfers for the two hours were around 300,000 shares. Gainers had the advantage near the close.

PHANTOMS TIE WITH TARBORO

Both Sides Muffed Several Opportunities To Score In Ragged Game

Greenville and Tarboro battled to a 6-6 tie last night in Tarboro. After apparently being beaten, the Phantoms put on a thrilling drive in the waning minutes of the fourth period, to tie up the ball game but failed to make the point after touchdown and had to be satisfied with a tie. Greenville defeated Tarboro in a game played here earlier in the season by the score of 12-7. Greenville elected to receive to start the game. Perkins was slow in recovering the bouncing kickoff and tackled back on his own twenty-five yard line. The Phantoms could not get their offense clicking and had to kick. Fleming got off a short kick after a bad pass from center, that kept the Phantoms in the hole. Tarboro took over on the Greenies' 40-yard line and put on their only sustained drive of the night. Two first downs carried them to the locals' twenty where the Phantoms stiffened and held the home team for three downs without any gain, then on the fourth down Tarboro completed a pass in the end zone for six points, and then on their try for the extra point on a pass play.
During the second and third quarters neither team could do much on the offensive. Tarboro had difficulty in holding on to the ball and their fumbles gave the Phantoms several opportunities that were made little use of. Both teams took to the air with little success because the receivers could not seem to hang on to the ball.
With the game rapidly drawing to a close Greenville suddenly came to life and put on their first and only offensive of the night. Tarboro waited until fourth down to Rick and fumbled the ball and the locals took over on the fifty. The Phantoms gained nine yards on these plays and with fourth down and one to go, they took a chance and tried a pass play. Dennis Fleming on a reverse pass was rushed badly but managed to get off a high pass that Amos Leggett gathered in with several opponents all around him for a first down on the Tarboro thirty-five. Then with Dave Perkins doing most of the ball carrying they moved down the field. Another pass from Billy Harrington to Ernest Cahoon was opportune in the drive that ended with Perkins going over for the tying score.
Greenville gambled on a running play for the extra point that failed and the game ended shortly afterwards at midfield where the Phantoms had taken over after a flurry of passes by the home team.
Play was ragged on both sides during the night. Numerous fumbles on both sides hurt scoring opportunities. Greenville was very slow in starting but when they did get underway they showed more power than at any other time this year. The Phantoms' starting backfield that was made up of Perkins, Futrell, Leggett and Fleming, shows promise and should improve with some more experience. Perkins is the only member of the regular backfield that started the season that is available for duty now.
Amos Leggett, who until recently was a reserve wineback, stood out, both offensively and defensively, in his now blocking back position. Dave Perkins shouldered most of the ball carrying chores for the night. He ran from the tailback spot and also at fullback. Dave Whichard led the line play along with Phil Moore and Ernest Cahoon.
