Russian Forces Continue Drives

Launch Violent Attacks Against Crimea While Other Armies Strike Toward Poland, Rumania And Latvia; Shattered Nazi Divisions Fleeing

London, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Two Russian armies commanded by Gen. Nikolai F. Vatutin, conqueror of Kiev, today were pounding westward toward the Polish and Rumanian frontiers on the heels of the shattered remnants of 12 Nazi divisions—about 180,000 men—blasted from the Ukrainian capital in a four-day battle which ended last Saturday.

One Red army force was reported surging forward beyond Marakov, 28 miles west of Kiev, to within 50 miles of Zhitomir, key junction on one of the two last north-south railways available to the Germans toward the Polish border, 65 miles away.

A second Soviet spearhead was striking southwest of Fastov, and a Russian communique said it was within 140 miles of the Rumanian frontier. This drive apparently was aimed at enveloping the countless thousands of Germans still fighting in the area between Dnieper river and the Black Sea.

Still another Russian army operating far to the north in the Nevel sector was said in a Moscow broadcast to be at the gates of Polotsk, rail junction on the Vitebsk-Riga railway and only 20 miles from the old Polish border.

Stockholm dispatches said the Germans were evacuating civilians from the 110-mile-wide area between Lake Ilmen in Russia and Lake Peipus on the Estonian border, a possible prelude to a forced German withdrawal from the Leningrad front.

A German communique yesterday admitted Nazi forces were engaged in a "defensive struggle against major enemy forces" in the Nevel sector.

The Kiev breakthrough was expanded to an 80-mile-long front with the capture yesterday of Gornastopol, 45 miles north of Kiev and 10 miles west of the Dnieper. Her the Russians were pinning German forces back against the almost impassable Pripiet marsh country.

The Soviet war bulletin declared Kiev cost the Germans 15,000 dead and 6,200 prisoners, Moscow said. The newspaper Pravda added that the enemy fled in panic, throwing away weapons, ammunition and even clothing. Many were reported trampled to death on roads jammed with wrecked enemy transport and enormous stores of abandoned war material.

The Germans, however, wrecked the once beautiful city of Kiev before they fled. Pravda described it as a scene of devastation, systematically destroyed by Nazi demolition squads.

Labor Broadens Attack On Wage Scale Ceilings

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Labor assaults on wage ceilings widened today as a presidential committee charged with reporting on the ratio between living costs and worker incomes set out to try to beat a 60 day limit for its study.

WORLD FOOD PACT SIGNED

Forty-Four Nations Sign Relief Agreement Today

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—President Roosevelt climaxed the signing of a United Nations relief agreement today with the declaration that it, coupled with the recent Moscow documents, shows that "we mean business in this war in a political and humanitarian sense just as surely as we mean business in a military sense."

"It is one more strong link joining the United Nations in facing problems of mutual need and interest," he said at the conclusion of a White House ceremony in which representatives of 44 countries joined in the signing of the pact.

The President spoke in the historic east room. He faced representatives of the other United Nations and those associated with them, as well as the French National Committee of Liberation, who had affirmed their signatures to the document pledging each to feed and clothe the millions oppressed by the Axis and, as Mr. Roosevelt put it, to build for the future "a world of decency and security and peace."

Representatives of the 44 countries will convene tomorrow for discussions on policies and practical means of accomplishing their stupendous relief task.

"The sufferings of the little men and women who have been ground under the Axis heel," the President told his distinguished audience, "can be relieved only if we utilize the production of all the world to balance the want of all the world."

"In UNRRA we have devised a mechanism based on the processes of true democracy, which can go far toward accomplishment of such an objective in a few days and months as the overthrow of the Axis."

"The President said that suffering and misery occasioned by the German and Japanese campaigns of plunder and destruction "must be assumed not by any individual nation but by all the united and associated nations acting together."

"No one country," he added, "could—or should—attempt to bear the burden of meeting the vast relief needs—either in money or in supplies."

Describing as immediate and urgent the work confronting UNRRA, he said the organization will have to operate at first in areas of food shortages because many of the most

Moye Reports On War Fund Drive

In his final report as chairman of Greenville township in the United War Fund drive, Jos. S. Moye reported contributions in amount of $24,160. This represents the largest amount ever raised in Greenville in a single campaign for contributions or a similar purpose.

Chairman Moye stated that East Carolina Teachers College richly deserves credit for a splendid accomplishment. Although their campaign is not quite complete, they have reported contributions of approximately $1,300.

Mr. Moye has a report from Dr. J. A. Battle, chairman of the colored division. His committee raised $1,000. This is a remarkably fine report and reflects great credit on Dr. Battle, his fellow workers and on Greenville.

briefly are to determine whether the present method of collecting and evaluating data provides a fair index for wage ceiling purposes and if not, suggest what changes should be made.

While chiefs of the 15 non-operating rail unions were rejecting proposals of a special presidential board and turning to congress for help, President Roosevelt's American announced his union would lead the CIO campaign for wage hikes regardless of the little steel formula.

The 15 railroad unions—13 of them AFL affiliates—are counting heavily on congressional support to win a 3-cent an hour increase for 1,100,000 employees. This work force includes all but the train crews and yardmen, who aggregate an additional 340,000 employees. This latter group has spurred a 4-cent an hour increase.

Germans Retreat From Caucasus

Under steady pressure from the advancing Russians, German troops and equipment, evacuated from the Kuban River delta, cross the Kerch Straits from the Crimea on a ferry, according to the caption accompanying this German photo supplied by Pressens Bild, a Swedish picture agency. Though the Nazis occupy the Crimea, the Reds hold the Russian area to the north, leaving the Germans stranded with retreat apparent only by the Black Sea. (AP Wirephoto via radio).

Reynolds Not To Run For Senate

Raleigh, Nov. 9.—(AP)—A wide open senate race in North Carolina was freely predicted today in the wake of Senator Robert Rice Reynolds' announcement that he would not seek reelection next year.

The only announced candidates for Reynolds' office this far are former Governor Clyde R. Hoey of Shelby and State Representative Marvin Ritch of Charlotte. Among others mentioned are Rep. Cameron Morrison, former Rep. William B. Umstead of Durham, Maj. L. P. McLeopon of Greensboro and U. S. District Attorney Lamar Caudle of Wadesboro.

Morrison recently announced that he would not run again for the house and said at that time that friends had urged him to run for the senate but that he had not decided yet whether to run.

Reynolds, who was elected to the senate in 1932 over Morrison announced in Washington yesterday that he would retire at the end of his current term. He said however, that he was not retiring from public life.

Negro Dies From Officer's Bullet

At a coroner's inquest last night the jury, after viewing the body of Rufus Williams, 26 Negro, who was fatally shot by Assistant Police Chief S. Bowen Dorsey while resisting arrest Sunday night, rendered a verdict exonerating the officer, Coroner Griffin H. Rouse conducted the inquest.

Williams and his brother, Henry, made an unprovoked attack on Nannon Brewington, elderly Negro man, chased him into his house on Pamlico avenue, then broke into the house, dragged the man into the street, beat him into unconsciousness and left him on the sidewalk. It was testified, while defending himself in his house Brewington stabbed Williams several times. After police arrived, Rufus Williams returned to the scene brandishing a shotgun. While he was aiming the gun at ABC Officer J. M. Ward the officer fired at him twice. When the Negro refused to drop his gun on command of Assistant Chief Dorsey, he shot Williams, the bullet passing entirely through his body. He died at the hospital Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Henry Williams, brother of Rufus, who is charged with attacking Brewington with a deadly weapon with intent to kill, surrendered to Police Chief Herbert Wooten Monday afternoon and was released after posting bond.

Claim Sinking U. S. Warships

London, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The Berlin radio quoted Japanese dispatches today as saying that three Allied destroyers and two cruisers, three destroyers and four transports had been sunk by Japanese warships and planes in attacks on a convoy south of Bougainville beginning yesterday morning.

There was no Allied confirmation of the claim.

The broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said that one battleship, three cruisers and "three cruisers or large destroyers" were claimed to have been damaged seriously.

Churchill Sees End Of War In Europe In 1944

Predicts Costly Campaign Ahead For Allies; Says Russia Has Wrecked Nazi War Machine

London, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill gravely proclaimed the "impending ruin" of Germany today, but with all the force of his leadership and language warned that in his belief the Nazis' defeat could not come before 1944.

He asserted solemnly that the campaigns of next year might surpass the tragedies of Waterloo and Gettysburg, that "unless some happy event occurs, on which we have no right to count, 1944 will see the greatest sacrifice of the British and United States armies."

The valiant and brilliant Russian offensives have wrecked the German war machine and inflicted wounds "that may well prove fatal," he declared.

The British war premier asserted that the back of the Nazi submarine warfare has been broken, and that the devastating air war upon the Reich has "been one of the prime forces in the impending ruin of the Hitler regime."

In an address broadcast to the world, Churchill said "I am myself proceeding on the assumption that the campaign of 1944 in Europe will be the most severe and most costly the Allies yet fought."

"We must strain every nerve for its successful accomplishment. This is no time for relaxation."

Hitler still has 400 divisions, promises a desperate struggle and "we cannot exclude the possibility of new forms of attack upon this island," Churchill warned in his address at the inaugural luncheon of a new Lord Mayor of London.

Churchill recalled at the beginning of his address that in 1940 at the height of the blitz he pledged Great Britain never to give up the fight to liberate peoples from the Nazi yoke.

He recalled also he told a similar gathering that Britain would "join the United States in war on Japan. There is nothing wrong with that." "There is nothing wrong with that," he said amid cheers.

"In all these struggles on land, sea and in the air Great Britain has had the honor to bear the largest share—and pay the largest price," the prime minister asserted. His reference to the American strength the Allies could muster. Also before staging a big-scale invasion of western France it was essential that trans-Atlantic communications be secure so that there be no stoppage in the flow of supplies and reinforcements. This meant that the U-boat menace must be got in hand, and that finally appears to have been achieved.

"We now presumably have sufficiently large fleets of warplanes so that the Allied high command can order bombardment of the French coast when the moment is right. The fall weather is perhaps against that, but otherwise the time seems ideal, with the Germans racing against disaster in Russia."

Could the western allies have staged invasion before this? Moscow has felt that they could and that they were unduly cautious. One thing is certain: we dare not undertake the landing of an army until we are absolutely sure of our beachheads.

Allied Forces Pushing Ahead On Italian Front

SAYS JAPS IN DIRE STRAITS

Knox Declares Jap Claims Of U. S. Losses False

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Secretary of the Navy Knox declared today that the present situation in the south and southwest Pacific areas warrants the statement that "the Japanese are now in a more critical position than ever before in that area."

The navy secretary added at a news conference that "it no longer is a question of holding their positions at lowest possible cost; it is a question of actual survival in the southwest area."

He described as "nothing short of a disaster" to the Japanese the loss of use of six heavy cruisers in that area.

"If they don't look out," Knox said, "they will be short of those very vital heavy craft when they want to go to sea with their entire fleet."

Reviewing actions in the south and southwest Pacific areas in the last ten days, he declared there have been "several important military defeats for the Japs."

He listed first the landing of Marines on Bougainville where positions now are being consolidated in preparation for "cleaning out the Japanese on the island."

He put in second place the night surface engagement in which American warships sank one Japanese cruiser and four destroyers and damaged two cruisers and two destroyers, without the loss of an American ship.

Third, he said, was the surprise attack on Rabaul harbor by navy carrier planes and then by army bombers. Navy planes, he said, hit five of six enemy heavy cruisers, five of six enemy heavy cruisers, and the sixth was torpedoed. Of two light cruisers, he said, one was torpedoed and bombed and the other was bombed.

He added that of the 15 or 20 Japanese destroyers there, two were torpedoed.

In addition, he said, American planes destroyed or damaged 37 enemy planes. Our losses were one (Continued on Page Two)

Airmen Sink Jap Destroyer

Chungking, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Major Gen. Claire L. Chennault's Sky Dragons, supporting Chinese troops on the Burma front, sank a Japanese destroyer and four other vessels in the former treaty port of Amoy on Sunday.

The Japanese airdrome at Kiungshan on Hainan island yesterday destroyed four parked planes and damaged many others, U. S. communiques announced today.

The raid on Kiungshan airdrome evidently caught the Japanese napping, as no opposition was reported. Direct hits were scored on an enemy fighter spotted by the Mitchell on their "homeward flight." Sunday's raid on Amoy harbor was staged at low level through heavy anti-aircraft and machine-gun fire.

ABC Officers Get 50-Gallon Still

ABC Officers J. M. Ward and J. L. Taylor yesterday seized and destroyed a 50-gallon steel drum still in woods about five miles north of Greenville. The equipment included two 50-gallon empty fermenters, a 10-gallon doubler, a 20-gallon cooling barrel and two copper condensers.

The still was not in operation when raided.

Disturbances In Germany Reported

Stockholm, Nov. 9.—(AP)—A Swedish newspaper in contact with sources within Germany said today that disturbances, including the shooting of a number of persons, occurred in several cities yesterday after Adolf Hitler's beer cellar speech.

The Handels Sportsjournalisten of Goeteborg, named the cities as Essen, Cologne, Dusseldorf, Mannheim, Hannover and Hamburg. These cities are in heavily-bombed areas where morale suffered a serious blow and where hundreds of foreign workers still are employed in war industries.

Outbreaks of sabotage and plundering in those areas also followed the speech this dispatch said, but such reports should be viewed with considerable reserve. If disturbances occur, they may have been only on a small scale, since Heinrich Himmler's gestapo and blackshirts still maintain a tight control.

Such reports could be part of a propaganda scheme to create overconfidence in Allied nations.

NEW VICTORIES SOUTH PACIFIC

Allied Airmen Destroy 63 More Jap Planes

Southwest Pacific Allied Headquarters, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Phosphorus bombs, which look when they first burst like tattered octopi, then shoot forth fire and smoke, have been added to Rabaul's defenses by the Japanese, desperate for ways to prevent that key base from being bombed out of the war. But the relentless Allied campaign moves ahead unchecked.

Headquarters, in listing losses of 63 Japanese planes within the past 48 hours, reported that 35 were wiped out Sunday at Rabaul by Lib- (Continued on Page Four)

First of the meetings will be held at Bethel on November 15, with others to follow at Camden November 16, Belhaven on November 17, Aurora on November 18, and at Beaufort November 19.

Turkey Prices

Raleigh, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The State Department of Agriculture and the War Food Administration today quoted these prices as prevailing for turkeys:

Richmond — Birds under 18 pounds: 35 to 36, 18 to 22 pounds, 33 cents.

Baltimore—Young turkeys, 18 to 22 pounds—36, under 18 pounds, 39¢.

The actual timetable is, of course, a military secret.

But the deadline is the invasion date which was communicated to the Russians, Gen. H. H. Arnold, commander of U. S. air forces, and British Air Marshal Sir Arthur T. Harris have until that time to try to force Germany's surrender by use of air power alone.

Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, commander of U. S. Army air forces in Britain, has just told the British people that the 8th air force now is able to throw as many as 1,000 planes into the air in a single day's operations.

Eighth Army Drives Five Miles To Capture New Positions On Eastern Sector; Clark's Men Hack Way To Small Gains Despite Enemy Resistance

By NOLAN NORGAARD Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Cutting a new swath five miles deep through enemy positions, the British Eighth army has seized positions overlooking the Sangro river and the heights beyond where the Germans are reported establishing the eastern anchor of an Italian "winter defense line," headquarters announced today.

To the west the Nazis massed heavy formations of troops and guns in the Mignano area, attempting to halt the American drive toward Cassino on the main road to Rome.

They massed a powerful striking force for a counter-attack in the area five miles southwest of Mignano and west of Galluccio yesterday, but Allied guns laid down a curtain or artillery and mortar fire before the assault could be launched, dispersing the enemy.

German prisoners reported unanimously that the Nazi command planned to dig in for the winter on a line anchored in the west along the Gerrigliano river and Arunci mountains, through the mountains near Mignano—where U. S. troops already have won footholds—and across the Apennines to the Sangro river.

The Fifth and Eighth armies already have fought against this line in most sectors.

Slashing along the Adriatic coastal sector, the Eighth army captured Torino Di Sangro, four miles north-west of captured Casalbordino, and Paglieta less than two miles from the river. The speed of this drive obviously caught the Nazis off balance.

Further inland, British, Canadian and Indian troops punched through Torrebruna, three miles west of Celenzia, gaining control of a vital, ditational chunk of valuable lateral roads.

Near the center Eighth army units occupied Pescocostanzo, eight miles northeast of Isernia in a mile-and-a-half advance, and other formations seized Forcellino, five miles west of Isernia, in a three-mile stab.

On the air front, Allied planes bombed Durazzo harbor in Albania, scoring a direct hit on a warehouse. Photographs taken during yesterday's raid by Flying Fortress (Continued on Page Two)

Invasion Of Europe To Follow Air Offensive

By GEORGE ZIELKE Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The victory-through-air-power theory getting an acid test against Germany may have a definite deadline—a time limit after which if the effort fails, a ground invasion of western Europe will go forward.

The actual timetable is, of course, a military secret.

But the deadline is the invasion date which was communicated to the Russians, Gen. H. H. Arnold, commander of U. S. air forces, and British Air Marshal Sir Arthur T. Harris have until that time to try to force Germany's surrender by use of air power alone.

The WAR TODAY

AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (Associated Press War Analyst) Hitler yesterday challenged the Allies to open a second front in Europe, which likely was an answer to Premier Stalin's promise last Saturday that the second front "is not far off."

Since such invasion talk is in the air, this seems to be a good time to answer a couple of questions.

One editor wants to know why, if the Allied air forces are able to do such enormous damage to Hamburg and other German cities, those same bombers can't destroy the Hitlerite defenses over hundreds of square miles on the French coast and thus pave the way for the landing of a great army in the immediate future without undue loss.

The answer is simple on the basic tactics upon which the Allies will depend when they get ready for the great adventure across the English channel. The answer is that the Anglo-American navies in Europe could do the job.

However, it must be pointed out that up until recently neither the British nor the American fleets were strong enough for such an undertaking—or to do round-the-clock, big-scale bombing of German cities, for that matter.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS YOU'RE NOMINATED

When world conditions get grim, people are always waiting for a great leader to arise. There is considerable common sense behind such an expectation, and yet it has a tendency to destroy initiative in the people who entertain it.

The world is waiting for leaders but the potential leaders are not waiting for leaders. They are waiting for an opportunity to lead. It is striking, the extent to which in this world vast powers are neglected and great areas left unexplored.

College Assembly Program. In the weekly assembly program at the college this morning, the significance of Thursday as Armistice Day and World Government Day was doubly emphasized when Miss Helen Stone, YWCA president, announced the recent contribution of the college to world good-will of $1,500.00 raised for the National War Fund.

Miss Stone, speaking for the two groups that led the student drive, the YWCA and YMCA, thanked the many organizations and individuals who had helped and said that the total student contribution stood this year at $282.10 and that faculty, staff, and workmen employed by the college had given a total of $917.93.

Beginning with a comparison to show that the travel distance separating the colonies when they first united to solve their common problems was much greater than that which separates any two places on the face of the earth today and showing how the airways and the 100,000 miles of supply routes of the Allies help weave the world into one community, Miss Grigsby said that in such a world nothing that is a real problem to one people can fail to affect another.

"Whose problem is it," she asked, "to see that those countries which will be left in chaos and anarchy after the war have help in setting up a government once more? Whose problem is it to see that the key ways and air bases of the world are administered for the good of all and not for the few strong nations after they have fought it out among themselves?"

Since many Americans she said, are still cell idealistic and impractical a world government for this world community that has arisen, we see that fighting this war in the air, on the land and on the sea is not enough. It must be fought also in men's minds, for men's minds, if we are not to lose the thing for which we fight. And that is the part of the battle that falls to you and me, she declared.

Referring to a young aviator who had said that he was dropping his bombs in the hope of fulfilling the dream of those dying for a better world—a new international law and order, she quoted his words, "I and those who fly with me must not fear these dead," and concluded—nor must we—we, too, must help build that world."

U-GIRL By LYDIA GRAY SHAW

Chapter 20 Langhorne went on slowly, his face still carefully averted. "Ted is an attractive, likeable chap. But he's never been disciplined. Too much money, good looks, too many fond relatives catering to him. He was in and out of high-priced prep schools; flunked out because he wouldn't study, thrown out for breaking rules. Somehow his father pulled wires and got him into college by hook or by crook. He started drinking, more than the average college boy drinks, so he never finished his freshman year.

"His father put him into his own firm selling securities to his social friends. He hasn't been a complete liability. He has many friends, for what they are worth. Actually, I think this war is the best thing that has ever happened to Ted. Undoubtedly Army discipline is just what he needs. Perhaps he's gotten a better grip on himself already. I don't know. But he needs to face reality, to start battling with his own weaknesses. He never would do that. Someone always had pulled him out of the scrape, you see, and he never had to meet the responsibilities of his actions.

The room was spinning around in a whirlpool of black dots that threatened to engulf Sally completely. Langhorne was only a shadowy figure at the window, but his voice spoke quietly on, was mercilessly cutting her romance to shreds. He was saying something now about the instability of wartime acquaintance. Then for a moment she couldn't hear him at all for one thought after another was racing hysterically through her aching head. Instability. But it hadn't been.

She had thought their love was the only stable thing in an upside-down world. A driving force that had given meaning to her days. But some analytical portion of her brain was cold-bloodedly saying, yes, but what proportion glamour? Would she have fallen so swiftly in love with Ted if she'd been just another school boy acquaintance back home in River Edge?

But most painful of all was the thought that Ted hadn't played fair. He'd always spoken lightly of his life in New York—as though nothing but the present were important. Sally, on the other hand, had wanted to pour out every smallest detail about her home, her family, her life, her dreams.

Everything with him, really, all these years before she knew Ted. If Ted had felt the same way, he would have told her long ago that he had been engaged once. Sally would have understood. That was nothing to be ashamed of. It might have hurt, for just a second, to think that Ted had once wanted to marry someone else. But it wouldn't matter now.

Then a cold hand clutched at her heart. But he hadn't asked her to marry him. Perhaps she was just Baker colored costs: Israel Mills, colored, 30 days, suspended on payment of costs and not to drive without license. Seduction: Paul Koonce, transferred to Superior Court, bond, $300. Non-support: Connie B. Nixon, $25 costs deducted and lose license five days; Sam R. Wainwright, H. Dal Lauchinghouse, Mack T. Harrell and Linnie D. Perry, pled guilty, paid costs and lost licenses five days; Charlie Rouse, Jr. and Nelson Midvette, both colored, pled guilty, paid costs and lost licenses five days.

didn't see much of her. Sally was glad to get inside his office. The corridors of the annex creaked under the rhythmic tread of the military, and every uniform she saw had brought a fresh pang to Sally's aching heart. Oh, Ted, Ted, what will I ever do? How can I stand it? How can I endure the days without you? To Be Continued loss of heavy bombers in raids on Germany and German-held Europe, told Washington newsmen that he had trained crews and planes ready to make good such losses.

Air Marshal Harris said that "every ton of bombs dropped on German industries would save the lives of many Americans in the near future when the invasion comes."

There is, of course, another factor besides air power actually involved. Aside from the Allied operations in Italy, a crash-through by the Russian army on the eastern front might produce one of two results:

1. Capitulation by Germany in an effort to keep the Russians off German soil. 2. A ground invasion of western Europe ahead of schedule in order to clamp Germany in a nutcracker.

plenty of airfields from which to operate. And the fact is that the Anglo-American drive up the Italian peninsula hasn't gone as well as expected.

The probabilities are, too, that the Allied command would want to be prepared to strike at other points in the Balkans simultaneously. This would involve ousting the Germans from the Aegean islands. It might mean the granting of bases to the Allies by the Turks. There's considerable speculation whether the conference in Cairo between British Foreign Secretary Eden and Turkish Foreign Minister Menemencioğlu may have been concerned with some such move by Turkey.

Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR November 9, 1903

If Pitt is not the banner educational county in the state, it is no fault of the brave and untiring men and women who lead the vanguard of enlightenment. Pitt's teachers and school officers, from the highest to the lowest, form an aggregation of brains, sincerity and earnestness of purposes excelled nowhere and equalled rarely. The county and state owes them much and can never pay them enough.

"Throughout the first chapter of Genesis and in three verses of the second—in what we understand to be the spiritually scientific account of creation—it is the Elohim (God) who creates. From the fourth verse of chapter two to chapter five, the creator is called Jehovah, or the Lord. The first record assigns all might and government to God, and endows man out of God's perfection and power. The second record chronicles man as mutable and mortal—as having broken away from Deity and as revolving in an orbit of his own. Existence, separate from divinity, science explains as impossible. This second record unmistakably gives the history of error in its externalized forms, called life and intelligence in matter."

Askew-Oakes. On Sunday, November 7, Miss Mattie Oakes became the bride of Johnnie Lawrence Askew, at her home in Hookerton, in the presence of the immediate family and friends of the bride.

Before the ceremony, Miss Payne Sugg sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "Because." Miss Sugg was accompanied by Mrs. Ernest Hardy at the piano.

As the wedding march was played the bride and groom entered the parlor altar, which was decorated with tall baskets of chrysanthemums, large sprays of pine and burning candles. Schuman's "Trauerlied" was played very softly during the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. E. R. Schuller, Methodist pastor.

The bride wore a becoming dress of ice blue crepe with black accessories. Her corsage was of sweet-heart roses and white carnations. Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Askew left for a short wedding trip.

Mrs. Askew is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Oakes of Hookerton. She has been employed in the State Highway office in this city for the past few years.

Mr. Askew is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Askew of this city.

VERONA LEE JOYNER, H. D. A. EDNA KIRBY, Assistant
Red Banks Club Meets
The Red Banks H. D. Club met at the home of Mrs. Karl Hardee Tuesday, Nov. 5, with an attendance of 27 members and three visitors. The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. A. Cherry and Mrs. Hugh Hardee were enrolled as new members.

The meeting was called to order by the new president, Mrs. L. W. Cherry. Members were reminded that Tuesday, Nov. 9, is Achievement Day, and all were urged to attend. Mrs. S. B. Tucker gave a report, as condolee chairman. Many orders were placed for Christmas cards, funds from which will help the treasury. A new ruling which tends to avoid confusion is that sales of any product will be on a cash basis. Plans were made for the Christmas social which will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Brooks Tucker on December 16. Mrs. E. H. Boyd was elected as new secretary.

Miss Helen Brooks, Mrs. Bob Starling, Mrs. Oscar Hardee and Mrs. T. W. Elks were personally thanked for their service in collecting $65 toward the United War Fund. Miss Edna Kirby, assistant home agent, assisted by Mrs. J. Brooks Tucker, then took charge. The subject was "Canning Meats." The discussion of proper meat to can was given a good start in conformity with the adage from an old cook book "How to Cook a Rabbit—First Cut the Rabbit." The demonstration of canning pork chops was as a helpful review and enjoyed by all. The pressure cooker was used. The hostess served jello and cakes in which the autumn motif in lovely colors was accentuated. The meeting then adjourned.

Winterville Club Meets.
A very enjoyable meeting of the Winterville H. D. Club was held with Mrs. B. T. Cox on October 19. There were 20 members present. We were happy to have two new members cast their lots with us, Mrs. C. B. Williams and Mrs. Cecil Worthington.

After the regular routine of business and book review, Miss Joyner and Mrs. H. H. Weathering, the clothing leader, gave a suggestive and useful demonstration on "Care and Repair of Clothing."

Red Oak Club Meeting
The Red Oak H. D. Club met Wednesday, Nov. 3, at the club building, with Mrs. W. T. Paige, Mrs. R. R. Tyson and Mrs. G. C. Beppard as hostesses. The meeting was called to order by the new president, Mrs. C. W. Bright. Twenty-six members answered roll call.

The meeting was then turned over to Miss Joyner, who gave a very helpful demonstration on "Canning Meat" assisted by Mrs. R. R. Tyson. With Mrs. Bright leading, plans were discussed for the December social to be held on December 1. Mrs. L. W. Edwards reviewed "The Robe." The hostesses served delicious cookies, salted nuts and Coca-Colas, after which the meeting adjourned.

Mrs. Herman Evans, Reporter.

Langley and Mrs. George Cherry, at the home of Mrs. Cherry. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Charlie Fleming presided. There were 18 members present, including two new members, Mrs. W. L. Williamson and Mrs. J. N. Warren, and one visitor.

Miss Kirby gave an interesting and worthwhile demonstration on "Canning Meats," assisted by Mrs. Cherry.

Plans were made for a Christmas party, which will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Paul Davenport Wednesday night, December 15. Mrs. Davenport and Mrs. J. B. Barnhill will be hostesses. Leaders were given their projects for the incoming year.

The hostesses served Coca-Colas and sandwiches.

erators and Lightnings which forced through the fantastic bombs, 50 Zeros and a heavy curtain of anti-aircraft fire.

The big Liberators exploded 84 tons of bombs accurately among dispersal bays and installations of the Rapoto airframe, blowing up nine enemy bombers and three fighters on the ground and shooting down 13 Zeros. The Lightnings, at a loss of five of their own force, shot down 10 other Zeros. Eight other Jap planes probably were destroyed.

The new bag of between 35 and 43 planes at Rabaul was added to losses there aggregating 800 in destroyed and damaged within less than a month.

While United States marines strove in torrential rain to expand their Empress Augusta bay positions on the west-central coast of Bougainville, new craters were reported today by headquarters to have been blasted in that island's already inoperative airfields. Twelve Japanese dive bombers moved against Allied ships off the beachhead but the attack was broken up by anti-aircraft batteries asea and ashore which downed five.

Despite fast mounting losses, the Japanese airforce also managed weak attacks over a wider area than

It has appeared in some time, hitting at Allied "won Treasury" to the south of Bougainville and the big airbase of Munda, on New Guinea. Other enemy raids were attempted against an Allied airfield in the Markham valley of New Guinea and Australian positions on the coast of Finschhafen.
