German Bridgehead East of Volkov River Below Leningrad Eliminated In Drive To Clear All Railways Leading From City; New Red Gains On Other Sectors

By JAMES M. LONG London, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Russian troops today captured the twin junctions of Pushkin and Pavlovsk, 14 and 16 miles south of Leningrad, to win control of most of the intricate rail network feeding into Russia's second city, Moscow announced tonight.

A order of the day by Premier-Marshal Stalin announced the capture of Pushkin, formerly Tsarskoye Selo, by a "skillful outflanking maneuver and resolute attack from the front," and also the fall of Pavlovsk, four miles beyond.

"Both are large railway junctions and powerful strongpoints in the German defenses," said the broadcast order of the day recorded by the Soviet monitor.

Moscow, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Sweeping along both banks of the Volkov river after wiping out a German bridgehead on the east bank, the Red army was within 10 miles of Chudovo today in a drive which threatened to cut still another vital enemy rail line below Leningrad.

The WAR TODAY AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (Associated Press War Analyst) Forecasting the outcome of a dangerous and delicate amphibious invasion, while it is still in its early stages, is like counting chickens before they're hatched, but we are observing moderation in saying that the Allied landing on the Italian coast below Rome has been going well—much more smoothly than even the most optimistic could have expected.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

WE CAN BE CERTAIN

The Lord will guide us.

If we can but come to believe in the guidance of God, it will change our lives and make everyday living a thing of joy instead of a thing of anxiety and worry. To know that we shall be guided if we but trust in the power of the unseen and try without faltering to do the right thing day by day, is the greatest support anyone can ever have in life. Many who have few of this world's blessings can go through the day with a song upon their lips because they have this confidence in their hearts. Others, whom the world regards as privileged amid wealth and social position, have the most tragic unhappiness written all over their faces because they have nothing unseen and eternal in their lives to hold to.

So let us say today that after we have done our best, we will leave the issues of life in the Lord's hands. We will be diligent, faithful and sacrificing, and we will allow nothing to still in our hearts the assurance that God will do His part without fail, thus enabling us to achieve what human effort unaided can never achieve.

And is our courage and strength. All Rights Reserved. Dubson Newspaper Syndicate

Report Nazi . . .

(Continued from Page One) biops attack below Rome had inspired the populace in northern Italy to violent anti-German demonstrations. Two German officers were killed by demonstrators in Genoa, and the Nazis executed eight Italian youths in reprisal and imprisoned 20 more as hostages, these reports said.

While it was evident that the Germans were deeply concerned over the latest developments in Italy, it also was apparent that they are nervous over the possibility that the Allies may launch their invasion of France—when it comes with simultaneous attacks from the west and south.

Advices from southern France indicated the Nazis were hastening to complete elaborate defense preparations all along the coast.

Begin Work At . . .

Leo Lopacinski of Chicago, Ill. U. S. Marine paratrooper, the first serviceman to register at the center when it opened two years ago, was on the birthday program and commended the people of Greenville for their good work. Lopacinski was among the first contingent of Marines to land at Guadalcanal. He was wounded by an exploding shell on a beach and sent back to the states for hospitalization.

Remodelling of the building will include installation of showers, rest rooms, a snack bar, improved entrance with tile floor and storm doors, etc. The contractor started work today.

Chances For . . .

The only committee member who gave the plan his unreserved support was Senator Austin R-Vt. — and he wrote the bill.

Many senators—O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) for example—are withholding judgment until they can be convinced a civilian labor draft could be equitably administered. Others are sure that war profit controls and taxes are fixed to make the war burden equal on labor and industry.

College Vesper Services

Sunday evening East Carolina Teachers College students and friends heard Carol Leigh Humphreys of Wooddale, president of the Baptist Student Union, speak at weekly worship at vesper hour on "Serving Christ at College."

Robert Martin of Rich Square opened the service by asking the audience to sing "O Master Let Me Walk with Thee," after which he read Gal. 6:1-10, and led in prayer.

Miss Humphreys began with the question "What is the Christian motive for service?" To this question the answer was given in the words of Christ, "This is my commandment I give unto you that ye love one another."

The next question we might ask, said Miss Humphreys, is "How may we become skilled in Christian service and how may we serve?"

In answer to these questions she said that we learn to serve by serving in the YW and YMCA, the vesper services, church organizations here on the campus, and in the church itself. Let us not be weary in well-doing, for in due season we shall reap if we faint not, she quoted. The speaker closed her talk with the reading of a poem "Awareness," in which the writer asked to be kept aware of the service he might render for Christ and for his fellowmen.

Farley's Support . . .

(Continued from Page One) he was to a third. When the time comes, he is expected to speak out in meetings.

No one believes Farley will bolt the party but none of the leaders can guess how much his prospective coolness will affect the November results in New York if the President is renominated. The Democrats desperately need to carry New York if they are to win the presidency again.

The Farley enigma is only one of several problems faced by Hannegan, 40-year old exponent of "team play" who hopes to revitalize the Democratic organization. There is for example, the attitude of some southern members who want someone from their section for President Roosevelt's running mate. Others like Senator Maybank (D-Sc) want the two-thirds nominating rule restored and intend to take this fight to the convention. (The party formerly required a two-thirds vote for nomination, abolished that in favor of a simple majority in 1936.)

There also is the problem presented by the silent contingent from Virginia, unheard from during last week's meeting, which doesn't relish the idea of any more terms for Roosevelt.

THE WAR TODAY

(Continued from Page One) Allied attempt to capture Rome were deferred until the Germans to the south have been dealt with. The capture of the capital will have great military value, not only because it is the rail center for the Italian peninsula but because of its war manufacturing, and the moral effect on the world probably will exceed the military value.

Even more important will be the freeing of the Vatican City and the safeguarding of the Pope. Were Hitler a normal member of civilized society there would be no fear for the safety of His Holiness, but there's no telling to what extreme the Nazi gangster's barbaric mind might go.

Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR January 24, 1904

This is a good time for Greenville to get interested in an ice factory. Likewise a furniture factory.

If Greenville is to have a building and loan association let those interested keep talking it. The Reflector cannot start one by itself.

It is one extreme or the other—mid or dust. The last few days the preponderance of testimony has been on the side of mud.

Other towns around us see the advantage of having brick making plants to supply the large demand, but Greenville seems slow to get interested in this matter.

Rev. Brooks To Visit Campus. Rev. Nathan C. Brooks, Jr., of Waynesboro, Ga., in the observance of the "Week of Deeper Spiritual Thinking," Jan. 24-28, in the Baptist Student Union, will be on the campus of East Carolina Teachers College this week.

Rev. Brooks will speak in the new classroom building on Tuesday and Thursday nights, from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock and at vespers in Austin Auditorium Friday night. He will also lead open forums on "The Christian Home" Tuesday through Friday afternoons from 4 to 5:30 o'clock, at the Baptist Student Center.

All college and high school students and any town people are invited to hear Mr. Brooks. He was formerly Training Union director for North Carolina, and is son of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Brooks of this city.

Greenville Well Represented. Ed Hearne, buyer for Belk-Tyler's store, during a recent trip to New York, saw a number of Greenville people in the metropolitan city—so many that he expected to see the mayor bob up somewhere on Broadway. Some of those he saw were Phil Goodson and sons, Phil, Jr., and Joe; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flanagan, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Bloom and Mrs. June Rose.

Nurses Meets. The private duty nurses met Friday night, January 21, for the purpose of voting on the adoption of the eight-hour nursing schedule, which has been in effect in all the other towns in the eighth district for the past six months to two years. It was unanimously agreed that the eight-hour schedule be adopted and would go into effect February 15.

The fee will be $6 for the eight hours, with two meals.

Promoted. Sgt. Thomas L. Whichard has been promoted to staff sergeant. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Whichard of Stokes.

Sgt. Whichard is stationed at N. A. T. Center, Gailey 3, Jacksonville, Fla.

Junior Woman's Club To Meet. The Junior Woman's Club will meet with Mrs. J. D. Hice Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

Masonic Lodge To Meet. Special communication of Greenville Lodge No. 284 A. F. and A. M. Tuesday night at 7:30. Work in the fellowcraft degree. All masters, masons and fellowcrafts cordially invited.

N. G. Raynor, Master. J. S. Willard, Secy.

D. A. R. Meets. The Major Benjamin May chapter of the D. A. R. met with Mrs. E. B. Beasley of Fountain on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. John Pollard was co-hostess. The spacious living room and library were decorated with narcissi, snapdragons and carnations.

Mrs. G. A. Rouse, the regent, presided over an important business meeting, after the flag salute and devotional which were led by Mrs. C. S. Eagles, the chaplain.

A plea for donations for the blood bank was given. Two reported having given a pint of blood.

A report of work done at the surgical dressing room was most gratifying.

Mrs. Marvin Jones told of her trip to New River Christmas, when she delivered gifts contributed by the chapter.

Miss Tabitha de Visconti told of entertaining service men each week at the service center in Farmville.

Mrs. M. V. Jones of Farmville and Travis Hooker of Greenville, were elected as delegates to the state meeting in Raleigh March 3. Plans and nominations for the national meeting in New York were discussed.

A report of war work done at Continental Hall was given by the regent.

Plans were formulated for the anniversary meeting of the chapter in February. This important meeting is in charge of Mrs. Sam White of Greenville. Mesdames M. G. Dixon and W. C. Holston will be hostesses at the club house in Farmville.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Robert Humber of Greenville, was presented by Miss Eunice McGee, and Mrs. Humber in her inimitable way, gave timely suggestions for meeting post-war emergencies. One of the main things in helping to understand people of other countries and thereby making a lasting peace is to learn as many languages as possible, she said.

At the conclusion of the program, the guests were invited into the lovely dining room where delectable refreshments were served. Mrs. G. A. Rouse poured tea and Mrs. J. O. Pollard assisted.

Local members of the Major Benjamin May chapter are Mesdames Sam White, Travis Hooker, E. L. Baker, Frank W. Brown, J. B. James and Miss Eunice McGee.

Alex Templeton To Appear Here. Alex Templeton, who is soon to appear at East Carolina Teachers College, is one of the world's most gifted artists, for it is seldom that such a combination of talent and personality is found. His distinction as a first class pianist is not doubted, and his fame as the world's greatest living improviser is unassailable. In his witty and clever compositions perhaps can be found the combination of both.

Mr. Templeton is essentially an improviser. He is what has been called a "piano-satirist," for he can take a simple composition and play it, with comical results, in every style of music. For instance, he can play a Beethoven sonata straightforwardly, and then with humorous transition, make it sound like a Wagnerian aria, and further proceeding down his road of mirth, perform it as George Gershwin would. It is this uncanny ability of improvising that has won him world-wide fame. When he comes to Greenville on Feb. 11 he will include in his program many of these famous improvisations.

Reserved seat tickets may be secured for his performance in advance at Warren's Drug Store in about two weeks. Watch this paper for announcements.

Mary isn't enough -- you're needed too!

WHEN MARY JOINED the WAC, you thought it was pretty fine. You knew she was just the type to make a good soldier.

The first time she came home in uniform, remember how proud she looked, and the lively way she talked about the places she'd been, the interesting people she'd met, and her job as an Army airplane and engine mechanic? You couldn't help feeling envious.

Women of America IT'S UP TO YOU!

OUR ENEMIES have boasted that American women are pampered, luxury-loving morons who would be of no help to our fighting men at war. But — they were wrong. American women everywhere are doing a bang-up job—in the service, in industry, in business, on the farm and in the home. —But—bigger incomes are tempting some women to buy luxuries they've wanted, perhaps for years, but which they don't really need now. Every true American woman prays that the war will end—soon. But you've got to do more to hasten grand jury this morning was strikingly impressive. He gave an intimate history of the origin of law from tribal customs, traced it down to the adoption of the English jury system and later the grand jury and lauded the system which enables a man to be tried by 12 good men when accused of violating a law. His eloquent address was a "portrait of Americanism" and he warned that we should pause and meditate on the great crisis of the war now at hand and buy war bonds. Court officials, attorneys and others said the New Hanover jurist's charge to the jury was a masterpiece and that it should have been heard by everybody in Pitt county.

Marines, the best drilled soldiers ever to appear on the streets here. He had a group of planes flying overhead during the exercises and he was on the program. The Marines and the soldiers from Camp Davis with the war trophies were a striking reminder that those war bonds must be bought.
Dr. H. G. Hahey opened the exercises with prayer. The crowd gave a rousing cheer when Major Gregory, commandant of the Greenville Marine base, and Mrs. Thomas, wife of Brig.-Gen. Gerald Thomas of Greenville and Guadalupe fame, were introduced. Lieutenants Merrill, Remull and Izze from Camp Davis, with the war trophies, were warmly welcomed.
Leo Lopacinski of Chicago, veteran Marine of the Guadalcanal invasion, who was wounded and sent back to the States, was one of the speakers.

Ralph Fleming, president of the Student Council, made an interesting short talk in behalf of War Bonds. The High School has 405 blue stars in its flag for students in the armed forces and six stars for former students killed in line of duty. Stanley Woolfolk, John Johnston, army officers, Charles Morgan, navy, Bernard Spillman, merchant marine; Linwood Jones, army, and Jimmie Rogers, marines; missing in action, Marvin Turner and Morris Abeyoung.

The captured German war machines attracted hundreds of persons. The German field kitchen was riddled with bullet holes, nearly all of them entering through the door on the driver's side. The tank destroyer was badly battered.

The traveling cavalcade of captured African and Sicilian war trophies is visiting numerous cities in the east to arouse interest in buying war bonds. Its next stop is at Kinston.

Lt. Edward L. Skory, 26, Chicago, said he "saw a cluster of my bombs land right in the middle of the target and other planes laying them in the same place."
By the time the Fortresses flew away, Skory said, huge columns of smoke were drifting skyward.
Surprised Nazi fighter and ground defenses got into action too late to cause the bombers and their heavy escort much anxiety.

stroyer was sunk, and a cruiser and two smaller naval craft were hit in German air attacks.
The German air force still had not been able to give a battle over the bridgehead and only four enemy planes were sighted there by Allied patrols all day yesterday. But American Spitfires intercepted a force of 50 to 60 Junkers, Heinkels and Messerschmitts which attempted to bomb ships off the beaches and shot down six Nazi bombers near Elba.
Nettuno was captured so quickly Saturday that the harbor installations were taken intact. Although the unloading capacity of this summer resort is small, as is that of the small harbor of Anzio to the north, long stretches of beach can be used to pour in supplies and reinforcements as at Salerno last September.
Besides Nettuno, one other coastline town has been captured, front line dispatches reported, but its names was not given.

The whole Italian situation had developed into a race to see if the Allied amphibious force can straddle the Apennian Way and the Via Cassina 10 miles farther inland with sufficient strength to meet the Germans when they turn around from the Cassino front.
