Berlin Smashed By Bombs

More Than 1,000 Planes Drop 2,000 Tons Of Bombs On Nazi Capital In Climax Of Obliteration Campaign. Germans Raid London Doing Considerable Damage

By GLADWIN HILL
London, March 25.—(AP)—The major part of 1,000 RAF bombers fought through one of the bitterest night sky battles of the war last night and dumped 2,000 tons of bombs on Berlin in the final drive for the complete obliteration of the German capital.

Seventy-three bombers were shot down over Berlin and other targets by large forces of German night fighters which the Berlin radio said started attacking the mighty RAF armada as it crossed Heligoland, in the North Sea, and fought it all the way to the capital. Germany claimed 102 bombers were shot down in the long running fight which culminated in an hour-long battle over the capital as formation after formation roared over, starting new fires in that hub of Nazidom in the 16th major RAF raid since November 18.

In the five weeks interval in the RAF blows, American heavy bombers had hit the capital five times in daylight.

The British Air Ministry's report said that Kiel also had been hit by the night raiders "along with other objectives in western Germany." A German broadcast said Leipzig and Weimar also had been hit, but the Air Ministry did not name these as targets.

Last night's bomb load equalled the record load tossed over Berlin in the RAF raid of February 15 but fell short of the all-time mark of 2,300 tons dumped on Frankfurt Wednesday.

As the British armada streamed eastward, about 100 German bombers broke through London's aerial barrage to blast at the British capital's business properties, dwellings and churches with tons of incendiaries in the longest raid in 12 months. Eleven were shot down.

"It is clear the British have suffered one of their heaviest defeats in the battle of Berlin," said a German broadcast describing the savage attacks of the reawakened German air force.

"The stream of enemy bombers reached the German capital from a northwesterly direction," it continued. "For almost one hour they were the target of German night fighters which had taken off in large numbers. The bomber formations approached under a cloud cover favorable for attack, yet the German fighters dived down on them. The air encounter started over Heligoland and stretched to Berlin."

The bomber formations were fought continuously during their flight over Reich territory."

Welcome Awaits Veterans' Bill

Washington, March 25.—(AP)—The American Legion's $3,500,000,000 "G. I. Bill-of-Rights" measure headed today toward a warm welcome in the House after unanimous passage by the Senate.

So anxious were some of the senators to be recorded in its favor that an insistence upon a roll call late yesterday nearly provoked an embarrassing. The 49 to 0 vote showed there was just a bare quorum present to make the action stick.

In addition to a flat authorization of $500,000,000 for new hospital construction, the measure carries benefits for men and women of the armed forces estimated by Chairman George of the Finance Committee to cost an additional $3,000,000,000.

Today On The Home Front

JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

Washington, March 25.—(AP)—More than 300,000 men in the past six months have moved from war industries back to the farm where lies the greatest blanket draft-deferment.

This information was obtained today from authorities who said the shift was far too great to be considered a seasonal migration and that "300,000 is a conservative figure."

The surge farmward has occurred while selective service—trying to meet critical military needs, particularly for men under 26—has been forced to grab at key workers in vital non-agricultural war industries.

Latest figures show there are now 563,000 non-farmers under 26 who are draft-deferred as farm workers. This compares with 348,000 non-farmers under 26 draft-deferred because of essential occupations in non-agricultural jobs.

The total number of deferred farm workers is 1,689,000. The total

RED ARMIES FORGE AHEAD

Nazi Lines Nearing Collapse On All Fronts

London, March 25.—(AP)—Triumphant Red armies hammering at the gates to the Balkans have completely dismembered German forces in southwestern Russia and gained almost complete control of the eastern bank of the Dniester river along a 165-mile stretch from Zaleschki, in old Poland, to Kamenka, 50 miles below Mogilev. Moscow dispatches reported today.

Zaleschki, 26 miles north of Chernovitz, important Rumanian rail junction controlling lines into the Balkan states, was captured in a spirited four-day thrust below Tarnopol. The advance carried the Russians to within 60 miles of the old Czechoslovakian border and five miles from the former Rumanian province of Bucovina.

The Moscow war bulletin said 20,000 Germans were killed and 3,500 captured in the four-day offensive by Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's first Ukrainian army, boosting to nearly 250,000 the Nazi dead and captured in the Ukraine campaign.

Kamenka was seized by Red army troops driving southwest from Galavoron. The combined operation split remnants of enemy units between that river town and Zaleschki into isolated pockets, front dispatches said.

Zhukov's flanking smash below Tarnopol also virtually isolated the German garrisons in that city and the twin bastion of Proskurov, where street fighting was reported. Meanwhile Marshal Ivan S. Konev's second Ukrainian army operating inside Bessarabia below Mogilev, had reported storming the rail junction of Byeloi, traffic control point for northern Moldavia.

Other units of Zhukov's army cut the Lwow-Tarnopol railway, northwest of Tarnopol, the Moscow bulletin said. This operation left the Nazi garrison there without a single escape rail route.

On the easternmost flank of the rapidly changing front, troops of the third Ukrainian army captured German Bag river stronghold of Voznesensk, 80 miles north of Odessa, the communiqué said. Fifty miles to the southeast, Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's fourth Ukrainian army troops were battering at the gate of Nikolaev, big Black Sea port.

Superior Court In Four-Day Session

Judge Clawson L. Williams of Sanford adjourned the civil term of court Thursday afternoon at the conclusion of the hearing of the case of Heber McLachlan, who sued Clarence Little for damages allegedly sustained while riding in his car when it collided with another during a fog. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant.

In the case of Eugene Penny, a minor, through his best friend, L. A. Penny, against Walter Coward for $2,000 personal damages, the jury rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff.

Divorces granted were to Maggie Harris against Rural Harris, Jesse D. Stocks against Lucy Stocks, Willie Hopkins against Rosa Belle Hopkins, all colored, and P. R. Canady against Fannie Canady, white, on the grounds of two years' separation.

In the divorce action of Raymond Suggs against Flora Belle Suggs, Attorney Dick Burdy informed the court that the couple had been reconciled and withdrew the action.

deferred in other industries is 3,204,000.

Selective service yesterday issued stringent orders to speed up drafting of men under 26 in non-agricultural jobs. Farm workers, because of special legislation, have the most draft-proof deferment of any group.

Every time selective service casts eyes at farm workers, farm state congressmen chant a protest: record-breaking food crops are needed and manpower is needed to produce them.

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, recently ordered farm draft boards to tighten up on deferments. The result is not yet known.

The draft goal between now and July 1 is 1,160,000 men. It is figured this way:

The armed forces now number 10,600,000. The July 1 goal is 11,300,000. That's a difference of 700,000, but an additional 400,000 will be needed as replacements for men (Continued on page two)

MORE FIGHTING IN BURMA AREA

Allies Increase Resistance Along Italian Border

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH

New Delhi, March 25.—(AP)—Japanese columns thrusting along three invasion roads into India are meeting with increasingly stiff resistance and encountering setbacks. A southeast Asia headquarters communiqué indicated today.

In north Burma Americans and Chinese occupied Shadunp, 45 miles northwest of Mogating on the Myitkyna-Mandalay railway.

An announcement that heavy bombers two days ago carried out their first low level bombing and strafing attack along a section of the "Burma-Siam railway" disclosed that the Japanese have built a rail link with their eastern conquest.

(The Japanese have been reported making frantic efforts to construct a rail line across Thailand which would link south of sea level ports with Burma and permit them to supply the Burma front without risking the hazards of the sea route around Singapore.)

A steady advance was being made in the Mogaung valley by Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's troops.

The advance threatened to cut off the main enemy base of Myitkyna in northern Burma.

Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's communiqué said the Japanese had made further progress along the southeastern approach to Imphal, Manipur state capital in India—but to the north they had been shown out of a position they occupied the day before.

On the northeastern approach stiff fighting was reported going on with some Japanese detachments making further progress. One was forced to withdraw.

British troops to the south of Imphal continued to attack Japanese road blocks that had been established across the road to Tiddim.

At latest reports, Japanese patrols had approached to within 30 miles of Imphal, a British base for operations in Burma, from the south and 38 miles from the southeast.

In the southern, or Arakan sector, above Ayak, the British said they had taken an important hill position north of the Maungdaw. (Continued on page four)

Miners Trapped By Explosion

Shinnston, W. Va., March 25.—(AP)—Fourteen men who entered the recently-opened Clarence No. 4 coal mine to fight a fire were believed killed by a terrific blast which shattered part of the working early today.

Rescue work was at a standstill while workmen restored the damaged ventilating system, but company officials and West Virginia mines department spokesmen said that "there is every reason to believe" the trapped men were dead.

The Katherine Coal Company, which opened its fourth operation in the Clarksburg field less than six months ago, issued a casualty list of 14 known to have been injured when the blast occurred.

Officials added that a 15th man, whose name was withheld, was unaccounted for but his name did not appear on the official list of the fire fighters sent into the mine.

The fire broke out last night near the end of the 3,000-foot slope, and the entire working crew of 75 was ordered to the surface. A fire fighting company was organized and sent back inside.

When the explosion rocked the mine, flames leaped from the drift mouth in such volume that two automobiles parked nearby were set afire.

Nazi Troops Strengthen Their Hold On Cassino

Heavy Fighting Continues Among Ruins Of Cassino And Along Bridgehead Below Rome

By LYNN HEINZELING

Allied Headquarters, Naples, Mar. 25.—(AP)—Tough German paratroopers, ordered by their commander, Lt. Gen. Richard Heidrich to cling to Cassino at all costs and throw the Allies out if possible, are holding New Zealand troops in tight confines in the southern part of the town.

The Germans have been able to get three more tanks into the lobby of the Continental hotel and apparently are reinforcing their troops through secret tunnels. It was disclosed.

One of the tunnels used by the Germans was said to extend more than 1,000 yards from the abbey atop Monastery hill to the vicinity of Castle hill which the Germans have been trying desperately to take from New Zealand troops of the Fifth army.

German forces ringing the Allied Anzio beachhead meanwhile stabilized tentatively at the Allied lines with tanks. Two of the tanks were reported knocked out east of Carroceto, 21 miles below Rome. Five others were unofficially reported destroyed west of Cisterna by artillery fire.

Allied heavy bombers attacked the rail yards at Rimini and Ancona yesterday while medium bombers struck at the port of Leghorn and rail facilities at Orvieto, Sulmona and Pano, Allied headquarters announced.

Eleven Allied planes failed to return from the day's operations as destroyed Friday.

The Germans maintained heavy shelling of the Anzio and Nettuno beachhead areas and there were patrol clashes.

Allied big guns supported tanks in the slugging match with German armor in the vicinity of the Continental hotel and Hotel Des Roses in Cassino. Both sides maintained almost continual shellfire, harassing rear areas as well as the battlefront.

The measure of the difficult situation at Cassino was indicated in the fact that Indian troops on hills 202 and 435, or "Hangman's Hill," still were being supplied by air, although they fought their way to these crests beneath the monastery about a week ago.

According to local legend, the Continental hotel and Castle hill are the focal points in a tunnel system running through the hills behind the town and in Cassino itself. The tunnels are said to have been built in the 16th century during a search for buried treasure.

One tunnel supposedly runs from the monastery to Castle hill with the Continental hotel. Still another is reported to extend from the hotel to the Coliseum, a German strong point a mile south of the town along highway 6.

The Coliseum and the nearby amphitheater just at the base of Monastery hill and the Duke's castle, which also is known as the Baron's castle, across the highway from them have been used as forming up points by the Germans and have been under heavy fire by Allied guns.

Eighty-five German planes were active over the battle areas during (Continued on page two)

INFLATION AND CITY PROPERTY AFTER WORLD WAR II

Real Inflation Will Come 1950-1955

Babson Park, Fla., March 25.—During World War I, prices of city real estate remained almost stationary, but between 1910 and 1920 the value of farm lands doubled. After the last war, we had from 1920 to 1926 a great industrial boom and city land prices greatly increased. Farm workers migrated to city industrial jobs at that time and farm prices dropped. This resulted in a tremendous slump in the value of farm land and lower crop prices.

During World War II prices for city rents have increased about 3 per cent; but with prices of agricultural products nearly 90 per cent above prewar levels, we again have greatly inflated farm land values. Will history repeat, or reverse the relative position of farm and urban property?

City Booms and Current Trends.—Booms are usually preceded by a rise in the net income of real properties and a subsequent rise in the sales prices of existing buildings. This stimulates new building and is followed by a demand for vacant land on which to build new properties. There results an over-supply of homes, apartments, stores, hotels and offices. Rents fall and new construction no longer becomes profitable. The demand for land drops and sales prices fall. This is the real estate cycle.

In 90 per cent of 280 cities, real estate prices have risen about 12 per cent in the past two years. In Chicago, it is reported that apartment buildings increased in sales prices about $200 a room from 1936 to the middle of 1943. There has since been a further rise of 10 to 15 per cent. Notwithstanding rent control, New York has seen a rising price for apartment buildings.

Price for apartment buildings. In Boston, there is a great demand for these properties at prices well above conservative values. In Miami, for similar structures, prices have increased 25 to 35 per cent in the last three years.

What About Vacant City Land?—There has been very little price increase in vacant city land during World War II. Postwar demand for suburban home sites has increased slightly the price of land near some large cities. The fear of inflation has helped the sale of small farms but not yet the sale of city property. In most cities, the assessed value of land has not been sufficiently deflated from the peak prices of the 20's to warrant interest.

It takes a generation to recover from a collapse in city real estate such as occurred in New York from 1929-1932. Improved real estate—that is land with buildings—still sells at prices below the reproduction cost, less depreciation. Hence, no income is left for the land. As a result, there is no pressing demand for new city space which in turn would absorb land values and lead to a land boom.

Basic For a Real Estate Boom.—A population rise might boom city real estate. However, the nation's rate of growth, and particularly urban population, has been falling. The trend to the suburbs should increase after the war. Improved transit facilities may result in suburban living out-pacing residential growth in the cities.

Well-managed cities with efficient traffic controls, handy subways and honest assessments may see a rising demand for city homes. New (Continued on page two)

GUARD WEEK PROCLAIMED

Next Week Set Aside In Honor Of State Guard

Next week has officially been set aside as State Guard Week in North Carolina during which time citizens are to pay tribute to guard members who are rendering a valuable service to the state.

In co-operation with the statewide movement Mayor B. B. Sugg has issued the following proclamation:

"The North Carolina State Guard came into existence under an Act of the General Assembly of 1941. The creation of this important military agency of the home front was made necessary by the fact that every unit of the National Guard in North Carolina was mustered into federal service and called into active training by the federal government in the early fall of 1940, as a part of the national program for preparation against impending war."

"Shortly after the legislative act of 1941, 40 units of the State Guard were set up, each with an authorized enlisted personnel of fifty men per unit, all under direct command of the Adjutant General of the State. These units of the State Guard, strategically located throughout the state, have been kept in a constant state of training and readiness, and have constituted an assuring protection during these critical days when the National Guard has been entirely removed from the state an d problems of an emergency nature have been on the increase."

"Too much credit cannot be given to the officers and enlisted men of the North Carolina State Guard. In a number of instances where critical situations have arisen they have rendered prompt and effective service; in many other instances they have been on the alert and ready for any call upon the shortest notice. The men have trained hard and have kept themselves in a condition of military fitness and readiness to serve their state."

"Owing to the fact that a large number of men from our local community have enlisted in the military service during recent months, it has become necessary for our community to put on a special recruiting program so as to bring its membership up to the total necessary for efficient work. The week of March 27 has been set aside as a special week for this purpose, and all civic agencies of the city are requested to cooperate in this endeavor."

"Now, therefore, I, B. B. Sugg, Mayor of the city of Greenville, do hereby proclaim the week beginning Monday, March 27, 1944, as 'North Carolina State Guard Week,' and I do hereby call upon the people of our city to give wholehearted cooperation toward the purposes and objectives of this special week."

New Landing

As American battleships bombarded the Japs at Kavieng (3) Sunday, the U. S. Marines seized Emirau Island (2), Gen. Douglas MacArthur announces. The occupation of Manus (3) on March 15, after the landings February 29 in the Admiralty group, further circled the Japs in the Bismarck archipelago. The Emirau landing "completes the isolation," MacArthur added, "and places us within bombing range of Truk." (AP Wirephoto).

AIRMEN BLAST JAP POSITIONS

Enemy Installations Over Wide Area Pounded

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, March 25.—(AP)—Air blows reported today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur pushed about 7,000 tons the weight of bombs plastering pinpoint targets in the south and southwest Pacific, as listed in March communiqués.

He announced a 160-ton strike made Tuesday and Wednesday by planes from the Solomons against Rabaul, boosting the March reports for that bomb-paralyzed New Britain fortress above 2,500 tons. The latest raiders, encountering opposition only from ground guns as has been the case on most of the March attacks, wreaked new damage on the town and its airfields.

General MacArthur also reported a 160-ton bombing by the Fifth air force of the Hansa bay area, on the northeast New Guinea coast midway between Madang and Wewak. March reports have listed 73 tons dropped on that sector.

Fifth airforce bombers poured 40 tons of bombs on barges and installations at Wewak in a sector where more than 2,000 tons of explosives have been dumped recently.

Not until two days after the main landings and conquest of Emirau island northwest of New Ireland, a day and a night ago, did the Japanese send a plane out to see what happened and then it didn't drop a bomb. Admiral F. Halsey's headquarters said today.

Declares He Would Condemn Any Attempts to Intimidate Or Threaten Students for Mass Meeting Action; Trustees Will Meet Here Tuesday, April 4

Raleigh, March 25.—(AP)—Governor Broughton said today it had come to his attention that students of East Carolina Teachers College, at Greenville, who criticized action of the trustees in exonerating President Leon R. Meadows of alleged misuse of funds, "have been threatened, if not intimidated, and some threats of discipline have been made against them."

"Such procedure," he said, "if it is being followed, is highly improper and unbecoming. I would condemn unreservedly any attempt on the part of officials, faculty and anybody else, to restrict the students in the exercise of this right and will use whatever power I have to protect the students from intimidation or threat."

Meanwhile, it was announced here that the trustees had been asked to meet again April 4 in Greenville to consider a resolution passed last November empowering the president to take "such advisable steps and action as may be necessary, to restore the morale of the college, both student and faculty, including any changes in the entire personnel of the college, with the consent of the board, if such be necessary to have a harmonious faculty and student body and college administration."

Reports of dissension in the faculty were given before the trustees when they considered the state auditor's findings on conditions of funds handled by Meadows.

Meadows was exonerated by an 8 to 4 vote.

Student activities moved smoothly at East Carolina Teachers College here today despite rumors and counter-rumors of reprimand action on the part of trustees or faculty members against certain students who had been active on one side or the other in the controversy.

CONCERNING TREASURE

Our Lord said on one occasion (Matt. 13:44). "The kingdom of heaven is like unto a treasure. . . . Then he went on to relate two parables. One was the story of a man who came upon treasure hidden in a field, and in his joy over his discovery went and sold all that he had and bought the field. The other was the story of a merchant seeking goodly pearls, who, when he found the one pearl of infinite value, went and sold all that he had and bought the pearl."

In the case of both these parables, spiritual values are represented as being of inestimable value. "The kingdom of heaven is treasure." In both parables also the men involved recognized the value of the treasure and were willing to sacrifice everything to have it. The parables differ, however, in one very important respect. The first man stumbled upon "a treasure" as men very often do, converted through no design of their own, by a chance word spoken by preacher or friend, or by some circumstance which forces them to cast themselves upon the mercy of God. But the second man in the parable represents those who are always seeking after the higher values of life.

We are assured that if we seek we shall find. Faith in God and the peace which ensues as the result of this faith constitute what Jesus called the kingdom of God. To seek for it, to sacrifice all to have it, is the only true course of wisdom.

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

Washington—Vacation time is just around the corner. Two national conventions are only a few months away. In the office are the national and local political campaigns with their thousands of sectional and community rallies.

If ever our national transportation system faced a crisis which might result in complete breakdown it is the one coming up.

Troop movements are greater than ever and probably will increase in coming months. Furloughs, generally given to the boys about to leave for the battle fronts, have been mounting. War freight shipments were never so great and will climb for some time.

The brutal fact remains that civilians who have no business traveling just won't stay home. The recent spectacle of thousands of winter vacationists stranded in Florida, some even sleeping on beaches, may have been just the beginning of a cancer unless the marginal civilians who travel unnecessarily stay home. That's not my statement. It comes from the Office of Defense Transportation and it's not exaggeration.

The actual facts are that the railroads, without any new or increased equipment, are carrying more than three times the passenger load they did in 1941. Their available rolling stock is really less than before the war. The black market in railroad reservations is being investigated in a dozen sections of the country and several "rings" already have been broken. It is the civilians who deal in the black markets, although some desperate persons have to resort to it to travel on legitimate business.

Bus travel is no better if not worse. With only slightly more equipment than before Pearl Harbor, but operators are carrying about two-and-a-half times the load.

The airplane travel situation is a little different but no less crowded. The planes in service have been sharply reduced. Some of the big lines have only ten or 12 serviceable planes, yet are carrying more passengers than before the war. Plane travel is the only one so far where priorities are operative. It has helped but it hasn't cured the situation.

There isn't the slightest chance that the rubber, gasoline or automobile replacement situation will be improved this year. It's even possible that the not very successful ban on pleasure driving deplored by officials and civilians alike, will have to be restored again. Ship travel is, of course, out for the duration. The recent death of ODT Director Joseph B. Eastman was a serious blow to the nation's transportation. Considered by friends and foes alike as a great authority, he kept the nation's system rolling when it was thought impossible. He discouraged suggestions for rationing and priorities for civilian travel. It may not be possible for his successor to be so lenient.

Army Life With Father

domestic conveniences and an increase in domestic employees may help cities regain their popularity. City real estate has been so long depressed there may be a natural swing in the other direction, but I now see no convincing signs thereof.

After The War

Individuals concerned over the national debt and over the value of their savings, now totaling $50,000,000,000, may be drawn to tangible properties. This is now noted in the demand by city dwellers for small farms. City real estate may follow in turn. Much depends upon the people's attitude toward inflation. As a part of the inflationary process, city real estate may again boom; but John Q. Public has not yet got frightened.

I, therefore, now foresee no boom in either city or farm lands directly following the war. If, however, you plan to build a home in the suburbs of some city after the war you may well buy your land and make your plans now. Otherwise perhaps you better wait until the postwar slump.

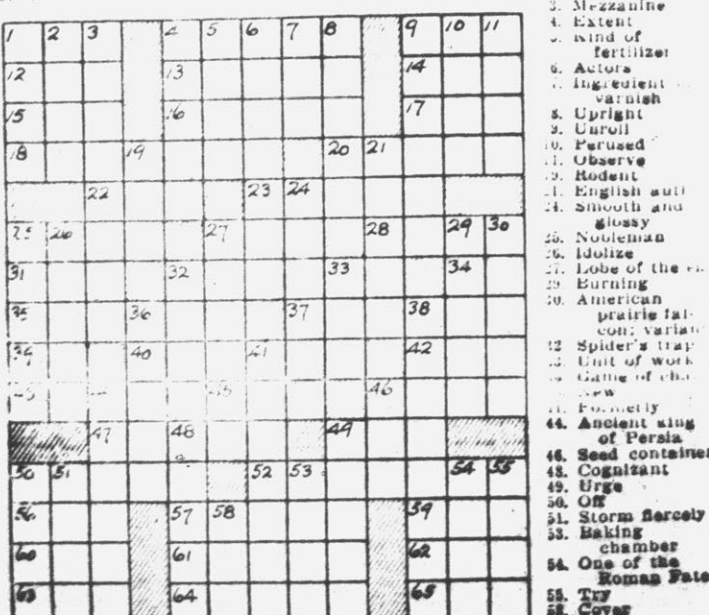

Another thing: Although inflation should sometime help the price of all real estate, yet during the next few years inflation will be only gradual as it has been during the past. It will take a violent inflation scare to boost real estate prices and such may not come until 1950-1955.

Thus the total goal of additional manpower is 1,160,000. Of that total $20,000—or all but 240,000—will come out of class 1 which includes those reaching 18 years and those moved up from 3A, such as fathers lacking essential job deferments.

But where to get those other 240,000?

Because of its physical requirements, selective service expects to get few men from the AF's. Nor can it dip into the specially deferred classifications, such as ministers or state officials.

There are only two groups into which it can dip: Those deferred because of their work in agriculture and non-agricultural jobs.

daylight hours yesterday while the Mediterranean Allied airforce flew more than 1,500 sorties.

Large numbers of enemy planes were fought off by heavy bombers that ranged far north and hit targets along the Italian east coast rail line. In at least 16 separate engagements with "unusually aggressive" German fighters, crew members said 10 enemy planes were shot down.

A British destroyer swung into action Thursday against the Germans on the Anzio beachhead, shelling enemy strongpoints. It was announced.

North Carolina Symphony.
North Carolina shares the honor as being one of the few states which has subsidized its own symphonic orchestra. When the legislature took action last year to subsidize the orchestra it was praised by the highest of music critics and lovers.

East Carolina Teachers College.
East Carolina Teachers College has engaged that splendid orchestra to appear here for two performances on April 17. In the afternoon a special concert will be given to the children of Greenville which will be free. At night a regular concert will be offered, featuring Miss Ehrig of the music department of ECTC, playing the famous Tchaikovsky concerto in B Flat Minor. Dr. Swalin, the conductor, has been lauded for his fine work in making the symphony one of the best of state orchestras. In spite of handicaps caused by the war he has kept this organization a first-class one, and has never let it fall below its high standard. Its performances this season have been ranked as main musical events.

"Twin" Party.
A few of the friends of little Jean Pierce and Goldis Starling received home-made invitations showing two little girls holding a sign which read:

What? A "Twin" Party.
When? March 21, 4:30 p. m.
Where? 909 W. Third St.
Why? To celebrate our "Spring Birthday."

What? Jean Pierce, Goldis Starling.
The "twins" are the two-year-old daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pierce and Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Starling.

The first day of spring found the little hostesses and their mothers, greeting guests with corsages for the adults and posies and flower hats for the children. A variety of blending colors was observed in the decorations, favors and refreshments.

Pictures were soon made of the little guests admiring two birthday cakes.

After playing with toys and "fishing" for favors, the dining room was visited. The table centerpiece consisted of several twin dolls playing in a miniature flower garden. Each child chose a doll to take home. Novelty flowers with candy centers were distributed from the buffet arrangement. Birthday gifts were opened and admired. Then delicious ice cream and cake were served.

The following guests were present: Kathryn Ratcliff, Mrs. Ed Ratcliff, Frances Clavin, Mrs. W. C. Clark, Jr., Esther Howell, Jr., Mrs. Lester Howell, Jr., Joyce Lee Jackson, Mrs. Charles Jackson, Bobby Watkins, Mrs. Frank Armstrong, Mrs. Charles Williams, and others.

Presbyterian Announcements.
Sunday has been designated by the Presbyterian denomination as "pay-up Sunday." We urge all members who have not done so to pay in full their last year's pledge to the church. The new envelope for contributions will be at the church Sunday morning for distribution and use.

At the 11 o'clock service Dr. Boyd will speak on the subject, "The Need for Men in the Church of Today." This will be a message preparatory to the ordination and installation of officers in the church one week later, April 2. This is also Communion Sunday, April 2, and all members are urged to be present. Officers to be installed on April 2 are Elders H. B. Keck, E. W. Harvey, Sr., and Judge Dink James; Deacons G. C. Honeycutt, K. C. Beatty, Jesse R. Moye III, and L. T. Shottwell, who is to be ordained as deacon. All officers are requested to be present for this service on April 2.

Tomorrow Mr. Forrest Ford, a senior in the class of '44 at Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, will preach at the Sunday school hour, 10:15 a. m., following the Sunday school hour, and at Meadowbrook Church at 8 p. m., following the Y. P. League hour at 7 p. m. Friends in each community are urged to hear Mr. Ford.

Pre-Easter services will be conducted by the various ministers of the city each night, April 3 through April 7, at 8 o'clock. On next Sunday night, in the local Marine Base, will preach at 8 o'clock. The members of this church and all service men in the community are urged to attend. On April 16 Dr. P. Crossley Morgan will begin a series of meetings in this church. Day services at 10:30 a. m., will be held in the Eighth Street Christian Church, Monday through Friday mornings.

Eight Street Christian Church.
The young people of the Christian Youth Fellowship of the Eighth Street Christian Church will have charge of the 8 o'clock service Sunday evening. The subject will be "Enlisting Others for Christ." Della Frances Perry will preside, Leon Brown Fleming will have charge of the music, and the following young people will make short speeches on the respective subjects: "How People Were Enlisted for Christ and His Church in the New Testament Times," by Peggy Rose Smith; "Why I Am a Member of the Church," by Joyce Bailey; and "How We May Enlist Others for Christ and His Church Today," by Tom Rowlette. The parents, interested friends, and the public generally are most cordially invited to this interesting service.

Mrs. J. Knott Proctor will sing a solo at the morning service at 11 o'clock, and Dr. Haney will preach on the theme "The Power to See Things Through." At this service the communion of the Lord's Supper will be administered in which every follower of the Christ is privileged to participate.

Dr. Haney will be in Kingston during the coming week in a series of evangelistic services each evening at the Gordon Street Church of Christ and will return for the service next Sunday morning, April 2.

Blue Mold on Plant Beds.
J. G. Buck, farmer of the Black Jack community, reported today that blue mold is now affecting his tobacco plant beds. He advises other farmers to use spray to avoid damage.

Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

March 25, 1904

The physicians of Pitt county in convention assembled announced that their black list will be placed in the hands of the subscribers by May 1. Anyone indebted to a physician for medical service had best settle their account prior to this date and avoid being placed upon the list.

The war news is something great and seems to be good only for space filling in the papers. Reports of Japanese victories come one day, only to be followed by Russian denials, and so it goes, the readers on this side of the globe being left to believe anything or nothing.

Reception for Bridal Couple.
An informal reception will be held this afternoon in honor of Lieut. Robert D. Clark and Miss Helen A. Watson, both of Helena, Montana, who will be married at 5 o'clock in St. Peter's Catholic Church.

The guests will include members of the wedding party and officers of Squadron 344, of which Lt. Clark is a member. The reception will be given jointly by Lt. and Mrs. E. P. Holt and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stallworth at their residence, 402 Jarvis street, immediately following the ceremony.

The bridal party includes Lt. E. P. Holt, who will give the bride away, and Lt. E. P. Cassidy, who will act as best man. Mrs. E. P. Holt will be matron of honor and Mrs. C. J. Thomas will be bridesmaid.

Choir To Present Cantata.
On Palm Sunday night, April 2 at 8 o'clock, the choir of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church will present Maunier's sacred cantata "Olivet to Calvary." This cantata was first presented in Greenville in 1943 by this choir and is being repeated on request.

"Olivet to Calvary" very beautifully portrays the last few days of our Saviour's life on earth. It begins with His entry into Jerusalem and reveals His last week through the tragedy and triumph of Calvary.

The following regular members will participate in the presentation: Mesdames J. H. Waldrop, John Karsnak, Robert Pease, H. A. Hendrix, E. O. Parkinson, Jr., Misses Elizabeth Bridges, Helen Zechel, Mabel Beaman, Suzanne Kilgo; Messrs. James Ray Pittman, Harper Darden, Herbert Waldrop, Jr., and E. O. Parkinson, Jr. The choir will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Fisher, Messrs. Norman Wilkerson and Aubrey Tilley. Mrs. G. B. W. Hadley will be organist.

WATER COLORS FEATURE EXHIBIT AT GALLERY

Only on rare occasions does the Community Art Gallery have the privilege of presenting an exhibition of the high distinction which characterizes the current show of water colors now current in the gallery and library.

It is a two-man show of work by two outstanding artists now living in New York—John Alonzo Williams and Lt. Com. Homer P. Pfeiffer. Among the Williams paintings are delightful glimpses of street scenes in Charleston, Quebec, and New York; a court room scene in Vermont; a doctor's waiting room; a red chair and a ginger jar done in a manner that makes of such familiar objects spots of beauty long remembered. Williams, a native of Wisconsin and well-known as a magazine illustrator, now devotes his time to water color and ranks as one of the leaders in this medium in America. His work is found in permanent collections of the Metropolitan and other great museums of the country.

Lt. Com. Pfeiffer, now in active service in the USNR, paints the out-of-doors with a vitality of color and form and motion that makes it come alive to those who look upon his portrayals in a gallery. In this show of his work there are Algonquin hills, quiet coves, the blue waters of the Maine coast, sunrises and sunsets that offer their own indisputable reasons for the fact that Homer Pfeiffer now holds an established position among the best of the younger American water colorists. Winner of the Prix de Rome prize in architecture, Pfeiffer spent three years in the American Academy in Rome, returning to America to teach in the Yale School of Fine Arts. Afterward, practicing his profession of architecture, he became more and more interested in water color painting and plans to devote his time to that after the war.

All of the paintings in this show are originals, and are for sale. Members of the Woman's Club, with Mrs. Harvey Ward as chairman, are serving as volunteer gallery attendants.

The public is cordially invited to see these distinctive paintings during their presentation here for the next ten days.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Girl Scout Week

Last week was a beautiful week for Girl Scouts to celebrate their 32nd birthday, and we have all been conscious that scouting in Greenville has a very definite place in giving our girls some way to use their time.

Sunday, March 12, was our semi-annual Court of Awards, at which time we had six scouts to receive their first class badges. This is next to the highest rank in our program and our hats go off to Alice Foley Jones, Emily Rice, Frances Randall, Theresa Saleed, Anne Dunn, Lytle Batchelor, our new first class scouts.

The following scouts were invested as Brownies: Betty Lou Shackleford and Joyce Davenport. Second class scouts invested were: Louise Batson, Barbara Clement, Carolyn Hines, Betty Mobley, Janet Neal, Freda Sutton, Joyce Tucker, Hazel Williams, Ann Ray Waters, Marguerite Staton, Marion Morton, Josephine Parkerson.

On Wednesday afternoon at Mrs. Herbert Waldrop's, with the assistance of our Juliette Low chairman, Mrs. George Snyder, the scouts and their leaders were given a delightful tea, at which over a hundred scouts attended in uniform. Our Juliette Low Fund collected at this time in miniature cakes amounted to $11.95. This is for our "war-phans." Each scout gave a penny for each year of her age.

On Thursday afternoon Troops 4 and 12 had a cook-out at the Calanche street park, at which time hamburgers were so grandly cooked on sticks and quite easily devoured. Great fun was had by all. Mrs. Paul Batchelor, Mrs. T. I. Zimmerman, Mrs. Norman Scrivener, Troop 4's new leader, Miss Helen Finch and Mrs. Uzzle attended.

Troop 9 decorated one of Blount-Harvey's windows for our birthday and friendship month. They really did a swell job. The new Troop 4 and Mrs. Smith supervised.

The colored girl scouts spent quite a profitable and interesting birthday week, cooking out of doors, attending church in a body Sunday, studying the laws and promises, buying war stamps, going to the show as guests of the management Wednesday, and many more interesting projects for scouts.

These scouts and their leaders should be commended for their loyal support to the Girl Scout Council. They are really gaining ground.

Thanks so much Greenville for such a nice Girl Scout week.

H. D. Council Meets

Over one hundred ladies attended the council meeting which was held in the College home economics building, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Laurie Ellis, presided. Songs were led by Mrs. J. Brooks Tucker. An inspirational devotion was given by Mrs. A. C. Turnage of the Baldrick club. Mrs. J. Brooks Tucker reported on the success of the Fourth War Loan drive. The guest speaker for the afternoon was Dr. A. D. Frank who spoke on current events. His talk was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present. Mr. F. H. Jeter, extension editor of North Carolina State College and Mr. T. Swann Harding, editor of the Department paper, USDA, Washington, D. C., were also guests for the afternoon.

Following the meeting Mrs. Longbottom Stocks invited those present into the dining room for refreshments. The living room and dining room were attractive with lovely arrangements of jonquils and spiraea. A beautiful lace cover was used with flowers and candles making the centerpiece most attractive. Mrs. Herman Baker and Mrs. Cecil Satterthwaite served punch. The club presidents assisted in serving delicious cookies and nuts.

Winterville H. D. Club Meets
The regular monthly meeting of the Winterville Home Demonstration Club was held Tuesday afternoon at the Community building with an attendance of 27 members. Mrs. M. A. Woodard, the president, presided. The devotion was conducted by Mrs. John Riggs.

During the business session a motion was made to make a contribution to the Red Cross.

A short, but interesting book review was given by Mrs. Laurie Ellis. The demonstration, "Dishes Using Little or No Meat" was given by Miss Joyner, assisted by the nutrition leader, Mrs. J. D. Arthur.

The two dishes prepared were served with flowers and candles making the centerpiece most attractive. Mrs. Herman Baker and Mrs. Cecil Satterthwaite served punch. The club presidents assisted in serving delicious cookies and nuts.

After a very enjoyable "Traveling" contest, the meeting adjourned. "Use-Do Not Abuse Vegetables" Most 4-H girls help at home with the mid-day meal during the summer, and as vegetables form the main part of this meal the vegetable unit is both helpful and interesting to all club girls. Of the seven basic foods vegetables are the most abused or badly treated of all the

this month how to cook vegetables to save their precious minerals and vitamins, and how to control the four enemies, water, air, heat and the cook. To save all food value:

1. Use vegetables while garden fresh. Vitamins go off in the air while waiting to be used.

2. Cook in skins or peel thinly.

3. Cut vegetables lengthwise instead of crosswise for cooking. Leave in as large amount of water—just enough to keep from burning.

4. Water should be boiling when vegetables are placed in it.

5. Cook only until tender. Overcooking spoils flavor, food value, and looks of vegetables.

6. Do not keep hot for long periods. Cool, then reheat.

7. Cook with "lid on." Stir as little as possible.

8. If vegetables must be prepared ahead of time, keep cold as possible and tightly covered.

9. Save any liquid drained from fresh or canned vegetables. Use in soups, sauces, gravies, or any other way.

The many different ways to prepare vegetables was illustrated by the use of attractive colorful food models. Miss Kirby prepared fresh salad and urged club girls to both salad and cooked vegetables in planning vegetable dinners.

1. Have variety in color, but be sure your colors look well together. A good rule is one bright color, one green color and one white.

2. Have a contrast in shapes and sizes. While, masked, strips and cubes offer variety.

3. Serve a crisp food with one not so crisp to keep all foods from being the same texture.

4. Do not have the same flavor appear twice in the same meal, or serve foods that taste too much alike, such as cauliflower and cabbage.

5. Use only one starchy vegetable in a meal.

6. Have one food either prepared with milk, eggs or cheese, or serve plenty of sweet milk or buttermilk to drink with your vegetable dinner to give you protein.

Tickets For Kiwanis Minstrel Sell Fast

The Kiwanis Club devoted its program time at last night's meeting at Proctor Hotel to rehearsing for the Dixieland Minstrel to be presented at the college two nights, April 12 and 13 for the benefit of underprivileged children. Eli Bloom, producer of the show, was in charge.

Ed Rawl, general minstrel chairman, who was out of town, left a report that the committees were doing a bang-up job. Advertising and Program Chairmen N. C. Brooks reported that his committee had sold more advertising space on the program than for any previous minstrel. Ticket Chairman J. Hicks Corey reported that nearly all of the tickets for the first performance have been sold and that more than half of those for the second performance have also been sold. Seats are reserved. Tickets may be procured from the Kiwanians.

President Dick Bundy presided. "Tie" Gardner led the singing of Kiwanis songs.

Collect Scrap Paper Sunday.
The Junior Chamber of Commerce will have its monthly collection of scrap paper for war purposes Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Householders are requested to package their scrap paper and place it out front to facilitate collection. Chairman Jake Hadley said today.

Easter Reces.
Washington, March 25.—(AP)—Democratic Leader Bartley said today a tentative agreement had been reached between Senate and House for an Easter recess from March 30 to April 12.

Bartley told reporters that both houses were sufficiently caught up on their legislative schedules to permit the two-week holiday. Some members, particularly those who are campaigning for re-election, already have gone home.

Governor

The Governor's hands for further investigation in the interest of a "just decision." Wednesday night's meeting was followed by a countersuit by petitioning the Governor to act in the matter, and sought the adoption of a resolution to rescind the action of Wednesday and withdraw the resolution that the Governor had signed.

After several hours of discussion the students voted 332 to 218 to stand by their action of the previous night and leave the next move up to the Governor.

Meanwhile, a call has gone out to members of the board of trustees for a meeting here at 11 o'clock Tuesday, April 4, for the purpose of making further study and investigation of alleged friction among administrative officials and faculty members at the college with a view to taking action, including changes if necessary, to place the college operation in smooth working order and restore morale.

Campus rumors that the trustees' meeting would be for the purpose of reprimanding of students who were active in adoption of the resolution to the Governor charging their duties in connection with the Meadows investigation, were discounted today by reliable sources who stated that the April meeting was set by Dr. Clyde Erwin, ex-officio chairman of the board, at the conclusion of the meeting here last Tuesday. It was pointed out that in view of the fact that the meeting had been scheduled prior to the students there could be no possible connection between the two.

Meanwhile, local citizens have voiced approval of the action of the students in standing for what they believe to be their rights and showing the courage to place the matter in the hands of the Governor, confident that it will be handled justly and fairly to all parties concerned and for the good of the college and state.

Marriage Licenses Issued Past Week

Register of Deeds Roy T. Cox issued marriage licenses to the following couples during the past week:

White—Alonzo Barnhill and Erma Everett, Route 4, Greenville; Reuben Mayo and Mildred Barr, Route 2, Greenville; Robert T. Clark and Helen A. Watson, both of Helena, Mont., and John L. Veiverton of Stauntonburg and Alice Taylor of Farmville.

Colored—Alonzo Chapman of Chocowinity and Susie Roberson of Greenville; Zeb-Moore and Julia M. Hill, Farmville; Ashley Perkins and Winnie Rodgers, Bethel; David T. Williams and Vella Ruth Roach of Greenville.

Since the day when her father's brilliant surgical career had been cut short by his untimely death, her uncle Pierre had been her guardian. Her mother, whom she could scarcely remember, had died when she was a child. When taking over the care from his former proprietor, her uncle had deemed it advisable for her to take her mother's maiden name of Girard. The Nazis would be less likely to suspect conspiracy between them if their relationship were to remain unknown.

On encountering Raoul in the cafe on the previous evening, she had known at once that he was disturbed and angry at her uncle's action in giving shelter to the airman. A frown gathered between his heavy dark eyebrows.

"You realize Adrienne what this may mean. It will probably bring disaster on us all."

Seek Differential Ungraded Tobacco

Raleigh, March 25.—(AP)—Carolina and Virginia tobacco growers will seek a price differential of $7.52 a hundred pounds between ungraded tobacco sold on the Georgia-Florida belt and the tied, graded tobacco sold in the Carolinas and Virginia.

The differential figure, voted yesterday at a meeting of tobaccoists of the Carolinas and Virginia here will be used Monday as the basis of a discussion which will precede presentation of their cause to the OPA.

Representatives of the OPA have been quoted as saying that they made a mistake last year in not authorizing enough differential. The Georgia-Florida ceiling last year was $38, while the other belts had a $41 ceiling.

It is estimated that 20,000 Netherlands have been executed by the Germans since May, 1940.

Chapter 4
After the night's vigil shared with her uncle, Adrienne's waking thought was of the stranger whose coming had brought an added danger into their lives.

Glancing out her bedroom window, life seemed to beckon to her with added zest. Then suddenly she saw a man standing opposite the cafe. She knew that this man belonged to the Gestapo.

"Hello, Beautiful," he exclaimed. "Are they all as easy on the eyes as you are Mademoiselle?"

"It is fortunate," she said with a little laugh, "that I understand and speak English not too badly. But you flatter me, M'sieu. Who do you mean by 'they'?"

"French girls of course. M'am-selle." He grinned at her in a way she found hard to resist.

"You are better this morning M'sieu," she said. "You were quite ill last night."

"I'm afraid I've been a devil of a lot of trouble to both you and your uncle. Adrienne, May I call you that? And drop the M'sieu please. Call me John, or Johnny."

Then the smile vanished suddenly and a grimace displaced his humor. "Adrienne, you and your uncle can't disguise from me the fact that my being here in this cellar has put you on the spot. As soon as I can walk at all with my lame ankle, I must get away."

command dispatched over 1,000 aircraft. Berlin was the main objective—did not make clear how many of the total force struck at Berlin itself.

In the revived German opposition, after the beating Hitler's air forces have taken in recent American daylight blows, was seen an indication that the Germans are undertaking a last-ditch stand for the preservation of what remains of their capital.

A comprehensive RAF report on Berlin damage only a few days ago indicated that while the once-great city has suffered extensive damage there still remain a number of major objectives to be wrecked.

An official statement said that if eight great Berlin industrial plants on the ministry of economic warfare's priority list, five have been damaged extensively.

The remaining major targets basically are a precision-bombing task, one for the American daylight fleet. Flying Fortresses and Liberators have bitten well into the remaining industries, and last night's heavy blow indicated that the final drive against the capital will proceed at a pace far overshadowing previous attacks.

Another indication that the final phase in the battle of Berlin will be fast was seen in the fact that in the next few weeks the hours of darkness will grow shorter—greatly limiting the scope of night operations.
