Allies Hold In Face Of Renewed Nazi Attacks On Position Below Rome

Assaults To Smash Allied Bridgehead Have Been Repulsed; Fierce House-to-House Fighting Rages for Possession Of Nazi Key Southern Base Of Cassino

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
Allied Headquarters in Italy, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The Germans have launched a new attack in their determined offensive to smash the Allied beachhead, this time striking at British troops in the area north of Aprilia (Carraceto) 20 miles southeast of Rome, but have been repulsed with heavy losses, it was announced today.

On the main Fifth army front desperate fighting raged unabated in the streets of Cassino and in the mountains north of the town, with the Germans holding on despite sledgehammer attacks of American infantry, artillery and armor.

The Germans were still in possession of the main part of Cassino and were holding the Americans to the outskirts. Positions changed hands several times. The Germans even managed to get more six-barreled mortars, tanks and big self-propelled guns into Cassino for their desperate and almost suicidal defense of the city where they had turned almost every house into a fortress from which they fired on the attackers.

Just to the north of Cassino however, American troops pushed farther west, dislodging the Germans from most of Mt. Matola, by desperate fighting was continuing. The Nazis threw into the beachhead attack the 26th division, one of their best armored outfits in Italy, which has fought on both the Fifth and Eighth army fronts.

All along the northern part of the beachhead the Germans probed the Allied line in apparent search for weak spots. A dispatch from the Fifth Army's beachhead front by Reynolds Packard, representing the combined American press, said some German prisoners reported Adolf Hitler had sent a special message ordering them to fight their hardest until the Allies were obliterated.

The Allies yesterday took 90 prisoners in the beachhead fighting, bringing the total captured there since the landings two weeks ago to 1,500. The total number of Germans captured in Italy since the invasion of the continent started in Calabria September 3, 1943 is now over 100,000, headquarters announced.

Aprilia is 10 miles due north of Anzio and four miles northwest of Padiglione, where the earlier German attacks had centered. Allied units several days ago were reported in Campoleone, four miles north of Aprilia and only 10 miles south of Rome, but official accounts did not indicate today whether they still hold this point.

Describing the battle for Cassino, a headquarters spokesman said, "Street fighting is the hardest of all combat, with the odds on the

AIR VICTORY IN SOUTH PACIFIC

Eighty Jap Planes Destroyed In Raid On Wewak

By MURLIN SPENCER
Allied Headquarters in the southwest Pacific, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Waiting until the Japanese built up their previously-depleted airforce American pilots slashed at Wewak's four airbases Thursday and destroyed at least 80 enemy planes.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today 72 planes were destroyed on the ground by a 200-ton bombing and strafing attack. Eight others, including bombers, were shot down. It was the heaviest weight of explosives ever dumped on that New Guinea base.

Liberator bombers in force, escorted by Thunderbolt fighters, hit Wewak shortly before noon, dropping 1,000 and 2,000-pounders on the Wewak and Botan runways. Twelve parked planes were destroyed.

It was during this raid that American fighters encountered enemy Zeros and medium bombers either coming in or attempting to escape. Eight of the enemy planes were shot down.

Japan's airforce loss may even have been greater. American pilots said the great clouds of smoke from the burning aircraft obscured accurate observation. On the ground, Australian jungle fighters pushed over a mountain divide and are driving down the Minjim river in northeastern New Guinea only 80 airline miles, 30 miles by trail—from Bogadimi, defensive outpost for Madang. Another force occupied Mataloi in the Ramu valley sector only 16 airline miles from Bogadimi.

Other Australian troops on the coast continued their Madang drive north of the sand bar within 24 miles by capture with American forces which landed at Saidor January 2.

Allied Airmen Have Busy Week

London, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Allied planes flew 12,000 sorties from British bases in a seven-day period ending at dawn on January 31, with heavy bombers alone dropping 9,000 long tons (10,800 U. S. tons) of bombs on Germany, the British Air Ministry announced today.

During the period, 217 Allied planes failed to return, including 163 heavy bombers and 36 fighters. By capture, the tonnage dropped by Allied planes during the week was more than seven times greater than that dropped by the German airforce during the week of their fiercest attempt to bomb Britain from the war in 1940, and the Allied losses were less than a fifth of those suffered by the Nazis during the week of their greatest offensive.

Soldier To Hang
London, Feb. 5.—(AP)—U. S. army headquarters announced today that Pvt. John H. Waters, 38, of Chicago Heights, Ill., will be hanged next Thursday for the murder of Doris Staples at Hanley-on-Thames, Oxfordshire, last July 14.

The death sentence was ordered by a court martial November 30.

There's small doubt that Hitler is figuring on all this to help him hold the eternal city if he should decide it's worth while. There are excellent reasons why Hitler should want to retain his hold on Rome. Foremost is the moral effect on the outside world. Nazi possession of this great city is calculated to give the impression that the Germans still have vast powers of resistance.

Taylor for the county's farm families. The parade will begin at 10:15. The presentation ceremony at 11 o'clock.

Germans Expect Invasion Soon

London, Feb. 5.—(AP)—By German account, preliminaries for the Allied invasion of western Europe already are under way—including reconnaissance attacks by English units along various points of the Atlantic wall.

A spokesman for the German general staff was quoted in a Budapest broadcast recorded today by the Ministry of Information as declaring: "The English have begun their attack from the air first of all against sectors of the west wall. In these air attacks American Flying Fortress also are frequently employed.

English units have attempted attacks against various points along the Atlantic wall, but these never have been more than reconnaissance operations. "Early spring will be the most favorable time for an attempt at invasion and it will probably be then that the British reconnaissance activity will reach its climax."

Americans Invade Three More Isles In Marshalls

AIRMEN BLAST NAZI TARGETS

Allied Aerial Offensive Continues Over France Today

By AUSTIN BEALMER
London, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Droves of American heavy bombers thundered over central France today and the Vichy radio said the southwestern district of Paris was one of the targets.

Lighter Marauders and RAF fighter-bombers also hit secret German defense emplacements along the invasion coast of France. The Allied announcement of the day's operations, the eighth in nine days for American four-engine giants, said only that they attacked German airfields in central France. The first bomber crews to return said they encountered very few enemy fighters and only moderate gunfire.

The Americans last hit Paris on December 31 when Fortresses and Liberators combined in a bombing of ballbearing plants in the industrial outskirts to the sixth American attack of the war on the French metropolis.

Paris last was touched by bombs on January 14 when Typhoons swept the area. The assault carried the greatest sustained Allied aerial offensive of the war into its ninth day—a day and night battering at Germany and occupied territories which was kept rolling on through last night by RAF Mosquito blows at western Germany.

This fourth straight daylight assault by the American giant bombers, at airfields unspecified in the preliminary announcement, appeared to be on an even greater scale than those which left great fires raging in Nazi U-boat bases and war industries at Wilhelmshaven and Frankfurt during the past two days. Wilhelmshaven was hit by 1-100 bombers and fighters on Thursday.

Yesterday's blow at industrial Frankfurt was dealt by hundreds of escort (Flying Fortresses and Liberators) at a cost of 21 bombers and one fighter. Twelve Nazi fighters were knocked down by the American gunners as their planes thundered through flaming fields of anti-aircraft fire protecting the vital industrial center.

LaLoL night's Mosquito attacks against the unnamed targets in the western Reich were made without loss to the fast two-engine formations which lashed out while other night raiders were sowing mines in enemy waters.

It was the third attack by American bombers against Frankfurt, important German industrial and communications center, which they joined with 1,800 tons of explosives January 29 in a record raid in which more than 800 heavy bombers participated.

The other targets in western Germany were unspecified in yesterday's communique.

Anti-Sub Group Wins Citation

The 480th Anti-submarine Group, Army Air Forces, of which Sergeant A. T. Denton, Jr., of this city is member, has received battle honors in the form of a unit citation for its outstanding performance in action with the enemy.

The organization was the pioneer outfit established by the Army Air Forces to combat the submarine menace and from the "beginning of its existence" the members of our forces then undertaking the invasion of Sicily. In the nine days between July 6th and 14th (inclusive) airplanes of this organization made 12 attacks on enemy submarines, eight of which resulted in the destruction of, or probable damage to, the enemy. Although outnumbered in these battles in the average ratio of one to three they destroyed two enemy airplanes for each one of their own aircraft lost. It killed and missing personnel number 101 officers and men, nearly 50 per cent of its authorized strength of 240.

The group has contributed with heroism and superior efficiency to the winning of the Battle of the Atlantic. Its record is inspiring and worthy of emulation.

Indicted With Sons

A federal grand jury in Atlanta has indicted Asa Candler, Jr., (above), and his two sons, John H. and Samuel Candler, on charges of fraudulently using the mails. The indictment has eight counts, growing out of alleged losses of hundreds of customers of a laundry they operated which was destroyed by fire in July of last year.

SOLDIER VOTE BILL DELAYED

Senate Fails To Get Quorum For Today's Session

Washington, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Lack of a quorum forced the Senate into a recess today and postponed until next week a showdown on service legislation. Only 43 senators answered the roll for the unusual Saturday session. It takes 49 to transact business.

After a call of the absentees failed to bring in the necessary members, Majority Leader Barkley moved to quit until noon Monday. This was the situation on the soldier vote question.

Thursday night the House passed a so-called "state's rights" measure which called upon the states to provide absentee ballots for service personnel and directed the army and navy to expedite the distribution and collection of ballots. The Senate now has this measure before it, a measure which President Roosevelt criticized as "fraud" upon the people. But it also has the administration sponsored bill providing for a federal ballot. At odds in the Senate are the supporters of the federal ballot bill and a coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats who favor the state ballot.

Sponsors of the federal ballot are planning to seek its attachment to the House-approved measure. This move would have the effect of sending it to the House.

Raising Men For Business
Babson Discusses The Importance Of Soil When Buying Land

Babson Park, Mass., Feb. 5.—Without doubt land is one of the best hedges against inflation. Hence it is reasonable that a land boom is now starting in the Middle West. To such readers as are now tempted to buy agricultural land, I wish to say a word in my column this week. Land varies so much in productive qualities that it is foolish to take about any price as "fair." The price should depend upon what kind of men it produces. Insist on Highly Productive Land. To begin with, the question of crop productivity. Some land in Nebraska, Kansas or Iowa is much cheaper at $200 per acre than other land in the Dakotas at $20 or even at $300 per acre. The quantity of corn, wheat or whatnot that any acre of land will raise on a ten-year average is the first step in determining a just price. Hence before buying or selling land get the figures on what it has produced in the past. By all means avoid buying unproven raw land.

The second question to consider is what the land's location and climate are best suited to produce. For instance, I have four tracts of land in mind in Florida which all look the same to a novice. Yet for one tract, suitable only for pasture, $15 per acre is a fair price; for another, suitable only for citrus, $40

Two Of The Islands Already Taken And Japs Being Pushed Back On The Third; New Landings Increase Hold on Kwajalein; Nimitz Proclaims End Of Jap Rule

By WILLIAM HIPPLE
U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Invading three more islands in big Kwajalein atoll, United States Forces have overwhelmed the Japanese on two, pushed the resisting enemy back on a third which has seaplane bases, and brought two additional fortified bases under warship and plane attack.

Other important developments, as ascertained from latest advices of Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, were: Americans leaders of the mid-Pacific offensive, foreseeing capture of all the mandated Marshalls, have proclaimed a military government to supplant the 25-year-long power of Emperor Hirohito in the areas as each is occupied.

There is no indication the huge American navy supporting the six-day-old invasion has been challenged or suffered losses. The dominating airforce has kept all Japanese planes out of the Marshalls skies for four successive days.

(This picture was in sharp contrast with that presented yesterday in a Japanese imperial headquarters communique. Tokyo claimed that two destroyers had been sunk, a cruiser and a destroyer set on fire, 52 planes shot down, 24 damaged and that Japanese garrisons on Roi and Kwajalein islands were "firmly holding the defense sector.")

Capture within less than a day of Roi and airfield on the north end of Kwajalein atoll Tuesday already has been announced by Admiral Nimitz and he said yesterday that progress was being made in putting down enemy resistance at Kwajalein island which is on the south end of the atoll.

Marines who won Roi and adjacent Namur have occupied seven more small islands on the northern end of Kwajalein atoll. The seventh army division landed to the north of it on Ebeye island, where there are two seaplane bases, ramps, hangars, shops, a pier and a radio station. Already half of that important island has been won against enemy resistance.

Between Ebeye and Kwajalein, two small, unnamed islands were occupied and the moderate enemy resistance on them was ended. To the north of Ebeye, bombs of planes and the shells of warships began falling on Gugegwe and Loi islands, drawing enemy fire. Gugegwe, which guards one of the main channels into spacious Kwajalein lagoon now used by the American navy, is fortified with pillboxes, artillery and machinegun emplacements and a shore trench system. In an aerial view of the situation, Admiral Nimitz communique last night said "operations at Kwajalein are continuing."

Have Soil Analyzed For Minerals
For those readers who want not a commercial farm but a small sustenance farm for raising and feeding a good family of children, there is a third series of questions to consider. The farm should be within walking distance of schools, churches and stores, or else on a bus line; it should have drained fertile land; and it should have good neighbors. In addition, the land should contain the right minerals for making brains, brown and character. All war are—except for our spiritual and

The WAR TODAY

AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS
By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst
Hitler's reported warning to the Pope that the Nazis intend to defend Rome step by step, irrespective of destruction involved, substantiates the idea that the Fuehrer may be preparing to gamble that the Allies won't turn their guns on the city in order to oust the invaders. What will happen if Hitler installs suicide divisions in Rome? Obviously it can't be done without the use of force, unless we blockade the city and starve them out. That means starving the civilian population as well. Undoubtedly the Allied high command has the problem figured out. However, the only official word we've had thus far is that the capture of Rome is the objective of the present offensive on the Italian peninsula. President Roosevelt has attributed something of the aspects of a holy war to this campaign. There's no apparent way of clearing Rome of the Nazis without causing damage to some of the world's most cherished monuments. Such a battle would result in the death of many civilians. Presumably by exercising extreme care Vatican City could be spared, but it would be a most unhappy position for the Pope and other residents.

BUILT ON A RUBBISH HEAP

Some months ago a large apartment house in a certain city was abandoned by its tenants at the direction of the city authorities. The foundation was slipping. The walls had begun to crack. Daily it became more apparent that the building was unsafe for habitation. The reason was that for years before the erection of the building, the property upon which it stood had been used as a public dumping ground.

The beautiful apartment house was actually built on ashes and rubbish. The city officials, sound in their warning in this case and bade the tenants flee before it was too late. When we build our lives on rubbish, our conscience will perform this service if we will but listen. Yet how seldom do we listen! For years, perhaps, we have been building our satisfaction and successes on rubbish. Down beneath the superstructure there lies not the deep bedrock of noble purpose, but the rubbish of selfishness and superficial interests.

What we build on such a foundation will eventually be condemned. Jesus said that a house built on sand will be washed away. A house built on rubbish will sink and at last fall of its own weight.

To the People of this Community DREAMS COME TRUE

Facts, based on surveys, reveal that 13 per cent of Americans want a new auto after the war, 33 per cent hope to build or make a down payment on a new home, 28 per cent plan a travel vacation and 30 per cent look forward to new home furnishings.

How much of this grand national dream becomes reality depends largely upon the individual's War Bond buying today.

An extra $500 or an extra $1000 stored up in Extra War Bonds will mean the difference between poepr happiness or frustration for you. Place this current 4th War Loan on an intimate personal basis. What does it mean to you? Naturally your first interest is in the welfare of your country, and the well-being of someone in uniform. However, you can't escape the fact that War Bonds combine your personal self-interest and the interest of the nation. And so it is proper for you to think of the direct benefits which will come to you because you have been far-sighted and have saved up your war earnings in War Bonds. You can't afford not to buy Extra War Bonds during the 4th War Loan.

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

Washington—People who make long-time predictions about what Congress is going to do have more nerve than the weather editor of a farm almanac. But Capitol Hill prognosticators are almost unanimous that the second session of the 76th, now getting started, isn't going to do much of anything that the Administration would like to do. It is here, here's what it seems likely this session will do on major legislation:

The Service Men's vote—Reverse its action in killing the Green-Lucas bill but only because on their recent vacation, the indignation of service men and their families and friends practically moved the Congressmen under. Some effort will be made to give the services a vote in the November elections in some workable form, although the Green-Lucas bill probably won't be revived in the original.

Just about there, all semblance of stringing along with the Administration ends.

Labor legislation—The President really tossed Congress a hot potato in his State of the Union message recommendation for a national service act less than a week before White House sources were declaring that the President wouldn't touch on labor legislation at all. It was a sort of surprise the President likes to spring. Early reactions were confused support and denunciation cut across party lines. Best guess was that it would be the hottest Congressional scrap of this session and end in a national service act of some kind but not all the Administration desires.

Subsidies—Are in for a knock-down-dragout, with a likelihood that Congress, just for the heck of it, will send to the President a bill which he will certainly veto before the warring factions get down to the business of compromising. It seems probable now that between a half and two-thirds of the proposed billion dollar subsidy bill will be retained, with subsidies eliminated on meat, butter and a few other items.

Foreign Relief—Measures for participation of UNRRA in the Allied world relief set-up are due on the floor of the House almost immediately, but they are due for a bit of a storm. A bill probably will come out well tied up so that the Administration won't have all the freedom it would like in administering it.

Food Legislation—There's still much Congressional antagonism against OPA and much sentiment for setting up an overall food administrator who would have charge of prices, production and distribution. The real battle on OPA will come sometime before June 30 when the act creating it expires. It may be the last hot fight before the G. O. P. convention and don't think the boys won't go to town on both sides of the aisle.

Taxes—The Administration has practically taken the knockout on this side of its ledger and there's not much chance of its being any different before election.

Appropriations—Will come in for a more thorough raking over than they have had at any time since the war started and some civilian agencies are going to suffer some more. Even the Army and Navy won't get the green light they have had heretofore but there'll be no real hampering of the war effort. Due to cutbacks on Army expenditures the proposed budget is considerably under last year's 14 billions, but Congress will shave it more.

It looks like the liveliest session in years.

physical heritage—comes from what we eat, drink and breathe. This means that the soil in which our food and fruit are raised is of great importance in determining our health, intelligence and character.

Why do the best trotting horses come from Kentucky? The answer lies in the soil and this applies only to certain small sections. Why have the best brains grown in certain valleys of New England, New York State, Pennsylvania and Virginia? The answer is that the soils of these valleys—washed down during the centuries from rocky hills—contain the needed minerals to make the mind potassium, phosphorus, iron, iodine, calcium and magnesium. Iron, we do not ask the publishers of "Who's Who" to give you their opinion on this subject.

This third factor of the mineral content of the soil, including the treatment of the soil, is now very seldom discussed. The Department of Agriculture has avoided reporting on it because it is a "hot potato" loaded with dynamite. However, it is of prime importance to every family planning to live on the products of its own land.

Furthermore, the time is coming when vegetables and fruits will be sold under the Pure Food and Drug Act according to their mineral content, whether sold fresh, canned or dehydrated. Some beans may be cheap at $10 per bushel, while other beans, which appear just the same, may be worth only $1.50 per bushel and good only to eat for bulks. Hence, by all means consider this mineral content, needed for brains and character when buying food. If you cannot afford to consult a high class soil expert, go to the nearest graveyard, study the headstones and see how long the people lived.

Why Germany Is Hard To Kick

I pass on just one more thought for readers to ponder over. It is this: Some years ago when I was in Switzerland making a study for the New York Times, a Swiss scientist said to me: "Europe will always have trouble with those Prussians. There is something in the soil of Prussia which grows people with that fighting instinct. European peace is unalterably linked up with the minerals of the soil. Permanent peace in Europe will come about only by systematically moving people about. That is the only way physical and economic and spiritual opportunities can be equalized."

Certainly there is a relation between soil and fatigue. For a scientific study of fatigue, send ten cents to the Medical Journal and Record Publishing Co., 667 Madison Ave., New York City, for Dr. Max B. Gerson's article published in the Medical Record of June, 1943. Dr. F. S. Churchill believes in the importance of soil. This is why England will try to take Belgium, Holland and the other Low Countries into the British Commonwealth and is willing to leave Austria, Czechoslovakia and the Baltic States to Stalin.

Big Radio Rally At College Here

A giant radio rally presenting the radio staff of the Word of Life Hour of New York City and Your Daily Devotional Program of Raleigh will be held Tuesday, February 8, at 7:30 in the East Carolina Teachers College auditorium. Mr. Jack Wyrzten, director of the Word of Life Hour, will have with him his soloist, Mr. Carlton Booth of the Providence Bible Institute, and Mr. Bernie Morris, trumpeter for the program, who some years ago took national honors in the high schools for his trumpeting ability. This program is carried by the stations of the Tobacco Network and the rally here will be for the purpose of contacting the many listeners.

Also featured in the rally will be the studio staff of Your Daily Devotional program of which Tommy Steele is director. Mr. Steele with Aisey Luther, soloist, and Mrs. Elma Malpass, pianist, have been conducting this program for nearly six years. With this trio will be Evangelist and Mrs. Harold Alexander of Los Angeles who recently returned from California to be affiliated with the Daily Devotional broadcast. A splendid program of music is planned for the evening with vocal and instrumental solos and duets as well as a rousing time of singing by all. The main speaker of the evening will be Jack Wyrzten with Tommy Steele bringing a short greeting. The entire party will broadcast from the local station in the course of the afternoon.

A TRIBUTE to William Miller (Smut) Burks— (One whom everyone loved)

A full grown bud with but one petal spreading out To feel its way and find what life is all about:— A bud whose fragrance charmed each passing soul Travelling toward life's ultimate goal.

In his few years he knew not what it meant To have an enemy—for he was sent Among us to make only friends each day With those he met along life's trying way.

When flowers—fresh above his resting place Have disappeared—till there's no trace Of former beauty—his fine traits will still Live on:—lead on:—for that's God's Will.

FLIGHT FROM LOVE

by JOHN C. FLEMING and LOIS EBY AP Features

Chapter 7 Somehow Julie was too stunned to cry. She managed to get back into her dress and pack her bags. Her hands were icy and trembling as she lifted the phone from the cradle and called the hotel desk.

"This is Julie Brampton," she heard her own voice saying. "Please give me the amount of my bill."

She remembered she had two ten dollar bills and a few singles in her purse when she paid her luncheon check. At least she could get out of the hotel. Marek had said last night at dinner, "You better get a place in Studio Village within walking distance of the studio. With gas rationing on it's the smart thing to do."

At the time she hadn't given it a thought. The bellboy came up for her bags. After the door to her room was closed and she was following him down the hall she heard her phone ring. She knew it was Marek. Her first impulse was to run back—to tell him what had happened. But she pushed the idea from her mind. He would insist on lending her money and she didn't want that. She would find a cheap room some place.

The cab driver rubbed his chin and looked thoughtful when Julie asked about a rooming house in Studio Village.

"I know one place," he said, "if they ain't filled up. Rooms are pretty scarce out there since Empire Aircraft opened."

The wide, four-lane road to the valley was teeming with traffic as the swing-shift workers poured in a steady stream along it. Julie drew her mother's letter from her purse and looked at it again.

"I'm going to go to Aunt Edna's for the present and close the big house. Mr. Cooper is trying to sell it. If he does, we'll have some money at least for a little while."

She folded it and slid it back into her purse as she noticed the cab was stopping in front of a gray, box-like apartment building.

"This is the place," the driver said. "Shall I wait till you see if they got a room?"

"No thanks," Julie said nervously. He left her bags in the small foyer. Julie rapped light on the door marked "Manager." Presently a large red-faced woman appeared in the doorway.

"Do you have any vacancies?" Julie asked. "Only a double that a girl is in now until a single opens up. She's ed assurances, and finally listened to Julie's story.

Kay grinned when Julie had finished. "But we can work something out. Wait here a minute, I'll be right back."

"When Kay came back she was folding a slip of paper. She put it in Julie's hand. "That takes care of your rent for two weeks. The landlady thinks you paid it so don't tell her otherwise."

"But I can't let you do that!" Julie cried. "You can't sleep in the park," Kay grinned. "Of course, I'll soon be starting at the studio—"

"I gave that studio business a whirl when I first came out here," Kay said. "Don't hold your breath until they call you."

"But Marek said—" Julie started. "I know they mean well, but they just don't reckon time like the rest of us do. Now listen, kiddo. Get a job."

"You wait here," the woman said. "I think I heard Miss Morris come in a minute ago."

When the woman had left, Julie felt a sudden impulse to cry but she fought back the tears. In a moment the landlady was back and with her came a tall, angular girl in bright green slacks. She had a splash of freckles across her nose and was smiling pleasantly.

"I think a room-mate might be fun," Kay Morris said after a quick, bright look at Julie. "Come up and look the place over."

Julie shuddered a little inwardly as she looked around at the cheap, modern furnishings. But the apartment was bright and sunny.

"It isn't the Bitmore," Kay shrugged cheerfully, "but it is clean and new and the landlady's an old dear."

"Yes—I—that helps, doesn't it?" Julie stood confused and frightened. Could she possibly live in this garish place with this talkative girl in green slacks?

"Rent's not bad for now," the girl was running on. "Fifty a month. We could go fifty-fifty."

At the mention of money, Julie's mind lapsed again into panic. "Does that have to be—is that in advance?"

"Two weeks is the custom," Kay said. "That would be $12.50 for me."

Julie opened her purse, and her trembling fingers counted. She had only six dollars and some small change left. She stood there looking at the bills and then up at Kay's puzzled face. "I haven't got that much," she said. A laugh shook her—ended in a sob. She went abruptly into violent hysterics.

Kay put her arm around her and led her to a studio couch. She soothed her with calm, light heart-

"Neither had hundreds of others until this was started. But they're working now and doing a good job. Empire's hiring gobs of girls every day and paying good money to start."

"You mean—work in air aircraft factory?" "Why not? I've been doing it for almost a year now and I haven't wasted away."

Before the belligerent light on Kay's face, Julie's misery ebbed. "Well—if you think they'd have me—" She murmured uncertainly. To Be Continued

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The stock market weak, worst in the matter of price relapses in more than two months, ended today with a drying up of selling and the appearance of modest recoveries for scattered leaders.

Mixed tendencies appeared at the start. Dealings were sluggish throughout and transfers of around 200,000 shares were the smallest since early October.

PHANTOMS WIN ANOTHER GAME

Defeat Poyner's Hill Navy Team By Score 42-35

By DAVID WHICHARD

Staving off a last-minute rally by the Navy team from Poyner's Hill station, the H. S. Phantoms came out on the long end of the 42-35 score of a rough and tumble cage tilt played here last night. The Greensies held an eleven point lead at the beginning of the last quarter but this marking was cut to only two points by the Navy five only a few moments before the final whistle blew. The Greensies held the visitors and snapped back to score five points quickly before the game ended.

The first quarter was all Phantoms and it looked like a cinch for the locals, scoring 18 points in the opening period and allowing the Navy boys only two field goals. In the second quarter the Navy team managed to get 11 points to the Phantoms' three after Coach Charlton had replaced his starting five with a new team.

At the half the Greensies held a six point lead and added to this margin during the third period and the opening minutes of the final quarter but then suddenly both teams went on a scoring spree ringling goal after goal at each end of the floor. The Navy cagers sliced the Phantoms lead to the point where a Navy goal would have tied the score but the Phantoms managed to get two field goals and a free shot while holding the Navy team scoreless in the last few seconds of play to win 42 to 35.

During the final quarter of this game, one of the fastest seen on the local court in a long time, a total of 34 points were scored, 19 by the Navy five and 15 by the Greensies.

Bill Harrington led the Phantom attack offensively as well as defensively by scoring 16 points during the tilt. Amos Leggett took runner-up spot in the Greensies scoring by making 13 points from his pivot position.

The visitors were led by Terrell who scored 14 points and Bicket with nine markers to his credit.

Soldier Vote . . .

ing the entire matter back to the House and subsequently to a Senate-House conference, thus bringing on a delay which might postpone enactment of service vote legislation indefinitely.

However, if the Senate should pass the House bill without amendments it would go to the White House. And the mere fact that it had been passed by Congress would imply a singing rebuke to the chief executive for his earlier criticism.

Using as a barometer the 328 to 69 "state's rights" vote, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) predicted today Congress will not approve a federal ballot unless it is kept secondary to state ballots in all armed forces voting. That was the heart of a substitute he and 14 other Republicans and southern Democrats tried in vain to put through the Senate yesterday.

New Naval Program For 17-Year-Olds

A special plan whereby 17-year-olds qualified in radio and electronics may be enlisted as seaman, first class, in the navy and deferred until they are graduated from high school this June, was announced today by Recruiter D. R. Taylor of the Navy Recruiting station at New Bern. In addition, 17-year-olds who are not high school graduates, are eligible to take the qualifying examination.

All successful applicants will be enlisted "at the rating of seaman, first class, which affords a pay of $66 a month, plus all dependency allowances and food, lodging and clothing.

All men of this age group are being asked to contact Mr. Taylor in Greenville at the post office building on February 7, 8, 9 for full details.

Kiwanis Club And Rationers Frolic

By CHESTER WALSH

All rules of rationing were suspended temporarily last night when the Greenville Kiwanis Club entertained Chief Clerk C. V. Cannon and the 11 women of Rationing Board at the club's weekly supper session at Proctor Hotel. President Dick Bundy breezed along an hour of wit, humor and fun and the "rationers" presented a "word portrait" of those who are rationed in the style of Bobbie Burns. "to see yourself as others see you." Mrs. Frances Paterson's (stove) lady "Ode to the Rationer" impressively recited by Mrs. Chester Walsh (fuel oiler) beat "The Charge of the Light Brigade" by a mile, the Kiwanians agreed.

Regan Jones, chairman of the Reception committee, in charge of the program, stated that the Kiwanians wanted to pay tribute to the good work being done. Miss Maggie Ellis (the gasoline girl) and Miss Hazel Edens (the tire girl) and Mrs. Clara Roberson (the sugar lady) were overjoyed to be among 50 citizens and not one of them asking for more of this or that, they said.

Members of the staff, in addition to Mr. Cannon were Mrs. Edna Sue Jenkins, Mrs. Clara Roberson, Mrs. C. B. Rowlette, Miss Ruth Gilbert, Mrs. Frances Patterson, Miss Hazel Edens, Mrs. Novella C. House, Miss Maggie Ellis, Miss Ruby Braxton, Mrs. J. C. Tyson and Mrs. Chester Walsh and Mrs. Nannie Brown.

Miss Jean Aboynous sang two songs with Miss Eleanor Etheridge as accompanist. Eli Bloom led the singing of Kiwanis songs with Mrs. Ray Tyson as accompanist.

Rehearsals for the Kiwanis minstrel, to be given two nights in April, will begin next Friday night. Guests included Dr. Walker H. Pott, Carl Reid, Jimmy Smith, Aubrey Tilley, James Ray Pittman and J. H. Mobley of Winterville.

Sees No Need For Labor Draft Now

By DONALD HYNDMAN

Washington, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Senator Murray (D-Mont) declared today that cost-plus war contracts have resulted in a "treacherous waste of money and manpower," that they have "aggravated the manpower shortage," and that a Senate investigation will convince the country that there is no need at this time for a labor draft law.

Fuel Shortage Relieved Today

Raleigh, Feb. 5.—(AP)—A shortage of petroleum products in Eastern North Carolina was relieved today by the allocation of additional supplies through the Plantation pipe line at Greensboro.

Gov. Broughton announced after conferring yesterday with officials of the Petroleum Administration for War and the Office of Defense Transportation, that supplies sufficient to relieve the shortage would be made available at the pipe line, beginning today.

The shortage had threatened early farming operations and certain industrial production.
