Fifth Army Forges Ahead Despite Fierce Resistance

Advances Three Miles To Seize Important Communications Center; British Eighth Army Extends Breach In German's Trigno River Defense Line

By WES GALLAGHER Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Violent mountain battles flared on the Fifth army front in Italy today as the result of an Allied drive of three miles that took the vital rail and road junction of Sparanise, 18 miles from the western coast.

The advance of the Fifth army, witnessed by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower while on a tour of the front, placed the American and British troops north of the stoutly defended Regia defense canal leading to the sea and imperiled the position of the Nazi troops in that area.

The Germans launched counter-attack after counter-attack in an effort to relieve their position, but in the words of the commentator, they were driven off with a "bloody nose."

The entire tempo of the war in the sea and air shifted as American heavy bombers blasted southern Austria and raided the airfield at Tirana, Albania, a second time.

On the eighth army's eastern front Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's men poured into an enlarged bridgehead across the Trigno river to attack German positions beyond.

On the Fifth army front heavy German counterattacks flared east from Sparanise toward Pignore and Magliora. American troops smashed back four Nazi assaults in 24 hours.

The Fifth army advance in a mountainous area overlooking the coast constituted a severe threat to the entire German position and if continued would seriously endanger the enemy's Massico ridge line.

Sparanise, captured by the Fifth army, is about seven miles north of the Voltorno near the center of L. Gen. Mark W. Clark's line, and four miles due west of Pignore, in Allied hands for several days.

The advance of the Eighth army posed an increasing threat to the inland road junction town of Isernia and eventually the rear of the Massico ridge line.

The rail yards and aircraft factory at Pistoia near Florence were bombed last night, and other communications lines at Formia on the west coast and nearby Minturno were blasted again.

Fought Duel

Betty Reeves, 19, (above) a drugstore clerk, holds a knife similar to one she told Los Angeles police she carried when she and Doris Rhoad, 17, a telephone operator, fought hand-to-hand in the moonlight over the affections of a married man. Betty is nursing various neck and abrasions on her hands, while Doris is in a hospital with deep arm wounds. The "duel" had the earmarks of a real one, including the presence of accords. LEAF HOLIDAY IS DECLARED

Tobacco Markets To Close After Tomorrow's Sales

Raleigh, Oct. 25.—(AP)—A tobacco marketing holiday has been called in North Carolina and Virginia in a move designed to stop a steady decline in prices.

Governor Broughton said he and Governor Coakley W. Darden of Virginia were asking warehouses to close Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at least. During this period he made to raise prices, particularly on the lower grades.

The action was taken after a conference here Saturday of tobacco-owners with the governor. The conference was called by Broughton after prices on lower grades of tobacco dropped as much as 16 cents a pound last week.

A resolution adopted by the tobacco men suggested a marketing holiday for at least two days and to continue as long as Governors Broughton and Darden deemed necessary.

War Food Administration officials in Richmond, Va., said tobacco purchase allocations had not been reduced. The statement was issued in the hope that it might bolster sagging prices of common leaf in the old belt markets and make the sales holiday unnecessary.

Attack French Indo-China New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—China-based American bombers, escorted by fighters, attacked the Hanoi airfield in French Indo-China yesterday. The Tokyo radio said today in a broadcast recorded by the Federal Communications Commission.

Senators Begin Debate On Postwar Resolution

By JACK BELL Washington, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Opening one of the U. S. Senate's most important debates in this generation Senator Connally (D-Tex.) declared today the hour has struck for America to show that its strength would be devoted to world peace and against aggression hereafter.

LAST ROUNDUP IN FUND DRIVE

Individual Solicitations Get Under Way Tomorrow

By CHESTER WALSH Greenville township's National or United War Fund drive will get into full swing at a breakfast meeting at the Proctor Hotel tomorrow morning at 8:15.

The Special Gifts Committee, John G. Clark chairman, which started work last Tuesday, has completed its job and tomorrow morning will swing into the town's quota of $22,500—$15,000 for the National Fund and $7,500 for the local Community Chest.

W. F. (Red) Young is chairman for that part of the township outside of Greenville.

Joe S. Moye is chairman for Greenville township.

James T. Little, county chairman for the fund, today urged the people to respond generously when the solicitors call.

The money will be used for the USO war prisoners in enemy hands and 14 other worthy wartime causes, he said.

The Pitt county people always do their part and more, and we trust that when the campaign is over that we can report to state headquarters that Pitt county is well over the top in the War Fund drive.

Pitt county's quota is $7,500. This includes all agencies except the Red Cross.

Mrs. J. B. Kittrell, chairman of the women's division of Greenville township, will preside at a luncheon meeting at the Rotary building tomorrow at 1 p. m. when the women begin their solicitation for the War Fund drive.

Dr. J. A. Battle is chairman of the Negro division and is working with a representative group of men and women.

The National or United War Fund will be used for the following war agencies: USO, United Seamen's Service, War Prisoners' Aid, Belgian War Relief Society, British War Relief Association, Norwegian Relief, Polish War Relief, Queen Wilhelmina Fund, Russian War Relief, United China Relief, United Czechoslovak Relief, United Yugoslav Relief, Friends of Luxembourg, Greek War Relief, United States Committee for the (Continued on Page Four)

Court To Review Insurance Case

Washington, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to review a decision that insurance companies are not subject to prosecution under the Sherman anti-trust act.

This 1890 legislation prohibits combinations or conspiracies in restraint of interstate commerce.

Action by the tribunal was on an appeal by the Justice Department from a decision by the Federal District Court at Atlanta dismissing anti-trust charges against 198 stock fire insurance companies in Alabama, Florida, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia.

Other defendants were the South eastern Underwriters Association, an organization of the companies, and 27 individuals.

U. S. Submarine Reported Lost

Washington, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The submarine Dorado today was listed by the Navy as lost after serving as a combat ship for less than two months.

A communique said yesterday that the Dorado, which was commissioned on August 28, was "long overdue" and must be "presumed to be lost."

It carried 65 officers and men. Commanded by Lieutenant Commander Ernie Gaffrey Schneider, 31, of Arnold, Md., the Dorado was launched May 23 at Groton, Conn., carrying 10 21-inch torpedo tubes, the 307-foot ship was the 13th sub lost since America's entry into the war. Two are listed as sunk, 10 overdue and presumed lost and one destroyed to prevent enemy capture.

While no reference was made as to where the loss occurred, it was presumed the action was in the Pacific.

Allies Open Two-Way Air Squeeze On Nazis

Berlin Reports Raids On Southern Germany, Austria And Hungary; Other Bombers Blast France and Western Germany

By HENRY B. JAMESON London, Oct. 25.—(AP)—RAF Mosquitoes bombed targets in the Ruhr and Rhineland last night, the British announced today as the Berlin radio hinted at the start of a crumpling two-way Allied aerial squeeze on Germany by declaring that American four-engine bombers based in Italy had attacked southern Germany, Austria and Hungary yesterday.

A brief Air Ministry communique announcing the RAF raids gave no details of the overnight operations, which also included minelaying in enemy waters. All planes were said to have returned safely.

The American attacks yesterday reported by the Berlin radio apparently were on a heavy scale.

Allied confirmation and full details of this daylight flight, presumably across the Alpine mountains of Yugoslavia, were not forthcoming immediately, but the German broadcasts gave every indication that it came at the very moment when a major new development was being unfolded in Britain for the two-direction air attack against Germany—the installation on British bases of squadrons of P-38 Lightning fighters equipped with extra tanks to give them a range of 1,700 miles.

In the Berlin broadcast the German news agency DNB declared that 300 heavy bombers escorted by 200 fighters attacked unspecified towns in Germany and Austria, explaining that targets in the Austrian province of Styria were among the objectives and that at one place "major damage was caused."

If true, this would constitute the first time an air blow has been struck at the Reich itself from the south by planes based in Italy.

The German agency described the attacking force as "large formations" of four-engine bombers and added:

"Bombs were dropped over a fairly large area between Vienna and the northern approaches to the Alps."

The last big raid on the Vienna area was the attack on the aircraft factory at Wiener Neustadt October 17 by American Liberators based in North Africa.

A Budapest dispatch by way of Stockholm said bombs, incendiaries and leaflets were dropped in southern Hungary Budapest was raided September 4, 1942 by the Russians and there have been reports of several alerts since.

Another Budapest report suggested yesterday's operation was a shuttle raid, with the bombers coming from newly-captured airfields at Foggia and flying on to bases in England after the attack.

United States Marauders, which are setting up an enviable knock-out record of enemy targets, blasted three airfields yesterday within a 60-mile radius of Paris and returned without loss in a mission that may be the forerunner of raids far deeper into Europe by these last twin-engine medium bombers.

Because of its song, the hermit thrush is also called the swamp angel and American nightingale.

Eden and Molotov is to remove the distrust and suspicion which have been plaguing the three major powers. Until that is done there can be no progress in settling such complicated problems as post-war boundaries and the political complexion of European governments.

Unless it is done there is likely to be another war in our time.

It's logical to believe that the battle of the Dnieper might influence the Moscow conference if the flight-out should produce a sudden Nazi rout. Certainly the warmly debated question of the "second front" would come up for review since a great Nazi upset would be bound to revive the Russian demand for invasion of France in order to set Hitler between two fires and secure a quick killing.

Red Army Threatens Nazis With Entrapment In Crimea

JAPS SUFFER HEAVY LOSSES

Planes And Ships Destroyed; Troops Hurlled Back

Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Japanese forces which for a week struggled to break through Australian lines to reach the New Guinea coast near Finschhafen have been whittled down and thrust back into the jungle-matted hills.

Allied bombers and fighters and hardened Australian jungle troops crushed the enemy's efforts with coordinated blows.

"He (the enemy) has now fallen back, bases on the hills where his supply routes to the north are difficult and precarious," said today's communique from General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters. "His forces are weak in numbers and of little significance."

Four Japanese attacks were repulsed Saturday. Australians hurled back the attackers with heavy losses and kept their hold on Kaituma village, which has changed hands four times this month.

The communique said the Japanese apparently had hoped to open a route to the sea either to escape or to receive supplies.

In the air, too, the Allies remained dominant. Bombers and fighters last Friday and Saturday destroyed at least 26 enemy planes, sank two 1,000-ton ships, scored three direct bomb hits on a large ship resembling an aircraft carrier, and destroyed or damaged two other ships and 16 barges. Five Allied planes were missing.

Twenty grounded planes were destroyed by Mitchell bombers in raids on the Davao and But airbases near Wewak, strong enemy bases on the New Guinea coast 350 miles northwest of Finschhafen. Three of 28 intercepting fighters were shot down.

A lone Liberator on reconnaissance sighted a small convoy off Buika Island in the Solomon early Saturday morning. It chose a large carrier-like craft for its target and dropped three bombs amidships. The ship was aflame when last sighted.

One Allied fighter was missing from a formation which attacked Kahili airbase on Bougainville.

Take Bodies From Damaged Tanker

Palm Beach, Fla., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Bodies of several of the 88 persons who lost their lives in the collision of two blacked-out tankers off the Florida coast last Wednesday were removed today by the coast guard from one of the ships.

The bodies, not identified, were taken to the Naval Air station at Opa-Locka.

They were recovered from the still smoldering hull of the northbound tanker which was laden with aviation gasoline that exploded and spread over both ships when it collided with an empty southbound tanker. Today was the first time the bodies were recovered.

The southbound tanker has been floated and towed to port. It had 28 bodies on board.

Clash Of Balkan Force Reported

To Die In Gas Chamber Raleigh, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Village Smith, 37, Warren county Negro, will die Friday in the gas chamber for murder unless Governor Broughton intervenes.

London, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Rival Yugoslav forces of Gen. Josip (Tito) Broz and Gen. Draja Mihailovic have clashed today in a bitter battle in the hills of Montenegro. Tito's free Yugoslav radio announced today as his partisans continued to engage the Germans in other parts of war-torn Yugoslavia.

The fighting between Tito's partisans and the forces of King Peter's war minister was said to be particularly heavy in the Matesevo and Mont Cakor areas where the radio declared Mihailovic's Chetniks had joined the Germans.

An earlier communique, which announced that the partisans had stormed two German strongholds in western Bosnia and captured 2,000 Nazi officers and men said the Nazis and Chetniks were attacking "without success" at Matesevo and "so far they have lost 300 killed."

Tito repeatedly has accused Mihailovic of aiding the Germans.

A Reuters dispatch from Cairo quoted reports to the Yugoslav government as saying the whole estuary of Kotor, Adriatic port 130 miles south of Split and one of the best natural harbors in all Yugoslavia, was in the hands of Mihailovic's forces.

As sporadic clashes flared in other parts of Yugoslavia, the Moracco radio said that Field Marshal Erwin Rommel had asked for three more divisions, about 45,000 men, to crush Balkan opposition.

In Army Again

Solomon Levine, 41, (above) has been re-inducted by the army on a special waiver obtained by his draft board from the War Department. VOTE AGAINST TAX INCREASE

Committee Eliminates New Estate and Gift Levies

Washington, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee voted today against any increase in estate and gift taxes, trimming $400,000,000 from the administration's request for $10,500,000,000 in new wartime revenue levies.

The committee last week turned thumbs down on any increase in individual income taxes.

The administration had asked $6,500,000,000 in additional levies on personal incomes.

Today's action left only corporation and excise levies open among the media through which the administration had hoped to channel new funds to the treasury.

Without the adoption of a federal retail sales tax or some other new levy there appeared little likelihood the new revenue bill, now being drafted, would provide more than $2,000,000,000.

The treasury has asked for increases in corporation taxes to gather in $1,100,000,000.

The committee rejected flatly the treasury request that $400,000,000 additional be raised by lowering the estate and gift tax exemption from $60,000 to $40,000 and increases in rates.

The committee has not taken up treasury proposals for increased excises on so-called luxuries, such as cigarettes, liquor, furs and soft drinks.

Raleigh, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Vacancies on the board of trustees of East Carolina Teachers College at Greenville were filled today by Governor Broughton.

They were: F. C. Harding, Arthur B. Corey and J. Herbert Waldrop, all of Greenville, and Mrs. Frank L. Greenhouse of Rocky Mount, for terms expiring June 30, 1948; O. P. Makepeace of Sanford, A. B. Andrews and Mrs. Charles M. Johnson, both of Raleigh, and J. K. Warren of Trenton, for terms expiring June 30, 1949.

The four whose terms have not expired are Mrs. Charles S. Forbes of Greenville, Mrs. John G. Dawson of Kinston, Mrs. W. E. Murphy of Snow Hill and Dr. Paul Fitzgerald of Greenville.

Dr. Clyde A. Erwin, state superintendent of Public Instruction, is ex-officio chairman of the board.

Strike Threats Loom In Coal And Transportation

(By The Associated Press) Washington, Oct. 25.—"Wildcat" strikes spread to more soft coal pits today in a work-stoppage emphasis by a Solid Fuels Administration report of sharply dropping production of the vital mineral in the last reporting week.

Meanwhile there were increasing indications that the War Labor Board would not approve in its present form the proposed Illinois bituminous contract which the miners have held up as model for the whole industry. Most of the striking miners attribute their idleness to the United Mine Workers' traditional policy of "no contract—no work."

Soviets Stab Six Miles Southwest Of Melitopol And Near Krivoi Rog In Dnieper Bend In Effort To Seal Crimea; 6,500 Germans Killed Or Routed

By EDDY GILMORE Moscow, Oct. 25.—(AP)

The Nazis today threw in more troops, planes, tanks and artillery and fought back violently in a desperate bid to stem the mighty Red army offensive which threatened to pin them in a large sack in the Dnieper river bend as the Russians rolled on to within six miles of the iron and rail center of Krivoi Rog.

"The Russians are attacking in waves of 90 minutes apart and the autumn battle on the whole breadth of the sector from Kremenchug to Melitopol "has assumed proportions which in the opinion of German military experts justify one in speaking of a new climax," said a German broadcast today.

"The fighting there has achieved a new ferocity rarely attained before."

The only way out of the sack is a 30-mile wide gap from Krivoi Rog southeastward to the Dnieper.

As the Soviet right flank pushed powerful groups moved through the broken Zaporozhe-Melitopol line toward the Crimea, several highly important cities were already definitely outflanked and it appeared dubious that the Germans could hold them much longer.

These included Dnepropetrovsk and nearby Dneprodzerzhinsk, one-time centers of Soviet electric power, and Kharkov, where some of the finest manganese ore deposits in the Soviet union are located.

There is only one way out of Dnepropetrovsk for the Germans and that is down a single-track railway to Kikoleva, through the bottleneck of Kosionovo, also in the Dnieper elbow.

Christian Science Service. "Probation After Death" was the subject of the Christian Science lesson-sermon on Sunday. The golden text was from Psalms 16:9, "I have set the Lord always before me; because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved." Citations included the following: "Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead? But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen; and if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain. If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable. But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept." (I Cor. 15:12-14, 19-20).

The lesson also included the following from the textbook: "The Master said plainly that physique was not spirit, and after his resurrection he proved to the physical senses that his body was not changed until he himself ascended—or in other words, rose even higher in the understanding of spirit. God Jesus unchanged physical condition after what seemed to be death was followed by his exaltation above all material conditions; and this exaltation explained his ascension, and revealed unmistakably a probationary and progressive state beyond the grave."

Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR October 25, 1903

Mrs. W. B. James and children returned Sunday evening from a visit to Wilmington.

Greenville extends a most cordial welcome to the delegates and visitors to the North Carolina Christian Missionary convention here this week. All latch-strings will be found hanging on the outside.

Greenville will put on her best appearance this week.

College Vesper Service.

Mrs. Irene Thompson, new Presbyterian student worker, led the vesper service at the college Sunday evening.

Mrs. Thompson's theme was stated in the question she quoted, "Who is this man you call Jesus?" and was developed in narrative form. She told of the imaginary visit at Jesus' trial of people whom he had helped—the man who had been blind, but could see, who called Jesus the Son of God; the Samaritan woman at the well, who said that Jesus is Christ, the promised one; Zachaeus, the publican who described Jesus as the one who came to seek and to save that which is lost; and finally Peter, who declared him to be "the Christ, the Son of the living God."

She stressed the fact that Christians are people who follow Christ. The devotional was led by Margaret McMillan.

Fraternity Holds Auction Sale.

An auction sale held by the Phi Sigma chapter of Sigma Pi Alpha, national honorary language fraternity, as a "twenty-five minute interruption" at the college dance on Saturday night, to start on the raising of funds for the National War Fund drive, netted the organization an average of a dollar a minute for the time used according to reports from the club this morning.

The articles auctioned—a wide variety which ranged from floor wax to fruit cakes—were donated by Greenville merchants for the purpose. Those articles not reached in the sale Saturday night will be sold at "Play Night" October 28, when the campus drive led by the two "Y's" and supported by all the campus organizations, will be officially launched. In this evening of fun Thursday night, the Women's Athletic Association are co-sponsors with the Y's, and all campus organizations will furnish booths or side-shows, the proceeds of which will go to the fund.

The auction Saturday night was conducted by Mr. R. C. Deal, head of the foreign language department at the college and adviser to the fraternity. Student fraternity members assisting with the collection of articles and their sale were: Dorothea Boyette, Hazel Harris, Elizabeth Kittrell, Ronald Lee, Dorothy Maynard, Nell Murphy, Katie Earl Owen, Alma Simmons, Esther M. White and Helen Thomas. Elizabeth Kittrell is president of the organization. Miss Marguerite Austin is one of the advisers.

U. D. C. Meeting. Mrs. Eugene Robeson was a charming hostess to the members of the George B. Singletary chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy on Thursday afternoon at her home on Greene street.

enjoyed both business and social hours.

Mrs. J. L. Fleming, president, presided over the interesting business session. Mrs. W. P. Moore, treasurer, reported that all funds had been collected and was working for us on various U. D. C. projects. The registrar, Mrs. J. H. Boyd, Jr., reported three new members whose papers had been accepted. Mrs. T. Hollingsworth, historian, reported that plans were now being made for Flag Day to be held early in November.

Mrs. W. L. Johnson of LaGrange, division historian, was presented by Mrs. Fleming and welcomed by all. She brought the highlights of the recent state convention, which was held at Statesville, and expressed her pleasure in serving as state historian for the past two years. Mrs. Eugene Robeson was presented as the new division historian, taking office in December, and which is quite an honor for the Greenville chapter. Her heritage, her personal charm and her ability assure us of her splendid leadership. Red Cross work being done was reported, and attention was called to Thursdays being U. D. C. days at the Surgical Dressings room.

Mrs. K. B. Pace had charge of the program for the afternoon, and being the wife of a beloved Greenville doctor, it was fitting that she explained the Wagner-Murray bill, or Senate bill 1161, which is now pending in the United States Senate. This bill has been drawn up by Senator Murray of Montana. It will be put in the hands of the surgeon general, if passed, to raise by additional taxing of each family $3,045,000.00 for public health. She stated this surgeon general would be in charge of the whole medical program, and the public would have no choice in doctors, dentists or hospital, which would be assigned to them. Her talk was most enlightening, and the members went on record as being opposed to this bill and the corresponding secretary, Mrs. T. A. Person, was instructed to write Congressman Bonner and Senator Bailey to this effect.

During the social hour that followed the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. B. White and Mrs. John B. Glenn, served a delicious ice course. The November meeting will be held with Mrs. E. B. Ficklen at her home on Fifth street.—Reported.

Air Corps Honors Greenville Flier

Col. Claire L. Luce, U. S. Army Air Corps, from Camp Seymour Johnson, Goldsboro, at the court house this afternoon presented to Mrs. Lester Meeks, an Oak Leaf Cluster, and an Army Air Medal for her son, Lieut. Thomas Meeks, who was killed during an air battle over Germany last June 13. He was a navigator on an American bomber.

The Purple Heart, posthumously awarded to Lieut. Meeks, was presented to Mrs. Meeks some weeks ago.

Is it "Dead-end" for this Kid?

The name is Benson. Jimmie Benson from the top floor.

Jimmie got his first tough break when he was only a baby. The old man just skipped...leaving for parts unknown.

Now at 11, Jimmie's a "war casualty." There's nobody around to look out for him. You see...his mother puts in an 8-hour day and longer at a war plant.

So at 11, Jimmie has to face the critical turning point in his life...alone.

But you can help him call the turn.

Up. Maybe all the way up to presidential timber some day.

Or down. Slipping slowly down from gutter-sniping...small-time, "kid gang" stuff...down even to the big pen perhaps.

And how can you call the turn?

You and your spare dollars can give Jimmie the normal recreation, the help and guidance that every adolescent needs at the turning point.

Or...you can turn your back, if you like.

All over America...and right here in town...there are thousands of Jimmie Bensons. They and their families who bear the brunt of war. They need your help.

Social agencies on the home front have, among their vital tasks, those of keeping up morale and keeping down divorce, desertion, broken homes and child neglect. Overtaxed hospital facilities must be reinforced by community home nursing programs. The stabilizing influence of essential recreational services is more important than ever.

Thus our task is clear. We must make freedom from want a living thing...here in America. And it is a task that will challenge your generosity as never before. Your local united campaign, in cooperation with the National War Fund, is asking for your contribution. The funds you give must finance three vital jobs—meeting the needs of the home-front; maintaining the morale of our armed forces wherever they may be; helping the people in unoccupied and, if possible, occupied countries.

And because you will give once for this three-fold job...make your contribution as big as your heart's desire for victory!

GIVE for your soldiers here at home and abroad. Wherever they may be, they deserve the best of fun and food, entertainment and relaxation. There is a grim job that they're doing for you. So show your appreciation. Remember, they like to enjoy their time off, too!

GIVE so that the crushing burdens of an invaded and pillaged China can be eased—so that our gallant ally can continue to fight on by our side until victory is won! They've taken so much in the cause for freedom. They ask so little!

GIVE for those unsung heroes of ours...the seamen who defy the terror of lurking U-boats—day after day, night after night—so that our fighting men will receive the guns and tanks, planes and ammunition—all the supplies that must be ferried for victory!

Strength FOR THE DAY
 BY EARL L. DOUGLAS

A FAITHFUL SERVANT
 One of the greatest men who ever lived was Louis Pasteur. The opposition and persecution to which he was subjected almost surpasses belief. One would have thought, had he listened to the accusations made against this man by many of his contemporaries, that he was a cheap and stupid charlatan.

The story of how he treated his first patient after his discovery of the hydrophobia cure reveals the man's deep concern for human welfare. He had experimented for a number of years until he was able at last to procure a virus which would make dogs immune to hydrophobia. Then people began to ask why, if he could make dogs immune, could he not make humans immune also.

"I think my hand will tremble when I go on to treat mankind," he wrote. But one day a distracted mother brought into Pasteur's laboratory her little boy suffering from 14 bites inflicted by a mad dog two days earlier. Pasteur knew what the attempted cure might cost—death for the boy, disgrace and probably prison for himself, and possibly the end of his work as a scientist. But he took the chance.

After many anxious days the certainty of cure was established. The name of Pasteur rang around the world, as one of the greatest of human benefactors.

He died September 28, 1895, one hand grasping a crucifix and the other resting in that of his loving wife. The crucifix represented the thing he counted of highest value in life—selfless love. His life was based on that faith and in the power of that faith he passed to his reward.

LET'S PUT IT OVER
 This is the big week in the United or National War Fund campaign in this community and it is to be hoped that the response of our people will be so generous that the drive will go over the top before the end of the week.

Pitt County's quota in the drive is $37,500, of which Greenville's part is $15,000, plus $7,500 for the local Community Chest activities.

Under the United War Fund plan contributions are being asked in one lump sum for all our war relief and community activities at one time. We are sure that when you consider the fact that your contribution helps our men in the armed forces, helps to relieve suffering among our allies and helps to carry on our regular Community Chest activities right here in our home community, your contribution will be a generous one.

Despite the fact that the campaign is just getting into full swing, Carolina township has already contributed 104 per cent of its assigned quota. Those people have set an example for other sections of the county. Let's see to it that every township in the county reports "Over the Top" by the end of the week. Such a report is possible if every individual will do his or her part. It's up to you.

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME
 BY JACK STINNETT

Washington—Your capital in war time:
 Over in the War Department they are making a collection of the little stories of heroism in this war that the cables are too crowded to carry. They are the 1,001 tales of the fabulous knights in khaki. Many of them will never see the light of print. Some of them will be told over army and navy mess tables for years.

Here is one, picked almost at random (it would be impossible to cull the files for the most outstanding deeds).

It happened on the long push that has bridged the Mediterranean and carried the United Nations armies well up the Italian boot.

Pfc. Harvey T. Muckey of Mapleton, Iowa, lay dug in on a hill-side. Around him were fourteen members of his platoon. The others were killed or captured. Their ammunition was almost gone.

Suddenly Muckey's platoon leader, Second Lieut. John Hager of Houston, Texas, heard German voices in a ravine farther down the wooded slope. He asked for volunteers to investigate. Muckey and a buddy of his, Staff Sgt. Harold Pierson of Sidney, Iowa, were the first to respond.

Taking separate paths, they approached the ravine. Muckey almost fell into the lap of forty Germans preparing a machine gun nest. Then out of nowhere came Sgt. Pierson, yelling like an Indian and spraying lead from a sub-machine-gun. He killed seven of the Nazis and the rest took to their heels. Muckey didn't hesitate. He set off into the woods in the direction the Germans had taken. He found first one Nazi, then another. In a short while he marched back to Lieut.

Hager with 21 prisoners.

Lieut. Hager was all grins. "Nice going," he said. "By the way, how much ammunition did you have?" Muckey jerked open the bolt of his rifle and one cartridge popped out. "Just that one, sir," he said. "That's all I had when I started out."

If you are one of those who think there isn't a new broom in the government that can sweep clean and really do a job of reorganizing, hold your opinion until you have heard the story of Leo T. Crowley.

The chief of the new Office of Foreign Economic Administration is making hash out of the ten agencies that have been consolidated into his new department. Heads are rolling right and left.

In the first place, Crowley is reorganizing on a commodity basis. There will be divisions for rubber, oil, metals, drugs, food engineering, finances, etc. In other words, lend-lease (that part of it which deals with rehabilitation problems), Foreign Relief and the Office of Economic Warfare (successor to B. E. W.) and all the rest will just become divisions of O. F. A., with no possible overlapping of responsibilities.

The organization will also be on an area basis, with one man assigned to each area and that man will be the economic boss with sole responsibility to Crowley. He'll take over when the army and the Allied military government move out. Crowley already has borrowed a line from Herbert H. Lehman, former head of O. F. F. R. O., in letting it be known that Uncle Sam is not playing Santa Claus to anybody.

O. F. A.'s program consists solely in getting the people of freed countries back on their self-sustaining feet as soon as possible and then getting out.

Observers here already are saying that O. F. A. looks like bureaucracy at its very best and giving the nod to Crowley as one of the real organizers in Washington. It's pretty generally agreed that Crowley's organization will be one of the best.

The problem will come in whether he can fit that organization into the State Department scheme of things. For it's almost certain that no man nor any agency has ever taken over more authority than formerly vested with the State Department than Crowley and his O. F. A.

Senate eBgin . . .
 accomplish at this time is to express to the peoples of the world and to lay before the people of the United States the attitude of the Senate with respect to this commanding problem.

Connally said that the United States is so powerful that it is "invincible against any single power on the globe," and should be equally powerful in world councils.

"The world knows that we cherish no scheme of conquest and no ambition for military rule," he said. "The hour has struck for America to instill these principles into world policy."

Connally told this writer beforehand he would resist any effort to insert even a comma in the resolution, approved by the Foreign Relations Committee.

Unofficial polls showed he probably would not have to make any major alterations, and that the measure would pass.

Nevertheless a group of about a dozen senators headed by Ball (I-Minn), Burton (R-Ohio), Hill (D-Ala.), and Hatch (D-N.M.) insisted that the resolution designate the United Nations as the agency to initiate an international organization with military power to suppress aggression.

Connally contended his resolution was broad enough to cover this demand. The block planned a lengthy fight however on the ground that the language of the resolution was not specific.

Democratic Leader Barkley is expected to strive for a vote by Friday.

Forbes Funeral Held Saturday
 Funeral services for Charles Samuel Forbes, age 65, who died in the Pitt General hospital on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock following a heart attack suffered two hours earlier, were conducted at the home on Eighth street Saturday morning at 11 o'clock by his pastor, Rev. J. D. Simons, pastor of the Memorial Baptist church, assisted by Rev. George W. Perry, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church. Burial was made in the Cherry Hill cemetery.

"Charlie" as he was affectionately known to his numerous friends not only in Greenville and Pitt county, but in Eastern Carolina, was a member of one of Pitt county's oldest and most esteemed families. He was the son of the late Alfred Forbes and Clara Jane Forbes of Greenville. He received his education in the Greenville public schools, Horner's Military Academy and at Trinity College. For a number of years he conducted one of the leading men's furnishing stores here and also was engaged in the hardware business with Mr. E. L. Baker of this city. For the past several years he had been in the brokerage business, which had made for him a host of friends throughout the entire eastern part of the state. He had lived his entire life in Greenville and was a member of the Memorial Baptist church of this city.

On January 3, 1906, he was married to Miss Lella Suttle of Shelby, who with the following children, Miss Mary Forbes of Greenville and Charles S. Forbes, Jr., U. S. Navy, stationed in Cheltenham, Md., survive him. He is also survived by four sisters, Mrs. Harriette F. Move, Mrs. George B. W. Hadley, Mrs. S. T. White and Mrs. W. L. Best of Greenville; one brother, F. J. Forbes, Sr., of Greenville. In addition he is survived by a large number of nieces and nephews.

Among those from out of town here for the funeral were: Mr. A. R. Suttle of Shelby; Mrs. John Venable of Mrs. R. G. Shackelford of Tarboro; Mrs. Herbert Temple, Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ballenger, Wilson; Mrs. A. B. Vick, Rose Hill; Mr. and Mrs. James Ellison, Washington, N. C.

Service Men's Center and Thrift Shop
 Committees in every township in Pitt county will swing into action tomorrow morning to collect their quotas for the War Fund. Ed E. Rawl, publicity chairman, said today.

Vocational School Starts NYA Tonight
 The vocational school at the old NYA center will hold its first class tonight at 7:30, June H. Rose, superintendent of city schools, announced today. George Snyder, well known architect and engineer, is principal of the school. At present there will be classes in airplane woodworking and radio and mechanical drawing. Classes will be held Monday nights until further notice. A school bus will leave the high school tonight at 7 o'clock to transport students. It will return at 10 o'clock.

The classes are free and are open to adults and young persons not in school. This is an opportunity for men and women, boys and girls, to learn useful and profitable trades. Enrolled students who sign up to enter some war plant may be paid 57 cents an hour while learning. Those interested in enrolling in the classes should see Mr. Rose at the high school.

Chicod Working To Exceed Fund Quota
 The committee of the Chicod school district for the United War Fund has completed its organization in the several communities of the district. There have been meetings held in all sections of the school district, with the following five communities in their respective communities: W. C. Spencer, B. J. Edwards, W. H. Mannine, L. C. Venters, Z. O. Whitford, J. E. Halstead, Jimmie Edwards, S. T. Porter, Sr., Marvin Smith, Major Smith, Henry Page and Grover Smith.

The colored chairman of the district are: Reynold Montgomery, Tom Smith, Joe Evans, L. E. Latham, principal of the Calico school; A. C. Hill, principal of the Sweet Oak school; Mary Dupree, principal of the Running Branch school and Louis Tine.

The quota for this district is $1,100, of the county quota of $37,500. The committees have started to work. Newman Lewis, chairman of the Chicod School District United War Fund, expects the quota will be reached on the first day of canvassing.

Grimesland People Rally To War Fund
 Mayor Bruce Sugg will speak at a National or United War Fund meeting at Grimesland school tonight at 8 o'clock. G. P. Carr, principal of the school is chairman of the War Fund Drive. An efficient organization of the leading men and women of the community has been set up and it is expected that Grimesland will meet its quota and exceed it. Chester Walsh and others from Greenville will attend the meeting. County Chairman Ed E. Rawl announced today.

Lay That Weapon Down, Marine Said
 In City Recorder's Court today Judge Roberts gave James Fleming, colored, three months on the roads for riotous and disorderly conduct and assault with a deadly weapon (a knife). The court suspended judgment upon payment of $50 and costs.

This was a case for Solomon, court officers said. Fleming went to his girl's house when he learned that a Negro marine was there with her. Fleming threatened the marine with a knife. He left in a hurry, leaving behind his uniform and $250 in the pockets. Police later recovered the uniform and the money.

Thad Langley, Jr., colored, charged with highway robber with arms, was sent up to Superior Court on probable cause. Bond $200.

James Elks, operating a gambling house, guilty, 30 days in jail, suspended on payment of $50. Elks and Clarence Harris, Louis Everett owner.

Burley Growers Favor Control
 Raleigh, Oct. 25—(AP)—State headquarters of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration said that on the basis of returns from western North Carolina counties farmers favored continuance of burley tobacco quotas.

The majority in favor of continuance was estimated at 94.4 per cent. Returns from the states participating in the referendum indicated that farmers favored by an overwhelming margin continuance of the quotas.

Wake Forest Youngster Has Total Of 30 Points

Richmond, Va., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Some football coaches insisted at the start of the current campaign that they would have a tough time having a grid team if they had to depend on 17-year-olds and freshmen, but Coach Freahed Walker has one—Fred Grant—who seems to be doing very nicely for the Wake Forest Deacons.

Grant, a 180-pound freshman 17-year-old from Christiansburg, Va., led the Southern Conference scoring parade today with a total of 30 points. He took the lead Saturday when he waltzed through the line against Virginia Military Institute at Lexington for a six-pointer.

Trailing Grant in a deadlock for second place were Courtney Lawler, of the University of Richmond; Nick Satriano, of Wake Forest; Lloyd Blount of Duke and Gene Wagon of the University of South Carolina. Each has 24 points.

Duke's once-beaten Blue Devils, idle last week, swing back into action Saturday against a non-conference foe in Georgia Tech at Atlanta, while the other big powerhouse of the conference—North Carolina—faces North Carolina State at Chapel Hill.

Wake Forest's Deacons, fresh from a 21-0 triumph last week over VMI at Lynchburg, will meet an old rival, Clemson's Tigers, on the latter's gridiron.

VMI tangles with the University of Virginia at Lexington this week, while Maryland, trounced by Penn State by 45-0, journeys to the Greenville air base. South Carolina, victor over Clemson by 33-6, plays a Friday game at Orangeburg against the Charleston Coast Guard eleven.

Two schools—the University of Richmond and Davidson—have open dates. The conference leading scorers: Grant, Wake Forest, 30 points; Satriano, Wake Forest, 24; Lawler, Richmond, 24; Wagon, South Carolina, 24; Blount, Duke, 24; Gantt, Duke, 20; Sutton, N. C. State, 20; Perry, Wake Forest, 18; Yates, Richmond, 18; Murphy, Duke, 18; T. Davis, Duke, 18; Rute, Duke, 18; McMillan, South Carolina, 18.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Southern California apparently earned a check in the Rose Bowl Saturday—though you can't overlook Washington after that licking the scheduleless Muskies handed March Field.

Now, with half the "split" season over, what about the other bowl candidates? We're assuming the promoters are serious in their plans to hold the games.

Teams like Penn., Dartmouth, Notre Dame and Purdue must be counted out because (1) they couldn't make the trips under the Navy's 48 hour restriction and (2) they probably wouldn't accept a bid anyway.

Duke is a Navy college too, which rules out one perennial candidate. Tulane, Louisiana State, Texas and TCU are near enough to bowl states that they might be considered and finally there's Tulsa, which is only a painfully short list—and what's the betting that November results won't bring out an entirely different set of candidates?

Bill Henry, the radio commentator who used to be a sports editor, tells this one on Lieut. Commander Frank Wickhorst, head of the naval aviation physical training department. Wickhorst was line coach at California under Navy Bill Ingram and the Golden Bears had a big game with Washington State. Just before the team left the dressing room, Wickhorst handed each player a slip of pasteboard, which he explained. "These are your checks," he explained. "They say this Washington team is going to run you right out of the stadium, so I'm giving you these tickets so you can get back in." Needless to say, the California boys didn't need to use the checks.

Monday Matinee

Jack Sharkey, Jr., son of the former heavyweight champ plays full-back for Billard Academy at New London, Conn. Moaner Frank Sinatra turned up at the gym the other day and asked permission to work out with heavyweight Tami Maurello. Maybe he figured he'd be outclassed by Tami, but at least he wouldn't be outnumbered.

The Delaware Park race track, which didn't open this year because of transportation difficulties, is planning a 1944 meeting, to start May 29. Willie Ritchie, who defended his crown in California's last lightweight title fight, beating Harlem Tommy Murphy in 1914, will officiate at Wednesday's Sammy Ansott-Slegger White title go, as chief inspector of the California Athletic Commission.

Sixteen Teams Unbeaten, Untied

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Sixteen football teams were knocked out of the unbeaten and untied class over the week-end, thinning the select group to 16.

College of the Pacific, Southwestern Texas, March Field, Colorado University, Minnesota and Texas A&M were the six bumped out of the rankings.

Records of the unbeaten, untied teams (three or more games):

Strike Threats ...

The rail employment problem meantime neared a crisis. The five operating unions prepared for a strike vote among 350,000 workers who demanded a minimum wage boost of $3 a day. A federal emergency board recommended an increase of four cents an hour. The strike vote will require about 30 days.

A pessimistic view of the coal situation came meanwhile from a joint British-American board surveying requirements. The report said Britain is 30,000 miners short, the U. S. needs 35,000 more and the combined mines are losing employment at the rate of 2,500 a month. The United Nations need 600,000,000 tons of U. S. bituminous coal for 1943 and production was estimated at only 590,000,000, which means the stockpile will be a gravely low figure of 40,000,000 tons by Promoted.

W. M. Baker, who was recently promoted to field supervisor and Esso representative, will have headquarters in Greenville. He has been with the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey for 10 years. He was formerly Esso plant manager at Washington, Mr. Baker, 29, was born near Fountain in Wilson county. He married Miss Ruth Allen. They have a daughter, Joyce, five and a half years old. He will move his family to Greenville as soon as he finds a house. Mr. Baker has represented Esso at Williamston and Rocky Mount.

The coal shortage, especially in view of the walkouts in Alabama and Indiana, already has hit shipyards on the Gulf coast, said the WPB.

A work stoppage over wages of crane operators at the Bethlehem Fairfield shipyard in Baltimore will delay the launching of three Liberty ships, the yard's managers said.

view yesterday which was held in Wilson. Several weeks ago she was named winner in the county contest. Betty Lou Worthington of Ayden won second place.

Representatives from ten counties modeled attractive fall outfits in the fashion show yesterday. Ruby Jean wore a lovely green corduroy suit with luggage accessories. She also made her attractive pocket book. Her outfit could be worn for several occasions. With a white blouse, hat, gloves and bag she had an attractive look for school. The total cost of her outfit was $11.60. Ruby Jean was one of many Pitt county farm girls who conducted a clothing project this year. They have learned that by sewing at home they can have many more attractive clothes.

4-H Girls 'Make and Repair For Victory'

This month the theme at all 4-H meetings has been "Make and Repair for Victory." The following things have been discussed: Correct tools, patterns, cutting, fitting the garment, and correct finishes. The needle is a mighty weapon and if 4-H girls want to aid in winning the war, be a good soldier on the home front. She should keep every garment of the clothes you have and dress as economically as possible in a patriotic duty of every girl. A very helpful demonstration on how to make your sweater last was included in the lesson. At the November meeting the girls will exhibit articles they have made and ribbons will be awarded to the winners.

H. D. Club Organized in Bell Arthur
The Pitt county Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs organized a new club in the Bell Arthur community on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Laurie Ellis, newly elected president of the County Council, presided over this organizational meeting. After group singing, Mrs. J. D. McArthur, president of the Winterville club, talked on the Home Demonstration Club program, and what it had meant to the ladies in her community. She included the 1943 program, stating that it was the best the club had had.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. R. E. Willoughby; vice president, Mrs. Lawrence White; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Earl Hemby. Following the business session, Miss Joyner, gave a demonstration "Care and Repair of Clothing." The following ladies were present: Miss Rosa Pecora, home economics teacher, Mrs. Gilbert Davis, Mrs. J. E. Nichols, Mrs. Mark Smith, Mrs. Robert McArthur, Mrs. R. E. Willoughby, Mrs. W. L. White, Mrs. William McArthur, Mrs. O. L. Erwin, Mrs. Ralph Nichols and Mrs. Bruce Strickland.

Farmville Club Meets

The Farmville Home Demonstration Club held its October meeting on Thursday afternoon, October 14 in the club house, with a large attendance and with two new members being added to the roll.

In the business session, plans were completed for a Brunswick stew supper to be held on Wednesday, October 27, with Mrs. B. M. Lewis as chairman, and for the luncheon and achievement day program to be held in Greenville at the Woman's club on November 9.

Assisted by Mrs. W. E. Hinson, clothing leader, Miss Verona LeJoyner gave a very timely and instructive lesson and demonstration of "The Care and Repair of Clothing."

Achievement Day

The Pitt County Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs will hold their annual Achievement Day on Tuesday, November 9, at 10:30 a. m., at the Memorial Baptist church. Miss Ruth Current, State Home Demonstration Agent will be the guest speaker.

A luncheon will be served at the Greenville Woman's club at 1 o'clock by the ladies of the Hollywood Presbyterian church.

Mt. Pleasant Ladies to Organize

All the ladies in Mt. Pleasant community are cordially invited to meet at the community house at three o'clock on Tuesday, October 26 for the purpose of organizing a Home Demonstration club.

Comfortable seven miles up!

High in the sky, temperatures sometimes drop to 50 below zero. But our bomber crews are dressed to fight with efficiency. In some cases, they even wear electrically heated uniforms.

The Army makes sure that every garment is styled for comfort and long wear. Down to the underwear—where styles and fabrics match the climate.

You can have the satisfaction of correctly styled, comfortable underwear, too. For, during the past 40 years, the makers of HANES Underwear have learned how to knit and tailor underwear to meet the varied needs of climate, season and personal preference.

For example, HANES WINTER SETS (ankle-length style shown at right) are middleweight to keep you warm outdoors without being too hot indoors. You also have the athletic support of the HANES Crotch-Guard. A perfect combination with a HANES Shirt to match. Try a pair. P. H. Hanes Knitting Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Grain Market
Chicago, Oct. 25—(AP)—Northwestern-selling depressed oats about a cent at times today, and the weakness in that pit acted to restrain buying of other grains. Heavier marketings, less aggressive demand and continued talk of possible ceilings combined to create the liquidation in oats.
At one time rye was up about a cent on announcement that the Food Distribution Administration was in the market for around 35,000 barrels of rye flour. Some of the gain was lost in sympathy with the decline in oats. Interest in wheat was light and the bread cereal held within a narrow range, although displaying a steady undertone. At the close wheat was 1/4-1/2 lower, December $1.13 1/2, oats were down 1-1 1/2 and barley was 1 1/2-1 3/4 lower.

Superior Court In Session This Week

Judge J. Paul Frizzelle of Snow Hill convened a week's civil term of Superior Court here this morning. More than a dozen actions for divorce were on the calendar for hearing. A number of important cases are scheduled to be heard later in the week.

Red Army . . .

of the Zaporozhe-Melitopol line brought another threat to the almost encircled Germans in the Dnieper elbow. If the Russians can push on through the Asaniya steppe the exit from the bend would be threatened from two sides.
Some of the heaviest fighting spread over the steppe, as the German commanders, watching their best divisions meet defeat, tried fiercely to keep from losing the Crimea.
The mighty Soviet offensive, described as a "steamroller" by the fleeing Germans themselves, engulfed 50 villages, killed 2,000 Germans and swept up huge amounts of booty, forcing the German high command to an admission of "retreat" in unequivocal terms.
The Nazi-controlled Paris radio quoted the Germans as saying that some Red army troops already had broken into Keivov Rog. "The well-synchronized Soviet attacks in southern Russia," said Commentator Jean Paquis, "have tipped the scale at Melitopol and General Von Manstein will have to face consequences of some gravity."
More than 6,500 Germans were said to have been killed or routed between the Sea of Azov and Gomel and Nazi armament falling into the hands of the Russians included more than 71 tanks, 243 machine guns and 53 guns as well as stores of ammunition and other equipment.
(The German high command acknowledged that the Russians had established bridgeheads across the Dnieper river on both sides of Dnepropetrovsk and that attacks on the iron and communications center of Krivoi Rog had been intensified.)
(The communique, broadcast from Berlin, also said that bitter battles were continuing along the central and Red army attacks south of Melitopol and southeast of Zaporozhe had been repulsed.)
South of Melitopol the Red army surged down the railway towards the Crimea. This is deserted steppe country with few towns and only scattered villages. The Germans' present battleground is a place where they must hold or retreat back into the Crimea to certain disaster.

Fifth Army . . .

at Naples, now being converted into an Allied supply port, and 15 Nazi planes were shot down yesterday, mostly in sky tangles over Italy. Three of them were bombers which tried to raid Naples.
The Germans stepped up their air defense by throwing at least 60 fighters against the Allied attackers.

Liberators, flying for the time with the escort of long-range P-38. Lightning: from Italian bases for a foray over actual territory of the Reich, made the stab into southern Austria.

The big bomber encountered bad weather, however, so that they could not report an accurate observation of results.
B-25 Mitchells, sweeping over the Adriatic, for a second surprise attack, carried out the mission to Tirana and destroyed a number of grounded aircraft. Lightnings previously had skimmed low over the same target with cannon and machine-guns working over the troops, hangars, workshops and vehicles on the field. A Junkers-52 transport coming in to land was picked off by one Lightning while only 20 feet above the ground.
Australian Kittybombers also streaked across the Adriatic and bombed landing craft on the Yugoslav coast in the sheltered channel between Korcula island and the mainland and set a 2,000-ton ship smoking in Korcula harbor, north-west of Dubrovnik. A troop-laden launch also was set afire.
The Allies lost four planes yesterday.
American fighter-bombers destroyed a locomotive by strafing near Cassino, north of Mount Massico, attacked two bridges near Gaeta and made a successful raid on Frosolone, 10 miles east of Isernia.
Marauders also bombed the viaduct at Terni, 40 miles north of Rome on the route to Florence. A headquarters commentator said it was necessary to stress the fact that the Eighth army's offensive was not large-scale, but merely a "curtain raiser."
Three mountains of 1,200, 1,700 and 2,200 feet dominate the river, he said, and behind them is another row of mountains even higher.
"It is necessary to take these mountains and the Germans are making every effort to hold on to them," he said.

The fighting along the entire front is now one of bloody jockeying for vital positions from which to launch a terrific smash to break down Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring's defense of Rome.
It is comparable to the struggles which took place around Medjez El Bab in April as the British First and Eighth armies moved up with the American second corps for the lightning thrust to Tunis and Bizerte.
