Reds Resume Offensive In Kiev Bulge Fighting; Nazis Claim Successes

Attacking Red Army Threatens Major After Repelling Heavy German Assaults In Kiev Bulge; Berlin Claims Russians Driven Back Across Dnieper

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Moscow, Dec. 13—(AP)—Resuming the initiative in the Kiev bulge after four weeks of heavy defensive fighting, the Red Army was attacking fiercely today south and southwest of Malin, 55 miles west of the Ukrainian capital, after wresting several points from the Germans yesterday in the first major turn of the battle in this sector.

Further south, Soviet forces captured Chirchik in the northern end of the Kremenchuk bridgehead and took eight more populated places in their drive for the industrial town of Kirovograd inside the Dnieper bend. A Russian communique said mobile detachments had cut the road running to Chirchik from the southwest, threatening the Germans with encirclement.

The Red army appeared to have concentrated sufficient forces inside the Kiev Salient to overcome any new threat by the Germans, whose powerful mechanized thrusts had pushed the Russians steadily back in the Zhitomir and Korosten sectors.

The Soviet war bulletin, describing fierce fighting south and southwest of Malin, said the Red army killed 600 Nazis in dislodging the Germans from several populated places. In another part of the area the Russians beat back several German attacks, killing 600 Nazis.

The German communique yesterday barely mentioned fighting in the Kiev Salient, asserting merely that "our troops stormed numerous localities."

Appearance of the first Ukrainian front were given much of the credit for blunting the powerful tank-supported German drive. An officer just returned from the Kiev sector said that wherever the Germans managed to push forward a few kilometers they found themselves confronted with new Soviet defense lines set up by the engineers. Superior Russian artillery, which destroyed hundreds of tanks, also has played a vital role.

"With each battle experience, our self-propelled guns are increasing," said an Ivestia dispatch. "They have become a mortal danger to the Germans."

The Russian drive for Kirovograd, which now is in danger of encirclement, was resisted stubbornly by the Germans but they were finally forced to retreat in disorder after they were hit from the flank by Red infantry and tanks, the Soviet communique said. In another sector 800 Nazis were reported killed.

The second Ukrainian army of Gen. Ivan S. Konev is now midway between Kirovograd and the railway junction of Dolinovka. One force is moving toward Kirovograd. (Continued on Page Two)

No Prospect For Increase In Gas

Washington, Dec. 13—(AP)—Not only is there little prospect of increased gas rations for the early part of next year, says the petroleum Administration, but the petroleum Administration for War but unforeseen new military requirements may necessitate further cuts. "Quotas are entirely dependent on war needs," PWA Administrator Harold Ickes said yesterday pointing out that a sudden acceleration of activity in any fighting zone might chop present civilian allotments.

Satellites Seeking Way To Get Out Of The War

By HUDSON O'QUINN
London, Dec. 13—(AP)—A peace or war crisis, inspired in part by fear of an expected Allied invasion of the Balkans, was shaking Bulgaria to her very foundations today amid some indications that the world has little more time to wait for the promised east-west-south knock-out blows against Hitler.

The next 100 days will be as important in the history of the world as the 100 days before Waterloo," declared Lord Straboloti, chief labor whip in the House of Lords, in a speech yesterday at Luton. "Then Napoleon met his fate and Hitler will meet his if we act bravely and swiftly."

Bulgaria, first in defeat in the 1918 debacle of the Germanic powers again is treading a similar path and continental reports told of the dispatch of more German troops there.

Reluctant to break with Germany but anxious to continue her traditional friendship with Russia, this key central Balkan kingdom is wobbling precariously under the impact of both Allied and Nazi propaganda as well as the more direct menace of Hitler bayonets and further and still heavier loads of Allied aerial

FLU SPREADS IN EAST STATES

Ailment Described as Mild But Highly Infectious

By The Associated Press
Absenteeism in war plants, offices and schools mounted in the eastern and midwest United States today with the increasing incidence of respiratory ailments, variously diagnosed as grippe, influenza, "cat fever" and common head cold.

A "cat fever" epidemic, public health officials were unanimous in describing the illness as mild and, highly infectious and estimated that few deaths had resulted. Victims generally ran temperatures, ached, sneezed, coughed—and stayed at home.

In many sections, war plants were operating on a restricted basis. In Washington, D. C. it was estimated that 100,000 persons were affected. School attendance there was off 30 per cent.

Hospitals generally were crowded, although most cases were being treated at home. Administrative difficulties were encountered in many institutions because nurses and physicians were ill.

As physicians expressed hope the current cold wave would keep people at home and halt the rapid spread of the infection, the weather bureau predicted temperatures would drop to new lows tonight. The areas most affected by (Continued on Page Two)

Japs Fall Back In Central China

Chungking, Dec. 10—(AP)—The capture of Niuipian, east of Changteh, the retaking of 10 villages northwest of Changteh and the encirclement of 2,000 Japanese, more than 500 of whom were killed, were announced by the Chinese high command today in continued bloody river bowl fighting.

Escaping remnants of the surrounded force fled toward Linli, 25 miles north of Changteh.

Results of the fighting were not unmixed, however, for the Chinese admitted the loss of Shihmen, an important town 40 miles northwest of Changteh.

Panlungkiao, 20 miles northwest of Changteh, was among the towns occupied by the Chinese, it was reported.

The report indicated a considerable advance during the past 24 hours on the part of the Chinese, who announced yesterday that they had cleared the enemy from a 13-mile zone northwest of Changteh.

Secretary To President Dies

Washington, Dec. 13—(AP)—Marvin H. McIntyre, secretary to President Roosevelt throughout Mr. Roosevelt's 10 years in the White House, died today at the age of 65.

McIntyre succumbed to a long illness at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fred Warren.

A native of La Grange, Oldham County, Ky., McIntyre became 65 last November 27. He had been associated with President Roosevelt more than two decades, serving as his publicity representative during the vice presidential campaign of 1920.

Prior to that, McIntyre was a newspaperman in Louisville, Ky., Asheville, N. C., and Washington, D. C.

During the first World War he served as a special assistant to the secretary of the navy on public relations matters. After the 1920 vice presidential campaign, McIntyre was employed in public relations work in Washington until he became business manager and publicity representative of Mr. Roosevelt's presidential campaign in 1932.

Immediately upon the President's assumption of office, McIntyre was appointed secretary.

Stockholm, Dec. 13—(AP)—A roundabout report reaching here today through Ankara and Budapest said President Roosevelt had conferred yesterday at Gibraltar with Generalissimo Francisco Franco of Spain and Premier Antonio Salazar of Portugal.

There was no confirmation from any other source.

The Padaste correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Tjvningens said it had been reported in the Turkish capital that the three leaders discussed the position of Spain and Portugal during the expected Allied attack on western Europe.

British Eighth Scores New Gains In Italian Fighting

MORE RAIDS ON NAZI TARGETS
Fortresses Attack Northwest Germany Again Today

By W. W. HERCHER
London, Dec. 13—(AP)—Strong forces of American heavy bombers thundered through concentrations of enemy fighter planes and flak today in a new daylight assault on one of the most heavily-bombed regions of the world—northwest Germany.

Specific targets were not immediately named in the Eighth air force announcement, but some of the most important cities in the Reich lie in the northwest territory, including battered Hamburg, Wilhelmshafen, Bremen and Emden.

It was over Emden Saturday that the German air force sacrificed 132 of its fighters in a futile attempt to block the big American bombers from a pulverizing assault on vital docks and the center of the city itself.

Today's formations of Liberators and Flying Fortresses were shepherded by protective swarms of American P-47 and P-38 fighters which have been accompanying the bombers all the way to their targets lately.

It was the fourth heavy raid of the month for the Americans. So far, the month has hit Dec. 1; unspecified targets in occupied France were hit heavily Dec. 5; and the smashing blow at Emden was delivered Saturday.

U. S. Marauders escorted by RAF, Dominion and Allied fighters struck the Schiphol airfield at Amsterdam in another daylight operation, American headquarters announced.

Britain's tireless fleet of Mosquito bombers penetrated Germany for the third successive night last night for a series of lightning attacks on targets in the western Reich.

Flying Cross For Greenville Marine

By CHESTER WALSH
General Larkin, commandant of the Third Marine Wing, Cherry Point, Saturday awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross to First Lieut. Archie D. Simpson, stationed with the Marine Flying Base for Greenville Marine Flying Base for outstanding bravery and skill in combat in the Solomon Islands in the South Pacific last summer. The presentation was made at Cherry Point in the presence of the entire wing.

The citation credited Lieut. Simpson with making a direct hit on a Japanese destroyer and sinking it and performance of duty in combat in accordance with the highest traditions of the service. He was awarded the Air Medal while in the South Pacific.

Lieutenant Simpson is a Virginian. He was a student at Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, W. Va., when he joined the Marines in the fall of 1941. He graduated as an officer at Pensacola, Fla., in the summer of 1942. He was at Guadalcanal six weeks and spent a year in the South Pacific. He returned to this country recently and was assigned to the Cherry Point Marine Air Base as an instructor. He is now attached to Major W. L. Gregory's squadron at the Greenville Marine air base as instructor.

Congress May Hear President

Washington, Dec. 13—(AP)—Congress may hear from President Roosevelt a first-hand report of his epochal war conference abroad.

The possibility was held out today by Presidential Secretary Stephen Early who said he would "naturally anticipate" an invitation for Mr. Roosevelt to address the lawmakers as did Secretary of State Cordell Hull upon his return from Moscow. The President "would respond" to such an invitation, Early said.

House leaders expressed hope that the President would make a personal report to Congress as soon as he can. There was no immediate reaction from the Senate.

Christmas Recess May Halt Tax Bill Action

By FRANCIS J. KELLY
Washington, Dec. 13—(AP)—After Senate action, the bill will have to go to a conference committee of senators and representatives for adjustment of differences.

With federal taxes already cutting income at an officially estimated rate of $41,300,000,000 annually, the Finance Committee has searched unsuccessfully for a federal tax bill to drop that device in the face of unyielding opposition from the Treasury and the House of Representatives. The committee has been asked to pile heavy additional taxes on individuals and corporations.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) said if the committee agrees on final terms by Wednesday night it might be possible to call the bill up in the Senate Thursday. Other members declared two or three days more work would be required for the mechanical work of printing the corrected bill and issuing a formal report.

That would conflict with the projected start of Congress' Christmas vacation, December 18. Even if attempts were made to hold the Senate in session, one senator said, it is doubtful whether a quorum could

Seek Compromise On Subsidy Bill

Washington, Dec. 13—(AP)—The Senate Banking Committee today created a subcommittee to try to work out a compromise on the food subsidy issue, and meanwhile deferred immediate action on pending legislation to halt subsidy payments January 1.

The decision to refer the controversy to a subcommittee heightening members of the Banking Committee may modify the House's flat ban against all price control subsidies, came after Senator Taft (R-Ohio) laid before the group his proposal for a limited subsidy program in with support price payments to farmers.

Majority Leader Barkley, Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.), the latter author of the farm bloc bill for subsidy repeal, and Taft were named members of the sub-committee. Their report to the full committee was tentatively scheduled to be made by Wednesday.

Executive hearings by the full committee on the repeal bill had been called for today and administration leaders had conceded privately they saw little chance to block ultimate Senate passage.

Crack Nazi Defense Line North Of Moro River And Gain Hill Position Overlooking Important Road Junction. Fifth Army Repulses Counterattack

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Dec. 13—(AP)—Cracking a portion of the new 15-mile-long Adriatic line on which the Germans have massed three divisions, the British Eighth army has captured elevated ground overlooking the seacoast town of Ortona—anchor of enemy defenses guarding roads both to Pescara and Chiati.

Official advice today reported fierce fighting along the entire sector, extending from Ortona, which is 3 miles north of the Moro river, through Orsogna to Guardasiepe on the slopes of the Maelia mountains which tower up to 8,000 feet 15 miles in from the sea.

The new limited gains by Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's warriors, which include widening of two more river bridgeheads, came in the face of a strong enemy counterattacks in that sector while a lull prevailed on the Fifth army front.

Headquarters announced meanwhile that a total of 6,000 German prisoners have been taken by the Fifth and Eighth armies since the first landings in Italy.

German attempts yesterday to regain lost ground from Gen. Montgomery's troops met with no more success than tank-led Nazi blows which British artillery broke up on the previous day.

Offensive activity yesterday on the Fifth army sector on the west was limited to patrolling, after American troops threw back a German force which attempted on Saturday to recover an important height a mile west of Foggia.

(A Reuters dispatch said the Allies had taken 6,000 prisoners since the invasion of Italy.)

The German air force was out in some strength over the battle area yesterday, dropping an estimated 130 sorties into the air during the day, but relaxed into its usual inactivity yesterday.

Bad weather likewise curtailed air operations although fighters and fighter-bombers on offensive patrols destroyed a number of motor vehicles near Chiati in the Adriatic coastal sector and attacked Itri on the Apennine just above Gaeta in the western sector.

Medium bombers also ranged up the Apennine and attacked the railway yards and an airfield at Terracina, 20 miles northwest of Gaeta. All aircraft returned from the day's activities.

Meanwhile an official announcement disclosed that the Italian air force, as well as Italian troops, have begun active operations with the Allies.

A formation of Italian Savoia Marchetti transport planes, escorted by American Lightnings, recently went to the aid of beleaguered Italian airbases in the mountainous interior of Yugoslavia, dropping tons of supplies. One of the transports landed and evacuated eight wounded Italian soldiers and the crew of a plane destroyed on the ground during an earlier supply mission.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

ON USING OUR MINDS
A friend of mine wrote a boy in the South Pacific asking him to do something which might be sent him at this time and which would give him pleasure amid his none-to-pleasant surroundings. He promptly replied asking that a book be sent him on the anatomy of pipe organs. We can picture him, squinting down in some hastily built shelter, and when the storm of battle dies down, pulling out his book and reading about the length and quality of organ pipes.

It would amaze us all if we knew the things which are going through the minds of thoughtful soldiers today. The great majority are thinking about the comforts of home and the love of those who are left behind. And of course there can be no better thoughts than these. But both in this war and in past wars, there have been men who have literally dismissed out of the ordeal through which they passed, certain types of truly creative work. In the last war certain men whose names have become well known in literature, scribbled verses on the backs of envelopes as they sat in the trenches. One man I heard of carried a Greek New Testament with him and did a tremendous amount of scholarly work at off moments.

The best thing for soldier morale is something that will employ his highest powers. Writing poetry, studying about the structure of pipe organs, working out mathematical problems, memorizing poetry or passages of Scripture, recalling historical dates—all these constitute a profitable and wholesome exercise of the mind, whether we are riding in a street-car or sitting in a fox hole in Burma.

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

Washington—The capital experts, military and diplomatic, think there's little chance of Turkey coming into the war now.

Even the best of the Washington observers have been wrong before. Pearl Harbor caught nearly all of them flat-footed. Before that, the striking power of Germany was their biggest wrong guess; and after that, they were almost unanimously haywire on the defensive strength of the U. S. S. R. But since those days, the experts have become pretty cautious, and their virtually unanimous prediction that Turkey won't come into the war now is worth exploring.

The session between President Roosevelt, Churchill, and President Inonu of Turkey in Cairo has, of course, given fresh impetus to the rumor that the Turks are on the march on the Allies. That the Turks have been leaning more and more to the United Nations in recent months needs no attention.

But neither in military nor diplomatic circles here is there any thought that this will lead to an immediate declaration of war against the Axis.

The reasoning back of this conclusion isn't complicated:
(1) The Turks aren't any more prepared for war than the British were prepared to resist invasion after Dunkirk or than we were prepared to launch an offensive against the Japanese after Pearl Harbor. They do have an army, but it is ill-equipped and lacking particularly in air power and mechanization. The three armored Nazi divisions which are reported poised on the Turkish-Balkan borders might have a greater difficulty knocking out Turkish strategic centers than they are plowing through the courageous, poorly equipped Greek forces.

Board And Rumors

On the other hand, Turkey can no longer be considered a strictly neutral nation and if the Nazis weren't so hard-pressed on other fronts, they would surely say military experts here strike at the heart of the nation now.

Diplomatic circles here think what is most likely is that out of the near-eastern conferences came a declaration by Turkey that it would do all in its power to aid the United Nations and that in return, it would be given a seat at the peace table.

This "all in its power" may launch the Turks into war. It may consist of providing Allied air bases and a troop corridor to the Balkans, if and when we start a thrust in that direction.

The general, heading a group of 13 Brazilian officers officially described as an advance reconnaissance party of the expeditionary force, arrived in Algiers for conference with Allied force headquarters several weeks ago, shortly after Brazil announced that she was ready to send troops to participate in the war.

The general will go back to Brazil soon and return with a large contingent.

Istanbul, Ankara and other Turkish metropolitan centers are as vulnerable to air attack in miles as the cities of western Nazi-held Europe or as the cities of eastern England when the Luftwaffe was in heyday. In war machines to combat these attacks, they are even less prepared. Turkey needs planes, anti-aircraft guns and the thousands of one other instruments of defense and offense if they are going into this war.

This meeting was scheduled to be held with Mrs. J. H. Randolph, who was ill at this time. Illness also prevented several officers and members from being able to attend. Mrs. J. L. Fleming, president, presided, and after a short business session Mrs. Eugene Robeson, division historian, gave an interesting account of an executive board meeting recently held in Greensboro, which she attended. She also told us of her aims for the historical work to be done in 1944. Mrs. R. C. Deal had charge of the program for the afternoon and gave a splendid paper written by her aunt, Mrs. Pearl of Rocky Mount, on the "Members of the Confederate Cabinet." It was most interesting and showed a great deal of research, and also was a prize-winning essay last year. Mrs. Deal, at the social hour which followed, served delicious refreshments, assisted by Mrs. E. L. Willard and Mrs. P. E. Wells. The January meeting will be held with Mrs. B. W. Moseley on Fifth street.

Miss Sleezer Speaks at Vesper Services.
Miss Patricia Sleezer, national YWCA traveling secretary, spoke at the last Sunday evening vesper hour of the term at the college last night on the theme of the need for a "skyline view of life" rather than a "clothesline view." Miss Sleezer came to East Carolina Teachers College on a tour which had already included over fifty colleges and universities.

Before the service, an informal supper and meeting combined were held in the "Y" room to give leaders an opportunity to talk with her in a smaller group about matters connected with the work of the campus and the world-wide organization of which the YWCA and the YMCA are a part. After the service, Miss Sleezer, accompanied by Helen Stone, the YW president, and Mabel Spence Watson, program chairman, spent a social hour at the home of Mrs. J. L. Fleming, whose daughter, Miss Louise Fleming, is also a national YW secretary.

For the service, Clarine Johnson of Steadman, led the devotional, and Iris Lee of Newton Grove, pianist, played "Contique de Noel." Miss Sleezer began her talk with the story of a woman traveler who had no other thought at the brink of the Grand Canyon but that it would make a fine place to hang a clothesline.

Many people, she declared, have just such a "clothesline view" of life; they think only in terms of routine details, and see nothing beyond them. It is easy for students, she said, to forget their fellows throughout the world, while they themselves safely attend classes and carry on their work as usual.
She gave interesting accounts of the way in which students in the various conquered countries are carrying on their Student Christian Associations in the face of the conquerors, and told how such groups are striving to keep down hatred, to remember that it is the system and not the individual they are fighting.

"As long as we too keep our sensitivity to the sufferings of others, and keep from hatred of people rather than systems," she said, "we are keeping alive the name of Jesus."

Ordered to Evacuate.
Stockholm, Dec. 13.—(AP)—The Stockholm newspaper Social Demokraten said today it had learned from private sources that 45,000 Germans had been ordered to evacuate Vienna and move to East Prussia in apparent anticipation of Allied air blows.

The Indian rupee is worth approximately 30.05 cents.

N. Y. Stock Market
New York, Dec. 13—(AP)—The brisk December upturn in stock prices called for a little more profit taking today and, while scattered market favorites hurdled this barrier, many leaders stumbled. BASKET BALL
HERE TONIGHT
Senior And Junior Phantoms To Play Rocky Mount

The Phantoms take on some tough opposition tonight when they meet the strong Rocky Mount High School Blackbords. Rocky Mount is a member of the state class A conference and will be favored to take the locals. The Phantoms played their first game of the year last Friday defeating a better than average Morehead City High team. In this game the locals looked very well at times but at times showed a lack of experience. They played a fast aggressive game and will be hard to stop after they find themselves.

Rocky Mount has a more experienced team than the Phantoms and will probably be much larger, but the Greensies can be counted on to give them a battle from start to finish and it would not be too big a surprise if Greenville should upset the visitors.

A preliminary game between the junior teams of Greenville and Rocky Mount will get under way at seven sharp. The baby Phantoms will be playing the first game of their young career. The starting team for the juniors will be Moulton Massey, Henry Turner, Ed Williams, Sherrod White, Billie White and Jack Minges.

To Our Friends and Customers

On or before December 15th every taxpayer should review his tax situation. If he did not file a declaration in September because he did not have to, he may find that events occurring after September 15th have made it necessary for him to file one. Or if he filed in September, he may find that he should increase his "estimated tax" to avoid the penalty. On the other hand, he may find that he overstated his "estimated tax" in the September declaration. In that event it would be to his benefit to file an amended declaration in order to reduce the tax installment due on December 15, 1943.

FARMERS REQUIRED TO FILE ON OR BEFORE DECEMBER 15, 1943.
