Clearing Away Debris of Bombed London Dance Hall

Rescue workers and salvage crews go about the task of clearing away wreckage of a milk bar and a dance hall in London, the morning after the building was hit by a bomb during a German raid on the London area November 7. Both the milk bar and dance hall were crowded and casualties were heavy as a result. (AP Wirephoto).

Allies Continue Gains Against Opposition In Italian Front Fighting

Fifth Army Gains Ground Above Venafro While British Eighth Captures Perano Beyond Sangro River; Planes Blast Nazi Communications In Italy And Balkans

By EDWARD KENNEDY Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Despite mud, flood and fierce enemy opposition, both the Allied Fifth and Eighth armies have gained ground at several points on the Italian front in the last 24 hours and the British have advanced five miles to capture Perano in the Sangro river valley.

Allied headquarters announced that units of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth army had taken the little town on the east side of the flooded river, about a mile and a half northeast of Archi, and the point of origin for recent enemy counterattacks in the area about 13 miles inland from the Adriatic.

Near the mouth of the Sangro river and inflicted numerous casualties on the Nazis in several clashes. Farther south near Rionero there were other clashes between Eighth army patrols and the Germans and the announcement said these also produced many Nazi casualties.

The occupation of Perano threatened German concentrations both at Archi and at the larger village of Bomba, four miles farther up the river.

American troops of the Fifth army gained ground along the northern part of their line above Venafro, pushing ahead in difficult terrain and in the face of heavy German artillery fire. Big guns of both sides blazed along the whole Fifth army front.

Bad weather curtailed air operations sharply yesterday, but occasional breaks in the cloud cover enabled fighters to attack concentrations both in Italy and in Yugoslavia.

American Warhawks struck at German road traffic near the Adriatic port of Split, destroying four vehicles, while Spitfires damaged a locomotive and nine railway cars and 13 trucks in the same area.

American A-36 Invaders attacked a bridge near Cassino north of the Mignano front and Warhawks and Kittyhawks strafed the Germans in the town of Barrea, northeast of Isernia.

RAF bombers bombed roads and buildings at Lanciano, 20 miles south of Pescara on the Adriatic, on Thursday night.

Spitfires attacked road and railway targets southwest of Metkovic in Yugoslavia and shot up two camouflaged oil tanks south of Durazzo in Albania.

In aerial operations two enemy planes were brought down and three Allied planes failed to return.

Explosion In London London, Nov. 20.—(AP)—A mysterious explosion—London's third in a week—which smashed a five-story building in the Soho district last night was followed today by an equally mysterious claim in the German communiqué that Nazi planes had bombed the British capital, although no planes or sirens were heard here.

PROGRESS IN SOUTH PACIFIC

Aussies Advance In New Guinea; Japs Bomb Solomons

Southwest Pacific Allied Headquarters, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Australians have lunched through savagely resisting Japanese in dense, rain-swept jungles to within one mile of commanding plateau positions on the New Guinea flank of New Britain but the Japanese air force has pulled itself together on the Solomon flank to hit back at American invaders of Bougainville.

Today's war reports of Gen. Douglas MacArthur on developments at the wings of the Allied offensive told of the Aussie drive and also of smashing blows by the American air force in the Solomons sector; but, for the second straight day, they listed damage inflicted by enemy fliers on the Bougainville beachhead at Empress Augusta Bay.

On New Guinea's Huon peninsula it pointed like a directing finger at the backdoor route to Rabaul—the Australians have moved seven of the eight miles northwest from Finschhafen to Sattelberg, aided by artillery, mortars and 44 tons of explosives dropped from American planes. At Sattelberg, the Japanese hold defenses along the edge of a 2,000 foot plateau which overlooks the Finschhafen area.

At Empress Augusta Bay, on the west-central coast of Bougainville, 35 Japanese bombers and fighters appeared in daylight Wednesday, according to the latest advice from the U. S. Navy. American Admiral William F. Halsey, American Corsairs shot down 16; anti-aircraft fire shot down another; and an 18th fell victim to balloon barrage cables but a few raiders got through to inflict casualties with their bombs. Two Corsairs were lost but one pilot was saved.

This raid followed by a few hours another report yesterday, during which Japanese planes succeeded in sinking a small ship of a reinforcement convoy and causing some loss of life.

Enemy air bases on and adjacent to Bougainville have been so repeatedly cratered by American bombers that heavy bombers have not been able to reach them but Japanese engineers still are making frenzied efforts to repair some of them.

Grand Jury Ends Tax Investigation

By CHESTER WALSH The Pitt county grand jury making a special investigation of charges by R. D. Whitehurst of Bethel that considerable property had not been listed for taxation or was improperly listed, adjourned Thursday evening to meet again on Friday, December 3. R. E. Davenport of Winterville is foreman. Considerable testimony has been heard since Superior Court adjourned two weeks ago.

The Pitt County Commissioners went into open court and requested Judge J. Paul Frizzelle of Snow Hill to instruct the grand jury to investigate the Whitehurst charges.

The next term of Superior Court will be a civil session to begin on January 17. A criminal session will be held the week of January 24. Judge J. Clawson Williams of Sanford will begin to ride the fifth judicial circuit after January 1. The present grand jury's six months term will expire and the Lee county grand jury will appoint 18 new grand jurors when he convenes the next term.

SUBSIDY FIGHT STILL GOES ON Germany Again Blasted By Allied Air Armadas

Efforts For Appointment Of Food Czar To Be Made Great Aerial Offensive Against Nazi War Industries Continues Through Third Night

By HENRY B. JAMESON London, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Formations of light Allied planes swept out across the channel today in a swift follow-up to a heavy assault by the RAF last night on the German chemical center of Leverkusen, where poison gas components are made. The daylight foray was a continuation of the intensive new aerial offensive which has seen six heavy raids from Britain in four days.

Last night's four-engine bomber assault, directed also against other unspecified Rhineland targets was the second within 12 hours against Nazi centers of chemical warfare and research. Five bombers failed to return.

Although details were lacking, the force of heavy bombers presumably was smaller than the record fleet of some 1,000 four-engine heavyweights flung against Berlin and Ludwigschafen's chemical plants on Thursday night with their bomb bays crammed with 2,500 long tons of blockbusters and incendiaries.

Unfavorable weather conditions prevented an immediate assessment of the damage done last night in the fifth raid of the war on Leverkusen's chemical plants. The city was last hit Aug. 22. Canadian formations played an important part in last night's assault, and a Royal Canadian air force communiqué said that three of the five missing planes were Canadian.

Berlin's blazing suburbs lit up the dark skies as the result of the Thursday night assault on that most important of bombing targets, and reports to Sweden and London said chaos was evident in the German capital.

American Fortresses escorted by Thunderbolts attacked targets in western Germany by daylight yesterday and returned to their bases without loss. Pilots said they did not encounter a single enemy fighter but little anti-aircraft fire. The targets were not named in the U. S. communiqué and no explanation was given for the omission.

As last night's raid carried the current Allied air offensive to new heights, Maj. William E. Kepner, chief of the U. S. Eighth Airforce command, declared that "Now we have only to increase our bombers and supporting fighters proportionately and concentrate against heavy industry for Germany to crumble."

Kepner said the Allies had defeated the strategy of the German high command in the air. "We have been outnumbered occasionally," he said, "but we have defeated them every time."

He added that German "rocket" planes were not causing the Allies much worry, characterizing combat with rocket ships as a "holiday" for the American fighters.

Thousands of persons were reported to have been made homeless in Berlin and traffic was said to have been frozen by direct hits on rail yards and stations in Thursday night's raid. All day yesterday the German radio talked of bombs (Continued on Page Four)

French Warship Ready To Fight

Algiers, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Trim and resplendent in her new fighting dress, the 35,000-ton battleship Richelieu, pride of the French navy, is ready again to join in the war on the Axis.

The Richelieu, one of the most powerful naval craft in the world, was inspected by Gen. Henri Giraud, commander in chief of French land, sea and air forces, and other Allied officers following her arrival from the United States, where she had been completely refitted with American armament.

A coroner's jury at the City Hall yesterday afternoon found that John (Bodilly) Barnes, 22, Negro, came to his death as a result of a bullet wound from a pistol in the hands of Walter Clayton Jenkins, Negro. The district clerk will fix the bail bond. Coroner Griffin H. Rouse presided.

According to testimony Barnes, accused Jenkins of familiarity with his wife and was looking for him. They met at a pool room on Albemarle avenue last Monday night. Jenkins had a stick, Jenkins said, and at the ground to frighten his assailant. When Barnes struck him in the abdomen, Jenkins shot him in the back. Barnes died at a hospital Thursday.

Jenkins will be tried in Superior Court the week of January 24.

Reds Abandon Important Rai Center Of Zhitomir

SUBS LICKED IN ATLANTIC

Axis May Shift Campaign to Indian and Pacific Oceans

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER Washington, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The Germans still may have some tricks up their sleeves in U-boat warfare, even though their fight is desperate and doomed. Among naval experts here there is some belief that in the months ahead the Nazis may attempt to expand their undersea offensive from the Atlantic into the Indian, ocean and perhaps the Pacific. It may be that in cooperation with the Japanese, they already have prepared bases for such operations.

This would amount to a major change in enemy submarine warfare and would call for consequent changes in strategy by Allied forces. The defensive strategy was perfected by the Germans might hold a temporary advantage and send upward the curve of Allied ship sinkings which for months has been extremely low.

The aim would be, of course, to force a dispersal of the Allied forces which have crushed the U-boats in the Atlantic.

The Germans and Japanese could hope to at least delay the hour of final decision.

The Germans, in the last few months, have been losing submarines at the rate of 30 a month—far more than they are believed to be able to build them. And they have not been sinking Allied ships in great numbers.

Rear Admiral Francis Low, chief of staff for the Tenth fleet, the American anti-submarine force, said yesterday, however, that Germany still has "a great many submarines left and they have a good deal of potential power."

Talking at Secretary Knox's press conference, he commented that it would be possible "for them to expand their operations into other areas."

Recent Berlin broadcasts have hinted at such a plan, the Germans would have to manage to use long-range cargo subs to maintain adequate supplies of spare parts and munitions at whatever bases the Japanese furnished them. The project also would require a greater degree of cooperation between the Axis powers than has been evidenced.

He added that German "rocket" planes were not causing the Allies much worry, characterizing combat with rocket ships as a "holiday" for the American fighters.

Deserter Sent Back To Army Authorities

Greenville police and the State Highway Patrol have turned over William Eugene McGinnis, an alleged deserter, to military authorities at Camp Seymour Johnson.

The soldier's identification papers had been tampered with FBI agents, cooperated with local authorities.

McGinnis had been working on a farm near Greenville for board and lodging to "learn something about tobacco." He had been under observation and investigation some time, Chief Wooten said.

SEEK CUT IN WAR SPENDING

Congress Suggests Reduction By 25 Billions

Washington, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The suggestion was heard today that government spending for the war could be cut by $25,000,000,000 this fiscal year—enough to have paid the nation's entire bill in World War I.

The army has disclosed it was returning more than $13,000,000,000 of unneeded need. Rep. Taber (R-N.Y.) asserted last night that the Navy was expected to save between four and five billion dollars.

Thereupon Senator Russell (D-Ga.) of the Appropriations committee came forth with the thought that a careful scrutiny of all war expenditures might yield a reduction as high as 25 billion.

"The war plants are built and the machine is functioning smoothly," Russell said, "and now we have time that we didn't have before to examine appropriation requests carefully. I am hopeful that we can save 25 billion at least."

At the time the $71,500,000,000 armory bill was passed, Senator Maclay (D-Conn.) told the senate he was certain it contained "waste and extravagance" but the Appropriations committee didn't know where to cut it.

Treasury officials said the cut in outlay did not affect the need for $11,500,000,000 in new taxes. Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Finance committee observed, however, that it certainly would cut the prospective deficit.

George also has declared that the senate would back up the House Ways and Means committee which pared the treasury's new tax request to $2,140,000,000.

Further South Russians Send Another Spearhead Across Dnieper River Between Kiev And Dnepropetrovsk; Capture Of Ovruch, 25 Miles Above Korosten Reported

By HENRY C. CASSIDY Moscow, Nov. 20.—(AP)

The Germans hurled counter attacks all along the jagged Ukrainian front from the Pinsk marshes southward to the middle Dnieper, the army newspaper Red Star reported today.

The Russians announced that they already had been forced to give up Zhitomir, a rail junction 30 miles southwest of Kiev, where the Red army passed toward the highwater mark of its westward 1943 offensive.

The Germans were hitting especially hard in the Cherkask sector in a determined effort to eliminate a new Russian bridgehead which threatened the last important city held by the Germans on the west bank of the middle Dnieper.

The Russians were said to have reached the outskirts of Cherkask.

The Germans also were counter-attacking in the Ovruch sector on the Odessa-Leningrad railway north of Zhitomir and Korosten in an effort to heal the damage to their all-important communication lines.

Strong concentrations of troops, tanks, self-propelled guns and planes were being thrown into the Nazi counter-attacks in narrow sectors. Based Star said. These thrusts reached the Korosten sector, within 60 miles of Kiev, but there were numerous indications that the Russians considered their hold on the Ukrainian capital firm.

The retreat from Zhitomir, a serious setback of the 1943 campaign, was ordered by the Russian supreme command in an effort when it was found impossible to reinforce troops holding that newly captured junction on the Leningrad-Odessa railway. The Red army forces withdrew to positions "most advantageous" for defense, the war bulletin said.

However, the drive against Cherkask, midway between Kiev and Dnepropetrovsk, staged by the enemy, failed to reach the Red troops and gain a narrow breakthrough. The Red army forces left flank against reinforced enemy units and brought new threats of encirclement to German forces in that salient.

Capture of Zhitomir by the Germans failed to reopen rail communications between the German armies in the Ukraine and White Russia, and occupation of Ovruch further widened the gap between the enemy forces. Russian paratroopers, as at Cherkask, played a key role in the storming of Ovruch, the communiqué said.

More than 4,000 Germans were (Continued on Page Four)

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS... PEACE COMES THROUGH SACRIFICE

The Bible promises peace through Jesus Christ, but the peace He promises is not something which flows like a beneficent stream from heaven, but something which has to be made.

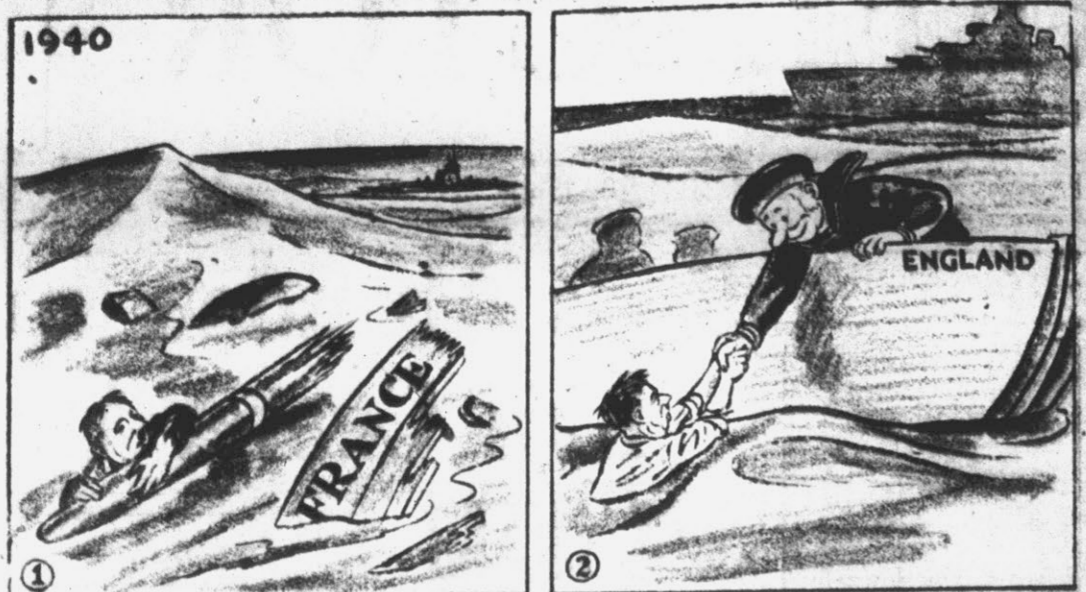

We are told that Christ made peace by the blood of His cross. The last peace we should expect to find in the life of Christ was the peace at which peace emerged, namely, at His crucifixion.

This principle applies to individuals, but applies with equal cogency to the life of nations... All Rights Reserved - Babson Newspaper Syndicate

Can we have world peace? If so, how? That is the question before all the peoples of the world just now. Dr. Humble is a native of Greenville and no man in America is making a better contribution to this thought at the present time than he is. This service is one of information and inspiration, but it is also one of honor for a native son who has done so well for himself and for his city.

War Correspondent Speaks At College

Charles Collingswood, CBS foreign correspondent, just back from four years in Europe, spoke last night at East Carolina Teachers College, on matters connected with the war, to a audience of college and town people who remained to ask questions as long as the speaker would answer them. A reception was held for Mr. Collingswood in the reception rooms of the new classroom building.
In his speech, Collingswood tried to help his audience visualize life at the front, with its strain of the constant threat of sudden and unpredictable death, even behind the lines, and make them realize what effort is demanded of the home front to match in any degree the sacrifice being paid by men and women in active military service.
The speaker gave a first-hand picture of the campaign against Tunis and Bizerte and the wholesale surrender of the Germans once they had become convinced they could not win.
Then, speaking of his estimate of the importance of the Moscow conference, he said he believed it would scotch German efforts to win through propaganda by splitting the Allies off from Russia, as the African campaign and Stalingrad had shown them they could not win by force of arms.
"We lost prestige by our cooperation with Darlan in North Africa," he said, "and repeating the mistake in Italy. As we push on to conquered territory, this ceases to be a problem of war only and becomes a problem of peace—one on which we must decide whether we will follow expediency or principle," he said in concluding.

New York Cotton

New York, Nov. 20—(AP)—The cotton market moved lower today on increased hedge selling and commission house liquidation, partly influenced by favorable war developments. The selling met indifferent mill price fixing against textile contracts.

There was considerable December liquidation and switching into later months anticipating first notice day next Wednesday.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Nov. 20—(AP)—The stock market registered its third successive recovery swing today on relatively broad and active dealings. Dividends and earnings complications continued to bolster individual issues but failed to spur others. Principal buying simulant still was the revival of tax optimism and the waning of short-war talk. Skeptical customers were plentiful, however, and these cited the expected imminent foreign developments as an argument for their aloofness.

Traders of around 500,000 shares were among the largest for a Saturday in two months.

The WFA now is asking feed processors voluntarily to give first distribution preference to milk production and feed shortage areas.

Seeks To Freeze Parroll Levies

Washington, Nov. 19—(AP)—Asserting that "we are not entitled to use social security taxes to finance any part of the war," Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) announced today he will seek to amend the new revenue bill to freeze payroll levies at the present one per cent on employees and employers.

Vandenberg's action is expected to carry heavy weight with the senate, since he took the initiative in two previous moves which resulted in yearly postponement of an otherwise automatic advance to two per cent on employers and employees alike.

By CHESTER WALSH
The Greenville Kiwanis club held its weekly supper meeting at Chicod school last night and had a number of representative citizens of that enterprising community as guests. The Home Economics class served the supper. A fine spirit of fellowship prevailed. President Joe Taft presided. Dr. Maynard O. Fletcher of Washington delivered an inspiring Thanksgiving message. Mayor Bruce Sugg of Greenville introduced the speaker, Dr. Robert L. Boyd had charge of the program.

Kiwanians Berry Bostic and Wyatt Highsmith "chipped in" for the underprivileged child fund a nickel for each year of their ages.
