German Counterattacks Dislodge American Grip On Mountain Positions

Americans Lose High Ground Positions North Of Venafro; Eighth Army Makes Gain In Eastern Sector; Fight For Rome May Prove Hard And Bloody

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Two Nazi counter-attacks have driven American troops of the Fifth army from high ground north of Venafro, Allied headquarters announced today, but the Eighth army won new hill-tops in the eastern sector of Italy.

The German onslaughts pushed the U. S. troops out of areas previously occupied on Monte Santa Croce above Venafro, where a Fifth army wedge seriously threatened the enemy's powerful winter line. Resistance remained strong along the length of the Fifth army front, headquarters said.

Soldiers of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery won new high ground north of Ateasa—14 miles inland from the Adriatic—and Eighth army patrols made new sorties across the Sengro river on this east flank, feeling out German strength. Enemy elements were met near Montezoli near the middle reaches of the Sengro.

Land operations generally were held at a near standstill by mud and bad weather as the opposing forces girded for showdown battle. The weather also prevented extensive air activity in Italy, though some sweeps were made, with an assault upon a truck column near Ancona on the Adriatic coast. Two Allied planes were lost in all activities.

With the Fifth Army in Italy, Nov. 16.—(AP)—With their advances measured in yards instead of miles, the road to Rome has become by far the toughest route of battle. American troops have fought on in the Mediterranean theater.

Neither Tunisia nor Sicily presented the difficulties which the Allied troops must overcome before they drive the enemy into northern Italy. It is becoming obvious that neither of those campaigns cost the (Continued on Page Two)

Waldrop Heads Seal Campaign
Mr. J. Herbert Waldrop is president of the Pitt County Tuberculosis Association under whose auspices the annual Christmas Seal Sale is made. The Christmas Seal Sale, held in conjunction with the nationwide campaign, is the only appeal made throughout the year for funds to support the work of tuberculosis control.

Mr. Waldrop stated today that every effort is being made in Pitt county as well as throughout the nation to prevent any increase in the disease during and after the war. We well know the task facing us, for tuberculosis has always increased during past wars. But we have confidence that a substantial increase in the disease can be prevented this time.

Mrs. W. I. Wooten, local chairman for the Bond Sale, is organizing her workers for the advance Bond Seal Sale, which begins next Monday. The general mail sale will begin on December 1.

Subsidy Foes Threaten To Cut Off OPA Funds
Washington, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Senator "Cotton Ed" Smith (D-SC), anti-New Deal chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, commented today that the administration's price rollback-subsidy program should bring a "political rolling back" in 1944.

W. D. Farr of Greeley, Colo., secretary of the Colorado-Nebraska Lamb Feeders Association, had just testified before the committee that livestock producers were the principal sufferers under the government's rollback of retail meat prices.

"You've given a picture of what's happening under this rollback," Smith interposed. "Now it's up to the people to do some political rolling back at the next election," Smith remarked.

SIX KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Many Injured in Mine Depot Blast At Yorktown

By HARRY NASH
Yorktown, Va., Nov. 16.—(AP)—An explosion in a warehouse at the Naval mine depot here today killed an estimated six civilian employees and injured 20 and 30, two of them seriously. The blast awakened thousands of residents of Norfolk, Portsmouth and Newport News, some 30 miles distant.

Captain R. D. Kirkpatrick, USN (retired) commanding officer at the depot, said he believed the damage was extensive but that no estimate could be given immediately. Several fires broke out after the blast but were quickly extinguished.

The explosion occurred at 12:25 a. m. in the explosive plant area. The force threw the lighting system out of commission and all persons not participating in rescue work were ordered out.

I was awakened in Portsmouth by a violent shaking sensation which continued for five or six seconds, but I heard no noise. Persons on the street in Norfolk said the flash, visible just before the concussion resembled a high rocket.

It was believed at first that the explosion had occurred at the Norfolk naval air station where on September 17, 28 were killed and about 245 others hurt in an explosion of depth charges. The Fifth Naval district public relations at Norfolk said a false fire alarm at the air station a few seconds after the Yorktown explosion had given rise to the belief.

Earlier the navy had said that deaths totaled eight but subsequent investigation showed only six known dead and a possibility that one or two other employees, believed to have been working at the depot at the time of the explosion, may have been killed.

Shot Ex-Soldier In Self-Defense Here
John (Bo-diddy) Barnes, 22, Negro, recently discharged from the U. S. Army, is in Pitt General hospital with a bullet in a hip and his intestines perforated in four places and Walter Clayton Jenkins, 21, Negro, is in jail charged with shooting him with a pistol on Albemarle Avenue last night about 6:30. Barnes is in a serious condition, police stated. After the shooting Jenkins surrendered to Police Chief Herbert Woolen.

According to police, Barnes had accused Jenkins of running around with his wife. He went to Jenkins' house, twice but Jenkins declined to see him. They met today evening in front of a pool room opposite the Negro theater. They talked a few minutes and Barnes struck Jenkins with a stick or club and Jenkins fired low to scare him, he said. Barnes struck Jenkins again and this time Jenkins took aim and fired. The bullet struck Barnes below the stomach and ran down toward the leg and lodged in his hip, police stated.

Jenkins told police he fired in self-defense when he believed his own life was in danger.

Soldier Killed in Wreck.
Henderson, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Pfc. Joe E. Chancey, 27, of Camp Mack, was killed and three other persons were injured in a critically injured automobile collision on U. S. highway No. 1, six miles south of here early today.

Thursday a bill extending the life of the CCC, including an amendment banning all consumer subsidy payments after this calendar year, Mr. Roosevelt vetoed such a bill before. Steagall said that if the President takes the same attitude again, his committee will attach the prohibition to legislation extending the life of the OPA beyond June 30, 1944, end of the fiscal year.

"You know they want to continue," said Steagall, referring to OPA.

A swell of criticism against subsidies continued in the senate where the Agriculture committee, avowedly against them, called in more than 200 witnesses, including State Agriculture Department heads, and food producers' spokesmen for their views.

Went Down With His Ship—But Lives To Tell About It

Commander Robert S. Ford, (center) of Staten Island, N. Y., in command of the ill-fated U. S. destroyer Rowan, went down with his ship during the fighting off Salerno, Italy—but bounced back from the depths and now is recovering in the Naval hospital at Charleston, S. C. His foot and hand were caught in the wreckage of the pilot house door as the ship sank, but 25 feet under water, the door suddenly swung open and released him. Commander L. M. Calcutta, Nov. 16.—(AP)—RAF medium and heavy bombers today hit the Japanese in the north and south. American bombers struck targets in Norway today after another heavy blow at Athens airfields.

The Norwegian targets were not disclosed immediately. The Nazis have been harboring a number of their big warships in Norway's deep fjords.

Allied headquarters in Algiers revealed simultaneously that units of the reorganized Yugoslav airforce now trained as heavy bomber crews, have entered the war in the Mediterranean theater and yesterday flew with formations of the 15th Airforce Liberators to bomb the Eleusis airfield. A Cairo communique disclosed American bombers escorted by British long-range fighters attacked two enemy destroyers near Leros yesterday and got a hit on one of them.

Allied planes also hit enemy positions on Leros, Rhodes and Crete. Not one Allied aircraft was lost in all the Aegean operations, the communique announced.

Christmas Parade Here November 26
While outside decorations for the Christmas season will not be in evidence here this year and the gasoline shortage prevents the usual motor caravan parade, the local Merchants Association will meet the situation with a "gasolineless" parade on Friday afternoon November 26 at which time Santa Claus will make his annual appearance here ushering in the Christmas shopping season. Local business houses will enter animal or hand-drawn floats in the parade and all children of the city are invited to participate aboard their bicycles, goat carts or any other vehicles they desire to use, just so long as no gasoline is used for motive power. As an incentive to the bicyclists to take part, there will be three prizes of $5 each for the best decorated bicycles. In the white children's parade there will be a $5 prize for the best decorated boy's bicycle and a $5 prize for the best decorated girl's bicycle. There will also be a prize of $5 for the best decorated bicycle entered either by a Negro boy or girl.

In addition to transacting regular routine business the directors of the Merchants Association last night heartily endorsed the local State Guard units, expressed appreciation for the service being rendered by members of the company and urged local business houses to cooperate with the organization in every way possible.

Robbers Enter Store South Evans Street

Robbers broke open a door at W. E. Warren's grocery store at 14th and Evans streets between 11 and midnight and carried off a quantity of cigarettes, snuff, canned goods, etc., and a small sum of change. Patrolmen Crawford and Moore discovered the robbery about 3 a. m. The thieves apparently were scared off. They left some of their loot out in front of the store. There have been several robberies in that section of the city during recent months, police said.

The WAR TODAY

AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS
By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst
The Nazis in the Kiev-Zhitomir sector of Russia have only 165 miles farther to fall back before they will be where they began their attack against the Soviet Union on June 21, 1941.

That historic Hitlerian double-cross was launched at the Russo-German border set up through Poland before Soviet territory was invaded. Not until the Red armies have chased the enemy across this line will they feel that they have made good their oath to drive the invaders from Soviet soil. There is no indication that the recent tripartite conference in Moscow altered Russia's claim to the lands she occupied when Hitler attacked her.

At the rate the Nazis are traveling—recently about 15 miles a day—they theoretically could shoot a column through to the old demarcation line through Poland in about 11 days. Actually, of course, that's not the way such an immense battle works. The Russians are developing their defenses both north and south of the Kiev sector for the double purpose of pocketing and annihilating Germans and of bringing their long front back into alignment.

It's important to note that the Germans still are counter-attacking heavily in the Dnieper-bend region in an attempt to keep the Reds from closing this trap on the large number of Nazi troops still in that area. Such counter-attacks also are calculated to slow down the Russian drive in the Kiev sector by threatening the Red flank.

The ability of the Hitlerites to stage such counter-thrusts should dispel any notion that they are a crushed and routed army. However, this titanic battle which extends for some 800 miles north and south as the crow flies—much farther if you measure all the serpentine windings—undoubtedly has reached a crisis. The offensives which now are being pushed in the sectors of Krivori River, Kiev, Korosten, Gomel and Nevel bid fair to produce some great and bloody changes in the near future.

The way things look the Red armies are set for another wave of fierce attack. Once the ground is frozen—and it already is hard along much of the long front—they will be able to keep going until the spring.

There are several reasons for this astonishing Russian success. The chief one is that even before the war Premier Stalin had the far-sightedness to develop his heavy industries to a high pitch in the Ural mountain region, far to the east of the danger zone. That region is rich in minerals, including iron, copper, bauxite, tungsten, zinc, nickel and oil.

When the Germans swarmed through Russia's western industrial centers, Stalin at once intensified production in the Urals and has gone far towards overcoming the losses suffered in the current fighting. There's another highly important reason for the Muscovite success, and that lies in the spirit of the workers.

When Donald M. Nelson, chairman of our War Production Board, returned the other day from his

TAKE BIG TOLL JAP WARSHIPS

More Than 40 Sunk Or Damaged In Recent Actions

Southwest Pacific Allied Headquarters, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Allied bombers, constantly searching for Japanese warships in general—and cruisers in particular—have sunk or damaged better than one a day during the northern Solomons offensive.

On Oct. 12, a record load of 350 tons hit Rabaul, New Britain. It was the opening blow of the current drive. Thru destroyers were among the ships sunk during the raid.

Beginning with that raid, Allied fliers in their favorite hunting ground for enemy warships—Rabaul and Havieng, New Ireland—have sunk or damaged more than 40 to date.

Three cruisers, at least 10 destroyers and a gunboat have been sunk. At least 11 cruisers, 15 destroyers, a submarine tender, a submarine, a corvette and a minesweeper have been damaged. Two additional cruisers were listed as probably hit at Rabaul.

The air blows to the cruisers have been so heavy that Navy Secretary Knox said Japan has been seriously impaired in that category for future operations in the Rabaul area. Adding to Japan's cruiser losses during the period were one sunk and two damaged in a naval battle off Bougainville.

Headquarters reported today that a 1,000-pound bomb, dropped by a Catalina flying boat, landed on the stern of a Japanese cruiser 18 miles northwest of Rabaul Saturday night, penetrating the armor and exploding inside the warship.

Catalina was part of a night patrol group which scored a hit amidships with a 500-pounder on a large enemy merchant ship.

General MacArthur's spokesman, in commenting on the blows to the cruisers, said Japan lacks facilities in the Rabaul-Kavieng area for the repair of such vital ships.

Today's communique reported no substantial changes but only patrol clashes at Empress Augusta Bay on the west-central coast of Bougainville—the American front line in the northern Solomons.

To the northeast of the Solomons war zone, Liberators raids Nov. 13 and 14 on the Tarawa enemy air base in the Gilberts and on Mille Atoll in the Marshalls were announced last night at Pearl Harbor. The raiders, from the army seventh airforce, started large fires on Tarawa. No raiders were lost.

Humber To Speak On Sunday Night

The Greenville Council of Churches meeting in November session on Monday night by resolution endorsed the "Peace Meeting" to be held next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the Eighth Street Christian Church, at which time Dr. Robert Lee Humber will speak on the theme "World Peace—Is It Possible?"

Dr. Humber has made an outstanding contribution to the thinking of America and the world on the necessary federation of the nations of the world to insure the peace of the future. The Council of Churches thought that every citizen of our community should take advantage of the opportunity of hearing one of our most prominent citizens on this timely theme.

The meeting is held under the auspices of the Council on International Relations of Greenville, of which Mrs. J. H. B. Moore is chairman.

Conferees Agree On Compromise Bill Today

Washington, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Senate and House conferees today cleared the way for quick passage of legislation placing "Pre-Parliament" fathers at the bottom of the draft list and stripping War Manpower Commission Chairman Paul V. McNutt of authority over the Selective Service System.

The conferees, representing the Senate and House Military Affairs Committees agreed on a compromise bill under which the Kidday act would be on a nationwide basis, by categories in which fathers would be the last to be taken.

Policy authority now held by McNutt over the Selective Service System would be returned to the President with the provision that if the delegated it, he must delegate it to Major General Lewis D. Hershey, the Selective Service director.

OPA Violations In This Country

Six Pitt county grocers, whose names were not revealed, have been called before the OPA price panel for violation of ceiling price rulings. Three of the cases have been carried over until a meeting of the panel on November 22. As a result of the hearings held $6.04 was contributed to the U. S. Treasury and $6.24 to the Red Cross, representing amounts involved in the overcharges.

A survey of 37 Pitt county stores conducted between November 3 and November 13 revealed that 27 stores displayed the group of store posters and 29 displayed community price list charts. Ten of the stores checked showed 100 per cent compliance.

Hull Will Make Report To Congress Thursday

Washington, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Secretary Cordell Hull broke precedent by traveling 26,000 miles for the Moscow conference and he'll break it again Thursday with a two-mile trip from the State Department to Capitol Hill.

Hull will be the first cabinet member ever to speak before a joint session of Congress, which wants to hear a first-hand account of the historic Moscow pact.

Judging from the secretary's remarks to a news conference yesterday, his first since he returned from the Anglo-American-Russian talks, he will emphasize to house and senate these points:

1. A call for a unified American policy of interest in foreign affairs, backed by all political parties.

2. A proposed Allied commission to maintain order in liberated nations until these countries can hold prebiscites to choose their rulers.

Hull bore down on these points yesterday. He said all nations would be allowed to choose their own governments at free elections, including the Baltic and Balkan states. "This reference to the future of the tiny Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania collided sharply with the oft-published Russian view that for other countries to discuss their status would be similar to an international conference on the future of California."

Soviet Armies Thunder West Of Isolated Gomel And Zhitomir In Drive To Crush Nazi Center Line; More Escape Routes For Nazis Severed

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Moscow, Nov. 16.—(AP)

The Red army swung sharply north along the eastern edge of the Pripiet marshes today, ripping out another important section of the German communications system and covering the flank of the great Russian bulge west of Kiev.

The general line of attack shifted, at least temporarily, from the former westward thrust to a new drive to the north apparently designed to eliminate any possibility of a major German counter-attack in White Russia.

The most immediate effect of the newest turn in the campaign was the cutting of the railroad and highway running west from Gomel, southern anchor of the Germans' White Russian line, to Kalinkovichi. The strong German garrison which has been holding out in Gomel was thus virtually isolated and that White Russian city east of the Dnieper river was on the verge of falling.

Snapping of the Gomel-Kalinkovichi communications lines was accomplished by Red army forces which broke through the enemy lines south of Rechitsa and pushed no southwest of that city.

Other Red army units operating 65 miles to the southwest captured the towns of Kaganovich and Bazar, respectively, 40 and 30 miles northeast of the rail center of Korosten.

This force apparently was aiming to by-pass Korosten to the north and slash across the Leningrad-Odessa railway, which already has been severed at Zhitomir, to effect a junction with Soviet forces deployed below Rechitsa. Korosten itself appeared doomed.

The Germans have thrown strong tank and infantry forces into their counter-attacks against the counter-attacks of Fastov, on the left flank of the Kiev bulge. Frontline dispatches, however, reported that (Continued on Page Two)

33 More Shopping Days To Christmas

There are 33 more shopping days until Christmas. It is now apparent that the old slogan, "Give us gifts for Christmas," will be carried out to a greater extent this year, since toys and novelties are scarce and as scarce as butter. Metal toys for the youngsters are not here and will not be for some time.

"There is nothing more appropriate for Christmas gifts than War Savings Stamps and Bonds," J. Herbert Waldrop, Pitt County chairman of the War Finance committee, said today. "When one gives War Stamps or Bonds for Christmas, the gift is providing good cheer for the recipient and ammunition and supplies for the men out on the battle lines during the fighting," he added.

There will be no fireworks again this Christmas. There is a city in providing a penalty for having fireworks for sale or causing any kind of fireworks to be exploded in the city.

PREACHING BY OUR ATTITUDES

Whether we know it or not, we are constantly exerting influence on other people and other people are exerting influence on us. Astronomers tell us that the heavenly bodies are affected by the density of other heavenly bodies in their vicinity. So it is in our relations with others.

Woodrow Wilson once told of being seated in a barber chair when he suddenly became aware that a personality had entered the shop.
A man had come in quietly and occupied one of the barber chairs.
Wilson noted that every word this man uttered showed a vital and personal interest in the man who was serving him. He was particularly interested to observe the effect produced upon the barbers after the man left. They talked in undertones. They did not know his name but they knew that the person in their midst had elevated their thought. "When I left the shop," writes Woodrow Wilson, "I was aware that I had attended an evangelistic service, for the man who had come into the shop was Dwight L. Moody. I felt as if I left a place of worship."

Moody did not preach a sermon to the barbers. He handed out no tracts. He probably said nothing about the meetings he was holding in the town. He was just thoughtful and considerate in his every attitude, and this constituted an effective sermon.

Nevertheless, the Red army was moving cautiously to overcome stubborn resistance and safeguard their flank before resuming the westward drive toward the Soviet border.

capture of nearly 500,000 Russians advancing near Kirovograd, far to the southeast in the Dnieper bend, in an effort to break through to the

in that area. Moscow remained silent for the second day on de-

The Russian communists said that 3,000 Germans had been killed in the successful flanking drive
south of Gomel, and that 14 towns, including the rail station of Deme-tri, 34 miles to the west, had been captured. Great stores of war gear were seized, the bulletin said. Cutting the Gomel-Kalinovichi rail-

only one escape railway running northwest to Zhitomir. Front dispatches said this line was already being hammered by Russian artillery.

pushing his westward drive. He had had 160 miles to go before der set up in 1941 before the Ger-

Library News

This being Book Week, books are very much in evidence in Greenville with fifteen display windows facturing them. Each window carries colorful posters and decorations appropriate to the subject of the group of books displayed. Special Book Week committees from eight book clubs, the Service League, the Garden Club, Junior Woman's Club,
Association of Childhood Education and the Literature Department of the Woman's Club are responsible for the different exhibits. The Sheppard Memorial Library furnished all the books.

The window in Blount-Harvey's was arranged by members of the Sons' Book Club, the subject of the group being "Post-War Plans."

"Our Allies" is the subject of the grouping in the middle show window at Perkins store. The Round Table Club planned this display.
A group from the End of the Century Club arranged the showing in Efrid's "Leaders of the World Today—Biography" is the subject.

In the main reading room of the library the Junior Woman's Club has grouped a number of books featuring the "Home Front."

Books on the subject of "The Family" are exhibited in Merit's Store window, having been put there by the Inter Se Book Club.

One of the windows at Warren's
Drug Store is very appropriately filled with books on the subject of "Doctors, Nurses and Health." The committee from the Service League
did the arrangement.

The Chatham Club is responsible for a most interesting group of books on Southern Fiction, displayed in the Ideal Beauty Shop.

Books of Humor are grouped in a window at Bloom's. They were selected and arranged by the Clio Book Club.

"Religion" is the subject of the books arranged in one of Coburn's windows, the committee from the Literature Department of the Woman's Club having put them there.

A window at J. C. Penney's store is decorated with Garden books, the members of the Garden Club making the selections.

C. Heber Forbes' store has a large display showing books on the subject of "Personality Unlimited." The Athenaeum Book Club committee arranged them.

"Best-sellers at the Sheppard Memorial Library" is the subject of the books in Batchelor's window. A member of the library staff is responsible for the arrangement.

Another showing of books at the library is a children's exhibit selected and arranged by members of the Association of Childhood Education.

All of the books displayed for Book Week will be in circulation at the Sheppard Memorial Library on

The Russians waste no time on There's one further, important source of supplies for the Red ar-material captured from the retreat-

it can be utilized, but much of it can.

Your cooperation is deeply appreciated, without it this committee could not function.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Although the wheat futures market opened strong in active trading, with rye and barley following the early fractional upsurge, later trade was listless and gains were shaded by scattered selling, chiefly by houses with northwest connections.

December $1.59 1/2, or 1/4 off from the day's high which was a new seasonal peak, May $1.57 1/2, and rye finished 1/4 to 1/2 up, December $1.12 1/2. N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The soaring liquor stocks of Monday suffered a profit taking hang-over in today's market and leaders elsewhere slipped to irregularly low levels.

Transfers were around 600,000 shares. American distilling moved feverishly. It climbed 4 1/2 in initial transactions, lost this and as much more, recovered and again slipped at interludes.
