Allies Driving Ahead In Italy

Army Smashes Edge Into German Defenses Following Pulverizing Bombardment; Eighth Army Is Knifing Ahead Toward The 'Back Door' to Rome

By NOLAND NORGAARD Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army has smashed a wedge into German defenses after the heaviest artillery and aerial bombardment of the Italian campaign had pulverized many strongpoints and has driven ahead two miles along the Via Cassina toward Rome, headquarters announced today.

(The Aleters radio reported the Fifth Army had taken the important town of Calabritto, about seven miles southwest of Mignano.) On the Adriatic front, the British Eighth Army knifing ahead toward the "back door" to Rome, approached the outskirts of San Vito, 16 miles below the port of Pescara, and also swept up the towns of Lanciano, Treglio Orsogna and Casoli, all in inland country beyond the Sangro ridge, the farthest point of advance inland, is about eight miles beyond the Sangro.

British and American troops of the Fifth Army launched their full scale offensive on mountain positions guarding both sides of the Via Cassina, a main road to Rome, on Thursday night, it was disclosed. The assault, aimed in the direction of Casimo, drove the Germans from the important Camino and Mignano heights west of Mignano, front line dispatches said. An RAF statement reported that several German prisoners taken when the British smashed the lower Sangro river line had gone insane from the effects of the relentless Allied bombings and that the others were shaken and exhausted from the ceaseless bombing which paced the attack. "Terrific demoralization" of the enemy troops was brought about by the incessant air attacks, the statement said.

The WAR TODAY

AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst If there's anyone so cynical as to lack faith that in happier days to come we shall have a shining new world, based on the brotherhood of man, then I think he should be marooned on a desert isle for his pessimism. And if there's anyone so naive as to believe that this millennium is going to arrive with the end of the end of the present war, or that it will be reached except through trials and tears, he should be forced to join the cynic.

The way things look now, when we've smashed Germany and dismembered the Japanese Empire we shall just have started to climb the heights. We shall have knocked out military aggression (at least temporarily), but we shall have released violent political passions both in Europe and the Orient.

It will be more than passing strange if Europe and Asia don't suffer an epidemic of civil wars. Indeed, these bitterest of all human conflicts already are under way.

Take the case of Yugoslavia. There the forces of General Dragica Mihailovich, war minister in young King Peter's cabinet, have been at bloody logger-heads. Without much doubt this argument will be carried to a finish as soon as the Germans have been thrown out of Yugoslavia. In neighboring Greece there's a similar situation. There, we have

RAF BLASTS NAZIS AGAIN

Industrial Center Of Leipzig Hit Last Night

By ROBERT STURDEVANT London, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The RAF bomber command, tricking the Germans with a well-timed shift of targets, sent Mosquitos roaring over scorched Berlin and heavy bombers feinted at the Nazi capital last night, then struck with devastating effect at the great German trading and railway center of Leipzig where 1,500 long tons of explosives were unloaded.

The deception drew off the great majority of German night fighters which rose once more to give battle when a port of blockbusting squadrons headed for the expiring capital. Then just as the main attack seemed about to break over Berlin, the major armadas streaked southward 90 miles and hit Leipzig, from where the Nazis have been trying to succor the capital with food and supplies.

The Air Ministry, which first announced that 24 bombers were missing from the night attack, later corrected the figure to 23, as compared with the previous night's losses of 41 in the 1,500-ton attack on Berlin.

Battered Berlin, however, did not escape new destruction. As the heavy bombers made their abrupt turn toward the south, swift scale selected targets and kept the weary capital under siege for the second successive night following five heavy blows.

Striking well after midnight in a quick change of procedure, the heavy bombers dumped high explosives and incendiaries on Leipzig's industry and on her freight yards already strained to the limit to accommodate Russian-bound traffic currently forced this way by Berlin's mangled communications. First reports from crews returning at breakfast time from the 1,000 mile round trip told of a concentrated and effective bombing of the city.

Leipzig is one of the world's largest railway terminations. Main rail lines from Regensburg, Berlin and Kassel intersect there and it is one of the gateways to the eastern front. More than 20 firms there are engaged in the manufacture of aircraft components and it is also the home of assembly plants for JU-88s and ME-109s. Other RAF planes rounded out their night assaults by sowing mines in enemy shipping lanes, and lighting.

Salvation Army To Spread Good Cheer

The Salvation Army Christmas kettles were placed on the streets of Greenville today to receive donations for the "Christmas cheer" program. Placing of the kettles on the streets Saturday will not be the beginning of the "Christmas cheer" program for the Salvation Army. Boxes have been sent to a number of boys in the armed forces and the Salvation Army workers are now busy making "ditty bags," which will be filled and sent to the Marine hospital in New Bern. The Greenville corps has been asked to furnish 100 of these bags for crippled and wounded Marines who are in the hospital in New Bern. Every effort is being made to comply with this request.

Salvation Army To Spread Good Cheer

In addition to the boxes, which will go to the boys in the armed service, Christmas dinners will be furnished to sick aged and needy families of Greenville and will be given for the underprivileged children of Greenville. Two kettles were placed on the streets and they will remain there until Christmas Eve to receive contributions to help with this work. The Salvation Army will need your help in this Christmas effort this year more than ever before so please do your part as you pass the kettle on the street or mail your contribution to the Salvation Army at P. O. Box 113, the officer in charge said.

BIG SURPLUS OF OFFICERS

Army Planning To Release 25,000 Officers Soon

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST Washington, Dec. 4.—(AP)—An estimated 25,000 officers whose services the army no longer needs soon will be returned to civilian life, it was learned today, while another 25,000 will be shifted from administrative positions to operations jobs.

The figures came out of a meeting held this week behind the closed doors of the House Military Committee with Brig. Gen. Miller G. White, assistant chief of staff in charge of personnel. The reduction in officer strength from approximately 650,000 to 625,000 was made possible, committee sources said, by a cutback in the planned enlisted strength of the army from 8,200,000 men to 8,000,000 by the end of 1943 and a shifting of emphasis from training to operational activities.

With its training and procurement programs well over the hump, the army finds itself with a surplus of administrative officers and an abundance of field leaders to meet present and projected requirements. The officers to be discharged will be men over the draft age, who were commissioned as specialists, and officers called to retirement early in the war when there was a shortage of men with army administrative ability. None of those returned to civilian life will be men who otherwise might be drafted.

Surplus officers of draft age will be retained for other duties; replacements may be necessary in the future.

Red Armies Make New Gains In Gomel Sector

Soviets Slogging Through Knee-Deep Snow And Mud Move Slowly Toward Rumanian And Polish Borders (By The Associated Press) London, Dec. 4.—Red army troops slogging forward through knee-deep snow and mud, were closing in from two directions today on Zhlobin, an important German-held rail and communications hub at the juncture of the Gomel-Minsk and Leningrad-Odesa railways in White Russia.

Far to the south other Soviet forces plunged deeper into German lines west of their Dnieper river bridgehead below Kremenchuk, and hurled back fierce counterattacks aimed at the up-river Soviet positions in the Cherkasy area, a Russian communique said.

There was no mention in the Soviet bulletins regarding developments in the Kiev sector. German sappers and Korosten on the Leningrad-Odesa line, but Berlin broadcasts said there had been no clash of major importance in that rain-soaked area for the past 30 hours.

Gen. Constantine Rokossovsky's white-clad troops were reported raising havoc with the German railway network northwest of Gomel and the army communique said more than 100 populated places were overrun in Friday's steady advance. Key points taken in this two-pronged drive, aimed at enveloping Zhlobin, were Sverjien and Doves Staraya and Soltanovka and Staraya Rudnya to the southwest. The latter town is only nine miles from Zhlobin.

Dovsk is a junction on the Gomel-Mogilev and Rogachev-Roslavl railways, 18 miles northeast of Rogachev. Sverjien lies seven miles further west. The Nazis fighting tenaciously to hold these guardian strongpoints of their important rail lines, said, recording 700 enemy dead in one day alone. An additional 300 were killed in fighting elsewhere in the area, while more than 10,000 Soviet civilians earmarked for slave labor inside Germany were liberated, the communique added.

FUEL CRISIS THIS WINTER

Secretary Ickes Suggests Allocation Plan

Washington, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Interior Secretary Ickes has told Congress that the country faces a fuel crisis unparalleled in its history as a result of the loss of 40,000,000 tons of coal production through miners' strikes. He made this statement, it was learned today, in asking for a $3,550,000 special supplemental appropriation to carry out a plan of allocating available coal supplies this winter. The Senate sub-committee on deficiency appropriations approved the amount.

In a letter to the sub-committee Ickes' office said the latest series of strikes in late October and early November, cut coal production 10,000,000 tons on top of a production loss of 30,000,000 tons during earlier work stoppages growing out of the contract dispute between John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and operators.

"This presents a fuel crisis unparalleled in the history of the country," the letter said. "This further loss at this time year necessitates an almost thoroughgoing allocation of coal. Allocation will involve such diversions and reallocations by such diversions and reallocations and the thorough understanding of consumers of the need for every possible conservation." "The situation requires the setting up of offices in about 65 strategic fields throughout the production fields and in consuming areas. These offices will act upon information received from various sources to alleviate supply shortages by direct and local action where possible."

France Expecting Early Invasion By The Allies

Madrid, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Paris correspondents of Madrid newspapers reported today that France is being swept by the conviction that an Allied invasion is imminent. One correspondent gave "great movements of American and British shipping, troop concentrations and an increase of observation flights over France" as a basis for the belief.

This and similar press dispatches from Paris coincided with a reported increase in German military activity both along the Atlantic wall and in the still incomplete defenses of the Mediterranean, from the Pyrenees mountains north to Marseille and east to the Italian border.

New restrictions have been imposed on residents of these areas, confining them to their homes between sundown and sunup, keeping them out of areas which the Germans consider of military importance, and evacuating them from whole sections along the coast, where the Germans are mounting guns and sandbagging windows and doorways.

(By The Associated Press) President Ismet Inonu of Turkey, accompanied by Foreign Minister Numan Menemencioğlu and Marshal Fezi Cakmak, commander in chief of the Turkish army, left today for a conference with Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt at either Tabriz or Cairo. NEW GAINS IN SOUTH PACIFIC

Aussies Threaten Waereo; Planes Blast Jap Bases

By ASAHU BUSH Southwest Pacific Allied Headquarters, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Waereo, strategic juncture of jungle trails forming the line of Japanese retreat, is tottering before Australian forces pressing a campaign to drive the enemy from the Huon peninsula of northeastern New Guinea. Aussie elements advancing from the south have reached a point within half a mile of the native village and old mission station after investigating the outlying settlement of Kuanko. Simultaneously, a second Australian force made fresh progress against Waereo, a mountain redoubt resembling captured Sattelberg, by pushing along a river bank from captured Bonga, five miles east on the coast. Waereo is more than 10 miles northwest of Finschhafen. Stiff fighting was reported by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters today. The Australians brought up artillery to blast defensive positions. Supporting the ground operations, a score of Mitchells and Marauders pounded the enemy supply area near Kamligidu Point north of Bonga on Thursday.

That same day, more than 50 Mitchells, covered by Lightnings, heavily bombed and strafed Borgen Bay on nearby New Britain island. Flying in formations of six to nine, they set fires among barges and supply dumps with 63 tons of bombs. In the northern Solomons, more than 100 Dauntless divebombers and Avenger torpedo bombers struck the battle of the American beachhead at Empress Augusta Bay at two airbases which Japanese engineers had managed to get back in shape. Fifty-seven tons of bombs hit the Kara field on Bougainville, south coast and the nearby island strip of Balile.

The bombers, participating in 200 sorties, made Wednesday, during which no enemy interception was encountered for the 10th successive day, thus kept Bougainville's fields out of action for the 40th day in a row.

Beyond a doubt, however, on the major topics of discussion the projected Anglo-American invasion of western Europe, which Russians have been using since from the day that the United States was precipitated into war two ago next Tuesday. Those most familiar with Russian arguments as already sent to the allied statesmen and his military advisers that the necessity of invasion as the only means of forcing victory at a soonly early date.

American Fliers Raid Hongkong

Chungking, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Hongkong was raided again Wednesday by Chinese-American planes which sank a 4,000 ton freighter, badly damaged two others in drydock, and destroyed railway equipment and buildings. Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters announced today.

In addition three large fires were started at Kowloon on the Chinese mainland opposite Hongkong. The attack by Mitchell bombers including those of the Chinese-American wing of the 14th airforce, was directed at the Kowloon and Taihook docks and returning fliers said 90 per cent of their bombs hit the target area. One Japanese hit the target area. One Japanese plane based in China also has been busy on other assignments, today's communique disclosed.

WHAT ABOUT GOLD?

Babson Says Production Figures May Mean Gold Stocks A Buy

Habson Park, Mass., Dec. 4.—Currency stability will be most essential to a maintenance of trade and revival of business activity in the postwar period. Capital naturally gravitates to the countries which give it the best reception and which hold out the most return for its use. If the United States, Britain, Russia and China are to function as well together in peace as they have in war, they must all be anchored to a stable currency. This would enable these countries to encourage, rather than to discourage, the employment of capital.

Gold The Only Answer Changing values in money bring great personal hardships. They also disorganize and retard all economic progress. In the hesitancy of business in the uncertain moves of business, in the fear of labor and in the effectiveness of legislation, we see continually growing signs of distrust in the value of our dollar. In terms of prewar values, today's dollar is now worth 75 cents. As inflation increases and under our present system of managed currency, I can visualize in the next five or six years a dollar worth perhaps only 35 cents.

After the last war, during the 20's and 30's, the business interests in Germany, France and Central Europe were paralyzed because of their rapid changes in the value of their currencies. Good money said sound trade are boom companions. Poor money and area fear that money will become less valuable or waste and panic. The most perilous times and the period which trade and industry advance the most both here and abroad were the American dollar were tied gold standard. Then they were changeable for a definite amount of gold of a definite weight and value.

World Bank Coming I doubt if gold soon circulates as money. I believe, however, that a world-wide bank or corporation may be organized, actual gold in the form of a bullion as its capital. Private gold will then be encouraged to remain postwar trade and business. If such capital became freighted with this "international bank" could guarantee any loans. It could make loans on its own account, private business to cover agricultural, like our Federal Reserve system, it might prove a profitable and useful enterprise. Dr. Harry D. White of our Treasury Department and John Maynard Keynes, the British economist, have both proposed plans for the stabilization of international currencies. The White Plan (Continued on Page Two)

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

KEEP POWER FLOWING

A new kind of bus has come into great vogue in recent years. It is like any other bus save that it has a double trolley and gets its power from an overhead wire. It is amazing to see one of these buses wending in and out of traffic on a street. But as long as the trolley is held tight to the wire which carries the current, everything is all right.

A crowded street with one of these buses cutting in and out of congested traffic reminds us of the world in which we live today. As individuals and nations we are constantly trying to by-pass obstacles which stand in the pathway of our lives. And with us the matter stands as it does with the power-driven bus—we are all right as long as we can keep our contact with the power line. We can go far to the right or far to the left. We can by-pass sorrow and difficulty. We can wend ourselves in and out of the inconvenience and tension which the war has created all about us, and this we can do because our lives are connected with a power higher than our own. If the bus disconnects with the trolley, it stops, and nothing can budge it until the connection is reestablished.

So it is with our lives. We stand dead still on the road, or find ourselves overrun by the traffic of a hectic age. If our contacts with the most High God are broken, we have much liberty, but this liberty comes to an end when the flow of power is interrupted.

BABSON

(Continued From Page One) an actual gold fund. They Keynes Plan favors large credits over a long period of time without requiring member countries of the World Bank to put up any gold. This Keynes idea is highly satisfactory. At the moment the White proposal looks the best. Unquestionably, a bank plan will be worked out with most of the 26 United Nations governments.

People Want Gold In World War I it was gold, not currency, which Colonel Lawrence used in order to win the support of Arab tribesmen. History repeated itself when our own General Mark Clark landed in Africa with a bag of gold. Gold will always talk when no other form of money is effective. That a natural demand for gold exists today is shown by the price of gold in the Bombay and Cairo markets where it is selling for almost double the United States price of $35. This strengthens my belief that international currencies, including our own, will be further reduced in value. This would mean further monetary inflation and a rise after World War II of consumer inflation alleviated by even more monetary inflation.

Countries in which gold will freely circulate as a medium of exchange will be the best off. Countries which attempt to get along with some form of managed currency will be in the worst shape. Hence we should ultimately have in some form a currency which even in the circumstances we are expected would be exchangeable for gold. Thus I predict that our present managed money system is on the way out.

Watch Gold Stocks More money has probably been set through speculating in gold bars than in any other stocks in a long-term basis. However, I favor stocks of gold mining companies which were profitably producing before World War II during the war, gold is subordinate in importance to nickel and copper and to the products of many other mines. In view of this, the copper shortage, nearly 60 per cent of the mines in the United States, Canada and South Africa are shut down. The remaining are operating on a greatly reduced basis; in fact gold production in the United States and Canada is less than at any time in a hundred years.

After the war, when all efforts are turned to stimulating world trade, gold may prove the only medium through which international payments can be made. Thus gold will rise in value in terms of our present currency. Furthermore, as restrictions are lifted with respect to manpower and materials, after the war there should be a return of driving power to the gold industry.

Hon. Conferees Seem Reluctant To Adjourn

Certainly it is no time to sell gold stocks. New purchases should be confined to producing companies with the best ore rating whose overall cost of production is reasonably low.

RAF Blasts . . .

(Continued from Page One) ers lashed out at enemy airfields over a wide area. Reports from Berlin through neutral countries said that three of Berlin's biggest bakeries had been destroyed in Thursday night's assault and that bread was now coming in from Leipzig and Magdeburg. Berlin's Funkhaus (broadcasting house), situated in the far west end of the city, was hit. A Swedish dispatch said, and an eyewitness reaching Stockholm reported, "there was hardly anything left" on the borough of Charlottenburg, also in the west end. The eyewitness said the once-thriving square, Alexander-Platz, in the heart of the capital, had been virtually destroyed in the deluge of high explosives.

The steady raids have cut five hours of the average Berliner's day, it was said. Most are home now by 5 p. m., compared to 10 p. m., previously. Factories and offices are functioning from 7 a. m. through 2 or 3 p. m. Badly affected transportation system was said to have been further crippled by the raid, making idle the trains that had run through the Postdammer and Stettiner railway stations.

In each of four massive attacks on Germans in November, three of them aimed chiefly at Berlin, British bomber forces averaging 700 planes, dropped more than 2,000 long tons of bombs, it was estimated from the RAF statistical review of the month's operations. During the same month the Germans dropped only 120 tons on England, all on the southern half.

Handball was introduced into the U. S. from Ireland about 1840.

To Our Friends and Customers On or before December 15th every taxpayer should review his tax situation. If he did not file a declaration in September because he did not have to, he may find that events occurring after September 15th have made it necessary for him to file one. Or if he filed in September, he may find that he should increase his "estimated tax" to avoid the penalty. On the other hand, he may find that he over-stated his "estimated tax" in the September declaration. In that event it would be to his benefit to file an amended declaration in order to reduce the tax installment due on December 15, 1943. FARMERS REQUIRED TO FILE ON OR BEFORE DECEMBER 15, 1943. F. A. Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR December 4, 1903

Calendars for 1904 are getting around. There were people in town this first Saturday.

On Thursday Alexander Sprunt & Son shipped 17,000 bales of cotton from Wilmington to Germany. Dedication of the Farmville graded school building Friday will be a day long remembered in the town of Farmville and the surrounding country. From it will date new intellectual life for the community. In material prosperity it has stood among the foremost towns of the state for the past five or ten years.

Carolina Teachers College, presided at. After a meal of barbecue and fried chicken, each of the former students there told of her present work—most of the married ones, too, now being engaged in teaching—and each of the visitors said a few words of greeting.

After adjournment, many of the group went to the home of Mrs. Greathouse for a visit together.

Amateur Hour At College. At the amateur hour sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association of East Carolina Teachers College and presented last night in the Auditorium, first prize went to a vocal duet with basket by mountaineers Katie Owen and Hatzie Grace Alderman. Second prize went to the Cancan Chorus, composed of Hilda Moore, Julia Ann Hancock, Amanda Elheridge, Miriam Averette, Geraldine Albritton and Edna Powell. Third prize was given to Grace Taylor, who did a juvenile reading in costume.

Other acts were tumbling, juggling, solos, duets, blackface trio, sandwich man, man and monkey. Judges were three members of the staff.

Woman's Day at Eighth Street. Disciples of Christ around the world observe the first Sunday in December as Woman's Day. The service Sunday morning is designed to honor the women of the church who are interested in the proclamation of the Gospel to all the world's peoples.

The officers of the Woman's Council under whose auspices this service is held are: Mrs. D. H. Conley, president; Mrs. J. H. B. Moore, vice president; Mrs. H. H. Woolard, secretary; Mrs. Milo H. Smith, treasurer. Circle leaders for the ensuing year are: Mrs. L. B. Fleming, Mrs. L. A. McLawhorn; Mrs. T. C. James, Mrs. Paul Rickis is president of The Matrons and Mrs. L. B. Tilghman is president of The Guild.

All women will be given the woman's Council colors as they enter the church Sunday morning and are asked to sit in the center section of the church. Dr. Haney will bring an appropriate message for the occasion and Mr. Gallagher, in the Navy, will sing a solo.

Eighth Street Church joins in another union service Sunday evening at 8 o'clock when the Christian Youth Council is asked to be present with their problems. Answers will be attempted by some of the leaders of young people in the city, such as Dr. Hilldrup, Miss Earnest, Miss Thompson, Mrs. Waters, and others. This service will be held in the Eighth Street church. Parents are especially urged to be present for this discussion.

The circles of the Church will meet as follows: Number 1, with Mrs. W. H. Woolard, on the second Monday at 3 p. m.; Number 2, with Mrs. Annie Washington, Monday at 8 p. m.; Number 3, with Mrs. T. C. James, Monday at 8:30 p. m.; The Matrons, with Mrs. W. A. Tripp on East Fourth St.; The Guild, with Mrs. V. A. Respass, 311 Green St. The Matrons will have as associate hostesses on Monday afternoon, Mrs. Vernon Rawls, Mrs. Milo Smith, and Mrs. Claude Allegood, as they gather around a beautiful old organ and sing Christmas Carols.

YOUTH PROGRAM TO FEATURE SERVICE Special attention will be given to young people and the problems of youth at the Good Neighbor Church program at the Eighth Street Christian Church Sunday night at eight o'clock. The program will take the informal atmosphere of questions and answers of religious matters. All the youth of the city is invited to attend and ask any honest questions that they have.

Leaders of the program other than the cooperating pastors include Dr. Hilldrup of the college, Miss Mary Lee Ernest, and Miss Thompson, student secretaries of denominations, and Mrs. Ethel Waters of the college. Parents of the young people are also urged to be present for the program and learn what young people are thinking and saying.

Mother Receives Medal For Son

Mrs. Carrie May Jones of this city, who was recently notified by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson that the Purple Heart had been posthumously awarded to her son, Staff Sgt. Linwood F. Andy Jones, for military merit and for wounds received in action in defense of his country, has received the medal. Sergeant Jones died overseas February 26, 1943.

To Practice For Christmas Concert

Choirs of Greenville churches have united for a program of Christmas music to be presented in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church at 8 o'clock Sunday night, December 12. In addition to musical numbers by the combined choirs, the audience will participate in the singing of appropriate hymns. Professor Charles Fisher, of the music department at East Carolina Teachers College, is director for the choir. Musical rehearsal of the choir and other musicians who are participating will be held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church.

Presbyterian Announcements. The church school meets at 9:45 with class for all ages. Mr. Jesse R. Move, superintendent, urges all teachers to be present and on time. The men's Bible class, A. E. Gibson, teacher, and H. B. Keck, president, meets at 10 a. m. At a recent meeting of the officers of the class, a full list of committees were appointed and mailed to the respective chairmen.

The revival meeting at Hollywood Church closed last Sunday night with 15 professions of faith and baptisms; one reaffirmation of the faith, all of whom united with the Hollywood Church. Many expressions of their appreciation of the fine service rendered the entire community by Rev. R. K. Davenport, evangelist.

At the morning service at the Greenville church, Rev. R. S. Boyd, pastor, will speak on the subject, "The Sorrows of Seedtime and the Joys of Harvest." Psalm 126:6 is the text. Sunday afternoon at 4:30 the church is requested to meet at the manse, 400 East Ninth street, with the pastor.

At 7:45 p. m., Dr. Boyd will preach at Meadowbrook Church following the young people's meeting at 7 o'clock. On Tuesday at 7:45 p. m., the cottage prayer meetings will begin in the Meadowbrook community at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fleming. Mid-week prayer service at the First Church at 7:45 p. m., Wednesday. We study Titus, chapter 2.

Arrest School Law Violator. Police yesterday arrested Henry Baker, while on a charge of violating the compulsory school attendance law. He refused to send one of his children, a boy under 12, to school. He will be tried in Police Court Monday.

Mayor Talks About Airport At Kiwanis

By CHESTER WALSH At the Kiwanis Club's weekly supper meeting last night Mayor Bruce Sugg reviewed the incidents leading up to building of the county-city airport for use of the Marine as a training base, rejoiced that a squadron of trainees and 50 officers are on the way in and will be quartered in the former NYA Center and that another squadron will follow after a tent city is erected at the airport. The city's chief business praised the County Commissioners for their patriotic cooperation, complimented City Engineer Henry Rivers for his surveying work and said the Chamber of Commerce and Willard T. Kyzer had their shoulders to the wheel. "Our people will now have a chance to show their good neighbor spirit to the fine personnel stationed here," the mayor said, reminded that the officers will want to rent houses and live among us and urged against so-called profiteering in renting furnished houses or apartments. He said when the war is over the airport, then worth a million dollars or more, will be turned over to the city and county for use in the new age of flying, similar in some respects to the automobile 30 years ago.

County Attorney Arthur B. Corey, pinch-hitting for Ell Bloom, made an interesting talk in which he traced the origin of Kiwanis back to Noah and the Ark. He complimented the Kiwanians as a cross-section of the community life in which every phase is represented and stressed the value of honesty, saying in conclusion that "Honesty is not a policy—it is a condition of the mind."

Don Conley had charge of the program. President Joe Taft, president John Glover won the attendance prize provided by Henry Andrews. Otis Morton will have charge of the program next week. Ed Rawl, sales manager of the Carolina Sales Corporation, had as his guest James E. Phelps, credit manager, and Lloyd C. (Butch) Blank, Fred's brother. Dr. H. G. Haney, talented as a speaker and entertainer, led the discussion of current events in the postlude session of the "Once-a-Year Club" eight Kiwanians who meet the first Friday in December for fellowship and solving world problems. Ed Rawl, Charley Blair, Joe Taft, Otis Morton, Dick Bundy, Mayor Sugg and Dave Moore participated. It was a "sober" discussion this year.

Lions Club To Collect Toys

Don't forget that while you are buying gifts for your own children that there are some less fortunate. The Lion's Club is beginning their annual drive to collect toys for the underprivileged children of this community on Monday night, December 6, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. These toys will be taken to the Greenville Fire Department and the local firemen will paint and renovate them, and they will be distributed through the Salvation Army. When you find your gifts, please turn on your front porch light at 7:30 o'clock and members of the Lion's club will see the signal as they tour the town, and they will pick up your collection of gifts. The Lion's club is most anxious that this year no children in this community are neglected at Christmas time.

New York Cotton

New York, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The cotton market moved in a narrow range today as traders awaited further news on the results of the three power conference. After dipping moderately on scattered hedge selling and liquidation, prices hardened on small mill buying which met on scale-up offerings.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Leading stocks were hesitant in today's market without exhibiting any particular weakness. Irregularly slipping tendencies predominated at the opening and minor fractional declines were well distributed near the close. Transfers of around 250,000 shares were among the smallest since early September.

Announcement . . .

In the absence of an official communique, it was believed that the steps probably will stem from the conference:
1. A formal ultimatum to the German people to overthrow Hitler and his Nazis or take the brunt of the growing Allied war power.

2. Bigger aerial blows on Germany, especially Berlin.
3. The promised second front, involving Allied land operations on the greatest scale, synchronous with developments on the eastern front and in the Mediterranean.
Decisions on the diplomatic front might include:
1. A bid to Axis satellites to abandon Berlin.
2. A plan for the occupation and policing of Germany.
3. A broad outline on how the peace may be kept secure in Europe.
Tadaus Romer, Polish foreign minister, told the Associated Press his government was urgently hoping such a conference would also produce an understanding capable of forming the basis for future cordial collaboration by the Soviet Union and Poland.
It was believed that the chief concern of the parley centered on military questions, since all three leaders are fully aware the Allies still face a formidable enemy, whose power in some ways becomes more consolidated as his armies withdraw into a smaller space.
For President Roosevelt and Premier Stalin the conference was the first time the marshal had left the Soviet since the revolution. Prime Minister Churchill met the Soviet leader last year when he flew to Moscow.
